Total Pampa Tax Valuation Set at $45,064,570 for '63

Former Mayor Asks For Tax Hearing

Former Mayor Gene Sidwell appealed to the City Commission this morning for a hearing before the city tax equalization board on what he termed inequities in tax valuation on property leased by profit-sharing employees of the Beacon Supply Corp. at 820 S. Cuyler.

Sidwell said he had been notified by the trust department of the Republic National Bank in Dallas that city and school taxes on the property were too high.

The former mayor said he asked for a hearing before the tax board after appearing at City Hall on a regular hearing date and the room was crowded. He said he later was notified that a decision had been reached by the board and that the board no longer was in session.

Sidwell said since that time he had been notified again that the board would hear his complaint.

He said what he wanted to know today was when the board would hear him and if there was any time limit.

Sidwell was advised by Mayor H. R. Thompson and City Atty. Bob Gordon to write the board a letter and ask when they could hear him.

During his remarks to the commission Sidwell charged that in his opinion "tax tyranny exists at City Hall."

At one point Mayor Thompson told Sidwell he thought he was "getting out of line" on what he was supposed to be discussing.

"You are discussing matters other than those requested in your letter," the mayor said.

Mayor Thompson asked the city attorney if it was a matter for the city commission to consider or should it be a problem for the tax board.

City Attorney Gordon advised that the tax board was still in existence and it was a matter for their consideration rather than the city commission at this time.

"I wish to specifically state," Sidwell said in a prepared statement, "that maneuvering, tax fixing or tax tyranny has existed and does exist at City Hall. Take your choice on whichever term best describes our situation. It is true that business is moving out of our corporate limits for relief."

"I don't mean to say tax problem (See SIDWELL, Page 3)

Charter Vote 'Moderate' To 'Heavy'

The voting in Pampa's proposed charter change election at the noon hour today was running from "moderate" to "heavy," according to a poll of election judges.

The heaviest vote was being cast at Ward 1 in City Hall where nearly 400 ballots had been cast at 12 o'clock.

Ward 2 at the fire station on E. 17th St. had recorded 240 votes. 65 had been cast in Ward 3 at Ward's Cabinet Shop and 90 ballots had been marked in Ward 4 at the South Side fire station.

The voters were balloting on four proposed charter amendment changes. The principal issue being decided, however, was the method of electing city ward commissioners.

The charter change proposed today would provide for city-wide voting on all candidates rather than individual ward voting on the four ward commissioners.

The count was expected to be in fairly early tonight.

The polls will close at 7 p.m. and the result is expected to be known within an hour after that, according to election officials.

Sino-Soviet Talks Suspended Till Further Word

MOSCOW (UPI)—Red Chinese negotiators have suspended their talks with the Soviet Union temporarily pending fresh instructions from Peking, authoritative Communist sources said today.

The sources said there was a recess in the ideological talks following an exchange of documents Monday outlining the positions of Moscow and Peking in the bitter ideological controversy between the world's two Communist giants.

According to the Communist sources, the Chinese planned to resume their talks with the Russians Wednesday after getting the new instructions from Peking leaders. The sources denied there had been any Chinese Red walk-out.

The interruption in the talks came as the Soviet Union accused Communist China of trying to undermine the negotiations and warned this could have "dangerous consequences."

The attack, latest in a series of bitter exchanges, was printed in today's edition of the Communist party newspaper Pravda shortly after Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak reported that Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev was anxious to ease relations with the West.

The new developments gave further evidence that the Sino-Soviet negotiations were not likely to close the political and ideological split that has widened between Moscow and Peking.

Personal Property Off; Real Estate Shows Gain

The City of Pampa's new estimated total tax valuation for 1963 is $45,064,570, a gain of $157,600 over last year, according to figures released today by the city tax department through City Manager Harold Schmitzer.

The report of City Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones shows that the city had a loss of $121,420 in personal property valuation and a gain of $279,020 in real estate valuation.

Personal property valuation for 1963 is $9,098,080 compared to $9,219,500 in 1962.

Real property valuation for 1963 is $35,966,490 compared to $35,847,000 in 1962.

The total estimated real and personal property valuation within the Pampa city limits is $45,064,570 for 1963 compared to $45,006,970 in 1962.

Jones said in his report to the city manager that the estimated values for 1963 represent the first estimate. He stated there still is a chance for some variation, but he said he believed these variations would be small.

In his comments on the property valuation report, the tax collector stated:

"There were no general increases in values this year as experienced by the Pampa Independent School District. The only increases we had in real estate, and there were not many, were due to remodeling, enlarging the floor area, very few new buildings and a few land raises to compensate for the shifting of values."

"We lost $195,000 (plus) in businesses that closed or moved and $150,000 (plus) in reduction of inventories, etc. The increases in personal value, naturally, did not offset the loss of over $345,000."

"All of our records, lists and rolls were presented to the Board of Equalization on April 23rd. For their consideration and official action (See CITY TAX, Page 3)

Death Questioned In Britain's Security Scandal

LONDON (UPI)—New mystery was stirred up in the widening Profumo scandal today by publicly expressed doubts that a rich former boyfriend of call girl Marilyn Mandy Rice-Davies died as reported.

The man in question, Peter (Polish Peter) Rachman, 42, was reported to have died of a heart attack last Nov. 30. Miss Rice-Davies, 18, testified during a vice hearing recently that she had lived with Rachman for nearly two years.

Labor Member of Parliament Ben Parkin, quoting rumors current in London, scoffed at the low value of Rachman's estate and suggested that it would have been easy "to switch bodies."

Edgeware General Hospital, where Rachman was declared dead on arrival, denied the implication Monday night and said the dead man was Rachman.

Scandal Leaks Out
Ten days after Rachman's reported death, the Profumo scandal started to come into the open when a West Indian musician, John Edgewood, fired five pistol shots at the apartment of call girl Christine Keeler, a friend of Miss Rice-Davies.

Christine's absence from the country when she was scheduled to testify at Edgewood's trial led to charges she was covering up for a prominent person.

War Minister John Profumo first denied, then admitted, to parliament he had been carrying on illicit relations with Miss Keeler, and resigned his post. She later claimed to have been intimate with Soviet assistant naval attaché Eugene Ivanov at the same time.

New Anti-Red Bastion Is Made in Asia

LONDON (UPI)—An agreement was signed early today for the formation of the Federation of Malaysia, creating a new anti-Communist bastion in Southeast Asia.

The federation will merge Malaya, an independent member of the British Commonwealth, and Singapore, Sarawak and North Borneo—all remnants of the British empire in the Asia region.

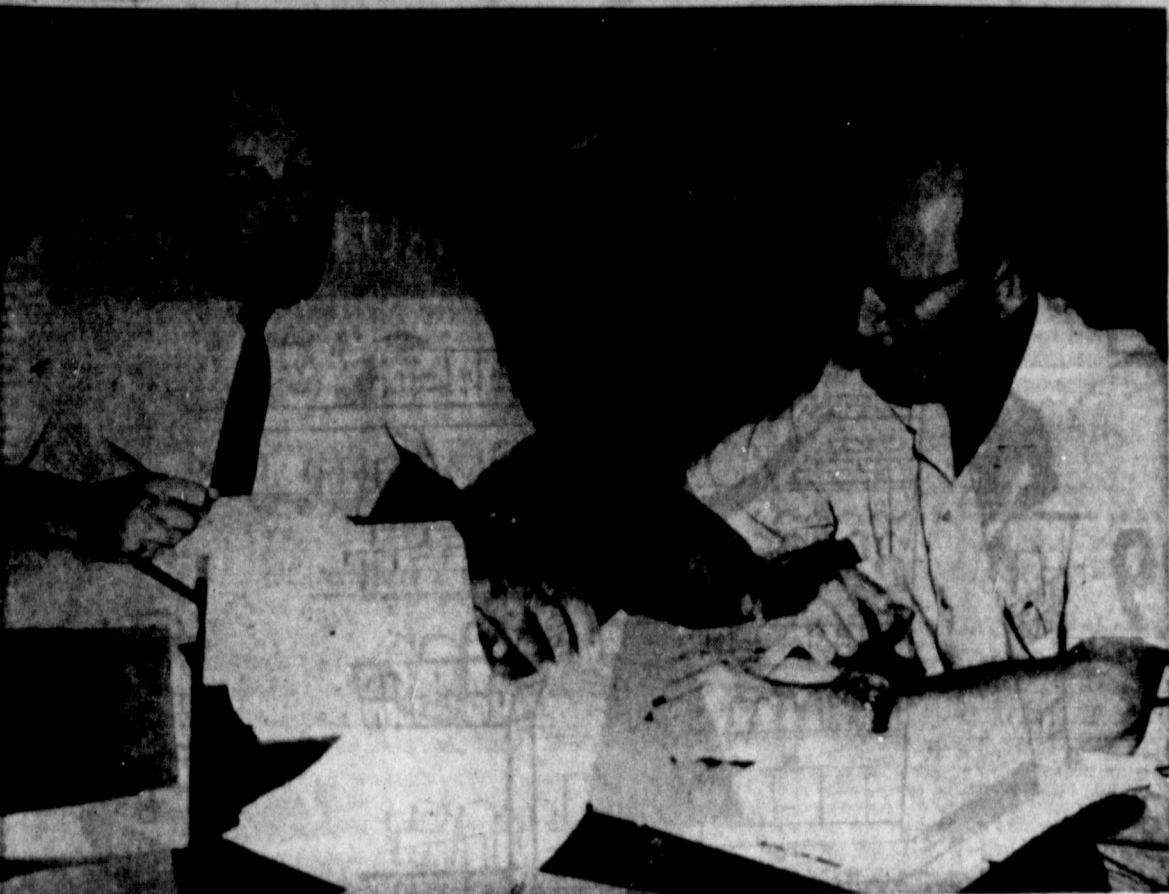

A fifth proposed member, the tiny oil-rich sultanate of Brunei, decided to stay out for the time being. The sultan of Brunei made it plain, however, that with "satisfactory terms" he wants to join.

The signing of the agreement shortly after midnight insured that the federation would become effective as scheduled next Aug. 31.

The union will encompass 10 million people, including Malays, Chinese, Indians and indigenous Borneo stock. Its land area of 128,552 square miles will stretch from the southern tip of Thailand to the southern shores of the Philippine archipelago.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said at the signing ceremony that Malaya and Singapore "had provided the success story of Asia," and expressed confidence the new federation would have a bright future.

Thompson, a tax agent for Kirkwood and Darby of Fort Worth as the two tax analysts met yesterday in the county court room to determine a fair evaluation for the Kirkwood and Darby holdings in Gray County. ### Snag Hit Over Payment of Bill

City commissioners ran into a snag today on the payment of $19,003.08 to Contractor Ray Boswell for the paving of S. Barnes St.

A motion had been made to pay the bill when City Secretary Edwin Vicars advised the commission that it was an illegal expenditure to use taxpayers' money to pay the property owners' share of the bill.

The property owner's share of the total bill is $9,625.55. The city's share is approximately $10,000.

It had been planned to pay the entire bill at this time with the property owners' share coming

Disputing Rails Urged to Leave Decision to Court

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy today urged the nation's railroads and unions to let Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg arbitrate their drawn-out dispute.

J. E. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the railroads, said Kennedy asked both sides to let him know if they would accept the proposal by 10 a.m. EDT Wednesday.

Under the President's proposal, Goldberg would be empowered to decide all issues in the complex dispute and make binding recommendations for settlement Wolfe said.

Goldberg, former labor secretary and one-time union attorney helped settle many disputes when he was in the cabinet.

Wolfe said the plan called for him to announce his decision before the Supreme Court opens its fall term in mid-September.

But Who Really Won? Fresh Fish? Just 'Phone

JACKSON, Ga. (UPI)—A fisherman down on his luck is apt to try anything. Even the telephone.

The trouble is, reaching fish by telephone is strictly against the law and can lead to arrest, as was the case Monday afternoon with five unhappy fishermen.

This quintet, which went forth to meet the sportsmen's challenge on Yellow Water Creek with nothing more than two dippers and an antiquated crankup telephone, was arrested on charges of shocking fish.

State game and fish wardens identified four of the culprits as Terry Register, 17, of Cottondale, Fla., and Herman Rivers, 20, Guy Decker, 21, and Gerry Hoard, 20, all of Jackson. The fifth was a juvenile whose name was withheld.

A fish and game official offered this explanation of fishing by telephone:

"You turn a handle on an old crank telephone and this generates a current which shocks the fish. The fish jump out of the water and these fishermen get them with a net."

Then the game and fish people get the fishermen.

Police today patrolled a racial hotspot in New York City where a major incident between whites and Negroes was narrowly averted at a teen-age hangout, scene of several violent clashes this week.

Demonstrations, peaceful biracial meetings and more court action—all aimed at furthering integration—were scheduled in almost every region of the nation.

Four-hundred riot-trained patrolmen and detectives were rushed Monday night to the lunch-counters in Greenville, Spartanburg, Charleston and Rock Hill serve both whites and Negroes. Columbia lunch counters have followed the policy for months.

Tennessee: Downtown Nashville restaurants, motels and hotels desegregated after racial demonstrations. All restaurants, theaters and public parks in Clarksville did the same. Negotiations were begun to abolish segregation at theaters in Chattanooga where Negroes have quietly been using the city golf courses. Downtown Memphis theaters quietly desegregated.

Texas: Houston voluntarily integrated its swimming pools; most restaurants in Amarillo now serve Negroes and nine motels in the city accepted delegates to a Negro Elks convention. Eating places in many Texas cities integrated.

Virginia: Thirty-five to 40 restaurants in Richmond and motion picture theaters in Alexandria and Arlington and a dozen or so in Richmond, Norfolk and Portsmouth abolished segregated seating.

Service Station Burglary Less Than Thought

A $200 service station burglary has turned into a $36 robbery, police said today.

John Knight, manager of the Ebbart Service Station at 1524 N. Hobart, had originally told police yesterday that the station had been burglarized of $200, $196 in a First National Bank moneybag and $6 in silver dollars in a cigar box.

Hours later, Knight called police to report that he had found the moneybag, with the $196 still in it. However, further investigation by Knight disclosed that $30 in bills (See ROBBERY, Page 3)

Peaceful Integration Overshadowed by Tales of Violence

EDITOR'S NOTE — Overshadowed by the daily reports of conflict and crisis from the nation's civil rights battlegrounds has been a growing list of southern cities where desegregation has taken place with little or no fanfare. Negroes for the first time are eating in restaurants and sleeping in hotels where they were turned away a few months ago. A survey reveals a lowering of racial barriers in all southern states except Mississippi.

By United Press International
Negroes no longer are required to sit in separate balconies in motion picture theaters in Little Rock, Ark., Amarillo, Tex., and Richmond, Va.

A Negro can now spend the night, or dine out, at some of the leading hotels in Charlotte, N.C., Orlando, Fla., and Atlanta. A few months ago they were politely turned away.

The "White" and "Colored" signs that designated separate water fountains in several Deep South cities have been discarded. Quietly, and in many cases without publicity, a number of southern towns and cities have lowered racial barriers, or are in the process of doing so.

Many have taken the action on a "voluntary" basis. Some acted after secret negotiations between white and Negro leaders. Others decided to follow the recommendations of biracial committees.

Civil rights protest marches and demonstrations—or the threat of them—speeded the desegregation progress in such cities as Birmingham, Ala., and Greensboro, N.C.

In Atlanta, about 50 restaurants—most of them in the downtown area—agreed secretly to begin serving Negroes without a public announcement of the names of the restaurants. Segregationist pickets began turning up a few days later at several restaurants but the owners said there had been no significant decline in business.

Only in Mississippi was rigid segregation maintained in public facilities throughout the state. A federal court order to abolish the segregated restaurant at the Jackson Municipal Airport resulted in "standup integration." Seats were removed and customers must stand at a counter for service.

The quiet desegregation was not confined to movies, restaurants and hotels.

In Atlanta, the local chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous announced that membership was open to both races.

A UPI survey disclosed this recent desegregation in the South: Alabama: Birmingham, scene of violent racial clashes this spring, removed white and Negro signs from restaurants and water fountains at downtown stores. Five stores plan to desegregate lunch counters in August. Lunch counters in Huntsville serve both races. Those in Mobile have done so for months.

Arkansas: Four downtown hotels, one restaurant and motion picture theaters in Little Rock and theaters in Pine Bluff were desegregated. Signs removed from the restaurants at the state Capitol at Little Rock.

Florida: Twenty-seven restaurants and 29 motels and hotels in Orlando "voluntarily and peacefully opened their doors to serve all citizens," Mayor Robert S. Carr announced.

Georgia: Atlanta desegregated downtown restaurants, hotels and public swimming pools. Rome, Valdosta, Tifton and Savannah opened public libraries to both races. Brunswick and Columbus integrated lunch counters. Macon voluntarily desegregated city parks and courthouse and city hall restrooms. Macon lunch counters and the public library were integrated last year.

Louisiana: Baton Rouge, integrated facilities such as lunch counters and restrooms in the Municipal Building and the East Baton Rouge Parish (county) Courthouse. Rigid public facility segregation maintained in the rest of the state, including New Orleans.

Mississippi: No desegregation of public facilities reported.

North Carolina: Hotels, motels and restaurants began accepting Negroes for the first time in Raleigh, Kinston, Charlotte, Greensboro and Winston-Salem. City swimming pools at Durham were desegregated.

South Carolina: Variety store

Financial Crackdown on Cuba Expected to Make it Difficult

Regulation Blocks Over $30-Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new crackdown on financial transactions with Cuba is expected to make it difficult for Cuba to deal in dollars anywhere in the world, U.S. officials said today.

The new regulations block more than $30 million in Cuban assets in U.S. banks, prohibit unlicensed transfer of dollars to or from Cuba, and bar unlicensed transactions with Cuba or Cuban nationals or transactions involving Cuban property.

In effect, the order bars Cuba from use of the U.S. banking system, for example, in transmitting funds for purposes of subversion elsewhere in Latin America.

It is aimed at such cases as the arrest of a man in Ecuador last month on charges of being a Cuban agent, who had $25,000 in U.S. currency in his possession. Because any transaction in dollars, even through foreign banks, at some point involves a clearing operation with a U.S. bank, officials believe the order also will prevent Cuba from trading in U.S. currency with other countries.

The regulations could affect Cuban diplomatic operations in Latin American countries, where most financial transactions are based on the dollar. For example, the finances of the Cuban Embassy in Mexico City always have been handled through U.S. banks. The Cuban peso is unconvertible.

It also reveals that there was a loss in valuation on 341 residential units totaling $4,430 and a loss in value on 58 commercial units for a total of $196,540.

The total residential and commercial valuation loss was $196,970.

On a total of 448 units both residential and commercial there was a net loss in valuation of $145,280 and on 63 units there was a net gain of $424,308.

The final total on 1,132 units showed a net gain on real estate valuations of $279,020.

lems have been the only reason for companies and individual businesses moving away, neither am I saying that many people that have moved out of our boundaries are not willing to pay their fair share of taxes. But, I am amused when I hear some statements to the contrary when all we have to do is point to Price Rd., Coronado Center, E. Frederic St. and to many other parts of the city where the facts speak for themselves."

In closing his statement to the council, Sidwell said:

"The final analysis is that unfair handling of tax problems, and believe me we have them, amounts to discrimination and confiscation of the taxpayers' dollar and along with the irresponsible handling of our accounting system and financial department, will ultimately lead to moral and economic decay."

Active Outdoor Wear Stretches Into Fashion

By HELEN HENNESSY
Women's Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — Judging from the frothy selection of fashion items sold as "sportswear," it would seem that all American women aren't enthusiastic about "vigah."

The grass is greener on the other side of the street because the people over there take better care of it.

But among lace bikinis that wouldn't last a minute in the surf and organdy dirndl dresses for shell gatherers there is legitimate sportswear for the active sports-woman. And these sports clothes are handsomely designed to combine comfort and fashion.

The introduction of stretch nylon and the successful blending of synthetics and cotton have made handsome active sportswear possible.

If cycling is your choice of exercise, you can ride your bike in comfortable, goodlooking long pants of cotton and nylon stretch denim. They are light in weight, beautifully tailored and launder in a jiffy.

For the golf course, there are classic shirts in stretch nylon. The stretch adds the important arm freedom necessary to make that hoped-for-74. These can be worn with stretch nylon golf shorts for maximum comfort.

For the woman who prefers not to wear shorts on the green, there are plaid golf dresses in cotton and stretch nylon, especially tailored to add zing to your swing.

Arnel sharkskin offers its easy-care qualities to the tennis enthusiast in pleated shirts or graceful sempleated shifts that will keep their pristine freshness through countless matches.

If the active gal feels slighted because her spectator sisters have a wider variety of sports clothes, she may yet have her day. Should physical fitness become a national pastime, those organdy dirndls will disappear from the sportswear counters almost, you might say, overnight.

Stretch nylon and blends of cotton and synthetics are the reasons behind this summer's handsome active sportswear. Perfect companions for cycling are Jack Winter's figure-enhancing pants in cotton and nylon stretch denim (left). Stretch velvet headbands keep hairdos in place.

Gussie Moran's new-length tennis dress (center) is a graceful shift with double-breasted bodice and semi-pleated skirt in easy-care Arnel sharkskin. The classic shirt is up-dated for golf in stretch nylon (right) to give freedom of movement on the course.

Garden Club Hears Plant Care Talk

The Pampa African Violet Society met for the June meeting with Mrs. N. B. Ellis, 1616 Coffee, for instruction in care of African Violets.

Mrs. Dan Glaxner said in her keynote talk, that for a larger, longer lasting bloom, give your violets cleanliness, water of tepid temperature, weak but regular solution of fertilizer, proper lighting, and even room temperature.

Miss Mary McKamey, program chairman, spoke on how to produce a good bloom on african violets and described "symphills," which attacks the root system of violet plants.

Mrs. Lee Moore reported on litter bug publicity to be carried out through the Council of Garden Clubs.

During the social hour refreshments were served to Mmes. Glaxner, Moore, Ellis, Norman Walberg, Charles Glison, Cecil Holmes, Holly Gray, R. F. Dirksen, Willis Rhendasil, C. C. Matheny, J. E. Carlson, Miss McKamey, and a guest, Mrs. Elli's daughter, Mrs. Pat Wolsoner of Boston, Mass.

Dear Abby... English-Americans Wave Patriotic Feelings

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Could you please tell me why so few Americans hang up flags on special holidays? On our street there was only one flag out on Memorial Day — ours. We are English born and America is our new home. We love it, but can't understand this about the American people. They praise America, sing the anthem, but when it comes to paying $2.40 for a flag, they hesitate. It beats me. In England, a flag flies from every house, large and small. It was the same on my daughter's street here in America. One flag — theirs. It makes me so mad I could scream.

CANOGA PARK
DEAR CANOGA: The colorful tradition of showing the flag seems to be fading in America. And it's regrettable, for my taste. But REAL patriotism doesn't have to be demonstrated. Some of the most confused un-Americans are frantic flag-wavers. We have our Colonel Blimps, too.

DEAR ABBY: I was under the impression that my husband was working seven days a week, night and day, for five months. One afternoon a young woman came to my apartment and told me that my husband had practically been living with her all that time. She said she loved him and wanted me to give him up. When my husband came home and saw her there he almost jumped out of the window. He told her in front of me that it was all over between them. She said she'd never let him go. He practically had to throw her out. I never felt so sorry for a woman in all my life. My husband has tried to make it up to me in every way possible. He is begging me to forgive and forget. Should I let him share our bedroom again?

BROKEN-HEARTED
DEAR BROKEN-HEARTED: Yes.

DEAR ABBY: I am a very small eater and we eat out a lot. It is very embarrassing to me when a waitress notices that I haven't eaten much and asks, "Was there something wrong with the food?" I tell her there was nothing wrong with the food and she gives me an argument, and says, "Are you SURE there's nothing wrong with it? You hardly touched it." Abby, I'm not a child, and I don't need to be coaxed into eating more than I want. How can I get wait-

Woman Progresses Because Of Mind

HOLYOKE, Mass. (UPI) — Dr. Marcella R. Kelly, of Holyoke, Mass., does not believe that the variable called sex has anything to do with progress of a woman in an educational career.

Dr. Kelly is the first woman superintendent of schools in the paper manufacturing city. The newly appointed administrator of the Holyoke school system says ability, training and effort are the invariables which determine the success climb of man and woman — in education and other fields.

Miss Kelly has nearly 20 years of teaching and another 15 of administrative experience supplementing her formal training. The training includes a bachelor's at Fitchburg, Massachusetts State College, a master's from Columbia University, and a doctorate from Yale, plus study at Harvard, Brandeis and the Universities of Oslo and Rome. Holyoke, a city of 56,000, is satisfied with its selection.

PAMPANS ON EUROPEAN TOUR — Miss Rebecca Skelly, center, of 916 N. Somerville, visits with her grandmother and cousin while they tour the deck aboard the Queen Mary for a summer's tour of Europe. Miss Skelly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Scott Skelly Jr. Mrs. J. Scott Skelly is from Monongahela, Penn. and Miss Lynda Skelly, right is from Pittsburgh, Penn.

DRESS THE PART

PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI) — The director of the high school summer camp play at Washington State University said today he is having no problems with the casting of the cast.

The director, Del Carson, is staging the play, "Rebel Without A Cause," a production that deals with teen-agers and juvenile delinquency.

"I just tell them to come as the year. They couldn't be costumed more perfectly," Carson said.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — In the time of his life, Jack Hurley, the noted boxing manager and bon vivant, has issued forth a list of famous sayings second only to that of Ben Franklin. One of these sayings goes as follows: "I think that every young man should have a hobby. Learning how to handle money is the best hobby."

Men of such a stylish taste and era would never indulge in the lesser bourgeois hobbies, like forcing home movies on unsuspecting neighbors, or actually use these films as the basis of a television series. But in the age of non-style the barbarian is king, and Monday night ABC-TV premiered a new summer half-hour series, "Your Funny, Funny Films," which does indeed use the amateur offerings of home viewers to fill up its allotted time.

The program, which replaces the long-running "Riflemen" show, obviously is cashing in on the audience of millions of home movie bugs and their photogenic brats, as well as on the popularity of CBS-TV's "Candid Camera." And the host is Groucho Marx's old announcer sidekick, George Fenneman, who learned a lot from his former boss and is appropriately mildly sarcastic. Given his situation, he can be no other way.

This much, at least, can be said for "Your Funny, Funny Films": It is the only show on television, to my knowledge, that frankly admits it is dependent on amateur material. And it is just simple-minded enough to catch on.

Occasionally, of course, the impromptu slapstick nature of the films brings forth a laugh, and for a few minutes they may be funny. But home movies tend to be repetitious, and one grows weary of them quickly. It is better to stick with Hurley and his sayings. Here is another: "I'm a firm believer in eating before you go to bed. Otherwise you might wake up in such a weakened condition that you can't get down to breakfast."

Since we plan to be on vacation when NBC-TV's excellent, offbeat summer musical series, "The Lively Ones," returns on July 25, we stopped off at the network's studios Monday to see some sequences from the first show as they were being edited. There is a wonderfully nostalgic New Orleans number with Red Nichols; Benny Goodman playing "There'll Be Some Changes Made" in front of the White House; Count Basie's band blasting away in a studio. And for the topper, producer-director Barry Shear has contrived to have that irreverent cartoon character, Bullwinkle (he who looks like a moose), do a bossa nova with host Vic Damone. It is the bossa nova to end all bossa novas. If you have never seen a moose swing before, tune in.

The Channel Swim: Lorne Greene, of the "Bonanza" series, will be emcee of NBC-TV's broadcast of the international beauty pageant from Long Beach, Calif., Aug. 16. 20th Century-Fox Television wants Greer Garson to be hostess of a half-hour documentary series about great women of history.

ABC-TV's "Ben Casey" is said to be preparing an episode for this coming season about racial tension, with Sammy Davis Jr. starring. Same network airs the 30th annual All-Star college football game from Chicago Aug. 2, pitting top school players against the pro champion Green Bay Packers.

HEAD FOR HILLS

NUMATA, Japan (UPI) — So many Japanese mountain climbers swarmed Sunday over Mt. Tanigawa that police with walkie-talkies helped direct the traffic.

With the climbing season at its summer peak, an estimated 5,500 persons were on the slopes of the 6,380-foot mountain 70 miles northwest of Tokyo. The mountain has claimed eight lives this year.

QUICK PREDICTION — National League 8, American League 3. Nats have top pitchers such as young dazzler Sandy Koufax and old wizard Warren Spahn, top hitters... and... they come to play. While the "Ol' Maj" is letting everyone get into the act, Alvin Dark will play to win. Tip of the Week: watch Stan Musial. Old as he is, The Man ALWAYS comes through in the All-Star Game. Offhand we can think of at least two games he personally won with key hits... given a chance, he will come through again.

We sincerely think, after all the present fuss, that the selection of the All Star team should go back to the players... after all, they play with and against them every day... they can disregard the pro-and-con publicity and buildups and know who is the guy who will come through and who will fold in the stretch... who can come off the bench and deliver the key hit and who must play regularly or he can't come through. Besides which, fans' choices, manager's choices, sportswriters' choices can be torn apart, but the players KNOW. Originally they picked the teams, but then the powers-that-be decided to get the fans into the act. The folly of this move was proved one year when a loyal group of Cincinnati fans got together and voted seven Reds to the starting team (and this when the Reds were far from the pennant contender they have been of late)... had owners not callously abandoned loyal fans, the starting teams might be all Brooklyn Dodgers or New York Giants... as a matter of fact, if the "New Breed" ever learns how to read, we can expect nine New York Mets in the lineup! (and we wouldn't even want to play the Gold Sox, let alone the AL, with that crew!)

THIS DEPARTMENT mourns with others the passing of the one and only Doc Kearns. Although never having had the privilege of meeting the fantastic manipulator of boxing champions, we have chortled with glee at reading about many of his antics. In our minds, the most fantastic thing he ever did was to literally ruin the town of Goldfield, Nev., mulcting it out of hundreds of thousands of dollars for a very second-rate title fight between Jack Dempsey and Tom Gibbons. Doc admittedly worked "a million angles" and was the "king of the con men." One of the major reasons boxing has kept going is the presence of colorful, larger-than-life characters like Doc to offset the Carbos and Norrises. The sports world will never be the same.

THE DISQUALIFICATION of the Pampa Rebels from the District 18 playoffs on a legal technicality smells unapparently of Amarillo politics. Leo Drumgoole, our good friend and bitter enemy on the Borger sports side, who also coaches the Borger Legion team, said "before the deadline for sending in the player forms, Cliff Roberts (Amarillo chairman) called me to remind me to send them in (which he did not do for Pampa). I feel that if Borger had been a district contender and Pampa had not, instead of the other way around, Pampa would have gotten the reminder and Borger would have been forgotten."

Although it is admittedly true that Leo and this department are prejudiced, both have been stung by "Amarillo monopolies" before. We sincerely feel that the fact that Pampa is the only team in the district to have defeated journey favorite Tascosa, and that third-place Amarillo goes to the playoffs in place of Pampa—had a definite bearing on declaring the Rebels ineligible. We believe that this is an injustice to a fine Pampa team, but look forward to next spring when this same team will represent Pampa High School, and should (we hope) beat the daylights out of the Amarillo schools. We had hoped that there would be a large district flag to hang over Ray Howard's bed, but he'll just have to go out and get his own next year.

Giants Swap Rosey Grier For Tackle, Draft Choice

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rosey Grier, for eight years a rock of granite on the New York Giants defensive platoon, heads west to Orange, Calif., later this week to begin pre-season training with the Los Angeles Rams.

Grier, at 6-5 and 200 pounds one of the biggest players in the National Football League, was traded Monday to the Rams in exchange for another big defensive tackle, John Lovetere, plus a future draft choice.

"At 31, Grier is about four years older than Lovetere," said coach Al Sherman of the Giants, although he insisted that was not the primary reason why the Eastern Division champs traded Grier to Los Angeles.

Coach Harland Svare of the Rams, a former teammate of Grier's at New York, greeted the news with enthusiasm.

"I think Rosey is one of the top tackles in the league," he said. "All of his training and playing has been under the type of defense we will be teaching."

Svare played linebacker behind Grier with the Giants and later was defensive coach before getting the job with the Rams.

Los Angeles opens its training camp at Orange next Monday and Grier, who makes his home in New Jersey, said he will be ready to leave for the West Coast in a few days.

Lovetere is an inch shorter than Grier and weighs 15 pounds less. He did not see regular duty with the Rams last year, thus leading to speculation that the Giants were more interested in the draft choice they pick up from Los Angeles than in Lovetere.

The Giants traded for draft choices in each of their other three deals since the end of the 1962 campaign. They are primarily interested in picking up a running back to complement their strong passing game, thus the activity in draft choices.

Rebels, Colts Play Tonight

The Pampa Rebels play their last District 18 American Legion game and the Pampa Colts try to get back in the thick of the Tri-State League pennant race tonight.

The Rebels, with an 8-2 record, finish their regular season at Borger, Blazin' Bobby Price will take the mound as the Rebels, who have already clinched second place in the loop although being disqualified for the playoffs on a technicality, try to finish district with a 6-2 mark. Price, the number one relief pitcher, will get his first starting chance tonight, with Jerry Garrison tapped for duty as well. Borger, currently 1-5 in district, will send David Parkhurst to the mound. Parkhurst has taken the loss all three times Borger has played Pampa.

The Colts, who saw their six-game winning streak broken Sunday by league-leading Graham, will try to make their record 7-4 and move back into third place against Spearman. The game will be played at Optimist Park at 8:30. Although Spearman played here in their previous game, losing, the Giants will be using Pampa's field as their home field tonight and will take last bats. Royce Harnsberger, with a 2-1 record, will take the mound for the Colts.

The Colts and Rebels will play an exhibition game at Optimist Park Thursday night. Probable starting pitcher for the Colts will be lefty Ned Patterson, probable starting hurler for the Rebels will be Carl Harnsberger. Both managers indicated that they would use all their pitchers in the nine-inning game.

Girls Softball

The Opteens overwhelmed the Opti-Belles, 35-8, in a Girls Softball League game yesterday.

Gayle Blumer took the win, giving up 12 hits, striking out nine and allowing no walks. Janice Johnson was the loser. Gayle helped her own cause with a bases-loaded home run, catcher Linda Jarrard had two four-baggers and Brenda Schaffer another. Janie Hammons and Gayle went 4-for-4 for the winners. Brenda and Diane Parker each had four hits. For the Opti-Belles, Winona Chisum, Judy Cox and Priscilla Gipson each had two hits.

FISH RODEO LEADER — Charlie Wilkerson of Pampa displays the 42½ pound, 52 inch king mackerel caught by him while vacationing in Lumberton, N. C. Charlie caught the whopper from a charter boat off Little River, N.C., and has entered it in the Myrtle Beach Fish Rodeo, where it is the prize fish.

Owners Nix Finley's Request To Move KC

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Kansas City owner Charles Finley never formally asked, but was told by the American League yesterday that there is no chance of his moving the Athletics to Oakland "at this time."

Finley was made aware of the feelings of his fellow American Leaguers during an informal discussion regarding the Kansas City franchise at a meeting of league executives Monday.

While no formal proposal was made, presumably because Finley realized it would be voted down, the Kansas City owner did approach Horace Stoneham of the San Francisco Giants 10 days ago with a request that the A's be permitted to play at Candlestick Park until a stadium could be built in Oakland.

Most of Monday's discussion centered around Finley's leasing situation at Kansas City, after which there was considerable talk about Oakland and even some about Atlanta.

But at the conclusion of the two-hour meeting, Finley adamantly insisted he had never "formally asked" to transfer the Kansas City franchise "to Oakland, Atlanta or anywhere else."

The grey-haired owner of the Athletics was telling the truth. He never did ask to move, even though there was discussion about Oakland and Atlanta.

When Finley spoke with Stoneham recently regarding the possibility of having the A's play in Candlestick Park at some future date, the Giants' owner replied, "We can't stop any team from moving out here. But the Giants are the only club that will ever play in Candlestick Park."

Commissioner Ford Frick, while not taking any part in the discussions about the Athletics, said Monday that he considers Oakland "open territory"—meaning that a major league club could move there providing it received the necessary three-quarters majority vote to do so.

Bunning, who pitched a full game Sunday and won it to make his season's record six victories against nine defeats, has been an American League pitching ace for the All-Star games since 1957. He has won one of them, but in five appearances has given up only two runs on four hits. In his last eight innings of All-Star pitching he had yielded only one hit.

"If I start him, I'll use him only for two innings," Houk said. "After all, we don't want to risk an injury to a player. We want to win it — and we will. But along the line we don't want to hurt any player or any club."

Until Monday, Palmer, the popular muscle-man from Latrobe, Pa., looked like a shoo-in to win this classic for the third straight year. He still managed to shoot a one-under-par 71 in spite of the sniffling and remained the man to beat at 2-1 odds.

However, Nicklaus stole the show in Monday's practice round over the 6,757-yard Royal Latham and St. Annes Golf Club course. The Columbus, Ohio, "fat boy" was driving 360 yards at some long holes and turned in a sizzling five-under 67.

56TH YEAR TUESDAY, JULY 9, 1963

Jim O'Toole Vs. Surprise Today

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — It was Jim O'Toole for the National League against whoever said "yes" for the American League in the All-Star game today.

So desperate was Ralph Houk, the manager of the American League All-Stars, for pitching talent that he will not name his starting hurler until three hours before game time of 1 p.m., EDT.

"When I talk to all my pitchers I'll let you know," he said, adding that he would like to start either Ken McBride of the Los Angeles Angels or Jim Bunning of the Detroit Tigers.

Alvin Dark, the manager of the National League, had no pitching problem. O'Toole, a 13-game winner for the Cincinnati Reds, has had three days rest — the usual amount for a regular starting pitcher.

Houk had only one starting candidate with more than two days rest — McBride.

"The others, including my own Jim Bouton, worked Sunday," Houk, managing his third All-Star team, pointed out. "After all, this is just an exhibition game and the main thing is the pennant race. We can't afford to take chances on it."

"So I don't have any pitchers I want to start who have had their full quota of rest."

"But I'll come up with someone when I talk to them all," Houk said.

He was leaning toward McBride, who has a season's record of 9 and 6, but who has won his last six games and has not worked since Saturday.

"If he tells me he can go with two days rest, I'll probably start him," Houk said.

Houk, who is 500 in All-Star competition, figured that if McBride didn't feel up to it, he would call on Bunning, another right-hander.

Bunning, who pitched a full game Sunday and won it to make his season's record six victories against nine defeats, has been an American League pitching ace for the All-Star games since 1957. He has won one of them, but in five appearances has given up only two runs on four hits. In his last eight innings of All-Star pitching he had yielded only one hit.

"If I start him, I'll use him only for two innings," Houk said. "After all, we don't want to risk an injury to a player. We want to win it — and we will. But along the line we don't want to hurt any player or any club."

Ideal Wins AL Playoff With Kist

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor
Ideal exploded in the late innings for a 12-5 victory over Kist and the championship of the American Babe Ruth League last night at Optimist Park.

The two teams finished with identical 12-2 records and a special playoff game was held last night. An All-Star team will be chosen today to play in the Canyon Babe Ruth Tournament next week.

Big Roy Harper went all the way for the victory, scattering seven hits, walking four and striking out eight. Kist got to him for four runs in the sixth inning, but were held down most of the way by fine fielding, especially by Ideal's outfield of Steve Oler, Donnie Bennett and Jim Bill Benton.

Like Houk, he expressed confidence — and his squad was a 3-2 favorite although the game was being played in an American League park.

Dark left no doubt that he was going all out to win.

"That's the only reason we came here," he said, although he came late — after all the players and officials of the other teams had arrived. Dark did not arrive from San Francisco until late on Monday. He didn't figure he had to be on the scene until the last minute.

Dark didn't go into his pitching plans beyond starter O'Toole.

"I have plenty of others," he said.

Nicklaus Favored For British Open
LYTHAM-ST. ANNES, England (UPI)—The odds on Jack Nicklaus winning the British Open shortened from 7-1 to 5-1 today for two reasons.

First, Nicklaus has been hitting the ball "out of sight" in practice rounds for the start of the 72-hole event Wednesday and, second, favored Arnold Palmer is battling a heavy cold.

Until Monday, Palmer, the popular muscle-man from Latrobe, Pa., looked like a shoo-in to win this classic for the third straight year. He still managed to shoot a one-under-par 71 in spite of the sniffling and remained the man to beat at 2-1 odds.

Hubble had been paralyzed, but can now move his arms and legs.

'Increased Trade and Economic Contacts' with Soviet Dangled in Recent White House-Kremlin Letter

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy is dangling tempting trade bait before Premier Khrushchev in an effort to "arrange for a period of relative tranquility between Russia and the U.S."

"Increased trade and economic contacts" are being offered the Soviet ruler in exchange for an easing of the cold war and an agreement to ban nuclear weapons tests in the atmosphere and underwater.

This extraordinary diplomatic maneuver was broached in one of the President's increasingly frequent letters to Khrushchev.

This profoundly important new type of summitry, first revealed by this column last February, now involves an exchange of over 30 letters, all dealing with U.S.-Soviet relations.

In the trade proffer, the President pointed out that the easing of tensions could clear the way for him to authorize the sale of many products now barred from sale to Russia.

While no specific items were cited by the President, he has significantly empowered Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman to discuss the sale of large quantities of surplus farm commodities should Khrushchev indicate interest in the President's plan.

Freeman is leaving this week for a month's tour of the Soviet and satellite countries.

OPENING THE GATE — To demonstrate that he is serious about increasing trade with Russia, the President has directed the Commerce Department to speed up the issuance of export licenses to shippers with orders from the Reds.

There has been no public announcement of this action. In one controversial case, the White House ordered approval of a license for the export of 25,000 tons of highly processed petroleum coke.

This exceptionally critical material, of utmost importance in atomic reactors, was the first shipped to Russia since the embargo on strategic goods was imposed at the outbreak of the Korean war.

The new relaxed trade policy of the President is clearly spelled out in a backstage memorandum titled "Economic Policy Toward Russia and the Communist Bloc."

The Doctor Says:

Breath-Holding Sessions Are Scary, Not Dangerous

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT About the worst thing that can happen when a child holds his breath until he is blue is that he will scare his mother half to death.

When this happens the involuntary centers of the brain take over, breathing is resumed, and the child's color returns to normal.

The first thing for the mother to remember is that the child will come out of the attack without any help from her.

Punishment will only aggravate the attacks, which in some children may occur several times a day.

A few of these children have been found to have anemia and will be helped by medicines that return the blood elements to normal.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The next six months may be as fateful as any half-year since the end of World War II.

Moscow talks between Russian and Red Chinese leaders may set the course for the future communism.

The most immediate result might be a decision on the resumption of Red China's attack on India later this year.

The threat of further Communist penetration into Southeast Asia has been increased by British failure to persuade the Russians to help stop the fighting in Laos.

After the Russia-Red China talks in Moscow come American-British-Russian negotiations on a nuclear test ban.

President Kennedy's trip to Europe is being hailed as a great personal triumph, making clear America's continued support for Europe.

The proposed NATO multilateral nuclear force, armed with Polaris missiles, has been temporarily shelved.

British and Italian governments are weak and may fall. The German government will change this autumn with the retirement of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

The failure of Europe to unite in a common market or for meaningful trade and tariff negotiations with the United States weakens the whole Atlantic alliance.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "What is slavery? Is compulsory unionism a form of slave labor? Can free labor compete against slave labor?"

Answer: Slavery is the absence of freedom of an individual to think and act in his own best interest.

To the extent that an individual is prohibited by some external force from making an individual contract, he is a slave.

When an individual is free to help himself and to use his production to his own best interest and for his family's benefit, he will far outproduce the individual whose production is taken from him.

GROWING IMPROVEMENT—These scientists at the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Research Center in Beltsville, Md., are experimenting with ways to remove surface contamination of radioactive fallout from plants and soil. With a "fallout box" invented for the job, they hope to reduce the fallout absorption by growing plants.

A nail driven into a tree trunk would be at the same height from the ground five years later. It is possible to leave Wake Island on January 21 and arrive at Midway Island on January 20.

FOUL WEATHER CLEETHORPES, Eng. (UPI)—Ray Camray, 60, the weatherman for this seaside resort, was fired today for doing his job too well. The council said Camray's forecasts of rain almost every day, although perfectly accurate, were scaring away tourists.
