Christine Takes Stand And Tells Her Sordid Story in Profumo Case

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — Christine Keeler, the party girl who ruined the political career of War Minister John Profumo, testified today she also was the mistress of the mysterious Peter Rachman, slum property racketeer whose activities have created another crisis for the British government.

The red-haired 21-year-old Miss Keeler, whose affair with Profumo nearly brought down the government, testified as the first prosecution witness in the vice trial of Dr. Stephen Ward, playboy osteopath and artist who brought Profumo and Christine together.

As the trial opened in Old Bailey Court, Ward pleaded not guilty to vice charges—including accusations he lived off the immoral earnings of Miss Keeler and another party girl, Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies.

Christine first rocked the government when Profumo resigned in disgrace last month after admitting he lied when he said he had not committed misconduct with her, and it then became known that Profumo was sharing her favors with the Soviet naval attaché, Capt. Eugene Ivanov.

Today, Christine said one of the men Ward introduced her to was Rachman, who owned many dilapidated houses in the racially-tense area of London's Notting Hill.

Miss Rice - Davies, another scheduled prosecution witness, has said that she lived with Rachman for two years. Mandy and Christine once were roommates, but they recently have been reported feuding.

Debate Property Issue

The House of Commons was debating misuse of property today as a direct result of the light shed on Rachman by the Scotland Yard inquiry into the Ward case. Rachman died last November.

Miss Keeler testified that she got a job as a showgirl in London when she was 16 and met Ward at the club where she was appearing. Later, she said, he introduced her to Rachman with whom she lived for a while and from whom she received money and presents.

The trial drew national attention to the grimy Old Bailey Court building and one London newspaper, the Sunday Express, indicated that more scandals would be revealed when it proclaimed it "the opening of the debauched season."

Informed sources said the 30-year-old war minister, who moved among the top strata of British society, may wage a "no names barred" defense that could bring more scandals to public attention.

Lines of spectators began forming outside the court at 2 a.m. Thomas Gifford, 43-year-old social worker and criminologist, was first in line.

Scandals Not Over

Profumo's affair with the 21-year-old red-haired beauty, who was also intimate with the Soviet naval attaché, nearly brought down Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government, and there were indications that the scandals were not over yet.

Jeremy Thorpe, an opposition Liberal member of Parliament, said over the weekend that two ministers were "practically certain" to resign because of the case. He did not identify them.

The Labor party, also eager to pin criticism on Macmillan, tabled a censure motion in the House of Commons for debate today on another case linked to the Profumo scandal. It charges that government relaxation of rent controls made it possible for slumlords like the late "Polish Peter" Rachman to operate.

Rachman's wealth got publicity during Ward's pre-trial hearing, when Christine's roommate, 18-year-old Mandy Rice-Davies, testified she lived with "Polish Peter" for two years and was given $100 a week.

FARMERS PITCH IN AND HELP — Friends and neighbors of R. E. (Bob) Montgomery, 57, a Pampa rancher, pitched in today and plowed Montgomery's 900 acres of land. Shown are two of the tractors plowing in one of the fields. Montgomery, unable to get into the fields, was burned June 13 after gasoline he had been using to ignite trash flared up and caught his clothing on fire. Twenty-two tractors and 35 friends were on hand this morning to do the plowing. Montgomery's condition is improving, but doctors say extensive skin grafting remains to be done. (Daily News Photo)

No Relief Seen For Texas Heat

By United Press International

Generally fair and hot — that was the weather story over Texas today. No relief is in sight.

Fifteen weather reporting stations had maximums of 100 degrees or over Sunday. The only reason more 100 and 100-plus readings were not reported was because there were not more reporting stations.

Mineral Wells reported the highest temperature — 106 degrees. Childress had 104 and Dallas, Wichita Falls and Longview all reported 103. Pampa hit 101.

The maximum temperature in Galveston, surrounded by the Gulf of Mexico, was 89. No rain was reported anywhere in the state Sunday.

There were a few patches of clouds in East Texas. A few isolated thunderheads may form over the mountains of extreme Southwestern Texas toward night.

Violent Storms Hit Lake Region

By United Press International

Violent summer storms strafed states around Lake Michigan and along the South Atlantic Seaboard Sunday night and early today. Up to eight inches of rain fell in Indiana.

Hail one inch in diameter pounded Montello, Wis., stripping trees of their leaves and threatening maturing crops. The hardest hit was the little town of Packwaukee, Wis.

The winds kicked up 10 foot waves on Lake Michigan.

CITY NEARLY FREE

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Health authorities indicated today they soon would declare this capital city free of measles after a virulent outbreak which killed four persons.

Twenty-five persons contracted the disease, believed to have been brought in by a sailor.

Partial Accord Seen On Nuclear Test Ban

MOSCOW (UPI) — U.S., British and Russian negotiators opened the second week of nuclear talks today amid indications they would complete an accord on a partial nuclear test ban by the end of the week.

The meeting — seventh in the three-power negotiations that began a week ago — opened at 8 p.m. (8 a.m. EDT) in Moscow's Spiridonovka Palace.

Diplomats, encouraged by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's statement that "an agreement is in sight," predicted that an East-West treaty banning underwater, atmospheric and outer space nuclear tests would be initiated in a few days.

The U.S., British, and Soviet negotiators were reported so far along on the test ban issue that their talks have turned to other cold war problems, including measures to guard against surprise attack.

6-State Oil Lease Deal Confirmed

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — Two Wichita oil companies have confirmed the sale of more than $1 million in oil leases in a six-state area.

Officials of the Clinton Oil Co., a recently organized firm, said today the company purchased Raymond Oil Co.'s interest in 40 producing leases. Raymond's interest in the wells averaged 37 1/2 per cent.

Former Pampa Woman Drowns

DECATUR, Tex. (UPI) — Two men were being questioned by sheriff's officers today in connection with the drowning Sunday night of Lavera Skinner, 27, of Bridgeport.

Wise County Sheriff J. R. Branch said the two men told him they had been swimming with the woman in Lake Bridgeport.

Conference Vote On Civil Rights Suffers Setback

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and other Republicans pushing for a vote on the civil rights issue were dealt a setback today by the National Governors Conference which abolished its resolution committee.

The Democratic-led move had the effect of avoiding on-the-record voting on the politically intense issue.

The showdown vote was 33-16 in favor of an amendment offered by Democratic Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada. The result was reached on an almost party line basis.

But Gov. Mark Hatfield, Oregon Republican, who had offered an alternative to forcing voting on civil rights with limited debate permissible, warned that the governors still could get into controversy in voting on committee reports.

Hatfield forecast a fight over a committee report on public welfare, in which he and Gov. George Romney of Michigan plan to file minority views.

Rockefeller and other Republicans fought to keep the door open for a vote on the issue but Sawyer came up with the plan to abolish the resolutions committee and thus head off another fiasco such as that last year, when Southern governors staged a filibuster on the conference.

Rockefeller and Hatfield wanted a rule to permit adoption of resolutions on civil rights and other issues with a proposal containing an anti-filibuster provision.

Sawyer proposed that the entire resolutions process be abolished to avoid another Southern Democratic filibuster.

Both proposals were offered as a substitute for an executive committee proposal to abandon the present two-thirds rule for resolutions and to return to the rule in force before 1956 to require a unanimous vote.

The unanimity rule would permit a single governor to veto any resolution.

Crew of Tanker Stay With Ship

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (UPI) — The captain of a Norwegian tanker and 17 of his crew, refusing to abandon their collision-ripped ship to the Atlantic, struggled today to keep the vessel afloat 250 miles off the Virginia coast.

The 13,490-ton Norwegian tanker, Honor, was badly damaged Sunday in a collision with the San Juan, a converted tanker from Wilmington, Del. The Honor, registered in Oslo, Norway, was reported holding her own despite a gash in her side 15 feet long and eight feet high.

Maryland Race Trouble Brewing

Negro leaders met today to decide what action to take in the wake of Brig. Gen. George C. Gelston's refusal to permit daily prayer meetings on the Cambridge, Md., courthouse lawn.

Gelston said early today that no demonstrations would be permitted under any circumstances.

Integration Groups Challenge Order by McNamara

By AL KUETTNER
United Press International

An order by Defense Secretary Robert McNamara that uniformed troops must not participate in racial demonstrations has been sharply challenged by integration organizations.

Caught up in the controversy is the little town of Havelock which lies outside the main entrance gate to the Cherry Point Marine Air Station in the flatlands of eastern North Carolina.

Racial groups have leveled discrimination charges against the "public accommodations" of the town which derives much of its income from the 2,600 men of Cherry Point, 600 of whom are Negroes.

Floyd McKissick, a Durham, N.C., lawyer who is national executive director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and an attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), announced that McNamara was asked this week to declare Havelock off limits to Marines unless the places used by the servicemen are desegregated.

Leaders Called To Preview Bill

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House said today President Kennedy would ask Congress to refer the railroad rules dispute to the Interstate Commerce Commission for "prompt hearing and disposition."

By WILLIAM J. EATON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy unveiled today to Republican and Democratic congressional leaders his proposal legislation to settle the strike-threatening dispute over train work rules.

This followed a session by the President with rail union and management leaders after which a carrier spokesman said compulsory arbitration was the only way to resolve the four-year-old impasse which threatened a national strike July 30.

Kennedy discussed his proposals for final disposal of the controversy with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and 20 House and Senate leaders.

After the earlier session with negotiators for both sides in the deadlock dispute, a railroad spokesman said there was no hope of reaching a last minute agreement.

The President outlined the legislation — to be submitted to Congress later today — at the bipartisan congressional meeting and prepared to brief the disputing parties on the proposals before it goes to Capitol Hill.

This would be a 24-hour postponement of a previous deadline which had been expected July 29. It would give another day to act on the President's legislative proposal.

The President called Democratic and Republican congressional leaders to the White House to preview his legislation to dispose of the dispute and block a shutdown of the railroads. Earlier, he met with union and management representatives along with Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz.

One rail official stated a further delay in the rules action would depend on the congressional situation, and told newsmen: "I do not think there is any hope of a last-minute agreement and I am certain the President is convinced of that."

Both sides were told to stand by for another session with the Chief Executive before he sends his emergency legislation to Congress.

Last-minute efforts by Wirtz to mediate the dispute collapsed Sunday night and left Kennedy with no choice but to carry out his pledge to seek a law to resolve the four-year-old controversy and block a walkout.

There was no official indication of what kind of legislation Kennedy would request. Observers said, however, they expected a two-step procedure would be recommended to provide an additional period for mediation. That would be followed by arbitration of unsettled issues.

Wirtz's Approach

This was the approach Wirtz recommended earlier for settling the two main issues—use of fire men on diesel freight or yard trains and make-up of train crews. That proposal was accepted by the railroads and rejected by the unions.

There was speculation that Kennedy might ask for legislation that would deal only with these issues in the belief that other could be settled without difficulty afterward.

Many congressional leaders have said that a week is not enough time for them to act on the railroad legislation. Any request for compulsory arbitration of the dispute would arouse strong opposition in the House and Senate and be fought by the rail unions and the AFL-CIO.

Soviets, Chinese Reds Launch New Cold War

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union and Communist China, their ideological talks broken off in failure, today began a new stage of their cold war for control of the world's Communist parties.

Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, seeking to align support for his peaceful coexistence policies, announced plans to visit Hungary.

He already has scheduled a trip to Yugoslavia next month and summoned a meeting of the COMECON—East Europe's Common Market—for this week.

(Communist China, whose delegates flew home Sunday at the end of 15 days of fruitless talks, today accused the Soviets of "unbridled slanders and vilifications," according to New China News Agency reports heard in Tokyo.)

Maryland Race Trouble Brewing

By United Press International

Negro leaders met today to decide what action to take in the wake of Brig. Gen. George C. Gelston's refusal to permit daily prayer meetings on the Cambridge, Md., courthouse lawn.

Gelston said early today that no demonstrations would be permitted under any circumstances.

There were indications the Negroes would demonstrate despite Gelston's order.

One integration leader, Mrs. Gloria H. Richardson, told an overflow crowd at a Washington, D.C. church Sunday that unless racial fires are damped in Cambridge, President Kennedy may have to visit the town personally to avert "civil war."

No Control

"Unless something is achieved soon in Cambridge, then no one is going to be able to control thousands of Negroes, who have been provoked by generations of segregation, by countless indignities and now by uncontrollable white mobs," Mrs. Richardson warned.

Cardinal Valeri Taken By Death

Cardinal Valeri was stricken several days ago with a serious throat infection.

Integration Groups Challenge Order by McNamara

By AL KUETTNER
United Press International

An order by Defense Secretary Robert McNamara that uniformed troops must not participate in racial demonstrations has been sharply challenged by integration organizations.

Caught up in the controversy is the little town of Havelock which lies outside the main entrance gate to the Cherry Point Marine Air Station in the flatlands of eastern North Carolina.

Racial groups have leveled discrimination charges against the "public accommodations" of the town which derives much of its income from the 2,600 men of Cherry Point, 600 of whom are Negroes.

Floyd McKissick, a Durham, N.C., lawyer who is national executive director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and an attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), announced that McNamara was asked this week to declare Havelock off limits to Marines unless the places used by the servicemen are desegregated.

He said he based his information that at least 17 night clubs and cafes and three theaters in the town were segregated on reports from a Marine who had just transferred home from duty in Japan.

A spokesman at Cherry Point, home of the 2nd Marine Air Wing, said the base would adhere strictly to a July 16 directive by McNamara and that "we will very definitely discourage participation in demonstrations."

In that directive, the defense secretary said that military personnel "may not under any circumstances" participate in racial demonstrations during duty hours, while they were in uniform, while on military reservations, when their participation breaks a civilian law or when violence is reasonably likely to result from a demonstration in which they were participating.

McNamara did not expressly forbid off duty servicemen not in uniform from getting into a racial incident but they also could be affected in the event of trouble and arrest.

The presence of a small number of Negro servicemen among racial demonstrators recently brought demands that McNamara issue a servicewide policy directive on the subject. A few Negro servicemen in uniform have shown up at most of the major demonstrations in the South.

McKissick did not say that Cherry Point military personnel planned to violate the McNamara order but he stressed that integration groups would turn to "direct action" at Havelock unless the Defense Department or the business houses involved move voluntarily.

Medical Study Reports Hair Spray Inhalation Not Harmful To Lungs

Animal and human studies have produced no evidence that inhalation of hair spray causes lung disease according to research by the American Medical Association.

There have been several reports inferring that particles of hair spray components accumulate in the lungs as a result of inhalation, producing a disease termed "hair spray thesauritis."

However, the researchers said, the existence of such a disease has not been established.

In experimental animals extreme exposure to hair sprays of different types, in high concentrations, with sustained inhalation and prolonged exposure in enclosed chambers did not produce harmful changes in the lungs, they reported in the June 15th issue of the Journal of the A.M.A.

"To date, the evidence is that inhaled hair spray particles do not reach the lower respiratory tract," they said. "If the hair spray is actually introduced (by experimental means) into the lower respiratory tract, in animals, the pathological reactions which have been described as constituting the syndrome of hair spray thesauritis do not develop.

"In view of these findings, it is suggested that the increasingly common practice of diagnosing transient pulmonary infiltration as hair spray thesauritis simply because the patient is a hair spray user be discouraged."

There is a direct relationship between the size of spray particles and their ability to enter the lower respiratory tract, the authors pointed out. The particle size range of one spray which was studied was found to be such as to render unlikely the penetration of particles through the defenses of the upper respiratory tract, they said.

In the reported cases of "hair spray thesauritis," the connecting link between the spray and the patient's condition has been the appearance of granules in lung tissue when stained and observed under a microscope, which were said to be hair spray particles, the authors said.

However, they said, human lung tissue from persons with a variety of lung disorders who had not been exposed to hair spray also revealed presence of granules examined by the same technique. These granules also are present in normal lung tissue, they said, and had been seen in biopsy and autopsy tissue before the advent of hair spray.

The finding of such granules, therefore, is by no means unique, they said, and no conclusion can be drawn as to whether they are caused by an external factor.

It was also reported that hair spray and hair spray particles were examined by staining techniques, not none had the staining characteristics of the granules described in causes of "hair spray thesauritis." The study was reported by Matthew J. Brunner, M.D.; Frank E. Dunlap, M.D.; Joseph C. Calandra, M.D., Northwestern University, Chicago; Robert P. Giovacchini, Ph.D., Medical Department, The Toni Company, Chicago; John P. Wyatt, M.D., School of Medicine, St. Louis University, St. Louis.

Girls' Friends Object To Sister's Reputation

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and have just received a telephone call from the boy I've been dating. He told me that his mother didn't want him to date me any more because she had heard some things about my older sister. Of course, he said we could date on the sneak, but I don't like that idea. I have had girls tell that their parents didn't want them to run around with me because of my sister. Sure, my sister has a bad reputation, but I have never done the slightest thing out of line. Why do brothers and sisters have to suffer because of something they couldn't help? I'm not the only one with this problem. How can I prove to people that I am not like my sister?

HURT
DEAR HURT: Don't try to "prove" anything. Build your own good reputation. Those who are not willing to judge you on your own record are not worth having for friends.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you could make mothers understand that no matter how cute their little darlings are, they are a pain in the neck to service men. When I go into a home to repair plumbing and heating, my biggest problem is combing the kids out of my hair. If they aren't watched, they get into my tool box and walk off with my tools. Or worse yet, they stand a chance of getting hurt. They ask a million questions and breathe down your neck. I like kids, Abby, don't get me wrong, but it's hard for me to tell a mother to keep her kids away while he's working, so will you do it for us?
SERVICE MAN
DEAR SERVICE MAN: You

have my sympathy, but you can do it better. Before you start a job, tell the "lady of the house" that you work by the hour, and if you have to watch Junior while he's watching YOU, it will probably take twice as long to get the job done. Then watch HER send him outside.

DEAR ABBY: I was pleased to see your answer to "HIS MOTHER," who complained because her son was not promoted. I've taught school for over 30 years, and am familiar with the problem. It is sad for the child when his parents bring the roof down on the teacher when it is suggested that their child repeat a year. Usually the parent is hurt because of what friends and relatives will say. I have seen parents fight teachers on this all the way through the grades, until finally the pupil receives a diploma even though he cannot spell properly, has never learned to comprehend what he has read, and has a very poor foundation in math and science. Parents willingly accept the fact that not all children learn to walk and talk at the same age. But they refuse to admit that not all children learn other skills at the same rate. Please, Abby, let parents know that if a child must repeat a grade, it is NO reflection on his intelligence.

Courage of Two Priests Saves Five From Death

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Five persons cheated death in the well-tossed waters of Lake Pontchartrain Saturday because of the strength and courage of two Catholic priests.

One of the priests, the Rev. John Sauvageau, 45, preached seven sermons in his church Sunday, beginning about 15 hours after he towed a teen-age girl through seven miles of gasoline-covered water to summon aid for three other persons clinging to a nearly submerged boat.

The Rev. Anatole Baillargeon, 40, of Mattick, Mass., was scheduled to deliver the sermons, but he was recuperating in the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital from a different sort of ordeal.

Father Baillargeon, who cannot swim, clung with one arm to the bow of the capsized motorboat and with the other held 3-year-old Christy Martini above water for 11 hours.

Thrown Into Lake The priests, 14-year-old Lannie Fagot, Christy and her mother, Mrs. Gene Martini, 26, were thrown into the lake Saturday afternoon by a three-foot swell that capsized their 18-foot boat.

There were only four life preservers aboard the boat. Father Sauvageau gave one to each of his companions, and supported himself on the small portion of the bow of the boat that remained above water, intending to remain there until help arrived.

But the teen-ager became panicky and drifted away from the boat. Father Sauvageau handed the girl a plastic ice chest and struck out for shore, towing her behind him. They reached land five hours later.

Mrs. Martini stayed with the boat 3 1/2 hours before trying to swim for help.

Ordeal Begins Saturday The ordeal began about 3:30 p.m. (CST) Saturday. Father Sauvageau and Miss Fagot reached the beach about 8 p.m. Father Baillargeon and Christy were taken from the water by a U. S. Coast Guard helicopter about 2:45 a.m. and Mrs. Martini, still trying to swim to shore, was picked up 15 minutes later by a St. Tammany Parish (county) sheriff's patrol boat.

All five suffered exposure and exhaustion and burns from gasoline that seeped out of the boat's fuel tank. Father Sauvageau said gasoline stayed with him, caught in the tide, all the way to the beach.

Indonesia Sets Naval Maneuvers

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — Indonesia announced today it will hold four days of naval maneuvers in the waters off Malaysia and Borneo under its policy of "confrontation" against the proposed Malaysia Federation.

(In London Sunday, Malaysian Premier Tengku Abdul Rahman, one of the key figures in bringing together the federation, said he would use arms to defend Malaysia if anyone, including Indonesia, threatens its integrity.)

(Rahman said Indonesian President Sukarno has "clearly declared he wants to oppose this federation by all means" but said he prays "the day will not come when Malaysia and Indonesia clash with each other.")

Warn Of Strike The railroads have declared they will place new work rules into effect at 12:01 a.m. (local time) July 29 and five unions have warned they will strike any road that adopts the changes.

Management claims the sweeping revisions of crew sizes, pay systems and seniority districts were needed to eliminate alleged "featherbedding" that wastes $600 million a year.

Union leaders deny any unnecessary workers are employed and insist they are required to run trains safely and efficiently.

At the heart of the dispute is the railroads' demand for elimination of the jobs of 37,000 firemen they claim are not needed on locomotives except for those in passenger service. The unions have agreed to reduce firemen's ranks by 5,500 but the railroads contend that strings on this offer would abolish only a few hundred jobs.

Scores Jailed in Street 'Lie Down'

By United Press International Scores of integrationists were arrested in New York City today when they sprawled on the ground and tried to keep trucks from entering a construction site.

Among those arrested at the "lie down" demonstration was a grandmother who sat in front of a truck trying to enter the site with her 22-month-old grand-daughter in her arms. The infant was turned over to a relative and the woman carried away to jail.

By noon (EDT), an estimated 250 persons had been arrested at the entrance to a medical center construction site in Brooklyn and hauled away in a shuttle of pad-dy wagons.

The demonstrators were part of a group of about 1,000 whites and Negroes led by a group of ministers protesting alleged job discrimination at construction sites in New York.

Reports Shot Fired At Cambridge, Md., the commander of about 900 National Guard troops patrolling the racially-tense fishing town, turned down a request from integration leaders to hold daily prayer meetings at the courthouse.

Poor Walt Alston Suffers As Dodgers Keep Going

By DICK JOYCE
UPI Sports Writer

You say you were thrown out of both ball games Sunday for umpire-baiting? Your team lost a doubleheader and you were hit in the face with a beer container?

Chin up, Walter Alston, your Los Angeles Dodgers are leading the National League by six games and you have a nine-game home stand coming up.

Despite 7-3 and 13-7 losses to the Milwaukee Braves Sunday, the Dodgers wound up their successful road trip with a 10-4 mark, giving them a six-game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals. When the road trip began, the Dodgers held only a three-game lead over the San Francisco Giants.

The usually quiet and restrained Alston, with the Dodgers' disastrous collapses of the past two seasons indelible in his mind, was ejected in the sixth inning of the first game by umpire Tom Gorman. In the first inning of the nightcap, umpire Stan Landes gave the Dodger manager the thumb. And then a Milwaukee fan belted Alston with a paper beer container.

Alston claimed that Bob Sadowski was talking in the open and then became incensed when a ball was called on rookie Nick Willits of the Dodgers in the second game.

In other NL games, the Cardinals rapped out 17 hits to beat the Houston Colts, 5-4; the Giants clubbed 16 hits in downing the Cincinnati Reds, 16-5; the Philadelphia Phillies swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets, 8-4 and 7-2, and Pittsburgh and Chicago split, the Cubs taking the opener, 5-1, and the Pirates the nightcap, 6-5 in 14 innings.

Milwaukee clobbered eight Dodger pitchers for 26 hits, including homers by Hank Aaron, Denis Menke, Joe Torre and Gene Oliver, in sweeping the twin bill. Sadowski earned his first major league victory in the opener while reliever Tony Cloninger got credit for the second-game triumph.

Gibson Notched Win
Bob Gibson pitched an eight-hitter and George Altman and Ken Boyer slammed homers in pacing the Cardinals to victory. Dick Groat drove home three runs for St. Louis.

Jim Davenport, Felipe Alou and Orlando Cepeda contributed homers as the Giants routed 13-game winner Jim O'Toole. Bob Bolin limited the Reds to three hits in 5 1-3 relief innings to gain the victory.

The Phillies, on another second half of the season surge extended their winning streak to seven as Chris Short hurled a four-hitter in the opener and Dennis Bennett and Johnny Klipstein combined for a seven-hitter in the nightcap against the Mets. Philadelphia has won 13 of its last 16 games for its longest winning streak since 1955.

Lou Brock's two-run homer and Paul Toth's seven-hit pitching gave Chicago its first game triumph while Pittsburgh bounced back in the nightcap on Bill Virdon's run-producing single in the 14th inning. Jerry Lynch of the Pirates equalled the major league career record for pinch-hit home runs when he hit one to tie the score 5-5 in the ninth inning. Lynch shares the record of 14 with George Crowe.

TEXAS OUTDOORS

By WILLIAM CLAYTON
United Press International

The 58th Texas Legislature's regular session added a score of counties to the regulatory authority of the Game and Fish Commission, giving it the second of two big boosts in duties.

The first, of course, was the merger of the commission with the State Parks Board.

The commission, which will become the Parks and Wildlife Commission in late August, has authority now over 129 full counties or certain species in counties.

The legislature passed one bill taking Red River County out of the regulatory umbrella of the commission.

Lawmakers then added 20 counties, making 129 now regulated partially or wholly by state authorities.

Orange and Jefferson counties, regulated now for most everything, added shrimp regulation to the commission powers in that area.

The commission acquired authority over alligators in Matagorda County, and white tail deer in Austin County. In the counties of Goliad and Live Oak, a bill gave the commission authority over deer, wild turkey, quail and alligators.

In these counties, the commission acquired total regulatory authority—Frisco, Coke, Reagan, Val Verde, Kinney, Guadalupe, De Witt, Gonzales, Midland, Madison, Cameron, Jim Wells, Hidalgo, Starr, Sanpatricio and Aransas.

Fish Facts
Despite their promise of important management advances, too little is known still about selective poisons to be used for rough fish control or for total-kills on lakes that need them.

The Game and Fish Commission biologists working on a project in South and South Central Texas said determining the toxicity limits of various fish will be one way to learn which chemicals are best suited to this work.

LIVING IN THE PAST

Veteran Frank Lary, Rookie Downing Win

By NORMAN MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

It was an old familiar baseball tableau: Veteran Frank Lary of the Tigers struggling along the comeback trail to save his pitching career while young Al Downing of the Yankees jauntily strode the road to World Series gold and glory.

There was satisfaction for both Sunday.

The 32-year-old Lary scored his first victory in more than a year when he pitched a four-hitter as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 8-2.

And the 22-year-old Downing pitched his sixth victory to start the New York Yankees off to a doubleheader sweep against the Cleveland Indians, 5-2 and 5-4 in 11 innings. The wins widened the Yankees' American League lead to seven games—their widest margin of the season.

All three other games in the AL Sunday were decided by 3-2 scores: the Minnesota Twins edging the Washington Senators, the Boston Red Sox beating the Chicago White Sox, and the Kansas City Athletics topped the Baltimore Orioles. Rain forced postponement of a scheduled twin bill second game between Boston and Chicago.

It was a long time between major league victories for Lary, who returned to the Tigers three weeks ago after a stretch with Knoxville of the Sally League, where he had been sent to pitch his ailing shoulder back into shape.

Lary struck out five batters and walked only two in pitching the distance. A 13-hit Tiger attack with four stolen bases, and four Los Angeles errors, all helped. Angels starter Dean Chance aided Lary's cause with an error during Detroit's three-run sixth inning.

Meanwhile, Downing pitched an odd game in which he struck out 10 batters and walked nine before tiring in the ninth inning and requiring relief from Hal Reniff. This was the fourth straight game in which Downing fanned 10 or more hitters. Harry Bright hit a two-run homer for New York.

Won in the 11th
Bobby Richardson's one-out, 11th inning single off old Early Wynn produced the Yankees' nightcap victory and stretched the Indians' losing streak to nine games. Wynn who scored the 300th win of his career eight days ago, entered the game in relief after Woody Held's triple had tied the score in the ninth. Reliever Steve Hamilton was the winner.

Bob Tillman's 19th-inning homer off knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm earned the Red Sox victory over the White Sox. Dick Radatz was credited with his 12th win against a lone defeat after pitching one hit relief ball for the last two innings.

Don Mincher hit two homers and John Gory added another, enabling the Twins to beat the Senators. Each hit one back-to-back in the eighth off Don Du-

Chuck Takes Clay Title

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chuck McKinley won his second successive mens singles titles at the National Clay Courts championships Sunday by defeating Dennis Ralston in a battle of two young men who hold the key to the United States' Davis Cup fortunes.

Both McKinley and Ralston frankly admitted that McKinley's 6-2, 6-2, 6-1 victory at River Forest that the Davis Cup was foremost in their minds.

McKinley, 22, San Antonio, Tex., the Wimbledon champion, said he was not going to think about turning pro until after the Forest Hill, Davis Cup and other championships—and a lot could happen before then," he said.

Ralston, 20, Bakersfield, Calif., playing the summer circuit with blisters on his hand he got while winning the national collegiate title this spring, said the Davis Cup team was his big goal of the moment.

In other play at River Forest Sunday, Nancy Richey, 20, of Dallas, Tex., defeated Vickie Palmer, 18, of Phoenix, Ariz., 6-1, 6-1, for the women's singles title in a contest in which Miss Richey's matchless efficiency won out over Miss Palmer's powerful play.

Marty Riessen, Evanston, Ill., the Big Ten singles champion, and his Northwestern University teammate, Clark Graebner, Shaker Heights, Ohio, upset McKinley and Ralston, 6-4, 0-6, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3, for the men's doubles title.

Abilene, Lubbock Win TAAF Crowns
LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — The boys from Abilene and the girls from Lubbock were victors Sunday in the first annual Texas Amateur Athletic Federation Track and Field Meet in Lubbock.

Abilene scored 282 points to Odessa's 182 to win first place in the boy's division and Lubbock's won first place in the girl's division by outscoring Abilene, 201 to 124.

McMurry College's Mickey Miller thrilled the crowd with a running of the 100 yard dash in 8.7 seconds. He was one of a handful of college track men who came to the meet.

The Swedes gained the final by beating South Africa, 6-4, with Jan Erik Lundquist and Ulf Schmidt scoring windup singles victories Sunday. Lundquist beat Gordon Forbes, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2, and Schmidt downed Cliff Drysdale, 6-2, 3-4, 7-3, 6-0.

NOTCHES A FIRST
GSTAAD, Switzerland (UPI)—Nicola Pietrangeli, the temperamental Italian Davis Cup tennis star, had a first today when he became the initial player from his country to win the men's singles title in the Switzerland championships. Pietrangeli won by beating top-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia, 7-5, 6-2, 6-2. The ladies' title went to Robyn Ebberly of Australia, who beat compatriot Leslie Turner, 6-4, 6-4.

Fearless Floyd To Battle Liston

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Fast and fearless Floyd Patterson, admittedly in the best physical and mental condition of his career, will try tonight to stretch his record to three-time heavyweight king in a return title fight with champion Sonny Liston.

A victory by Patterson would knock Liston out of a "seven-million-dollar fight" with Cassius Clay at Philadelphia Sept. 30.

"I feel more relaxed than at any time since I first won the title seven years ago," explained 28-year-old Patterson at the Dunes Hotel, after driving in from his quarters at the Hidden Well Ranch.

The massive, muscular Liston of Chicago was favored at 5-1 to keep his title before a sell-out crowd of 7,891 paid spectators in the Las Vegas Convention Center. A record Nevada gate of more than $200,000 is assured, promoter Al Rolan said.

The betting was practically a par with a United Press International poll of 64 sports writers here in this gambling metropolis. Thirty-year-old Liston was favored by the poll, 51-13.

That the bout was not expected to last its scheduled 15 rounds was emphasized by the fact that all 51 votes for Sonny were on knockouts and nine of the 13 for

Jackie Nicklaus Now Grown Man

DALLAS (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus, at 23, figured today he was "a grown man."

For now he has won 'em all that he set out to win when he turned professional golfer a year and a half ago. He won the U.S. Open in June of 1962, and the Masters last April.

After that victory he said he didn't think he still had arrived. "Wait until I win the PGA," he declared. "When I win that one, I'll consider myself a man."

He won that Sunday when he broke the hearts of those chasing him with a 30-foot birdie putt on the 15th hole of the heat-seared Dac Country Club course before a 110-degree sweat-soaked crowd of 12,500.

The triumph swelled his bankroll $13,000 to a total of $73,140, leaving him only $10,815 behind Golden Boy Arnold Palmer, who finished in a tie for 40th place—and $410 prize money — as once again he failed to win the only major golf tournament that has eluded him.

Golfing Glory
It gave Nicklaus more than golfing gold, too — for it gave him golfing glory.

He became only the fourth golfer in history to win the three big ones — the Open, Masters and PGA — putting him into the ranks of "the same's greatest" — Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson and Gene Sarazen. But none of them did it like Nicklaus. It took them years — it took Nicklaus only a year and a half.

That 15th hole birdie in the scorching heat turned back the bids of two 27-year-olds. Dave Ragan and Aussie Bruce Crampton. They had been charging Nicklaus down to the wire until that big putt on the 15th.

After sinking that lone one, Nicklaus, the 210-pound, six foot Ohio halter played it cool, being satisfied to par the last three holes. That 34-34—68 over the 7,045-yard par 36-35—71 Dac Country Club course, gave him a 72-hole of 279 — five under par for the distance — and two shots ahead of the second place Ragan, who finished with a 33-37—69 for 281. Ragan started the day four strokes behind Crampton. Crampton with a two over par 74 finished in a third place tie with former PGA champ Dow Finsterwald at 282. Finsterwald closed with a one over par 77.

Picked Up $7,000
Ragan's second place finish was worth $7,000 while Crampton and Finsterwald picked up $3,750 each.

Al Geiberger with a 70 and Billy Maxwell with a 71 came next at 284 while another stroke back was former PGA champ Jim Ferrier with a fourth round 86.

At 288 were Gardner Dickinson, Tommy Jacobs, Bill Johnston, defending champion Gary Player and former Masters champion Art Wall. A stroke further back were U. S. Open champion Julius Boros, British Open champion Bob Charles, Wes Ellis, Tony Lema, and Jack Sellman.

U.S. Athletes Thank Connolly For Victory

MOSCOW (UPI) — American track and field athletes showered their thanks today on hammer-thrower Hal Connolly for saving a narrow team victory over the Russians, but many wondered out loud, "who'll save us in the 1964 Olympics?"

A 1-2 finish in the 1,500-meter run by Deyrol Burleson and Tom O'Hara was the highlight of five Sunday victories that enabled the Yanks to edge the Soviet men, 119,114. This was the narrowest American margin of victory in the five meets that have been held between these two leading world track and field nations.

Russian women swept the 11 events on the two-day program to rout their United States counterparts, 75-28.

From the Soviet standpoint, the most heralded achievement was Valery Brumel's world record high jump of 7 feet, 5 1/2 inches. The Russians won six of the final day's 11 men's events but could not overcome the 61-54 advantage the Yanks had piled up in Saturday's competition.

Still, the United States might have lost this meet for the first time had it not been for Connolly's unexpected victory in Saturday's hammer throw.

The 32-year-old Connolly, now teaching in Finland with his wife,

Olga, had notified U.S. officials that he would be unable to compete against the Russians because of a back injury. He changed his mind at the last minute and came to Moscow for the meet.

Had it not been for Connolly's victory, the U.S. undoubtedly would have lost the men's competition, 117-116.

As it was, the Russians' 10 victories in 22 men's events was their best showing in this series and posed a serious threat to American track and field supremacy at the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

Payton Jordan, the U.S. coach from Stanford, praised the Russians as being "perfectly prepared for the meet." And he added that "we are pleased with everything — the weather, the wonderful Moscow spectators and the showing made by many of our sportsmen."

McGUIRE SIGNS CONTRACT
BOSTON (UPI) — Connie McGuire, former Southeast Oklahoma State star, has signed his first professional contract with the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association. The 6-8, 200-pound native of Stigler, Okla., was the Celtics' fourth round draft choice this year.

Got Yours?

Having troubles? Don't worry—maybe government will take care of them.

To make things all hunky-dory down on the farm, the federal government has put up tens of billions of dollars to keep prices up and is still kicking in to the tune of $5 billion a year of the taxpayer's money. The mess is worse than ever, but no one can say agriculture is neglected.

Due to changing needs, times, and habits many of our city transit systems are finding the going hard. So, as a start, it is proposed that, over a three-year period, the various units of government kick in with more than $500 million in grants and low-interest loans. Representative Taft estimates the ultimate total at $20 billion. Representative Derwinski?

thinks that "Handing out government grants will discourage initiative among transit operators who might otherwise solve their own problems; drive financing out of the field, and subsidize inefficiency." They sure would—but never mind little things like that.

The House has balked at a proposal to establish a cabinet level Department of Urban Affairs, which would enable the federal government to run the cities. But don't worry—the bill will be back.

There's lots of money down there in Washington, so long as we don't worry about more and more taxes, more and bigger deficits, a worsening world trade position, inflation, and other such petty matters. Got yours yet?

Contrast in Height

There always seem to be a few persons whose idea of making progress in this world is confined to knocking down the other fellow so that they look bigger by contrast.

Tear It Down

Those who promoted an urban renewal project for Cleveland reported that 71 per cent of the housing in the area was awful. Had to come down. And so $131 million was earmarked for the project—part of it your Federal tax payments.

Then the General Accounting Office checked. GAO investigators accompanied by Federal housing officials inspected the area. And they found only 20 per cent of the housing could be described as sub-standard.

The GAO complains that too much good housing is being torn down under "vague standards." Under such standards, "very few areas of any city would not be eligible for total demolition," in the words of Comptroller General Joseph Campbell.

Tearing down good housing may not be good for the owners, the resident or the taxpayers, but it keeps unnumbered bureaucrats happy.

Some Comments on Racial Agitation

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph. D.

A lady asked me to write about the racial agitation which plagues all of the people throughout the country today, a subject I rarely mention. To begin with, agitation for the sake of agitating is a normal, correlative aspect of the actions of the socialist conglomerate who never lose sight of the fact that their true goal is the enslavement of the entire population, except the bosses of the conglomerate, to an all powerful state.

I operate a small business. If government dares to tell me I must do business with anyone, I will face the fact that I am no longer the operator of that small business and we will be out of business within a matter of minutes.

If any person attempts to force us to accept his or her patronage, we will oppose the show of force. This is a two-sided coin. We will also resist any effort by government or any individual or group which might attempt to tell us we must not accept the patronage of certain law-abiding clients and while stating our case, as of now, I will also go on record as stating that we will not accept the patronage of anyone we know to be a bureaucrat, no matter what his or her position may be.

The badly advised persons who attempt to force their custom upon the owners of business establishments fail to realize that by their actions they make their own position untenable and that if government can force a business man to accept their patronage, government may also dictate a policy which prohibits a business establishment from doing business with certain people.

In my opinion, no self-respecting human being will ever attempt to force any business establishment to do business with him. Those who involve themselves in such actions have lost their own self-respect some place along the way and this is to be regretted. I believe it is worthy of note that no group has attempted to force the Pullman Car Co. to establish integrated employment practices.

Ten or a dozen years ago I accepted a teaching assignment at a school which had not been "integrated." About 70 per cent of the students were colored, 20 per cent of Mexican or oriental parentage and 10 per cent were Caucasians. I was the only non-colored instructor and the president of the school made a humorous remark, "I guess I am integrating my teaching staff." I asked if he was concerned with integration or with employing a qualified instructor and he understood my question.

I say the school population was not integrated because there was no coercion involved. Students were free to attend or not to attend the private enterprise school, which unfortunately, operated under a partial subsidy from government.

Despite the fact that the head of the school was a colored man and that none of the instructors were white, before my arrival the professional agitators for what they called racial equality had been on the job trying to stir up trouble. Without a respite, the tub thumpers and amateur students of sociology continued to holler and yell and pry and agitate. Less than a year later, the head of the school disbanded the entire operation in sheer disgust.

He was and probably still is an intelligent, self-respecting human being.

No amount of tub thumping, no amount of shouting by hysterical politicians can change the basic principles involved in this mess. A person either has a right to own and operate his business or he does not. A person, regardless of his race, either has a right to own property and do with it what he wishes or he does not. At this time, it appears that no one has the absolute right to own and operate his own business or to own and do what he wishes to do with his property. I believe I am correct in repeating what I have previously stated: we're a sorry bunch of share-croppers, working under and for government. Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

The smart guy who said it takes a lot of living to make a house a home didn't add that it also takes a lot of dough these days. Edward Knapp, a University of Massachusetts professor, is trying to remedy that oversight with a course in home buying that has attracted several hundred eager students. In his plug for the course, Prof. Knapp says that day's couples may buy five or six homes in their lifetime, as against one for their parents, due to the way industry shifts personnel. With so many more chances to make mistakes, he says they need to be wiser since errors can make them "house poor. He wants them to be cognizant of values, mortgages, agreements, assessments, building regulations, and above all else—resale value. The phenomenal increase in exports, was due chiefly to the rise in the world market price of sugar, and Taiwan's rice export to neighboring countries.

Morse Out to Curtail President's Freedom In Allocating Funds for Alliance for Progress

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — A new serious revolt is threatening still further President Kennedy's already heavily beleaguered multi-billion dollar foreign aid budget.

Significantly, this latest attack comes from a key Democrat. Senator Wayne Morse, D-Ore., chairman of the influential Foreign Relations Subcommittee on Latin American Affairs, is kicking over the traces and vigorously challenging the President's request for $925 million for the Alliance for Progress program.

This is approximately $175 million more than Congress voted for this widely criticized program last year.

In bluntly opposing the President's proposal, Morse is stressing that he is not against economic aid for Latin America. What riles the militant Oregonian is giving the President this huge fund, in effect, without strings.

That's what Congress has done since he launched the Alliance for Progress.

In 1961, $707 million was appropriated with no conditions attached, and in 1962, $751 million was voted on the same basis. In both years, Congress gave the President a free hand in spending these vast sums.

Now for the first time this unlimited authority is being sharply fought. Morse is serving notice he wants explicit curbs enacted.

"As chairman of the subcommittee on Latin American Affairs," he declared, "I shall not support the Alliance for Progress program in the foreign aid bill in its present form. I shall support economic aid to Latin America if the specific amounts are related to specific reforms and specific projects."

Also included in Morse's caustic crackdown is continued large-scale military aid to Latin America.

The President's budget seeks $77 million for that purpose this fiscal year. Morse considers that largely unnecessary and wasteful spending that is no real contribution to the defenses of either Latin America or the U.S.

THE RIOT ACT — Long critical of the administering of the Alliance for Progress, Senator Morse will shortly subject it to a full-scale inquiry.

Alliance Director Teodoro Moscoso, under fire in both the U.S. and Latin America for some time, and other foreign aid and State Department officials will be summoned before Morse's subcommittee for close questioning. Morse and his staff have been carefully preparing for this grilling.

Meanwhile, he is training his heavy guns on the President's $925 million budget for the Alliance.

While not directly attacking that as too much, Morse is strongly inferring it is by stressing the Alliance's floundering progress and the urgent need for sweeping changes in both the program and its budget.

"As one of the early advocates of an economic aid program for South and Central America,"

The Doctor Says:

Low Blood Pressure Does Not Always Need Treatment By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Q—I feel tired and ache all over. My doctor said my blood pressure was very low. Is this serious? A—Low blood pressure is hard to define because any level of pressure that is high enough to keep your blood circulating when you are up and about is not too low. Many of the best athletes have blood pressures far below the average. No one ever died of chronic low blood pressure. (The sudden lowering of blood pressure known as shock is a different matter.) In fact, persons whose blood pressure is below average generally live longer than those who have higher blood pressures.

There is, however, a condition known as orthostatic low blood pressure in which a person who gets up too quickly from a prone position blacks out or feels very faint. When this happens one should sit down or lie down then get up slowly. This is frequently seen in persons who have been in bed several days because of an illness.

Most persons with low blood pressure require no treatment. But, if your doctor thinks your low blood pressure is causing you symptoms, he may want to give you angiotensin (formerly called angiotonin).

Q—Must the heart action have been stopped for an hour before a person can be officially pronounced dead?

A—This would depend on the circumstances. If a person had been ill for a long time and death was expected, a doctor would listen with his stethoscope to the patient's chest for signs of heart action and would also determine whether or not the patient were breathing. If there were no signs of breathing or heart action the patient could be pronounced dead at once.

On the other hand if a person has apparently drowned or been knocked unconscious by an electric current or a blow on the head and stops breathing, artificial respiration should be continued for at least an hour before the victim is pronounced dead.

Q—What is von Recklinghausen's disease? Is it curable?

A—Von Recklinghausen's disease is a hereditary condition in which spots of increased skin pigmentation are found, especially on the torso. The chief feature of the disease is the large number of tumors that appear to be in the skin but are really tumors of the nerve endings just beneath the skin. These may occur anywhere but are most abundant on the trunk.

They are usually soft, vary in size, and with rare exceptions, are painless. Although the condition is hereditary, the disease does not usually make its appearance until late in life. The condition is really not a disease as it does not affect the general health. There is no treatment except for removal of those tumors that become so large that they cause pressure or discomfort.

for systematically assisting Latin American countries to undertake reforms or to assess those reforms that have been undertaken. Not only are the activities of the various interested organizations such as AID, the OAS, and the IADB uncoordinated but much of what has been done has been wasteful and badly conceived."

THE DANGER FROM DRONES

How much dead weight can our American society support? This is a basic question that every responsible citizen should ask himself when a new social service is proposed or when an additional make-work measure is adopted.

Since the beginning of the New Deal 30 years ago, a highly influential group of Americans have pushed a variety of projects and laws that amount to dead weight on our society. It has been supported by liberal thinkers and politicians that society should support a large group of drones. This dependent population is growing all the time. The New Frontier wants to expand social services to the dependents, sending sum youths into a national service corps and providing all manner of medicare to the aged who have not set aside something for a rainy day.

Eugene Davidson, editor of Modern Age, has discussed this dead weight issue in an able article entitled, "The New Poor and the Old Balancey." He warned that we see in this country "constantly escalating demands: for a five and four-hour day, for a built-in system of resetting newspaper advertisements that are already in type — a practice appropriately called bogus — for the extra stage hands who do no work, for the railroad telegraphers who take no messages."

Those who want to work hard and have no work are prevented from taking any job. They are prevented from doing so by the laws and customs created by the social uplift advocates. A man in a documentary film on the unemployed in West Virginia said, for example, that he would take any kind of work, from house painting to ditch digging. "But," said Mr. Davidson, "he won't if the unions can help it; he would undercut the market for the overtime construction workers and for the house painters who with their narrow brushes and artificial scales help keep houses unpeeled."

Year by year, the dead weight increases on our society. Year by year, the demands from dependents become more insupportable. Take the metropolitan newspapers, for instance. The outrageous demands of strikers on newspapers have the effect of abolishing employment instead of bettering working conditions. By unreasonable requests, they force employers to go out of business. Many a newspaper has failed in the United States because of the skyrocketing demands of labor unions. So it is with other kinds of industry.

There are many aspects to this disturbing situation. Artificial wage requirements hold down private construction below the level of what it should be. Meanwhile, the liberals increase their demands for more public housing for the new poor. The middle class groans under heavy taxation, while the slum dwellers have new palaces constructed for them. And these new apartments become expensive citadels of crime and idleness.

The facts about the dead weight on our society are rarely admitted. They are hidden behind a smokescreen of soft words or crafty management of the news. Only rarely do hard facts get a public airing. One instance came on April 24 when an official of the Illinois Public Aid Commission said: "Let's face it. Seventy-five per cent of the people on relief are Negroes." How hard it is to get such facts before the public, to get officials to admit the nature of dependence in our society!

Every good society aims to be humanitarian in the best sense, to do good for people who are in need. But today's social welfare philosophy is all wrong because it is hurting the people it is supposed to help. The dependents in our country aren't being aided in learning or retaining self-reliance. Instead, they are being taught to live comfortably as drones on the public expense. The Aid to Dependent Children scheme, for example, becomes a way of life for immoral mothers who profit from illegitimacy.

This kind of social uplift can't make our country strong; it can only ruin it. The strength of a society depends on those who are hard working and self-reliant. They are the salt of the earth. If government does not give primary consideration to their needs, instead of the wants and desires of the drones, then health will depart from the body politic. This is the truth that America needs to rediscover. A petted class of dependents is a weight on society that can, in time, destroy that society.

Grass Roots

ANTIGO, WISCONSIN, JOURNAL: "Hang up the crying towel!" was the advice to Wisconsin beginning farmers given by Prof. Walter Bjorkaker of the state college of agriculture to Wisconsin Future Farmers meeting in convention recently. Agriculture, he reminded them, is changing rapidly but it is not moving off the map. Opportunities still are present, but young farmers must be ready to cope with the changes as they arise. Agriculture is broader than production. It also includes selling, marketing, research, administration and other professional fields. Brains (are) much more important than brawn in today's farming.

TOLEDO, IOWA, CHRONICLE: "Only by our own choice can we liberate ourselves and become again free. It may be, as Aldous Huxley fears, that our time is short; but let us use that time in rebellion." Perhaps the forces that now menace freedom are too strong to be resisted for very long. It is still our duty to do whatever we can to resist them."

EVERETT, WASH., HERALD: "Too many people in this administration have placed faith in a belief that the only important thing is to avoid a major war between the United States and Russia, and if that can be forestalled, communism, because of its own structural weaknesses and the education of its people, will slowly turn away from dictatorship and enslavement and move toward the Western position. No dictatorship ever walked off the stage of human affairs."

EL DORADO, KAN., TIMES: "Today, more people are on relief than in the great depression. The cost of relief far exceeds $100 a year per taxpaying family. This has occurred despite Social Security, unemployment compensation and other welfare measures. The drop in crime that was to accompany liberalized relief hasn't materialized. It's time to clean up the mess—but who will start the cleaning?"

Television In Review

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Television, dormant during the summer months, gets a shot in the arm this week with the return of "The Lively Ones," a musical melange hosted by Vic Damone.

The show made its debut last year as a summer replacement and quickly became a favorite of critics and viewers.

Encouraged by ratings and reviews, NBC-TV scheduled Damone and company again this year for eight weeks beginning July 25.

The singer and his producer, Barry Shear, resent the term "summer replacement." They argue that television occupies as many persons during the hot months as it does the rest of the year.

"There is no such thing as summer TV," said Shear. "No matter where people go this summer they'll run into television sets—at the beach, on top of mountains, at the bottom of lakes—everywhere."

"Right," Damone said. "And we give 'em the kind of show that would cause just as much excitement during the regular season." "The Lively Ones" projects jazz and popular standards in wildly improbable settings, informally, without the hokey trappings of most musical shows. There are no formal introductions accompanied by fanfares and bleats of glee from captive studio audiences.

Neither do Damone and Shear swap viewers with avant garde jazz, rock 'n' roll nor teen-age idols screaming gibberish.

"We're not for the black-jacketed kids suffering from acne," said Shear. "All year long their kind of bad music is pushed off on adults. We play solid music for grownups."

"By bad music, we mean the top 40 best sellers on the record market," Damone added. "In addition to pleasing adults we hope to show kids they are being fooled by the record companies."

"Musicians today have no pride in what they're doing. They grind out records with echo chambers and play loud. When this younger generation grows up it won't have the Dorsey, Glenn Miller, Benny Goodman and all the rest."

"Our budget is low," Shear put in. "But we have a free hand to present music as we want to hear it played and sung."

Among this season's guests are Al Hirt, Joanie Sommers, Red Nichols, Count Basie, Della Reese and Benny Goodman.

"Perhaps the most unusual presentation will be a five minute piano solo on a roller piano of "Rhapsody in Blue" as played by George Gershwin.

"It's really Gershwin playing," Damone exclaimed. "He actually cut the master pattern for the roll back in 1922."

Both Shear and Damone would like to see "The Lively Ones" worked into the fall network schedule, but their chances are nil.

TURIN, Italy (UPI)—An Italian air force plane crashed during an air show Sunday, killing a 17-year-old girl spectator.

The demonstration marked the 40th anniversary of the Italian air force.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

In the simple terms of what really goes on, the Federal Reserve Board's increase in its discount rate is in recognition of the unhappy fact that the United States is living beyond its income abroad as well as at home.

The immediate purpose of the rate increase is to make it more profitable to keep certain money on deposit and drawing interest in the United States than abroad; or, at least, not less profitable to have the money here than elsewhere.

If it works that way, the United States balance of payments position will be improved. The U.S. balance of payments position is the end result of the all international dealings between the United States and its people and foreign nations and their people. For some years now we have spent or given away abroad a lot more than foreigners have spent in the United States. This deficit in the international balance of payments is made up by payment in U.S. dollars.

Accumulated Dollars
Foreign individuals and governments happily accumulated these dollars immediately after the war. The U.S. dollar was so sturdy and so much sought that much of the free world used accumulated dollars as backing for its own currency. The dollar, literally, was as good as gold. Better, maybe, because it was handier in the pocket.

The U.S. gold dollar also had some gold backing, up to 25 per cent. About $12 billion of the gold hoard accumulated by the United States was and is required to provide that 25 per cent gold backing of the U.S. dollar. Foreign owners of U.S. dollars got a much better deal than that. Each of their dollars was backed by gold 100 per cent.

That came about because the Roosevelt administration committed the United States in 1934 to sell to foreigners gold at $35 an ounce. That commitment still holds. So a foreigner with U.S. dollars has been able to demand in exchange U.S. gold to the value of his dollars. The Citizens Foreign Aid Committee calculates that on Dec. 31, 1952, the U.S. gold reserve was $23.2 billion and the gold reserve of all other free world countries was $13 billion. The U.S. gold hoard today is down to $15.6 billion whereas the gold holdings of other free world nations had increased by Dec. 31, 1952, to $23.6 billion.

Some Still Hold Dollars
The committee calculated that from Dec. 31, 1952, to Dec. 31, 1951, the U.S. balance of payments deficit was about $19.6 billion. Our overseas spending in those years was that much more than we received from overseas. Obviously, many foreigners no longer regard the U.S. dollar as good as gold. But some still do hold dollars and that creates another problem.

The American Institute for economic Research at Great Barrington, Vt., calculated in August, 1952, that those outstanding foreign dollar claims already exceeded the capacity of the United States to make good in gold. If the foreigners demanded their gold we could not pay up. This would create a catastrophic chaos in the free world where the dollar is a vital part of the international economy.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd of the Senate Finance Committee explained this situation in a speech the other day and added: "I regard this as our most serious fiscal and financial problem."

Byrd was being consistent. He abhors living beyond means whether at home or abroad.

The Lighter Side Billy and Boiled Peanuts

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—I don't care what anybody else says about boiled peanuts, me and old Billy like them.

Me and Billy think that boiled peanuts are just about the best things a person can put in his mouth. To me and old Billy, they are plumb scrumptious.

I got kind of riled, and I imagine Billy did too, at some of the things they said about boiled peanuts on the floor of the House of Representatives this week.

But they were Yankees mostly, so a body doesn't have to pay them any attention. What does a Yankee know about good eats?

Billy, he's a congressman from Florida. Name's D.R. Mathews, but most folks call him Billy.

Brings Up Bill
He brought up this bill to exempt boiled peanuts from acreage controls. Billy explained that a boiled peanut isn't really a peanut. Billy said it's a vegetable.

"If boiled peanuts were air conditioned they would taste like artichokes," Billy told his colleagues. "If boiled peanuts were dehumidified, they would taste like swamp cabbage."

Since boiled peanuts are vegetables, Billy said a peanut farmer oughtn't to have to count them in with the rest of his peanuts under his government planting allotment.

I had a little trouble following his reasoning, but Billy put it over all right. The House passed the bill by voice vote. That Billy is a great talker.

What got me was the way some of the other Congressmen acted when Billy passed around a few boiled peanuts for them to sample.

Some of them came out of the cloakrooms gagging and making faces. Rep. Harlan Hagen, D-Calif., said he fed one to a pigeon on Capitol Hill and it wouldn't eat it either.

"Many people eat these things and many survive," commented Rep. Robert Dole, R-Kan. dolefully.

If, as Gertrude Stein once wrote, "a rose is a rose is a rose," then it follows that "a peanut is a peanut is a peanut," Dole argued.

Shucks, if I didn't know the difference between a rose and a peanut I wouldn't admit it. The next thing you know somebody will be claiming that a rose is a vegetable, too.

What a lot of people don't understand is that boiled peanuts are a delicacy, like caviar. Not just every Tom, Dick and Harry fancies the eggs of a virgin sturgeon, and it's the same way with boiled peanuts.

To enjoy boiled peanuts, you've got to have an educated palate. Their briny pungency and soggy texture can only be appreciated by persons with sophisticated taste buds.

POPE SEES STUDENTS

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — American University students and a Chicago federal judge were among 10,000 persons who heard Pope Paul VI Saturday wish them "the peace of the Lord, which surpasses every sentiment."

Pope Paul spoke briefly in Italian and French to a general audience of 10,000 persons in St. Peter's Basilica. Remarks were translated into English, Spanish and German by Papal assistants.

After giving his blessing, the Pope chatted with several persons individually, including Federal Judge Abraham Lincoln Marovitz, of Chicago, who was named to a U.S. district judgeship by President Kennedy several days ago.
