

Letters and Telegrams Pour in on Nuclear Test Agreement

By RAYMOND LAHR
WASHINGTON (UPI)—"It will be a black day for all people if we do not take this first step for peace."
"It is another give-in to the Reds."
These conflicting views on whether the United States should sign the nuclear test ban treaty with Russia were among more than 2,000 letters and telegrams that have poured into the White House on the issue. Both messages came from California.

The White House reported that messages to President Kennedy were running about 12 to 1 in favor of the test ban agreement. It gave reporters a look Wednesday at a random selection of the letters and telegrams received since Kennedy's address to the nation Friday night.
A telegram from Washington state told the President that "lathers and mothers thank you" and one from Brooklyn said "anybody opposing the treaty should have his head examined." A Democratic club in California telegraphed praise for the treaty and urged "more high level conferences."

"It is our opinion that this proposal is nothing more than a victory for the cowardly pacifists," a Chicago couple wrote. "We feel that you are naive to think that the American people should be expected to think that they can rely on the signature of the Soviet Union."

Another Chicagoan asked "how many times does the West have to be sucked in by Russia before she finally realizes that any peaceful-seeming concession such as the test ban treaty is merely another chess move in Russia's game to win the world?"
"If we are foolish enough to disarm, then communism has us bound and will take over," a Montana couple wrote.

From Arizona came a telegram opposing the treaty, saying that Khrushchev should be made to tear down the Berlin wall and remove Russian troops from Cuba and other countries.
"A test ban without an absolute foolproof inspection is suicide," said a telegram from West Palm Beach, Fla.

A Philadelphia woman wrote that the treaty "will stop future fallout, will lessen the arms race and might even lead to disarmament." A letter from Madison, Wis. said it was "reassuring to know that our water and food will be less contaminated with strontium."
"You said what urgently needs to be said and you said it with power and authority," a letter-writer in Nashville, Tenn., told Kennedy. "Even FDR could not have done better."

A letter from Urbana, Ill., said history may record the treaty as the most significant action of the Kennedy administration.
But an Indiana critic said the treaty could only help Russia and that experience over the past 17 years should show that it was worthless.

New Earthquakes Cause Residents To Flee in Panic

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (UPI) — Three new earthquakes struck devastated Skopje today, sending its battered residents fleeing into the streets in panic once again but causing no further damage or injuries.
However, Yugoslav rescue center officials who announced no new casualties said they would speed up the evacuation of the city, wrecked by a catastrophic earthquake last Friday.
They said there have been close to 200 tremors since Friday, but that most of them have been minor.
Officials also said workers dug out the bodies of three more victims Wednesday night, raising to 257 the total number of dead recovered. Estimates of what the final death toll will be ran between 1,500 and 2,000.

Labor Chief Hits JFK's Rail Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — AFL-CIO President George Meany told Congress today that if it is going to "compel" railroad employees to work it ought also to think about ending private ownership of the industry.
"It's a natural follow-up," Meany told the House Commerce Committee.
Meany said that if employees can be forced to accept certain working conditions because their industry has "paramount public interest" then the "next logical step is that these industries should not be the medium for private profit."

The labor leader called on the committee to reject President Kennedy's plan for settling the four-year-old railroad work rules dispute. The President wants the matter referred to the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC).
Meany noted that the administration does not consider the proposal as a form of compulsory arbitration.

"I do not know if it is compulsory arbitration," he said, "but I do know it is compulsory." Meany said Congress would be acting more in the public interest if it adopted a plan for settling the offer several days ago.
Under the Meany plan, the railroad unions and management close scrutiny of a congressional committee would be directed to continue collective bargaining under the close scrutiny of a congressional watchdog committee. Negotiation would continue until the committee decided that no further progress was necessary.
J. E. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the railroads, told the Senate Commerce Committee Wednesday night that "positive, deep-seated and pervasive" differences separated the carriers and the five railroad unions involved.
Wolfe dismissed the Meany plan and said it was "highly improbable" that the dispute could be settled if Congress does not approve President Kennedy's plan.

LBJ Is Assured Spot on Ticket

DALLAS (UPI) — Sources high in the Kennedy administration report that there is no chance that anyone other than Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson is being considered for the No. 2 spot on the 1964 Democratic ticket, the Dallas Morning News said today.
The News, in a story from its Washington bureau, quoted one high source as saying that talk of dumping Johnson "is silly and doesn't make sense. Just from a political standpoint, it wouldn't figure."
The News said there had been considerable speculation that Kennedy would drop Johnson from the ticket if Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona gets the Republican nomination.

But officials said they had "no further hope" of finding more survivors under Skopje's rubble.
Officials indicated a complete death toll may never be known. They said:
"We feel it is impossible anybody who has not yet been found could survive."

The boom from dynamite squads demolishing tottering buildings echoed in the background as Yugoslav authorities voiced their grim observations.
Mostly they went ahead with plans to rebuild Skopje on another site in an effort to avoid future disasters. But some survivors felt otherwise.
Djordje Dimovski, a baker whose family escaped injury but lost almost everything they owned commented:
"Even if I have to sweep streets and live in one room someplace else, I will never come back."
He said he and his family currently were living in a tent set up in a park. He added:
"I will do anything to escape from here. I will take any job."

Leonard Named To Welfare Post

Juvenile Officer Bill Leonard today was named to head the county's combined Welfare and Juvenile Department.
The announcement of Leonard's appointment was made by County Judge Bill Craig following today's regular meeting of the County Commissioners Court.
Leonard will replace Mrs. Nina Spoonmore who will take the position of social worker in the Old Age Assistance program of the State Welfare Department. Her office will be in Pampa.

Commissioners today set the sale date for the McLean hospital bonds at 2 p.m. Aug. 26, in County Court. The bonds, dated Aug. 15, will be paid within a three-and-a-half year period, with $25,000 due each year on Feb. 15, 1964 and 1965 and $50,000 due each year in 1966 and 1967.
At this rate, according to the commission, the bonds will be paid off in two years. According to Ray Wilson, county tax assessor-collector, Gray County will be out of debt in two years and will be one of four counties in Texas that are out of debt. The others are Ochiltree, Roberts and Borden.
In canvassing the hospital bond election returns, the commissioners said 724 voted for and 272 against, with McLean the city with the most votes, 411 for, six against.

Jim Levitt, representing the county airport board, asked the commission to consider resurfacing the north-south airport runway. The commission took the matter under advisement.

In routine matters, the commissioners voted to accept a refund of $26,668.61 from the state lateral road fund, paid the county bills, approved a fire contract with the city to have the city fire department cover fires outside city limits and received state highway department easements to start negotiating for rights-of-way to improve SH 273 three miles north of Lefors to the north city limits of Lefors.

Order Extended

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas Railroad Commission today extended its no-plug order in the East Texas oil field another 30 days until Sept. 6.
The order covers fields in Rusk, Gregg, Upshur, Smith and Cherokee counties of East Texas.

Geneva Parley Recesses Until Treaty Is Signed

GENEVA (UPI)—Negotiators at the Geneva disarmament conference planned to recess today until the United States, Russia and Britain sign a treaty outlawing nuclear tests everywhere except underground.
The treaty, already initialed, is due to be concluded in formal ceremonies in Moscow on Monday.
Sources on both sides of the 17-nation conference here expressed cautious optimism about the prospects for additional talks in Geneva after its conclusion.

But it appeared that neither East nor West was anxious to rush into detailed negotiations on proposals for further agreements to follow up the ban on testing in the air, in outer space or under water.
Both sides looked to their foreign ministers to narrow the field of possible discussion when they meet in Moscow.
They hoped to receive instructions in time to reconvene here by the middle of next week.

Ten In Family Killed in Crash

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — An outing to a drive-in movie ended in violent death Wednesday night when ten persons, including eight young children, were killed in the worst traffic mishap in the memory of highway patrolmen.
A station wagon containing the victims was attempting to pass a tractor-trailer on a straight stretch of Ohio 51 about 10 miles southeast of here and five miles north of Elmore when it slammed head-on into another tractor-trailer operated by Charles Strong, 38, of Swanton, Ohio.

Police Seal Off Area In Race Attack

By United Press International
Hundreds of whites milled around the apartments of two Negro families in an all-white Chicago neighborhood for the third straight night and beefed-up police units moved into to restore order early today.
Bricks and rocks were hurled while police, who sealed off the area and closed taverns, struggled to disperse the surly crowd.
Four policemen were injured and at least 47 persons, including six Negroes, were arrested.
Two Negro boys were knocked off their bicycles and beaten.
Police from every district in Chicago were summoned to quell the demonstration in the white working class neighborhood about one block from Chicago's South Side where most of the city's 800,000 Negroes live.

Civil rights pickets turned out again today at the New York City construction site where a battle erupted Wednesday when police tried to move the demonstrators behind barricades.
Five integrationist demonstrators were arrested Wednesday night on trespassing charges during a sit-in at a housing tract in the Los Angeles suburb of Torrance. Police said the demonstrators, one of whom had been arrested the previous day, refused to move from the driveway of the sales office at the tract.
Violence also erupted briefly at two other racial demonstrations in the nation Wednesday but police quickly restored order in both instances.
Civil rights pickets at a construction project in Brooklyn, N.Y., clashed with police who formed a solid line and backed the demonstrators off a street.
One Negro was arrested during the pushing and shoving melee.
It was the first violence at picket lines thrown around city construction sites by demonstrators demanding more construction jobs for Negroes and Puerto Ricans.

Dr. Ward Still 'Grievously Ill'

LONDON (UPI) — Dr. Stephen Ward, convicted on morals charges hours after he swallowed an overdose of sleeping pills, underwent an operation today as doctors sought to save his life.
Ward was unconscious, and hospital officials said he was "grievously and critically ill." The operation was decided upon by his physicians "to replace a temporary airway tube," the hospital said.
The announcement was the first indication that the society osteopath and "middle man" in Britain's sex scandal had undergone some form of tracheotomy, an operation to aid the breathing.
Ward tried to kill himself Wednesday a few hours before his case went to the jury and (See WARD, Page 2)

5 Pampa Scouts In Greece Today

Five Pampa Boy Scouts and their Scoutleader, Bill Getting, arrived at the site of the 11th World Jamboree near Marathon, Greece, today and joined Scouts and leaders from 85 free countries of the world.
Billy Ragsdale, San Williams, Jim Sheilamer, John Elder Jr. and John Curry are the five Pampa Scouts attending the Jamboree and European tour.
One area boy, Jim Perry of Guyton, Okla., is attending the Jamboree with the Pampa Scouts.
More than 14,000 Scouts will spend the next ten days in a sprawling tent city, displaying their craft work and customs and getting acquainted with Scouts from other nations.
After ten days at the Jamboree the scouts will continue their European tour.
They will return to Pampa August 23.

Negro Waiter Loses His Job

AUSTIN (UPI)—Negro waiter Booker T. Bonner said today he was fired from his job at a private club two days after his sit-in demonstration against Gov. John Connally's civil rights stand.
Bonner said he was "pretty sure" his being fired had something to do with his picketing activities.
The 35-year-old integrationist led peaceful picket demonstrations around the governor's mansion in protest of Connally's opposition to parts of President Kennedy's civil rights program.

Reaction Is Expected On de Gaulle Attitude

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy was expected to emphasize anew today his hope for overwhelming congressional and public support of the nuclear test ban to be signed in Moscow next week.
The President scheduled a news conference for 4 p.m. EDT, which could serve as a forum for his new appeal. The conference was being televised and broadcast live to the nation.

Kennedy was believed ready to give some indication of U.S. reaction to the attitude of French President Charles de Gaulle, who has declined to sign the pact and plans to continue his test program.
Clarification Unlikely
It was considered unlikely, however, that the President would clarify in any great detail the question of whether the United States was prepared to assist France with information and weapons if the French keep their experiments underground.

Under Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman said Wednesday the President could be expected to give some observation on the French attitude toward nuclear testing. The President was understood to be wary of taking too definite a position pending further study.
Harriman pumped more steam into the administration drive for test ban approval by asserting that the United States would "lose our leadership of the world" if the Senate failed to ratify the ban on air, space and underwater tests.
He spoke at a National Press Club lunch not long after the White House announced that a 11-man delegation, including four Democratic and two Republican senators, would accompany Rusk to Moscow Friday.

The delegation includes Democratic Sens. J.W. Fulbright, Ark.; Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn.; John O. Pastore, R.I.; and John Sparkman, Ala.; and Republicans Leverett Saltonstall, Mass., and George Aiken, Vt.
Others are United Nations Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson; Disarmament Agency Director William C. Foster; Chairman Glenn Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission; Llewellyn Thompson, former ambassador to Moscow and now a top adviser to Rusk; and Arthur Dean, former head of the U.S. delegation to the Geneva disarmament negotiations.

Weather Holding To Fair and Hot

A few isolated showers cooled the mountain region of Southwest Texas today, but in other areas of the state it was dry and the mercury soared.

UN Soldiers Patrol Korean Truce Line

SEOUL, Korea (UPI)—Swelling American and Korean soldiers of the United Nations Command patrolled gingerly along the truce line today on guard against further infiltration from Communist North Korea.
Three skirmishes between UN troops and Red infiltrators Monday and Tuesday killed four North Koreans, three Americans and one South Korean in what has been called the gravest series of incidents since the Korean War ended 10 years ago last Saturday.
Over the years both sides have filed thousands of complaints about violations of the truce. In the two weeks before the latest series of skirmishes, five other North Korean infiltrators were killed.
But the new series was the worst concentration of incidents on record and it occurred six miles south of the demilitarized zone, the deepest Red penetration into South Korean territory since the war ended.

There was more firing Wednesday, apparently warning shots by (See SOLDIERS, Page 2)

Underground Test Of Nuclear Bomb Is Called Off

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An underground nuclear experiment planned for this year has been held up by difficulties in making the "small H-bomb" which the test requires, it was disclosed today.
The Atomic Energy Commission had planned to conduct the experiment, known as Project Coach, in a salt bed near Carlsbad, N.M.
In a formal statement, the AEC said that because of technical difficulties with the explosive device, being tested at the Nevada Proving Ground, Coach cannot be carried out in 1963.
No new date was set.
The Coach delay, officials said, has nothing to do with the Moscow treaty to ban nuclear explosions under water, in the atmosphere, or in space.

Foreign Aid Set At $4.1-Billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee reached agreement today on a foreign aid bill totaling slightly less than $4.1 billion. This was $438 million below what President Kennedy wanted.

Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., announced the figure after a closed-door session. Morgan said a committee vote on the bill would be taken next week, but that was only a formality.

The committee approved an amendment by Rep. Robert R. Barry, R-N.Y., calling upon the industrialized nations to assume a greater share of the burden of aiding the underdeveloped countries.

This was in line with the committee's feeling that Western Europe and Japan should now take on at least part of the aid responsibility which the United States has been carrying.

Administration forces claimed at least a partial victory by holding down reductions in the face of strong congressional demands to cut deeper than ever before. But, in doing so, they had to accept new restrictions on how Uncle Sam would hand out the assistance.

Among other things, the bill contains a ban on further U.S. aid to Indonesia unless President Kennedy makes a formal finding that such assistance is vital to U.S. interests.

Memo Is Sent on Air Base Maternity Suite

By ALVIN SPIVAK
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Memo to Pierre Salinger: That suite at Otis Air Force Base, Mass., which you described as a residence for visiting officers is equipped with incubator, bassinet and baby scale. There's a nursery there, too. As you made abundantly clear Wednesday, whatever was done at Otis was done without the White House's request or knowledge.

But reporters became slightly confused upon hearing the President's press secretary deny that a suite had been set aside at the Otis Hospital for possible use by Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy when she has a baby next month.

Suite Exists
As it turned out, there is such a suite. The Air Force spruced it up without telling the White House. And if any "transient officers" use the premises—as you insisted they do—they will find: Two elaborately furnished sitting rooms; a reception-sitting room; six bed rooms; a nursery; a recently modernized kitchen; two workrooms for nurses; two areas for stationing secret service agents—and a simple room with hospital bed, color television set, oxygen outlets, glucose containers, and the aforementioned incubator, scale and bassinet. Reporters and news cameramen were allowed to see the suite Wednesday. The furniture looked new to them. We know you said "There has been no furniture bought or anything." But sources at a Boston department store said they delivered some to the suite about a month ago, after the rooms were redecorated.

Built After Inspection
An Air Force spokesman said the suite, 100 feet from the hospital's delivery room, was renovated at a cost of almost $5,000 after Mrs. Kennedy's doctors inspected it with emergency needs in mind.

Mrs. Kennedy still plans, you said, to return here and have her third child at the Walter Reed Army Hospital.

The remodeling of the hospital suite, including soundproofing for the rooms, was described by the Air Force as part of a $1.2 million renovation program for the entire 500-bed hospital. Somehow the suite fell into the renovation schedule after the first lady's physicians, obstetrician John W. Walsh and White House Dr. Janet Travell, dropped by for their look at the rooms.

SOLVING THE COMMUTING PROBLEM—After 20 years of commuting on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad between his home in Millburn, N.J., and his office in Newark, insurance man Frank G. Donnelly decided there had to be a better way to get to work. So he bought the two station buildings at Millburn, tore one down and built his own office next to the tracks (building on right). Part of the purchase deal was that he maintain station signs, ticket offices, waiting rooms and maintenance. Now Donnelly plans to replace the old station opposite and build another office building as a companion to the first. They will be connected by an already existing tunnel underneath the tracks. Everyone is happy: Donnelly, the erstwhile commuter; the train company, with two rundown stations off its hands; the public, who will get a brand-new station and will also benefit from taxes on the improved property.

PUBLISHER RELEASED
BRASILIA (UPI) — Helio Fernandes, publisher of the newspaper Tribuna da Imprensa, was released on a writ of habeas corpus late Wednesday from the jail where he had been held for a week by order of War Minister Jair Dantas. The writ freeing Fernandes was issued by the Supreme Court. The publisher was jailed under the national security law for publishing information which had been classified by the War Ministry. He refused to reveal the source of his information.

Here's a Good Cure For Profane Friends

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Most of us have a few profane friends whose language causes us to cringe or blush, depending on whether we are cringers or blushers. If you have friends like that then you might be interested in a new swearing technique I heard about recently. It suggests a way you can help your friends not only clean up their language but make it smell better as well. Under this method, the person whose use of swear words gives you offense is persuaded to substitute the names of flowers for the objectionable terms. No Crude Connotations The floral world simply abounds with innocent little appellations that can be used to form epithets that are expressive and yet devoid of crude connotations. *The first step in the rehabilitation of your foul-mouthed friends is to coach them to exclaim "great jumping geraniums!" when they are startled or amazed. If we can get them in the habit of exclaiming "great jumping geraniums!" the next step will be comparatively simple. The next step is to change their attitudes are "Well, I'll be a fringed milkwort" and "Well, I'll be a double daisy." Will Establish Pattern By this time a pattern will have been established and they will soon be registering exasperation or disgust with "Oh, horse chestnuts!" rather than something more graphic. The second phase of botanical cursing is likely to be more difficult, however, for it involves the names your friends call other people. Break them in gently by suggesting that they should "take that, you dastardly dogbane!" when punching someone in the nose. They can let off steam that way while remaining within the bounds of verbal propriety. Then they can work up to "unhand me, you hybrid hyacinth!" or "don't get gay with me, you perennial pawpaw."

When your friends are in a pet because someone has done them wrong, admonish them to say "I wouldn't be caught dead talking to that hydroponic hydrangea."

They likewise can get their point across by denouncing their antagonists as a "Virginia creeper."

In you can indoctrinate your friends in the floral method of profanity, it won't be long before you can associate with them without embarrassment, even in mixed company.

But be sure to warn them that when they call someone "A son of a sea grape," smile.

With Plenty Of Peaches Ahead, Take Advantage Of New Recipe

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Looks like a peachy time ahead. There's a big crop of peaches heading toward our markets in greater profusion than last year, especially from nine southern states.

Watermelons, like peaches, are on the plentiful food list of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. And, of course, also summer vegetables.

Other items on the plentiful list include turkeys, milk and dairy products, peanut butter and vegetable oils and fats.

Peaches are grown commercially in 23 states from May to October. The following produce over a million bushels annually: Arkansas, California, Colorado, Georgia, Illinois, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Washington.

With that information under our hats let's put some peaches under our belts.

FRESH PEACH VELVET
(Makes about 1½ quarts)
4 medium-size fresh peaches
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon almond extract
¼ pint whipping cream, whipped
Peel and pit peaches. Cut into large chunks. Drop into small bowl of electric mixer. Beat to a coarse pulp. Beat eggs whites and

Chiffon Pie With Molasses Flavor

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
If you enjoy the flavor of molasses and the delicacy of chiffon pie, then this is your dish for summer dining.

MOLASSES CHIFFON PIE
(One 9-inch pie)
CORN FLAKE CRUST:
1 cup corn flake crumbs
1-3 cup butter
2 teaspoons sugar

Measure corn flake crumbs, butter and sugar into a 9-inch pie pan. Place in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 3 minutes. Remove from oven and mix thoroughly. Press against bottom and sides of pan. Chill.

MOLASSES CHIFFON FILLING:
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 cup water
3 ice cubes equivalent to ½ cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
1 can (6 ounces) hard frozen lemonade concentrate ¼ cup unsulphured molasses
1 cup icy cold evaporated milk
Sprinkle gelatin on 1 cup of water in a 2½ quart saucepan to soften. Place over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved, about 3 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in ice cubes, salt and unsulphured molasses. Stir in concentrate. When the concentrate is melted, the mixture should be slightly thickened. Whip chilled evaporated milk in small bowl of electric mixer until soft peaks form, about 2 minutes. Fold into gelatin mixture. Turn into crumb crust; chill until firm.

To chill evaporated milk pour into ice cube tray and freeze until soft ice crystals form a round edge.

Frozen Salad Easy To Serve

2 cups oranges, diced
2 cups pineapple tidbits
2 cups peaches, diced
8 cups bananas, diced
2 cups blanched almonds, chopped
2 cups Maraschino cherries, sliced
2-¼ cups sugar
1 cup lemon juice
2 cups cream cheese
3 cups salad dressing
1 quart whipping cream
Blend well-drained peaches and pineapple with oranges, bananas, nuts and cherries.

Cream the cream cheese with lemon juice, and add sugar. Slowly add salad dressing, blending mixture well.

Add to mixed fruits. Whip cream and fold in with other ingredients.

Mold in No. 2 size cans or paper cartons of comparable diameter. Freeze.

Serve on crisp lettuce cups or bed of curly lettuce.
Number of servings: 50. Size serving: 3 in. diameter x 1 in. thick.

Barbecue's Vegetables Cooked In Foil On Grill Save Time And Work

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Vegetables are delicious cooked on an outdoor grill. While the steak or chicken broils on the center part of the grill, tuck packages of vegetables around the outside where the heat is less intense.

Try young peas, the first carrots and beets. Add freshly chopped parsley and other herbs, butter, salt and pepper. Bundle enough to serve the crowd into a good-sized aluminum foil package and cook about 30 minutes on the grill. Cooking should be gentle. They will take a bit longer than when cooked with water in a saucepan.

Roast big Bermuda onions in their skins. Wrap them individually in foil and bake like a potato. Combine several vegetables in one package for a casserole. You'll need to shake the package of vegetables occasionally while it cooks. To serve, place the package in a wicker basket. Let it stay closed until the minute of serving, so the aroma and flavor of piping hot vegetables can be enjoyed to the utmost.

SUMMER SQUASH, ONIONS AND DILL

Slice tender young summer squash in 1/4-inch slices. Slice onions very thin. Arrange a layer of summer squash, a layer of onion slices and a final layer of squash on the foil. Dot with butter, shake on salt and pepper and sprinkle with springs of fresh dill or 2 or 3 pinches of dried dill. Seal the package and cook on the grill over medium heat about 30 minutes. Shake the package frequently.

GRILLED STUFFED TOMATOES

Cut slices from tops of firm tomatoes. Scoop out juice and pulp. Combine chopped left-over chicken, ham or tuna fish with soft stale bread crumbs and seasonings. Moisten with the tomato pulp. Refill tomatoes. Wrap each individually in foil. Cook on grill 25 minutes. Eat right from foil.

SALMAGUNDI
Cut fresh corn from the cob, peel fresh tomatoes, squeeze out the seeds and discard; then chop. Peel and dice small eggplant, remove seeds and dice green pepper and chop onion. Combine all these vegetables on a large piece of heavy duty aluminum wrap, allowing about equal amounts of corn, eggplant and tomato; less of green pepper and onion. Dot with butter and sprinkle with salt, pepper, garlic, a little basil and chopped parsley. Seal the foil and cook for 30 minutes, shaking the package occasionally.

A combed rye or wheat straw thatched roof may last as long as 60 years.

Old World Flavors Are Pleasing To Robust Or Delicate Tastes

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The brasseries of Alsace, Belgium and France are jovial eating places connected with brewers, noted for their informal atmosphere, good food and low prices.

thickened. Fold in salad dressing and lemon juice and heat to serving temperature. Do not boil. Yield: About 2 1/2 cups.

Choucroute is one of their standard dishes — a tender though robust combination of smoked fresh pork chops, several kinds of sausage, white wine and sauerkraut.

There is a genuine brasserie in New York on the ground floor of the soaring Seagram Building. It is open 24 hours a day and the waiters and waitresses, mostly from Belgium, Switzerland and France, understand the relaxed and friendly atmosphere of old world brasseries. The clientele embraces theatrical people, society, the arts and sciences, business and the law, and affluent labor union card carriers—a cross section of New York's eater-outers.

Edward E. Zwaaf, the spirited young director, was born in Belgium and trained in Brussels, Amsterdam and France. "Our onion tarts and Omelette Lorraine are typically brasserie dishes. So of course is our Choucroute Strassbourgeoise," he explained. Then he urged us to try La Tapenade aux Crudités, popular in the south of France. It was served in a small earthenware cup, in the center of a large blue plate, with crisp carrot sticks, tiny scallions, cauliflowerettes, celery and black radishes surrounding the cup. Mr. Zwaaf enthusiastically told us how it is made at the Brasserie.

Use an electric blender. Or else chop the ingredients very fine by hand. To make enough La Tapenade for four, put into the blender 1 clove garlic, 3 tablespoons capers, a small bunch chives, 10 large pitted black olives, 1/4 can anchovies and 1/4 can best tuna. Cut fine in blender or by chopping. Then turn into bowl and add 1 1/4 cups mayonnaise and just before serving stir in a little less than an ounce of cognac. Dip the crisp fresh vegetables into the Tapenade. That is a delectable experience, we assure you.

Apple Cranberry De Luxe Salad

2 cups raw cranberries
1 orange, quartered
1 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups canned apple sauce
2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1 cup diced celery
Salad greens
Mayonnaise
Using medium blade of food chopper, grind cranberries and orange (rind and pulp); add sugar. Mix well. Soften gelatine in cold water, let stand 5 minutes. Add boiling water to gelatine, stirring until dissolved. Combine cranberry mixture, apple sauce, walnuts, and celery; gradually add dissolved gelatine; mix thoroughly. Pour into 1 1/2 quart ring mold, which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens. Serve with mayonnaise. Yields 8 servings.

Chicken, East Indies Summer Meal Treat

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 chicken breasts, cut in half or 2 packages frozen chicken breasts
1 1/4 teaspoons salt
1 1/2 teaspoons ginger
3 tablespoons chopped onion
2-3 cup raisins
1 1/4 teaspoons grated orange rind
1/4 can orange juice
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 1/4 cups rice, cooked and drained
Curry sauce (see recipe below)
Melt butter or margarine in fry pan and brown breasts on both sides. Turn chicken skin-side up. Add remaining ingredients, except rice. Cover tightly and cook at moderate heat until chicken is fork tender, 35-40 minutes. Remove chicken from fry pan. Add rice and blend with sauce. Spread in serving dish. Top with chicken breasts and curry sauce. Yield 5 servings.

New Astronauts To Begin 5-Day Desert Training

HOUSTON (UPI) — America's nine new astronauts will head for Nevada next Monday to begin a five-day training course in how to survive in the desert.

The nine astronauts, in the company of Maj. Donald K. Slayton, coordinator of astronaut affairs at the Manned Spacecraft Center near Houston, will first travel to Stead Air Force Base near Reno.

The desert survival training will be conducted there and at Carson Sink Desert, some 50 miles to the northeast of Stead.

The course will consist of lectures, a field demonstration and a practical appliance phase where the astronauts will split up into groups of two and put into practice what they have learned.

Later in the month, they will go to Pensacola, Fla., Naval Air Station for a water survival course, to learn what to do if they land in water at the end of a space flight.

The desert and water survival courses are part of the training program for Project Gemini.

The first flights of Gemini are planned to end over the ocean, just as the flights in the previous Mercury series did. Later in Gemini, when a paraglider is developed for landings on the earth, the project may switch to desert landings.

The nine, plus Slayton and the others of the original seven Mercury astronauts, underwent a course in jungle survival earlier this year. The Mercury astronauts have already undergone the desert and water training.

White Deer Picks Beauty Winner

WHITE DEER (Spl)—Miss Janie Gordzelik, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gordzelik of White Deer, was named Miss White Deer 1963 at the White Deer beauty contest held recently in the high school auditorium. She will represent White Deer in the annual Miss Wheatheart of the Nation contest in Perryton August 24.

Second runner-up in the contest was Miss Linda Davis and Miss Cherry Baker was first runner-up. The annual contest is sponsored by the White Deer Jaycees and Jaycee-Ettes.

Doyle Green of Borger was master of ceremonies and Miss White Deer 1962, Miss Juanna Jo Moore, presented the winner's bouquet.

An Expert's One Word for Being Well-Dressed Man Is 'Simplicity'

By WALTER LOGAN
NEW YORK (UPI) — Madison Avenue has become world famous for its well-dressed executives and their "Madison Avenue Look" which is a more adult and slightly more expensive version of the old "Ivy League Look."

One of the chief exponents of this look is Edward M. Meyers who is president of the ad agency of the same name and holds forth not on Madison Avenue but on West 55th Street.

Meyers, 41, buys his natural shoulder, 3-button suits on the Avenue, of course, but is given to wearing expensive English brogues and other non-Ivy accessories which stamp him with the authentic look but give him an added flit that makes him better dressed than most of the others.

"A slob who doesn't know what is right couldn't run an agency with 20 men's wear accounts," he said. "You have to have a fashion sense. I don't mean like a fashion editor — this is a fashion sense through advertising rather than on the editorial page."

"I can sum it up in one word, 'simplicity.' That doesn't mean you have to wear a dark blue suit all the time. But if you wear a plaid suit accessorize it very very plainly. Not three patterns—suit, tie and shirt. Retain a classic simplicity."

"Another important factor is the care of clothes. It's very simple. Don't wear anything two days in a row — shoes, suits or anything else. I hang my clothes on a silent valet and leave them there a day to air before putting them in the closet."

"When I put a suit in a closet I put it at the end of the row and when I get dressed I pick the one at the beginning of the row. If I have eight suits I don't repeat with one for a week. Never dry clean a suit unless it's stained. I average about three pressings a year because I rotate the clothes."

Wrinkles usually come out if they are hung up for a few days."

When you're getting dressed in the morning, Meyers says, start with the suit first. "Work from the suit. The suit decides the shirt. The tie is decided by the first two. You already have black brogues and black wool socks ready to go."

Some other Meyers observations:
Never wear a white shirt with a brown suit—blue would be better. Don't wear white shirts before 6 o'clock. Don't wear brown shoes after 6 o'clock. Use a good grade of wax and a shine will last a week. (He keeps an electric buffer in his office.) Shoes should be treed.

Ties are a matter of personal taste. You can wear a fancy tie with a fancy shirt if you keep it simple — a deep toned foulard or a paisley with a striped shirt.

A man should have at least one solid color sports coat — blue or black blazer. You can wear any kind of slacks with it. Always have a pair of medium gray slacks in your wardrobe. They go with anything. If you rotate your clothes they will last longer.

What's new for the future: Light clothes are returning for Spring. There will be lots of fancy shirts, and stripes are Big Big Big. Outer wear is booming with lots of fake fur and combinations of sueds and herringbone. Also hit for Spring is a new fiber by Du Pont, Lycra, to be used with Dacron and cotton in a resilient fabric (lots of stretch) for sports jackets and slacks.

Date With Death Given Extension

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. John Connally has granted an extension of the execution date for convicted Houston murderers Leslie Douglas Ashley and Carolyn Lima until Oct. 28.

The Board of Pardons and Paroles said it recommended the extension, a formality, because the U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals ordered a new trial in a May decision.

Ashley, 24, and Miss Lima, 21, had been scheduled to die in the electric chair July 30 for the 1961 slaying of Houston realtor Fred Tones.

The board said the extension was recommended so the pair would not have to be re-sentenced if the federal court rules against them. The state has requested the New Orleans court to reconsider its decision and plans an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court if the circuit court does not reverse.

Miss Lima was a prostitute and Ashley admits to being a female impersonator and sexual deviate.

Houston attorneys Clyde Woody and Lloyd Lumford carried the appeal to the New Orleans court and won. They tried unsuccessfully for new trials from the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals and for commutation of sentences from the Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Liberals Kill Bracero Labor Extension Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate liberals yesterday killed a bill to extend the Mexican farm labor program by using a surprise parliamentary maneuver.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., pulled the surprise when he objected that the bill had been reported out of the Agriculture Committee without a quorum present.

The House earlier, in a surprise move, narrowly voted down a two year extension of the bracero program. An attempt to keep the program alive beyond this year was riding on what the Senate did.

Senate opposition had been led by Sen. Harrison A. Williams, D-N. M.

Some farmers, especially in Texas and California, have traditionally contended that they needed the supply of Mexican labor to harvest their crops. Several church organizations and labor unions have denounced the program as damaging to U. S. domestic workers.

The move in the Senate came when Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., ruled that the bill was not properly before the body after consulting with assistant Senate parliamentarian Floyd Riddick.

Pell's ruling was made over the protest of Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., chairman of the Agriculture Committee, Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., and Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla.

Pell ruled the bill was still in the custody of the Agriculture Committee, which had reported it out without hearings over the objections of Proxmire and three other members.

IRS REPORTS INCOME
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Internal Revenue Service said Wednesday that taxpayers reported $329.9 billion in adjusted gross income for 1961.
This was $14.4 billion more than reported in 1960, the bureau said, with about 500,000 more persons filing returns in 1961 than the previous year.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy has accepted the resignation of Anthony B. Akers as U.S. ambassador to New Zealand.
Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Wednesday that Akers, a former New York attorney, would be given another government assignment to be announced later.
Brasher's doubloon, issued by Ephraim Brasher, goldsmith, and dated 1787, was the only gold coin struck in New York, state during the Confederation.

Motorists Can't Claim Deduction For Gas Taxes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways & Means Committee yesterday affirmed its earlier decision to deny motorists the right to claim federal tax deductions for the state and local taxes they pay on gasoline.

The committee also nailed down its decision to exclude state and local taxes on liquor and cigarettes as a federal tax deduction.

It took these and other steps calculated to produce a net gain of $605 million in new revenue as it began a final round of voting on the compromise version of President Kennedy's tax-reduction-and-revision program.

The committee expects to take at least three days drafting the final version of the bill.

So far the committee has tentatively approved structural tax revisions that would net little more than $700 million of the $3 billion sought by Kennedy to partly offset revenue losses from rate cuts.

However, some of the committee's tentative tax-tightening decisions have started to come unstuck as a result of tugging by the taxpayers who would be affected.

For example, oilmen were reported to have lined up enough committee votes to eliminate at least part, and possibly all, of the $50 million in annual new taxes which the group had agreed to levy on them.

Kennedy had recommended more than $200 million in new taxes on the oil and gas industry.

ACTRESS SUES COMPANY

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Actress Rhonda Fleming has sued Allied Artists Picture Corp. for a $10,000 bonus she claimed the firm owes her for the movie, "The Big Circus."

Jayne Bares Plan to Play A Homebody

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI) — Jayne Mansfield, whose nude poses in an American magazine landed the publisher in court on charges of obscenity, says she is through "writhing around in the raw."

"I'm trying to get away from my cheesecake reputation and be recognized as a serious, talented actress," Miss Mansfield said here.

"Until now I've been all body and sex appeal but I feel I've reached my zenith as a sexy type and I need a new challenge."

She said she wants to play a southern housewife who has a yen for other men than her husband. She said she is conferring with an American writer for the story.

"This is a tragedy," Miss Mansfield said. "She ruins her home life."

She was "unset, naturally" when a Chicago judge ordered the magazine publisher arrested for issuing this publication with pictures of Jayne in the nude.

She said she posed on the understanding the pictures would only be used in Europe, "where they have a much more adult attitude toward nudity than in America."

"But I feel partly appeased about the whole thing now," she said. "All my friends are writing to say I've never looked more beautiful."

Jayne does not think the pictures were obscene.

"Beauty cannot be obscene," she said. "The beauty of the body is beyond obscenity."

Internal Revenue Preparing Rules To Aid Reporters

By JOSEPH D. HUTNYAN
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) is preparing ground rules intended to help news reporters and their bosses interpret new expense account rules as they affect the gathering of news.

Among other things, they will provide some guidance for reporters who want to deduct the cost of entertaining a government official while trying to get information for a story — traditionally a delicate area.

The ground rules are expected to preserve the right of a reporter to pick up the tab for taking a government official to lunch in hopes of getting information that will help in developing a news story.

The broad question of entertaining government officials is so delicate that the revenue service felt some clarifying data was necessary — not only for the taxpayer but also for the tax agent who may have to make the initial decision.

The directive is intended to clarify the travel and entertainment regulations issued last month which apply to all businessmen. These regulations carry out a legislative mandate from Congress to crack down on expense account excesses.

A Touchy Area
One of the sensitive aspects of entertaining federal officials arises from government rules preventing them from accepting gifts. Question: Would a free lunch from a news reporter be considered a "gift"?

The answer is expected to be "no." This prohibition generally is aimed at banning the acceptance of more costly things. It also is intended to apply mainly to associations between government officials and contractors and other doing business with federal agencies — not news reporters.

The directive is expected to be issued in about 10 days. In addition to luncheon expenses, it will deal broadly with all of the entertainment and travel regulations and their application to situations considered unique to the

Little Theater Schedules One-Act Play Aug. 15-16

James E. Hinkley, 501 N. Nelson, will be guest director for the Pampa Little Theater's one-act melodrama, "Curses, the Villain Is Foiled" to be at 7 p.m. Aug. 15 and 16 in the First Methodist Church basement.

JAMES E. HINKLEY
... August play director

Rehearsals are at 7:30 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays in Hinkley's home.

Women of the Methodist Church will serve a supper at 8 p.m., after the melodrama. Following the supper, cast members will present a brief variety show.

Hinkley, a 1932 graduate of Pampa High School, was graduated from West Texas State College in Canyon in 1960 with a B.S. degree in speech and drama.

While in college he participated in 18 stage productions including "The Desperate Hours," which the Little Theater will perform in October, and four Shakespearean productions, "Midsummer Night's Dream," "As You Like It," "Hamlet" and "The Merchant of Venice."

After graduation, Hinkley was a speech and drama teacher in Hereford High School for two years. While at Hereford, he directed his students to a first place in district play competition in Happy with "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals." They won second place in district competition in Hereford with "A Phoenix Too Frequent," and third place district with "The Sisters McIntosh."

business of gathering and disseminating news.
For instance, the IRS requires the taxpayer to jot down the name of a person being entertained, the date, and generally the nature of the discussion in order to deduct an entertainment expense.

Raises Query
This has raised a question of whether this violates the news profession's belief that a reporter has a right to keep his news sources confidential.

The IRS feels this will not be a major issue because there are so few such confidential conferences. Also, the reporter must merely make a record of such gathering. Chances are that he will not be called upon to produce it unless he gets into some serious dispute with the government over his income tax.

And the IRS stresses—as it has in other instances — that each situation will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis. Presumably, this provides enough discretion for an IRS agent to take into account this traditional reluctance to reveal sources of confidential information.

Poultry Supply Is on Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agricultural Department said today a significant buildup is under way in the poultry flocks that supply the nation's broiler hatching eggs. These eggs eventually hatch into broiler-type chicks.

If the buildup continues, the department said in a review of the poultry and egg situation, the result may be an expansion in broiler production accompanied by depressed prices late this year and early next year.

This would mean a continuation of low-priced poultry meat in ample supply for the consumer, but reduced income for the chicken farmer. Many of the remaining small poultry growers would be forced out of business.

This is the second time in 30 days that the department has warned of over-production of broilers and consequent low returns for their producers. The agency issued a special statement July 1 on the buildup in broiler numbers.

Economists believe that the buildup in hatchery supply flocks will make it extremely difficult for the poultry industry to reduce output when prices become unfavorable. Zebulon Pike, discoverer of Pike's Peak, is buried at Sacket's Harbor, N.Y., not in Colorado.

"Well, so long! I have to go now!"

For The Man Who Has Everything,
It's The Little Things That Count

Got everything? You probably don't have a pair of 14 carat gold shoes or a two-time wrist watch (for telling time in two cities).

By HAROLD SHEEHAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — What do you get for the guy who thinks he has everything?

If he plays golf, perhaps a new pair of shoes are in order. It could be, too, that he is tired of the ordinary varieties available.

A shoe firm has now come to the rescue of foot-weary men who are fed up with looking like every other duffer on the course. The offering: a pair of shoes (Etonic) finished in 14-carat gold. Price, about $50. The shoes are sold only in pro golf shops — no doubt to keep them away from nonplaying show-offs.

Of course, every man shaves in the morning. But what distinction is there to scraping away with a five-cent blade or buzzing off the whiskers with a $15 electric. A Swiss firm thinks a good shave is worth at least $100.

And that is what they charge for their electric razor. After checking skin texture, beard thickness, bone structure and the like, they grind the cutters to suit.

Then there is that annoyance of not always knowing what time it is in Paris as you step into a jet. A Swiss firm is in the market with a two-faced wrist watch; on one side of the dial, local time; on the other, home time. Even if you never travel, think of the cosmopolitan image you can project at the next party! Price of this ticker is about $120.

Explorer Lester B. Dill obviously is one of those few men who do have everything. At least he owns 25 leopard-skin tuxedos, which he wears while escorting tourists through the Meramec Caverns, Mo., which he owns.

But Dill is clearly in the minor leagues when compared with persons 15 to 25 pounds below average weight have the lowest mortality rate and there are more women than men in this group.

Dear Abby... Either He Calls It Quits, Or You Do It For Him

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Lloyd and I have been married five years. We have two children. I thought we were very happy until last week. A strange man telephoned me and told me that if my husband didn't stay away from his wife there would be trouble. When my husband came home I asked him point blank. He admitted that he and this married woman loved each other and had been seeing one another for a year. He said they were planning to get divorced and marry each other. Abby, Lloyd is 25 and she is 38! She has four children. Can this be love? Last night she and Lloyd sat and talked with me. They said they had decided to call it quits because of the children. Abby, they work together in the same plant, and I know they won't stop "loving" each other no matter what they say. Neither will give up his job. What should I do?

BROKEN-HEARTED AT 23
DEAR BROKEN-HEARTED: Assuming Lloyd and this woman WERE sincere in their promises to "call it quits," if they continue to work together, their good intentions won't last long. Tell Lloyd that you will believe that he means to "call it quits" when either HE or she quits the plant. Offer to move anywhere, but don't buy their story unless they are out of temptation's way.

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman who once weighed 220 pounds. I finally got down to 130. It took me almost a year, but I did it. I love myself this way, and I'll NEVER be fat again. What bothers me is people who say, "Oh, I liked you better fat!" Or, "Somehow you don't seem the same. You seem to have lost something in your personality!" Abby, how can you get along with people like that?

THINNER AND Madder
DEAR THINNER: You don't "get along" with people like that. You try to get along without them. They'd miss a wart on the end of your nose if they had become accustomed to seeing it there. But would YOU?

DEAR ABBY: There is an elderly-woman in our neighborhood who is driving everyone crazy. She is a dog-feeder. She makes her poor 72-year-old husband climb fences to feed other people's dog that are cooped up in their own yards. We have two dogs that we feed ourselves and we don't want anyone else feeding them. We are not alone in our complaints. The whole neighborhood is having trouble with these two nuts because of this. Isn't this a job for the police?

DOG OWNER
DEAR DOG OWNER: "Neighbor-trouble" IS indeed a job for the police. But only after a warning visit has been made, without results.

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter from "Disgusted Husband" who complained because his wife had only an eighth grade education, and all she'd read in the newspaper was the funnies. He's lucky. My wife graduated from high school and she asks me to EXPLAIN the funnies to her.

Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

POLLY'S
POINTERS

DEAR POLLY — I have discovered that if you are reusing a zipper saved from a worn-out garment, it will sew in like a new one after a dip in hot starch. Iron while still damp, using a cloth over it.—L. M.

GIRLS — If you have nothing else to starch, I am sure you would not want to make hot starch for one little zipper. I found that spray starch works just fine. Iron dry in the same manner as suggested by L.M. and the zipper tapes will have as much body as when new.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—When we bought our chest-type freezer, it was put in the basement near my automatic washer and dryer. At the time, I had no idea the freezer was going to be such a laundry aid. The big porcelain top is ideal for starching clothes, dampening the ironing, folding things that come out of the dryer, sorting the ironed clothes and so on. The unfinished dampened things can be stored inside. This accidental placement of the freezer has saved me countless steps up and down the basement stairs. I heartily recommend that anyone with a chest freezer move it to the laundry area.—MRS. M. F. F.

DEAR POLLY — When giving a small child's birthday party at home, place a 9 by 12 plastic drop cloth on the floor or rug under the party table and chairs. This will save your rug or floor when the children accidentally spill food or drink or have any of the usual children's accidents. When the party is over, roll up the drop cloth and throw it away if you like. They can be purchased at most paint or hardware stores for a small sum and are certainly worth the price as a rug protector and time saver.—MRS. E. H.

DEAR POLLY — I always drop a square of nylon netting in my mop water when scrubbing the floor. I can remove shoe marks and scuffs easily by rubbing with the netting. It does not scratch the floor.—MRS. V. K.

DEAR POLLY — So many things we buy today come in plastic bags. I find that after ironing my pillow slips they can easily be kept in pairs by inserting them in some of these bags. At the same time they are saved from discoloring in my linen closet. This also holds true with sheets.—E. F. R.

GIRLS — This might be too much of a good thing for those with big families, where the bed linens scarcely have time to cool on the shelves. It would certainly be wonderful for company — best linens.—POLLY

To Prevent Damage And Loss, Guard Against Mildew's Inroads

By KAY SHERWOOD

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Whether she wants it or not, a well-rounded education in home-making is forced on the gal who moves from one part of the country to another.

Each area presents its special stumbling blocks to the perfectly kept home.

After a winter spent cursing the harassment of frozen pipes and superheated furnace, I was joyfully confident my troubles were over when we moved to a climate modestly billed as "perfect." Turns out this is an "unusual year" — the weather is damp, very, very damp.

Almost before the bags were unpacked I met the problem of mildew, that nasty fungus which thrives in warm, damp, dark places.

It loves clothing, leather, trunk interiors, shower stall corners and tightly packed books. Those are a few of its habitats I'm newly familiar with.

Mildew smells, and the musty odor is difficult to get rid of. Mildew can stain and discolor. Sometimes I can wash and bleach or sun-bleach out mildewed fabrics. Sometimes I can't, particularly if the fabric is delicate — and expensive embroidered organdy, for example.

It's more desirable to prevent the mildew than to repair the damage. The basic rule is: Keep things dry, clean and aired — not always possible in a 24-hour work day. I shall strive to minimize the nuisance.

If dampness is a major problem, in basements for example, there are several good dehumidifiers which will help to dry out the air. One homemaker I know moves her dehumidifier from room to room to keep excessive humidity under control.

Air conditioners also help to extract extra moisture. In an air-conditioned bedroom, for example, I have been told that clothing stored in bedroom closets is less susceptible to mildew.

We can watch areas and materials that are particularly prone to mildew. Wet or damp clothing dumped into a hamper, leather goods stored in coat closet corners, luggage stashed on basement shelves are some of the items on my check list.

A bathroom hamper should be aired occasionally; spread out damp-soiled tops to dry before dropping them in. I was advised to sun luggage, hampers and garbage cans as a curb to mildew formation.

New on the market is a spray disinfectant which is supposed to be a mildew preventive.

Directions call for spraying surfaces until moist; the protection is good for several days, it is claimed.

The disinfectant is not supposed

Pampa Rebels Win Levelland American Legion Tournament

Take Second Straight Over Plainview Birds

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

LEVELLAND—The Pampa Rebels won their sixth straight game last night, defeating Plainview, 7-4, to win the Levelland Invitational American Legion Baseball Tournament.

Once more the Rebs came from behind for the victory, pulling it out in the eighth inning, the third extra-inning contest Pampa played in the series. The game was a replay of the first game, the only one Pampa lost, as Blazin' Bobby Price and Jim Arthur duelled Big Billy Carthel. Carthel was the loser this time, however, as the Rebs, led by the booming bat of Kenny Hebert, a perfect squeeze bunt by Ricky Maynard and Claude Middleton's clutch hit, came from two runs behind to take the lead, see Plainview tie in turn, and then pull it out.

Superlative fielding again featured the game, with shortstop Manuel Nagar heading the Thunderbirds and the outfield shining for the Rebs, with Hebert, Maynard and Ronnie Oler not only making tremendous catches, but unlimbering rifle arms as well.

Price went the first three and one-third innings. Blazin' Bob struck out eight, but couldn't get the corners, walking six, and was forced to come in with the fat one for Plainview to hit. A tired Arthur came in at that juncture and allowed three hits and one walk the rest of the way, striking out five. Carthel was reached for 11 hits, nine in the last three innings, struck out four and walked three.

Oler, who wielded a hot bat last night, opened the game with a single, but was wiped out in a twin killing. Hebert got the next hit of the game, leading off the second inning with a home run over the left centerfield fence.

Plainview tied the score in their half as Carthel singled, stole second, and then was forced home by three straight free passes. The Birds went ahead in the third, 2-1, as Nagar singled, moved up on a passed ball and balk, and scored on Carthel's single.

Plainview made it 3-1 in the fourth. Price issued a walk and then a single to Tommy Juracek. Arthur relieved and was reached for singles by Tom Sawyer and Nagar before retiring the side.

Pampa, which had gone hitless in the past three innings, found themselves in the sixth. Arthur opened with a single, was knocked off on Vann's grounder, and Vann moved to second as Oler again hit straight up the middle. Vann went to third and Oler to second on a wild pitch while Carthel got Ricky Stewart swinging. Hebert then pasted a 2-1 pitch into his home run alley in left center and Pampa led, 4-3. The Rebs kept the rally going on Shotgun Gregory's single and an error, but Gregory was caught at the plate in a rundown.

Plainview tied the game in their half. Pinch hitter Ron Barron walked, moved to second on a grounder and third on a wild pitch, and then scored when an attempted pickoff was high.

Steve Molberg singled in the seventh, but was caught off base. Tommy Thomas singled in the bottom of the seventh, but died on third as the Reb infield sparkled. Oler ripped his third hit up the middle to open the eighth, Stewart laid down a bunt and Oler advanced. Fence-buster Hebert came to the plate and Carthel decided discretion was the better part of valor and deliberately threw four wide ones.

Gregory dropped a single over the second baseman's head and the sacks were loaded. The Birds faded to the fences for the free-swinging Maynard and "The Munchkin" then dropped a perfect bunt down the first base line past Carthel. Sawyer came charging in and pegged to home too late.

The throw was wild and the runners kept on going, but catcher Eddie Piercy retrieved and threw Hebert out at home in a hotly disputed play.

The Rebs kept on charging however, and a walk to Molberg brought up Claude Middleton. "Miss Claudie" again came through in the clutch, slicing one past the second baseman to drive home two runs.

Arthur struck out the first batter and Oler made a running catch of Barron's line drive. Juracek then lifted a high, arcing can of corn into short left field, which found Middleton, Vann and Maynard coming together with a thud. Juracek rounded first, but Middleton climbed out of the pile, seized the ball and fired a perfect strike to Stewart to win the ball game and the championship.

Golden Spread Women's Softball

CLAUDE (Sp) — The Pampa Queens will have to win tonight's game and hope for a defeat of Stinnett by Skellytown Saturday night for a clearcut Golden Spread League championship.

The Queens clouted Claude last night, 17-1, to again tie Stinnett for first place, each team with one league loss. If both teams win or lose their final game, they will have a playoff for the title, otherwise the regular league tournament will begin at Panhandle Aug. 8.

The Queens were never headed as Mary Lou Addington threw no-hit ball for four innings, losing her no-hitter and shutout in the final frame when Lottie Dawkins singled and scored on an error. Jan Campbell took the loss as she was reached for home runs by Billie Coble, Peg Kastien and Betty Broadbent, two more hits by Betty, three by Ruth Blumer and Jan Little.

Dodgers Back In 'Cat Bird Seat'

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers were back in the "cat bird seat" today because the bubble burst for the San Francisco Giants and poor Roger Craig can't win for losing.

The Dodgers made the most of six hits Wednesday night to beat Craig and the New York Mets, 5-3, while the Philadelphia Phillies snapped the Giants nine game winning streak with a 14-inning 7-3 victory.

It was Craig's 17th straight defeat — one short of the National League record set by Clifton Curtis of the old Boston Braves in 1910.

A walk, a single by Ron Fairly, a triple by John Roseboro and a sacrifice fly by Willie Davis in the second inning accounted for three Los Angeles runs and two more singles, an error by New York second baseman Ron Hunt plus a wild pitch by Craig scored two more in the fourth inning. That proved more than enough as Pete Richert, Ken Rowe and Ron Perranoski held the Mets off to nail down the victory.

Combined with the Giants' loss to the Phils, it restored the Dodgers' first place lead to 4 1/2 games.

Marichal Knocked Out
Juan Marichal was cruising along with a 3-0 lead when the Phils scored a run in the eighth and then chased him with two more in the ninth.

In the 14th the roof fell in for the Giants. Bob Oldis led off with a single off reliever Bob Bolin and Don Hoak reached first when Ed Bailey was charged with obstruction on a sacrifice bunt, Earl Averill grounded to Bolin who threw wildly past third, permitting two runs to score and then Johnny Callison unloaded a two-run homer to wrap it up.

The third-place Cardinals also lost ground, slipping to five games off the pace, when they dropped a 9-2 decision to the Cincinnati Reds. In the other NL games, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Colts, 6-3, and the Chicago Cubs nipped the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2.

O'Toole Won 14th
Jim O'Toole spaced seven hits in gaining his 14th victory against nine defeats. The Reds made it easy for him to snap a personal six-game losing streak by hopping on Bob Gibson for six runs in the first three innings. Pete Rose, Frank Robinson and Marly Keough each had two RBIs for Cincinnati.

Pinch hitter Manny Mota's two-run single capped a four-run eighth inning rally that enabled the Pirates to come from behind and beat the Colts. Bob Friend, with help from Elroy Face, gained his 12th victory against nine losses for Pittsburgh. Reliever Hal Woodeshick (8-6) took the loss.

Ron Santo drove in three runs with a third-inning home run and a ninth-inning sacrifice fly to account for all the Cubs' runs. Santo's hitting enabled reliever Lindy McDaniel to pick up his seventh victory and saddled Bob Shaw, the last of five Milwaukee pitchers, with his eighth loss.

Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cassius Clay, the Louisville lip, should be arrested today not only for impersonating a fighter but also for impersonating an entertainer.

The loud one has signed a contract with Columbia Records to produce a record — a long playing one, naturally — which deals with not only his poetry but also his fistic future against one Charles (Sonny) Liston, heavyweight champion of the world.

It'll be a gasser like his fight with Liston, meaning both will be designed to put you to sleep. Or him.

Cassius, if you look under the surface, is merely loud-mouthing to build a big gate against the retirement into which Liston probably will blast him. As a fighter, which was proved by one Doug Jones, he is a wondrous talker.

Prediction Went Wrong

"I predicted six against Jones and then predicted four," he admitted by way of indirect apology of his "lucky" 10-round "victory" over Jones. "So it went 10 rounds and that's the right total."

There is nobody in boxing who believes that the flapping Louisville boxer can last much past two or three rounds with Liston. But this is all part of the box office buildup.

"I talked so long the record company asked me to do a record," he said in a mid-Manhattan hotel suite when he swaggered in wearing a red robe with white lapels. "This blood you see on here is that of Henry the Cooper. Real blood."

Cooper was the British heavyweight, in the true tradition of a long line of inept British heavyweights, who was Clay's last "victim."

Cassius was forced to admit right off the bat that he wasn't a singer but merely a "talker and reciter." Asked whether anybody would buy it, he predicted, naturally, a total of eight — namely 8 million.

Cover Sells It
"They'll buy it because on the cover will be the prettiest fighter in the world," he insisted. "Inside will be gags and philosophy."

Then he gave a sample, and there were those on hand who wished he hadn't.

"This is a story about a man with iron fists and golden tan... "Friends, Romans, countrymen, I come to bury Liston, not to praise him..."

"I'll teach that Liston anything, talking, boxing or actually what he needs, falling lessons... "I'm too pretty to be a fighter... "I'm so beautiful my face should be a natural resource... "Patterson was nuthin' but a scared chump... "I could whip both Patterson and Liston in the same night... "This record will last longer than Liston... "I named him a big ugly bear and what I say goes all over the world... And, carried away by his own importance, Clay allowed that he wouldn't fight Liston for the 2 1/2 per cent he had been offered. "Sugar Ray Robinson told me he never took less than 45 per cent as a challenger," the Lip allowed. "I'd be a fool to take lower." And so it went. Meaning, that if you take Cassius Clay, against Liston or on a record, man you ought to have your head examined. End buildup.

Once a manufacturer was looking for a better product. "I want to be sure that people NEED IT," he said. So he asked a lot of them about it. The answers told him how to MAKE IT. Finally he GOT IT. But it cost an awful lot to make. To sell it for less, he'd have to make it by the million. Which meant IT had to be sold by the million, too.

So he let his advertising man SEE IT. Ads began to SHOW IT to millions who might LIKE IT enough to BUY IT. And they did. For IT was indeed a product that they needed, at a price they could afford to pay. Then a big sign, MORE HELP WANTED appeared on the factory door. Everybody was happy, for now they had IT made.

Pete Ramos Bats, Hurls Tribe Past Los Angeles

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

Cleveland right-hander Pedro Ramos struck out 15 Los Angeles batters Wednesday and socked two home runs in a 9-5 nightcap victory. The Indians won the opener from the Angels, 1-0.

Ramos hit his first homer in the third inning off loser Eli Grba and connected again in the sixth when the Indians tied the major league record by belting four consecutive homers of shell-shocked Paul Foytack.

Woodie Held launched the barrage and Ramos, Tito Francona and Larry Brown followed with back-to-back blows that tied the mark set by Milwaukee's Ed Matthews, Hank Aaron, Joe Adcock and Frank Thomas on June 10, 1961.

Ramos went 8 1-3 innings Wednesday night before Gary Bell came on to preserve his fifth victory.

Whitfield Grand Slammed
Pedro was nipped for 11 hits, including homers by Lee Thomas and Leon Wagner, but the Indians hit six. Fred Whitfield connected for a grand slam in the third inning and his sixth inning homer in the opener broke open a scoreless duel between Barry

Ltman and Fred Newman.

The Yankees stayed eight games in front with a 3-2 win over the Athletics while the second place White Sox tripped the Senators, 5-2. The Orioles defeated the Tigers, 2-1, and the Twins downed the Red Sox, 9-3.

Tom Tresh's 18th homer with two out in the ninth inning settled matters between the Yankees and Athletics. Tresh's blow came off southpaw Ted Bowsfield and earned Ralph Terry his 12th victory with a five-hitter.

Herbert Won 10th
Jim Landis and Camilo Carreon collected three hits apiece for the White Sox as Ray Herbert gained his 10th victory by holding the Senators to seven hits in eight innings. Hoyt Wilhelm finished up. Don Zimmerman homered for Washington.

Southpaw Steve Barber out-duelled Frank Lary in Baltimore's victory over Detroit. Al Smith singled home the winning run in the first inning to hand Lary his fifth setback in six decisions. Barber, whose record now is 14-8, allowed six hits and the only run off him was unearned.

The Twins bombed the Red Sox' prize relievers, Jack Lamabe and Dick Radatz, for five runs in the seventh inning to break a 4-all tie. Jimmie Hall's 14th homer with two on was the big blow during the rally after Bob Allison had hammered his 24th homer earlier in the contest. Dick Stuart hit his 23rd for the Red Sox and teammates Roman Mejias and Ed Bressoud also connected. Bill Pleis was the winning pitcher and Lamabe the loser.

Yank Trackmen Seek Third Win

HANNOVER, Germany (UPI)—The touring United States men's track and field team hoped to lock up its third straight victory today and then take off for Britain for another dual meet on Saturday.

Coch Payton Jordan, pleased at how his athletes won eight of 10 events against the Germans in the first day's program Wednesday, day, expected to shuffle his lineup again today in an effort to make up for shortages caused by injuries.

Gary Weisiger of the Marines was the Americans' chief hope in the 1,500 meter run, taking over for Dyrrol Burleson of Eugene, Ore., who won the event at Warsaw and Moscow against the Poles and Russians but since has gone home because of an injured back.

Football star Bob Hayes, the "world's fastest human" who Wednesday won the 100-meter dash and anchored the winning 400-meter relay team, goes in the 200 meters today. It marks his first attempt at that distance on this tour.

"Everything went about just as we'd expected," said Jordan in referring to Wednesday's events. "There were no upsets and we are pleased with the way things turned out." (The Yanks scored 1-2 sweeps in five of the eight events they won.)

The U.S. squad took a 64-42 lead into today's program and was expected to win by a comfortable margin.

Two of the biggest Yank victories Wednesday were scored by athletes who changed to new events — by Tom O'Hara in the 800 meters and by Henry Carr in the 400 — and Jordan hoped he could get equally successful performances today.

Graham Plow, Borger In NBC

LUBBOCK (UPI)—The defending state champion Lubbock Hubbers and 15 other semi-pro teams start play Friday in the 28th annual National Baseball Congress (NBC) state tournament.

The tournament runs through Aug. 12. The winner will go to the national NBC tournament at Wichita, Kan.

District champions include Houston, Edinburg, Longview, Seguin, San Angelo, Hamlin and Amarillo.

Runners-up making the trip here include Arlington, Brownwood, Midland, Merkel and Borger. The field will be filled out with two teams from Lubbock and one from Seminole to replace three runnerup teams unable to compete.

Friday's opening pairings will find Borger facing Arlington and Midland meeting the Lubbock Skyliners.

Packed Field at St. Paul Open

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—The bread and butter shooters of the professional golf circuit teed off today in the 72-hole $35,000 St. Paul Open over Keller's shaggy fairways.

A packed field of 143 pros and 10 amateurs promised a close battle for the $3,300 first place prize over the 6,600-yard par 72 Keller course.

Most pros agreed the tournament would be won on the strength of a short iron game and accuracy on the greens. Keller's open fairways have never proven much challenge to the touring money players.

The purse for this year's event is the St. Paul Open's richest but it still failed to lure the gallery-gathering stars who are using the break to rest up for bigger payoffs ahead.

Disdaining the tourney were Arnold Palmer, Julius Boros, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, Sam Snead, and Bob Charles.

Doug Sanders is defending champion and will have fast company from the likes of Jerry Barber, Dow Finsterwald, Doug Ford, Jay and Lionel Hebert, Jacky Cupit, Tommy Bolt, Gene

College All-Stars Set for Green Bay

CHICAGO (UPI)—The College All-Stars will get their last light drill today in preparation for Friday's attempt to end the Green Bay Packers' winning streak in the 30th annual football All-Star game.

The Packers, champions of the National Football League, have won their last 19 exhibition games in a row, including a 42-20 win over the All-Stars last year. The pro team has won the last four All-Star games.

Green Bay, with almost all veterans from last year's team still on hand, was a solid favorite to win by two to three touchdowns. The Packers will hold their last workout tonight under the lights of Soldier Field, where the game will be played.

A crowd of about 65,000 was expected for the contest, usually the opener of the grid season. The game will be displayed on television with 208 stations on the network.

Neither coach Vince Lombardi of the Packers nor Otto Graham, in his fifth game as All-Star coach, has named a starting lineup.

Girls Softball

LEFORS (SpI)—In a hair-raising extra-inning pitchers' duel, the Pampa FF 9ers edged Lefors, 28-27, in a girls softball game yesterday.

Gail Powell was the winning pitcher for Pampa and Linda Kautz the Lefors loser as each went all the way in the eight-inning marathon which saw a total of 68 hits and at least that many errors.

Leading hitters in the free-for-all were Linda Williams, La Mona Hendricks and Gail Powell for Pampa, each having five hits; and for Lefors the big sticks were Donna Shipman and Charlene Lisben each with seven hits and Nita McCool with five.

Pro Football Gets Set for Exhibitions

By United Pffess International
Joe Morrison, the New York Giant's 25-year-old handyman, broke through the Giant defense for a 35-yard touchdown sprint as the offense dominated the controlled scrimmage for the first time since camp opened.

The Cleveland Browns, still intent on building a "big-back" offense patented after Green Bay, worked on backfield blocking Wednesday. Coach Blanton Collier was particularly pleased with the blocking of Jim Brown, which he called "exceptional," and that of newly acquired Mel Triplett.

The Detroit Lions solved a big headache when they finally signed All-Pro middle linebacker Joe Schmidt along with John Gordy. Only two more Lions, Sam Williams and Gail Cogdill, are not signed.

Dennis Harmon, a defensive back from Watseka, Ill., walked out of the Chicago Bears' camp Wednesday to return to Southern Illinois University for his degree. Harmon, the Bears' eighth draft choice this year, has decided to stay out of pro football "for a while."

Stehouer Injured
Guard Ron Stehouer was the only Pittsburgh casualty in the Steelers' controlled scrimmage. Stehouer twisted his knee, but is expected to return within a few days.

Coach Bill McPeak of the Washington Redskins took a long look at rookie defensive linemen Ron Snidow and Dave Nickson and liked what he saw in the Skins' first scrimmage, while coach Wally Lemm also sent his St. Louis Cardinals through their first full scale scrimmage.

In the Baltimore Colt workouts, star quarterback Johnny Unitas was once again firing long passes to Lenny Moore although the signal-caller had not thrown a pass during the past two days.

The San Francisco Forty-Niners concentrated on sprints with the speeding honors going to half-back Dale Messer and end Bernie Casey. Guard Bruce Bosley, who injured his leg on Saturday, will probably be out of action for 10 more days.

Billy Joe Moody, a rookie defensive halfback from Arkansas, became the third player to quit the Los Angeles Ram camp on his own Wednesday.

The Dallas Cowboys, who play the Rams in the first exhibition tilt for both teams next Thursday, concentrated on their passing attack with ends Billy How-

4-H Alumni In Line for High Honors

Gray County has a chance to honor two former 4-H club members for their work in promoting local 4-H clubs or for working in the best interests of their community, state and nation.

Nominated by friends and neighbors, some 1,500 men and women representing nearly every state, will be recognized for continuing to promote 4-H and other youth activities. The cooperative extension service, which will select the finalists, reports there are more than 23 million 4-H alumni in the 50 states.

Up to four men and women in each state will be named for the 1963 state plaque award. Nationally, eight persons will be cited for the 4-H alumni key award which includes a trip to the national 4-H club congress in Chicago.

All awards are provided through the national 4-H alumni recognition program, sponsored since it began in 1952, by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, Chemicals of Division - Agricultural of Little Rock, Ark.

The eight 4-H key recipients will be guests of Olin Mathieson during their Chicago stay and will be featured at the annual alumni banquet.

Hearing Is Set On Milk Order

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Department of Agriculture has announced a public hearing Aug. 14 in Dallas to consider proposed amendments to the federal milk marketing order for the North Texas area.

The hearing was requested by the North Texas Producers Association and cooperative associations in the Austin-Waco, Central West Texas, Corpus Christi and San Antonio marketing areas.

The producers have proposed a pricing formula revision for the North Texas area to increase the bottling milk price and to increase the manufacturing milk price for milk used in products distributed in Dallas and Tarrant counties.

The Agricultural Marketing Service of the USDA said any change in the North Texas price would also affect prices in the marketing areas of the other groups petitioning the hearing.

Committee Puts $75-Million Cut Bak in Fund Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted today to restore $75 million of a $100 million cut in funds for the Alliance for Progress program for Latin America.

The committee also voted to reconsider another action which would have put tighter limits on development loans by requiring a minimum 2 per cent interest rate and a maximum 30-year repayment provision.

High School 'Ag' Teacher To Go To Austin Meet

Bob Skaggs, Pampa High School vocational agriculture teacher, will leave Monday to participate in the state-wide in-service education workshop for Vocational Agriculture teachers Aug. 6-9 in Austin.

Vocational education teachers in homemaking, trade and distributive education will also participate in the workshops.

The combined general session speaker will be Dr. Walter M. Arnold, assistant commissioner for vocational education, U. S. Office of Education in Washington. M. A. Browning, assistant commissioner for Vocational Education for the Texas Education Agency, Austin, will direct the general conference.

The State vocational agriculture education staff will direct the workshops which will be staffed by vocational agricultural teachers. During the workshop, Tri-state FFA public speaking contestants will compete.

During a membership meeting, officers and board members will be selected and a work program for 1963-64 will be adopted. Charles F. Herring, state senator from Austin, will address the membership meeting.

Dr. M. D. Mobley, executive secretary of the American Vocational Association of Washington, will address a session of the vocational agricultural teachers.

When Sonic Boom Cracks the Wall— Fill Out a Form

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sonic booms are part of the jet age and a citizen's only recourse is to file a claim for damage.

So said Col. James K. Howling of the North American Defense Command, Denver, Colo., when he was asked to appear before the city council following a sonic blast last week that shook most of the city.

"The Air Force seeks to control the noise and vibration by regulation," he said. "But it is not always successful."

He said Air Force research has proved sonic booms cannot cause human injury but can crack plaster and break windows. He said that in such case a citizen should contact the nearest Air Force base for a claims form.

and the loan limits actions were strongly opposed by the administration.

The reconsideration left total cuts voted by the Senate committee so far at $372 million. President Kennedy originally requested $4.5 billion.

Meantime the House Foreign Affairs Committee was expected to complete action today on a foreign aid bill cutting Kennedy's request by $428 million. The new total provided by the House bill was slightly under $4.1 billion.

TVA Power Frequencies Hold Charm for Snakes

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—The Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) is collecting a few non-poisonous snakes in efforts to learn what lures a snake into high voltage electrical equipment.

Earl Taylor, chief of Transmission Service System, said a power substation at Columbia, Tenn., has had repeated power failures because of chicken snakes wiggling into the insulators. Taylor said nobody has yet figured out just what the attraction is.

TVA workers got rid of all the birds' nests and spiders' nests at the substation, but the chicken snakes kept coming. A few engineers have speculated that maybe the "oscillatory vibration of the power frequencies" holds some fatal charm for the snakes.

The latest move was the spreading of about 100 pounds of chemical supposed to repel snakes around the station. Taylor wants to collect a few snakes to find out how repulsive the repellent is.

If the repellent doesn't work, TVA engineers are ready to try an adaptation of the standard livestock fence charger set close enough to the ground to catch the skinniest snake.

WIRTZ KNOCKS "WORDS"
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz would like to ban certain "unfortunate" words from the vocabulary of labor-management relations.

He told a congressional committee Wednesday that terms such as "compulsory arbitration," "right to work," "goon," "strikebreaker," and "featherbedding" were "loaded."

Newfoundland, which includes Labrador, became a province of Canada in 1949.
