Pampa K-9 Corps To Begin Working 'Beat' August 1

Pampa's K-9 "policeman" will go to work Aug. 1, according to Patrolman C. L. Wallace, his handler.

Wallace said today the dog will be placed on duty with him when the patrolman returns from a two-week vacation on July 30.

The dog will be brought to Pampa July 27 from Amarillo where Patrolman Wallace has been training with him for the past eight or ten weeks.

The dog, "Ty," (pronounced "Tie") already has met members of the Wallace family and has become close friends with Wallace's wife, son and daughter.

The dog will be kept in a specially built kennel and run at Patrolman Wallace's home.

"Ty" will work the night patrol shift and will accompany the policeman on his police car rounds of the city.

Pampa Youth Is Apprehended Searching Cars

A 13-year-old Pampa youth was apprehended by Juvenile Officer Bill Leonard Tuesday in the act of searching parked cars.

When the boy was questioned, Leonard said, it was learned he had stolen articles from nearly a score of autos in recent weeks.

Some of the owners have recovered stolen items, but Leonard said he still has a transistor radio, a couple of sets of keys and two credit cards that have been unclaimed.

Owners of the items may recover them upon proper identification at the police station in City Hall, Leonard said.

Polish Major, Family Fled Red Pressures

BERLIN (UPI) — A Polish air force major who fled to asylum in West Berlin with his family in a two-seater training plane looked forward today to building a new life "where people are not pushed around."

"I was tired of pressures," he said.

Maj. Ryszard Obacz, a decorated 34-year-old jet pilot, packed his two sons, Lestow, 9, and Kryzstof, 5, into the cramped Polish air force plane Wednesday in Nadarzyce, Poland, 80 miles north of Poznan.

Then he coolly flew the slow-moving single-engine aircraft near tree-top level 150 miles across Poland and East Germany to the U.S. Air Force's Tempelhof Airfield in West Berlin, where he landed and requested asylum.

First Such Flight

It was the first time anyone had fled to West Berlin from behind the Iron Curtain in an airplane, although other defectors have flown to West Germany itself. West Berlin is separated from West Germany by 110 miles of Communist territory.

An American official, asked if the request would be granted, said, "He's here, isn't he?" The plane probably will be returned to Poland.

To keep them from worrying, Obacz had told his wife and children they were heading for Stettin, just east of the Polish-East German border, to visit friends. "It was the first time I ever lied to my wife in our marriage," he said.

Mrs. Obacz appeared happy with his decision.

Seeks Free Life
Speaking through an interpreter, Obacz said he made the flight because he "wanted to come to a place of open friendships."

"I wanted to work toward truth..." he said. "I wanted to go where people are not pushed around."

Obacz said morale is low in the Polish air force. "The mood is very bad," he said. "Most officers are fed up just as I was. We want the right to travel where we want to, the right of free speech, the right to work for a good cause."

He said the toughest part of the trip was getting the whole family into the small two-seater plane.

Obacz sat in the pilot's seat. His wife was in the rear seat and the two boys crouched between their mother's legs under the rear cockpit control panel.

He had received permission to take his wife and children along on a practice flight "to get in flying time" and had filed a flight plan to Stettin.

Obacz, an air force officer since 1948, planned the escape carefully. Russian and East German radar stations guard the border and track all aircraft.

Books Closed On Sound Truck 'Mystery' Here

"The Case of the Mystery Sound Truck" was a closed book today as far as City Manager Harold Schmitzer was concerned.

Whether the story was fact or fiction still was a moot question.

It all grew out of a letter sent yesterday to the city manager by Bill Watson, presiding judge in Ward 3 at Tuesday's charter amendment election.

Watson stated in the letter he thought there might have been a possible violation of the Texas Election Code due to the fact a sound truck passed the election place and he heard someone urge voters to "vote for all four amendments."

This, according to law, would be a violation if the incident occurred within the 100-foot electioneering distance markers at the polling place.

The city attorney said any charge of a violation of the Election Code would have to be filed with county or district authorities.

Watson, in his letter, had asked the city manager to investigate. The city manager said today he could find no one who could make a case that would hold up in court.

No charges had been filed today either in police, county or district courts.

The city manager said it was a closed incident insofar as his office was concerned.

Reports Say Soviet Troops, Bases in Cuba Growing

MIAMI (UPI) — Russian troops and rocket installations in Cuba are "steadily growing," particularly along the northern coast closest to the United States, newly arrived Cuban underground members said today.

Members of the Cuban Freedom Fighters Organization gave details on Russian activity in the area around Caibarien, a key port on the northern Las Villas coast.

They were among a group of 31 persons, including eight women and seven children, who escaped the island in a 33-foot sailing boat last week and reached the Florida Keys after a four-day journey. There are approximately 10,000 Soviet troops in the Caibarien zone alone, the freedom fighters—who declined to permit use of their names—said.

They said Russians command troops in tracking down rebel forces, and there also are "foreign troops" used.

"Some of them look like Mongolians," one of the arrivals said. "The Russians use Cuban militia uniforms and also Cuban army uniforms," he added.

"There is tremendous construction activity in the Caribbean area (See REPORTS, Page 3)

Nikita Seems to Be Attempting to Undermine Talks

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today appeared to be trying to badger the Red Chinese into breaking off the showdown talks on Communist strategy and tactics.

Negotiators for the two sides clashed in their technical aides for the first time today in the search for a way out of their ideological impasse. The search thus far apparently has been fruitless.

Both Russian and Chinese officials kept a tight secrecy lid on the talks, and the official Soviet press has made no mention of how the discussions are going.

Knowledgeable Communist sources said however, that it appeared the two sides realize the pointlessness of the negotiations, are anxious to call them off, but do not want to take the blame for any breakdown.

Goads Chinese
The sources pointed to Khrushchev's friendly welcome Wednesday for Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar and the Soviet announcement of the Moscow-Washington "hot line" as indications the Kremlin is trying to goad the Chinese into ending the talks.

Khrushchev's bear hug greeting for Kadar, one of the Kremlin's staunchest supporters in Eastern Europe, was in sharp contrast to the premier's pointed snubs of the Chinese delegation. Khrushchev has been out of Moscow most of the time since the talks began last Friday.

The "hot line" announcement Wednesday by Soviet Communications Minister Nikolay Pсуртsev was another obvious anti-Chinese barb. The Red Chinese oppose any such friendly contacts with the West as betrayals of communism.

Starts in September

Pсуртsev said the direct teletype line between Moscow and Washington, designed to reduce the risk of war by accident, will go into operation Sept. 1. The link is called "hot" because it will be open at all times.

Though the negotiating teams have had five meetings prior to today, there was no indication they have narrowed the ideological and political differences that have driven Moscow and Peking close to a formal break.

Plans Finalized for Jaycee Convention

The welcome to the assembled group will be extended by the president of the Pampa Jaycees, Gary Frasher, followed by a devotional by Doyle Green of Borger.

The delegates will then attend one of four clinics, each to be conducted by a vice-president in charge of programming. The clinics will be held on the following subjects:

Records, recognition, youth and sports—James Petterson, El Campo

Americanism and governmental affairs—Jim Reese, Odessa

Membership, leadership training and public relations—Roy Baughan, Austin

Civic improvement—John Jones, Grand Prairie

The clinics will conclude at 11:30 a.m. and will be followed by regional caucuses conducted by their respective state directors: Bill Rogers of Amarillo, IA; A. H. Carubbi Jr. of Pampa, 1B; Boyd Vaughan of Tulsa, 1C and P. H. Orman of Lubbock, 1D.

A luncheon for the Jaycees and their wives will be held in the Starlight Room at 12:30 p.m. The guest speaker will be the state president of the Texas Junior

Pampa Girl Hurt in Two Car Collision

Gwen Davis of Davis Trailer Park was reported to have suffered whiplash injuries in a two-car collision at the intersection of Hobart and Rham shortly after 1 p.m. yesterday.

Miss Davis, in Highland General Hospital, was listed in satisfactory condition late yesterday. Her condition this morning was not available.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Glenda Taylor Baumann of 1137 Sandelwood, which was struck from the rear by a car driven by William Murl Hayes of 1036 Neel Road, according to investigating Patrolman Preston Bailey.

Both cars received extensive damage in the collision. Three persons were involved in the wreck.

Civilians Have 4 Days to Seek Astronaut Job

HOUSTON (UPI) — Civilian pilots have four more days to apply for jobs as astronauts, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said today.

The deadline for applications was originally July 1 for civilian applicants and July 15 for military applicants.

The spacecraft center said, however, it had not intended to stop receiving applications from civilians July 1.

Wilkinson again stated that he was opposed to the program. Floyd Watson apparently was undecided at first, but later stated (See PROGRAM, Page 3)

Arson, Guns, Gas Involved in New Racial Outbreaks

The nation's integration struggle took a violent turn today. New racial upheavals in Cambridge, Md., and Savannah, Ga., resulted in arson, threats, gun fire, rock hurling and tear gas.

In Cambridge two empty Negro houses went up in flames and white men drove through a Negro section hurling bricks at pedestrians. State and local police were hard put to break up an angry crowd of Negroes who threatened to march into the white neighborhood.

Forgotten in the violence was an attempt by the U.S. Justice Department to mediate the town's racial dispute. The mediator had no one to mediate with when Negro leaders led him to investigate the fires.

An angry Negro muttered "I'm going to kill somebody tonight," and another standing near one of the burning houses said he "took a shot" at some whites, running from the area.

Violence in Savannah
In Savannah, police broke up a demonstration by an estimated 2,000 Negroes early today and used tear gas and high pressure water hoses. The demonstrators, shouting for the release from jail of their leader, slashed police car tires, pulled open the door of a paddy wagon jammed with arrestees, and lay down in front of the police vehicles when they began to move.

A Negro teenager was shot in the foot and a white cab driver's leg broken by a hurled brick. The Bible Baptist Church, whose congregation is white, was apparently set fire to and received extensive damage in the rear of the sanctuary. The church was empty at the time.

A white man said he fired a pistol shot through his car window.

Rail Rule Dispute Heads for Congress; Strike Delayed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A blue-ribbon panel appointed by President Kennedy to head off a national railroad strike began an 11-day study today of the bitter work rules dispute.

This was the first step in placing the four-year-old controversy in the hands of Congress, which may be asked to pass legislation calling for compulsory arbitration. Eight hours before the strike deadline both rail management and the unions agreed Wednesday to postpone until July 29 any action that might lead to a strike.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz convened the first meeting of the committee at the Labor department to arrange procedures for its work.

Report to President

After a thorough study of all the facts in the controversy, the board will make a report to President Kennedy on July 22. He then will submit it and legislative recommendations to Congress, which will be designed to settle this particular dispute.

The board was set up by Kennedy as part of a formula to avert a nationwide railway strike which otherwise would have started at 12:01 a.m. local time when management put new work rules into effect. Kennedy's action Wednesday averted the walkout just eight hours before it was to start.

Wirtz told reporters today that the committee does not have any assignment to mediate the conflict, but only to investigate it.

Two members of the panel—union leader George M. Harrison and Inland Steel Company executive Joseph Block—were not present for the opening session.

Wirtz and Meany also agreed that an agreement between five rail unions and the nation's major railroads would be the best possible solution to the complex dispute.

Failure Will Be Because of Reds, Says Harriman
NEW YORK (UPI) — Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman said today that the Soviet Union will be solely responsible for a limited nuclear test ban treaty is not achieved in Moscow in talks with the United States and Great Britain.

"President Kennedy is attempting to do everything he can to make it plain to the people of the world that we will cooperate in achieving a test ban," he said as he took off by plane for London en route to Moscow.

"If there is a failure, the failure will be on the part of the Soviet Union," he added.

Psycho Sow To Receive 'Therapy'

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (UPI) — Farmer Robert L. Frank feared today he has a sow with a psychological problem that may have started in infancy when its own mother stepped on it.

Mrs. Frank took the injured pig let into the home, fed it whisky and aspirin, and nursed it back to health. The pig grew into a normal looking 350-pound sow and—as sows often do — became a mother.

But, unlike a good mother, she killed her first nine pigs as soon as they were born. The Franks were disturbed, but decided to give the Hampshire-Yorkshire another chance.

The second births occurred Saturday. The traumatic sow killed the first pig, but the Franks quickly grabbed the next nine when they were born. A half-sister of the mother sow, who had just weaned her own litter, adopted the hungry little pigs.

The Franks plan to send the sow to a place that would end her psychological problems. It's called a packing house.

France Agrees on More Contact With Britain

BRUSSELS (UPI) — France agreed with other Common Market nations today to increase economic and political contacts with Britain, whose entry into the market was blocked by the French seven months ago.

The Common Market foreign ministers agreed to a plan in which the six market nations—plus Britain—would meet at ministerial level four times a year. The meetings will take place alternately in each of the seven capitals.

The plan for increased contact was submitted by West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder. It was accepted in broad outline by the other five ministers, including France's Maurice Couve de Murville, who previously had vetoed any increase of contacts with Britain.

The plan seeks to prevent British hand Common Market policies from evolving along different lines and to smooth the way for possible British membership in the Common Market at a later date.

Ban-the-Bomb Groups Call Rally to Demonstrate Against Greek Royalty

LONDON (UPI) — One of Britain's major ban-the-bomb organizations called a major rally in Trafalgar Square today in defiance of an order against such demonstrations during the state visit of King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece.

Ninety-four persons were arrested when police battled demonstrators who attempted to hold a rally in Trafalgar Square on Tuesday to protest the royal visit. Nevertheless the "Committee of 100," originally founded by pacifist philosopher Lord Bertrand Russell, announced plans for an even bigger meeting tonight.

"There could well be more violence again," said Michael Harwood, secretary of the committee's London branch. "But then we live in a violent society."

Crowds booed the Greek royal couple outside a theater Wednesday night.

Take Up Cause
The committee of 100, the Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament and other British organizations have taken up the cause of Mrs. Betty Ambatielos, a Welsh-born Communist who is demanding the freedom of her husband from a Greek jail, and have demonstrated against the Greek king and queen.

A Communist union leader, Ambatielos has been in prison since 1947.

The demonstrators have demanded freedom for all Greek political prisoners jailed in the aftermath of the Communist-led attempt to take over Greece following World War II.

The Greek government says there are about 1,000 prisoners, but contends they are felons, many of whom have committed murder.

British authorities have mounted one of the biggest security guards in peacetime history to keep the demonstrators away from the Greek monarchs. Demonstrations and the distribution of leaflets have been banned.

See Royal Couples
Wednesday night boos and catcalls broke out at Aldwych Theater when Paul and Frederika, accompanied by Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, arrived for performance of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

There was no violence but nine persons were arrested on charges of using insulting language.

CARRIED AWAY — Mrs. Betty Ambatielos, wife of jailed Greek Seaman's Union leader Tony Ambatielos, is carried away by London police from the neighborhood of Westminster Pier where King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece were about to board a boat. Mrs. Ambatielos had tried to show the Greek rulers a placard protesting her husband's 16-year prison sentence. (NEA-Telephoto)

Nurse Training Proposal Hit as Board President Balks at Increased Spending

The proposed Vocational Nurse training program for the coming school year met opposition today from School Board president R. D. Wilkerson.

Despite the strong urging of Dr. R. M. Hampton, John Gikas and Superintendent of Schools Jack Edmondson at today's School Board meeting, Wilkerson reaffirmed his stand of the previous board meeting; that the Pampa school district had enough trouble finding funds for regular school education, and could not afford the additional expense of extracurricular education.

Edmondson, who had gone into the program and prepared a brief on the subject, said that the exact cost would be hard to determine at this time, and that a steering committee would have to be formed as soon as possible to work out technical details.

Dr. Hampton strongly recommended the program from a professional standpoint, explaining that there would be a demand for the graduates in the local hospitals. Gikas also recommended the program on the basis that it would mean better education and improved standards for the local populace.

Wilkerson again stated that he was opposed to the program. Floyd Watson apparently was undecided at first, but later stated (See PROGRAM, Page 3)

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Americans saw a major, live, two-way transatlantic telecast Wednesday on Telstar's first anniversary. Europeans weren't as lucky. The French wouldn't let anybody over there see it.

I'm not kidding. The 45-minute program, which had Dwight Eisenhower and other top figures discussing world problems instantaneously from various cities, included political topics touchy to the De Gaulle government—such as nuclear arming policy and the European Common Market, out of which France has kept England. In fact, one of the four figures on hand Wednesday was Jean Monnet, often referred to as the father of the Common Market—and an advocate of including Britain. Anyway, the French simply decided to deny use of their ground station which was to have transmitted the American portion—and the whole show—to European countries.

Despite the European blackout, which had no effect on what Americans saw, the broadcast was a major triumph for CBS-TV, the only network that carried it. It is extremely regrettable that neither ABC-TV nor NBC-TV thought it fit to salute Telstar thusly, and to take part. NBC's parent company, the Radio Corp. of America (RCA), has its own satellite, "Relay."

CBS-TV created the telecast, which is called "Town Meeting of the World." It came on live from 7:30-8:25 p.m., EDT, and was shown again at 7:30-8:30 p.m., EDT. Eisenhower spoke from a Denver studio. Monnet was in Brussels. The others were Anthony Eden in London and Heinrich von Brentano, majority leader in the West German Bundestag, from Bonn.

For the first half of the program, the four statesmen, guided with ease by anchorman Walter Cronkite in New York, talked of the problems at hand. And for the last half, persons in studio audiences with them in Denver, London and Brussels asked them questions.

The quality of the picture and sound reception was excellent. And CBS apparently thought so highly of the results that it has decided to continue the format and program idea on a quarterly basis starting in the fall. The Europeans who were blacked out will get a tape of the show shipped to them for airing. Here, informatively is what the black-out meant:

It meant that Ike could see whom he was talking to, but they couldn't see him or each other. It meant that the deprived nations were England, West Germany, Ireland, Belgium, Holland and Italy—all of which had planned to carry the telecast. It meant that only the willingness of the British to carry on with their sending of the European portion to America via their ground station made it possible for the United States to get the broadcast at all. There would have been no show without the British. The French are reported to have asked the British to bow out too.

The Channel Swim: NBC-TV confirmed Joseph Cotten as host-narrator of its new fall half-hour series, "Hollywood and the Stars" . . . Bill Cullen, emcee of the ugly show "The Price Is Right," hosts NBC-TV's "Tonight" during the first of Johnny Carson's two weeks of vacation starting July 29.

Last summer, CBS-TV presented an invigorating one-hour special, "The Dialogues of Archibald MacLeish and Mark Van Doren," in which the two old friends talked informally as they walked, drove, sat and went swimming. Now, on July 31, CBS-TV offers "The Dialogues of Allan Nevins and Henry Steele Commager," in which two noted historians, also old friends, talk at leisure of the state of the Union and the condition of man.

ONE LOOK IS ENOUGH
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Seems you can sometimes fight City Hall after all.

Frank Wilson's car collided with Mayor George Christopher's car June 27. Wilson, cited for failing to yield the right of way, came up for trial Tuesday before Municipal Judge Bernard Glickfield.

The judge took one look at the police report and said: "Case dismissed."

Texas Swelters Under Humidity, Searing Heat

By United Press International
Thundershowers and clouds slightly raised the uncomfortable humidity over most of Texas today.

Intermittent showers dampened Pampa slightly last night, but the total moisture did little more than settle the dust and increase the humidity.

The Pampa News rain gauge registered .94-inch.

Forecasters called for more showers and hot weather through Friday.

Bands of showers that dumped light rains on Amarillo in the Panhandle, Brownsville in the Rio Grande Valley, Houston, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls early today helped pull temperatures down from readings in the high 90s over much of the state and more than 100 in at least 10 areas.

Thundershowers fell along the Red River and along the upper coast. Elsewhere, it was generally partly cloudy. The showers probably will increase and spread to every part of Texas except the southwest by evening.

The word from the weather bureau was sticky: "Warm and humid over the state."

Early temperatures today included 71 at Amarillo, 75 at Lubbock, 66 at Alpine, 77 at Houston, 81 at Galveston, 80 at Dallas and 81 at Austin.

A sudden 1.5 inch downpour during the late afternoon rush hour flooded streets in Beaumont Wednesday.

Temperatures were expected to climb to the high 90s and perhaps 100 degrees but the searing heat of Tuesday and Wednesday was not indicated.

The mercury hit 106 degrees at Presidio Wednesday, 102 at Childress and San Angelo, 101 at Abilene, Fort Worth and Mineral Wells and 100 at Junction, Midland, Wichita Falls and Wink.

CZECH YOUTHS JAILED

VIENNA (UPI) — A Communist court at Sokolovo sentenced two young Czechs to prison terms Wednesday for "hooliganism."

Radio Prague reported today.

The report said Pavel Herlik, 20, and Zdenek Rob, 17, of northern Bohemia, broke into the guardroom of a factory and stole pistols and ammunition. It said the two youths tried to escape to West Germany to join the Foreign Legion.

Gunshot Victim's Condition Good

Fred Sam Hild, 16, 826 E. Craven, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Willis of Monahans was listed in good condition at Worley Hospital late this forenoon.

Hild was hospitalized Tuesday afternoon with a gunshot wound incurred on a hunting trip with a friend.

According to investigating officer Deputy D. L. Day, the 22-calibre slug entered Hild's body in the right chest, puncturing a lung and leaving through the back.

The gun was discharged accidentally by a friend, Robert Thompson, 825 E. Craven, Day said.

that he was against it due to several factors, such as costs, need of federal funds, etc.

Watson said, however, that he was still open to a change of heart if further study convinced him that it would be a good thing overall.

H. Creel Grady was not present at the meeting, being out of town. Wilkerson repeated that further study would not change his mind, the program was definitely out for September, and, as far as he was concerned, it could be forgotten.

Edmondson said that he was willing to make further and detailed study on the question. Dr. Hampton and Gikas asked that it be studied further. Hampton pointed out that if the subject were dropped now, it would be buried for good, but that further study might show the feasibility of the program at a later date, or possibly to the new board members coming in next year.

Wilkerson agreed that Edmondson should make a further study. The remainder of the meeting was routine. The board unanimously approved a revised and more detailed report card to parents for grades one through six.

A tentative date of Aug. 22 was set for a budget hearing, with a definite date to be established at the next regular meeting.

Business manager Homer Craig was authorized to borrow money from a bank in the amount due the Pampa School District for the coming year from the Texas Education Agency. Craig said that he would not know the exact amount needed until after Aug. 1, but estimated it in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Bill and invoices of $7,877.84 were approved.

Otto Preuss was listed as improved but still in serious condition in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo, where he was transferred early Wednesday for surgery.

Jack Spear of Pampa was listed in fair condition in Highland General late this forenoon.

Victory In Court

It was in the courts that the integrationists won their biggest victory. A federal judge Wednesday issued wide-sweeping decrees ordering the all-white University of South Carolina desegregated and the state parks open to Negroes.

The university was directed to admit Henri Monteith, 17-year-old Negro girl, to the fall semester. The parks were ordered desegregated in 60 days, after the peak of the summer season.

In other parts of the nation, the civil rights move continued, marked by demonstrations, court action and biracial conferences.

These developments took place:

Clarksdale, Miss.: Arraignment was scheduled for two white men accused in the firebombing of the home of a Negro leader.

New York: A Negro author, Louis E. Lomax, said that "drive-in" demonstrations would be held within two weeks at the Flushing Meadows Park site of the 1964 World's Fair. Caravans of automobiles which could obstruct traffic at the site would campaign for integration of construction craft unions. In Manhattan, pickets continued overnight sit-ins at the offices of Mayor Robert Wagner and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

WASHINGTON — Gov. Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi, George C. Wallace of Alabama and Donald S. Russell of South Carolina said they would testify before the Senate Commerce Committee on President Kennedy's proposal to ban discrimination in public facilities.

OMAHA, Neb. — A kneel-in by 100 Negro and white integrationists at the city hall widened the split on a desegregation solution with Mayor James Dwrok.

Chapel Hill, N.C.: Anti-segregation demonstrations resumed with some 150 persons marching downtown.

Fayetteville, N.C.: About 60 Negroes, possibly servicemen from Ft. Bragg, picketed three theaters and two restaurants while scores of Military Police stood by.

Columbus, Ohio: Demonstrators marched on the State House three times, delaying the convening of the Ohio House of Representatives. The group protested failure of a fair housing bill.

PERFORMANCE HALTED

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The Rev. Dan J. Griffith called police Wednesday to complain he was awakened by the pre-dawn strains of an unscheduled organ recital in a nearby church.

Lawrence J. Banks, 18, told police he had problems and organ music helped him relax. The police offered jail as an alternate remedy. Banks was booked on suspicion of unauthorized entry.

and even on the three keys off Caibarien," said another. "Most of it is done at night and the construction areas are for the most part off limits to Cubans."

The three keys are Fragoaso, Frances and Santa Maria. They are from 12 to 20 miles offshore.

"On Fragoaso Key, which was virtually uninhabited, intense construction work has been going on for the past nine months on some kind of fortification or installations," said the freedom fighter, his face deeply sunburned from the voyage in the open boat. "Only the Russians are allowed in there."

On Frances Key similar construction is in progress and on Santa Maria Key "a gigantic excavation is being dug in the exact center of the island," the Cuban said. "Work is done only at night."

The anti-Castro rebels said similar night construction also was going on at Vinas, near Remedios, about five miles in from the coast.

Halted During Crisis

"U.S. aerial photos last fall proved the Russians had begun a rocket installation there," one of the group said. "All work was stopped during the crisis but it was resumed again afterwards."

The Cubans said they had "very reliable reports" of a new rocket base being set up near Mabulla between the towns of Mayajigua and Chamas on the Las Villas-Camaguey provincial border.

"A huge tunnel—big enough for trucks with rockets to drive through—has been constructed beneath the main highway at Sierra Suela farm near Caibarien," the leader of the freedom fighter group said.

Tunnels have been built into the elevated land which fronts the sea at Punta Brava, and the Russians have taken over the entire sector including the old yacht club and officers' club there, he added.

Hobby Inspired Lady Tie Tycoon

By WALTER LOGAN
 United Press International
 NEW YORK (UPI) — William S. McMenemy, a native of Scotland who admits only to getting on toward 60 this year, came to this country originally as an accountant but stayed on to become an authority on Lucilla Mara de Vescevi.

Lucilla Mara de Vescevi is better known as the Countess Mara, a title she invented in 1938 for its snob appeal when she turned her hobby of making ties into big business and took ties out of the $1.50 class to the $5 class — and up to $50.

The title was an easy one to think up because her mother was born the Baroness Elizabeth de Gleria of Trieste and she had a maternal grandmother who was the Hungarian Countess Maria Hatvany.

McMenemy, who now is president of the Countess Mara firm is steeped in countless lore and from him we learned the story of Lucilla Mara de Vescevi who is now 77 and lives in a chateau in Bergamo in the Swiss Alps where she is given to wearing laces and veils.

She was married in 1911 to an Italian businessman and they had three daughters before they were divorced in 1922. She came to the United States "ostensibly to become an opera singer but was not much of a hit," McMenemy said. Instead she gave lantern slide lectures.

In 1922 she married Malcolm D. Whitman, a textile manufacturer and famous tennis player. "The legend was that she shuddered every time she saw a man's tie," McMenemy said.

"In 1930 Whitman appeared at breakfast wearing a tie which made her shudder and he challenged her to make a better one. She did, out of a black and white silk geometric print. He shuddered, but he wore it."

After Whitman's death in 1932 she opened a shop on Park Avenue and from then on met constant success, occasionally packing a maid and a bag of samples to visit other cities.

The ties sold in those days would make a man shudder now. They were what was then a fashionable four inches wide and often were hand-painted, which was the rage then. It was about that time she thought up the name Countess Mara and began putting a "C.M." on the ties.

"Then came the next romance in her life," McMenemy recalled. "She married Ray Virden, who bought the Rome Daily American from Doris Duke, and they settled in Florence in a house equipped with air conditioning and two of everything — two electric stoves, two refrigerators, etc."

After Virden's death in December, 1955, she moved to Bergamo. "The current fashions have passed her by," McMenemy said. "But she has never lost her great color sense. . . . She still designs her own clothes. They are stunning. She looks very young and you couldn't guess her age. Hasn't changed a bit in 10 years."

So we looked to see what the new team of designers have done and what a $50 tie looked like. The $50 one was of a shadow weave with a now-you-see-it-now-you-don't design. The $30 was a cut velvet reminiscent of the florid ones of old.

New were polka dots in two color dots, Mara stripes one and two inches wide, solid backgrounds with tiny overall designs such as question marks, a bull and bear and a slot machine. One tie had a single bar stripe four inches wide. In the $18.50 class were solid peau de soie silk with 22 karat designs—tiny golf bag, tiny weather vane etc. But many old customers still come back and ask for hand-painted ties.

Accent on Health

AUSTIN — "Pedodontics" is a big word with a simple meaning—the care and treatment of children's teeth. A major part of pedodontics is preventive dentistry, and preventive dentistry for the very young is the one great hope for a realistic solution to our dental woes.

If a child's teeth are properly cared for up to age 15, a strong foundation has been laid for minimizing dental troubles in later years.

At about 6 months of age the four front teeth—two upper and two lower—begin to peek out. These front teeth are incisors, the cutting teeth. By age 7 to 11 months, four more teeth, upper and lower, start to come in. These are the lateral incisors at either side of the central teeth. Then Mother Nature wisely skips a few spaces in order to properly shape the jaw. In 12 to 16 months, the back teeth or molars, come in. Then the cuspids show to fill in the space between. At about 24 months, the second molars come in.

Up to this point all teeth which have erupted are primary teeth, and although temporary they are vital. They help shape the face, help the youngster learn to speak distinctly, help him nutritionally and must serve the child until he is 12.

While all this has been going on, the permanent teeth are slowly developing in the jaw bone so they can come forth at the proper time.

The first permanent teeth to erupt are molars—sometimes called "six-year" molars simply because they emerge at about age 6. Because they do not replace the first teeth but come in just behind them, these molars tend to confuse parents who think they are also temporary teeth.

This error can lead to unfortunate consequences. Since the "six-year" molars are permanent teeth, they will not be replaced if lost.

Family dentists strongly emphasize the importance of watching for the six-year molars. They are important to the structure of the mouth. The manner in which they interlock with their opposite teeth will determine the eventual shape of the jaw, facial contour and regularity of alignment of other teeth.

Because of their importance, these first permanent teeth are often referred to as the "keystone of the dental arch."

The strength or weakness of adult dental health—barring loss of teeth through accidents—can invariably be traced to habits of preventive dentistry learned or left unlearned in childhood. And when it comes to preventive dentistry, the pedodontist is a child's best friend.

Ships sailing from the Atlantic to the Pacific Oceans via the Panama Canal travel from north to south.

Midwest Threatened by Drought

By United Press International
A worsening drought threatened to reach disaster proportions throughout parts of the Midwest today, cutting the wheat yield and posing a threat to the fall crops.
A U.S. Department of agriculture disaster committee was to meet in Washington today to consider Gov. John Reynolds' request to declare 20 Wisconsin counties drought disaster areas.
In the Oklahoma Panhandle a request was made for a drought designation, but Gov. Henry Bellmon rejected it, saying dry weather was one of the hazards of farming.

Some areas of southwestern Kansas have been declared drought stricken. The wheat crop suffered considerable damage in western Kansas, although farmers said they got a better yield than they expected.
In southwest Iowa and north-west Missouri farmers decided to reactivate a cloud-seeding program they said was highly successful in 1957. They said they were eight inches deficient in rainfall for the season.
A drought disaster designation permits farmers under certain conditions to graze soil bank acres, get low interest loans and buy government grains at low prices.

Nearly all parts of Indiana, except in the southwest and south-central counties, were short of moisture, Agricultural reporters said the corn crop and the tomatoes especially needed rain.
There was a 30,000-square-mile area of southwest Kansas, the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles, northeast New Mexico and southeast Colorado that suffered from lack of rains this spring, but recent moisture has ameliorated the situation.

Rainfall Wednesday was sparse across the nation. Tampa, Fla., got 1.77 inches, but otherwise the amounts ranged from .43 inches at Charleston, S.C., to none at most places. Salina, Kan., got half an inch.
The temperatures continued setting cool records. New lows July 10 included 42 at Findlay, Ohio; 45 at Cincinnati; 46 at Cleveland and Pittsburgh; 44 at Milwaukee, Wis., and 49 at Windsor Locks, Conn.
Fly casting became a common fishing method about the middle of the 18th century, when it flourished in the British Isles.

NO MORE BLISTERS
LONDON (UPI) — The British army, in another move to make military life attractive to recruits, is going to issue blister-proof socks to its men.
An announcement Wednesday said the socks are made of layers of plastic mesh which renders them shock absorbent and keeps the feet warm in winter and cool in summer.
CROWD BURNS FLAG
DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika (UPI)—The Portuguese flag was torn down and burned before 15,000 persons Sunday at Mtwara in southern Tanganyika, according to reports reaching here today.
The incident was in protest against Portugal's racial policies.

Architect Thinks Many Businessmen, Builders, Organizations Missing Bet

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — Novartis Musson is an architect, and he thinks many businessmen, builders and non-profit organizations alike are missing a bet.
Musson is senior partner of the firm of Tibbals, Crumley and Musson, Columbus, Ohio. He has won a first prize in a National Association of Home Builders competition for residences and is a lecturer and writer on architectural matters. His firm recently designed and executed the $5 million First Community Village, Columbus, as a residence community for the elderly.

It is in this field, he said on a recent visit here, that he believes private builders, church and labor union groups, and non-profit organizations can find much to develop.
"Even counting the activities in public housing—municipal and state groups—plus all private sources, we have built only about 100,000 units in recent years," he said.
"The population increase in this age bracket (over 65) is running to about 500,000 persons a year. Just to keep even would call for the construction of 25,000 units a year; a quarter to a half billion dollars a year should be going into providing this housing."
Good housing for the elderly, Musson said, is a far cry from the "old people's home" or from the back-bedroom where in past years many old people lived out their span of years.
"Remember," he said, "These must be designed as places to live, not as places to go and die."
The architect finds many ways to make living easier for the older person, Musson said.
"Lighting is designed for lack of glare," he said. "And allowances have to be made for guarding against too much echo in big rooms; many hearing aids magnify background noises."
"The very elderly have to be protected against drafts, yet many of them do not like air conditioning. They need to be warm in the winter, but not chilled in the summers."
In his most recent project, radiant heating was provided for the floors, but radiators were provided for general heating; the floor operation was designed only to keep things warm underfoot, not to furnish all the heating for the living unit.
"Elderly persons are more likely to lose their balance," he said, "particularly when ill."
"In the bathrooms, we allow for such things as extra firm anchoring of towel bars—something a person might grasp if he became ill or faint. We try to provide more things to hang on to, and to avoid sharp projections. We have as few protruding corners as possible."
No longer does the idea of having such communities "out in the country" make any sense, Musson said. They must be located within a reasonable distance of shopping and of transportation.

community for the elderly.

"The population increase in this age bracket (over 65) is running to about 500,000 persons a year. Just to keep even would call for the construction of 25,000 units a year; a quarter to a half billion dollars a year should be going into providing this housing."

Good housing for the elderly, Musson said, is a far cry from the "old people's home" or from the back-bedroom where in past years many old people lived out their span of years.

"Remember," he said, "These must be designed as places to live, not as places to go and die."

The architect finds many ways to make living easier for the older person, Musson said.

"Lighting is designed for lack of glare," he said. "And allowances have to be made for guarding against too much echo in big rooms; many hearing aids magnify background noises."

"The very elderly have to be protected against drafts, yet many of them do not like air conditioning. They need to be warm in the winter, but not chilled in the summers."

In his most recent project, radiant heating was provided for the floors, but radiators were provided for general heating; the floor operation was designed only to keep things warm underfoot, not to furnish all the heating for the living unit.

"Elderly persons are more likely to lose their balance," he said, "particularly when ill."

The Lighter Side

Clarity Be Praised

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A quality that I greatly admire is straightforwardness. I like things laid out in one-two-three order. Cards on the table. Open and above board.
In short, I like the Agriculture Department's proposed new standards for food container inspection. They take a down-to-earth, mince-no-words approach that is all too rare in the federal bureaucracy.
Suppose, for example, that you were inspecting some food containers and you noticed that one of them was leaking. In your usual slipshod manner, you probably would mark it down as defective and let it go at that.
Well, sir, under these new standards, you wouldn't get by that easily. If defects were found, you would evaluate them under a defect rating system. Then you would classify them as "minor," "major" or "critical."
In my opinion they are neoclassical in their logic and simplicity. They go like this:
"A small dent in a metal can which doesn't affect its usability is a minor defect; a tear in a fibre carton which does materially affect its usability is a major defect; and a leak in a can or jar is a critical defect."
Now that is what I call laying it on the line.
Once you have decided whether the defects are minor, major or critical, the next step is to determine whether they are "related defects" or "unrelated defects."

Related defects are defined as "defects on a single container that are related to a single cause."
"A can may be a leaker and also seriously rusted," the department explains, but only one defect is scored against it if "the rust condition can be attributed to the leak."
The defect that counts depends on "whichever condition is the most serious." In this example, the can would be scored as a "leaker" rather than "seriously rusted."
On the other hand, if the defects are "unrelated"—as when a can is rusted, dented and unlabeled—all of them count.
The next step is to determine the "total defects," which are defined as "the sum of critical, major and minor defects."
Then you establish the "acceptable quality level (AQL)," of the containers and compare the number of defects in each rating with the "acceptance number (AC)" and the "rejection number (RE)."
If the minor, major, critical and total defects do not exceed the AC of the AQL, the containers are accepted.
That is all there is to it. I think the department is to be congratulated for making it so clear.

Barbecue Hamburger Giant, Community Size

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For those who just can't get enough of a good thing, a barbecued Jumbo Hamburger is an outside treat. Two pounds of beef is popped between large homemade rolls (packaged roll mix).

To save a clean-up job, line the grill with heavy-duty aluminum foil.

With the Jumbo Hamburger, serve Cookout Potato Salad, (made from a package of hash brown potatoes) to save the work of peeling and dicing. Heat in a packet of aluminum foil and serve hot.

JUMBO HAMBURGER
(6 servings)
1 package hot roll mix
2 pounds ground beef
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons monosodium glutamate

Make jumbo hamburger roll from roll mix following directions on package. Form into one large roll, about 8 inches in diameter. Place on baking sheet and let rise. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) 30 minutes. To make hamburger put meat in bowl, sprinkle with salt, pepper and monosodium glutamate. Toss lightly with a fork to form into one large burger. Cook to desired degree of doneness on outdoor grill which has been lined with aluminum foil, turning once with two wide spatulas. Split and toast jumbo hamburger roll. Put hamburger on bun; cut into 6 wedges. Top each wedge with a pimento stuffed olive.

COOKOUT POTATO SALAD
(6 servings)
1 package hash brown potatoes
1/2 cup finely diced celery
1/2 cup finely diced green pepper

1-3 cup melted butter
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt

Simmer and drain potatoes according to package directions. Combine with remaining ingredients. Wrap tightly in a large packet of aluminum foil. Cook on grill 15 to 20 minutes, turning occasionally.

Smaller Packages Cost Moms More

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q — Does it cost more to give my children those little individual boxes of breakfast cereal? Each of them has his favorite kind.

A — Yes, the price per ounce for little packages is more than double the cost of the big boxes. You may be interested in a report on breakfast cereals in The Farm Index (April '63) published by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. In part it states:

Another development, although costly for the manufacturers, is the single-serving box. The convenience of the little box has given the cold cereals a big boost, even though it costs more to package than the larger box.

Cold cereals with sweet coatings are an innovation of the breakfast-makers that was slow to catch on. In 1950, sweetened cold cereals made up 5 per cent of all ready-to-eat cereals. By 1961, their share was 21 per cent.

Cornflakes are the most popular of the dry cereals. They equal 85 to 90 per cent of the output of ready-to-eat corn cereals. In the hot cereal line, Americans eat more bowls of rolled oats than any other cooked variety.

For More Convenient Picnics Take Ice Tea, Traditional Summer Cooler

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Every summer Americans drink an estimated eleven to twelve billion glasses of iced tea with meals, between meals, whenever they are hot, tired or thirsty. This year many glasses will be made from instant tea. This convenient, easy-to-use soluble powder is gaining in popularity. Even youngsters on the run can make their own, for the tea is made with cold tap water. For a single serving allow one rounded teaspoon, more or less according to taste, for each glassful. For a pitcherful, use about two tablespoons for each quart of water.

Also, there is a new iced tea mix, which takes fuss out of making and serving it. This iced tea mix makes iced tea even more quickly than instant tea. It contains tea, lemon and sugar. Ordinary tap water, ice cubes and a pouch of the mix are all that are needed to prepare it. Packaged in a strong aluminum foil pouch, it is as easy to carry or store as to prepare, designed to withstand the rigors of boating, picnicking, hiking and camping.

If you prefer to make your tea the conventional way, be sure to make it extra strong to allow for melting ice. If you haven't a big teapot to brew it in, here's an easy method using an open saucepan. It makes two quarts — enough to serve 10 to 12.

Bring 1 quart of freshly drawn cold water to a full, rolling boil in an open saucepan. Remove from heat and while the water is still bubbling, immediately add 1-3 cup loose tea or 15 tea bags. Stir and let stand, uncovered, for 5 minutes. Stir again and strain into a pitcher holding another quart of cold water.

This method has the advantage of cutting down on the amount of boiling water needed and, therefore, on the number of ice cubes needed to chill it. Incidentally, don't refrigerate the tea—it's apt to turn cloudy. Keep it at room temperature until ready to serve, then pour over ice cubes and serve with lemon and sugar to taste. Add a spritz of mint, too, if you have some handy.

Eggs should not be stored next to strong odors such as kerosene, gasoline or any kind of oil. Eggs in the home should be kept in the refrigerator.

Summer Menus Call For Cantaloupe Salads

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Our California friends claim that the cantaloupes from their state are the sweetest and most succulent. They may be right. Certainly their recipes for California cantaloupe live up to the Golden State's reputation for fine food.

CALIFORNIA CANTALOUPE JULIENNE SALAD

(6 to 8 servings)
1 cantaloupe
1/2 lb. boiled ham
2 cups cooked chicken
1 large tomato
1 head romaine or other lettuce
1-3 cup Italian dressing
Cut rind from cantaloupe. Cut melon lengthwise into halves; remove seeds. Place cut sides down on board; cut crosswise into thin slices. Cut ham and chicken into thin strips. Cut tomato into wedges. Dice lettuce into large bowl; toss with green pepper. Arrange "clusters" of cantaloupe, ham, chicken and tomato over lettuce. Drizzle with dressing.

TANGY CALI-LOPE COMPOTE
(5 to 6 servings)

1 cantaloupe
1/2 cup grapes
1 package (10 oz.) frozen pineapple chunks
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Dash salt

Cut cantaloupe into halves; remove seeds. Using a French ball cutter or 1/2 teaspoon measure, cut out melon balls. Halve and seed grapes. Drain pineapple chunks, saving 1/4 cup syrup. Blend syrup with brown sugar, lemon juice and salt. Toss together melon balls, grapes and pineapple. Pour over syrup mixture and chill well. Spoon into chilled compotes.

ROLY-POLY KOALA REGAINING NUMBERS—Australia is finally doing something to protect their native koala bears (pronounced ko-a-la) from extinction. Only recently The Sir Edward Hallstrom Faunal Reserve in New South Wales set aside 750 acres as the most recent of a number of sanctuaries. Koalas are not hardy animals and, despite photos of people picking them up, as above, this is not permitted as a rule. In fact, too much petting and loving is something that actually kills them off. At present there are about 40,000 of the little fellows, but with the new re-establishment program, 50 new areas have been stocked with 7,000 koalas.

FAA Not Neutral In Airport Feud Claims Lawyer

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI)—A lawyer charged today in the Dallas-Fort Worth airport dispute hearing that the Federal Aviation Authority is not a neutral party and that the FAA's lack of neutrality might prove fatal to Dallas' position.

The lawyer was William Miller of Washington, D.C., representing Dallas.

The FAA introduced today—the third day of a hearing before Civil Aeronautics Board examiner Ross I. Newman—written testimony saying that if a regional airport is designated for Dallas and Fort Worth it ought to be Fort Worth's Greater Southwest International Airport.

Newman will decide after the hearing whether Dallas shall continue to be served by its Love

Field and Fort Worth by its airport, or whether one airport shall be designated to serve both cities. If he rules for one airport, he will designate the airport.

Miller asked FAA regional director Archie League in cross-examination when the FAA started its study of the airport situation in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Miller said he especially wanted to know the date in relation to FAA Administrator Najeeb Halaby's remark last August that Dallas ought to forget "childish" civic pride and join with Fort Worth in developing Greater Southwest International Airport.

Newman wanted to know what Miller's questions had to do with the case. It was then that Miller charged that the FAA was partial.

Newman told Miller that he could explore when, where and how the Halaby statement was made but that the statement was not part of the record.

League said the FAA is constantly studying airports all over the country with a view to improving them. He said the Dallas-Fort Worth study was started

Dear Abby... Only Family Argument Caused By Whiskers

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Aren't there men in this world who shave twice a day? My husband shaves at 7 a.m. and by 6 p.m. he needs another shave. If we are going out in the evening I have to beg him to shave again. It's always a battle. He says he'd rather stay home. In all our nine years of marriage, this is the only thing we've ever fought about. He says if I loved him I wouldn't nag him about shaving. I do love him, but I don't want to be seen with a man who looks like he's on his way to hold up a bank! Can you suggest something?

MARCIE
DEAR MARCIE: Many men shave twice a day and don't mind it a bit. If your man is one of those unfortunate fellows with a heavy beard and a tender face, lay off. If he's just lazy, promise him anything, but give him persuasion.

DEAR ABBY: Did you ever see a grown man cry? Well, I just did and it's enough to break your heart. I'm stationed in Germany and one of my buddies here just got a "Dear John" from his girl back home. They'd been engaged two years. He was nuts about her and talked about her day and night. He used to "dance" with her picture and sleep with it under his pillow. He never looked at any other girl, and he had plenty of chances. His girl just wrote and said she was giving his engagement ring to his mother because she was marrying another guy. Please, Abby, tell girls back home not to write guys news like that, but to wait until they get home to break the news. My buddy says he doesn't want to live any more.

A BUDDY'S BUDDY
DEAR BUDDY: I've said it many times, but I'll say it again. When a girl promises to "wait" for her man who's gone in the service, she should keep that promise. Frequently, that's the only thing that keeps a guy going.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of people who invite you to their home for a visit and have the TV going full blast all the time you are there? By the time the evening is over your throat is sore from trying to out-shout the television.

SORE THROAT
DEAR SORE: Guests who are asked to compete with the television all evening should decline the second invitation.

CONFIDENTIAL TO EDDIE AND PAUL: Get the lettuce together, boys, and you'll have no trouble finding the tomatoes.

Parisian Teenagers Make Night Spots Rock And Roll With Juke Box Rhythm

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
PARIS (NEA) — France, contrary to stateside belief, is not a nation of elderly, retired businessmen. It is a nation of teen-agers—5.8 million of them.

In the light of this statistic, it is not surprising that Mr. and Mrs. Henri Leproux, proprietors of an unusual Paris night spot, are happy about the future. Teen-agers are their business. Here's how it started:

About seven years ago Leproux, who was working as a barman at the Lido, awoke to the fact that there was not one dance hall or night club in the French capital which was reserved exclusively for the under-20 set. This was the era of Elvis Presley, Bill Haley and other American-based rock 'n' rollers. The times appeared ripe for a teen night club.

Leproux, 25, tossed over his job at the Lido and set himself up in what had been a dull cafe in the heart of the city. The name was the Golf Drouot, so called for a miniature indoor golf game which stood on the premises.

In no time at all the Golf Drouot was rocking along, and Henri Leproux was rolling in newly found prosperity.

Mrs. Leproux, a slight blonde woman, sits at the entrance checking identity cards to insure that nobody over 20 gets past the door, and also collects the dollar admission charge, which entitles the night clubber to one soft drink. Additional drinks are priced at 40 cents.

At the Golf Drouot, the twist is king — danced to the music of a hi-fi juke box or a small band. Some 500 combos exist in the Paris area alone, according to Leproux. Most of these are anxious to try for public acceptance on the boards of the Golf Drouot.

"Rock-and-roll," said Leproux, "has been one of the big barriers against juvenile delinquency here. The club gives them a place to sound off and to burn excess energy."

"They try everything that comes from America — the slop, the hully-gully, mashed potatoes, locomotion. Their enthusiasm is boundless."

"For all of these kids, Grandpa Chevalier and old-timers like Piaf and Montand mean nothing at all. They are simply not interested. They would rather hear Johnny Halliday, Françoise Hardy or Sylvie Vartan, all popular rock idols in France."

"They have the deepest disdain for tangoes, blues, waltzes, chachas—and other 'crumbing' dances which go with the soft lights and soft seats beloved by the older crowd."

"Petting is not allowed, and we close at midnight — in time for the kids to make the last subway home. It works just fine."

New Mother-In-Law Gives Sound Advice

A woman writes that her son and his new bride will make their home in her town, and that her fondest hope is that her daughter-in-law will like her.

This mother is off to a good start. She realizes the importance of the mother-daughter-in-law relationship, and wants to make it a pleasant one in her family.

I once heard a woman say: "I made up my mind I'd like any girl my son married." That is important. Since a mother can't pick a wife for her son, it's up to her to like the girl he picks out for himself.

And if you like her — and show that you do — she is almost sure to like you.

I believe at the start of their marriages most girls want their husband's mother to like them. It isn't until after she gets the feeling that a mother-in-law is unwilling to let the young folks lead their own lives that the daughter-in-law feels she must prove who is head woman with her man.

So if you are glad that your son is marrying and making a home of his own; if you accept the girl he chose instead of measuring her actions against the yardstick of your own preferences; if you resolve never to offer unsolicited advice or interfere in their plans—you'll get along all right with your daughter-in-law.

But in your desire to make your son's wife like you, don't work too hard at it. A new marriage can stand a lot of letting alone from the parents on both sides. Let your daughter-in-law know that she has a friend in you and that you'll be there whenever she needs your help — but trust her to decide when that time has come.

Essential to protecting the eyes from overexposure to the sun's rays, tinted glasses fill an important fashion role, too. The model and her friend (left) chose wraparounds, featuring gold fluting across the top while the model (center) wears a more exotic pair with gold and jewels for dressier occasions. The tailored style (right) with a touch of jewels is worn with a gay straw hat.

Sun Glasses Appear In Hollywood Styles

By ALICIA HART

"Hooray for Hollywood" might well be the theme song of sunglasses wearers the world over. Whether you believe that the stars originally wore the dark lenses as a disguise or that they were just practical and protecting their eyes from the California sun, they brought glamour to the eyes.

As a result, each new sunglasses design appears more chic and you do, too, when you pop them on.

More and more, doctors warn of the lasting damage to the eyes from overexposure to the sun's rays. You can sunburn your eyes and eyelids just as painfully as other areas. Too much sun on unprotected eyes will also bring out lines and wrinkles. Occasionally, it will make your eyelids look pouchy.

To avoid such problems protect your eyes when you are outdoors this summer. When sunbathing, use cotton pads over your eyes. You will find it cooling to dip the pads in water or witch hazel. This treatment also is good for refreshing the eyes at the end of a tiring day. Before sunning, smooth on a thin coating of eye cream, all around the eyes. And, wear sunglasses.

Before sewing plastic material, rub a little talcum on the needles to prevent sticking.

Corvair 700 Club Coupe

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such jauntness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner.

And you can usually back it up—as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes—they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain.

But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more useable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it.

Corvair's engine is also air cooled, we might add, which means there's no antifreeze or water for you to add. Ever.

All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!

Colts, Rebs Vie For City Honors

LARRY STROUD
Colts first sacker

Two league leading hitters and a pair of winning brother pitchers will clash at 8 p.m. tonight at Optimist Park when the Pampa Colts of the Tri-State League and the Pampa Rebels of the American Legion meet for the city championship.

Leading the attack for the semipro will be cleanup hitter Bobby Nutt, currently leading his league with .444. The hard-hitting little shortstop is a good bet to cop his league title, having hit .400 last season as well. Against him the Colts will feature speedy slugger Kenny Hebert, who took the District 18 batting honors with a .369 mark.

Another feature of the game will be the appearance of the two winning pitchers in the area on opposite sides of the mound in brothers Royce and Carl Harnsberger.

Royce, or "Ol' Hamburger" as he is known, is the top pitcher on the Colt roster, taking a 3-1 record in season play into the game. Younger brother Carl, or Rebel coaches Harold Gregory and Jeff Cobane pointed out that the Colts must be considered odds-on favorites for the game. "Remember," said Gregory, "the Colts are grown men and we are just high school boys. They have age, ability and experience on us. Two of their players, Jerry Glover and Larry Stroud, have been recommended for pro contracts. All of them have been high school stars and a number of them, Mike Stewart, Harnsberger, Keith Gregory and others, are college regulars. We just don't have the age and experience to beat them. We'll give it as good a try as we can, but you just can't expect high school sophomores and juniors to compare with grown men."

Colt skipper Tom Glover demurred strongly. "True, these boys aren't grown men, but some of them are pro and college material right now. All of them have come straight out of high school ball into the legion and all of them are in tremendous shape. I know Hebert has been tabbed by at least one pro scout, and he's no flash in the pan. He made All-District in high school as well. Catcher Larry Gregory, Eugene Madrid and Bobby Price have all been getting a look-see from the pros, and Ricky Stewart and Ricky Maynard are also All-District players. They have seven men hitting over .300, led by Hebert, Madrid (.432) and Stewart (.418) and they are fast all the way down the line. Don't let Harold or Jeff kid you, they will give us a battle."

Starting pitcher for the Colts will be left-hander Ned Patterson, used mainly in relief this season, with no record. Number two hurler is expected to be Big Jerry Glover. (2-2) ace of the staff, and leader of this same Rebel squad last season. Harnsberger will also see action in the seven-inning game, despite having pitched a 16-2 win against Spearman Tuesday night, as will Roy Perrin (2-1).

Jim Arthur (2-1), bellwether of the Rebel staff, will open on the mound, followed by lefty Jerry Garrison (2-1) or Harnsberger. Relief ace Ronnie Curlee and a Blazin' Bob Price are also slated for duty, although Price made his first start of the season Tuesday, going the route in a 14-4 win over Berger.

STEVE MOLBERG
Reb first sacker

"Hurry," is the top Legion pitcher in the Panhandle, compiling a perfect 4-0 record as he paced the Rebs into second place in the district with a 9-2 mark. The Colts are currently in third place, with two more games to go, standing 7-4 in the Tri-State League.

Girls Softball

The Opti-Misses and Optettes won in Girls Softball yesterday, while two All-Star teams split a pair of games at Skellytown Monday night.

In Skellytown action, an All-Star team from the league took a 16-13 slugfest from the Skellytown Opti-Misses, and the Skellytown Teenagers came back with a 24-17 win over the FF 9ers.

Gayle Blumer took the win for the Stars, with Stevenson the losing pitcher. Janie Hammons and Linda Gerard homered for the winners.

Arnie Far Back In British Open

By HENRY THORNBERRY
UPI Sports Writer

LYTHAM-ST. ANNES, England (UPI)—Defending champion Arnold Palmer admittedly faced "a tough job" trying to catch up with fellow American Phil Rodgers and Australia's Peter Thomson today in the second round of the British Open golf championship.

Palmer, who won this tournament the last two years, hacked his way to a 76 in Wednesday's first round while Rodgers, a wise-cracking ex-Marine from La Jolla, Calif., and four-time winner Thomson tied for the lead with three-under-par 67s.

Only four other players broke par in their opening tour over the 6,757-yard Royal Lytham and St. Annes links: Scotland's Tom Habiburton and southpaw Bob Charles of New Zealand posted 68s, one stroke ahead of Spain's Ramon Sota and Australia's Kel Nagle. Jack Nicklaus, the burly U.S. Masters champion from Columbus, Ohio, was bracketed with others at 71 and considered still a threat. However, the remaining four Americans will have to improve greatly if they hope to survive the second round cut when the field will be reduced to the low 45 and ties.

Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., and Herman Barron of White Plains, N.Y., opened with 75s. Jack Isaacs of Langley Field, Va., posted a 76 and Bob Marshall of Huntington Beach, Calif., came in with a 79—the poorest score of the seven Yanks in the starting field of 120.

Palmer admitted his opening round, ruined by four bogeys and two double bogeys, was his worst since he took a 77 in the third round of this year's U.S. Open. "I don't ever recall winning after opening with a 76," the La-Trobe, Pa., shotmaker moaned. "My putter was all right and my driver was all right. The only thing wrong was the man behind the gun."

The popular Pennsylvanian figured he needed at least a 72 today just to qualify for Friday's windup 36 holes.

"It will be a tough job even qualifying if I don't do something fast," he said. "Spotting Rodgers and Thomson nine strokes at this stage makes the job almost impossible but I'll give it a shot."

Major Leagues Cut Down On Bonuses

By NORMAN MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—High school and college baseball whiz kids have found out that the major league giveaway program has drastically cut down on its prizes.

Bonus payments to young prospects are down approximately 75 per cent from the past few free-spending seasons, a United Press International survey showed today.

So far, Jeff Torborg, Rutgers University catcher, is the only $100,000 bonus baby in the 1963 graduating class. The 21-year-old Torborg, who won the national collegiate batting championship with a .537 average, signed with the Los Angeles Dodgers and is playing for Albuquerque in the Texas League.

Dave Bennett, younger pitching brother of the Philadelphia Phillies' Dennis Bennett, and Wally Bunker, a high school hurler from San Bruno, Calif., are next in line with $75,000 bonuses. Bennett, who pitched for the University of Oregon, signed with the Phils. Bunker collected his loot from the Baltimore Orioles.

After these top three, the bonuses drop off to around $50,000, although most youngsters are settling for $10,000 to $20,000 inducements to turn pro this summer.

That is far short of the $125,000 to $150,000 bonuses paid in 1961 to Bob Bailey by the Pitts-

Roster Set For Softball

Eleven players from the Pampa Stars, three from Miami, two from the Cabot Clowns and one from Panhandle Packing will represent the Pampa Industrial Softball League in the ASA Softball Tournament in Amarillo which begins next week.

Pampa manager David Gantz reported the team roster, primarily from the Stars, but with the top players from the other three teams in the league as well.

Sole packer representative is pitcher Raymond McKinney, riding a six-game winning streak. Another ace pitcher on the team will be Hard-luck Ray Howard of Cabot with the best ERA in the league, but hampered by lack of fielding and hitting support this season. Joining him from the Clowns is shortstop Jerry Wright.

Sam Harris, top outfielder in the league, slugging shortstop Murl Bengier and second sacker Bill Thomas will join the ranks from the Miami Cowboys.

The team will play a practice game Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at Lions Park, hosting the powerful Delbert Daniels team of Berger in a nine-inning clash.

Snubbed Stuart Storms Into Minnesota Pitching

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

New York Yankee manager Ralph Houk may have done the Boston Red Sox a favor when he snubbed Dick Stuart for the American League All-Star team.

Houk apparently not only stirred up the hottest controversy of the 1963 All-Star game but also lit a fire under the big first baseman.

In any event, Stuart returned from the two-day vacation resulting from the snub with a pair of homers and five runs batted in for the night increased his season totals in those departments to 19 and 55.

Wins Ninth Game
Dick Radatz, who was removed for a pinch-hitter in the 10th inning after shutting out the Twins on one hit for three innings, received credit for his ninth win against one loss. The victory moved the Red Sox into third place and dropped the Twins into fifth.

The Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the New York Mets, 1-0, the Philadelphia Phillies drubbed the San Francisco Giants, 10-2, the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Chicago Cubs, 3-1, and the Houston Colts beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-0, in the National League.

Stuart and Lou Clinton hit home runs and Frank Malzone contributes an RBI-double to the Red Sox' fourth inning outburst. Bob Aloms hit his 22nd homer of the year for Minnesota in the fourth and the Twins tied the score with two more runs in the sixth. The other eight AL teams were idle. Johnny Podres pitched a three-hitter for his fourth shutout and seventh win and batterymate John Roseboro homered in the eighth inning as the Dodgers increased their NL lead to four games with their eighth victory in nine games. Left-fielder Tommy Davis saved the win by starting a game-ending double play with an electrifying catch of Frank Thomas' ninth-inning bid for a two-run homer. Carlton Willey was the unlucky loser for the Mets, who have lost 11 consecutive games.

Pace Phils' Attack
Roy Sievers had three hits and Don Demeter, Johnny Callison and Tony Gonzalez two each to lead the Phillies' 14-hit attack. Errors by Jose Pagan and Willie McCovey paved the way for two three-run Philadelphia rallies that brought Cal McLish his ninth win and Billy O'Dell his fifth defeat. McCovey and Orlando Cepeda hit homers for the Giants.

Joey Jay, already a 12-game loser, flashed his 21-victory form of 1961 and 1962 by striking out 10 and yielding seven hits in 8 1-3 innings against the Cubs. Marty Keough's two-run triple in the first inning was the big blow for the Reds against Glen Hobbie. The victory was only Jay's fourth.

Relief star Hal Woodeshick struck out Smoky Burgess with the bases filled in the eighth inning to preserve the Colt victory for Ken Johnson. The Colts got both their runs in the first inning on Ernie Fazio's double, a bunt single by Al Spangler, extending his hitting streak to 14 games. Pete Runnels' single and Carl Warwick's forceout.

Waukegan, Ill., 6 and 5, and then beating John Kurach, Detroit, 5 and 4. Schlee turned back Jim McMurtrey, San Leandro, Calif., 3 and 2, and then walloped Paul Franke, Louisville, Ky., 5 and 4.

Sixteen Tee Off
There were 16 men who teed off in eight matches this morning and there will be only four left when the quarter-finals are completed tonight.

Among the men who could be mighty tired by then is John Sniffen, a 27-year-old Hawaiian playing out of Everett, Wash., where he is a sergeant in the Air Force. Sniffen went seven extra holes before beating Hung Soo Ahn, another Hawaiian, on the 25th hole in the first round match. He did it with a birdie. Then in the afternoon he disposed of another toughie, Leroy Beasley of Dallas, Tex., 3 and 2.

"And I'm mighty tired," he said after completing 41 holes of play. Former professional baseball player Wayne Osborne, of Oak Park, Ill., also moved along with a pair of victories over Dennis Reger, Spokane, Wash., and Paul Creasey of Sacramento. He will meet Sniffen today.

Youths Draw Attention
Two youngsters drawing a lot of attention are Bobby Lunn of San Francisco and Dan Scott of Seattle. Lunn, 18, was seven under par in routing Leon Anderson, of Hobbs, N.M., 3 and 4, and then won, 3 and 2, over Monty Kaser of Wichita, Kan.

Scott, at 16 the youngest player in the tournament, got by Verne Perry, Portland, Ore., 2 and 1 and then routed Jim Wheeler, Peoria, Ill., 5 and 4.

One of the big surprises of the tournament has been Naomitsu Kitsuwa, a Honolulu detective. Kitsuwa astounds the watching professionals by playing cross-handed, and he hits every booming drive straight as an arrow. He won his first match, 3 and 2, over roommate Wendell Kop, Honolulu, then came up with a 1-up victory over Dick Potzner, Los Angeles.

The semifinals, over the 36-hole route, will be played Friday, with the finals at the same distance on Saturday.

Tennessee Salesman In Publix Golf Play

By HAL WOOD
UPI Sports Writer

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—John Schlee, a towering salesman from Memphis, Tenn., keeps a date with destiny today when he tangles with defending champion Dick Sikes in the third round of the National Public Links Golf tournament.

Schlee, as hot as the 90-degree-plus weather Wednesday when he was seven under par while winning two matches, has been waiting for two years to get another crack at the all-conquering Sikes.

"He beat me in the semifinals in 1961," said Schlee. "The score was 2-1. But I'm playing much better. I've been waiting a long time to get even."

It should be a good match. Sikes, who also owns the NCAA par in trouncing Dave Hellman, Hardon & Roth edged the Lone Star Boys 8-7, Dixie Parts outslugged Duncan, 21-11, and C&M shut out Your Laundry, 4-0, in last night's Optimist Youth Baseball.

Danny Harris came home on a passed ball in the bottom of the seventh inning to give H&R a 9-2 record and the league lead over Lone Star. Rickey Frye was the winning pitcher and Tommy Henry the loser.

Danny Harris had a home run and single and L. Washington and R. Gee two hits each for the winners. Russ Brewer paced the losers with a home run and two singles.

Dixie Parts exploded for 16 runs in the fifth inning on the hitting of Dan Carlton and Vernon Johnson, who finished with two and three hits respectively. Johnson was the winning pitcher, relieving John Jenkins in the fourth. Foster was the loser.

Claude Coombs won a tremendous pitching duel over Mike McComas as he scattered four hits, walked none and struck out 14. Mike only allowed one hit, but Jeff Hogan, struck out nine, but walked six, with the walks coming in the third and fifth innings to set up the winning runs. C&M played errorless ball behind McComas.

Rotens Have Son

DUNCANVILLE (SpL)—Coach Randy Roten and his wife became the parents of a six pound, 15-ounce son last night. The boy will be named Rex Allen. It is the Rotens' first child.

Randy was B team football coach at Pampa High School last year, resigning this summer to take the head coaching job at Cedar Hill.

Maris Lost To Yankees

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Yankees, who have been looking forward to the return of Mickey Mantle, today faced the loss of Roger Maris for an estimated 10 days.

Maris will undergo minor surgery Friday at Lenox Hill Hospital for a rectal fissure. The operation will be performed by Dr. John Donaldson of the hospital staff.

Mantle has been out of the Yankee lineup since June 5 when he suffered a broken left foot in a game at Baltimore. He planned to rejoin the club today at Los Angeles but may not be ready to play for several more days.

Maris and Mantle have played together in only 23 of the Yankees' 81 games this season. Maris pulled a hamstring muscle in his left thigh during spring training and missed the first seven games of the season. He has since been sidelined several times with a bad back.

Clements Trial Postponed Due To Age, Health

AMARILLO (UPI)— Federal Judge Joseph Dooley today granted a postponement of the trial of R. E. (Bob) Clements on a defense motion that the 65-year-old man's age and health would not permit him to assist in his defense.

A new trial was set for Jan. 20, 1964.

Clements, who was convicted in state court June 27 on one count of felony theft, faces 17 other federal charges stemming from the Billie Sol Estes scandal.

Clements, who was co-author of the Townsend Pension Plan in the 1930s, was indicted for interstate transportation of fraudulent securities.

The defense motion, accompanied by a doctor's report, said Clements has lost 15 pounds and his mental reactions have been hampered because of the strain of the earlier trial.

RIDE 'EM COWBOY

PAMPLONA, Spain (UPI)—Jim Woobson of Austin, Tex., was knocked down by two Spaniards when he violated local custom by riding a Spanish fighting bull—rodeo style.

"Actually," Woobson said later, "I think it's easier to ride these bulls than the Brahmahs in Texas."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Investment advisor Bradbury K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohn & Stetson says his guess is that stock prices will attempt to rally but will run into heavy resistance in the Dow-Jones industrial 720-25 area. "If they can penetrate this," he says, "there is a 50-50 chance that the market will make it up to some new all-time highs. If the rally runs out of steam, the market may go below the July 1 lows."

Colby & Co. Inc. looks for a period of minor price irregularity at least until the railroad strike threat is resolved. It advises taking advantage of any interim weakness to fill out underbought positions in selected situations.

Spear & Staff, Inc. is advising clients to "carefully review holdings, retaining primarily issues with: 1, good grade investment appeal; 2, market stability or 3, reasonable multiples and good prospects of growth."

Sept. 1 Set as Date for Start Of 'Hot Line'

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union announced today that the Kremlin-Washington "Hot line" communications link will go into operation next Sept. 1.

The communications link designed to prevent the accidental outbreak of a new war, was agreed to by both nations in a Geneva accord last month.

Soviet Communications Minister Nikolai Paurtsev said in an official announcement that the teletypewriter link between Washington and Moscow would operate 24 hours a day.

The land line, which will be supplemented by a radio-teleprinter link, will be routed through Moscow, Helsinki, Stockholm, Copenhagen, London and Washington.

Messages from Washington to Moscow will be sent in English, and messages from Moscow to Washington will be sent in Russian, Paurtsev said.

The radio-teleprinter link, which will also operate 24 hours a day, will supplement the cable circuit and enable the two governments to maintain contact with each other in the event of a cable failure.

It will also be used for service messages concerning the land line, Paurtsev said.

The hot line, first proposed by President Kennedy after the Cuban crisis last fall, was finally agreed upon by the Soviets at the Geneva disarmament conference last month.

It's The Law In Texas

Declaration Of Independence Expresses Basic Belief

What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men"? Basically we mean that we have certain individual rights, guaranteed by our federal and state constitutions and laws, which may not be denied by any governing body.

The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 187 years ago, set out their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.

The indictments set out in the document against King George III of Great Britain charged him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following: "He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."

"He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers."

"He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unconstitutional."

"We hold these truths to be self-evident; That all men are created equal; That they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

"That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

acknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation... For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses;... For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments;... For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever."

Our forefathers who subscribed to the principles of the Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed, dragging through weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us takes pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles.

In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence had been signed 11 years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances in government which was to perpetuate the fundamental theory mentioned in the preamble of the earlier document:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident; That all men are created equal; That they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

"That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Some five years later, the first ten amendments to our Constitution were adopted at one time, specifically detailing various basic civil rights stemming from the underlying theory of the Declaration

"Last year we bought one Dodge truck. Now we own 25 Dodge pickups. Dodge cabs are much more ruggedly constructed. Flimsy door hardware on other makes has cost us $400 a unit in fender and door damage, broken windows and windshields. In the short time we've owned Dodges we've found them to be life-savers in controlling costs that were getting out of hand with other makes!" Goodie Bar Ice Cream Co., Oakmont, Pa. ## Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In Saigon, U. S. officials reacted sharply in public and bitterly in private to charges by a South Vietnamese public prosecutor that the United States had encouraged a 1960 attempt to overthrow the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The U. S. Embassy denied the charge "flatly, officially and unequivocally."
The State Department in Washington issued a similar denial.

Actually the charge was not new. It stemmed from a short-lived revolt which began on Nov. 10, 1960, by 500 or so South Vietnamese paratroopers and marines. The rebels seized most of Saigon's principal buildings, including Saigon Radio, and surrounded the presidential palace. Over the radio they announced that Diem's regime had been overthrown because of its autocratic rule and nepotism and has "shown itself incapable of saving the country."

But the rebels failed to capture the president and two days later the rebellion collapsed with the arrival of loyalist troops.

The day after the collapse, Vietnamese officials accused the U.S. Embassy of encouraging the revolt and of spreading rumors in Vietnam and abroad that the Diem government was corrupt, anti-democratic and inefficient in fighting communism.

Despite U. S. assurances that it was satisfied with failure of the coup and continued all-out aid to the regime, the charges frequently have been repeated, notably by the president's brother and chief advisor, Ngo Dinh Nhu.

In 1961, as fears of another revolt against Diem's one-man rule mounted, the United States sent Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson to Saigon once more to assure Diem of its support and even more aid.

But, while the U. S. publicly supported Diem and privately urged him to institute democratic reforms, there was increasing evidence of government resentment against what it regarded as American interference.

United States newsmen attempting to report the "dirty, untidy, disagreeable" little war encountered government harassment and occasional refusal to renew their visas.

On the government level relations declined to a new low because of U.S. dissatisfaction with the Roman Catholic Diem's handling of his relations with South Vietnam's Buddhist majority.

A roughing up of newsmen by Vietnamese secret police also expressed the government's displeasure with them.

There seemed little doubt that Diem was out of touch with and had lost the sympathy of the people.

On Diem's side was the fact that he had put down the private armies which plunged his country into chaos after the Geneva armistice agreement of 1954, that he had instituted land reform and had made economic progress through American aid.

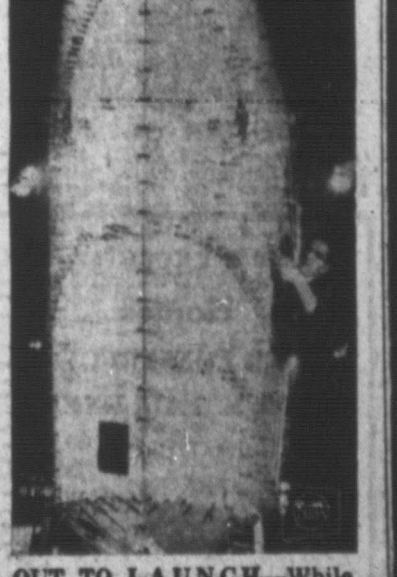

It was also true that it was at the insistence of his much-criticized but tough sister-in-law, Mme Nhu, that Saigon had been cleaned up and lost its luster as one of the world's outstanding sin-cities.

The question for the U.S. now to decide was whether Diem still was its best bet for a democratic South Vietnam or whether he and his family simply were holding on to power for power's sake.

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol, said today he was ready to meet with U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser "at any time, any place" to settle their nations' bitter dispute.

Eshkol, who fought alongside fiery ex-Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion against the British and Arabs for Israeli independence, told newsmen he would meet Nasser without prior conditions.

Eshkol also said his succession to Ben-Gurion has brought no change in Israel's attitude in the event of a pro-United Arab Republic upheaval in Jordan.
