Youth Killed; Coach Injured Near Mobeetie

Jimmy Ed Smith, 15-year-old Mobeetie High School sophomore, was killed and Cecil Reynolds, Mobeetie athletic coach, was critically injured Thursday when the car in which they were riding overturned one mile east of Mobeetie on US 152.

Young Smith, son of Mrs. Joyce Smith of 309 E. Brown, was riding with Reynolds and his two-year old son, Michael Reynolds, who was treated and released from Highland General Hospital late Thursday evening.

The elder Reynolds remains unconscious and in poor condition in the Pampa hospital this morning with a crushed and fractured left arm and undetermined multiple injuries.

Highway Patrolmen David Croslin and Bill Lusk, who investigated the accident, said the automobile apparently left the highway, struck two guard posts, returned to the highway and overturned. No other vehicle was involved.

Funeral services for Jimmy Smith will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow afternoon in the Mobeetie Methodist Church with Rev. D. C. Read officiating. Rev. Charles Ezelle, pastor of Mobeetie Baptist Church, will assist.

Young Smith was born June 6, 1948, in Amarillo. He moved from Portales, N.M., to Mobeetie in September of 1963. He resided there with his aunt, Mrs. Margaret Knight of Mobeetie.

Survivors, other than his mother, include two sisters, Cynthia and Marie, and one brother Mike, all of Portales.

Burial will be in the Mobeetie Cemetery under the direction of Kirk Funeral Home of Wheeler.

According to Mobeetie Superintendent of Schools Paul Morris, it was fortunate that several other boys were not in the car as well. Reynolds was taking Smith for a medical examination prior to the opening of the basketball season when the accident occurred.

Morris said that tonight's scheduled boys and girls basketball games against Darruzzett have been canceled. Tuesday's games at Darruzzett and the rest of the schedule would go on as usual.

Morris, who retired as head coach last year, will return to take over the boys basketball team in Reynolds' absence, with Mrs. Morris coaching the girls team in the interim.

Reynolds, a native of Pampa, starred in football at Pampa High School and played college ball at Weatherford, Okla., after which he coached in Oklahoma for several years, before becoming head coach at Mobeetie last September.

French Try Test Convoy Into Berlin

BERLIN (UPI)—The French army sent a test convoy of 50 soldiers in 10 vehicles along the Soviet-controlled 110-mile highway from West Germany to Berlin today. The Russians passed the convoy through checkpoints at each end of the autobahn without incident.

The Russian action was a change of tactics from the "tough" stand the Soviets took earlier this week when they held up a U.S. Army convoy of 44 men in 12 vehicles with a demand that they dismount to be counted.

The French said their men and machines cleared checkpoints today without dismounting for any head counts.

President's Visit Not All Political, Says Connally

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. John Connally said Thursday in announcing the itinerary for President Kennedy's visit, that the only part of the visit to be "strictly political" would be a reception at the governor's mansion.

Mrs. Kennedy will accompany the President on the trip.

Connally said Kennedy would visit San Antonio Thursday afternoon, Nov. 21, to dedicate the Aerospace Medical Center at Brooks Air Force Base, then fly from Kelly AFB to Houston to attend a dinner honoring Rep. Albert Thomas, D-Tex.

Friday morning Kennedy will speak at a breakfast in Fort Worth, then travel to Dallas for a noon address sponsored by the Graduate Research Center and the Dallas Citizens Council.

On Friday afternoon, the schedule called for a flight to Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin, where Kennedy was to attend the reception at the governor's mansion. Connally said no Republican would be invited to the reception.

Connally said the President would speak at a $100 a plate fund raising dinner at the Austin Municipal Auditorium Friday night.

The governor said he hopes to split funds from the dinner both nationally and statewide in the coming election.

Connally said it was still not known if the Kennedys would spend Friday night at the ranch of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson about 50 miles west of Austin. He said plans would be made for the President to stay in Austin if he decided to do so.

LIGHTING THE TORCH—Lamoyne Clark, Pampa High's "Miss Flame" of 1963, lights the annual pre-Amarillo game bonfire last night after a pep rally. Miss Flame is chosen by the football team as the girl who has given the most support to gridders during the season. She was escorted by Larry Johnson. Her attendants were Ann Qualls, Dorothy Davis, Brenda Nickens, Patsy Lou Holloway and Kathy Larson. Their escorts were John Neslage, Kenny Hebert, Rick Stewart, Terry Chris and Phil Klearner. Light Turnout Seen In City, Gray County

Pampa and Gray County voters, along with other Texans, will go to the polls tomorrow to cast their decisions on four proposed amendments to the State Constitution.

Just the balloting on the amendments will be involved. There are no other issues or no candidates up for any office.

A light vote is expected in Gray County and over the entire state.

County Clerk Charlie Thut, in charge of the election, said 47 absentee ballots were cast in the county.

The polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Voters will mark their ballots in the following 12 voting precincts throughout the county:

Pct. 1, Lefors Community Center; Pct. 2, Baker Elementary School, Pampa; Pct. 3, Grandview School; Pct. 4, Alarneck School; Pct. 5, McLean City Hall; Pct. 6, Laketon Store; Pct. 7, Horace Mann Elementary School, Pampa; Pct. 8, Hopkins Melton residence; Pct. 9, First National Bank annex, Pampa; Pct. 10, Court House, Pampa;

Pct. 11, Phillips, Camp, Community Center and Pct. 12, South Side Fire Station.

The four amendments to be voted on tomorrow deal with the veterans' land fund, Jefferson County pensions, welfare payments and poll tax repeal.

ICBM Blows Up, Raining Flames Over Canaveral

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—A Minuteman "instant ICBM" veered wildly out of control and blew up a scant few hundred feet above Cape Canaveral Thursday, raining fiery wreckage over the missile test center.

Chunks of solid propellant, burning furiously, touched off fires over a dozen spots on the 15,000-acre Moonport U.S.A.

The 54-foot Minuteman bolted from the bottom of a concrete-lined launching silo at 12 noon after a perfect countdown. Almost from the start, the flight was a failure.

The rocket, instead of climbing into the blue sky, suddenly nosed downward. As the nose aimed at the ocean and the fiery tail swung upward, a range safety officer on the Cape flipped a pair of switches, touching off an explosive "destruct" package that blew the missile.

The wreckage hit the Cape with a roar. White smoke and red flame licked upward from a dozen separate locations, mostly amid the scrub bushes that abound on the testing center.

About 15 minutes after the accident, the fires began to die down.

The Air Force could give no reason for the failure.

Jamaican Beauty

LONDON (UPI)—Carole Joan Crawford, a Jamaican beauty who "never really expected it," today reigned as Miss World of 1963.

Described as a "girl next door" type, but with measurements of 34-22-34, Miss Crawford won $7,000 and a screen test with Columbia Pictures.

The 20-year-old beauty was picked from a field of 40 aspirants who arrived in London last week from countries throughout the world.

"I never really expected it," Miss Crawford said after her selection in London's ornate Lyceum Ballroom. "I'm excited but I'm sure enjoying it."

Runnerup in the 13th annual pageant was Elaine Miscall, a freelance model and singer from Wellington, New Zealand.

Miss U.S.A., Russian-speaking Michele Metrinko of New York City, gained the semifinals but lost out when the nine-judge panel failed to name her among the seven finalists.

Miss Metrinko said she was not disappointed at her loss and was anxious to resume her studies at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C.

Proceeds from the beauty pageant went to children's charities.

Miss Crawford will spend 15 days in Paris as a guest of the "Miss Europe" organization committee. She is of British descent.

Tax Repeal Big Issue For Texans

By PATRICK CONWAY
DALLAS (UPI)—Texans, who for 61 years have paid a poll tax to vote, ballot Saturday on whether to repeal the $1.75 levy. Proponents of the tax charge the referendum is a plot to help President Kennedy carry Texas in 1964.

Voters in the 10th Congressional District (Austin) also will select a U.S. Representative to replace old-time Democratic Rep. Homer Thornberry, who resigned to accept a federal judgeship.

The three-man race is expected to go into a runoff. Candidates are J. J. (Jake) Pickle, a conservative Democrat and political associate of former Gov. Allan Shivers; Jack Ritter, a liberal Democrat, and Jim Dobbs, a Republican and former employe of the conservative "Life Line" radio commentary.

The poll tax repeal campaign has stirred only a smattering of interest. The League of Women Voters is its chief backer, but it has received quiet nods of approval from Democratic and Republican party leaders.

Two Million Voters

There are 2,268,404 eligible voters in Texas this year, including 1,654,805 who paid the poll tax. The others hold poll tax exemptions granted persons over 60 years of age.

The poll tax was written into the 1876 Texas Constitution that has been riddled with 154 amendments in 87 years. In 1902, the Constitution was altered to make the tax a requirement for voting.

Previous attempts to repeal the levy were soundly defeated. Last spring, in the primary elections, voters in both parties indicated in a straw vote that they favored repeal.

Opponents of the tax point out that unless the tax is repealed, there could be great confusion at the polls during the 1964 general election.

Nationally Attacked

Thirty-six states have ratified an amendment to the U.S. Constitution abolishing the poll tax as a voting requirement in federal elections. If two more states ratify the amendment, it will become law.

The Texas Legislature passed a voter registration bill during the last session to go into effect if the tax is repealed. It would require a 25 cent voter registration fee.

Khrushchev Says Soviet To Gain World's Top Spot

By DANIEL F. GILMORE
MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, apparently buoyed by the public debut of Russia's "stratospheric fly-swatter" missile, has predicted that the Soviet Union will become the No. 1 country in the world by 1970.

Khrushchev, boastful and belligerent, made the prediction Thursday night at a gala Kremlin reception celebrating the 46th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

Cardinals Clash In Rome Council

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Two leading Catholic cardinals engaged in a sharp verbal clash at the Ecumenical Council today over alleged abuses by the Holy Office.

Involved in the confrontation were Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, head of the powerful Holy Office and leader of the conservatives at the council, and Joseph Cardinal Frings, archbishop of Cologne, Germany, and a leader of the liberal bloc.

Frings' slashing attack on the Holy Office was greeted by loud applause from the council fathers despite a council rule against applause. Ottaviani's reply was received in silence.

The exchange was the sharpest and most direct of its kind to take place at the current council to date. It brought into the open, in brutally frank language, the deep-seated differences between liberals and conservatives at the council which previously had been discussed only in polite and indirect terms.

—Any American attack on Cuba would bring a Russian blow against American allies nearer the Soviet borders.

—The West should not gloat over Russia's ideological differences with Communist China because "I am sure that we will come to an agreement sooner or later."

—The United States is only 30 minutes by intercontinental missile from us."

Khrushchev swapped smiling but sharply barbed banter with U.S. Ambassador Foy Kohler, who flew back to Moscow because of the Berlin highway blockade of an American convoy earlier this week.

At one point, Khrushchev told the guests that Kohler did not want to drink with him.

"This is a good party," Kohler retorted. "But where is the spirit of Moscow here? I haven't heard any toasts I can drink to."

"Then you make a toast," Khrushchev said.

"It's your party," Kohler replied.

Nikita Advises Not to Gloat

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, warning the West not to gloat over Russia's ideological differences with Red China.

"We (China and Russia) are against the same capitalism and we are for socialism. I am sure we will come to an agreement sooner or later with the Chinese because we have the same future."

Officials Urged by Municipal League To Co-operate With Texas News Media

The Texas Municipal League adopted a resolution at its annual meeting in Houston this week urging city officials to "continue constructive co-operation with representatives of the public information media, recognizing that the informing of the public is the basic strength from which municipal progress comes and will continue in Texas."

Pampa was represented at the meeting by eight delegates which included the city manager, city attorney, public works director, city secretary, fire chief and three city commissioners.

The league's resolution had praise for the various news media.

The resolution stated that Texas newspapers, television and radio have "responded alertly and responsibly to the challenge of reporting and interpreting municipal affairs throughout the state."

Woman Decries Remarriage Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Henry Swan, Colorado national GOP committeewoman, quoted in a survey on the remarriage issue in Gov. Rockefeller's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination:

"Women are still mad. It isn't fair, for he should be judged on his record over and beyond the marriage-remarriage issue."

Contract To Be Let for Second Link of Aqueduct

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa announced in Washington today that a $12,464,227 contract will be awarded next Tuesday by the Department of Interior for construction of the second 90-mile section of aqueduct for the Canadian River Dam project.

The work, to be awarded to the Cen-Vi-Ro Company, will extend the aqueduct from 16 miles south of Amarillo to Lubbock.

The first link of the aqueduct from the project site near Sanford to the point south of Amarillo is now under construction.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In a reflective mood, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev once remarked that eventually the Germans will want "another Rapallo" and when that moment came, the Soviets would be ready to receive them.

The reference was to the Treaty of Rapallo concluded between Germany and Communist Russia in 1922 at the Italian-resort town-close to Genoa. The treaty accorded favored nation treatment to each in the matter of trade and came as a shock to the Western Allies who first had fought the Russian revolution and then had sought accord with the Communists in a conference at Genoa.

In the conference, the Russians had shown little interest in reaching agreement with the Western powers and the treaty with the Germans not only came as a surprise, it suggested the beginning of a new power alliance in Europe.

Seeks Firmer Ties

It is a lesson in history not lost upon President Charles de Gaulle of France who has sought constantly to firm his ties to West Germany, and whose fear has been that West Germany might first go neutral and then for the sake of reunification seek ties with the Soviet Union.

In this sense then, the crises which wax and wane over Berlin might more aptly be termed crises in a struggle to change the balance of power in Europe.

As with other goals of world communism, Communist objectives in Germany have not changed since World War II although tactics have varied as the mood has switched between patience and impatience.

One Soviet view has been that sooner or later West Germany must suffer an economic crisis, and that such a crisis would make the West Germans susceptible to the lure of Soviet trade.

It was in this vein that Khrushchev talked this week to 20 top American executives.

Unification After Revolt

"I can say," he declared, "that if the Socialist revolution should win in West Germany, and I cannot now say when that will happen, then I have considerable hopes that Germany would be re-united."

A Socialist victory, he said, was only a question of time.

Until such a time, he said, the question probably cannot be solved.

The Soviets this week also showed the West the other side of the coin.

That was the Soviet-imposed blockade of an American convoy en route to Berlin through East Germany.

Since 1958 and the Soviet threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany, the Soviets have known that the surest and quickest way of forcing a reopening of talks on the German question has been to threaten Berlin's communications with the West.

And it may be now that Khrushchev has decided that events have made this a good time for such talks to be renewed to the Soviet advantage.

The blockade also served as a reminder that, regardless of nuclear test ban treaties or of bickering among the Western Allies over the future of NATO, Berlin remains the No. 1 problem of Europe and the flash-point of a possible war.

Twenty per cent of U.S. unemployment is composed of teen-agers.

Baboons' Similarity to Humans Gives Excellent Medical Data

By PRESTON MCGRAW
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Baboons may soon stand-in for humans "agonizing reappraisal" of every method of research into ailments of blood vessels.

Dr. David H. Baeder of St. Louis, in an address Wednesday night at the First International Symposium on the Baboon and its Use as an Experimental Animal, said baboons were suitable because they spontaneously develop hardening of the arteries (atherosclerosis).

Baboons, Baeder said, develop fatty substances (cholesterol) in their blood like men and the baboon's central nervous system closely resembles that of man.

Nerves, hardening of the arteries and fats in the blood apparently are all bound up in a cycle that causes strokes and heart ailments, such as coronary thrombosis, both in humans and baboons.

Abundant Data

"We have an abundant supply of experimental material from which to begin to study this animal in a very systematic manner," Dr. Baeder said.

A "breakthrough" in knowledge concerning the development of circulatory and heart diseases was forecast by Baeder who also was hopeful for discoveries in treatment and, perhaps, prevention.

Baeder, director of Biological Sciences for the Mallinckrodt Chemical Works of St. Louis, said his laboratory had used rabbits and chicks in experiments which could not be transferred wholesale to humans. He said a group of scientists in Louisiana were more successful with baboons.

"The results would seem to indicate that the baboon develops fat-containing arterial lesions on a low fat diet in its native habitat," he said, "and may be an exceptional animal arteriosclerosis."

"The overall incidence of this disease cannot be correlated with diet, environment, race, disease or stress."

Nature of Baboon

Baeder said the baboon, by its very nature, lends itself to experimental stress situations under highly controlled conditions. Stress experiments, he said, might show whether stress aggravates hardening of the arteries and hastens the formation of a lesion (scar) in the artery.

He said if scientists can arrive at an understanding of the mechanisms of the lesion and the effect of the fatty substances in the blood on clotting and the incident of coronary thrombosis, "perhaps we would be in a position to sit down and draw out rational approaches to drug therapy."

Mystery of Who Robbed Police Station Is Solved

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Washington's Third Precinct police station has solved a sticky case in its own backyard.

It seems some items were missing from around the station house.

First there were the Christmas tree lights, then the private's raincoat, then the steel wool and the box of chalk that's used to mark daily assignment on the station blackboard.

Then there was the blanket from the scout car and finally the case of toilet paper from the restroom.

But one of the officers spotted the raincoat in a diner. "Are you a policeman?" he asked the man who was wearing it.

"Nope," the man replied.

"But my friend Leon works with policemen. He gave it to me."

about two dozen consistent gainers — cannot pull the entire market up by its bootstraps. The trend of the many will ultimately determine the trend of the few," it adds.

Clark, Dodge & Co. says "the current phase of the bull market, where speculative money is actively flowing into and out of market leaders, suggests that more of the same recent excited pattern of trading is in prospect."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — "The odds are crushing against success in the market at this point," says Investors Research Co.

Police obtained a warrant and searched his house.

Sure enough, there they found the Christmas tree lights, the steel wool, the box of chalk, the blanket from the scout car and the toilet paper.

Jordan was charged with larceny and placed in one of the same cells he's been cleaning these past three years.

Leon turned out to be none other than Leon Jordan, 41, janitor at the Third Precinct station since 1960 and a city employee for the past 17 years.

 The Commissioners discussed whether to extend the employment of the over-65 employees for a year or for six months and decided on the latter.
 The city manager was instructed to seek replacements for the five employees.
 The commission also discussed a request of Herman O. Darby, president of the Pampa Foundry, to have part of Thut St. between S. Somerville and the Santa Fe Ry. tracks closed.
 Darby said the space was needed for a proposed expansion of the foundry.
 "We need more space to build a 50-foot extension to our main building," Darby said. "If we can't make the arrangements it will be necessary to move operations elsewhere."
 Darby told the commission company plans call for an expansion that would add 20 employees to the payroll.
 In a discussion that followed, it developed that possibly there would be objections to closing the street from residents of the city's colored district.
 Commissioners agreed to give the matter thorough study for an early decision on the request.
 Action was delayed on accepting a bid for policemen and firemen's uniforms, pending an examination of materials to be used.
 The city secretary was authorized to advertise for bids for remodeling the Texas Railroad Commission offices in City Hall. Bids will be opened Nov. 26.
 Mayor H. R. Thompson reported that city officials were working on sewage disposal plans and said progress was being made.
 The mayor also stated that a request of the Pioneer Gas Co. for a 10 per cent increase in domestic gas rates in Pampa would be considered at next week's commission meeting.

Royal Philharmonic Will Arrive Tomorrow

Several busloads of Englishmen will arrive in Pampa tomorrow morning, followed by a truckload of musical instruments. There will be 105 members of the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra of London, here to introduce local music-lovers to one of the world's greatest symphony orchestras.
 Their concert will take place tomorrow 8 p.m. in the Pampa Junior High Auditorium, under the auspices of the Pampa Community Concert Association.
 Two outstanding conductors are sharing the podium for this second North American tour of the Philharmonic. They are Sir Malcolm Sargent, the distinguished British maestro who is now the dean of English conductors since the death in 1961 of Sir Thomas Beecham, the founder of the orchestra, and the brilliant young French conductor, Georges Pretre, who was personally selected by Sir Thomas to be one of his successors.
 Tomorrow's concert will be conducted by Pretre.
 The Royal Philharmonic Orchestra first visited our shores in 1950 when Sir Thomas Beecham conducted a tour of 48 cities in the East, South and Midwest. This tour will take the orchestra across the continent for the first time. It opened in Montreal Sept. 29 and will close in Seattle on Nov. 29. During the months between, the members of the orchestra will have covered North America from Boston to San Diego, from Atlanta to Vancouver.
 The Royal Philharmonic will arrive here from Abilene where they are playing tonight at Hardin-Simmons University.
 Several members of area symphonies and the conductors of the Amarillo and Oklahoma City Symphonies will attend the performance.

 ments, the one for repeal of the poll tax is expected to attract the greatest number of voters to the polls.
 If the poll tax is repealed, it would no longer be a requirement for voting and the state legislature would be authorized to provide for registration of all voters.
 If the welfare payment amendment is passed, it would provide for assistance payments to the needy aged, permanently and totally disabled, needy blind and needy children.
 It would also authorize the legislature to set up residence requirements for eligibility and authorize the legislature to appropriate money from state funds to make the welfare payments. Money from state funds for welfare payments shall not exceed $60 million, according to the amendment.

 The welfare amendment also provides that money taken from state funds for individual recipients shall not exceed that accepted from federal funds.
 The third amendment, if passed, would authorize all political subdivisions in Jefferson County to establish, after approval of the voters, a retirement, disability and death compensation fund covering all appointive officers and employees of the county's political subdivisions.
 If passed, the fourth amendment would increase the Veteran's Land Fund by $150,000,000 to be used to buy land in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans who served in the U.S. Armed forces from Sept. 18, 1954 to March 31, 1955.

Next Cosmonaut Heard in Soviet

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet cosmonaut "Number Seven" — an anonymous spokesman who will be the next Russia launched into the cosmos, spoke over Moscow Radio Wednesday.

The broadcast, in connection with revolutionary anniversary ceremonies, included a series of interviews with several of the five men and one woman known to have completed space missions.

ATTRACT GUESTS, BUT...

CHICAGO (UPI) — Most guests never go near the water at motel swimming pools, although one of every five motels in the nation now has a pool.

Manager Dan Pavis of O'Hare Inn said only 10 per cent of his guests used the pool last summer, although a survey showed 90 per cent of the guests were attracted by the pool.

"A pool brings business but doesn't do any," Pavis said.

Political Analysts Eye Aspects of Race Issue

By RAYMOND LAHR
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Political diagnosticians began running Kentucky and Philadelphia election returns through their computers and found at least superficial evidence of a backlash among white voters from the race issue.

Tuesday's contests for the Kentucky governorship and the Philadelphia mayoralty had been watched for signs to measure the political effect of racial tensions. Democrats won both races but by sharply reduced majorities.

Philadelphia was given particular attention by Republicans because the party line has been that the GOP lost the 1960 presidential election in the big cities.

President Kennedy polled 68 per cent of the vote in Philadelphia, giving him a plurality of 330,000 which enabled him to carry the entire state of Pennsylvania.

Garner's Big Vote
In Tuesday's mayoralty election in Philadelphia, Republican James T. McDermott polled about 46 per cent of the vote in his bid to unseat Democratic Mayor James H. J. Tate. The GOP share of the vote in the last city election was 34.4 per cent.

After the 1960 election, the GOP calculated that it needed about 40 per cent of the Philadelphia vote to win a statewide contest in Pennsylvania. Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., polled 41 per cent in 1958 and Gov. William W. Scranton 43.2 per cent last year.

In Tuesday's election, Republicans found eight wards showing a shift of 10 per cent toward the GOP in a comparison with the results of Scott's election. These wards were described as predominantly low income and lower middle income territory.

The preliminary conclusion was that the GOP had benefited from white reaction to the handling of racial strife by the city administration and by charges of corruption against it.

Gets Negro Wards
In eight predominantly Negro wards, Tate piled up a majority of 61,000 accounting for almost all of his 66,000-vote edge over McDermott.

In the Kentucky governorship, Democrat Edward T. Breathitt narrowly defeated Republican Louie B. Nunn, who had attacked Democratic Gov. Bert Combs' executive order prohibiting racial discrimination in business firms licensed by the state. In Louisville, the Republican-controlled city council had taken similar action to prevent discrimination.

Nunn carried Jefferson County (Louisville) by less than 4,000 votes compared with the 23,000 margin of Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., who was reelected last year.

There was speculation here that the issue may have cut both ways — hurting the GOP in Louisville and the Democrats in the rest of the state.

Both political parties are keeping a nervous eye on the civil rights issue to see if it causes political repercussions among white voters. Kennedy told his news conference last week that the issue might affect votes in Philadelphia.

INDIGNANT WOMEN

FORT SMITH, Ark. (UPI) — The Kansas City Federation of Republican Women, on an outing here, were indignant when industrialist Winthrop Rockefeller paid their motel bill recently.

They stormed the hotel manager's office and demanded that Rockefeller's money be refunded.

"When we are kept," piped one lady, "it will be on our own terms."

Mobeetie Plans Course on Beef

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist
The theme for American Education Week, Nov. 10-16, is "Education Strengthens the Nation." The purpose of the week is to concentrate attention upon education as a major factor in our society.

As the nation pays tribute to educators, interest will be directed towards seven important aspects of education. Beginning on Sunday the topics for consideration are: Values of free men; Learning opportunities for all; Quality teaching; Balanced curriculum; Community resources; Financial support; The effectiveness of the program depends on the cooperative efforts of you and the school. Many state and national organizations will be participating.

Each community should make an attempt to learn more about its schools. A school reflects the desires of the community for which it exists. The quality of the educational program will depend upon the interest and support of the public.

Parents have a direct interest in the schools because of their children. Most schools direct their programs toward parents. Perhaps this year an effort will be made to reach all members of the community even if they do not have children attending the schools. They are all involved in supporting budgets. They all directly or indirectly benefit from education.

Modern education extends beyond the schools. It involves community services and the home. Success, therefore, is dependent upon close cooperation between all these areas.

Our nation has grown to recognize that its education system is the backbone of its culture. No other area has so much to offer in terms of maintaining and improving the nation's position at home and abroad.

American Education Week should only be the beginning. The community's interest and support must continue throughout the year. It is only by continuous evaluation, research and support that the standards and quality of our schools will continue to rise. The schools will increase their effectiveness if the community will put forth the necessary efforts.

Medical Costs Are Up — But So Are the Chances of Infant Survival

By PATRICIA McCORMACK United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — If there's a baby in your future, the pain in the pocketbook will be greater than it was a couple of decades ago.

But the rise in blessed event bills also means safer times for momma and the baby.

It's safer, says the Health Insurance Institute (HII) because 98 of 100 births today are attended by a doctor. In 1940, 91 of 100 births occurred with a physician in attendance.

Another factor boosting safety: 97 of 100 babies today are born in hospitals where personnel and facilities to handle emergencies are available. In 1940, only 56 of 100 babies were born in hospitals.

Chances Are Doubled
"As a result," the institute reported, "a baby born today has twice the chance of surviving the first year of life than did the baby of 1940."

An increase in the number of obstetricians also influences safety. During the last 20 years the supply has increased from 2,551 to 11,680 nationwide.

The bill for the average uncomplicated date with the stork: $300. The institute said this includes costs of pre-natal care and delivery, including the hospital charges.

Two out of three couples take the budget way out of meeting this expense by having health insurance policies with maternity benefits.

Parents get somewhat of a break economically when shopping for layettes and nursery furniture. The institute said costs of items in these categories have gone up less than the average of other costs of living in the last five years.

Doctor Fees Jump
Obstetrician's fees, meanwhile, have increased by 154 per cent since 1940, compared with a 105 per cent rise for all physicians' fees as reflected in the consumer price index of the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Despite this, recent figures cited by the institute show a leveling off of the costs of having a baby as compared to other medical costs.

Check your health insurance policies to make sure of the exact benefits available for baby and mother. You should know precisely which costs are covered and those you will be expected to meet out of cash.

In the afternoon a film "Who Should Decide" explored the question of the degree of parental influence desirable in the making of decisions by adolescents and was followed by a discussion and evaluation.

Serving on the Parents Board of the Borger Youth Center, she has also presented a mural to the center. Mrs. Lewis is active in functions of the Borger Creative Arts Club and Paragon Study Club.

Mrs. J. E. Curzon, PEWS president, will conduct the business meeting, during which yearbooks will be distributed.

Dear Abby....
Speaking Ability Has No Character Reflection
By ARIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am in the sixth grade and my problem is I am ashamed of my mother. Please don't think I'm a bad person, Abby, but it's hard for people who have American mothers to understand when somebody else's mother is a foreigner and doesn't speak much English. When she comes to school it is very embarrassing when the teachers ask her what she said so many times. My mother has been in this country since I was a small baby, so I don't know why she never learned to speak English. My father is a good-looking American man and I think sometimes he is ashamed of her, too. She is a good and kind mother, but I can't help how I feel. How can I solve my problem and not hurt my mother?

HALF AND HALF
DEAR HALF AND HALF: Ask your father to encourage your mother to enroll in an adult education class and study English. If she agrees, wonderful. And you could help her study. If she will not, she is probably too shy. But don't be ashamed of her, honey. Inability to speak English is no reflection on your mother's character, and she probably suffers more humiliation than you know.

DEAR ABBY: A new girl came to work in our office. She is a sweet girl, and we like her but, Abby, here is the problem. She brings her lunch in a brown paper bag (as we all do) and she sets it up on the closet shelf with the other girls' lunches. She always brings salami, sardines, dill pickles, or something that smells up the entire closest. My coat has started to smell of garlic! Is there a nice way to tell this girl about the unpleasant situation she has created without hurting her feelings?

ONE OF THE GIRLS
DEAR ONE: One of your girls should get next to her (literally, if possible) and tell her of your complaint.

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with Pete, but I don't want to marry him unless I can be a good wife to him, and I don't think I can. You see, he is a "night person" and I am a "day person." Pete plays in a band, which means he is up all night, and he sleeps days. I can't change 30 years of habit, and I can't expect Pete to change jobs because this is the way he makes the best living. Don't tell me to try to sleep days because I've tried and it doesn't work. I am NOT tired in the daytime. When night comes I can't hold my eyes open. If you can solve this, you're a genius.

DAY PERSON
DEAR DAY PERSON: How were you two awake long enough at the same time to fall in love? If you really love Pete, force yourself to stay up at night, and you won't have any trouble sleeping the following day.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Hobart Street Baptist Church To Celebrate Anniversary Sunday

Sunday Hobart Baptist Church will observe their Tenth Anniversary. A Home-Coming program has been planned and the city of Pampa is invited to attend the day's activities. Services will begin at 9:45 a. m. Sunday with Sunday school, providing departments and classes for every age group. A fine modern nursery is provided to care for your children through three years of age.

Appearing on the program at the 11 a. m. worship hour will be Carl Ammons, directing the music, who was for several years minister of music for the church. Delivering the sermon will be Rev. L. E. Barrett, a former member of the church and now pastor of Travis Baptist Church, Memphis, Tex. Each family is to bring a basket dinner of fried chicken, vegetable, salad, and dessert. The dinner will be spread together for the meal at the noon hour. Training Union will begin at 6 p. m. Appearing on the program at the worship hour at 7 p. m. will be Fred Bridges, present minister of music at the church and Rev. Kenneth Quaid another former member of the church and now pastor of Faith Baptist Church, Wellington, Tex.

Hobart Baptist Church was first organized as a mission of First Baptist Church of Pampa in August 1946. A building and lots were given by Elmer Barrett, Curtis Brown was first pastor. At Brown's resignation, W. F. Vanderburg accepted the pastorate in September 1949.

In 1951 while still a mission, a small frame auditorium was built with seating capacity of 200.

In 1954 because of growth beyond their building space a plot of land (now two and one-half acres) was purchased in the 1000 block on W. Crawford one block off Hobart Street. A $50,000 brick educational building was constructed. The church was organized in November 1953.

W. F. Vanderburg resigned in July of 1955. Lawrence Barrett was called to serve as interim pastor. Claude Harris accepted the pastorate in October of 1955.

In 1956 a pastor's home was purchased and a building fund was started. Claude Harris resigned in November of 1956. The new educational building caught fire in the fall of 1956 and $30,000 damage was done. Lawrence Barrett was again called as interim pastor. He served until July in 1957 when John Dyer accepted the pastorate. The educational building was rebuilt in 1957. In 1958 then plans were started to build a new auditorium. In 1959 bonds were sold to clear indebtedness and raise sufficient funds to complete the building program. In 1960 a beautiful new auditorium with new furnishings, office suite, year-round heating and air-conditioning was completed and dedicated.

During these 10 years almost 1000 persons have united with the church. Many have surrendered their lives to special service. About 2,500 rededications have been made. More than $250,000 has been received for the Lord's work. About $40,000 has gone to missions.

John Dyer is the present pastor. He has served the church for almost seven years. The pastor on behalf of the membership invites you to come and help celebrate the 10th birthday of Hobart Baptist Church. Hobart Street Baptist Church was changed to Hobart Baptist Church in May of 1963.

Passage To Be Read At Scientist Service

The following passage from Psalms (37:23) will be read at this Sunday's services in all Christian Science churches: "The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord; and he delighteth in his way." The Bible Lesson is entitled "Adam and Fallen Man."

Related readings from the textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include: "We must look where we would walk, and we must act as possessing all power from Him in whom we have our being" (p. 264).

56TH YEAR

Church of Nazarene to Hold Revival November 17-24

L. WAYNE SEARS

Evangelist for the services will be L. Wayne Sears, recently pastor of First Church of the Nazarene in Norman, Oklahoma. Sears is now devoting full time to the field of evangelism in the Church of the Nazarene.

Having pastored for 22 years prior to his entering the field of evangelism he is sympathetic to the problems and needs of both pastor and people. He has served as pastor of Churches of the Nazarene in Kansas, Alabama, Texas, and Oklahoma.

Sears is the author of the booklet, "The Reality of Divine Healing." He is an interesting and effective preacher. Among his sermon topics are "The Peace That Jesus Gives" and "Heavenly Fall-out."

The church and its pastor extend a hearty welcome to you and your friends. Each and every service will be filled with good things: spiritual songs, choruses, special music, a dynamic gospel message, and best of all, the presence of God. "Be sure to be with us at our opening service," the pastor urges.

Visitation Evangelism To Begin At 1st Christian

Sunday the First Christian Church begins a week of intensive Visitation Evangelism. A goal of 76 people to come into the Church on one day has been set for Nov. 17. The congregation has been praying for the victory and has been calling in the homes of prospects for the past three months. Also, two Church membership classes have been conducted for the children and youth. This Visitation Evangelism program is being led by Dr. Bayne Driskill of Ft. Worth Texas, Executive Director of All-Church Evangelism, Inc.

Dr. Driskill has been working in visitation evangelism for thirty years. During this time he has been responsible for leading Visitation Evangelism Crusades that have brought 150,000 people into the Church. Over 6,000 new members were added by All-Church Evangelism, Inc. to the Christian Churches from Jan. 1, to Mar. 31, 1964.

Dr. Driskill will be with the First Christian Church, starting at the Sunday School hour - 9:45 a. m. and will stay in Pampa for a week of Decision calling Nov. 11-14. He will also be in the pulpit on Nov. 17, when the large group of new members will be received into the Church.

The evening worship hour begins at 7 p. m. with Rev. Glyn B. Adair, preaching.

The three youth fellowships will meet at 5:30 p. m. for their programs of study and recreation. The JYF will continue their study of "Following Jesus In A Changing World." They will also continue work on their handcraft projects of a wall mural depicting life in a Palestine village in the days of Jesus and the building of a replica of the Tabernacle as used by Moses. The CRF will complete their discussions of training and preparation for future vocations. The CYF will view a filmstrip on "Hinduism" and make plans for their next month's programs and activities.

Dr. Douglas Carver, Pastor of the First Baptist Church will be in pulpit for the worship at 11 a. m. The sermon topic he has chosen is "The Lord Has Blessed His People." Mr. Joe Whitten will present the church choir in singing "Songs of Praises" by Jones, and Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "Adagio" by Liszt for the offertory.

Jack Parker, minister of education, will be the speaker for the worship at 5 p. m. The Chapel Choir will occupy the choir loft and Whitten will direct them in singing "Sit Down Servant" by Waring. "Song of the Bells" is the number Miss Lane has chosen for the organ offertory.

The Training Union, which follows the evening worship, will meet for a general assembly in the auditorium this Sunday evening; with Wes Langham, Training Union director, in charge.

Special Music By Jr. Choir

Dr. Hubert Bratcher, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will preach at the two morning services this Sunday. The 8:45 a. m. service is broadcast over radio station KPDM. The special music for the early service will be by the Junior Choir who will present the anthem, "A Seasonal Thanksgiving" by Thiman. At the second service the Sanctuary Singers will sing the anthem, "O Sing A New Song" composed by Warren Angell. Mrs. Hugh Carson will play the organ for all services.

The youth choir meets at 5 p. m. Sunday, followed by Sunday Evening Fellowship at 5:45 p. m. with a light supper for the entire family in Fellowship Hall. At 6:15 p. m. children, youth, and adults will separate for one hour of Fellowship groups activities according to interest and needs. The Adult Fellowship group will meet in the church parlor.

The Sunday worship service at 7:15 p. m. will be conducted by the pastor, Hubert Bratcher, who will present a brief meditation followed by an altar time.

Family night will be Wednesday, November 13, at 7:00 p. m. in Fellowship Hall.

'Victory Over Death' Is Topic

With Sunday School beginning at 9:45 a. m., the adults will be studying from I Corinthians and the lesson entitled, "Victory Over Death." There are classes for all age groups.

In the Worship Service which begins at 11 a. m. Rev. Allison will take his scripture from Matt. 22:32-40. The Ladies Trio will provide the special music by singing, "All Things In Jesus," followed by the sermon, which Rev. Allison has entitled, "Why Must I Believe?"

Harper has urged that all choir members be in choir rehearsals at 5:30 p. m. for practice on the Christmas music.

For the Training Union lesson, the Adults will continue their study on Communism by studying, "How Did Communism Begin?" Following the 6:30 p. m. Training Union Hour is the Evening Worship Service, which begins promptly at 7:30 p. m. The scripture reading is found in Ezra 7:10 and Rev. Allison will preach on the subject, "A Man's Determination to Satisfy God."

The Fruits of Life or Death

Matthew 25: 31-46

31. When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with Him, then shall He sit upon the throne of his glory:
32. And before Him shall be gathered all nations: and He shall separate them one from another as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats:
33. And He shall set the sheep on His right hand, but the goats on the left.
34. Then shall the King say unto them on His right hand, Come, ye blessed of my father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world:
35. For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink; I was a stranger, and ye took me in:
36. Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.
37. Then shall the righteous answer Him saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink?
38. When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?
39. Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee?
40. And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.
41. Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels:
42. For I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink:
43. I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick and in prison, and ye visited me not.
44. Then shall they also answer Him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee?
45. Then shall He answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.
46. And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal.

God's word is law. The one who fails to abide by God's word will have to face the consequences and as you see by the scripture it will be terrible. Everything we have, which we think is ours, really belongs to God and we will have to give an account for the way it is being used. To break God's law is sin.

Shockers Smash Tascosa, 34-8

AMARILLO (Spl) — The Pampa Shockers came smashing from behind with three quick third-quarter touchdowns to down the Tascosa Raiders yesterday, 34-8.

Trailing 8-6 at the end of the first half as three fumbles and an intercepted pass killed potential scoring drives, the scats-back pair of Joey Roden and Little Butch Crossland exploded to wrap up the game the first three times the Shockers got their hands on the ball in the second half.

Pampa scored the first time it had the ball, going 65 yards, with Roden barreling the last 45 on a crossback over the left side. With two minutes left in the half, the Raiders came back on a 40-yard pass from Bill Wright to Harvey Baxter. Tascosa ran the conversion to lead 8-6.

Crossland took the second-half kickoff on his 30 and ran right back up the middle as Ducky Ellis, Wayne Hill and Jerry Wright dumped tacklers out of his way, with Larry Eckroat and Rick Maxey accounting for the stragglers. Lolan Ellis ran the conversion.

Tascosa punted out and on the first play, Roden stroled untouched on a 55-yard jaunt up the middle as the Shockers laid a red carpet before him. Wright, Dan Patterson, Eckroat, Lolan and J. B. McLean throwing blocks to the goal line, where Teddy Bird administered the coup de grace to the safetyman. Larry Daniels passed to the Bird for the conversion.

The Raiders punted and again Pampa went on a scoring march, with Charlie Walker making the TD on a 16-yard sweep left.

The Shockers ran in the reserves the rest of the way, until the last play of the game, when the starters returned especially for a 35-yard scoring pass from Daniels to Crossland.

Defensive standouts for the Shockers were Don Dinkins, Patterson, Wright, John Windsor and Hill.

Pampa Tilt Not Big To Amarillo

AMARILLO (Spl) — The Pampa game is no longer 'the game' for the Amarillo Sandies, indicated football coach Burl Bartlett yesterday.

After 40 years of rugged competition in one of the oldest continuous series in state gridiron history, the Sandies now consider their six-year-old fracas with Tascosa their big rivalry.

Asked if the Sandies would be up, as usual, for the game in which past records mean absolutely nothing as both teams go all out every minute of the way, Bartlett replied "We're not very much up after that licking by Tascosa. That's our big inter-city rivalry."

Despite the week's layoff the Sandies have had, Bartlett reports them as still bruised and beat up from the Rebel game. "We won't be full speed, we've got folks ailing," said the former Dumas mentor.

"We took a terrible licking from Tascosa," continued Bartlett. "It was much worse than the score indicated. We were beat about as bad as you can be beat. There wasn't any ball game to it."

"We were real disappointed. It was a big rivalry and a tense game. It also kicked us out of district competition. I don't know how the boys will be mentally. We catch Pampa at their highest... they looked like a million dollars last week... and they're always good when they play us!"

Only one starter will be out because of the Tascosa game, fullback Ronnie Edwards with a concussion. Alternate fullback-halfback Frank McAlpine is no longer on the team, reported Bartlett, and Larry McDaniels, 170, will move into the fullback slot, with sophomore Mark Tiffany taking Edwards' left line-

Pampa coach Otis Holladay reported all well physically on the Harvester side of the field. Eugene "The Bandit" Madrid has been down with a cold for the last few days, and Ronnie Oler will probably start at the tailback slot, otherwise the starting lineup will remain the same.

Holladay, with his usual cryptic grin, indicated that there may be more tricks coming out of his magic hat to fool the Sandies, but declined to elaborate. Holladay indicated that jack-of-all-trades Kenny Hebert would definitely start at quarterback after his standout leadership last week. The Harvesters will go primarily with their regular wing-T, although the straight-T and other formations which have been dealing opponents misery will undoubtedly again be called into play.

Reapers Rap Rebels In Junior Closeout

Larry Keyser tackled Bruce Ginn in the end zone to kill a conversion run attempt in the final minutes and preserve an upset 8-6 victory for the Pampa Reapers over the Lee Rebels yesterday.

In a rugged defensive battle, the Rebels missed a number of scoring opportunities due to a bad case of fumbleitis. 115 yards in penalties, and a defense headed by Ricky Garrett, David Martindale and L. D. Rowden aided by Keyser, Nathan Kilgough, Gary Butler, and Jay Moore.

The Rebels in turn, held the Reapers runners on the defensive play of line-smasher James Matney, Doc Cornutt, Jack Williamson and Ginn.

Each team had a touchdown called back because of a penalty, the Rebels losing a score on the second play from scrimmage when quarterback Smisson Goodlett ran 71 yards, and Pampa losing a 62-yard score by Don Bean early in the third quarter.

Pampa set up their opening score on a good run by Larry Stevens, who then passed from the Lee 40 to David Martindale on the 25. Martindale shedding tacklers like a dog does fleas and going the route with 5:29 left in the period. Stevens then passed to Robert Karr for what turned out to be the winning two-pointer.

A long pass from Goodlett to Matney and the running of John Budd, Gary McCarrell and Goodlett moved the Rebels into Reapeerland, but Pampa held on the eight. Lee got another chance on the nine as Pampa fumbled as the second quarter opened, but penalties and fumbles killed the threat.

Lee penetrated once more in the closing minutes of the half when Matney recovered a fumble on the Reaper 10, but Stevens knocked down a fourth down pass.

Goodlett hit Schnoz Foster with a 31-yard pass to the Reaper 31 as the second half opened, but again the Rebels fumbled away their chances. Four plays later, Matney blocked a Pampa punt and Bruce Raines recovered.

Skellytown Hosts Fights Saturday

SKELLYTOWN (Spl) — The Skellytown Optimist Club will hold their first fight card of the season tomorrow night at 8 at Oddfellows Lodge Hall in Skellytown. Among the visiting clubs will be boxers from Liberal, Tri-City, Dees of Amarillo and Borger.

Brackenridge Can Clinch Loop After Win Last Night

Defending state Class AAAA champion San Antonio Brackenridge moved a step closer towards a return to the state schoolboy championship playoffs Thursday night on a scanty schedule that saw two previously winless clubs rise up to end title hopes of a pair of favorites.

Brackenridge won its fourth straight 16-AAAA contest and its sixth in eight starts this season by cutting down San Antonio Burbank 26-7 and now needs only one more victory to retain the playoffs.

Dallas Sunset smashed an eight-game losing streak to defeat Dallas Kimball 14-0 and finish off the title chances of that early title pretender, and Houston Sam Houston did exactly the same thing in knocking over Houston Milby 15-14.

Dallas Hillcrest upset In the only other games played Thursday night, Dallas Adams upset Dallas Hillcrest 25-21 to knock the letter club out of its last hopes for a title shot. Houston Jones defeated Houston San Jacinto 22-7 and Fort Worth Arlington Heights

Canadian, McLean Both Claim Teams Crippled

Biggest news on the District 2-A football front is the number of injuries reported by rival coaches Dwain Currie of Canadian and Derral Davis of McLean on the eve of their traditional battle at McLean.

Currie claimed loss of both his running and passing attacks for the game, and "since we haven't played any defense for the last two or three weeks, where does that leave us?" queried the tobacco-chompin' Cat coach.

"It's terrible," moaned Currie, who is fast acquiring the pessimistic attitude so typical of coaches in his district. "Halfback David Cook hurt his ankle against Memphis, and we're awaiting X-Rays to see if it's broken. Even if it is just a sprain, he'll probably miss the game. That will hurt our running."

"Rattlesnake Petree, our best pass receiver, has an elbow swollen as big around as your head... that stops our passing."

"We haven't even shown signs of a defense the last few weeks, we've just been trying to get all the points we could while the other team was doing the same thing. In any case, we couldn't stop Dickie Crockett and we haven't got anyone big enough to block Bob Patton or Eddie Windom. Who will we stop 205-pound Patton with, 135-pound center Stan Swires? To put it mildly, we're giving away a little weight."

"McLean's got a fine team and a tough offense. If we don't show any more defense than in the last two games (a 38-38 tie with Memphis and a 52-30 loss to Lefors) they'll run us off the ball field."

"Tommy Hyatt or Bill Grist can replace Cook, but we don't have anyone who can catch those passes like Petree. No running, no passing, no defense... terrible, terrible!"

Over at McLean, Derral Davis was singing a blues song of his own, based mainly on the Bengals' heart-breaking 6-0 loss to undefeated Wellington last week.

"All the boys lived up to their potential in that game. Quarterback Johnny Fuller and interior linemen Ronnie Hunt and George Green were especially outstanding... as for Dickie Crockett... that kid is tough with a capital T... for the past three weeks, he's been playing with an injured hand, but he hasn't let it stop him in the least... he's gained over 100 yards every game and he almost won it for us last week... he's as tough as any of the Crockett family ever was... and that's a rugged crew!"

Davis said that if Crockett's hand is still bothering him tonight, tackle-end-linebacker Patton, a man of many parts, might be shifted to fullback, which he has also played on occasion, and Crockett to halfback. "That's the plan," said Davis, "but if I know Dickie, he'll end up at fullback before the night is over."

Davis also warned of Canadian. "It's really gonna be something. They've got quite a scoring attack, even Lefors couldn't contain 'em. They're a tough little club and Dwain Currie has done a tremendous job with them. Besides that, assistant coach John Ramp was here for a long time, they know us backwards and forwards. We're gonna have to play real good football tonight."

BILL GRIST... back on offense

Ironmonger-Wills Fight Headliner

Johnny Ironmonger went four rounds with lightweight champion Dickie Wills in an exhibition bout last night to headline the Pampa Optimist boxing card. Ironmonger was slated to fight David McCoy of Dees of Amarillo, who was unable to appear. Both boxers landed hard punches throughout the fight, with Wills getting the edge on his weight advantage.

In the other open bout, Mike Slattery of Dees won a third-round TKO over Weylon Holtman of Pampa, 145. Slattery led throughout the fight, and cut Holtman's eye in the third to end the contest.

An action packed 135-pound battle had Harold Austin of Amarillo belting Waldo Green of Pampa. Green was decked twice and saved by the bell both times.

Benny Bennett of Pampa, 110, lost his first fight of the year on a split decision to Robert Cameron of Amarillo. Junior, Clements, 135, of Borger, defeated Tommy Warr of Amarillo. George Sanchez of Borger took a 140-pound win over Larry Austin of Amarillo. Edgar Lester of Pampa, 120, defeated Jerry Criddle of Amarillo.

Other Results: John Garza, Pampa def. Mike Lynch, Amarillo.

Melvin Vick, Pampa def. Tommy Lynch of Amarillo.

Howard Wayne Clements, Borger def. Mike Young, Borger.

Gary Howell, Pampa, def. Teddy West, Borger.

Raymond Moore, Borger, def. Johnny Cameron, Amarillo.

Buddy Tucker, Amarillo, def. Dennis Sanchez, Borger.

Andy Grim, Pampa def. Mike Clements, Amarillo.

Charles Davis, Borger def. Larry Jones, Pampa.

Jesse Vick, Pampa, def. Glen Davis, Borger.

Texas-Baylor Fracas Decisive SWC Clash

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer

Texas Coach Darrell Royal hopes he will hear many "booms" Saturday from the cannon that signals Longhorn touchdowns but he dreads the "bomb" of a long pass from Baylor quarterback Don Trull to a Bear receiver in the Texas end zone.

The contest between the two teams outstrips anything else the Southwest Conference has to offer and although each team still has some rough games to play, this should be the biggest for them.

Memorial Stadium at Austin, scene of the battle, is already a 64,130 sellout, a fact that is bound to affect attendance at other SWC games at College Station, Houston and Lubbock.

For the record, Southern Methodist and Texas A&M collide at College Station to see which can be the first to chalk up a league victory this season; Rice tries to keep its hopes alive at Houston against an Arkansas team that's never lost a November game under Frank Broyles, and Texas Tech closes its most successful home season against Kansas State.

The league's remaining game—Texas Christian at Louisiana State—won't be hurt because it is being played at night, and besides, all 68,000 seats in LSU stadium were sold long ago.

The odds-makers have picked Texas, ranked as the nation's No. 1 team, as a seven-point choice to rack up its eighth successive victory and move to within one game of clinching no worse than a tie for the title it won outright last year.

Arkansas is a slim one-point choice over Rice; SMU is favored by three over A&M; Tech by 15 over Kansas State, and LSU by four over TCU.

The Death Watch

This is a time for great sorrow; a time for mourning. He is dying. He, who was once proud and strong and vital, is having the life crushed out of him by the thing he created to doctor his ills. The would-be cure is killing the patient. The American is dying. He is passing from the scene, thin and wasted, his voice reduced to a whisper while the thing that is killing him has grown fat and sleek and bluster. Once he stood tall and strong and vigorous; once he planted his feet firmly on solid ground and laughed lustily at kings and emperors and dictators who would rule him; he stood with his head held high, his broad shoulders lighting up the spirits of the peoples of the world, showing them that Man could stand alone.

He was a wonderful thing, The American. His strength was something that had never been seen before on earth. He was Man as Man was meant to be and nothing, not even the powerful ghosts of past centuries who shrieked that Man could not rule himself, could move him once he had planted his roots and called the earth his own. Yes, The American was a magnificent thing, standing alone, thinking for himself, doing for himself. Magnificent he stood, breathing free in a world that had known no freedom. He was a unique thing, The American. He believed that his life was his own and that no man, no matter what title he gave himself, had a right to that life; he believed he had a right to what was his, to what he produced, and that no man had a better right. He believed these rights were his because they were in him when he was born. He was a good thing, The American. He changed the entire world; he changed the way of life, the way of thinking, of millions of people who didn't know there could be another way of living or thinking and who didn't know Man could govern himself; he told the world that Man could stand alone and survive. He was a human being, The American. He faced a wilderness and carved from it a home and a way of life; he faced a history of stagnant thought and from it, molded new ideas and progress; he faced a solid wall of unlimited power and forged from it pylons of individual freedom; he faced a past of starvation, deprivation and degradation and molded from it a world of plenty and good and equal opportunity. He was legend come to life, The American. He was Beowulf, Siegfried, Roland; he was Paul Bunyan, Pecos Bill and John Henry; and he was Thomas Paine, Thomas Jefferson, Sam Adams, John Hancock and George Washington. Yes, he was a wonderful thing, The American. Now his strength is being drained from him by the thing he created to dam any drain; now his strength is being eaten up by the many mouths of the government he thought would be the right kind of thing to prevent anyone from eating him up. He is dying, The American. This is a time for great sorrow; a time for mourning. This is a time for weeping, not for The American but for ourselves. We are letting him die. We are standing by watching him gasp for the life that once made him the greatest being on earth and we do nothing. Instead, we are helping to kill him; instead, we feed more power to the thing that is crushing him in its socialist vise of welfare. Instead of helping him, we are frantically clearing all The American's defenses from the thing's path — his self-reliance, self-responsibility, initiative, desire — clearing the way from the thing's path toward unlimited government and oppressive power. Instead of helping him, we are helping the thing that was meant to preserve him push The American off the face of the earth. The American is dying. And we are digging his grave.

United Fund Needs Your Help

The United Fund drive in Pampa needs a helping hand to reach its goal of $62,000 by the Monday deadline. There was less than $50,000 in the kitty at this morning's fourth check-in of fund solicitors. Fund officials said some workers had not yet made all their contacts. This needs to be done now. They added that some contributors have not yet filled out their pledge cards and sent them to Fund Headquarters in City Hall. If the goal is to be reached it means contributors will have to come through with $15,000 to $20,000 in the next two or three days. The United Fund belongs to the community. The community either supports it or abandons it. The one campaign covers the needs of six local agencies. These are the Salvation Army, Boy and Girl Scouts, Red Cross, Milk Fund and the Welfare Index. The alternative to the United Fund in Pampa would be a series of six separate and individual fund-raising campaigns. There is one other alternative. If all types of private subscription fail, then the great, beneficent, all-powerful government will take over, and everything from the Girl Scouts to the Salvation Army will become wards of the government. If you want to keep the United Fund alive, send in your contributions. When you're called upon to give, make it a good one. That's how to keep the United Fund alive.

The American Way

IN HOLLYWOOD By Willis E. Stone

The Movie Museum, dedicated in Hollywood on October 20, 1963, will house the record of achievements of this glamorous industry. Dedication speeches pledged the revitalization of the movie business.

It will, however take more than passionate resolve to restore Hollywood's one time greatness. It will take OPPORTUNITY—freedom of action and the right to self-determination—to fulfill the pledge.

This freedom of action, the opportunity to do and prosper, has been politically removed from the movie industry and from others. Before these industries can be restored to the glory they achieved through the American concept of free opportunity for all, the principle of liberty must be restored. Without it there can be no glory, no greatness, no growth — only the museum memories of what once was.

Cause
But how did our concept of opportunity vanish? Was it not when politicians voted themselves the power to dip into the pay envelope of all of us, in any degree whatever, as they themselves might determine? This is the historic method of destroying initiative. It has been properly said that this "power to tax is the power to destroy." The individual income tax has this power.

To further the decline of privately financed picture production, the Federal bureaucrats invaded the business and became the world's greatest movie producer. Why should not this be so? It was our tax dollars which were used for capital, and government agencies are not required to contend with such cost items as interest, rents or taxes at any level, or with losses paid by our tax dollars. Emphasizing the political domination of the film industry, a federal agency seized the General Aniline Co. in World War II, and refused to return it to its rightful owners for 20 years. This political agency thus became a principle producer of raw film stock, and as such held dominant control of picture production.

Effect
Such fantastic controls and penalties upon the movie industry caused producers to look elsewhere for opportunity, and they found foreign governments, made fat with American "foreign aid" dollars, most anxious to transport movie production and jobs from the United States to their own lands.

To assist the flight of American industry to other lands, our tax dollars were again employed by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD), to help induce American producers, including foreign producers, to move to foreign fields. Various political pressures, subsidies, guarantees and immunities were offered.

As a result more than half of our motion pictures are being produced in foreign countries—and this includes all the big ones. The blight which has descended upon Hollywood, as it has upon other industrial centers, provided the incentive for the impassioned pleas to restore the productivity of Hollywood.

As prologue to the dedication of the Movie Museum, a group called "government trade and labor experts" advanced the idea that the "elimination of foreign film subsidies" might provide a "partial cure for Hollywood's problems."

Solution
Actually, such an approach does not constitute a cure. It is but a stop to an industry dying of political strangulation. The only possible way to rejuvenate the American movie industry, or any other industry, is to restore its freedom of action—its opportunities.

To restore these virtues to industry and to people, they must be retrieved from government. This is the purpose of the LIBERTY AMENDMENT, pending in Congress as H.J. Res. 23 and already approved by six States. For information regarding this constitutional protection for incentive and progress write to the LIBERTY AMENDMENT COMMITTEE, 6413 Franklin Ave., Los Angeles 28, California.

Another Dry Spell

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Russia is springing a sensational surprise in the secrecy-cloaked negotiations over a huge purchase of U.S. wheat.

The Reds also want to buy 300,000 tons of industrial alcohol.

This astonishing proposal amounts to more industrial alcohol than the U.S. supplied the Soviet under lend-lease through World War II. It also represents more than one-third of the 850,000 tons produced in this country last year.

Average domestic price of industrial alcohol is $183 a ton. The proposed Kremlin purchase would amount to $54.9 million.

That does not include transportation costs of additional millions.

Deputy Trade Minister Sergei Borisov, heading the Russian negotiating-delegation, has told U.S. officials the 300,000 tons of industrial alcohol are wanted for making fertilizer.

That's intriguing news to Agriculture Department scientists. They point out alcohol is not used for this purpose in the U.S. They also are very skeptical about its being used for manufacturing fertilizer in Russia unless a new process has been developed there about which nothing is known — which they doubt very much.

Pentagon authorities, who consider industrial alcohol a strategic commodity, stress that it is an important ingredient in the production of ammunition and missile fuel.

Military officials are decidedly cool toward such a sale. Industrial alcohol is made from a variety of ingredients, among them molasses. A number of plants producing the commodity are currently shut down, and a sale of this magnitude would be a big bonanza for them.

Unlike the wheat negotiations, the Soviet delegation is indicating there will be no haggling over the price and transportation costs of the alcohol.

PAUL SCOTT

Freeman, at a closed-door meeting with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, expressed the opinion that upwards of 50 per cent of the Soviet's grain purchases would go to fill commitments to Communist bloc countries.

"What about the other 50 per cent?" he was asked. "Any of that going into the military or war reserves?"

"We have no hard information on that," replied Freeman. "It might well be used for that purpose. Some of the Pentagon people are convinced of that, and they may be right."

MAN TO WATCH — Remember the name Nguyen ton Hoan! He's a man to keep an eye on in the seething South Vietnamese cauldron.

Hoan is head of the Democratic League of Vietnam, with headquarters in New Haven, Conn. He is returning to his homeland soon to play a leading role there.

A leftist-leaning politician, Hoan was sent into exile by the late President Diem for "anti-government" activities. He is credited with favoring the establishment of a so-called coalition government to seek "unity" with Communist-ruled North Vietnam.

Several months ago the State Department gave Hoan a visa to come to the U.S. from Paris. He was there in the early days of the Buddhists' protests. Two Saigon leaders of that stormy anti-Diem movement are close associates of Hoan. They are Tam Chau and Tri Quang. The latter studied at Yale, and sought asylum in the U.S. embassy after Diem cracked down on the Buddhists.

After leaving Hanoi University in 1940, Hoan was tied up with French intelligence.

CRYSTAL BALL — The Joint Atomic Committee will issue a report vigorously upholding the Navy's contention that the new super aircraft carrier should be atomic powered. This congressional committee has no authority to legislate on this matter. But it has been holding hearings on the hotly controversial issue, and will unanimously recommend that the carrier be atomic powered — as strongly advocated by Admiral Hyman Rickover, "father" of the steadily growing nuclear-powered submarine fleet. Congress has dragged its feet all year on numerous important bills affecting the country at large, but there is one that is certain of speedy action — to give senators and representatives a $10,000 pay increase. Backstage plan of House and Senate leaders is to push this bill through before the Christmas adjournment as a Christmas present to the members. Massive Goldwater Forces Await D (Declaration) Day

WASHINGTON (NEA)—From an organizational standpoint, the Goldwater for President campaigns — official and unofficial — are now so far out in front as to leave the machines of all other GOP hopefuls tied to the post.

Eighteen state campaign chairmen already been announced by the National Draft Goldwater Committee.

This is the work of Peter F. O'Donnell Jr. of Dallas, Republican state chairman for Texas who organized the NDGC last spring without asking Senator Goldwater's permission.

There is no connection between the senator's office on Capitol Hill and the O'Donnell headquarters two miles west at 1025 Connecticut Ave. But O'Donnell has traveled constantly the last six months to set up a national organization ready for the senator to take over when he wants it.

Instead of picking right-wing extremists who would make the most noise for Goldwater, O'Donnell decided to pick state chairmen for his rump organization who have had considerable experience in regular Republican party organization and fund raising campaigns. So they're all pros.

Among those announced so far are:

- Alabama — John E. Greiner, chairman of the state GOP organization which has already declared it's for Goldwater.
- Georgia — Joseph E. Tribble, Savannah state senator, whose organization has already raised a $30,000 campaign fund.
- Idaho — James D. McClary, Boise business executive.
- Illinois — John F. Millike, Chicago insurance man.
- Indiana — Leslie Duvall, former Young Republican head.
- Kansas — William Whorton, Wichita public relations man, former assistant to the late Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel.
- Maine — Cyril M. Jolly, Waterville mayor.
- Michigan — Creighton D. Holden, St. Clair hotel man, an original member of Gov. Romney's Citizens Committee.
- Minnesota — William G. McFadden, Minneapolis executive.
- Mississippi — Wirt A. Yergler Jr., chairman of the state GOP central committee of the Southern Republican Chairmen's Assn.
- Missouri — Jerry Harkins Jr., K. C. state legislator.
- Montana — Jerome Anderson, Billings state legislator.
- New Mexico — Robert J. Leonard, Roswell state legislator.
- Oklahoma — Denzil Garrison, Bartlesville state senator.
- South Carolina — J. Drake Edens Jr., chairman of the state GOP organization, which has also declared for Goldwater.
- Washington — Luke Williams Jr., Spokane councilman.
- West Virginia — Stuart F. Bloch, active in state GOP.
- Wisconsin — Wayne J. Hood, La Crosse, former state GOP

By PETER EDSON (chairman and National Committee executive director.)

While all this activity has been going on at the grass roots, Senator Goldwater has been building up a Washington Headquarters staff, just as any good candidate should.

Denison Kitchel, who is officially Goldwater's campaign manager for re-election to the U. S. Senate, has given up his business in Phoenix and opened an office in Washington, near the Capitol.

The Arizona senator has always been his own man brain trust, taking advice from no one. But he is now relying more on a staff of professors being recruited by former Eisenhower administration lawyer Edward A. McCabe, who has the title of research director.

The stable includes such well-known names as Chicago economist Milton Friedman, Stanford political scientist Stephen Possony, and even a Harvard man, Gottfried Haberler.

The senator has taken on another speech writer, Bill Plythe, in addition to Tony Smith his press secretary.

A politician doesn't build up a staff of his own like this, or allow one to be built for him, if there's any chance he will announce he won't be a candidate.

Floating Gardens

Farmers in the Vale of Kashmir, where land is scarce, use floating gardens of tangled masses of plants and soil which are built up on quiet canal banks, towed to lakes and moored to stakes. Kashmiris work the gardens from boats.

Cheetah Training

In training the cheetah for hunting, natives of India hold it by a leash and blindfolded until the quarry is seen. Freed, the cheetah makes a quick dash for the animal and holds it down until the hunters come.

fact

Crab grass is the name for native European grasses widely naturalized as weeds in North America. Crab grasses are troublesome in lawns because they have decumbent stems which bend downward and root at the joints. Such rooting creates thickest patches, and mowing merely induces new flowering and seeding.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not insure any.)

Question: "Is successful management largely a selling job?"

Answer: We believe it is. In the first place the successful manager must be successful in selling himself the kind of a service that will, in the long run, be beneficial to his customers. That, of course, takes judgment as well as selling talent.

He must also sell his associates to have confidence in themselves and to realize that they are a part of the program of exchanging goods and services. The more useful their services can be, the more useful they will be able to command the free market value of their services. He must, in the second place, sell them on seeing the necessity of work and concentration.

The next thing is to sell the public that they will get satisfaction out of buying his product for their dollars, which represents their labor. If the management has no selling ability it will be in difficulty.

To summarize, he must sell himself on his product and always be trying to improve his product, never being satisfied with the service he is rendering. Then he has to sell his associates that they will get more joy out of life by the pleasure of accomplishment, by the pleasure of being a part of an organization that is rendering a useful service. Then of course he has to sell the general public as to the merits of the service and he must take a long range view of that objective. He mustn't try to sell things on a fly-by-night proposition that might even injure the persons buying the product. He has to sell only those that he actually believes need the service and that will make them better citizens in the long run and thus get more happiness out of their entire life.

Opposed Economic Policies

"All surveys of the 1962 election showed that southerners turned to the Republican party because they opposed the economic policies of the Kennedy administration and the national Democratic party. Race was at most a tangential (divergent, erratic) issue except with the white, rural, low-income voter who considered the Negro a rival for his job.

"The 1962 results promised much for the Republican future. The GOP votes came from the sector of the (southern) electorate most likely to assume a dominant role in years to come—the urban middle class."

The foregoing is the theme of De Toledano's argument that a Republican candidate can do

VOTE TO REPEAL THE POLL TAX

THERE SHOULD BE NO PRICE TAG ON THE BALLOT BOX

The right of free men to vote should be FREE. This November 9th we are going to have a chance to take our stand against the poll tax. There are only five states in the union which tax a man or woman for the privilege of voting — Texas is one of these! It is time for Texas to take a step toward progress. No man ought to have to pay in order to have the right to express his preference on election day.

If Texas should fail to repeal the poll tax and it is later repealed by amendment of the Constitution of the United States, then a free poll tax would apply only to national elections; therefore, Texas would have to have two ballots, one national and one statewide. This would increase the costs of elections and cause much confusion.

VOTE FOR NO. 1, NOVEMBER 9TH

This is the way the poll tax Constitutional Amendment to be voted on November 9 will appear on the ballot (the exact language and the exact order).

FOR the amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas so as to repeal the provision making payment of the poll tax a requirement for voting and so as to authorize the Legislature to provide for the registration of all voters.

AGAINST the amendment of the Constitution of the State of Texas so as to repeal the provision making payment of the poll tax a requirement for voting and so as to authorize the Legislature to provide for the registration of all voters.

The stop-Goldwater elements of the Republican party had an almost unanswerable argument against the senator's nomination for president by the Republicans. It was this:

That Goldwater would be compelled to seek Southern white segregationist votes to be elected; that he would be compelled to cater to the white segregationists to an extent that would forever put the racist brand on the party of Abraham Lincoln; that the GOP dare not permit that.

The stop-Goldwater elements of the Republican party had that almost unanswerable argument. But perhaps they do not have it any more.

Putnam has just published from the typewriter of Ralph De Toledano "The Winning Side," sub-titled "The Case for Goldwater Republicanism." De Toledano undertakes with persuasive figures to answer the charge that Goldwater would be compelled to espouse segregation and to take the Republican party with him if he were nominated next year for president. Chapter 11 is entitled "Surprise in 1962." In it the author asserts:

De Toledano found the same pattern in South Carolina and Texas. In the North he found the suburban vote generally rising while the city vote stood still. And he found the Republican share of suburbia going up, too. Of the trend as he computed it, North and South, Toledano concluded:

"The election (1962) statistics indicated that the Democratic party might have to admit its minority position if the trend continued."

CHEMICALS in the waters of Rotorua, New Zealand, famous for curative powers, corrode bath buildings to such an extent that constant repair is necessary.

A MIXTURE of nitrogen and chlorine gases is used to purify molten aluminum in a system developed by National Cylinder Gas. The mixture is flushed through the metal to combine with unwanted material and bring it to the surface for removal.

Texas Unemployment Drops To Lowest Mark in 4 Years

AUSTIN (UPI) — Unemployment in Texas dropped to its lowest mark in four years with an idle worker force totalling 154,000 in mid-September, the Texas Employment Commission said today.

Total employment declined some 10,500 to a total of 3,594,110 at the same time due to a substantial cutback in seasonal farm workers from the previous month.

The commission said the idle-worker total at mid-September dropped by 20,500 to a total of 154,000 and represented the lowest level of unemployment since October 1959. This was attributed to an upturn in non-farm payrolls and withdrawal from the labor force of summer workers.

Gains were noted in non-farm workers in most of the state's major labor market areas. Of the 21 major areas, only the Beaumont-Orange-Port Arthur-Brownsville-Harlingen-San Benito, Corpus Christi and Galveston-Texas City areas showed non-farm declines.

The largest reduction in non-farm workers was in the Brownsville-Harlingen-San Benito area as seasonal reductions were reported in food canning and cotton ginning operations.
