Rogers Wants Formal Treaty Power for House

Senate Alone Not Representative of People, Pampan Says

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa thinks members of the House of Representatives should have a formal role in the making of international treaties.

Only the Senate has that power now. The Constitution declares that the President "shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur..."

In the treaty-making aspect of the U.S. foreign relations program, Rogers says, "the Senate and only the Senate is a partner of the President."

Rogers' statement coincides with the Senate hearings which have begun on the treaty pledging the United States, the Soviet Union and Great Britain to ban nuclear weapons tests in the atmosphere, in outer space and under water. The crucial question of whether the Senate will ratify the treaty will follow the hearings.

Rogers said that last year and again on Jan. 28 this year he introduced a resolution in the House proposing a Constitutional amendment to provide for advice and consent of the House, in addition to that of the Senate, in ratifying all treaties.

Rogers' resolution has yet to be cleared by the Judiciary Committee for a decision by the full House.

"I am convinced that the attitude of the people of the United States concerning the proposed treaty would be more accurately reflected by a vote of the House than by a vote of the Senate."

Rogers also stated: "I have long held that the House of Representatives should be empowered to participate in the ratification of treaties. As a legislative body more directly responsive to the will of the American people — its 435 members being more closely in touch with the folks at home than are the 100 senators — the House should be able to take part in treaty decisions."

The 18th congressional district representative in Congress declared that treaties in the nuclear age can commit a nation to a life-or-death course and the full legislative course should run with decisions by both the House and Senate, before the United States should be pledged to international agreements.

"I hope that the current nuclear test ban treaty situation will help provide a spur to action on the resolution I introduced," Rogers said.

Rogers said the prospects for a cold war easing depend on what follows the treaty.

"The world is dangerous and this treaty could help to make the world less dangerous," he said. "But by itself it could do no more. We could stop here but we must go on."

What is needed, he said, is further "step by step progress" toward a settlement between East and West.

"This course is not easy," he said. "Nevertheless, the U.S. government and people are determined to follow this course and we come here with hope and resolve to make this a turning point in the affairs of mankind."

The three foreign ministers will hold their first formal talks Tuesday.

Exploratory sessions They will be exploratory sessions and not negotiations. The issues under discussion are expected to include:

—Khrushchev's plan for a non-aggression pact between NATO and the Communist Warsaw treaty alliance. The West has opposed this in the past because it would imply recognition of Communist East Germany, a Warsaw Pact member.

—Measures to prevent surprise attack, including Khrushchev's suggestion last month that inspectors be stationed on opposing nations' territory to report on troop movements and buildups.

—A program for reduction of troop strength in both halves of divided Germany, proposals to freeze military budgets, and other plans designed to relax tension.

—The possible extension of the nuclear test ban to include underground testing. Agreement on banning underground tests has been blocked by differences between the West and Russia on the number of on-site inspections necessary to safeguard a ban.

Hurricane 'Arlene' Headed for Islands

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Arlene pushed its 100 m.p.h. winds closer to land Saturday and weathermen posted a hurricane watch for residents of islands rimming the northeastern corner of the Caribbean.

At 11 o'clock last night, 1963's first tropical storm was centered about 600 miles east-southeast of San Juan, P.R. It was holding steady on a west-northwest course at about 16 m.p.h., the weather bureau said.

The hurricane watch posted by the San Juan Weather Bureau cautioned residents of the leeward and extreme northward windward islands to keep posted on bulletins and advisories charting the storm's course.

Defense Secretary Gets Good Reports in Europe

BONN, Germany (UPI)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara conferred Saturday with his military commanders in Europe and received "generally encouraging reports, his top aide said.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester said McNamara covered strategy, weapons, and supply in his three and one-half hour conference with Army, Navy, and Air Force chiefs in the old headquarters of German Afrika Korps Gen. Erwin Rommel in Stuttgart.

The conference at what is now 7th U.S. Army headquarters was called primarily to check on the ability of U.S. forces to fight a conventional war in Central Europe if a situation arises that would not bring nuclear strikes into action.

After the conference McNamara flew to a maneuver area near Munich to watch a river crossing by the 24th Infantry Division. He was spending the night at Salzburg, Austria, and flying back to Washington from Munich today.

Stricken City Shocked Again By Earthquakes

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (UPI) — Several earth tremors, one of them half the strength of the quake that demolished this city of 200,000 July 26, shook the ruins of Skopje Saturday but caused no injuries.

Rescue workers have abandoned all hope of finding survivors in the city. Their job now is to clear away the debris and eliminate potential sources of disease.

An official statement Saturday said there can be no one now alive under the rubble, although for several days after the quake survivors would emerge from under shattered buildings.

The quake that nearly leveled the Macedonian capital had a force of 10. One of the tremors that struck shortly after midnight Saturday was measured at 5, and several others of 4-missile strength hit between Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

Rescue crews said the tremors shook the ruins but did not cause any of the damaged buildings to topple.

The count of bodies recovered rose to 844 Saturday after 7 more victims were pulled out of the debris. The quake toll is estimated at between 1,500 and 2,000, but most of the bodies will never be found.

Red China Buys Canadian Wheat

OTTAWA (UPI) — Canadian farmers Saturday were assessing the prospects of a new long-term agreement for the sale of their wheat to Communist China.

The three-year wheat deal, announced Friday night by Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp hours before Parliament recessed for a summer holiday, will send between $225 million and $375 million over the full term. The first sale will include some 18.5 million bushels to be shipped from West Coast ports in the next five months.

Society Osteopath Dies Without Knowing He Had Been Convicted by Jury

LONDON (UPI) — Dr. Stephen Ward, 50, key figure in Britain's sex scandal of the century, died a suicide Saturday, abandoned by his friends among the nation's high and mighty. Whether his death would touch off even more torrid scandals was the talk of London.

The society osteopath left an unfinished letter saying he killed himself "to disappoint the vultures" because he knew he would be convicted of vice charges.

Ward died in St. Stephen's Hospital at 10:50 a.m. EDT, still in a coma three and a half days after he swallowed a massive dose of sleeping pills just hours before a criminal court jury convicted him of living off the earnings of two call girls — Christine Keeler, 21, and Marilyn (Mandy) Rice - Davies, 18.

In a last letter released by Noel Howard Jones, advertising executive at whose apartment Ward took the fatal drug dose, the osteopath told his friend:

"I only hope this has done the job. Delay resuscitation as long as possible."

"It is really more than I can stand," Ward's note said. "It is a wish not to let them get me. I would rather get myself..."

In a statement released by her attorneys Saturday night, Miss Keeler said she was "very distressed by the news of Dr. Ward, who has played a central part in her life and for whom her feelings were very strong."

It said Christine felt so badly she was abandoning plans to play herself in a project movie about her life and added: "She has no plans for any other engagements."

Ward had been kept alive for some 80 hours, despite development of bronchial pneumonia, with the aid of an electronic lung and injections.

He died without ever knowing that a jury of 11 men and one woman had convicted him on the two vice charges, on which he could have served 14 years, in the scandal that almost brought down the Conservative government and forced the resignation of War Minister John Profumo who lied about his relations with Miss Keeler.

New Disclosures Possible Ward's death raised the possibility of new exposures in the sensational sex-and-security scandal.

Ward's last girl friend, red-haired 22-year-old singer Julie Gulliver had warned that "if he dies I'll make sure it is not in vain."

"He is not going to die to let a whole lot of people get off scot free. If he dies I'm going to make sure their names are mentioned."

It remained to see what she would tell.

Miss Gulliver, like Ward, had expressed bitterness that none of Ward's high-placed friends had come to his defense. None of his friends—male or female, high or low — were at Ward's bedside when death came Saturday to the man who will live in British memory as something of a one-man "vice incorporated."

Saturday an Englishman who claimed to have been a friend of Ward's telephoned the UPI and other news services and reeled off some names of famous people.

Violence Worst in 10 Years

CHICAGO (UPI) — Tough policemen and peace-making clergymen worked in tandem Saturday to curb the violence of Chicago's worst racial outbreak of the decade.

There were guarded hopes that the bitterness and turmoil which has torn a South Side neighborhood for five consecutive nights was easing.

Angry crowds of adults and teenagers, some wearing swastika bands, milled again Friday night through the West Englewood neighborhood where whites have protested with bricks and jeers against the move-in of three Negro families.

Forty-seven persons were arrested, bringing the total for the week to 180. The crowds were sullen, but smaller. Police had feared the night would be the worst of the week. Instead, crowds had no time to gather as motorcycle officers roared down sidewalks and demonstrators were hustled into paddy wagons at the first sign of trouble.

Edward Marciniak, director of the Chicago Commission on Human Relations, credited much of the change in atmosphere to 30 clergymen of the Roman Catholic and Protestant faiths who roamed the area Friday and Friday night pleading for tolerance and exhorting community leaders to work for racial peace.

"Things look much, much better," Marciniak said. "But we can't be sure what will happen over the weekend."

Elsewhere in Chicago, 35 sign-carrying integrationists picketed the mobile school site where demonstrators laid down in the mud Friday in protest against alleged school segregation. Police carried away 87 of the "lay-down" demonstrators and placed them under arrest yesterday.

Saturday, integrationist groups scheduled meetings to plan new demonstrations.

In racial developments elsewhere in the country: —Some of the nation's top Negro leaders gathered for a "summit meeting" in New York to complete plans for a massive civil rights march on Washington Aug. 28. Those attending the Harlem meeting included the Rev. Martin Luther King; James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE); and John Lewis, chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

Reflects Bitter Feeling Ward's letter to Jones was one of 13 said to have been left by Ward before he committed suicide. The one released Saturday reflected Ward's bitter feeling that he was the scapegoat in the sex-and-security scandal he started by bringing together Miss Keeler, War Secretary Profumo and Soviet attache Eugene Ivanov.

As an osteopath, a profession he learned in the United States, Ward had treated the wealthy and the famous — kings and rajahs, movie stars such as Elizabeth Taylor, Danny Kaye and Ava Gardner. He also claimed statesmen, including U.S. Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman among his patients.

As a self-taught artist, he sketched members of the British royal family, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, and cabinet ministers, along with the gay girls and playboys in his circle.

It was Ward's introduction of Christine to Profumo and Ivanov that set the stage for the monumental scandal. It led to court testimony that there had been intimacies between Christine, or Mandy and such figures as Lord Astor and former movie star Douglas Fairbanks Jr. Both Fairbanks and Astor denied it.

Miss Keeler testified that it was at Lord Astor's Cliveden estate that she met Profumo, when he surprised her as she was emerging following a nude swim in the Astor pool.

Profumo lied to the House of Commons about his relationship with Christine and then resigned in disgrace when the truth came out that he and the Russian, Ivanov, had been lovers of Miss Keeler at the same time.

Soviets Accuse Chinese Cousins MOSCOW (UPI) — Communist Russia accused Communist China Saturday of taking a position tantamount to advocating thermonuclear war in which "others" would pay with their lives.

Moscow also charged that Peking was "emasculating" the Communist movement.

It criticized China's refusal to sign the partial nuclear test ban agreement reached in Moscow by Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union last week.

The double attack was published in the Soviet party newspaper Pravda and in a government statement by the official Tass news agency.

Tass said the Chinese position on the test ban was "tantamount to actual connivance with those who advocate world thermonuclear war."

Pravda said the Chinese mistakenly believe "the center of the world revolutionary movement is where uprisings are the most numerous and where weapons are used the more often."

Pope's Remarks Aimed at Dispute

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI Saturday called on the Roman Catholic leadership of South Viet Nam, which has been accused of discriminating against not to "ignore the rights" of its people.

The pontiff made no direct reference to South Vietnamese President Ngo Din Diem's three month religious crisis when he spoke to an audience of 42 Vietnamese students at European universities. But there appeared little doubt his remarks were aimed at the dispute.

Pope Paul told the students they must discover that unity is the secret of the church.

"And that discovery will be all the more marvelous inasmuch as it will show you how this spiritual vocation to unity applies equally to your noble nation, as to others, with this essential priority: that it does not ignore the rights, the merits, the characteristic aspects of the country named; that it does not suffocate the genius of the people to which it addresses itself," he said.

Million-Dollar Jobs Give Boost To Construction

DALLAS (UPI)—An unusual number of large million-dollar jobs partially accounted for an increase in construction awards in Texas for July, 1963, the magazine Texas Contractor said Saturday.

For the first seven months of the year, construction awards totaled $728,363,241. The amount is expected to push well past the billion-dollar mark by the year's end.

July was one of the top months during the past decade. The $115,362,510 put under contract for July was slightly below July, 1962, and about $35 million short of the 1955 high.

Two Are Slain In Engine Cab

HAMMOND, Ind. (UPI)—An engineer and fireman were shot to death Saturday at the controls of their diesel locomotive as they awaited tower clearance to start their 34-car train.

Victims of the mystery slayings were Roy M. Bortoff, 67, Lansing, Ill., the engineer, and Paul A. Overstreet, 45, Hammond, veteran employes of the Indiana Harbor Belt Railroad.

Police Capt. Raymond Johnson, Hammond's detective chief, called in the Federal Bureau of Investigation to aid in the case. He said the killings apparently were without motive and there were no clues to the killer.

The only leads were four empty .22 caliber shell casings, three of them found in the cab near the bodies and the fourth found outside on the ground.

Johnson discounted speculation that an irate motorist, angered by being delayed by the stopped train, might have pumped the bullets into the train crewmen. He pointed out that the train was in the yards and was not blocking any grade crossing.

685 Are Arrested In Demonstration

GADSDEN, Ala. (UPI)—About 1,000 singing and praying Negroes, including children and women with babies in their arms, Saturday staged the largest anti-segregation demonstration in this city's history. Police arrested about 685 of them.

A sheriff's deputy said about 200 of these were juveniles and they were released.

UN Command Warns North Korean Reds

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI)—The United Nations Command warned the North Korean Communists Saturday in a special armistice commission meeting they were "seriously jeopardizing" the Korean truce by waging a campaign of open terror in Korea's tense demilitarized zone.

U.S. Marine Maj. Gen. George H. Cloud, chief U.N. Command delegation to the commission, told the Communists they "bear full responsibility" for the consequences of their campaign which already has claimed the lives of three U.S. GIs.

"Your murderers will be relentlessly searched out day and night," Cloud told the chief Communist delegate, Maj. Gen. Chang Jung Wung, in a dramatic meeting lasting more than three hours in this historic truce village.

Cloud expressed outrage at the "provocative, hostile" incidents along the truce line and demanded the Communist North Koreans keep their "bloodthirsty personnel" out of the Korean demilitarized zone.

The U.N. Command called Saturday's meeting to protest the ambush of three American soldiers last Monday about 100 yards south of the demilitarized zone in an area guarded by the U.S. First Cavalry.

The soldiers were attacked from behind while riding in a marked jeep to a regular observation post. North Korean infiltrators sprayed them with machine gun fire and hurled hand grenades at them.

Two Americans were killed and one seriously wounded in the incident.

The UNC also protested an incident created by the same band of Koreans Tuesday, in which a third American soldier was killed along with a South Korean policeman.

In addition, Cloud took the North Koreans to task for a two-hour gunfight, which occurred early Saturday morning in the U.S. First Cavalry area along the truce line.

Arbiters Decide For Contractors In Job Dispute

In a dispute Friday between the city and Brodie-Enix Construction Co., Inc., of Amarillo, over engineering terms of a contract, an arbitration board of three engineers awarded the construction company their requested amount of $5,931.26.

Of this amount, $3,826.86 was for laying concrete paving under asphalt and $2,094.40 was for replacing sewer and water lines, according to City Attorney Bob Gordon.

"At the time final payment was made on the contract to repair water and sewage lines, the city agreed to pay the undisputed contract price of $223,126.28," Wayland Merriman, acting city engineer and consulting engineer for the project, said. "At the time final payment was made in January 1962, two items were in question. The city commission agreed to leave it open and let an arbitration board decide whether or not the city was to pay the disputed amount."

One item questioned concerned the block between Tuke and Thut Sts., which is an alley between the 600 block of Cuyler and Ballard, according to George W. Thompson, a civil engineer and a member of the board.

It was a question whether to call it a street or an alley. In the city's specifications, it was specified to be paid for as a street, but the contractors considered it to be an alley, where it costs more to lay pipelines because of inconvenience in maneuvering trucks and diggers around buildings.

Also, contractors said their contract proposals did not call for laying concrete under asphalt in industrial areas, but since the city's contract specifications said to do so, they did. The board granted the extra compensation requested.

Arbitration board members were George W. Thompson, 2228 Dogwood, Thompson Engineering Co.; Milo Carlson, 2211 Charles, J. E. Carlson, Inc., Construction Co. and Glen Hatfield, Hatfield Construction Company of Amarillo.

C. E. Fry and Wade Taylor of Amarillo represented the construction company. The company's attorneys were Lloyd King and Dean Dunlap of Amarillo.

VFW Auxiliary Post Will Sponsor Annual School Essay Contest

The Pampa Ladies Auxiliary to Post No. 1657, Veterans of Foreign Wars, announced Friday it will sponsor an annual national high school writing contest.

Students in all public, private and parochial high schools are eligible to compete. Winners of the local contest will compete with high school students all over Texas, according to Mrs. Vernon Stuckey, local secretary. The state winner will compete for national awards, first place, $1,000 cash; second, $500; third, $250; fourth, $100 and gold medals and 20 other cash awards for honorable mention.

The Pampa contest will be sponsored through Pampa High School and will begin after school starts in September, Mrs. Stuckey said.

The writing contest, started in 1935, gives students a problem in patriotism or citizenship on which to study and write an essay. This year's topic is "The Foreign Student in America—An Opportunity for Friendship."

During the last school year, more than 42,000 students participated in the contest which closed in April. Mrs. Florence Ronald, publisher of the Daily Republic, Mitchell, S.D., was chairman of the national judges. Other judges

Farm Bureau Head Says Good Life Is Not Possible Without Freedom

DALLAS (UPI)—The president of the Arizona Farm Bureau federation said Friday "good life is not possible without freedom and only the people, by their will and by their dedication to freedom, can make the good life come to pass."

Marvin Morrison addressed the closing session of the annual four-day Texas Farm Bureau leadership training institute in Dallas.

"The responsibility of freedom falls on free men, and free men can preserve it only if they are militant about freedom," Morrison said. "We ought to get angry when rights are violated and make ourselves heard until the wrong is righted."

He said defense of freedom often calls for vigorous action which "takes faith, unselfishness, and courage."

"But it has to be done if we are to remain free," he said.

He said, "good citizenship is not so complicated."

"Stick to what is right," he advised. "Be truthful; be honest; be unselfish; seek happiness through achievement; be adventurous in spirit."

Atlanta Woman Hiccups for Last 26 Days

ATLANTA (UPI) — Mrs. Lucy McDonald has been hiccupping since July 8.

Sometimes she hiccups at a fast rate. Sometimes it slows down a bit.

"Right now I'm hiccupping about 13 times a minute," she said Thursday.

"The only time I get any rest from it is at night when I take sleeping pills."

Mrs. McDonald, 38, is a soda fountain clerk. She started hiccupping when she paid a visit to a sister in a hospital.

Doctors said the hiccupping was caused by an attack on the nerves which control diaphragm muscles, possibly a virus.

Store Sales Up Seven Per Cent

DALLAS (UPI) — Department store sales increased seven per cent in the 11th Federal Reserve District for the week ended July 27, compared with a previous period in 1962, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas said today.

Dallas and El Paso each had 9 per cent increases in sales; Houston sales were up 1 per cent. San Antonio sales were unchanged.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

The Center will enroll for new swim lessons Aug. 22 and 23 and will start classes Sept. 3. Enrollment will be from 2-5 p.m. Classes will run Monday thru Friday and last for three weeks. Center members will receive preference. Anyone may, however, join the Center. Dues are $5 and $8 for individuals and $12 and $20 for family memberships. Sustaining memberships are $25 or more, according to the amount a person or business wishes to contribute.

The classes will offer Polywog lessons (ages 4-6) at 3 p.m.; Beginner at 4 p.m. and adult swim lessons at 5 p.m.

Starting Sept. 3 a gym schedule will be offered taking into consideration each age group. An open volleyball league for men and women, Jr. and Sr. High students and a civic league volleyball time will be offered. Trampoline for each age group, a family time and plenty of open activity will be offered. On Saturday mornings a basketball clinic will be held featuring Coach Culley's staff as instructors.

A new policy calls for the closing of the Center during home football and basketball games and then opening up afterwards for dances.

Parents interested in a recreation school for their children should contact the Center. A Recreation and School of Instruction will be offered from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday thru Friday. Group games, tumbling, trampolining, arts and crafts, swim lessons and picture recognition will be offered to mention only a few of the activities. Charge for the school is $1.35 per day and $7.50 for half days. Parents and children do not have to be members of the Center. No hot lunch is planned but sack lunches may be brought and eating will be supervised. Milk will be served in the morning and afternoons. Enrollment is now being taken until Aug. 15.

Swim classes enrolled for Aug. 19-30 will take their last three days of instruction during the afternoon. Polywogs will meet at 3 p.m., Beginners at 4 p.m. and Advanced Beginners at 5 p.m. This change is necessitated by the starting of the public schools Aug. 28.

Tuesday night the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce met at the Center for an orientation of new members, a volleyball game, and a swim afterwards. Attending were Gary Frasier, A. J. Carubbi, Jim Alexander, John Osborne, Bennie Shackelford, R. F. MacDonald, Gage Robertson, James Malone and Bert Queen. Other clubs are invited to use these facilities.

Memorial Home Ground Breaking Set For Aug. 11

CANADIAN (Sp) — Formal ground-breaking ceremonies for the Edward Abraham Memorial Home, a $304,000 convalescent home for elder citizens of the northeast Panhandle area, will be held at 6 p.m. Sunday afternoon, Aug. 11, at the building site at Sixth and Birch Sts.

Actual work on the project already has been started by the contractor, Dun & Wilson Construction Co. of Tulsa, but formal ground-breaking ceremony was delayed until all principals could be present.

Naim Abraham, father of the family whose gifts, a total of $70,000 in cash, plus the building site itself, have made the Memorial Home possible, will turn the first spadeful of earth in the brief ceremony. Following him, in turn, will be his three sons, Tom, Naceeb, and Malouf Abraham.

The home is being built as a memorial to another Abraham son, Edward Abraham, who was spearheading a drive to establish such a home as a community project at the time of his death nearly two years ago.

The 34-bed convalescent home will be built and furnished at a total cost of $304,000. Of this amount, $152,000, has been granted from Hill-Burton funds to match local contributions.

Of the remaining $152,000, a total of $70,000 has been given by the Abraham families and $82,000 more has been given or pledged by the citizens of the northeast Panhandle area which will be served by the convalescent home.

Directors of the project expect to raise the remaining $20,000 through similar contributions in the next few weeks. The building is expected to be completed in five or six months.

FAINT FROM SHOCK
TOKYO (UPI) — One man was fatally injured Friday night and several persons fainted from shock when a man's leg crashed through the window of a speeding train. Authorities said a young man apparently leaped off another train in a suicide plunge, his leg was severed by the train wheel and flipped up hurtling through a coach window.

Army Corporal Who Defected to Red China Returns Disillusioned

By ARTHUR L. DOMMEN
United Press International
HONG KONG (UPI)—A former American Army corporal who chose communism and lived for nine years in Red China said yesterday the experience disillusioned him.

Lowell D. Skinner of Akron, Ohio, who was captured during the Korean War and refused repatriation after the armistice 10 years ago, left Red China Thursday on his way back home at last. The 32-year-old Skinner, one of 21 American soldiers captured by the Reds and who elected to stay behind, described conditions in China now as improved over the chaotic situation that prevailed during the "great leap forward" that failed in 1959 and the withdrawal of Soviet help to Peking in 1960. But the life there is still far from good, he said.

"If you want to change your work, you can't," he said. "If you want to study, you can't. If you want to travel, you can't." "In 1958 (when the "great leap" program started) the people thought they were going to gain something. But then they got tired and tired."

"All Mixed Up"
When the "great leap forward" of Communist Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung started in 1958, "things got all mixed up," Skinner said, especially in the field of agricultural production.

"He said the Chinese at that time 'didn't produce too much.' Skinner said that at the height of the "great leap" program he actually had a home steel furnace set up in his backyard in Tsinan.

"It didn't work," he said, reflecting the general opinion about the backyard steel production experiment, which dated from the Peking Communist party's directives about organizing people's communes in 1958.

"He said that at the height of the "leap forward" program—in September 1958—it was common for people in Red China to work 21 hours a day. But now the work day is back to eight hours, he said.

Skinner said life inside Red China grew very difficult in 1959-60, with 1960 the worst year of hardship for the Chinese population.

That was the year the Russians withdrew, and a period which was further complicated by "droughts and floods, bad management, and lack of experience."

"If we had to live like ordinary people, no one would have survived," he said. Foreigners were given better rations than the Chinese, he said.

Suffer Malnutrition
He said that office workers with legs and arms swollen from malnutrition were a common sight in those days.

Skinner, who married a Chinese girl who remained behind when he left, said that in 1960 the Russians at one point demanded that the Chinese repay old debts—"mainly Korean War debts, but also (those) for the large industrial enterprises."

He said the Russian withdrawal principally had affected the construction of textile and fertilizer plants.

"Some of these big enterprises had to stop after the Russians left," he said.

Noting the cooling-off of Soviet-Red Chinese relations, Skinner said that in 1957-58 there was no talk about Moscow - Peking troubles.

But just before all the Russian technical experts left Tsinan in 1960, he said he noticed a remarkable increase in the violence of anti-Russian statements by the Chinese.

Asked about relations between the workers in the factory in which he was employed in Tsinan and the Communist party officials or cadres, Skinner said:

"An ordinary cadre wouldn't go out and have a can of beer with him (the ordinary worker)."

Gain Experience
Summing up the "great leap forward," Skinner said: "The gain was experience, not material."

He said that conditions now are improved, and that the commune system, basically modified as a result of the disastrous years of 1959-1960, was working better than before.

Skinner said there had been dissatisfaction in 1959-60 with the Peking regime's program, and that people "were trying to get out of the country" then and later.

He said he heard about the exodus of more than 60,000 refugees from southern Kwangtung Province into Hong Kong in May, 1962, getting the word from travelers and from Tsinan people who received letters from the refugees.

Probe Ordered in Job Complaints

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman a congressional investigation of man Tom Murray, D-Tenn., of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee has ordered

Murray, acted after Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., charged that the Dallas Post Office promoted three Negroes to supervisory positions, passing over 53 white men who had higher eligibility ratings. The investigation will be headed up by Rep. David Henderson, D-N.C., chairman of the manpower utilization subcommittee.

Five Pampa Rebels Named To Levelland All-Tourney Team

U.S. Takes Lead at London

LONDON (UPI) — America's record-conscious 440-yard relay suffered a stunning upset in the first day of the U.S. - Britain track and field meet Saturday but the American men piled up a 61-44 team lead and the U.S. women managed to trail by only one point at 28-27.

The U.S. men broke two British "all comers" records—Hayes Jones of Detroit winning the 120-yard high hurdles in 13.8 seconds and Ralph Boston of Los Angeles broad jumping 25 feet, 10 inches. And Bob Hayes tied the White City stadium record by winning the 100-yard dash in 9.5 seconds on the rain-soaked track.

But even the great Hayes couldn't save the U.S. 440 - yard relay from defeat — a real jolt to the Yanks because U.S. coach Payton Jordan had forecast they would break the world record of 39.6 seconds.

Instead it was the British foursome that tied a world record by winning in 40.0 seconds, matching the mark for running this relay around two turns. The Britons—Pete Radford and the three Jones boys, Ron, David and Berwyn—won by a strike as anchor man Crall players are Randy Ziebarth, Steve Bossay, Dick Thompson, Gary Parrish and Fillmore Merrill. Others include: Mike Comas, Your Laundry; Joe Daniels and Jay Johnson, C&M; Eddie Hopkins and Dennis Hickey, Highland Pharmacy; Dan Craig and Ted White, Shelby Ruff; Jim Hollis and Mickey Ebenkamp, B&B Pharmacy.

LEVELLAND — Five Pampa Rebels made the Levelland Baseball Tourney All-Tournament team and two more were named to the second team.

The Rebs, winners of six straight games in the meet, dominated the choices, with Jerry Garrison and Jim Arthur sharing two of the three pitching berths with Bill Carthel of Plainview.

Kenny Hebert, picked as the outstanding player of the tournament, Larry "Shotgun" Gregory and dropping a one-hitter to Plainview. Jim then went the route for an 8-6 win over Levelland and came in, again in relief of Price, and went four and one-third innings for the victory. Arthur hurled 15 1-3 innings, allowed eight runs, seven earned, and struck up 11 hits, nine walks and gave up 24. Arthur also wielded a powerful stick, batting .429 with three for seven, including a two-run homer to win one game and seeing action in another game as an outfielder. Hebert was the outstanding field-

The first team features Tom Sawyer of Plainview at first base, Ed Stiles of Lubbock at second, Manuel Nagar of Plainview at shortstop and Middleton at third base, with Gregory catching, and an outfield of Hebert, Jim Deshira of Lubbock and Ross Joplin of Levelland.

Dennis Givens of Olton was the second team selection at first base, Stewart at second, John Barnett of Lubbock at shortstop and Carthel at third. Eddie Piercy of Plainview beat out Sylvester Robinson of Slaton for the second-team catcher. Outfielders were Maynard, Don Coleman of Lubbock and Ronnie Jones of Slaton.

Jerry Garrison led the pitching selections, with a deadlock between Arthur and Carthel, putting all three of them on the first team. Carthel kept Plainview in the tournament, winning two games, one of them Pampa's only loss, and going to the eighth inning of the final game before bowing to the Rebs in the rubber match.

Garrison had the best record in the tournament, winning three

Intercity Play Set for Juniors

The first Intercity Tournament in Optimist Youth Baseball will start tomorrow night at 5 p.m., reported tournament directors Ben Hamilton and George Railsback.

Youth Baseball, the Optimist program this year after separating from the national Little Leagues, is run with the same rules and regulations with minor variations. The tournament will match all 18 Pampa teams which have competed in the Eastern, Western and Northern Leagues.

Hamilton reports that the tournament is set except for a shortage of umpires, and that anyone wishing to help is asked to contact Gene Tollison.

Western League diamond (Park I) and Eastern League diamond (Park II) will be the sites of the games. The first night's schedule will have tripleheaders at each park. At Park I, Celanese will play B&B at 5 p.m., Crall vs. Rotary at 7 and C&M vs. Lone Star at 9. Monday night's action at Park II will have Cabot vs. Ruff at 5, Duncan-Roth vs. Dixie at 7 and Duncan vs. Your Laundry at 9. The other six teams will complete first-round action Tuesday, with the second round being played Wednesday, semi-finals Thursday, and the finals at Park I at 7:30 Friday night.

Youth Baseball

Et Al climaxed a rugged road back Friday night when they squeezed out a 2-1 victory over Dixie Parts to win the championship of the Eastern Optimist Youth Baseball League.

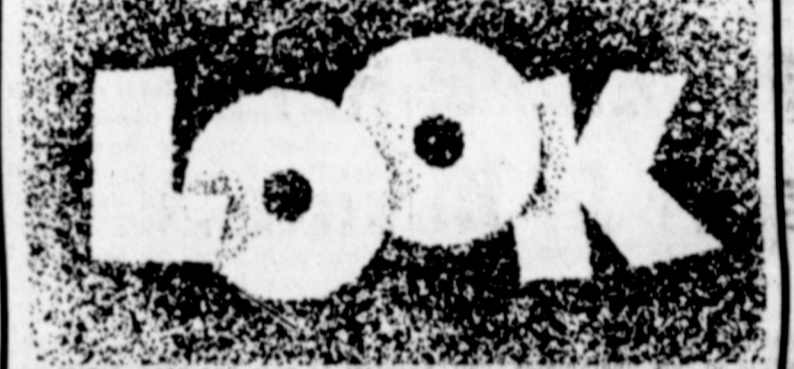

Starting out as the "Misfits," without a sponsor or a winning record and less than a handful of 12-year-olds, they battled back after being adopted by a group of Pampa businessmen and changing their name to "Et Al."

The two teams were tied at 12-2 on the season Friday night, with Al Gomez taking the mound for the Misfits and Dixie Parts sending Dan Carlton to the slab. Et Al scored twice in the third inning and made it good as Gomez hurled a three-hitter, allowing only a run in the sixth and striking out 12 while walking only one. Carlton gave up four hits, walked two and struck out 10 in a great pitching duel. Phillip Long led the hitting with two safe blows.

The managers will announce the All-Star team later this week.

Dear Abby....

Sing Along At Home And Leave Concerts To Artists

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think this is too trivial to answer. I have recently begun to go out with a distinguished bachelor who is in his fifties. I am a widow in my forties. He has escorted me to the ballet, concert and symphony. He is a patron of the arts and I love music. But, Abby, when he sings along with the performing artists, or orchestra, I want to run and hide. I haven't the courage to tell him how much this annoys me, and the "looks" he gets from those seated near us don't seem to penetrate. Is there a polite way to tell him how I feel?

I don't want to lose him.

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: He appears to be a man who wants everyone to know that HE knows the score. Tell him in a friendly way that his "singing along" bothers you and those around you. If he has done this unconsciously, he'll appreciate knowing. If he is aware that he's disturbing others and doesn't care, he's selfish and inconsiderate, in which case, if you lose him, you haven't lost much.

DEAR ABBY: My husband (and I spew the words out of my mouth) was found dead with a woman, in a suicide pact. I made all the necessary funeral arrangements, but did not attend the rites, nor did I send flowers. It may seem hard to believe, Miss Abby, but in the 16 years we were together, right up to the day of his death, I had no knowledge that there was another woman. His family, and mine, condemn me for the stand I have taken, but I cannot be a hypocrite. I have debated writing this letter to you for over a month but, somehow, I feel that your wise counsel will help me. Sincerely,

WITHHOLD MY NAME

DEAR MRS. — Under the circumstances you should not be condemned for refusing to go through the motions of a grieving widow. You have suffered enough humiliation. Don't let his family, or yours, punish you further.

DEAR ABBY: We have a seven-year-old grandson who is smart as a whip. The big problem is that he uses some of the dirtiest words in the English language. At first we thought he didn't know what he was saying, but he uses the words in all the right places. His parents said he must have picked it up at school. His parents tell us to pretend not to hear him. How can you pretend, Abby? My husband almost choked once, and I came close to fainting. What should we do?

HIS GRANDPARENTS DEAR GRANDPARENTS: Seven-year-olds who are this smart in the head should "smack" some place else more often.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "INTERESTED PARTY": Read Proverbs 26:17: "He who seizes a passing dog by the ears is he who meddles in a quarrel not his own."

Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's new booklet, "How To Write Letters For All Occasions."

A Practical Rucksack Carryall

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Make one of these handy, time-saving carryalls and every friend who sees this attractive and practical rucksack will want one.
My dictionary says about a ruck-

Make sure your stitching thread is a good match.

Make a 1/4-inch turn and then a 1/2-inch turn for a center-stitched hem all around the large square of fabric which forms rucksack. Stitch.

For base pocket, make a 1/4-inch hem turn on three raw edges of small square. Center this small square on the wrong side of big square at right angles to corners. Stitch on three turned edges, as broken lines indicate at (A).

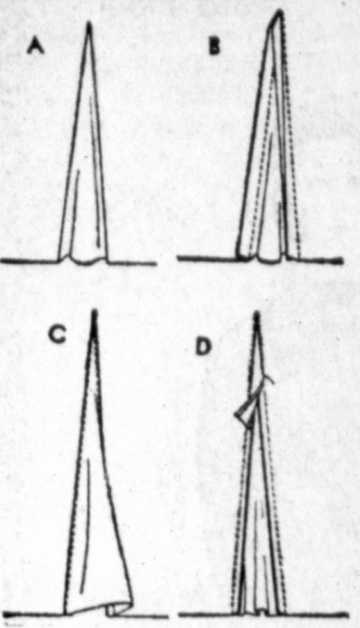

With razor blade cut from firm cardboard or corrugated board a square 1/2-inch smaller than finished pocket. This slips into bottom pocket when carryall is used as in (B). If a soft effect is desired, as in (C), the cardboard can be removed.

Faced Slash: Mark rucksack square for three 2 1/4-inch slashes (see D, E, F). Note direction each slash takes in each corner. Cut three 3 1/2-inch strips of twill tape. Lay one of these on right side of slash, as at (G), marking ends of slash with pins. Stitch as shown and cut between stitching. Turn tape to wrong side and stitch around the slot twice, as in (H), for firmness and neatness and to hold raw edges.

Make handle by folding strip of fabric crosswise, right side in, 19-inch edges together. Pin. Taper ends so that they measure 4-inches, as at (I) and (J), and full width at center (K). Stitch on two sides and across one end. Turn right side out. Turn in raw ends of open end; pin. Place two ends across unslashed corner, as at (L) and stitch across handle three or four times to hold securely.

Now for magic! See the attractive form it takes! Lay rucksack right side down. Bring corner with handle toward center and pull handle through slot (D), then slot (F), then (E). Now that you know how it works, open rucksack up again, pack it full, then close it—and you will be delighted with this practical carryall.

Makes a nice gift for boy or girl for overnight things—hiking trips, etc. Good for carrying baby things, toys, knitting or sewing.

"A loose flat bag supported on the back by straps over the shoulders."

Buy 1 1/2 yards of 36-inch cotton sailcloth, denim, drill or plain-colored bed ticking.

For the rucksack, tear or cut crosswise of the fabric a perfect one-yard square, measured from width.

Tear a 13-inch piece from one end of leftover strip for base pocket. Tear off a 19 by 12 1/2-inch strip for overarm handle. The remaining 4-inch strip may be used for small inside pockets if desired.

The Mature Parent Share Disappointment As Well As Happiness

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Our 17-year-old boys has his heart set on attending an out-of-state college, which has accepted him. It has raised its tuition and dormitory costs far beyond what we can afford. We are going to have to tell him he has to register at our local college and live at home, and we are afraid to do it. He has been looking forward so to college life away from home that we are afraid he may be so disappointed.

made it impossible. There's a kind of egotism in us all that loves to take on blame. If we haven't the money to support a youngster in an out-of-town school, we somehow feel we should have it. What we can do for our boy becomes nothing compared with what we feel we should be able to do for him. As a result of this secret dissatisfaction with ourselves, he feels disapproval of us, too. He may turn upon us with reproaches that echo our own hidden belief that we are disappointing parents.

ANSWER: You and his father are also disappointed. You'd better know this. You'll need your own sadness over this development if you are going to give sympathy to your boy's disappointment. If you don't feel it, you'll be tricked into defending yourselves instead of sympathizing with the sadness back of his possible reproaches.

But if we are not involved with inward disapproval of ourselves, we can share in his disappointment. Instead of apologizing and "explaining" how come we can't afford to give him what he wants, we say: "We are disappointed, too. But we can't change the facts, no matter how sad they make us. So we have been looking at them. Going to college here in town may not be

You haven't made it impossible for him to attend his chosen college. The Board of Trustees has close to the sleek styles for fall that promise to be a happy choice for most of us. POLLY'S POINTERS Diplomatic Way To Nudge Forgetful Book Borrowers

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Here is a diplomatic way to prompt the return of a borrowed book. On the fly leaf of the book write: "It gives me pleasure to know that the following friends have enjoyed this book." Below write the name of each person who has borrowed the book and the date it was borrowed. You would be surprised how soon the book is always returned and with no hard feelings. —MRS. O. G.

DEAR POLLY — All of us are familiar with the trick of putting flour and seasonings in a paper bag and then shaking chicken pieces in the bag to coat them. Perhaps others have also had the sad experience of having the bag break or get soggy. With several chickens to fry, I hit on the idea of using a medium-sized canister instead of a sack. It worked like a charm. I put several pieces of the chicken in at a time, clamp the lid on and shake the canister. It gives a nice even coating and I can knock the pieces on the side of the can to shake off the excess flour.

I certainly have picked up a lot of good pointers and especially like the trick of folding electric cords and sliding them in the cardboard rollers from toilet tissue for storing. This is a neat and clever one. —MRS. W. F.

DEAR POLLY — Do not throw away those soft bristled baby hairbrushes after baby outgrows them. They are wonderful for dusting knickknacks, picture frames, etc.

A small teapot makes an excellent combination pitcher and drinking glass when a child is confined to bed. Its cover keeps out dust and one can drink from the spout while lying down without danger of spilling. When the doctor orders liquids for the children it is easy to get them to take the required amount of water or juices as they think it is great fun to drink from the spout. —MRS. P. B.

DEAR POLLY — Several times guests have told me how handy this idea was for them. I keep a pin cushion in my guest room with needles threaded with three or four colors of thread and some straight pins and safety pins. If, at the last minute, a strap breaks, or a button needs sewing they can do the job without having to ask for anything. —MRS. J. M. M.

Simplicity Has A Head Start

By ALICIA HART
Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Like the twist, teased hair is on its way out in New York. Some hair stylists say that sometimes it takes other areas of the country at least two years to accept styles first introduced in Manhattan. But, if you look around, you will see that smoother, unteased hairdos are appearing everywhere.

It is a good guess that some of these are concessions to hot-weather comfort rather than true new hair designs. But, they are close to the sleek styles for fall that promise to be a happy choice for most of us.

John Christie, New York hair stylist, believes simple yet elegant coiffures are being swept in by the wave of ultrafeminine fashions. Even in their simplicity the sleek new styles require some work. You can't achieve them by merely combing your hair after a quick home shampoo.

Back brushing or lacing is favored by Mr. Christie to give body to the new smooth styles. He says lacing gives your hair body without snarling it and will not break the hair. To lace, use a long, narrow stiff brush and brush the underneath hair toward your scalp. Then brush the top hair smoothly into place.

One style he suggests you try for cool summer wear starts with a tiny center part. Lace your hair directly in back of the part to add height. Also lace the sides for slight fullness. Brush the top hair back smoothly and top your coiffure with a bandeau for a perky look.

Straighter-line hairstyles are on the coiffure horizon. These are by John Christie of New York who prefers to lace or back brush the hair rather than tease it to give it fullness. The hair (left) is brought back off the forehead at the center section. A narrow barrette is slipped in place and the ends of the hair flipped up for sexy end curls. The sides are laced underneath for fullness. Simple and smooth is the style (right) where the hair is brushed from over the right temple slanting to the left. The back hair is brushed to the crown.

Kennedy Ex-Aide Pleads Guilty on Five Tax Counts

NEW YORK (UPI)—James M. Landis, former dean of the Harvard Law School and a one-time assistant to President Kennedy has pleaded guilty to a five-count information charging him with failing to file tax returns on time for the years 1956-60.

Landis, a New York lawyer, served as a special assistant to the President with respect to federal regulatory agencies, U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau said Landis, 43, subsequently filed the returns for the years and paid the taxes required.

Morgenthau disclosed the information only after Landis pleaded guilty Friday before Federal Judge Edward McLain.

The five counts in the information are all misdemeanors and the maximum penalty on each would be one year in prison and a fine of $10,000.

Sentencing was set for Aug. 30 and Landis was released in his own custody till then.

COURTESY CALL
 BERLIN (UPI) — George C. McGhee, new U. S. ambassador to West Germany, will visit East Berlin Monday to make the customary courtesy call on the Soviet ambassador to East Germany. McGhee will arrive here Sunday by automobile from the West German capital of Bonn and fly back Wednesday night.

Fifth of Income Is For Interest And Payments

The American people are now paying a fifth of their personal income after taxes to meet the repayment and interest charges on the debts they have built up over the past decade and a half to buy homes, cars and the variety of other consumer goods and services characteristic of our rising standard of living, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

The figure was placed at $75 billions for 1962, or practically a billion and a half dollars a week, in a recent tabulation by the U. S. Department of Commerce, the Institute stated. It is substantially greater than the personal tax bill (Federal, State and local combined), the Institute noted, and next to food and shelter is the biggest single charge on the individual and family pocketbook.

"Close to four-fifths of debt payments represent repayment of principal," the Institute said. "Total personal debt retirement last year added up to nearly $59 billions and consisted of $47½ billions of payments on consumer credit and over $11 billions of non-farm home mortgage repayment. Interest charges added up to something over $16 billions.

"The magnitude attained by overall debt payments reflects the record size of personal borrowing, which added up to just under $232 billions outstanding at the end of last year. More than $168 billions, or close to three-quarters of the total, represented mortgage debt on one- to four-family nonfarm homes. The balance consisted of consumer credit and was dominated by installment loans.

"Significant in this connection is the increasing extent that debt is being protected against the contingencies of life for the benefit of the borrower and his dependents. For example, more than $38 billions of credit life insurance were in force at the end of last year, while other forms of life insurance provide general protection for mortgage and other debts.

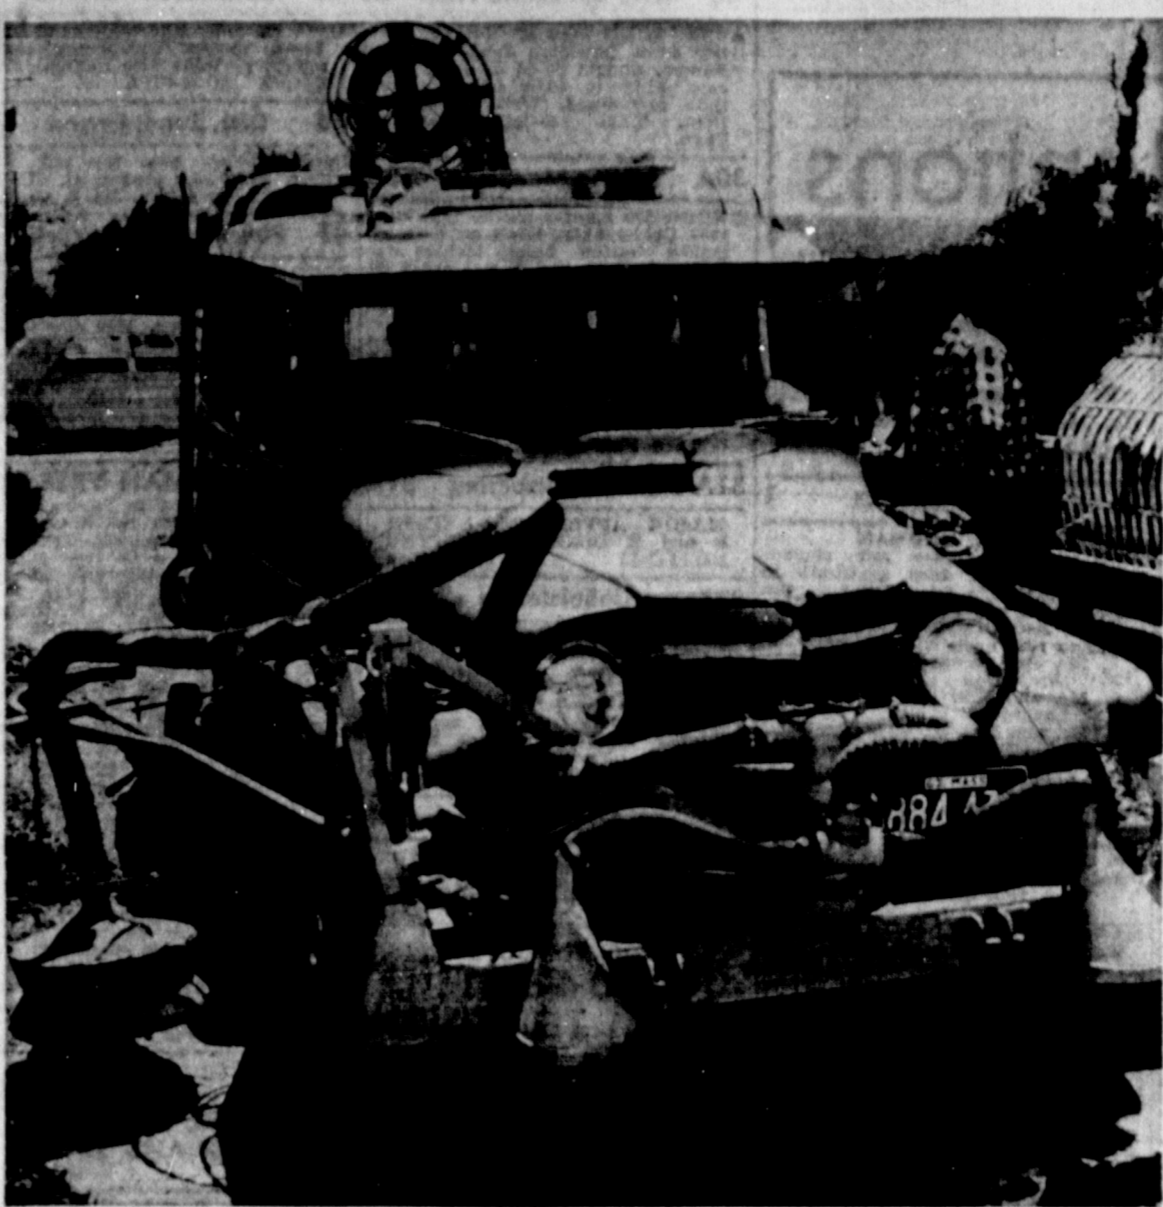

"The initial impetus to personal debt expansion came from the fact that the end of hostilities in 1945 found the public at large in an extraordinarily liquid position after record wartime savings and 'starved' for homes and consumer goods. In more recent years other factors have come to the fore to maintain the consumer spending and borrowing pace, particularly the persistent growth and upgrading of income for millions of families, the rapid expansion in population and in household formation, and the proliferation of 'Buy Now Pay Later' plans.

"In keeping with this trend, the annual dollar figure for personal debt payments and their proportion of the people's spendable income have been going up steadily. Back in 1946 personal debt was at an abnormally low level of just over $31 billions and the year's repayment and interest charges were only $10 billions or little more than six cents of the people's spendable income dollar. By 1955 combined debt retirement and interest had crossed $45 billions annually, or 16½ cents of the personal spendable income dollar, with the outstanding debt up to over $127 billions. The 1962 figure of $75 billions came to just under 20 cents of the personal spendable income dollar, with the rate of growth showing a significant slowing down from the earlier years of the postwar period.

"Whether or to what extent people may have exceeded the limits of prudence in their willingness to borrow and to commit an increasing proportion of their income in advance is a moot question. However, it is a fact that the overwhelming majority of Americans have established an excellent record of credit worthiness by meeting their obligations on time. And of major importance, too, is the great growth in the people's financial resources over recent years and the extraordinary expansion of private and public personal protection programs to help the individual and the family meet the economic impact of death, retirement, accident and illness, disability and unemployment.

"Accumulated long-term savings of individuals, for example, are now more than $370 billions and figure out to the equivalent of $6,700 for every household in the land. And, led by life insurance and annuity benefits, payments under personal protection programs, public and private combined, have crossed the $40 billion mark annually.

FLIES TO ROMANIA
 WARSAW (UPI) — U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman ended a three-day visit to Poland Saturday and flew to Bucharest, Romania. He will spend two days in Romania and then travel to Bulgaria, becoming the first U. S. cabinet minister to visit those two nations since World War II.

That Octopus in Your Alley Is Just a Friendly Safety Machine

That strange looking vehicle you may see creeping slowly along downtown and residential streets is not checking "fallout" radiation or sub-surface mineral deposits as some people have surmised. It is a mobile electronic gas leakage detector — the newest scientific tool of Health Survey Consultants — gas leakage safety experts — employed by Pioneer Natural Gas Co. to check the gas distribution system for possible leakage.

As the mobile detector cruises slowly along the street or alley over the gas mains, air samples are drawn in through suction tubes mounted on the vehicle. After conditioning, the sample air flows through a super-sensitive instrument which can detect even minute quantities of methane gas. The concentrations of methane are recorded on a moving strip chart and analyzed by the highly skilled and trained operator. The mobile detector instruments are so sensitive that it is possible to detect as little as 1 part gas in 1 million parts air.

At the end of each day's survey, the strip charts, with location of each leak, if any, marked thereon, are turned over to the gas company personnel for further investigation.

"These regular checks of the system are an important part of our program to insure the safest and most efficient distribution of natural gas," Norman Henry, local manager for Pioneer, said Saturday.

AVS to Protest Use of Animals For Lab Testing

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The American Anti-Vivisection Society (AVS) today protested strongly an Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) plan to use 1,000 dogs and more than 10,000 smaller laboratory animals in radioactivity tests during the next few years.

William S. Brown, AVS vice-president said "the stilled voices of human victims call to us from their graves, pleading mercy for all living things" and made a plea to "hear their call and stop this senseless, useless cruelty."

Brown said the AVS will place its protest on record with the AEC and will print an editorial in the next issue of the society's magazine asking citizens to write letters of protest to their senators.

HONOR CARDINAL
 WARSAW (UPI) — Bishops and other church dignitaries from throughout Poland honored Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński Saturday on his 62nd birthday. The cardinal celebrated Mass in his private chapel and then received representatives from every Polish diocese as well as a number of bishops.
