(1) To centralize the constantly expanding activities in his behalf under one roof and one experienced director; (2) take the Arizonan's campaign out of the regional or sectional category and give it national stature both in the party and the country at large. Much stress is now being placed on the latter point in inner Goldwater circles.

In these quarters it is considered vital that no time be lost in making it unequivocally clear that Goldwater is a national candidate with strong backing in both parties in all sections of the country. For this purpose a campaign manager of national standing is deemed indispensable.

THE KENNEDYS - Senator "Ted" Kennedy is trying to per-suade one of his New England colleagues, preferably a Republican, to lead the floor fight for the $50 million electronics research center that the President proposes to locate in Boston. The Senate Space Committee, on the first showdown, voted against this politics - loaded project by a 6 to 5 margin. Whatever the final outcome in the committee, a stormy floor fight is certain in the full Senate. Behind-the scenes, young Kennedy is pulling every wire to put over the giant project, to make good his 1962 campaign boast, "I can do more for Massachusetts." But the White House has advised him against spearheading the floor battle, so "Ted is seeking a New England colleague to fill that role. .
