Khrushchev Asks West To Open Cold War Parley

Earthquake Toll Now in Thousands

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI) — A "catastrophic" earthquake today destroyed more than half the city of Skopje 200 miles south of Belgrade and was reported to have caused thousands of deaths and injuries.

The official Yugoslav news agency Tanjug quoted rescue teams in the stricken city of Skopje as saying "over a thousand people have lost their lives" in the disaster.

"The number of injured exceeds several thousand," it added.

"Over 100,000 people were made homeless in a few seconds," Tanjug said, adding that "nearly three-quarters" of the city was destroyed.

Tanjug reported that "all 300 guests" in the 80-room hotel Macedonia, one of the main buildings in Skopje, were killed and the structure itself "completely shattered."

Other high buildings in the capital city of Yugoslavia were reported to have been toppled by the force of the earthquake. Much of the city was rebuilt after World War II bomb destruction and many of the buildings were modern, concrete structures.

"Tens of thousands of people are standing in the streets scared, many of them injured," Tanjug said.

A Yugoslav newsman near the disaster area told UPI by telephone that "thousands" were killed and many more injured.

Aleksandar Blagojevi, a Yugoslav airlines pilot who flew to Belgrade from Skopje after the earthquake, said he saw "great numbers of dead and injured lying in the streets."

The earthquake, which was centered in downtown Skopje, struck about 5:15 a.m. (12:15 a.m. EDT).

"All the buildings" in the center of the city were "partially or completely destroyed," Tanjug said.

"Entire settlements, including a large number of those built after the war, are completely destroyed," it reported.

Authorities were in touch with the city by radio, but virtually all other communications were cut off.

President Will Explain Nuclear Treaty In Talk

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy is expected to tell the nation and its allies tonight that the partial test ban treaty with Russia is a heartening first step toward slowing the nuclear arms race but by no means the end of the cold war.

The President scheduled a radio-television address at 5 p.m. CST to explain the details of the agreement initiated in Moscow Thursday by U.S., British and Russian representatives. The pact outlaws air, space and underwater blasts but permits continued underground testing.

One aim of the President's half hour talk undoubtedly is to rally public support for the agreement and bolster its chances in the Senate, where it requires approval by a two-thirds majority.

High officials said, however, that Kennedy's principal purpose was to put the agreement in perspective.

While emphasizing the treaty's importance as the first real break in the long disarmament deadlock, the chief executive is reported anxious to head off runaway optimism which could lead to a fatal relaxation of western defense efforts.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk plans to fly to Moscow next week with a bipartisan congressional group to formally sign the pact. It was initiated for the United States by Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman after 10 days of negotiation with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and British Science Minister Lord Hailsham and private talks with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Kennedy and Rusk will get a first-hand report from Harriman Sunday at the summer White House at Hyannisport, Mass. Harriman is flying there directly from Moscow to report on the treaty talks as well as his arranging sessions with Khrushchev.

As a result of the talks with the Soviet leader, the United States agreed to continue discussions of Khrushchev's proposal for an East-West non-aggression pact.

Declares War Danger Is Not Out of Picture

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev appealed to the West today to follow up the partial nuclear test ban pact with new negotiations aimed at erasing cold war differences.

He pledged "there would be no shortage of goodwill on the Soviet side."

In a joint interview with the official government Izvestia and the official Communist party newspaper Pravda, Khrushchev said the Soviet Union, the United States and Britain should not rest now that a partial test ban treaty has been reached.

The Soviet leader said the treaty "ought to promote a general relaxation of international tension, thus creating favorable conditions for a solution of long-matured international problems."

But he warned that it did not end the arms race and could not by itself "avert the danger of war."

Appeals To West

"We appeal to the Western powers with a proposition—let us agree on all these questions," the Soviet leader said.

"We have jointly made the beginning by agreeing on banning nuclear weapons tests. Let us continue toward lessening international tensions and liquidation of the cold war, thereby we will open the way toward deciding the fundamental questions on general and complete disarmament."

He said the question of a "peaceful German settlement" was basic to ending international tensions.

"The Soviet government is ready to conduct negotiations on these questions with representatives of the Western powers on a businesslike basis in an effort to negotiate and conclude a corresponding agreement," Khrushchev said.

He called the partial test ban—which covers nuclear experiments in the atmosphere, outer space and underwater but excludes those set off underground—"a event of international importance."

Emphasis NATO

He placed major emphasis on the conclusion of a non-aggression pact between the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and the eight-nation Communist Warsaw Pact organization.

"It should be a pact of peace among the nuclear powers," he said.

Khrushchev met today with Averell Harriman, chief U.S. negotiator at the concluded test ban talks.

Hot Weather Water Consumption Climbs

If the hot, dry weather continues Pampa's water consumption will soon go over the eight million gallon peak it reached in 1955, E. S. Lowry, city water superintendent, said today.

"Last Saturday, with 7,333,000 gallons, we reached the highest water consumption since 1955," Lowry said, "and by next week I expect it to go as high as nine or 10 million gallons if the weather continues hot and dry."

He said the 1955 peak was due to hot, dry weather similar to the current dry spell.

Pampa has been above the seven million gallon mark all this week except for Sunday. Less water is used on Sundays because more people are out of town on Sunday outings.

The city's 17 wells together can pump at the rate of 20 million gallons a day but individual wells vary as much as 300 gallons a minute to 1,250 gallons a minute.

Pampa's regular minimum rate for 4,000 gallons is $2.60. Each additional thousand, up to 20,000 is 50 cents extra. The lawn rate charge is $3.75 for the 7,000 gallons minimum and 35 cents per 1,000 gallons extra, up to 20,000.

Over 20,000, the rate reduces to 27 cents per thousand, up to 100,000 inside the city limits, according to Lowry. Outside the city limits, the rate is 50 per cent higher.

If people on the lawn rate would use the 20,000 gallons, he stated, they could save $2.30 per month. To be put on the lawn rate, a customer must visit the water department office and sign up for it.

Ward Pictures Self as Protector Of Miss Keeler

LONDON (UPI) — Dr. Stephen Ward testified today at his vice trial that while playing girl Christine Keeler was living in his apartment he was so upset by her immoral behavior that he told her mother on her.

Christine's mother then told him, he said, that the only time she felt happy about her daughter was when Christine was in his flat.

Under cross-examination by the prosecutor, Ward sought to picture himself as the protector of Christine whose affair with War Minister John Profumo touched off Britain's sex scandal.

He grew angry and pounded the edge of the witness box when prosecutor Mervyn Griffith-Jones sought to label him as a middle-aged playboy who lived off the earnings of the girls he brought to his apartment.

"Your sexual desires are absolutely insatiable," Griffith-Jones said.

"I do not think I have any more sexual desires than anyone else," Ward replied. "It is perhaps the variety which is more."

As the prosecutor resumed his prodding Ward pounded on the front of the witness box until the judge interrupted him.

"Outbursts will not help your case," said Justice Sir Archie Marshall.

Before he left the witness stand this afternoon after two days of testimony, Ward said he had introduced Christine, 21, and Marilyn Rice-Davies, 18, to former film star Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and to Lord Astor.

But he denied he was procuring play girls for his friends, although the two girls both have testified that they entertained men in his apartment.

At one point during the cross-examination Griffith-Jones said Christine was having intimate relations with 10 men.

"Yes, but not at my flat," said Ward, osteopath, artist, and friend of society figures.

Ward said he would admit three or four of them visited Christine at his apartment "but not most of them."

The prosecutor then asked if it had not occurred to Ward to warn Christine's parents of her behavior, and the osteopath said he had done so in a telephone call to her mother.

Unions Balking At ICC Plan to Settle Dispute

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Commerce Committee called the heads of five railroad unions today to outline why they would be opposed to the President's proposal that the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) settle the work rules dispute.

One of the five, Charles Luna of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, charged Thursday night in a statement that the bill is a form of compulsory arbitration and said "giving the ICC life and death control over our working rules is just about the worst possible solution."

Luna said he would rather "let Congress order the parties to bargain, and name a group to sit in and observe what happens. They will soon find out where the free process of bargaining is breaking down," he said, apparently referring to management charges that it is the unions who are refusing to bargain the differences that four times have led to the brink of a nationwide rail strike.

Also called to testify today were R. E. Davidson, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; L. J. Wagner, president of the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen; N. P. Speirs, president of the Switchmen's Union, and H. E. Gilbert, international president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

The latest postponement of railroad plans to post work rules eliminating so-called featherbedding jobs and practices, which would touch off a strike, came Thursday when the railroads agreed to a congressional request that they delay the action for an other 30 days. The imposition of the new rules had been set for 12:01 a.m. Tuesday.

Congressional leaders had asked the delay to give them more time to consider President Kennedy's plan. Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the Commerce Committee, said the 30 days should be "plenty of time for Congress to take whatever action is needed."

If the President's bill passes before Aug. 29, railroad management could not impose the work rules and the unions could not strike for a two-year period while the ICC referees the dispute.

Satellite Goes Into Earth Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The United States today launched a Syncom 2 satellite into an orbit 140 miles high and planned to move it toward a "hanging" orbit at 22,300 miles above earth about 4 p.m. EDT.

Scientists said about one hour after the 10:33 a.m. EDT launch the mission appeared to be "completely normal at this time."

If successful, Syncom 2 will be capable of telephone, telegraph and facsimile transmission within two to four days.

Tragic Events During Last Five Weeks Lead to Woman's Death in Motel Room

By ROBERT T. LOUGHRAN CHICAGO (UPI) — In five short weeks, life fell apart for Mary Jane Dunlap.

Her husband, Lawrence, a Chicago traffic policeman, died June 20.

A few days later, her father died, and Mrs. Dunlap, 39, made the long trip to Southern Illinois for his funeral.

Then she had a miscarriage. That was especially hard for her because although her husband had four children by a previous marriage they did not have any of their own.

But doctors found that hers was a psychosomatic pregnancy. She really wasn't pregnant at all. A week ago Wednesday, Mrs. Dunlap returned to her West Side apartment with a newborn baby. She invited the neighbors in to see the child and she told them it was hers.

She treated the infant tenderly and stayed up late that night, caring for it.

The next day, Federal Bureau of Investigation agents came to the apartment and arrested Mrs. Dunlap. They said she had kidnapped the 18-day-old daughter of Mrs. Rose Burnham, 19, in downtown Metropolis, Ill.

Mrs. Burnham, whose husband is stationed at Ft. Campbell, Ky., had told officers that a "well-dressed, well-spoken" stranger with her blonde hair swept into a French twist had come to the home of her parents in Metropolis.

Mrs. Burnham said the woman persuaded her to let her (take the Burnhams' young daughter, Lori Ann, to be photographed for winning a "baby of the month" contest.

The young mother said she became slightly alarmed when the woman speeded off, and when she did not return, she called police.

FBI agents traced the woman to Paducah, Ky., and then to Chicago. They charged her with interstate transportation of a kidnap victim.

"I just wanted something to love," Mrs. Dunlap sobbed.

Authorities released her on her own recognizance, pending a mental examination, and scheduled a hearing for next Thursday.

Thursday, Mrs. Dunlap went to a Southwest Side motel (Sahara Inn) and obtained a room. She scribbled a note which said, "My name is Mary Ann Dunlap. Please get in touch with my lawyer, Mal Coghlan."

Then she drew a 22 caliber revolver and shot herself in the abdomen.

A guest saw her arm through the partly-open door. She was rushed to Vol Solbrig Hospital. She was still conscious.

"It is all built up inside me," she said on the operating table. "I just don't want to live anymore." She died.

Her body still was not claimed hours later.

Atlanta Mayor Backs JFK Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The mayor of Atlanta today urged Congress to enact President Kennedy's proposal to ban racial discrimination in hotels, restaurants and other private business open to the public.

The appeal of Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. was the first by a major Southern public official favoring the so-called public accommodations act at hearings by the Senate Commerce Committee.

Allen led off a full day of testimony on both sides of the capitol today on civil rights legislation. South Carolina Gov. Donald S. Russell was scheduled to appear before the Senate group after Allen.

Mayor Allen testified that if the open-facilities act is not enacted, some Southern cities which voluntarily banned discrimination might reverse themselves and return to policies of strict segregation.

"We cannot dodge the issue," Allen said. "We cannot look back over our shoulder or turn the clock back to the 1860's."

But Allen said a public accommodations act should contain provisions giving cities and businesses "a reasonable time" to desegregate before the federal government intervened.

The mayor said that if Congress failed to pass a public accommodations bill it would "amount to an endorsement of private business, setting up an entirely new status of discrimination throughout the nation."

"Failure by Congress to take definite action at this time is by inference an endorsement of the right of private business to practice racial discrimination," Allen added, "and in my opinion would start the same old round of squabbles and demonstrations that we have had in the past."

Allen described segregation as "slavery's step child" and said it was a challenge "to all of us to make every American free in fact as well as in theory."

A purse snatcher hit the jackpot yesterday when he procured credit cards to get enough free gasoline to last for months.

The purse contained her driver's license, $6 in cash, and credit cards from seven different gasoline companies.

City Water Tank Spurts Overflow

The large, 3,360,000 gallon water tank on S. Hobart St. overflowed this morning onto the Hobart St. Park lawn due to a "human fallacy," Elvin S. Lowry, City Water department superintendent said.

"It was just a human fallacy," Lowry said. "The pumps were changing shifts at 6 a.m. and a new pump assumed the tank was alright. Because he didn't know well pumpage must be balanced with water usage he had more wells pumping into the tank than were going out. Lowry said.

Anyone seeing the water spurting out of the tank would have thought a lot of water was being wasted, Lowry stated, but actually it wasn't. The water relief ports in the tank are so small that when water reaches the overflow level they spurt out in a tall stream.

"We lost about 2,000 gallons of water, but actually it was not lost because it fell on the park area and just watered the lawn," Lowry said.

Race Demonstrations Spread in New York

By United Press International — New York City's anti-discrimination demonstrations, which have brought 534 arrests in four days, were spreading to new points today.

Negro leaders said demonstrations were planned for the first time at borough halls (city government offices) in Brooklyn and Staten Island. Police also expected more pickets at a number of construction sites where 84 demonstrators were arrested Thursday.

Fourteen demonstrators shackled themselves together with chains and locks at one site and a police riot squad had to use heavy bolt cutters to tear off the bounds, and take the pickets to jail.

At Los Angeles, about 50 persons marched through the education board building to protest school segregation. Officers arrested 10 pickets, including a white minister, during a noisy sit-in demonstration at a diner in North Bergen, N.J.

A group of around 75 Negroes paraded through Farmville, Va., Thursday in the first anti-segregation demonstration since Prince Edward County abandoned its public school system to avoid integration in 1959.

Panhandle Gets Little Relief From Heat Wave

By United Press International

Thunderstorms soothed heat-seared Texas today from the upper coast to the Red River Valley.

An electrical storm accompanied by heavy rain raked Galveston Island during the night. Streets were flooded and power disrupted.

Rain showers and thunderstorms swept from the coastal area into the northern two-thirds of North Central Texas and the northern third of Northeast Texas today.

Radar indicated showers from 65 miles south-southwest of Mineral Wells to 55 miles west of Mineral Wells to the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Another line of showers fell along the Red River into Oklahoma.

Overnight temperatures ranged from 66 at Dalhart to 81 degrees at Galveston.

Pampa had a high of 101 yesterday and a low of 73 early this morning.

Beaumont received 1.32 inches of rain in the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. today. Wichita Falls recorded .64 of an inch of rain and Galveston .16.

Scorched Southwest Texas was not expected to receive relief.

In Galveston, lightning struck a utility pole near an exclusive beach-front motel, sending high-voltage lines whipping across five parked cars and setting them afire.

Milder storms boomed across North Texas, soaking the parched earth. A mass of cool air that broke a torrid summer heat wave in Northeastern Texas Thursday spread toward the west.

Thursday's highs included 105 at Wichita Falls and Childress, 103 at San Angelo and Abilene, 102 at El Paso and Laredo, 101 at Austin, Junction, Midland and Mineral Wells and 100 at Wink.

Bobby Says No Commies Among Rights Leaders

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says there is no evidence that any top leaders of the major civil rights groups are Communists or are Communist-controlled.

Kennedy said Communist efforts to infiltrate civil rights groups and exploit the current racial situation "have been remarkably unsuccessful" despite the "real injustices that exist and the resentment against them" among Negroes.

Kennedy made the statement in a letter to Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney, D-Okla., a member of the Senate Commerce Committee. The group is holding hearings on the administration's civil rights proposals.

Charges Levelled Earlier

Monroney read the letter to the committee today. Charges that Communist influences were at work in the Negro civil rights movement were levelled earlier before the committee by Govs. Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi and George C. Wallace of Alabama.

The Rev. John F. Cronin, representing the National Catholic Welfare Conference, told the committee earlier that major religious bodies have "specifically condemned racial discrimination, segregation, and prejudice as incompatible with the principles of faith in God."

WELCOMES NEWCOMERS — Mrs. Elbert Walker of Pampa presented the program at the meeting of the Pampa Newcomers Club yesterday in the Cibola Room of the Coronado Inn. Mrs. Walker entertained the group with impersonations and the program was followed by a luncheon, honoring the newcomers. Mrs. V. J. Drew, a member was hostess at the meeting and welcomed new residents. (Daily News Photo)

CONSIDERATE THIEVES

CARMI, Ill. (UPI) — Thieves ransacked the home of farmer Glenn Myers and stole a television set, a shotgun, silverware, radios, clothing, jewelry, an electric skillet and other kitchen utensils, towels, pictures and dishes. They left Myer some pair of pants.

AUBURN, Wis. (UPI) — Whether these little piggies went to market or had roast beef, farmer Floyd Lewis doesn't know. But they didn't go wee-wee-wee all the way home.

Lewis reported someone took all 100 of his 35-pound Hampshire pigs while he was at the county fair.

Two Area Girls To Be Initiated Into Talent Club

PANHANDLE (Spl) — Judi Caldwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Caldwell, Gold Star 4-H Girl of Carson county for 1962 and 1963 winner of the state 4-H public speaking contest is a member of the 22nd group of outstanding 4-H boys and girls to be initiated Sunday into the Producers Grain Corporation's Talent Club. The 16 members to be added for 1963 will bring the membership in the 22-year old organization to 394.

Also to be initiated into the organization will be Terry McCashland of Wheeler County, and 14 other representatives from Dallam, Potter, Briscoe, Lubbock, Cottle, Concho, Coleman, McLennan, Wilbarger and Karnes counties.

The Producer's Grain Corporation has sponsored the club since it was first organized by J. Frank Triplett, a longtime official of the corporation. The club's list of members includes the names of many of the state's most outstanding former 4-H members, who today are leaders in agricultural business and other professions, according to an announcement from the state club office.

The 16 boys and girls, two from each of the corporations eight districts in Texas, were selected on a basis of the outstanding work each had done in 4-H work and because of their interest and knowledge of cooperative activities.

After their initiation into the club at a special banquet, the new members will leave Amarillo by chartered bus on Monday for a week-long tour to points of interest in Texas.

Firm, But Relaxed Describes Father's Role

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Much advice concerned with helping children is aimed at the mother, but the father's interest and participation in a child's growth is particularly important.

A father's involvement in child rearing most often is affected by his occupation. His working hours, need for travel and type of position are all factors controlling his availability. These situations should not relieve him of responsibility or limit the value of his participation.

It is difficult sometimes for a father to come home after a busy day and exhibit a pleasant, relaxed attitude toward an active child. It is important that it be done. A plan probably can be arranged so that father can rest a short while and then spend some time with his child. Surely weekends should include activities with the youngster.

Problems Vary
These types of problems are individual and naturally vary with different families. The difficulties must be worked out using good judgment and the understanding that a family needs a father.

Let's take a look at the actual role of a father. He is traditionally the head of the household. His approach can be democratic. A balanced approach using discussion and explanations and firm decisions when necessary, is basically most practical and successful.

All too often the father becomes a discipline figure. The mother tells the child that his father will punish him when he arrives home. Sometimes the father encourages this himself. The

Brown Family Holds Reunion

GROOM (Spl) — The family of Mrs. Beatrice Brown met recently at Lake McClellan for an overnight outing. Skiing and swimming were enjoyed. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hatley, Vacaville, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Tipton, Plainview; Tom Brown, Borger; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown, Borger; Mr. and Mrs. Norris Spurgeon and Zo Juanna, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Webb and Sandy, Mr. and Mrs. Daves Contrarias, all of Amarillo; Mrs. Beatrice Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Brown, Brenda, Butch, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown and children all of Groom.

child should not be led to believe that his father is to be feared. The child should know that both parents agree and are consistent. Many children look to their fathers as an idol. When young they often want to be in the same occupation. A father gets much pleasure from this. Many children actually do follow their father's footsteps even as they grow into adulthood.

Firm When Needed
A father can be many things to many different children. He should try to spend available time being a friend and guide. He should be warm, affectionate, and firm when needed.

Perhaps one of his most important responsibilities is to be a consultant both to the child and mother. His judgment should be sought. When both parents work closely together discussing plans and problems, the results are usually satisfying to all. The child receives more consistent treatment and gains a greater feeling for the family unit.

There is little doubt that a father's role is important to the growth of a child. The father-child relationship should be one of mutual respect and confidence. His involvement whenever possible is a must. Both the child and father will find a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction with each other.

The Mature Parent

Doctor Proposes Help For Human Time Bombs

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Her home is a slum cellar; her bed a mattress she shares with a 77-year-old grandmother. She is 14. The afternoon her friend brought her to see me, she had been out of school for 10 days. I didn't ask her how she had been spending her time because I could feel the tension in her. Instead, I said, "It will be rough on you going back to school."

She said, "Can I have a cigarette?" As she lit it, she added without intonation, "I don't read good."

Two days later this human time bomb blew up. She broke into an apartment, stole and was arrested.

Said her friend, "She can't think no more. She shakes all the time. Her place stinks. They don't put out the garbage. She'll be sent up, won't she?"

"Slum schools are stopping - off places for bewildered, confused children from poverty-stricken, broken and crowded homes," writes Cleveland teacher Ralph E. Loewe in a recent issue of the Saturday Review. He describes his experience with students whose emotional illnesses have devoured the energies required for concentration and learning.

I do not quote him to support my experience with the truant child who could not think a ny more. I quote him because he proposes a solution to the national problem of homes where turbulence and apathy are destroying children's power to think. His proposal is "free, pre - elementary schools for children in underprivileged areas to help them achieve the readiness for education provided in normal middle-class homes."

If you are reading this live in a "normal middleclass home," the chances are good that you don't know what Loewe is talking about. I believe that to the average middle-class American who reads my description of the truant child, she is as unreal as Cinderella. And so I have to accept the probability that this reader lacks any experience that would enable him to appreciate the intelligence of the Loewe proposal.

To appreciate it you have to see the trembling fingers of the sick, truant, chain-smoking child. You have to see her slum cellar, the filthy mattress behind the stove. You have to smell the accumulated garbage and control your shudder at the walls crawling with roaches.

Only then can you hear the time bomb ticking away the minutes for this nation.

The Clothes Poll

By HELEN HENNESSY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn'

With an estimated five million babies on the way this year, it's good to know that maternity clothes have been given a bright, new look.

When a designer couples practicality with a lack of imagination, it's a safe bet that he won't come up with anything chic. And that's what many manufacturers of maternity lines have been doing for a long while. The butcher - boy smock, however, disguised, was a depressing uniform for expectant mothers.

This year manufacturers are at last aware that no woman ever voluntarily turns her back on fashion — a timely awakening, in view of the news from Pennsylvania Avenue and the interest in maternity styles that's bound to ensue.

For casual wear there are sweater-look tops, contrasting A-line skirts, and mousmou of ticking or striped seersucker with matching kerchiefs. For the sunner who's not a swimmer, there are beach suits in pleated cotton, with high-rising waistlines. Swim suits have pleated skirts and overblouses, based on the classic tennis dress.

For dress wear, silk sheaths match their own organza coats and shifts of white sharkskin can be dressed up or down, depending on the time of day. The classic tunic turns up, too, with floating panels tabbed at the shoulder.

Many of these smart fashions are in the moderate price bracket, a boon to the pregnant woman. For unless money is no object, it's impractical to spend too much on maternity clothes. Once the bassinet has an occupant, I doubt that chip off your shoulder and really try to be a pal.

NOTE TO COEDS
You'll love the smart good looks of knee - high length textured hose in soft orlon, stretch nylon. They look terrific with kiltie-skirts, body-skimming jumpers, bermudas and other casual wear.

Take It From Kathy

By KATHY PETERSON

Dear Kathy:
My cousin is living with me and I am getting tired of having her around. Whenever I get something, she gets it, too.

I'm not allowed to sleep at my friend's house unless she comes along and that's no fun. She tattles about everything I do. I've given her chances to be nice to me but it never seems to work out. I've been nice to her, it hasn't seemed to make any difference in the way she acts. What can I do? —M. F.

Have you ever played with a little puppy? The more you pat him, the more he wants to be patted. No matter how much affection you give him, he'll feel unloved if you offer another pup the slightest bit of attention. Right now, you're behaving a little like that puppy!

He can't reason but people can. We know it's possible to love more than one individual at a time but jealousy can make us shortsighted. Keep reminding yourself that your parents do love you and you won't feel cheated by the kindness they show your cousin.

You say your cousin tattles. Because of your resentment, she probably feels hurt and left out quite often. It isn't right, but isn't it human to want to get even?

The grudging kindness you offered won't win any friends. Take that chip off your shoulder and really try to be a pal.

Dear Abby....

Let Him Off Hook . . . Throw Him Back . . .

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend has a very cute co-worker. They used to eat lunch together every day—away from the office. Then I put my foot down and made him promise he wouldn't take her to lunch any more. Well, yesterday they were BOTH carried out of the office feet first with seafood poisoning. It turned out they had lunch together at a little roadside house about a mile from the office. I didn't know the girl had been poisoned too until I came to drive him home from the hospital where they were taken to have their stomachs pumped. (She was just leaving as I pulled up.) When I told my boy friend I knew that he'd taken that girl to lunch again, he lied and said he "bumped into her" there. What would you do in my place, Abby?

DEAR JEALOUS: Wait until your boy friend gets his strength back and then him that his fish tales don't set too well on your stomach, either. Then let him off the hook.

DEAR ABBY: My parents are against my marrying a certain boy because of money and social position. He doesn't have a ny. Abby, he is the nicest boy I have ever gone with. I have gone with boys whose fathers had more money, but none of them ever treated me like this one does. In fact, I would hate to tell what some of those so-called "high-class" boys were really like. Don't you think if two people love each other, that is all that is necessary to make a go of marriage?

DEAR GIRL: Marriage is for men and women—not boys and girls. If you are both over 21, sure of your love, and the "boy" is self - supporting and respectable, your chances for a lasting marriage are good.

DEAR ABBY: I never bother my neighbors but they can tell you every move I make. My husband works nights and sleeps days so I leave my back door open in case someone comes to deliver something. That way my husband won't have to get up to let them in. I've got the milkman coming, the egg man, the plumber, and other men who have to get inside for something. Well, my neighbor to the south told my neighbor to the north that I had a steady stream of men going into my house all the time. I am still a nice-looking woman even if I have had eleven children. I think the neighbors are just jealous. I told one of them if she wanted to know who all the men were to come on over and I'd introduce her. How can I stop my nosy neighbors from running their mouths?

INNOCENT
DEAR INNOCENT: You can't. But if you know everything is on the up and up, you can stop worrying about it.

DEAR ABBY: I just want "ICEBERG" to know that I am with her all the way, and you may print my letter. Who do men think they are anyway? They neglect their obligations of keeping a marriage alive, and then they complain because their wives are "frigid." Who can stand a person who isn't nice to be near? I'll thaw out when my man washes up. I'm—

"FRIGID, TOO!"

Writer Discusses Saints

Religion in America
By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

The word "saint" conjures up in most minds the image of a gentle, pious, unselfish person to whom goodness comes as naturally as breathing.

But the church calendar contains the names of many saints who just don't fit that stereotype.

For example, Thursday, July 25 was the feast day of St. James the Great.

The New Testament has quite a lot to say about this fellow. And it depicts him as a very ordinary human being, with a tendency to be vain, ambitious and hot-tempered.

He was the son of a fisherman named Zebedee, who lived in the town of Capernaum, and operated a fleet of fishing boats on the Sea of Galilee.

James had a brother named John and two close friends named Simon and Andrew, who worked with him in the fishing business.

Monotony Was Broken
The monotony of their lives was broken one day by the arrival in Capernaum of a young itinerant preacher named Jesus of Nazareth.

When Jesus talked about God, he sounded like he was speaking from first-hand information, rather than quoting out of a book. He was the most alive and compelling person who had ever come to Capernaum, and the four young fishermen were greatly attracted to him.

One day, Jesus walked down to the shore where the four fishermen were at work.

"Follow me," he said, "and I will make you become fishers of men."

Dr. Bratcher to Deliver Sermon
Dr. Hubert H. Bratcher, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will be conducting the two morning services Sunday with the 8:45 a. m. service broadcast over Radio Station KPND and the 11 a. m. service broadcast over Radio Station KBMF-FM.

At the 11 a. m. hour the Sanctuary Singers will present the anthem, "When Thou Prayest," written by Carl F. Mueller and based on the 6th Chapter of Matthew, 4-4 verses. The Youth Choir will present the anthem at the early service.

Youth Choir Meets at five p. m. Sunday, followed by Sunday Fellowship at 6 p. m. when a light supper for the entire family will be served in Fellowship Hall. At 6:30 p. m. children, youth, and adults will separate for one hour of fellowship group activities according to interests and needs. The Adult Fellowship group will meet in the church parlor.

The Sunday Worship service at 7:30 p. m. will be conducted by the pastor, Hubert Bratcher, who will present a brief meditation followed by an altar time. Hugh Carson, director of music, will lead an old-fashioned hymn sing, a highlight of the evening service.

AIMS TO PLEASE
MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — The "dean" of the University of Wisconsin's food service, Beulah Dahle, had a few tips today upon announcing her retirement.

The way to keep students happy, she said, was to serve cold dishes cold, hot dishes hot and give them what they want, if possible.

James and his three friends didn't hesitate. They didn't tell Jesus they'd need a little time to wind up their business. They just dropped their nets and followed him.

They were the first of the 12 Apostles. And they were destined to remain Jesus' closest friends and confidantes.

Jesus seems to have had a particular affection for Simon, whom He renamed Peter, and for the two brothers, James and John. The New Testament records that He chose Peter, James and John to accompany him on several special occasions, including the last night in the Garden of Gethsemane, when He waited for His arrest and crucifixion.

Didn't Change Immediately
Close association with Jesus did not change James overnight into a gentle and unselfish soul.

Once, when the people of a Samaritan village gave Jesus a discourteous reception, James lost his temper and wanted to call down fire from heaven to wipe out the whole village.

Jesus rebuked James severely for this proposal, and reminded him that "The Son of Man came not to destroy men's lives but to save them."

Later, to rub in the lesson with a little pointed humor, Jesus gave James a nickname: "Son of Thunder."

On another occasion, James and his brother went to Jesus privately, and tried to extract a promise that they would be given the top seats of honor—on his right hand and left hand—when He came to His throne. They were still thinking, as all of the Apostles persisted in doing despite Jesus' efforts to teach them otherwise, that He had come as an earthly messiah or king.

Jesus Rebuked James
Again Jesus had to rebuke his friend, and as always, he used the occasion to teach a positive lesson.

"You know that those who are supposed to rule over the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great men exercise authority among them," Jesus said, "But it shall not be so among you."

"Whoever would be great among you must be your servant, and whoever would be first among you must be slave of all. For the Son of Man also came not to be served, but to serve."

It took James a long time to understand what it meant to be a disciple of Christ. Perhaps he didn't really comprehend until he had the awesome experience of being a witness to the Resurrection.

But when he finally did get the point, James followed his Lord all the way.

When the first persecution of the infant Christian church was launched in 44 A.D. by King Herod, James was arrested and beheaded.

He was the first Apostle to die a martyr's death.

Related readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will also be heard and will include the following: "Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth" (p.11).

PASTOR RUBY M. BURROW
REVIVAL CENTER

Rev. 21-2-4 And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain; for the former things are passed away.

The things of this life, namely: tears, death, sorrow, pain and crying will cease when we enter that city of God. But, who will be able to enter? The answer is: they that have their sins forgiven, washed by the Blood of Jesus, yes, they that live for him here in this present world.

There's a heaven waiting yonder
Oh the joy can ne'er be told,
There with Jesus and the angels
We will walk the streets of Gold.
There the atmosphere is perfect
And there's joy all the time;
Oh, I long to be with Jesus
In a place that's so sublime.
There, earth's sorrows never enter,
There's no tempter to allure,
For that's one place he can't enter,
For it's only for the pure.
You must make the preparation
While on this earth you still dwell,
For there's only love in heaven,
And there is no love in hell.
You must stop and get your passport—
If you're going on this trip:
It is through the blood of Jesus
That you board the Gospel Ship.
She will land you safely yonder,
Far beyond the sands of time;
'Tis eternity with Jesus,
Oh what joy, what love sublime.

May Be Too Late

Willie Mays On Move

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Willie Mays is on the move but even a .419 batting surge may be too little too late for the San Francisco Giants.

The $100,000 centerfielder who had been bogged down close to the .250 mark this season has made 13 hits in his last 31 at bats to boost his average to .281. The Giants have moved with him — six victories in their last 10 games — but that isn't going to be enough to overtake the Los Angeles Dodgers unless they do an el foldo to end 'em all. The Giants ran their current winning streak to four games Thursday when they whipped the New York Mets, 8-6, as Mays drove in four runs with a homer, double and single. Willie McCovey also weighed in with three hits and knocked in two runs in San Francisco's 12-hit attack.

The loss was the 19th in a row on the road for the Mets — equalling a 47-year old major league record for futility away from home.

The Mets made 12 hits, including a run-producing single and a two-run homer by Duke Snider, but left 10 runners on base against the combined pitching of Billy Pierce, Bob Bolin and Billy Hoelt. Bolin, who yielded one run and six hits in 3 1-3 innings, scored his sixth victory against three losses.

place Giants to move within 7½ games of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who lost to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-2, ending Sandy Koufax' nine-game winning streak.

The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Milwaukee Braves, 3-1, the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Chicago Cubs, 3-2, and the Houston Colts shut out the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-0.

Roberto Clemente's three-run homer and Tom Sisk's strong five-inning relief pitching enabled the Pirates to end Koufax' streak which dated back to June 1. Koufax struck out 12 batters but never was even after Clemente's homer with Bill Virdon and Manny Mota aboard in the third inning. It was Clemente's 10th homer of the season and Sisk's first big league win.

Lew Burdette topped Warren Spahn in a pitching duel between former roommates when the Cardinals scored two fourth-inning runs on Bill White's double, singles by Stan Musial and Tim McCarver and errors by Denis Menke and Gene Oliver. It was Burdette's eighth win of the season.

Spahn, pitching for the first time since July 7 when he was sidelined with a sore elbow, yielded eight hits and no walks in eight innings. It was his fifth setback against 12 victories this season.

Johnny Edwards' ninth-inning sacrifice fly drove in the winning run for the Reds, who beat Bob Buhl for the 10th time in 12 lifetime decisions. Until Edwards delivered, Buhl had shut out the Reds since the first inning when a walk, Vada Pinson's single, an infield out and Frank Robinson's single produced two runs. Billy Williams had three hits for the Cubs.

Girls Softball
The Optees hopped on the Opti-Belles, 24-11, and the Optettes trampled the Opti-Mrs., 23-8, in a pair of top-sided Girls Softball League contests.

Gayle Blumer was the winning pitcher for the Optees, with Pamela Gibson the loser. Janie Hammers had a home run, Gayle and Brenda Schaffer four hits each and Carol Summers and Priscilla Gibson three each.

Glenda Woodruff won for the Optettes, Gail Powell lost. Angela Roush, Sharon Simmons and Regina Barnett had home runs, Glenda Howard two triples.

Bridesmaid Hawkins Leads Western Open

CHICAGO (UPI) — Golf pro Fred Hawkins was in a familiar spot today, but he hoped the road would take a different turn to a new ending Sunday.

Hawkins, on the pro tour for sixteen years with only one victory, was the first round pace setter in the $50,000 Western Open with a four under par 67 on the thickly roughed, heavily wooded Beverly Country Club course.

It was the same position he held at the same milestone of the same tournament on Medinah No. 3 course last year. But last year he sagged to a third place tie, earning only $3,075, when young Jack Cupit, one stroke behind after 18 holes, came from behind for the $11,000 first prize after 72 holes.

Today Hawkins held a one stroke margin over three players heading into the second round, 48 year old Skee Reigel, 27-year-old Joe Campbell, and 25-year-old Australian Bruce Devlin. The field was bunched tight behind them with eight players at 6-9, among them the Masters and PGA champion Jack Nicklaus.

Hawkins held first place by virtue of almost sensational putting on an erratic trip around the 6,867 yard links. He had 13 one putt greens, equalling the best performance on the pro tour this year. He took 23 putts, only two more than the previous showing in a PGA event this year.

Yet he hit the rough nine times. Five times he was in traps, and he connected on "only one good drive," on the 18 holes.

Name players slumped in the 89 degree heat and high humidity. Leading money winner Arnold Palmer scored a 73 and took four putts on the 15th hole. Julius Boros, the National Open champion, had a 72. British Open champion Bob Charles took a 76 and Sam Snead, who has more tournament wins than any other pro golfer, scored a 71 despite a double bogey seven on the 610 yard 11th hole.

Mike Adams of Shamrock won fourth place in the novice. Other golfers sent by the Pampa Jaycees included Jay Dunbar of Memphis, Richard Ellis of Pampa, John Neece of Shamrock.

Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — The Yankees are 6-5 favorites today to win the opening game of the World Series against the Dodgers, even though Sandy Koufax is the starter, and the Green Bay Packers are 18-point choices in next week's College All-Star game.

These are the latest figures from the Santa Anita Turf and Sports book, the leading wagering spa in this bet-happy gambling paradise, which has already established Sonny Liston a 6-1 favorite over lippy Cassius Clay for their Sept. 30 heavyweight title fight in Philadelphia.

They'll even quote you a price on that being the correct day of the fight, which ant will reach the end of the sidewalk first, or any horse race in the nation.

The Santa Anita, one of seven sporting parlors in Vegas, is run by a former New York bookie named Jasper Martin. He "busted out" in New York and, being right out of Runyon, misses the sidewalks of New York but likes the easy action in these precincts.

Cinches To Win
Right now, he has the Yanks and Dodgers as "out" bets. Meaning, in the opinion of the guys who have to be right or go broke, that they are cinches to win the pennants. However, Jasper will lay six to your five that you can't pick the second-place finisher in the National League and makes it even money for second place in the American.

Just to give the suckers, oops, the baseball fans, some kind of run with the two big teams, Jasper will lay you six to five whether the Yanks or the Dodgers finish under or over six games in front of their respective leagues.

In the series as a whole, the Yanks are 13-10 choices.

"We don't do much with basketball because you can't get the information," says the tall, dark-haired Martin in his inevitable eastside accent. "And it might come as a surprise to learn that we get more action in one month of pro football than we do in a whole season of baseball."

Martin's emporium, however, caters to any gambling taste — except the slots and the tables. But if you want something booked and you're in Nevada he'll handle any other type of "action."

"No inter-state business, though," he says. "I won't even give odds to a newspaper guy who calls from out of the state."

"Newspaper guys," on the whole, are friends of Jasper's but he "fries" when any of them within the state print odds on any event without contacting him.

Prints Odds
"Imagine," he snorted, "one paper prints odds of 20-1 on the Liston thing. So people come rushing in here to get a piece of the price. Then they scream when I won't give them that kind of action."

"I tell 'em," he shrugged, "that I have an agreement with the newspapers. I don't sell newspapers and they don't set odds."

The Liston-Patterson "fight" produced "real good action," he smiled, because he came up with a "gimmick" on a round-by-round knockout.

It was 11-5 on a first-round knockout, 5-2 on the second round, 7-2 on the third round, 9-2 on the fourth, 6-1 on the fifth and then jumped rapidly all the way up to 60-1 on a knockout in the fifteenth round.

"It went over big," says the man whose prices indicate that he hit it right on the nose in that first-round kayo.

Jasper's place of business is set up primarily, however, for the horse player. There are long rows of gleaming tables with comfortable overstuffed stools which face an odds board which takes up one whole wall. Underneath the board, which lists race cards in New York, New Jersey, Delaware, California, Chicago or any track running, is a long line of mutuel windows.

"One-dollar minimum on daily doubles," proclaims a sign under the windows. "Two-dollar minimum win, place or show."

Its better than dodging around hotels with the cops hot on your heels, says Jasper. Yet, underneath, his type of guy has to feel a little lost this far from Broadway.

Pampa-Silverton Tonight's Game

BORGER (Sp) — Pampa meets Silverton at 8:30 p.m. and Spearman takes on Stinnett in the 8:30 nightcap this evening in the NBC State Tournament. The winners tonight clash tomorrow along with Amarillo Graham vs. the Borger Braves in the winners bracket. Semifinals and finals will be played Sunday.

Amarillo and Borger rolled on uncheck last night. Graham swamping Stinnett, 12-1, and Don Schultz hurling a no-hitter against Spearman for an 8-1 win.

Ronnie Sherrod blazed to his second straight tourney victory in the opener, scattering three singles, walking four and striking out seven. J. M. Morgan took the loss, being relieved in the fourth by Randy Compton.

Amarillo got five runs in the second and five in the fourth in the five-inning tilt. Bennie Sherrod helped his brother along with two doubles.

Schultz, on leave from the Air Force, threw seven innings of no-hit ball, striking out eight and walking 11, with his wildness forcing in the only Spearman run. Melvin Begley went the route in defeat. Bob Taylor gave Schultz all the margin he needed with a three-run homer in the first inning.

All-Stars Out Of Tourney

AMARILLO (Sp) — The Pampa All-Stars were eliminated from the Amarillo ASA District Tournament last night, 12-4, by Ozarka.

The powerful Waterboys exploded for six runs in the sixth inning to clinch the game after they had battled back from a 3-2 deficit in the first frame. J. M. Rhame pitched a five-hitter for the win, striking out 12. Harold Luck Howard was the loser, being reached for 15 hits. Muri Bengert got two of the Stars' five hits.

Pampa had lost their first game in the tournament when Ray Reagan of favored Amarillo Graham threw a no-hitter at them, and then had bounced back for an 8-3 win over Borger, with Howard taking the victory.

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — The Pampa Queens rolled up an 18-2 victory over Skellytown in three innings last night of a Golden Spread League softball game.

Slated to go seven, Skellytown found that due to a schedule mixup, they could not finish the game. Trailing by 18 at that point, Skellytown forfeited the game and lost their chance for a first-place tie in the loop.

Mary Lou Addington was the winning pitcher and Diane Crawford the loser. Wanda Rogers had two doubles and a single, Ruth Blumer and Mary Lou two hits each, and Billie Coble a home run.

Nellie Fox Nears 2500-Hit Goal

American League Roundup
By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Nelson Fox, who already owns eight major league records, will soon achieve another statistical goal that will place him among the greatest second basemen in baseball history.

The combative little Chicago White Sox second baseman — who just might be the only fellow in the American League who hasn't conceded to the New York Yankees — needs only three more hits to reach 2,500 for his career. That's a total reached by only five second basemen — all hall of famers — Eddie Collins, Nap Lajoie, Frankie Frisch, Charlie Gehringer and Rogers Hornsby.

Fox knocked in three runs with two singles and scored the White Sox' fourth run of the game Thursday in a 4-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers. The win enabled the second-place White Sox to move within eight games of the Yankees, whose six-game

Ruidoso Suit Is Resumed

LIVINGTON, N.M. (UPI)—The court hearing of a $415,000 civil suit between stockholders of Ruidoso Downs race track resumed today with a report on whether the opponents were able to reach a compromise settlement.

If no settlement was reached, Dist. Judge Kermit Nash said he will resume the hearing on a motion to place the track in receivership. A settlement appeared unlikely.

The hearing was recessed Thursday to allow lawyers for six minority stockholders to discuss a possible settlement with track director Gene Hensley and his attorneys.

Make Little Headway

The conferences appeared to make little headway. Charles Spann of Albuquerque spent most of the day taking proposed settlements to his minority stockholder clients, then returning with their reactions.

Witnesses and courtroom observers stood in the hall and lounged around the court for six hours waiting for Nash to reconvene. He finally called the court to order just before 3 p.m. and recessed immediately.

"We are going to start the hearing at 9 a.m. If you don't resolve your differences," Nash told the attorneys.

winning streak was ended by a 3-0 loss to the Los Angeles Angels.

Indians Over Twins

The Cleveland Indians edged the Minnesota Twins, 3-2, the Kansas City Athletics defeated the Boston Red Sox, 2-0, and the Baltimore Orioles downed the Washington Senators, 4-2, in other American League games.

Fox, 35, singled home Mike Hersherberger in the third inning and rode home on Dave Nicholson's triple. He also singled home two more runs in the seventh inning to boost the White Sox into a 4-0 lead and provide the necessary cushion for two relief pitchers to preserve Joe Horlen's fifth victory.

Major league records held by Fox include most consecutive games without striking out, most years leading the majors in fewer strikeouts, most consecutive years leading in singles, most consecutive games played at second base, most years leading second basemen in chances, most season with 600 at bats and most years leading second basemen in putouts.

Twirls Three-Hitter

Ken McBride pitched a three-hitter to win his 12th game for the Angels, who tagged fireballer Al Downing with his second loss. Downing paved the way for his own defeat with two walks in the first inning followed by a double by Felix Torres and a two-run single by Ken Hunt.

Willie Kirkland's three-run eighth-inning homer brought the Indians from behind and provided relief pitcher Gary Bell with his fifth win. The Twins' runs came as a result of a homer by Johnny Goryl in the third inning and an error, a sacrifice, a walk and a single by Jimmie Hall in the seventh.

The Athletics completed a sweep of a four-game series with the Red Sox as Ed Rakow, Bill Fischer and John Wyatt collaborated in a six-hitter. Fischer, who pitched the middle six innings, won his ninth game while 13-game winner Bill Monbouquette suffered his seventh loss for the Red Sox.

Robin Roberts received credit for his eighth win of the season and the 252nd of his career by spacing eight hits over eight innings before turning over the late-inning close-out relief to Stu Miller. Johnny Orsino's two-run single and Johnny Powell's homer were the big blows for the Orioles.

Season May Be All Over For Hurt Mickey Mantle

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — A depressed Mickey Mantle faced up to the grim possibility today that the season may be all over for him.

Set back even further by a new knee injury, which is literally one on top of another, the downhearted Yankee centerfielder said he had "no idea" when he might be able to play again.

Mantle suffered his latest injury, a loosening of a cartilage on the outside of his left knee, while trying to work himself back in shape from an "old" injury sustained on June 5.

Mickey was running in the outfield prior to a game with the Los Angeles Angels last Tuesday when his left knee suddenly gave way.

He was immediately examined in the clubhouse by Yankee team physician Dr. Sidney Gaynor, who relayed his findings to manager Ralph Houk.

"Dr. Gaynor came to me on Tuesday and said, 'I've got some bad news for you,'" Houk related.

"I said, 'Oh, no what now?' Then he told me what had happened to Mantle and I could hardly believe it.

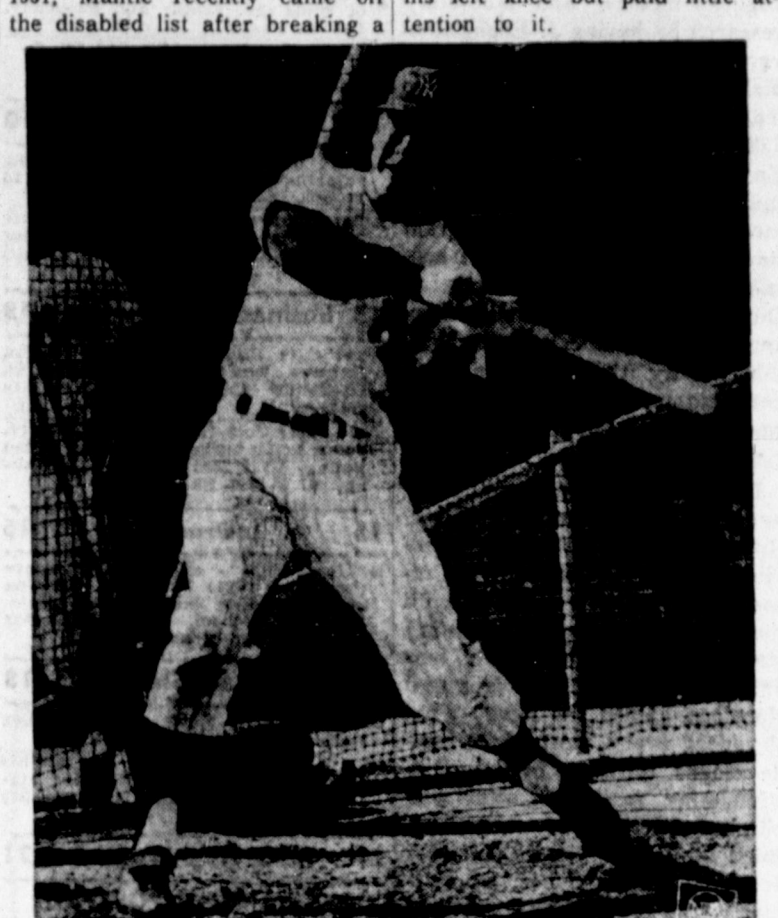

"Mickey doesn't know when he'll be back; the doctor doesn't know and I don't know. Who knows, maybe he'll be able to pinch hit in three days? Then again, maybe he won't be able to play for the rest of the season. There's no use trying to minimize this."

Plagued by a long succession of injuries almost from the day he broke in with the Yankees in 1951, Mantle recently came off the disabled list after breaking a bone in his left foot when he ran into a wire fence at Baltimore on June 5.

He returned to his home in Dallas two days later and noticed a black and blue mark on his left knee but paid little attention to it.

Yank Athletes Set In Poland

WARSAW (UPI) — The United States track and field team, favored to capture first places in eight of the 10 men's events scheduled for today, was expected to break fast from the starting blocks in the opening day of a two-day dual meet with Poland.

The Americans, determined to atone for their disappointing performance at Moscow last weekend, appeared relaxed and finely tuned, a condition which the athletes attributed to the "informal" and "friendly" atmosphere here.

The Yanks were reported in excellent shape following Thursday's light workout in sweltering 95-degree heat with the exception of John Pennel, world record-holder in the pole vault.

Pennel, who suffered an apparent muscle spasm in his spine after landing hard during a practice vault, has been undergoing ultrasonic treatments, and said he felt "somewhat better" and would "probably try" to compete today.

Although Polish trainer Antoni

Moronczyk has predicted his team would lose by only a "small margin," many of the U.S. athletes said the men's team was finally in shape to win handily despite an anticipated partisan crowd of upwards of 50,000 in the Warsaw Sports Stadium.

The Polish women were expected to easily whip the American girls, who are favored only in the 100 and 200 meter runs and the high jump.

HUMPHREYS BACK

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Pitcher Bob Humphreys has been reactivated by the St. Louis Cardinals who shipped reserve outfielder Jack Damaska to Atlanta of the International League to make room on the roster.

Civil-Rights for Tribal Indians?

Considering the present day clamor for "civil rights," there is an overlooked segment of second-class citizenry in the United States, but it happens to be the American Indians living on reservations. Although the Indians were granted full U.S. citizenship in 1924 and they are permitted to vote in State and National elections, they are not allowed to govern themselves at the local level—nor do they have any say as to who will govern them. Their so-called tribal councils are under close supervision by agents of the Bureau of Indian Affairs which considers the Indians to be its wards.

Prior to 1934, the Bureau schools had been offering curricula designed to prepare the Indian for full citizenship and eventual emergence into life off the reservation. After 1934, many courses in fundamentals were discarded and such "progressive" courses as "social science" and "Indian arts, crafts and music" took their places. In effect, the Indian child was being prepared, not for emergence into off-reservation society but for continued existence as wards of the Federal Government.

The Indian Reorganization Act of 1934 plunged the Indians into further bondage. Their protests were drowned by propaganda which emanated from the Department of Interior. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs published this statement: "Indian Service presents the opportunity for making new discoveries—the opportunity for clinical experimentation in a large number of branches of social science, most of all, the science of human management." Only a communal form of government was provided by the Act. All property is held in common and every act of the supposedly self-governing body is subject to approval by the Secretary of Interior. Further, the Secretary has mandatory control over all timber and grazing operations on the reservations. At the time, Indian delegations visited Congressional Committees and pointed out specifically the communism in this Federal program and those who were administering it. Under the law, three alleged elections were held — to accept the Act, to adopt a local constitution, and a charter of incorporation. A federal corporation resulted which was social, economic and political in scope.

The overall cost to the American taxpayer, of this planned second-class citizenship for reservation Indians is staggering. From 1954 to 1964 alone, the people will have spent over two billion dollars on the Government's "clinical experimentation" in "the science of human management." The crux of the Indians' problem is that they apparently have no recourse to the normal judicial procedure enjoyed by all other American citizens. The Supreme Court has consistently interpreted Article III, Section 2 of the Constitution as not being applicable to the Indians (although it refers to "citizens" and does not specifically exclude Indians), and that "Congress has paramount and plenary power over tribal Indians and their property which can neither be denied nor controlled by the judicial branch of the government."

If, then, the albatross of the Bureau of Indian Affairs is ever to be removed from the taxpayers' necks—and "civil rights" granted tribal Indians—Congress must declare that its Indian citizenship law of 1924 places the Indians under the full protection of the entire Constitution. Country Editor speaking: "It takes a conscientious man to tell where he's tired or just lazy." Here's a yardstick of our nation's progress: There were 9 million telephones in the U.S. in 1915, and today there are almost 80 million. The University of Georgia was the first state university, chartered in 1785. Don't know who'll get a rise out of the fact there's a drop in the raisin crop this year — $46,800 tons, 12,000 less than last year. Our long-time friend, Bill Sweet, Attleboro, Mass., big game hunter and jewelry manufacturer, owns the guns of Jesse and Frank James. He can prove they are the authentic weapons and that he's the third owner. He also has a small cannon used by Rogers' Rangers in their expeditions against the Indians. His gun collection is fabulous. Just learned that Charles Fitzmorris went around the world in 60 days for a Chicago newspaper in 1901, cutting 20 days off Jules Verne's fictional character who did it in 80 days in 1873. And speaking of Jules Verne reminds us that our nomination for the best Mike Todd's picture of all time is Mike Todd's "Around the World in 80 Days." That one had everything. Got a kick out of an ad in a recent edition of the San Francisco Chronicle: Wanted, nurses, surgery, immediate openings available. St. Francis Hospital. The largest mass execution we have heard of in the U.S. happened at Newport, R. I., where 26 pirates were hanged one day in 1723. But there were no do-gooders present urging abolition of capital punishment. Today's smile: A passerby inquired why a drunk was dragging an eight-foot chain behind him. The drunk gave him a fishy eye and asked: "Did you every try trudging one?"

If the Government listens to the Chamber of Commerce of Kingfisher, Okla., it can save $110,000. That body voted to ask Uncle Sam not to build a half-block long post office in their town, and to use the money saved to whittle down the national debt a bit. Kingfisher isn't exactly growing by leaps and bounds, and the present post office is just fine for the purpose, the Chamber members decided. "Someone has to take the initiative of stopping this constant taking," as Dr. L. L. Clark explained. Kingfisher is right in being worried about that national debt, despite the spenders' cheery assurance that "it's really all right because 'we owe it to ourselves' and it isn't as large in proportion to what we earn as it once was at the height of our biggest war. As Rep. Jensen (R., Iowa) pointed out the other day, each American family now pays $15 a month in taxes just to pay the interest on that national debt. So, without paying any of it off, the interest on the national debt is costing everybody in Kingfisher and elsewhere more than any of their utility bills. Any concern for thrift will have to come from the grassroots, in Kingfisher and elsewhere. From Washington budgeteers come only proposals for expanding the debt. From the General Accounting Office we learn that Government bureaus are wasting millions — many times the cost of the Kingfisher post office — every day. The Department of Defense, for example, is costing the average family $75 a month, according to Rep. Jensen. GAO finds the Air Force wasted $10 million by throwing out perfectly good repair kits, and a million dollars to store oil in Plattsburgh, N.Y., just because it wanted to use up its appropriation at the end of the year. Thanks to Kingfisher, though, we taxpayers get a small break. If other areas follow Kingfisher's example, we may all get a large one.

Pull Up A Chair By Frank J. Markey

We know a New England police official who suggests the novel idea of using detectives to find the cause of cancer. He would augment medical and laboratory research by having J. Edgar Hoover pick 10 of the nations top doctors for a two-year program to learn every detail in the lives of 1,000 medically selected victims. He believes correlating such data might provide a vital clue for the medical profession. The program would be financed by public contributions, like the March of Dimes, and directed through Hoover by the top cancer researchers. Why not try it? Cops are not scientists, but we know a couple who wouldn't quit until they found the right answer. Perfumes have been used since antiquity in the Far East, Egypt, Rome, and Greece. They were revived in Europe during the Crusades, but never caught on until the 10th century, when chemists started experimenting with new and different scents. It is said Napoleon bathed his head and shoulders every morning in eau-de-cologne, refreshed by the mind-stimulating rosemary attar and citrus distillations of this grape-spirit diffusion. The Empress Josephine drenched her apartments with the lingering scent of musk. Track and field records will be broken at the 1964 Olympic Games at Tokyo, but we wonder how much faster a man can run and how much higher he can jump. A record for the mile run was set in 1884 by W. G. George, British athlete, racing the distance in 4 minutes, 12.75 seconds. That was gradually whittled down, and last year New Zealand's Peter Snell sprinted a mile in 3 minutes, 54.4 seconds, beating George's time by 18 seconds. An American, M. F. Sweeney, set the high jump record of six feet, five and one-eighth inches in 1895, but last July the Soviet jumper, V. Brummel, went over the bar at seven feet, five inches almost 12 inches better, than Sweeney's feat of 68 years ago.

Dior Skirts Designed to Cover Knees

PARIS (UPI)—The House of Christian Dior today launched a collection emphasizing belted waists, wide shoulders and keeping skirts just barely covering the knees.

The fall-winter collection, designed by Marc Bohan, included suits with short, semi-skirted jackets and straight skirts.

Dior also showed a "morning suit"—a longer, fitted jacket buttoned high to the neck and worn over a belted jumper.

For street wear he showed a two-piece dress that bloused at the hip. Many of his skirts were cinched around the waist with leather belts. Sleeves were long and cuffed.

Coats had large collars. Some that were belted had wide armholes and accentuated shoulders.

Highway Officials Warn Of Trinity Canal Costs

AUSTIN (UPI)—The State Highway Commission warns that local agencies sponsoring the proposed Trinity River project would be required to bear a good share of the $70 million cost of relocating displaced highways.

In a letter to Joe D. Carter, chairman of the Texas Water Commission state highway engineer D. C. Greer asked that all agencies participating in the proposed project be required to budget funds to cover the highway costs.

Greer asked that his department's report be incorporated in the record of next Tuesday's water commission hearing on the Trinity River plan.

The State Water Commission has called a hearing for Tuesday on the entire Trinity River development proposal. The commission invited all interested persons to appear before the hearing, which will probably take several days.

The report estimates that raising or replacing 26 existing Trinity River bridges would cost $32.28 million, and that relocation of roads and bridges in the areas of the five flood control projects and four reservoirs envisioned in the Trinity plan would cost another $23.14 million.

In addition, the department estimates that in the next 15 years, 12 new Trinity crossings, costing $9.3 million, will be required.

Greer said the proposed 370-mile canal, expected to cost $900 million, would cause "serious conflicts" with the state's highway construction and planning.

But he said nothing in the plans of the U.S. Corps of Engineers appears to endanger the Texas highway program.

ASKS BETTER SYSTEM

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Central Intelligence Agency Director John A. McCone has asked a House armed services subcommittee for a better retirement system for U.S. agents.

McCone said the system should be similar to that of the foreign service. He did not reveal any more details of his proposal in public session and after he announced it the subcommittee went into closed session.
