U.S. Mercy Planes Begin Airlift to Quake Zone

Thousands Buried in Model City

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (UPI) — A new tremor rocked earthquake-devastated Skopje Saturday as U.S. planes began a massive mercy airlift and President Tito inspected the ruins of the once bustling "model city" under which thousands were feared still buried.

(In Munich, West German railway officials disclosed that the crack Hellas express train loaded with hundreds of vacationing foreign tourists was missing in the earthquake zone. They said the Athens-to-Dortmund train was due in Skopje's main station when the quake struck, heavily damaging the terminal. It has not been heard from since.)

The new shock was described as "minor" and failed to ruffle Tito who never flinched as he toured the ruined main square that bears his name in this city of 200,000.

A rescue center spokesman told newsmen the final death toll would reach at least 2,000. But unofficial reports said thousands more may have been killed in the quake that destroyed about 80 per cent of this Macedonian capital that was to have been the showplace of Yugoslav communism.

800 Bodies Recovered
The rescue spokesman said 800 bodies had already been recovered from the rubble and said another 2,000 persons had been hospitalized.

An estimated 100,000 persons were homeless.

Yugoslav officials announced the U.S. Air Force had launched a major mercy airlift to bring aid to the shattered town. They said 27 U.S. Air Force transports were starting to arrive at Belgrade airport at 30-minute intervals.

Each plane carried tons of American medical aid, blankets and other supplies. Included in the aid shipments was an entire U.S. Army field hospital to minister to the stricken city. The hospital will house 120 beds and be manned by more than 200 U.S. Army personnel. The mercy planes were flying in 30 ambulances and other vehicles for the hospital.

President Kennedy expressed sorrow over the disaster in a letter to Tito and announced he had asked Defense Secretary Robert McNamara to offer the help of U.S. forces in Europe.

U.S.S.R. Sends Funds
The Soviet Union announced it was sending 50,000 rubles ($50,000) worth of medicines and food to the earthquake victims.

Pope Paul VI, in messages to Yugoslav prelates, said he was "stricken with great grief." He sent his apostolic blessing and announced he was forwarding "a subsidy to cover the most urgent necessities of the families in greatest need."

Quake Again Hits Italian Riviera
IMPERIA, Italy (UPI) — Chimneys toppled, residents and tourists fled to the beaches in nightgowns or pajamas and a number of persons fainted when the second earthquake in eight days shook the Italian Riviera early Saturday.

The quake, which was also felt in the hills of Piedmont and on the French Riviera, followed a stronger shock in the same area July 19 and Friday's catastrophe in Skopje, Yugoslavia.

PAMPA WEATHER WATCHER — William R. Bowen, a chemist for Celanese Corp., is the official weather watcher for Pampa and vicinity. Bowen, with instruments purchased by the Chamber of Commerce, reports the high-low temperatures, barometric pressure and rainfall to the Panhandle Amateur Weather Network at 5:30 p.m. daily. Pampa Private School Announces New Education System This Fall

The Board of Trustees of St. Matthew's Episcopal Day School has voted to adopt an entirely new system of education beginning with the Fall semester. It was announced Saturday by the Rev. William E. West, rector of St. Matthew's Church.

Surveys have shown, according to the Rev. Mr. West, that in city after city about half of the senior high school pupils cannot read beyond fourth or fifth grade levels.

"We are adopting the new plan," he said, "to accelerate the program of language arts."

St. Matthew's school presently teaches pupils from kindergarten through the third grade.

The new system, according to Rev. West, was developed by Miss Vassar Carden, a graduate of both Vassar College and Columbia University. Her system, he stated, is fast being introduced in both public and private schools from New York to California. The Episcopal Day School of Midland, Texas, now uses the system from kindergarten through the eighth grade.

In an article in the September 9, 1962 issue of the Saturday Evening Post entitled "These Children Love to Read," the author says of the Carden System. "The system which uses the phonetic approach begins with the alphabet teaching consonants, then vowels, and their sounds. Having mastered the sounds of the letters and letter combinations, beginners under the Carden system hold the key for unlocking new words as they meet them. Children under this method read by turning letters into sounds and spell by converting sounds into letters."

The St. Matthew's board of trustees issued this statement: "The average beginner under

Girl Surprises Burglar at Work

Susan Quible, 19, walked into the den at her home, 1918 Russell, Friday night and surprised a burglar going through a desk. The man picked up a government check, which was lying on top of the desk, and ran out the back door.

Her father, George Quible, told officers at 9:15 p.m. Friday the check amounted to $149. Police still were investigating the case Saturday.

Moonlet Is Tuned Into Earth Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — America's newest communications satellite, Syncom-2, was speeding through space in a near-perfect "hanging" orbit Saturday that will be sharpened even further in a day or two.

The 86-pound satellite, hurled into the sky in the 19th straight successful launching of a Delta rocket Friday, successfully operated during telephone and teletype communications tests Saturday.

The federal space agency said early observations indicated Syncom-2 was in an orbit ranging from 21,280 miles to 22,760 miles above earth. In this orbit, the moonlet was completing one circuit every 23 hours 28 minutes.

The orbit period nearly matched the rotation speed of earth—an effect which makes Syncom-2 appear to remain almost stationary in one part of the sky.

Actually, space agency officials said Syncom-2 was drifting slightly to the east at the rate of 7.5 degrees per day. This "drift" is what they will try to halt in a series of correction maneuvers scheduled to begin this weekend.

The satellite was equipped with small gas jets that can be triggered from ground stations. Eventually, the experts hope to get Syncom-2 in a position where its speed will exactly match earth's rotation—or, a "24-hour" orbit.

In that position, the moonlet will remain an ever-present target in the sky for communications tests between a ground station at Lakehurst, N.J., and a test ship, the USNS Kingsport, at anchor in Lagos Harbor, Nigeria.

DeGaulle Ready To 'Go-It-Alone'

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle apparently is resolved to "go-it-alone" again on nuclear testing and a possible East-West non-aggression pact.

De Gaulle meets the press Monday afternoon in one of his rare news conferences—the first in fact, since he rocked the Western alliance Jan. 14 by vetoing Great Britain's European Common Market entry.

Fidel's 'Swindle' Charge Rejected By United States

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States Saturday rejected "as completely without foundation" Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's charge that he was "swindled" out of $10 million worth of supplies in the ransom deal for the Bay of Pigs prisoners.

The State Department said Canadian and U.S. banks, which issued a letter of credit guaranteeing delivery of $53 million in medical supplies and other goods, reported some time ago that the American Red Cross had fully met that commitment.

"Castro should check his facts more carefully," the department said in a statement which was read to newsmen by press officer Richard I. Phillips.

It said that July 3, when the Red Cross announced completion of delivery, "the Cuban Red Cross had thanked the American Red Cross for the fine way it had completed its mission."

That statement was made, according to officials, by the head of the Cuban Red Cross, Gilberto Cervantes, at a meeting of American Red Cross representatives working in Cuba.

The ransom deal, under which 1,113 prisoners of the ill-fated April 1961 invasion attempt were released and brought to the United States, was approved by the U.S. government but it was not an official undertaking. It was carried out by the Red Cross working with the cooperation and assistance of a number of American officials, including Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and U.S. business leaders.

600 at Masonic Hilltop Meet

Approximately 600 Masons and their wives attended the third annual Hilltop Open Air Conclave of Master Masons last night on the Bob Andis Ranch three miles west of Skellytown.

A barbecue dinner was served to the visitors and guests at 5 p.m. by the Pampa Shrine Club.

The principal speaker on the after-dinner program was John R. Collard of Spearman, deputy grand master of Texas Masons. Collard will succeed Jim W. Weatherby as grand master in November.

Ray Barber, superintendent of the Masonic School at Fort Worth was in charge of the entertainment at last night's meeting.

The Pampa and Petersburg lodges were hosts at the Conclave and at a luncheon honoring Texas Grand Lodge members at noon yesterday in the Court House Cafe.

Following the luncheon a meeting was held at Masonic Lodge 966 honoring the Grand Lodge officers and committees.

Representatives were present from Pampa, Borger, Spur, Houston, Dallas, Abilene, McLean, Petersburg, Alpine, Matador and one person was in attendance from New Mexico.

Pact Called Worthwhile Gamble for World Peace

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana led a round of general congressional praise Saturday for President Kennedy's speech on the partial nuclear test ban treaty, terming it a "gamble worth the effort."

The President's talk was seen as the beginning of intensive administration efforts to insure Senate ratification of the pact. Although it was warmly praised by many lawmakers in both parties, some still voiced doubts.

Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which will act on the treaty, said the President's "very good" speech pointed out that the agreement "represents a breakthrough in the cold war and could, if properly observed by both sides, be the first break in the clouds in many years."

He warned that "it would be wrong to make too much of this agreement." But, he said, "even more, it would be wrong to make too little of it."

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., said Kennedy "stated the case well for the treaty—that the known risks of a test ban are not as dangerous to our security as the nuclear arms race."

But, Cooper said, "the administration must provide to every member of the Senate the fullest information" regarding the treaty to insure ratification because "we, too, are charged with the security of the country."

The three-power pact begins its long journey toward a Senate ratification vote when Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman told the nation Saturday the nuclear test ban pact just initiated in Moscow "is a good treaty" that will not prevent the use of atomic weapons in event of war.

Harriman held a televised news conference after reporting personally to President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on U.S.-British-Russian talks that led to conclusion of the pact which would ban all except underground nuclear tests.

During his 90-minute conference with the President and Rusk, he delivered a personal message from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev described as "very friendly."

Harriman said the treaty probably was a "very important step" toward a possible thawing of the cold war.

Harriman Says It's Good Deal

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman told the nation Saturday the nuclear test ban pact just initiated in Moscow "is a good treaty" that will not prevent the use of atomic weapons in event of war.

Harriman held a televised news conference after reporting personally to President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on U.S.-British-Russian talks that led to conclusion of the pact which would ban all except underground nuclear tests.

Pampa Area Folk Think That It's Hit Here Already

WACO (UPI) — Col. F. P. Koisch, Fort Worth district engineer for the Corps of Engineers, quoting from the Texas Water Pampa got .63-inch rainfall early Saturday morning, the first in about three weeks.

Conservation Association publication "Water," says a severe drought will hit Texas within the next 13 years.

Koisch, who spoke Friday to 60 top water conservationists and water engineers in Waco, said the drought is expected to be even more severe than in the 1950-56 rain-short period.

Koisch gave a report pointing out measures being taken by the Corps to have water on hand to meet the drought, if and when it comes. He discussed the number of reservoirs under construction and those planned.

TRIBESMAN KILL FIVE

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Gelubba tribesmen from Ethiopia killed four men and one woman of the Kanyan Gabbra tribe and stole 1,200 head of sheep and goats from two frontier villages, police said Saturday.

The raiders, numbering 15 to 20, also shot dead three camels in their raid Wednesday. Police said other Gelubba war parties have been over the border during the week.

New System

(Continued From Page 1) the method learns to read, write, and spell 2,000 new words during the first year alone — which, interestingly enough, is what first graders in Russia learn. Pupils reaching the eighth grade under this system are expected to command 20,000 word vocabularies.

The Post goes on to say that what children read is as important as how they read. To challenge children to stretch their minds, children's classics begin with Beatrix Potter's "Peter Rabbit" in the first grade. Where most schools teach reading and writing early, Carden schools teach them simultaneously. Since the pupils read early, this means that they can also write early. Second graders can write letter perfect compositions.

Teachers at St. Matthews will have completed their special course of training under the Carden system by the beginning of the fall semester. In addition to this training, Miss Carden will spend three days in Pampa, Sept. 5, 6, and 7, at which time the teachers will observe her teaching the students, Rev. West stated.

Entrance examinations for those wishing to enter St. Matthew's school for the first time will be given Aug. 14. All parents interested in further information, or in enrolling children may contact St. Matthews Episcopal Church at MO 4-8994.

Ten Negroes Jailed In School Protest

FARMVILLE, Va. (UPI) — Approximately 125 Negroes marched on the courthouse here Saturday to protest Prince Edward County's closed school policy and 10 were arrested when they refused to disperse.

It was the largest demonstration held in the Southwest Virginia tobacco town during the three-day-old desegregation drive — first that Negroes have generated here since schools were closed in 1959 to avoid desegregation.

Earth Quake

(Continued From Page 1) ly in Skopje, reports from France and Italy said new earth shocks hit the French and Italian Riviera Saturday, sending thousands of frightened residents and tourists rushing onto the streets and beaches of such resorts as Nice, Bordighera and Albenga. A number of persons fainted but no casualties or damage were reported along the Riviera.

Meanwhile, the nation mobilized to meet the disaster. Makeshift hospitals sprang up in the surrounding countryside and government officials ordered all children under 15 out of the disaster area. Mothers with small children were taken to emergency homes far from the shattered city.

The acrid smell of death permeated Skopje, and occasional screams of persons trapped under the debris could be heard as Tito accompanied by Vice President Aleksander Rankovic and Federal Assembly President Edvard Kardelj, grimly inspected the city.

Rescue teams Saturday could still hear the screams of the desk clerk of the Hotel Macedonia from under the rubble where he was buried alive.

Soldiers and rescue teams waged a 12-hour battle to save the life of a 19-year-old girl pinned under a heavy cement block. Rescuers bored a hole in the heavy block and nourished the girl with fruit and water until she could be freed.

The official agency reported that cries also were heard from under the debris of the heavily damaged Skopje railway station and teams of men were trying to reach the buried victims.

SWEDEN LAUNCHES ROCKET STOCKHOLM. (UPI) — Sweden successfully launched a U. S. built Nike-Cajun rocket into space Saturday.

The test which was aimed to measure temperatures and winds at an altitude between 45 and 85 kilometers (27.9-52.3 miles) was successful, a spokesman for the rocket program said. Sweden plans to launch three more rockets during the summer.

Mrs. JFK Marks 34th Birthday

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — First Lady Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy celebrates her 34th birthday today the way she likes best — with little fuss and all her family around her.

President Kennedy was on hand to join in the quiet festivities for his wife, who is expecting her third child in late August.

The White House put a "private" label on the celebration, as it does all first family birthdays, and gave few details.

The small family gathering, however, will take place at an evening hour when Caroline, 5, and John Jr., 2, can watch their mother blow out the candles on her birthday cake and open her gifts.

Mrs. Kennedy has been out of the public eye lately but she had not been out of the thoughts of many well-wishers. Birthday cards and letters congratulating her on her expected baby have poured into the White House.

She has had excellent care during the waiting days. Her Washington obstetrician, Dr. John W. Walsh, and one of the White House physicians, Dr. Janet Travell, are both to keep an eye on her.

While vacationing here on Squaw Island, Mrs. Kennedy has been able to devote more time to her youngsters than ever before. She is often seen by townsmen, behind the wheel of a car, taking her children for a spin. A Secret Service agent's car follows close behind.

If all goes according to plan, Mrs. Kennedy will wind up her sojourn here and return to Washington about the third week in August. She has a set date, still secret, at Walter Reed Army Hospital toward the end of the month to have a Caesarian section, her fourth such operation.

Correction

Pampa's 17 water wells have a maximum capacity of 12-million gallons a day and have been pumping over seven million gallons daily for the past week due to the consistent hot weather.

It was incorrectly stated in Friday's paper that Pampa's city wells could produce a maximum of 20 million gallons a day.

Summer School Sessions End

Out of 325 students enrolled in summer school, 11 received diplomas Friday from Cameron Marsh, high school principal. Last year, 21 were graduated from summer school.

"We had approximately the same number enrolled in the eight-week program this year as last year," Marsh said. "There were 167 in driver's education, 175 in basic history, English and mathematics courses and 63 girls in home economics."

Classes were taught from 7 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. daily. Six teachers taught basic courses, five gave driver's education instruction and one taught home economics.

"The summer school program is set up to comply with standards of the Texas Education Agency, which means we are an accredited summer school," Marsh said.

The fall school term will open Aug. 28 with 1,150 expected to enter high school, an increase of 70 over last year's high school enrollment of 1,080.

First Graders Need Birth Certificates

4-H Horse Club To Make Debut In Rodeo Parade

By WANDA HUFF
The annual rodeo parade, Aug. 21, will mark the first performance of the new Top O' Texas 4-H Horse Club, a group of youngsters and young people ages nine to 21. For a boy or a girl, nine to 21 years old, who is part owner of a horse and a member of 4-H, here's a chance to learn fundamentals in horse training and management as well as some "fun-type" drills and maneuvers.

SADDLING LESSON FOR HORSE CLUB MEMBERS — David Stockstill, center, shows J. T. Winters, Jr., left, Johnny Beardon and James Baggerman, right, just how much pull to give a horse's cinch to make his saddle stay on. The boys are part of the 30 4-H'ers who belong to the new Top O' Texas 4-H Horse Club. They will ride in the rodeo parade for their first performance. (Daily News Photo)

Directed by Mr. and Mrs. John Winters, west of the city and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Reeves, south of city, the group meets at 8 p.m. each Monday at the rodeo grounds to prepare for their first performance. After the rodeo, the club will meet monthly.

The leaders will instruct club members in care and training of horses, an educational project that includes learning how to determine a horse's age, common diseases, common horse terms, breeds of horses, and common faults in conformation, feet and legs.

By lecture and demonstration, the club will learn the identity of parts of a horse and his equipment, proper handling at show rein, at halter and mounted, proper use of hackamores and bits and safety measures to use when working around or riding a horse.

"Since some of the members have horses that have never been trained, even to lead, we will teach them how to gently accept a saddle and a rider," Winters said.

When the group begins lessons in judging and selecting a horse, the American Quarter Horse Association office in Amarillo will send a representative to teach how to place horses in the order of their excellence.

Purposes of the horse club are to help boys and girls achieve a better understanding of the horse and its place in agriculture and recreation, knowledge of the breeding, training, management and use of horses; a sense of achievement through growing, training, and showing animals under their management, a knowledge of record keeping that will demonstrate financial gain or loss and improve managerial abilities, a likeable personality developed through competition and cooperation in 4-H activities and a love for horses, according to the leaders.

"We have a complete mixture of horses, some quarter horses, Appaloosas, Shetlands and ponies," Winters said. "The kids have given them a variety of names including Joe, Dixie, Cocomo, Dusty, Tom and Ribbon."

Costumes for performances will be white western shirts, green neckties, light hats, blue jeans and green chaps with shamrocks, and the club insignia, sewed on them, Mrs. Winters stated.

"Right now, we have 30 members, but will accept members at any time," she added.

In the planning session July 9, leaders and county agents set up standards for club members as follows:

They should remember it is an educational, subject matter project and 4-H records must be kept and turned in. To participate in the showmanship activities, a member must attend the subject matter meetings. Parents are to be responsible for their club member and his animal.

Money Raised For AFS Student

CANADIAN (Spl) — A garage-and-basement auction netted $350.71 for the local chapter of the American Field Service, which is sponsoring a foreign exchange student here this fall.

The auction sale, held at City Auditorium, attracted only a small crowd, but bidding was spirited and all articles contributed to the sale were sold, auctioneers Malouf Abraham and Orla Curmatt reported.

The money raised will be applied toward the approximately $800 which the local AFS chapter must raise to cover the travel expense for the exchange student.

REVOKES PASSPORTS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department has revoked the passports of 58 American students now visiting Cuba.

The State Department said it had notified the group by letters to their U.S. home addresses that their passports had been voided. Officials said the students would have to appeal to the government before their passports could be validated again.

July Passenger Car Production At All-Time High

DETROIT (UPI)—Production of passenger cars, already at an all-time high for any model year, will also set a peak for any July, Ward's automotive reports said Saturday.

Auto makers are rushing out 1963 models at a torrid pace, apparently to escape any possible distribution in the event of a rail strike.

A total of 628,000 cars were programmed for July. But Ward's said many units were pulled out of August plans because of the rail strike threat. The statistical agency said July production would exceed the record of 659,763 units set in July 1955. The industry output this week will include 149,707 cars, compared with 159,040 last week and 136,172 in the same week last year. Truck output for the week was set at 30,552 units. That compared with 31,076 last week and 25,011 in the same week last year.

Feasting With Panthers:

For the Shots Heard Around The World: Lots of Targets

(Last of four dispatches.)

By TOM A. CULLEN

Newspaper Enterprise Assn., LONDON (NEA) — "The seven shots that were heard around the world" is the way that one London newspaper described that shooting fray outside the Mayfair apartment of Christine Keeler, 21-year-old party girl.

Those shots were fired by a jealous lover, Johnny Edgcombe, a Jamaican with a criminal record as a drug peddler and a procurer.

Edgcombe pumped five bullets into the door lock. Then he pointed his pistol upwards, and two bullets ploshed into the brickwork around the window where Christine's head had been a moment earlier.

"I love that gal," Edgcombe gobbled to the police who arrested him. "I was sick in the stomach over her."

All of this happened last December, but in the ensuing months Christine's affairs with other men have come to light, touching off Britain's biggest "panti feast," as it is called. Among those whose names have been dragged into the scandal as having indiscreetly "feasted with panthers" are:

John Profumo, 48, who resigned as Secretary of State for War after admitting that he had been Christine's lover.

Commander Eugene Ivanov, 37, Soviet naval attaché, who shared Christine's favors.

Dr. Stephen Ward, 30, osteopath and portrait artist of the Royal Family, who shared with Christine the apartment where the shooting took place.

Viscount Astor, 55, good friend of Dr. Ward and of Christine. Christine says that Lord Astor paid the rent of a flat which she occupied in 1961. And party girl Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies told a court that she was intimate with Astor.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr., film producer and friend of the Royal Family. Fairbanks gave Christine a screen test as a favor to his friend, Dr. Ward.

Second only to Profumo's resignation has been the shock occasioned by Lord Astor's connection with this scandal.

In Britain the Astors are considered to be pillars of respectability. Viscount Astor, who married a top fashion model, has been host to international celebrities at his fabulous Cliveden estate.

His mother is Virginia-born Lady Nancy Astor, first woman Member of Parliament, and a famous hostess in her day. His uncle is Baron Astor of Hever, owner of The Times of London.

The 1963 hi-jinks on Lord Astor's Cliveden estate differ vastly from the parties given there in the 1930s. Musical chairs served as an ice-breaker in those days.

After Profumo broke away from her she continued her merry way, sowing destruction as she went, strewing the wreckage of men's careers.

Sometimes when she received guests she wore nothing but tight blue jeans. Once she gave a party and had everyone sit fully clothed in her bath drinking champagne.

She also got mixed up in various escapades. Once she "borrowed" a boyfriend's car and drove to the south of France. Another time she flew to New York on impulse, then wired Dr. Ward for money to come home. A London admirer was a found who obligingly put up $1800 for the return trip.

Christine's good friend, Mandy Rice-Davies, 18, was a baby-faced blonde who likewise made good in the big city. In just three years Mandy had managed to wangle from rich admirers a Jaguar and "enough jewelry and mink to keep me over the next year."

It all began with those "seven shots heard around the world" last December, but no one knows where it will end.

Start Work Immediately

As drafted, the legislation contemplates that the ICC would get to work immediately on the major issues involving manning of train and engine crews.

That is, immediately after either side filed an application for a change in the rules.

The ICC would be expected to hand down its decision in three months, and that decision would be binding. For other disputes, including wage scales, the ICC could be asked to intervene only after 60 more days of collective bargaining. If the negotiations failed, it could again impose its will.

The ICC rulings subject to the joint management-labor veto would last for two years. At that time, the President would be required to report back to Congress, including a recommendation whether the law should be extended. If the stalemate continued and a strike threatened there is no reason to suspect that the proposed solution in 1965 would be different.

SLATES FULL OPERATION

RANGOON (UPI) — The official Burma News Agency (NAB), formally inaugurated Friday afternoon, will begin full-scale operations Aug. 1.

The NAB has taken over distribution of international news provided by four major world news agencies, including United Press International.

But he said the increases reflect "past inflationary pressures rather than present or future inflationary dangers."

The June increase means about 105,000 workers will receive cost of living pay boosts ranging from 1 to 3 cents per hour.

Government Sets Railroad Prices Through the ICC

By GEORGE J. MARDER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government, through the Interstate Commerce Commission, now sets the prices for the railroad industry.

Under President Kennedy's proposed legislative solution to the four-year-old railroad dispute, the government also, in effect, could fix work rules and wage scales. This doesn't mean the government would use such power. But it would be there, limited to two years and restricted to the specific items now in dispute. These run the gamut of work rules, crew makeup, wage rates, and pay increases.

There is no sense in quibbling over words to describe that power. Some call it compulsory arbitration; the President says it isn't.

The facts are that the ICC could, if it wanted to, fix the work rules and the wage rates and tell the industry to adopt the decision.

Any decision would be binding, whether management or labor liked it or not, subject only to appeals to the courts.

Unions Couldn't Strike

The unions couldn't strike nor could management lock them out to prevent enforcement of decisions. That could be stopped only by court injunction procedure which is specifically authorized by the bill.

This means that if either side tried to block effectiveness of the decisions with a strike or lockout after an injunction was issued, they could be charged with contempt of court.

That method was used years ago to break a strike by the United Mine Workers under John L. Lewis when the court held that mass walkouts were being encouraged by the union through a "hot and a wink" from union leaders.

However, under the President's proposed law, both union and management, together, would have a veto power over ICC decisions. They couldn't do it alone. But if, through collective bargaining, they came together in agreement on any issue on which the ICC had ruled, their agreement would take precedence.

As drafted, the legislation contemplates that the ICC would get to work immediately on the major issues involving manning of train and engine crews.

That is, immediately after either side filed an application for a change in the rules.

The ICC would be expected to hand down its decision in three months, and that decision would be binding. For other disputes, including wage scales, the ICC could be asked to intervene only after 60 more days of collective bargaining. If the negotiations failed, it could again impose its will.

Who Can Better Watermelon Seed Spittin' Mark?

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI)—Wally Ausley, a local boy, spat a watermelon seed 35 feet and six inches.

The unheralded Ausley's remarkable performance astounded the crowd, shamed his competitors, and broke the watermelon festival record.

The old champion, John Alexander, once spat a watermelon seed 34 feet. His best effort Wednesday was 29 feet, but it appeared that would do.

Then Ausley stepped to the foul line, bit off a hunk of watermelon and carefully selected a likely seed with his tongue. He held the seed between his teeth, waiting air around it to dry it off.

Then he leaned his 200-pound frame forward, squinted and loosed a mighty spit that brought gasps of wonder from the crowd. "It's just a matter of conditioning," said Ausley modestly.

Colonel Powers May 'Get Gate'

HOUSTON (UPI)—The director of the Manned Spacecraft Center (MSC) said today the "voice of the Mercury astronauts," Col. John (Shorty) Powers, will be reassigned as soon as officials can determine where he can best benefit the space program.

Dr. Robert Gilruth, MSC director at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Center here, said Powers is but one of many employees assigned to the Mercury program who will now get new assignments.

There have been rumors lately that Powers would be fired. He is eligible for retirement from the Air Force next year.

Gilruth said Powers' reassignment "will be announced as soon as we can determine in what way his talents and experience can best benefit NASA."

World exports during 1962 were valued at an estimated $126 billion, according to the Britannica Book of the Year.

House Will Be Asked To Slash Foreign Aid Cash

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee will be asked to cut U.S. economic aid to India and Pakistan until they settle their Kashmir dispute, it was learned yesterday.

Informed sources said the reduction would be proposed as an amendment to President Kennedy's foreign aid bill, now being considered by the committee in closed sessions.

The amendment, sponsored by Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Mich., would order a 25 per cent slash in planned economic aid for both countries until the Kashmir issue is resolved.

This would cut assistance to India to about $300 million. U.S. aid to Pakistan would be cut to about $175 million.

India and Pakistan have been quarreling since the turn of the decade over control of Kashmir, an area in the Himalayas with a population of four million people and 82,258 square miles of territory.

A cease-fire was affected by the United Nations, which named a commission to arrange a plebiscite, but controversy continues over withdrawal of troops and the land remains divided.

Broomfield believes that the dispute weakens free world defenses against Red China. He feels that his amendment might help to prod India and Pakistan into an agreement, sources said.

ASKS NAME CHANGE

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The daughter of Irish-born actress Maureen O'Hara has petitioned superior court to make the maternal name FitzSimons her legal name.

Bronwyn Bridget Price stated in her petition that her father—film director Will Price—is dead and that there are no close relatives on his side. She asked to use the name Bronwyn Bridget FitzSimons.

Miss Price, 19, is an aspiring actress and resides here with her mother.

The Dolphin car wash went over well last Saturday and Sunday. Coach Bobby Bybee wishes to thank each one for their interest and help.

Proceeds went toward taking care of the expenses of the qualifiers going to the State Junior Olympics at San Angelo July 26 and 27.

Eleven of the Dolphins qualified for the state meet and ten will make the trip. Winners at San Angelo will compete in the national meet later on. Those attending the state meet will be Don Rader, Scott Rader, Terry Marlar, Keith Morris, Teddy Bird, Twila Jack, Jackie Stevens, Butch Wilkerson, Rusty Reeves and Chuck Crosson.

The Center will play host to an Open House Monday for the Chamber and guests interested in the open house are invited. Reservations may be made in the Chamber office until 10 a.m. Monday.

The meeting will be in the spacious new gym just recently completed. Various pieces of gymnastic equipment will be on display so that guests may observe the various activities available at the Center.

The Center is sponsoring a school for children 3½-6 years of age this fall. This will be a school paralleling a kindergarten but will have more variety in the program.

Instructions in tumbling, trampolining, running and quiet games will be given as an exercise phase of the program. Arts and Crafts, numbers, picture recognition, manners, and the 'why' of things will be used in the school. Ample time for rest, refreshments, and personal interests will be on the schedule.

The school will correspond with the dates the public schools are in session. School will open at 8 a.m. and close at 3 p.m. No hot lunch is planned but children may bring a sack lunch to be eaten at the Center. Eating will be supervised. Milk will be served in the morning and afternoon.

The cost of the school will be $1.35 per day per child and $1.75 for half day sessions. A child may attend half day sessions or full day sessions. Parents do not have to be members of the Center, this school being a separate part of the Center. Children will receive instruction according to their age group and participate in the various activities only with their age group.

Partners who are interested in this school are urged to visit the Center or call to enroll. August 15 will be the enrollment deadline.

Eclipse Watcher Suffers Partial Loss of Eyesight

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (UPI) — Authorities said Saturday a man suffered partial loss of sight from watching the eclipse with the naked eye last Saturday.

Dr. Don Connor Jr. examined the man. He said the victim suffered about 30 per cent loss of vision.

The victim, who asked not to be identified, looked at the eclipse for about 10 seconds. He said he heard the warnings on radio and television and read them in the newspapers, but "I wanted to try it anyway."

The victim experienced no pain and was not aware of the loss of sight until Sunday.

Connor said the man had lost 90 per cent of his vision by Tuesday but by Thursday his condition had improved 70 per cent.

'Title II' of Civil Rights Bill Would Invoke Old Equity Doctrine

By WILLIAM J. EATON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's proposal to ban racial discrimination in public places would invoke the centuries old doctrine of equity to enforce Negro rights to equal access and service.

The legislation, now hotly debated in Congress, would declare that racial restrictions in hotels, theaters, restaurants and stores were illegal. It also would open the federal courts for Negroes or other aggrieved minorities to seek a remedy.

The provisions covering rights to access and service in public places are contained in the controversial "Title II" or public accommodations section of the President's sweeping civil rights bill. It is the section of the bill most repugnant to opponents of civil rights legislation and it is certain to touch off long and heated debate in Congress.

No Criminal Penalties

Congressional approval of the law would, in effect, say that property rights of the hotel or restaurant owner must not be exercised to exclude anyone on the basis of race or creed. But no criminal penalties would be imposed on violators. Enforcement would be achieved through court orders, backed up if necessary by contempt-of-court proceedings.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy would be given discretionary authority to file suits in major cases if he found that those who complained of discrimination were unable to make their cases in court and his participation would advance the objectives of the law.

Opponents argue that the proposed law would invade property rights of businessmen to select their own customers. Proponents contend that these property rights have been curtailed many times in the past through federal legislation to protect the public interest. They cite minimum wage child labor, pure food and drug legislation and a host of Sunday "blue laws" to support their view.

The President's civil rights bill is based largely on the equity powers of courts, which can be traced to medieval England, to issue restraining orders or injunctions to prevent a wrong from occurring.

Step-By-Step Explanation

Here is a step-by-step explanation of how the equal accommodations provisions would work if Congress passed the proposal exactly as the President presented it.

Walter Rogers Reports

Power from Deep in the Earth

Man goes deep in the earth for a great variety of mineral resources. In this country and in others around the world there is growing interest in tapping the earth for, of all things, steam. It is there underground in untold quantity, waiting to be tapped to turn the turbines that generate the electric power. Oil wells and gas wells are common sights in the Panhandle; because of the availability and low cost of natural gas burned to produce steam and generate power, we may never see the day in our area when wells are drilled to tap subsurface heat and steam. But in some parts of the United States and many countries of the world, tapping the earth for this so-called "geothermal energy" holds great promise for providing cheap electric power and heat.

are now generating more than 300,000 kilowatts from 24 generating units. As a sideline, a chemical industry has been established mainly for the manufacture of boron products. In the United States, deep drilling has been undertaken by private enterprise in Imperial County, Calif., at the southern end of the Salton Sea. The project has disclosed boiling brines containing, in addition to a large quantity of steam, a high content of valuable chemicals. Single wells have a proved steam potential of generating 8,000 to 10,000 kilowatts. More tests are scheduled. In Iceland, steam and hot water from geyser areas are being tapped for community heating purposes.

There was a long pause. "Okay," said the man. "We can clean it for you."

"How much?" asked Tommy. "It depends on the size," said the man. "It might be $15, more or less."

"Okay," said Tommy. "Come and get it."

"How much valuation do you place on it?" the man asked.

"Well, to the steer it was everything," said Tommy. "But we figure it at $100."

Faster Desegregation Is Sought in Schools

By AL KUETTNER
United Press International
A concerted campaign by integration groups for faster public school desegregation has received a new boost from a significant federal court decision.

U.S. District Judge Edwin M. Stanley has ruled that a "stair step" desegregation program in the schools of Durham, N. C., after just one year's trial, is too slow. He ordered elementary and junior high schools desegregated in September and high schools one year hence.

Stanley's decision, if upheld in the higher federal courts, could provide the legal foundation for attacking similar plans in operation in a number of other Southern school systems. It was one of the rare cases since the Supreme Court school decision of 1954 in which a court has thrown out a gradual desegregation program already in operation.

Integrates by Degrees

Durham, which began a grade-a-year integration program by school divisions in 1962, admitted to previously all-white schools 33 Negroes at the elementary level, 30 to junior high and 15 to high school.

Stanley ordered almost 200 Negroes admitted to Durham white schools this fall, gave others the chance to transfer by Aug. 12 and directed the total desegregation of everything through high school by September of 1964.

Until recently, federal courts have been inclined to accept "stairstep" desegregation plans as moves in good faith by school boards. The jurists usually have retained supervision over the procedure to make certain it was not being used in a discriminatory fashion.

District Judge Frank A. Hooper refused to speed up the grade-a-year program of the Atlanta schools. Hooper ruled that the city school board was moving in good faith.

Alabama Law Upheld

At the pupil placement level, Alabama's law has been upheld by the Supreme Court which left its good faith application up to Alabama school authorities. A district judge has ordered Birmingham to prepare a September desegregation plan under the law.

Latest figures show that fewer than one out of 200 Negroes in 11 Southern states attend classes with white children.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) has led the legal fight for more speed. Of the 70 school cases the NAACP has pending, most "involve some question of gradualism," according to Jack Greenberg of the agency's legal defense fund.

Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg, speaking for the court in a Memphis, Tenn., parks desegregation case, warned that it "was never contemplated that the concept of 'deliberate speed' would countenance indefinite delay in elimination of racial barriers in schools, let alone other public facilities...."

NAVY RETIRES SUB

NEW LONDON, Conn. (UPI) — The Navy will retire one of the nation's diving submarines, Conger, Monday at a decommissioning ceremony at the submarine base.

The 312-foot-long fleet-type conventional submersible displaces 1,900 tons. Conger was commissioned in 1944. On Oct. 3, 1955, she made dive No. 3,000. Since the Conger racked up an additional 7,257 dives, making a total of 12,257.

PAMPAN ELECTED — D. W. Bond, Cabot Corp. personnel director, has been elected vice president of the Panhandle Personnel Ass'n. Ron Still of Amarillo, a Pampa High School graduate, was elected president. He is personnel director for the Amarillo Hospital District. Lee Shamburger, Shamrock Oil chief clerk at the McKee plant, Dumas, is the new secretary-treasurer.

Indian Sect Has Mass Weddings To Cut on Costs

KHOTE, India (UPI) — India's bearded, fighting Sikhs celebrated the 100th anniversary of a unique custom — mass weddings — in a joint ceremony for 149 couples here.

Two of the bridegrooms came from Thailand and another from Uganda to be married in the spot where the Namdhari sect of Sikhs first introduced the multiple ceremony.

The sect began the practice of mass weddings on June 3, 1863, with the object of sparing its members the huge expenses which normally accompany an Indian marriage ceremony.

This still is the objective. The couples who were wed here paid from 75 cents to $2.50 to tie the knot and were strictly forbidden to accept dowries from the brides' parents.

The brides and bridegrooms stand in a giant circle while attendants tie the ends of their robes together. Then they circle four times around a sacred fire while a priest chants verses from the Sikh holy book, the Granth Sahib.

The inexpensive, 90-minute ceremony ends when the couples untie the knots that connect their robes and eat small dishes of a wheat pudding which has been blessed by the priests.

A million of India's 8 million Sikhs belong to the Namdhari sect. Their wedding customs contrast sharply with those of their Hindu fellow countrymen, who often spend as much as $10,000 on a 24-hour celebration, or give furniture, clothing, gold and automobiles for the bride's dowry.

THE WORLD IN FOCUS

COOL SUMMER—Cropped sleeveless camisole top will keep the summer full of breeze for this young girl in New York. Dress is of linen-look rayon.

NO PLACE TO HIDE—It would seem that Dick Grinnell, of Rochester, N.Y., is playing the ostrich, but he's just checking his tuba for possible obstructions.

IN THE SWIM—Before taking a dip at Florida's Silver Springs, Libby Baker, a junior at Florida U. in Gainesville, poses with a high carriage wheel.

CAVALRY COLORS—Queen Elizabeth II, center, looks serious as she was pictured during the Horse Guards Parade ceremony in London when she presented new colors to the household cavalry—the Life Guards and the Royal Horse Guards.

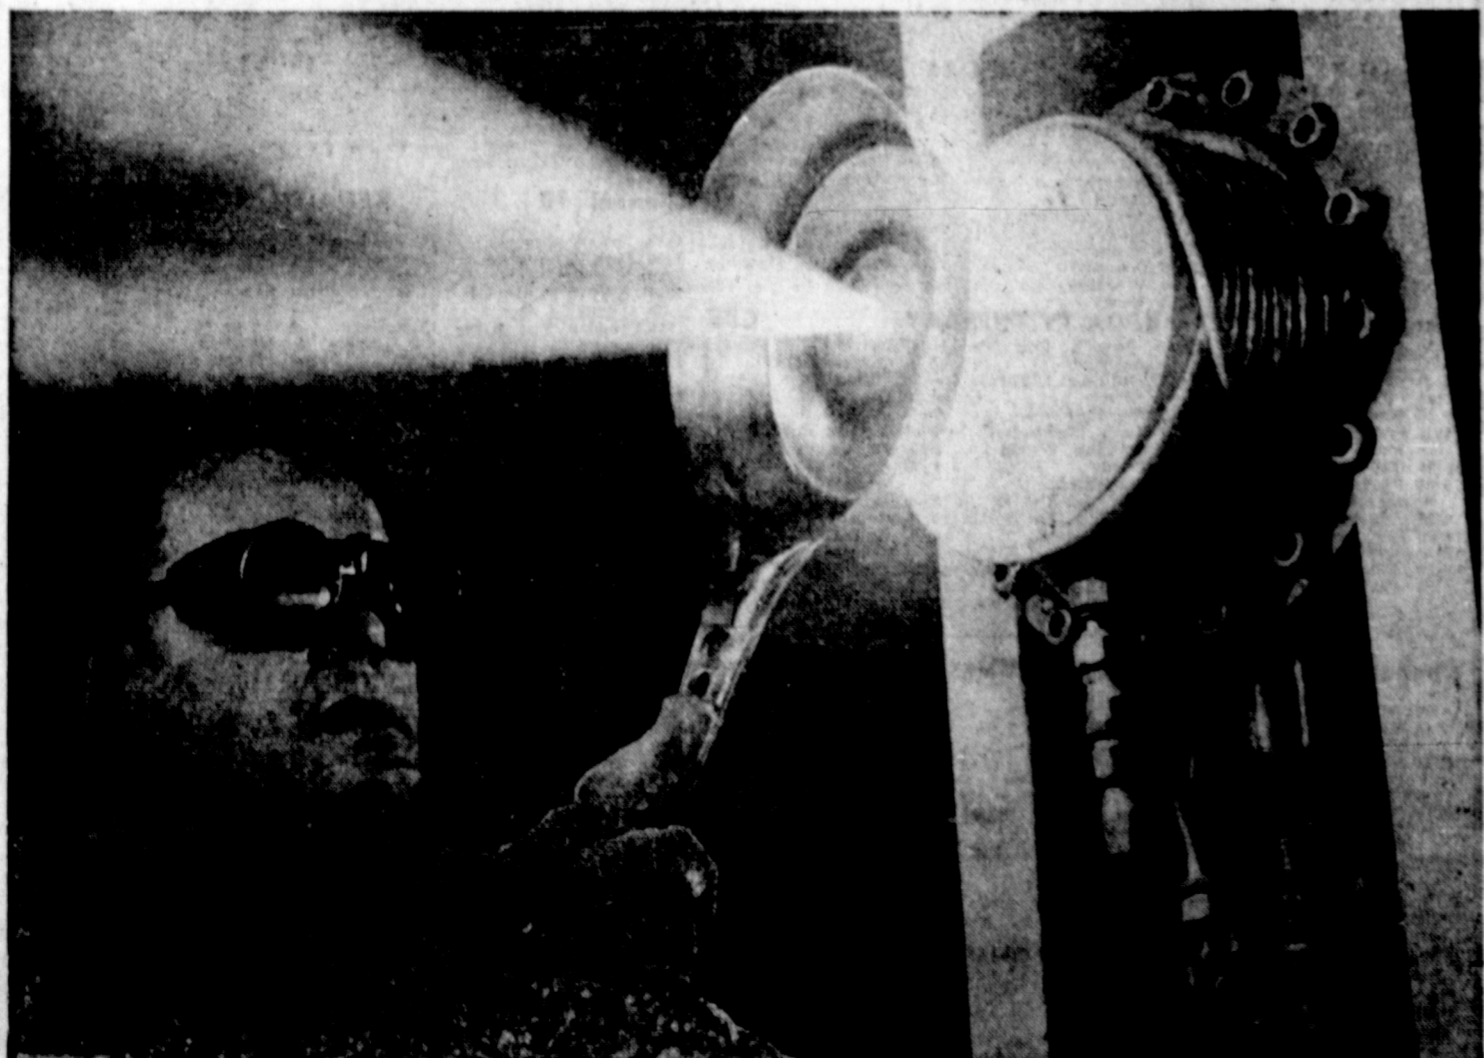

JET BURST—Forming an impressive bursting pattern over an air field in Ipswich, England, five British jet fighters practice an "aerobatic" routine. They'll soon be thrilling spectators with their daredevil flying.

HITCH SWITCH—This strange arrangement of transportation was managed by Noel White when he needed a hitch for his race car. He bought the old ambulance, fitted his car neatly in place and traveled from his home in Hyattsville, Md., to various East Coast races. To unload, he just backs the race car out.

SWISS MISS—These sheep seem undisturbed as an unexpected guest drops in on them in Switzerland.

LIGHT HEAT—The world's most powerful continuous beam of light burns through a steel frying pan held by Pittsburgh, Pa., research engineer L. S. Front. The powerful beam will be used to simulate re-entry from space.

LEAVE THE DRIVING TO HIM—Borrowing the large shell of his big friend, Jo Jo the pup hitches a ride along the sandy grounds at Florida's Reptile Institute. The turtle doesn't seem to mind the company.

Matson Fourth in Shot As U.S. Beats Poland

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Randy Matson, Pampa, Tex., High School track strongman who has signed a letter of intent to attend Texas A&M University flipped the shot 58 feet 9 1/4 inches Saturday in the U. S.-Polish dual track meet.

Matson's effort placed him fourth in the meet. Dave Davis of the U. S. Marines won the event with a toss of 61 feet 6 1/4 inches. Two Poles finished second and third.

WARSAW (UPI) — A come-from-behind triumph by Jim Dupree in the 800-meter run and a sprint sweep by Henry Carr and Paul Drayton led the United States' men's track team to a 125-83 victory over Poland Saturday and erased some of the disappointment the Yanks suffered in Moscow.

The Americans won seven out of 10 men's events on Saturday's program — and a total of 18 out of 20 in two days — to show that they are a more powerful squad than their close 119-114 win over Russia last week indicated.

In addition, the U.S. women's team won two out of five events Saturday—four out of 10 in two days—and lost to the Polish women by a surprisingly close 58-47 score.

A half-capacity crowd of 40,000 watched the closing program at 10th Anniversary Stadium, believing at first that the Poles could make the final score close but finally having to settle for the fact that their team im-

Rebels Win Two At Levelland

BULLETIN
LEVELLAND (Sp) — Jim Arthur pitched and hit the Pampa American Legion Rebels to an 8-4 victory over Levelland last night in the American Legion Tournament here. Arthur pitched for seven innings and also hit a three-run homer. The Rebels will play the winner of the Lubbock-Plainview game this afternoon.

LEVELLAND (Sp) — Resurgent bats brought the Pampa American Legion Rebels to a 7-5 victory over Slaton in the third round of the American Legion Tournament here Friday night.

Carl Harnsberger, Pampa's winningest pitcher gave up a 3-run homer in the first inning and then Jim Arthur gave the Rebels a settled down and relinquished only two more runs in the remaining eight innings, both unearned.

Meanwhile the Rebel's Kenny Hebert slammed a two-run homer over the left field wall and Ricky Maynard also put one over the center field fence.

Runs scored by Ronny Oler and Jim Arthur gave the Rebel's a lead they never relinquished.

GIANTS WIN ON PIRATE ERRORS
 SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants capitalized on three errors in the eighth inning Saturday to hang a 3-1 defeat on Pittsburgh and run their winning streak to six.

With the score tied 1-1, Jose Pagan opened the eighth by singling. He scored when reliever Alvin McBean fielded Juan Marichal's sacrifice bunt and threw it into center field, from where Bill Virdon fired it past third base.

Marichal, who went the distance to post his 17th win against five losses, raced to third on the two miscues. Then he tallied when rightfielder Roberto Clemente caught Harvey Kuenen's line drive and fired the ball over the head of catcher Smokey Burgess.

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Twenty-four top ranking tennis players from the United States and several foreign countries will be invited to Colonial Country Club's second annual National Invitational Tennis Tournament Sept. 11-15.

Men's singles and doubles matches are scheduled at Colonial's expanded tennis facilities.

Yankees Defeat Minnesota Twins

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ralph Terry paced himself perfectly in 97-degree heat, pitching his way out of an early jam and leading the New York Yankees to a 5-1 victory over the Minnesota Twins with the aid of home runs by Joe Pepitone and Tom Tresh.

Terry, who said before the game he was "merely going to try to get the ball over the plate" because of the intense heat, completely succeeded by not walking a single batter and striking out six, on the way to his 11th victory against 10 defeats.

The Yankee righthander allowed only seven hits and blanked the Twins until the ninth when Harmon Killebrew led off with his 23rd homer into the lower right field seats. Terry's only other anxious moments came in the first inning when Zoila Versailles opened with a double and moved to third on Johnny Goryl's single, but the Yankee pitcher prevented the next three batters from getting the ball out of the infield.

The Yankees, who have now won eight of their last nine games, crammed all their scoring into the first three innings off Bill Pleis.

Senators Rout Tigers, 8 to 4

DETROIT (UPI)—Centerfielder Don Lock banged out three hits including two homers Saturday to knock in five runs and lead the Washington Senators to an 8-4 route of the Detroit Tigers.

Lock lifted a sacrifice fly off starter and loser Hank Aguirre in the first inning and doubled in two more runs off of Aguirre in the third.

Houston's 'Aspro' Has Good Mark In Kept Promises

HOUSTON (UPI)—Bob Aspromonte may be hitting just a few points over his weight in batting averages, but he has a .750 mark in kept promises and a 1,000 average in the eyes of a youthful worshiper from El Dorado, Ark.

The handsome, dark-haired Houston Colt third baseman is struggling between the 200 and .205 mark on the baseball field.

But four times in the past two years he has promised Bill Bradley he would hit a home run for him. Three times he has done it, twice with the bases loaded. The other time he doubled.

Grand Slam

Friday night, Aspro stroked a grand-slam shot in the first inning to fuel Houston past the New York Mets 7-3 and give Bill the long blast he wanted.

It all started last year, Houston's first in the major leagues and Aspromonte's first as a regular big-time third baseman.

Bill, a little leaguer, adopted the Colts as "his" team. While playing in a game at home, lightning struck and Bill was blinded. His parents brought him to Houston to undergo delicate eye surgery at Houston's Methodist Hospital.

Devoted To Colts

While there, the Colts heard about Bill's devotion to their losing cause. Several of the players, including Aspromonte, visited him.

Before he would let Aspromonte leave, Bill made him promise to hit a home run. He did.

Bill's sight is now partially restored, but he still is forced to visit Houston periodically for a checkup.

Each time he is there, he goes to the ball game as a guest of the players. And each time, he asks his favorite player for another round-tripper. Aspro does what he can.

Chargers Sian Park of McMurry

BOULEVARD, Calif. (UPI) — The San Diego Chargers of the American Football League have signed future draft choice Ernest Park of McMurry College at Abilene, Tex.

Park, 22, is listed as a tackle-guard but at 225 pounds will have to undergo the Chargers' weight-gaining program. He was the 19th draft choice of the Chargers and the 17th of the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League on a future basis. He signed Friday when he was ruled ineligible for further college competition.

Angels Climb on Boston Reliever

BOSTON (UPI) — The Los Angeles Angels climbed on reliever Jack Lamabe for pairs of runs in the seventh and eighth innings Saturday for a 5-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The Angels, tagging Lamabe with only his second defeat in 43 appearances of the season, had been held to one run on four hits by rookie Boston starter Bob Hefner and reliever Arnold Earley before getting to Lamabe in the seventh.

Snead, Palmer Take Western Open Lead

CHICAGO (UPI) — Sam Snead and Arnold Palmer charged from behind like the light brigade Saturday to overwhelm slumping Fred Hawkins and share first place with 18 holes to play in the $50,000 Western Open golf tournament.

Snead, who would become the oldest man ever to win a PGA tourney if he can capture this one — 51 years and two months — tallied a three under par 68 on the 8,867-yard Beverly course for a 54-hole total of 207, six under par.

Four-Under-Par
 Palmer, pro golf's leading money winner with five tourney wins this year, shot a five-under-par 67 for the same total. Palmer dropped an 18-foot putt for a birdie on the last green to equal the best round of the day and step into the deadlock.

Hawkins, a 39-year-old El Paso, Tex., pro who has won only one tournament in 16 years on the tour, set the pace for the first round with a 67 and at the midway point with a 68 for a 135 card, when Snead was four strokes behind at 139 and Palmer five strokes off at 140.

But Hawkins started giving ground to par on the second hole Saturday and wound up with a five-over-par 76 for a 54-hole total of 211, four strokes behind the pacemakers. He lost eight strokes to Snead and nine to Palmer on the round in which his putting, previously a strong point, was erratic and cost him strokes regularly.

Texas All-Stars To Play Houston Colts on Aug. 1

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Austin and San Antonio each placed four men on the Texas League All-Star team which will play the National League Houston Colts in San Antonio Aug. 1.

Tulsa and El Paso each landed three players on the team, while Amarillo and Albuquerque had two each to round out the 18-man squad.

Austin pitcher Jerry Hummitch and outfielders Dick Dietz of El Paso and Rico Carty of Austin were unanimous choices for the team, chosen by managers of the league's six teams.

No manager could vote for a player on his own team.

In addition to Hummitch, pitchers selected were Sterling Slaughter, Amarillo; Gordon Richardson, Tulsa; Camillo Estevis, Albuquerque; Cliff Davis and Joe Joerner, both of San Antonio.

George Kopacz, Austin is the team's first baseman. Other infielders include Paul Popovich, Amarillo, second base; Santos Alomar, Austin, shortstop; and Ed Olivares, San Antonio, third base. Albuquerque's Derrell Griffith and Mike White of San Antonio were the utility infielders.

McCarty and Dietz lead the outfield selections, which also included Arlo Engel of El Paso and Tulsa's Jim Beauchamp.

Catchers were Everett Krug, Tulsa, and Randy Huntley, El Paso.

Jimmy Brown of Austin will manage the All-Stars against Houston. Coaches will be Lou Fitzgerald, San Antonio, and Grover Resinger, Tulsa.

Pampa Guard Unit Wins Trophy Named for Brother of Pampan

By WANDA HUFF
The Pampa unit of the National Guard Company B1 Battle Group 142nd Infantry has been named winner for two consecutive years of the John F. Sprague trophy, given to the best-all around company in summer camp at Ft. Hood, Texas.

The annual award, given for the best performance of military courtesy, classroom organization and training was named in honor of Capt. John F. Sprague, who is twin, brother of Mrs. Paul Brown, 1344 Terrace. Capt. Sprague was killed in action in Italy during World War II.

"The company that wins the trophy three consecutive years is permitted to keep it permanently," Sgt. Gerald Smith, a member of the company, said.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown said they did not know a trophy had been named for Capt. Sprague until Sgt. Smith, told them of the award.

Capt. Sprague was awarded the Purple Heart and the Silver Star along with a presidential citation for gallantry in action while under machinegun fire near Atavilla, Italy, known as Hill XXX. His citation stated that he put himself into position to draw hostile enemy fire so German machine guns could be pinpointed by his crew. Because of his action, his battalion was able to locate the machine guns and secure their objective, Hill XXX. He was fatally wounded Sept. 13, 1944, while on reconnaissance on the same hill. He is buried in Mount Soprano Cemetery, Paestum, Italy.

JOHN F. SPRAGUE ... World War II Hero

Mrs. Brown is her brother's senior by two hours, according to a sketch written about Capt. Sprague's life by his mother, Mrs. George A. Sprague of Dallas. Mrs. Brown has named one of her sons Johnnie Sprague, after her brother.

Mrs. Sprague wrote in a sketch of Capt. Sprague's life of an incident of their early childhood that seemed typical of the twins' later lives. "One morning the twins disappeared and could not be found anywhere in the neighborhood. As we were about ready to call the police, we saw their heads just bobbing over the hill. John was waving a flag and carried the Bible we always read from at family worship gatherings. Natalie (Mrs. Brown) had on her sister's best hat and around her shoulders she had draped my best white chiffon blouse. John was always patriotic and religious and Natalie was domestically inclined."

They both attended Bowie School in Dallas.

One Out of Every Eight Workers Holds Public Job

WASHINGTON (UPI)—One out of every eight workers in the United States today is on the federal, state or local government payroll.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz said today in a new report that government jobs at all levels accounted for one of every two new non-farm jobs created in the past five years.

Government employment should jump by almost 50 per cent during the next 15 years to a total of 13.5 million persons. Most of the new jobs, it said, will be at the state and local level and will be caused by the greater demand for teachers.

About 9.2 million persons were working last year for a state, local or federal government unit, it said.

Spotlighting Servicemen

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. (Spl) — Ronald L. Eckroat, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur L. Eckroat, 517 Lowry, recently completed nine weeks basic training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif. and graduated at the weekly Recruit Brigade Review in which 3,000 men participated.

USS CONSTELLATION (Spl) — Kenneth O. Butler, Jr., fireman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth O. Butler, 410 N. Gray is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Constellation, a Seventh Fleet unit, which recently participated in a joint U. S. Republic of Korea amphibious exercise dubbed "Operation Flagpole" and conducted near Seoul, Korea. The training exercise involved 67 ships plus numerous Marine air and ground units of both nations.

NORFOLK, Va. (Spl) — Midshipman Third Class Earnest L. Schofield, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Schofield, 805 N. Dwight, is participating in the annual midshipmen training exercise named "Tramid-63" conducted at the Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Norfolk, Va. Designed to indoctrinate a naval academy midshipmen in procedures of amphibious warfare operations, the exercise included demonstrations, amphibious training aids and active participation in practical drills.

MCLEAN (Spl) — Jerry G. Wood, Navy seaman apprentice from McLean, recently departed Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, on the USS

Savage, destroyer radar picket ship. Wood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Wood of McLean and entered the Navy last year. A unit of the Navy's cruiser-destroyer force in the Pacific Fleet, the Savage is assigned to Escort Squadron 5 and Destroyer Flotilla 5.

MCLEAN (Spl) — Johnny G. and Jimmy Don Anders, sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Anders of McLean, are now serving with the armed forces. Johnny will be discharged from the Navy in February, 1964, and is on a four-month tour in the Western Pacific. A machinist mate second class he has been stationed aboard the USS Sirius for three years. Before returning to the states in October, the ship has scheduled stops in Japan, the Philippine Islands, Alaska and Hong Kong. Jimmy Don has completed eight weeks of training at Fort Polk, La. and is receiving 11 more weeks of instruction at the Fort Sill, Okla., missile base.

MCLEAN (Spl) — Naval Aviation Cadet Johnny B. Stewart Jr., son of Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Stewart of McLean, has been assigned to the Naval Air Station at Meridian, Miss., for jet flight training. A 1961 graduate of McLean High School, Cadet Stewart is now receiving instruction in the Navy's T-2J jet trainer. He completed pre-flight training at the Pensacola, Fla., Naval School and received basic flying instruction before being assigned to the Meridian base.

Lack of Moisture Maturing Crops Ahead of Time

COLLEGE STATION (UPI) — The lack of moisture during July, coupled with searing temperatures, is pushing crops to maturity and browning pastures and rangelands, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service reported today.

Harvesting could be completed earlier and much earlier than normal in many sections if the prevailing weather continues. Cotton is popping open in all coastal areas and first bales have been ginned as far north as the southern counties in North Central Texas. Open cotton has been reported as far north as Wilbarger County.

Up to 75 per cent of the Central Texas grain sorghum crop has been harvested and southward it is reaching the wind-up stage. Good yields have been reported for the Central Texas crop and spotted reports from north central counties also indicate yields will be good.

South and North Plains cotton continued to make good progress but rain would be welcome. Some cotton irrigation has started while the irrigation of grain sorghum on the South Plains is going full blast. Rain is needed for crops and ranges in far West Texas and in all sections of the state for pastures and ranges.

Corn harvesting is underway in South Central Texas with yields low. Peaches continued to move in good volume and the vegetable harvest is continuing on the South and North Plains.

Widow Bequests Postman $10,200

KINGSFORD, Tenn. (UPI) — An elderly widow who considered her mailman one of the family died recently and left the postman $10,200, it was disclosed Saturday.

"I knew Mrs. Walker had always considered me one of the family, but I never expected anything like this," Goins said.

Invoked Right
The United States government's rule of executive privilege first was invoked by George Washington in 1792, according to the Britannica Book of the Year.

Alaskan Senator Opens Drive For Chamizal Pact

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Ernest Gruening, D - Alaska, has opened the drive in Congress for Senate acceptance of an agreement giving Mexico title to the El Chamizal section of El Paso.

Gruening published in the Congressional Record yesterday a lengthy summation of the history of the century-old Chamizal boundary dispute between the United States and Mexico, arising over the shifting course of the Rio Grande.

A settlement was announced in Washington and Mexico City last week. State Department officials said then they hoped a treaty carrying out the terms could be ready for submission to the Senate in August for its approval.

Wrote Mexican History
Gruening is considered an authority on Mexico. His book, "Mexico and its heritage," was published in 1928 and ranks with the classic histories on that nation.

Tracing the history of the Chamizal to the U. S. refusal in 1911 to accept an international commission's award of the area to Mexico, Gruening said:

"Unfortunately — for the good name of the United States — the provisions of the treaty were not carried out. The treaty provided that the award of the commission would be 'final and conclusive upon both governments without appeal' and that it should 'be executed within the term of two years.'

Disregarded Ruling
"It was not done. For the first and only time in our history the United States failed to abide by an arbitral award. Why?"

"The political pressure from Texas was too strong," the senator said. Gruening said therefore it was "all the more gratifying" that a Texan, U. S. ambassador Thomas C. Mann, was charged with negotiating the present settlement.

"A careful reading of the voluminous material which makes up the Chamizal case," the senator continued, "leads to the conclusion that based on equity Mexico had a good case from the beginning."

Ruidoso Downs Suit Is Settled

LOVINGTON, N.M. (UPI) — A settlement of the Ruidoso Downs race track management hassle was announced Saturday which requires board member Gene Hensley to resign his post and surrender 1,000 shares of stock to the racing association.

Six stockholders who had sued Hensley for $415,000 charging he misused track funds accepted the compromise after attorneys for both sides had worked late Thursday night on it.

Dist. Judge Kermit Nash set Aug. 12 for final approval of the settlement, which must be acceptable to stockholders.

NEW OFFICERS — The American Business Women's Club recently installed during a dinner held at the Court House Cafe are: Miss Maxine Nabours, president, Mrs. Ted Mastin, vice-president, Tony Smith, recording secretary, Mrs. Billy Wright, corresponding secretary and Miss Novis Parker Treasurer.

American Business Women's Installation

During a dinner held recently by the American Business Women's Club, new officers for the year were elected and installed.

Mrs. Dudley gave a book review of the 1960 publication of Steinbeck's "Travels With Charley."

The installation table, carrying out the ABWA chosen colors of gold and black, was covered with a white cloth with a black streamer down the center. An arrangement of white carnations in a low crystal bowl flanked with six gold tapers in crystal holders completed the table decor.

Outgoing president, Mrs. Glenn, acted as installation officer. Following the ceremony, she was presented with the past president's charm.

Those present other than mentioned were Mmes. Ed Wylie, Kenneth Butler, Clemon Herd, Cecil Bryan, Lloyd Larrimore, James Quary, John Killian, O. G. Smith, Charity Humphrey, O. E. Payne, and a guest, Mrs. Mabel Cross.

Organization Meeting To Be Held In August To Form West Pampa Club

There has been a lot of interest in organizing a 4-H Club in the West part of Pampa. Several subject-matter groups have been meeting but they have had no Community Club affiliation.

Mrs. Jaunita Channell, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent, has scheduled for Aug. 5, 8 p.m., an organization meeting at Horace Mann School. Everyone interested in 4-H Club is invited to attend this organization meeting.

At this meeting the organization of a Community 4-H Club will be discussed, as well as the club projects and contests.

4-H Club is the youth phase of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. 4-H Club work is voluntary. There are no dues and 4-H is not a school subject. To become a 4-H member, an individual must be between the ages of 9 and 21 and must want to be a member. 4-H members learn improved practices in agriculture, home economics and related fields by carrying on 4-H result demonstrations. 4-H is a family affair in which the 4-H member and parents, with the advice of adult leaders and County Extension Agents, decide on a result demonstration. The 4-H member learns useful and practical skills.

The adult leaders are the key persons in every 4-H club. The organization leaders of your 4-H club will help the club members plan and carry out the monthly club meetings and club activities. County Extension Agents train and advise the adult leaders.

The 4-leaf clover is the accepted emblem. The letter "H" on each leaf stands for Head, Heart, Hands and Health.

The 4-H colors are green and white. In support of the 4-H Motto, "To Make the Best Better" I pledge: My Head to clearer thinking, My Heart to greater loyalty, My Hands to larger service, and My Health to better living.

For my club, my community, and my country.

4-H parents and adult leaders plus County Extension Agents, added to interested 4-H members equal useful citizens. This is the 4-H Club team.

Masculine Shoes In Striking Color

Male footwork goes into full color this fall, and after the first shock the men like it. "Tycoons and sportsmen alike will be wearing colored patent leather shoes for casual and leisure occasions this year," says Duke Rose, president of the Johnston & Murphy Shoe Company. "Colored patent shoes are making as much of a furor on the men's fashion front as did colored slacks a few years ago. Both seemed daring at first, but soon became standard equipment for country and resort wear."

The male version of red patent shoes is strictly masculine, done in a husky oxford in a deep cherry red that looks almost like cordovan, in a handsome new patent that never cracks and has the appearance of highly polished calf. Greatest boon, as discovered by men who have worn them, is that patent leather sports shoes never need polishing. Just wipe them off with a damp cloth and they're shined and ready to go.

The new patents come in all colors, from the deep red to creamy beige, caramel, navy, gray and white. The same range of colors is available also in imported un-born calf, a soft, velvety leather with a suede finish. Both are designed for resort wear and are expected to be seen in full force at Florida and Caribbean resorts this winter, along with colored slacks and the new rainbow-hued sport coats and dinner jackets.

The color breakthrough in men's shoes carries over to business wear, in which many more brown shoes will be evident this season. correct for daytime street wear in the most conservative circles, to match the new brown trend in men's suits.

McAdams-Harrell Wedding Announced

GROOM (Spl) — Miss Sue McAdams, of Groom, and Billy Harrell of Hagerman, N.M. were married July 16 in the home of Mrs. Mattie McAdams with Rev. J. Walter Davis officiating.

Attending the bride was Miss Nancy Copeland of Amarillo, Carey McAdams, brother of the bride was best man.

A reception followed the ceremony.

Out of town guests were: Mrs. Jimmy Willis of Albuquerque, N.M., Mrs. Bobby Pena of Muleshoe, and Mrs. Ronnie Vandarriff of Lake Arthur, N.M., sister of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Ethyl Derrick of Hagerman, N.M., mother of the bridegroom.

Altman-Ely Exchange Wedding Promises

Miss Ruth Annette Altman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Altman Jr., 1000 S. Faulkner, became the bride of Charles L. Ely, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Ely, 408 Doucette, in an afternoon wedding held in the First Assembly of God Church on July 14.

Rev. J. S. McMullen performed the double-ring rite before altar decorations of white floor, baskets filled with white gladiolas, seven branch candelabra and emerald green palms.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle over crisp taffeta.

The bodice, fashioned with long tapering sleeves, was set off by a sequin and bridal pearl trimmed sabrina neckline. The bouffant skirt was designed with a lace panel front and the back consisted of fairy-tale tiers of tulle edged with lace and sprinkled with sequins. A queen's tiara of pearls secured the fingertip veil of illusion which was deeply edged with chantilly lace.

The bride's cascade bouquet of white roses was tied with white satin streamers. For something old, the bride wore a six pence in her shoe.

ATTENDANTS

The bride's attendants, Mrs. Bob Tizrett, matron of honor, and Mrs. Eddie Polnac, maid of honor, were dressed in identical ensembles of aqua cotton dresses with matching pillbox hats. They carried nosegays of aqua carnations.

Darrell Wilson served as best man with H. D. Ladyman and Bob Arthur acting as ushers.

Groomsman was Mike Schale, nephew of the groom. Miss Cathy Altman, sister of the bride, was candlelighter and Miss Renee Smith was flower girl.

Mrs. Lawrence Barnett provided traditional organ music and accompanied Mrs. John Dawson's with vocal selections of "Because," "Always," and the "Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Altman chose for her daughters wedding a pink embroidered sheath with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue dress of Paesano with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the First Assembly of God Church Annex.

A centerpiece of aqua carnations was used to compliment the white net covered table. White satin ribbons and crystal candle holders and punch service completed the setting. Mrs. John Schoolfield presided at the punch bowl. The three-tiered cake was served by Mrs. Norma Schale of Groom, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Finis Gee, sister of the bride, registered guests. Others assisting with the reception were: Mrs. Lloyd Summers, Mrs. Deryl Robbins, Mrs. W. D. Smith, Mrs. R. P. Hill, Mrs. Arthur Rhode, and Mrs. James McCoy.

For a honeymoon trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the bride chose a light beige suit with white accessories and lifted a corsage of white roses from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Pampa High School and is presently employed with Southwestern Public Service Co. The bridegroom is

Hildegard Says Mature Women Should Develop Own Status

The incomparable Hildegard is on a crusade. Fed up with the worship of the youthful look, she says she wants to lead the mature women in a march for their rightful glamour status.

"Why should a woman over 50 resign herself to being dowdy?" she asks.

"A housewife should think of her family as her audience. I work hard to keep well-groomed and well-dressed for my audiences. I would never let them down. Why should she?"

At 56, Hildegard maintains her weight at 136 pounds with 15-minute-a-day exercising and dieting. She is a bug about health foods but I learned her real secret is undereating. She thanks her mother for this disciplined attitude toward food.

"It may sound harsh," she explained while eyeing a bowl of peanuts during an interview at the Forum in New York, "but Mother insisted we leave the table a little bit hungry."

However, she roughly admits she fell off the food wagon in Venice once and it took her six months to repair the weight damage. With typical enthusiasm, she was thrilled to learn of an organization called "Fat Ladies Anonymous."

"We all need a helping hand and moral support," she says, and adds that this was one reason for her new book, "Over 50. So What!"

"We get the most done if we set a goal, and then don't forget it. For me, it is to stay a size 13. I learned my lesson in Venice. Even when on vacation, don't take a vacation from your diet."

Hildegard is all for cosmetics, if properly used, for the mature woman.

"If eye make-up makes you look prettier, then use it. But, please, please don't dye your hair black." It will make your features so harsh. Brownish or auburn hair shades are softer colors for you."

She also feels strongly that, "A woman at any age should treat her skin like fine china. As you mature, use creams daily. Select quality creams and remember you need a cream that stimulates circulation from within."

Rebekahs Plan July Picnic

During the social hour of a recent meeting of Pampa Rebekah Lodge No. 355, thirty-four members were served frozen punch and cake.

Mrs. Velta Williams, Noble Grand presided over the business meeting, assisted by Mrs. Juanita Mathney, Vice-Grand.

Members reported ill were Mrs. Betsy Ross and Mrs. Lillye Foulton. Thirteen visits were made by members to the sick.

Mrs. Alice Chitwood presented the program, "International Good Will Day."

A letter from the Canadian Lodge was read asking the Pampa lodge to assist with an initiation Sept. 22 in honor of Ellen Kretzmer, President of Rebekah Assembly of Texas.

A surprise wedding shower was held for Miss Reba Atwood following the meeting.

FOIL THE SUN—Here's how to avoid those light areas left by sun glasses while getting a tan: Take some silver foil pieces from a cigarette package, wet the backs and attach them to the eyelids. Adult Understanding Needed By Teenagers

You, Your Child and School
By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

The social activities of children in the middle teens sometimes are confusing to parents. A general understanding of their usual social behavior and needs will help adults to realize what should and should not be expected.

For instance, Ann, an attractive 16-year-old high school student, has been a successful scholar and is quite active in extra-curricular activities. Her mother has been concerned about her social development.

Is the girl growing up too fast? Should she be going out on dates, attending dances, and be so interested in boys? The girl is concerned constantly with her appearance. She also has shown an extremely strong interest in various causes and supporting the underdog.

These are typical characteristics of the desires of a girl in her middle teens. She takes an increasingly broader view of national and international affairs. She is searching for prestige among her peers and within the school. Her interests become more adult. She will gain satisfaction as a spectator at lectures and concerts. She becomes more and dignified and displays increased self-control.

Her needs follow similar direction. She should be treated as an adult member of the family. She should be allowed to go to dances and on dates. Naturally, reasonable restrictions are in order. A dance should be properly chaperoned. Dates should be in groups with properly planned entertainment.

What about a boy of this age? His social interests and needs are very much the same. Physically, he has caught up with the girls. He still will be interested in sports as an active player. He will want to develop a strong body. He likes girls to be friendly, well-groomed, and to have a sense of humor.

Parents who recognize and understand the characteristics and needs of their children in the middle teens will find their job much easier. This age group really is blossoming. They are anxious to be a part of the total society.

They are cooperative and yet desire independence. They want to obtain respect and prestige. They will have a great deal of enthusiasm in all their activities. Give them good direction and guidance and the results will be rewarding.

Proper standards and restrictions are particularly important to this age group. They need a feeling of independence. The desire to improve their lot creates much ambition. This may be a bit premature. Treat them as an adult in deciding with them what these standards and restrictions will be.

They will be more cooperative in adhering to them, as well as gain a feeling of importance in being part of the decision. Do not hesitate to impose some of your own ideas but be willing to give an explanation. These children will object to authority only when it seems as if they are losing face.

This age group is basically looking for recognition.

The Clothes Poll

By HELEN HENNESSY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn'

Once there was a fashion legend that went like this: the only beautiful clothes come from Paris and all American women want them. But there was talent in America to disprove the legend, and it was to gain recognition for this fashion talent that the Coty American Fashion Critics Awards were founded in 1943.

Annually, since then, a jury of more than 75 fashion editors has met to select the designers who have had a significant effect on the way American women dress.

This year's winner was Rudi Gernreich, a young sportswear designer who made his fame in California and whose joyful, sporty designs are so typical of young America.

A return award was given to Bill Blass, Indiana-born New York designer for Maurice Rentner, who is known for his ability to make women look pretty — not as simple a trick as it may sound. He had been awarded top honors in 1961.

Special awards were given to Betty Yakova who once had her own couture establishment in Paris and who designs beautiful furs for A. Neustadter & Sogs in New York, and to the husband and wife team, Arthur and Theodora Edelman, whose exquisite coloring and processing of reptile leathers have greatly widened the use of leather as a fashion medium. The awards will be presented on September 26 at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Many social and economic changes contributed to the demise of the old Paris fashion legend. But our "home-grown" fashions really came into their own when American women realized that even copies of clothes designed in Paris often didn't fit into the average, active American way of life. To design clothes women can enjoy, it's important that the designer be familiar with the background in which the clothes will be worn. Then his designs will be "workable" as well as beautiful. The Coty Awards have made fashion-conscious women across the country aware of the American designers who have achieved this goal.

"To get to my office from the suburb in which I live, I must travel for over an hour by train. I find now that the warm weather is here, my pretty cottons, silks and linens are wilted messes by the time I arrive at work. Can you suggest any fabric that would hold up in spite of my commutation problem?"

—D. G.
Dear D. G.: Lined silk or linen usually resist wrinkles, but if you find that even these fabrics don't hold up for you, try cotton knits or the simple, colorful shift dresses made of dacron or banlon jersey. They're cool, pretty—and wrinkle-proof and should get you through the day in uncrumpled comfort.

Take Twenty Minutes From Busy Day For Relaxing Baths

Skin care is just as vital in summer as it is in winter. The model (left) plans ahead for a special complexion treat. She packs squares containing a moisturizing oil to use while on her travels. Before toweling after a bath or shower (center), she smooths on the oil and then (right) pats herself dry with a fluffy terry towel.

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Beauty Editor

The bath is enjoying a renaissance. In its heyday, bathing was to Roman business what expense account dining is to Madison Avenue. The Romans appreciated the pleasure of discussing business and personal affairs while luxuriating in perfumed baths and invigorating steam rooms.

Then came the dark days when

British kings and queens boasted that they bathed but once or twice in a lifetime.

But now the daily scrub has become so important in our society that many husbands must suspect their wives spend more for soap than for sustenance.

History and the pocketbook aside, bathing is an integral part of any woman's beauty routine. At this point in the sunning season, it is even more important. Your skin needs special treatment to offset the drying ravages of sun's rays and salt or chlorine in water.

Your nerves, too, need a respite from the "boing-boing" state produced by infinite cookouts, hot days and the rush of children through the home.

Set aside 20 minutes a day—10 in the morning and 10 at night—to wash away some of that tension and give your complexion a boost. For an invigorating scrub, you will need a sponge, long-handled brush or loofah scrubber, soap and a thick, soft towel. Use a bath oil in the water to help maintain the proper moisture balance in your skin. If you are traveling, you can take along handkerchief-sized squares treated with a special oil. These are convenient because you just rub one of the squares over your body before you towel dry.

Before each of your 10-minute bathing sessions, do a simple relaxing exercise. Tense your muscles by stretching as tall as possible and then fall "limp." Now step into the tub and submerge up to your shoulders for a minute or two to let the bath oil do its work. Follow with a brisk scrubbing to stimulate circulation and wash away dead skin. Again, relax in the water for a minute or two before you step out of the tub and pat yourself dry with a large towel.

Loss Of Hostess' Poise Prevented By Careful Long-Range Party Plans

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The first time your husband phoned to say he was bringing the boss home to dinner, you probably panicked. Shopping had to be done and the menu changed, with no time left to dress with care.

A little long-range party planning can change all that and give you time to be a poised, pretty hostess.

Select one or two entrees and desserts which can be made in advance and kept frozen until needed. If you don't have a freezer, go through your cookbook for festive but easy-to-prepare dinners and practice them on the family until you can whip them up quickly in an emergency.

Always keep your silverware gleaming and have clean table linen on hand. These precautions can cut down preparation time and give you the needed moments to devote to beauty.

Keep your clothes in good repair so that you won't have to spot-clean or mend before you dress.

POLLY'S POINTERS Idea For Preventing Loss Of Weekly Television Guides

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Take the television program for the week out of the newspaper. Cut out each day's program and sew them together on the sewing machine. This is easy if you keep your machine up all the time as I do. The program stays neat all week.

I fill a flat plastic shampoo bottle with water and keep it in the freezer section of my refrigerator to use as an ice bag. When I am through with the "bag," I just put it back in the freezer and it is ready for the next time I need it.—MRS. J. L.

GIRLS — PLEASE sign your names and full addresses so your hint will have a chance of being used and a Polly Dollar can safely reach you. Some good suggestions have had to go by the board simply because of inadequate identification.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — My father deserves the credit for this hint. Latch on to your old purses. They make wonderful carryalls for those smaller car tools that bang and knock around in the car trunk. We like the longer purse with fullness at the top and one that opens wide. I also keep one for my small household tools. No hunting and fetching—P.F.

DEAR POLLY—Save cigar and cigarette butts, soak in water for several hours and then sprinkle on rose and other shrubs to control bugs (aphids). Soapy water has the same effect only to a lesser degree. OCCASIONALLY water house plants with lukewarm tea or coffee. It has an exhilarating effect on them.—BEE

GIRLS—Many gardeners use a soapy nicotine mixture; I have been told the small amount of soap is to help the nicotine cling to the plant. My house plants have already had a couple of drinks of lukewarm coffee with certainly no ill effects and in a short time I will look for the benefits. An editor tells me that he puts coffee grounds around his garden plants.—POLLY

Man's First Art Attempts Were Adding Color To The Home Decor

Decorating the home to make it more comfortable and colorful is perhaps one of man's oldest arts. Since the cave men first drew pictures on the walls of his cave and carefully selected animal skins for floor coverings, man has made the decor of his home important.

Beauty plus utility has always been the framework for decorating the home, even as man's tastes have been undergoing constant change.

Today, as in the early Greek and Egyptian civilizations, home decoration plays an important part in ours. Through the mediums of travel, mass publications, television and other means, each of us becomes aware of "what's new in the world" as soon as it is made known, and often wish to adapt these ideas to our own way of life.

Furnishings should always be adapted to the size of the room. Carpets and floor coverings should be practical and not interfere with the easy movement of chairs, tables and occasional pieces.

Fabrics for upholstery and window coverings should be kept in the mood of the room—and may range from sheers to homespun to lavish brocades. Mirrors, art objects, prints and paintings all help add color and drama to room decor.

Capes And Furs Will Make Debut In New Autumn All-weather Wraps

By HELEN HENNESSY
Newspaper Enterprise Women's Editor

When it rains this fall, look for the furry lining. Whether sable or orlon pile lines your raincoat will depend pretty much upon your tax bracket. But some kind of fuzz will keep every Judy O'Grady and colonel's lady snugly insulated.

Coat manufacturers once regarded the raincoat makers with the disdain reserved for poor relations. Now they're copying their designs. And small wonder — they're great.

Take capes. They are indeed "in" this year. Now, if you would like to own one, but aren't sure you can handle such swashbuckling elegance with the aplomb it deserves, practice with a raincape. It will cost less than its fair-weather counterpart and you'll have a choice of several types.

Ponchos add an amusing touch to a dreary day and Inverness capes contribute a dash of chic to any storm. Many conventional raincoats have detachable capes. You'll still have the coat should you decide that capes, however fashionable, are not for you.

For both capes and coats, vinyl and silk have been patterned to look like alligator and snakeskin in colorful red, blue and yellow. Vinyl that looks and feels like patent leather turns up in big red and black checks.

The sportive look is represented with the last word in easy elegance — a calf-lined black corduroy raincoat with calf collar and buttons.

Remember when it was a catastrophe if the rains came on a big evening out? A tan trench coat didn't do much for a gold lame gown.

On the social scene this fall, showers will add to the glamour. There are floor-length raincoats and capes in silk, ribbed ottomans and tapestry prints. One exquisite tapestry print has its own Egyptian kerchief to protect elaborate coiffures.

So it looks as though we'll be changing our whole attitude about the weather and wearing our Sunday best on rainy days.

Q — I will be married in August and will come to New York for a 10-day trip. We didn't plan a New York honeymoon, but my fiancée is being transferred to that city and we both thought it would be a good chance for us to get acquainted with what will be our new home. I've never been to New York and would appreciate some advice on the kind of wardrobe to take with me. — Adele R.

A — Dear Adele R.: August in New York can be mighty hot. The stores will be showing fall clothes, but you'll be a lot more comfortable in transitional lightweight things, especially for sightseeing and shopping.

Choose fall colors, but light weight fabrics. A silk shirtwaist dress, a cotton knit and perhaps one dress with a jacket will be best for daytime.

For evenings have a black crepe dress and a stole — fabric or fur, a theater suit, two dressy cocktail sheaths and an evening dress, perhaps in velvet. The evening dress can be short or long. Long gowns will be favorites here for fall, but many well-known designers have included short gowns in their fall collections.

Groom Club Holds Last Summer Meet

GROOM (Spl) — The Esposa Joven Club met recently at the Community Club House for the last meeting of the summer. Hostesses were Patsy and Barbara Fraser. Enjoy Flavor Of Sweet Cherry Jam

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Sweet cherries are a delightful introduction to summer. A bowl of them delights every member of the family.

Our friends in Washington State tell us their crop is shipped in polyethylene-lined boxes to prevent moisture loss and keep them in prime condition. They advise homemakers to store unwashed cherries in plastic bags in the refrigerator and wash only just before using.

Bing and Lambert cherries are the two popular varieties found in your local market. The Bing, a dark, plump and juicy cherry, was developed as a result of the efforts of a Chinese gardener and carries his name. It is popular for eating out of hand. The Lambert is an offspring of the Royal Anne cherry, developed to yield bright red fruit with sweet cherry flavor.

SWEET CHERRY PRESERVES
(8 medium glasses)

5 cups prepared cherries (about 2½ pounds ripe sweet cherries)
5 cups (2¼ pounds) sugar
1-3 cup lemon juice (2 lemons)
2 tablespoons chopped candied ginger
½ bottle liquid fruit pectin

Stem and pit about 2½ pounds fully ripe sweet cherries. Measure 5 cups (firmly packed without crushing) into a large saucepan. Add sugar. Let stand ½ hour, stirring occasionally. Then place over high heat and bring to a full rolling boil, stirring carefully. Remove from heat and let stand 3 to 4 hours.

Squeeze lemons; measure 1-3 cup juice into saucepan with fruit. Add ginger. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 2 minutes, stirring carefully. Remove from heat and at once stir in liquid pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim for 8 to 10 minutes. Ladle into glasses. Top with ¼-inch hot paraffin.

Calm Traditional Order

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

More effective and longer lasting than a tranquilizer in these littery times is a calm, well-ordered home. Few of us can achieve this goal all day, every day; nevertheless, we can bend our efforts in this direction.

Rooms and furnishings can contribute to the spirit of calm. With my family, I can't hope to have our home neat and restful from top to bottom. But with remarkably little extra effort, I can keep the living room picked up, inviting to relaxation.

I'm convinced that one reason traditionally styled interiors have never lost out to modernism is the sense of stability and permanence they suggest. It's pretty difficult to fidget and stew about imminent catastrophe when you're deeply and comfortably settled in a wing chair which may be a replica of one designed 200 years ago.

You can't talk about gracious, well-ordered homes without citing those of the Southern plantation families, especially in colonial times when the wealthy land owners set a high standard of taste, importing the finest examples of English and French furnishings. As a traveler in the South, I have been impressed by the beautifully restored homes, open to the public, where lessons in interior design are yours for the looking.

Recently, a southern furniture manufacturer was permitted to send designers into the historic (and often private) homes along the James River to select family heirlooms for reproduction. The collection which is now available has won several awards for meticulous craftsmanship in the classic style and elegance of the 18th century cabinetmakers.

A few concessions have been made to modern requirements. Dining chairs are slightly higher. Fragile upholstery fabrics have been duplicated in more durable fibers. Seat cushions may be made of a dual foam, combining a firm core of urethane with a softer exterior wrap.

Dear Abby.... Vacationing Public Please Have Mercy!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please give the gas station folks a break and ask the vacationing public to have mercy on us. They drive up, grab a hose and rinse off their cars. It doesn't bother them that they make a mess for others to walk through. They want their windshields cleaned, but don't need gas. And they've bought their oil by the case somewhere else. They even ask to borrow your tools. They pile out in droves to use the restroom. Sometimes they spend half an hour in there — changing clothes. Our regular customers can't get in for the free loaders. In a nice clean business like a liquor store, the customer spends more in 30 seconds than he does at a service station for a 500-mile trip. And the clerk doesn't have to clean windshields, check lighter fluid or anything. The customer doesn't expect a thing except the right change and a paper bag to put the bottle in. He even gets oiled on his own time and off the premises. Thanks a lot.

DEAR STARVING: While "appearances" do play an important role in job-getting, a 27-pound roll shouldn't disqualify you for every job. There must be other factors.

DEAR ABBY: We run a restaurant and have hired a good professional organist. We have a few patrons who like to play "a couple of ditties" on our organ when they come in. When they ask, we hate to turn them down, so we tell them to go right ahead and play a "PIECE OR TWO." The trouble is, once they sit down we can't get them to quit. It offends the hired organist, and besides, the other patrons don't enjoy these amateurs as much as the amateurs think they do. Other restaurant owners must have this problem, too, Abby. Will you print this with your answer and help us all?

DEAR BOX: The way to solve your problem is to put a stop to it before it starts.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl who needs help desperately. I consider myself lucky because I have a nice family and we have everything we need. My big problem (and please don't laugh) is that I have a mustache. Boys are always telling me I need "a shave." Even some of my girl friends have tried to tell me in a nice way that I'd be pretty if I got rid of that mustache. I don't want to shave it off, and I'm afraid to use some of the stuff I see advertised because I've heard it could leave my upper lip rough like a man's beard, or maybe it would leave scars. Can you help me?

DEAR MUSTACHED: You are a very wise young lady to consider so carefully the results before attempting to remove unwanted hair from your face. Ask your mother to take you to a skin doctor, and let HIM tell you which method is best for you. There are many.

DEAR ABBY: You say there is no discrimination in cities. Well, you are 100 per cent wrong. At this very moment there is discrimination against hiring overweight people for stenographic work. I went on interview after interview and was turned down. I was finally told outright that I wasn't hired because of my weight. I am only 27 pounds overweight and am trying to lose it. But in the meantime I have to live. If given a chance, I'm sure I could do as good a job as any thin girl. This is certainly not the land of opportunity for the

Negro Pastor Shocked as Own Race Begins Picketing of His Church

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Rev. Dr. James H. Jackson, spiritual leader of more than 5 million Negro Baptists, is what has become known as a "moderate" civil rights advocate. Three weeks ago, he was booted from the speakers stand of an NAACP "freedom rally." Demonstrations against him continue. In the following interview, the Rev. Dr. Jackson gives his views of his critics and of the campaign for civil rights.)

By FRANK L. SPENCER
United Press International
CHICAGO (UPI) — "Now they're picketing my church. Can you imagine a more un-American thing to do?"

The Rev. Dr. James H. Jackson, president of the National (Negro) Baptist Convention, USA, Inc., and spiritual leader of more than 5 million Negro Baptists, seemed bewildered at the turn of events.

After decades of leading his people, he is now called "Uncle Tom" by other Negroes who believe he is out of step in the march for civil rights.

"In all my years in the ministry," he said, "I have never heard of a church being picketed. I doubt if even the Ku Klux Klan ever picketed a church. This is completely un-American. It is foreign to our American traditions."

Arouses Criticism
The Rev. Dr. Jackson aroused criticism from certain Negro quarters when he agreed with President Kennedy and urged a moratorium on demonstrations. That's what brought on the jeers and turned out the pickets.

"I feel they simply do not understand my position," he said of his critics. He lumped together those who marched in front of his church last Sunday and those in the audience at the freedom rally, sponsored by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), where he was booted from the stand last July 4.

"We must not allow technique to blind our minds to the objective," the Rev. Dr. Jackson said. "That's what I was going to say in my Fourth of July speech — the one they wouldn't let me deliver.

"The struggle for civil rights should never become a struggle of Negroes against Whites," he said. "It must never be dominated by prejudice of any kind."

Advocates Peaceful Means
The Rev. Dr. Jackson said he would take second place to nobody in his desire to wipe out desegregation. But he said the right way to do it is through peaceful means.

In this, he said, he is reflecting the official policy of his board of directors. The board, composed by 85 members representing more than 5 million persons in 27,000 churches in every state, decided at a meeting in Birmingham, Ala., June 19, to agree with President Kennedy's demonstration moratorium request.

"I would be the worst kind of hypocrite to change my views just because somebody jeers me or somebody pickets me," he said. "I want the problems to be solved by the American methods, by the Christian methods."

"My position is that protest brings pressure and that particular pressure is designed to call attention to those in authority," he said.

Effect On Young
"But when protest is used for the sake of protest and when it will lead to violence it will do us more harm than good. We must not deny to others what we want for ourselves," he said.

One of the offshoots of improper demonstrations, he said, is the effect such events have on the young. "We must not teach our children that disrespect for law and order is at any time justified," he said. "A young child is in a formative stage. When we teach disrespect, we harm the child and the entire goal."

He said nobody in his church had indicated the pickets had changed anybody's minds. "Sunday," he said, "We had 2,500 persons cross the picket lines. It was the biggest turnout we've had for 22 years."
