

Creation of Parks, Wildlife Commission Gives Employees New Bosses

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Parks Association
AUSTIN Tex. — Some 700 state employees scattered throughout Texas are getting a new set of bosses. Reason is the creation of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission on August 23.

James M. Dellinger, Corpus Christi contractor, A. W. Moursund; Johnson City rancher-attorney; and Chairman Will Odom, Austin geologist and engineer, make up the new three-man Parks and Wildlife Commission. They replace nine commissioners on the old Game and Fish Commission and six on the old Parks Board.

Many state employees, who wondered whom Gov. John Connally would select to head the infant agency, now are worrying whether they themselves will remain on the payroll.

About 72 of the employees are in the Parks Department; some are managers of the state's 50-plus parks system. Another 825 or so are in the field of game and fish. About 100 of these are in the Austin office — the rest out in the field.

Connally says the consolidation will eliminate some duplication of services and effort.

One thing the state is sure to save on is per diem and expenses for the commissioners. The $25 per diem plus travel, hotel and meals allotted the three new men should come to about one-fifth the amount spent in past years on 15 commissioners.

HIGHWAY PATROLMEN NEEDED — Col. Homer Garrison Jr., head of the Department of Public Safety, is looking for 100 additional highway patrolmen.

He asks applicants, aged 21 to 25, to contact him no later than September 14. Recruits will start to school November 18. Pay is $412 a month while in training, $453 on graduation.

Department will endeavor to assign the men to stations within 100 miles of their present homes.

HOPE TO CUT TRAFFIC DEATHS — Col. Garrison cast a gloomy eye at his crystal ball, and predicted a possible 31 traffic deaths in Texas over the three-day Labor Day weekend. But he hopes he is wrong!

"There is always a chance that the estimate can be proved too high," Garrison said, "if motorists will put forth a concerted effort to hold the line by driving within safe and legal limits, and remaining especially alert to the added dangers of holiday travel."

DPS has enlisted the aid of the Texas Safety Association, Texas Association of Broadcasters, junior chambers of commerce, Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and the Texas Motor Transportation Association for a Labor Day "Operation Motorcade" — a concerted campaign to call attention to highway dangers.

SCHOOL LAND BOARD MEMBER NAMED — A Taylor attorney — Wilson H. Fox — has been appointed by Attorney General Waggoner Carr to take Carr's place on the School Land Board. Law specifying the change was passed at the attorney general's request.

Governor Connally and Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler will remain on the three-member board, which does a big, and complicated, business, leasing many thousands of acres of state-owned land each year.

Fox is a former district attorney and state representative for Burnet and Williamson counties.

HAWAII CALLS — Many of Texas' state officials are now in Hawaii attending the National Legislative Conference in Honolulu.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith of Lubbock heads the list.

Others attending are House Speaker Byron Tunnell of Tyler, Rep. Ben Jarvis of Tyler, Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, Rep. Wayne Gibbons of Breckenridge, and Rep. Dick Slack of Pecos.

Also in the group are Bob Johnson, former representative from Dallas and now executive director of the Legislative Council, and his assistant, John T. Potter of Austin.

POPULATION VS ORGANIZATION — Theory that a large population produces a greater volume of business activity than a small population is not 100 per cent true.

This is revealed by the University of Texas' Population Research Center. It surveyed 30 Texas cities for the 20 year period—1940 to 1960.

Cities surveyed were Alpine, Angleton, Aspermont, Boerne, Borger, Brackettville, Burnet, Cotulla, Del Rio, Denton, Eastland, Grapevine Hillsboro, Humble, Italy, Killeen, McKinney, Menard, Merkel, Olney, Paris, Port Lavaca, Runge, Rusk, San Diego, Seagraves, Seymour, Somerville, Van Alstyne and Winnsboro. Nine of these — Brackettville, Eastland, Hillsboro, Italy, Menard, Rusk, Seagraves, Somerville and Van Alstyne — had a population decline.

Runge, Italy and McKinney all saw a decrease in the number of business organizations. Brackettville and Hillsboro were the only ones that had a decrease in the number of governmental organizations.

Only city that had a decrease in the number of organizations, but grew in population, was Runge.

San Diego was the only place that failed to produce additional volunteer associations.

In general, the survey proved that businesses and other organizations multiply even when population growth does not occur. Smaller cities usually support a greater number of organizations per 1,000 population than do the big cities.

HIGH SCHOOL DROPOUT — The growing problem of high school dropouts will be the topic of the annual meeting of the Texas State Committee on Public Education in Austin on September 22.

President of the committee, Mrs. Helen J. Bechtel of Corpus Christi, is inviting all interested persons to attend the one-day session. No registration fee will be charged.

Governor Connally has estimated the state rate of dropouts for the next five years as 325,000.

OIL ALLOWABLE CUT — Producing ability of Texas oil wells was cut by some 28,817 barrels a day when the Railroad Commission reduced the daily oil allowance from 28.5 per cent in August to 28 per cent for September.

Most of the major oil companies wanted more of a cut. But independent producers succeeded in getting the commission to hold production near the August allowable.

Commissioner Ernest Thompson of Amarillo returned to his office after a long illness and attended the hearing.

SHORT SNORTS — Governor Connally reappointed Dr. John Stockton of Austin, John McKee of Dallas and Hugo H. Loewenstein of Amarillo to the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy.

Former secretary of state P. Frank Lake has been appointed legal counsel for the State Board of Insurance.

Rare Birth Puzzles Houston Doctors

HOUSTON (UPI)—Doctors at Hermann Hospital Clinic were puzzled yesterday about a rare birth of triplets in which two of the babies were normal and the third premature.

A doctor who delivered the babies, two girls and a boy, said the girls were identical twins from one egg, and the boy from a second egg.

He said it was possible that a sperm bypassed the twins, located low in the mother's womb, and became implanted higher up in another egg.

An obstetrician at Baylor University College of Medicine said there is some controversy as to whether that could occur because a second fertilized would mean that the ovaries were still releasing eggs.

The triplets were born Saturday to Rev. and Mrs. O. L. Holliday of Houston.

Two Pampa Girls Win National Honors

Two Pampa girls, Jennifer Cunningham and Frances Flood, were recently announced winners in the annual Poppy Sale Poster contest held in Austin.

The girls, both students of Mrs. Roy Riley at Pampa Jr. High, submitted posters to promote the annual Poppy Sale which was held the last Saturday in May.

The posters designed by the girls, were submitted to the American Legion Auxiliary Convention held in Austin.

Jennifer Cunningham received a second place rating in the Division II group and a one dollar prize. Frances Flood was recipient of a honorable mention in Class II, and received a plaque award.

The posters have been returned to Mrs. L. K. Stout, chairman of the Poppy Sale Committee of the American Legion Auxiliary. A poster selected by the Borger

Auxiliary for competition, won first place in Class III.

This poster will be forwarded to Miami, Fla. where it will be entered in the National Convention in competition with other state division winners to name the top Poppy Sale Posters in the nation.

MILLIONTH CARLOAD

SALINAS, Calif. (UPI)—The one-millionth carload of lettuce shipped from the Salinas Valley departed today for New York to be auctioned off, with the proceeds going to the American Red Cross.

The first shipment of iced lettuce left the Salinas Valley in 1921.

type of artisan. The scientific glassware will be used to study highly reactive chemicals in a vacuum. On his off days at home what does the wizard of the flame and blowing tube do? He makes things out of glass, of course, like boats, birds and vases. At right, Shotta adds finishing touches to a delicate glass sailing vessel.

Parliament Wants Shakeup

By RICHARD H. GROWALD
FRANKFURT (UPI)—West Germany's most famous spy chief, Reinhard Gustav Gehlen, still is an awesome man of mystery to most Germans but the legend of his infallibility in the cloak and dagger game has been shaken.

The recent trial of two Gehlen aides on charges of being Soviet spies has damaged the prestige of one of Europe's most successful anti-Communist spy-masters. His Federal Intelligence Agency (FIA) once commanded unchallenged respect in the West German parliament. Now parliament's three parties are demanding an FIA shakeup.

The West German Government estimates there are 16,000 Communist spies in the country. This, added to the number of Western agents and counterespies here, indicates that about one person in every 2,000 in the country is an intelligence agent.

Western agents are fairly easy to locate. A spook's tour—"spook" is cloak and dagger lingo for agent—of West Germany could start here in Frankfurt.

CIA In Charge
U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) local headquarters are said to be in the "Little Pentagon"—the giant pre-war I. G. Farben Co. office building which Allied bombers spared for post-war use as U.S. Army headquarters here. The CIA governs most Allied intelligence in West Germany and it reaches out in many directions.

Within a lion's roar of Frankfurt's famed zoo is a drab brick turn-of-the-century building whose occupants specialize in sneaking into the Soviet Union. The building houses the National Alliance of Russian Solidarists (NTS), a nervous but spirited band of ex-Soviet citizens, including Red Army deserters. It also includes at least one former assassin of the Soviet KGB espionage organization who came to kill the NTS chief but defected instead.

From the iron-fenced building at 24 Merian Strasse pour millions of propaganda leaflets which are stuffed into Soviet hands whenever a Russian ship docks at a non-Communist port or wherever a Moscow delegation arrives in the West. The leaflets are credited with inspiring 300 Red Army defectors during the 1953 East German workers' revolt.

But the CIA is more interested in the NTS' success in penetrating Soviet territory. A favorite method is said to be putting agents ashore on East Germany's Baltic coast and farther north into Soviet-occupied Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, whose populations reportedly do not frown on anti-Communist activity.

Six miles outside Frankfurt, in the green foothills of the Taunus Mountains, is another cloak and dagger center, the U.S. Army's Camp King.

The military intelligence post serves as the center for interrogating defectors from Communism. A recent guest in the well-guarded base was Maj. Ryszard Obacz, the Polish air force officer who flew with his wife and two sons in a Polish trainer to West Berlin.

Phantom Corps
Nestled in the post-war glass and steel office buildings of Cologne, Hamburg and Duesseldorf are the unmarked offices of Gehlen's phantom corps of 5,000 agents whose network shoots out to the Soviet Ural Mountains and to Communist China.

But the nerve center is in Munich.

The Bavarian capital has political intrigue in its blood. Adolf Hitler made his famed beerhall putsch there. Recently, French foes of President Charles de Gaulle tried to use Munich as a base of operations. Since 1946 it's been Gehlen's home.

Gehlen, 61, turned up in Bavaria when American armies swept across southern Germany in 1945. With him were four dozen large crates of files of intelligence reports on the Soviet Union—during the war he had headed German Army intelligence in Russia. Washington put Gehlen back in business in 1946 very quietly. Silence was his golden rule.

Even though the Soviets, it is now known, penetrated his FIA, few persons would recognize Gehlen on sight. The only known facial photograph of him is 20 years old. Sometimes he wears a mustache. He always carries a pistol. His floodlit and armed, guarded house has one sign: "Dangerous Dog."

Few persons see Gehlen. But the Communists claim his hands reach into their preserve. They blame his agents for the 1956 Hungarian uprising, among other things.

Western sources credit Gehlen's organization with netting a Czechoslovak spy ring that operated throughout the country. Another major Gehlen coup was planting an agent in East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht's cabinet.

Moonshiner Surrenders For Daughter

RUSSELLVILLE, Ala. (UPI)—A moonshiner who killed a sheriff and a police chief with a single shotgun blast walked out of woods with his hands held high Monday when his teen-age daughter begged him to surrender.

"I'm very, very sorry it all happened," said Roy Thornton, 40, who gave up without a fight when he heard his daughter, Carolyn, 18, plead with him to surrender over a highway patrol car loudspeaker.

Thornton, who was placed in jail here, faces first degree murder charges in the Sunday afternoon shooting.

A slender man who has twice been convicted of moonshining, Thornton had been told by his doctor he has cancer and has only a few months to live, his relatives said.

"He thought he didn't have anything to lose," his wife told officers.

Thornton was accused of killing Sheriff Herman (Red) Cook and Littleville Police Chief Neil Pace with a single shotgun blast and critically wounding Deputy Don Files with a rifle shot. Another deputy who had gone to Thornton's house to investigate was not hurt.

Dear Abby...
Don't Talk To Your Dog ... Talk To Your Mother!
 By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 12-year-old boy and every day of my summer vacation I stay home alone and watch television. My mother works all day long, Monday through Friday, and she doesn't want me leaving the house. I have nobody to talk to except the dog, and if somebody heard the way I carry on a conversation with him they would think I was nuts. I am not supposed to let anybody in the house. Can you tell me how I can keep from getting bored?

A BOY UNNAMED: Boredom is only one of your problems. A boy your age needs fresh air, exercise and the companionship of other young people. Ask your mother if there isn't a day camp where she can send you. A boy your age shouldn't be cooped up in the house all summer.

DEAR ABBY: My sister and I have a friend who lives in the same apartment building as we do. She went on a vacation and left the keys to her apartment with her gentleman friend so he could water her plants and look after her goldfish. She hadn't been gone two days when this no-good gentleman friend brought another woman into her apartment. All the neighbors know about it and we are afraid of one of them tell her when she gets back. Should we tell her first, or should we let this man make a fool of her?

DEAR FRIENDS: WHO was the "other woman"? WHY did the "gentleman" take her there? Unless you are sure of the facts, don't be the bearer of such news. And if you ARE sure, even then think twice.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were invited to a wedding. He scarcely knows the people and I have never met them. My husband is a professor, and the bride was a former student. My husband will be unable to attend as the date conflicts with a previous commitment. Would it be proper for me to go with my older, bachelor brother? Must we send a gift whether we attend the wedding or not?

MUST KNOW: DEAR MUST: You were apparently invited because of your HUSBAND's former association with the bride. In view of this fact, and since you know none of the people involved, it might be wise to decline the invitation. A gift is ALWAYS optional.

CONFIDENTIAL TO IRATE ACCOUNTANT IN RIVERSIDE: Doesn't EVERYBODY know that in the Rules of Professional Conduct for The American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, it clearly states: "A member shall not violate the confidential relationship between himself and his client"? I don't think it was necessary to defend a C.P.A. who was gracious enough to do a relative's tax work gratis.

White Deer Pioneer Club Has Brunch

The White Deer Pioneer Club met recently in the parlor of the White Deer Methodist Church for a brunch.

Mrs. R. A. Thompson, president of the club, presided over the meeting. There were thirteen members present, and one guest, Mrs. Jackie Freeman, daughter-in-law of Mrs. Thelma Freeman, a member.

The serving table was decorated with a flower arrangement from Mrs. Alma McCoy's garden.

The meeting was adjourned following a social hour. Hostesses for the group were Meses. Alma McCoy, Thelma Freeman, Julia Powers and Jennie Stoufflefeld.

The next meeting will be at noon Nov. 15 when a Thanksgiving Dinner will be served at the White Deer Methodist Church.

Mrs. Lia Wills Guest Speaker

The Women's Society of Christian Service of St. Paul Methodist Church met recently in Fellowship Hall with guest speaker, Mrs. Lia Wills, presenting the program. Mrs. Wills spoke on international Communism and told of her life spent under the Communist regime in Yugoslavia; of her escape to Italy, and finally, to the United States.

Women of the Harrah Methodist Church were guests of the group. Following a question and answer period, refreshments were served to thirty members and guests.

Solve Window Problem

By KAY SHERWOOD
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
 There are times when none of the standard curtain styles seem right for a given window. It may be the window, its placement or size that is difficult to curtain. It is helpful at this point to remember that there is more than one way to treat an uncurtained window.

Fabric of yellow gingham patterned with bursts of sunflowers in tangerine is laminated to window shades in this bright kitchen. The fabric also covers matching valance and seat cushions for wrought-iron chairs.

Two windows in our home are now boxed in by newly-built bookshelves. Nice white wooden shutters would be the perfect solution, I was advised.

Warned that the proper installation of shutters is not something a less-than-bandey housewife undertakes, I called in a professional. He quoted a price. When I recovered, I knew that shutters would have to join other items on my dreams-of-the-future list. Control of sunlight is a necessity in both these windows.

While debating my next move, I learned about an improved process for laminating almost any fabric of your choice to window shades. Heretofore, this has been an expensive proposition. But recent improvements in adhesives now permit the process to be done economically through virtually any department store or store selling window shades. Fabric can be laminated to the translucent or the room darkening shades. I was told by a shade expert that a standard shade (36 inches by 6 feet) laminated to fabric would cost about $15 including the shade but not including the fabric.

This same expert says that, generally speaking, these fancy shades should be reverse hung (with the roller facing the window rather than the room) or that roller tops should be concealed by a valance, perhaps in matching fabric.

While the fabric-laminated shades are used with draperies, they are often used solo to make a dramatic show of a window.

Mrs. Morris Wilson reported that the Jaycee-Ettes would be hosts to the Senior Citizens on Aug. 29.

The Mature Parent

Don't Push Glib Comfort When Illusions Die
 By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

lose the child upon whom evil has burst with clear and explosive impact. Consider this opinion, please, during this summer while your young person is home from college with opening eyes. I don't know why we are so afraid to share the indignation of the near-grown son or daughter who has suddenly become conscious of racial hatred, rats in tenements, breakdowns in nuclear disarmament negotiations or alcoholic derelicts. I don't know why we feel obliged to make soothing noises at them. Unless it is because their fresh young anger stirs uneasy suspicions that we are being accused of condoning the evil.

If we don't condone it, we should say so. A child who has been loved does not need to be reminded of the "bright" side of human existence. He knows about it. So when he feels pain at its dark side, love is free to share it with him. It perceives that an illusion has died; and as love does not push glib comfort on a mourner who has just lost someone to death, it does not push it at the near-grown child who is mourning the loss of illusion to facts.

Stepping into the fashion picture today is the wooden stacked heel, about 1 1/2 inches high, often made of plastic and painted to look like wood.

It's the "FIND YOUR NAME" feature starting in The News Classified Advertising Section next Monday. First Aid Films To Be Telecast Over Channel 10

A first aid telecast series of eight films will be telecast over Channel 10, Amarillo, through the cooperation of Station KFDA-TV and the Gray County Chapter of the American Red Cross, it was announced today by Roscoe Mounce of Pampa, first aid chairman of the Gray County chapter.

The films will be telecast at 6:30 a.m. daily Aug. 26 through Aug. 30 and Sept. 3 through Sept. 5. The series will be repeated Sept. 9 through the 13th and Sept. 16 through the 18th.

Mounce said viewers may take credit for the course by registering with the Pampa Red Cross Chapter at City Hall. The only charge, Mounce added, is 60 cents for a First Aid textbook. A work book will be supplied free by the Fanhandle Chapter of the American Society of Safety Engineers.

For full credit, Mounce said, and for Red Cross certification, the student must then attend a three-hour session for the successful demonstration of skills. Volunteer Red Cross instructors will conduct these sessions.

Further information may be obtained at the Red Cross office in City Hall, or by calling MO 4-7121.

to complete repair work on the cottage.

Originally, the land where the cottage is located, a triangular tract of land between Starkweather and Yeager Sts., was given to the city by a former mayor, E. S. Carr.

The pioneer cottage was built by Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Vincent in 1903, one year after Gray County was organized. They sold it to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walter Yeager. After Mr. Yeager died, his wife sold it to Carr. He gave it to Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Vincent, his daughter and son-in-law, who gave the cottage to the society as a shrine to pioneer generations.

Graham Says Church Needs 'More Emotion'

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Evangelist Billy Graham said Tuesday night that more emotion in religion might spark "a return to heartfelt faith in 'Jesus Christ' and help combat materialistic philosophy in a generation 'schooled in violence, sex and mischief.'"

Graham said emotion was considered all right at a baseball game or the theater, but "if we shed a tear or show a smile in church, some-body screams 'over-emotion'."

Graham hit at "Godless theories" and said "the Ten Commandments have been laughed at" in his talk before a crowd of 34,150. It was the fifth session in his current 25-day crusade at Memorial Coliseum.

Graham told his audience that religion must go deeper than mere attendance at church services.

"While I have never subscribed to sensationalism, surface emotionalism or flashy religious demonstrations, I believe there is a burning need for a return to heartfelt faith in Jesus Christ.

"Nazism had fire; communism has fire, and Christianity had better catch fire."

DOG HERO OF '63

CHICAGO (UPI) — A German shepherd named Dutch will receive the 10th annual Ken-L Ration gold medal today as the 1963 dog hero of the year.

Dutch, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hawthorne of Troy, Pa., helped save the lives of their children, Hugh, 4, and Gordon, 3 last Oct. 31 when they floundered helplessly in a 12-foot pool.

Dutch's barking brought Mrs. Hawthorne on the run, and although pregnant she jumped in the water and pulled both to safety.

THE WORLD IN FOCUS

ON THE ROCKS—Stretching out under the bright sun shining over Nice seems to be done high and dry by these young boys. They appear to make themselves comfortable on the jagged rocks lining the French resort town's waterfront.

NO PEEKING—When the Girls Nation met in Washington, they held secret ballots: Heads down, hands up—and it's no fair peeking!

PUPPY FOR SAIL—These youngsters in Sausalito, Calif., have immortalized their sad-faced pet on the main sail of their boat. He's now a sea dog.

HEAT-BEATING — Seems odd to be skiing in August, but it's the cool season down in Portillo, Chile. Young miss beats the heat.

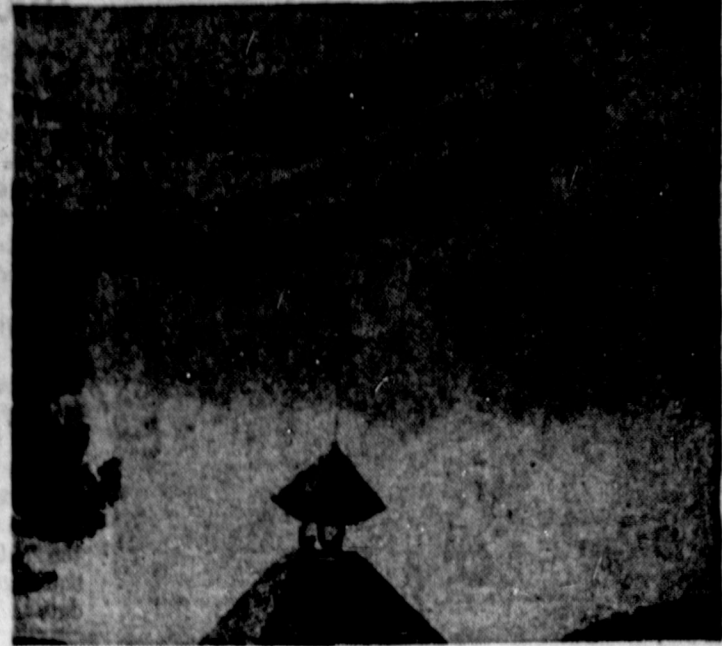

GRACEFUL CURVES—Gracefully stepping into the fall scene, this slim-fitting dress marks the subtle silhouettes created by a Florence, Italy, designer.

GOING PLACES—Joey—(yes, that's right)—Heatherton is going places. She's now in the movies, on television and has been on the Broadway stage.

WHIRLED WIDE—Presenting a striking position, two dancers from the Polish Slask Dance Company, twirl into a fast-stepping folk dance. The twirling motion of the step is accented by the whirl of the girl's skirt and the horizontal suspension of her long braid. The couple performed during a Polish dance festival in Warsaw.

WHERE'S THE STEEPLE?—How to place a 650-pound steeple atop the meeting house of Carmel Valley Manor, Calif., is shown by this helicopter. The entire project cost $4.5 million. It is a retirement community.

CLOTHES CALL—These clothes were found by the lads in MacQuiddy school's lost and found department in Watsonville, Calif. Chances are most of them don't fit.

LIVE DOLLS, ALMOST—Virginia Black adds the finishing touch to one of her characteristic dolls. She makes them in North Hollywood, Calif.

SHARP SET—Diver Harold Jacobs stuffs a bonito fish into a sawfish's mouth. The huge fish had to be force fed after it was placed into Marineland Oceanarium on the south side of Los Angeles. Usually the creature uses his three-foot noseblade to slash his victims to death, feeding on them at leisure in his natural habitat.

TWISTER—Here's a new twist, but probably the oldest twist in the world. It's a chimney about 100 years old. Perched atop an ivy-covered house, it's located in Vienna, Austria.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Notes from the foreign news cables:
British Election:
The narrow margin by which the Conservatives squeaked through to victory in the Stratford by-election virtually has ended speculation that Prime Minister Macmillan will risk a general election this fall. This means the election almost certainly will come next spring, with Macmillan gambling that a mild winter will put voters in a good mood. The near-disaster at Stratford made no difference to Macmillan's own position. He has outmaneuvered the young Turks who sought his ouster and now will quit only when he himself decides. With Parliament in recess, Macmillan will use the breathing spell to prepare for the Conservative party congress in October—the only really threatening cloud on his immediate horizon.

Moscow Quiet:
The remainder of August is expected to be quiet in Moscow after the momentous events of past weeks, including the signing of a nuclear test ban treaty and the unsuccessful Sino-Soviet talks. Premier Khrushchev's trip to Yugoslavia will further demonstrate to Peking that the Soviet Union has given up any immediate hope of reconciliation with the Communist Chinese. Khrushchev's absence from Moscow means that diplomatic activity will mark time until his return.

Expanded Contracts:
West Germany is expected to move rapidly in its campaign to establish contacts with the Soviet Union's East European satellites. Bonn's next goal is an agreement to exchange trade missions of ambassadorial rank with Communist Hungary, as has already been agreed upon with Poland. Government sources say a West German negotiating team will go to Budapest next month to start bargaining.

Austerity:
Despite talk in Western Europe about increased trade with Communist China, the facts are that there will be no torrent of Western goods flowing into Peking. The Chinese must pay for their large purchases of grain from Canada and Australia and after that won't have much money left. A British delegation which staged an industrial fair in Peking has come back empty handed. The Chinese were interested but didn't buy. Japan may be in a better position for Chinese trade because she can use raw materials which can be shipped more cheaply from China than from the West.

56TH YEAR THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 21, 1963 7

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less.

Divided Highways The economic split in the way Americans think is illustrated by the comparison of recent statements made by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and duPont President Lamont duPont Copeland.

Douglas, in filing a concurring opinion in the integration sit-in cases, struck at the basic concept of private property, while Copeland, the businessman, thinks of private enterprise as vital to American economic life.

Douglas stated with startling reasoning that all private businesses, including restaurants, "feel the pinch of some public regulation since they were subject to health, fire inspection, zoning, safety measures, etc."

Then came an alarming jump in his reasoning. "This restaurant is thus an instrumentality of the state since the state charges it with duties to the public and supervises its performance," he said.

If a restaurant is an instrumentality of the state, what of big business, the most vital instrument of public control? Douglas, in making such a statement, undermines the entire concept of private property and violates all constitutional guarantees.

This is not the first indication Douglas has given of his hostility to private business. Douglas wrote in a recent book review: "To what extent have private governments and pari passu repealed the Constitution? The government raises money by taxation, the corporations raise money by price-fixing. When the latter make a profit everyone cheers; when the government makes a profit the spectre of socialism appears."

How is it possible that a Supreme Court justice can know so little economics as to believe that corporations "raise money by price-fixing"? The only conclusion that can be reached is that Douglas has never served, worked or operated a private business nor expose by the press, read the Nashville Banner's editorial: BRITISH PRESS DID IT

When then-War Minister John Profumo covered up with a lie his illicit affair with Christine Keeler—and official contentment there descended—there was one element dissatisfied with explanations that didn't explain, and reassurances that didn't reassure. It was the British press; it kept digging, and mined out the facts.

Not for purposes of sensationalism, or out of love for scandal. It dug because it is the business of the free press to ascertain and publish pertinent facts. It believes in, and serves, the people's right to know.

That is what is called freedom of information—the opposite of "news-management" by government control, censorship, propaganda ministries, etc. A Profumo-type case is not, and is not been, involved in cover-up attempts in this country. But news management is just as obnoxious, and just as dangerous, where its aim is to conceal facts pertinent to policy decisions, bureaucratic shenanigans in any particular or political irregularities and sky-larking.

There is a moral in the Profumo case: Truth, crushed to earth, does rise again, and those concerned for it—and unshackled—give it a hand.—Nashville Banner.

Pleasant Sounds in Growing City It's good to hear the sound of hammers and saws coming from new construction sites both in Pampa's residential and business areas.

Several businesses recently have opened and others are to come. Montgomery & Ward's new store opening in the Coronado Center is not far off. More are to follow in the shopping center. The same is true of the opening of Gibson Discount Store just be-

The space age may mean more to the physically handicapped than it will for the first man on the moon. Mary Switzer, head of the U.S. Vocational Rehabilitation Administration, tells us that in the past 13 years 989,000 physically or disabled have been rehabilitated for gainful employment.

The largest aquarium in New England opened recently at Provincetown stocked with fish caught in Cape Cod waters. It represents the fulfillment of a dream of John O'Conner, high school biology teacher, and contains 35 species, twice the number exhibited at the Interior Department's Laboratory at nearby Woods Hole.

Inger Fiska, Norwegian newspaper gal now on the Whitehouse STAR, Yukon Territory, paints landscapes using a battery-operated tooth brush. Says her hands get cold in the zero weather there and she can use the gadget wearing mittens. Says, too, it's great for mixing colors. Gives nice effects.

Country Editor speaking: "Listen to the chatter that goes on about you all day, and you'll soon realize that if 'to do' was as easy as 'knowing what to do' the world's ills would be quickly cured."

Pending before Rusk is a State Department reorganization plan, one of whose major objectives is axing Miss Frances Knight, controversial director of the Passport Office.

Authors of this explosive scheme are Abram Chayes, legal adviser of the Department, and Abba Schwartz, head of the bureau of Security and Consular Affairs.

Under their reorganization proposal, a number of important jobs would be abolished, among them Miss Knight's. Opponents are angrily charging that a primary Chayes-Schwartz purpose is to load these places with hand-picked selections of their own.

A definite factor in this 'backstage' situation is the Kennedy Administration's antipathy to Miss Knight.

Her stubborn insistence on her own hiring policy and scorn for Democratic job-seekers has greatly annoyed New Frontiersmen bent on rewarding deserving adherents. The White House has long wanted to get rid of her, but hasn't dared do so directly, due to her potent backers in Congress.

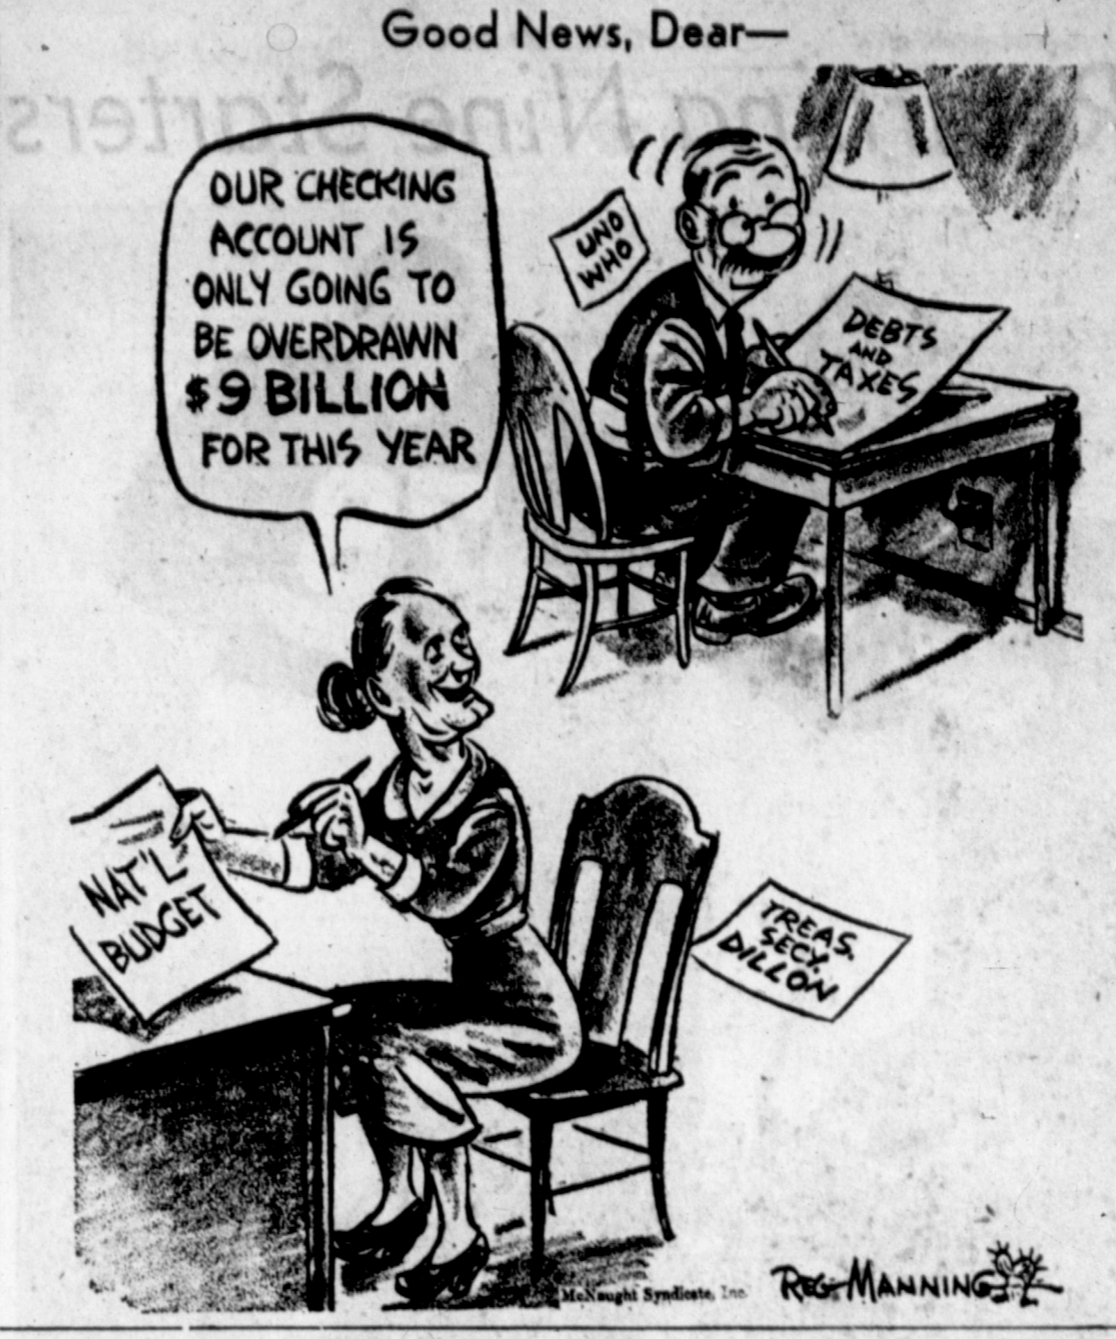

As a consequence, she and Schwartz have been covertly tangling for months. Much of their rowing has been through partisans at closed-door meetings of congressional committees.

Mainstay of Miss Knight's strength is the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, headed by Senator James Eastland, D-Miss. Schwartz' chief support has been the House Committee on Un-American Activities, under the chairmanship of the late Representative Francis Walter, D-Pa.

Senator Eastland summoned Secretary Rusk for questioning on the Chayes-Schwartz reorganization plan, but he asked for a postponement owing to his trip to Russia and the hearings on the test ban treaty.

Rusk got the reprieve on the understanding nothing would be done on the hatchet-wielding reorganization scheme.

So for the time being it's in abeyance. What happens later remains to be seen. Meanwhile, there is no let-up in the undercover Schwartz-Knight feud.

The Doctor Says: Permissiveness is Not Same as Submissiveness By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

The chief job of parents is to act as guides and teachers of the art of living to their children. To help them to do this they are bombarded on all sides with advice, much of it conflicting and therefore confusing.

In spite of all this, most parents are doing a creditable job. That is largely because they can't go far wrong if they show true affection for their children and praise them for accomplishments without expecting a level of attainment beyond the child's capacity.

Ever since Freud described the evil consequences of childhood frustrations, parents have been urged to be less authoritarian and more permissive in their attitudes toward their children. Dr. Leo Kanner, the eminent child psychiatrist, points out that in the constructive sense, permissiveness is a controlling but kindly way of permitting a child to be himself and to exercise his own will without letting him encroach on the rights of others.

However, when parents substitute submissiveness for his kind of permissiveness everyone is the loser. If, for example, the child is allowed to strike his parents or others or to indulge in temper tantrums, he will find as soon as he enters school or kindergarten that the submissiveness of his parents is not shared by the rest of the community.

At this point his frustrations will begin in earnest and he will come in time to blame his parents, and rightly so, for his failure to get along. But by then it may be too late for him to completely change his personality.

One important aspect of permissiveness is to allow the child to develop at his own rate without driving him toward perfection at too early an age. Expecting too much too soon can only lead to disappointment and discouragement.

There is also the less obvious necessity of allowing a child to be himself in spite of any physical handicap he may have. Whether it be a very prominent birth mark or an ugly scar acquired sometime after his birth, acceptance by the parents without undue emphasis will help the child to accept what can't be changed and will minimize emotional conflicts over it. Wise parents have always known this instinctively. Those who have not known it but have learned it will have been amply rewarded in seeing the self-confident unfolding of the personality of their child.

Edson In Washington Warns West Won't Gain In Soviet, China Cold War

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Warning flags already are being run against those who think the United States somehow will make big gains from the cold war between Soviet Russia and Red China.

"This isn't a permanent split," cautions former Rep. Walter H. Judd, R-Minn., who still rates as one of the few remaining "old China hands" around Washington. "This is just a rift between a couple of Communist theoreticians, Dr. Judd insists. It will be decided by the accepted principles of Marxist practice."

When it is all over, somebody will have to walk the plank," says Judd. "It may be Mao or it may be Khrushchev."

Whoever it is, the Communist Party will still remain exactly what it always has been. For under the theory of democratic centralism, the party can never be wrong. Only individual members can be wrong."

Sizing up the two top antagonists in this rift, Judd points out that many Communist cells around the world have never accepted Khrushchev's policy of the de-Stalinization. Mao may have more support than he is credited with.

What Khrushchev is doing, therefore, in his test ban treaty and his proposals for a nonaggression pact with the West is to protect his rear while he wages ideological war on his eastern front. "This is my great fear," warns Judd. "Remember that less than a year ago, Khrushchev could have destroyed the United States from Cuba. There can be no peace till communism itself fails."

"We can never relax until Khrushchev takes steps that will show he is genuinely interested in permanent world peace." Four acts that would show this intent are listed as: — End colonization in eastern Europe as Russia now wants Portugal to end its colonization in Africa.

— Modify Communist doctrine on world domination and concentrate on better living for Russian people. — Completely withdraw Russian support of Cuba. — Settle the Berlin question by allowing reunification of Germany under free, democratic elections.

"There is too much day-to-day thinking about our relations with the Communists," says Judd in summary. "We go into a conference with maintenance of the status quo as our maximum objective. The Russians go into a conference with that as a minimum objective. They want more. We don't think far enough ahead."

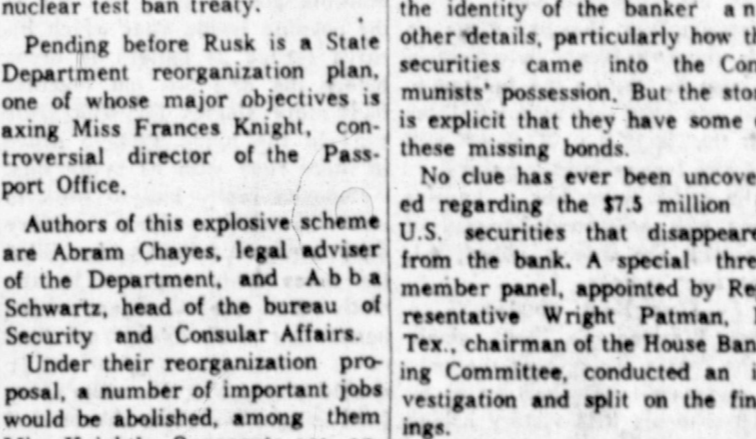

The likelihood that Khrushchev eventually will purge Mao's testing is foreseen by Chinese Nationalist sources on Formosa. If that happens, it is expected that Peking again will fall under Moscow's domination.

Tao Hsi-sheng, chairman of the Central Daily News of Taipei, sees little possibility of Mao softening his antiwestern attitude in an attempt to consolidate his own position and win allies to China's side in opposition to Russia. Resumption of talks Sept. 11 between American ambassador John Moors Cabot in Warsaw and Red Chinese ambassador Wang Pingnan after a four-month lapse is interesting but not significant. The talks have been going on for eight years without result.

Red China's Premier Chou En-lai has relayed to Washington an invitation for a new world-wide conference on disarmament. But

PAUL SCOTT Reserve Bank last August, are reputedly in Red Chinese hands. Alleged source of this report is a "banker in Hong Kong."

The information is vague as to the identity of the banker and other details, particularly how the securities came into the Communists' possession. But the story is explicit that they have some of these missing bonds.

No clue has ever been uncovered regarding the $7.5 million in U.S. securities that disappeared from the bank. A special three-member panel, appointed by Representative Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, conducted an investigation and split on the findings.

The two Democrats expressed the belief the bonds were stolen. The Republican sided with the bank's claim that they had been "accidentally burned."

Patman is considering sending a special agent to Switzerland to check on reports that some of the bonds are hidden in a "numbered" bank account. In the past, the Swiss have refused to divulge any information about these accounts.
