

Governors to Set up 'Rocky' Roadblock

By RAYMOND LAHR
 MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — State governors indicated today they are ready to gang up on New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to keep him from making a political arena of next week's annual governors' conference.

A UPI check of state capitols suggested that the governors were almost sure to vote for a return to their old unanimity rule, in effect before 1959, for adoption of resolutions. This rule change would enable a single governor to veto any controversial proposal—like Rockefeller's resolution to put the conference on record for a broad civil rights program.

The governors will meet here Sunday through Wednesday. The rules showdown is scheduled Monday morning on an executive committee proposal to abandon the present rule, requiring a two-thirds vote for adoption of resolutions, and to return to the requirement of a unanimous vote.

Prepared To Battle
 Rockefeller, a potential contender for the Republican presidential nomination, is prepared to battle against the rules change. He is the author of 11 resolutions, including controversial proposals dealing with civil rights and financing medical care for the aged under the Social Security program.

The UPI survey, in which more than 30 of the 50 governors were contacted, showed 20 on record for a return to the unanimity rule, five opposed and the others undecided or noncommittal.

Supporting Rockefeller against the rules change were GOP Govs. Mark Hatfield of Oregon and John Chafee of Rhode Island and Democratic Govs. Bert Combs of Kentucky and Karl Rolvaag of Minnesota. Combs is a member of the executive committee, which announced after its spring meeting that it unanimously favored the rules change.

On The Fence
 The UPI poll showed some governors in the fence-straddling position of favoring conference action on civil rights and a return to the unanimity rule, which would allow one Southern governor to block action.

Although some governors did not answer a question asking if they favored conference action on a civil rights resolution, 14 said they would support such a move.

To a question about support for the Kennedy administration civil rights package in Congress, 12 governors endorsed it, although some said they favored it "in principle" or with reservations.

These 12 included the Democratic governors of California, Connecticut, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, New Mexico, Vermont and Washington and Republican governors of New York, Oregon and Rhode Island.

Other governors want the conference to discuss a wide range of issues such as Cuba, the federal budget, unemployment, curtailing textile imports, juvenile delinquency and federal regulation of boxing.

"Such is the use and noble end of friendship, to bear a part in every storm of fate, and, by dividing, make the lighter weight."

'K' Revives His Plan To Cut Risk of Attack

U.S. Turns 437 Acres of El Paso Over to Mexico

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Four hundred and thirty-seven acres of El Paso lacked only the approval of the U.S. Senate and the Mexican Congress today before formally becoming part of Mexico.

Presidents Kennedy and Adolfo Lopez Mateos simultaneously disclosed last night that Mexico would get a net of 437 acres in settlement of the 99-year-old El Chamizal (The Thicket) dispute.

Mexico, in a complicated swap, would get 71 acres more than it originally claimed in the Chamizal. The area, between downtown El Paso and the border, has 3,700 residents.

The settlement was greeted with a few jeers in El Paso and a few cheers in Juarez. El Paso's sister city across the border.

—The United States would transfer 366 acres of the disputed Chamizal zone and 264 acres east of Mexican-owned Cordova island to Mexico.

—For the 193 island acres gained the United States, 193 acres would remain in Mexico. Mexico would get a net of 437 acres.

—The United States and Mexico would divide the cost of relocating the Rio Grande and line the bottom with concrete, so the channel cannot change again.

—A private Mexican bank would pay the United States $4,700,000 for the 382 buildings in the area.

—The U.S. government would reimburse American citizens for land and improvements in the Chamizal, a total of about $21.7 million.

Proposal May Be Good Sign At Ban Talks

By HENRY SHAPIRO
 MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today renewed an earlier proposal that would permit international control teams inside the Soviet Union to reduce the risk of surprise attack.

Diplomatic sources said the Soviet revival of the offer originally made by the Russians in 1958 might signal a breakthrough in negotiations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Khrushchev revived the plan in a speech in the Kremlin at a "Hungarian friendship" meeting.

"We hold it expedient to set up in definite control spots, both of the Soviet Union and other countries, ground control posts at airports, railways, junctions, highways and major ports," he said. "Of course all this must be done on a parity basis."

The 1958 Soviet control team proposal died on the vine because the west at the time felt that the Soviets were not really interested in cutting the risk of accidental war.

In reviving the plan today Khrushchev said:

"Such a measure does not in itself guarantee the maintenance of peace, but it would be a step forward toward prevention of a surprise attack."

Khrushchev's renewal of the Soviet proposal came less than a week after American and British negotiators arrived in Moscow for nuclear test ban talks. It also came as the United States and the Soviet Union were preparing to set up a "hot line" direct communications link between Washington and Moscow to prevent an outbreak of war by accident.

The test ban negotiators today were discussing a limited agreement in an optimistic atmosphere.

Khrushchev said in his Kremlin talk that there is "now a hope" of concluding a partial test ban, barring a radical change in the position of the United States and Britain.

The Soviet premier also:

—Called anew for an East-West non-aggression pact between NATO and the Communist Warsaw Pact Alliance.

—Defended his denunciation of the late dictator Josef Stalin at the 20th party congress in 1956 and again attacked the "personality cult" of Stalin's regime.

—Insisted, despite Peking counter-charges that Lenin supported the policy of co-existence in peace.

—Said settlement of the German problem would be a very good thing but could come only through signature of a German peace treaty.

As they came on today's negotiating session the Soviets ignored a warning from Communist China against negotiating with "sinister, fraudulent" Americans.

Western sources said the Soviet and Allied negotiators, finding no obstacles to agreement on a partial test ban, were going on to

Strange, Beautiful Event Due in Tomorrow's Total Eclipse of Sun

By United Press International
 For a fleeting moment Saturday afternoon day will turn into night in a narrow path across the Atlantic and part of North America when the moon moves between the sun and the earth.

For most Americans the eclipse will be partial; the moon will obstruct only part of the sun. For a few, mostly in Maine, it will be total. The most zealous of these will be astronomers in jet planes and 20 teams of scientific observers perched atop Cadillac Mountain in Maine.

The airborne observers, traveling at nearly twice the speed of sound, will pursue the shadow as it speeds across the face of the globe at 1,750 miles an hour. They will not catch up to it, but they will be able to see the total eclipse for longer than the 59 seconds it will be visible to teams on the ground.

 More important, they will be above much of the earth's atmosphere, and thus able to take clear photographs of the rare event and study it with precision.

For non-professional astronomers across the land, the warning is clear: Do not look at the eclipse. Don't even peek. Experts advise that even one second's exposure to the full rays of the sun can cause permanent damage to the eyes.

Because the sun is partially obscured, no pain is felt, but invisible ultraviolet and infrared rays do their damage. Surgeon General Dr. Luther Terry says this: "Watch it on television."

For those who shun the video approach, this is recommended: Punch a pinhole in a piece of cardboard; then, with your back to the sun, hold the cardboard above one shoulder and let the sun's image reflect on another piece of cardboard held in front of you.

The 60-mile wide belt of the total eclipse will cut across Alaska, Canada and central Maine. The moon will begin passing in front of the sun at 2:35 p.m. (Pampa time) and move away at 4:45 p.m.; totality at Bar Harbor, Maine, is expected at 5:42 p.m. EST.

picture-taking techniques: DON'T. Even one second of carelessness could mean serious, even permanent eye damage.

The sun will be blocked out almost entirely by the moon at 3:47 p.m. CST tomorrow.

The naked eye itself can be damaged simply by looking at the unshielded face of the sun, according to the statement, and the addition of any optical device, such as the viewfinder of a camera, concentrates the energy and increases the danger to the retina.

The danger — borne out by the steadily increasing number of cases of permanent blindness reported after each solar eclipse — will be even more real this year because of the vast number of people who will have the opportunity to view the eclipse. Tomorrow afternoon, the sun will be totally obscured by the moon for observers along a narrow strip of the earth's surface beginning at sunrise in Japan and extending across the North Pacific, Alaska, Canada and Maine to sunset on the North Atlantic. Even outside the path of totality, the sun will be partially eclipsed in all parts of the continental United States (including Alaska), Canada, the Caribbean, most of Mexico and Central America and the northern part of South America.

Warning Issued for Viewers of Eclipse

One of nature's most photogenic phenomena — a solar eclipse of the sun — could present substantial hazards for unwary viewers and picture-takers tomorrow, according to a statement released by leading camera manufacturers.

In fact, they offer one word of advice to those planning to point their cameras skyward on July 20 without familiarizing themselves with proper viewing a nd

Texans Swelter In Sizzling Heat

By United Press International
 Steaming heat enveloped Texas again today. Only the Gulf Coast received relief in the form of scattered showers.

Victoria got .10 of an inch of rain in a shower. Overnight lows ranged from 63 at Alpine to 81 at Galveston and Palacios.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said isolated thundershowers were in prospect for most of the state.

Central Texas and the coastal plains reported showers Thursday. Mineral Wells and Childress reported the state's high of 101.

Austin, El Paso, Laredo and Wichita Falls had 100. The coolest point in Texas Thursday was Galveston with 90 degrees. It was 92 in Pampa at 12:30 this noon.

Corporation Judge Bowers Resigns City Post Today

Corporation Court Judge James M. Bowers today submitted his resignation, effective immediately, to City Manager Harold Schmitzer.

Bowers, who has been judge for the past year, had previously discussed his resignation with Schmitzer, stating that as a defense attorney by profession, he felt that a conflict of interests might arise, and in such case, he would return to full-time law practice for economic reasons.

Bowers' letter of resignation to Schmitzer follows:

"You will recall that during the month of April of this year I discussed with you my intention of submitting my resignation, the reason being that a substantial portion of my professional time, as an attorney, is devoted to the defense side of the docket. I suggested at that time that should there appear to be a conflict of interests between this phase of my law practice and that of holding the position of City Recorder, then the latter would, for economic reasons, have to yield to the former.

"It appears that such a conflict now exists, and I herewith submit my resignation, effective immediately. It has been a pleasure working with you in the past year."

Schmitzer said that no successor had as yet been named.

Girl Bike Rider Hurt in Accident

A seven-year-old girl is in Highland Hospital today for observation following a car-bicycle accident yesterday evening.

The accident occurred at 6:04 p.m. when a car driven by Mrs. Peggy Louvier, 512 Lowry, going west on Francis, was in collision with the bicycle ridden by Dawn Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Myers of 1105 E. Francis, riding east in the 900 block of E. Francis.

The girl was taken to the hospital suffering from shock and treatment of a two-to-three inch cut on her right arm. Police stated the girl rode out from behind a parked car, and that there was no violation by Mrs. Louvier.

Riviera Jolted By Earthquakes

GENOA, Italy (UPI) — A series of earthquakes rocked more than 220 miles of the famed Riviera vacationland today, driving thousands of tourists and residents from hotels and homes in panic.

Three shocks came in quick succession, but no injuries were reported. Authorities said, however, many persons fainted in fear.

Another minor earthquake was reported in Japan and Sicily's Mt. Etna began spewing forth lava.

Thieves Hit Cars Of Pampa Doctors

Doctors seemed to be the main target last night as thieves looted four automobiles in Pampa. Police said medical bags were stolen from two Pampa physicians, Drs. Frank Kelley and Royce Laycock.

Mrs. Bob Sidwell of 1344 Williston, reported to police early this morning that a grip was lying in the alley between Russell and Williston. Investigation disclosed it to be a medical kit.

A call to hospitals and doctors disclosed that the bag of Dr. Laycock had been taken out of his car sometime last night while it was parked in front of his home at 2400 Mary Ellen. A description of the bag, however, disclosed it to be not Dr. Laycock's bag, but that of Dr. Kelley. A check with Dr. Kelley found that his bag had been stolen last night as well, from his car parked in his garage at 1715 Christine.

Only Cowards Seek War, Says Russ Head-Man

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev, in a peace appeal seen as another firm rebuff to Red China, said today that only cowards seek war.

Khrushchev said in a Kremlin speech that "imperialism" — which the Chinese communists want defeated by war if necessary — "trembled" before the strength of socialism.

"So why be in a hurry to go to war at all?" the Soviet leader asked in an obvious jibe at Peking.

"Those who are bitten by the bug of war are not motivated by bravery, but by cowardice by their lack of faith that socialism can win in peaceful competition with capitalism."

Khrushchev defied Chinese Communist attempts to force his ouster as Soviet leader and said the attempts were "futile."

He said that despite what the "cowards" thought, communism (See KHRUSHCHEV, Page 3)

Terry Towel Beach Ponchos

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
One-towel poncho: Make a towel-poncho for the man in your life to wear after swimming or for sunning or relaxing, in perennially approved white. For an average size, buy the large - size towel, about 72 to 36 inches. For a smaller man, or for a woman, you can use a towel approximately 50 by 30 inches. Buy 2 1/4 yards of 3/4-inch heavy cotton upholstery cord and two matching tassels.

Fold the towel in half lengthwise. Find center of fold and on lengthwise thread, cut a slash each way one-half the head measurement, plus 2 inches.

Turn a 1/2-inch hem on each cut edge and stitch, stitching across each end of slash so that it cannot tear out or ravel. Use your longest machine stitch. Do not stitch too fast, so that thickness will feed easily under your presser foot.

Mark the waistline. (Either try poncho on the proud owner or measure one of his suits.) One-inch below waistline on each selva edge of back, apply a 2-inch strip of tape or cording for belt straps, by stitching strip on across each end. Run cord ends through these loops and sew on tassels, ready to bring to the front and tie.

The same method can be used to make a poncho for a woman. If a novel note is desired, buy 2 1/4 yards of 36-inch terry in a becoming color and 4 1/2 yards of matching cotton fringe about 1 1/2 inches wide, from the drapery department.

Turn under all raw edges and stitch fringe over them for a decorative finish. Finish the neck, make belt straps and use a cord tie in the same way as for the man's poncho.

Terry cloth may be made into stoles, into blouses and robes—so many lovely, useful things. The washing machine fluffs terry clean, and the breeze makes ironing unnecessary.

Two-towel poncho: This is a practical poncho to wear over a bathing suit, since it gives protection from the sun and can be used as a towel afterward.

Take two medium-weight terry cloth towels, 20 by 40 inches. Cut one towel in half crosswise to use for front and back sections.

At the center of one side of second towel make a slash in half the width, and then cut each side of this slash in 2 inches. (This is for the neck opening.)

Turn slashed part back 2 inches. Turn raw edges in and stitch along edges. Make a narrow hem to finish back neckline.

Dear Abby... Mother's Dye, Actions Embarrass Daughter

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How do you go about disowning a relative? My mother is a beaut. She won $600 at the races on a Saturday, and Sunday she married a man who works at the track. She's 62 and he's 44. She dyes his hair the same color red she dyes her own and thinks everyone turns around to look at them because they're so good-looking. I think she's gone into her second childhood. They are positively nauseating together. Should I put an ad in the local paper, officially disowning her? I don't care how much it costs.

DEAR NOT: Why? It doesn't take five minutes to write a thank-you note. ALL gifts deserve a prompt acknowledgement.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell people not to put the dog's dish in the dishwasher with the family plates. Hot water and soap do NOT kill every kind of germ. If they did, hospitals wouldn't need sterilizers. Even boiling water doesn't kill all bacteria. Especially spores and fungi.

The notion that a dog's mouth is cleaner than a human's mouth is folklore. We still know so little about diseases, and how they are transmitted, it is wise to observe all sanitary precautions.

EMERITUS, MAYO CLINIC
DEAR EMERITUS: Thank you for the information. I'll pass it on to my readers. But those who NEED it most will probably be the first to give me an argument.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LAS PALMAS": The mother-daughter team that looks "just like sisters" frequently does more for the mother's ego than the daughter's.

DEAR EMBARRASSED: Don't put an ad in the paper. And save your money. You may need it to have their red heads examined later.

DEAR ABBY: We have 80 acres in the mountains, an old farmhouse, good hunting and a trout stream. We have company the year around. (Often on two or three hours' notice.) Sometimes relatives bring their friends (who are total strangers to us), but they are always welcome. We love company.

Recently a nephew brought a friend to visit. About a week later we received a lovely thank-you note and a box of candy from the friend. I have been criticized for not writing to thank him for the candy. Should I do so? If I answer all the thank-you notes I shall have to hire a secretary.

Self Improvement At Little Expense

Many women feel they could be far more attractive than they are if they had more money to spend in beauty salons, more leisure time to devote to self-improvement.

Few women stop to consider the many ways of making themselves more attractive that don't cost anything at all in either time or money.

One of those ways is to cultivate a pleasant speaking voice. It is every bit as important to a woman to have a voice that is easy to listen to as to have a face that is easy to look at.

Another no-cost way to self-improvement is for a woman to develop an enthusiastic attitude toward life. Enthusiasm is catching, and the woman who has it not only has a more vivid personality herself, but her enthusiasm sparks the interest of others.

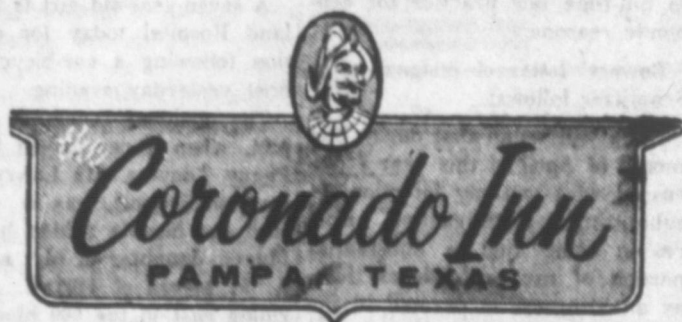

woman to her friends is genuine interest in others. If it is real and not faked, it makes her the kind of person with whom others want to share their good fortune. For they know she will make it seem more, rather than less, by her very real delight.

And it doesn't cost a woman anything to learn to be a good listener. Everybody likes to talk, but the woman who knows how to listen has a charm that is lasting. Almost any woman can think of ways of being helpful to others that costs her nothing more than the trouble it takes to answer the question: "What can I do to help out?"

Governor Connally to Tell Texans His Views on Civil Rights

AUSTIN (UPI) — Gov. Connally goes on a statewide television network tonight to tell the people of Texas how he feels about the entire question of civil rights.

His talk will begin at 9:30 p.m. and last for 30 minutes. He said he will give Texans "my position with respect to civil rights and all its implications and ramifications."

Cambridge, Md. — Negro leaders telegraphed President Kennedy Thursday they were "deeply shocked and concerned" over his remarks at a news conference that local demonstrations had created "an increasingly dangerous situation."

Hollywood, Calif. — NAACP leader Herbert Hill said "selective buying campaigns" will be organized against sponsors of television shows that are offensive to Negroes.

Jackson, Miss. — Attorneys for Byron De La Beckwith, who is accused of slaying Negro leader Medgar Evers, said they may ask the state Supreme Court to call off Beckwith's scheduled psychiatric examination. A state judge Thursday ordered mental tests for the former Marine.

Gadsden, Ala. — Negro leaders said they would make another attempt, possibly today, to enroll more than 50 Negro children in all-white schools. Two such attempts failed Thursday — one because of a school regulation technicality, and the other because a deputy sheriff blocked the Negroes' way.

Violent Storms Deal Destruction

By United Press International
Violent thunderstorms lashed widely separated parts of the nation Thursday, dealing death in Minnesota and Tennessee and dumping torrents of rain elsewhere.

Flood waters carried a 6-year-old boy to his death in a drainage culvert in Nashville, Tenn., and gales whipped the downtown area. A ceiling collapsed in a three-story department store when water washed through air-conditioning ducts.

Winds clocked at up to 100 miles per hour ripped through southeastern Minnesota communities. A 19-year-old Albert Lea, Minn., youth was killed when the limb of a tree he was helping to remove broke and fell on him.

City officials said it would take until next week to clean up the mess caused as the storm knocked down power lines, uprooted trees, broke storm windows and damaged at least three hangars.

Seventy-mile an hour winds and more than an inch of rain in an hour's time pummeled nearby Austin, Minn. Tornadoes were spotted south of Owatonna, Minn., and at Conrad, Iowa.

In New Hampshire, a miniature tornado swept through a boys camp at Wolfeboro, injuring two campers, flinging canoes out of the water and destroying 12 of the camps 44 tents. One of the youngsters was hurt by a flying bureau drawer.

discuss other cold war issues such as Berlin.

U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and British Science Minister Lord Hailsham met in the fifth session of the big three talks as optimism continued high in Moscow on prospects for success.

China Claims "Fraud"
Even as the three-power negotiators met in Moscow, a warning came from Peking that Red China would not be bound by an atomic test ban agreement.

Communist China, which is known to be pushing development of its own atomic weapons, accused the United States through its official newspaper, the People's Daily, of perpetrating "fraud," and of planning to use a partial test ban agreement to continue to stockpile nuclear weapons.

But in a speech that Western observers saw as another snub of Communist China, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said only towards seek war.

Khrushchev said that even without war "imperialism" trembles before "the strength of socialism."

"So why be in a hurry to go to war at all?" he asked in a speech at the Kremlin.

(Communist China today heaped new attacks on Moscow, according to Peking Radio broadcasts heard in Tokyo. It charged that if Russia signs a partial test ban agreement with the West as now seems likely, it "would greatly increase" the danger of nuclear war.)

The three-power nuclear talks here, held simultaneously with the ideological conference, apparently have served to worsen Sino-Soviet relations.

The key to the dispute between the two Communist giants is their relationship with the West — whether communism can be advanced by peaceful means, as Khrushchev says, or whether war is inevitable, as the Chinese contend.

POLICE RAID HOME

DUBLIN (UPI) — Police seized machine guns, rifles and ammunition believed to belong to the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA) in a raid on a mountain home in the County Tipperary Thursday, according to officials here.

They said four men were arrested but that a number of others got away. No shots were fired in the raid, officials said.

Confessed Forger Gets 2-to-5 Year Term in Prison

CANADIAN (Sp) — Ronnie Lee Davis, 33-year-old confessed forger, was indicted by a Hemphill county grand jury, pleaded guilty in District Court Tuesday before District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich and was sentenced to two to five years in the state penitentiary.

Davis has been in Hemphill county jail for more than two months awaiting grand jury action.

The Oklahoma City man was arrested by Hemphill County officers early in May after an extensive investigation of his actions in forging and cashing a check for $1,800 on the account of his father-in-law, G. M. Armstrong of Durham, at a Canadian bank.

Davis prolonged his stay in jail with several lengthy "confessions" in which he attempted to implicate others. Officers painstakingly investigated each "confession" and found each one false.

Davis finally made a detailed statement late in May before District Attorney Bill Waters which checked out as true, Sheriff Walter Adams said.

The Grand Jury hearing was arranged this week, and Davis promptly followed up the indictment by going into court with a plea of guilty.

Khrushchev

will conquer capitalism without war.

Talks Getting Nowhere
Khrushchev spoke as Soviet and Chinese delegates met elsewhere in Moscow in another round of ideological talks that appeared to be getting nowhere toward solving the widening dispute between the world's two Communist giants.

In a warning directed apparently as much at the Western powers as at the Chinese, Khrushchev told a Hungarian friendship meeting in the Kremlin palace:

"If all the nuclear weapons were exploded, they would contaminate the atmosphere and how would people live? This is the question."

"We did not need a revolution for war, we need no war."

Khrushchev departed from his prepared text to make these remarks at the very moment the three-power Moscow nuclear test ban talks entered their fifth session, with optimism high for a partial nuclear test ban agreement between East and West.

Most Direct Snub
Western observers saw the speech as a major olive branch of peace toward the West and perhaps the most direct Soviet snub to Communist China so far.

Khrushchev was welcoming Hungarian Communist chief Janos Kadar to Moscow.

Pointedly shaking his finger while delivering remarks obviously directed at China, the Soviet leader said the Socialists who could not convert words into deeds were nothing but "jabbermouths."

Khrushchev made his remarks — which diplomats believed could spark the final explosion splitting Moscow and Peking — a "digression" and returned to his prepared speech reviewing Hungarian history.

But diplomats said the points he made in the digression would not be used by the Red Chinese delegation here for the ideological talks.

Khrushchev said some persons believed "there must be revolution, there must be war and society would be built on corpses."

"Do these fanatics know," Khrushchev asked, "that if all nuclear means were used, those who survived would perhaps envy the dead?"

While Khrushchev spoke, Soviet and Chinese delegates met in another round of their talks after a 24-hour recess called to enable the Peking team to get new instructions from home, Communist sources reported.

Facts Committee Hands President Railroad Report

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A special fact-finding committee handed President Kennedy a 15-page report today on its week-long investigation of the railroad rules dispute.

Informed sources said the report showed union and management representatives were still far apart in the four-year old controversy that could lead to a nationwide rail strike on July 29.

Panel members declined to comment on the report or their discussion with Kennedy.

Theodore C. Sorenson, special counsel to the President, sat in on the talks, however, and it was believed that legislation would be sent to Congress by the White House some time Monday.

The report will be made public Saturday at 4:30 p. m. est.

Meantime, one source said private efforts by panel members resulted in some new concessions by the unions. It was not immediately known how the railroads would react to this development.

Government officials close to the dispute said that efforts to achieve a settlement would continue over the weekend.

The President, who will be at his Cape Cod summer home this weekend, has promised to ask Congress for legislation to dispose of the dispute if there is no agreement by Monday.

Both sides have agreed to hold off until July 29 any action that might trigger a nationwide rail shutdown.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz, chairman of the President's panel, was said to be hopeful that the board's summary of ward possible agreement.

Police investigation of the scene found scattered papers on the street belonging to an R. O. Johnson. Further investigation found that Johnson's daughter had been visiting across the street last night and that the keys and a change purse were missing from her car.

Five Individuals Held Liable For Oil Thefts Through Slanted Holes

TYLER (UPI) — A second slanted oilwell damage suit was being held today in the same federal courtroom where Thursday a jury found five individuals financially liable for stealing oil through slanted holes.

Five witnesses testified in the second civil suit, which was like the first except for the names involved. In the first suit, the jury Thursday ordered H. L. (Pete) Long and others to pay damages to Pan American Oil Corp. and Socony-Mobil Oil Co.

The other individuals were W. W. Long of Houston, Charles Stubblefield of Tyler and Mr. and Mrs. George Erickson of Smyrna, Ga. Southwestern Life Insurance of Dallas and Valley Royalty Co. of Dallas were defendants but only because they helped finance the wells.

Southwestern Insurance and Valley Royalty were not accused of theft or conspiracy. The oil companies asked a total of $600,000 damages, but U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Sheehy will decide how much they will get.

The wells in question were in Rusk county. Sheehy is conducting the damage trials. A total of three is scheduled. The second trial is of the case of Texaco, Inc., versus H. M. Harrington Jr.

Thomas Sellers, an employee of Sperry-Sun-Well Surveying Co., testified in the second suit that a well owned by Harrington bottomed 1,664 feet west of the well head. He said it crossed to a neighboring Texaco lease.

Stephen W. Girshick, also a Sperry-Sun employee, said he had heard of two surveys on the well and data varied by 86 per cent.

Recent Spy Cases Did Not Involve Secrets of U. S.

By CHARLES W. CORDDRY
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said today that no current U.S. military secrets have been stolen in the recent wave of international spy cases.

McNamara also told a news conference the espionage cases in Germany, Sweden and Britain did not involve any American service personnel.

The secretary's remarks were touched off by reports of U.S. concern over the recent spy arrests and that some American secrets were lost.

McNamara said there had been no compromise of any "current" American military plans or weapons systems. He said no special action was underway to safeguard secrets but procedures are always under review to see how they can be improved.

In a wide-ranging session with reporters, McNamara also said that "all responsible leaders of this (defense) department believe it is against the interests of this nation to allow further proliferation of nuclear weapons."

He said that an enforceable nuclear test ban would forestall a further spread of atomic weapons.

McNamara turned aside two questions about the position of the chiefs of the U. S. military services on the issue. He said he did not want to comment further on the "sensitive" test ban talks now underway in Moscow.

He would not say whether his statement implied that the chiefs support a test ban.

The various service chiefs all have told Congress in recent months that they favored continued nuclear testing.

Touching on Cuba, McNamara echoed President Kennedy in stating that "I don't believe we can ever accept a Soviet satellite in this hemisphere." He had been asked how he would react to establishing some kind of diplomatic contact with Castro.

Sherry Gets Hot As Dodgers Roll

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

All this and Larry Sherry too! That's the feeling in the camp of the Los Angeles Dodgers today as their National League pennant bandwagon keeps rolling along.

The World Series hero of 1959 hasn't done too much this season but he suddenly seems to have "rejoined the team." And if there is anything the Dodgers' National League rivals can't stand it's another proven star adding his weight to the Dodger drive.

Sherry, the sensation of the '59 Dodgers' closing NL spurt and World Series triumph over the Chicago White Sox, came out of the bullpen Thursday night to preserve Johnny Podres' ninth victory of the season and the Dodgers' 10-5 decision over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The win preserved the Dodgers' 4 1/2-game lead over the second-place Chicago Cubs, who beat the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2, in an afternoon game.

The San Francisco Giants shaded the New York Mets, 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds brushed the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-3, and the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Houston Colts, 5-1, in other National League action.

Mauri Willis drove in four runs with a double and a single and stole a base and Jim Gilliam, Wally Moon, Tommy Davis and Willie Davis had two hits each in the Dodgers' 14-hit attack. Earl Francis, tagged for three runs and five hits in 4 1-3 innings, suffered his fourth defeat.

Ron Santo's triple and Ken Hubbs' double each produced a run in a three-run sixth inning rally that enabled Larry Jackson to win his 11th game against seven losses. Joe Torre and Del Crandall had two hits each for the Braves, whose Tony Cloninger suffered his sixth loss.

Bob Purkey went 6-2-3 in his fourth game for the Reds with the help of Gene Freese's first homer in almost two years. The Red slugger, who broke his ankle in the spring of 1962, drove in four runs to help deal Ray Sadecki his sixth defeat of the season.

Juan Marichal, appearing in relief for the first time this season, pitched two hitless innings to raise his season record to 15-5 when the Giants scored two runs in the eighth inning. Felipe Alou drove in the winning run with a pinch single that handed Galen Cisco his eighth loss against six wins. Ed Bailey homered for the Giants and Joe Hicks connected for the Mets.

John Boozar won his first major league game with a three-hitter behind a six-hit attack that included homers by Don Demeter and Don Hoak as the Phillies balanced their season record at 47-47. Ken Johnson suffered his 13th loss against five wins.

Johnny Marsh Is Contest Champ

Johnny Marsh, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Marsh, 2145 Dogwood was the winner of the grand prize in the Wright Packing Co. baseball contest, Lacy Terrell, representative of Wright's, announced today.

Johnny will be entitled to attend the Southwest Baseball Clinic held at Lake Benbrook in Ft. Worth. He will also receive a three-day all expense paid trip to Houston, a baseball glove, National Baseball Congress Glo Ball and the official Southwest Baseball Clinic Tee Shirt.

Randy Marsh, 10, Johnny's brother, won one of the 15 third prizes in the contest. Randy will receive a baseball glove.

A total of 116 prizes were offered in the statewide contest.

Yankees' Terry-Hero, Now Bum

By United Press International

Babe Ruth summed it all up 35 years ago when after a tough night on the town he heard the boos of his fair-weather friends.

"In this game," he said, "you are a hero today and a bum tomorrow."

Ralph Terry, the New York Yankees' World Series hero of 1962, knows today what the old Bambino meant.

Terry became the toast of the baseball world last October when he beat the San Francisco Giants, 1-0, in the seventh straight world title under manager Ralph Houk. He was the all-American cover boy of the national mags, the former Boy Scout who made good in a tough, competitive field and a young man with a seemingly limitless future.

Today, he's a bewildered 27-year-old pitcher with an equally bewildering 9-10 season won-lost record.

Terry's 1963 record dipped below the 500-mark—compared with his resplendent 23-12 mark of 1962 and the Minnesota Twins blitzed him in five innings Thursday and went on to a 9-3 victory. The loss trimmed the Yankees' first-place lead over the idle Chicago White Sox to six games.

Rich Rollins drove in five runs with a homer and a double and Don Mincher had a double and two singles to lead the 12-hit Minnesota attack. Camilo Pascual, out of action with arm trouble since June 30, received credit for his 10th win against five defeats. Elston Howard homered for the Yankees.

The Baltimore Orioles defeated the Detroit Tigers, 8-6, in 11 innings and the Boston Red Sox beat the Kansas City Athletics, 10-6, in other American League games.

Joe Gaines' two-run 11th-inning double gave the Orioles an uphill victory and ace reliever Stu Miller his fourth win of the season. Miller, who now has been the close-out pitcher in the Orioles' last eight victories, stopped the Tigers on one run and four hits for the last four innings. Russ Snyder and Bob Johnson had three hits each to pace the Orioles' 15-hit attack.

Nationals Take on Americans Today

CANYON (Sp) — The Pampa Nationals and Pampa Americans clashed today at 1:30 p.m. in the game that would eliminate one of them from the regional Babe Ruth Tournament.

The previously-unbeaten Americans went down to a 7-5 defeat at the hands of Dumas yesterday, while the once-beaten Nats pulled out a 2-1 squeaker over Plainview. Today's loser in the double elimination tournament will be knocked out of the meet. The winner will meet unbeaten Dumas in the game that will decide the title.

David Frasier hurled a two-hitter for the National win, walking none and striking out six batters. Baxter McAllister gave up only four hits for Plainview, striking out nine, but gave up four walks, with one of them accounting for the winning run.

The Nats made the first threat of the game in the bottom of the first inning, as Gary Crossland poked a one-out double and Jack Thompson walked on a 3-1 pitch. Center fielder Norman S m o o t s made a nice catch on Troy Edwards' fly ball and McAllister blazed three strikes past Doc Cornutt.

Frasier retired the first eight men in order, but lost his no-hitter when Ronnie Roberts singled in the third. Roberts moved to second, stole third and scored as O. B. Merlett was safe on an error for the only Plainview run.

Jack Thompson opened the bottom of the third as he lashed out a solid single. Jack was out on Edwards' fielder's choice, and Troy walked to second as Cornutt moved. Paul Burnett singled down the first base line to score Edwards and move Cornutt to third. Lolan Ellis hit a soft grounder to first base, and the only play was on Ellis, allowing Cornutt to score the eventual winning run.

Plainview made one more threat, when Roland McCutcheon doubled to open the fourth inning, but Frasier set the side down in order, and never allowed a man past first base the rest of the way.

No information was available on the details of the American game.

Valeri, Igor Tabbed As Russian Threats

MOSCOW (UPI) — The individual stars of the Russian-American track meet this weekend will be veterans Valeri Brumel and Igor Terovanesyan for the U.S.S.R. and Bob Hayes, John Gilbert and John Pennel for the U.S.A.

At least that's the opinion of the two respective coaches, Russian Gabriel Korokov and Russian Jordan of Stanford.

Appearing on a Moscow television program Thursday, Korokov pointed to high jumper Brumel and broad jumper Terovanesyan as his outstanding prospects.

Both men hold the world record in their specialties.

Korokov also expressed optimism regarding two of his younger runners, Yuri Tyurin in the 5,000 meters and Alla Chernyshova in the 80 meter hurdles.

Jordan urged his Russian audience to pay special attention to sprinter Gilbert of Santa Barbara, Calif., and Hayes of Florida A & M. Hayes recently broke the world record for the 100-yard dash at the U.S. National AAU track and field championships with a clocking of 9.1 seconds.

"Also not to be overlooked is John Pennel," Jordan added in somewhat of an understatement. Pennel, who is "subbing" for the injured Brian Sternberg, set the world pole vault record in London with a jump of 16 feet, 8 3/4 inches just a few days ago.

Although the American male stars are favored to defeat their Soviet counterparts for the fifth consecutive time, and the Russian girls are expected to win easily over the U.S. women, both coaches refused to predict victory.

Colts Clash With Liberal For 2nd Place

The Pampa Colts will send ace hurler Jerry Glover to the mound tonight in their final Tri-State League game, in an effort to tie for second place in the league with invading Liberal, Kans.

The Liberal Bee Jays are currently 10-2 in league play, meeting Pampa at 8:30 p.m. at Optimist Park, and then visiting vored Graham Plow of Amarillo tomorrow night.

JERRY GLOVER

The Colts are 8-4 going into their final game, but also have a protested game with Spearman under consideration by the league. If the Colts win tonight, and also win their protest, they would finish the regular season with a 10-4 mark. If the Bee Jays lose tonight and tomorrow night, they would also be 10-4.

Glover, who pitched two innings of shutout ball Wednesday night to give Pampa an 18-15 win over Stinnett, goes into the game with a 3-2 record. Probable starter for Liberal is Terry Morton. OU ace Morton started the season with Borger, but later transferred to the Bee Jays. Morton came in in relief against Pampa in a game with Borger and shut the Colts out for four innings.

Golden Gals Stop Graham

AMARILLO (Sp) — The Golden Gals cleaned Graham's plow last night, as the Golden Spread All-Stars swamped Graham Plow 15-9 in the Amarillo Women's Softball Tournament.

The supposedly strong Plowgirls got only three hits off the combined offerings of Lucille Strickland, Mary Lou Addington and Jackie Sears, while the Golden Gals garnered eight hits off Doby Martin, who also gave up eight walks and was hampered by seven errors behind her.

Lucille Stinnett ace, hurled three innings, allowing two hits, one walk and striking out five. Mary Lou, of Pampa, hurled one inning, allowing one hit and striking out one. Jackie, of the Borger Bee, hurled the final frame of the five-inning contest, striking out one and setting down the side.

Elaine Lewis of Panhandle and Ruth Blumer of the Queens each had a triple and single. Lucille Strickland had a single and double.

In the opening game last night, C&S Pharmacy defeated Leflor's Pancake House of Amarillo (mistakenly reported earlier as a Leflor team), by 16-13.

The Golden Gals play at 9 tonight against Amarillo's league-leading team, San Jacinto, at Thompson Park No. 1.

Tascosa Track Boss New Coach of Year

DALLAS (UPI) — The Texas Sportswriters Association has named M. N. (Cotton) Robinson of Buna, Bill Carter of Amarillo Tascosa and Dick Gardemal of Lufkin as coaches of the year in their respective sports.

Robinson was named coach of the year in basketball; Carter in track and Gardemal in baseball.

The three, along with Weldon Forren of San Antonio Brackenridge, will be honored by the Sportswriters Association at the Balfour Luncheon during the annual High School Coaches Association Convention in Houston Aug. 6-8.

Named Coach Of Year
Forren was earlier named the association's football coach of the year. He coached underdog Brackenridge to the Texas schoolboy Class AAAA state championship last season.

Robinson was honored for leading Buna to an unprecedented seventh state schoolboy title in his final year of coaching. Robinson has resigned as a coach to accept

Softball League

The Pampa Stars upset league-leading Panhandle, 6-4, and the Miami Cowboys slammed the Cabot Clowns, 13-6, in Industrial Softball League play last night.

The league all-stars returned to their regular teams last night and the Cowboys returned from an unsuccessful trip to the Higgins Tournament, the Pokes taking it out on Cabot and the Stars knocking off the Packers.

The Stars regained first place in the league as Raymond McKinney was knocked out of the box for the first time this season, going out in the third inning, although ahead, 4-3, with Shaw taking the loss. P. D. James started for Pampa and Charlie Vaughan came in in the second inning, shutting the Packers out the rest of the way for the win. Howard Reid continued his blasting streak, belting out a home run in the sixth inning.

Miami, taking advantage of wildness by Cabot starting pitcher Gene James, batted around for 10 runs on only four hits in the third inning. Larry Rider took the win, pitching no-hit ball for four frames, although tiring in the late innings and needing help from Denny Bowerman in the fifth.

Sam Harris led the Pokes with three hits and Marie Bengner had two. James and Eddie Polnac had two hits each for the Clowns:

Pampa 1 0 1 2 1 1 0-6
Panhandle 2 2 0 0 0 0-4
James, Vaughan and Reid; McKinney, Shaw and Kaiser.
Miami 0 0 1 0 2 0 0-12 9 4
Cabot 0 0 0 2 1 3-6 7 5

Rider, Bowerman and Daughtery; James, Polnac and Burris, James.

Unknown Leads, Boros In Position

DALLAS (UPI) — Unknown Dick Hart held a three stroke lead but U.S. Open champion Julius Boros had what Arnold Palmer called "the position" today as they teed off in the second round of the PGA golf championship.

Hart, an assistant pro from Hinsdale, Ill., shot a five under par 66 to match the course record in the opening round and take a three shot lead over five of the big names — Boros, Masters champion Jack Nicklaus, British Open champion Bob Charles, husky Mason Rudolph and blond Shelley Mayfield.

But Palmer, who shot an opening 74 along with defending champion Gary Player, felt that the "rub of the green" favored Boros to gain the halfway lead when the field is cut to the low 75 and ties tonight for closing rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Started Off Early
"Hart, Nicklaus and Charles all got off early in the traffic," Palmer explained, alluding to the bulky field of 167 which tramped over the drying greens in 100-degree heat at the Dac course.

"When you go off late over these chopped up greens, like Boros did, you have to consider he played terrifically. Well, he goes off early today and Nicklaus and the others have to cope with those 'spike marks.'"

BRITAIN, SPAIN SPLIT
BRISTOL England (UPI) — Britain and Spain split opening singles matches Thursday in their European Zone Davis Cup tennis semifinal. Mike Sangster defeated Jose Luis Arilla, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4, to give Britain the first match, but Manuel Santana deadlocked the series for Spain as he beat Bobby Wilson, 6-4, 6-4, 6-8, 2-6, 7-5.

High Jumpers Lead Pampa Track Entry

The Pampa Track Club will feature two 6'3" high jumpers at the TAAF state tournament in Lubbock tomorrow.

Top bets in the college class for the local club will be Bill Martin, Pampa High graduate, and Jimmy Flowers, Miami High graduate. Martin, a 6-3 jumper in high school and headed for the University of Oklahoma, and Flowers, two-time state finalist in the high jump, aiming for Texas Tech on a basketball scholarship, will be among the favorites.

Ralph Palmer, 440-yard dash state finalist from Pampa and also an OU freshman, has been ill the past week and is a question mark.

Competing in the high school class for the combined Pampa Track Club-Youth and Community Center entry will be Miami High hurdler Mark Allen and Pampa High half-mile runner Mark Westbrook.

The junior high school class will be a question mark, due to almost all of Pampa's entries being currently engaged in the regional Babe Ruth playoffs. If the juniors are able to go, top competition is expected from Teddy Bird, Gary Crossland and Doc Cornutt.

Pampa will be strong in the girls' competition, with half-a-dozen youngsters in who won honors in the state Junior Champ meet. The roster is not complete as yet, but is headed by Debbie Bennett, who won overall honors in the state meet, Cheryl Porter and Regina Barnett.

Any boy or girl who has competed for their school or in a Junior Champ meet in the area is eligible to run in this meet. Any youngster from grade school to college age who is interested in competing is asked to call Norman Phillips at MO 5-2219, George Smith at MO 5-2012 or Jeff Cohane at MO 5-2525 or 5-5679.

Girls Softball

The Optones edged the Opteens, 11-8, in Opti-Mrs. Girls Softball yesterday. Alice Martin took the win and Gayle Blumer was the losing pitcher.

Lee Bowerman and Robbie Hendrix each had four hits for the winners, Gayle and Pat Parucci each had four for the losers.

Religious Writer Discusses Buddhism

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

By burning himself to death, a Buddhist monk in Viet Nam has drawn worldwide attention to a revival of fervor in one of the ancient religions of Asia.

Buddhism, which comes in almost as many varieties as Christianity, now has about 150 million followers in Japan, Korea, China, Mongolia, Tibet, Ceylon, Burma, Thailand, Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam.

One of its varieties, called Zen, has attracted a small but articulate following among western intellectuals.

Twenty years ago, students of world religions were calling Buddhism a moribund faith. But as a traditional religion of the East, it has received a powerful stimulus from the wave of nationalist feeling that has swept over Asian countries since World War II. Its comeback as a popular religion is dramatized by the current controversy in Viet Nam, where Buddhists are bitterly protesting against alleged persecution by the government of President Ngo Diem, a Roman Catholic. Buddhism is sometimes called "Hindu Protestantism." It originated in India 2,500 years ago as a protest or reform movement within Hinduism.

Founded By Prince

Its founder was an enormously wealthy Indian prince, Siddhartha Guatama, who was born about 560 B.C. in a northern province about 100 miles from Benares. Legend says that Guatama had three palaces and 40,000 dancing girls to keep him amused. But he learned early in life that luxury did not lead to happiness. When he was about 29 years old, he abandoned his sumptuous life as a prince and went into the forest, dressed in rags, to seek enlightenment in the solitary life of a Hindu ascetic.

No one ever practiced mortification of the flesh with greater dedication than Guatama. He fasted (eating one bean a day) until his spine could be seen through his shrunken stomach. But he found no answer to his questions about life, and concluded that extreme asceticism was no better than luxury as a pathway to happiness.

After six years of futile searching, Guatama seated himself one evening beneath the shade of a fig tree near the village of Gaya in northeast India. He vowed that he would sit right there until he saw the light.

According to Buddhist scriptures, he remained for 49 days. He emerged from this experience as the Buddha, or "the enlightened one." For the next 45 years, he walked from one Indian village to another, sharing his new insights with all who would listen, and founding an order of monks to practice his precepts and pass on his message.

Comprise A Philosophy

Buddha's original teachings constitute a philosophy of life rather than a religion. He taught that human life is characterized by suffering, and the basic cause of suffering is "tanha," a word which is often translated as "desire" but which actually connotes selfish craving, the tendency in every person to seek his own private happiness.

To break free from slavery to "tanha," Buddha said men must follow "the eightfold path" of right knowledge, right aspiration, right speech, right behavior, right occupation, right effort, right thinking and right absorption.

Under each of these eight headings, he laid down rules for rigorous self-discipline. Buddhists were forbidden to lie, steal or kill any living creature, including animals and insects. They were allowed to eat only what they could beg, and then just enough to keep the body alive and functioning. Alcoholic beverages and sex relations were strictly forbidden.

Buddha said this monastic way of life, if earnestly practiced, would eventually lead to "nirvana." Exactly what he meant by this much-abused term is hard to determine from his authenticated sayings. At times, he seems to think of nirvana as a state of nothingness, a final blotting out of human individuality (and hence of the selfish cravings which cause suffering). At other points, he speaks of nirvana in terms comparable to those which a Christian mystic might use to describe ecstatic union with God.

Preserved By Monks

Today the austere philosophy of Buddha is preserved primarily by the so-called "Theravada" monks of Burma, Ceylon, Thailand and Cambodia. The popular Buddhism of other countries worships Guatama as a divine savior, and admits a whole pantheon of other gods.

Like Christianity, popular or "Mahayana" Buddhism places great emphasis on compassion and human brotherhood. Room has been made for prayer and ritual, and salvation is something man receives by divine grace, had reached Japan, where it took rather than something he must earn by rigorous self-denial. Laymen as well as monks can hope to reach nirvana, which in Mahayana Buddhism is a Christian version of heaven.

Zen is a special case. It developed in China in the 6th Century A.D., and by the 12th Century root and still flowers. The heart of Zen is the conviction that truth can never be expressed or understood in verbal formulae, but can only be directly experienced through a flash of intuition or enlightenment called "satori." To drive home the futility of reason as a road to truth, Zen masters require their disciples to spend endless hours working on "koans" or nonsense problems to which there is no rational solution.

The distasteful sinfulness of the use of filibuster and other technical means to block passage at a time like this.

This statement by Sims is to become a part of item seven in the eight-point call to action enunciated in the resolution.

The eighth point calls for an "intensive voter registration" as a part of the group's 1963-1964 church program and asks that every Negro congregation "register every member" and "organize block workers or work with local organizations to register everyone in the Negro community who is eligible to vote."

In other resolutions the Negro delegates will be asked to approve statements commending steps on civil rights action taken by President Kennedy and three national church bodies — The United Christian Missionary Society, International Convention of Christian Churches, both Disciples of Christ bodies, and the National Council of Churches.

Another resolution will commend Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson for his leadership in fair employment practices and Texas Governor John Connally for appointment of the Rev. C. A. Holliday to membership on the Texas Board of Corrections last May following Senate nomination. Holliday is pastor of the Greater St. James Baptist Church in Fort Worth, a Negro congregation.

Final two resolutions will relate to the assembly's merger with the Texas Association of Christian Churches. One of these calls for dissolution of the Negro Assembly as an official body of the Disciples and designates continuation of the annual assembly as the Texas Christian Missionary Fellowship.

Negro Disciples of Christ Hold Sessions at Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. — A resolution calling for encouragement of "demonstrations and direct action where needed" in the present racial crisis will be one of six resolutions to be considered at business sessions of the 82nd annual Texas Christian Missionary Convention of Christian Churches (Negro Disciples of Christ) meeting here, July 16-21.

Action on the resolution will likely take place Wednesday in Garden Grove Christian Church (Negro), 4802 Pardee at Whippert, where the assembly's general sessions will convene.

If approved, the resolution will be circulated among 7,000 members of 57 Negro Christian Churches in Texas, according to the Rev. Paul A. Sims, convention executive secretary. Sims, who drafted the resolution, is also director of Negro work for the Texas Association of Christian Churches in Fort Worth.

Citing a "seeming apathy of the church toward flagrant sins of oppression," the resolution asks "formation of a responsible bi-racial (or tri-racial) group" in every town or city "to negotiate relief from both obvious and subtle oppression of people."

Church leaders are asked to volunteer themselves to initiate such groups if none exists. Use of the term "tri-racial" would include Latin Americans, according to Sims, who will present the resolution to delegates.

The resolution asks Negro church leaders to "exert a moral force" in society by using all its resources "including economic sanctions."

It calls upon Negro churchmen to "assist oppressed peoples" and to contact congressmen "by letters, telegrams and telephone calls that the church needs a civil climate in which to do its work."

Asked for comment on the resolution, Sims said: "The intent is to encourage our people to contact legislators and to encourage passage of civil rights legislation, and conversely, express displeasure in the distasteful sinfulness of the use of filibuster and other technical means to block passage at a time like this.

This statement by Sims is to become a part of item seven in the eight-point call to action enunciated in the resolution.

The eighth point calls for an "intensive voter registration" as a part of the group's 1963-1964 church program and asks that every Negro congregation "register every member" and "organize block workers or work with local organizations to register everyone in the Negro community who is eligible to vote."

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

REV. WAYLAND A. MURRAY,
BIBLE BAPTIST CHURCH

"Tribulation or Coming Judgement"

Meaning — Distress, pain, agony, trial, special and terrible judgement.

1. Egyptian bondage — Great Tribulation
2. Jews Babylonian Captivity of 70 years — Great Tribulation
3. Jerusalem encompassed by Roman armies — Captured, destroyed, and the temple razed.
4. In our time — The world has seen every nation engrossed in conflict.

Despite all this there is a judgement coming that is far greater than these.

1. NOAH'S DAY OF TRIBULATION (GEN. 6)
 - a. Notice the separation that took place when the flood came —
 - b. They did not believe Noah's preaching, just like many today.
 - c. Noah and family saved — "The Lord Shut The Door."
 - d. Floods came, every living creature destroyed.
2. LOT'S DAY OF TRIBULATION (GEN. 18:19)
 - a. Sodom, most wicked city of all times
 - b. God said "I am going to destroy that city."
 - c. God looks the city over to find the religious, only 10 would have saved city.
 - d. Lot carried by Angels to safety.
3. CHILDREN OF ISRAEL IN BONDAGE — PASSOVER NIGHT
 - a. Nine judgements upon Pharaoh
 - b. The more, death angel to take first born, except those that were under the blood.
 - c. Have you been covered by the blood of Christ by faith?
4. TRIBULATION TO COME (MATT. 24:19-28)
 - a. Jesus gives us a clear description of God's judgement upon the world during this great tribulation which is to come. Rev. 16 explains it in Detail.
 - b. As sin was running rampant in the days of Noah and likewise in the days of Lot, Jesus said in Luke 17:26 . . . "As it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the coming of the son of man." Verses 28-30 . . . "Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot . . ."
 - c. The truth in this thought is that God's children, those that have been born-again, will be delivered before this time of tribulation.

MAY I CHALLENGE YOUR HEART TO TURN FROM YOUR WICKED WAYS AND BE SAVED, ACTS 16:31.

Japan On The Rise

When economists began to scan the horizons in search of an economic miracle, for a long time they kept their sights on West Germany. Since World War II when the free market policies of Ludwig Erhard were adopted, this nation provided the first of the great economic miracles in a major restoration and growth of production from a position of utter poverty and defeat.

Today, the rise of Japan as a productive nation can only be hailed as a second miracle of world history. It is not only the same character, but two powerful nations, laid low by Western bombs, could emerge from the wester and ruin into magnificent producing areas is almost staggering. And yet it has happened and is happening as American production reels from blow after blow delivered against it, not so much by foreign competition but by its own interventionist and protectionist governmental policies.

What has happened both in Western Germany and Japan is that American economic know-how has been imported. And it has been imported with a polite ban against American political ineptitude.

Japan has made a massive break-thru in five major areas.

First of all, Japan got the message that the way to have a flourishing economy was to have plenty of investment capital. Each year, since the American occupation of that country terminated, Japan has managed to encourage nearly 25 per cent of its total gross product into channels of savings and investment.

They have created a stock market which permits private buying on a mass basis. Today one out of every seven Japanese families owns some common stock in one or more of Japan's growing enterprises.

Next, the Japanese have created a genuine market place for mass promotion and sale of consumer goods. It is the largest such market outside the western world.

In a third area, Japan has really prospered. Prior to the modern era, about half of all Japanese workers employed labored in fields to produce the marginal and scanty subsistence crops necessary to stay live. Today in Japan, only one third of all workers labor on the farms; and yet with improved technology, Japan is now groaning under that sophisticated problem of a surplus in farm goods. The Japanese population meanwhile has grown larger than ever and is today eating better than ever.

Fourthly, Japan has begun to educate with a remarkable enthusiasm. Only America and Israel have a higher percentage of young people engaged in acquiring a higher education. Every fifth Japanese of 20 is now in college.

Life expectancy has climbed tremendously in Japan, to find the fifth index of progress. Fifty years of life expectancy was normal in Japan prior to World War II. It has climbed now to 70 years to match the situation in the most advanced countries.

The real beauty and one of the real reasons for the sudden and unprecedented economic growth of Nippon has related to the fact that in spite of all these tangible gains it has been accomplished without a tax increase. The Japanese have apparently managed to anticipate yearly earnings with some degree of accuracy and have reduced taxes so that national totals in tax take have remained relatively constant, rather than climbing.

Of course, Japan has not been engaged in trying to underwrite American efforts and has thus been free to exploit its own advantages without trying to carry impoverished or war-torn neighbors.

Japan has another great advantage. It has an extremely low defense budget, comparable to Western Germany. Less than 9 per cent of that nation's budget goes to the military in contrast to some 56 per cent of our own national budget.

Thus the two nations, West Germany and Japan, which know best the ravages of total war, are doing less about military spending than the other great powers. The evidence is that they are becoming prosperous and are managing to prosper without enormous military spending. There may be a lesson here we could afford to learn.

Self-Control

How much do you enjoy having the government meddle in your affairs? Then, have a care. If you do not wish government control of your actions, refrain from invoking it over the actions of others.

War-Mongering Imperialists

Are you aware that the Boy Scout organization is turning American youngsters into hostile, war-mongering imperialists? And that every boy who is "forced" into the Scouts is trained to be a master of all forms of espionage, violence and germ warfare?

If you aren't aware of this, you haven't been keeping up on your reading. For that is what the principal Soviet newspaper, Pravda, has told the Russian people. And Pravda—which means, of all things, Truth—is practically required reading in Russia.

That isn't all. It seems, Pravda continues, that younger boys are forced into the Cub Scouts where their preparation begins for future foul deeds. Even this doesn't end the tale. For there is a sister group known as the Girl Scouts. These girls, reports Pravda, are unpaid door-to-door cookie vendors and the revenues they obtain "go directly to the Wall Street master minds of the entire plot."

It is difficult for an American to believe that anybody in the Soviet Union would believe such stories, but the Russian people are lied of this character year after year. It is a process of brainwashing. There is no access to a free press.

Here is the reason why such strenuous effort is given to possible ways to reach the Soviet people with western beamed radio broadcasts and by such other means as may come to hand. This is a slow process. But, in time, drops of water wear away stone.

Now Start Drilling

So you have an idea you can get rich quick drilling a wildcat oil well. You are right, if you drill in the right spot. But take a look at the following figures before you mortgage your house to raise drilling money. Then you can get an idea of why a crude oil producer is granted a depletion allowance as a credit on his federal income tax. If he didn't get it you would be paying a substantially higher price for gasoline.

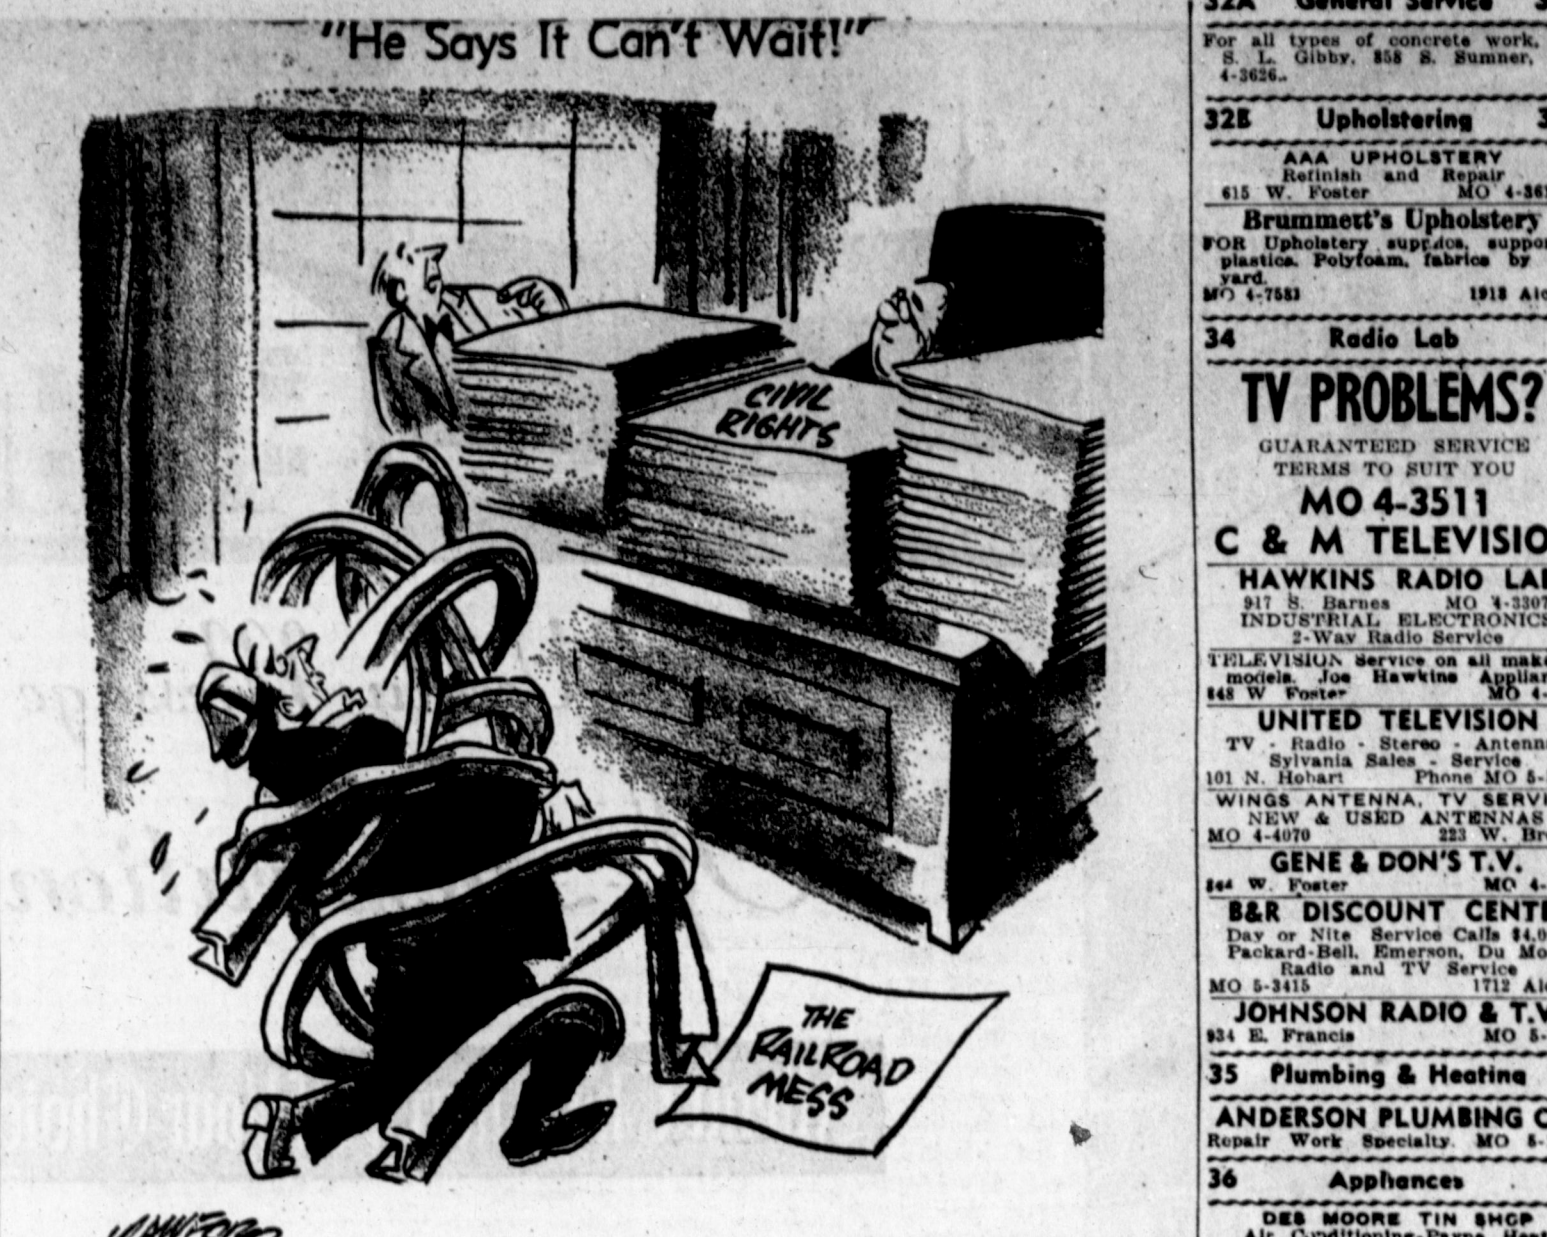

A new study conducting a six-year analysis of the more than 8,000 new-field wildcat wells drilled in 1936 shows that less than 2 per cent uncovered commercial quantities of oil or natural gas. A new-field wildcat—also known as a wet wildcat—is a well drilled in an area where oil or gas has never before been found.

The American Association of Petroleum Geologists, which maintains six-year records of such wells in order to determine how many eventually become profitable, recently released its report on wildcat wells drilled in 1936.

A well is considered profitable if it discovers reserves of at least 1 million barrels of oil or 6 billion cubic feet of natural gas. The geologists' study found that of the 8,436 new-field wildcats drilled in 1936, 139—or 1.66 per cent—later proved to be profitable discoveries, a ratio of about 1 in 53.

Now start hunting your drilling spot to make your million.

Allen-Scott Report

S. Military Aid Pact With India to Give Nehru's Scientists Access to Key Defense Secrets

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—That expanded military aid agreement the U.S. is signing with India contains an unprecedented provision for a neutral country—giving her scientists access to vital U.S. defense installations and military secrets. Arrangements already are underway by White House assistants to bring 50 Indian scientists here this fall to familiarize them with the development and operation of top-secret rocket launching and radar systems.

Under terms of this still-classified agreement, the Defense Department will roll out the red carpet for the Indian scientists and make available to them the most sensitive details of the Army's Nike-Hercules anti-aircraft missile system, the Air Forces, ground-air communication systems, and other vital details of U.S. radar developments.

The security clearance of these visiting scientists—the vanguard of several hundred others to follow—is being left up to the government of Prime Minister Nehru—despite strenuous objections by Pentagon security officials.

They warn that tremendous security risks are involved because the Indian government permits known Communists to hold key scientific posts and to work in crucial defense installations.

Also citing the extremely close ties between scientific groups in India and Russia, the Defense Security officials noted that under the U.S.-India pact there are no effective bars against the Indian scientists passing on knowledge they gain in this country to Soviet friends.

Squarely in line with this backstage Pentagon fear is the fact that a high-level Indian military mission is enroute to Moscow to discuss a similar military agreement with the Soviet. Also, a large group of Indian scientists, among them some slated to come here, recently returned from an extended tour of Russia.

Senate Armed Services Committee members, headed by Senator Richard Russell, D-Ga., are planning to summon Deputy Assistant Defense Secretary William P. Bundy, who drafted the Indian agreement, to question him about these disquieting backstage details.

Bundy, a former CIA official who handled the controversial jet fighter sale to Yugoslavia in 1946-47, will be grilled particularly on why he failed to transmit this information to the congressional committees he briefed on the India aid program.

SECRET DEAL?—The senators also contemplate interrogating Bundy and other administration officials about a suppressed Intelligence report that the Nehru government is considering permanently surrendering the original target of Red Chinese border aggression.

According to this Intelligence document, top members of Nehru's regime favor formally acknowledging Chinese sovereignty over some 15,000 square miles of the Aksai Chin area in north-eastern Ladakh. This is the region where Peiping has built a strategic road linking its Sinkiang province, with conquered Tibet.

In return for this reputed back-down—which is directly counter to the announced policy of India—Nehru would seek concessions elsewhere as part of a broad settlement of the long-pending frontier dispute with the Communists.

In recent weeks Premier Chou En-lai is known to have made to Delhi overtures for a border deal. Senate Armed Services Committee men want to know how this development may affect this country's huge military aid program to India.

They are especially bent on ascertaining whether disclosing vital U.S. military secrets to an India really is essential to stem Red Chinese aggression, or if the Indian scientists are being brought here as part of an elaborate plan of a small group of administration policy-makers to build India into a so-called "third force" military power in Southeast Asia.

BEHIND THE NEWS—The State Department is picking up the tab for those Indian political leaders touring the U.S. in support of more aid for India. One of the officials is S. N. Dwivedy, deputy chairman of the Praja Socialist Party. He is saying that a realignment of political forces is certain after Prime Minister Nehru steps out. According to Dwivedy, if the conservative wing of the dominant Congress Party gains control, the Praja Socialists will soon become the major opposition party. If this happens it will pave the way for the return of former Defense Minister Krishna Menon, the ousted leftist U.S.-hating infamite of Nehru. Menon still is a key adviser of Nehru, according to Intelligence.

A common Central American currency is a virtual certainty within two years. The House Foreign Affairs Committee has been advised by the State Department that preliminary groundwork for this was laid in discussions at the recent meeting of presidents of Central and Reserve Banks of the Isthmus in San Jose, Costa Rica, and at a conference of ministers of state in Managua, Nicaragua. The new currency unit will probably be the peso pegged to the dollar. For some time at least, it will be used apart from the national currency now in circulation in each country. Guatemala, Honduras, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama are active in this far-reaching fiscal plan.

Bible Digest

By H. B. DEAN

"But God commendeth His love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." Romans 5:8

It is not until we see ourselves as sinners that we can get a glimpse of the love of God who sent Christ to die for the best and the worst of us. "Herein is love that we loved God, but that he loved us and sent His Son."

VISIT YUGOSLAVIA

BELGRADE (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar will visit Yugoslavia separately next month but their paths may cross, informed sources here said Thursday.

The sources said Khrushchev is expected to begin a two-week visit Aug. 20. Kadar is expected to arrive in Belgrade earlier.

There has been no official confirmation of either visit.

Damp Desert?

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI) — A Texas man who apparently isn't too familiar with climatic conditions in New Mexico wants to buy a cliff dwelling.

The man, from Austin, said in a letter to the State Development Department, that he "would like a place where it rains once in a while... it's getting too dry here."

He said he wanted a cliff dwelling which could be modernized. Department officials answered, "No cliff dwellings that we know of are for sale at this time."

They didn't tell him about New Mexico's annual rainfall, which is far below that around Austin, Tex.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — One of the drawbacks of reviewing television is that we no longer get a chance to interview celebrities and hear them discourse with scintillation about the world, life and themselves, not necessarily in that order.

Thus, before leaving Saturday for three weeks of vacation, we would like to unburden ourself of the sort of conversation that we miss most, from the lips of the famous, so you will understand our feeling of loss and the qualities of endearment. Naturally, none of the following characters could possibly be more fictitious, and any resemblance to living persons is totally improbable. There, presenting—

The Beloved Studio Boss: "You know, we're going to make a series about Scotland Yard, but I refuse to go to London. Right here in Hollywood, we have the best actors, the best equipment, the best everything in the film business. Sure, maybe we could get a little more reality shooting on location, but I love this town. It made me what I am today. I won't take a nickel out of it. We'll build Scotland Yard here."

The Beloved Producer: "The only word I can use to tell you how I feel about this business is love. You know, I still get goose pimples when I realize that one flick of a television knob can send pictures around the world. I'm tired of hearing complaints about television. The public is spoiled. My kids have learned all about the world without ever leaving home. They know a lot more than I did at their age."

The Beloved Character Actor, D. K. Ford: "What rights have the critics to criticize? What qualifications? What do they know about our business? Look at my qualifications in my studio biography: I was a bricklayer, a soda jerk, a truck driver, a short-order cook — I've learned my business! Sure, I'm in a western series, and I was skeptical at first, but now I can see the serious artistic concern."

The Beloved Comedian, Jerry Martin: "What right have the critics got to criticize my work? I have more money than all of them. What right has anybody to criticize me? I have more money than anybody. Why should I listen to a director? No director has as much money as I have."

The Beloved Romantic Series Hero, Mack Gardner: "I'm working too hard. I didn't really want to be an actor. Ten hours a day is too hard. My parts are not deeply emotional enough. I am going to take my residuals and start looking for my inner self."

The Channel Swim: The Rev. Adao Clayton Powell Jr., controversial Negro congressman from Harlem, will be the subject of a one-hour NBC-TV documentary in the coming season... Britain and the Soviet Union have agreed to exchange television shows, personnel and facilities.

ABC-TV would like Dwight Eisenhower and Harry Truman to be commentators at the 1964 Republican and Democratic presidential conventions... Neville Brand, a frequent and fine television actor, was America's fourth most-decorated GI in World War II.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — "There are fair signs that the six week decline has run its course," says Investors Research coo.

The West Coast advisory service also believes that there is the possibility that additional testing of 695-705 in the Dow-Jones industrials may be in store before a strong base is laid for a general advance this summer. "Nevertheless," it continues, "we believe that fully invested positions definitely should be held."

Investment adviser James Dines says that investors not prepared to ride out potential 1964 trouble "should slow down on new commitments unless the stock is exceptionally attractive." He says that traders should cover shorts on weakness below 700 in the average and move back to the long side so long as odd-lotters sell on balance.

United Business Service continues to expect no more than a limited and temporary setback which "is normal following a sharp rise. Longer term prospects still point up."

Argentina was discovered in 1516 by Juan Diaz de Solis.

Quirks In The News

A TOUGH JOB
BOULDER, Colo. (UPI) — University of Colorado English professor J.D.A. Ogilvy, in an article dealing with "The Problems of a President," concludes: "The job of a president of a modern university 'combines the attractions of a bath in a cement mixer with those of a trip through hell in a paper shirt.'"

CAN'T FLY KITES
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., wants to make kite flying and balloon launching legal in the District of Columbia.

day, Thompson noted that President Kennedy was forced to fly kites in Massachusetts because the sport has been illegal in the nation's capital since 1897.

LIKED TO WATCH FIRES
OGOSE, Japan (UPI) — Police here blame a five-month-long series of forest fires on a 43-year-old Buddhist priest who threw flaming paper balls into the woods from his motorcycle while on his parish rounds because he liked to watch the three burning.
