Board Orders High School Integration Mau Resigns In Protest of Action

Carver High Classes To Close Down

Pampa High School will be integrated with the beginning of school next Wednesday and the high school section of Carver School, the city's only Negro school, will be closed.

The announcement was made this forenoon by Jack Edmondson, school superintendent, and R. D. Wilkinson, president of the Pampa Independent School District board of trustees.

The action was taken at an executive session of the school board following last night's public hearing on the 1963-64 school budget in Pampa Junior High School.

The junior high and elementary classes at Carver School are not affected by the high school integration order.

R. R. Commission Takes City's Bid

The Pampa district office of the Texas Railroad Commission has accepted the city's bid to continue its offices in City Hall for another two years.

The State Board of Control at Austin, upon recommendation of the State Railroad Commission, accepted the city's bid of office space at $30 a month and 1,681 sq. ft. of space on the third floor of City Hall.

The city's proposed 1963-64 budget calls for an expenditure of $7,500 to remodel and modernize the offices.

Jack Miller, supervisor of the Pampa Railroad Commission office, said today 11 Pampa families are currently involved in the Pampa office.

"This employment figure will be increased within the next few months because of a reorientation plan for office clerical personnel to change over to new duties which involves more field work," Miller said.

Miller stated that he was "happy that the city's bid had been accepted and that the offices will remain in Pampa."

Miller is a lieutenant-commander in the Naval Reserves and currently is commanding officer of the Pampa Naval Reserve unit.

AWAITS WORD — Mrs. Louise Bova holds her eight-month-old son, John, as she awaits word of her husband who has been trapped in a mine near Shepton, Pa., for more than a week. Rescue workers, drilling to reach the men trapped 331 feet underground, missed the chamber when the drill bit drifted off course and hit rock near where the men are entombed.

1963-64 School Budget Gets Board Approval

The Pampa Independent School District's 1963-64 budget of $2,720,486 was approved by the school board last night following a public hearing in Pampa Junior High School.

Board Member Floyd Watson was not in attendance because of illness. The budget approval was given after Board Member John Gikas had asked for a few days delay in order to give him more time to study the figures. Gikas said he had not obtained a final draft of the 2-page condensed budget until the day before the budget hearing.

Board President R. D. Wilkerson obtained the motion for adoption of the budget. Dr. R. H. Hampton made the motion and it was seconded by H. Creel Grady Jr. Gikas joined in voting for it.

Gikas told the board members, however, that he thought the school budget was not presented in enough detail for the average taxpayer to understand what it contained.

"I think the taxpayers are entitled to a more detailed look at what is in the budget," Gikas said. "The budget in the form we have here tonight is not detailed enough to give the taxpayer a chance to look at it intelligently. We would better serve the taxpayer by presenting the budget in detail so that it could be understood."

About 20 persons attended the budget hearing. This apparently established some kind of a record for citizens attending a school board budget meeting.

"I am happy to see so many interested people here," President Wilkerson said. "This indicates a healthy sign of interest in government." Only two persons attended last year's public hearing.

A former school board member, E. C. Sidwell, and a former school board president, E. L. Green Jr., crossed rubber swords in a bit of word banter when Green objected to Sidwell's questioning of School Superintendent Jack Edmondson and board members about some of the items in the budget.

"We have a good school board," Green said, "and they're trying to do their job. I don't think it is fair to criticize them. I don't think there is a member on this board who doesn't have the same aim you (Sidwell) have."

Sidwell said he had already explained that he was not criticizing anyone, but wanted to commend the board members for being interested in schools.

"I came here tonight simply to seek information about some things that are not explained in the budget as presented."

At one point Sidwell and Green differed again when Sidwell said he thought it was "deficit spending" to set up a budget of $2,720,000 when estimated receipts for the same period totaled only $2,582,900.

Green objected to use of the term "deficit spending."

School officials explained that it was a situation which had grown out of the necessity of paying one month's teachers' salaries in advance. This necessitated borrowing (See BUDGET, Page 3)

Robert Drennen Holds His Own, Wife Still Fair

Robert Andrew Drennen, of Pampa, remains in critical condition today after he doused himself with gasoline Wednesday and set himself ablaze in a restroom in the Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

His 16 year old wife, hospitalized with internal injuries received when she jumped from Drennen's moving car Monday, is still in fair condition, according to Northwest hospital authorities.

According to police, Drennen was apparently disturbed over a fight with his wife, Brenda Sue, and the injury she received when she jumped from his car. While his wife was being treated in the emergency room, he went into the restroom, poured gasoline over himself and set himself on fire.

When visitors and hospital attendants heard an explosion in the restroom and saw flames shoot out from under the door, a hospital employe jerked the door open. Drennen, his clothes burning, was pulled from the room by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Drennen of Pampa and two attendants. With the help of nurses (See DRENNEN, Page 3)

Rescue Workers In Hearing Range

HAZLETON, Pa. (UPI) — Rescue workers, undaunted by two failures and mechanical breakdowns, drilled an escape shaft within hearing distance of two buried miners today.

"That drill isn't far from us—I can hear it real good," reported David Fellin, 58, by telephone through a six-inch food-and-water shaft drilled earlier.

Louis Marino, 32, Pittston, the drilling foreman, said rescuers expected to complete the shaft by mid-afternoon.

Gordon Smith, deputy secretary of mines, said Fellin's report was extremely encouraging.

Fair Weather Over Nation

By United Press International

Fair weather blanketed most of the nation today with scattered showers restricted to the Atlantic Seaboard and Pacific Northwest.

Rainfall was light and temperatures dipped only into the 70s across the north.

The high in Pampa yesterday was 97 and the low this morning reached 70.

Capacity Crowd Attends Second Night of Top O' Texas Rodeo

Freckles Brown and little Larry Kane added spice to the second night of action of the Top O' Texas Rodeo last night at Recreation Park. Brown, the 1962 All-Around winner of the TOT, was riding before a capacity crowd at Recreation Park in his first performance since a severe neck injury sustained in Portland last year. He drew bull 200 and took him all the way for a 167 score mark-up.

Kane, all 115 pounds of him, a wiry package that is hard to throw, stayed with Beutler Brothers' bucking horse, G. P. to the 10 second mark and scored 172 points.

Barry Burk, Wagner, Okla., added to the excitement in the steer wrestling event as he was the last man to compete in the first "go-round" and took over first place in that event with a time of 8.4 seconds. There is no National Record in this event as well as in calf roping, recognized by the RCA. Stock and conditions change from rodeo to rodeo as does the length of start that the calf, or steer, is given over the roping or wrestler. Phil Hatcher won second in the steer wrestling with a 7 flat; Tater Decker, third with a 9 flat and Don Huddleston fourth with a 9.4.

Boots Tucker, Elkhart, Kan., riding her first show in the Top O' Texas came in with the winning time in last night's performance with a 17.6 seconds. Second best time was made by Wanda Bush, Mason, Tex., winner of the last three rodeos she has entered prior to the Pampa show, with 17.7 seconds. Mary Ann Stockstill rode the pattern in 17.9 for a close third high time.

Larry Kane of Big Sandy, Mont. rode G. P. all the way for a high score in the saddle bronc event with 172 points scored. Freckles Brown, Duane Rodewald and Billy Weeks tied for a 2nd, 3rd, and 4th split with 170 points each scored.

The steer wrestling event saw Don Huddleston, Talahani, Okla. take the winning time of 9.4 seconds. Second with 9.5 seconds was Nathan Haley, Hanna, Okla. with 9.5 seconds. A close behind third place time of 9.7 seconds was made by Everett Whitney of Waynoka, Okla.

The 1962 National Finals champ in bull riding, Freckles Brown, chalked up 167 points to win the high score in bull riding last night. The Lawton, Okla. cowboy is 42 years of age and consistently takes top money in the RCA circuit. In the wild fight put up by the Beutler Brothers' Brahma bull string, only four rides were qualified last night. Taking second high was Don Wathers with a 166 score, and third was made by Bob Wegner with a 165 score.

First go-round winners with high average scores in the bareback riding are Jim Bausch, 1st, 177; Buddy Peak, 2nd, 170; Freckles Brown, 3rd, 169; John Maxwell and Billy Weeks tie-4th, 168 each.

Vinyl plastics are coming into their own as more and more homemakers use this versatile material for striking new decorating touches. Here, a "headboard" for the bed is a floor-to-ceiling plastic panel in rosebud design. The curtains and valance give the illusion of a canopy. Wood dresser is painted; drawing fronts are covered with pink and white plastic. Truly a setting for a "fairy princess."

'Fairy Princess' Setting In Vinyl

By KAY SHERWOOD

The fairy princess-like setting of a curtained, canopied bed in a pink and white bedroom enraptures many little girls old enough to leaf through story books.

If a small friend reaches this state of glory first, mom can expect a stepped-up campaign to transform her darling's untidy nest into a royal suite.

With the thought that other mothers may be having a similar problem, I asked the help of a woman who has a genius for achieving great effects on shoe-string budgets.

Walls of her tiny model room were painted white with a good latex paint. The self-adhesive vinyl plastic you've used before is used again. A "headboard" for the bed is a floor to ceiling panel of the plastic in a DuBarry pink and green rosebud pattern on white.

At the ceiling line she hung a white valance, concealing curtain rods. The valance is decorated with rosebuds cut from the plastic and grouped in a garland. The illusion of a canopy is heightened by sheer white curtains trimmed in rose ball fringe which veil the head of the bed.

Matching fringe trims the white lampshade and dresses up a small framed mirror.

A plain wood dresser is dolled up with paint and the self-adhesive plastic.

Wood knobs, painted white and decorated with rosebud cut-outs look like ceramic knobs.

The bed is decked out with a deep rose pink dust ruffle and a rose-strewn blanket of acrylic fiber. Fluffy pink acrylic bedside rug ought to be soft enough for any little princess' toes.

Dear Abby.... They Are What They Are Because Of You!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the letter from "MOTHER OF FIVE" who took you to task for calling a woman with a prefabricated family a "mother in the highest form": She asks, "What does a woman who has adopted four children know about the joy of first learning that she is to bear a child? What does she know about the beauty of carrying a child under her heart? What does she know about the thrill of hearing a child's first cry?" I would like to answer her, Abby:

I have known the joy of first learning that I was to bear child five times, only to lose them all near the end of my time. I even had the thrill once of hearing my child's first cry, only to be told three hours later that I had lost her, too. But I did experience the fulfillment of motherhood because, thanks to an adoption agency, we were "blessed" with three healthy, beautiful, well-mannered, well-adjusted and loving children. We could not love them more if they had been born to us.

PLEASE CALL ME "MOTHER" DEAR "MOTHER": To the adoption agency goes the credit for "blessing" you with healthy, beautiful children. But they became well-adjusted, well-mannered and loving because of you.

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy who is going to be 15 soon. I have a boy friend my age. One day I went over to his house when he was home alone. He told me to walk in, so of course I did. He shocked me. He was all dressed up in his MOTHER'S clothes! He said, "Take a look at me." Then he said it was "fun", and I should get dressed up in ladies' clothes, too, I said, "Drop dead if that's all you have to do in your spare time. I will see you later." I walked out of the house. I am wondering now—is he sick? What should I do about it? I'm sure his parents don't know. I am all shook up over it.

DEAR ABBY: That "Dr. K." who said that there were only two cases on record where women over 46 have given birth to babies has a lot to learn. I was the last of nine children, and my mother was 50 when she gave birth to me. And I'm sure I didn't make medical history. Enclosed is a recent clipping reporting that a 70-year-old woman has given birth to a baby in Eastern Nigeria. Sincerely yours,

M. S. in CHICAGO

A screen for a teen's room is decorated with "friendship flowers" combining painted poses with photographic centers. School pennants fly above.

Friendship Flowers Blooming On Screens Help Keep Pals Together

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
At school's beginning and end the frantic exchange of school pictures among the teens has puzzled more than one parent.

Why is it "absolutely essentially vital" to a 14-year-old to have pictures of all her dear chums she sees every day? This is the sort of fuddyyuddy question that causes our teen to roll her eyes heavenward.

Many of the small school pictures wind up in overstuffed wallets. As a change of pace—and adaptable to photographs of other favorites besides classmates—a teen-screen which is a room decoration and a functional screen is worth considering.

The one designed and made to illustrate this article was of particular interest to a young friend who will live at home while attending junior college. She wanted to shift her room out of its high school atmosphere to a more collegiate one.

The screen is patterned with "friendship flowers" made by combining painted daisies with portrait centers. Small flowers, small pictures, big flowers take an 8x10 photograph.

Base is a three-panel flat surfaced screen (about $15 or less) painted a flat white. Using colored pencils, lightly sketch a bamboo molding, some greenery and Texas-sized sunflowers or daisies with 8-inch round faces on each panel. To finish, paint the designs with wall enamel the same colors as the pencils.

Collect the photographs. Cut an 8-inch round window in a piece of cardboard. Put the cardboard over photos until you get the face looking through the window in the right position. Outline with pencil where to cut and cut out with sharp scissors or a razor blade. Glue to flower face with rubber cement.

Railroad Commission Changing to New Face

A new system of filing monthly oil and gas reports was announced today by Jack Miller, supervisor of the Pampa district office of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Miller stated that starting with the August reports, regular monthly oil production reports will be filed direct with the Austin office of the Railroad Commission instead of being filed with the district office and then being forwarded to Austin.

Miller also stated that the Railroad Commission is "taking on a new face" with a memorandum that is being mailed out to the effect that new accounting machinery is being set up in the state commission office at Austin whereby more and more reports gradually will be filed in Austin rather than duplicating clerical and filing work in district offices.

"The monthly oil production report filing with Austin starts with the August reports," Miller said, "but the gradual changeover on all reports proceeds to establish greater utilization of the machine accounting department in Austin and the reduction of clerical duties in the district offices."

Miller said this will not mean a reduction in employes but will result in a change of duties and more field work as the changeover takes place.

"It is a reorientation program that is being placed in operation by the state Railroad Commission," Miller added.

dent's version of the crisis. Lodge is replacing Frederick Nolting as ambassador.

The repressive actions taken by the government put the United States in an embarrassing position because it has given the Diem regime moral and financial support in its struggle against Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

Observers believed the United States would have to take a tougher stand on internal reforms by the Diem regime to prevent further deterioration that could play into the Communists' hands.

Pours In Aid
On the theory that Communist control of South Viet Nam would greatly facilitate Communist penetration of other parts of Southeast Asia, the United States has 12,000 troops stationed in the country to help fight the Viet Cong and is giving about $1 million a day to the Diem government.

The Diem administration has claimed that the raids and subsequent imposition of martial law were necessary to block a coup d'etat. An official statement Thursday charged that the raided pagodas had been used for subversion and anti-government propaganda.

The Buddhists accuse the Diem regime of religious discrimination. They have held widespread demonstrations to support their stand, and five Buddhists have committed suicide by fire to protest the government's policies.

Miners

and Throne are at 330 feet. Rig Cable Slips
A cable on the 60-ton rig slipped off the hoist early this morning and interrupted drilling for an hour. Another breakdown halted drilling for three hours to Louis Bova, 42, entombed in another chamber near by. But work on that shaft resumed at 6 a.m. and the drilling had progressed 40 feet.

Despite their long entombment, Fellin and Throne appeared to be in good spirits. "Boy, when this is over, I'm going to take a month off," Fellin said.

"The first thing I'm going to do is smoke a stogie," Throne said. From a dark and cold cubicle 330 feet underground, David Fellin and Henry Throne took geiger counter readings late Thursday on a container of radioactive cobalt dropped down a drill shaft which had missed their prison.

First findings were reported inconclusive by Atomic Energy Commission experts, who continued examining the readings. H. Beecher Charnbury, state secretary of mines, promised to decide early today whether to try another such experiment with a new shipment of more powerfully radioactive cobalt. The material used in Thursday night's test apparently was not strong enough to register decisively on the counter. The new shipment, 5,000 curies, was trucked in Thursday night, packed in a three-ton lead container.

Must Stop Drilling

To run the new test, Charnbury would have to temporarily stop the work of a 12-inch high speed drill which early today had chopped out more than 200 feet of a new escape hatch to the cubicle containing Fellin, 58, and Throne, 28.

It also might disrupt the work of a three-inch diamond bit drilling nearby in an attempt to establish contact with Louis Bova, 42, a third miner buried by the same cave-in some 18 feet from Fellin and Throne. Searchers feared for the life of Bova, who has not been heard from for more than two days. A previous contact hole was believed to have reached his location, and food was dropped, but there has been no response.

Integration

Carver High School will be eligible to register in Pampa Senior High School when registration begins next Wednesday.

Four Negro teachers who have been teaching high school classes at Carver will be absorbed into the junior high and elementary classes there.

J. C. Randall, school principal, also will remain in that post at Carver.

Board President Wilkinson said the school board reached its decision after lengthy study of the matter. A petition signed by colored citizens was presented to the school board within the last week by the Carver Parent Teacher Association. The petition asked for integration of the high school.

School officials said approximately 200 junior high and elementary Negro pupils will continue their studies at Carver School, which is in a district of its own.

The 37 students eligible to be integrated into Pampa High School are members of the senior, junior and sophomore classes at Carver. They will be accepted for Pampa Senior High School registration without any further tests or examinations, school officials stated.

Sidwell said he had no intention of criticizing the board.

"Instead, I commend them for their efforts, he said. "But, I think, as a taxpayer, I have a right to present my views on school business and to ask for information. I hope the school board members do not get the same interpretation of my remarks that Mr. Green has. If they have, I publicly apologize.

The former board member stated that he thought the public should always get details on public budgets and that he appeared before the board last night at the public hearing because he had some questions for which he sought intelligent answers.

Sidwell urged board members to economize wherever they could.

"Citizens who do not watch the school district operations are going to be in trouble," he said. "You just can't close your eyes to economic problems."

Sidwell stated he was disappointed that the public hearing on the budget was not given more advance publicity.

Green and Sidwell walked out of the meeting together, apparently joking with each other about budgets.

Brethren Church Takes Definite Stand On Racial Strife In U.S.

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

"All right, you've convinced me. Segregation is wrong and ought to go. But what can I do about it?"

Churches are hearing that question with increasing frequency. One denomination, at least, has come up with some specific, practical answers.

The Church of the Brethren is passing out a little pamphlet entitled "Suggestions on Race Relations." It lists more than two dozen concrete things that individuals and local congregations can do.

The pamphlet doesn't waste words rehearsing familiar arguments about why church members should be involved. It simply says: "A racial revolution is upon us. We can neither stop it nor delay it. We can only hope to help guide it by active participation in it as concerned Christians."

Suggests Some Action

- Here are some of the recommendations for individual action:
1. "Take the initiative in becoming well acquainted with Negroes and include them socially in your circle of friends."
 2. "Cordially invite non-white persons who are not active elsewhere to your church activities and let them know that they would be welcome as members."
 3. "Give a friendly welcome to any non-white who move into your neighborhood, and encourage your neighbors to accept them."
 4. "Offer to rent or sell to non-whites on the same basis as whites, and clearly give this information to your real estate agent."
 5. "Let your landlord know that you would welcome non-whites as fellow tenants, and that you favor his renting on an open occupancy basis."
 6. "Join and support those community agencies which are working for justice and equality among the races."

working for justice and equality among the races."

7. "Inform the business people with whom you deal that you welcome being served by persons without regard to race."
 8. "Hire and promote on the basis of merit without regard to race."
 9. "Let your employer and fellow employees know that you favor an equal job opportunity employment policy."
 10. "Write to your government leaders, urging them to enact and enforce adequate civil rights legislation."
- Advice For Congregations
- For congregations, the pamphlet offers this advice:
1. Adopt a clear-cut policy that "membership will be accorded with regard to racial background" and make this policy known through local newspapers and other means. One way is to put up a sign near the entrance saying unequivocally: "This church welcomes persons of every race."
 2. Institute a special "study course on race relations" for adults and young people, with classes meeting once a week, perhaps on Sunday evening. Concentrate on the real problems of your own community — not those of a distant city or region. Ask the leaders of the Negro community to help you identify "the most serious areas of discrimination" in your town, and to formulate plans for removing them.
 3. Organize a "family visitation program" which will enable white and Negro families to exchange visits in each other's homes.
 4. Encourage members of the congregation to participate — as representatives of the church — in "non-violent" demonstrations and protests, such as sit-ins.
 5. Make direct financial contributions, from the congregational budget, to major civil rights organizations.
 6. Join "on an equal basis" with a Negro congregation in sponsoring some joint project such as a worship service, vacation Bible school, talent night, or a community service undertaking.
 7. Cooperate with Catholics and Jews and other Protestant groups in mounting an interfaith attack on race problems in your community. If no local interfaith organization exists, take the lead in forming one.

Dr. Douglas Carver Will Be In Pulpit At First Baptist Church

"Contrary Winds" is the subject Dr. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has chosen for his sermon Sunday morning. Two guest soloists will be presented, Mrs. Phillip Anderson of Wichita Falls, Texas, and Jim Hart of Borger, Texas. Mrs. Anderson was soloist for the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band while a student in Hardin-Simmons University. Hart sings with Paul Biggs and the "Phil-Originals" and had been featured in State and National conventions.

Mrs. Douglas Carver will preside at the console of the Tom and Ora Mae Rose Memorial Organ and will play "My Jesus I Love Thee" by A. J. Gordon for the offertory.

In the worship service at 8 p.m. the pastor is using "Caution to Some Bad Boys" for his Sermon Topic. The offertory will be "My Faith Looks Up To Thee" by Lowell Mason, and Jim Hart will sing "Gethsemane."

The refrigerated air conditioned auditorium of the First Baptist Church has been a real boon to all the activities of the church this summer.

The Youth Program of the Department of Public Safety Seeks Members

"As a law enforcement officer, my fundamental duty is to serve mankind," begins the law enforcement code of ethics used by the Texas Department of Public Safety. The department is seeking over 100 new members who believe in this philosophy and who obey it to serve in the Texas Highway Patrol Service. In order to help area men interested in becoming Highway patrolmen know more about this career law enforcement service a special meeting has been called in Pampa on August 26 at 8:00 p.m. by Sgt. J. W. Wilson at the Highway Patrol Office in the Courthouse. Applications will be available to all interested persons at this time and a full explanation of the duties, benefits and requirements will be discussed by local patrolmen to anyone interested.

The activities of Highway Patrolmen are as varied as the geography of the state they patrol. A day's duty may consist of rescuing a stranded citizen on a hurricane swept coastal area or tracking a tornado in the swirling sands of West Texas. Or it may involve the high speed pursuit and apprehension of a flagrant traffic law violator or wanted criminal.

Every peace officer is charged with the protection of life and property through enforcement of criminal statutes; the investigation of all crimes which come to his attention; and the apprehension of fugitives. But the highway patrolman's primary job is much like that of a shepherd — supervising traffic on the rural highways, which includes accident investigation, traffic direction and traffic law enforcement.

The history of law enforcement in Texas is, in a sense, the history of Texas itself, going back to the foundation of the original Rangers by Stephen F. Austin. In 1927 the state of Texas recognized a growing danger to the public safety in the form of unregulated truck traffic over the then meager highways of the state. The Texas Highway Department was authorized to employ eighteen license and weight inspectors. Two years later the force was expanded to 50 men and a new division was born — The State Highway Patrol. From this meager beginning the Department of Public Safety has

Groundbreaking Ceremonies Will Be At Central Church

The day for which Central Baptist Church has long awaited is Sunday. For many years the members of the church have desired a new worship auditorium. Sunday will begin the opening of construction for this auditorium.

At the close of the 11 a.m. worship the church will observe groundbreaking ceremonies. This will be an occasion of rejoicing as the first ground is turned to provide for this new edifice.

Construction on the auditorium is expected to begin very shortly, according to the pastor, T. O. Upshaw. Plans call for the completion of the construction by the last of December and services to be held in it not later than the first of January.

Central Baptist Church has had the finest summer attendance wise; both in Sunday School, Training Union, and the worship services; in the history of the church. For the months of June, July and August the average Sunday School attendance has been 582. This is well above the average of any other year.

Sunday services begin with the Chapel Choir, ages 14-18, meeting at 8 a.m. for a rehearsal along with a light breakfast. The choir sings at the 8:45 a.m. worship. At the early worship hour the pastor, T. O. Upshaw, will speak on the subject "The Beginning of Missions."

Sunday School is at 9:45 a.m. There is a place for every member from birth to older adults. Every person is taught the Bible according to his or her ability to understand. The pastor will speak at 11 a.m. on the subject "The Beginning of Missions." This service is broadcast on KHHH. Immediately following the 11 a.m. hour of worship will be the "Ground Breaking" ceremony.

The evening services begin at 8 p.m. with Training Union. The evening worship service is at 7 p.m. The pastor will continue the

Germans "Refute Sin" In Treaty

By PHIL NEWSOM

Sin being an offense which all right-thinking men must renounce, West Germany this week signed the partial nuclear test ban treaty in Moscow, London, and Washington.

But it was, with obvious misgivings.

These misgivings sprang not from any disagreement with men's efforts to avoid self-annihilation.

Rather, they were tied to a mistrust of Washington, which also affects other Europeans and which among West Germans takes specific form in a fear that eventually they will be asked to recognize the permanence of a divided Germany.

It was this fear that Secretary of State Dean Rusk had to overcome in his Bonn stopover on the way back from Moscow and which led the West Germans to specify that their own signature on the treaty in no way implied recognition of the Communist East German regime.

It also led the West Germans to complain that, whatever Washington's good intent, they had not been filled in properly on steps leading up to the treaty nor on Washington's decision to cut its 6,000-man Berlin garrison by 10 per cent.

Now the Germans appear similarly disturbed by suggestions out of Washington, the disarmament talks in Geneva, and from Moscow that the next area for exploratory talks could be the establishment of inspectors in countries of both East and West to guard against surprise attack.

And again they complain that they have not had an adequate fill-in.

Despite U. S. assurances that no agreement on an inspector system would be reached without full approval of the NATO partners — which means both West Germany and France — the Germans have asked that the subjects of safeguards against surprise attack be taken up by the NATO council "at a very early date."

"Be Of Good Cheer" Is Topic At 1st Methodist

"Be Of Good Cheer" will be the sermon topic Dr. Hubert Bratcher, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will preach on at the two morning services this Sunday.

The 8:45 a.m. service is broadcast over radio station KPND. The special music for the early service will be the anthem, "Jacob's Vision" by Ringwald and sung by the Youth Choir. The 11 a.m. service will feature the Sanctuary Singers who will present "King Of Glory, King Of Peace" by Thimman.

The Youth Choir meets at 5 p.m. Sunday, followed by Sunday Fellowship at 6 p.m. with a light supper for the entire family in Fellowship Hall. At 6:30 p.m. children, youth and adults will separate for one hour of fellowship group activities according to interest and needs. The Adult Fellowship group will meet in the church parlor.

Channels of God's Grace Will Be Christion Topic

At the Sunday morning worship hour which begins at 10:45 a.m., Rev. Loren E. Williams will speak on the subject, "Channels of God's Grace." This message will relate faith to service and will point out the correlation of the vertical direction of God's power to His horizontal sharing of His grace. The scriptural text for this message will be Luke 8:40-56.

The Sunday evening service will be a joint worship period with members and friends held at the First Christian Church, Rev. Taylor E. Buchanan will bring the message.

Department of Public Safety Seeks Members

"As a law enforcement officer, my fundamental duty is to serve mankind," begins the law enforcement code of ethics used by the Texas Department of Public Safety. The department is seeking over 100 new members who believe in this philosophy and who obey it to serve in the Texas Highway Patrol Service. In order to help area men interested in becoming Highway patrolmen know more about this career law enforcement service a special meeting has been called in Pampa on August 26 at 8:00 p.m. by Sgt. J. W. Wilson at the Highway Patrol Office in the Courthouse. Applications will be available to all interested persons at this time and a full explanation of the duties, benefits and requirements will be discussed by local patrolmen to anyone interested.

The activities of Highway Patrolmen are as varied as the geography of the state they patrol. A day's duty may consist of rescuing a stranded citizen on a hurricane swept coastal area or tracking a tornado in the swirling sands of West Texas. Or it may involve the high speed pursuit and apprehension of a flagrant traffic law violator or wanted criminal.

Every peace officer is charged with the protection of life and property through enforcement of criminal statutes; the investigation of all crimes which come to his attention; and the apprehension of fugitives. But the highway patrolman's primary job is much like that of a shepherd — supervising traffic on the rural highways, which includes accident investigation, traffic direction and traffic law enforcement.

The history of law enforcement in Texas is, in a sense, the history of Texas itself, going back to the foundation of the original Rangers by Stephen F. Austin. In 1927 the state of Texas recognized a growing danger to the public safety in the form of unregulated truck traffic over the then meager highways of the state. The Texas Highway Department was authorized to employ eighteen license and weight inspectors. Two years later the force was expanded to 50 men and a new division was born — The State Highway Patrol. From this meager beginning the Department of Public Safety has

CHRIST, THE GREAT SAVIOUR

"Scripture, Philippians 2:9"

The Lord Jesus Christ is the greatest person who has lived on earth in all ages. He is the Son of God, the Son of man, and the Saviour of all men.

- 1. HE WAS GREAT AT HIS BIRTH.
We might see the babe in the manger at Bethlehem and say, "Just another baby," but when we see the shepherds worship him, the wise men bringing rich gifts, and here the angels sing the sweetest chorus of heaven, we know that his birth confused the people about Jerusalem.
- 2. HE WAS GREAT IN HIS NATURE.
He was both God and man, the God-man. He was so much human that he could enjoy the wedding festivities, and so divine that he could turn water to wine. He was so much human that he could weep with those who had a lost loved one, and so divine that he could bring the loved one back to life again. He was so much human that he could hunger and thirst along with his disciples and so divine that he could feed five thousand men beside women and children. He was so much human that he died on the cross, and so divine that he rose from the grave, by His own power.
- 3. HE WAS GREAT IN HIS POWER
All power in heaven and on earth was committed to him. He had power to control nature, to cast out demons, to heal the sick, and all manner of diseases, to make men over again, and to bring the dead back to life. Great was his power, far greater even than that which has been in any other person who has ever walked on this earth.
- 4. HE WAS GREAT IN HIS INFLUENCE.
No other person has so lifted millions. He has greatly influenced literature, art, music, and all that is vital in the life of man.
- 5. HE WAS GREAT IN HIS MESSAGE
HE said, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me, John. 12:32.
He said, "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. "Matt. 11:28.
There are some who are physical wrecks; others who are wrecks, soul and body; some have lost name and character. Jesus is your Saviour. Come to Him now. Come off if that sand-bar! The flood will soon set in. I hear the murmur of the threatening storm. O, Come to Jesus Christ the Saviour of men.

Miami Moves Into Powerful District 1-B

Warriors Switch From 8-Man To 11-Man Football This Year

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

MIAMI — Miami football coach Bill Hines has a problem . . . he can't decide how to rate the Warriors this year in their first season both in 11-man football and in a new district.

"This is all new to us," admitted the roly-poly Miami mentor, "going from six-man to eight-man to 11-man football in a couple of years means some rapid adjustments. Also, an even tougher problem that the switch will be the district we're playing in, 1-B is a very tough loop."

"On paper, I suppose I'd have to pick the Warriors way down. . . it would take a miracle for a new team to 11-man to win district in its first year. Yet these boys are good ballplayers, they have spirit and they learn fast. I just can't pick them to finish in the cellar. I'd say, with luck, we could finish third. We could have a fighting chance to finish higher, and, if the other teams have improved, we could finish lower too. I just can't say."

"I can say one thing for sure though, even if we should finish in the cellar, any team that plays Miami will have a fight on its hands!"

Hines rates powerful-defending champ Wheeler as the top team in the loop, but points out that Follett beat the Mustangs last year and didn't lose anything from that team. Claude could be tough, said Hines, and Groom is always tough. Textline is relatively unknown to the Warrior skipper and assistant Lawrence Overcast, but isn't figured to be a championship threat.

Miami, playing eight-man ball, finished with a 6-3-1 record and was second in district 3-B. The Warriors had a 2-2-1 pre-district record, including a win over Follett and a loss to Boys Ranch in an 11-man game. The Chiefs then ran through their three district games, overwhelming Mobettie, Darrouzett and Lakeview by scores of 63-12, 50-0 and 48-0, before being stopped by loop winner Booker, 31-14.

Can Adjust

"I don't think the adjustment to 11-man will be too hard," said Hines, "last year we had four days practice before playing a strong Boys Ranch team in 11-man, and held them to 14-0."

Biggest loss Miami will suffer is via graduation, with five starters departing, including three all-district players. Mickey Kivelehen, named the outstanding lineman in the loop and a star in the East-West game is gone to Texas Tech. The loop's most valuable back, the all-around ace, Jimmy Flowers, is now headed for Howard County Junior College, and Mark Arrington, two-way all-district end, is at Rice. Also graduated are defenfive guard J. L. Grantham and center Jim Gill.

The Warriors return eight lettermen, including five starters. Slated to be standouts are a plunging fullback, a swivel-hipped halfback, a tough guard and a big tackle, as well as a veteran quarterback.

Ballcarriers

Expected to do the bulk of the leather-lugging are Roy "Ham-bone" Bean and Lewis "Little Un" Holland. The smiling Bean, 150, a three-letter senior, has been converted to a fullback to take advantage of his speed and ruggedness.

Holland, a two-letter senior, was out most of last season with injuries but is quick-starting, fast and shifty. In addition, despite his 130 pounds, the Little "Un" is tough both ways.

At quarterback is a three-letter senior 135-pound Wayne Daugherty. A good passer, runner and ball handler, Daugherty is a threat all the way around.

Rugged Line

Butch Thompson, two-letter senior, 130, is the top candidate for the left end post getting competition from Tom Grantham. Right end will be manned by Jerry Lister, two-letter, 165-pound senior.

At right tackle is the top offensive lineman on the team, tall Joe Wayne (Jody) Holland. The 170-pound three-letter senior is rated as a fine pulling guard and the best blocker on the team and is slated to open the holes for the backfield this year.

Two two-letter juniors are competing for both the left tackle and center posts, Ray Guerrero, 180, and Doug Talley, 160. Big Ray was a starter last year and Talley saw plenty of action. Hines is undecided at this early date as to which one will play tackle and which will be the man under.

Right guard is manned by the player expected to be the defensive "horse" for Miami, Harold "Hack" Coffee. The 170-pounder is a two-year starter both offensively and defensively, and figures to be a one-man gang at linebacker.

Manpower Shortage

Miami's major problem is a lack of reserves. The Warriors generally fielded 22 to 25 boys for an eight-man squad, but only have 20 hopefuls out for an 11-man team this year. A scheduled eight-man game between the Miami B team and Mobettie on Sept. 28 will probably have to be cancelled due to a lack of Miami manpower.

What manpower there is, however, is strong, tough, experienced and spirited. If the Warriors can adjust to the bigger game and go with less than two full teams, then, as Hines says: "We just might surprise a few teams this year."

Ex-Athletes Blast Georgia Program

ATLANTA, Ga. (UPI)—A group of former athletes at the University of Georgia, caught in the wash of a bitter court litigation, claimed Thursday the school's sports program is falling apart.

The group asked for a confrontation with Georgia president Dr. O. C. Aderhold to help stop the slide.

The former athletes, banded together into the Georgia "G" Club, is headed by banker Cliff Kimsey of Cornelia, Ga.

Kimsey said the first step toward putting Georgia back into the big time in collegiate sports would be to confront Dr. Aderhold.

"We'll just lay it on the line to him on what we would like to see done and see what his thoughts are," Kimsey said.

Kimsey said the sports program has deteriorated from the point where Georgia played in seven bowl games in the 1940s to a single post-season classic since 1949.

"Basketball — that's a pitiful situation," Kimsey added. "Georgia has been the laughing stock of the (Southeastern) conference."

Coach Phones Players

Georgia football coach Johnny Griffith, nettled by a "published rumor" that a number of Georgia football players would not return to the colors this fall, ran a telephone survey Thursday night to refute the report.

Griffith called a number of his players by long distance telephone.

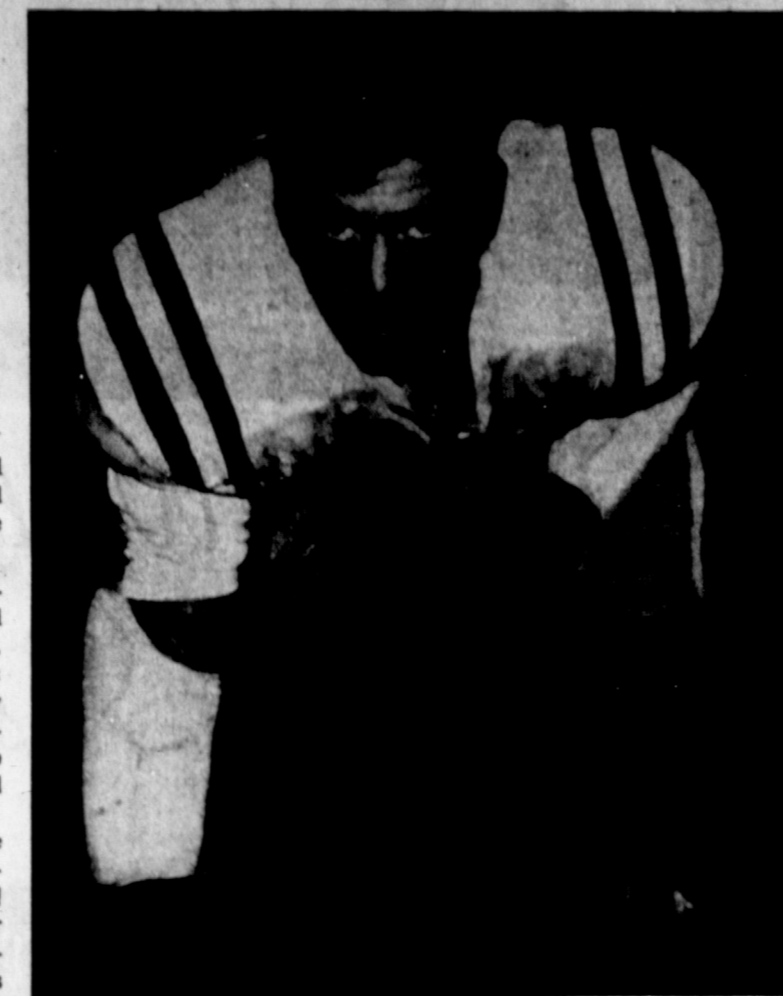

Among those he talked to were captain Billy Knowles, senior right halfback, and alternate captain Mickey Babb.

"I am confident that our squad is looking forward to this coming season," Griffith said. "They have worked very hard in winter drills and I have been in touch with all of them this summer and know that they have conscientiously trained hard to be ready for opening practice Sept. 1."

PLAY BENEFIT GAME

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (UPI)—All-Star squads from the National Basketball Association's Eastern and Western division clubs will participate in the fifth annual Maurice Stokes benefit game tonight.

All proceeds of the exhibition contest at the Kutscher Country Club go to Stokes, a former NBA player who has been hospitalized since March, 1958, with a rare brain disease.

COFFEE GRINDER — Harold "Hack" Coffee aims to grind gridiron opponents into percolator brew for the Miami Warriors. Hack is a two-year starter on both offense and defense, and at 170 pounds is slated to be one of the best linebackers in the district. (Daily News Photo)

Green Bay Packers Seek Third Straight

EDITORS NOTE: This is the first of 22 dispatches sizing up the prospects of professional football teams for the 1963 season.

Green Bay Packers
By GENE W. HINTZ
United Press International

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—The Green Bay Packers, minus two regulars and plus a new "man-on-the-move" offense, set out this fall to win an unprecedented third successive National Football League playoff championship.

Only the Packers in 1929, 1930 and 1931 have ever won that many consecutive titles in the NFL and that was before the playoff system was inaugurated in 1933.

Coach Vince Lombardi, who has yet to experience a losing year despite taking over a team that had won just one of 12 games in this year before he arrived in 1959, had two immediate problems to solve when practice sessions started a month ago.

—He had to replace Paul Hornung, the league's "Mr. Everything" who was banished by Commissioner Pete Rozelle for at least a year because of gambling.

—He had to replace veteran defensive end Bill Quinlan, who was traded to Philadelphia by way of New York after a run-in with Lombardi on the West Coast last fall.

Lombardi admits Hornung can't be replaced as such, so he revamped his offense slightly to both deal with that problem and give fullback Jimmy Taylor a lighter share of the offensive load.

Taylor, the NFL's top scorer and ground gainer last year, seems to have recovered from a winter bout with hepatitis, but has been hampered during the exhibition season by a sore knee.

Uses Multiple Flankers

The new offense, which is basically just a throwback to the old double wing, involves multiple flankers and a man in motion. The fullback lines up behind the quarterback and both half-backs flank wide. One of the halfbacks can go in motion and come back to the quarterback where the play develops.

"We used it once last year," Lombardi said. "We'll see how far it goes this year."

That doesn't mean Lombardi is junking his famous "big back" offense. Tom Moore and Earl Gros both can fill the halfback spot as runners, but their passing is in doubt, Elijah Pitts and Lew Carpenter could be sleepers.

Pitts doesn't fulfill Lombardi's requirement for a "big back" at just slightly more than 200 pounds, but the speedster from tiny Philander Smith College would be the ideal halfback in the man-on-the-move offense.

Carpenter also isn't big, but he can throw the option pass, and despite the offensive revamping, the run-pass option still looms big in the Packers plans. Hornung was a master at executing that play.

Replacing Quinlan could be tougher. Henry Jordan, a perennial all-pro tackle candidate, has worked out at end. But Lombardi would be happier if Urban Henry, a transplant from the Los Angeles Rams, or rookies Lionel Aldridge of Utah State or Tony Liscio of Tulsa could take over.

Henry and Ron Kostelnik, a reserve defensive tackle, have occupied Jordan's tackle spot.

Needs Strengthening

Linebacker, usually a strong point, may need bolstering and Lombardi looks to either Dave Robinson, the No. 1 draft choice from Penn State, or Ken Iman, a reserve center, to help there.

The regular linebacking trio of Ray Nitschke, Bill Forester and Dan Currie is considered the best in the league. But Currie had a bad leg last year and Nitschke has been hobbled with a back injury for most of the exhibition season.

The strong point of the offense is the line, which has all-pro Fred (Fuzzy) Thurston and Jerry Kramer at guards, Jim Ringo at center and Forrest Gregg at tackle. Bob Skoronski and Norm Masters share the other tackle spot.

The ends, always strong, are enforced by the addition of three outstanding rookies this year — Bob Jeter of Iowa, Marv Fleming of Iowa, and Marv Fleming (See PACKERS, Page 9)

One Winner On 30 Grand Double

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI)—One person in a crowd of 10,013 at Brandywine Raceway picked the twin double for $30,772 Thursday night as three longshots won in the four-race combination.

Identity of the winner was not known but mutuels manager Larry Malloy said "He or she is sure to show up sometime."

The winning combination was 1-4-4-1. The key horse, winner of the last race, was Normandy Dares, who won by a length in 2:06 1-3 and paid $34.90, $11.60 and $3.50.

The other winners were Secret Passion in the sixth which paid $5.90; Dan Congress in the seventh, $20.10, and Emma Doll in the eighth, $20.60.

EXTENDS DUCK LIMITS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—All areas of the Atlantic Flyway were granted extensions Thursday of the 1963-64 hunting season. In addition to basic limits provided in hunting regulations, a daily bag limit of two and a possession limit of four scaup ducks were allowed by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

Westex Buffs Visit AAFB

CANYON (SpI)—West Texas State University head football coach, Joe Kerbel, announced today that his Buffalo squad will hold an unprecedented football practice at the Amarillo Air Force Base.

The Buffs will travel out to the base and hold a regular practice session on Thursday night, September 12, from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m.

Details have been worked out between Kerbel and Major General Dwight O. Monteith, base commander. It is believed that this practice session will be the first of its kind to be held at any Air Force installation.

All base personnel, military and civilian, are invited to view the workout free of charge. Roster sheets will be handed out and Coach Kerbel will introduce many of the Buff players. Kerbel will describe some of the offensive and defensive formations the Buffs use and discuss some of the drills which help put the players in shape and make them into an organized unit.

A fifteen minute get acquainted and autograph session for the children will be held following the practice session.

Cardinals Down Bums Too Late

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

Instead of half a loaf, all that the Cardinals got were the crumbs.

They won the third and final game of their series with the Dodgers, 3-2, Thursday night and it probably was more in the nature of a consolation victory than anything else.

The disappointed Cards, who lost the first two games of the showdown series, had the satisfaction of snapping the Dodgers' seven-game winning streak. That was mighty small consolation considering that the Dodgers still lead the National League by 6½ games today.

What the sad situation amounts to for the Cardinals is this: They came into Los Angeles last Tuesday all hepped up about their pennant chances because they had taken three in a row from the Giants and were "only" ½ game back. But they lost a full game — plus a precious opportunity — by the time they left L.A.

Meet Once Again
The Cardinals have one more shot at the Dodgers when they meet them again for a three-game set in St. Louis starting Sept. 16 but by then it may be too late.

The Cards broke a 2-all tie Thursday night when Ken Boyer doubled in the sixth inning and came home with the winning run on Julian Javier's single.

Ernie Broglio won his 14th although he departed in favor of Ray Sadecki in the eighth. Don Drysdale suffered his 14th defeat against 16 victories.

Giants Beat Braves
In the only other NL games scheduled, the Giants snapped their five-game losing streak with an 8-6 victory over the Braves. Juan Marichal won his 19th for the Giants even though Milwaukee first baseman Joe Torre nicked him for a grand slam homer in the eighth inning.

Roberto Clemente's grand slam homer was the key blow in a five-run ninth inning rally that cemented the Pirates' victory over the Cubs.

COMING UP — Scenes like this are coming up for Pampa Harvester football fans just one week from today, when the Green-and-Gold open practice for the 1963 football season, meeting mighty Wichita Falls on Sept. 13. (Daily News Photo)

Julius Boros Leads In U.S. Golf Classic

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Julius Boros, the 43-year-old U.S. Open champion who usually plays the toughest courses the best, shared the first round lead in the $55,000 American Golf Classic today with two dark horses—Johnny Pott and Miller Barber.

They cut the long, exacting Firestone Country Club down to size Thursday when they shot three-under-par 67s, which was good enough to give them a three-shot lead over two pre-tourney favorites, defending champion Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Between the three leaders and Palmer and Nicklaus came six others — Jay Hebert, Bruce Crampton, Dave Hill, Gay Brewer, Al Geiberger and Dave Marr. They all broke Firestone's 35-37-70 par with 69s.

At even par 70 along with Palmer and Nicklaus were former U.S. Open champion Ed Furgol, big George Bayer, Ted Kroll and Rex Baxter.

Boros Putts Well
Boros' brilliant round, in which he had to overcome bad driving with superb putting, came as no surprise. For he is having the best year of his long career, with three tournament victories and a total of $78,956 in official prize money — behind only Palmer and Nicklaus.

But neither the 27-year-old Pott nor the 31-year-old Barber was given much of a chance over the backbreaking 7,163-yard Firestone course. However, they played the first round as though they owned the layout.

Both carded five birdies and two bogeys. The steady Boros had four birdies against a single bogey although he hit erring drives on seven holes, five times hitting the rough and twice winding up in the bunkers.

He overcame those errors with his putter, needing only 28 putts.

Trail By Four
Four strokes behind the leading trio, with one-over-par 71s, were Tommy Bolt, Lionel Hebert, Bo Wininger, Bobby Nichols, Don January, Tony Lema, Gary Puder, Bruce Devlin, Bob Duden, Mac Main and Bill Eggers.

British Open champion Bob Charles, Ken Venturi, Gardner Dickinson, Fred Hawkins and Joe Campbell were among those at 72.

Palmer, who complained that "I scrambled all the way," bogeyed the first and 18th holes after poor drives. He had two birdies with putts of six and 15 feet. But he missed two birdie putts of three feet and one of six.

Nicklaus had two birdies and a double bogey to go with 15 pars.

Former Champions Tangle In Women's Tournament

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (UPI) — Defending titleist Jo Anne Gunderson and former champion Mrs. Anne Quast Welts battle each other today in the semifinals of the 63rd U.S. Golf Association Women's Amateur tournament to see which one gets a shot at writing her name in the record book.

And a West Coast teen-ager, Peggy Conley, is eyeing a mark in this event which has stood since 1896. Miss Conley, 16, of Spokane, Wash., meets Carol Sorenson in a fight for the other berth in Saturday's 36-hole final at the Taconic Golf Club.

The unshakable Miss Gunderson, a Providence, R.I., blonde, is after her fourth title in seven years. Should the pretty 24-year-old former Washington state girl win, she would be only the second to capture this event four times.

Mrs. Edwin Vase Jr. was the other. She won it six times during the late 1920's, five times as Miss Glenna Collett.

One Over Par
Entering today's match, Miss Gunderson, thanks to Thursday's putting performance, was one over par for 69 holes played this week on the par-72 layout.

Mrs. Welts, who played three more holes, was three over par. Miss Conley, if she wins today, would be in position to become the second 18-year-old to gain the crown. Miss Beatrix Hoyt, youngest tourney winner, did it at age 18 in 1896, the second year of the tourney.

Miss Gunderson, when she won it in 1957 at 18, was the second youngest.

Miss Conley is the only girl left in the competition who did not play in last year's tournament.

Miss Sorenson of Janesville, Wis., a 22-year-old student at Arizona State, won the Girl's Junior title in 1960 and was last year's titleist in the Western Amateur and Intercollegiate championships.

Posts Easy Wins
Miss Gunderson posted a 5 and 4 victory Thursday over Mrs. Helen Wilson of Gladwyne, Pa.

Mrs. Welts reached the semifinals by whipping Janis Ferraris of San Francisco, 4 and 3; Miss Sorenson turned back Mrs. Harton Semple of Sewickley, Pa., 4 and 3, and Miss Conley eliminated Judy Bell of Colorado Springs, Colo., 3 and 2.

Pro Football Roundup

By United Press International

Alley-oop is back and ready to bounce even higher!

That would be flanker R. C. Owens, the springiest man in the National Football League, who checked into the Baltimore Colts training camp Thursday after nearly losing his life in an automobile accident in July.

Owens, who stands 6-3 and was an outstanding college basketball player, achieved his greatest fame and his nickname during his days with the San Francisco Forty Niners when he and quarterback Y. A. Tittle originated the "Alley-oop" pass in which Tittle would throw the ball high in the air and Owens simply would outleap the defenders.

The only known player ever to block a field goal as it was clearing the crossbar, Owens did not suit up Thursday but appeared fit and ready with no trace of injuries.

In other NFL camps, San Francisco placed injured end Clyde Connor, an eight-year veteran, on waivers... linebacker John Reger will return to the Pittsburgh Steelers starting lineup for Saturday's clash with Baltimore at Atlanta after being sidelined a week with a knee injury... The Los Angeles Rams sliced their roster to 44 players by placing five men on waivers — veterans Glenn Shaw and Duane Putnam and rookies Ken Chancellor, Doug Brown and Jerry Greenwalt.

Plays Newcomers
Coach Allie Sherman of the New York Giants said he planned to use newcomers Nat Craddock, Charlie Killeit and Jim Pace as much as possible at the running back positions in Sunday's game with Minnesota, while the Vikings planned to use quarterback Fran Tarkenton for the entire 60 minutes of action... Washington head man Bill McPeak intends to make wholesale use of rookies, sophomores and borderline cases in Saturday night's contest with the Philadelphia Eagles... Both the Green Bay Packers and Cleveland Browns worked out in preparation for weekend clashes with the Chicago Bears and San Francisco, respectively.

In American League camps, Weeb Ewbank felt that the time of passes between the quarterbacks and ends was showing definite improvement after watching his New York Jets work out on Thursday... The Oakland Raiders acquired defensive halfback Jim McMillan from the Denver Broncos for a draft choice... And the Kansas City Chiefs went through a short 30-minute drill in preparation for tonight's encounter with Denver.

Chargers Beat Oilers
In AFL exhibition action Thursday night, the San Diego Chargers, apparently fully recovered from last year's injury jinx, rode the passing arm of sophomore quarterback John Hadl to their third pre-season victory in four starts with a convincing 21-3 rout of the Houston Oilers.

The Oilers, perennial Eastern Division champions who twice defeated the Chargers for the AFL title in 1960 and 1961, fell behind at the outset as Hadl hit Lance Alworth with a 15-yard TD pass after defensive back Dick Harris picked up a Billy Cannon fumble on his own 27 and raced to the Houston 16. Hadl also tossed a 42-yard scoring pass to Bob Jackson as the Oilers suffered their second loss in four games.

Quarterback Bart Starr could hold the key to a successful season. The 1962 NFL passing leader is backed up by John Roach and rookie Terry Zang of Drake, but an injury here could be disastrous.

SUGAR CANCELS BOUT
MONTREAL (UPI) — Sugar Ray Robinson cancelled a scheduled Sept. 3 bout Thursday with Canadian Willie Greaves because the former world welterweight and middleweight champion suffered a sprained left wrist in a sparring session last week. Another opponent is being sought to replace Robinson on the Montreal boxing card.

Coach Brags On Ol' Miss Quarter

By JAMES L. JONES

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI) — Perry Lee Dunn makes his long-awaited debut as the University of Mississippi's No. 1 quarterback this autumn.

Rebel fans are expecting big things from him. So is coach Johnny Vaught, who says Dunn is "potentially as good as a quarterback we have had."

That's saying a lot: The star-studded list of former Ole Miss hurlers includes the likes of Charlie Conery, Jake Gibbs and Glynn Griffing.

In 1960, Dunn was considered the nation's most sought-after high school grinder. He had just wound up a fabulous prep career at Natchez, Miss., where he completed 165 of 329 passes and carried the ball 505 times for a total offensive gain of more than three miles.

Has Many Offers
After pondering his various offers for several months, Dunn decided he would accept either Ole Miss' or Louisiana State's. Vaught won a frantic, down-to-the-wire recruiting battle with Paul Dietzel, to the delight of Rebel fans.

Dunn played little as a sophomore on Vaught's talent-rich squad but cracked the first string last year — as a fullback.

With Griffing ably handling quarterbacking chores, Vaught had decided to bolster his injury-ridden fullback corps with Dunn, who threw his rugged 205-pound, 6-1 frame into the job with gusto and helped pace the Rebels to their first unbeaten season.

But, like Vaught, Dunn is looking forward to his return to quarterback.

Edinburg Meets Enos Slaughter

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — Former St. Louis Cardinal and New York Yankee Enos Slaughter will see action in the 29th National Baseball Congress tournament tonight as the Greensboro, N.C., Rainey face the Edinburg, Tex., Gingers in a first round game.

Slaughter, now a North Carolina tobacco farmer, is scheduled to go into left field for the North Carolina semi-pro champions.

The Fairbanks, Alaska Goldpanners and Grand Rapids, Mich., Sullivans, who are among the tourney favorites, scored impressive victories on Thursday's 4-game program.

Sam Suplizio triggered a 7-run Fairbanks rally in the eighth inning as it came from behind to topple the Phoenix, Ariz. Slaughter's 8-2 and advance unbeaten into the third round.

With 10-year National League veteran Caryl Spencer at third base, the Grand Rapids, Mich., Sullivans routed Providence, R.I., 13-3.

Cocky Dick Stuart Tops Ted Williams' Record

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

Cocky Dick Stuart may be all talk and a yard wide, but he can always say he topped Ted Williams.

And don't worry about the big uninhibited Boston first baseman — he'll say it all right because it happens to be true in one respect, anyway.

When the Pirates traded Stuart to the Red Sox last winter, so the story goes, he was asked whether he felt he would hit more homers than Williams did at Fenway Park.

Stuart promptly inquired: "How many did he hit his first year up?"

Informed that Williams had belted 31 homers his first season with the Red Sox, Stuart said "I oughtta' hit more than that."

And he has.

Stuart, the American League home run leader, smashed his 33rd of the year with one on Thursday to help the Red Sox walloped the White Sox, 11-2.

Big Stu also the league home run leader, and smashed his total to 93 — 13 ahead of his nearest challenger.

Teammates Help
Stuart, however, didn't quite do the job on the White Sox alone. Ed Bressoud drove in six runs with a grand slam homer and two sacrifice flies while rookie Dave Morehead earned his eighth victory with a seven-hitter. Joe Horlen was the loser.

The Yankees retained their 10-game lead even though they dropped a 7-4 decision to the Indians, the Orioles roughed up the Angels, 5-1, and the Athletics beat the Senators, 6-2, in the only other AL games scheduled.

Cleveland rocked Ralph Terry for three homers in handing him his 13th loss against 14 victories. Tito Francona hit his eighth homer and Fred Whitfield and Willie Kirkland each hit his 15th before Terry was chased in the fourth. Jim (Mudcat) Grant gained his 10th victory although he gave up a grand slam to Johnny Blanchard in the sixth.

Boog Powell tagged Dean Chance for his 21st homer with one aboard in the first inning and that proved enough margin for the Orioles' victory over the Angels.

Norm Siebern drove in three runs for Kansas City with a single and his 14th homer as Ed Rakow and Bill Fischer held Washington to four hits. Rakow was the winner.

"I played quarterback for so long," says Dunn. "Man, I like it."

Vaught Not Optimistic
Vaught, traditionally cautious in his optimism, believes Dunn compares with any Rebel great of yesteryear but adds, "I can only compare results and Dunn really hasn't had the opportunity to show what he's got."

In spring practice, Dunn suffered a shoulder separation which gave some Rebel fans near heart failure. But Vaught says he has recovered and "appears in excellent shape for the fall. Doctors have completely cleared him."

Dunn attended summer school at Ole Miss and kept in shape by working out and playing golf. "I feel that I'm in fine shape," says Dunn. "I'm ready to play."

Billy Gates, the Rebel publicity man, predicts Dunn will soon stage performances "which will really open some eyes around the nation."

Market Place Can Do The Job

This year a half million new college graduates came from their institutions of higher learning clutching their sheepskins and looking hopefully across the land for job opportunity.

Those in the top brackets scholastically had no problem finding work to do.

Large corporations were already competing for these men and women, offering them splendid opportunities if they demonstrate the ability to accept personal responsibility and to equate their own futures with those of the firms which lure them with good pay, chance for advancement and specialized training.

Those who emerge as professionals in fields such as law, medicine, certain of the sciences and even as teachers, if their academic ratings have been high enough, can begin commanding a respectable recognition from the buying public almost at once.

It was never more true than it is today that there is plenty of room at the top.

But in the areas below the top-most ratings, problems will arise. And these problems will not relate to the skills and the knowledge the graduates will have to offer, but rather to distortions which have appeared in the market place and to distortions which have probably been well drilled into graduate attitude long before the commencement evening closes.

Our market place is in trouble. Instead of having the resiliency of a living organism, vital and alive with the life blood supplied by success and profit, much of our market place is now anemic, drained of its vitality by the leukemia of government control, regulation and taxation.

The market place cannot expand as rapidly as it should. It cannot expand rapidly enough to absorb this half-million college graduates. Nor can it accommodate the other millions who finish high school to go looking for work, nor the others, nearly a million strong, who drop out of college before their baccalaureate degree.

The problem being faced by millions of people arises not from the inadequacies of the market place, but from the deliberate impairment of individual initiative and responsibility by an overly protective, overly rich, overly big government. Thus, what should be merely normal market demands for enlargement, expansion and creativity, have to become louder than normal before a response can be noted.

Nor is this situation limited to factory production nor to the service fields in business and industry. Our educational institutions cannot enlarge rapidly enough to take care of growing demands. It is money that is in short supply. But the short supply of dollars is not the result of a lack of currency, but it is the result of wholesale plunder conducted by our various and sundry taxing agencies.

Edwin P. Neilan, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, took due notice of this situation in a graduation address before the departing students of Bryant College.

He said, among other things: "The American enterprise system can provide the productive growth, the employment, the ever-increasing standard of prosperity that all of us expect and demand of it; it can compete successfully in world markets; it can support the legitimate security commitments which this nation must undertake to meet the challenge of communism and preserve the free world. "But we will accomplish none of those things, indeed we may well wind up on the ash-heap of history, unless you take an active part in an aroused and informed citizenry standing up on its hind legs and demanding back its heritage."

The market place cannot do the job if an overgrown bureaucracy saps our strength and sends us plunging into a welfare state with all that the term implies.

'This Call Collect?'

It may be slightly premature to worry about it, but communication is going to be quite a problem when men start setting up house-keeping on the other planets of our solar system.

It's not so much getting radios to work over long distances — Mariner II proved we can transmit at least as far as Venus — but that light (and radio) waves are so poky.

Sure, light moves at 186,000 miles a second. But distances are so vast between planets that an earthing talking to an explorer on Uranus would have to wait as long as 12 hours for a reply to his opening "Hello."

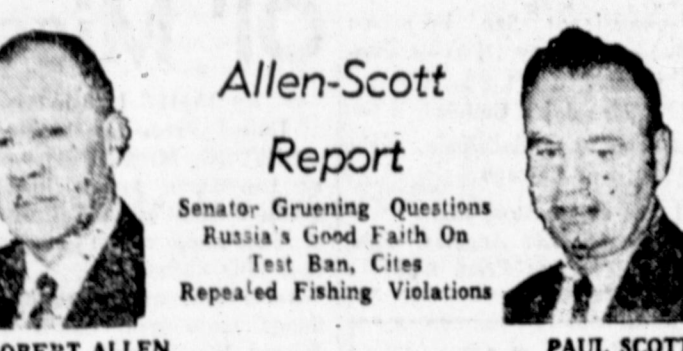

Even with next-door Venus, it will take two minutes for a question to get there from earth, two more minutes for the answer to come back. That's when Venus is close to earth. When it's most distant, the time lapse stretches to 14 minutes.

One suggested solution is that both sides in an interplanetary gabfest merely keep talking steadily. That is, rather than wait 12 hours for an answer to a specific question from Uranus, just go on to other matters. It would still take 12 hours to get an answer, but once conversation had begun, it would go on continuously.

Hmm. On second thought, considering the amount of yakety-yak that's carried over the air waves already, maybe we should be glad that this problem is still in the future.

Senator Gruening Questions Russia's Good Faith On Test Ban, Cites Repeated Fishing Violations

WASHINGTON — Much to President Kennedy's pained surprise, the nuclear test ban treaty is being sharply challenged by an unexpected critic.

Senator Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, veteran liberal, is bluntly questioning the reliability of the pact in view of Russia's long and voluminous record of broken and violated agreements.

Specifically pinpointing this caustic accusation, Gruening is citing the Soviet's persistent illegal invasion of U.S. fishing waters.

These violations are occurring off both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. They are particularly numerous and flagrant in Alaskan waters. Gruening, Representative Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., and other congressional and state authorities have repeatedly appealed to the White House and State Department for help, but to little avail.

A few formal complaints have been made to Moscow—comparable to a tap on the wrist—and that's about all.

With the submission of the nuclear test ban treaty to the Senate for ratification, Gruening is using Russia's persistent fishing violations as a Kremlin can be trusted to abide by the pact.

In a telegram to the President reporting further fishing infringements, Gruening fully declared: "I find it difficult to see how we can be asked to approve a treaty which implies friendly relations with Russia when the Russians are continually violating international law and other treaties respecting our waters."

Gruening also demanded that vigorous measures be taken against Soviet violators, as follows: "When the Russians were pulling up Alaskan's crab traps, I urged you to send a couple of destroyers to prevent this continued violation of our waters. It is not enough to report these incidents and make diplomatic protests. These violators should be arrested and brought to trial, and this cannot be done with the inadequate Naval and Coast Guard equipment now available. The Russian fishing boats are actually faster than any Coast Guard or Naval vessels now in Alaskan waters."

MORE COMPLAINTS — Representatives Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., and Paul Rogers, D-Fla., also are denouncing the Soviet's numerous fishing violations and contending they cast grave doubts on signing agreements with the Reds.

"Since the beginning of the Communist regime in Russia," said Hosmer, "a calculated course of insincere negotiations has been pursued wherever and whenever it forwards the goal of world domination. In its 44-year history, the Soviet has signed over 2,000 agreements with non-Communist governments. It is safe to say that those remaining unbroken by the Kremlin are only those which expediency has not yet dictated to breach."

BOLT KILLS BROTHERS

POSADAS, Argentina (UPI) — Three brothers praying at the altar of a village church were killed last week when lightning struck the steeple. It was reported today.

Reports reaching here said the bolt of lightning which struck Holy Mary Chapel in Picada Galitzniana traveled down the chains which held ornamental lamps over the altar and killed Pablo, Francisco and Easteban Atamanuk.

TREATY FALLOUT

A large number of the letters coming to the White House in favor of the nuclear test ban treaty are being sparked by a new lobbying organization whose members include the curious combination of Norman Thomas, perennial Socialist candidate for President, James Wadsworth, New York Republican and former UN Ambassador and Dr. Benjamin Spock, noted baby expert. In an appeal sent to more than 75,000 throughout the country, the organization is urging, "Write three letters or telegrams as follows: To President Kennedy and to both your senators." Recipients of this appeal also are being asked to get their "friends and neighbors" to do the same. "One of the censored deletions in the testimony of Dr. Edward Teller, "father" of the H-bomb, was his statement that there is no clearcut knowledge the Russians are not prepared to perform extensive underground nuclear testing. The noted scientist warned that to believe the Russians are incapable of doing that would be highly dangerous. He also pointed out underground tests can be conducted in Russia in an inconspicuous manner. There was no explanation why the Kennedy administration blue-pencilled this Teller statement. He said nothing the Russians don't know, and there is utterly no reason the American people shouldn't know it. No military secrets of any kind are in these remarks. Senator Bourke Hickenlooper, Iowa, senior Republican member on the Foreign Relations Committee, doesn't think much of President Kennedy's writing style — which his admirers highly acclaim. While questioning Secretary Dean Rusk, at the hearings on the test ban treaty, Hickenlooper noted that the President's message to the Senate on the pact contained more "dots" than "do's." Said Hickenlooper, "I wish I could find as many 'does it do's' as I can find 'do's'."

MISSILE MONITOR—The 14,300-ton USAF's (U.S. Air Force Ship) Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg aims its huge electronic eyes into space. The ship, converted from a World War II troop transport, will be stationed in the Indian Ocean, halfway around the world from U.S. launching pads at Cape Canaveral. Her three-and-four-story-high antennas will follow the death plunges of missile nose cones, recording millions of bits of information. The Vandenberg will carry 100 scientists and 100 crewmen. She and a sister ship, the Gen. H. H. Arnold, were converted by the Air Force for $100 million.

PASO Fights Against Tolerance In Effort to Gain Acceptance

(Editor's note: While Negro demonstrations occur in other states, a Latin-American movement for political and economic advancement gathers strength in Texas. It is PASO, the Political Association of Spanish-Speaking Organizations. PASO has directed the takeover of one city's government in Texas. It looks on this as a start).

First of a Series of Two
By PRESTON MCGRAW
United Press International
CRYSTAL CITY, Tex. (UPI)—The way Albert Fuentes Jr. sees it, the Mexican-American is worse off than the Negro in Texas and other Southwestern states.

The Negro has a tangible cause—segregation. He can demonstrate against it and seek help in courts.

The Mexican-American, according to Fuentes, is not segregated. He can go anywhere, and everywhere he finds himself tolerated but not accepted.

Tolerance but not acceptance, crushes the spirit as much as outright segregation, Fuentes feels. Fuentes, 33, is state executive secretary of the Political Association of Spanish-Speaking Organizations (PASO).

PASO is growing rapidly. Fuentes said it is organized in more than 50 Texas counties, part of which have more Mexican-Americans of voting age than Anglo-Americans.

The battle cry of PASO is political and economic equality. But its leaders, already successful men, appear to be driven as well by a burning desire for more than tolerance.

It's the Showpiece
Crystal City is PASO's showpiece. It is where last April a slate of five Mexican-Americans took over the city government from a city council that Anglo-Americans had always dominated.

Crystal City calls itself the "Spinach Capital of the World" and there is a statue of Popeye, the spinach-eating comic strip character, on the main street.

K-TEX AUTO PARTS

Crystal City has 9,500 residents—85 per cent of whom are Mexican-American, 14.5 per cent of whom are Anglo-American and .5 per cent of whom are Negro. The 14.5 per cent Anglo-Americans pay 65 per cent of the taxes.

The Anglos of Crystal City do not like their new government. They are trying to do something about it.

M. Dale Barker, editor and publisher of the weekly Zavala County Sentinel, summed up the Anglo attitude as follows: "We have no objection to officeholders of Spanish extraction. What we do object to is outside interests coming in, directing things and putting puppets in office."

By "outside interests," Barker meant PASO and a local of James Hoffa's Teamsters' Union, which provided the backbone in Crystal City for the Latin victory.

'Leave Us Alone'
"If they would just let us alone we would have something real nice here," Mayor Juan Cornejo said. Cornejo is the local agent of the Teamsters' Union and his Anglo constituents call him "Mayor Corney-Joe."

The Teamsters' Union got into Crystal City politics because it represents some 300 workers in the California Packing Co. (Del Monte) canning plant in Crystal City.

The canner workers are not only 100 per cent Latin; they also are the best-paid workers in town, according to Fuentes. And, since they work under outside contract, they cannot be intimidated.

In any event, a Latin government runs Crystal City, so far without any great upheaval. It is getting a minimum of cooperation from the Anglos.

Capt. A. Y. Allee, an old hand in the Texas Rangers, has been in Crystal City since last April to enforce law and order. The Latinos do not like that.

Pena Heads PASO
Fuentes and his boss, Albert Pena Jr., 43, live in San Antonio, 120 miles to the northeast. Pena is a lawyer, a commissioner in Bexar County (San Antonio) and state chairman of PASO. Another powerful figure in PASO is Henry Munoz Jr., Pena's assistant.

Fuentes has a business of his own, which he calls the "State Government Research Bureau."

He and Pena, the father of PASO, see their Crystal City victory as the beginning. They already are organizing an assault on the county government in Zavala County in next year's primaries.

They also think that PASO can work itself into a coalition with Texas Negroes, union members of all races and ultra-liberal members of the Democratic party.

Pena, in an interview, cited these figures: In 1960, there were 900,000 Latinos and 850,000 Negroes of voting age in Texas.

Potential Powerful Group
Pena and Fuentes think Latinos and Negroes by themselves could determine who is elected next year to state office in Texas and which presidential candidate carries Texas if:

—The Texas poll tax is cut from $1.75 to 25 cents in a special election Nov. 9.

—Enough conservative Democrats vote Republican in Texas next year.

Pena and Fuentes deny that their aim is to elect Latinos to office. They say they and PASO support candidates, regardless of race, who recognize the Latin problems and try to do something about them.

They noted instances in which they supported Anglos over Latinos. While PASO is not wedded to the Democratic party, Pena and Fuentes said its most sensible course appears to be whatever extends and enlarges President Kennedy's New Frontier.

Not Connally Ally
Texas Gov. John Connally, who was first Navy secretary in Kennedy's cabinet and PASO are not allies. Pena said Connally is nettled because PASO supported Don Yarborough against Connally in the 1960 Democratic primary.

There is a color photograph of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson on the wall of Pena's office. But Pena, noting the lack of warmth between Connally and PASO, also asked whether Connally was not Johnson's political protegee.

PASO does not think much of the present shape of the Democratic party in Texas.

"Half jackass; half elephant," Munoz said.

World output of mined copper continued upward for the third successive year in 1961, according to the Britannica Book of the Year.

POISON WARNING

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UPI) — Poison experts here have warned boat owners, home handymen and amateur carpenters using the "wonder glues" known as epoxy resins to keep the stuff off their hands when it is wet.

The University of Rochester department of pharmacology reported the resins are "endowed with certain toxic properties which, at present, seem to be indivisible from their desirable ones." Dr. Harold H. Borgstedt said the "desirable, if not indispensable" characteristics make them potentially toxic if exposed to the skin or breathed excessively.

KEEPING AHEAD OF THE JONESSES' DEMANDS—Beef and poultry output has increased at a more rapid rate than United States population in recent years. For the year ahead: an estimated significant increase in consumption of these most-popular meats.

VENDING SUBSIDY

NEW YORK (UPI) — When you buy one of the less popular brands of cigarettes in a vending machine, the manufacturer may be subsidizing the vending machine operator. The big companies all say they have to pay subsidies to get large machine route operators to stock the weaker brands.
