Democrats Claim Top Prizes In Three Off-Year Elections

GOP Leaders Hold Hope of Comeback

By RAYMOND M. LAHR

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic candidates won the three big prizes in Tuesday's off-year elections, but Republican leaders said results of the state and city balloting offered solid evidence of GOP resurgence.

Party managers in both the Democratic and Republican camps know it is dangerous to project national trends from such elections, especially from the mixed bag produced Tuesday. But the results could give only limited comfort to the Kennedy administration.

The Democrats elected a mayor again in Philadelphia in the nation's biggest municipal contest, but by a much reduced majority. An anti-Kennedy Democrat won the Mississippi governorship in that state's first real two-party contest since the Reconstruction years.

Some Uncertainty
Democrat Edward T. Breathitt apparently won the Kentucky governorship, but his shrinking margin before the count stopped for the night in some counties left uncertainty about the outcome.

Fallout from the civil rights issue and racial strife was a factor in all three of those elections.

For Republicans, their biggest triumphs came in Indiana, New Jersey and Virginia.

In Indiana, where the Republicans controlled city halls in only two of the state's 25 largest cities, the GOP elected 17 mayors Tuesday.

Republicans took control of the New Jersey Assembly, bolstered their majority in the State Senate and dealt the Democratic administration of Gov. Richard J. Hughes a stunning political setback.

New Jersey voters also rejected a $750 million bond issue, which Hughes said was the alternative to a state sales or income tax.

Virginia GOP Gains

Republicans made their most significant gains since Reconstruction days in Virginia, almost doubling their representation in the state's General Assembly. Though the increase was only from 7 to 13 GOP seats in the 140-member assembly, the gains came in the face of determined opposition from the entrenched political organization of Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va.

In Kentucky, Louie B. Nunn, the Republican nominee for governor, conceded Breathitt's election 92 minutes after the polls closed when Breathitt held a lead of more than 25,000 votes. When the margin had shrunk to about 11,000, Nunn announced he had received reports of voting irregularities and said the race still was unsettled.

Nunn was the underdog in a state carried by retiring Gov. Bert Combs by 180,000 votes four years ago. His campaign featured a strong attack on Combs' executive order last June forbidding racial discrimination in business firms licensed by the state.

The race issue was a factor in Philadelphia because of evidence of white resentment against recent Negro demonstrations. Mayor James H. Tate hung on to his office by defeating Republican James T. (See COMEBACK, Page 3)

Rescuers Gamble to Save Eleven Trapped in Mine

PEINE, Germany (UPI) — Eleven men trapped nearly 13 days in a flooded iron mine waited today for the completion of an escape shaft despite fears that it would cause the roof of their crumbling chamber to collapse and bury them.

Rescue workers inched a giant drill bit through the final 52 feet of earth toward the men in a delicate operation expected to be completed sometime Thursday.

Present plans call for halting the drill three feet short of the 187-foot-deep cavern, withdrawing the huge bit and sending a man down the narrow tube to break through to the trapped miners with a hand drill.

A steel escape capsule would then be lowered to bring them out one at a time through the two-foot shaft.

Even the hand drill could trigger a rockfall and bury the men if it hit the center of the 9-by-12 foot alcove, mine officials said. Some of the men have already reported injuries from falling stones and they were sharing the watery chamber with the corpses of 10 other workers apparently killed by rock slides.

Nineteen other men are missing and presumed dead in the Mathilde mine, flooded with 19 million gallons of sludge and water Oct. 24, when a sedimentation basin at the surface collapsed. Three miners were rescued from a high-pressure air pocket last Friday through an escape shaft drilled by the same rig.

The 11 men have been kept alive with baby food, tea and coffee sent down a two-inch communications shaft since they were discovered Sunday night. They had huddled on a pile of rubble in the alcove for 10 days without light or food.

Viet Nam Troops Return to War On Communists

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Vietnamese marines who spearheaded the coup that deposed President Ngo Dinh Diem today began returning to the battlefronts of the war against the Communist guerrillas.

With the capital and the nation returning to normal after the street fighting Friday and Saturday that ended with Diem's death, the ruling military junta was assigning more units to their original duty stations in the Communist-infested jungles and rice paddies.

A curfew in force since the coup was reduced to three hours a day—between 2 a.m. and 5 a.m.—and the bright lights went on again in Saigon's crowded cabarets.

Twist and jazz music, banned as "decadent" by South Viet Nam's former first lady, Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu, blared forth from the dance halls and bars, and Western dancing, also forbidden by Mme. Nhu, resumed.

American GI's were welcomed back by Saigon bar hostesses. The holiday mood was particularly noticeable around the Buddhist pagodas, which had been deserted because of Diem's crackdown on the Buddhist leaders last summer.

U.N. Members Ask Arms Action

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Thirty-nine nations today pressed for a quick resumption of the Geneva disarmament talks with emphasis on measures to ease East-West tension.

Neither the United States nor Russia, nor any major Western or Communist country participating in the Geneva talks, sponsored the measure in the political committee. It calls upon the 17-nation conference to give "urgent and sustained attention to the study of the various collateral measures which seem promising of early agreement."

Specifically mentioned were measures to reduce the risk of war by accident or by surprise attack, and measures intended to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons to countries which do not now have them.

Although the resolution requests a progress report from the Geneva conference at an early date and a final reporting by next Sept. 1, the 17-nation parley was not expected to resume before January.

There, trading activity almost doubled the moderately active pace it had shown earlier in the day. An official said "all hell broke loose as soon as the news came out."

Wait Reaction Today
Trading in Wall Street today, coming after an overnight opportunity to digest the FRB ruling, probably will reveal more significant clues to the impact of the margin increase on investors.

Russians Back Down; Convoy Goes Through

BULLETIN
MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today that if the American Army had tried to force its latest Berlin convoy through a Soviet blockade it would have had to roll "over our dead bodies" and possibly have triggered war.

BERLIN (UPI) — The Soviet Union today ended a 41-hour blockade in the face of Western Allied firmness and permitted a U.S. Army convoy to roll across Communist East Germany to West Berlin.

The convoy of 44 men in 12 vehicles, stalled Monday morning in a dispute over clearance procedures, was allowed through the Soviet checkpoint at the western end of the 110-mile access highway to Berlin at 2:14 a.m. (10:14 p.m. EST, Tuesday) and reached West Berlin five hours later.

The Soviets dropped their inspection demands in what was considered a backdown in the face of Western determination to maintain the right of free access to West Berlin. The West made it plain that it was united on the issue. British and French convoys were sent through to West Berlin Tuesday night to emphasize this, and like the Americans, their commanders refused to allow the inspection the Soviets demanded.

The Russians gave in to the British and French and a few hours later gave in to the Americans, too.

But there was no thought here that the Soviet harassment campaign that began last month was over. It was anticipated that the Soviets would again interfere with Western Allied traffic to Berlin at a time of their choosing, holding up convoys from periods ranging from hours to days.

Today's backdown thus was considered a "victory" for the West, but some officials here felt that many more such "victories" would have to be celebrated in the future.

Reds May Show Secret Missile

United Press International
MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union's top secret "anti-missile missile" may be shown Thursday during Moscow's massive parade marking the 46th anniversary of the Russian revolution.

Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev once boasted it could "hit a fly in outer space."

A giant missile, covered by canvas on a truck bed, has been seen at midnight dress rehearsals for the annual military view in Red Square. It appears to be 30 to 55 feet long — much longer than the first and second generation surface-to-air missiles displayed in previous parades.

The Communists claim one of the earlier types shot down Francis Gary Power's U2 over the Soviet Union in 1960.

The canvas-covered model apparently has extra large fins, presumably for intricate maneuvering at high speeds and altitudes.

Almost nightly, tanks, rocket launchers and military hardware of all description have rumbled through the streets in preparation for the show before Khrushchev and other members of the Communist hierarchy.

More than a year ago Khrushchev claimed Russia possessed a missile which could "shoot down an aircraft at any altitude."

During an interview with some visiting American editors a few days later he also claimed that no anti-rocket weapons could stop Russia's global rocket. He said he had planned to show movies of the anti-rocket rocket in action to delegates at a Communist-backed "peace conference."

"But when I talked with some participants in the congress they advised me against doing that because that might have been misunderstood," he said.

"But had people been shown this machine it is. You can say our rockets could hit a fly in outer space."

High Insurance Cited at Trial

By H. D. QUIGG
MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Eugene Thompson, regarding insurance, that is.

In the middle of the little criminal lawyer's trial for the murder of his wife Tuesday, while the state was piling up evidence the defendant had amassed $1,055,000 in life insurance on his wife in 11 months prior to her bludgeon-knife slaying, the defense asked an interesting question.

"Would you say that Gene was an eccentric regarding insurance of all kinds?" Defense attorney Hyam Segell asked an agent who had procured $700,000 in life insurance for Thompson in little over a month.

"Yes," said the witness, James Richard Treanor, a commissioned agent for Travelers Insurance Co. He was the fourth prosecution witness, called during the second day of testimony.

Thompson is charged with first-degree murder in what the state contends was a three-man plot, masterminded by the husband, to do away with Carol, 34, a choir singer, ardent church worker, devoted housewife and mother.

The state expects to show that Thompson had a girl friend with whom he spent nights dancing, dining, and sharing motel rooms. Prosecutor William B. Randall told the jury he would show that Thompson (See TRIAL, Page 2)

Otepka Dismissal Blasted in Senate

Otepka, head of the evaluation division of the State Department's security office, was fired on charges he gave Senate investigators confidential information from employee loyalty files.

Merchants Plan For Christmas Activities

Christmas activities and the Sinclair Appreciation Day were discussed at a Pampa Merchants Activities Committee meeting this forenoon in the Hospitality Room of the Citizens Bank and Trust Co. Chairman Duggan Smith presided.

Benny Shackelford told the group that the theme of this year's annual Christmas Parade is "Spirit of Christmas". The parade will be held at 4 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 8. Churches, schools, clubs and other organizations are invited to enter floats. Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded to the winners.

Sinclair Appreciation Day is scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 19. Pampa merchants will offer special values on that day. One of the highlights of the event will be the monthly Chamber of Commerce luncheon at which Sinclair and their employees will be honored.

It was announced that the second annual "Santa-Sleigh" ride will be in Pampa on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 13 and 14. Last year, thousands of area children rode the sleigh.

The merchants voted to begin staying open evenings for Christmas shopping on Thursday, Dec. 12. They will remain open until 9 p.m. each day until Christmas eve, when they will close at the usual time.

Also discussed were Christmas street decorations and a "Men's Night" promotion for Friday, Dec. 13. Since the stores will be closed on Thanksgiving Day, merchants plan to remain open until 9 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 29.

Rockefeller Will Announce Thursday
ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller will make his formal announcement Thursday for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Press Secretary Robert McManus said today the governor will meet with newsmen at 8:30 a.m. in the executive chambers of the state capitol here.

Governor Rockefeller will make a statement on his plan regarding the Republican nomination for the presidency, McManus said.

Wallenda 'Pyramid' Crumbles Again; Six Aerialists Injured
SARASOTA, Fla. (UPI) — A high wire snapped with a resounding twang Tuesday when the Great Wallendas aerial troupe tried building a seven-man pyramid for the first time since tragedy struck at Detroit in January of 1962.

The fall this time was only from 12 feet, but three of the aerialists were treated at a hospital emergency room, three others received bad bruises, and the seventh was not injured.

Normally, the act is performed 40 feet above the ground, but the wire was lowered Tuesday for a cameraman filming the practice performance for a national television show, NBC's Show of the Week. The camera caught the entire sequence.

The mishap came as the nimble-footed circus performers climbed up the backs of one another to make the human pyramid on a thin steel wire. The second row of the pyramid was finished and the third row was being built when the wire broke.

The last time the Wallendas attempted the stunt publicly was before a circus audience on Jan. 30, 1962. Two of the performers were killed and a third crippled when the pyramid collapsed and the aerialists tumbled to the floor of the hall.

Three of the troupe working Tuesday — Karl, Gunther, and Herman Wallenda — were in the pyramid at Detroit.

Tuesday, Gunther received deep face lacerations and lost four teeth, Karl was treated for a possible pelvic injury, and Louis Murillo received wire burns, head and shoulder bruises.

College Aid Bill Nears Approval

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A compromise $1.2 billion "brick and mortar" college aid construction bill appeared today to be headed toward relatively easy House approval.

The measure, expected to have a somewhat rougher time in the Senate, would authorize a three-year program of federal grants and loans for construction of college classrooms, libraries and laboratories.

As the college bill started through its last legislative obstacles, House-Senate conferees began work on the tougher problem of reconciling differences in vocational education aid bills.

The House passed a five-year bill quadrupling the present $57 million yearly aid payment for job training schools.

Critics Re-Group On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Critics of the Senate's $4.2 billion foreign aid bill, encouraged by their first breakthrough, re-grouped today for further attempts to increase a proposed $385 million compromise cut.

The bill, approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, would authorize another year of economic and military assistance abroad. The recommended total—almost certain to be cut—is $700 million more than the House voted but $300 million below President Kennedy's request.

Gray County Soil Conservation News

James Cllett plans to do approximately 10 acres of land leveling to improve irrigation water distribution on his farm 10 miles north east of McLean. Cllett is presently irrigating 35 acres of improved pasture.

Milton Carpenter plans to construct a diversion terrace on his ranch north of McLean to control water erosion. R. W. Adams will construct two diversion terraces on his farm east of Kellerville. R. J. Bradley plans to construct some more terraces on his farm south of Pampa.

H. T. Dickens recently seeded a waterway to western wheat grass on his farm south of Kingsmill. H. H. Keahey also seeded a waterway on his farm south west of Pampa.

Alvin Bell constructed a cross fence on his ranch northeast of Laketon. The fence is needed for better grazing distribution. Alvin did a fine job in constructing this fence.

Leslie Darsey plans to construct a dam on his ranch north of Alangreed. Harris King plans to construct a pond on his farm northeast of McLean.

Soil conservation officials say now is the time to construct additional livestock water facilities for those who have a water shortage.

Cost share assistance is available for conservation practices through the ACP and Great Plains Programs. Interested ranchers should contact the local Soil Conservation Service office for further assistance.

Proposition 2 on Special Election Ballot Deals With Public Welfare

Second in a series of three articles on proposed constitutional amendments

By CARLTON WILSON

AUSTIN (UPI)—Old folks, dependent children, blind and disabled Texans stand to gain the most under a proposed amendment to the state constitution to be voted upon Saturday.

The public welfare amendment is Proposition Two on the special election ballot. It would raise the limit on state payments under the federal-state programs of old age assistance, aid to the needy blind, aid to the permanently and totally disabled and aid to families with dependent children.

Texas now has a constitutional limit of $54.5 million on the amount it can pay these people each year. There is also a $25 per month limit on state funds to be paid to a needy aged person and a $20 per month ceiling on funds the state can pay to a disabled person.

The proposed amendment to be decided Nov. 9 would raise that $54.5 million limit to 60 million a year and do away with the monthly maximums for those persons over 65 and the disabled receiving checks.

The limit on payments to an individual hurts the people most who have the greatest need for help, according to State Welfare Commissioner John Winters.

Examples Given

He gives the example of two elderly persons who each need $90 per month. One gets $40 from social security and can qualify for the remaining $50 in welfare payments. The other with no income gets only $83 a month under the present restriction, because the federal government will pay only $58 per month as long as the state share is held to $25.

In aid to the disabled, a combined federal and state total of $69 per month is the most anyone gets with the state share held to $20.

If the state ceilings are removed, total payments of up to $174 per person would be possible. But the overall $60 million state limit would work against such large increases, and the average boost for each recipient would be about $6 or $7 per month.

That increase probably would be $2 in state money and $5 in federal funds.

Old age assistance makes up the bulk of public welfare payments. In the fiscal year ended Aug. 31, 1962 there were 222,770 elderly persons on welfare rolls, with a total state expenditure to them of $45,796,000. There were 5,283 needy blind persons receiving an annual total of $1.4 million in state funds; 7,960 disabled getting $1.5 million and 19,696 recipients of $3.9 million in support for dependent children.

Texas Below Average

National averages of payments put Texas welfare recipients far down on the list of 50 states. The proposed increases would not put the state above the national averages.

Here is the way Texas compares to other states, according to the state department of public welfare:

42nd among the states in per capita welfare expenditures;

33rd in average monthly payment in old age assistance of $64.82 compared to the national average of $72.55.

49th in percentage of population under 18 years of age receiving aid to dependent children;

8th in percentage of its population over 65 years of age receiving old age assistance.

39th in average check for the needy blind with $69 versus $82.22.

37th in aid to the disabled with average checks of $57 versus $75.

46th in average checks for dependent children with $18 versus $30 nationally.

Soviets Willing To Give Chinese Reds a Chance

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union is willing to give Communist China another chance to renounce its "mistaken views" and end the Sino-Soviet dispute, Pravda said today.

The Communist party newspaper said Peking's opposition to the partial nuclear test ban treaty "is a direct departure from Marxism-Leninism and can only bring harm to the international Communist movement."

"It is not yet too late for the Chinese leaders to reconsider their mistaken views on the questions of war and peace in order to regain the trust of the peoples who do not want to perish in the fire of a rocket nuclear war," it said.

The rest of the Pravda editorial, however, was a stiff attack on Chinese policy.

Hall of Justice Mice Become Just 'Bunch of Dopes'

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—It seems that the mice which make their home in the Hall of Justice have become addicted to narcotics.

Peter J. Talmachoff, chief deputy of the criminal division, explained Monday that the mice find their way into a closely guarded room where several hundred pounds of marijuana and other narcotics are held as evidence in pending cases.

"Those mice are addicts," he declared. "They run riot all night, then stagger off to their nest, leaving the floor littered with marijuana."

Mme. Nhu Delays Flight to Rome

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI)—Like any other woman might, Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu wept softly when she saw a photograph of her three children in far-off Rome, it was learned.

The often sharp-tongued Mme. Nhu, whose composure seldom has broken in public, apparently softened at the sight of the youngsters. She and her eldest daughter, Le Thuy, 18, were to have flown today to Rome for a reunion.

But Tuesday night she changed plans and cancelled the journey on the advice of doctors who said she "cannot endure a trip at this time" and advised a "complete rest." She remained secluded in her hotel suite instead.

A hotel source said Mme. Nhu's eyes filled with tears when she was shown the picture taken in Rome and transmitted here via UPI radiotelephoto. She had been advised that the children—Trac, 15; Le quyen, 4, and Quynh, 10—had arrived safely in Rome Tuesday on a flight from Saigon.

STUDEBAKER rips up the record book

AMERICAN STOCK CAR RECORDS UNLIMITED CLASS-CLOSED CAR DIVISION

Certified and sanctioned by the United States Auto Club.

No other auto maker now holds as many USAC records!

At Bonneville Studebaker bucked the world's toughest test course and walked away with the record book. Now, more than 300 world, national and American stock car records belong to Studebaker's stable of pace setters—stock 6 and 8-cylinder convertibles, sedans, Hawks and Avantis. Why did we do it? To prove that safety is bred in the bone of our cars. Safe in the hands of experts at these speeds, and doubly safe for you on the nation's turnpikes. These tests were sanctioned by the nation's most respected record keepers, the U.S. Auto Club. See these spirited 1964 beauties at your Studebaker dealer today.

Pampan Is Held On DWI Charge

James Lee Matlock, 2201 Williston, was arraigned this morning before Justice of the Peace G. L. "Nat" Lunsford on charges of driving while intoxicated, second offense.

Bond was set at $1500.

Matlock was arrested by Pampa police at 6:10 p.m. yesterday in the 400-block of North Cuyler where his automobile had struck a tree.

Officer, Catch That Locomotive!

BRYAN, Tex. (UPI)—Mrs. Clara S. Cummings complained to police that her car was struck Tuesday night by a hit-and-run driver.

She said a freight train backed into her sedan. The engineer alighted, surveyed the minor damage, hand pushed her car off the track and left southward.

Mrs. Cummings told police it was "a blue and grey Mopac Missouri Pacific engine."

Index Cites Need For Used Articles

Tom Beard, president of the Welfare Index stated in a meeting of the group Monday night, that a need for used baby beds, heating stoves and bedding is great among needy families in Pampa.

Clubs, organizations or individuals wishing to fill a food basket to be given to a needy family during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays, should call Mrs. Lillie Stafford, coordinator of the Welfare Index food project, according to Beard.

Mayor of Houston Named League Head

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Texas Municipal League closed its three-day meeting Tuesday by electing Houston Mayor Lewis Cutrer president for 1964 and voicing a resolution to keep cities financially self-reliant.

Midland Mayor Hank Avery was elected first vice president and Richardson Mayor pro-tem W. B. Strange, second vice president.

Kennedy Lent Support

President Kennedy visited Philadelphia last week to help Tate.

The Democratic victory margin compared with majorities ranging from 125,000 to 207,000 in the last three Philadelphia mayoralty elections. Sen. Hugh D. Scott, R-Pa., said the outcome indicated "a sharp reaction against the Green machine" led by Rep. William J. Green Jr., D-Pa.

Mississippi elected Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson to the governorship over Rubel Phillips, a Goldwater Republican. Johnson was an easy winner in a contest between two segregationist foes of the Kennedy administration.

Ohio voters approved Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes' $250 million bond issue.

Republican mayors in Ohio were unseated in Columbus and Youngstown. The GOP did not even field a candidate against Democratic Mayor Ralph Locher of Cleveland.

The results of the Connecticut town and city elections gave a bare edge to the Democrats, who retained Bridgeport, Waterbury, New Haven, West Haven and Hartford and staged upsets in Milford and Meriden.

But Connecticut Republicans were heartened by GOP inroads in Hartford and by the biggest surprise of the balloting, their capture of Stamford's city hall. Stamford had been counted a Democratic stronghold.

In Pennsylvania's normally Republican 23rd Congressional District, Republican Albert W. Johnson easily defeated Democrat William T. Hagerty in a special election to fill the seat of the late Rep. Leon H. Gavin, R-Pa.

Democratic national headquarters held back comment Tuesday night on the voting, but the Republican National Committee issued a statement saying the results gave "cause for solid Republican satisfaction."

"We made dramatic inroads in areas known as Democratic strongholds and in many other contests a definite Republican trend is apparent," the GOP said. "The whole picture is reflective of the grass roots disillusionment with the Kennedy administration."

The Republican leadership said Philadelphia, Kentucky and Mississippi results "have a highly favorable bearing" on GOP prospects in the 1964 presidential election.

Band Club Will Serve Supper for Friday Grid Fans

Attention—Football fans who don't wish to bother with getting dinner at home before the Pampa-Amarillo game here Friday night—The Harvester Band Booster Club will serve dinner from 5:30 p.m. until game time in the high school cafeteria across the street from the football stadium, Mrs. J. M. Saltzman, first vice president of the club, announced today.

The menu will consist of hamburgers, beef stew, potato chips, home made pie, coffee, milk and soft drinks.

In addition to making it easy for fans to eat out before the game, Mrs. Saltzman said, all proceeds from the supper will go into the Harvester Band Fund to help finance band trips and other activities.

Pair Will Attend Red Cross Meet

Mrs. Libby Shotwell, executive secretary of the Gray County chapter of the American Red Cross, and Miss Helen Hampton, secretary of the Red Cross Council of Pampa High School will leave tomorrow to attend the state convention of the American Red Cross in Fort Worth Nov. 8 and 9.

The Fort Worth Chapter will host the meeting which will be attended by delegates from all chapters in the state.

Mrs. Shotwell will extend an invitation to executive secretaries attending the convention to attend the Executive Secretaries Conference to be held in Pampa Jan. 22-24.

Mrs. O. F. Kreymer will be in charge of the local Red Cross office during the absence of Mrs. Shotwell.

Guests at Ladies Night Banquet Hear Swing Band

The "Swing Kings," a group of Pampa High School band members, entertained during a Ladies Night meeting of the Top O' Texas Kiwanis club held in Coronado Inn Monday night.

The band was introduced to the dinner guests by Don Cole.

Warren Hasse announced the numbers, a series of medleys following the style of several well-known orchestras, including those of Jimmy and Tommy Dorsey and Glen Miller. Fred Stockdale high school band director, led the band.

Visiting members of the Downtown Kiwanis Club were Malcolm Denson, Tex DeWeese, Ben Ogden, Les Hart, Roy Kay, Walter Dean, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Evans.

Visiting from the Stinnett Kiwanis Club were Harry Kile, Roy Castle, Joe Schollenburger and Phil Dailey.

David Roberts, a Key Club member, also was present.

Decentralization On Rome Agenda

By LOUIS CASSELS

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Ecclesiastical Council fathers today voted 1,610 to 477 to accept as a basis for discussion a hotly controversial plan for decentralization of authority in the Catholic church.

The vote followed a sharp debate in which the plan came under fire from both liberals and conservatives. The liberals said it did not go far enough in recognizing the right of bishops to run their own dioceses without interference from the Roman Curia. The conservatives said it went too far in granting autonomy to individual bishops and to national conferences of bishops such as the U.S. National Catholic Welfare Conference (NCWC).

Dear Abby.... Tell Him What You Have Written To Me

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband works the second shift, which means he leaves home at 2:30 in the afternoon and comes home after midnight. By the time he wakes up in the morning the children have gone to school. He doesn't even know he has a family. I have all the discipline problems, I am fed up with the full responsibility. Don't tell me he is earning a living for "his family." He has plenty of seniority where he works and could get on the first shift by asking for it. What do you think I should do?

FED UP TO HERE

DEAR FED UP: I think you should tell your husband what you have told me. Unless you have already told him so many times he thinks you're kidding.

DEAR ABBY: Just read "ALL MAN'S" letter. He said, "Women drivers, bah!"

I am a woman driver who has been driving since the age of 16. I am now over 60 and have yet to be involved in any kind of accident, stopped for speeding or given a ticket for overparking or wrong parking. Show me a man with the same record!

I find that most men are "weaver boys." They weave in and out of traffic to get ahead, and when you reach the next stop light, they are sitting there waiting.

ALL WOMAN

DEAR ABBY: I have a relative (through marriage) who is far from poor. In fact she is a lot better off financially than I am. But this woman gives used things for gifts. And she doesn't even bother to have them gift-wrapped. She just puts them in a paper sack. Last week she gave me such a "birthday gift." I gave it to a needy person. She could have bought me three new powder puffs for 25 cents and I'd have appreciated it more. What is wrong with people like that?

HURT

DEAR HURT: It's hard to say. If she's off her rocker, you shouldn't be critical. But if she's simply ignorant, continue to accept the gifts without comment and pass them along where they will bring some joy.

CONFIDENTIAL TO M. W.: A man should never be ashamed to admit that he has been in the wrong. It is another way of saying that he is wiser today than he was yesterday.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Progressive Study Club Has Auction

The Progressive Study Club met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Jess Moore. The president, Mrs. Novella Vanpool opened the meeting by leading the club collect.

"Art in Everyday Living" was presented by Zinnie Bailey. Each member of the club brought something that they had made, and it was auctioned off. Mrs. Ocie Ford made a first class auctioneer for the project and her talent was the delight of all.

The Moore home was beautifully decorated in fall flowers. Following the program, refreshments were served to Mmes. Roy Bailey, R. N. Byer, Ebb Farmer, Ocie Ford, Paul Green, C. B. Kirk, Lewis Lancaster, Elmer Lowrie, J. C. Moore, Bill Owen, C. C. Robison, Lyndon Sims and A. O. Van pool.

Pinochle Played At Nightin' Gal Meet

GROOM (Spl) — The Nightin' Gals Club met recently at the Groom Community Club House with Mrs. Ted Friemel and Mrs. Carl Homer as hostesses. The evening was spent playing games of pinochle. Mrs. Ruby Denton took high score prize and Mrs. Louie Jones low score. Those present were Mmes. Ray Britten, Joe Davis, Ruby Denton, Velma Evans, Charley Fields, Walter Garmon, Glynn D. Harrell, Jim Hermesmeier, Mike Homer, Eldred James, Louie Jones, Ernest Lamberson, Jim Littlefield, Bob Milton, Jack West, Bill West, John Krizan, Miss Beulah Shockley, and the hostesses.

Hobart Street W.M.U. Circles Meet For Mission Study and Programs

The Betty Tension Circle of the Hobart Street Baptist W. M. U. met recently in the home of Mrs. Glen Watson, 1805 N. Nelson. Mrs. Frank Holman read the prayer calendar and Mrs. John Dyer led in the opening prayer. Mrs. Watson, circle chairman, was in charge of the short business meeting.

Mrs. Delmer Barefoot brought the circle program based on the book, "Grace McBride, Missionary Nurse". Mrs. Melvin Heidebrecht was welcomed as a visitor.

Members present for the meeting were Mmes. Arnold Hale, Frank Barnett, Delmer Barefoot, E. J. Moxley, Warren Thomas, Glen Watson, Frank Holman and John Dyer.

Mrs. Hale dismissed the meeting with prayer. Refreshments were served during the social hour.

The Delana O'Brian Circle met at the church for a program preceding visitation.

Mrs. W. R. Brown read the prayer calendar and Mrs. Charles Glascock led in prayer for the missionaries and the sick. Mrs. R. B. Hedrick, circle chairman, told the life of the missionary, Grace McBride.

Six members were present for the meeting. Mrs. H. C. Wilkie closed the meeting with prayer.

The Joy Russell Circle met in the home of Mrs. Tommy Richardson, 2505 Chestnut. The table was decorated with a Japanese theme, following the Royal Service program theme for November.

Mrs. Larry Ray and Mrs. Cairi McAnnally presented the program, a book review of "Grace McBride, Missionary Nurse".

Other members present were Mmes. Woodrow Hyde and Glen Knight. Mrs. Bob Pittman was introduced as a new member and Mrs. Jimmy Clark was welcomed as a visitor.

One of World's Greatest Orchestras Will Appear in Concert on Saturday

The Royal Philharmonic Orchestra of London, which will appear here in a concert on Saturday, at the Pampa Junior High is a comparatively young symphony but it is already recognized as one of the great orchestras of the world today.

The orchestra was formed with the cooperation of the Royal Philharmonic Society, the illustrious musical organization which had had an orchestra of its own throughout most of its 130-odd years of history. Sir Thomas had long been associated with the Society, having conducted its concerts intermittently since 1910 and having been awarded its Gold Medal in 1928.

The new Royal Philharmonic Orchestra played its debut concert in London on September 15, 1946. During its first season it performed at all of the Society's concerts and took part in the Delius Festival that was organized by Sir Thomas. Delius was one of the English composers who was particularly championed by Beecham, and his performances and recordings of Delius' music have been responsible in large part for the revival of interest in this gifted and distinctive composer.

At home the orchestra's varied activities include regular concerts at both the Royal Festival Hall and the Royal Albert Hall, frequent appearances on both radio and television, and numerous appearances in other cities of the United Kingdom. During the summer the Royal Philharmonic is the orchestra of the celebrated Glyndebourne Opera Festival.

For the current North American tour, two distinguished conductors have been selected to share the podium. Sir Malcolm Sargent, now the dean of English conductors, represents the traditions of British music which are closest to those of the orchestra's founder, while Georges Pretre, the brilliant young French conductor who was selected by Beecham as one of his successors, brings the freshness and zest of youth to the orchestra.

Flat shapes are more flattering and not so bulky now that they don't have to compete with teased big-dome hair styles. Bowlers, swaggers, snap brims, high rounded turbans and little tailored hats all rate in the popularity parade.

The word's lowdown on casual shoes. Flats have soft, crescent toes, open throats, light stitching. Often the style goes bare at back and shank.

University Dean Urges Rigorous Courses for Teacher Education

DALLAS (UPI)—The dean of the problems of setting requirements for teachers education at the University of New Mexico yesterday advocated five-year degree programs and warned state legislatures they should not get involved in more stringent requirements for admission into teacher education programs and more rigorous courses were needed to improve education in a technological age.

Speaking about legislatures that have outlined programs for teachers education, Travelstead said, "It is almost unbelievable that a lay legislature body or state board of education would feel qualified to get involved in purely professional problem. "If a legislature is allowed to dictate details of a prepared program in one profession it can and probably will take similar steps in other professions."

Travelstead said the whole system of college accreditation should be revamped. "There are 1,106 accredited colleges in the U. S. to educate teachers," he said. "This number alone shows a glaring weakness in the system, because it shows the accrediting associations have not been very select. Travelstead advocated a national accreditation body such as the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education which lists only 397 schools. Stricter requirements for admission to education programs would draw the interest of more able people into education and not let "just anybody" into education programs. Travelstead also advised education departments at colleges to work closer with the other departments. The five-year program he proposed would include the same balance of general and specific courses, but extend one year subject matter courses and professional education courses. The five-year program would culminate with a master's degree and a thesis or research paper would be optional.

AUSTIN (UPI)—The University Interscholastic League has rejected proposals for Class AAA high school spring football practice and a new class AAAAA for schools with enrollment of more than 2,000.

Results announced Tuesday of the league's legislative council meeting Monday night included an advisory to high schools to abandon the use of fireworks and animal mascots—ranging from a pony to a tiger—at high school athletic contests.

The council approved a proposal to let Class AAAA schools vote in April on allowing ninth graders to participate in spring football drills.

A plan was also approved to let schools decide whether to permit basketball games postponed by weather or "public disaster" to be played in exception to the general rule prohibiting more than two games per week.

In other action the council: —Rejected a proposal for a state football playoff system for class B schools. —Turned down a plan to extend the class AAAA fall basketball training period. —Declined to let Class AAAA schools organize physical conditioning programs before the beginning of fall football practice.

LEFORS (Sp1) — Coach Dunnie Goode, asked if he had any words concerning last week's 13-6 squeaker over Clarendon, shook his head dolefully and said "Not any good ones."

The Pirates, clinging desperately to the hope that someone will beat the Wellington Sky-rockets and give them a chance to get back in the District 2-A grid race, were pushed to the utmost to squeeze out a 13-6 win last week over winless Clarendon.

"We're glad to win, of course, but statistically we should have scored three or four times. We ran them all over the field, but couldn't push across the scores. It was a number of things, but the biggest problem was getting personnel adjusted to new positions. With Lightning Coleman out for the season, we moved end Phil Woodring back and Bill Nichols in Phil's place. They both did well, but, of course, made some minor offensive mistakes. Marvin Todd did a great job at Coleman's linebacker spot, but he wasn't used to the post and made a mistake on a swing pass that gave them their touchdown. We should have these problems worked out by Friday.

"Except for one mistake, our defense was outstanding, led by Edgar Brown, who played the best game of his career. We held Clarendon to 84 yards rushing, the lowest they've been held to all season.

"All kidding aside, we're really worried about Memphis Friday. That's the most improved club in the district. They completely changed their attitude after the Wellington game. They come to play now, and they'll be as good a club as we'll play.

"I heard about that 'cry-baby' tag and the reason that it changed their attitude. Believe me, there'll be no diapers sent from Lefors!"

Pampa Will Play Tough Pass Team

In the Amarillo Sandies, the Pampa Harvesters will run into one of the best defensive teams in District 3-4A, one of the best passers and two of the best pass receivers.

The Sandies have not exhibited an outstanding ground game, and place only eighth in district offense, but rank third behind undefeated Tascosa and unbeaten Borger in defense, allowing opponents only a total yardage of 204.4 per game. Especially rough against runners, Amarillo has given up only 683 rushing yards in five games.

Amarillo started out with one of the better-rated quarterbacks in a district filled with outstanding quarterbacks, in the person of Ben Hankins. The 160-pound letterman junior, however, was hobbled by injuries in the early part of the season, with 165-pound Jim Raglin fulfilling his quarterbacking duties capably, but lacking Hankins' passing touch out of the Slot-T.

Returned to the gridiron wars, Hankins started moving through the air in a hurry, and currently ranks sixth in the district, with the second-best completion average in the league, 25 of 47, good for 305 yards.

Two of Hankins' receivers are tied for sixth place in the loop as each has grabbed off 138 yards total. Fullback - halfback Frank McAlpine is the top target, with 13 catches, and right end Mark Boynton has snared eight.

Hankins throws from anywhere, either side, and on the dead run if necessary. Pampa scouts warn that he will also fake and run for good yardage if no one is open.

McAlpine and Ronnie Edwards, 185, alternate at the fullback spot, with both being consistent ground gainers. Right halfback Tim Warren, 170, is the Sandie scatback and broken field runner, although he shares his post with Mike Kennedy, 155, as coach Burt Bartlett emulates Friday night's rival, Otis Holladay, in platooning his backfield. Sophomore Mike Brewer, 145, alternates left halfback with McAlpine and Edwards.

Top-ranked Albany and three other members of Class A schoolboy football's Top 10 rated teams can earn berths in the state championship playoffs this week—a week ahead of the deadline.

Albany faces a showdown for the District 10-A lead against Baird and a victory would assure the Lions a slot in the northern bracket playoffs.

Sixth and seventh ranked White Oak and Hallsville meet for the 19-A lead and the winner automatically moves into the playoffs. Eighth-ranked Seagraves can make it from 5-A by beating O'Donnell and 10th-ranked Petersburg can represent 4-A by whipping Crosbyton.

Five teams—Merkel of 6-A, Clifton of 13-A, Midlothian of 14-A, Frisco of 15-A and Emory of 18-A — already have won berths.

Eleven other teams, bringing the total to 20 out of the 32 possible winners, could make it this week, too.

Stratford could take it in 1-A by beating Panhandle, Wellington in 2-A over Clarendon, Cantillo — although idle — can represent 7-A if Marfa whips Van Horn as expected. Rankin in 8-A by beating Big Lake, Keller in 12-A by beating Boswell, Round Rock in 23-A by beating Academy, Bastrop in 24-A by whipping Weimar, Houston King in 26-A over Waller, George West in 28-A by beating Nixon, Boerne in 29-A.

Shockers At Tascosa 'B' Three Open Fights Head Optimist Card

The Pampa Shockers hit the road again tomorrow, travelling to Amarillo to take on the Tascosa Raiders at 4 p.m.

Shocker coach Don Myers reported little knowledge obtainable on the Amarillo team, which currently has a 2-4 record, one of their losses being a 22-18 squeaker to Caprock, whom the Shockers slammed last week, 36-0.

Myers warned, however, that among the Tascosa wins had been a victory over Borger, which had given the Shockers one of their toughest games this season.

"If they beat Borger, they must be pretty good," said the sawed-off Shocker skipper. "Besides that, after playing two Amarillo teams, they'll have a pretty good idea of our wide stuff and best gainers and be set for them."

Emulating Pampa head coach Otis Holladay, Myers admitted with a grin that he had a few surprises up his sleeve for the Raiders. "If they're set for Crossland and Roden wide, they might find a few surprises coming at them, we'll just wait and see."

Physically the Shockers are in good shape except for tackle Frank Parrish, still sidelined with concussion. Myers had plenty of praise for the reserves who came in against Caprock when the Shockers were crippled last week, especially Sammy North and Jimmy Williams in the backfield. "That's what it takes to make a good ball club, boys who can fill in when needed."

Little Butch Crossland drew praise for his finest running of the year, as did Joey Roden, who flew for four touchdowns. Larry Daniels did a good job running at quarterback the first half and fullback the second half, with Lynn Heller taking over the man-under duties.

"Our defense came back into its own last week," said Myers. "If they can do it again, we

Three top-rated open fights, headed by a bout between 126-pound champion Johnny Ironmonger of Pampa and defending regional 135-pound champ David McCoy of Amarillo, will feature a night of boxing at the Pampa Optimist Boys Club Thursday night.

McCoy, a rugged contender who has fought some of the best, has dropped down in weight since winning the Golden Gloves title last year, and will be meeting the Iron Man for the first time, headlining Dees of Amarillo's contenders.

Cody West of Borger, 135-pound regional runner-up the past two years, will represent Pampa in an open bout against Steve Hall of Dees. Hall was twice regional runner-up to Ironmonger, and has moved up in weight class.

Steve McCarthy of Borger will represent Pampa in a 140-pound open bout against Don Clements of Dees. Clements, tabbed as one of the real up-and-comers in the game, won four straight high school Golden Gloves titles, and has just entered the open class.

A full card of high school bouts, with at least six already scheduled, will have Ricky Cox, Waldo Green, Bob Thomas, Pete Pettit, H. D. LaRue, Weldon Hobbs and Jesse Velasquez among Pampa fighters. Top high schoolers out of Dees include a trio of brother combinations, Mike and Howard Clements, Neal and Avery Thrasher, and Harold and Larry Austin.

There will also be a number of peewee bouts, starting at 8 p.m.

Myers also reported that the Monterey Lancers had clinched the district B team championship by defeating Tascosa, making them 7-0 with one game left against Amarillo. The Shockers are 4-1 with two games left.

"We'll just have to take the last two one at a time and try to clinch second place."

Last Rodeo This Week

DENVER (UPI) — The nation's top cowboys battled today in the season's last major money rodeo and for berths in the national finals.

The St. Louis Rodeo, which began Tuesday and runs through Sunday, will be the last chance for the cowboys to add substantially to their money winnings.

The Rodeo Information Commission said the tightest struggle in money winnings is between bareback riders John Hawkins, 33, of Twain Harle, Calif., and Buddy Peak, 29, of Tucson, Ariz. Hawkins had won $14,221; Peak $13,887—a difference of $334.

Both Hawkins and Peak moved up a notch in the national standings when the Rodeo Cowboys Association disqualified event leader Paul Mayo of Grinnell, Iowa, after he was found guilty of cheating.

Hard Problem to Figure

It may not be true, as charged, that you can prove anything by statistics. But it is true that you can get good and confused by statistics. Take the matter of marriage and divorce. In 1960 — latest year of record — 390,000 married couples in the United States were divorced. This was approximately one-fourth the number of marriages in the U.S. that year. So your first impulse — unless you're a statistician — is to assume that one of every four U.S. marriages ends in divorce. But the Marriage and Divorce Statistics Branch of the U.S. Public Health Service (how does health get into this?) shakes its head. A truer comparison, says USPHS, is to put the number of annual divorces up against the total number of married women 15 years old and older in this country. Do it this way — and you find that only one U.S. marriage in every 109 ends in divorce. Now this is more like it. Maybe we Americans aren't so divorce-dizzy after all. But wait —

An Abundance of Pioneering

"If we look backward, we can see that the last of the American-physical frontiers has vanished. Gone are the prairie schooners, the great herds of buffalo, the colorful old horse-cavalry winding into the sunset. And every so often some practicing cynic sets up a deafening clamor to the effect that the loss of our frontiers has also brought about an accompanying loss of opportunity for the enterprising. The words are those of Keith Funston, President of the New York Stock Exchange. He made them in a speech soon after he had returned from a trip to the old west. Then he went on to stress his point: "Undoubtedly our last frontier has disappeared, if we interpret the word in only its literal geographic sense. But the word is actually far more inclusive. By definition, a frontier is a region, any region, not yet fully explored and settled. In our contemporary life, it is plain that there is an abundance of pioneering still before us." Indeed, there never was a time when so much effort, knowledge and skill was given to exploring the unknown — and money too. Last year alone $15 billion was spent on research — 100 times the 1940 figure. And research represents pioneering in its highest, most potentially productive aspect. As for opportunity, it is "knocking more frequently than ever," in Mr. Funston's view. To take just one example, to qualify for listing on the exchange a corporation must attain considerable size and stature. Nineteen corporations listed since 1945 — and one began in 1957 with only $1,000 of capital. So it goes — in business, finance, the arts and sciences, in every facet and aspect of human affairs. Never were there so many pioneers — and they seek boundaries our forefathers could not have conceived.

Really Far Afield

Skiing is a fine sport. And ski resorts are needed for its devotees. So much for truisms. But can anyone think of a good and sound reason why the U. S. Treasury (which means the U. S. taxpayer) should finance them? This isn't as unlikely a situation as it may seem. In fact, it has been done. The Rural Electrification Administration loaned $110,000 to a Pennsylvania co-op — and the co-op re-loaned the money to finance a ski resort. Actually, no one should be particularly surprised. The job of electrifying rural America is virtually complete, so the REA

U. S. Supreme Court pages, all teenagers, are now wearing long trousers instead of knickerbockers, long black stockings, and double-breasted jackets which tradition has forced them to wear. A Court order decreed they will look like young men in long trousers, single-breasted jackets and vests. All of which proves the Supreme Court can ordain something that everyone okays.

Memory Lane: Remember when the football season ended, how our interest turned to indoor track? Somehow no runners since Paavo Nurmi have captured the public interest the way he did back in the 20's.

Just in case you were wondering: Louisiana supplied 25 per cent of the sweet potatoes, or yams sold in the fresh market in this country and more than 40 per cent of those canned. Remember when kids walked to school? This year 12 million school children are riding 200,000 buses to and from classes each day. Most of them could use the exercise. The average length of life in these United States is 29 years longer than it was in 1850, according to an insurance survey, which says life expectancy at that time was 41 years. Now it's about 70. Most young mothers seem to consider motherhood a full-time job since only one out of every five married women with youngsters under six years of age has a fulltime outside job. Packaging foods is a relatively new industry. We remember when butter was cut from a tub, also lard. Sugar was bought in 100 lb. bags and flour in the barrel or 100 lb. bags. One of the first products to be hygienically packaged was saleratus, common baking soda. Don't ask us why.

Country Editor Speaking: "When you have money to burn it's easy to find a match." We believe it: Americans smoke 503 billion cigarettes a year. A recent survey shows oral cancer accounts for 7 per cent of all skin cancers reported each year, and only 30 per cent of its victims live more than 5 years. Everyone pays taxes: a Chicago woman left $500 for the care of her dog, but Illinois ruled the pooch had to pay $40 in taxes on the legacy. We like the masthead of the paper in that Pennsylvania town, which tells the 3000 inhabitants: "It's still the only newspaper in the world that gives a hoot about Roaring Spring."

Early Lend Lease: The elaborately carved desk in JFK's office was given to President Rutherford B. Hayes by Great Britain. Landscaping hints: A grounds-keeper at Oxford was once asked how his university had such perfect lawns. He answered: "It's easy. Just plant your best seed and wait 500 years." Brandeis University boasts a National Women's Committee of 73,000 members in 35 states, who underwrite the operating cost of the college library, have contributed $1 million toward its construction, and gave it 35,000 volumes. Today's Smile: Somehow we always fall for those teen-age quiz jokes. The latest to trip us concerned the reason why the boy threw the butter out the window. We learned: "He wanted to see the butter fly."

And financing a ski resort is as far from bringing power to farms as anything could be.

Editor: Recently Alfred Hitchcock remarked jokingly that Television Plays were becoming more and more fantastic. He was joking of course, but it caused me to stop and think, and marvel at what a wonderful world we are living in.

We have, according to the advertisers, a wash day detergent that will take black grease or chocolate out of white clothing without the use of bleach. We have, also according to the advertisers, a tooth paste that will reduce cavities by at least twenty-one per cent; pills that will make you feel great, without upsetting your stomach; cigarettes that will transport you to the mountains or the sea shores with one puff; beer that will change hot summer into winter with one sip, and products that three out of four doctors recommend.

We are made to wonder, however, just how much Mrs. B. is paid to say, "My group had twenty-one per cent fewer cavities," and how much Mrs. V. gets for pretending she, "doesn't know she's on camera." How much certain television stars, ball players and other celebrities receive for saying, "This is my favorite coffee; this product shaves me closer, and leaves my skin soft and cool; this cigarette tastes better than my old brand," and, "I feel great, and my stomach isn't upset."

The same station will advertise three different brands of the same product, and say for each one of them, "This is the best of the three." My mind becomes fuzzy trying to figure out just how all three could be the best yet.

Any child would know that no wash-day detergent can take black grease or chocolate out of white clothes; that any tooth paste, if used, "in a conscientiously applied program of oral hygiene, and regular professional care," will reduce cavities; that no cigarette will whisk you across the continent in one puff, and that no beer can change the season from summer to winter in one sip. That three out of any four doctors, if employed by the manufacturer, will recommend his product, and the other one will be out of a job; and that no hair cream will cause the girls to chase you, no matter how ugly you are otherwise. The proof of the pudding is in the eating, not in the advertising.

Big Hunting Trip May Bag A Bad Case of Tularemia
By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
Many a hunter has gone forth to bag a rabbit and has bagged a case of tularemia. Over 56 per cent of cases in human beings can be traced to rabbits; but the disease also occurs in skunks, beavers, muskrats, coyotes, dogs, cats, chickens and other animals.

It is found in every state of the United States and in Canada. It is transmitted to animals by ticks, deer flies, fleas and lice. Although human beings have been known to acquire the disease in this way, they usually get it by direct contact—that is by handling carcasses of infected animals.

The germ of tularemia is especially dangerous because it is one of the few germs that can apparently penetrate the unbroken skin. It is not necessary to have a cut or bruise for this organism to get into your blood and lymph channels. The meat of an infected animal should not be eaten. It is true that thorough cooking will destroy the germs, yet many cases of tularemia have resulted from eating undercooked meat from an infected animal.

Tularemia has even been incurred by splashing infected blood or contaminated rinse water into the eyes or wiping the eyes with a towel that has become contaminated.

A hunter must always be suspicious of game that is too easy to bag. The animal may be sick. When in doubt put on gloves and open the abdomen. Find the liver and examine it for light colored lumps that are about the size of match heads.

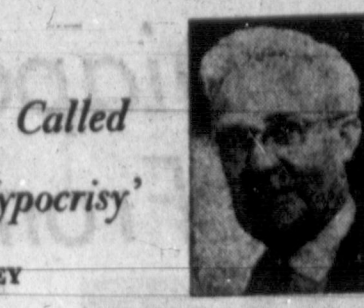

If you are so unfortunate as to pick up this infection, there will be a waiting or incubation period of three to seven days then you may get what appears to be a severe case of influenza with sudden chills, fever, headache, weakness and aching joints. There may also be swelling and soreness of the lymph nodes in the region of the point where the germs first gained entrance into the body.

Since the advent of antibiotics, your doctor is able to do much more for the victims of this disease than formerly, but the best treatment is still prevention.

Tito Welcome Called 'Monumental Hypocrisy'

By ED DELANEY

The monumental hypocrisy of official Washington was shockingly displayed in the reception accorded Josip Broz Tito, self-appointed president of communist Yugoslavia and one of the greatest war criminals in recorded history. One can well conjure in mind the strident protests of millions among our people, if a herman of Heinrich Himmler or Herman Goering, two of Hitler's aides, had the audacity to visit this country. There would be denunciations in the press and from the pulpits against our officials who would countenance the admission into this country of such co-partners in crimes of the dead and gone Nazi regime. But there is thundering silence from many editorial writers, pompous prelates and political parasites when one of the communist murderers is permitted to visit this country.

Tito mowed down row after row of those unarmed prisoners of war. The bodies were then pushed by power shovels into long trenches and tons of earth were dumped on them. Then after the five days of slaughter, the like of which is not recorded in all the annals of warfare, other earth-moving and leveling equipment smoothed out the whole area so there would be little if any possibility of an investigating committee finding the evidence against "Marshal" Tito.

For the past five years, a week has been designated in the month of July, during which the President of the United States exhorts our people to seriously reflect upon the tragic fate of millions in the captive nations. We are asked to renew our pledges of determination to aid them in their struggle for the liberty which is their God-given right. Singularly enough, our State Department and succeeding Washington administrations since World War II, have contrived to disassociate Yugoslavia from their official list of "captive nations." In the concept of the pro-communist coterie so firmly entrenched in the Washington bureau, Yugoslavia is not part of the international communist conspiracy. Tito, they say, declines to submit to the mandates of Moscow, therefore he is not a part of the plot. No indeed. He is a partner who never deviates from the over-all objective of the Kremlin caliph.

Tens of thousands among the anti-communist and anti-Tito inhabitants of what is rightly called Serbia and Croatia, met the same fate as the 140,000 soldiers of Mahaliovic. But the hideous crimes of the communists appear to be condoned by that element in Washington and their kind throughout the nation, who violently react at the very mention of what they term the crimes of "fascists." But they are singularly silent when even more vicious crimes of such as Tito are spread on the record.

By the reception accorded Tito, official Washington has disgraced this nation in the eyes of free nations everywhere. The men around Kennedy have again indicated that we must not only co-exist with communists, we must collaborate with them.

HOW MUCH PROTECTION?

(Christian Economics)
It is being whispered in Washington that Khrushchev compelled Castro quickly to apologize for the Cuban planes that fired upon the merchant ship, Floridian, and that in return we are now protecting Castro from the wrath of the Cuban refugees who would organize commando raids on Communist Cuba. The American people are immensely interested in learning the extent of the protection our government is giving to the maintenance of this Communist stronghold in this midst.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The small, brown-faced man wearing the insignia of a lieutenant colonel in the South Vietnamese army turned from the military map before him and, with his pointer still in hand, told this correspondent: "If we get the people with us then this war is over."

In his words there was frank criticism of the handling of the war effort by then President Ngo Dinh Diem, and that was one reason his name could not be used in Saigon dispatches. Critics of the regime did not last long in Diem's army.

His name still cannot be used. As a director of South Viet Nam's psychological warfare unit, his identity would be of importance to the Communist Viet Cong.

But from the beginning he was one of South Viet Nam's young officers who recognized that loyalties of the people eventually would prove more important than guns in the fight to save South Viet Nam from communism.

"Minds and hearts," he called it.

One Year Ago
The conversation with the colonel of psychological warfare took place a little more than a year ago. Dissatisfaction with President Ngo Dinh Diem was mounting, along with pressure from the Communist Viet Cong.

In the years 1954-61 United States aid to South Viet Nam had amounted to $2.5 billion and was to rise still farther so that it came to $1.5 million per day.

The Viet Cong had forced abandonment of 1,000 classrooms and 600 health centers, 20 per cent of the country's total.

In the course of a year, the coastal railway had been cut 300 times.

In one of the greatest rice growing countries of the world, the government was forced to borrow rice to feed the people.

The war in Viet Nam has been called an indigenous war because, regardless of U.S. advisors on the one hand and Communist Russian and Chinese aid on the other, it is being fought by Vietnamese. It also has been called two wars, one being fought by day and the other by night.

Fighting on the side of the Communists have been some 25,000 regulars, aided by a peasant militia of up to 200,000 and by intelligence supplied by perhaps a million others.

The Lighter Side

He Asked for Reporter And They Sent 'Irwin'

By DICK WEST
United Press International
SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—The "It's a small world" phenomenon works very well in Puerto Rico. I had been here only a few hours when I ran into Irwin Tress.

Yes, I said Irwin Tress. You were expecting maybe Judge Crater?
I knew Tress about 15 years ago when he was a photographer for the International News Service in Miami, Fla. It was in Korea, however, that he became a living legend.

After the outbreak of the Korean War, Lee Ferrero, an INS man in Seoul, began petitioning the home office for additional reporters. Finally, he was notified that help was on the way.

Event immortalized
But Ferrero's joy turned to consternation when his reinforcement arrived. In fact, the event was immortalized in a journalistic folk song, the first verse of which went like this: "My name is Lee Ferrero And I work for INS. I asked for correspondents And they sent me Irwin Tress."

Tress is now public relations director at El Comandante, the San Juan race track. It appeared to me that they were made for each other.

Only someone like Irwin could fully appreciate El Comandante. And vice versa.
Tress conducted a tour of the track one afternoon for me and several other mainlanders from a group of about 300 who came here as guests of the Sheraton Corp. for the opening of a new resort hotel.

Camerero's Grave
"See that floral horseshoe in the track infield?" he said. "That is where Camerero is buried."

"Camerero won 56 consecutive races, more than any other horse in history. Then he developed ulcers and died."
"El Comandante also is the home track of Pedro Juan Vinales, a jockey who rode for 11 years without winning a race. He lost 390 races in a row. People said he was the only jockey in the world who could have lost on Camerero."

"Finally one day, when there were only three other horses in the race, his horse won. The crowd went wild. They rushed

City Officials Urged to 'Watch' Special Interests

HOUSTON (UPI)—The men in city hall jobs throughout Texas need to do more lobbying in the legislature if they want to keep home rule alive, Kingsville Mayor Dr. James H. McCrocklin said yesterday.

McCrocklin spoke to a meeting of the association of mayors, councilmen and commissioners during the Texas Municipal League (TML) convention.

The convention closed with consideration of resolutions. Mayors, councilmen, fire and police officials and commissioners attended the sessions.

"At each legislative session, there are special interest groups which seek—for many different reasons—to nibble away at home rule and the rights of citizens," McCrocklin said. "Therefore, as elected officials, we must be sure that our legislators and our governor are always given the full facts on which to make their decisions about such proposals."

Seven Young Birds Accompany Whooping Cranes on Annual Trip

AUSTWELL, Tex. (UPI)—The overjoyed manager of the Arkansas Wildlife Refuge today reported 31 rare whooping cranes have made the annual trip from Canada to Texas, including seven youngsters.

Jim Johnson, "It (the arrival of the young birds) has been quite a surprise for us." Johnson said that 32 adult whoopers made the trip to their wintering grounds last year. He said it was still early in the season and possibly eight more adults and other youngsters would make the trip from the Great Slave Lake area of Canada.

The number of whooping cranes has dwindled dangerously low almost to the point of extinction, in the last few years. It is always an occasion of great rejoicing when young birds show up in the flock. Whooping cranes have a wingspan of seven feet and are white except for black tips on their wings.

Johnson said that occasionally whoopers can be viewed from the observation tower on the refuge when they seek Blue Crab and small fish at Mustang Lake.

Johnson said until Wednesday of last week there had been only four birds in the refuge. He said the other 27 birds flew in on the wings of a "norther."

"We plan to charter an airplane tomorrow for another flight around the refuge to check on the whoopers," Johnson said.

WHAT IS A PRESCRIPTION?
Medically, it is the written directions of a physician to a patient to take certain medicine in a specific way.

WHY DO WE NEED PHARMACISTS?
Because your health and even your life depends on skilled accuracy. A pharmacist goes more than 10,000 hours to college to get professional training. After serving an internship, a state examination must be passed to be licensed to practice pharmacy.

WHAT IS IN EACH PRESCRIPTION?
First — It contains the knowledge of many years of study and internship by your physician. To get this benefit you paid him his professional fee. Second — You get the prescribed medicine. And, third, — You also get the professional ability of the compounding pharmacist. But, a separate fee is not charged for this. It is included in the cost of a prescription.

HOW MUCH DO PRESCRIPTIONS COST?
The average price is about $3.87. Most of them are less and for the few which cost $5 or more, the ingredient cost alone is about 60% of the total charge.

WHAT ABOUT PRESCRIPTION DISCOUNT?
Our prescription prices are no greater than what we need to operate a good pharmacy. No one can charge less without also discounting service. Most discounters give you a bargain on your first prescriptions as "bait" and then make it up later.
