BULLS BRING BIG PRICE

—J. W. Hawn of Burlington, Colo., and J. P. Calliham of Conway exhibit the grand champion bull of the registered Hereford stock show after Hawn paid $1,550 for the animal during the auction at Recreation Park which concluded the 20th Annual Top O' Texas show. The Hereford bull is JPC Husker Domino 57 and was one of 58 Herefords sold at the auction.

Top O' Texas Stock Show Sale Brings in $49,384 Total

By GLENN McCASLAND
One of the most successful Top O' Texas Stock Shows in its 20-year history came to a close Wednesday afternoon with a total auction sale of $49,384 being placed in the books.

The figure included the Junior Livestock calf and barrow sale, the scramble calf sale and the sale of 58 registered Herefords.

The grand champion Hereford, owned and shown by J. P. Calliham of Conway, was purchased for $1,550 by the Tom Hereford Ranch of Burlington, Colo.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International
Washington newsmen and women need to sharpen their questions and to improve their tactics and strategy if the presidential news conference is to flourish as it should.

President Johnson's first news conference in the elaborate form and size to which the institution has become accustomed took place last week. Except for a carefully prepared and newsworthy statement read by the President at the outset, the news conference was pretty much a bust.

The President was able to deal with most of the questions with pleasant little flights into the area of sweetness and light in which he frankly recognized the seriousness of a given situation but permitted himself hope for improvement.

Not once, for example, did a questioner have or seize the opportunity of asking a follow-up question. Follow-up questions are essential if a newsman is to break through official reluctance to answer the tough ones.

Should Compel Answers
The simple facts of the situation are that the newsmen and the official, be he President or lesser fry, are opponents in a news conference. If the official parries or otherwise avoids direct answers to direct questions, the official wins the conference. If the reporters compel answers, they and the public are the winners.

President Johnson won last week's news conference. There is no doubt about that. Some questions were self-defeating, as for example when he was asked to appraise the political impact of the Bobby Baker case. Johnson rolled with that one, saying that the Baker case was before the Senate where the proper action would be taken when all of the facts were in.

The general nature of the question practically invited the general nature of the Johnson response. The Baker case could have been opened up wide at last week's news conference by picking Bobby Baker up right where the President left him when he discussed that famous stereo at an informal news conference some weeks ago. The President said then that he saw nothing unusual in receiving such a gift from Bobby Baker because the Baker and Johnson families occasionally exchanged gifts.

Question Gifts
The next and obvious question would be: what gifts, Mr. President, did the Johnson family give the Baker family, and when?

Such questions as those would be difficult to avoid by reference to the Senate. The President could, of course, refuse to answer any question.

The President was asked what he meant in his California speech by placing great emphasis on his warning that outsiders who interfered in Viet Nam were playing a dangerous game. "That's what I said and that's what I meant," was the substance of the President's reply.

There was no follow-up on that either although it is obvious that the President's reply did not in anyway illuminate or clarify a situation about which the public is increasingly confused.

The function of the presidential news conference should be the information—not the confusion—of the public.

Canadian Cats Have 41 Out

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor
CANADIAN — The Canadian Wildcats have the same problem in track they had last year — the biggest group of boys in the Top O' Texas area, just about the fewest winners.

relay teams as well as being a weight man. Sandy Fiel is a pole vaulter and last year ran the 880 and on the sprint medley relay squads, this year he is also slated to compete in the hurdles.

Due to the bad weather, Currie has had little opportunity to be in his charges for times so far, and is relying on last year's sprints. The sprint relay team turns Keith Yarnold, David Cook and Bill Grist, Yarnold alternates on the mile relay, Cook the 100-yard dash and in the 800 relay. Grist in the 100. Mike Cullender competes on the 880 and sprint medley.

Only Schaeff and Joe Gutierrez are seniors, the rest are freshmen, sophomores and juniors. This weather has hurt us very badly too and I don't really know what the boys can do or if they would be better in different events. As far as I'm concerned, Gruver will be a test meet for us.

Miami Meets Mighty Roosevelt In Regional Tournament Play

LUBBOCK — Roosevelt, a little suburb of Lubbock, features the state's number-one ranked Class B girls basketball team, favorites to win the state crown and slated to meet the Miami Warriorettes in the opening game of regional play at Canyon tomorrow at 3 p.m.

Although the Eaglettes graduated 5' 11" all-regional guard Bobby Gregory, they return four starters, including two 5-11 forwards.

also suffered practice and scrimmage losses which have not been reported on the regular season record. "They have two good big girls, but outside of them, we have a definite height advantage, especially on our offensive boards. Five-nine Marilyn Murphy and 5-8 1/2 Connie Dodson should rebound their guards, and hustling Cheryl Gill has done a tremendous job in our key games in tying up the ball when a guard got it.

Chicago Group Wants AFL Team

CHICAGO (UPI) — A syndicate of Chicago businessmen expects to have a franchise in the American Football League possibly by 1985 and certainly by 1986, spokesman Bob Nussbaum said today.

The group will make formal application for the franchise at a meeting of the AFL expansion committee late this month or in April, Nussbaum said.

ALTERNATE CANAL ROUTES—Seeking a better ocean-to-ocean route, the United States has explored 30 different ways across the narrow waist of the continent. While these studies are by no means new—they have been going on for more than 15 years—renewed interest has been shown in them since the recent flare-up in Panama, especially the five routes shown on the Newsmap. A score card line-up of the 30 routes would show that 1 goes through Mexico, 7 go through Nicaragua, 11 pass through Panama, 5 go through Panama and Colombia and 6 go through Colombia. Troubles with Panama aside, the present canal is growing obsolete. It is thought that by the end of the century it will be totally inadequate. A sea level without locks is the ultimate goal. It is estimated that another canal built with nuclear explosives would cost about $500 million.

Court Rules Against Paper

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas Supreme Court Wednesday reversed two lower courts and ruled in favor of a newspaper publisher in a case that challenged the status of newsboys as "independent contractors."
The suit was brought by Gerald Witt Love and others against Newspapers Inc., publishers of the Austin American-Statesman, Waco News-Tribune and Times-Herald and Port Arthur News.
A dozen other Texas newspapers joined in the suit on behalf of Newspapers Inc.
Love's son was killed in a collision with a car driven by Otis Franklin, an airman. Franklin had swerved to miss a pickup truck driven by C. E. Cargile, a distributor of the Austin papers. A jury held that Cargile was negligent, even though he was not involved in the collision, and ruled that he was an employee of Newspapers, Inc.
Newspapers Inc. contended that Cargile, like other distributors and carrier boys, was not an employee, but an independent contractor.
The court did not rule directly on the question of whether Cargile was an employee or an independent contractor. It reversed the case and ordered it sent back to district court for retrial on grounds that an improper question was submitted to the jury.

VERSATILE MISSILE—This air-to-surface missile has enabled the British air force to add muscle to its nuclear striking arm. Shown here at Wittering Royal Air Force Base, Northampton, England, the nuclear missile is about to be fitted into an alcove under a bomber's belly, similar to the way in which the sleek, black X-15 rocket plane is held before launching in the United States tests. From its position, the missile can be fired with a range of 100 miles or more.

Castro Ready to Restore Water

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro said Wednesday that Cuba is ready to restore water supplies to the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.
Speaking to a group of foreign correspondents who recently visited Oriente Province, Castro said:
"We are ready to resume servicing water to the Guantanamo base since the situation that forced us to cut the water has ended."
"We said we would not provide water until our fishermen were released and, as they have been released, we are willing to restore service."
"It is true that the fishermen were fined and we paid the fine, because we were not going to leave them there suffering."
Castro referred to the seizure of four Cuban fishing boats off Key West, Fla., Feb. 2 and the arrest of their captains and crews for violating U.S. territorial waters. Some of the fishermen were released because they were juveniles, but the captains and other crewmen were fined by a Florida court.
In retaliation for this, Castro ordered the water supply to Guantanamo cut off. The water has been supplied by a private company from sources outside the base.

The Lighter Side Congressmen Have Problem Over Pay?

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—All signs indicate that members of Congress are getting ready to vote themselves a $10,000-a-year pay increase.
As they go about preparing for this painful ordeal, I would like for them to know that they have my full sympathy and understanding.
Next to voting to declare war on somebody, voting themselves a pay raise is probably the most wrenching duty that congressmen are called upon to perform.
They approach the task gingerly, as though waiting on egg shells. Reluctance is etched in the lines of their faces. Plainly, it is not something they want to do.
But sooner or later they must face the moment of truth.
Each member, acting according to the dictates of his own conscience, or pocketbook, will have to stand up and be counted—provided they are unable to get the thing through by voice vote.
Actually, in my view at least, the pay of a congressman is not as important as his perquisites. Or, to use a more familiar term, the fringe benefits.
BREAK UP STRIKE
SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI)—Police used tear gas Wednesday to break up Communist and Socialist mobs supporting a largely unsuccessful "general strike" here. No casualties were reported.
The strike was generally unsuccessful except in the field of public transportation, already snarled by a separate taxi walkout, but incidents of minor violence were reported throughout the day.

Food Plentiful All Over Nation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Week-end food shoppers will find a colorful and pleasing assortment of meat, poultry, and fresh produce at food stores in all parts of the nation.
Best-vegetables buys at food markets will include anise, beets, cabbage, Texas carrots, green onions, dandelions, dills, endive, mushrooms, medium sized New York onions, parsley, potatoes, radishes, and rutabagas.
Top fruit values will be avocados, honeydews, cold storage and western apples, rhubarb, Florida grapefruit, California navel oranges, and pineapples.
Eggs and dairy products continue as good buys.
Other economical protein buys include fish—shrimp, canned pink salmon, and fish sticks and portions.

Candidate Has Injury of Eye

HOUSTON (UPI)—Broadcast executive Gordon McLendon, a Democratic candidate for the U.S. senate nomination, rested today in a hospital, one eye burned slightly by four hours under glaring television studio lights.
Dr. George Kolodny described the injury as a burn to the cornea of one eye. Its medical term is electric conjunctivitis.
McLendon, 42, of Dallas was pre-recording political television appearances when his eye was burned. He was placed under sedation because of pain and cancelled all appearances, including television, for the week.

Oil Sufficient, Says Executive

HOUSTON (UPI)—America can count on sufficient supplies of energy for many decades, an official of the Humble Oil and Refining Co. said this week.
Dr. Richard J. Gonzalez, a Humble director, said it "is a waste of time to try to predict ultimate petroleum production."
"In the energy industries," he said, "large known resources not economically competitive up to this time are familiar to everyone."
"Known shale deposits of the Rocky Mountains are estimated to contain more than a trillion barrels of liquid fuels, far overshadowing known oil resources."
"However, no commercial production has yet been realized in this country from shale oil," he said.
Gonzalez made the remarks to the Houston chapter of the American Petroleum Institute.

Connally Names Water Panel Man

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. John Connally has named aluminum executive Thomas E. Anderson of Point Comfort as manufacturing industry representative on the Texas Water Pollution Control Board.
Anderson, operations manager of the Aluminum Company of America plant at Point Comfort, succeeds C. J. Shigley of Freeport, who resigned. The term extends through Nov. 8, 1965.

Driving 'Practice' Turns Out Badly

NORTHWICH, England (UPI)—Mrs. Beryl Owen was so fed up with her husband's repeated refusals to allow her to drive the family car that she ran out of the house and drove the auto away.
But, a local court was told Tuesday, the trip only lasted 400 yards. The car stopped in the front garden of a house after climbing a sidewalk and mowing down a concrete wall and a gate.
Mrs. Owen, 29-year-old mother of five, was fined $33 for careless driving and driving without a license or insurance. She admitted "it was a stupid thing to do." It cost her another $59 for damage.
Her lawyer, Geoffrey Culey, told the court "the husband maintained his wife could not drive and she drove the car off by way of an answer."
"One doesn't like to point out to a lady that she is wrong," Culey added, "but in this case it seems she was."

Costa Ricans Refuse to Panic In Face of Erupting Volcano

By CARL E. WARNER
United Press International
SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (UPI)—This tiny central American republic is reeling from an erupting volcano. But the people refuse to panic.
Everywhere there are signs of decay and destruction. Dead cattle by the hundreds in ash-covered pastures, thousands of vital acres of coffee destroyed and crops of berries contaminated.
Rising unemployment has resulted. Coffee plantations are laying off workers by the hundreds. And allied industries such as fertilizer concerns and farm machinery companies also have begun reducing their staffs by considerable numbers.
Three eminent Japanese volcanic experts on the scene here since December predict the erupting volcano tons of volcanic ash over the fertile Costa Rican soil for five years.
Daily Routines
But through it all, the people continue to dress up in their Sunday best and stroll through the monument-studded parque central Sunday evenings and attend to their daily routines as if nothing has happened.
In this bustling capital city 35 miles from Irazu people wear special goggles to prevent the gritty ash from injuring their eyes. They sweep and haul 20 tons of the volcanic menace daily and sometimes even find it mixed with their meals.
At times the air is so full of the black substance that it resembles an extremely heavy fog and settles over the city like a huge blanket.
Broom peddlers are doing a land office business. Sweeping out hotel lobbies, offices, restaurants, stores and other business establishments in the downtown area has become an hourly ritual.
Volcano Will Stop
The Costa Rican people dogmatically insist that in a month or so the stuttering volcano will stop. They've been saying this since the sleeping menace suddenly erupted last March.
Many Costa Ricans still remember that 43 years ago the erupting Irazu all but destroyed the original capital of Cartago at the base of the volcano. Just a few months ago a MISSILE BACKSTOP—This air defense antenna, in Thule, Greenland, is supported by tubular steel legs made of a special alloy to resist subzero temperatures and 185-m.p.h. winds. The big antenna—size of a football field—would catch intercontinental ballistic missiles in its radar fans and warn the North American Air Defense Command of impending attack. Other antenna sites are in England and Alaska.

Tax Cut Effect to Be Seen Next Week

Enactment of the tax bill this week means that the cuts will be reflected beginning next week in the take-home pay of salary and wage earners. Persons in doubt about what the tax bill means to them personally will begin to see the effects for the first time. I agree with President Johnson that enactment of the tax cut is "the single most important step" taken to strengthen the economy since World War II and that the cut "will strengthen our economy and bring a better way of life to our citizens." The new law marks a most important milestone in our economic development because it constitutes a strong endorsement of the free enterprise system. Behind it is the principle that capital freed for spending by the private sector of the economy, by consumers and by business, can bring greater economic stimulus than could a higher level of spending by the public sector by the government.

Journal? Possibly in late June or early July, in time for the Republican National Convention scheduled to begin July 13 in San Francisco. At the moment there is a rush in the Senate and the House to try to clear from committee consideration bills affecting local areas in the country. Many Members feel pressed about this because the Senate is preparing to begin its debate on the civil rights bill, and this debate — accompanied by a filibuster of history-making proportions — is certain to consume weeks if not months of time on the Senate floor. The problem is this: The current Session, the Second Session of the 88th Congress, is the last of the two-year Congress. All bills introduced in this Session will die if not enacted by the time the Session concludes. Many bills have been passed by the House and are awaiting consideration in the Senate — and obviously many of them cannot be considered before the civil rights debate begins. After that debate is over, the Senate will be hard put to act upon appropriations bills acted on by the House in the meantime. It's going to be a very difficult matter for the business of the Congress, particularly that on the Senate side, to be concluded in time for adjournment in early summer. It is possible that the Congress will be recessed for the Republican and Democratic National Conventions and then return to Washington in late summer or early fall. If the Congress follows this course, I predict that it will be difficult to keep the Members' minds on Congressional business; after all, this is a Presidential election year and the focus of the country's attention will be on that.

TO PERSONS writing for them, I will be glad to send copies of two publications prepared by the Congress. One is Senate Document No. 46 containing eulogies to the late President John F. Kennedy delivered in the Rotunda of the United States Capitol on Nov. 24, 1963. The other is House Document No. 223, a most attractive reproduction of the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag — and the musical accompaniment for it — as well as a history of the famous pledge. School teachers and their pupils might be particularly interested in having copies of this.

Columnist Says Scranton Will Be Nominated

DENVER (UPI) — Stewart Alsop, veteran columnist and Washington editor of national affairs for the Saturday Evening Post, said Tuesday Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton may win the Republican presidential nomination. However, the writer cautioned: "Anyone who attempts to predict the Republican victor at the National Convention ought to have a frontal lobectomy."

Alsop said "If someone field a gun to my head" he probably would pick Scranton as the Republican flag bearer. "I don't see how Barry Goldwater can make it — or Nelson Rockefeller," he said. He listed former Vice President Richard Nixon as a "serious possibility" for the nomination but said he felt Nixon had too many enemies.

Alsop added that Nixon's failure to win California from Gov. Pat Brown and New York from the late President Kennedy in the presidential race are "serious disadvantages."

POLARIS MISSILE FIRED CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The U. S. nuclear submarine Woodrow Wilson, cruising submerged off the Florida coast, successfully fired its first Polaris missile Monday.

The bullet-shaped Polaris, A2 climbed to the surface, stopped a column of steam, hovered an instant, then streaked 1,500 miles to an Atlantic target area to the southeast.

OAKLAND TO MARRY LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Songwriter Ben Oakland, 56, will marry Mrs. Beatrice F. Rosebus, 52, on March 8. George Jessel and Tony Martin will be his two best men.

Oakland, who wrote such tunes as "I'll Take Romance," and his bride-to-be were issued a marriage license at county courthouse Thursday.

WIND HAD A (SNOW) BALL—One cold, winter morning, the residents of the Knights of Malta home near Lewistown, Pa., looked out their windows and saw strange things on their lawn. The "things" were doughnut-shaped puffs of snow, some as large as two feet in diameter. Presumably caused by playful winds, the odd-balls had never been seen before by the residents—and none are younger than 75 years old.

High Court to Hear Candidate Test Case

By YERN SANFORD, Texas Press Association

AUSTIN (Sp) — Courts are making the news these days. Texas Supreme Court will hear arguments in an important test case which will determine whether holders of paid political offices can run for the Legislature during their present election or appointive terms. Truman P. Kirk, Abilene lawyer and legislative candidate, is trying to keep 104th Dist. Atty. Tom Todd off the Democratic ballot. Todd's term runs through Dec. 31, although he has resigned effective Nov. 1. Present officeholder is Rep. Allen Glenn of Abilene. Court's decision will affect many local officeholders over the state similarly seeking legislative places this year. In earlier action the State Supreme Court lost little time in polishing off an attempt to ban from jury service, all who saw telecasts of the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald.

High court refused a request, by Jack Ruby's attorneys, for permission to file a petition for mandamus to force Dallas Trial Judge Joe B. Brown to accept two televisioners as defense witnesses.

A day later the court turned down another motion for leave to file a mandamus pleading.

This was from Leroy Roach of Brownwood. Roach has tried unsuccessfully to get his name on the 64th District ballot as a legislative candidate. Area includes Brown, Coleman, Comanche and Runnels Counties. Roach's application arrived after the filing deadline, and was not sent by registered or certified mail. So the Democratic county chairmen rejected it.

James M. Bushnell, convicted of robbery in Orange County nearly 20 years ago, finally won a new trial. Court of Criminal Appeals said he was entitled to one under the recent U. S. Supreme Court ruling that every indigent person charged with a felony must have a court-appointed attorney. Bushnell had no lawyer at the original trial.

Party Leaders to meet—Both Democratic and Republican state executive committees will hold meetings here March 9. Required business is certifying candidates for statewide primary ballots, selection of party convention sites and the place of May 12 meetings to canvass the May 2 vote.

Scene - stealer at the Republican meeting, however, is the decision on whether (and how) to hold a presidential straw vote in connection with the first primary. The GOP will also get a look at its statewide candidates and hear an address by its only gubernatorial contender, Dallas oilman Jack Crichton.

Both party committees may see a little action, too, on a proposed liquor - by-the - drink referendum, which reportedly is getting some backing from unexpected places.

Fire Insurance — Texas cities with low insured fire losses are to be rewarded by lower rates. State Board of Insurance has set new fire insurance rates to take effect April 1.

Property owners in cities with high insurance losses, however, will have to pay more for insurance in the year ahead.

System allows discounts as high as 25 per cent from regular rates for property in cities which have been successful in holding down fire losses. Cities in which high-losses have been suffered are charged as much as 15 per cent above regular rates.

Board also revised extended coverage rates in the Galveston and Pelican Island areas, and promulgated an optional $250 windstorm, hurricane and hail deductible applicable to home-owners' policies and standard fire policies.

PUBLIC APOLOGY LONDON (UPI) — Richard Crossman, a Labor party politician and journalist, apologized publicly to Sir Winston Churchill Sunday for having alleged that Britain's World War II leader once ordered a bombing raid out of personal pique.

The apology and a full retraction appeared in the Sunday Telegraph, where the original allegations had been printed. Churchill had threatened libel proceedings unless Crossman apologized, retracted the false story and made a "substantial contribution" to the Royal Air Force Benevolent Fund.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Edward Vinger & Co., Inc., says "no longer is it possible to make a blanket market recommendation which is 'buy for long term investment'."

"Despite our belief that the present bull market has much further to go both in time and price, we feel that many stocks are overpriced not only on present but also on prospective values and even though good guys maintain bargains are few. Under these conditions, the path of prudence lies in the exercise of even greater selectivity. On the safest courses to follow to purchase securities which offer a satisfactory and safe dividend, are not overpriced in relation to other stocks of comparable value and have not participated in the market movement since 1962."

International Statistical Bureau, Inc. says "the outlook continues favorable for still higher security prices. The internal position of the market continues favorable. Continue to maintain your long positions."
