Oil Slick Located Where U-2 Went In

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI)—An oil slick and bits of debris were located today in the Gulf of Mexico where a high-flying U-2 reconnaissance plane crashed Wednesday during an apparent surveillance flight over Communist Cuba.

The Navy said divers were enroute to the scene and would attempt to raise any wreckage that was spotted.

The Strategic Air Command (SAC) said there was no evidence of hostile action and theorized the jet plane experienced mechanical trouble.

Search planes located an oil slick and many bits of unidentifiable junk about 40 miles northwest of Key West in the Gulf of Mexico, said Capt. Joe Hingson, chief of staff at the Key West naval base.

There was no sign of the pilot, identified as Capt. Joe E. Hyde Jr., 33, LaGrange, Ga., Hingson said.

SAC headquarters in Omaha, Neb., announced the crash. Sources said the pilot did not radio any indication of trouble, but the lack of such a report was inconclusive since the radio cuts off when the engine of the U-2 fails.

It was the second known crash of a U-2 "spy" plane during a Cuban overflight. Maj. Rudolf Anderson Jr., 35, of Greenville, S.C., was killed when a U-2 went down in Cuba on Oct. 27, 1962, during the height of the Cuban crisis.

It was a camera in a sleek black U-2, described by Allen W. Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), as the most important espionage breakthrough of the 20th Century, that first spotted Soviet missiles in Cuba in October, 1962.

The missiles were withdrawn after a tension-packed showdown between the United States and Russia but the U-2s have continued to fly over Cuba to make certain the weapons aren't returned.

Houston Starts Extradition on Slaying Suspect

THIBODAUX, La. (UPI)—Houston police began extradition proceedings today on David E. Williams, 18, charged with the strangulation of a teenage Houston high school coed he met on a double-date.

Murder charges were filed against Williams Wednesday in the court of Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan in Houston. Williams has admitted the killing, police said.

The victim, Donna Jean Tweed, 17, was found by her parents, beaten and strangled on the floor of a bedroom in the family home Tuesday night. Her clothes were torn but police said an autopsy did not show any evidence of criminal assault.

Driving Victim's Car Williams was arrested in Raceland, La., Wednesday on a complaint that he tried to break into a house there. Sheriff Eddie St. Marie said the fugitive, driving the slain girl's car, was stopped on the highway near Raceland and fled on foot into a ditch.

Although armed with a pistol and rifle, he gave up without resistance when officers closed in. He said he tried to disguise the girl's car by painting it two-tone and installing Louisiana license plates. Donna's gasoline credit card was found in his pocket.

Long Juvenile Record Houston police said Williams had a long juvenile record with a history as a runaway. He has been arrested for burglary and auto theft and was wanted for questioning in connection with a burglary when the girl was slain.

He was in the Marines for a short time but was discharged because he could not adjust to the service.

Williams met Donna last week when he and another girl double dated with Donna and another boy. It was Donna's first date.

Williams said he beat the girl with the back edge of a meat cleaver. St. Marie said Williams had nothing to say about the strangulation, "but he admitted it."

Traffic Accidents Increase in City Over Last Year

Pampa traffic accidents and traffic injuries jumped in October over what they were a year ago, according to a monthly report filed with the National Safety Council by Police Chief Jim Conner.

Figures for the first 10 months of 1963 also show an increase over 1962.

There were 49 accidents in October in which 25 persons were injured. In October of last year there were 45 accidents and only 11 persons injured.

For January through October of this year there was a total of 430 accidents with 151 persons injured. This is compared with 402 accidents and 109 persons injured in the same period of 1962.

Alcatraz Birdman Dies in Hospital

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (UPI)—Convict Robert Stroud, the "Birdman of Alcatraz," died today at the U. S. Medical Center for federal prisoners. He was 73.

Hospital warden J. D. Harris said Stroud, who has been in prison for the past 54 years, died unexpectedly in his sleep early today.

He died from natural causes and infirmities of age," the warden said in a brief statement. The warden said prison physicians fixed the time of death between 4 a. m. and 5:45 a. m. today.

Stroud had been a patient at the medical center since July 15, 1959.

He was transferred here from the island prison of Alcatraz, where he conducted the study of bird diseases, that earned him his nickname.

Hemphill Official Hears From Washington on CD Case

CANADIAN—Hemphill County Attorney Jim Crow stated today that he was advised late Wednesday by the U. S. Attorney General's office that the matter of alleged misdealings in Hemphill County Civil Defense property had been turned over to the criminal fraud division of the Department of Justice.

The report concerned a letter Crow sent the Attorney General last month asking what course to take in the matter.

Crow also said that as of late this forenoon he had received no reply from Harry Rathjen, former civil defense director. Crow said, "Rathjen was informed that the County Commissioner's Court told me to conduct an investigation last Friday. He was asked to reply as soon as possible."

Cases of Mischief, Vandalism Reported

Two more cases of malicious mischief and vandalism were reported to police during the last 24 hours.

E. C. Delaune, 621 Lowry, told police someone fired a B-B through a window at his home last night and also shot through a window in a house at 621 1/2 Allen St.

Police were called to check a rock-throwing incident in which a windshield was broken in a car parked in front of Lovett Memorial Library between 8:30 and 9 p. m. Wednesday.

Three Children Die in Fire at Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS (UPI)—Three children died early today in a fire that swept a two-story frame apartment in a residential area.

The victims were identified as Cindy Gilbert, 6, Elbert Gilbert, 3, and Norman Gilbert, 15 months. They were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gilbert.

The father was away at the time. The mother, Jane Gilbert, 27, suffered minor burns.

Fire Chief Herschel Johnson said two of the children were burned to death and the other apparently died of smoke inhalation. All three were trapped in the upstairs section of the building.

Two firemen were slightly injured when the roof of the building collapsed.

Johnson said 10 persons lived in the three-apartment structure and all got out safely except the children.

Mrs. Gilbert ran down a flight of stairs screaming and awake other residents. Two men, LeRoy Sampson and Dale Cox, wrapped themselves in wet blankets but were unable to reach the children. Firemen took one child out a window, but she was dead from smoke inhalation.

Congo Police Drag Newsman From His Bed in Leopoldville

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI)—Congo police, who arrested two Soviet diplomats Tuesday, dragged a Russian journalist out of his bed early today and took him into custody, it was reported here.

The arrested diplomats also were manhandled by Congolese police when they refused to permit security officers to search their briefcases.

The fate of the diplomats, Boris Voronin and Yuri Malokotnykh, remained unknown. Voronin was described as an embassy counselor and Malokotnykh as a press attache.

There has been no official word on the incident involving the diplomats from the Congolese government for more than 36 hours despite a stiff protest by the Soviet Union. The diplomats were taken into custody by Congolese state police.

Well informed diplomatic sources in Leopoldville said the Congolese government may soon declare most Russian and Czech diplomatic personnel in the capital "persona non grata." They said it was unlikely the Congolese government would break off diplomatic relations, but that it probably would permit the two Communist countries to leave a skeleton staff in Leopoldville to handle embassy affairs.

The Soviet journalist detained today was identified as Benik Beknazar, Yuzbashev, 35, who arrived in the Congo a month ago to open a bureau for the Communist news agency Novosti in Leopoldville.

There was speculation the Russian journalist would be questioned about any possible Communist links to opposition Congolese elements.

The Congolese government has hinted that Communist embassies in Leopoldville have supported subversive activities aimed at overthrowing the pro-Western government of Premier Cyrille Adoula.

JFK Visit Starts Democratic Feud

President Backs Space Program

By MERRIMAN SMITH
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—President Kennedy today defended his space program against critics of both parties, saying it would not drain of national resources needed to improve American living standards.

The Chief Executive and his wife, Jacqueline, flew here from Washington to open a two-day, five-city Texas tour with a dedication speech at the Aero-Space Medical Health Center on Brooks Air Force Base outside San Antonio.

The trip, alternately labeled "political" and "non-political" by the White House, also put Kennedy in the role of a political healer. He hoped to unify divergent wings of the Democratic party in the state for a stronger showing in the 1964 election.

Speaking against the background of the medical laboratories at Brooks AFB, the President said too many Americans assumed that space research was without value here on earth.

In his prepared speech, he pointed out, for example, that wartime development of radar gave the world the transistor and that "research in space medicine holds the promise of substantial benefits for those of us who are earth-bound."

"For our effort in space is not, as some have suggested, a competitor for the national resources needed to improve our living standards," he added. "It is instead a working partner and co-producer of these resources."

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., has led efforts to cut the space budget for fiscal 1964 and has been critical of the projected cost of the moon-shot program, saying some of these funds could be better spent on earth programs such as education. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower also has been highly critical of the amount of money being committed to the moon program.

Suite Decorated By Art Patrons

FORT WORTH (UPI)—When President and Mrs. Kennedy walk into their suite at Hotel Texas tonight they will be greeted by floor-to-ceiling art. Fort Worth art patrons were busy measuring the walls and setting up a display that will include works from private and museum collections.

Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will also have their suite decorated, with selected water colors by Western artist Charles M. Russell.

The presidential bedroom will have mainly works by American artists while Mrs. Kennedy's bedroom will be adorned with works of the French and American impressionist school.

Lyndon In Middle Of Fight

DALLAS (UPI)—President Kennedy's "non-political" visit to Texas today triggered a feud between liberal and conservative Democrats that only the Republicans enjoyed.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, who preaches the New Frontier but remains friendly with conservatives in his home state, was in the middle.

Liberals were angry because they felt Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., was being slighted in activities in five cities. They also decried the role conservatives played in arranging Kennedy's three-day visit.

Conservatives criticized Conservative Democrats, who usually share victories with occasional Republicans, were the butt of the criticisms but remained silent. The GOP, in the past, has seized on differences within the Democratic party of Texas to make its greatest gains.

The sponsor of a lunch in Dallas for Kennedy, the Dallas Citizens Council, is headed by J. Erik Jonsson who was Richard Nixon's Texas campaign manager in 1960.

"From the invitation list so far in Dallas," a liberal critic said, "one would think Nixon won, and was coming to Dallas to greet his dedicated workers."

Hoffa's Attorney Guilty, Disbarred

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Two federal judges ruled Wednesday that an attorney for Teamsters President James R. Hoffa was guilty of an attempt to bribe a prospective juror and disbarred him.

The court accused attorney Z. T. Osborn Jr., of conspiring to offer $10,000 for a vote of acquittal when Hoffa goes on trial on jury tampering charges.

The judges said Osborn, a minister's son and former assistant U.S. district attorney, tried to have a "middle man" approach one of 36 prospective jurors in the trial scheduled next Jan. 6.

Hoffa has six co-defendants in the jury tampering trial. He faces a maximum penalty of 25 years in prison and $25,000 fine if convicted.

The union boss and the others are charged with trying to influence by bribes and other means members of the jury in Hoffa's conspiracy trial here last year.

That hearing ended in a mistrial when the jury was unable to agree on whether or not Hoffa had shared in an alleged $1 million kickback from a trucking firm.

Osborn, the attorney who won the landmark Supreme Court ruling on Tennessee reapportionment, has represented Hoffa since the conspiracy trial.

The disbarment applies only to U.S. District Court here. But criminal action and other disbarment proceedings may also be filed.

Federal Judges William E. Miller and Frank Gray Jr., said Osborn admitted he spoke to city policeman Robert D. Vick about contacting Ralph A. Elliott, a prospective juror.

The court said in a Nov. 11 meeting with Osborn, Vick carried a concealed recording device and turned a taped transcript of the conversation over to federal agents.

Miller and Gray said on the basis of the evidence, "the court is convinced, and so finds that the respondent (Osborn) is guilty of an attempt to improperly influence the juror Elliott."

Soviet MIG Shoots Down Iranian Craft

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—A Soviet MIG fighter plane accompanied by two other Soviet military aircraft shot down an Iranian civilian plane Wednesday in Iranian territory, killing two aerial map surveyors, officials said today.

They said the MIG fighter opened machine gun fire on the Iranian plane which immediately caught fire and crashed at a point north of the town of Meshed, well inside Iranian territory.

Two Iranian specialists were killed in the crash, officials said, but the pilot survived, being hurled about 50 yards out of his burning cockpit and picked up unconscious by onlookers. He was hospitalized with injuries.

The unexplained incident came while Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev was visiting Iran on a seven-day goodwill visit. Sources said Brezhnev seemed amazed when Iranian authorities informed him. He expressed his regrets and said he would order Moscow to investigate the matter thoroughly.

Witnesses among a crowd of about 50 persons said they saw the three Soviet planes cross the Iranian border and chase the twin-engine survey aircraft.

OVER 2,500 TICKETS SOLD FOR KENNEDY DINNER

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. John Connally announced today that more than 2,500 persons have already bought $100 tickets to eat dinner Friday night with President Kennedy at Austin Municipal Auditorium.

"Ticket sales have far exceeded my earlier prediction of 2,500," he said. He would not say how far.

A spokesman for the sponsor of the fund-raising event, the State Democratic Executive Committee, said exactly how many tickets had been sold may not be known until meal time because many persons have not reported in on their total sales.

The auditorium can seat 5,000 or more diners. The steak and potatoes menu is being catered by Walter Jetton of Fort Worth.

Foreign Commentary

By JOSEPH B. FLEMING
BERLIN (UPI) — What does it mean when you read that the Americans are sending "test" convoys along the highways to and from Berlin? Why do these convoys differ from ordinary ones?

To understand this it is necessary to know about the sort of traffic that flows normally on these autobahns, or highways.

Western Allied military vehicles form only a tiny percentage of the traffic on the main highway connecting Berlin and the West.

On the average day about 700 German trucks and 3,000 automobiles travel on the Berlin-Helmstedt highway in both directions. Military traffic varies greatly from day to day and month to month. Some days no Allied military trucks travel on the highway. Other days the number of trucks will vary from one or two with only drivers and no passengers up to convoys of 600 or 700 soldiers in 100 or 200 trucks and jeeps.

Most Convoys Small

The large convoys usually carry soldiers of the Berlin garrison to West Germany for training, or bring them back from field exercises.

Or they exchange a battalion based in West Germany for one based in West Berlin.

But most convoys are small. The American one halted by the Russians Nov. 4 and held up for 41 hours had 44 men in 12 vehicles.

Unlike German civilian traffic, military traffic must travel through East Germany on the 110-mile Berlin-Helmstedt highway.

German traffic can use three other roads to the West as well, but the Berlin-Helmstedt highway gets about 60 per cent of the traffic.

All of the military convoys are an expression of the Western right of free access to Berlin.

That convoy had 44 men in 12 vehicles. Of the 44 men, 24 were drivers and co-drivers and 20 were passengers.

It is in such cases that the dismounting dispute can arise. It does not arise when there are 31 or more passengers because the Western Allies then dismount willingly.

It does not arise when there only are drivers and co-drivers because the Russians never have asked them to dismount. It is the "passengers" they want to count.

Test Russian Intentions

But some, because of their composition, are considered "tests" of Russian intentions. Some are deliberately made up of a certain number of soldiers to see what the Russians will do.

The Western Allies have told the Russians their soldiers will get out of their vehicles at Russian checkpoints at each end of the highway to be counted if there are more than 30 soldiers, excluding drivers and co-drivers.

But the Russians have at times asked soldiers to dismount when convoys had less than 31 passengers.

Such a request led to the 41-hour holdup that began Nov. 4.

Littlefield Voters OK Water Project

LITTLEFIELD, Tex. (UPI)—Littlefield voters have approved a $996,000 bond issue to drill a water well 10 miles north of the town instead of near its present water field.

The vote was 532 to 267 with 90 per cent of the qualified voters turning out Tuesday.

Opponents of the distant well lost their argument when they hit a dry hole at the old water field.

Pair Face Jail In Counterfeiting

TIJUANA, Mexico (UPI)—Two accused members of a widespread operation that produced more than $223,000 in counterfeit United States currency face nine years in prison.

George Levi Van Patten, 34, identified as the American ring leader who lived here and at Phoenix, Ariz., and Patrio Becerra Ortiz, 39, Tijuana, were convicted of the counterfeit charges Tuesday.

Judge Mario Gomez Mercado also fined the two $320 each.

David Miranda Barraza, 37, and Gloria Martinez Castro, 36, both of Tijuana, were acquitted of counterfeiting charges, but were convicted of possession of narcotics found in their home.

The woman was sentenced to four and a half years in prison, and her husband to one year.

Authorities said the counterfeiting ring was discovered in September 1962 when a car en route to Mexico City was involved in an accident in the state of Sinaloa, and police found $123,000 in fake bills hidden behind a door panel of the vehicle.

New Mexico Oil, Gas Deals Go at Top Price in Santa Fe

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI)—Oil and gas leases offered Tuesday by the State Land Office went for a total price of $507,329, one of the highest sales in recent months.

The monthly sale offered leases on 20,279 acres with an average of $25.02 an acre, considerably higher than last month and previous months, said Deputy Land Commissioner Larry Bynon.

The money from sales of oil and gas leases goes to the 19 state beneficiaries for current use.

Skelly Oil Co. of Tulsa, Okla., submitted the highest sealed bid of $85,108 for 400 acres in Lea County, 15 miles north of the town of Lea.

Skelly also made the highest sealed bid per acre, $177. Bridwell Oil Co. of Abilene, Tex., made the highest oral bid, $2,100 for 120 acres in Lea County, 20 miles west of Hillburn City.

I.W. Lovelady, Odessa, Tex., made the highest oral bid per acre of $20 for 8 acres in Chaves County, northwest of Caprock.

Labor and Marriage Deals Much Alike

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The similarity between a labor contract and a marriage contract is obvious to anyone who knows anything at all about collective bargaining.

Up until now, however, I was not aware that the resemblance had any official standing with the National Labor Relations Board.

My eyes were opened on this point by a decision recently handed down by an NLRB trial examiner in an unfair labor practice case in Tennessee.

The examiner, George L. Powell, ruled that a dairy products firm acted wrongly in turning over to an independent contractor work that had previously been performed by its own employees.

Powell held that the company should have notified the union before taking this step, which resulted in the dismissal of some of the workers.

In support of his decision he noted that the union-management relationship "in certain respects is like a marriage."

"... we can well imagine the almost universal cry in every home in the land should the husband, without first talking it over with his wife, rent out the spare room in the home to a lovely young roomer, be she blonde, brunette or redhead," he wrote.

Yes, indeed. I can well imagine that. In fact, I can visualize the negotiations step by step.

First there would be what is known in labor-management-marriage circles as a "lock-out." The wife would lock her husband out of the bedroom while she had a universal cry.

These pressure tactics would force the husband to the bargaining table. He would rather go to the dinner table but there wouldn't be any food on it because she was in the bedroom crying when she should have been in the kitchen cooking supper.

Then the negotiations would reach a stalemate, although the husband would have settled for a slice of stale bread.

As a result of the impasse, the issues would be submitted to an impartial mediator—her mother.

By that time the lovely young tenant would have left town without paying her rent. So the case would be settled by the mother moving into the spare room.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone & Co., says that statistically, technically and psychologically the stock market remains very mixed, cautious but generally bullish.

"Many of the immediate features applying to individual groups of stocks such as the oils and motors have undoubtedly been discounted by outstanding strength taking place during the past several months so that some sort of a November correction was certainly overdue," Ward adds. However he notes no major highs have been reached as yet and therefore it is difficult to pinpoint any "significant over-all reversal of the basic upward trend."

Bache & Co. notes that recent weakness in autos and oils has put the averages down, but this is really little more than a recognition of what has been happening to most stocks for the past few weeks. "Astute investors," it adds, "should be on the lookout for attractive values."

Walter Mintz of Shearson, Hammill & Co. suggests a more conservative approach to the market. He feels this is a good time to eliminate a few of the more doubtful issues from portfolios.

Reynolds & Co. notes that the support expected at the 738 level in the Dow-Jones industrial average was lacking and the only two remaining barriers are 733 and 728. "If these hold," Reynolds says, "we will continue to assume that the long primary uptrend is still intact."

Tiny Baby Loses Fight for Life

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Tiny Michael David Huckabee fought a nine-month hopeless battle for his life. Authorities today were seeking his parents to tell them he lost.

The premature baby was born Feb. 17. He weighed two pounds, three ounces at birth but lost to one pound, ten ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Huckabee disappeared during the months that passed and the tot was declared a dependent child. He later was placed in a county home, but recently was returned to the hospital where on Tuesday, he died.

A thought for the day—American poet Walt Whitman, said: "Once fully enslaved, no nation, no state, city of this earth, ever afterward resumes its liberty."

Man Gets Fine, Jail for DWI

Lemuel T. LaMar, 27, of 514 S. Ballard, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated when arraigned in Gray County Court this forenoon. He was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail by Judge Bill Craig.

LaMar was arrested shortly before 1 a.m. today when the car he was driving rammed a tree at Duncan and Yeager Sts.

Patrolman C. L. Wallace, who investigated the accident, said LaMar failed to negotiate the curve from Yeager as he was heading north into Duncan.

According to police, Bronnie Vaughn, 21, of 2109 Christine, a passenger in the car, suffered a slight head and face injury. LaMar was taken to the hospital in a police car and treated for a lacerated lip. Vaughn was taken to the hospital in a private car and treated.

Most hot water is used in the home from 6:30 to 11 a.m., home economists report.

Legion Relents On Photographs

ARILENE (UPI)—The American Legion Post has returned portraits of President Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon Johnson to its walls.

The pictures were removed Thursday because the post had heard that a Kennedy administration spokesman had said "all Legionnaires were alcoholics."

The post said it later learned the quotes did not apply to them, but said the spokesman referred to World War I veterans.

The portraits were hastily rehanging and the post will vote soon on whether to rescind the Thursday vote that had the pictures removed.

CAPTURES CATTLE

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A herd of about 20 cattle broke out of a pen at a packing plant in the Hunter's Point area of San Francisco Monday — but their bid for freedom was thwarted by a blue-clad "cowboy" on a three-legged horse.

Motorcycle police officer Howard Myhre pursued the galloping herd through the streets on his three-wheeler and radioed for reinforcements. A posse from the packing plant rushed to the scene and soon had the

BRITON'S NAME WORTH FORTUNE
TATTERFORD, England (UPI)—What's in a name? For Anthony Duckworth-Chad, a fortune.
He was just plain Anthony Duckworth until Wednesday, his 21st birthday, when he came into his inheritance from his late great aunt.
The aunt, Mrs. Cecil Duckworth, put one proviso in his will—that Anthony had to add her maiden name of Chad to his name. If he did, she said, he would get:
—A cash legacy of 79,000 pounds ($221,200).
—A 2,000-acre estate worth 200,000 pounds ($560,000).
—A 40-room Tudor mansion in this Norfolk town.
—Social status as the squire of Tatterford.
Anthony said it wasn't a tough decision.
"I feel it is my duty to add the name Chad to mine," he said.

FATAL CAR ACCIDENT

Crippled B-52 Lands Safely.

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — A giant, eight-engine B52 jet bomber, its starboard landing gear jammed in the up position, circled Amarillo Air Force base Wednesday night to burn off fuel and then landed without incident.

The huge Strategic Air Command bomber made three landing passes before finally touching down on the runway.

Officials at the base said the plane, which can carry nuclear weapons, had been out on a "mission" but would not say where.

Alabama Jurors Must Send Data Before Journey

By United Press International
The Justice Department Wednesday told an Alabama grand jury it must prove there is substance to charges of improper activities by department attorneys before they are "subjected to public abuse."

In a telegram to the Dallas County (Selma) grand jury Assistant U.S. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall said he would be glad to meet with the panel to learn whatever facts they had of alleged department misconduct during racial strife in Selma recently.

"In view of the extremely grave nature of the charges," Marshall said, "I continue to believe that whatever information you have to substantiate them should be made available as soon as possible."

The grand jury is scheduled to travel to Washington at the expense of the state Monday to ask department officials whether they harbored sex perverts or dope addicts or enticed children to take part in racial demonstrations, or "aided, encouraged or abetted in provoking riots or civil disobedience" here.

"It is hard to believe these charges are seriously intended since no names, dates or other identifying data are given," Marshall told solicitor Blanchard McLeod and jury foreman Robert Wilkinson.

The grand jury probe was touched off by an incident in which Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was given a ride from Birmingham to Selma in a government-leased car to address a Negro rally. But officials here said later their investigation concerned the entire scope of activities by the department.

Marshall, who has repeatedly denied that the grand jury had any right to investigate the government agency's official actions, indicated he will limit questioning to the car incident.

Potter Drops Estes' Charges

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI)—Potter County Dist. Atty. Dee Miller dismissed criminal anti-trust charges against former fertilizer financier Billie Sol Estes and Maynard Wheeler, president of Commercial Solvents Corp. in New York.

Miller said he dismissed the charges because of unsuccessful efforts to extradite Wheeler.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr announced Monday that he had been advised by New York officials to drop an appeal to a New York court decision which blocked Wheeler's return to Texas. The appeal had been pending for several months.

The indictment in 47th District Court accused Estes and Wheeler of fixing the price of anhydrous ammonia tanks so low that it drove out competition.

Miller said that the charges were such that without Wheeler it would be impossible to prove them against Estes.

Estes and Wheeler still face a civil anti-trust suit which is pending in 108th District Court at Amarillo.

Estes has been sentenced to 23 years' imprisonment on state and federal charges. He is free in bond pending appeal of the sentences.

Khrushchev Gets Rocker to Rock With Kennedy

MOSCOW (UPI)—Danish Foreign Minister Per Haekkerup presented Premier Nikita Khrushchev with a rocking chair Wednesday and said he hoped the Soviet leader would rock in the "same rhythm" as President Kennedy.

Khrushchev, who received the visiting Dane in Kiev and discussed international problems including Berlin and Germany, was reported to have laughed and replied that the "same rhythm" is important.

But on the subject of the recent Berlin convoy crisis, Khrushchev was serious and "stood firm."

Haekkerup told reporters after the two-hour meeting in the Ukrainian capital that when the subject came up Khrushchev said the Soviet Union would hold to its position on control procedures.

The rocking chair was a Danish model made of teak and black leather.

Prospective Bridegroom Gets 'Big Lift' From Army to Wed

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—The U.S. Army played cupid Wednesday and a general gave his blessing, as a G.I. finally took off for home to marry the girl he loves.

It started last month with a Texas schoolteacher, Betty Thompson, 24, of Dallas, who tried to hitch an Air Force ride to visit her boyfriend, Pfc. John J. Martin, 24, stationed in Stuttgart, West Germany. His home is in San Diego, Calif.

She wrote to Maj. Gen. Edwin R. Burba, commanding general of the 2nd Armored Division at Fort Hood, Texas, about to leave for West Germany under exercise Big Lift.

"Nice try, no dice," answered the busy general.

Boyfriends Help

So Miss Thompson stayed behind while the "Hell on Wheels" division crossed the Atlantic. But her boyfriend got busy at the other end.

Martin drove to Heidelberg on his own time and wrangled a

Inquiry Scheduled For Former Nazi

VIENNA (UPI)—Austrian authorities disclosed Wednesday that the man who arrested Anne Frank and her family in Amsterdam in August, 1944, has been suspended from his job as a police inspector in Vienna pending an inquiry into his activities under the Nazi regime.

An Interior Ministry spokesman identified the inspector as 52-year-old Karl Silberbauer, a former Nazi party member who served in the German state police during World War II.

The spokesman said Silberbauer, who was tracked down as the result of research by the head of the local Jewish Documentation Center, had admitted he was the German police officer who arrested the young Jewish girl, who died later in a Nazi concentration camp.

Anne Frank and her family had hidden in an Amsterdam attic for years to avoid arrest and deportation as Jews to a Nazi death camp. The girl told the tragic story in "The Diary of Anne Frank," which was found after her arrest and published. The diary was the basis for a play and a movie.

Silberbauer was tracked down by Simon Weisenthal, head of the Jewish Documentation Cen-

10-Year-Old Boy Remembers 'Worst Wreck'

By WILLIAM CLAYTON MONT BELVIEU, Tex. (UPI)—Last Labor Day, Troy Odom was a traffic statistic. Today he is a towheaded youngster with a face full of freckles that almost conceal the scars.

Troy is a shy 10-year-old and his pensive face reflects the tragedy that is listed in the record books as "worst traffic wreck in America, Labor Day, 1963."

Ten persons died in that two-car collision at Dayton, a small town 40 miles east of Houston and only a few miles north of Troy's hometown of Mont Belvieu.

The wreck killed six members of the Odom family, including Troy's parents, his brother and sister and an aunt and uncle. Four persons died in the other car.

Troy was badly torn. His jaw was shattered. His face was cut. There was fear of brain damage.

Troy came out of it the man of the family. He had to make a man's decision and then try to erase from his memory the tragedy.

He had two sets of grandparents. He had to choose one to live with. He decided to live with his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Odom Sr. They live in Mont Belvieu. His maternal grandparents live away from the town he grew up in.

Returns To School

Troy went back to school. He adjusted well.

His grandmother said, "He missed too much of this semester to get a report card, so when they came out his teacher just wrote us a note, 'He is doing real good.'"

"He dreaded to go back, you know. But after a while, he even started getting anxious for the school bus to come every morning."

Troy's grandparents live a few miles out of town, and Troy has had to meet new neighborhood friends.

"There are some boys just across the fence," his grandmother said. "Troy jumps over every time he gets a chance and plays with them."

"We took him trick-or-treating on Halloween," she said. "His mother was so good to talk with Burba as the 2nd prepared to return to Texas after a seven day maneuver.

They chatted about Miss Thompson and the general said he was impressed because she had thanked him for his brief letter.

Then Martin launched his big one:

"Could I fly back with your troops to marry her, sir?"

General Gives Order

Burba turned to an aide to discuss the matter, then nodded his approval.

"I think this is a very fitting end to Big Lift," the general told a beaming Martin.

Today, Martin boarded a C135 jet transport for Texas and a Dec. 14 wedding. He left here at 2:15 p.m. and is due at Bergstrom Air Force Base at 9:30 p.m. CST.

"You know," he told newsmen, "I think the general was right."

Russian Says US Should Give Up 'Atom Blackmail'

MOSCOW (UPI)—A top Russian missile general has urged Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and other U.S. officials "to give up their atomic blackmail and threats against the Socialist world" or face the consequences, Moscow Radio said Wednesday.

It quoted Col. Gen. Vladimir Tolubko, first assistant commander of Soviet strategic rocket forces as saying:

"... American soil would become the theater of military operations from the very first minute of any war imposed on us."

(In a speech to the Economic Club in New York last Monday, McNamara said the West is vastly superior to the Soviet bloc in terms of nuclear weapons. He also said the West has more men under arms and a much more substantial industrial base than the Communist bloc.)

Tolubko was quoted as taking issue with McNamara's remarks "about America's supposed nuclear supremacy." The Russian said:

"... I would once again like to recall a remark by (Soviet) Defense Minister Marshal (Rodion) Malinovsky that we will retaliate for the number of missiles threatening us with a simultaneous salvo of several times the number of missiles, and by such powerful nuclear explosions that they will really wipe off the face of the earth all the installations and industrial and administrative centers of the U.S.A., and completely wipe out the countries that have allowed their soil to be used for American war bases."

Tolubko said McNamara's "boasts" were meant for propaganda and to "soothe" the American public and those in the West who "are learning ever more frequently about the failures of American missile and nuclear-rocket tests."

Tolubko claimed that Russian strategic missiles have no range restrictions and can carry thermo nuclear warheads of colossal strength. He also claimed no limit to the destructive power of these missiles.

Ski Resort May Be Real Redevelopment

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI)—When I recently learned that gambling casinos in Puerto Rico are under the jurisdiction of the Economic Development Administration, I thought I had encountered the quintessence of bureaucratic nomenclature.

Nothing, I figured, could be more appropriate than to define the game of roulette, not to mention blackjack and craps, as a form of economic development.

I now find, however, that in awarding this laurel to the government of Puerto Rico I was underestimating the ingenuity of our bureaucrats back here on the mainland.

In a couple of weeks, a beautiful new ski resort will go into operation in Blue Knob Mountain near Bedford, Pa., and this facility, I must admiringly report, was financed in large measure by the Area Redevelopment Administration.

Aid Ski Resorts

To my mind, ski resorts are even more compatible with economic development, particularly area redevelopment, than casinos.

There are some persons, I'll concede, who may have trouble seeing the connection. For instance, certain congressmen became disturbed a few weeks ago when they heard that money for the ski lift was being provided by the Rural Electrification Administration.

I don't intend to become involved in that controversy other than to point out that a ski lift can't operate without electricity and that Blue Knob is unquestionably rural.

It is not the $110,000 REA loan that fascinates me. It is the $222,155 area redevelopment loan. When you consider the facts, I think you'll agree that the latter loan was exquisitely fitting.

First of all, Blue Knob is in

AT&T Split Spurs Sales

NEW YORK (UPI)—News of a planned 2-for-1 stock split and dividend boost for American Telephone & Telegraph Wednesday triggered a sharp stock market advance on heavy trading.

AT&T, owned by more people in the country than any other stock, jumped more than 5 points in initial response to word that directors plan to boost the dividend on the regular stock in April, split the common stock in June and offer new stock to holders of record Feb. 18.

A 2-for-1 split will give telephone 600 million authorized shares, the largest for any company in history.

FIFTH VICTIM DIES

Hassle on Over Figure of Lincoln

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—A controversy boiled Wednesday over whether a life-like Abraham Lincoln figure that sits, stands, talks and gestures is dignified and characteristic or "grotesque."

Walt Disney came to the land of Lincoln Tuesday to talk about the project, which will be the heart of the $1 million Illinois exhibit at the New York World's Fair.

"He is going to speak to you," Disney said. "His voice is as close as we could get from actual descriptions of this great man. He will appear in a very dignified setting."

"While seated in a chair before speaking he will drop his head in thought, a characteristic Lincoln action," Disney said. "When he is introduced he will stand — putting his hands behind his back — as though deep in thought."

Disney said the Lincoln presentation would appear to audiences "as life-like as I am standing before you — perhaps more so." He said the figure even would tap its fingers on its chair while waiting to be introduced.

New Cheesecake Adds Interest

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
It is a widely known fact that normal men have a well-developed interest in "cheesecake." Cheesecake of all kinds, of course. Mrs. C. M., a bride of six months, has discovered that her young husband particularly likes her chocolate cheesecake.

CHOCOLATE CHEESECAKE
(10 to 12 servings)
1 1/2 cups fine zwieback crumbs
1 tablespoon granulated sugar
1/4 cup butter, melted
2 cups (12 ounces) glazed semisweet chocolate chips
1/2 cup hot coffee
2 packages (8 ounces each) cream cheese, softened
1 cup granulated sugar
4 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
1/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup whipping cream
Chocolate Curis (optional)
Combine zwieback crumbs and 1 tablespoon sugar. Add melted butter and mix until all crumbs are coated. Press into bottom of 9-inch springform pan. Partially melt chocolate chips in coffee over very low heat. Remove from heat and stir rapidly until smooth and blended.

Meanwhile, beat cream cheese until light and fluffy. Gradually add 1 cup sugar. Then add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Gradually add cooled chocolate mixture, vanilla, and salt, beating until thoroughly mixed. Pour into crumb-lined pan and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 1 hour. Cool.

Whip cream and spread on cake. Garnish with Chocolate Curis.

Try Apple Dessert On Crisp Fall Days

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
"An apple a day keeps the doctor away" is a happy thought even though it may be more hopeful than medically sound. But the rich apple dessert given below, sent in by Mrs. T. T., wife of an airline pilot, is "very, very good," her husband says.

RICH APPLE DESSERT
(6 servings)
1 quart diced tart red apples, about 1 1/2 lbs.
1 cup seedless raisins
1 package (3 1/2 oz.) flake coconut
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
3 tablespoons quick-cooking rice cereal
1 cup sour cream

Place apples, raisins and coconut in bowl. Blend together and add sugar, cinnamon, rice cereal and sour cream. Place apple mixture in well-buttered shallow 1-quart casserole. Bake in preheated 400-degree oven until apples are tender, about 30 to 40 minutes. Cool slightly and serve with rich milk, cream or whipped dessert topping.

She included this one for scalloped apples and potatoes, very welcome now when apples are so abundant:

SCALLOPED APPLES AND POTATOES
(Makes 4 to 6 servings)
2 medium apples
4 medium potatoes
3 tablespoons flour
3 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 pound smoked sausage
2 tablespoons chopped onion

Pare potatoes and apples; slice thin. Cut sausage in small pieces. Make white sauce with flour and milk. Put half the potatoes and apples in greased 2-quart casserole; cover with half the white sauce, seasonings, onions and sausage. Then remaining sauce. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees)

Fresh Cranberry-Orange Shortcake

3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
4 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup butter or margarine
2 eggs, beaten
About 1/2 cup milk
Fresh orange cranberry sauce
Whipped cream

Sift the first 4 ingredients together into a mixing bowl. Cut in butter or margarine with a pastry blender or 2 knives until the mixture resembles coarse meal. Pour beaten eggs into a measuring cup, add milk to make 1 cup. Gradually stir into the flour mixture. Knead dough for about 1 hour. Uncover and continue baking until top is browned.

about 20 seconds. Divide dough into two equal parts. Roll each in a round circle to fit a 9-inch, round, layer-cake pan and place in the pans. Bake in a preheated very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 15 minutes or until done. Cool in pans 10 minutes. Turn out onto a wire rack to finish cooling. About 30 minutes before serving, spread Fresh Orange Cranberry Sauce between layers and over top. Sweeten the whipped cream to taste and place over the cake as desired. Cut in wedges to serve. Yield: 8 servings.

FRESH ORANGE CRANBERRY SAUCE
1 pound (4 cups) fresh raw cranberries
2 cups sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup fresh orange juice
Wash cranberries and place in a saucepan with remaining ingredients. Cover and cook only until skins burst. Yield: About 3 cups.

Broiler-fryer chickens are plentiful and on the budget list. Use them often but try to prepare them in many different ways. Try combining them with fruits and vegetables into gourmet dishes easy to make.

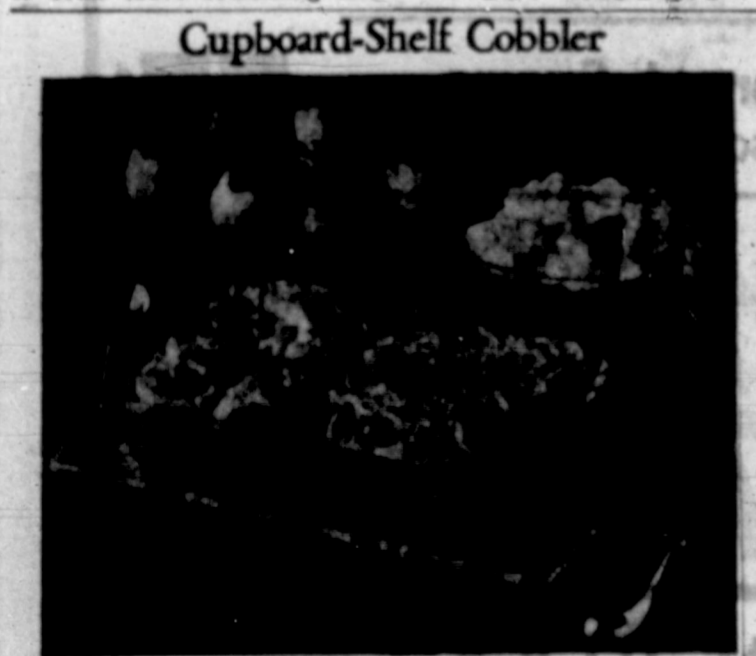

Like this unusual recipe sent in by a high school home economics teacher, Mrs. B. D., who says it is not enough just to learn how to cook. Learning to cook deliciously is the important point. Particularly if a girl hopes to keep a husband happy.

POT O' GOLD CHICKEN
(6 servings)
1 can (1 pound, 13 ounce) cling peach slices
1-3 cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
8 serving pieces chicken
2 tablespoons salad oil
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 cup coarsely chopped onion
1 to 2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1/2 cup orange juice
1 can (1 pound, 2 ounce) small yams, drained
1 package (10 ounce) frozen peas, thawed
Drain peaches, saving 1 cup syrup. Measure flour, salt and pepper into paper bag; shake chicken pieces in flour mixture to coat. (Save remaining mixture to thicken sauce.) Brown chicken in oil in large skillet. In saucepan gradually blend reserved syrup into remaining flour mixture and mustard; add onion, orange rind and juice. Heat, stirring constantly until lightly thickened. Pour over chicken; cover and simmer 20 minutes. Add yams, peach slices and peas. Cover and continue simmering 10 minutes longer.

ROASTING CHICKEN WITH WILD RICE STUFFING
6 large pineapple slices
1 cup pineapple syrup
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon brown sugar
6 whole cloves
1 cinnamon stick
3 cups mashed cooked squash salt and pepper

Roast the already stuffed chicken according to directions on the wrapper. Drain pineapple slices. Combine pineapple syrup, lemon juice, cloves and cinnamon stick in a saucepan. Heat 15 to 20 minutes. Add pineapple slices and simmer 15 minutes. Drain. Arrange pineapple slices around roast stuffed chicken. Season squash with salt and pepper. Mound hot squash on pineapple just before serving. Sprinkle teaspoon brown

Cupboard-Shelf Cobbler

Staple food items found on the average cupboard shelves can yield nearly all necessary ingredients to make a delicious peach cobbler with an almond whipped topping, according to a recipe developed by the Borden Kitchen. Nonfat dry milk, a standard household item, is used to make both the crust and topping.

Peach Cobbler
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)
1 (1 lb. 14-oz.) can sliced peaches
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/2 cup water

1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
2/3 cup Starline Nonfat Dry Milk
6 tablespoons vegetable shortening
1/2 cup water

Drain peaches. In medium-size saucepan combine drained peach juice (about 1-2/3 cups) and cornstarch. Bring to boil over medium heat; stir constantly. Continue to boil and stir for 5 minutes, or until mixture thickens and is clear. Remove from heat. Add peaches. Pour into 10 x 6 x 1-1/2 inch or 1-1/2 quart baking dish. Dot with the butter. Combine flour, sugar, baking powder, salt, nutmeg and nonfat dry milk. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse cornmeal. Sprinkle 2 tablespoons water at a time over coarse mixture. After each addition mix lightly with fork until a portion of soft dough forms. Gently shape dough into a ball. On a very lightly floured board, roll dough to a 6 x 10-inch rectangle. Place on top of peaches. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 20 to 30 minutes, or until top is golden brown. Serve warm with Almond Whipped Topping in small mixer bowl combine 1/2 cup cold water, 1/2 cup lemon juice and 1/2 cup nonfat dry milk. Beat 8 to 10 minutes, or until stiff peaks form. Fold in 1/2 teaspoon each of almond and vanilla extracts. Makes enough for 6 to 8 servings.

Health and Physical Fitness Are Topics of Discussion for P-TA

Spiritual thoughts centered around Thanksgiving was the program theme used by Mrs. John Gill as she spoke to members of the Stephen F. Austin P-TA recently. She read selections from the Bible and illustrated them with scenes on colored slides depicting the beauty of the earth. In conclusion, Mrs. Gill accompanied Mrs. Lonnie Richardson who sang, "God Who Touches Earth With Beauty."

Mrs. R. M. Hampton, president, presided over the business meeting. Mrs. Don Morrison and Mrs. S. B. Sybert were named delegates to the state Convention. Mrs. Sybert gave a report on the recent workshop held in Wellington. Mrs. O. G. Trimble, hospitality chairman, reported that the family night Dinner was a success and thanked all of those who assisted.

Mrs. Don Morrison introduced the guest speaker, George Smith, Pampa Youth Center Director, who presented a speech on the topic, "Physical Fitness."

In his address, Smith brought to light certain elements affecting physical fitness in Americans. He stated that the Americans are weaker by comparison than ever before in history, due to mechanism replacing physical labor. Dated tests show that our children are not as strong as European children or American children of past generations.

Lack of organized exercise requirements in some homes and schools contribute to a great deal of this physical inability, as well as lack of emphasis on fitness in physical education.

"We need a 100 per cent program for boys and girls so that we can fulfill education's major objective — sound minds in sound bodies," he stated.

The Annual Open House was observed by parents of students, teachers, and students of Horace Mann Elementary School on Nov. 14.

The parents were invited to the school and given opportunity to view the work done by students and talk individually to teachers in all rooms.

Guests were registered as they entered. The next meeting, a regular P-TA meeting, will be held in the school auditorium on Dec. 12.

The Clothes Poll

By HELEN HENNESSY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The way the sack died should have answered for all time the question of whether women dress to please men or to impress other women. For the sack was beaten to death by the American male. Here's how it went:

Waistlines and bosoms had been accentuated in fashion for many years. Women were ready for a change. Balenciaga and Givenchy gave it to them in 1957 with the chemise—a dress that was straight, loose and very short.

By the spring of '58, the chemise (or sack) was seen on every U.S. Main St. from coast to coast. And the men had to trade waists and bosoms for legs as a focal point of male interest. They didn't find the switch rewarding. Even when a floppy bow accented a derriere here and there, the sack didn't win over the men. In fact the "girl-wrapped girl in a sack" became the target of many a joke.

The whole fashion industry was looking forward to a boom when feminine America presented a solid front in the chemise.

Lingerie manufacturers saw the need for new and different shaped bras and other underpinnings. Jewelry makers saw the return of the long strands of beads that were worn in the 1920s. Milliners felt the chemise would bring back the popularity of hats.

Yet when a girl would take great pains to dress for a date in her new chemise, her boy friend laughed. Married women who wanted to get into the new fashion picture found that papa didn't like and papa wouldn't pay. And in less than 12 months the sack was put to rest.

Now that would seem to prove that we dress to please the men. But nothing a woman does is that straightforward. What we really did was compromise, not capitulate. We settled for the A-line that lightly skirts the top of the figure and for the shift that doesn't cling much more than the chemise did.

So we got our looser silhouette, with just enough suggestion of fit to please the male audience. And the matter of who pleased whom is still a moot question.

Chic Chat
Q — In my community we entertain a lot at home during winter. All of my friends have taken to the new at-home fashions. They entertain in slim velvet pants and smart tops and look very chic.

I'm tall, but too heavy to wear pants so I wear a dress when I am the hostess. I feel sort of left out. Do you have any ideas that might prove helpful?—Mrs. R. N.

A — There's nothing odd about entertaining in a pretty dress. But if you want to get into the at-home-wear act, why don't you? It isn't restricted to pants. There are handsome, long, at-home skirts that can be worn with an overblouse, a good silhouette for the larger figure.

Or try the colorful side slit, ankle-length shifts for the hostess. Accent them with big costume jewelry and you, too, will look chic when it's your turn to entertain.

Please send your fashion problems to Helen Hennessy in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

ABBREVIATED-ITEM
A new length slip has been designed to wear with the abbreviated fall chemises. It's a wonderful item for under long evening dresses, too, when they are slit high above the knee.

By JOHN F. BARTON
KARACHI (UPI)—The bridegroom is the star of the show in weddings among Baluchistan tribesmen.

Unlike their Western counterparts, who often are overshadowed by the bride even at the engagement party, these rugged tribesmen are expected to prove their ardor right up to the wedding itself by participating in wild camel races and often taking good-natured physical beatings from their in-laws to be.

What foreigners might consider to be a brawl is simply a traditional expression of one's honor and worth in this rugged arid land where people tend to be more practical than sentimental.

After all, isn't the bridegroom taking away a member of the family? It would be considered an insult to the bride and her family if they did not fight to keep her until the very last minute before the ceremony.

These rough rituals, reminders of an era when only the bravest won fair ladies, do not mean that the ancient ceremonies are without charm, however.

Engagements have no age limits among the Baloch tribesmen of the old Northwest Frontier Province. Even children on the way may be engaged. The engagements are irrevocable with heavy penalties to be paid by any party responsible for its not culminating in marriage.

When the date of marriage is finally determined the parents and relatives of the bridegroom bring gifts of scents, sweets, henna and dry fruit to the bride's relatives about one week before the ceremony.

The locks of the bride's hair are opened to show she is about to be married. The girl then is placed under strict confinement in the house, where she is allowed to receive gifts of milk, cream and other foods and articles to help her pass the time as pleasantly as possible. Her sisters and girl friends spend long hours applying beauty aids and singing and dancing to keep her happy.

When the wedding day arrives, relatives and friends of the bridegroom and bride gather in their respective houses, where wedding gifts and the dowry are displayed while beating drums proclaim the event.

Later in the afternoon, the brilliantly costumed members of the wedding party, including the old men with their hair freshly dyed with brilliant henna to hide the grey, proceed slowly to the mosque or shrine, preceded by a band of musicians.

The bridegroom, with his head veiled and carrying an iron rod in his hands, follows the procession accompanied by friends and his many relatives.

Four of his closest friends protect him from dust and a blazing sun by holding a multi-colored silk canopy over his head at swordpoint. His oldest sister is given the honor of carrying a jug of water with which he later will be bathed. To emphasize the closeness of family ties, his long shirt tail is tied to her.

Women sing folk songs commemorating heroic exploits of the family and praising the masculine charms of the bridegroom until they reach a pre-arranged place where he is bathed and dressed in new clothes given by his father-in-law.

Flower garlands are heaped about his head and the eldest member of the family offers prayers for the happiness of the couple.

But the toughest part of the ceremony for the groom is yet to come, for now begin the trials of strength.

While he and his best friend race on camel back to his bride's house to take her away, her relatives pelt him with stones and sticks and shoot arrows, often causing serious physical injury.

After being fooled, tricked and kicked, and sometimes beaten by members of the bride's household, he must smash down the door to her room with his bare hands, twist an iron rod, and force open her clenched fists, a symbolic gesture by which the girl shows she is not anxious to leave her family.

Just when even the hardest Baluchi tribesman begins to have second thoughts about marriage, however, patience and fortitude are rewarded as he whisks the bride away, a hero in her eyes.

Lady Godiva On Scooter Has Helmet

CHINGFORD, England (UPI)—A modern Lady Godiva—a nude girl riding a motor scooter—has started a storm here.

The nude, wearing only a crash helmet, has been suggested as a poster for a council road safety campaign aimed at young people. It carries the slogan:

"But always wear a helmet."

Road safety officers are for it but the town's clergymen are against it.

"Disgusting," said the Rev. Harold Goldsack, a Methodist. "The slogan seems to suggest that they can do what they like provided they wear a crash helmet."

But Charles Henderson, the town's chief road safety officer, said "let's face it—we are living in the age of the nude. If the body beautiful will help to save lives, why shouldn't we do this in road safety?"

Wife's Last Hours Vividly Described

By H.D. QUIGG
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—The last agonized hours of life of the horribly wounded Carol Thompson were to be spread in detail today before the jury trying her husband Gene—a man who has cried once in court at mention of her tragic end and could reasonably be expected to reprise his grief.

Among the 10 or so persons ready in the witness room to take the stand for the prosecution was Mrs. Harry C. Nelson, whose ringing doorbell just after 9 o'clock on the snow-quilted morning of last March 6 "was the last bell that Carol heard."

Carol herself rang the bell of the house three doors from her own. Her head was bludgeoned, her face unrecognizable with thick blood and disfigurement.

Also waiting to testify was the doctor from across the street who also could not recognize her and had to be told "it's Mrs. Thompson—there's a knife (broken) in my throat."

Carol Thompson, 34, respected housewife and church worker and devoted mother of four, died in a hospital four hours later. The confessed killer—he is reported to have signed a long statement—also was waiting in the wings to explode his testimony as a state witness.

Dick W. C. Anderson, a Minneapolis siding salesman, was known for his fondness for the bottle. He also got to gulping pills of unknown potency and efficacy—two witnesses have called them "junk"—and it has been testified he swigged and gulped in double-time, if that was possible for him, after the killing.

The state contends Anderson was the ultimate payee in a "hire-a-murder" crime planned by T. Eugene Thompson, 35, a St. Paul criminal attorney who had more than a million dollars of insurance riding on Carol's life and more than a merely mooning relationship with a brunette mistress, Jackie Olsen, his former secretary.

The alleged middleman in killer procurement and payoff was Norman J. Mastrian, 39, a former sectional Golden Gloves champion who got a bachelor of journalism degree in 1952 and almost immediately—the same year—gained attention as a food store burglar.

Thompson and Mastrian, who were college mates, are accused of first-degree murder, as is Anderson. Thompson's trail is first.

Harvesters Hold Fourth In Stats

Despite a week off, the Pampa Harvesters held fourth place in both team offense and defense in the district 3-4A statistics released today, while Kenny Hebert maintained his position as the only player in the district to rank in every individual statistical department.

The Flying Frenchman held fourth in scoring, total offense and rushing yardage. Although sticking mainly to the ground in Pampa's recent winning streak, The Cooney still holds eighth in passing and seventh in pass receiving.

Hebert has practically clinched a return of last year's punting title, far ahead of his nearest competitor. This week's stats have him booting at a 39.7 average, but a correction to be made in the statistics show that he is actually kicking for a 49.1 average, well over three yards ahead of his nearest competitor.

Pampa's only other statistics ranker, Jerry Garrison is seventh in scoring with six touchdowns for 36 points.

Saturday's opponents, the Borger Bulldogs, rank first in total offense and second in defense. David Dillingham is tied for second in scoring, only two points behind leader Greg Lot of Lubbock. Dillingham also rates second in rushing with an 8.1 average for 622 total yards.

Ahead of him is teammate Neil Bearden, who has picked up five more yards, but carried only 42 times for a fantastic 14.9 yards per carry.

Statistical leaders in the district 3-4A are as follows:

Table with columns: Team, G, Rush, Pass, Tot, Avg. Rows include Borger, Lubbock, Tascosa, Plainview, Pampa, Palo Duro, Monterey, Amarillo, Caprock.

Lefors-Wheeler Bulldogs Last Block In Tascosa's Road

LUBBOCK (Spl) — The Tascosa Rebels still are undefeated in District 3-AAAA, but only by a hair, while the San Angelo Bobcats have clinched a District 2-AAAA crown, as the final weekend of action is coming up.

The Rebels, who will represent the district in the state playoffs if they can stop Plainview Friday, had to come from behind to knot the final score against the powerful Borger Bulldogs, at 14-14 last week.

The top-rated San Angelo Bobcats remained unbeaten in district play, after blanking Cooper, 20-0, for a 6-0 mark. The Bobcats close out regular season play Friday against second-place Big Spring.

Upset of the week in 3-AAAA was turned in by the Amarillo Sandies, who stunned the Lubbock Westerners, 21-12. The loss gave the Westerners a 3-4 district mark and put them at 5-4 for the season. The Sandies are now 4-3 in district play and 4-5 for the season.

In other games in District 3-AAAA: Palo Duro received a scare from Caprock, but pulled out a 20-12 victory; and Monterey recovered from two straight defeats to shut out the Plainview Bulldogs, 21-0.

Final rounds are slated this weekend with the Monterey-Lubbock clash taking part of the spotlight as one of the top rivalry matches in the district. In other District 2-AAAA con-

Texas' QB Mighty Mustangs Meet Is Blocker Mammoth Matador Tors

AUSTIN (UPI) — Fancy Dan quarterbacks who shy away from throwing their share of blocks could head the word of Duke Carlisle, signal-caller for the top-ranked University of Texas Longhorns.

"The quarterback directs the attack and if he doesn't throw a good block he can't expect some plays to go," Carlisle said. "Our quarterbacks get a lot of practice in blocking."

Carlisle also likes to run, and has gained a net total of 385 yards going into next Thursday's annual Thanksgiving Day game against Texas A&M, to be nationally televised. He has thrown 68 passes, completing 30 for another 404 yards gained — not had on a team that accents running.

"All our passes are options," Carlisle explained. "I've called twice as many passes as we have actually thrown."

One play the Duke calls often is the power sweep around end. He pitches back to the runner and then takes out the first defender, with a crisp block that would make a less rugged quarterback cringe.

Carlisle, a sturdy 6 feet 1 inch and 176 pounds, played safety for the Longhorns the past two seasons. His tackling and pass defense left little for coach Darrell Royal to desire.

Professional scouts also believe Carlisle may have the speed and reaction to be a top defensive player.

Royal said recently, in boosting Carlisle for national recognition, "Duke runs the ball, passes, plays defense and is a great thinker. He's the big cog for us."

WHEELER (Spl) — It will be one of the most grinding small-school powerhouses in the Panhandle, featuring "three yards and a cloud of dust" against one of the fastest and most versatile B teams seen in many years when the Wheeler Mustangs meet the Matador Matadors at Clarendon tomorrow night in a repeat of last year's bi-district battle.

"It will be a battle of defense," declared Mustang coach Grady Burnett, "and the team that scores 12 points will win it."

Although the statement seems surprising, as the Matadors have averaged 31 points a game while Wheeler has been held under four touchdowns only twice this season, Burnett went on to explain.

"You haven't seen a defensive ball club like this one before in Class B. We can remember last year. We had first down on their one-foot line and it took us four downs to get the touchdown! They've got the same line back from tackle to tackle that beat us 14-6 last year, so we figure it will be just as hard to score for us, and maybe a little harder for them, we were mostly sophomores last year and we're a little bigger and more experienced now."

"Not only are we going to meet a line as big as ours, but with the exception of their 224-pound boy, tackle Johnny Thomas, those linemen can move as fast as ours can.

"They're a fine bunch of people. Fullback Richard Campbell is everything they say he is. He's fast and he can hit. They base 75 per cent of their running attack on him, and we'll be geared to stop him as we set against Dickie Crockett of McLean and Bob Garmon of Groom, the other fine fullbacks we ran into."

"They play real conservative football mainly, three yards and a cloud of dust. It's good football. Their quarterback will throw a little to keep you honest and their quick little halfbacks will break to the outside occasionally likewise though, our defense will have its job cut out for it."

"Physically, we're in real good shape. Jamie Moore may be over the mumps and ready to play, and Dunk Porter's ankle is coming along real good. We took all the wraps off it and he's running well. He'll be back on defense and we'll need him there."

"We sincerely believe we can beat them though. The game will go to whoever can get two touchdowns, and we feel that even if we have trouble going over the middle, if we can get Porter, Mendall Hunter, Bobby Vanpool or Daryl Sneelgroves in the open for one run or one of Richard Wallace's passes, we can get the scoring edge and hold it."

Lefors-Wheeler 1964 Feature

LEFORS (Spl) — Officials of the newly-reorganized football district 5-B met in Borger this week to set up the 1964 football schedule, reported Lefors Junior High School principal Harry Garrison, who worked on the schedule.

The Pirates drop from district I-A next season, and will be in the new loop with current members Wheeler, Follett, Groom, and Miami, with Booker and Darrouzett moving up from eight-man ball to complete the circuit as Textline moves out.

The expected feature of the area Class B season will take place in the final game of the year, when the longtime Class powerhouse meets the two-time district champion, Wheeler, at Lefors.

The seven-team loop will have three district games and one team open each week from Oct. 9 to Nov. 20, a new late date for Class B teams to close a season.

The Schedule: Oct. 9 — Darrouzett at Miami; Wheeler at Follett; Booker at Groom.

Oct. 16 — Wheeler at Darrouzett; Booker at Miami; Lefors at Follett.

Oct. 23 — Booker at Wheeler; Lefors at Darrouzett; Groom at Miami.

The Ol' Swami Predicts

By JEFF COHANE

THE CRYSTAL BALL was nearly broken over the Ol' Swami's head in the football office as it seems there were some errors on reporting the Experts' standings. When the dust had cleared, Otis The Hat Holladay had 141-45, the Swami was 133-53, the Big Brownie and Ray Howard 132-54 and Skinhead Ramsey was alone in the cellar with 131-55. Everyone is going wild with upsets and guesses in bi-district games, maybe the crowd can pick up.

TASCOSA 28, PLAINVIEW 0 — Rebels brush the Bulldogs out of the way for the district honors.

AMARILLO 14, PALO DURO 7 — A tossup.

LUBBOCK 21, MONTEREY 18 — Likewise.

WELLINGTON 26, STRATFORD 21 — Going along with Dunnie Goode in what should be a high-scoring game.

WHEELER 14, MATADOR 12 — Three yards and a cloud of dust aren't enough to stop the versatile Mustangs.

DALHART 21, TULIA 12 — Wilves gnaw Tulia's previously untouched bones.

DENVER CITY 14, MULESHOE 6 — DC more impressive, may go all the way to repeat.

CORPUS CHRISTI MILLER 21, KINGSVILLE 16 — The crystal was cloudy on a couple of my home-area teams. Switched back and forth til deciding the Buccaneers had played the fourth schedule. (I told my mother to send me the navers!)

DUMAS 28, ANDREWS 6 — Demons still the best in the state.

WICHITA FALLS 20, GRAND PRAIRIE 12 — Coyotes cop district.

MICHIGAN STATE 21, ILLINOIS 14 — Soartans want to take a New Year's truce.

OKLAHOMA 14, NEBRASKA 7 — A tough one to choose.

PITT 21, PENN STATE 13 — Panthers want a bowl bid.

WASHINGTON 28, WASHINGTON STATE 7 — Washington sews up the Pacific Coast.

RICE 14, TCU 7 — Another switch, gotta go with the 'fo'x' as Otis says, he'll make them eat those effies!

MEMPHIS STATE 21, HOUSTON 7 — With deo re-erret.

ARKANSAS 14, TEXAS TECH 10 — Even Eural and Ray get off their Alma Mammy, maybe we can pick one up on Otis.

SMU 7, BAYLOR 6 — Strictly a tossup.

IOWA 21, NOTRE DAME 14 — Since 'em, Hawkeyes!

MISSOURI 21, KANSAS 20 — Another pick 'em.

AND NOW FOR the big, big one. Leo the Lin Dromgoole, the Borger Hedda Hopper, says that the Bulldogs are steamed up after losing the district title. This may be true, but you don't have to do much to get the Pampa Harvesters steamed up about Borger. The Harvesters have been rolling steadily for this one for a long time now, and they won't stop rolling until they come out with their best district record in a decade. One break could decide this game, and I think the Harvesters will get it. PAMPA 14, BORGER 7.

Move Won't Alter Clay's Draft Status

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York City's director of Selective Service said today that Cassius Clay's transfer of physical examination and reported shift of residence to New York need have no effect on the date of his possible induction by Uncle Sam.

Col Paul Akst explained: "The date of his induction will still depend upon the needs of his local draft board at Louisville, Ky. His local board of registration will always be the local board of jurisdiction."

The date of induction is very important to heavyweight challenger Clay, who is signed for a title fight with champion Sonny Liston sometime in February at a city to be announced soon.

Were he to be drafted before the end of February, Clay—who will be 22 on Jan. 17—might be deprived of a tremendous purse and his shot at the most valuable title in all sports.

Cassius had been scheduled to take his pre-induction physical today at hometown Louisville. But his Louisville attorney asked for a transfer of examination to New York. And Clay, now in New York, not only asked for an examination transfer at New York Selective Service headquarters Wednesday, but, according to a Clay secretary, went real estate shopping on Long Island "for a $100,000 home."

Secretary Howard Bingham explained "Cassius has so much business in New York nowadays that he can't stay in Louisville." Bingham expressed confidence that the shifts of examination and residence would permit Cassius to have the February title fight before going into service.

Dick Tiger Defends Against Giardello

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — You can't blame Dick Tiger, the middleweight champion of the world, if he doesn't care whether people remember him when his fist career is over.

He started slowly back in Nigeria. Nobody remembers the guys he fought, such as Black Power, Mighty Joe, Super Human Power, Bolaji Johnson, Eagy Dynamite and Leon Ring.

So in lieu of memories all he wants when he is finished is money.

He'll make another chunk at Atlantic City's Convention Hall on Dec. 7 when he defends his championship against Joey Giardello. The price is 3-1 in his favor and it is possible that this is an overlay when you consider that Sonny Liston is only 5-1 over Cassius Clay. And Liston should, without doubt, be 50-1.

On second thought, Liston should be an "out" bet. Meaning that the Louisville Lip has as much chance as an egg in a cement mixer.

No Sure Bet

Anyhow, to get back to Tiger, he's not such a sure thing against Giardello.

They already have gone at it twice and each has scored a unanimous decision with nary a knockdown over the total 20-round distance. It must be admitted that in their second bit of hostility, Joey copped the Duke even though he appeared to be running out of gas at the finish.

Borger Out Of Tickets

Pampa Schools business manager Homer Craig reports a new first in football ticket sales, as Borger has run out of seats for Saturday's season finale with Pampa at Harvester Stadium.

"We had to send them 300 extra tickets and they wanted even more," said Craig. "This is the first time we have ever had to send more tickets to the visiting team."

Craig reports a very few reserved seats left on the Pampa side, but said that "we will sell general admission tickets as long as they last."

There will be no reserved seats to the Wellington - Stratford bi-district game at Harvester Stadium Friday night. All tickets will be sold at the gate.

One Mistake Fatal, Halas Warns Bears

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI) — George Halas keeps reminding his Chicago Bears that one mistake the rest of the way could be fatal.

A mistake — meaning a defeat — could force those mighty Bears into a conference play-off with the Green Bay Packers to determine which gets a shot at the title game on Dec. 29.

Beating the Packers once is a terrific task. Beating them twice in a single season, as the Bears have done, requires little short of a miracle.

But three times? That's asking a bit too much.

There's a precedent of a sort in the old National Football League. In 1956, the New York Giants beat the defending champ Cleveland Browns twice during the regular season and a third time to break a conference tie.

However, there's also a precedent for what a costly mistake can mean to the Bears and the guy who made the error in judgment was none other than the Papa Bear, himself.

A few seasons back, when the one-time Monsters of the Midwest were taking their lumps in disaster after disaster, George had to admit:

"A bunch of my linemen suddenly got old before their time. It caught us by surprise. We had been drafting college players for other positions. How long it'll take us to catch up I can't say."

It took seven years, but the Bears obviously have caught up in 1963. Their defensive record is little short of fantastic and with a 9-1 record in the Western Conference they have the edge in the race down to the wire.

Coming up Sunday are the rugged Pittsburgh Steelers.

Wellington Pick Over Stratford

Dunnie Goode, the man who should know, predicts that the Wellington Skyrocks should win tomorrow night's bi-district game with Stratford at Harvest Stadium in Pampa.

Goode, coach of the Lefors Pirates, is the only common opponent the two teams have met. Stratford, in compiling a 9-1 record and going undefeated in district 1-A, bested the Buccaneers by a score of 36-7. Wellington met Lefors on the way to an undefeated district 2-A season and an 8-2 overall mark and downed the defending loop champions by 32-6.

Goode says "Wellington is bigger and stronger. They have more depth. They have been an up-and-down club most of the season, but if they play the way they did against us, they should win by two touchdowns."

Assistant coach Eddy Clemons concurs with Dunnie's verdict. "Stratford is more agile and quick, but Wellington is strong, they hit hard, and I would have to pick them to win."

The Elks and the Rockets both have explosive backfields, with Stratford having a slight edge in depth. In addition to the Hudson brothers, Gary and Jim at halfback, with Jim also playing quarterback, they have Charles Plunk, who directed the attack against Lefors, line-smashing fullback Terry Mathews, and two more good halfbacks who alternate John Brannan, and Charles Britten. The Rockets will rely principally on the outstanding running of 181-pound halfback Bobby Hudson, the team workhorse, who has a great speed for his size and can run equally well over or around opponents. Hudson has gained 692 yards in 117 carries. Backing him up are breakaway halfbacks Ken Patterson and Denny

Martin and 177-pound fullback Glen Thomas, as well as quarterbacks Wayne Barton and Gary White. Barton has passed for 739 yards and runs for 501. Patterson has 727 yards rushing and Thomas and White over 400 each. End Chester McLean was caught eight passes for 215 yards.

In addition to the big backfield weight advantage, Wellington has the bigger line, with guard Johnny Maxwell at 203, stand-out tackle Jennings Wells at 195, Skippy Duncan at 198 and Ray Floyd at 193. Stratford will have to rely on line as well as backfield speed as 185-pound center Dennis Plunk and 180-pound tackle Harry Hamilton the only "big men" in the line.

Wellington opened the season with a 32-0 shutout of Hollis, romped over Paducah, 58-22, and then came a cropper with undefeated Tullia taking a 19-0 win. Class AA Shamrock then knocked the Rockets down, 20-8, but Wellington got back on its feet with a 58-0 slaughter of Price College and then rolled through five district games, Memphis 32-0, Lefors 32-6, McLean 6-0, Clarendon 54-8 and Canadian 46-29.

The Rockets had averaged over 350 offensive yards a game and 31 points per contest to opponents' 8.3 going into the finale with Canadian.

Giants' Tackle Learns 'Thinking Man's Defense'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Big John Lovetere allowed today that he had to learn to play a "thinking man's defense" when he came to the New York Giants.

For four seasons with the Los Angeles Rams, Lovetere catapulted his 280-pound frame through opposing lines recklessly and with no purpose but to get his hands on the man with the ball.

Sometimes he did and sometimes he failed, but it never mattered too much because the Rams weren't going anywhere.

That free-wheeling defense, calling for linemen to put on the persistent rush on the passer, is one way of playing pro football. The Green Bay Packers have used it successfully. The Rams obviously did not have the Packers' talent.

And so when Lovetere was traded to the Giants this season, he had to learn a new way of earning his living as a tackle.

"It took a bit of adjustment," the powerfully-built Californian explained. "The Giants play a team defense. We help one another out, I've never been on a team like this before. It's a great feeling."

Play Containing Defense
"We put on the pass-rush when we feel it's called for," Lovetere continued. "But for the most part the Giants play a type of 'containing' defense. When the linemen move forward, we have to learn, almost sense, whether the play is a run or a pass before making the big move."

"You have to think more in playing this type of defense," he went on. "You have to learn not to look into the opposing backfield and to concentrate on beating the blockers opposite you to get into good position for stopping the play."

"I learned more about defense during pre-season training with the Giants than I did in my four earlier years of pro football," he added.

Ironically, when Harland (Svewe) Sware, a former Giants defensive coach, took over the Rams, he tried to install the New York style of defense, but let Lovetere go because he didn't think big John could fit into that pattern.

Lovetere was traded for Roosevelt Grier in what shapes up as another master stroke by Giants General Manager Wellington Mara.

World Of Difference
To Lovetere, there's a world of difference between playing for a contending team and a loser.

"I've really been amazed at this club," Lovetere marveled. "Someone has an injury but you can't keep him out of the lineup. You make a good play and everyone slaps you on the back.

"No one ever chews out anyone. You make a mistake and they tell you to forget it. Go get 'em on the next play. I guess that's what results when fellows have played together for seven or eight seasons."

Did he harbor any lingering resentment against the Rams for trading him 3,000 miles from home?

"Well, I never thought I should have been sitting on the bench that last season there (1962)," he replied. "But I have nothing against them. I was very glad to see them beat the Detroit Lions last Sunday."

"I'm just happy to be with a winner."

Illinois' Attack vs. Spartans' Defense

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Big Ten's big one for the conference championship at East Lansing, Mich., Saturday, represents a stern challenge for the Illinois attack against the Michigan State defense.

Illinois must try to move against a team that has been the stubbornest defender playing all major opposition and the stubbornest rushing defender against all opposition.

Michigan State's Spartans are tops in this week's NCAA Service Bureau rankings in rushing defense, having allowed the opposition 71.3 yards a game, while being the only team among the majors that has allowed less than two yards per rushing play and one of two (with Mississippi) that has limited the opposition to less than three yards on all plays. They also have been the fourth toughest to score against.

Other team defense leaders this week are repeaters — Mississippi in total defense and defense against scoring, Texas Western in pass defense and Southern Methodist in punting. This is the fourth straight week that the rushing lead has changed hands between Mississippi and Michigan State. If the pattern continues, Mississippi will be on top again next week, after which both teams will have played their final games.

The Rebels also show up in punting (third) and pass defense (fourth), making them the all-around defense leader. Memphis State, third in total defense, but not among the top ten in pass defense, is the leader in one pass defense category. The Tigers have had only one touchdown pass thrown against them, making them the only team in the country whose goal line has been crossed by a pass receiver less than twice.

Buffalo is the leader in pass interceptions with 21, followed by Navy and Texas, each with 18. Syracuse has been most passed against (217), but followers of Princeton find it difficult to believe all they read about the increased use of the pass this year. The Tigers are not only ninth in pass defense, having allowed 71.5 yards per game, they have thrown fewer passes than any other major team (68), for 57 passing yards per game.

Those who have been wondering why Miami, Florida, passer George Mira is so far from the individual passing leader, can get an answer from the schedule. Last week, Mira tried his artistry against North Carolina, ranked seventh in pass defense. This week he goes against eighth-ranked Florida.

Army is the team leader in punt returns with an 18.1 average, while Cornell, paced by individual front runner Gary Wood, is also on top in team kickoff returns with a 28.4 average for 30 runbacks.

Old Men Leading AFL Headliner

HOUSTON (UPI)—Two former National Football League quarterbacks in their mid-30s will be out to prove it's an "old man's" game Sunday in American Football League clash between division leaders San Diego and Houston.

Tobin Rote, 35, and George Blanda, 36, will be guiding the Chargers and Oilers, respectively.

San Diego coach Sid Gillman adds that he believes Rote is just as good as Y. A. Tittle of the Giants.

Most football fans thought Rote was through when he played out his option for Detroit in 1960. But Rote went on to play Canadian ball and then to the AFL. He led the Canadian loop in passing in 1960 and '61 and now leads the AFL in yards per pass ad percentage.

Blanda is now in his 14th season as a pro. He came to the Oilers in 1960 after being the highest scoring player in Chicago Bear history. He holds many AFL records and is currently third in league passing.

Houston Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy admits the party will be over Sunday for his team. San Diego graciously knocked off Houston's competition in a three-game roadtrip sweep over Buffalo, Boston and New York—all of the Eastern Division.

"There's no doubt that San Diego helped us with those three wins on the road," Ivy said. "Now if we can just get them to lose at home."

The Oilers have had more success against San Diego than any other AFL team. The Oilers

Thrashers At Perryton B

The Pampa Thrashers will attempt vengeance on the Perryton Deputies in behalf of the Pampa Shockers tonight at Perryton.

The C team Thrashers will close out their season with a clash with the fast and powerful Perryton B, which handed the Shockers one of their two defeats this season, 22-14.

"The Thrashers are composed of boys from the variety and the Shockers who have not played in 10 games this season. Some of them will be meeting Perryton for the second time, and they would like revenge."

Probable starting backfield for the Thrashers will have Tommy Henley at quarterback, Larry Cotten at tailback, Chuck Cauthorn at wingback and Jimmy Williams at fullback. Linemen from left end to right end on offense will be Nolan "Duck" Ellis, Wayne Hill, Barry Craig, Mike Sanders, Scott Epperson, Ronnie Kline and Gerald Sykes.

Defensive changes will have David Geer at guard, Randy Scott middle linebacker, Jerry Simpson halfback, Don Dinkins and Haskell McLain at ends.

Kyle Vann will see plenty of action at quarterback, with Timmie Woods at wingback and Charlie Walker and Glenn Abbott at tailbacks. Greg Locke and David Taylor will also see line play.

Now—'64 Chevy II...

with a V8 engine

Now you see it. Now you don't. When a Chevy II does that kind of disappearing act you know without looking twice: It's a '64 with a V8 engine.

That's right. A full-grown 195-hp Turbo-Fire V8. It's available for the first time this year along with a choice of three other engines—the standard 4 (in 100 Series sedans), the standard 6 and a new 155-hp 6. (And all of them, happily, maintain their high spirits on modest amounts of regular gasoline.)

You can take this V8 through the gears most any way you choose—with personal encouragement from a finely honed 4-speed shift* if you like.

But the changes that have come over this new Chevy II aren't by any means confined to what happens when you slip into the driver's seat.

There are new styling features like the tasteful grille design and trim accents, for instance. And the larger self-adjusting brakes that further reduce upkeep on a car that already has a reputation of coming about as close to perpetual motion as anything on four wheels can get.

The place to get the full details on the '64 is your Chevrolet dealer's. And after you've got them, we hope you'll attend to one further detail yourself. Drive it.

Dropping Out Again

It was a nice try, we suppose, but it didn't work. Jaw-boning seldom does.

The problem was that in an age when chances of earning a good living without a good education are increasingly slight, too many teen-agers were leaving high school before they finished. Discussion of the "drop-out" problem were heard in all quarters, and everybody agreed that it was a bad thing.

So the Federal Government financed a nation-wide campaign to persuade those drop-outs to drop back in again, and some were actually beguiled into doing it. What they found back in school were the same problems that had caused them to leave in the first place.

The National Education Association, which was very high on the program, now is disillusioned, and fears that nine of every ten students who returned to schools will no longer be in school by January. The casualties already have been heavy.

Only $250,000 of tax money was used for the experiment, which makes this less costly than most of the Government's flops. Still, that sum represents the lifetime taxes sweated out of about four prosperous families whose heads thought it worthwhile to get an education on their own.

What's wrong, we suspect, is the notion that the application of money, propaganda and Federal assistance will solve all problems, economic and personal. The same sort of reasoning has been applied to many other problems in the past, with results scanty in all proportions to the costs. Other such experiments are under way, as in the field of juvenile delinquency.

Each failure amazes the believers in the power of government for good. The Alliance for Progress can't be charged with the emergency of new dictatorships in Latin America, but the fact remains that the situation to the South has deteriorated rather than improved since the grand plan was begun. Washington registers surprise.

We enter into compacts to inflate artificially the world prices of wheat, sugar and coffee, the result is overproduction and surpluses, and Washington registers surprise.

Federal programs' faithful followers will never give up, but this is no reason the rest of us shouldn't recognize ineptitude when we see it.

Incredible

There have been so many taxes imposed that even our credibility is now being taxed.

Three Leaky Ceilings

The permanent debt limit of the United States is grand enough at $285 billion, or so it seems to us at the moment, as we happen to have just over $6 in our wallet.

But the permanent ceiling, as we all know, is just a milepost on the way to all-out debt. In effect also is a "temporary" debt ceiling $14 billion higher, at $309 billion.

But the House Ways and Means Committee has approved a third ceiling, $6 billion above the temporary one, at $315 billion. This is a temporary, temporary ceiling, good only until June 30, at which time it will expire in theory and our Government will be allowed to owe only $309 billion again.

The same committee, and the whole House, have approved an income tax rate reduction, which means, as all hands know, that the temporary ceiling will have to stay there or be lifted. There is an alternative, of course, which is to reduce spending in an election year.

Mention it to any Washington official and he will laugh till the tears come.

True, the taxpayers are stirred up again and demanding economy. That happens every so often, and Washington promises to give it to them. The last time there was an effective public outcry for economy the budget was cut back one year, and enlarged the next. Washington does as poorly with economy as some of us do with diets.

Signs of backsliding already are appearing. There's little chance to stop another blanket pay raise for Federal workers. Many Congressmen are receptive in theory and our Government will be allowed to owe only $309 billion again.

The climate of Korea is humid and continental, similar in many respects to the United States between Georgia and Maine. Korea, however, has a pronounced rainy season in summer and relatively dry winters. The hot moist summers are well suited to growing rice.

Your Blood Is Needed.

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," says an old English proverb that dates back at least to the 16th century. We are reminded of this by a line in an announcement of the recent meeting of the American Association of Blood Banks.

This valuable organization of hospital and community blood banks is an out-growth, remarkably enough, of the terrible Texas City disaster in 1947. The banks which cooperated to save lives after the ship explosion there felt the need for continual cooperation and formed an organization. It now has 3.8 million members in ever state and 25 foreign countries.

It has established standards for blood banks, a national clearing house system, regional reference laboratories, and a central file of rare donors. The workings of the last two often save lives dramatically by turning up rare blood types in emergencies.

The life of a woman in Wichita Falls, Texas, for example, was recently saved by blood flown to her from Boston, Milwaukee, and California donors. Blood from Memphis, Tenn., similarly saved a woman in Jersey City.

Since 1961, the Association and the American Red Cross have cooperated to permit local donation of blood for credit to friends or relatives anywhere in the country. But it all still depends on the human blood donor. So far, there is no other source. If you are between 21 and 60 and in good health you should give blood regularly to your local blood bank or collection center.

Riders Pick Judges For Playoff Rodeo

DENVER (Sp)—The nation's top cowboys today picked the men they wanted to judge their competitive efforts during pro rodeo's title playoffs next week in Los Angeles.

Ballots were counted from the season's 90 high money winners who make up the contestant roster for the fifth annual National Finals Rodeo set for next Tuesday through Dec. 1.

1963's cowboy championships and $70,500 total prize money ($80,000 in purses plus $10,500 in entry fees) are up for grabs during the six-day contest in the West Coast city's famed Sports Arena.

Elected judges for saddle bronc, bareback bronc and bull riding events were Sonny Turman, 41, Oakdale, Calif., and Bill D. Williams, 33, Clarksville, Texas.

Quotes From Chicago Cardinal Supports Christian Unity Document

By United Press International
WASHINGTON — Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn, calling for cultural exchanges between the United States and Russia, despite his recent detention in a Red prison on espionage charges:

"I hope that this experience that I have had will not destroy the possibilities of continuing these exchanges."

BUENOS AIRES — Foreign Minister Miguel Zavala Ortiz, defending Argentine cancellation of foreign oil contracts:

"Nothing done elsewhere can reflect on the decision of the Argentine people to trace for itself its destiny for the welfare and security of all its people."

DIES FROM INJURIES
DALLAS (UPI) — Lannie Wilton Wester, 24, died early Wednesday in Parkland Hospital from injuries suffered in an auto accident shortly after midnight.

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Albert Cardinal Meyer of Chicago led a number of speakers at the Ecumenical Council Wednesday in expressing fundamental support of a proposed document on Christian unity which includes chapters of freedom of worship and the Jews.

Prelates from Spain, Canada, Britain, Mexico and Viet Nam spoke after the American. They were in basic accord with his favorable position to the document.

Cardinal Meyer, who said he was speaking on behalf of several bishops, most of them from the United States, told the council that the document "is very acceptable as a basis for discussion."

He added he felt the council must treat the question of clarifying religious misunderstandings about the Jews and the question of freedom of worship as intimately bound up with the hopes of unity in the Christian world.

SCIENCE TODAY Sun Spots Affect Man's Nerves

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — Impressive massive statistics now support the idea that "sun spots" which periodically mess up the behavior of radios can also mess up the behavior of human beings.

The idea is not nearly as far-fetched as it may sound. To appreciate its worth you have to realize that all creatures with central nervous systems operate on self-generated electricity.

It flows in direct currents, carrying nerve impulses. These power the built-in communications which permit people and other organisms to control themselves.

Transmitting and receiving radios are similarly powered. Their impulses travel through the earth's magnetic field, and so do those of creatures. They have to—the creatures exist within the field.

Smooth-flowing
Now, the earth's magnetic field is, generally speaking, smooth-flowing. The smoother its flow the better are radio communications. But there are continual variations which coincide with day becoming night and vice versa.

These are relatively minor, however. What really kicks up storms in the earth's magnetic field are the cycling magnetic disturbances on the sun which result in "sun spots." While these magnetic storms rage, radio communications are at their worst.

Dr. Howard Friedman, Robert O. Becker and Charles H. Bachman of the State University of New York and Syracuse (N.Y.) University have been fascinated for some time by the possibility that magnetic storms can do no less to the interior communications of the human nervous system.

The idea was not a new one.

But no one has been able to give it scientifically acceptable substance. They undertook doing that by comparing a statistically measurable human phenomenon with a statistically measurable phenomenon of the earth's magnetic field.

Varying Admissions
Their human phenomenon was the varying daily admission rates for seven central New York state psychiatric hospitals over a four-year period. Their magnetic phenomenon were daily variations in the intensity of the earth's magnetic field over the same four years.

These phenomena were translated into mathematical conceptions which made them comparable on a statistical basis, and the comparison revealed a high order of statistical significance.
