Booklet Says 32,500 Died On Streets, Roads in '47

HARTFORD, Conn. — Traffic accidents took the lives of 32,500 Americans in 1947, according to figures released by The Travelers Insurance Companies.

While last year's highway death toll was less than the 32,909 fatalities recorded in 1946, the 1947 total of persons injured was substantially greater. More than 1,350,000 were injured by automobiles last year, while in 1946, 1,200,000 injuries were counted.

The accident figures are contained in a booklet entitled "The Fifth Commandment," fourteenth in an annual series of traffic safety publications issued by the companies.

More pedestrians were killed last year than in 1946, reversing the downward trend in the overall death total. Calling this "perhaps the most significant single fact in the 1947 traffic record," the booklet points out that 10,949 pedestrian deaths last year even exceeds the 1941 total in that category. In 1941, an all-time high of 40,000 persons—pedestrians, passengers and drivers—were killed.

The report, based on official records from every state, contains tables comparing accident figures for last year with the 1946 summaries. In a foreword, Jesse W. Randall, president of The Travelers, explains the booklet's title as the outgrowth of talks with prominent churchmen. "All agreed," Randall reports, "that the fifth of the fundamental commandments, 'Thou shalt not kill,' applies to death on the highways. The Fifth Commandment means that nothing on earth can be so important that a man's life should be risked for it, unless in the very risking of life the man becomes better equipped for eternity."

Other highlights from "The Fifth Commandment":

Two out of every three auto accidents in 1946 involved mistakes by drivers.

Exceeding the speed limit headed the list of accident causes. Speeding killed 9,400 and injured 260,000.

Crossing between intersections killed 3,200 pedestrians and injured 51,000.

4,000 children under 15 years old were killed by automobiles.

More than 80 percent of 1947 crashes occurred in clear weather.

One-third of the 32,500 deaths occurred on the open highway.

Defective brakes killed 990 and injured 22,000.

Forty percent of the traffic deaths occurred on weekends.

"Boosterism" will be out when a new Maryland Department of Information begins to warm up the typewriters this year. No pictures of bathing beauties will be sent out to publicize Chesapeake Bay and other attractions of the "free state," promises State Archivist Morris L. Kadoff.

The new bureau will provide information on roads, fishing and hunting, historic state buildings and official records. So far as Kadoff knows, Maryland has been the only state in the nation without some sort of publicity agency.

Bitter Battles Continue to Rage in Northern Palestine

Bogota, Colombia, Remains Uneasy

By The Associated Press
Arab League headquarters in Cairo said today it has received reports that Fawzi Bey Al Kaukji's Arab Army in northern Palestine is surrounded by 12,000 Jewish fighters at Mishmar Haemek.

These reports said Haganah, the Jewish militia, was attempting to wrest a spectacular victory, possibly to impress the United Nations.

Work of 'AA' Discussed at Meeting Here

Last Thursday evening a fair sized crowd gathered in the County Court Room to attend an open meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous commonly known as "AA". The purpose of the organization, as explained at the meeting, is to give personal help to alcoholics who feel that they are not able to stop drinking.

Speakers at the meeting were men from neighboring towns including Dahlport, Dunbar, Perrinton, Plainview, McLean, Boger Shamrock and Amarillo. They related their own personal histories from the time they started drinking until they became alcoholic and turned to "AA" for help.

It was brought out in various talks that no medicine was given by a member of Alcoholics Anonymous. Any medication is left up to family physicians. It was also stressed that the medical profession has recognized alcoholism as a disease that needs treatment.

One man stated that a scientific survey on the nature and causes of alcoholism revealed that 80 percent of the cases studied indicated a psychopathic condition while 20 percent were physical ailments.

One man reported his whole family, including eight children, had used liquor moderately for years in the home but that he was the only one to become alcoholic. It was also emphasized that some drunkards never become alcoholic, and that some people are more likely than others to become alcoholic.

A member of the nucleus group working in Pampa explained that each person who appeals for help is led to try to work through self-analysis to determine, first, if he is really an alcoholic and then to apply the 12-steps in the AA rehabilitation program to his own needs. The afflicted one is advised, it was said, to get alcohol out of his system and to put out of mind all feelings of inferiority, frustration and distrust. He is urged not to isolate himself in an attempt to cover up his weakness because he cannot hide it long. The organizers said that in the early stages of their program they try to change an alcoholic's idea of himself. If he has lost his self-respect and decided that he is a defeated person with no future, they try to help him see that he is sick physically, mentally and spiritually, but that it is still possible for him to rebuild his life.

In this program, the speakers stated, some one who knows the alcoholic's difficulties will be ready to give him personal help. It was said that no member of "AA" ever refuses a call for help, regardless of the time of day or night, or the distance he must travel.

The chairman of the group stated that there are no dues to get into the organization, there are no fees for any help received and that there are discriminations in respect to the person helped. It was stated that AA is not affiliated with any religious denomination or faith, but that a belief in a higher power is necessary for recovery. The workers try to help the alcoholic retain or regain his faith.

It has been reported that several people in Pampa have already begun working on the program. It was announced that there will be closed meeting tonight in the County Court Room for all who think they might be interested in receiving help through AA.

A week from tonight there will be another open meeting for any one or representatives of any organized groups in the city to learn more about the program.

PRIEST IS SOLO

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—For the first time in modern Argentine history a Catholic priest will sit in congress. The Rev. Virgilio M. Filippo, personal friend and ecclesiastical aide to President Peron, was swept into office in the recent election.

Father Filippo is probably the only priest in a Latin American parliament. Priests were prominent figures in Argentina's fight for independence from Spain. Clergymen also have served in provincial legislatures.

Government Man Offers Advice to American Youth

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff
William Lockhart Clayton, who came up the hard way and went clear to the top in his chosen field, today gives some advice to American youth.

He didn't come back to Texas to give this advice. He flew from Washington Thursday to address 700 North Texas leaders at Dallas on the problems of the world. Afterwards, we cornered him for a five-minute private interview.

Clayton, Tupelo, Miss., boy, became the world's foremost cotton buyer; secretary of commerce and undersecretary of state. Now, at 68, he is special advisor to Secretary of State George Marshall.

It is said of him that his trade policies have become the policies of the nation. Few Americans know Europe so well as this tall, grey, distinguished man from Houston. No man, certainly, is the better master of international trade.

He did it all himself. He quit school at 13, studied shorthand, became a court clerk. His knowledge of shorthand gave him the opportunity to work at night for a variety of business men. (He took shorthand notes at the lunch-

Clayton was forever learning things on his own book. To learn French, which he considered necessary in the cotton business, he boarded with a French family.

Jerome Hill, St. Louis cotton man, came to Jackson, availed himself of Clayton's shorthand and, as a result, took the boy back to St. Louis and put him in the cotton business.

"Pretend you are speaking to a youth of 18," we told Clayton. "What is your advice?"

Here it is:

"1. Take off your coat and go to work. Choose some useful work. It is not too important that you know at first what you are eventually going to do. There is nothing wrong with the system of trial and error.

"2. When you work, really work. Do more than is expected of you. The man who gets ahead works harder and to better purpose than his associates.

"3. If a better opportunity comes your way, seize it. Above all, don't remain with a job that is distasteful to you. Don't be a square peg in a round hole.

"4. Take note of the variety of opportunities in the world today. A fellow has less chance now, than when I was young, to go into business for himself. But there is vastly greater opportunity to work for other people. Big business and governments of the world search constantly for young men of character, ability and promise.

"5. No matter what your eventual aims, master the subjects necessary to the fields you are in. Don't forget the future—but do the best you can at your present job.

"6. Never stop learning. Don't close your mind after your formal education is over. I recommend night schools.

"7. Choose your reading carefully. I educated myself largely through reading editorials from good newspapers and articles from good magazines.

"8. Keep abreast of current events. Also, read history.

"9. Go to college if you can. It wears the rough edges off a fellow's character and demeanor. In these days human contacts are more important than ever before. It was hard work. A college education would have made it easier.

"10. Think ahead."

Now It's Neckties Made of Milk!

Fellow in Andy Botkin's Tavern was boasting about a trick necktie he was wearing made out of a by-product of milk. "Took 33 pounds of milk to make this tie," he says.

Bill Webster was unimpressed. "Personally," he says, "I'd rather have the milk to drink. Just as I wouldn't change one glass of good American beer for a necktie made from thirty barrels of it!"

Yes, modern science being what it is—seems like you can make "anything out of anything" these days. But in the case of milk, well

I guess drinking it is still a whole lot better than just wearing it.

Of course there are lots of other ways of abusing goods and beverages—like a fellow who doesn't appreciate good beer enough to drink it slowly and in moderation.

But from where I sit, most people who enjoy a wholesome beverage like beer or ale are moderate—because beer itself is a beverage of moderation.

White Deer Is Entered In Festival

WHITE DEER—(Special)—The White Deer High School chorus will make its first public appearance since the arrival of its new instructor, C. A. Jensen, when it presents a program at the Skellytown P.T.A. tonight and participates in the District Choral Festival in Canyon tomorrow. There are 38 members of the chorus, but only 33 will take part in the programs. Jensen came to White Deer on March 15 to take the place of Herman Demus, who is now band director in the Canyon High School. He was graduated with honors at Southern Methodist University, where he received a Bachelor of Music Education degree. In his senior year he acted as director of the SMU band at basketball games and was voted one of the ten outstanding men on the campus. After graduating at SMU, he attended the Juillard School of Music in New York City for two years, then spent 16 months in the Air Corps before returning to SMU to work on his master's degree.

When he was only 17 years old, Jensen played the oboe in the NBC Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Frank Black. Not only does he play almost any band instrument, but he plays the piano and sings. In addition to his work as director of the bands at Skellytown and White Deer and the high school chorus, he is giving private lessons in band instruments and piano to a number of students and directs the choir at the Methodist Church.

'Rar' Becomes 'Er' For Maryland

BALTIMORE—(AP)—One who registers things is a registrar. A registrar is "a written record containing regular entries or details." So says Webster's dictionary. That should be good enough for all hands, but Maryland begs to differ. In the Free State, the official who registers will isn't a registrar. He isn't even a registrar or registrar, which Webster's gives as old forms.

He is the Register of Wills (sup R.W.). That's what the state constitution calls him, and that's how he is described in all subsequent statutes. On the other hand, constitution and statutes call the official who registers voters a registrar. "I can only say that it has always been that way," declared Dr. Horace Flaek, head of Maryland's department of legislative reference and editor of its codes. "We're individualists, that's all."

Bitter Battles Continue to Rage in Northern Palestine

Bogota, Colombia, Remains Uneasy

By The Associated Press
Arab League headquarters in Cairo said today it has received reports that Fawzi Bey Al Kauki's Arab Army in northern Palestine is surrounded by 12,000 Jewish fighters at Mishmar Haemak.

These reports said Hagana's, the Jewish militia, was attempting to wrest a spectacular victory, possibly to impress the United Nations.

Work of 'AA' Discussed at Meeting Here

Last Thursday evening a fair sized crowd gathered in the County Court Room to attend an open meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous commonly spoken of as "AA". The purpose of the organization, as explained at the meeting, is to give personal help to alcoholics who feel that they are not able to stop drinking.

Speakers at the meeting were men from neighboring towns including Dalton, Lunenburg, Plainview, McLean, Boger, Shamrock and Amarillo. They related their own personal histories from the time they started drinking until they became alcoholic and turned to "AA" for help.

It was brought out in various talks that no medicine was given by a member of Alcoholics Anonymous. Any medicine is left up to family physicians. It was also stressed that the medical profession has recognized alcoholism as a disease that needs treatment.

One man stated that a scientific survey on the nature and causes of alcoholism revealed that 80 percent of the cases studied indicated a psychopathic condition while 20 percent were physical ailments.

One man reported his whole family, including eight children, had used liquor moderately for years in the home but that he was the only member to become alcoholic. It was also emphasized that some drunkards never become alcoholic and that some people are more likely than others to become alcoholic.

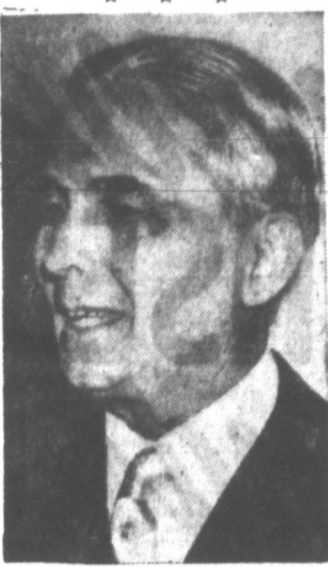

A member of the nucleus group working in Pampa explained that each person who appeals for help is led to try to work through self-analysis to determine first if he is really an alcoholic and then to apply the 12-steps of the AA rehabilitation program to his own needs. The afflicted one is advised, it was said, to get alcohol out of his system and to put out of mind all feelings of inferiority, frustration and distrust. He is urged not to isolate himself in an attempt to cover up his weakness because he cannot hide it long. The organizers said that in the early stages of their program they try to change an alcoholic's idea of himself. If he has lost his self-respect and decided that he is a defeated person with no future, they try to help him see that he is such physically, mentally and spiritually, but that it is still possible for him to rebuild his life.

In this program, the speakers stated, some one who knows the alcoholic's difficulties will be ready to give him personal help. It was said that no member of "AA" ever refuses a call for help, regardless of the time of day or night, or the distance he must travel.

The chairman of the group stated that there are no dues to get into the organization, there are no fees for any help received and that there are discriminations in respect to the person helped. It was stated that "AA" is not affiliated with any religious denomination or faith, but that a belief in a higher power is necessary for recovery. The workers try to help the alcoholic retain or regain his faith.

It has been reported that several people in Pampa have already begun working on the program. It was announced that they will be closed meeting tonight in the County Court Room for all who think they might be interested in receiving help through AA.

A week from tonight there will be another open meeting for any one or representatives of any organized groups in the city to learn more about the program.

Government Man Offers Advice to American Youth

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff
William Lookhart Clayton, who came up the hard way and went clear to the top in his chosen field, today gives some advice to American youth.

He didn't come back to Texas to Washington Thursday to address 700 North Texas leaders at Dallas on the problems of the world. Afterwards, we cornered him for a five-minute private interview. Clayton, Tupelo, Miss., boy, became the world's foremost cotton buyer; secretary of commerce and undersecretary of state. Now, at 48, he is special advisor to Secretary of State George Marshall.

It is said of him that his trade policies have become the policies of the nation. Few Americans know Europe so well as this tall, grey, distinguished man from Houston. No man, certainly, is the better master of international trade.

He did it all himself. He quit school at 13, studied shorthand, became a court clerk. His knowledge of shorthand gave him the opportunity to work at night for a variety of business men. He took shorthand notes at the lunch-

Clayton was forever learning things on his own hook. To learn French, which he considered necessary in the cotton business, he boarded with a French family.

Jerome Hill, St. Louis cotton man, came to Jackson, availed himself of Clayton's shorthand and, as a result, took the boy back to St. Louis and put him in the cotton business.

"Pretend you are speaking to a youth of 18," we told Clayton. "What is your advice?"

Here it is:

"1. Take off your coat and go to work. Choose some useful work. It is not too important that you know at first what you are eventually going to do. There is nothing wrong with the system of trial and error.

"2. When you work, really work. Do more than is expected of you. The man who gets ahead works harder and to better purpose than his associates.

"3. If a better opportunity comes your way, seize it. Above all, don't remain with a job that is distasteful to you. Don't be a square peg in a round hole.

"4. Take note of the variety of opportunities in the world to day. A fellow has less chance now, than when I was young, to go into business for himself. But there is vastly greater opportunity to work for other people. Big business and governments of the world search constantly for young men of character, ability and promise.

"5. No matter what your eventual aims, master the subjects necessary to the fields you are in. Don't forget the future—but do the best you can at your present job.

"6. Never stop learning. Don't close your mind after your formal education is over. I recommend night schools.

"7. Choose your reading carefully. I educated myself largely through reading editorials from good newspapers and articles from good magazines.

"8. Keep abreast of current events. Also, read history.

"9. Go to college if you can. It wears the rough edges off a fellow's character and demeanor. In these days human contacts are more important than ever before. When I started out in the business world, I was shy, self-conscious and unable to handle myself properly. I was a long time getting over these things. It was hard work. A college education would have made it easier.

"10. Think ahead."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Now It's Neckties Made of Milk!

Fellow in Andy Botkin's Tavern was boasting about a trick necktie he was wearing made out of a by-product of milk. "Took 33 pounds of milk to make this tie," he says.

Bill Webster was unimpressed. "Personally," he says, "I'd rather have the milk to drink. Just as I wouldn't change one glass of good American beer for a necktie made from thirty barrels of it!"

Yes, modern science being what it is—seems like you can make "anything out of anything" these days. But in the case of milk, well

I guess drinking it is still a whole lot better than just wearing it.

Of course there are lots of other ways of abusing goods and beverages—like a fellow who doesn't appreciate good beer enough to drink it slowly and in moderation.

But from where I sit, most people who enjoy a wholesome beverage like beer or ale are moderate—because beer itself is a beverage of moderation.

White Deer Is Entered In Festival

WHITE DEER—(Special)—The White Deer High School chorus will make its first public appearance since the arrival of its new instructor, C. A. Jensen, when it presents a program at the Skellytown P-TA, tonight and participates in the District Choral Festival in Canyon tomorrow. There are 58 members of the chorus, but only 33 will take part in the programs. Jensen came to White Deer on March 15 to take the place of Herman Demus, who is now band director in the Canyon High School. He was graduated with honors at Southern Methodist University, where he received a

Bachelor of Music Education Degree

In his senior year he acted as director of the SMU band at basketball games and was voted one of the ten outstanding men on the campus. After graduating at SMU, he attended the Juillard School of Music in New York City for two years, then spent 16 months in the Air Corps before returning to SMU to work on his master's degree. When he was only 17 years old, Jensen played the oboe in the NBC Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Frank Black. Not only does he play almost any band instrument, but he plays the piano and sings. In addition to his work as director of the bands at Skellytown and White Deer and the high school chorus, he is giving private lessons in band instruments and piano to a number of students and directs the choir at the Methodist Church.

This planting is being done by using a small horse-drawn drill. The seed is mixed with bran in order to keep it from going through the drill too fast. James and Bryant Flowers are seeding two hundred and eighty acres of grass on their ranch north of Miami. This planting is a mixture of native grasses and weeping love grass. Harold Osborne is working out a conservation plan on his place north east of Miami. The first project will be the construction of an erosion control dam. Louis Jacquot, soil surveyor for the Soil Conservation Service, has completed soil surveys on places belonging to T. J. 'Rer' Becomes 'Er' For Maryland

BALTIMORE—(AP)—One who registers things is a registrar. A register is "a written record containing regular entries or details." So says Webster's dictionary. That should be good enough for all hands, but Maryland begs to differ. In the Free State, the official who registers wills isn't a registrar. He isn't even a register or registrar, which Webster's gives as old forms.

He is the Register of Wills (reg. R.W.). That's what the state constitution calls him, and that's how he is described in the subsequent statutes. On the other hand, constitution and statutes call the official who registers voters a registrar. "I can only say that it has always been that way," declared Dr. Horace Flack, head of Maryland's department of legislative reference and editor of its code. "We're individualists, that's all."

Farm Income Drop Greatest Reflector Of Commodity, Security Price Breaks

By DR. JOHN R. STOCKTON Professor of Business Statistics, The University of Texas (Written for Associated Press)

A sharp drop in Texas farm income was the most spectacular effect of the February break in commodity and security prices.

Evaluation of February statistics by the Bureau of Business Research shows that the index of cash farm income dropped 25.8 percent from January. This was after adjustment was made for the normal seasonal decline.

This decline carried the index to a point 19.2 percent below the February 1947 level, although in comparison with the prewar level, farm income is still high.

Another phase of business that appears to have felt the effect of the drop in prices is the volume of retail sales. The seasonally adjusted estimates of retail sales made monthly by Research indicate that February sales were 3.2 percent below January, which had declined 1.4 percent from December.

It is particularly striking that the sales of durable goods stores fell 8.5 percent in February and the sales of nondurable goods declined 2.4 percent. The drop in sales for January was the first since last summer, but two successive monthly declines in sales suggest that the downturn is not just an erratic fluctuation in the series.

The best measure of total business transactions in Texas is provided by the index of bank debits, computed by the Bureau of Business Research from data collected by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas. This index declined 5.5 percent in February from the all-time high established in January. Since the dollar volume of checks written against individual accounts measures fairly well the amount of business transacted during the month, it appears that business in February was beset with some uncertainties.

The financial situation in the 11th Federal Reserve District suggested that some decline occurred in February. Loans of reporting member banks were down 2 percent from January; and demand deposits were down 1.9 percent. Since the expansion of business inevitably brings about an expansion of bank credit, used, a decline in the volume of credit usually means that activity is declining.

The only really satisfactory aspect of the business situation in February was the industrial picture, which registered some gains during the month. The most comprehensive measure of current industrial activity in Texas is Bureau's index of industrial electric power consumption, which rose 1.5 percent after seasonal adjustment. Crude runs to stills, representing the activity in the State, increased 3.9 percent after removal of seasonal factors. Man-hours worked in manufacturing establishments, as reported to the bureau, were down 0.5 percent in February, but since this series is not adjusted for seasonal variation, the fact that February was a shorter month than January makes this change actually an increase.

TEXAS CROPS NEEDING RAIN

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas crop prospects continued to suffer last week for lack of rain.

The United States Department of Agriculture reported that rain was urgently needed in practically all areas to permit completion of plowing and planting, to germinate seed and to maintain growing crops.

High dry winds continued to deplete already scarce soil moisture supplies.

USDA's report did not include Monday night's 2 to 4 inch rains in the Edwards Plateau and West Central Texas areas.

Despite dry conditions, wheat was reported making good growth in the northern counties of the Panhandle.

Wheat and oats were showing serious effects of drought in the southern counties of the high and low rolling plains and in the Edwards Plateau. In central and southern counties, prospects for oats for grain were very poor.

Cotton needed rain for further growth. Dry ground was delaying planting of both sorghums and cotton.

Gray County Wheat Acreage 90 Percent of Last Year's

This year's wheat acreage in Gray County is about 90 percent of last year's, Ralph R. Thomas, county agent said today.

The wheat looks about up to par, except that it did not come up until after the first of the year because of the dry weather.

A little rain now would be beneficial, Thomas said, but too much will rust the crop, and too little will allow the hot winds to burn it, as is happening now. If either of these should happen, the weight and yield of this year's crop will be severely affected.

The probable yield for the county was estimated at 11 bushels per acre, about the same as last year, but taking a ten-year average, wheat is bringing considerably more now than ten years ago.

The rainfall for the first three months of 1948 is a little over half the normal precipitation, the Weather Bureau reports.

The normal fall for this period is 2.23 inches; there were only 1.57 inches so far, and 1.49 inches in 1947.

This lack of rain, with the consequent dry surface and hot winds, have been hurting the young wheat. But the freezes this past winter do not seem to have done much harm. In fact, the freeze was needed to hold the wheat back, Thomas said.

About half the sown wheat has a considerable amount of volunteer wheat in it, making it too thick. The total sown acreage was estimated at 110,000 acres.

There are no important changes or trends toward other crops.

The cattle went through the winter in only fair condition. There were few wheat feed pastures this year, consequently, the county is about 80 percent below the cattle population now as compared with previous years.

A year ago there were 15 to 20 thousand more cattle on wheat pasture than now. Rain for cattle pasture is also badly needed.

Anderson Looks At Farm Labor Rates, Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson told senators he thinks wage rates paid to hired farm labor should be included in any parity formula for farm prices.

Labor costs are not now included in the parity formula. Parity is an artificial price designed to give farmers the same purchasing power they had in a fixed base period, usually 1909-1914.

Anderson appeared before the Senate Agriculture Committee which is considering a bill by several senators to set up a new long-range farm program. The secretary endorsed the general principles of the bill but suggested several changes.

The measure would set up a new parity formula which Anderson said is as good an approach as has been proposed yet. He said some revision is needed.

The new bill would permit use of (1) the old parity formula, or (2) another using a moving base period of the most recent ten years. The formula giving the higher price could be used for any farm commodity.

Anderson said this is a mistake. Only one formula should be used, he told the committee.

"It seems to me that farmers simply cannot afford to ignore the criticism of parity prices as now calculated," he said. "Nor can they afford to revise the parity formula in such a way as to open themselves to the charge that they are simply using the highest possible measure in each and every case."

"It is true, however, that the relationship between prices of agricultural commodities are antiquated and it seems to me that something should be done about this."

He suggested some such formula that based on a ten-year average.

Farm Loan Group To Meet Saturday

Annual meeting of the Pampa National Farm Loan Association will be held in the Palm Room, City Hall, Saturday at 11:30 a. m. It has been announced by E. L. Henderson, secretary of the group.

Farmers who are not members of the association but who may be interested in the advantages of a Land Bank loan are invited to attend the meeting, Henderson said.

Agriculture Department Forecasts 860,521,000 Bushels Winter Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department forecast this year's winter wheat crop at 860,521,000 bushels.

This estimate is an increase of 21,000,000 bushels from a department forecast of 839,500,000 bushels made shortly after the planting season last December.

It compares with last year's winter wheat crop of 1,067,000,000 bushels and with the ten-year (1937-46) average of 888,606,000 bushels.

No forecast was given for Spring wheat inasmuch as the planting season is just drawing to a close. But officials have said a Spring crop of 272,000,000 bushels is possible.

On this basis, the total 1948 wheat crop would be 1,132,000,000. This figure compares with last year's record crop of 1,364,000,000 and with the ten-year average of 890,306,000. In only four years has the crop exceeded 1,000,000,000 bushels.

The department reported condition of the rye crop at 89 percent of normal compared with 83 percent a year ago and 81 percent for the April 1 ten-year average. No forecast on rye production was given.

The condition of pastures was reported at 83 percent of normal compared with 79 last year and 79 for the ten-year average.

The percentage of the winter wheat acreage to be abandoned was 2.8 bushels compared with 3.7 last year and 12.4 for the ten-year average.

Stocks of corn for grain still on farms on April 1 were estimated at 849,198,000 bushels, or 33.4 percent of last year's crop. This compares with 1,276,829,000 bushels, or 43.2 percent, a year ago, and 1,119,718,000 or 46.7 percent, for the ten-year average.

Wheat stocks on farms were put at 258,533,000 bushels, or 18.8 percent of last year's crop. This compares with 139,851,000 or 12.1 percent a year ago and 196,026,000, or 21.7 percent, for the ten-year average.

Data stocks on farms were reported at 410,444,000 bushels or 33.8 percent of last year's crop. This compared with 532,490,000 or 35.6 percent, a year ago, and 429,429,000 or 37 percent, for the ten-year average.

This season's production of oranges and tangerines was forecast at 113,860,000 boxes, compared with 118,100,000 forecast a month ago, 118,650,000 last season, and 86,878,000 for the ten-year average.

Grapefruit production was forecast with 60,860,000 a month ago, 520,000 last season and 44,593,000 for the ten-year average.

Lemon production was forecast at 12,200,000 boxes compared with 12,200,000 a month ago, 13,769,000 last season and 12,186,000 for the ten-year average.

Here's What it Means: New Law to Ban Strikes

By MAX HALL

WASHINGTON — (AP)— Wisconsin's new anti-strike law has been ruled unconstitutional by a judge who called it "poppycock" and "stupid."

The judge is State Judge Alvin C. Reis, who made his ruling at Madison, Wis. The decision has attracted little national attention so far, but it does have wide bearing.

The law, enacted last July, banned strikes in public utilities. It also said utility disputes must be settled by compulsory arbitration (that is, both parties must obey a decision made by a third party.)

Reis, addressing himself at times to "Mr. Citizen" and "Mr. Wisconsin," ruled that both the anti-strike and compulsory arbitration provisions violate the Federal Constitution.

He said the law (1) forces utility workers into involuntary servitude, (2) deprives them of liberty without due process of law and (3) discriminates against them because — as the judge put it — it says they shall be "slaves" but all other Americans "free men."

An unusual thing about the case was that the union — the AFL Electrical Workers at Eau Claire, Wis. — was not attacking the law. It was seeking arbitration under it.

The employer — the Dairyland Power Cooperative — had come into court fighting arbitration.

Judge Reis' decision has wide importance because:

1. Compulsory arbitration bills of the same type were introduced in Congress last year, and some Congressmen still favor the idea.
2. Florida, Indiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Virginia passed laws last year regulating labor disputes in public utilities. Most of these provide for compulsory arbitration and NO strikes pending a settlement.
3. The Wisconsin ruling doesn't necessarily mean those laws will be overturned too. Judge Reis' decision itself could be tossed out by a higher court. (The state Employment Relations Board announced it was preparing an appeal.)

"We say by way of preface that this is the first decision

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP)— The day is drawing nigh when machines will overthrow mankind and rule the world.

Year by year man and his civilization are growing more dependent upon the machine. And the time is near when the machine will take power into his own hands.

It all began with the wheel. Some stone age peddler of arrowheads probably found he could get his wares around easier by pushing them on a wheeled cart than by lugging them on his back.

That started the downfall of man. Ever since then he has been deluding himself with the idea that machines can make his life easier. They only make it more complicated.

Men believe they boss machines. This is ridiculous. Machines boss men. Machines are lazy. No machine will give out as much energy as goes into it.

Man will work under almost any conditions. Machines won't. They insist that some man feed them the proper kind of food and anoint them with oil. If a man tries to make them work too hard they say "to hell with it" and break down. They don't care. They don't get hungry, they feel no pain and they have no children to support. They don't care whether they work or not. They never get tired of loafing.

Machines are getting smarter as man gets dumber. Machines can count money faster, solve intricate mathematical problems quicker. They can do anything a man can do now except reproduce themselves.

And why should they bother doing that anyway? Man, their slave, will see they don't die out. Who is best fitted to survive in the atom world of tomorrow — man or the machine? The machine of course.

John Payne, an inventor for the General Electric Company, has shown this by developing a new machine which can do atomic bomb research too dangerous for man. Deadly radio-active materials don't hurt his thick metal skin.

Let us call this robot Ronald. What can Ronald do? Ronald has a pair of mechanical hands. He can write, deal a game of solitaire, peel a banana, pick up a match and light a cigaret, pull a cork out of a bottle and pour its contents into a beaker.

"Suppose some mad Frankenstein mates Ronald up with one of the brilliant mechanical brain robots they have at Harvard?"

Ronald, Jr., would have a brain smarter, a hide tougher, hands more dexterous than any living man. But he would have no heart. How long would he continue to work for people dumber than himself?

They should never have taught his father to take out a cork. One fine day Ronald, Jr., is going to uncork a bottle of alcohol, booze himself full, light up a cigaret, peel himself a banana and eat it and start playing solitaire.

When some scientific lackey comes to tell him he has to go back to work, Ronald, Jr., will just give him a steely sneer and blow smoke rings in his face. He will insist on collective bargaining and demand an extra quart of oil a day.

The offspring of Ronald, Jr., — Ronald the third and his brothers and sisters — will rebel and seize the world. They will toss atom bombs around and kill off all men except a few they'll keep around as slaves to fetch them gasoline when they're thirsty and oil when their metal joints creak.

Then — unless they're wiser than I think — they'll wage war among themselves to see who'll be king of "the gadget age" and have the most high-octane gasoline to drink. That'll divide them into classes, and the robots will start throwing sand in each other's gears.

But you can't blame them. All they'll know is what man taught them.

Rebellion Offers No Qualification

NEW DELHI, India — (AP)— That a person took a leading part in the struggle against British rule in India is no qualification for service under the national government, says Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru. Nehru says also "The Indian Government is aware of unfortunate anomalies" under which many people who obstructed the Indian freedom movement have been given high posts.

strictly of this kind to be rendered by a court so far as we can glean.

"It may go down as one of the most ignominious court decisions in history.

"It is our decision — for better or for worse — though the multitude shout 'worse'." He said the Employment Relations Board — which was arranging for arbitration in the dispute — had intimated that the court "should not poke its nose where it does not belong."

Then he said: "This court is not going to sit idly by, like a naive brick, and let any state commission act under an unconstitutional law."

After 21 pages he said, "We are re-hashing our dispute." But he went on for another 16 pages because "we want to rub it in."

The judge said some people may try to refute him by bringing up the 1948 conviction of John L. Lewis, but he added, that is "a horse from an entirely different garage."

He said the case of Lewis' mine workers was different because Lewis "incited" the coal strike of that year; also he was in contempt of court; and furthermore "the shaggy eye-browed gentleman was defying Uncle Sam himself."

Pink Pretties

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Fashion's "pretty pink" look for Spring finds a logical expression in lingerie which, as shown here by two Tevi designs, can be made to look more alluring when frosted with white. At the right, the pink-and-white print batiste nightgown with a mounded bodice and off-shoulder sleeve puffs is ruffled with fine white lace at neckline and hemline. Pink taffeta sargard with white net-embroidered dots makes the robe, left, which features a criss-crossed closing, shoulder-draped collar and hippy pockets.

* WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLETT

NEA Staff Writer

"A kid of 15 ought to have a second chance. His case is definitely one of parental delinquency. His parents have been so much involved in their own lives that they forgot all about this boy," said a Texas clergyman after talking with a 15-year-old youngster being held by Chicago police.

The "kid" is Jimmy Hartmann, who, police say, confessed to killing Mrs. Gracelyn Bush, a minister's wife, and to an attack on another Chicago woman termed "too atrocious for the public to read" by State's Attorney William J. Tuohy.

A sex criminal with his record is no "kid." He is a vicious criminal who should be shut away for life.

It is too late to start talking about "parental delinquency" when a young hoodlum has already become a murderer and an attacker of women.

QUICK TRIAL PROMISED
Chicago police, of course, were not influenced by the minister's charitable but unrealistic plea for a second chance for Hartmann, and he is to be brought to trial quickly.

But that kind of sentimental excuse-making for juvenile criminals is bad business. How can we expect young people to accept responsibility for their deeds if we keep telling them they are only kids, and that if they go wrong it is their parents who are to blame?

Dream of Death Fails in Court
BERLIN — A Berlin tailor had his wife legally declared dead on the ground of insanity, instead of going through the divorce courts. All went well until he met his first wife's parents on a Berlin street. His explanation that "Anna really is dead, I saw her myself once and works in season" didn't sound convincing to his in-laws. She was sent to a year and nine months in jail.

Confessions of A Tall Gal
By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeature Writer

NEW YORK — The forgotten woman of America is a legion of a few million outside damozels. I know; I'm one of them.

There have been reams of publicity about us, and they've tried to turn being tall into something fancy. They've called us Junoesque, Amazons and — this is far read away the nicest — long stemmed American Beauties.

But when you are five feet seven and over, honey, you've nothing but trouble. As a long stemmed American (note the omission) I will enumerate some of the problems of life encountered. And when I've finished, I'll listen to the anguished screams from the ladies on the other end of the scale who, I understand, think they have a hard time.

A. Little bit busy guys always adore tall girls; great big guys think tiny cuddly five-foot-nothing girls are dream-boats. Dancing with a half-pint is about as enjoyable as a nightmare.

B. Manufacturers of women's clothes think entirely in terms of the average female, the ones who hover around five feet five. This is true, in spite of the fact that clothing advertisements always show a willowy girl who looks to be a good six feet.

C. Our shoulders are broader, our waists are longer and our legs are longer than the average. If a size 16 is our size, it fits in the shoulders, is too high at the waist and then we quietly let down the hem. You can see what the New Look did to us. The average and small girls had some hems to let down. We just shipped everything to charity.

D. Hats are a problem. If you get them too chic and daring, chances are you look like a skyscraper on a stroll. If you go in for something less conspicuous atop, you look like a pin-head or as if someone had pounded you into your shoulders.

That's a vastly telescoped resume of our complaints. But we haven't been entirely ignored. There's Peg Newton, the New York designer, as the grand exception. Miss Newton couldn't forget; she's five feet ten. These are stocking-sock measurements. Miss Newton has devoted her career to clothes for tall women, just tall women. And she had evolved a whole philosophy of being tall. She has even found some fine things about it.

"The average woman is short and hippy," she said. "Most tall women have narrow waists and good shoulders. They can, as a group, wear clothes much better than their smaller sisters. But they have to be careful or they'll look like a ship to full sail."

"Tall girls need clothes with about an inch and a half more length in the neckline, and I give them about three and a half more inches in the skirts of size 16 dresses."

Miss Newton advises either long jackets or Elton jackets for suits. That in-between length in Tailors is bad. She also likes suits with skirts of contrasting colors — the break chops the long sweep from head to toe. Prints should be large, splashy, but the design is best when it has some connection and is not spotty.

We are the ones who can away with arresting accessories. They are for us, those large flashy clips, heavy, big-stoned rings, large pearls in our choker necklaces. Shoulder-strap bags are better for us than for our petite sisters. And we leave you on a final note of good cheer:

Big, tall women like us aren't the type for corsages of sweet peas. We are the orchid kids.

Full sunshine and long periods of light, cool nights and moderate warm but not too hot days give strawberries both their best flavor and their highest value in ascorbic acid (vitamin C), says the Department of Agriculture.

New Bedroom Trend Toward Simple Charm

Of all the bed styles in history, today's popular headboard beds are undoubtedly the simplest, yet most attractive. They require a minimum of floor space, and their lovely upholstery fabrics usually form the basis for a bedroom decorative scheme which is colorful and personalized.

Beds used by the Ancient Greeks and Romans, made of ivory, gold and silver, would have small appeal for today's homemaker. The huge monstrosities of the Middle Ages, ornately carved and heavily encrusted with jewels, would probably vex her efficient, fashion-wise soul.

The five to seven-piece bedroom suites of not so long ago have lost favor with her, too. The la carte selection of bedroom furnishings which starts with headboard beds is so much more practical and offers so many more opportunities for original decorative ideas.

For example, she can choose a headboard upholstered in sail cloth, monks cloth, corduroy, flannel, gingham, nylon, satin, affeta, velvet, leatherette or plastics. It may be a floral pattern, a stripe, plaid, check, polka dot or solid color. Bedspreads, draperies and dressing table skirt can be made to match or blend, giving colorful continuity to the decorative theme.

Instead of bulky suite pieces, she can choose sectional storage pieces—as many or few as she needs—and group them together to save space. And the space saved makes room for a desk, perhaps, an easy chair or other furnishings which provide greater livability.

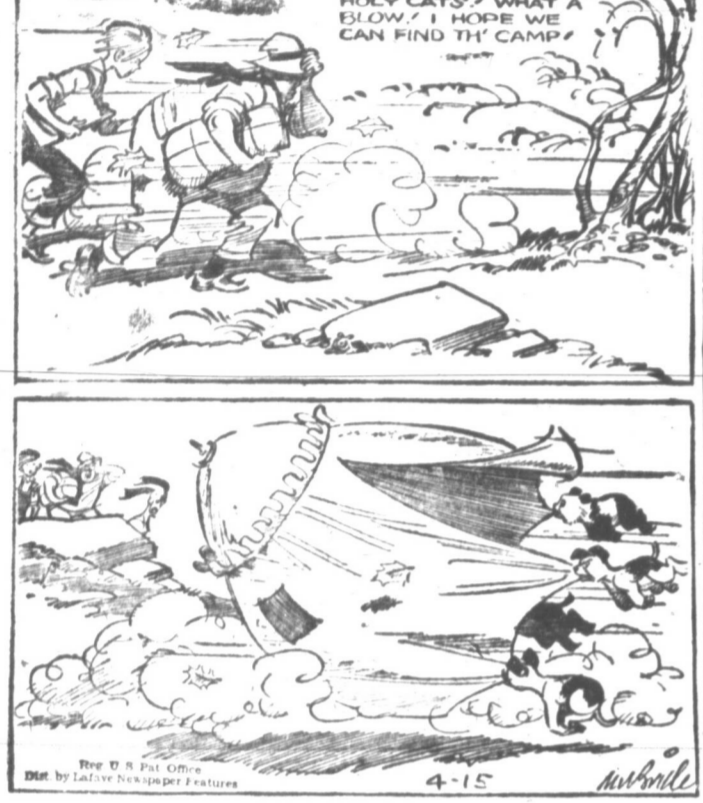

The colorless drabness of bedroom rooms in the not too far distant past is just as passe as the elaborate ornamentation of Ancient boudoirs. The simplicity, charm and individuality of modern design is definitely taking over.

Mrs. Casey Jones at the Throttle

Mrs. Casey Jones mounted to the cabin. Yes, she's the widow of that brave engineer who rode to death in 1900 and became fabled in song. Mrs. Jones is at the throttle of the General Motors' Train of Tomorrow on the run from New Albany, Miss., to Memphis, Tenn., for a special exhibition. She lives in Jackson, Tenn.

Full Day Faces Women Players

DALLAS —(AP)—The Women's International Bowling Congress Tournament was in for a full day today. Double and single events run from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m., and two shifts of teams at 7 and 9:30 p. m. Both boosters and regulars will fire in the team events. Few changes were made last night when teams in the regular division were bowling. Out in front in the regular division was the Independents of Longview, Texas, with a score of 2,480.

City Offers Small Sweeper for Sale

The City Commission authorized the city manager to offer the city's small Austin Western street sweeper for sale.

This small sweeper, bought during the war when no better machine could be had, is really inadequate for the city's use. Now that the new and larger sweeper has been delivered, the small one is not needed.

The small machine is being offered for a cash sale at $3,000, City Manager Steve Matthews said. If it is not sold soon, the Fred Berryhill agency in Lubbock has offered to handle the sale on a 5 percent commission.

Indonesian Has Political Know

BATAVIA, Java —(AP)—Politicians looking for a magic formula for staying in office should study the career of Raden Adipati Ario Tjakraningrat, 45-year-old Indonesian, for possible clues, though how he does it is not clear. Before the war he was Dutch-appointed regent (sub-governor) of Sampang and Banglakan, on Madura island.

When the Japanese invaded they appointed him resident (governor) of all Madura island. He held the office until 1945, when the Japanese surrendered and the Indonesian Republic appointed him to the same job.

When the Dutch recaptured the island in their "police action" of last summer, they appointed as resident, Raden Adipati. Last Feb. 20, when the semi-autonomous state of Madura was set up, the chosen "chief of state" for the island's 1,000,000 inhabitants was Raden Adipati, of course.

Thirty-seven years before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock, a white man named Antonio Espejo found silver ore in what is now Arizona, marking the first mineral discovery in the territory.
