Howling Mob Besieges Palace Forcing Youlou's Resignation

Panhandle Towns Due Lower Electrical Rates Stribling Due Service Citation From President One-Party Government And Nepotism Cause Congolese Disturbance

More than two-score towns and communities on the North Plains, 22 of them in the Texas Panhandle, will enjoy lower electric rates for residential consumers. It was announced today by Cliff Mlinar, Panhandle Division manager for the Southwestern Public Service Co.

The new rates, affecting approximately 20,000 residential customers in 47 communities, will become effective Oct. 1.

Rates to be billed after Oct. 1 will be 6 cents for the first 50 kilowatt hours used monthly, 4 cents for the next 50, and 2 cents for all additional kilowatt hours used each month.

The present rate schedule in the 47 communities is 6.6 cents for the first 60 kilowatts, 3.85 cents for the next 50, and 2.2 cents for all additional.

Mlinar said the average customer in communities where the rates go into effect will realize a savings of 62 cents a month on his electric service bill.

Mlinar pointed out that these communities now served by Southwestern Public Service Co., were in the past served by a number of smaller electric companies, each of which had its own rate structure.

Southwestern has for several years been installing a rate simplification program to cover its entire 45,000 square mile service area.

Mlinar cited increased use of electricity by residential customers as making it possible for the company to install larger and more efficient generating units.

"This has been a primary factor in enabling the company to keep electric rates low in the face of increasing costs of supplies and equipment," Mlinar said.

Panhandle communities in which the new lower rates for residential users will become effective include Borger, Alanreed, Lefors, Kingsmill, Channing, Claude, Dahlart, Dumas, Groom, Gruver, Hartley, Miami, McLean, Mobeetie, Panhandle, Skellytown, Stinnett, Stratford, Wheeler, White Deer and Kingsmill.

Rates in Pampa and Amarillo will not be affected by the forthcoming rate reduction because both cities already are in a slightly lower bracket than the residential schedule that goes into effect Oct. 1.

T. A. Stribling of Miami will receive a Presidential citation next Wednesday for his service as a member of the Selective Service Board for Gray, Donley, Wheeler and Roberts counties.

Chairman DeLea Vicars of the draft board in Pampa, said today Stribling has served the board for ten years as a public service without compensation.

Vicars, representing President John F. Kennedy at the request of Col. Morris B. Schwartz, Texas Selective Service chairman, will present the citation at a brief ceremony scheduled for 1:15 p.m. Wednesday in the draft board offices in the Fraser Bldg., W. Kingsmill St.

The certificate to be presented to Stribling also has been signed by Gov. John Connally, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, and Colonel Schwartz.

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo (UPI) — President Fulbert Youlou resigned today in the face of a howling mob which besieged his palace and screamed for his ouster.

A Congolese army announcement said the army seized power in this former French colony following Youlou's resignation.

The unfrocked former Roman Catholic priest who still calls himself "abbe", quit after three days of demonstrations and violence in which at least five persons were reported killed.

The army said the 46-year-old Youlou signed his resignation at 1 p.m. (8 a.m. EDT) and said it would remain in power until a new cabinet is formed.

Authoritative sources in Washington said the Congolese army totals 700 men and the gendarmerie 500.

The resignation came as an estimated 10,000 persons chanted demands outside the heavily guarded palace that Youlou quit.

A spokesman for the French forces here said Youlou's resignation has terminated the military support given him by members of the 2,000-man French army garrison at the start of the anti-government riots Tuesday.

He already had announced that proclamation of the one-party system, scheduled for today's third anniversary of the country's independence, had been postponed.

Dramatic Conference

Authoritative sources told UPI that "the president has quit after a long, dramatic conference with army and trade union leaders."

"He quit reluctantly in the face of threatened violence," they said.

Other sources said Youlou "has no plans to leave the country at present."

When the government eased a 24-hour curfew early today, crowds of Congolese began to mill around the palace, defying an order banning the assembly of more than five persons in any one place.

The mob shouted "Bread", "Work", and "Youlou must resign."

Troops ringed the palace and faced the mob with loaded Sten guns at the ready.

The demonstration reflected the worsening economic situation here, aggravated by a general strike and a lack of food.

Five Arrested—$280,000 Recovered As Scotland Yard Cracks Mail Case

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard today cracked the $7.1-million mail train robbery case—one week to the day after it occurred.

The police arrested three men and two women and it was unofficially reported that about $280,000 of the loot was recovered. Unconfirmed reports said eight other persons were taken into custody. None was identified.

An official police announcement said two of the men were seized "for complicity in the mail robbery."

They were arrested at Bourne-mouth, a seaside resort, less than 100 miles from the place in Buckinghamshire where a gang of bandits hi-jacked a royal mail train last Thursday and made off with 120 bags containing 2½ tons of worn, but valid, pound notes.

Both men, according to the police, put up a struggle and had to be subdued by arresting officers. About 100,000 pounds ($250,000) was reportedly found in two cars they had.

More Money Recovered

The other suspects—a man and two women—were arrested in raids on London homes by Scotland Yard's "flying squad" of detectives, but the police made no formal announcement about them. It was reported that about 500 pounds ($1,400) was recovered in those raids.

The money found in the possession of the two men arrested at Bourne-mouth was said to be in old notes, similar to the bills which British banks had placed on the train so that they could be taken to London, de-

Chicago's Southside Rages Mobile School Fired In Racial Disturbance

By United Press International

A mobile classroom, target of anti-discrimination protests, was set afire early today in Chicago.

More than 150 integrationists have been arrested at the portable classroom site and one civil rights leader vowed the demonstrations would continue "until hell freezes over" unless their demands are met.

Firemen broke into the burning classroom, which integrationists claim fostered de facto segregation, and extinguished the early morning fire. Vandals tried to set fire to another mobile unit a block from the scene of earlier demonstrations.

White and Negro pickets appeared at the home of Chicago Mayor Richard Daley.

In Jackson, Miss., a four-man subcommittee of the state college board said it found insufficient grounds to expel James H. Meredith, a Negro, from the University of Mississippi. Meredith is scheduled to graduate Sunday, the first of his race to win a diploma at the university.

Twelve Negroes started classes today at the previously all-white high school at Sparta, Tenn. There were no incidents. A school spokesman said "five or six" of the 38 Negroes who registered for the current term are members of the school football team.

Five pickets marched in front of the home of Daley, last of the nation's big city political bosses. They also picketed the home of Clair M. Roddewig, president of the city board of education.

Prowler-Peeper Keep Patrolman And 'Ty' Busy

Reports of a prowler and a window peeper kept Patrolman C. L. Wallace and his police dog, "Ty," busy for an hour and a half around last midnight.

The first call came at 10:55 p.m. from Jimmie Enloe, 724 Sloan, who said his wife had just seen a peeper at a window of their home. Her screams, Enloe told police, frightened the man away.

Jo Cree reported at 11:30 p.m. that he heard a noise in the rear of the Cree home at 1819 Dogwood. Patrolman Wallace and his police dog checked out both reports but were unable to pick up any trace of the prowler or the window peeper.

Floods Threaten Concho River's Watershed Area

By United Press International

Possible floods threatened the middle Concho River watershed in West Texas today, an area that only two days ago was in the middle of a near-record drought.

Torrential rains of as much as six inches pounded the watershed Wednesday night, the second consecutive night of rain for the area.

Ranches on the watershed, northwest of San Angelo, reported 6.5 inches of rain.

San Angelo itself, where businessmen were considering hiring a rainmaker because of the drought, had an official total of 1.10 inches and unofficially as much as 3.80 inches was reported.

Generally warmer temperatures were forecast for Northern Texas with continued hot weather expected in the south, the Weather Bureau said.

High yesterday reported in Pampa was a cool 88 degrees, while the overnight low dropped to 62 degrees.

Convalescence Period Starts Today for Jackie

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy was in the starting stage today of a long convalescence that will keep her out of the official White House limelight until early next year.

The President's 34-year-old wife left the Otis Air Force Base Hospital Wednesday in "very satisfactory" condition. She had spent a week there during which her third child, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, was born and died less than two days later.

Mrs. Kennedy had undergone her fourth Caesarean, and although weak and wan looking she walked out of the hospital hand in hand with the President. She smiled and seemed happy to be going home to Squaw Island and her children, Caroline, nearly 6, and John Jr., almost 3.

Mrs. Kennedy is on the road to recovery, but her obstetrician, Dr. John W. Walsh of Washington, ordered her to cut out all official activities for five months "in order to insure her complete rehabilitation and continuing good health."

Starting in mid-September the First Family is expected to spend several weeks at Hammersmith Farm, the Newport, R. I. home of Mrs. Kennedy's stepfather and mother, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss.

Devotional Programs Up to Students

Bible Reading-Prayer Poses No Problem in Pampa Schools

Pampa public school officials have no set policy concerning Bible reading as part of the official school program here, but leave school devotional programs up to the students concerned, according to L. J. Edmondson, superintendent of public schools.

"We hope to continue our present practice and avoid any conflict with the Supreme Court decision saying that Bible reading is not permitted as part of the official school program," Edmondson said.

There is no particular emphasis on Bible reading. The brief, non-sectarian program is intended for the students to begin the day with a serious thought, according to Edmondson.

"There is no required Bible reading. It may be a devotional, scripture reading without comment or a patriotic theme," he said. "We think the devotional has its place through the leadership of the students."

Whether or not students hear the devotional is up to the individual student, because it is given before any school activity begins.

In high school it is broadcast over the public address system only in the classrooms. Any student who did not want to hear the devotional, patriotic theme or scripture, or who did not want to meditate quietly, can remain in the hall where the devotional can not be heard.

"The devotional is facilitated by the public address system, but attention is optional. Students may go to the classrooms or remain in the hall. It is brief, not more than five minutes long and is given daily before class starts at 8:45."

The practice was started at the request of students and is carried on by them, with a student chosen by the Student Council to give the day's thought. The council has a chaplain and has appointed a committee to be in charge of the presentation.

In elementary schools, the devotional, or thought for the day, is given in classrooms without the public address system and at the discretion of the principal, teacher and their students. Whether or not the students have a devotional is up to them, according to Edmondson.

"We don't have any devotionals over the public address system in elementary schools because of the difference in the children's age levels," he said.

"We think our students are serious, dedicated young men and women. This particular phase of growth and development is important to them and we have called upon them for leadership with it. It is intended only to set the tone for the day and give them some challenge, serious thought or meditation," Edmondson said.

The practice of having devotionals in high school began here so many years ago, it is not certain who first suggested it or when, but Edmondson feels that "dedicated teachers have been doing this for years. We have confidence in our students and teachers and believe both want a well-rounded student program, which could not help but include some period of serious, quiet thinking during the day."

Most of the elementary themes are patriotic with some devotional type programs, he said.

"There is no direct dictation as to what they can say. It is strictly non-denominational.

In high school, the students also started the practice of having some student say a prayer before the noon lunch. It is also a customary practice before athletic contests and assemblies throughout the school system.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

MISTAKE AND FRAUD
When you get the short end of a deal you may feel inclined to claim mistake or fraud to get out of the contract.

But courts are not inclined to correct your business mistakes unless they also find serious injustices. For to charge the other party with fraud is serious since fraud is a crime as well as a civil cause of action.

Our courts, therefore, demand more proof than usual in civil cases where one sues to get out of a contract on the grounds of fraud.

Suppose Smith and Black agree to do something in clear language, but Smith does not grasp the terms of a plain contract. This failure of Smith will not void the contract, and our courts will enforce its terms.

But suppose instead Black well knew that Smith had made a mistake, and he still didn't explain it to Smith. Then if this can be proved, Black may have trouble enforcing his contract.

Both parties often make a mistake which may void the deal. In one case Raffles agreed to buy and Smith to sell goods arriving on a ship named the "Peerless." But, it just so happened that two steamers had the same name. Raffles and Smith had in mind different steamers. No contract. Why? No meeting of the minds.

But to end such a contract both parties must make a mistake about something in the contract.

People often make oral agreements, and later write the terms down. Suppose they make a mistake in doing this. When they find such a mistake they can go into court and have the contract reformed.

To induce the other party to agree through fraud makes the contract void. For a court to act in a fraud case one must prove five things:

- (1) A false representation;
- (2) The speaker's knowledge of its falsity;
- (3) His intention to mislead the other party;
- (4) The other's innocent reliance on the statement; and
- (5) Damage resulting from the deception.

Unless every one of these elements are proved, there is no legal fraud.

Except for guardians and others in positions of great trust, the law assumes that persons deal at arms length and have equal ability to protect themselves. The law, in short, expects you to use your head in checking out claims and facts. This goes to the ancient Roman principle: Caveat Emptor (let the buyer beware). The law expects you to look into the claims of the other party, and not to agree to any old paper shoved under your nose as a "standard" contract.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Numeration Team Arrives in Pampa To Start Survey

A numeration team, headed by Allen Cook of Dallas arrived in Pampa today to start the last survey of Pampa for information to be included in the new city directory.

The directory, which will be published and delivered on or about Nov. 15, is published every 18 months by the R. L. Polk Co. of Dallas and El Paso. The company has published this directory in Pampa for 25 years, according to Cook.

Cook estimated it would take from four to six weeks to complete the survey, which will employ 15 local people.

"The advertising and sales teams have already made their surveys, but if anyone was missed and wants to buy a book, he may call the Chamber of Commerce for information, since all sales must come from the company office," E. O. Wedgeworth, chamber manager, said.

The city directory office will be in room 316 of the Rose Building. If no one is home when a canvasser calls at a residence and requests information for the directory, a card will be left for the person to fill out, according to Cook.

"Rather than mailing the card into the office, please phone in the information, for this will speed the delivery," Cook requested.

Chamber officials said the number would be released when a phone is installed.

A police source in the resort city said the arrests followed a tip from an unidentified woman who became suspicious when the men asked for rooms at her boarding house.

Biggest Break

The arrests appeared to be the biggest break so far in police attempts to solve the daring robbery a week ago of the Glasgow-London mail train near Cheddington. The arrests followed the discovery Tuesday of the gang's abandoned hideout — a 200-year-old farm near the village of Oakley in Buckinghamshire. Empty mail sacks and half-eaten meals indicated the gang had fled the farm in a hurry.

"There are many good jobs open in the Texas Highway Patrol for young men between 21 and 35 who would like to help prevent the tragic crashes and collisions that occur on the streets and highways," Sergeant Wilson said.

With the starting of school coming up in the next week or two Sergeant Wilson reminded all motorists of the state law regulating traffic in regard to school buses.

He explained that the driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction a school bus which is stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding 10 miles per hour, with due caution for the safety of such children.

"School buses are plainly marked and motorists know that they carry a priceless cargo—human lives," Wilson said.

Commenting on the upcoming Labor Day week-end facing Texas motorists, the patrol supervisor said, "Many Texas families will take advantage of this last long summer week-end to take trips prior to the opening of school. As a result, traffic will be heavy and the possibilities of traffic crashes will be increased."

"During the 72-hour Labor Day week-end last year 24 crashes claimed the lives of 32 persons."

Formal Opening Slated Friday

Formal opening of the Burger Chef Drive-In, 2201 Perryton Pkwy., will be held Friday through Sunday, it was announced today by John L. Walls, manager.

The Burger Chef, which is reached by driving north on Hobart to the 'Y,' will be open daily from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

"The Burger Chef is part of a nationwide system, with a locally owned and operated franchise," Walls said. "We employ 14 staff members, including my wife Catherine and our assistant manager, Charles Lockhart."

"We strive to give the best quality at the lowest cost. Our chef burgers are always 15 cents and malts, 15 cents. With our chain operation, we can turn out 600 broiled chef burgers an hour."

The meat is tested continually to insure that it meets specifications set by the Chef Burger Corporation, Walls said.

Walls, who lives at 2100 N. Dwight, was a Pampa High School graduate in 1945 and was a gunner's mate in the U.S. Navy from 1945-1947. He was graduated from Texas Tech in 1951 with a B. A. degree in business administration.

From 1951 to 1953 he was associated with Pan-American Oil Co. in Brownfield and from 1953 to 1960 was a bookkeeper for G. B. Cree and Associates of Pampa. He bought the Humble Service Station at the 'Y' in 1960 and continues to operate it.

Needed: Spyglasses

The spy-business has always been mystifying as well as fascinating to non-spies.

But it has now reached a degree of complexity where even the spies must wonder whose side they are on.

There are, of course, plain spies—old-fashioned and uncluttered guys and gals who play it straight and work for only one side.

Then there are counterspies, who are supposed to be spying for one side but really are spying for the other side, the rascals.

And now we have counter-counterspies, who end up by spying for one side they are supposed to spy for in the first place, but do it by pretending to spy for the other side, too.

A perfect job for the guy with a split-split personality!

Spy nomenclature has become a bit baffling, too—at least to us non-spies. MIS, for example, sounds more like the secret ingredient of a new miracle toothpaste than the name of a spy unit, which it really is.

About all we non-spies can do is hope the spies keep clear heads and remember at all times whose side they are really on. Especially those on our side.

Nothing To Sneeze At

It may be of some small comfort to thousands of miserable people at this time of the year to learn that pollen is not all bad. It has some beneficial uses beyond merely reproducing the various plant species.

Pollen is helping men find oil. There is even a science devoted to the subject: "Palynology" (pal-in-AHL-ogee), from a Greek word meaning "fine dust." Billions upon billions of microscopic flecks of pollen and spores which fell to earth millions of years ago and became embedded in forming sediments enable the palynologist to read the age of rock layers as accurately as if they contained a ticking clock.

In a world that runs on oil, it's nothing to sneeze at.

Saves On Ribbon, Too

History was made and tradition shattered in Cleveland, Ohio, the other day.

An important new highway was opened—a long-awaited link vital to heavy traffic.

And what happened? Was the mayor on hand with un-sheathed scissors to snip a ribbon? He was not.

Did the governor herald another forward step in the march of progress? He did not, for the simple reason he was nowhere around.

Did the driver of the first car to go through receive a gold-plated driver's license? He did not.

Well, what did happen? A workman moved aside a wooden barricade and the traffic started rolling.

What will they think of next?

Editor:

The little town of Spatianga had changed in many ways. A big-glass-enclosed super market stood where my Uncle Had Bigprofits mercantile store had been. New buildings had been built and others had put on pretty new faces. But the little grove of shade trees with worn, whittled benches underneath them at the south end of the three-block town had never changed.

Old cantankerous Jed Peters and mule-headed Zebb Boggs had been sitting on those benches Saturday afternoons arguing about politics ever since anyone could remember. In earlier years they had both been locked up several times for fighting, but of late they had to be content to jaw at each other through tobacco stained beards. So it was this Saturday when the crowd gathered 'round to listen to them.

It was going hot and heavy. Zebb Boggs said, "Why, Jed Peters, ye hain't never had 'nough sense to come in outen the rain. Ye don't know what's good fer ye, and ye never have known what's good fer ye and I can see ye never will know what's good fer ye. Why ye cantankerous old goat, ye jest don't appreciate what the governments done fer ye."

Old Jed spit a stream on a nearby fly and answered, "Looka here, Zebb Boggs, I hain't much concerned about what the government's gonna do fer me, I'm more afeared about what their gonna do to me. Ifen ye'll stick yer head a mite closer I'll tie this cane round yer dirty neck."

Zebb Boggs glared at Jed and said, "Why this here Kennedy feller is gonna do fer free men what machinery done fer the mule. Relieve us of our burdens. What ye got to say to that, Jed?"

Old Jed sat there with his mouth all sunk in and it looked as if he had conceded defeat. Then looking straight into old Zebb Boggs eyeballs Jed Peters said:

"Ye know, Zebb, hii's a fact that machinery relieved the mule, it also removed the mule. Why I hain't seen a mule in Pataha County in ten years. I'm a wondering ifen that hain't jest about what's fixen to happen to free men."

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "How can one tell who is worthy of one's confidence?"

We can think of no other way than whether or not the man has convictions on what's right and what's wrong and can answer questions without evasion or contradiction on his convictions. And if he cannot answer questions or will not attempt to answer questions without contradiction or evasion, he is hardly worthy of anyone's confidence.

Undoubtedly he thinks he has convictions, but if he cannot define his terms, if he cannot reduce them to principles as far as right and wrong is concerned, he does not know much about his subject. Therefore, he can hardly merit another's confidence.

And a man who is really trying to learn always wants his convictions—his assumptions to be questioned, because he knows he is fallible and subject to error. And if a man is in harmony with principles, he never needs to contradict himself, because one truth is always in harmony with every other truth, one principle is always in harmony with every other principle. There are no exceptions to a principle.

One often hears that it takes the exception to prove the rule. That came from the statement that it takes the exception to test the rule or the principle. The minute you have an exception, you have no rule, no principle. So the next time you hear a man say it takes the exception to prove the rule, try to get him to see that it takes the exception to test the rule. And until he can find an exception, he is worthy of using it as an axiom or principle, but that axiom or principle is always subject to examination. Therefore, it would seem that

Today is Thursday, Aug. 15, the 227th day of 1963 with 138 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mars, Mars and Saturn.

Those born today include French emperor Napoleon Bonaparte, in 1769.

On this day is history:

In 1914, the vessel "Ancon" passed from the Atlantic to the Pacific and the Panama Canal was officially opened.

In 1935, Will Rogers and Wiley Post were killed when their plane crashed in Alaska.

In 1945, the U. S. ended rationing of gasoline, fuel and some food.

In 1947, Great Britain ended her 200-year rule of India.

A thought for the day—American poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow said: "Music is the universal language of mankind... Poetry their universal pastime and delight."

The sad report is that in so many cases He becomes the last resort. You have tried everything else now try God! "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee."

the man who can answer all questions about his convictions without contradiction or evasion on what is right and what is wrong is worthy of one's confidence.

Between the Bookends

THREE FOR THE STUDENT OF ECONOMICS

The economic theories of John Maynard Keynes—commonly referred to as "Keynesian Economics"—have so influenced our national economic policies that it has often been pointed out that there is more Keynes than Capitalism in the platforms of our two major political parties.

Because it often requires a page of truth to refute one sentence of falsehood, it has taken a long time for reputable economists to catch up with Keynes. During the last decade, however, several excellent books have been published that expose the fallacies underlying Keynes' work. Three new ones have just been added to that list, and are recommended for the student of economics:

REFERENCE

1. "Keynesianism—Retrospect and Prospect" by Prof. W. H. Hutt is a remarkable book, because of the clarity with which he punctures the Keynesian balloons. With no malice intended, he rationally explains how Keynesianism has weakened the foundations of our economic system.

Prof. Hutt's work is too technical for the average lay reader, but makes an ideal reference work in comparative economics. (Published by Regnery Co., 14 E. Jackson son Blvd., Chicago 14, Ill.; $7.50)

2. Wilhelm Roepke's practical wisdom guided the postwar recovery of West Germany. Author of many books, his newest is a persuasive argument for the free enterprise system, as opposed to Keynesianism. In "Economics of the Free Society", he attacks the planned chaos of arbitrary governmental policies and proves the "benevolent" state does more harm than good when it meddles in the economics of society.

Prof. Roepke makes a complex subject interesting to laymen and experts alike. (Also published by Regnery Co.)

IDEAS

3. The third book presents the profound thinking of fourteen leaders in economics, business administration, political science and sociology. Entitled "The New Argument in Economics," it demolishes the clichés of the "tax-and-spenders" who have had their way in our government since the early 1930's.

The authors disagree on some questions regarding the ultimate balance between the public and private sectors of our economy. But they unanimously reject the idea that the individual exists only for what he can contribute to the "public welfare." (Published by Van Nostrand Co., 24 W. 40th St., New York 18, N. Y.; $5.95).

Sign Mystery

Origin of the dollar sign is a mystery. Most widely accepted theory has it evolving from the Spanish abbreviation for piasters ("Ps") or the same Mexican symbol for pesos. Old manuscripts show the "s" gradually came to be written over the "p," thus making a close equivalent of the internationally-known "$" mark.

HOIST SAIL—A strange looking new vehicle nicknamed the "Fleep" has been delivered to the Army Transportation Research Command. The Ryan-built vehicle features a sail-like flexible wing made of plastic-coated material attached to an arrow-shaped framework and has great lifting ability.

Freedom Academy For High Schoolers

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UPI)—Utah's thriving "Freedom Academy" ranks as one of the nation's top cram-courses for high school boys on the threat of communism.

The program will be three years old this summer. It is a project in which military men teach civilians about national survival. The money to carry it out comes from private sources, but the Utah National Guard handles the classes.

Maj. Gen. Maxwell E. Rich, who set up the Freedom Academy program in 1961, believes the first two years have brought "excellent" response with a minimum of criticism.

High school juniors from every school in the state are invited to the Academy at Camp Williams, the National Guard's main training site near Salt Lake City. The instruction lasts five days in August.

Life at the camp is divided between courses in appreciation of American ideals and traditions, the history of the rise and spread of communism, plus time out for swimming and sports.

"There is no hard-core Prussian-type military training at the Academy," says Rich. The students do stand a formation in the morning and evening to watch the raising and lowering of the flag, but there is no military drill.

Enrollment was about 57 boys the first year and 130 the second. The juniors go back to school in the fall and present reports to other students on what they learned.

general, discounted criticism from some quarters that the Freedom Academy amounts to military indoctrination in political theory.

"It certainly is everyone's responsibility to alert the nation," he declares. "We are not trying to set up military control here. Most of the instructors are part-time officers who have civilian businesses and not regular, full-time military men."

Most People Plan for Homes But Texan Planning for City

By JOHN BARNETT
SAN MATEO, Calif. (UPI)—T. Jack Foster, 61 years old and as successful as a businessman could care to be, is a cheerful Southwesterner who is anything but nervous.

"But," he says, "I'm taking sleeping pills for the first time in my life. I'm just plain too excited to sleep."

The cause of his sleeplessness is a city—the first one that Foster has ever decided to build.

The native Texan who grew up in Oklahoma expects that someday—perhaps in 10 years or so—his city will have a population of 35,000. It is the biggest project he has ever been associated with, and one of the biggest ever undertaken by anybody.

Half-Billion Project

"Everything I've done in my life up to now amounted to maybe $150 million altogether," Foster said. "This one all by itself is going to be more than half a billion."

Foster City, as it's called, is being built on Brewer Island, which consists of 2,600 acres of flat-as-a-prairie land just off the bayside shore of the San Francisco Peninsula 20 miles south of the city.

The land was used as pasture until Foster's trucks and bulldozers arrived to remodel it into a lagoon-laced site for a city that will have 11,000 home and apartment units, a sizeable industrial park and a downtown area.

Foster said he will sell large blocs of the land to individual builders, who will build the houses according to Foster's specifications at prices of $19,000 and up. The waterfront land will be leased instead of sold to keep the prices of the homes down.

Mineral Wells Native

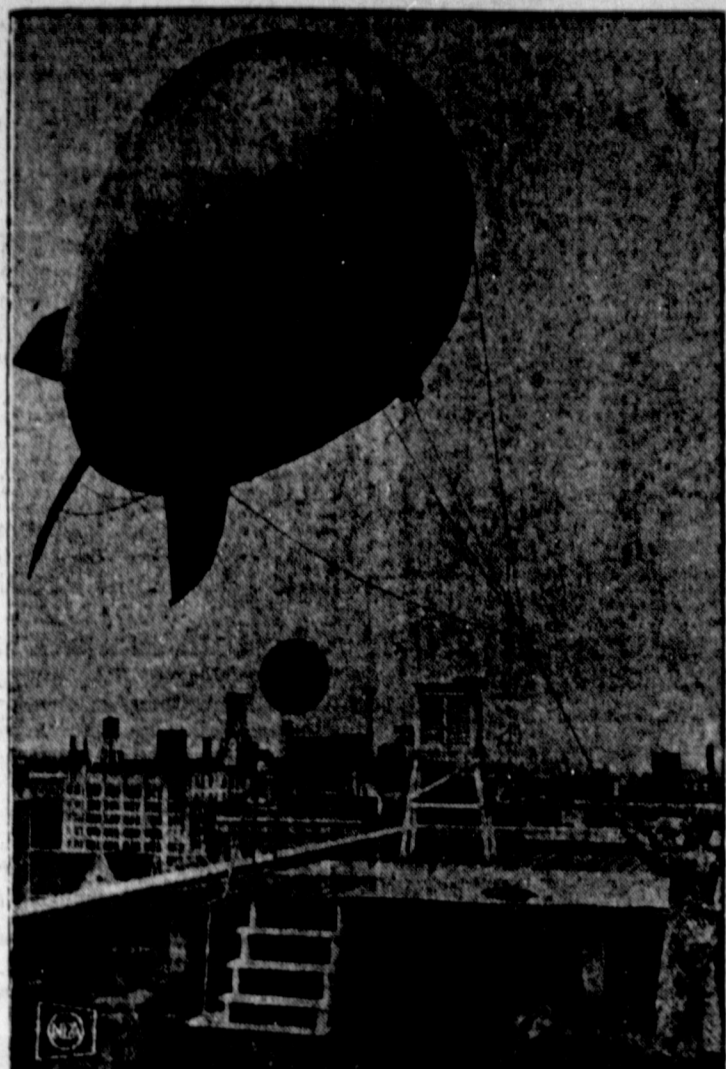

Foster, who was born in Mineral Wells, Tex., and spent most of his adult life at Norman, Okla., has built in partnership with his three grown sons nearly 8,000 homes in the Southwestern United States and Hawaii.

He had retired with his wife to a "dream house" at Pebble Beach, Calif., when he decided to build Foster City.

"I'm doing it partly for my sons," he said, "and partly just because it's such an exciting project. I'm a very happy person, and I've got everything I want—but this is the most exciting thing I've ever done."

Windier City

Chicago's nickname of "Windy City" is challenged by Atlantic City, N.J., where the average hourly wind speed is 15.2 miles per hour as compared with Chicago's 8.2 miles an hour.

GOING UP FOR AIR—Attacking a problem—air pollution—that is plaguing large cities in every part of the country, a 27-foot blimp-shaped balloon is launched from the old Federal Building in St. Louis, Mo. The balloon carried special pollution measuring instruments in the first of six flights conducted by the U.S. Weather Bureau to record movements of air masses over urban areas.

New Device May Do Away With Seismic Blast

By TRAVIS HUGHS

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—The tall slender column of smoke from a seismic explosion may be a thing of the oil industry's colorful past if a new device by Sinclair Oil Corp. works out as expected.

Seismographs draw a map of the underground makeup for oilmen in search of petroleum.

Up until now, exploration crews planted a charge of explosives in a hole in the ground, ignited the blast and took readings of the seismic waves as they bounced off the underground formations.

Sinclair's new device promises to do the same job faster and cheaper. It was invented by Lauren G. Kilmer, a Sinclair research engineer.

The device looks like a large bulldozer without the earth-moving blade in front. Slung beneath the 18-ton vehicle is a chamber that does the exploratory work.

When the vehicle has been located where the test is to be made, the chamber is lowered to the ground and the weight of the huge truck body is placed on the chamber.

Then a gas mixture in the chamber is exploded, sending a 100,000-foot-pound seismic impulse into the ground.

Geophones placed in the vicinity of the truck pick up the shock waves in the conventional manner, and transmit the reflections to the recording seismograph.

According to Sinclair engineers, field tests prove the new device produces records equal in quality to those now produced by the slower, more costly "shot-hole" technique. And the cost of a recording is about one-half that of the older method.

The vehicle has large wheels, making it adaptable to rough or sandy terrain. Sinclair has trademarked the device the "Dinoseis."

At a demonstration at Sinclair's new research center in Tulsa, two engineers easily set up the Dinoseis.

If the device works out as expected, the sharp blasts set off from coast to coast in the last 30 years by seismograph teams may have to retire from the industry along with the gusher.

U.S. Department of Agriculture figures show that farm real estate market prices moved to new highs during the period March 1962 to March 1963. Average market value of all farm real estate in the 48 continental states rose 4 per cent. Estimated value reached $144 billion, up $6 billion from the previous year. Average value per farm climbed to $45,000, up from $42,000; average per-acre price rose from $124 to $130. Wisconsin was the only state to register a decline. Farm price extremes ranged from $264 an acre in the Pacific States down to $48 an acre in the Mountain States.

The Spirit of America is a superb product of three years of development. The 3-ton racer is powered by a J-47 jet engine and rides on the 600-mph Goodyear tires.

NEW LAND SPEED RECORD! 407 M.P.H. ON GOODYEAR TIRES

Monday, August 5th Craig Breedlove, with a wingless jet, Goodyear tires and 170 pounds of heart, hope and guts brought the land speed record back to America.

7:15 a.m. The silence of the Bonneville Salt Flats was shattered by the whine of a 35 foot long jet racer. That whine became a roar as Craig Breedlove in his Spirit of America thundered into the record books.

His speed: 388.49 mph one way, the other way... 428.37 mph! For an average of 407.45 miles an hour! Smashing the record held by England's John Cobb of 394.2 mph. A 1947 record that many experts thought could never be topped.

One of the most important problems that Breedlove faced when he first decided to give the land speed record a try was summed up in a statement that appeared in a leading automotive magazine:

"... there is no point in thinking of a land speed record car if there are no tires that will stand up to the required speed."

Goodyear engineers accepted the unique... almost impossible challenge... and...

A TIRE IS BORN

In his initial talk with Goodyear engineers, Breedlove said,

"I need a tire that can take it. One that's practically indestructible. I'm going to go 400 to 500 miles an hour. That's two to three times as fast as they drive at Daytona or Indianapolis. This has got to be more than just a racing tire. When I get to top speed, the tires will have about 100 tons of centrifugal force trying to pull them to pieces. That's why I came to Goodyear because you people have the know-how."

Goodyear engineers began to design, produce, and test the land speed tires. Most of the tire was cord... for strength. The cord was treated with Goodyear's exclusive 3-T triple-tempering, triple-toughening process... the same 3-T processing that goes into all Goodyear auto tires.

Each tire was tested on Goodyear's multi-stage dynamometer at speeds in excess of 600 miles per hour. Not one failed!

Craig Breedlove — first American to hold the Land Speed Record in 35 years. Breedlove built the "Spirit" in his garage. His estimate of a $10,000 car was exceeded ten-fold, before the car even left for the Salt.

TIRE OF THE FUTURE

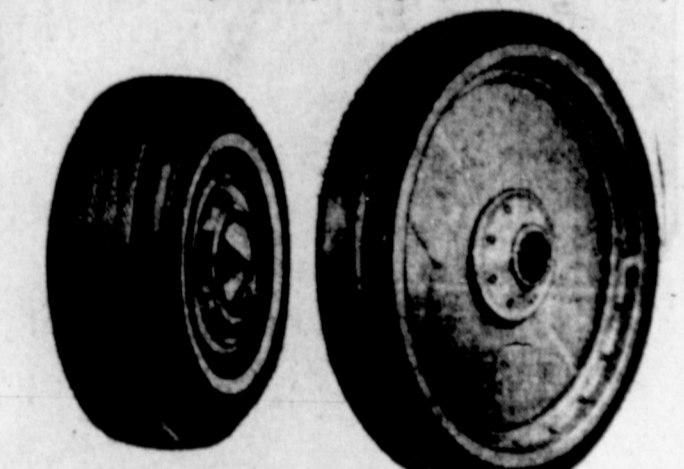

In the making of Breedlove's record breaking tires, Goodyear scientists and engineers came up with developments and discoveries that will affect the tires you drive for many years to come.

Goodyear engineers say that the tire of the future may well be built around a key design feature of these land speed record tires.

When Craig Breedlove and his Spirit of America started at the far end of the 10-mile black stripe that marks the Bonneville course, he knew he was riding on the finest tires in the world. With that worry off his mind... he sped to the record speed of 407.45 mph... and became the fastest man on earth.

Goodyear engineer checks 4-foot high tires. Special Goodyear high-speed dynamometer test simulated the 12,110 pounds of centrifugal force that is exerted at the tread surface at speeds of more than 600 mph.

Today you can get the benefit of Goodyear's superior high-speed developments in great, new Tufsyn tires. Built only by Goodyear, Tufsyn tires deliver up to 25% more durability, giving far more mileage. You can buy these Goodyear tires in all sizes for all cars from your Goodyear Dealer or Store... today.

Breedlove's speed — an official world record — is subject to confirmation by the Federation Internationale Motocycliste, since this event was held under their International Sporting Code.

Bennett Cerf Is No Serf To Big Town Conventions

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "I am one of the few New Yorkers who can walk to work from his own house," says Bennett Cerf, the erudite publisher-television panelist.

He was quick to add that he is one of the few Manhattan residents who owns a real, honest-to-goodness house in Gotham.

Cerf's pride and joy is a five-story, turn-of-the-century edifice which he and his wife (of 23 years), Phyllis, have modernized throughout. It has its own private garden and is located on posh East 62nd Street, 11 blocks from Cerf's office.

For 21 years now the polished publisher has walked to Random House headquarters which he established back in 1925 with partner Donald Klopfer.

Despite his reputation as a millionaire president of a flourishing publishing company, Cerf is known to uncounted viewers as the good-natured guy on the "What's My Line?" panel.

However, his role as punster and fall guy on the show takes up only a fraction of his time. In addition to running his business Cerf travels around the country giving 30 or so lectures a year on humor and the world of books.

He has written eight books himself and has edited two anthologies. He's also on the board of directors of M-G-M Studios.

These things he discussed routinely, but mention his private home in the heart of New York and Cerf waxes ecstatic.

"Living in a private house is wonderful," he said. "And I get plenty of exercise walking up and down the stairs. We have five stories and no elevator."

Most of the floors are restricted to two rooms.

The ground floor contains a dining room and kitchen and a small office. The second floor is one enormous living room-library with almost all the available wall space covered with books.

"Books are the best way to decorate a house," Cerf contends. "My joy in life is rearranging them. I usually quit in the middle of it all, leaving the books heaped in the center of the room for Phyllis to put away."

The third story contains the Cerf's bedroom and the lord and master's study, also filled with books. The fourth floor belongs to the couple's two sons, Christopher, 22, who recently was graduated cum laude from Harvard, and Jonathan, 17, who attends Deerfield Prep.

Three servants occupy the fifth floor; a cook, a maid and a nurse who has been with the family since Christopher was born and, according to Bennett, will remain with them forever.

However comfortable the town house may be, it is usually deserted by the Cerfs on weekends.

Every Friday afternoon or Saturday morning, especially during the summer months, the family travels northward to Mt. Kisco, N.Y., to a rambling country home which includes a tennis court and swimming pool. When Cerf isn't in the pool or flailing away with a tennis racket he hops over to near-by Purchase, N.Y., to play golf at the Century Country Club where he has been a member for many years.

Frequently during the hot months Cerf commutes during the week to Mt. Kisco where he can sneak in a little golf practice. The grounds of the 48-acre estate harbor two little golf courses. Eight acres are devoted to cultivated gardens and lawns; the remainder to rolling woodlands.

Thus far the area has remained uncrowded, which suits Cerf's purposes. He says: "We're only 35 miles from New York City but Mt. Kisco has retained its rural character because the railroad service is so terrible."

For 13 years Cerf's Sunday nights have been occupied with John Daly, Dorothy Kilgallen, Arline Francis and a guest celebrity.

Other evenings Cerf can be found attending the theater or sitting in his study reading, a favorite means of relaxation. Jokingly, Cerf, who is in his 60s, says: "Until about two years ago I considered myself a boy publisher. Now I feel as if I were just entering middle age."

Korean Election Dates Are Set

SEOUL (UPI) — The military junta government of South Korea announced yesterday that general elections for president and members of a national assembly will be held on Oct. 15 and Nov. 26.

The government, headed by Gen. Park Chung Hee, has been promising to return the country to popular rule ever since he seized control of it in a coup d'etat on May 16, 1961.

Park is expected to resign from the army and run for president as a civilian.

FINGERS ON THE FUTURE—Operator Jim Muirhead makes powerful "music"—hydro-electric power music—on the keys of this space-age-control desk of Hamilton Hydro, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada. Its sweeping design suggesting the control bay of some vast space ship, it provides connections for control of 11 substations, and provision for up to 40 stations total. Electronic devices at the substations perform their remote control functions at touch of a button or a small switch.

Dear Abby.... He's A Lost Sheep Or A Bad Apple

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: It's the same old story. Wife puts husband through four years of school, plus two years of dentistry, and now she has been outgrown. However, my story is more than this. I've taught school, born two children and am expecting another. My husband took up with a "beat" crowd and is now trying to "discover who he is—and what his purpose in life is." He was raised rigidly in the church, but he's forsaken it to experiment in a "free" way of life, which includes drinking and other women. We've been separated three months. (I took the children and went to HIS parents, 2000 miles away — my parents are dead and I have no "family" of my own.) My husband now writes that he has taken up painting and intends to desert the career for which he was trained, because he can't handle the responsibility of a family until he finds out who he is and what his purpose in life is. I know I haven't been a perfect wife, but I was faithful, and put him through school. What am I to do?

INSULTED
DEAR INSULTED: Personally, I would rather forego my own "comfort" and please my guests. I see nothing wrong with a guest commenting on the temperature of a room. It makes more sense than shivering in silence, or attempting to fan oneself with a limp handkerchief.

DEAR R. F. A.: Today a man is considered a "hero" if he dances his wife once around the floor. If he goes in for the "one, two, three, kick" routine (to "qualify" as a true gentleman) he won't give the lady much pleasure—nor will he get much.

DEAR TROUBLED: Your husband is either sick or a bad apple. His father should go after him and tell him WHO he is (a husband and father) — and explain that his "purpose" in life is to take care of his family. If your husband is sick, he should have treatment. If he's a bad apple, he should be cut off the family tree.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a person who goes into someone else's home and says, "My, it's COLD in here!" Or, "My, it's HOT in here!"? I was taught that the temperature in

It's Dealer's Choice Where Hemline, Waistline Remains

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
PARIS (NEA) — This week in Paris women took over the men's pastime of leg-watching. As the world's most lofty designers showed their fall fashions, the big question was, "Where, oh where will the hemline go?"

Well, it looks as though you can take your choice. The house of Heim has dropped the hemline three inches, nearly to midcalf. The other couture houses have left it where it was.

Waistlines also take an as-you-like-it approach. For daytime they're normal or nonexistent. For evening they creep up under a raised bosom.

There are no revolutionary changes in the over-all silhouette, but a wealth of new details and accessories have been created by the leading Parisian style setters.

Marc Bohan for Dior shows a military look in coats and suits with emphasis on wider shoulders and patch pockets above and below the waistline.

Bulky, all-concealing topcoats make fashion headlines and seem to have been inspired by Valentina Tereshkova, the first woman cosmonaut. And it will be a cinch to face a long, cold winter in the new towering collars, fur linings and wide, wide stoles. Boots and gaiters will vary from calf to above-the-knee length in fur, fabric and soft glove leather.

The trend toward important sleeves which began with the spring collections continues. They are wide, often banded at the wrist; kimono, raglan or set in below the shoulderline for daytime.

In evening dresses, sleeves are long and tight, combined with off-shoulder, deep squared or heart-shaped necklines. Evening necklines have taken a new plunge at the House of Dior. They leave little to the imagination.

Buttons are important. They vary from the round shoe button cascading down to knee-high gaiters, to large, chunky buttons in jet or carved bone — some as big as silver dollars.

Pierre Cardin has carried variations of the Kite Coat throughout his collection. This is an abstract concoction which, at first glance, appears to be half cocoon, half collapsed balloon. It turns out to be an exact triangle and will interest trend-setting sophisticates.

Hoe And Hope Has Yard Tour

The Hoe and Hope Garden Club of White Deer visited in Pampa recently.

Twelve club members toured the yards of Mrs. Stanley Brandt, Mrs. H. H. Boynton, and Mrs. Ira Carlton.

The tour also included a visit to Aspen Park.

Mrs. Brandt, Boynton, and Carlton were guests of the club at a picnic lunch held in Central Park following the garden tour.

Mrs. Burch TOPS Queen

The Mobeette TOPS Club, Square Shooters, met Aug. 12 with Mrs. Margaret Trout, leader conducting the business session.

Roll call was answered with "Analyzing My Walk." There was a total of three pounds lost by members.

During the program, two poems, "Why I'm In TOPS" and "A Be-lated Resolution," were read.

Mrs. Melba Burch was Queen for the day.

Lutherans Are Third In Protestant Groups

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
There are now about 8.1 million Lutherans in the United States, according to the annual statistical report of the National Lutheran Council. Lutherans comprise America's third largest Protestant family.

exceeded in numbers only by Baptists (21.4 million) and Methodists (12.6 million). Mergers have reduced the number of separate Lutheran bodies from 12 to 8 within the past year. More than 90 per cent of the total Lutheran membership is now concentrated in three large denominations — the Lutheran Church in America (3.2 million), the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod (2.6 million) and the American Lutheran Church (2.4 million).

Joseph Cardinal Ritter, Roman Catholic archbishop of St. Louis, has accepted an invitation from the Episcopal Church to address its general convention in St. Louis next year.

It will be the first time in history that a high Catholic prelate has made such an appearance before the top governing body of the Episcopal Church.

Leaders of the Baptist, Methodist, Lutheran, Presbyterian and other Protestant bodies also will be invited to speak at the convention.

Foreign missionaries of the Southern Presbyterian Church will receive modest increases in salaries and college tuition allowances for their children as a result of action by the denomination's board of world missions.

Concerned by reports that missionary families are being sorely pinched, especially when it's time to send children home to school, the board raised the salaries of married couples from $3,140 to $4,050 a year. It also will provide up to $700 a year tuition for education of missionaries' children.

The National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice has asked its 57 member chapters across the country to send delegates to an "Emergency Strategy Meeting" in Chicago next Saturday (July 27).

Raymond M. Hilliard, chairman of the conference, said the meeting will explore ways to "increase Catholic involvement" in anti-segregation demonstrations this summer and fall.

"We have an opportunity to help secure unprecedented breakthroughs to interracial justice," he said.

The Protestant population of Latin America has passed the 10 million mark and is continuing to grow at a "phenomenal" rate, according to a survey by Christianity Today magazine.

It said Protestant strength has quadrupled during the past 35 years, with especially rapid growth in the Pentecostal bodies, which now account for about one third of all Protestants in Latin America.

The overwhelming majority of Latin America's 200 million people are at least nominally Roman Catholics, and the Catholic Church is waging a vigorous missionary campaign to revitalize the practice of the Catholic faith in areas which have suffered from a severe shortage of priests.

No, Not Again! Dodger Margin Down To Three

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

Oh no, not again!
It sure looks like a rerun of last year's race, with the faltering first-place Dodgers showing the same signs of folding and the surging second-place Giants moving closer to the top each day.

That was the pattern not only a year ago but Wednesday night, too, when the Giants moved within three games of the top with a 7-6 victory over the Reds in 10 innings while the Braves beat the Dodgers, 5-3.

Slump-ridden Jim Davenport and Felipe Alou came off the bench to spark the victory for the Giants, who now have won 16 of their last 22 games. Exactly a year ago they had won 15 of 22.

Davenport, who along with Alou had been benched recently for not hitting, entered the game in the sixth inning and opened the 19th with a double off Cincinnati reliever Bill Henry.

One out later, Alou pinch-hit for winning pitcher Don Larsen and singled to right field to score Davenport.

Makes First Start

Rookie right-hander Frank Linzy made his first major league start for San Francisco but was routed after giving up eight hits and three runs in two innings. The Giants pecked away at Red starter John Taitouris and went ahead, 5-3, after Willie Mays hit his 29th homer with one on in the sixth and Willie McCovey socked his 34th with a man aboard in the seventh.

Vada Pinson's three-run homer in the bottom of the seventh gave the Reds the lead again but the Giants tied the score in the eighth.

Hank Aaron's grand slam homer in the seventh inning dealt the Dodgers their third straight loss. His wallop came off Don Drysdale, who went down to his 13th defeat against 15 victories.

In contrast to the Giants, the Dodgers have won only nine of their last 22 games.

Cards Also Gain

The third-place Cardinals also took advantage of the Dodgers' setback to move within four games of first place with a 3-2 victory over the Colts. The Phillies beat the Cubs twice, 7-2 and 9-3, to move into a virtual tie for fifth place, and the Mets downed the Pirates, 4-2.

Bob Gibson struck out 10 Colt batters and walked off with his 13th victory for the Cardinals when Bill White broke a 2-all tie by rapping his 21st homer in the seventh inning off loser Ken Johnson. Gibson and Johnson (6-16) each gave up eight hits.

Phils Take Two

Reliever Johnny Klippstein blanked the Cubs on two hits over the final 1-3 innings of the first game as the Phillies capitalized on three errors to beat Larry Jackson despite Ernie Banks' 18th homer. The Phils then came from behind to win the nightcap with the help of homers by Johnny Callison and Don Demeter. Dennis Bennett (5-2) was the winner.

Alvin Jackson beat the Pirates for the first time in his career to post his eighth victory for the Mets with Larry Bearnarth's aid in the eighth. The Mets wrapped up the game when they kayoed loser Don Schwall (6-7) during a two-run rally in the sixth. Frank Thomas and Donn Clendenon hit homers.

University Heads To Testify Today

ATLANTA (UPI) — Two university presidents, one of whom already has said that he considers the reputation of Wallace Butts "bad," are scheduled to testify today in Butts' $10 million libel suit against the Saturday Evening Post.

The college presidents are Dr. O. C. Aderhold, president of the University of Georgia where Butts carved out a career of nearly 25 years as coach or athletic director, and Dr. Frank Rose, president of the University of Alabama.

Softball League

Jerry Wright doubled in the winning run in the top of the seventh and Delbert Daniels held the Pampa Stars in the bottom of the frame to give the Cabot Clowns a 2-1 victory in the Industrial Softball League playoffs.

The Clowns, Stars and Pampa Packers all tied for first place in the loop. The Clowns won their fifth straight game to eliminate the Stars, and will meet Panhandle for the title after the Packers finish competing in the current Perryton Tournament.

Daniels hurled a five-hitter for the win, striking out five and walking one. Big Charlie Vaughn lost a heartbreaker, issuing but four hits and one walk while striking out seven. Daniels had it when the chips were down, pitching his way out of a bases-loaded, non-out situation in the second frame, and then getting the last two batters in the seventh with the tying run on base.

The Stars scored the first run of the game in the sixth on a double by Travis Taylor and a single by Harold Deering. Cabot came back in the seventh as Daniels walked and scored on a single by Gene James. Wright then doubled James in.

Bobby Seitz singled with one out in the last bat, stole second and went to third on the catcher's throwing error, but died there. Cabot 0 0 0 0 0 2-4 3
Pampa 0 0 0 0 1 0-1 5 3
Daniels and Gene James; Vaughn and P. D. James

Both sides in the courtroom drama have rested and are putting the final touches to their cases with the rebuttal witnesses. Actual testimony could end today, with summations and court charges coming up Friday.

Blanda Leads Oilers Over Patriots, 21-20

By United Press International

The Houston Oilers' American Football League rivals are no notice today that quarterback George Blanda is ready for another starring campaign.

A veteran of 13 pro seasons, Blanda can afford to take things easy in pre-season exhibition games. But he came off the bench Wednesday night to show the young fellas how an old pro does it with a three-touchdown spree that lifted the Oilers to a 21-20 victory over the Boston Patriots.

Blanda relieved quarterback Jackie Lee with the Patriots leading, 20-0, in the third period and threw three touchdown passes and kicked three extra points to account for all the Oilers' scoring in their second straight exhibition-game triumph.

Blanda passed 19 yards to Charlie Hennigan and 12 yards to Billy Cannon for third-period touchdowns and then capped the performance with a seven-yard scoring toss to Hennigan in the fourth period.

Tom Neumann passed for the Patriots' first touchdown, fullback Harry Crump plunged two yards for their second and Gino Cappelletti and Bobby Walston kicked field goals to run up the 20-0 lead.

The Oakland Raiders indicate that they may move fullback Charlie Rieves to linebacker. Fullback Curtis McClinton of the Kansas City Chiefs pronounced in "great shape" after his conditioning was slowed by an injured knee. The Denver Broncos obtained offensive end Tom Rychlec from the Buffalo Bills in exchange for a future draft choice.

Tackle Leo Nomellini and end Monty Stickles will be sidelined with minor injuries when San Francisco plays St. Louis in Salt Lake City Friday night.

Stuart's Vengeance Leads To Twin Win

By United Press International

Smoldering Dick Stuart is so burned up that he's just liable to foul up the whole World Series.

He's carrying on a whacky one man crusade to annihilate the Yankees all because their manager, Ralph Houk, passed him up for the American League All-Star team last month.

"I'm gonna try to beat their brains out every time I play against them," Stuart proclaimed.

"Let him try," Houk snuffed. Stuart not only tried Wednesday but succeeded handsomely as he pounded out six hits and drove in as many runs to help the Red Sox sweep a day-night doubleheader from the Yankees, 14-7 and 5-4.

The big outspoken Boston first baseman hit Houk where it hurt the most. With the Yanks leading 5-2 in the opener, Stuart singled off the left field wall with the bases full to drive in the lead runs during a seven-run fifth inning explosion.

He then blasted a two-run homer in the eighth inning of the nightcap and that blow turned out to be Boston's winning margin. The home run was Stuart's 29th, tops in the AL, and his 84 runs batted in also lead the league.

Pitcher Homers

Bill Monbouquette picked up his 15th victory in the opener with help from Jack Lamabe, who slugged a three-run homer in the seventh. Rookie Dave Morehead won his seventh in the nightcap although chased in the ninth when the Yanks scored all their runs. Ralph Terry (13-12) and Jim Bouton (15-6) were the losers.

In 11 innings, the Twins tripped the Orioles, 2-1, in 13 innings, the Tigers defeated the Athletics, 5-2, and the Angels downed the Senators, 2-0.

Willie Kirkland's homer with two out in the 11th inning gave the Indians their first run in 27 innings and a victory over Ray Herbert of the White Sox. Dick Donovan held the White Sox to four hits for his eighth victory in 18 decisions. Herbert, who allowed nine hits, now is 11-7.

Win In Thirteenth

Vic Power's double in the 13th inning followed by Bernie Allen's single broke up a 1-all tie between the Twins and Orioles. Allen connected off Stu Miller, who came on in the 11th for starter Robin Roberts. Russ Snyder put Baltimore ahead with a first-inning homer but Harmon Killebrew tied the score with his 28th homer in the eighth. Reliever Bill Dailey gained his fourth victory in six decisions.

Bill Bruton drove in four runs for the Tigers with a homer and two singles against the Athletics. Phil Regan went the first eight innings to register his eighth victory. Moe Drabowsky homered for the A's but it wasn't enough to keep him from suffering his ninth defeat against four wins.

Dean Chance boosted the Angels into seventh place with a five-hitter against the Senators that earned him his 11th triumph. The Angels scored their first run off loser Claude Osteen on three singles in the first inning and added their final run in the fourth on two singles and a double play ball.

Eisewhere in the AL, the Indians blanked the White Sox, 1-0.

44Hauling rock and gravel is really tough on a truck. I learned the hard way, with other makes, that Dodge trucks handle this kind of work best. Dodge engines last twice as long as others I've tried. Dodge clutches don't give out in the sand and mud. And I've never had to replace a transmission, rear axle or wheel bearing on any of the four Dodges I've owned. Now I have a 1962 Dodge with a 318 cubic inch V8 engine that handles nine-ton loads 10 hours a day with all the power in the world! D. J. Wainright, Granta, Nebraska. That's Dodge truck toughness for you. And it's the kind of toughness that increases all the time. We call the reason, "running improvements." We add an improvement to our trucks as soon as it's ready, don't wait for announcement time. Result: Each new Dodge truck we build will be the latest, toughest and most economical we can offer. But Dodge trucks are still priced lower than most of the competition, right in line with the rest. Talk to your dependable Dodge truck dealer about prices. About his liberal finance plan. See how little it will cost to put a Dodge Job-Rated truck to work for you.
