11 in Mine Brought Safely From Shaft

PEINE, Germany (UPI) — Rescue workers brought 11 men safely to the surface today from the underground shaft where they had been trapped for two weeks in a flooded iron mine. A giant, American-made drill chewed its way through the final barrier of earth to reach the men, who had been entombed since a huge sedimentation basin on the surface collapsed Oct. 24 and poured 19 million gallons of water down the shafts. There were 129 men in the mine at the time. Most escaped immediately. Three were plucked from another underground tomb last week. The 11 rescued today were discovered Sunday after they had been given up for dead. Of the remainder, 10 bodies were located in the chamber reached today. Another 19 are missing and presumed dead.

President's Wife Sets Texas Visit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy will join the President Nov. 21-22 in a political trip across Texas, the White House announced Wednesday. It will be Mrs. Kennedy's first tour with the President since the death of their infant son. She recently returned from a relaxation trip to Morocco, Turkey and Greece. There were indications that Mrs. Kennedy would actively participate in a fund raising dinner at Austin. Because of her pregnancy, she did little campaigning during the 1960 race. The White House confirmed that the presidential party would stop in Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and Austin.

NATO Leaders Reject US Plan

PARIS (UPI) — The military committee of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) parliamentarians' conference today rejected President Kennedy's plan for a mix-manned nuclear fleet of surface ships. In a report to the full conference it blasted the plan as militarily "wasteful" and "unnecessary." The committee's report will be debated by the full conference Friday.

FASTER BUCKS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Uncle Sam's statisticians report Americans are making more money today — and spending it, too. Disposable income, or what's left after taxes, was up in the second quarter of 1963 to an adjusted annual rate of $2,116 for each individual. This total is an increase of three per cent over the same period last year.

'Menagerie' Pays Visit; Citizens Gaze

By PHIL DUNCAN
Pampa News Photographer
Do you need a life-size replica of a grizzly bear, a rearing horse or an African lion? Jim Rorie, owner and operator of the Fiberglas Menagerie Co. at Alpine, Calif., left Pampa this morning to introduce his product in different states before returning to California to fill the orders he has received during his trip. "The animals are made of Fiberglas and the paint is base coat so therefore it can not chip, wear or be scraped off," Rorie said.

"To my knowledge, mine is the only company of this type in business today," he said. The price of the animals range from $395 for the rearing horse to $75 for the heads for a wall mounting. Rorie explained that each original animal must be made by a sculptor and as Rorie explained, "sculptors don't come cheap."

"The cost of the mold for the original animal costs from $3,000 to $6,000, other than the sculptor, and we have 14 different molds," Rorie said. The animals are purchased in the most part by city parks, playgrounds, steak houses, motels and many other commercial establishments. "The heaviest animal weighs only 90 pounds and is capable of supporting a load of 1,000 pounds. Rorie had his trailer load of animals parked in front of the "L" Ranch Motel on E. Frederic during his stay in Pampa. The owners estimated that more than 100 cars had stopped and looked at the life-size menagerie.

WHOOPI! WRONG YEAR
WHITEFISH BAY, Wis. (UPI) — As was their custom, the ladies of the Parents-Teachers Association prepared for their annual "election day" bake sale. Only there was no election. Wisconsin votes in November only in even numbered years unless there is an issue such as a referendum. "I don't know how it happened," said an embarrassed Mrs. Raymond Morrison, P-TA president. "Our sale went through our calendar planning committee, the P-TA board and the high school date book."

ZIP TO SANTA
HOUSTON (UPI) — If good little children include the Zip Code in both the address and return address of their letters to Santa Claus this year, and mail them by Dec. 15, the Houston post offices promises a reply. The post office said Santa's Zip Code at the North Pole is 96701. Those who include the Zip Codes will get a post card from Santa.

Rockefeller Tosses Hat In Ring; Fight Promised

West Warns Russia On More Harassing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's "brinkmanship" on the Berlin highway apparently was designed to convince world Communist leaders he had not gone "soft" in dealing with the West, American officials said today. The United States, Britain and France warned Khrushchev late Wednesday, however, that he would be "responsible for all consequences" of further efforts to restrict Allied military traffic. They told him such harassment must end "once and for all." The Allied warning, in stiff notes delivered at the Kremlin, came a few hours after Khrushchev had claimed the United States knuckled under to Soviet regulations to obtain release of a convoy delayed 41 hours on the Berlin road.

Soviet harassments carefully designed to pinpoint the Berlin and German issues without, however, flaring to crisis proportions and wrecking entirely the era of better feeling created by the nuclear test ban treaty. The proposed sale of $250 million in American grain to Russia may be casualty of the short-lived Indian summer in Soviet-American relations. Khrushchev told a group of American businessmen in Moscow Wednesday he would not pay the premium required to ship the grain in American vessels. Administration officials have not found any way to eliminate this premium.

Soviets Unveil Secret Rocket

By DANIEL F. GILMORE
United Press International
MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today unveiled the vaunted Soviet anti-missile missile which Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev once said could "hit a fly in the sky." A squadron of three of the silver-painted rockets, fitted with huge fins at mid-fuselage and tail, was hauled through Red Square on open trucks for this year's military parade on the anniversary of the Russian revolution. The fins apparently provide maneuverability.

Texas Lawmakers Split on Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Texas contingent was split almost even Wednesday in a 258 to 92 roll call vote by which the House approved a compromise $1.2 billion college construction aid bill. Voting for the bill were Democrats Beckworth, Brooks, Gonzalez, Patman, Poage, Purcell, Thomas, Thompson, Wright, Young and Republican Alger. Against the bill were Democrats Burleson, Casey, Fisher, Kilgore, Mahon, Pool, Rogers and Teague. Democrats Dowdy, Roberts, Thornberry and Republican Foreman did not vote. Congressmen Dowdy and Roberts were recorded as paired against the bill.

Viet Nam Rulers Await US Action

By NEIL SHEEHAN
United Press International
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — The ruling military junta today awaited official diplomatic recognition by the United States, committing itself to an early return of democratic government and all-out war against the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas. Junta Chairman Lt. Gen. Duong Van Minh Wednesday signed a decree establishing a "council of sages" to serve as adviser "on all questions regarding the system of private ownership and fundamental liberties" in South Viet Nam.

The State Department disputed this, saying the United States made "no concessions." Department officials said convoy troops neither dismounted nor lowered the tail gates of their trucks to facilitate a head check as the Russians had demanded. Khrushchev was meeting today with Communist leaders of about 25 countries gathered in Moscow to help celebrate the 46th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution. The Moscow meeting has been preceded by a series of

Nikita Replies To West Note In 'Strong Words'
MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev today considered a strongly worded note from the three Western Allies protesting "continued interference" by the Soviet Union with Allied military convoys on the Berlin highway. The note, delivered to the Soviet Foreign Ministry late Wednesday night, said the interference was "totally without justification" and warned that the three Western governments "will hold the Soviet government responsible for all consequences" of any new incident on the highway. Khrushchev, in equally strong words, said Wednesday that Allied military convoys "will be held up in the future" unless they obey Soviet control procedures. He said an American convoy detained 41 hours at a Soviet checkpoint would have been able to force its way through only "over our dead bodies." Today a U.S. convoy went through a Soviet checkpoint without incident. Neither side appeared ready to back down on its interpretation of "reasonable" procedures for checking convoys moving over the Russian-controlled highway to Berlin. U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler flew back to Moscow Wednesday from a vacation in England to coordinate the Western protest notes on orders from Washington.

Woman May Seek Top Post
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, is giving "serious consideration" to suggestions that she seek the Republican presidential nomination and enter the New Hampshire primary next March, her top assistant said today. Mrs. Smith does not plan, however, to comment on the matter until Dec. 5, when she speaks before the Women's National Press Club, her administrative assistant, William Lewis, said.

Governor Heads For First Campaign Stop

By KIRTLAND I. KING
ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller formally announced his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination today and promised a sweeping primary fight to win it. Speaking before newsmen and television cameras in the state capital, the New York governor said he had reached the decision to run "because I believe that vital principles are at stake in the next presidential election."

In a prepared statement read to newsmen, Rockefeller issued a direct challenge to Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, front-runner in the GOP presidential sweepstakes, and other potential candidates to enter the primaries. "It is my sincere hope that the other candidates will make use of the same opportunity (primaries) so that all of their views will be clearly known," he said. "The New Hampshire primary presents an excellent opportunity to do so, forthrightly and undiluted by fence-straddling or double talk of any kind."

Held In March
Rockefeller said he would enter the New Hampshire primary March 19 and "other state primary contests between now and the Republican National Convention in July."

It took the governor eight minutes to read his 1,300-word statement. He also took the occasion to assail the administration of President Kennedy which, he said, had: —Failed to "stimulate" the American economy so as to provide the jobs and greater opportunities promised our people by Kennedy during the 1960 presidential campaign. —Failed to preserve the strength and unity of the free world and the vitality of its alliances. —Failed to understand and meet the menace of international communism.

Rockefeller, who aspired to the nomination in 1960 but found out that GOP leaders "had it all wrapped up" for Richard M. Nixon, said today he felt that the day of "smoke-filled rooms in American politics is over."

"I believe that in a democracy such as ours every man and woman is entitled to know exactly where all candidates stand on the vital issues of the day—issues that so totally affect the lives of every one of us," he said.

Discusses Platform
Rockefeller said delegates to the GOP National Convention in San Francisco next year would be called upon to write a GOP platform that considers "the realities of the world in which we live—a platform and a candidate that will have my complete support, a platform and a candidate that will lead our party to victory in November."

"These are the issues which must be discussed," he continued. "The problems they raise must be solved. Not only our freedom, but the very peace of the world rests on the discussion and the sound solution of these problems. They are issues that cannot be swept under the rug."

He said that was why he welcomed the opportunity of the New Hampshire and other state primaries. In New Hampshire later today, Rockefeller will confer with his supporters and formally open his campaign.

Appears Before Cameras
The governor was dressed in a grey suit, light blue shirt and blue tie—popular television apparel—when he appeared before nearly a score of cameras in the historic Red Room of the state Capitol. The Red Room is where the New York governors hold clemency hearings and other state functions. It was used by the late Franklin D. Roosevelt while he was governor and a candidate for president.

The room was packed with about 150 newsmen, cameramen and staff workers.

Texas Will File Notice of Appeal On Redistricting
LUFKIN (UPI)—Texas will file formal notice of appeal by Nov. 15 of a special federal court ruling outlawing the state's current congressional districting plan.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said he will file the balance of papers necessary for the appeal with the U.S. Supreme Court no later than Dec. 15.

He said the state wants to get the districting question settled "at the earliest reasonable date."

A special three-judge federal court at Houston ruled last month that the state's current districting plan is unconstitutional because of unequal population.

The court issued an order prohibiting the state from holding congressional primaries under the districting plan. U. S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black stayed that order pending an appeal from the state.

"All we are asking the Supreme Court to do," Carr said, "is decide the question of law so we will know what will be required of the legislature in redistricting..."

Voodoo Threat Includes Law
DENVER (UPI) — A woman called the city attorney's office Wednesday to report that her landlady, a voodoo practitioner, had threatened to kill the woman's daughter by putting a lock of her hair in a green hollow tree.

Asst. City Atty. Richard Plock asked her if she had called the police. "Oh, the police are scared to come out here," the woman replied. "My landlady said she'd magic them into toads if they bother her."

Dixie GOP Leaders Plan Goldwater Campaign

By LEWIS LORD
CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI) — Dixie Republican leaders meet here today to plan strategy for their Goldwater campaign and promised a warm welcome and cold shoulder to a delegation sent by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. South Carolina GOP Chairman Drake Edens, host to the 13-state conference, promised that the New Yorkers would be treated to a show of Southern hospitality, but added: "This is Goldwater country." Other Southern Republican leaders agreed that the Rockefeller supporters would have little chance of winning Southern support from the Arizona senator. "The South is united for Goldwater," said Wirt Yerger Jr., chairman of the Southern Association of State GOP Chairmen.

Michael N. Scelsi, executive director of the New York State GOP Committee, said that he and three other New York backers of Rockefeller were coming here simply as Republicans. "We're not going down there as carpetbaggers to sell a point of view," Scelsi said. "Of course we're going to talk to some of our friends. We'll probably be asked some questions." Edens said the conference would have been restricted to simply talk of greasing the GOP's election machinery had the New Yorkers not decided to come. The South Carolinian said they could be expected to actively boost Rockefeller's candidacy and Goldwater backers in turn would plug their man. One staunch Goldwater backer—Sen. John Tower of Texas—learned that the New York group had sought hotel reservations too late. He surrendered his suite for tonight so they could entertain prospective delegates. Other prominent party figures expected at the two-day meeting include Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, National Committee Chairman William E. Miller of New York, and Bob Wilson GOP congressional campaign committee chairman of California. Winthrop Rockefeller, brother of Nelson, will be a member of the Arkansas delegation. The Friday and Saturday business sessions will be closed. They will include discussions of party strength in various states, fund-raising and organizing efforts and other party matters. "In short," said one Republican, "we'll be working to develop our political muscle." Represented will be Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, North (See CAMPAIGN, Page 3)

The Lighter Side

'Instant Beer' Dream Unlikely at Present

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI) — Perhaps you have been dreaming of a brave new world where you can go to the kitchen sink, turn on a water spigot, open a box of capsules and mix yourself a glass of "instant beer."

If so, you are in for a rude awakening. It is my sad duty to report that this type of home brewing, while theoretically possible, is not likely to come about any time soon.

For one thing, the Internal Revenue Service is against it on grounds that it would enormously complicate the collection of beer taxes.

For another, there are fears that turning the United States into a nation of do-it-yourself brewmasters would create further turmoil in the beer industry, which has enough troubles already.

Pros and Cons — It appears, therefore, that in the foreseeable future beer drinkers will have to be content to buy the stuff in bottles and cans.

The pros and cons of instant beer came up for discussion this week at a hearing by the House Ways & Means Committee on the taxation of beer concentrates.

Beginning next month, the revenue service will, for the first time, permit beer companies to ship beer in concentrated form from one place to another.

Under the new regulations, a brewery can whip up a batch of beer, remove a portion of the water by a freezing process, and send what is left to a bottling plant.

At that point the water would be put back again and the reconstituted beer would then be bottled and sold.

Like most innovations, the concept of instant beer has become hotly controversial. Even the use of the term "instant" is an issue in the dispute.

Compete Overseas — At the committee hearing, spokesmen for the Union Car-hide Corp., which developed the quick freeze process, and the Miller Brewing Co., which intends to use it, pictured instant beer as the greatest thing since sarsaparilla.

They contend that reduced transportation costs for concentrates would make it possible for American breweries to compete in overseas markets for the first time.

The committee was assured that reconstituted beer would be as tasty as ever, if not more so, and that the flavor would last even longer.

On the other hand, spokesmen for the Pabst Brewing Co., and for an association of small breweries insisted that instant beer would create havoc in the industry and promote monopolies.

The way it looks now, this argument could go on for years. So I think I'll go out for a short beer.

Proration Cases To Be Reviewed By State Court

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The State Supreme Court has agreed to review two cases in which the Texas Railroad Commission's oil proration rules were struck down.

The court scheduled arguments Jan. 8, 1964 on the Railroad Commission's appeals of suits brought by Aluminum Co. of America, Shell Oil Co. and others.

The suit filed by Shell challenged the commission's formula of 50 per cent acreage and 50 per cent well factor for the Quitman fields and Quitman Goldsmith fields in Wood County.

Dist. Judge Herman Jones and the 3rd Court of Civil Appeals had upheld the plaintiff's contention that the formula should be based 100 per cent on acreage.

In the ALCOA suit, Crown Central Petroleum Corp. and Carl E. Siegmund joined ALCOA in challenging both the one-third well, two-thirds acreage formula for gas and the 50-50 formula for oil in the Appling field of Calhoun and Jackson counties.

A dozen companies and individuals intervened on the side of the Railroad Commission, urging the commission's formulas be maintained.

In that case also both the trial court and the civil appeals court struck down the commission rules.

High Court Upholds Order Barring Steel

AUSTIN (UPI)—The State Supreme Court, in a split decision, ruled Wednesday that a 1960 Texas Highway Commission order barring foreign steel from Texas highway jobs is illegal.

In an opinion by Associate Justice James R. Norvell, the high court majority said the order violates the state's competitive-bidding laws.

Teenager Theme Idea Working, Says Judge

Corporation Court Judge John Warner is continuing his unique theme-writing plan for teenage first offenders in traffic court. "It seems to be getting good results," Judge Warner said today.

Since the plan was inaugurated two or three weeks ago, the judge has "sentenced" more than 40 of the youthful traffic violators to write themes on traffic safety in lieu of paying fines.

Nineteen completed themes have been turned into the court so far and 22 others today were in the process of being written.

The plan works only with first offenders in the teenage category. If one of the theme writers appears in court for a second time on a traffic charge he is dealt with the same as any other violator.

"So far," Judge Warner said, "we have had only one repeater from the theme writers."

The research themes must be 1,000 words long, must be written in ink and unless a passing grade of 70 is received, another theme must be written — this time, 1,200 words.

At 10 a.m. on the Saturday following the day themes are handed in, the young traffic violators must appear in court and discuss their themes with the judge.

Judge Warner is using the theme method in the hope it will serve as an educational procedure to bring home to teenage traffic violators the importance of traffic safety.

5,000 Russians Leave Cuba Soil

MIAMI (UPI)—More than 5,000 Russian soldiers left Cuba during October, the anti-Castro Cuban refugee organization "Sentinels of Liberty" said today.

A spokesman for the organization said it had received reports from Cuba that 3,000 Soviet soldiers left Havana Oct. 17. The others left Oct. 20 and later, through Havana and the ports of Mariel and Santiago, the reports said.

The Russians took all their personal belongings, arms and motorized equipment, the reports said.

"Almost all of Oriente Province has been evacuated by Soviet troops," according to the exile group.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Charles S. Joelson, D-N.J., thinks the idea of commercials on U.S. postage stamps is "novel, interesting — and unacceptable."

Commenting on the proposal, put forward by one of his constituents, Joelson said Wednesday, "I rebel at replacing George Washington with 'Mr. Kleen' and the Statue of Liberty with Miss Rheingold."

Hoffa Believes Union Will Get Wage Increases

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa expressed confidence today that his union would win most of the $600 million worth of wage-benefit increases it seeks from the trucking industry in a new nationwide contract.

Hoffa said the demands he outlined Wednesday were not unrealistic. He predicted the final settlement would be close to the union's 90-cent-an-hour package proposal.

The controversial Teamsters' chief declared he would not call a national truck strike to enforce the demands although he left open the possibility of "selective" area strikes if the contract talks become deadlocked.

Hoffa said that trucking firms would have to raise their freight rates to meet the union's demand for a three-year contract providing average 45-cent hourly pay increases for 450,000 drivers, helpers, warehousemen, mechanics and clerical workers.

The Teamsters' proposal started the ball rolling in the first nationwide trucking industry negotiations—a longtime Hoffa objective. The union now negotiates either area-wide or city-wide pacts for over-the-road and local truck drivers and related employees.

Speakers at the all-day session in Dumas today included C. C. Benson of the National Automobile Theft Bureau, and Joel Tisdale, chief of the Identification and Criminal Record Bureau of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The welcome address was given by Dumas Mayor Harry Gaskill.

Don Andrews of the Amarillo office of the Department of Public Safety, is president of the association.

Pipeline Workers Will Be Honored At Awards Dinner

Pampa area employees of Natural Gas Pipeline-Company of America will be honored at a banquet at 6:30 p.m. today in the Coronado Inn.

The occasion will be the company's annual Service Awards banquet at which employees with five-year multiples of service are given special recognition.

Topping the list — with 30 years' service — are E. N. Peiffer and R. P. Vaughn. Peiffer, superintendent of the local booster stations, will be master of ceremonies for the evening.

L. P. Cantrell and B. J. Hatfield will receive 15-year awards.

Ten-year awards will go to R. F. Groves, J. K. Kirkwood, and F. M. Dunn.

A. D. Richerson is a five-year awardee.

Executives attending from the Company's Chicago office will include H. R. Rohwedder, assistant vice president; C. H. Duncan, general superintendent measurement division, and J. G. Barnhart, assistant general superintendent compressor division.

Rotarians Hear School Singers

A group from the Pampa High School A Capella Choir sang several numbers from "The Music Man" at the noon meeting of the Pampa Rotary Club Wednesday at the Coronado Inn. Student Ray Wagner led the group.

The choir will present "The Music Man" Nov. 14, 15 and 16 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Hank Henry, Junior Rotarian for October, thanked the club for honoring him and introduced Larry Johnson, who will serve as Junior Rotarian for the month of November. Larry is vice-president of the student council, a quarterback on the Harvester football team and was recently chosen "all school favorite."

Luke McClelland served as program chairman.

Hoffa Believes Union Will Get Wage Increases

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa expressed confidence today that his union would win most of the $600 million worth of wage-benefit increases it seeks from the trucking industry in a new nationwide contract.

Hoffa said the demands he outlined Wednesday were not unrealistic. He predicted the final settlement would be close to the union's 90-cent-an-hour package proposal.

The controversial Teamsters' chief declared he would not call a national truck strike to enforce the demands although he left open the possibility of "selective" area strikes if the contract talks become deadlocked.

Hoffa said that trucking firms would have to raise their freight rates to meet the union's demand for a three-year contract providing average 45-cent hourly pay increases for 450,000 drivers, helpers, warehousemen, mechanics and clerical workers.

The Teamsters' proposal started the ball rolling in the first nationwide trucking industry negotiations—a longtime Hoffa objective. The union now negotiates either area-wide or city-wide pacts for over-the-road and local truck drivers and related employees.

Pampan Arrested On Theft Charge

Robert Johnson, 29, of 411 Maple was arraigned today before Justice of Peace Nat Lunford for theft over $50. Sheriff Rufe Jordan said Johnson signed a statement admitting the theft of two sewing machines from the car of Bill Weems.

The machines, valued at approximately $500, were stolen Monday night from Weem's automobile which was parked at 715 S. Gray.

Johnson was arrested at his home when Patrolman Roger Scott, Deputy Jimmy Bowers and Texas Ranger Bill Baten appeared at Johnson's residence with a search warrant. The sewing machines were found in the bedroom of the home.

Johnson is being held in the Gray County jail in lieu of $2,000 bond.

Remains of Viking Village Discovered in Newfoundland

By JOSEPH L. MYLER WASHINGTON (UPI) — At last scientists have found the remains of a Viking community in North America.

which, according to the Icelandic sagas, was established around 1000 A.D. by Leif Ericson, popularly known in his day as Leif the Lucky. It is on the northern tip of Newfoundland near the fishing village of J'Anse Aux Meadows.

The discovery of what so far appears to be the only scientifically authenticated Norse remains in America was made by the Norwegian explorer Dr. Heige Instad, who reported his findings at a news conference here Tuesday.

Studies "Road Map" He found it after years of misdirected effort by studying a "road map" made by Leif and reported in detail by the sagas. The sagas are legendary Norse narratives, handed down by word of mouth from generation to generation.

The sagas say Leif and his fleet of longboats sailed from western Greenland around 1000

A.D., arrived at the coast of Labrador, sailed down the coast until they passed a steep-sided island in a fairly large fiord, and wound up a short distance beyond at a sandy strand fringed by luxuriant grasslands.

According to modern linguists, the "vin" in Vinland meant grass. And according to Dr. Junius Bird of the American Museum of Natural History, if you follow the route described in the sagas to the site excavated by Instad, "you can't miss it."

Discovery Almost Miracle Nevertheless, "it was almost a miracle," Bird said, that Instad found anything at all to unearth. The old Norse buildings, nine houses and a primitive smithy, were built of sod which long since has crumbled, leaving only their outlines plus some typical Norse hearths and the rusty remains of Viking iron smelting.

If, in the nearly 10 centuries since the settlement was abandoned, somebody had planted potatoes or other crops over the old building sites, the evidence would have been destroyed forever.

Instad's findings, authenticated after three years of painstaking excavation, were reported at a news conference sponsored by the National Geo-

Transfer of Part of El Paso To Mexico Still Not Finished

By ROY MCGHEE

Paso to Mexico.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Reliable sources reported today there was little likelihood that Congress would complete its consideration this year of transferring part of El Paso to Mexico.

Grande changed course a century ago.

In a letter of transmittal, President Kennedy asked prompt ratification, this year if possible. The treaty was referred to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

A spokesman, noting the work already lined up for the committee, said he doubted if the treaty could be considered in 1967.

The treaty has now been printed as a Senate document, however, titled "Convention with Mexico for solution of the problem of the Chamizal." With the President's transmittal letter, Secretary of State Dean Rusk's explanation of the treaty to the President, the treaty itself and an engineering annex, the document runs to 15 pages. The Annex is a copy of the minutes of a meeting of the International Boundary and Water Commission, United States and Mexico, held at Ciudad Juarez Aug. 28. It includes an outline map of the Chamizal region and other sections included in the transfer agreement.

The first article of the 12-article treaty stipulates that the Rio Grande shall be relocated in accordance with the commission agreements as set out in minutes. "The river channel shall be relocated so as to transfer from the north to the south of the Rio Grande a tract of 823.50 acres composed of 366 acres in the Chamizal tract, 193.16 acres in the southern part of Cordova Island, and 264.34 acres to the east of Cordova Island. A tract of 193.16 acres in the northern part of Cordova Island will remain to the north of the river.

56TH YEAR

THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1963

Cordova Island is a section north of the present river which is Mexican territory. It was left on the U. S. side when the Rio Grande cut a new channel for itself, but there was never any dispute as to its ownership.

In opposition to ratification of the treaty whenever the Foreign Relations Committee calls its hearings. He said he had legal specialists in international affairs preparing his material. The basis of his opposition, Tower said, would be the doctrine that a state may not be dismembered without its consent.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., said he would present testimony

Gala Double-Decker Peach Dessert

Make your next coffee-and-dessert party a memorable occasion by serving "Double Peach Upside-Down Cake." It's a luscious double-decker dessert, flavorful and fragrant with pinwheels of juicy canned cling peach slices on each delicious layer. An almond-flavored whipped cream filling enhances even further this gala creation.

If you don't have packaged burnt sugar cake mix on hand, substitute yellow or spice cake mix. And don't throw away the clingpeach syrup. Use it as part of the liquid when making gelatin fruit salads or desserts or party punches; or add some to breakfast fruit juice.

DOUBLE PEACH UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE
 1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) cling peach slices 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine 1 package (19 oz.) burnt sugar cake mix
 1 cup light brown sugar, packed 1/2 pint whipping cream
 Few drops almond extract

Drain peaches. In each of two 9-inch layer pans, melt 1 tablespoon butter and sprinkle with 1/2 cup brown sugar. Arrange peaches pinwheel-fashion in each pan. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Prepare cake mix as package directs. Spoon batter over peaches. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven 40 to 45 minutes, or until tops of cakes spring back when touched lightly. Cool on racks. Turn out one layer on serving plate peach-side up. Whip cream with powdered sugar and almond extract until stiff. Spread over cake layer on plate; top with remaining layer peach-side up. Chill 1 hour before serving. Makes 12 servings.

Autumn Apple Snacks

An apple a day, or better yet, several apples a day, is a favorite autumn snack. Apples used in cooking also become highly snackable, and here are several recipes to prove it.

DUTCH APPLE BRAN CAKE
 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup All-Bran (whole bran cereal)
 3 cups sliced, pared apples (about 3 medium)
 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
 1/4 cup soft shortening
 1/2 cup granulated sugar
 1 egg
 1/2 cup milk
 2 teaspoons cinnamon

Good any time of day are Applesauce Drop Cookies. These moist and spicy morsels are made with applesauce, raisins and Concentrate (ready-to-eat nutrition concentrate) and are generous with both flavor and wholesomeness.

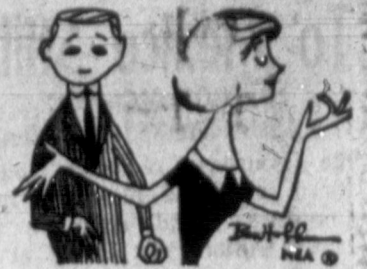

As an afternoon or evening

APPLESAUCE DROP COOKIES
 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
 1/4 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
 1 cup sugar
 1 egg
 1 cup applesauce

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; mix with All-Bran. Blend shortening and granulated sugar; add egg and beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, mixing after each addition. Spread in greased 9 x 9-inch pan.

Arrange apples on top of batter, pressing slightly into batter. Combine brown sugar and cinnamon; sprinkle over apples. Dot with butter. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 35 minutes. Serve warm. Yield: 9 servings

Manners Make Friends

Breaking a date at the last minute or not showing up are good ways to spoil another's evening.

Cabbage palm is a common name for the palmetto palm of southeastern United States.

Cabbage Has High Vitamin C Content

By GAYNOR MADDOX, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q — I know my four children must have some vitamin C every day and that oranges and citrus juices are about the best source. But with prices for them so high today, I really can't afford them. Is there any other fruit and vegetable that supplies vitamin C?

A — Yes, particularly if your youngsters like cabbage. Cabbage is a good source (though not so good as citrus fruit) of that essential vitamin C. A half cup, raw or cooked, provides around a third of the amount of vitamin C recommended daily. Cabbage is a more stable source of vitamin C than most other leafy vegetables. But don't let it dry out. To hold for a few days, wrap and store in vegetable crisper of the refrigerator. Stored this way cabbage holds its vitamin C well.

Q — Do oranges lose any vitamin C when squeezed and served as juice?

A — Yes, they do, and that's important to know when the price is high and your budget low. The U.S. Department of Agriculture's new bulletin (No. 90) "Conserving the Nutritive Values in Foods," explains:

"Fresh oranges lose edible material — and therefore nutritive value — when they are squeezed and the juice strained. The edible yield of an orange as strained juice is only about two-thirds to three-fourths that of the orange eaten by sections."

Foreign News Commentary

Col. Houari Boumediene is a blond, lean, mustached man who has been called the lancehead of the Algerian revolution. Backed by his army of 40,000 men, he put Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella in power and he has kept him there. But from time to time there has been speculation that Boumediene might tire of his secondary role and make his own move for power.

In recent days the speculation has been renewed by the sequence of events which accompanied the cease-fire agreement along the Algerian-Moroccan border in the Sahara. The cease-fire agreement signed in the Mali capital of Bamako by Algerian President Ben Bella and Morocco's King Hassan II was to have taken effect at midnight Friday. But five minutes after it began mortar shells began falling around the Moroccan border town of Figuig.

Former Battleground
Figuig is an old fortress town of around 10,000 population from which the French once fought the desert Arabs and the Berbers. It lies within admitted Moroccan territory.

Each side blamed the other for the cease-fire violation but the evidence, as gleaned by newsmen who later went into the town, seemed to be against the Algerians.

Ben Bella himself seemed to be surprised by the action and so the finger of suspicion pointed at Boumediene who at the age of 38 combines the jobs of defense minister and army commander.

French sources closest to both sides had two possible explanations.

One was that the Algerians, whose noses had been blooded in early stages of the desert conflict, regarded Figuig as a good spot to counter Moroccan pressure on the cases of Hassi Beida and Tinjoub. Figuig is on the border, which at that point juts into Algerian territory.

Deliberate Violation Possible
The other explanation was that, bolstered by Communist-built planes, tanks, heavy guns and other war material shipped from the United Arab Republic and Cuba, Boumediene might deliberately have violated Ben Bella's orders. He is the one man in Algeria who might do so with impunity.

Boumediene is about as far left politically as they come in Algeria without belonging to the outlawed Communist party. He once told interviewers he has no objections to being labeled a "Marxist, Socialist or Castroite."

Among Ben Bella's followers, he has been the one most impatient to carry out promises to seize land from the former European settlers and divide it among his own ragged soldiers.

"Why should these former colonialists stay rich while my peasant army men, who fought and died for seven and a half years, stay starving in rags?" he has been reported as demanding.

Boumediene is a man who has been used by Ben Bella but kept carefully in the background. Whether his soldiers would follow him against Ben Bella is anyone's guess. But he is supposed to be U.A.R. President Abdel Gamal Nasser's No. 1 man in the Ben Bella government.

And Nasser, an avowed enemy of Hassan, has no wish to see a Hassan-controlled Morocco prosper.

Denton Arrests

Panty Raiders

DENTON (UPI)—Two North Texas State University students attempted a panty raid Tuesday night and were promptly arrested.

One student was jailed on a complaint of drunkenness and using abusive language to a policeman. The other student was released to the NTSU dean of men.

Four-Cent Theft

Brings Sentence

DALLAS (UPI)—Wendell Polk, 18, faced two years in prison today for stealing four cents.

A jury ruled Tuesday that the Negro youth must serve six months for every penny he stole. Polk snatched the purse of a Negro woman March 2. Inside was the four cents.

Christian Rally Set for Borger

BORGER (Sp1) — A Borger Christian Crusade rally, featuring "America—Back to God and Constitutional Government" as its theme, will be held in the Stephen F. Austin Jr. High School here Friday, November 15 at 7:30 p.m., it was announced today from the Tulsa headquarters of Christian Crusade.

Borger is one of 50 cities being included in the fall tour of Billy James Hargis, Founder-Director of Christian Crusade, who will be the featured speaker at the rallies. The tour is scheduled through November and December and includes the Upper Midwest, the South, Texas and the West Coast.

Christian Crusade is in its sixteenth year of operation as a non-denominational anti-communist ministry. It draws its members from all races, religions and creeds. Hargis is known internationally for his outspoken stand against communist infiltration and his firm opposition to what he says are "liberal, left-wing tendencies in religion, education and government, which threaten the Christian principles laid down by our forefathers."

The Borger meeting is open to the public and admission is free.

Baboons Used To Check Action Of Cancer Cells

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Cancer cells grow and form nodules when placed in cheek pouches of the baboon, a research scientist said yesterday. But after developing for about 10 days, the cancerous growths begin to reduce in size.

The scientist, Dr. J. Moor-Jankowski, said after 10 days the slowly shrinking cancers were removed from the baboon's cheek pouches and placed in another baboon. They began again to grow in size.

Baboons in Medicine
 Moor - Jankowski's testimony came on the second day of a four-day international symposium on the uses of the baboon in medical research.

Nearly 40 scientists, including experts from Africa, Europe and Russia, are attending the symposium, sponsored by the Southwest Foundation for Research and Education.

The Russian is Dr. Boris A. Lapin, scientific director of the Sukhumi Institute of Experimental Pathology and Therapeutics.

Until a few years ago, few people except Russians and South Africans had used the baboon in medical research.

Sugar Fight Will Be Renewed in '64

The Sugar Fight — a battle of importance to Panhandle-area farmers and United States agriculture in general — will be renewed next year. It's time that citizens with a direct and indirect stake in the outcome be thinking about the question of how much of our sugar is to be supplied by domestic producers and how much of it is to be imported from foreign countries. I predict you'll be seeing more and more about this situation in newspapers and magazines.

Again, the "sugar trust" — the combine of U.S. and foreign sugar interests which has been effective in dictating past and present U.S. sugar policies — will attempt to keep a substantial portion of the supply out of the hands of our own farmers. These powerful interests once again will stand firmly on the side of foreign producers.

The issue will come to a head in 1964 because import quotas established in 1962 will expire Dec. 31 next year. The 1962 Act made allocations of the 3-million tons of sugar imported from Cuba before trade was shut off with the Castro regime. Of that 3 million tons, about half was assigned to friendly sugar producing countries and the other half was assigned to all friendly sugar producing nations desiring to export to us on a first-come, first-served basis. Not one pound of the former Cuban supply was allotted to American farmers.

I fought this unfair situation vigorously when the 1962 Act was before the Congress. I will be among the leaders next year in seeking to obtain for our own farmers a much larger share of the sugar market open in their own country.

It seems obvious to me that American farmers should be given first priority in supplying American requirements. Here are some other economic points to consider:

Each acre of land devoted to sugar beet production, with proper cultivation and adequate moisture, will produce approximately 2½ tons of sugar.

If only one-third of the 3-million-ton sugar supply previously imported from Cuba were allotted to American growers, about 400,000 acres of land could be put in sugar beets.

Diverting 400,000 acres of land to sugar beets would bring a substantial reduction in acreage now producing grain crops in surplus.

The capital investment required to provide processing plant capacity for one ton of sugar beets is about $300. Thus, an investment opportunity totaling approximately $30 million would be provided for American free enterprise — if as little as one-third of Cuba's former imports could be produced here at home.

Several thousand new jobs could be opened for Americans in the processing plants.

By producing more of our own sugar and importing less from abroad, another step would be taken to reduce the balance-of-payments deficit.

When the United States severed diplomatic relations with Cuba in July, 1960, that month's New York average wholesale price of refined sugar stood at 9.47 cents per pound. The price in the same month one year later was 9.4 cents. In June, 1962, the month before new import quotas were enacted, the average wholesale price was 9.6 cents. It was the same in July, 1962, when Congress set up the quotas. In August, 1962, the price rose to 9.63 cents. Thirteen months later, in September of this year, the New York wholesale price was 11.62 cents. This year has brought a wide fluctuation in the wholesale price; between January and June the range was from 9.9 cents to 16.3 cents (the top reached on May 23 to the fanfare of bold headlines in the press). I am convinced that less dependence on international sugar market conditions would restore stability to the sugar market — and American housewives. I'm sure, would find this gratifying. The production of more of our sugar by more of our own farmers would not — repeat, would not — increase the cost of sugar to American housewives above the price they have been paying.

Here's the breakdown of our present sugar supply. Domestic beet sugar, 2.6 million tons; mainland cane sugar, 9 million tons; Hawaii, 1.1 million tons; Puerto Rico, 1.1 million tons; Virgin Islands, 35,000 tons; Philippines, 1 million tons; miscellaneous foreign nations, 1.2 million tons; "global quota" (amount reserved for Cuba when that nation is again free and independent, and now available to other nations), 1.6 million tons.

I am continuing my efforts to acquaint my colleagues in the Congress with this situation, in the hope that when the matter again is before us the position of the "sugar trust" will be understood in its truly fallacious light. Facts and figures will show that it is in the best interests of the United States to produce the major portion of its sugar within the United States and in its territories and possessions.

Recent visitors included Mrs. Jack R. Allen of Perryton; T. C. Evans of Burkburnett and Keith D. Swim of Iowa Park; Carl M. Smith of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Garner of Amarillo; and R. G. Hughes of Pampa.

State Official Wins $125,000 Damage Suit

AUSTIN (UPI)—Secretary of State Crawford Martin has been awarded $125,000 in damages from Belding Flowers Co. for injuries Martin suffered in an auto accident April 4.

Martin suffered a head injury in the accident that resulted in damage to his left eye. A Belding delivery truck was involved in the accident.

APPLES OF HER EYE—Mrs. Dorothy Akins of Nowata, Okla., is right proud of her little apple tree which she set out four years ago. Only 10 feet tall, it produced 360 apples this year—in five varieties, no less. One of the apples weighed more than a pound.

Proposition 3 on Saturday Ballot Relates to Vets' Land Loan Deal

(Third in a series of three articles on proposed constitutional amendments)
By CARLTON WILSON
AUSTIN (UPI) — Texans who wore a military uniform from Sept. 16, 1940 to March 31, 1955 are eligible for state loans to purchase land. But the program will end in 1965 unless a proposed amendment to the state constitution is adopted next Saturday.

Proposition three on the Nov. 9 special election ballot would authorize the state to sell another $150 million in veteran's land bonds to continue the program eight more years.

The amendment also raises the maximum interest rate the state can pay from 3.5 per cent to 4.5 per cent, although the bonds will be sold to the bidder who agrees to the best terms for the state.

The veteran's Land Board uses the present $200 million limit of funds to buy land and then resell it to eligible veterans, who pay enough interest to also cover administrative costs. In many cases the program means the difference between being able to own a home or not for a veteran.

State's Answer

This is the state's answer to the desire to provide some tangible recognition to those who have served their country in time of war.

The Texas program of Veteran's Land benefits was set up by an amendment to the state constitution in 1946, and changes were made in 1951, 1956 and 1960.

The 1956 amendment reorganized the Veteran's Land Board after a scandal was uncovered in its administration. The 1951 amendment included veterans of the Korean conflict in the land program. The 1960 amendment raised the allowable interest to 3.5 per cent to meet a "tight" money market.

The proposed amendment does not effect certain operational changes in the program, such as providing that the chief clerk of the land office shall be acting chairman of the Veteran's Land Board in the absence of the land commissioner. But details of administration remain vested in the board under laws adopted by the legislature. Affects One County

A fourth proposed amendment to the state constitution on the Nov. 9 ballot affects only Jefferson County, the Beaumont Port Arthur area. It authorizes political subdivisions of the county to provide their appointive officers and employees with retirement, disability and death benefits.

Two ways of providing the benefits would be open: joining the existing retirement system of Jefferson County or setting up a special fund on a matching basis with each participant putting up to 7.5 per cent of his salary in the fund. Before either step could be taken, a majority vote of the persons in the subdivision would have to approve.

The intent of the amendment is not so much to provide the benefits for workers of cities and towns in Jefferson County, but to afford retirement benefits of special districts such as water and hospital districts.

State High Court Hears Slanted Well Request

AUSTIN (UPI) — An attorney for H. M. Harrington Jr. of Longview asked the State Supreme Court Wednesday to overrule an order of the State Railroad Commission that refused Harrington's request to straighten out three slanted oil wells.

Attorney Houghton Brownlee Jr. in oral arguments, contended that the commission went beyond its power in turning down Harrington and the commission intended to punish him. Harrington is also the defendant in several civil penalty suits brought by the state in connection with allegedly slanted oil wells.

BRING HOME BACON

CHARLES CITY, Iowa (UPI) — Citizens who voted Tuesday also brought home the bacon.

A livestock buying firm and a supermarket promised a half-pound of bacon to each person who voted. Spokesmen said the offer was an effort to improve the city's poor voting record. Only 633 of 5,620 persons registered voted in the last city election.

60,000 Texans Will Get Bids To JFK Dinner

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. (SpI) — Some 60,000 Texans soon will be getting invitations to dine with the President—for $100 a plate—at Austin's Municipal Auditorium. Presidential aides now are in Austin making arrangements with top Texas Democrats for the November 22 "Texas Welcome Dinner" for President John F. Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Speakers list so far has been limited to the President, the Vice President and Gov. John Connally. To assure a capacity crowd, local party officials are being called on to help. Quotas are being assigned to districts over the state. Funds raised are to be divided between the National and State Democratic organizations.

Most of Texas' 21 congressmen are expected to attend the dinner and all members of the Legislature will be invited. Early announcements indicate Sen. Ralph Yarborough will be with the Presidential party.

President Kennedy is due to arrive in Houston on November 21, where he will attend an appreciation dinner for Congressman Albert Thomas. Cities all over the State are bidding for the rest of his time.

DRAFT GOLDWATER CAMPAIGN — Meanwhile, Republicans are not standing still on the eve of an election year.

State GOP Chairman Peter O'Donnell of Dallas came to Austin to announce the heads of the Texas drive to draft U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona as a presidential candidate, and to map plans for other races.

State Rep. Dick Morgan of Dallas and Mrs. J. C. Man Jr., a Wichita Falls housewife, were designated co-chairmen of the campaign.

O'Donnell said 2,462 elective offices in Texas "will be up for grabs" next year and Republicans intend to reap a fair share.

He said the Republican timetable calls for a Draft-Goldwater chairman in each congressional district by December 1. County chairmen will be appointed by January 1 and precinct chairmen by January 15. Many of the local draft movements will tie in with GOP county executive committees and with election campaigns for precinct, city, county and state, as well as national, elections for public office.

NOVEMBER 9 ELECTION — Coke R. Stevenson Jr., administrator of the State Liquor Control Board, announced that Saturday's special election will not be a "dry day."

Stevenson said, "All types of alcoholic beverages may be sold during legal hours of sale on that date in wet areas."

LEGISLATIVE REDISTRICTING — Pre-trial hearings will be held Friday on a suit to declare current state legislative districting laws unconstitutional. State Sens. Don Kennard of Fort Worth and Franklin Spears of San Antonio; Reps. Bob Eckhardt of Houston and Jake Johnson of San Antonio; and Harris County Democratic chairman Bill Kilgarlin filed the suit. They are objecting to the law which limits a county to no more than one senator and restricts a county with more than 700,000 persons to one additional state representative per 100,000 population.

Several state elected officials who represent small-population districts are intervening in the suit.

In 1942, for example, for every 100,000 young people in the population, 43 died as a result of accidents. In 1962, the rate had been reduced to 31 per 100,000 children.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the comic strips I read has a dog named Snoopy who spends his time watching leaves fall from trees. I should never read comic strips.

Their power of suggestion is so strong that now Snoopy's got me doing it. In fact, overdoing it. The plain truth is that I have become addicted to leaf watching.

Once a person gets hooked on something like this, it is almost impossible to kick the habit. Moreover, he must try to conquer it alone, there being no organization, such as falling leaf watchers anonymous, that he can turn to.

And no matter how hard he might try to hide his weakness, little tell-tale signs will give him away.

Sure Sign
If you have a friend or relative who stands out in the yard at night with a flashlight hoping to see one last leaf fall before bedtime, you can be certain that he's a goner.

The terrible thing about a falling leaf fixation is that the leaf falling season is so short. Soon they will all be gone, leaving long, bleak months of nothingness ahead.

It is possible, of course, to hire someone to climb a tree and toss down some confetti, but it wouldn't be the same.

While waiting for the next leaf to fall, leaf watchers occupy the time with musing and meditation. I normally meditate upon what a shame it is for all of those leaves to go to waste.

Over the years there has been a lot of talk about using the great tides of Passamoquoddy Bay as a source of useful energy. Well, it occurred to me that there might also be a way to harness the energy produced by falling leaves.

Has Possibilities
It is true that a single leaf doesn't produce much energy, but when you consider the millions of leaves that fall each autumn you can see the possibilities.

I also meditate on ways to make use of leaves after they have fallen. Leaves burn well, so why couldn't they be compressed into briquettes and competition with charcoal? If someone wants to try that, I know where they can pick up a lot of leaves — cheap.

Another bright potential is the use of leaves as a breakfast cereal. Crumpled up in a bowl with a little cream and sugar, they would make a mighty appetizing looking dish.

Leaves might not be nutritious or flavorful, but that is no drawback. Almost every cereal you buy nowadays has nutrition and flavor added.

Finally, labor unions perhaps could use leaves as a substitute for featherbedding.

Democrats Hope For 'Decent' Bill On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic leaders have told President Kennedy they expect to be able to come out of "a fairly long siege" of debate on foreign aid with a "decent" authorization measure. The Senate bill to authorize $4.2 billion for one more year of economic, military and technical assistance to friendly nations came up for discussion at Kennedy's weekly meeting with Democratic congressional leaders. The House has passed a $3.5 billion authorization—$1 billion less than that asked by the President. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told newsmen following the White House legislative conference that he and other Senate leaders now recognize the foreign aid debate, in its second week, apparently will last a while. Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., expressed concern, meanwhile, over the effects a prolonged aid fight will have on civil rights legislation. Aiken said in an interview that a continuing battle could kill chances for enactment this year of a civil rights bill. Senate leaders made it clear that they would fight for their compromise plan to chop $365 million from the aid bill despite a rash of attempts to change the proposal. Aiken, a sponsor of the leadership proposal, said that attacks on foreign aid, led by such civil rights advocates as Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., gave House members an excuse to delay civil rights action on the grounds that the Senate would not have time to act on rights legislation before the session ends.

HOSPITAL COST UP
NEW YORK (UPI) — One measure of rising hospital costs: a health insurance policy written for workers of a large firm 25 years ago listed room and board benefits of $3 a day—with a maximum allowance for other hospital charges of $15. In contrast, the firm's present plan provides reimbursement for hospital charges of all kinds; for physician's charges for visits at home; for diagnostic X-rays and laboratory examinations; for oxygen, ambulances and prescribed drugs. This is typical of the trend of the future, the Health Insurance Institute reports. put on the cookout market in

Dear Abby...

Secret Is No Longer 'Under the Hat'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am in hot water with a very good friend of mine. I have known for years that he has worn a toupee, which is the only toupee I've ever seen that looks like the person's own hair. I told a group of men at my club that he wore a toupee. (Some were surprised, and many were not.) Later, when I saw my friend, he let me know in no uncertain terms that he did not appreciate my telling people that he wore a toupee. I did not mean to be unkind. I simply stated a fact. I didn't think he'd mind. Was I wrong?

moderate people who wish to sit together is, in my opinion, so slight an inconvenience that it is rude to refuse.

DEAR ABBY: Three weeks ago my husband died of cancer. I can't find the words to tell you how much I loved him.

CHECKING
DEAR CHECKING: Yes. You should have checked with him first. If he didn't "mind"—why do you think he would wear a toupee?

DEAR ABBY: So often when I am eating my lunch at a counter, two or three people will come in and ask if I would move down a seat or two so they can all sit together. I don't always feel like moving because it involves moving my purse and perhaps some packages. Also, I am usually absorbed in reading something, and I don't like to be interrupted. I used to move without a moment's hesitation, but the more I thought about it, the more I realized that it was just plain rude of people to ask me to move, and I quit doing it. Now when I refuse the request, everyone in the place (especially the waitresses) glare at me as though I were the rude one. Why do strangers feel it is owed them to be accommodated in this way? Or am I wrong?

When it became obvious to him that he was dying, he asked me to promise him that I would not grieve and that I would not let others who loved him grieve over his death. I am 36. He was 39. It was his last wish that there be no public type funeral. He requested that our minister say a little prayer with only those present who had to do the actual labor in burying him. He did not want me, our children, or even his parents to "see" him buried. I promised him and he died in my arms. I discussed it with our minister and everything was carried out according to my husband's wishes. Now, my husband's family and even friends and neighbors are saying hateful things about me. Abby, I thought I was doing the right thing. Did I?

KEPT MY PROMISE
DEAR KEPT PROMISE: Yes. Have no regrets.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WILLIE: Some Bachelors DO change, but it's not a natural process. It usually takes a good woman to change them.

Beta Sigma Phi Completes Seventh Table Setting Contest Arrangements

The five local chapters of Beta Sigma Phi are sponsoring the Seventh Table Setting Contest this year on Nov. 16. The arrangements will be displayed in the Senior High School Girls' Gym at 10:30 a.m.

The contest has been entered by a number of clubs and organizations in the community and will feature table settings for any occasion.

The contest this year will have a new category, individual, added to the formal and informal divisions.

Prizes of $25 and $15 for first and second in the formal and informal divisions will be awarded with a $10 first prize being awarded to the winner in the individual class.

The scale points for judging will be originality and distinction, 40 points; design, 30 points; functionalism, 10 points; color, 10 points; and condition, 10 points.

Winning tables will be selected by a team of three nationally accredited judges.

Complete rules and regulations have been drawn up by the planning committee and approved by the members of the sorority in preparation for the event.

Each entrant is to provide its own table, which is to be placed in the gym and decorated no later than 9:30 a.m. on Nov. 16.

Entering clubs and organizations have been asked to have only one member assist the decorating chairman during assembly.

Music Adds Mood And Decor to Home

By MARGERY McELHENY
United Press International
CHICAGO (UPI) — Music has long been used effectively in the theater and in movies to create and sustain moods. In the home, it can be used to emphasize mood and decor.

Although the average homemaker usually knows what type of draperies or ashtrays to use in her living room, she is often a little uncertain about the background music to use for a party, says Allied Radio Corp., Chicago, distributor of hi-fi components.

For example, currently popular Spanish decor becomes even more dramatic when the warm, earthy tones and dark, heavy furniture associated with it are accented with Iberian rhythms.

Recommended for Spanish-inspired decor are Alberto Albeniz' "Iberia" Chabrier's "Espana," or Rimsky-Korsakov's "Capriccio Espanol."

The room decorated in an Early American theme is well-suited for Aaron Copland's "Appalachian Spring" or Louis Gottschalk's "Cakewalk."

A French provincial setting, with its light, airy colors and gracefully-styled furnishings, is the perfect place for a Claude Debussy nocturne such as "Nuages," "Petes" or "Sirenes," said the firm.

Contemporary homes can be accented with modern compositions such as Igor Stravinsky's "Rite of Spring" or Prokofiev's "Scythian Suite." If these are a little too modern, the company's music expert suggests Bach's "Tocatta and Fugue in D Minor" or Mozart's "Symphony No. 4 in G Minor."

George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" also adapts well to a contemporary setting.

In a traditional home or one that blends the best of current trends, Edvard Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite" and Sergei Rachmaninoff's "Variations on a Theme by Paganini" provide a pleasant musical background.

The music adviser suggested to homemakers who plan to "decorate with music" at the next party:

—Don't limit the tunes to just those you have coordinated with the decor.

—A Broadway score of jazz arrangement alternated with "mood music" offers a change of pace and additional entertainment, two of the main reasons for giving a party.

Program Meet Held By '54 Study Club

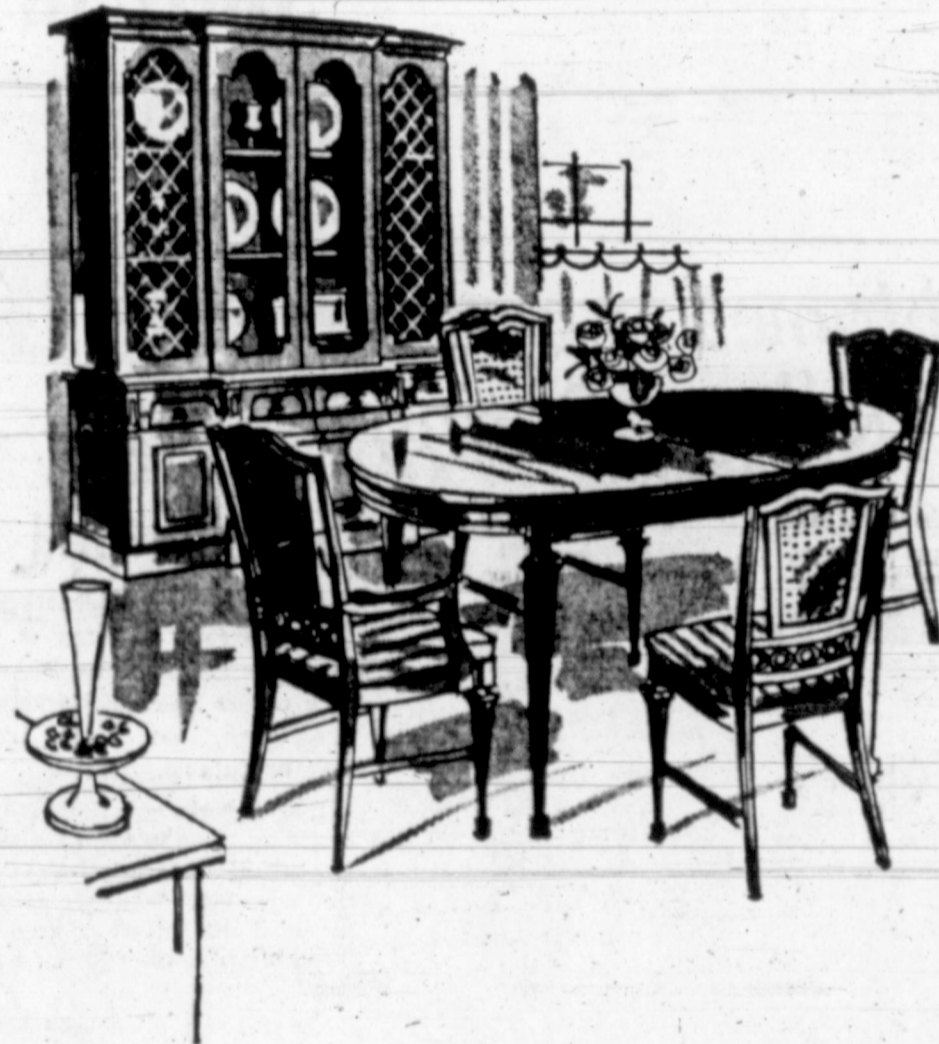

WHEELER (Spl) — The '54 Study Club met in the Home Economics Cottage recently.

Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. Fred Wood, president. Members present were Mmes. Joe Rogers, Harvey Davis, C. C. Crowder, George Weems, Cecil Denson, J. D. Johnson, Amos May, Jim Montgomery, Issac Carter, Ola Underwood and Carl Levitt.

The club voted to send one dollar per month to "Care."

The program was on Indian Affairs. The program consisted of a display of Indian Artifacts brought by members of the club. History of Texas Indians was given by Mrs. Lottie Eva Denson. Present Ways of Life was related by Mrs. Joe Rogers. The Club voted to make a contribution to the Alabama - Coushatta Reservation in the State of Texas and is receiving special attention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs this year.

SWC Round-up

By United Press International
Baylor honed its already-sharp passing game in a lengthy workout at Waco Wednesday while the University of Texas again tried to figure out a way to stop the Bears' aerial circus.

The Southwest Conference leaders clash in Austin Saturday in a game that could decide the title and shape the New Year's bowl picture.

Baylor coach John Bridgers worried about making mistakes early in the game against the Longhorns. "This is one time we'd better be ready to play our best ball from the opening kickoff to the last gun," Bridgers said.

Block Passes

Coach Darrell Royal continued his emphasis on pass defense as the Longhorns avoided contact work. Royal said all hands, including fullback Harold Philipp, were in good condition. A pulled muscle hampered Philipp last week in Texas' 17-12 win over Southern Methodist.

The Rice Owls and Arkansas Razorbacks, who battle Saturday at Houston in an effort to stay in the running for league honors, went through light workouts with emphasis on play recognition.

Rice coach Jess Neely said it was "doubtful" if end John Sylvester will play Saturday because of two broken fingers. Neely said fullback Paul Piper and center Malcolm Walker should be sufficiently recovered from shoulder bruises to play against the Hogs.

Owls are Strong

At Fayetteville, Frank Broyles said the Owls "are as strong as any team we've played." Arkansas tri-captains or the Rice game will be tackle Wesley Bryant, end Jim Grizzle and wingback Mike Parker.

Southern Methodist worked on kickoff receiving in preparation for Saturday's invasion of Texas A&M. Several players had minor injuries, but coach Hayden Fry said most would see action at College Station.

A&M coach Hank Foldberg named sophomore Charles LaGrange as his starting quarterback against the Mustangs.

He said two other sophomores, halfbacks Jim Stabler and Bubber Collins, would also see action Saturday.

Texas Tech sophomore halfbacks Hal Hudson and Max Hatlin drew praise from coach T. King as the Red Raiders practiced in Lubbock for a non-conference game with Kansas State.

Tyler Lee also appeared in the AAAA ratings for the first time, being awarded 10th spot, as San Antonio Highlands skidded out despite a victory over Harlandale.

In AAA, Austin Lanier, which beat 10th-ranked Lampasas, jumped into the select list in the No. 8 spot, while Palestine also made the grade in ninth as Brownwood and Lampasas were knocked out of the rankings, Brownwood by Wichita Falls Rider.

Four new teams took over the last four places in AA—Tulia, Donna, Beaumont Forest Park and Rockwall—replacing Nocona, Mason, Caldwell and Pine Tree. Nocona was beaten by state champ Jacksboro, Mason lost to Brady and Caldwell to high-ranked Rockdale. Pine Tree skinned by Gladewater, but lost its rating.

Class A's Top 10 remained the same except for two major shifts that saw White Oak jump from sixth to third and Petersburg from 10th to fourth.

Only minor changes marked the other three divisions aside from the new names with Pasadena and Spring Branch holding firm behind San Angelo in AAAA; Corsicana, Graham and LaMarque behind Dumas in AAA; Sinton and Katy behind Dalhart in AA, and Hull-Daisetta behind Albany in A.

Pampa Goes Up In District Stats

The Pampa Harvesters jumped to third place in district ofense with their 27-19 whipping of Lubbock last week. Long languishing in sixth place, the Harvesters moved up a notch with their win over Plainview, and then two spots higher this week, although their defense stayed rated sixth.

The outstanding performance of rival quarterbacks Kenny Hebert and Greg Lott in the game completely dominated the individual statistics. Hebert became the first player in district history to rank in every individual statistical department, tying with Lott for second in scoring, a scant 21 yards behind Lott in the race for total offense, one notch ahead of Lott in third place in rushing, moving a good way ahead of the Great Greg in punting, and trailing in only one department, eighth in passing to Lott's fourth. Although catching no passes last week, Hebert finished in third place in pass receiving, the only department his Westerner rival does not rank in.

Hebert's two touchdowns and three extra points moved him ahead of teammate Jerry Garrison in the scoring race by two points, despite Jerry's pair of touchdowns Friday night. David Dillingham of Borger holds an eight-point lead over Lott and Hebert, although with Borger idle this week, there is a good chance that one of the pair, or Garrison or John McIntyre of Monterey could move into first.

At Fayetteville, Frank Broyles said the Owls "are as strong as any team we've played." Arkansas tri-captains or the Rice game will be tackle Wesley Bryant, end Jim Grizzle and wingback Mike Parker.

Southern Methodist worked on kickoff receiving in preparation for Saturday's invasion of Texas A&M. Several players had minor injuries, but coach Hayden Fry said most would see action at College Station.

A&M coach Hank Foldberg named sophomore Charles LaGrange as his starting quarterback against the Mustangs.

He said two other sophomores, halfbacks Jim Stabler and Bubber Collins, would also see action Saturday.

Texas Tech sophomore halfbacks Hal Hudson and Max Hatlin drew praise from coach T. King as the Red Raiders practiced in Lubbock for a non-conference game with Kansas State.

Tyler Lee also appeared in the AAAA ratings for the first time, being awarded 10th spot, as San Antonio Highlands skidded out despite a victory over Harlandale.

In AAA, Austin Lanier, which beat 10th-ranked Lampasas, jumped into the select list in the No. 8 spot, while Palestine also made the grade in ninth as Brownwood and Lampasas were knocked out of the rankings, Brownwood by Wichita Falls Rider.

Four new teams took over the last four places in AA—Tulia, Donna, Beaumont Forest Park and Rockwall—replacing Nocona, Mason, Caldwell and Pine Tree. Nocona was beaten by state champ Jacksboro, Mason lost to Brady and Caldwell to high-ranked Rockdale. Pine Tree skinned by Gladewater, but lost its rating.

Class A's Top 10 remained the same except for two major shifts that saw White Oak jump from sixth to third and Petersburg from 10th to fourth.

Only minor changes marked the other three divisions aside from the new names with Pasadena and Spring Branch holding firm behind San Angelo in AAAA; Corsicana, Graham and LaMarque behind Dumas in AAA; Sinton and Katy behind Dalhart in AA, and Hull-Daisetta behind Albany in A.

Pistol, Pilot Question Marks In Grid Duel

CANYON (Sp) — West Texas State University finishes preparations today for its final home appearance of the 1963 season as New Mexico State U. comes into Buffalo Bowl Saturday afternoon. The Buffs and Aggies will square off at 2:00 p.m.

West Texas broke its three game losing streak last weekend as the Buffs defeated a game Trinity University team 24-2. This game may not have seemed too important to many of the West Texas followers, but it was a vital contest to the coaching staff and players. The Trinity contest marked the debut of freshman quarterback Greg Klein who was pressed into service when starter David "Hoot" Gibson and alternate Bill Bundy were injured a week ago against University of Arizona. Klein came through with flying colors. He completed 7 of 10 passes for 77 yards and one score. He directed the Buffs to all of their points and showed a great deal of poise for a rookie quarterback. His ball handling was near perfect, his passes were rifle shots right on target. Much was expected of Greg and he delivered in fine fashion.

Ollie Ross was the scoring star of the contest for West Texas. Ollie scored one marker on a short plunge, booted a 46 yard field goal and kicked all three extra points. His 12 point total in Saturday's contest gave him the team leadership with 38 points for the season. His field goal, as far as limited records reveal at the present time, is a

Houston Battles For Survival Against New York

HOUSTON (Sp) — Two teams both of which had just as soon not remember last week, square off at Houston's Jeppesen Stadium Sunday at 2:30 p.m. when the Houston Oilers and New York Jets battle for survival in the Eastern Division of the American Football League.

Houston absorbed its worst defeat in history last Friday night in Boston when the Patriots had their own version of the Boston "Tea Party" to take a 45-3 victory. New York was walloped by San Diego last Saturday, 33-7 for its most lopsided loss, since Weeb Ewbank took over this season.

The Oilers are deadlocked for first place with Boston with a 5-4 record while New York is now 3-4-1. Another loss by either club would just about kill all championship aspirations.

Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy's Oilers will be out to settle a seven-week debt with the Jets. New York handed Houston a 24-17 loss earlier in New York and it was the first time in seven league outings that the Oilers had fallen to a New York entry.

New York relies heavily on the quarterbacking of 6-5 Dick Wood along with the pass receiving of Bake Turner, Gene Heeter, Don Maynard, fullback Mark Smolinski and fullback Bill Mathis. Maynard, the former Texas Western star, has been slowed with injuries and may not be able to play. Turner, the former Texas Tech great, is Wood's favorite target, catching 34 aeriels for 468 yards and four touchdowns. He ranked sixth in the AFL in receiving prior to last week's games.

Should the Jet air game falter, Wood can call on the running of Mathis, Smolinski and halfback Dick Christy. Smolinski is the leading ball carrier with 257 yards on 61 trips followed by Mathis with 138 on 58 tries.

Although the Jets rank last in the league in total defense, Ewbank has proven performers along the defensive line in tackle Dick Guesman (235), and LaVerne Torczon (235) and excellent linebacking from All-AFL Larry Grantham, Dave Yohn and Jim Price. The Jets also have two of the top deep backs in Dainard Paulson and Bill Baird.

Along the offensive line, key performers are guards Sid Fournet and Dan Ficca, center Mike Hudock and tackle Jack Klotz and Sherman Plunkett. Former University of Houston great Curley Johnson gives the

Red Raiders Pick Over K-State Cats

LUBBOCK (Sp) — Texas Tech's surprising Red Raiders close out the home portion of their 1963 schedule by contesting Kansas State University's Wildcats in Jones Stadium at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Coach J. T. King's Red Raiders already have surpassed the most optimistic predictions, by winning three of their first seven football games, two of them in the Southwest Conference.

For the first time this season the Raiders actually are going into the game as favorites. In view of the dope bucket's lack of stability in previous games, this news is hardly likely to encourage coach King.

Kansas State, bearing a 1-6 mark, has a strong runner in 220-pound Ron Barlow, a record-setting receiver in end Ralph McFillen, and a dangerous passer in quarterback Larry Corrigan.

Texas Tech's offense is built around a nearly-all-sophomore backfield and senior David Parks of Abilene, making a strong bid for All-America honors.

Junior James Ellis of Lubbock Monterey has the nod at quarterback. Otherwise, the starting ball carriers will all be sophomores — halves Don Anderson of Stinnett, the Raiders' leading rusher who is second in the Southwest Conference, and Johnny Agan of Albany, a fullback Leo Lowery of Lovington, N. M.

Besides Parks the only senior starting on offense will be guard Bill Shaha, 215-pounder from Dumas, who has developed into one of the Raiders' best interior linemen in recent years.

Texas Tech is dedicating the game to its eight seniors — Parks, Shaha, end David Rankin of Midland, guard Richard Willis of Fort Sumner, N. M., safety Bill Worley of Midland, halfback Roger Gill of San Antonio, slated for a shoulder operation this week; guard Robert Foster of Sundown, and fullback H. L. Daniels of Marshall, who needs a field goal to gain unshared possession of the Southwest Conference one-season record of seven.

A crowd of 20-25,000 is expected.

49er Halfback To Miss Game

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI)—Rookie defensive halfback Kermit Alexander of the San Francisco Forty Niners may miss Sunday's game against the Dallas Cowboys at Kezar stadium because of an ailing ankle.

Alexander, who had a tough time against Detroit's Terry Barr last weekend, was the only absentee at a Forty Niner workout Wednesday. Coach Jack Christiansen said he would test the ankle today.

If the former UCLA star is unable to see action against Dallas, Christiansen said he would go with either Howie Williams or Dale Messer.

The Cowboys have a 2-6 record this season and are tied with the Washington Redskins for last place in the Eastern Division of the National Football League. The Forty Niners trail the Western Division with a 1-7 record.

What was to have been a key district 5-B battle has turned into a one-sided rout before it even starts, moaned Groom football coach Jack York, whose Tigers play undefeated Wheeler Friday night.

York, who is justifiably known as "Sobbin Jack" in the trade due to his lugubrious moaning as to the doubtful ability of his team and the overwhelming superiority of the opponents, literally outdid himself in his latest report. This time with some justification, however, as he rattled off a list of casualties similar to the Marines on Tarawa.

"Starting center Butch Brown was taken to the hospital for an emergency appendectomy Tuesday night," wailed the Sobbin One. "He's through for the season. Fullback Jerry Quirk has been down with the flu, and we hope he can work out at least once before the game. The whole team is down with the flu, Larry Lamberson, Carl Hudson, J. B. Parker will all be on the weak side too."

"Even worse," sniffed York, "quarterback Dan Craig's foot has been bothering him badly. He broke his big toe against Follett and it swelled up to twice its size."

"Other than that," concluded

York brightly, "we're in good shape."

Over in the Wheeler camp, the mighty Mustangs flexed healthy sets of muscles. "We're in the same shape as last week," reported coach Grady Burnett. "We'll hold Don Burks out til the Claude game to make sure he's over the mumps, but otherwise we're all here. Dunc Porter's ankle has been bothering him a little, but it's coming along. If the weather stays warm, it should be fine Friday night."

"Frankly, we're just a little afraid of Groom, they have a real good defense and their offense has been improving, they've been scoring well lately."

"After that game against Claude, we have a lot of respect for them. They're one of the best teams we've played this year. You won't be yelling that I pulled my horses out in the second half. I doubt if I'll be able to pull the horses. . . . It could be a close game, real close. . . . they've got one of the best defenses we'll play against and we've got a tough defense. . . . nobody scores many points against Groom."

York admitted "I felt like surprise some people, just like Claude. You know we play up to other people accordingly, but we've just got too many folks down sick. Kenny Babcock will take Butch's place, if Quirk can't go, Bob Garmon will move back to fullback, and if Craig can't go, Jerry Roberts will take

Texas Quarterback Calls Don Trull Best

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas' No. 2 quarterback Tommy Wade would be mighty pleased Saturday to outthrow an opponent he calls "the best passer I've ever seen."

Wade referred to Baylor's "amazingly accurate" Don Trull, the nation's top tosser of footballs. Baylor meets Texas in Austin Saturday in a game that should determine the 1963 Southwest Conference Champion.

"This week Wade impersonated Trull at Texas practice sessions as the nation's top-ranked Longhorns prepared for what they expect to be their toughest test of the season."

"Trull throws just at the right time, as a man breaks," Wade said. "He gets the ball away real quick. Most are line drive passes."

Wade Hot Passer

Throwing the ball that way wasn't hard for Wade, who has a similar style and is a passing fancier in his own right. Although the Longhorns accent their ground game, last year Wade's aeriels broke open the Baylor game and Texas won 27-12.

Wade explains the main difference in the Texas and Baylor passing is that the Longhorn quarterbacks throw the roll-out and usually have an option to run the ball.

Trull uses the drop-back pass, firing the ball from behind a protective "pocket" of blockers. Wade said the Baylor star "runs only as a last resort." Trull used three "last resort" runs last week for three touchdowns he made personally against TCU.

"I think passers prefer to throw out of the pocket," Wade added, "but once you get used to it it's not hard to roll out."

Carlisle Runs Better

The starting quarterback for Texas is Duke Carlisle, a good passer but a better runner. When Coach Darrell Royal gets ready to concentrate on an aerial attack, he usually calls on Wade.

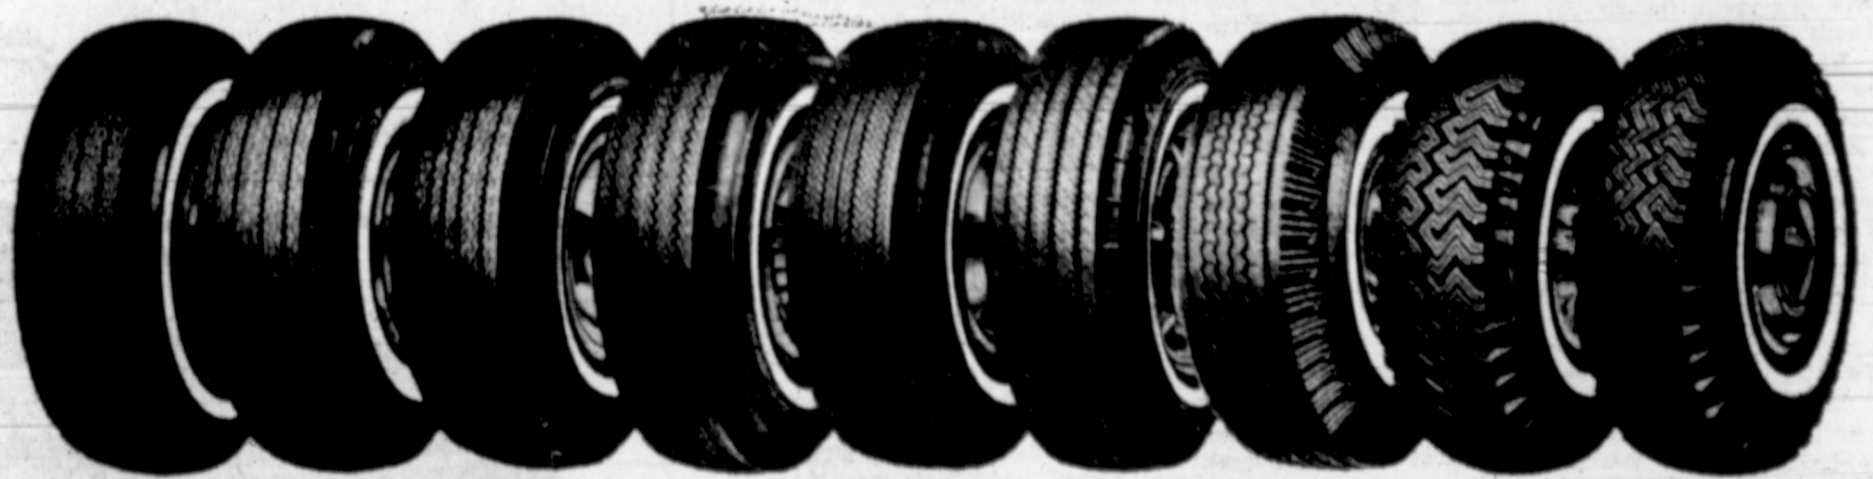

Royal said even the best defense won't keep Baylor from completing passes, "but we're trying to keep them out of the end zone."

Mobeetie Hornets Open Cage Season Tomorrow

Host To Darrouzett Longhorns In Boys Twin Bill, Girls Game

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor
MOBEETIE — The Mobeetie Hornets don't waste any time in their sports program, finishing their football season last weekend, the Hornets kick off the area cage season this Friday night when they host Darrouzett for a triple-header.

The Hornets then return to the arena when they host Darrouzett again with boys and girls varsity games and a B team boys game, then play in five more games and two tournaments over a six-day district play at Kelton Jan. 7, closing out the season with the district tournament at Wheeler Feb. 13.

New head coach Cecil Reynolds, just off Mobeetie's most successful football season in years, has no place to go but up with the Hornets, who won one game while losing 20 last year.

Three starters return to the team as well as five lettermen, with five newcomers making up the squad.

Expected to again pace the team is Big Ray Corcoran. Last year's starting center, Corcoran, despite his being only 5'11", won honorable mention all-district as he outrebounced bigger boys and shot for a 19.7 average.

Billy Whitten, the team's tall boy at 6-1 and the second best shot on the team last year, is also back, although Joe Fred Mixon is down with a bad back suffered in football, and it is doubtful if he will see cage action this year. Gerald Gudgel, 6-10 guard, rounds out the returning starters.

Lettermen back include two tall boys who may help the team, six-foot Eddie Hodges, a leading candidate for a forward berth, and 6-2 Jim Johnston, who will probably split the starting post with him.

Eddie Vowell, 5-10, is the probable choice for the other guard post, although this is being disputed by the "Mighty Mite," 5-1 fireball Joe Kelley, and 5-8 Jackie Barton.

Out for the first time are Jerry Rector, 5-10, Rusty Simmons and Jimmy Ed Smith, each 5-9, Jimmy Barton, 5-4, and Lonnie Trout, 5-1.

Reynolds said that tentative plans until he has seen the team in action, will probably call for a give-and-go attack, attempting to feed the ball in to Corcoran, with Whitten helping on the shooting and rebounding. Defensively the Hornets will play it man-to-man.

On the girls side of the net, Reynolds has bright prospects to look at, with three starters back from a 9-16 season, including his two tallest girls and his best shot.

Mary Helen Gudgel, 5-5, was the Hornets' scoring ace last year, averaging 20.2, the teams' playmaker and free throw shooter, as she made honorable mention all-district. Backing her is ace rebounder Judy Rowell, one of the tallest girls in the district at 5'9", whose tip-ins and hook shots averaged another 12 points per game.

Judy Lizzie provides the defensive knowhow and spark, and at 5'8", is the defensive rebounder and passer for the Hornets. Lettermen promise speed and shooting ability, but not much height, in Rita Read, 5-0, Pat Riley, 5-3, Judy Read, 5-4, Mary Read, 5-0. Tentatively, Rita is slated for ball-handling duties at forward, and Judy at guard, with Pat and Mary both splitting the other post.

A pair of newcomers to the team promise some height in 5-7 senior Nelda Dickey and 5-6 freshman Vonda Hilton. Other candidates are Linda Dickey, 5-1, Phyllis Grimes, 5-1 1/2, Sue Bailey, 5-4.

Reynolds said he plans to start out with a zone under the basket and the others outside man to man. The Hornets offensively will try to get the ball in to Mary Helen for her jumps and set shots, with Judy Rowell taking the boards and dunking the rebounds.

East Texas vs. SWT Gridiron Headliner

By DENNE FREEMAN
United Press International
 The collision of two Lone Star Conference giants—East Texas and Southwest Texas—at Commerce Saturday will be the highlight game of Texas colleges outside the Southwest Conference.

Unbeaten Southwest Texas State (7-0) must invade the lair of the scrappy Lions (5-1-1) in a homecoming game. No doubt the Lions remember the 36-8 bludgeoning they received from the Bobcats last year in San Marcos. The game will pit the Lone Star Conference's toughest defense against East Texas' well-balanced offense.

In another game of high interest, pass-happy Austin College, which set five all-time NAIA football records last Saturday in its losing effort against East Central Oklahoma, will take its aerial circus to Magnolia, Ark., in a game against Arkansas Southern.

Jerry Bishop of Olney is the rifle in the Kangaroo offense. He hit 29 of 45 passes last week and collected 495 yards. Dick Hill was Bishop's favorite target. He snared 17 passes for 266 yards. The fifth mark shattered was the Kangaroos' 502 yards team passing. Only sour note for Austin College was the score. East Central won 54-37.

Wildcats to Arlington
 The Abilene Christian Wildcats, who have won their last five games, take their winning streak and 5-1 record to Arlington to battle the Arlington State Rebels Saturday. The Wildcats dumped North Texas State 29-6 last week. About 1,000 persons were expected to follow ACC to Arlington for the game.

and own a 2-0 margin in the brief series.

Tarleton Improved
 Coach Grant Teaff of McMurry said Tarleton State is "improving with each game and beat a team that beat us in Corpus Christi." McMurry lost to Corpus Christi, 16-12 while Tarleton tamed the Tarpons 21-0.

Lamar Tech's Cardinals take on the twice-beaten Texas A&I Javelinas in a game at Kingsville. Lamar Tech, no longer in the Lone Star Conference, will meet a team that was supposed to take all the marbles in the LSC this year. But the Javs have fallen upon evil days and are struggling at the break-even mark right now.

Downtrodden Trinity, with the worst record (0-6) among Texas collegiate independent teams, will host four times beaten Hardin-Simmons in a homecoming game Saturday night in Trinity.

The injury-riddled Tigers worked feverishly this week to concoct a potent offense to stop the Cowboys, who have won 16 games from Trinity in 22 contests.

West Texas State and New Mexico State clash in what generally would be a battle between "Pistol" Pete Pedro of West Texas and Preacher Pilot of New Mexico State. However, both players have been hampered by injuries and it is not certain whether the two great halfbacks will meet Saturday. West Texas won last year 20-12.

 hitting race with a .312 average. The Detroit outfielder, who was rested by the Tigers during the late stages of the season, had 27 homers and 101 runs batted in.

Ford led the American League in games won (24), percentage (.747 for .774), and innings pitched (269). Killebrew, who was third in the voting a year ago, was the league's top slugger with 45 homers though he batted only .258.

Howard's choice meant that members of the New York Yankees have won MVP honors 16 times in the 33-year history of the award. Detroit is New York's nearest challenger for most MVP's with a total of six selections.

Selected Before Series
 Howard's selection came in voting conducted even before World Series play when he led Yankee regulars by getting five hits off the Los Angeles Dodgers pitching staff. In addition, Howard was struck out only once by Dodger southpaw Sandy Koufax, who posted a World Series strikeout record and last week was named the National League's Most Valuable Player.

It was Howard who spoiled Koufax's World Series no-hit bid and who drove in a run to break the Dodger southpaw's shutout try in the opening game.

A nine-season Yankee veteran, Howard broke into organized ball as an outfielder with Muskegon of the Central League in 1950 and had his minor league career interrupted by two years in the service.

He won the International League's Most Valuable Player award while playing at Toronto after he was ordered converted to a catcher by Casey Stengel in 1952.

Steve Van Buren Says Pros Tough

NEW YORK (UPI) — Steve Van Buren, the outstanding National Football League running back of the pre-Jimmy Brown era, believes "it's a little easier to run and tougher to pass" these days in pro football.

The former Philadelphia Eagles star, who now coaches the undefeated Newark Bears in the Atlantic Coast Football League, doesn't agree with those who feel there's an over-emphasis on passing in the modern game.

Van Buren points out that the more successful NFL clubs like the Green Bay Packers and Cleveland Browns have an ideal balance between rushing and passing; that there's a trend toward improved running throughout the league, and that "the fans like it."

"Whatever they're doing these days is the right thing," smiled the man who gained 5,860 rushing yards for the Eagles in eight seasons between 1944 and 1951. "The attendance certainly bears that out. It's a more exciting game than when I played."

Van Buren cited the change in pro football defenses during the last 10 years as the reason why he felt it's easier to run these days.

Pro teams have changed from the lighter, swift-striking five-man front-line of the 1940's and early '50's to the present-day four-man heavyweight line.

The purpose of the change, Van Buren points out, was to drop one man back for improved defense against passing. And it opened a route for better rushing opportunities.

"Pro teams in my day used a 5-3 defense with only three men deep," Van Buren explained. "Defensive ends were smaller but faster then. On a five-man line they played wider and had more room to maneuver."

Van Buren, whose 196-yard haul in the 1949 championship game against the Los Angeles Rams still stands as an NFL playoff record, also had a few observations about some of the present-day backs.

"Jim Taylor (of the Packers) is a more punishing runner than Jimmy Brown (of Cleveland). He runs over tacklers. But Taylor does not have Brown's size, speed or finesse as a ball-carrier."

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of handling ease you'd expect in a smaller car. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

Only a car that looks as good as this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II. Come on down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do a lot more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines for it—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses!

And if that combination of modest weight and potent power makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea. You've also got a car with lots of room for legs, hips, shoulders, hats and luggage. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension and snug insulation, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions you from bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too. Just listen to the solid thunk of a door closing or look at the smooth metalwork. You'll see what we mean.

Sound good so far? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS... TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

A Need — and a Danger

Oil and gas should furnish two thirds of the free world's energy needs by 1965 — which will mean a daily flow roughly two and one-half times as big as that of today.

That dramatic forecast has been made by the head of a major American oil company which operates in the international sphere.

Yet, there is a danger. For, he went on to say, if an oil and gas shortage should occur in the foreseeable future it would be to a great extent the

Big Gainer

The American food supply is unsurpassed in volume, variety, and nutritional value. By paragonizing all departments of a modern food store we can easily supply all of our nutritional needs.

That statement comes from the Food and Drug Administration. It is the lead to a lengthy warning concerning food faddism which, according to many authorities both in and out of government, has shown a dangerous increase in late years.

The Profit Story

One of the most persistent and dangerous of popular illusions has to do with business profits. Great numbers of people think they are far larger than they actually are.

Now the true story is told in a booklet issued by the Department of Commerce. Here are a few salient facts: Between 1951 and 1961, compensation of employees increased 68 per cent—from $180 billion to $302 billion.

That isn't all. In 1961, the corporate profit of $46 billion was subjected to a $22 billion result of excessive taxes and regulation — elements which are totally beyond the industry's control.

In this company's case taxes have steadily risen in late years to the point where, last year, they took 31 cents of every dollar of gross revenue.

Regulation can be an equally onerous burden, when carried to needless extremes. The domestic gas industry is an excellent case in point.

Allen-Scott Report

White House Keeps Master List of Favored Newsmen Who Get 'In on Everything' — Briefings, Tips, 'the Rest'

WASHINGTON — The Kennedy Administration, always extremely publicly conscious, has come up with a new status symbol.

It is a White House "master list" of newsmen. For those enshrined on this select roll there is an extensive assortment of social and professional benefits and favors.

Socially — there are invitations to the numerous White House functions and parties, including intimate dinners, dances and other events; trips on the President's planes, yachts and other conveyances; visits to his various weekend and vacation domiciles; and other personal treats and pleasures.

Professionally — newsmen on the "master list" enjoy so-called "background briefings" by the President, members of his staff and other "authorities"; news tips; interviews and other special tidbits, and the privilege of launching "trial balloons" in the guise of exclusive stories.

Existence of this unique "master list" was revealed by its principal keeper — White House press secretary Pierre Salinger ("a newspaperman himself once").

An influential Democrat, during a call at the White House, dropped in on Salinger and introduced a reporter, stressing their warm friendship. Salinger responded cordially.

"Haven't I seen you around here recently?" he asked. "You probably have," said the correspondent, "I've attended some of the press conferences."

"Glad to have you with us," beamed Salinger. "We try to take care of our friends. From now on your name will be on the 'master list.' You will be in on everything; background briefings, news tips, and all the rest. I'm sure you will find it worthwhile."

OTHER SIDE OF COIN — Newsmen trying to keep track of President Kennedy's backstage manipulations on the embattled civil rights bill in its tortuous course through the House Judiciary Committee had a quite different experience with Salinger.

On the basis of the record, he apparently deliberately tried to mislead them, as follows: On Capitol Hill they were told by House Democratic leaders they had a conference slated with the President at 4:00 p.m. Salinger flatly denied it. He emphatically asserted, "No such meeting is scheduled."

REG MANNING

The President spent 26 minutes at the reception, carefully shaking hands with every guest. It cost them about $10 a minute for this privilege.

POLITICALS — Senator Barry Goldwater will take a two-week vacation later this month, after which he will curtail his current hectic pace of speech making until after the first of the year.

More than 700 letters a day pour into his office, and an average of 30 invitations a day to speak. Mrs. Goldwater says emphatically she has never made a campaign speech and has no intention of starting. She says her role in politics is to "sit and listen."

At 3:58 p.m., Salinger notified the newsmen that the President was about to meet with Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., and other House leaders on the civil rights legislation.

Later, when asked about this contradiction, Salinger claimed the 4 o'clock meeting had not been scheduled until 3:30 p.m.

LIKE PULLING TEETH — Senator Joseph Clark, D-Pennsylvania Democrat, is a millionaire several times over, but he balked like a mule when it came to forking over $250 for a ticket to a party fundraising affair.

The fact that the event was in honor of President Kennedy made no difference to Clark. When the President went to Philadelphia last week to put in a campaign plug for Democratic Mayor Tate, the local party organization, at National Committee spurring, gave a reception for the President with a $250 admittance charge. Purpose of the affair was to raise some $50,000 for the National Committee.

Several hundred local and state Democratic leaders were invited, among them Clark, the party's lone Pennsylvania Senator.

"Do you mean that the Senator has to pay?" was the astonished exclamation. "Why, he is flying up with the President."

"So are others," was the retort. "Everyone attending this reception pays for his ticket. (Former Governor) Dave Lawrence, (former Mayor) Bill Green (County Chairman), are paying for their tickets, so there is no reason why Clark shouldn't."

Later, Green was informed of the matter. He directed that Clark's office be informed a ticket would be waiting for him at the reception entrance.

"I'll pay for it," said Green. "If he won't, I'll take care of it." When Clark departed from the President's plane in Philadelphia, he sought out Green and told him, "I'll send you a

Pull Up A Chair By Frank J. Markey

One of the most unusual occupations we have heard about is that of 25-year-old Zelda de-Cyr, the "voice" of a child on many radio and TV commercials.

Memory Lane When you were given your first .22 caliber rifle and you decided to become a big game hunter. Somehow those ambitions fell by the wayside when you learned you had to be a pretty good shot to plunk a squirrel or a rabbit.

Life insurance statisticians report the past decade has witnessed a marked rise in the death rate from motor vehicle accidents among teen-agers and young adults. For some unknown reason anyone under 25 at the wheel of a car has to prove he's a speed demon.

Never knew 'til now: John Tyler was the first vice president elevated on the death of a President. He succeeded William Henry Harrison. One of the greatest political slogans in our history was "Tippecanoe and Tyler Too".

A recent survey shows increases in various services at hospitals last year, but the number of births declined from 3,905,120 to 3,857,626 from the year before.

Country Editor speaking: "Plastics aren't new. Remember when well-dressed lads wore celluloid collars?"

Paradise: There's no income tax in the Bahamas, and the self-governing British colony raises money through duties on imports. There's a 4 per cent inheritance tax on all personal property only.

Notably absent are Vice President Lyndon Johnson and Governor John Connally from any mention in an elaborate brochure distributed at an "appreciation dinner" for Senator Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex. Titled "Texas Salute," the handsome booklet contains a full-page picture of President Kennedy and a taped message that was broadcast at the dinner.

When the President went to Philadelphia last week to put in a campaign plug for Democratic Mayor Tate, the local party organization, at National Committee spurring, gave a reception for the President with a $250 admittance charge.

Rockefeller partisans are miffed at Republican National Chairman William Miller because they say he is "neutral in theory, but not in fact." They claim the New Yorker is pro-Goldwater and makes no bones about it privately.

Today's smite: We heard about the proud father of triplets calling a local weekly to report the event. The fellow at the other end, not quite certain of what was being said, asked: "Will you repeat that?" The proud father said: "Not if I can help it."

President Officially Designates Turkey Day

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy issued a proclamation Tuesday officially designating Thursday, Nov. 28, as Thanksgiving Day. The President urged all Americans to take time out on that day to thank God for "manifest blessings" and resolve to share them with "our fellow human beings throughout the world."

'Confederate Air Force' Needs Parts for Jap Zero

MERCEDES, Tex. (UPI)—So there are no Japanese Zeroes left. By thunder, the Confederate Air Force will just build one of its own down by the Rio Grande.

Never defeated and always undaunted, the Confederate Air Force received word from Japan today that there simply are no Zeroes left over from World War II.

Said Col. R. D. Nolen of Mercedes: "We'll have to get pieces and build us one, then. If we can get the funds." There should be plenty of spare parts lying around New Guinea, The Philippines and the bottom of the Pacific.

Col. Culpepper, Suh There was no immediate comment from Col. Jethro E. Culpepper.

The 80 active members of the Confederate Air Force—every last one of them a "colonel"—made up Culpepper as "a good old southern name" and used it to write to Japan for information about a Zero.

Formed in 1957, the Confederate Air Force has a collection of 10 World War II vintage planes. There are F51 Mustangs, a P40 Warhawk, a P38 Lightning and even a B25 Mitchell bomber. Each plane is owned by one or more Air Force members. They are kept at Mercedes in the Rio Grande Valley.

The Confederate Air Force is dedicated to "preservation of the world's fighting aircraft and pledged to support and promote the great customs and traditions of the deep South."

Nolen said the Air Force is dicker for a Spitfire fighter now in Australia. It also would like to buy a German Messerschmidt.

Really Not Colonels The colonels in real life are doctors, lawyers, farmers, school teachers and businessmen.

They even have a "training squadron" of three T6 Texans. The 80 men who take active part in the air force are from all over the country and they perform in air shows.

Col. Nolen said it was too bad Japan could not come through with a Zero.

But a Japanese explained that all the Zeros left over after the U.S. air force got through with them were melted down for scrap.

The Japanese press expressed

Charges Denied By President at Women's School

DENTON, Tex. (UPI)—The president of Texas Woman's University said Monday an investigation into charges of unnatural relations among students narrowed down to one girl and she was cleared by a faculty committee.

President John R. Guinn revealed the investigation Monday after student Murle Cushion, 20, of Port Arthur, charged that there were widespread unnatural sex acts in dormitories at the school.

Miss Cushion said she and eight other girls left the school because they feared retaliation and because school officials did not act when they complained against the acts.

Guinn called the charges "incredible" and said a faculty committee investigated when the girls complained to him on Oct. 22. He said the committee found the charges false.

He said three of the girls involved have not left the school and signed statements saying they now know the accusations were false.

Three other girls, all from Massachusetts, left school because they were homesick and two of those have agreed to write letters stating the charges were false, Guinn said.

Guinn said Miss Cushion, spokesman for the girls, had "brainwashed" them into believing a false story.

"I find it hard to believe that one girl knew of 20 homosexuals while I knew of none," he said.

The girls also complained to Rev. David Kittrell of Asbury Methodist Church who said "I think the girls were naive."
