Banquet Kicks Off Annual Rodeo Time

One hundred and fifty persons attended the annual Top O' Texas Rodeo Association banquet last night in Coronado Inn. Special guests included association directors, city and county officials and their wives. The banquet each year is the kickoff affair for the annual Top O' Texas Rodeo and Kid Pony Show which this year will run Aug. 20 thru Aug. 25. The first day of the event is turned over to the Kid Pony Show on Tuesday and then the RCA rodeo follows Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at Recreation Park. Last night's banquet was featured with entertainment by the Pioneer Quartet, Southwest Division Barbershop Quartet champions, who proved to be crowd pleasers and had to come back for encores. Wiley Reynolds, association president, presided at the banquet and introduced special guests. Dr. E. Douglas Carver, minister of the First Baptist Church, gave the invocation, and the program was introduced by E. O. Wedgeworth, chamber of commerce manager. Special dinner music was played by Maxine Milliron, organist. Channel 4 Television will carry a Pampa rodeo program at 12 noon Saturday when officials of the rodeo association will be interviewed and the Pioneers Quartet will sing.

Rusk and Khrushchev In Hard-Headed Talk

GAGRA, U.S.S.R. (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev met at this sunny Black Sea resort in an atmosphere of shirt-sleeved informality today for hard-headed talks aimed at easing cold war tensions and guaranteeing the security of West Berlin. Rusk arrived at Khrushchev's two-story mansion at 10:05 a.m. (3:05 a.m. EDT) from a nearby government guest house where he and his party spent the night. The Soviet premier, in obviously good spirits, introduced Rusk and his party to members of his family and even suggested that they take a swim in his heated pool before getting down to serious discussions. After the morning session of talks, Khrushchev hosted a lunch for the Americans on the porch of the main house. With Rusk were U.S. Ambassador to Moscow Foy D. Kohler, former U.S. Ambassador to Moscow Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr., and Deputy Assistant Secretary of State Richard Davis. Mrs. Rusk also was present. Besides Khrushchev and Gromyko, Soviet Ambassador to Washington Anatoly Dobrynin also took part in the talks. The serious talks lasted two and a half hours. Rusk, who flew here Thursday from Leningrad with a short stop-over in Moscow, was returning to the Soviet capital later today. Diplomatic sources in the Soviet capital said Rusk planned to "cover the waterfront" in his talks with Khrushchev. They said Rusk's discussions would range from major cold war issues to the question of freeing an imprisoned American. Rusk, who went to Moscow to sign the nuclear test ban treaty, remained to hold talks with Gromyko and Khrushchev on possible further progress in easing the cold war. He flew Thursday to Khrushchev's holiday villa near the Black Sea resort of Gagrag and was due back in the capital later today. Both sides have expressed the hope that the treaty banning nuclear tests in the air, outer space, and under water is "only a beginning" of steps to ease tension between East and West. But there appear to be differences over what step to take next. Khrushchev has pressed for a non-aggression pact between NATO and the Warsaw treaty alliance. The United States is more concerned with the security of Berlin and with the Soviet suggestion that means be found to guard against surprise attack by either side. Berlin has taken on new importance in the thinking of the American delegation, which also includes Ambassador Foy D. Kohler and the former ambassador to Moscow, Llewellyn D. Thompson. This is because of fears Khrushchev's non-aggression treaty plan might pose new dangers for Berlin's security.

Deputy Sheriff Kills Suspect

CARTHAGE, Tex. (UPI) — A deputy sheriff shot and killed one of two short change suspects near Carthage Thursday, then accidentally shot himself and wounded the other suspect when he tried to flee. The deputy, A. C. Henigan of Panoia County, had arrested Lee Arthur Pilot, 27, of Marshall and Phillip Perkins, 24, after a high-speed automobile chase. Henigan was sitting in his patrol car with Pilot in the front seat and Perkins in the back. Pilot tried to get away, Henigan said. In the ensuing struggle the deputy's revolver discharged twice. Pilot was struck in the arm and killed. Henigan was wounded in the arm. While Pilot and Henigan struggled Perkins also tried to flee, the deputy said. He said he jumped from the car and felled Perkins with a blast from a sawed-off shotgun. Perkins was wounded in the abdomen. Henigan had answered a complaint that the pair had been attempting to shortchange merchants in two Panoia County communities.

Wirtz Calls New Talks to Avert Railroad Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz called in representatives of the five railroad operating unions today in new talks aimed at averting a nationwide rail strike on Aug. 29. Wirtz originally had planned to meet with engineer and firemen but shortly before the talks were to start, the conference was expanded to bring in negotiators from the conductors, trainmen and switchmen's unions. At the same time, Assistant Labor Secretary James J. Reynolds scheduled a conference for the fourth consecutive day with representatives of management and labor for continued negotiations on the size of train crews involving conductors, trainmen and switchmen. Reynolds said Thursday night a new effort will be made to settle the critical issue of firemen on diesel engines before Tuesday. The aim, he said, is to present a tentative settlement to a decision-making body of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers next week. The union's 156-man General Chairman's Committee has been called to Washington Tuesday to vote on any accord that may be reached. However, there was no sign that a settlement or solution was near. The five operating unions oppose rail management plans to eliminate the jobs of 37,000 firemen now employed on diesel locomotives. The unions contend the men are needed for safety and efficiency and have vowed to strike if the new work rules are put into effect. President Kennedy has asked Congress to pass legislation to allow the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) to settle the four-year-old dispute.

However, the attorney general left for Hyannis Thursday night.

Ex-Coach Denies Giving Secrets

ATLANTA (UPI) — Former Georgia football coach Wallace Butts denied emphatically today that he gave vital football secrets to opposing coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama. Butts' testimony came during the fifth day of the trial of his $10 million libel suit against the Saturday Evening Post. In an article last March the Post said Butts conspired with Bryant to rig the 1962 Georgia-Alabama game, won by Alabama 35-0. Butts was the first witness called in the fifth day of the trial which has drawn capacity crowds in the federal district court where it is being heard by a 12-man jury. Butts' attorney, William Schroder, asked Butts: "Have you or not in any conversation with coach Bryant over the telephone or otherwise" passed on information about Georgia plays and defenses? Butts: "No." Schroder: "Is there any doubt in your mind about that?" Butts: "Absolutely none." Schroder, at another point asked Butts that if on Saturday Sept. 13, 1962, he gave game information to Bryant relating to plays and defenses of Georgia. Butts replied "emphatically no." Bryant, his voice booming through the courtroom, denied that he and Butts had rigged the 1962 game between their teams, as the magazine alleged in its March 23 issue.

Hurricane Arlene Strikes Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda (UPI)—Hurricane Arlene hit Bermuda at noon EDT today with 80 m.p.h. gusts of wind and torrential rains. The island was on storm alert for the big blow, the season's first hurricane. The Weather Bureau said Arlene was moving swiftly northeast about 100 miles offshore and predicted its violence would subside within hours. The Weather Bureau said the storm should continue moving to the northeast at about 22 mph today and tonight. It was no threat of the U. S. mainland. Arlene contained gale force winds that fanned outward for 150 miles from the center in all directions.

New Language Drafted For Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Justice Department attorneys worked under heavy pressure from opposing factions today to revamp a major section of President Kennedy's civil rights package. The conflicting pressures came from those who want Congress to order a mandatory cutoff of funds to federal-aid programs in segregated areas and from those who want to reduce the force of the present proposal. The presidential proposal now before congressional committees asks for discretionary authority to withhold money from programs in areas where discrimination is practiced. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who revealed Thursday that new language for the section was being drafted, said he would talk it over with congressional sponsors of the civil rights bill in the next two or three days. Kennedy was scheduled to make his eighth appearance before the Senate Judiciary Committee this morning on the civil rights bill. However, the attorney general left for Hyannis Thursday night.

Train Robbers' Loot Soars Near $8-Million

LONDON (UPI) — Confirmed bank losses in the biggest robbery of all time soared today toward $8 million. Insurance companies hit by the loss offered a record reward of more than half a million dollars for capture of the mail train robbers and recovery of the loot. Officials said the known loss thus far in Thursday's "great train robbery" now totaled $7,005,600—with the ultimate figure expected to run as high as $8.4 million. Scour Countryside As the reward money piled up in hopes of inducing a "squealer" to offer information about the gang who staged the smooth-efficient ambush of the Glasgow - London train, Scotland Yard and post office security men scoured the countryside without a single clue. The bandits appeared to have vanished with their huge haul of cash and gems which they took from 120 mail sacks and carted away in trucks and a car in Thursday's pre-dawn darkness. There was a possibility the loot and at least some of the robbers already were out of the country. The London Evening News quoted an unidentified man as saying he saw an airplane land and take off again in a hurry at a disused airfield near the site of the train robbery and at about the time it took place Thursday.

Honesty Doesn't Pay This Time

FORT WORTH (UPI) — The quoted price for mattress renovation is $15.81, but it almost cost a 65-year-old Fort Worth widow $950 more. C. R. Fincher, owner of the mattress renovating firm, said an employe was shredding the mattress stuffing to eliminate lumps when he spotted a $10 bill. He began checking and found $950 in cash. "If I had known the money was in there, I would have been a fool to send the mattress to you," Fincher said the woman told him. She paid him $15.81 out of her windfall.

Senate Pushing Space Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate leaders hoped to push a $5.5 billion space authorization to passage today. Action on the big authorization for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) was scheduled for the second successive day. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., promised a Saturday session if it cannot be acted upon today. Scheduled for debate and a vote was an amendment growing out of the new communications satellite dispute. It would require the controversial satellite corporation, or any other non-government user, to agree to reimburse the government for a proportionate share of NASA research and development which benefits their activities. Other congressional news: Research Center: Senate Democratic Leader Hubert Humphrey today gave his backing to a $50 million space research center for Boston. Humphrey indicated, however, that he did not think one center was enough. The Minnesota lawmaker said perhaps "two or more" would help the space effort. Debt: Administration forces anticipated little trouble today in a drive to persuade the Senate to accept a House-passed bill to keep the legal ceiling on the national debt from falling below the actual size of the debt. Unless the bill is passed, the limit on the debt will drop on Sept. 1 from $309 billion to $285 billion. This would block federal government activities because the Treasury Department would be barred from selling new bonds.

Respiratory Illness Fatal To President's Infant Son

BOSTON (UPI) — Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, infant son of President and Mrs. Kennedy, died today 39 hours after his birth, his heart exhausted in the struggle with a respiratory ailment. The President was with the tiny infant when the end came at 4:04 a.m. EDT in a giant pressure chamber at Children's Hospital Medical Center. He lived just 39 hours and 12 minutes after his birth by Caesarean section at 12:52 p.m. EDT Wednesday. White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, in making the somber announcement of the child's death, said: "The struggle of the baby to keep breathing was too much for his heart." The grief stricken President, red-eyed and his face swollen apparently from crying over the death, arrived at Otis Air Force Base, Mass., at 9:28 a.m. EDT to comfort his wife Jacqueline. Kennedy, wearing a dark blue suit, literally leaped up the hospital steps. His brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, bounded right after him. The formal announcement of the death had been made by Salinger in Boston 5 hours, 23 minutes earlier. Strain Too Much Salinger told newsmen the child simply could not stand the strain put on his 17-inch-long body by the inability to breathe properly. The pressure chamber was a final effort by pediatricians to ease this burden and for a short time it seemed to be working. Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy had not been notified of the death as of the time of Salinger's 4:30 a.m. announcement, the press secretary said. Arrangements are being made for the baby's funeral to be held Saturday, the White House said. "The exact time and the place of the funeral, which will be private, will be announced later today," Salinger said. He said this announcement probably would be made at Otis Air Force Base, Mass. The President arranged to fly to Otis by helicopter from a field near the hospital to join Mrs. Kennedy there. At Otis Air Force Base Hospital where she was recovering from the surgical birth, the atmosphere was still and quiet. Only a few sad faced-reporters and photographers stood by—waiting for President Kennedy's arrival to tell his wife the heart-breaking news.

Grief-Stricken President Comforts Wife in Hospital

OTIS AFB, Mass. (UPI) — President Kennedy, red-eyed with grief over the loss of his two-day-old son and then went to his Squaw Island summer home to visit his other two children. By HELEN THOMAS OTIS AFB, Mass. (UPI) — President Kennedy, red-eyed with grief over the loss of his two-day-old son, joined his wife Jacqueline here today to comfort her in their time of tragedy. The President flew here by helicopter a few hours after Patrick Bouvier Kennedy died in a Boston hospital of a respiratory ailment. He landed at 9:28 a.m. EDT. The President's face was swollen as he left the helicopter and literally leaped up the hospital steps. With him was his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. There was no information forthcoming from inside the hospital. Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary Pamela Turnure had not accepted calls this morning. There was no indication whether Kennedy had called his wife to tell her of their sorrow before his arrival. The area around the hospital burst with excitement when Kennedy arrived. It was learned that Kennedy's brother Sen. Edward M. Kennedy was flying here to be with the first family in these moments of grief. Kennedy showed lack of sleep and the sad ordeal he had suffered through for the past couple of days, hoping against hope that his son would pull through a lung complication that developed at birth. There was no way of knowing how Mrs. Kennedy, who had been making fine recovery from Caesarean surgery, was taking the tragic blow. Relatives and friends alike apparently were told to leave the First Lady to the privacy of her sorrow over the death of the baby she wanted so much. The President with great concern on his face, looked neither right nor left as he entered the building where his 34-year-old wife waited. A tense stillness hung over the base in the hours preceding the President's arrival. The 34-year-old Mrs. Kennedy was making good progress in her recuperation from the Caesarean surgery. Through Thursday, President (See PRESIDENT, Page 3)

Genealogy Workshop Session Set Sunday

Mrs. Forrest Doshier, president of the Amarillo Genealogical Society and District 9 representative of the Texas State Genealogical Society, will conduct the summer workshop of the Pampa Genealogical and Historical Society from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday in the Lovett Memorial Library auditorium.

Anyone interested in learning how to begin, organize and compile a family history is invited to attend.

Sheets for recording data will be available but all attending are requested to bring their own family records, notebooks and writing equipment, according to Tracy Cary, president of the Pampa society and founding second vice president of the state society.

Genealogists experienced in research will be present to suggest research improvements.

Individual research will be possible through the Doshier Traveling Library of family and local histories. The library consists of marriage, will, school, census, church, military and other records from 14 states, including Texas, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, New York, Illinois and Ireland.

Cary is in charge of arrangements and will be assisted by Mrs. Willie B. Guill, registration chairman; Mrs. George Ingram, hospitality; Mrs. Cliff Drake, research; Luther Fruit, photography and Mrs. Walter Love, field projects.

The Pampa Society is one of 24 similar organizations in Texas under the leadership of the Texas State Genealogical Society.

Since its appointment in 1960 as the official historical organization for Gray County, the Pampa Society has been collecting historical and genealogical volumes for the eastern Panhandle's Pioneer Heritage Collection housed in the Lovett Memorial Library. It also serves as a research center for 17 counties in the eastern Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle that do not have research facilities.

Garbage Disposal

About five billion pounds of garbage will be (literally) washed down the drain in the United States this year by persons who use garbage disposals.

SUMMER WORKSHOP IN FAMILY HISTORY — Mrs. Forrest Doshier, president of the Amarillo Genealogical Society, checks one of the family history volumes she will bring for the summer workshop of the Pampa Genealogical and Historical Society. The workshop will be conducted from 2 p.m. till 9 p.m. Sunday in the auditorium of the Lovett Memorial Library.

Statewide Meet Called to Plan Poll Tax Repeal

AUSTIN (UPI) — An advisory committee planning a campaign for repeal of the poll tax has tentatively agreed on a statewide meeting in Austin early in September to kick off an extensive program.

Bo Byers, chief of the Houston Chronicle Austin Bureau and executive chairman of the committee, said "we're hopeful this will be a non-partisan campaign, though we know the issue is political."

The seven member advisory committee was composed entirely of Democrats today. But Byers said state Republican chairman Peter O'Donnell was unable to attend because of a prior commitment.

Meeting today were Byers, state Sen. Abraham Kazen of Laredo, Mrs. Maurice Brown of Waco, president of the League of Women Voters of Texas; Mrs. Robert H. Dooley of Odessa, a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee and Sherman Miles, AFL-CIO official.

Also, Bob Slagle of Sherman of the Young Democratic Clubs of Texas, Mrs. Lillian Collier of Mumford, of the Texas Democratic Women's State Committee and two other League of Women Voters officials, Mrs. Albert Barstis of San Antonio and Mrs. Harold Murphree of Dickinson.

Miles said state Rep. Malcolm McGregor of El Paso would open an office to conduct a repeal campaign at El Paso Sept. 1.

Liberal, Kans., Big Thinker Has Date to Explain About Oil Deals

By CHARLES F. JUSTICE
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — In the extreme and lonely southwest corner of Kansas, the small (pop. 13,813) city of Liberal breeds a spirit of competition.

Thus, it can produce such phenomena as the yearly pancake races between the housewives of Liberal and those of Olney, England, and such citizens as James E. Lofland, who thinks big.

Lofland is a 36-year-old one-time appliance salesman from Liberal who traded the dusty Kansas flatlands for the concrete canyons of Manhattan a year ago and took to the big town and its ways like a big bass takes to the waters of the cinnaron.

Lofland talked a lot about big oil and big land deals. Soon, he was rubbing elbows with the rich and the famous with a striking woman often on his arm. Among them: svelte and blonde Broadway actress Dolores Gray and Johanna Revson Van Boythan, Dutch-born former wife of Cosmetics czar Charles Revson.

Next Thursday, Lofland has another date — to undergo questioning by Louis J. Lefkowitz, balding and energetic attorney general of the state of New York.

Bars Further Sales

The attorney general has not accused Lofland of violating any laws or of any criminal offense. But he has charged the suave and handsome and persuasive Kansan with "an attempt to sell $3 million in worthless oil leases to New York investors and obtained a court order barring any more sales. Miss Gray, Miss Van Boythan among others Lefkowitz said, unwittingly aided Lofland by introducing him to influential people.

What Lofland did, according to Lefkowitz, was this: he went to homesteaders in oil-rich Lea County, N. M., telling them they had been "wrongfully deprived" of their mineral rights by the federal government, which collects $6 million yearly from royalties.

Denies Any Fraud

But says Lofland, it wasn't fraud. "There was nothing hidden in any way, shape or form. Everybody was aware that the sale of the oil leases was contingent on legislation that would give the rights back to the homesteaders.

Lofland bought portions of the mineral rights from the land owners, Lefkowitz said, telling them he would have federal legislation passed which would allow them to share in the royalties.

In 1960, the attorney general said, Lofland began selling the deeds to the public, contingent on the passage of such legislation.

"As for the investors, they were well-to-do people who felt this was a good gamble. As far as we're concerned, it's still not dead and if any of the investors are unhappy, I'll take back their interests if I have to borrow the money to do it."

Lefkowitz, obtained a State Supreme Court order requiring Lofland, Miss Gray, Miss Van Boythan, a former cabinet member, a former congressman, two sons of former U. S. senators and four other persons to tell under oath what they knew about the Kansan's alleged scheme "to induce various individuals to part with $200,000."

Lofland did this, the attorney general claimed "by falsely representing he was a millionaire oil man who owned mineral rights on oil producing lands in New Mexico. No investor has received any return on his money."

In 1960, Lofland registered in Washington as a federal lobbyist. His attorneys, he said, were former Interior Secretary Oscar L. Chapman, former Massachusetts representative Joseph E. Casey, Dennis Chavez Jr., and James E. Murray Jr., son of the late senator from Montana.

Bills Meet Defeat

Chavez, who has denied any connection with Lofland, is the son of the former senator from New Mexico who in 1959 and 1961 introduced bills in the senate "to authorize the granting of mineral rights to certain homestead patentees who were wrongfully deprived of such rights." Both bills failed to pass.

"I have never been associated with him (Lofland) in business, in a legal capacity or socially, Chavez said. Chavez declared he was merely acquainted with Lofland and considered him "quite an operator."

Chapman, who voluntarily appeared before Lefkowitz, said he had acted for the Kansan "only as an attorney to investigate the legal aspects of mineral rights he claimed to have and of possible legislation in that connection."

But, said the cabinet official in the Truman administration, he "terminated our relationship many months ago when I was told he had misused my name" and because he found that Lofland "didn't have what he thought he had." Chapman said Lofland paid him $13,500.

Casey said he still is looking into the matter "to see if there is still some value" to the Kansas entrepreneur's efforts.

Farmers Granted Special Privilege

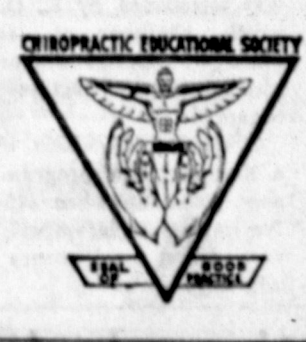

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Grazing and having privileges on conservation acreage have been granted to farmers in Childress, Hall and Cottle counties by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa, Tex., said the privilege was granted because of semi-drought conditions in the counties.

Chapman, who voluntarily appeared before Lefkowitz, said he had acted for the Kansan "only as an attorney to investigate the legal aspects of mineral rights he claimed to have and of possible legislation in that connection."

Baby

Robert F. Kennedy, and his long-time associate and White House receptionist David Powers, who had been staying at the President's downtown hotel and had been called to the hospital to be with Kennedy.

Remained An Hour
The President, his brother, and Powers went to an area near the pressure chamber and remained there approximately an hour.

Salinger said the President went back to his room at about 3:10 a.m. EDT. But about 3:40 a.m., he was called back to the pressure chamber area, as were the attorney general and Powers.

The three were there when the child, still within the chamber, drew his final breath.

Salinger said there were no clergymen present when the infant died. He said he did not know whether last rites of the Catholic Church had been administered.

Baptized After Birth
The baby was baptized minutes after its birth by Caesarean section at 12:52 p.m. EDT Wednesday. The baptism was conducted by Otis AFB Chaplain Joseph Scabill because of its premature birth and the danger the respiratory malady bore to the 4-pound 10 1/2-ounce infant.

Salinger said he did not know, at the time of his announcement, when the First Lady would be notified of her son's death and by whom it would be done.

Mrs. Kennedy's mother, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, had flown by helicopter from Cape Cod with the President Thursday afternoon to see the child. Mrs. Auchincloss returned to Otis Thursday evening.

The President had telephoned Mrs. Kennedy at least twice during the day to tell her not to worry, the child was feeling better.

President Appeared Grim
This had increased optimism about the child's condition, but it was suspected among some people in the traveling White House group that the President had been consoling his wife in a husbandly way but was deeply worried.

Kennedy was grim-faced when he returned to the hospital during the afternoon after getting word that the baby's condition had worsened. But as the afternoon and evening wore on, he seemed to be just a bit more at ease, smiling faintly at cheering spectators who shouted their congratulations to him upon being a father again.

The arrival of the attorney general, accompanied by Salinger, at the hospital led to speculation that bad news was in store. They got there at 2:32 a.m. EDT. At 4:03 a.m. EDT, Assistant White House Press Secretary Malcolm Kidduff-bustled into the hospital lobby and waved a "follow me" to the newsmen who had already assembled there on their own or after being called.

World exports during 1962 were valued at an estimated $126 billion, according to the Britannica Book of the Year.

President

Kennedy called his wife 10 or 12 times to relieve her anxiety over their son who had been born with a lung complication.

The President's most joyous phone call came to her late Thursday afternoon when he reported to "Jackie" as he calls her, that their son was "slightly improved."

Optimism Had Prevailed
Since the baby's birth, five and a half weeks ahead of time, an air of optimism prevailed among the First Lady's close relatives and White House aides.

The Kennedy's are known fighters and even Thursday the President's sisters, Eunice Shriver and Jean Smith, had confided to a friend that the new member of the clan — the 22nd grandchild — "is going to make it."

Mrs. Kennedy's mother, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss of Washington, D. C. and Newport, Rhode Island, has been at the base since Wednesday night visiting her daughter regularly, always proclaiming with a gay, happy smile "the baby is doing very well."

The First Lady has had a sad history of premature births of her children. Before the death of Patrick, she suffered a miscarriage and another baby was born dead when she was rushed to a Newport, Rhode Island, hospital following the 1956 Democratic National Convention.

Waited With Children
Desperately loving children and proud of the two youngsters she does have — Caroline, 5 1/2 and John Jr., 2 1/2 — Mrs. Kennedy has spent most of the waiting period during her pregnancy showering them with love and good times.

While at Cape Cod since the first week in July, Mrs. Kennedy took her tots on picnics and to the beach regularly. She has been seen daily driving around Hyannis Port, Mass., with them usually with John Jr. sitting in her lap while she is driving and Caroline surveying the scene standing up in the back seat.

In fact even on the day the baby was born, Mrs. Kennedy had taken her children to Osterville, Mass., where the Kennedy clan stable their horses.

It was at Osterville where Caroline was riding her pony, Macaroni, that the First Lady first began to feel labor pains.

Two Men Killed In Conroe Crash

CONROE (UPI) — Two men were killed Thursday night when the auto in which they were riding collided with a parked trailer-truck east of Conroe.

The victims were Freddie Lee Faulkner, 21, of Cleveland, Tex., and Clyde Warfield Hill, 22, of Willis. Faulkner was the son of Cleveland constable Barnes Faulkner.

Three Die When Airplane Crashes

MALLEN (UPI) — A twin-engine private plane crashed shortly after takeoff today killing a prominent Edinburg physician, his wife and daughter.

Dead were Dr. Vance D. Hoffmaster, 49, his wife, Nancy Jane, 45 and daughter, Cynthia Ann, about 19, a sophomore student at the University of Texas.

The Federal Aviation Agency said Hoffmaster filed a flight plan for Denver, where the family planned a vacation. A son, Vance Hoffmaster III, remained at home.

12-Year-old Back From 3,000-Mile Trip With 'Friend'

DALLAS (UPI)—A 12-year-old Dallas boy who said he took a 3,000 mile trip with a "friend" and was the subject of a four-day statewide search, returned home.

Harry Emil Reinwald, who was last seen Sunday when his father dropped him off on a Dallas street corner to begin his newspaper route, told his parents that he was taken to New York City by a Dallas free-lance writer.

Mrs. Reinwald, the boy's mother, said her son flew to New York Sunday with a writer who had befriended the boy during his regular delivery of newspapers.

The boy came back alone by bus and told his mother his "friend" had given him enough money to return.

Mrs. Reinwald said the boy went with the man because he had "threatened to commit suicide." She said a suicide note had been left in the man's apartment when police searched it following the boy's disappearance.

Mrs. Reinwald said the boy was apparently treated well by the man, but she intends to file kidnapping charges against him anyway.

Police had launched a statewide search for the boy when his disappearance was reported, but his

Senate Probers Favor Runoff on Plane Contract

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate investigators have applied fresh pressure on the Pentagon for a runoff competition between the two giant rival companies for the TFX fighter plane contract.

In transcripts of testimony Wednesday at closed hearings, made public today, Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., strongly endorsed the idea of pitting General Dynamics Corp. and Boeing Co. against each other in showdown test to see which could build the best prototype plane.

McClellan said "all doubt could be resolved" if "serious" consideration were given to building the prototypes, flying them, testing them, and then buying the best.

Comments by McClellan, chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee, underscored earlier advocacy of such a contest by Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D. Mundt said that "some thought" was being given to a plan to have Congress appropriate up to $40 million, permitting the two companies to build eight prototype planes in a may-the-best-man-win contest.

Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert told McClellan in testimony made public today that he was "not opposed to the idea entirely." But Zuckert said it could mean delays in production of the supersonic fighters.

McClellan told Zuckert he felt there was "the possibility of a mistake being made" in giving the huge contract to General Dynamics.

In such a large contract as this, McClellan said, "if you got the best plane...after such a comparison and test (as in a runoff competition), the gain in my judgment, would in all probability far exceed the cost involved."

Zuckert said he doubted if a prototype test would work, but he said he had an open mind on the subject.

Dallas Leaders Charge 'Revenge'

DALLAS (UPI)—Dallas leaders today assailed a decision to move the regional Veterans Administration office to Waco as political revenge.

Rep. Joe Pool, a Democrat, said he was "embarrassed at the petulance of the administration" and hinted he thought the move was ordered because Dallas has voted Republican in recent elections.

Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco announced Wednesday that the VA office would be switched to Waco. The office employs about 300 persons and has an annual budget of about $2.5 million.

Robert B. Cullum, president of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, blamed the loss on lack of a federal center and political attrition.

"Until we are able to effect construction of a federal center to permanently house all our federal agencies, we can expect to continue to suffer this kind of attrition at the hands of aggressive representatives of other Texas congressional districts."

CONNOLLY, DRAYTON WIN

HAESSELHOLM, Sweden (UPI)—Harold Connolly and Paul Drayton won events for the United States Thursday, in an international track meet. Connolly set his second straight record in Sweden by heaving the hammer 220 feet, one inch. Drayton barely edged fellow Yank Hayes Jones in the 100 meter dash as both were clocked in 10.6 seconds and won his second race in the 200 meters with a time of 21.6 seconds.

Dear Abby.... Don't Crowd... Your Day Is Coming Soon Enough

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Will you please do a couple of million teen-agers a big favor and tell us why we always get waited on last? It's positively sickening! Our money is as good as anybody else's, but for some strange reason, unless we push ourselves to the front, we never get waited on ANYWHERE until all the older people are taken care of.

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday I sent for your booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding" — and I didn't sleep a wink last night. For heaven's sake, Abby, DON'T print my name in your column because the man I am planning to marry hasn't proposed yet.

DEAR ABBY: I never use a signature with a letter that could embarrass the sender.

DEAR ABBY: During my entire lifetime (33 years) I have had people say to me, "My, you have a lovely face — what a pity you're so THIN!" Or, "Gee, you haven't gained an ounce — isn't that too bad?" Abby, people would never go up to a person and say, "My, you have a lovely face — what a pity you're so FAT!" Or, "Gee, you haven't LOST an ounce — isn't that too bad?"

It is just as hard for some people to GAIN weight as it is for others to LOSE it. And just as painful to be told about it. I wish I knew how to put these people in their places.

THIN AND KNOWS IT
DEAR THIN: People who make thoughtless personal remarks need to be educated, not "put in their places". But I'll wager, after this letter hits print, many lucky folks who have never had to worry about what goes into their mouths will be more careful about what comes out.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SUSAN:
The next time you discover the gentleman has no etchings — look for the handwriting on the wall.

WORRIED
DEAR WORRIED: Don't worry.

His-Hers Buffs, Take Heed

By HAROLD SHEEHAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — This is the tragedy of Cyril Smedley, nice guy.

Smedley and wife before the murder.

He swung his bony frame out of his twin bed on this particular morning, and eased his feet into his slippers. They were just like the ones his spouse was tugging onto her feet.

Then the bathrobe; just like hers, except it was embroidered "his."

Cyril scrutinized his thinning hair in the bathroom mirror before reaching for his electric razor. . . oops, that's hers. Well, he found the right razor and selected the correct after-shave liquid from the cheery his-hers ensemble of soaps.

Emerging soapy-eyed from the bath, he grabbed the wrong towel. "Shucks," he thought (that was as close as he ever came to profanity), "what difference does it make?" After all, the implicit togetherness of the his-her approach to life permitted a little swap now and then.

Before leaving for work at the locomotive factory, Cyril reflected on the pleasant week end just concluded at the shore. Ah, that dandy his-hers swimming outfit that his wife picked up for the occasion! Cyril had some reservations about the polkadot pullover, . . . but it meant so much to his wife that he couldn't avoid wearing it.

"It looks like rain, hon," his wife chirped helpfully as Cyril started through the door. "Better wear your jacket."

Cyril, heeding the advice, plucked a neat suburban coat from the closet — one of two hanging side by side. Then he climbed into "his" car and toddled off to work whistling a tune.

That evening tragedy struck. After dinner, Cyril Smedley deliberately selected a steak knife from the his-hers carving set and massacred his wife.

The neighbors couldn't understand it. Smedley's fellow workers could only recall that he took a ribbing that day because "hers" had been embroidered across the back of his jacket.

The moral: Don't go overboard on his-hers fashions unless you put on your own eyeglasses in the morning.

although you should not wear very light shades and should stick to stockings that have seams to create a slimmer illusion.

By wearing short skirts because everyone else does, you make a mistake. You may be in fashion, but not in style.

Fashion is only good style when it is becoming to the wearer. Fashions come and go. When you wear what is right for you, you have style, whatever the current fashion. Solve your problem by wearing your skirts an inch or so longer than fashion dictates. No one will be around with a tape measure and the over-all look will be much better for you.

The Clothes Poll

By HELEN HENNESSY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The fashion industry might well contribute toward solving the unemployment problem this fall because of the sharp boundary line it has drawn between sportive daytime and evening dress.

Now you take the girl who works in the city but lives in the suburbs. She could be a boon to the luggage industry. She'll need a model's hatbox or large suitcase for her date-time gear.

Gone are the days when she could remove the jacket of her sleeveless sheath after work, add some sparkling jewelry and join her escort for the evening. To begin with, if she's in proper daytime garb, she won't be wearing a sheath, but a tweed suit. Maybe even with knee socks or boots.

For after five, she must wear a long gown or look like a beatnik.

If she goes home to change, she'll never make it back for anything earlier than a midnight supper. So she must lug her trappings to the office.

This leads to a lot more work for porters at railroad and bus terminals. Business will pick up no end between Monday and Friday when every third girl is totting a brocade gown, a stole and a hairpiece for her evening updo.

Offices may have to build larger washrooms to accommodate the five o'clock rush, and that should help the construction workers. Perhaps an attendant will have to be hired to hand out towels and things.

A lot of girls might figure it's not worth dragging all that paraphernalia back and forth. So they'll go home for the evening and entertain there. And that should create more work for the neighborhood delicatessen.

So you see, there could be a boost for the nation's economy hidden behind the fact that we can't wear gold sandals over woolen socks or arrive on the job in a sweeping gown.

Chit Chat
Q — I have heavy legs and although I know I must wear short skirts to be in style, I don't like the way they look. Can you suggest a shade of stocking that might make my legs look slimmer? — Mrs. J. H.

A — Dear Mrs. J. H. — Your stockings aren't the real problem.

Child Resents The Change Instead Of The People

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My sister was divorced recently and will soon remarry. Though the rest of us like her fiancé very much, our younger boy, 9, resents him; refuses to accept any gifts from him and answers him so rudely that he's had to be sent from the room several times. He was a favorite of her ex-husband's. Though my sister and her fiancé realize he is only a child, his attitude is embarrassing. How can we explain that group who can't get along sometimes have to separate?

tion to exist? Why can't you encourage it? Say to your son, "If you love Uncle Bill and miss him, why don't you write him a letter and tell him so? I bet that he would be awfully pleased to hear from you. . ."

It is quite possible that what has really angered your youngster is not so much the loss of his uncle as the loss of his freedom to entertain his own feeling about him. You clearly want him to join in yours and unite in a happy front of family welcome to your prospective brother-in-law.

I think you should know that many qualified psychiatrists believe that we human beings reserve our most ferocious anger for people who try to change what we feel into what they feel.

What we feel defines what we are. It is a reasonable anger. So I suggest that you and your husband withdraw the pressures you have placed on your son. Instead of punishing him for "rudeness" to his future uncle, support his

POLLY'S POINTERS Handy Tips For Traveling With Baby In Hot Weather

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — When you plan to travel overnight with baby, save baby food jars in advance of the trip. Before starting, fill the required number of jars with measured cereal and powdered milk. When you stop at a restaurant, order boiled hot water. Pour the water into the jar, stir, and there is baby's breakfast. A thermos of boiled water will make a fine bottle when mixed with powdered or canned evaporated milk. Buy the small size. This is great on long rides where a bottle might get sour. A wet washcloth in a plastic bag is a must on any trip with baby. Refreshes baby and keeps him neat and happy and Mommy, too.—M. R.

GIRLS — M. R.'s system is great but do be sure that such types of milk agree with your baby before starting off on a trip.—POLLY doorway of the room where the work is being done. The wet sheet will catch the dust and dirt before it can escape into the next room.—MRS. D. T. B.

DEAR POLLY — The old-fashioned washboard can be put to practical use for a bedridden patient. Brighten up the board with gay paint and use it as a head support when giving the patient a shampoo. Used upside down the neck fits nicely between the legs, allowing the water to drain down the board into a small plastic tub. This method makes a messy job cleaner and easier. — MRS. C. L. S.

DEAR POLLY — When glueing two smooth surfaces together use a tiny bit of cotton between the two surfaces. The pieces will remain secure much longer.—J. M.

DEAR POLLY — I have saved all your helpful hints and am making a scrapbook for my new daughter-in-law. Here is another one. When giving yourself a hot oil hair treatment or a home permanent that instructs you to place a towel around your head, do this: Slip a big shower cap over the wrapped towel and it holds the heat in and the towel in place as you go on about something else.—M. K.

DEAR POLLY — When traveling with small children, there are so many little things that have to be taken along, such as oil, cotton, first aid items, snacks and so on. I have now made a denim bag designed just for these things. It is tied or hooked in a convenient spot in the car ready for use or to carry into the place where you are staying overnight.—MRS. A. P. B.

South Cagers Stun North In Houston All-Star Tilt

By ED FITE
UPI SPORTS WRITER
HOUSTON (UPI)— Successful strategy coupled with the almost phenomenal outside shooting and floor play of its little guards were credited today with the South's stunning 81-71 upset in Thursday night's record-shattering coaching school all-star basketball game.

South coach Jimmy Littleton of South San Antonio also gave a big slice of credit to one of his own stars, peppercorn guard Bill Jorgensen — whose 16 points and all-around perpetual motion style of play earned him a resounding vote as the outstanding player.

Until Jorgensen came off the bench to break the game wide open and disconcert the north's tall favorites, it had been a fairly even game. It never was again.

Guards Shoot Well

Jorgensen and another of the small guards, Bill Overall of San Marcos, made Littleton look like a master strategist. They each pumped in 16 points, mostly from the outside to go along with 14 collected by big John Hatch of Buna and 10 by another guard, Curly Lenox of Clear Creek.

"We noticed," Littleton added in a post-game review, "that they were not often using their guards to shoot from outside, instead concentrating on trying to get the ball to their big post men, particularly (Bob) Glover," of Dallas Jefferson.

Glover, although he wound up as the game's highest scorer with 20 points, was the big disappointment of the contest which attracted a record cage classic crowd of 7,227 to air-conditioned Sam Houston Coliseum. The old mark was 6,818 at Lubbock last year.

South Is Favorite In Football Game

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer
HOUSTON (UPI)— The south team, bigger and boasting more speed in the backfield, ruled a slight favorite today to beat the north and close the series gap the Yankees hold in the annual Texas high school all-star football game.

A record crowd was expected for the game, the final event of another record-smashing Texas High School Coaches Association coaching school.

The coaching school itself, already the world's largest, boosted its attendance mark past 3,800 Thursday and was expected to grow slightly larger today. The enrollment was nearly 500 ahead of the previous high mark of 3,333.

game in 70,000-seat Rice Stadium was expected to surpass the previous record of 20,408, set in the same stadium in 1938. The three largest crowds in the 28-year history of the grid classic have been in Houston.

The south trails the north in the series, having won only 10 games and tied three against the north's 15 triumphs, and has been particularly on the short end over the past decade when the north won seven of the past nine games, with one tie.

But with a 210-pound line anchored by Boling's bulky Tony Labay at 235 pounds, the south is expected to be better equipped up front than the north's seven starters who weigh in at a 197-pound average.

Tee-Off Time For Pam-Cel

Tee-off time for the first annual Pam-Cel Golf Tournament will be 7 a. m. on Aug. 25, announced club president Russell West.

Championship flight contenders must be off by 10 a. m. or be disqualified, warned West. All golfers entering may play qualifying or practice rounds on the course the previous day, Saturday, Aug. 24. The tourney will be a one-day affair.

Plowboys Out Of Tourney

LUBBOCK (UPI)—Borgec takes on Houston and the undefeated Lubbock Stressers play also-undefeated Edinburg tonight in the state National Baseball Congress tournament at Lubbock.

Thursday night, three teams scored shutouts against opponents in eliminating two teams from the tournament. Houston eliminated Seguin 3-0, Edinburg defeated Seminole 7-0, and the Lubbock Hubbers sent Amarillo home for good 2-0.

Houston pitcher Bob Peters threw a three-hitter in picking up his shutout against Seguin. The Oilers got all their runs in the 7th inning.

Hayward Grant of Edinburg got a two-hitter to hand Seminole its first defeat of the tourney. The other hero hurler was Danny MacDougal of the Lubbock Hubbers, who tossed three-hit ball against Amarillo.

The tournament has been extended through Monday, with two more games being played Saturday and one each on Sunday and Monday. The winner goes to the NBC finals at Wichita, Kan. later this year.

Skellytown Clips Queens

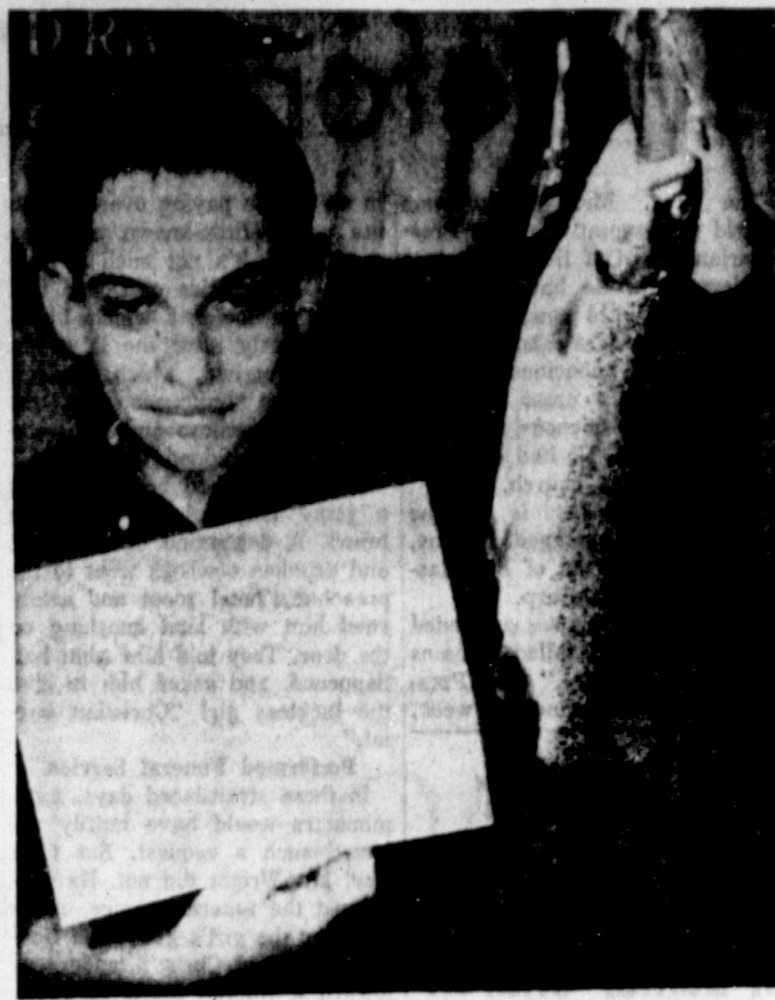

PANHANDLE — The Golden Spread Softball League champion Pampa Queens were rudely upset last night, being knocked out in the first round of the Panhandle Tournament, 12-9, by Skellytown.

The Queens fell completely apart in the field last night, committing 14 errors, jamming most of them in an 11-run first inning which gave Skellytown its winning margin.

Peg Kastien, although allowing only three earned runs, tired after the terrible first and the lost lamb returned to the fold, Mary Lou Addington coming back to the pitching mound. Peg and Mary Lou allowed only five hits, while the Queens sliced away at Diane Crawford for 15 safe blows, but Pampa could never overcome the first-inning bulge.

Ruth Blumer led the Pampa attack with two triples and a double, Mary Lou had three singles, Peg a double and single and Neva Hale a pair of singles. Ann Leford and Claudine Shipley led the winners with two hits each.

Fourth Try Pays Off For Chisox' Peters

By United Press International
Gary Peters is a living refutation of the proposition that three strikes are always "out" in baseball.

A 6-foot, 2-inch, native of Grove City, Pa., Peters "struck out" in three trials with the Chicago White Sox but got a fourth "sawing" from manager Al Lopez and is making it pay off with an 11-5 record that finally has earned him recognition as a first-rate major league pitcher.

After three years of failure, Peters finally won his first big league game on May 6 this year and since then has worked in the White Sox's regular rotation. He scored his sixth straight victory Thursday night when the Sox beat the Kansas City Athletics, 5-3, and he shapes up now as a 18-10-18 game winner.

The victory enabled the White Sox to remain eight games behind the runaway New York Yankees, who beat the Washington Senators, 3-1, in an afternoon game. The Minnesota Twins whipped the Los Angeles Angels, 3-0, the Cleveland Indians downed the Baltimore Orioles, 2-0, and the Detroit Tigers nipped the Boston Red Sox, 6-5, in other AL games.

Ralph Terry pitched a six-hitter to win his 13th game behind a 13-hit Yankee attack that included two hits each by Tom Tresh and Phil Linz, struck out five and was never in serious trouble.

The third-place Twins swept to their seventh victory in eight games behind the six-hit pitching of Dick Stigman, who raised his season record to 12-10. Vic Power had three hits and Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles two each to lead the Twins' nine-hit attack. Paul Foytack suffered his fifth loss against four wins.

Old-fashioned baseball was the name of the game at Baltimore as Dick Donovan pitched a three-hitter and Joe Azcus stole home in the seventh inning for the Indians. Donovan raised his season record to 7-10, allowed only one Oriole to reach second base and faced only 29 men during the game.

Industrial Loop Can End in Tie

Cabot sent the Industrial Softball League into a possible three-way tie for first place by upsetting the league-leading Panhandle Packers in a doubleheader Wednesday night, 6-1 and 4-3.

Delbert Daniels pitched a one-hitter for the first win, backed by Hill Browning's homer and single. Daniels also won the second game when Doug Burreas singled in the winning run in the bottom of the ninth.

Panhandle finishes the season 11-10. Cabot and Pampa each are 10-10 and have one game left apiece with Miami. Pampa will play the Pokes tonight.

Hiland-Dixie, Et Al Vs. B&B In City Baseball

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

Pitching duels and late-inning rallies were the order of the day in Optimist Youth Baseball last night as Hi-Land topped Duncan, 9-8; B & B stopped Crall, 7-3; Et Al white-washed Lone Star, 6-0; and Dixie squeezed past Cabot, 6-5.

Tonight's semifinal games, both at 7:30, send Hi-Land against Dixie in Park One and B & B vs. Et Al in Park Two. The final game will be played in the City Tournament tomorrow night at 7.

Highlight of the evening was Alonzo Gomez' near-perfect no-hitter for Et Al. Gomez struck out 16 of 20 batters and issued two walks, with a hit batter and an error the closest thing to a Lone Star threat. Gomez struck out the first 10 men in a row, after which pinch-hitter John Watson broke up the perfect game by working Al for a walk on a 3-2 count.

Mike Phillips went the route in defeat, but was reached for two runs in the fourth on Sherwin Cox' single, and then four more in the fifth on a double by Cliff Gage and a home run by Gomez, his fourth of the tournament.

Chuck Albus singled home the winning run in the bottom of the sixth inning to give Dixie the win over Cabot. Dan Carlton went the route for the victory. Mike Stephens failed in his effort to make it two relief wins in a row, taking over for Johnny Carter in the fifth and giving up the winning tally.

Cabot held a 4-3 lead through the fourth inning, with Wyatt Earp's double their big blow in a three-run third and Mike Albus doubling in a pair in Dixie's three-run second. A left field home run by Phillip Long and doubles by Jim Addington and Carlton gave Dixie two runs in the fifth, but Cabot tied it in their half on Dale Morgan's single.

Bobby Burns opened the bottom of the seventh by doubling to left field. With one out, Addington doubled to left-center, but Burns held up to see if it would be caught, and stayed at third. Albus then lashed one through the box for the winner.

Underdog Duncan gave Hi-Land the fright of its life before Dennis Hickey squeezed Ross Holman in with the winning run in the last of the fifth. Duncan jumped on Eddie Hopkins and John Ducette for six runs in the second inning on hits by Joe Foster, Oddie Nickell and Fran McGahan and tried to make them stand up, but Ducette pitched one-hit ball for the next two innings.

The Hilanders pecked away at the lead, with Hickey's triple their big blow, and finally tied it up in the fourth as the clutch-hitting Hickey singled and scored on passed balls.

Ducette suddenly tired and allowed three straight hits by Frank Skidmore, Ross Hale and Joe Foster. Curve-balling Dug Thompson came in to put the fire out, but not before McGahan had singled to make the score 8-6 Duncan.

Hi-Land came up for the last time around and Terry Ward doubled and scored on an error. Lee Waters singled, stole his way to third and scored on Ducette's fielder's choice. Little John was safe, went to third on a steal and tried to score on a passed ball, only to have catcher Ross Hale make a nice retrieve and peg to pitcher Joe Foster for the out.

Ross Holman was safe on an error and David Murphy came to the mound with two out, Hickey dumped a little squibber in front of the plate, Murphy grabbed it, but had no chance to catch the flying Hickey and was unsuccessful in his try for Holman, who crossed the plate with the winning run.

Gary Parish hurled a two-hitter for Crall, but walked 10 men, with one of the hits being Terry Stevens' double with the bases loaded, and B&B came out on the top end of a pitchers' duel, 7-3, as Jim Hollis scattered five hits, walking none and striking out 11. Parish struck out nine.

Crall took a 2-1 lead in the first and held it until the fourth inning. Two walks, a hit batter and errors then produced three runs for B&B. Jerry Lindsay broke up the no-hit bid with one out in the second.

REACH QUARTER-FINALS — HAMBURG, Germany (UPI)—Martin Mulligan of Australia reached the quarter-finals of the West German international tennis championships with a 6-3, 6-3, 6-3 victory over Dietrich Ecklebe of West Germany.

Quarterbacks Johnny Green and Lee Grosscup of the New York Jets will share passing duties Saturday night against the Houston Oilers, with each signal-caller working a half.

Coach Al Davis of the Oakland Raiders plans to take a long look at receiver Herm Urenda of University of the Pacific in Sunday's game with the Denver Broncos when the Raiders seek their second consecutive pre-season victory.

Crall missed a chance to score in the third on Parish's triple and in the fourth when Billy Martin was thrown out at the plate on Donald Barnhill's double, but got one in the fifth on Dickie Thompson's single.

Parish lost his control in the sixth and issued three straight walks, whereupon Stevens sliced one just fair inside the right field line to clear the bases and close out the scoring.

Class A Choices Include Lefors

HOUSTON (UPI)— Perennial power Albany and Ingleside, a finalist last year, have been tabbed by Class A football coaches as the likely state finalists in Texas this fall.

Albany, semi-finalist last year and state champs the previous two seasons, was the choice to nip Ingleside for the crown.

But the coaches warned that there is a bumper crop of challengers all over the state who could slip in to replace Rotan in the title seat.

The district-by-district favorites included:

One, Stratford; 2, Lefors; 3, Springlake; 4, Petersburg; 5, Seagraves; 6, Merkel; 7, Fabens; 8, Eldorado; 9, Goldthwaite; 10, Albany; 11, Munday or Henrietta; 12, Boswell; 13, Clifton; 14, Foreney; 15, Wylie; 16, Van Alstyne; 17, Jefferson; 18, Willis Point or Emory; 19, New London or White Oak; 20, San Augustine; 21, Groves; 22, Waco Midway; 23, Round Rock; 24, Weimar; 25, East Chambers; 26, Crosby; 27, Pearland; 28, George West; 29, Boerne; 30, Dilley; 31, Ingleside; 32, Rio Hondo.

By LOUIS CASSELS - United Press International

One hot summer day in 1877, the train from the east pulled into Dodge City, Kan., bearing a small, dignified man in top hat and tailcoat. He attracted curious looks and a few snickers as he climbed down from the dusty railroad coach, claimed his valise, and made his way through a crowd of roughly dressed cowpokes to the hotel on Front Street.

Dodge City in those days was proud of its reputation as "the wickedest town in the West." And it fully deserved the title. Front Street was about as wide open as a street can get. The saloons stayed open all night, and the houses of prostitution did a booming business. Any cattleman who got tired of liquor and sex could find a high-stakes poker game to keep him amused. Gun fights and wanton killings were almost as common, in actual fact, as TV Westerns would have you believe.

The one thing that Dodge City didn't have — and didn't want — was a church. Ministers left quickly. Several itinerant preachers had ventured into the "Babylon of the West" but all of them had left precipitately, at the invitation of the townfolk. The little man in the top hat may have thought of all this when he boldly signed his name in the hotel register: "The Reverend Ormond W. Wright."

The Rev. Mr. Wright was a field representative of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions in New York. He had not come to Dodge City to conduct a few preaching services and flee for his life. His audacious purpose was to plant the cross of Christ firmly and conspicuously in this citadel of Satan. He had come, in short, to build a church.

The incredible fact is that he did it. He even managed, in time, to make deacons out of Bat Masterson and Wyatt Earp. "Why this man succeeded where others had failed remains a historical mystery," said Presbyterian Life magazine this week.

Field Day For TANE to Be Held At Lamar Church

Sunday is Field Day in our area for TANE, Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education Inc. whose home office is in Dallas. One of their dedicated and informed speakers, Rev. Larry Koch, will be speaking to members and friends of Lamar Christian Church at the 10:45 a.m. Worship Hour. His message will cover The Problem, The Program of TANE, and The Procedure Christians must take in combating this grave problem.

This congregation will continue to meet with First Christian Church on Kingsmill throughout this month for Sunday evening worship at 7 p.m. Following this evening service the new committee chairmen will meet at Lamar Christian Church to select their committee members for the new church year. The women of the Fidelity Group will meet Monday at the home of Carolyn Smith, 2140 Dogwood at 6:30 p.m. for a salad supper preceding the regular monthly meeting. Adult choir rehearsal is held each Wednesday in the church at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Buchanan To Deliver Sunday Topic

Rev. Gene Buchanan, preaching in the absence of Rev. Glynn Adsit who is on vacation, has announced his morning sermon topic as "Out of Hate and Despair," based on the scripture, Ephesians 4:1-16. Charles Beard will sing a solo entitled, "The Holy City" by Alfred Gaul. Sunday the youth fellowships will meet at 5 p.m. for snack supper followed by recreation and study at 5:30 p.m. A continuation of the study "The Buffalo and the Bell" is scheduled for the Junior Youth Fellowship who welcomes Miss Connie Rae Kuntz as their new assistant sponsor. "The Chi Rho Fellowship will see a film-strip entitled, "Making and Keeping Friends," Mrs. W. R. Harden will conclude her study of the book, "The Unfolding Drama of the Bible" by B. W. Anderson, with the Christian Youth Fellowship.

Performed Funeral Service

In those strait-laced days, most ministers would have huffily rejected such a request. But the Rev. Mr. Wright did not. He performed the funeral service, led over the girl's grave the Gospel account of Christ's tenderness toward a woman taken in adultery. This act of compassion seems to have established a rapport between the prim-looking little preacher and the rough men and women whom he had come to serve. The Rev. Mr. Wright soon began to hold religious services in whatever quarters were available to him — usually a saloon or dance hall. He was able to tell the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions, in his first official report, that he had 13 regular members of his congregation. The board sent word that it would contribute $450 — a whopping sum in those days — for the construction of a church building, provided the local residents would raise a matching sum. It was taken for granted in New York that it would take the Rev. Mr. Wright a year or two to obtain his half of the building fund.

Foreign Commentary By United Press International For more than a century, since Spanish armies defeated Moroccos in 1859, Spain has held in "perpetual possession" a tiny, mainly arid and mountainous enclave on Morocco's Atlantic Coast called Ifni. Every now and then Morocco has tried to get it back—sometimes by force of arms, sometimes by negotiation. But always Spain has held fast. For a matter of hours, last July 29, it seemed Morocco had made another grab for a large part of Ifni, this time successfully. The flurry of excitement over this speck of land on the northwest coast of Africa, scarcely known to most of the world's peoples, began with a news dispatch. The Moroccan news agency — Maghreb Arab Presse or MAP, reported that on July 28 elections had been held in Ifni to elect 40 representatives to four communal and municipal councils. MAP inferred from this, and from publication of an electoral list showing the area as Moroccan—that Ifni had been "annexed" by Morocco. The Moroccan dispatch was quoted and distributed around the world by other news agencies, including United Press International.

U.S. Is Moving Ahead in Space

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Clinton P. Anderson of the Senate Space Committee said today the civilian space agency has taken a long step towards making the United States "pre-eminent in space." The New Mexico Democrat made the statement in a speech prepared for delivery at the Senate scheduled debate on a $3,311,520,400 authorization for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Anderson said the agency has compiled an "envious record."

Spaniards Astonished

Initial reaction in Madrid was astonishment. In the Moroccan capital of Rabat, at first there was only silence. Then a cautiously worded statement came from the foreign ministry: "The interpretation (by MAP) seems at least partly erroneous. These elections concerned people who are nomads and move in and out of the zone still occupied by Spain. It does not appear these elections took place within the territory under Spanish domination. Since then, neither government has made any further formal statement and no more has been heard of "annexation."

Both Anderson and Symington

Both Anderson and Symington in their prepared speeches listed successful space flights in the Mercury series and praised other features of the scientific space program. Anderson reported that "the United States is in space to stay."

Happily Ever After

That's how the stories end. But your marriage is just the beginning...the beginning of new hopes, of new plans, of a new life. Together you will decide on the kind of home you want...and together you will start to buy all the many things you need to realize your new life. With so many products to choose from these days, it's sometimes hard to know which one is best for you... which one will give you most service and value. One of the best ways to decide is by name. If you buy a name brand in furniture or home furnishings, you know what the name stands for. Then you can be sure of getting what you have a right to expect, of what you have paid for.

OUR GRACIOUS GUIDE

Exodus 33:14

"My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest."

The records of the Old Testament have more than a historic value. They are illustrative of great spiritual truths. The story of the fall records a great human experience. Cain and Abel with their altars, and their perpetual antagonisms are as conspicuous in the world today as their emancipation through the grace of God, is the experience of every redeemed soul. We have all encountered the problem of the Red Sea and the pursuing Pharaoh, and we have all sang: "Sing ye to Jehova, for he hath triumphed gloriously; the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea."

We are standing today on the threshold of a new era in time, and we are facing an untried path. We are still a long way from our Canaan, where we shall enter into the rest that remains for the people of God; and we must press on until our Jordan is crossed, and our Jerico captured. Therefore, it is of supreme importance that we secure a safe and capable guide. One who not only knows the way, but who will also be a delightful companion by the way.

There was wisdom and caution in the request of Moses for a capable guide through that waste and howling wilderness. The answer by Jehovah which was the sustaining power to Moses and Israel, can be the sustaining power to our Nation, Community, Churches, and Individuals. May we pause and consider Our need today; then He who is Our Gracious Guide will speak to the hearts of men.

"My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest."

Parents Should Learn of Their Rights Under State School Laws

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Laws covering education vary some what from state to state but they have similar provisions. Parents should have sufficient knowledge of them so they will understand their rights and responsibilities.

School attendance is compulsory and parents have a choice of financing a private education or using the public schools.

In either case, the public schools are available for a complete program through high school graduation. The parents have the responsibility to keep their children in attendance during the required ages. Penalties generally are imposed for those who do not obey these laws.

Various aspects of each school are covered by state laws which set certain minimum standards. The local school board very often provides educational programs which surpass these basic requirements. The school board in a community which has an interest in quality education and is willing to support such a program usually will go well beyond the minimum required by the state.

Law Varies Widely
Naturally, there are many variations in the different states as well as in the communities within a state. The laws generally provide minimum salaries, tenure, and retirement for employees. New buildings and major renovations must be approved by the state. The state also recommends and acts as a consultant in all areas of education. A copy of the law is probably available in the school office or local library.

The local school board is supposed to represent you. Special requests may be directed to the school board but you should first go to the school administration. Most requests are handled by the principal or superintendent within established policies.

Bus transportation is organized on a mileage basis. It often varies with grade level. In some communities exceptions are made for handicapped children or those who have dangerous streets to cross. If you have any questions concerning transportation, ask to see a copy of the school policy. In unusual circumstances you might make a special request to the school board.

Provisions For Handicapped

Many children have particular handicaps, interests, and needs. If the local school cannot cope with these, provisions may sometimes be made to obtain the necessary program from outside the local system. In many cases, the state requires the local school board to pay the costs. This will usually include transportation.

If your child is deaf, blind or otherwise seriously handicapped, you should investigate the available programs with your local school system and the state education department. If your child is interested in a specialized high school course, (automotive, aeronautics, etc.) which is not offered locally, you should investigate the possibility of a school in another district. This can be done through the local superintendent's office.

There are several important factors to remember. If you have a problem, clarify your responsibilities as well as the schools. The schools are maintained for the public's benefit. This does not mean that the school is at the mercy of each individual's whim. The parents and the schools both have responsibilities. Cooperation is for the benefit of the children.

Fact
A small island named If is in the Mediterranean off the south coast of France, about two miles southwest of Marseilles. Its fortress prison, the Chateau d'If, was built by Francis I in the early 16th century and was made famous by Alexander Dumas in his novel, "The Count of Monte Cristo."

Workers Search For Gold After Working Hours

OROVILLE, Calif. (UPI)—Construction crews on northern California's Oroville Dam project can't wait to get their eight hours of dam building in these days so they can really go to work.

The workers are spending lunch hours, evenings and weekends digging through the area with everything from picks and knives to tweezers, spoons and stones.

Gold fever has returned to the Sierra, which in the mid-1800's had one of the greatest epidemics of all time.

The latest strike occurred when the Oroville River was turned from its old channel into a man-made one several weeks ago, and crews started clearing gravel from the natural river bed in order to pour concrete onto the bedrock beneath.

Bits of gold were discovered in the river bed, and off-duty workers now are coming away with as much as a few ounces a man (at $35 an ounce) in gold dust, chips and tiny nuggets.

The construction company, Oro Dam Constructors, and the state of California, which owns the mineral rights, frown on the mining activity.

But, a spokesman for the company said, "You can't stop 'em."

FIRE ON CIVILIANS
TIBERIAS, Israel (UPI)—Syrian troops opened fire on Israeli civilians three hours after Premier Levi Eshkol visited the area Thursday, Israeli officials said. No casualties were reported in the salvo of automatic weapons fired on farmers working the fields of the Haon settlement, where a similar outbreak of gunfire occurred Thursday, the officials said.

Venezuela is the only South American country to lie entirely north of the equator.

'63 Cotton Crop Estimate Down From Last Year

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department today estimated the 1963 cotton crop at 13,984,000 bales, down 6 per cent from last year's harvest.

The first official cotton production estimate of the year compares with 14,867,000 bales last year and the five-year average output of 13,125,000 bales.

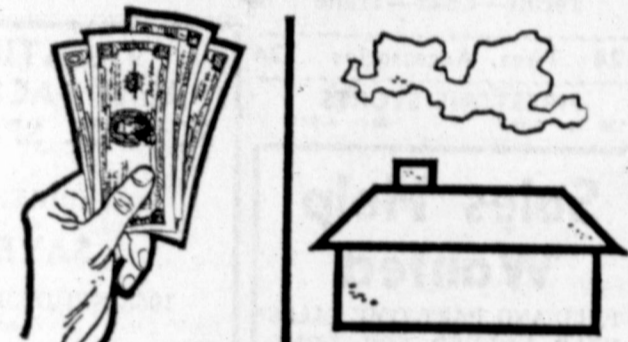

The department estimated cotton yields will average 471 pounds of lint per acre on the 14,254,000 acres for harvest. Last year yields averaged 457 pounds an acre. The five-year average yields were 440 pounds.

Following is the estimated cotton production, in bales, for major producing states, compared with the 1962 harvest:

State	Aug. 1	1962 crop
Mississippi	1,690,000	1,696,000
Missouri	430,000	466,000
Arkansas	1,400,000	1,450,000
Louisiana	565,000	547,000
Oklahoma	300,000	311,000
Texas	4,150,000	4,725,000
New Mexico	265,000	268,000

Included in today's estimated production was a 164,900 bale crop of extra-long staple American-Egyptian cotton. Last year farmers produced 112,700 bales of American-Egyptian cotton. This cotton is grown in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

How Do You Simulate Fear?

Terror: The One Thing You Can't Put in a Can

By WARD CANNEL
VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (NEA)—It is a symptom of advanced civilization that at any given moment in the United States now-days some carefully selected chap or other is climbing into a big tin can to pretend for a couple of weeks that he is on his way to a rendezvous in outer space.

It is the age of the simulator. After 300 years of scientific method and relentless attention to detail, we have finally pushed back the veils of reality to discover the land of make-believe. This is progress through let's-pretend, complete with atmospheric pressure, frozen-dried food and change of underwear.

An hour in the simulator is time enough to convince even the most casual observer that it means business with its food and waste compartments, its navigational meters and dials, its monitoring equipment which will keep tabs on the terranauts from the laboratory outside.

But where the tin can fails is in the soul.

"We cannot simulate the vital factor of fear—the threat of death," says a space simulator engineer at the General Electric Missile and Space Division that is presently spending tens of thousands of dollars on this gleaming pretense in which four men will live for a month this fall as though they were manning a space station.

"We can simulate the privations of space vehicle life," he said, "the solitude, the pressure of work, the reduced standard of living."

"We can limit them to one shower every four days. We can grade them on their performance in solving programmed problems in vehicle operation and maintenance. We will have them on a rigorous, 12-hour-per-day work schedule. They will live in an atmospheric pressure half of the normal."

"It is the most sophisticated simulation ever tried. But we know and they know all this will be carried out just a few feet off the ground. They will always be aware that they can get out of it any time they want to." It makes a crucial difference in every aspect—from metabolism to temper. A man in the shadow of deadly doubt transacts a different life from his unaware neighbor.

It is, of course, quite possible to make up for this deficit, even in a tin can a few feet off the floor. But unfortunately, most of the alternatives are either forbidden by the laws governing homicide or objected to by the majority of right-thinking Americans.

In the breach, GE simulation specialists have turned to that universal substitute for life—money.

The four men entering the space station simulator in mid-September will have been chosen on the basis of their educational and technical qualifications and their compatibility as determined by a battery of personality tests.

Conditions aboard the simulator will be conducted under military discipline: a commander and three subordinates. Neatness and cleanliness will be required, including a daily shave. The work day will be ordered so that two men will be off duty at the same time, although one will be eating dinner while the other eats breakfast.

Now, as to the problem of simulating an environment for the soul, each man will be offered a bonus of $250 and other emoluments for his stay aboard the space station. But for each misstep in performance, a portion of his bonus will be deducted.

Furthermore, in certain areas of his required work, a poor showing by one member will mean a deduction from everybody's bonus. Only a computer knows what problems must be solved and in what amount of time.

Meanwhile, computerized asteroids will hurtle toward the cabin, calling for navigational corrections; electronic systems will falter, calling for maintenance procedures; long periods of boredom will descend to fray tempers.

And with a limited diet and only one shower per man every four days in a two-room, two bunk world 12 feet across and 24 feet high...
