EDWARD VIII ABDICATES

BALDWIN TELLS ENTIRE STORY TO PARLIAMENT

LONDON, Dec. 10.—King Edward of England abdicated his ancient, mighty throne today.

He will marry Wallis Warfield Simpson as man, not monarch.

Albert Frederick Arthur George, the tall, 40-year-old Duke of York, will rule over the 495,000,000 subjects of the greatest empire on the earth.

In "a message from his majesty the king, signed by his own hand," sombre Stanley Baldwin, the kingdom's first minister, announced the abdication to a house of commons in which tension and hysteria were breathing, living things.

Edward, said a report received by the Exchange Telegraph agency, intends to leave the country, probably tomorrow night. There was no indication where he would meet Mrs. Simpson or when they will marry.

The actual abdication papers, it was learned, were signed at Fort Belvedere at 10 a. m., today, with the haggard brothers gathered around their sovereign kinsman.

As the signatures were affixed, the flag of the Duchy of Cornwall, which had been flying over the fort since the crisis began, was lowered on its staff.

Then it was raised—an indication, some thought, that the king might retain the title, Duke of Cornwall.

Around the globe, through sun-down and dawn, to those who bear allegiance to England's king, flashes this message from their sovereign:

"After long and anxious consideration, I have determined to renounce the throne to which I succeeded on the death of my father, and I now announce this, my final and irrevocable decision."

In that epochal moment of eight centuries, the Commons, the people and the empire saw their government victorious in a tremendous, constitutional struggle with a monarch who reigned for less than a year.

Rather than give up the twice divorced American woman who waited today within the ramparts of a villa on the Cote D'Azur, in France, bailed by state and church in his desire for

"I am most anxious that there should be no delay of any kind in giving effect to the instrument which I have executed and will continue to wait patiently for him to set the date for that promised chicken dinner at the Nelson farm."

"I will not enter now into my private feeling but I would beg that it should be remembered that the burden which constantly rests upon the shoulders of a sovereign is so heavy that it can only be borne in circumstances different from those in which I now find myself."

"I conceive that I am not overlooking the duty that rests on me to place in the forefront of public interest when I declare that I am conscious that I can no longer discharge this heavy task with efficiency or with satisfaction to myself."

"I have accordingly this morning executed an instrument of abdication in the terms following: "I, Edward VIII of Great Britain, Ireland and the British dominions beyond the seas, King and Emperor of India, do hereby declare by irrevocable determination to renounce the throne for myself and for my descendants and my desire that effect should be given to this instrument of abdication immediately."

"In token whereof I have hereunto set my hand this tenth day of December, 1936, in the presence of the witnesses whose signatures are subscribed.

"Signed, Edward R. I. "My execution of this instrument

George VI Follows Edward VIII

The Duke of York, above, became king today, following the abdication of Edward VIII. A veteran of the battle of Jutland, qualified Royal Air Force aviator, the new ruler, King George VI has earned the right to the naval uniform he wears so proudly above. Only a year ago he was advanced to the rank of admiral. The new king was born Dec. 14, 1895, and Albert Frederick Arthur George, he married a commoner, Lady Elizabeth Bowes Lyons, daughter of the earl and countess of Strathmore, April 26, 1923. Their first child, Princess Elizabeth Alexandra Mary, was born April 21, 1926, and their second, princess Margaret Rose, August 21, 1930.

Decorations At Homes To Draw Prizes

Decorate your home and win a cash prize, urges the home decoration committee of the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce. The committee also begs Pampans to decorate their homes through pride of presenting a beautiful city in the Christmas season more than for the prizes which will be given the best decorated homes.

The city has been divided into four sections and three prizes will be given in each of the districts. A grand prize will also be awarded. Prizes will be for the best exterior facade or for the best interior visible from the street. Judging will be on originality, theme and effect from the street. Prizes will be $10, $5 and $2.50 in each district with a grand prize of $20. Judging will be on the night of Dec. 19.

Districts are as follows: The portion of the city south of Foster avenue.

The section west of Hobart street and north of Foster avenue and Rham street.

The section between Cuyler and Hobart streets, including the Cook addition north of Foster avenue.

The section east of Cuyler street and north of Foster avenue.

The committee in charge is disappointed at the response they have received to date. Civic clubs and other organizations have been contacted but assurance of decorations has not been up to expectation.

Members of the committee are O. K. Gaylor, chairman, Phillip R. Pond, Rev. John Mullen, Claude Roberts, Art Teed, Sherman White, Frank Culbertson and Rev. L. Burney Shell.

November School Tax Payments High

Taxpayers within the boundaries of the Pampa Independent school district turned in a record-breaking payment of $76,738.73 for November of this year, it was reported today by Roy McMillen, business manager.

Receipt of delinquent taxes was also heavy, payment of $2,934 being recorded, compared with $708.58 for the same month last year.

November collections for 1935 totaled $63,217.84, making this year's figure $12,000 more than a year ago.

Deadline for split-payment was Nov. 30. The second installment will be due on or before June 30. Persons not making a first payment must pay the full amount not later than January 31, or an 8 per cent penalty beginning Feb. 1 and a 6 per cent interest charge on top of that, will be made.

LEAP CALLED SUICIDE

BIG SPRING, Dec. 10 (AP)—Mrs. William Fahrnkamp fell to her death today from the eighth floor of a Big Spring hotel where she lived with her husband. Justice of the Peace J. H. Herley said he would return a verdict of suicide.

Mrs. Fahrnkamp, 43, ill and under the care of physicians for about nine years, was the wife of the chief clerk to the division general foreman of the Texas & Pacific railway shops here.

Porter Malone of Tucumcari, N. M., former Pampa resident, spent yesterday here with his brother, G. C. Malone.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM Today they were telling this story: There was a party going on in a certain man's house, and he was a meek man who liked intensely what he called "beautiful music" (Beethoven, et al). Every Sunday night at a certain hour he listened to a concert of classical music. He had always managed to clear his house of people by that time, but this last Sunday night they stayed and when he began listening they laughed and said such things as "That's like such music, and became noisier until he could no longer hear anything but their raucous, cheery sneering. He was a meek, long-suffering man and his friends sort of ignored him in his own house and talked among themselves, but he did not mind. And he never got peeved until they laughed and talked so loudly he could not hear Lily Pons' high notes, and he told them to be quiet. They whooped in glee. Then the meek man blew up. He shouted a mighty oath, and chased them out of his house. For good, he said.

Many Workers Will Canvass City Tuesday

Machinery for the opening of Pampa's supplementary relief campaign next Tuesday was being whipped into shape today by Jake Garman, finance chairman, and the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, general chairman of the fund advisory council.

Mr. Garman stated that preparation for the fund drive, with a goal of $5,000, indicated that a corps of probably more than a half hundred workers would start on a canvass of the city early Tuesday.

The workers will be made up of leading citizens from various civic and veterans' groups and various other organizations.

Ministers of the city will devote 10 minutes a day between 2 and 2:15 p. m. in an appeal for fund support over radio station KPDN.

Contribution jars will be placed in downtown business houses where donations can be made.

Pledge cards were being printed today and these will be given to workers for their canvass of the city which begins Monday.

"If Amarillo can raise more than a dollar per capita for their community fund, Mr. Garman stated today, "I know Pampa can raise a $5,000 fund which amounts to only about 33 cents per capita."

"When the actual need for supplementary aid is shown here, I feel certain Pampans will swing behind the drive which is aimed to carry the needy of the city through the tough months of December, January, February, March and April."

Garman's fund solicitors and the general advisory council of nine will hold a joint meeting at 7:30 p. m. Friday in BCD offices at City Hall. At this time details of the campaign will be completed.

TEX'S TOPICS

At request of Pa Pampa, we are turning the space over to him today to permit publication of another of those highly interesting letters from his old school chum, Ma McLean.

Without further ado, other than to say that Pa is coming along very nicely after his Santa Day rocket ship crackup, we shall tune you in on Ma McLean's letter:

McLean, Texas, Dec. 9, 1936. Dear Pa Pampa:

You and your masked pilot stirred up so many snow clouds while cavorting around the North Pole last week that, though Old Sol did his part in transforming them into rain, a number of my littlest children didn't get to see old Santa in Pampa last Saturday. However, those who did get to come back hoping that the same Old Santa would be in McLean this Saturday, Dec. 12, when our sons, Jesse and Carl, and their committment get the town all decorated and looking pretty for him.

Pa, did you ever stop to think how many of my children you have over there helping you? (Maybe that's why you grow so fast). At the court house there's O. T. and Buford who might nearly run that sheriff's department, and you can't stick your head in the tax collector's office without seeing Doug and Jack both acting like they own the place. Then there's Sherman who's been doing the county's prosecuting, but who's decided he's smart enough to be county judge—and he'll fill that judge's bench, too, every inch of it.

How could the district clerk remember where he put his hat every morning if our Lois wasn't there to keep up with it for him? And the County Farm Agent would forget whether he was to terrace Mr. Jones' land or help Mr. Smith cull his chickens, if our daughter, Jewell, didn't file his appointments for him.

And down at the bank who counts your money, but my former little girl, Leon? When your sewing machine goes haywire or you need a new one, there's our Thelma at the Singer Sewing Machine company to repair it or sell you another one.

When you are angry with your private secretary or your stenographer gets married without serving notice, you can go into their little shop and the Gatlin sisters will take care of your correspondence, for you.

And that's one of my sons who sells gasoline—Johnnie. You'd like him, Pa, and the young man who drives the truck for him—C. C. he's mine, too. I mustn't forget Curley, who runs a tailor shop or a laundry or something.

Why, I've even represented in your schools and your ministry, too. Marnie who teaches in one of your ward schools had her first dates in McLean and Burney, one of your most loved preachers, used to run barefoot up and down our streets.

If any of your women folks want a real beauty operator to make them look so pretty that even their husbands will smile at them, they should hunt up one of my "younger" girls, Marguerite. She's in one of the beauty parlors over there.

Then there's my Frankie Mae (Sherman's wife) and Minnie (who's married to Johnnie) and Mary (who's wed to Curley), Audra (who cooks for Buford), and Naomi (who keeps Doug straight). Now, Pa, they're real ladies and more than likely it's their influence that's Arguments and even bets being placed on whether the former King Edward and Mrs. Wallis Simpson would wed: whether they would live in Italy or come to America; whether the staid old English judge would grant the final divorce decree; whether "Eddie" would go direct to France or hide out until the divorce was granted, and many other "whethers."

170 FAMILIES ARE IN NEED OF SOME KIND

FOOD, MEDICINE AND CLOTHING BADLY NEEDED

Is there need for a supplementary relief fund in Pampa? The answer is found indelibly written in the files of the County Welfare agent in the county courthouse.

There one discovers the heart-aches and the sufferings written across the unfortunate histories of Pampa men, women and little children—many of whom are sick, hungry and whipped by the circumstances of life.

Next week there will be a drive for funds in Pampa—a campaign to raise money to supplement what Uncle Sam is trying to do in an inadequate way to relieve the situation among the indigent, the needy and the distressed.

Pampans will be asked to contribute a total of $5,000 to this supplementary relief fund, which President Roosevelt has asked the city to raise.

At 7:30 p. m. Friday a group of men, to whom has fallen the privilege of raising this money with which to aid the needy, will meet in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at City Hall to outline plans for the financial drive which is expected to get under way next Tuesday.

This group is headed by Jake Garman, Mr. Garman will have his committee workers in conference with him tomorrow night and they will be made up of leading citizens, representatives of civic clubs and other groups who will give of their time and money to put Pampa's Supplementary Relief Fund over the top.

Not Enough Food

When you become cognizant of the fact that in Pampa alone there are 170 families who are known to be in need of some kind—the situation takes on a wider aspect.

That number of families, groups which do not have enough to eat, already has been designated for Christmas baskets this year.

Miss Olga Forbau, district WPA social worker, after a check up here reports 150 Pampa families listed on the WPA rolls. This does not mean the heads of 150 families are unemployed on WPA. Many cannot be assigned to jobs.

Those who are working make at the most, if they work full time, only $31.50 a month. This amount of income

LANDIS DECLARES BOB FELLER IS PROPERTY OF CLEVELAND INDIANS

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—Bob Feller, 18-year-old Van Meter, Ia., pitching sensation, today was declared the property of the Cleveland Indians by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis. At the same time Landis ordered the Indians to pay to the Des Moines club of the Western league, from whom Cleveland obtained Feller, $7,500 for the twirler's contract.

20 Nominations For Directors Are Announced

Five new directors of the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce will be elected at the noon meeting on Dec. 22. A secret nominating committee today released the names of 10 members from which the five directors, to serve two years, will be selected.

Names of 10 other members, from which five alternate directors will be elected, were also submitted in the committee's report to President Tommy Chesser.

Hold-over directors will be Tommy Chesser, Dick Hughes, H. L. Polley, Raymond Harrah and A. J. Johnson.

The committee's report read: "The following is a report of the nominating committee for next

PIONEER BALL WILL BE HELD HERE DEC. 29

PROCEEDS TO BE USED TO BUY CHILDREN'S LUNCHES

The school cafeteria fund for children from needy families will benefit from a pioneer ball to be given Tuesday evening, Dec. 29, at the high school gymnasium, it was announced today.

All proceeds from the old-fashioned square dance will be used to buy hot lunches for less-chance children at the various school cafeterias. It is estimated that there are 200 children in the school system who need hot lunches at noon. Part of that number are now being given lunches. Every day at noon, a large group of children from Baker school are fed in the high school cafeteria.

Price of admission to the ball will be 50 cents per person, and tickets will go on sale this week. Ratiff's orchestra will furnish the music. No invitations will be mailed but the public is cordially invited to attend.

Recent square dances at the gym have been unusually successful.

KILMAN'S ELIGIBILITY TO BE KNOWN TONIGHT

CHILDRESS, Dec. 10 (AP)—School officials awaited the outcome of a meeting at Austin tonight to determine the eligibility of Bill Kilman, Amarillo high school football star.

Chesser protested Kilman's eligibility on the grounds he was older than the interscholastic league limit.

Amarillo defeated Childress decisively last Friday and was scheduled to play Abilene in a quarterfinal game this week. The Childress Bobcats resumed work-outs as a precaution against being out of condition if they should be named to replace Amarillo in the schoolboy race.

Chesser, Fannin county, Mrs. Charles Edwards signed an affidavit that she was present when Kilman was born at Aubrey, Denton county. She set the date as Dec. 27, 1917.

The affidavit, obtained at the request of Amarillo school authorities, was forwarded to league officials at Austin.

Jack Bourland underwent a major operation at Pampa-Jarratt hospital last night. His condition today was favorable.

A Visit From St. Nicholas

Little John Henry Nelson Tuesday tearing up Borner's line and backfield at frequent, ferocious intervals, as he did in the Amarillo game, and was reminded that it was getting time to remind John Henry's father, H. A. Nelson, that the football team and this corner are waiting and will continue to wait patiently for him to set the date for that promised chicken dinner at the Nelson farm.

He was dressed all in fur, from his head to his foot, And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot.

come will not go far in the matter of providing even the bare necessities of life.

The money Pampa is expected to raise will be used to supplement the federal aid going to these WPA families and to help aid to those who have no work at all.

To Buy Medicine It will be used to buy medicine for the indigent sick, to buy food for underfed children and to provide proper clothing that they can attend school.

Do you know that there are many men working on WPA jobs in the county who do not earn enough on these jobs even to buy enough food for their families?

What about the rent, the light bill, the gas bill and the medicine needed when sickness hits these homes?

The records show that right here in Pampa there are men, women and children who are hungry—who have nothing to eat other than what neighbors bring to them.

Foreed To Quit School There are others pining away because of a lack of medical attention. Young girls and boys forced to quit school at tender ages in an effort to try to be bread winners for a widowed mother or a bed-stricken father.

Do you know a 13-year-old girl is working in a cafe for a very few dollars a month in order to try to buy the necessities to keep life in the body of her ailing mother?

These and many other cases are to be found in the relief office files. The names are not to be made public.

But, these are some of the facts as furnished by the county welfare agent and the district WPA social worker.

The answer to the question: Does Pampa Need a Supplementary Relief Fund drive? is found in the relief files of city cases.

Tomorrow details of some of these cases, minus the names and addresses, will be published in the Pampa NEWS.

made their husbands as good as they are.

That Tommie of yours who is head of the Jaycees or some such organization which nearly runs the town, well, he never came from McLean, but his wife, Estelle, did.

Last week, Pa. I promised if you'd let me write again that I'd tell you about Charlie, and Elizabeth and Jim, and I mustn't forget my promise.

Charlie is one town law who smiles even when he's serving papers on you. The only time I've ever seen that smile come off was when he was leading one of my wayward boys, who'd been driving home when he should have been drinking tomato juice, down the street toward the city's bastille.

Elizabeth can do more things at the same time, and do them well, than any one I know. Outside of teaching school, she manages the Pep Squad, teaches a Sunday school class, goes to all the school parties, gives private lessons in speech, and at present is coaching the faculty play and has a part in it, too.

Jim's the busiest person in town, always present when there's sickness, accident, or death. Now he's out working night and day to see that everybody in our town has a happy Christmas. He's not only locating the needy, but he's contacting those who have things to give and with a man like that at work in our town, Christmas will surely be what God meant it to be when he sent his angels to sing, "Peace on earth and good will to men."

Your neighbor, MA McLEAN.

TICKETS FOR REGIONAL GAME ON SALE HERE

Pampans planning to see the Panhandle-Ft. Worth regional championship football game to be played at Tiger field in McLean tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, will have until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to purchase reserve seat tickets here. The tickets are on sale at Fatheree Drug No. 4 for 75 cents. Only 100 tickets were received here. Half of that number had been snapped up by noon today. Any left will be returned to McLean early tomorrow morning. A set out is expected by McLean school officials who offered the use of Tiger field free for the game. McLean also volunteered to handle the sale of tickets.

The tickets sent to Pampa are between the 45 and 50 yard lines on the Panhandle side of the field.

FLEMING FUNERAL IS HELD IN MIAMI TODAY

Funeral services for Jay Hugh Fleming, 60, who died in a local hospital yesterday morning, were to be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Christian church, Miami, Fla. The Rev. H. E. Comstock, pastor of Full Gospel temple, Pampa, was to officiate. Burial was to be in Miami cemetery in charge of G. C. Malone funeral home.

Mr. Fleming, a resident of the Panhandle for 40 years and a Pampan for 12 years, died following a paralytic stroke. Survivors are his wife, five daughters and seven sons.

When his dog and a coyote it was fighting fell into a creek, Olaf Seglen of El Dorado, Kas., waded into the water and killed the coyote with a club.

Baldwin Asks Sympathy. "Edward R. L."

After Speaker Fitzroy had finished the message Baldwin said: "I have to move that his majesty's most gracious message be now considered."

"No more grave message has ever been received by parliament and no more difficult and I might almost say more repugnant task has ever been imposed upon the prime minister."

"I will ask the house which I know will not be without sympathy for me now to remember that in this last week I have had little time in which to compose a speech for delivery today."

"And so I must tell what I have to tell, truthfully, sincerely, and plainly with no attempt to dress up or to adorn and I shall have little or nothing to stay in the way of comment or criticism, or praise or blame."

"I think my best course today and one that the house would desire to take is to tell you as far as I can what has passed between his majesty and myself and what has led up to the present situation."

"I would like to say at the start that his majesty as Prince of Wales has honored me for many years with a friendship which I value and I know that he would agree with me in saying to you that it was not only a friendship but between man and man a friendship of perfection."

"I would like to tell the house when I begin that when I said 'goodbye' on Tuesday night at Fort Belvedere we both knew and felt and said to each other that that friendship, so far from being impaired by discussions this last week, bound us more closely together than it ever has and would last for life."

"Now sir, the house will want to know when it was that I had my first interview with his majesty."

"I may say that his majesty has been most generous in allowing me to tell the house the pertinent part of the discussions that took place between us."

"As the house is aware I had been ordered in August and September to take a complete rest which, owing to the kindness of my staff and consideration of all my colleagues I was able to enjoy fully and when October came although I had been ordered to take a rest that month I felt I could not in fairness to my work take a further holiday and I came, as it were, on half time before the middle of October."

"I considered I am ashamed to say it but they have forgiven me—none of my colleagues."

"I happened to be staying in the neighborhood of Fort Belvedere about the middle of October and ascertained that his majesty was leaving his house on Sunday, the 18th of October, to entertain a small shooting party at Sandringham and that he was leaving Sunday afternoon."

"I telephoned from my friend's house Sunday morning and found he (the king) had left earlier than expected."

"In these circumstances I communicated with him through his secretary and stated I desired to see him."

Asks For Interview "It was the first and only occasion on which I was the one who asked for an interview."

"I said I desired to see him and that the matter was urgent."

"I told him what it was and I expressed my willingness to go to Sandringham Tuesday, the 20th, but I said I thought it would be wiser, if his majesty thought it fit, to see him at Belvedere because I was anxious at that time that none should know of my visit and that the first talk should be in complete privacy."

"His majesty replied he would motor back Monday, Oct. 19, to Belvedere and that he would see me Tuesday morning and on Tuesday morning I saw him."

"I may say before I proceed to give any details of the conversation that an adviser of the crown can be of possible service to his master unless he tells him at all times the truth as he sees it."

"Whether that truth be welcome or not; and let me say here as I may say several times before I finish that during those talks—when I look back—there is nothing I have not told his majesty of which I felt he ought to be aware but never has his majesty shown any signs of offense, of being hurt at anything I have said to him, and the whole of our discussions have been carried through with an increase if possible of mutual respect and regard in which we stood."

2 Great Anxieties "I told his majesty I had two great anxieties—the effect of the continuance of criticism of the king that at the time was proceeding in the American press and the effect it would have in the dominions and particularly Canada where it was widespread, and the effect it would have in this country. That was first, and the second was that I have often told him and his brothers in the years passed and that's this: 'The crown in this country through centuries has been deprived of many of its prerogatives but, today, while that is true, it stands for far more than it ever has done in its history.'

"The importance of its integrity is beyond all question far greater than it has ever been, being as it is not only the last link of empire that is left but a guarantee in this country, so long as it exists in that integrity, against many evils that have afflicted other countries."

"I told his majesty I had looked forward to his reign as a great king in a new age. He has so many of the qualities which are necessary to it."

"I told him I had come naturally and wanted to talk it over with him as a friend. Perhaps I am saying what I should not say here—I did not ask his majesty whether I might say this—but I will say it because I do not think he would mind and I think it illustrates the basis on which our talks have been held."

Forbade Interference "He said to me not once but many times during these many, many hours we have had together, especially towards the end, he said to me: 'You and I must settle this matter together. I will not have anyone interfering.'

"Well, I then pointed out the danger of the divorce proceedings; that if a verdict was given in that case which left the matter in suspense for some time, that period of suspense must be dangerous because then everyone would be talking and when once the press begins, as it must begin some time in this country, a most difficult situation would arise for me and for him, and there might well be the danger which both he and I have seen through all this, and one of the reasons why he wanted to take this action quickly was that there should not be sides taken and factions grow up in this country where no faction ever ought to exist."

"It was on that aspect of the question that we talked for an hour and I went away glad that the ice had been broken."

"My conscience at that moment was clear and for some little time we had no further meetings."

"I begged his majesty to consider all that I said. I said that I pressed him for no kind of an answer but would be glad to hear anything that I had said. The next time I saw him was Nov. 16."

THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS, Pampa, Texas

ing it formally before the whole cabinet and communicating with all the prime ministers of the dominions and asked if that was his wish."

"He told me that it was and I said I would do it."

"Later his majesty asked me if I could answer his question. I gave him the reply that I was afraid it was impracticable for those reasons."

"His majesty said he was not surprised. He took my answer without question and he never referred to it again."

"I want you to put yourselves in his majesty's place and realize what his feelings are and to know how glad he would have been had this been possible."

"He looks so young that we all thought of him as our prince but he is a mature man with a wide and great experience of life and the world."

"He always had before him three motives which he repeated in the course of conversation at all hours and again and again; that if he would not allow a situation to arise in which he could not do that; and that he wanted to go with as little disturbance to his ministers and his people as possible."

Reads Pencil Note "I have here a pencilled note sent me by his majesty this morning and I have his authority for reading it."

"It is just simply in pencil and it says: 'The Duke of York and the King have always been on the best of terms as brothers and the king is confident that the duke will deserve and receive the support of the whole empire.'

"Now, sir, I would say a word or two on the king's position. The king cannot speak for himself. The king has told us that he cannot carry and does not see his way to carry those almost intolerable burdens of kingship without a woman at his side, and we know that this crisis, if I may use the word, has risen now rather than later from that very frankness of his majesty's character which is one of his many attractions."

"It would have been perfectly possible for his majesty not to tell me this at the date when he did and not to have told me for some months to come, but he realized the damage that might be done in the interval by gossip and rumors and talk and he made that declaration to me when he did on purpose to avoid what he felt might be dangerous not only here but throughout the empire, to that very moral force of the crown which we are all determined to sustain."

In the dominions and colonies, the general feeling was one of sadness that the old king had gone; deep relief that the crisis had passed; joy in the new king."

Canada Accepts Abdication Canada's cabinet paced the rest, passing an order in council which authorized the British government to include Canada in the act of abdication acceptance. The governor-general concurred."

The other dominions were ready to act, through cabinets or parliaments."

London's stock exchange closed firm and its members cheered the new sovereign."

At 5:50 p. m., the Duke of York's motor car arrived again at Fort Belvedere, where Edward presumably remained."

The belief spread that Edward would go to the continent tomorrow, but it was more likely he would remain in seclusion at Belvedere until the act of abdication becomes law."

May Be Exiled No law exists covering the situation, but it generally was considered true that Edward may not stay in Great Britain or any dominion of the empire."

The passage of time may change that situation, if the government becomes convinced his return would not be embarrassing politically. Many thought he would return to England within a few years and live the quiet life of a country gentleman—a life he so greatly prefers to the duties of state."

If Edward does go to the continent, his friends said, he undoubtedly will meet Mrs. Simpson at an early date."

York, the king-to-be, can choose any name he desires for his reign, the 39th since the Norman conquest."

The British Press association, however, predicted with authority it would be "George VI."

TITLE GAME AND CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION TO BE MCLEAN ATTRACTIONS

SANTA WILL BE IN PARADE ON SATURDAY

REGIONAL BATTLE TO BE PLAYED ON TOMORROW

All roads in this section of the Panhandle will lead to McLean tomorrow afternoon, and again on Saturday, Tomorrow afternoon the Panhandle Panthers and the Flomont Longhorns will meet on Tiger field to decide the regional football champion. On Saturday McLean will hold her big Christmas celebration with a parade, band concert, visit from Santa and other attractions.

Time of the big football game, being played at McLean by agreement of competing schools, will be 2:30 o'clock. More than 1,000 reserve seats tickets have been sold already and fans are still clamoring for seats. A block of the reserve seats tickets are on sale at Patheco Drug No. 4 in the Rose building at 75 cents. Fans are urged to get their tickets by tonight. General admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

A few skeptical fans can't see how a team from a 90 pupil school will have a chance against the mighty Panhandle Panthers of Coach Pat Gerald. Well, the team from Flomont, coached by D. W. McWilliams, is the surprise eleven of Class B football this season. McWilliams took 16 boys and developed a team that went through the season undefeated and with only two ties.

So seriously is Coach Gerald taking the game, that he has been running his second string through Flomont all week in an effort to build up a defense to keep Light, ace Flomont ball carrier, from getting in the clean and to stop Amnett from crashing through the Panther line. In Light, Flomont has one of the best ball carriers in Class B football, according to coaches and fans who have seen the youngster in action.

While Panhandle will have to watch Amnett and Light, Flomont's Herculean task will be to stop the terrific plunges of Connie Sparks, 180-pound quarterback, and the end runs of N. Sparks and Crawford. On top of that, Panhandle's passing attack has been declared the most potent in this region. Power of the Flomont aerial circus has not been tested fully.

A battle of hard-charging lines is also in prospect for the expected 3,000 or 3,500 fans who will jam Tiger field to see the championship struggle between two great schoolboy football teams. Flomont will have a few pounds weight advantage in the line but will be badly outweighed in the ball toting department.

Both elevens have outstanding scoring and defensive records for the season. Panhandle had rung up 365 points to their opponents' 27. Flomont, in turn, has scored 254 points while holding their opponents to 44 points. Panhandle has won 11 games against no losses. Flomont defeated eight teams by decisive margins and played two tie games, winning both on first downs. Flomont's last victory was over Wheeler Mustangs in a bi-district game in the mud last week.

Starting lineups with comparative weights, and jersey numbers: PANHANDLE: Paul, 145 lb; Barrett, 210 lb; Egan, 140 lb; Eagle, 165 lb; Anderson, 145 lb; Starnes, 155 lb; Watts, 150 lb; C. Sparks, 180 lb; Crawford, 150 lb; N. Sparks, 170 lb; Smith, 140 lb. FLOMONT: Paul, 145 lb; Barrett, 210 lb; Egan, 140 lb; Eagle, 165 lb; Anderson, 145 lb; Starnes, 155 lb; Watts, 150 lb; C. Sparks, 180 lb; Crawford, 150 lb; N. Sparks, 170 lb; Smith, 140 lb.

Officials for the game will be: Referee, May (WSTC); Captain, Innesman, Vaughn (WSTC); Plainview, umpire, Pool (McMurry); Plainview.

SPORT SLANTS By ALAN GOULD

The day of the point-a-minute teams has passed. Those wonder teams of old-remembered seasons that would go through an entire season without yielding a touchdown? Those machines that won all their games by 50 points? If you don't remember them, you probably won't hear any more about such teams for a long time to come.

For example, consider the South-west conference. The seven members of the Texas-Arkansas circuit all can point to miracle teams and iron-men whose exploits reverberated from coast to coast. "Now, back in the good old days, we had a team..."

Isn't it the same way with almost any university or college? Isn't there almost always at least one world-beater lurking between the pages of the college history book?

You stop to think, and you'll recall that, yes, there probably is. And you wonder why its record so far excels—or seems to excel—any made in the present grid season.

Real 'Amateur' Team Look at Rice Institute of Houston, Tex. The date and the exact score have been more-or-less blurred by history, but back around 1916 Rice's team beat Southern Methodist by something like 146-3. Ever since Rice has been wishing it could count on just one-tenth of that number of points against S. M. U. in any given game.

It wasn't long ago that some pigskin-minded historian went into the archives of the S. M. U. library and came up with the announcement that, well, S. M. U.'s team that year wasn't so much, anyway, but a gang of boys just out of high school, including many who hadn't seen a football until the Rice game.

That's the way it used to be—and that's why those "wonder teams" of old could run up scores that read like Roosevelt's electoral vote. There were good teams—but they were few and far between. They were so far between they always managed to play a bunch of set-ups in between each game with each other.

Those were the good old days. The days may not be so good anymore, but the football teams are better. It's not a very long jump now, between two really good outfits—in fact, good teams are like good automobiles and are found everywhere.

The Southwest conference grew older, the teams got better—and the "wonder teams" passed out of the picture. Today there is not one single undefeated member of the conference. It is now a very rare season, indeed, when a team breezes through to the Southwest title without at least one defeat. Arkansas, with three losses, and Texas Christian, twice beaten and tied, are battling for the '36 crown as this is written.

Same Story Everywhere That's the way it goes, from coast to coast. Yale, Big Three champion, lost to Dartmouth. Nebraska, Big Six winner—as usual—bowed to Pittsburgh and to Minnesota in inter-sectional tilts. Washington's Huskies, Pacific coast titlist and Rose Bowl nominees, lost to Minnesota and passed out to Stanford. Northwestern, Big Ten leader, lost to Notre Dame's crew. Exhibit A, of course, is Minnesota. Ahead in The Associated Press poll of experts for the mythical national title honors, the Gophers bowed to Northwestern's Wildcats, 6-0.

And what about the other schools? Auburn? Beaten more than once, and tied, Notre Dame? Too much Navy and Pittsburgh. Army? Washington? Texas A and M? Pittsburgh? Pennsylvania? Marquette? All beaten. Alabama ended its season without a loss but managed to tie one up. Santa Clara, with a rather soft schedule, still has to lose a game. Louisiana State's Bayou Bengals were tied by Texas and took a moral defeat.

The day of defeated champions is here. We don't mean beaten after winning their laurels—we mean beaten on the way up. It won't be the team that sweeps its whole schedule that'll win the plaudits in the future. Instead, it will be the team that gets through a representative schedule with the most skin left on its backs. And a defeat, regardless of where it falls on the calendar, won't drive the fans away. Because they won't have anywhere to go.

PLANE IS MISSING. JUNEAU, Alaska, Dec. 10 (AP)—Lowering clouds, heavy rain and snow squalls hid the whereabouts of a missing amphibian plane and its six occupants today. Taking off from Juneau Tuesday morning on a 400-mile flight to Denzora and Anchorage, Pilot Don Glass failed to arrive with his ship at either place. Other fliers were hopeful he had taken refuge in some protected cove to await better weather, as Alaskan fliers frequently do.

LANDIS WILL RULE IN BOB FELLER CASE

DECISION IS EXPECTED TODAY; ALSO HIS RESIGNATION

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—Baseball overlooked even the great Dizzy Dean today and gazed at a hard-boiled man of 70, Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis, for his long-awaited decision on the strange case of Bob Feller.

The gray-thatched czar of baseball had one of two apparent decisions to render: to declare Feller a free agent or to rule him property of the Cleveland Indians.

However, no one knew for sure whether Landis would rule in the case of the sensational schoolboy pitcher today.

The commissioner definitely was on the hottest spot of his 16 years of czaring.

Should he rule Feller a free agent, he automatically would open the doors for at least 20 other well-known major league stars, who would like nothing better than to be free agents on identical grounds of minor-major rule violations so they could sell their services to the highest bidder.

If he doesn't rule Feller a free agent, the gruff commissioner would be accused of overlooking rule violations if no other reason than that Feller was signed at the age of 15, whereas Landis consistently has refused any contract signed by a player 17.

It was such a mess that many figured the commissioner would rule Feller property of Cleveland and then resign his office with the admonition that they needed his counsel no longer.

FOOTBALL STARS NOT ORIGINAL ABOUT JOBS

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—A host of star college football seniors today were seeking to exchange a football reputation, a large scrap book, and a college education for a job.

An Associated Press survey revealed that the boys were neither particular nor original. They wanted mainly to coach, teach, play pro baseball or football, or go into business.

Even Yale's Larry Kelley, who has established a reputation for originality, announced that he wants to coach and teach "for at least a year."

His teammates on the all-America also stick to the general classification. Ray Buivid of Marquette and Mike Basrak of Duquesne are going to take a whirl to try for place in the majors. Ed Widesth, the Minnesota tackle, is looking for a coaching job, and Averill Daniell of Pitt and Sam Francis of Nebraska think they "want to go into business."

Lloyd Russell, Baylor's triple threat back, is said to be dickering for a place on the Cleveland Indians' squad.

Those interested in pro football jobs include "Slingin' Sammy" Baugh of Texas Christian. Mrs. W. G. Logan, 83, Sonora, Texas, who has made saddle girths of twisted mohair for 38 years, says she is giving up the work because "the old right arm isn't what it used to be."

Sports Roundup

BY EDDIE BRIETZ. NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—You'll know the verdict in the celebrated Bob Feller case before night... Judge Landis has a brief case as thick as "Gone With the Wind" on it... Betting is even Feller will be turned loose... Then he can write his own ticket... If he signs for less than $100,000 he's a sap.

Baseball writers sent Judge Landis a wire congratulating him on his seventieth birthday... The judge wired back: "Thanks for your welcome perjury..." Many of the lobby managers think all the Branch Rickey ballyhoo on Dean is just a smoke screen for a sale (possibly already made) to Cincinnati.

Dutch Reuther, who watched the kid all last year, says Joe DiMaggio's big brother Vince bought by the Bees, can throw and field with anybody in the majors.

In all his 56 years in baseball as player, manager and magnate, "Old Fox" Clark Griffith of Washington sold only one ball player... That was Joe Cronin, his son-in-law—for a quarter of a million bucks.

Most harassed scribe at the baseball meeting is J. Roy Stockton of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch... Every time he gets a wire his fellow scribblers swoop down wanting to know "is it about Dean?"

Schmeling Coming Back to Discuss Future Battles

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—With the arrival today of Max Schmeling the heavyweight situation was expected to start sizzling again.

Der Moxie was coming for the purpose of sewing up James J. Braddock for a heavyweight title fight next summer and to toss a monkey wrench or so into the plans of promoter Harman Taylor for a prior meeting between Braddock and Joe Louis at Atlantic city.

The New York State athletic commission confidently expected to see a deal closed for a title fight at tomorrow's meeting, but there were many ifs and buts to be threshed out.

First, Schmeling was sure to insist that any contract he signs with Braddock prohibit the champion from risking injury by fighting anybody before he meets the German.

On the other hand, Schmeling may not be so keen to sign if the commission stipulates he promise, to the tune of a $25,000 forfeit, that if he wins the title he'll defend it here within a year.

BEATS LOUGHRAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10 (AP)—Young Sonora Taylor of Phoenix, Ariz., popped into the heavyweight picture today with a ten round decision over Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia's veteran master boxer, here last night.

JACK CHEVIGNY IS NO LONGER TEXAS COACH

UNIVERSITY IN MARKET FOR NEW GRID MENTOR

AUSTIN, Dec. 10 (AP)—The University of Texas today officially had closed the three-year career of Jack Chevigny of Notre Dame and flung open the doors of consideration to all who would succeed him as head coach.

J. C. Dolley, chairman, announced the athletic council had formally accepted Chevigny's request that he not be considered a candidate and would immediately start negotiations with applicants for the vacancy.

He refused to name candidates who might be considered but said the council had taken full cognizance of numerous petitions with hundreds of names asking it to employ a mentor of the caliber of Dana X. Bible of Nebraska, Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern or Tiny Thornhill of Stanford.

Bible yesterday indicated he was not interested and Waldorf had turned down the council's overtures three years ago when Chevigny was hired.

E. H. Weinstock of Seguin, chairman of the powerful board of regents' athletic committee, said he might favor an increase in salary for the head coach which now stands at $5,000 plus $2,000 expenses.

Rice to Meet Ten Foes Next Season

HOUSTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Rice will meet six conference and four non-conference foes on the gridiron next season.

Dr. Gaylord Johnson, business manager of athletics, announced the 1937 schedule as follows: Oct. 2, Oklahoma at Norman; Oct. 9, Louisiana State at Houston; Oct. 16, Tulsa University at Houston; Oct. 23, Texas at Austin; Oct. 30, Auburn at Houston; Nov. 20, Texas Christian at Fort Worth; Nov. 27, Baylor at Houston; Dec. 4, Southern Methodist at Fort Worth; Nov. 27, Baylor at Houston; Dec. 4, Southern Methodist at Dallas.

Charley Moore, guard from San Antonio, was named captain of the 1937 squad.

JINX PARTY

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—Superstition means nothing to Maxine Norton, who celebrated her 13th birthday on Friday the 13th when a "jinx" party.

She invited 13 boys and 13 girls. They played 13 games and 13 prizes were awarded. Maxine weighed 13 pounds at birth.

PORT ARTHUR-CORPUS CHRISTI GAME DESCRIBED A TOSS-UP

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF. DALLAS, Dec. 10 (AP)—The game causing forecasters of gridiron fortunes the most concern is the Port Arthur-Corpus Christi quarter-final Texas Interscholastic League battle at Port Arthur Saturday.

Of the four contests that will be played this comes nearest being a toss-up. Port Arthur is getting the nod in most quarters but the great record of the Buccaneers causes the experts to cast a wary glance.

Neither team is a newcomer to quarter-final play but only Port Arthur has ever been able to lay claim to a state title. That was in 1929 when the Yellow Jackets played to a tie with Breckenridge in the finals.

Corpus Christi was in the finals in 1934, losing to Amarillo. The Buccaneers are perennial district champions and often go farther.

Port Arthur has scored 285 points to 58 for the opposition. Corpus Christi has run up 325 to 46. The teams have played somewhat similar opposition. The winner of the Port Arthur-Corpus Christi game meets the victor in the Kerrville-Lufkin contest in the lower bracket final game. Amarillo, should it not be ruled ineligible, plays Abilene and the winner clashes with the North Side (Fort Worth)-Gainesville victor in the final game of the upper bracket.

CHERRY HONORED

SHAMROCK, Dec. 10.—Ed Cherry, former backfield ace of the Shamrock high school football team and now a student at Hardin-Simmons, received honorable mention in the Associated Press selection released this week. Cherry played at Amarillo college after leaving Shamrock. He was named one of the most valuable players in the conference this season.

Sport Sparks

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT. DALLAS, Dec. 10 (AP)—Burlly Joe Routt, Texas A. and M.'s scrappy all-America guard, will be back in the Aggie line next year... Ineligible in 1934, Routt has one more year of football and recently decided to return... The former wrestling champion of his county was once slated to attend the United States naval academy... His dad's favorite story concerns the time he persuaded Joe's high school coach to jerk him from a football game so he could take his son down town to a carnival to look a big fellow claiming he could throw anyone in the county... Joe, then 16, won the county wrestling title that afternoon.

Now it's reported Sammy Baugh will not turn to professional football... Texas Christian's big passer, said recently at Houston he would prefer a coaching job. Don't be surprised if he lands a place on the Christian staff.

Over in the East Texas piney woods sector Junior Harthorne, quarterback of the Huntsville demonstration high school team, scored 20 touchdowns this season... His total points reached 127, which, however, showed a decrease of one point from his 1935 season... East Texas coaches call him "137 pounds of rhythm."

Lloyd Russell, Baylor captain, appears to be "in" as leading scorer of the Southwest conference with 46 points... Only Hal McClure, Texas Christian back with 36 points, has a chance to catch him... And it is doubtful that he will play against Santa Clara in the Christian's last game of the season at San Francisco Saturday... Bob Nestra, Texas A. & M., is in second place with 42 points.

Little Doug Locke, St. Mary's of San Antonio backfield star, has picked up 127 yards from scrimmage this year in 232 attempts for an average of five and a half yards per play... And his football team, in battles from San Francisco to Maryland, has covered approximately 11,000 miles—all in the school bus.

HOPKINS ASKS NEW STUDY OF BRAZOS DAMS

COMPROMISE ON COST OF PROGRAM IS PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, Works Progress administrator, was reported today to have suggested further study of complicated financial problems connected with a $30,000,000 flood control and power program on the Brazos river in Texas before proceeding with construction of the first 13 dams.

Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas said after a conference Hopkins proposed that private and Army engineers seek a compromise between their $3,500,000 and $7,000,000 construction cost estimates of the Possum Kingdom dam in Palo Pinto county, Tex.

Sheppard said they discussed only briefly a tentative contract between the Brazos district and the Texas Power and Light company for sale of power and reported Hopkins and his assistants asked more time to study many departmental reports on the agreement.

John Norris, general manager of the Brazos program, and Representative W. D. McFarlane of Graham, Tex., also participated in the discussions. John McCall, bond attorney of Dallas, and S. W. Stewart, president of a New York construction company, waited outside Hopkins' office.

McFarlane earlier told McCall he felt the price for Brazos power should be uniform as to communities and utility companies and said he would demand that the final contract be stripped of "jokers" which would, in effect, deprive towns of the right to buy the energy.

"They told me that since the supply from the Brazos would be variable they could not, from a standpoint of practicality, try to sell it to anyone but the power trust, but I told them all the people need was a chance," McFarlane said. "Once the towns know they can get cheap power they will jump at the chance to take whatever they can get."

"Of course, that would hurt the utilities and they have arranged it so they, only, can be the purchasers, if, as and when they need it. Under present plans they would not be obligated to take any of it."

In answer to a statement of Norris and McCall that neither the Brazos district nor towns could afford to construct stand-by plants or transmission lines, McFarlane said "just let the people know what they can get and they'll be willing to spend the money to get it."

CATTLEMEN STRONGLY OPPOSE FOREIGN PACT

HOUSTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, fighting to keep Argentine cattle out of the United States and to reduce importation from Mexico, sought cooperation today of the National Livestock Association.

Declaring there was grave danger of the dread foot and mouth disease, prevalent in some sections of Argentina, the cattlemen said they would fight Senate ratification of a pact designed to lift the embargo on cattle from the South American Republic.

The pact, known as the Argentine sanitary convention pending before the Senate foreign relations committee, would alter provisions of the Smoot-Hawley tariff act which prohibits importation of cattle from a foot and mouth disease infested country.

Senator Tom Connally (D., Tex.) and Rep. Richard Kleberg (D., Tex.) pledged the support of the cattlemen. Senator Connally, member of the foreign relations committee, said he would fight ratification of the pact, despite President Roosevelt's favorable attitude toward ratification.

The National Livestock Association, which joined with the Texas organization in sponsoring the drouth cattle buying program in 1935, was asked to join in the fight against the pact.

Alanreed to Hold Basketball Tourney

Alanreed will be the scene of a Class C basketball tournament tomorrow, beginning at 10 o'clock. Teams, both boys and girls, will be present from Samnorwood, Dodsonton, Kelton and Alanreed.

All games will be played in the Alanreed high school gymnasium with admission 25 cents per round of play. J. L. Naylor of Panhandle will officiate.

Class C schools last season presented some of the strongest teams in this district. Alanreed has another team in the making that is hoped to defend the county championship won last year.

DIES IN FALL
BIG SPRING, Dec. 10 (AP)—Mrs. William Fahrenkamp, wife of the chief clerk to the general foreman of the Texas & Pacific Railway shops here, died early this morning in a fall from the eighth floor of a hotel, where the family resided. A few early morning passers-by saw the body as it plunged to the sidewalk on one of the city's main thoroughfares.

The number of persons employed in 1,306 Kansas industries decreased one-half of one per cent during October but payrolls increased two per cent.

Another Missing Man Is Reported At San Perlita

SAN PERLITA, Dec. 10 (AP)—Officers investigating the disappearance of Luther and John Blanton on ranchlands near here Nov. 18 had a new missing man mystery on their hands today.

State Highway Patrolman Dan Abbott sought a Mexican whose name was found in a bloodstained coat taken from an abandoned automobile near here. The Mexican had not been seen since the owner of the car, a Wilacy county rancher, sent him to town for a payroll.

The bloodstains first were considered a possible clue in the Blanton search but officers declined to say what connection there might be. Meanwhile, H. H. Carmichael, director of the state public safety department, Ranger Capt. Bill McMurray and Ranger Joe Bridges reported no progress in their hunt for the Blantons.

HENRY IS ATTENDING INSURANCE CONVENTION

T. H. Henry of Pampa is in Dallas this week attending the thirty-Southwestern Life Insurance company, which he represents.

After J. Miles Abell, Houston agent and president of the Southwestern Life club, opened the first business session; the response of the agents by E. J. Tucker, Houston agent, C. F. O'Donnell, president of the company, in his annual talk, announced that Southwestern Life has recently come over the mark of $300,000,000 life insurance in force.

More than 500 Texans representing the company, are attending the Centennial-year convention.

At noon today, the visitors were entertained with a luncheon in the Adolphus Hotel Junior Ball Room, during which Arthur Coburn, vice-president of the firm, made his annual address. Tonight the annual get-together dinner will be held in the Baker Hotel Crystal Ball Room and it will be followed by the "Southwestern Minstrel."

Friday there will be a luncheon for the men at the Baker Hotel, when Hon. R. L. Daniel, chairman of the board of insurance commissioners of Texas, will speak, and a luncheon for their wives at Brookhollow country club. The climax of the convention will be Friday night when the annual banquet will be staged in the Adolphus Junior Ball Room, at which time President O'Donnell will confer awards for the year's accomplishments.

Mrs. Simpson Says King Will Not Join Her at Villa

CANNES, France, Dec. 10 (AP)—Mrs. Wallis Simpson said through an intermediary today there is not "the remotest possibility" that King Edward will join her at Lou Viei villa "now or later."

The American woman's statement was made through Herman Rogers, her New York friend who offered her the use of the villa after she left London.

"Not only is the king not coming to the villa," Mrs. Simpson said, "but he is not coming to the Riviera."

"What his definite plans are we do not know but we do know that much."

"There are no changes so far as Mrs. Simpson's plans are concerned. She plans to stay here at least until after Christmas."

The tooth of the Elephas Columbi, a prehistoric monster who roamed Pacific shores 250,000 years ago, was dredged up recently in San Francisco bay and identified by scientists.

SEVERAL STATES HAVE UNIQUE LIQUOR LAWS

(Editor's Note: With the Alabama legislature debating a measure to legalize liquor, what is the situation in other states? The following, first of two articles, outlines the various state laws.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Thirty travelers on a coast to coast trip face little difficulty at the outset of the fourth year of repeal in finding legal liquor en route.

Only seven states are left in the dry column. In one—Alabama—the House yesterday approved a state-store liquor control law. The Senate must act before it becomes effective.

Georgia, Kansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, and Oklahoma are completely dry, but 17 counties in North Carolina operate local-option liquor stores.

Pausing to make purchases in states permitting hard liquor, travelers would find county or municipally-licensed liquor stores in 23 states. Fourteen others, including Michigan, have state monopoly stores, but in Michigan local authorities in counties of less than 500,000 population can issue on-sale permits if they wish.

California, Connecticut, Delaware and South Carolina have state administrations but issue licenses to privately-owned stores.

Wyoming has a unique law. The state exercises a monopoly over wholesale trade but leaves retail trade control to cities and towns.

North Dakota is the most recent state to leave the dry group. It authorized sale of hard liquor on Dec. 3 for the first time since achieving statehood.

States with provisions for local option elections number 31, not including South Dakota which has local option privileges only on the question of sale of liquor by drink.

Most states permitting the sale of hard liquor allow it to be sold either by package or by the drink. Idaho, Iowa, Montana, Oregon, South Carolina, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington and West Virginia permit sale only by the package.

MAN INVENTS BATH-TUB-TABLE-STOVE

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Alfred Castanien, 62, felt the country needed "a good bath tub" so he set to work in the attic of his home and finally came forth with a tub-table-stove combination which becomes one or the other as the housewife desires.

"There are somewhere between 6,000,000 and 15,000,000 homes in this country without regular tubs," Castanien declares. "Now, after eight years' experimentation, I have what the nation needs—a good tub."

The table has a stove at one end for gas or oil heating of water for the tub, which is revealed when one presses a gadget or two. The whole affair is raised from the floor so, as Castanien points out, "you don't have to move it to sweep under-it."

RADIO PLAYED PROMINENT ROLE IN DALLAS' CENTENNIAL SHOW

Radio played a unique role in the Texas Centennial Central Exposition which closed Nov. 29.

The exposition was officially opened June 6 with an international round-the-world broadcast over a network of 103 stations. This program, produced by the Centennial radio staff, was released through the facilities of the Gulf Radio Studios and the Gulf Centennial Network on the exposition grounds. The exposition will officially close Sunday night with a radio program which includes a broadcast of the actual clicking of the turnstiles when the last visitor goes through the gates and a round robin pick-up from several points on the grounds.

The significance of the $200,000 Gulf radio and public address facilities as a means of advertising the Centennial and the State of Texas is shown by figures released this morning by Robert C. Coleson, who was in charge of production at the Centennial studios.

From the day the exposition opened June 6, 2,513 live talent programs originated on the exposition grounds and have been made available through the facilities provided by the Gulf Oil to local, sectional and national networks.

Of the 2,513 broadcasts, 35 were transcontinental broadcasts carried over the National Broadcasting or the Columbia Broadcasting chains. One of these was an international hook-up which was carried over 103 stations, and the average number of stations carrying the hook-up programs was 65. The actual time of broadcasting national hook-up programs was eighteen and a half hours, two programs being of one hour each and thirty-three being one-half hour programs.

This is not only a record number of radio productions for any exposition, but it is believed to be a record number of productions for any radio studio outside of the key stations of the national chains during a similar period of time.

IN THE NICK O' TIME.

CHICAGO—Sergt. James Garvey of the bomb squad smiled indulgently after examining three "sticks of dynamite" which a workman at the Pioneer Paper Stock Co. found in waste paper about to be baled. The workman hurriedly doused the sticks in water. Sergt. Garvey said they were roman candles.

CHRISTMAS MAILING RULES ARE RELEASED

As the Christmas season approaches, more and more mail is going through the post office, requiring much additional handling. A few rules which would make this handling easier for postal clerks were released today by postal authorities.

If a large number of greeting cards are sent by one person, they should be tied in one bundle, facilitating the handling.

During the holiday time the volume of mail increases approximately 200 per cent. It is a physical impossibility to handle this great mass of mail matter efficiently and promptly within a few days. Therefore to assure delivery of their Christmas presents, cards, and letters by Christmas day the public should shop and mail early. Do your Christmas shopping so that you can mail your gifts, greetings and letters to relatives and friends, and loved one at least a week or 10 days before Christmas, according to the distance. This will not only make it certain that they are received before Christmas day but will be a great aid to your postal service and to postal employees and enable them to spend the Christmas holiday with their families.

Addresses should be complete, with house number and name of street, post office box, or rural route number, and typed or plainly written in ink. A return card should be placed in the upper left corner of every piece of mail. If a tag is used, the address and return card should also be written on the wrapper for use if tag is lost, and a copy of the address should be enclosed inside the parcel. Do not mail Christmas greeting cards in red, green, or other dark-colored envelopes, or in very small envelopes.

UNITED STATES BONDS WITHDRAWN FROM SALE

Series B of United States Savings bonds will be withdrawn from sale on Dec. 31, 1936. Individuals, corporations, associations, banks, and others may hold savings bonds issued during any one calendar year not exceeding $10,000, maturity value; and those who desire to extend their purchases of Series B bonds to this limit will have to act promptly.

A new series of bonds, designated Series C, will be offered for sale January 1, 1937, and, until further notice, anyone may purchase such bonds up to $10,000, maturity value, each calendar year after that date, regardless of the amount of bonds held of Series A and B.

SLUMP IN LETTERS TO SANTA IS REPORTED

Pampa children have plenty of faith in Santa Claus or they place their faith in other quarters, for there is a distinct slump in Santa Claus letters this year.

The post office reported today that it hasn't received nearly the number of letters for "Old Kris" that it has received in years past. The NEWS which is annually called upon to "relay" hundreds of letters, has also noticed it.

MAN, STILL HEALTHY, BUILDS OWN TOMB.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dr. Robert Andrew Woods, 74-year-old practicing physician, hasn't been sick for 30 years, but he has supervised building of his tomb and arranged for his funeral.

Dr. Woods said he wrote his own epitaph and chose his casket. His body will be placed in a tomb beside that of his wife who also wrote her epitaph. She died in 1935.

The tomb is an ancient Arabic type patterned after one he saw in Egypt. It had two mummy chambers within an oblong structure with sloping sides. He made a wooden model. The granite monument, completed a year ago, weighs 17 tons and has bronze medallions of Dr. and Mrs. Woods on both sides.

SECURITY ACT INFORMATION IS BEING COMPILED

2,000 Pampa Workers Have Received Their Numbers

The special staff of four clerical assistants working in the post office has at least three weeks of work cut out for it, transferring the information contained on employees' applications for account numbers and mailing account cards to workers, C. H. Walker postmaster, said Wednesday.

The original supply of 2,000 blanks was exhausted by the middle of the week and an additional block of 2,000 was ordered.

Returned applications have been pouring into the post office at a large rate and workers have been coming in great numbers to obtain blanks and ask advice on filling them out.

Two thousand Pampa workers already have received their account numbers, and it is expected that within three weeks all numbers will have been assigned.

Law Better Understood. To take care of this flood of applications, four reviewers are working full time in the social security office in the post office building.

Similar activities are going on in post offices throughout the country, for by Jan. 1 the nation's 36,000,000 workers must be assigned account numbers.

Doubts as to the meaning and purposes of the social security act seem to be decreasing, for the last few days have marked a sharp drop in the number of questions asked of the post office.

OF COURSE IT'S SILLY It's silly to buy Christmas seals to help carry on the fight against tuberculosis. Of course it is.

Anyone who understands what it's all about should be willing to give his money without getting a receipt for it. But that receipt—and that's what a Christmas seal really is—serves a good purpose. It reminds everyone who sees it that hundreds of thousands of dollars are contributed each year for reducing mortality from tuberculosis.

It advertises a vitally important idea which has sprung up in the United States—that 25 years from now tuberculosis may be eradicated—that a new generation may be born which will face no more danger from tuberculosis than children in 1936 face from leprosy, smallpox or typhoid fever.

Buy Christmas seals. They are your receipts for participation in a great cause.

SECRETARY OF WELFARE

There is talk at Washington of establishing a new cabinet job, involving a Department of Public Welfare, which would control and unify the various federal relief and welfare agencies. The President is known to be considering it. Such an innovation would merely require congressional consent.

Under a Secretary of Welfare might be grouped such activities as the PWA, the WPA, the CCC, the Resettlement Administration, the National Youth Administration, the Bureau of Public Health Service, possibly the Social Security Board, and so on.

It is mainly a question of organization. The rapid expansion of government activities has created a looseness that is confusing to the public, to the government itself and to those who do business with it. Tightening up the machinery of administration is known to be one of the President's aims for his second term.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON.—Hardly anything could have hurt President Roosevelt more than the death of Gus Gennerich, his intimate personal friend and bodyguard.

The president will be a lonelier man—how much lonelier only those of the White Mouse inner circle can realize. Gennerich was almost a part of the president, around whom his entire life centered. He was never rewarded with power or public honor, which he didn't seek, but Roosevelt's affection for him became at least as great as the president had had for any other man.

Gennerich, whose first ambition was to be "a cop," became a member of the family and sat at table with the Roosevelts. He was the president's trainer and masseur, who always handled his wheel chair, who lifted him up and put him down.

His friends say he was the bravest man they ever knew. Always alert in the presidential automobile in the possible line of fire, it was Gus who jumped in front of his chief when Zangara started shooting at Miami four years ago.

A while ago Louis Howe, trusted counselor who was the only man who ever matched Gennerich's intimacy with Roosevelt, died. Ray Moley, who once appeared at the president's bedside every morning, has soured and no longer is seen at the White House. Rex Tugwell, the next closest "brain trust," is going. Relations with Basil O'Connor, Roosevelt's old law partner, have been cooler since O'Connor was found to have received a $25,000 fee from a "power trust" company for work against the holding company bill.

The president's children visit the White House infrequently. And in the industrial-financial centers of New York are old friends who are as hardy on speaking terms with Roosevelt any more unless they happen to be seeking favors.

All of which will give an idea what the loss of Gus Gennerich means to F. D. R. Today the only one left among those who have exchanged full measures of loyalty, devotion, and friendship with the Man in the White House is Marguerite LeHand. She is the confidential secretary whom her friends call "Missie," who takes dictation from the presidential bedside each morning, and in whom are reposed the most personal secrets of her boss.

Gus used to sit just outside the door of the president's oval office. He spent his time writing letters. The letters were always to kid victims of infantile paralysis at Warm Springs, and it is said that he corresponded with about 50 of them. They all adored him. His invariable salutation to each of them was "How'ya, pal?"

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

NEW YORK — The most spectacular surgical operations performed in New York hospitals in recent years have been the severance of the Godina Siamese Twins, the upside down stomach case, the complete removal of a lung, and the removal of frontal lobes from a man's brain in order to ascertain the intellectual and emotional effects, if any, on the patient.

All of these operations were successful, especially the upside down stomach case (diaphragmatic hernia), which was performed on a child just seven days old.

With their usual reticence, doctors have declined to identify the patient whose frontal lobes were removed, but they speak freely on the findings of the case. The case history reveals that the patient's intelligence, thus far, has remained unimpaired. However, his emotions seem less easy to control.

The Siamese twin case, while spectacular in the extreme, was not considered a major operation.

Here is the sad story of Irving Zussman, a purveyor of unscrupulous ballyhoo, who broke a five year cinema fast by dropping into a motion picture theater the other day.

He chose a seat pretty far in the back and was just settling down to some exciting adventure when a young woman, losing her balance, tumbled from the balcony into his lap.

What makes the story so sad—sad for Zussman—is that the girl who fell 12 feet, came out of it without a scratch, whereas Zussman, who did not fall at all, had a broken arm, a sprained wrist, and three bruised ribs.

Hereafter Zussman will stick to flea circuses and let motion picture departments of "production" (or collection) and "sales."

The youngsters collect anywhere stars may gather—at previews, popular cafes, outside studio gates. They sell (mainly to tourists) in hotel lobbies, the choicest sales locations going each week to the autograph-broker who has excelled his rivals in size and value of his week's collection.

"Knowing the market" means knowing not only today's quotations on any given signature, but also what tomorrow's are likely to be. A comparatively unknown player makes a hit in a new picture, and—presto! the collector is glad that he has had the foresight to get several copies of that former nonentity's signature.

Willie Campbell, autograph broker aged 10, thinks Arthur Treacher signatures will "go up." Willie, who held forth in a popular hotel lobby recently, contributed other "market information" to a wit:

The Three Ritz brothers sold for 30 cents apiece, and drew two dollars when their signatures were on one piece of paper. Individually, the Yacht Club boys could not be sold at all, but were worth $250 on a single sheet. Biggest individual seller of the day was Michael Whalen who, at 75 cents, was sold 12 times. One woman bought four. Men's autographs, according to Willie, generally sell better than women's—because women most often are the buyers.

Bargain Sale Marjorie McAtee, aged nine, is credited with one of the best of recent sales. She sold five Shirley Temples to a woman who wanted to take them home to her children. Quoted at a dollar apiece—which generally speaking is tops for a grade A star—the Temples were sold for $4.50 as a group. Little Miss McAtee's special bargain rate for the jubilant occasion.

Talks to parents

'ECONOMIZING' ON BEDS By Brooke Peters Church The young couple were furnishing their new home. They bought a day-enport and two easy chairs, a dining room table and chairs, and a radio, lamps, a dressing table and a bureau. On the beds they saved money.

All their lives they saved money on beds. The children sleep in beds that were not only cheap, with weak and sagging springs, but poorly made up. The sheets were too short, the blankets were grimy, the pillows and mattresses lumpy.

A little baby spends most of its time in bed, and even the adult is in bed for about one third or at least a quarter of every 24 hours. But how many housewives consider this? How many mothers realize that their children's posture is largely affected by how they sleep? One grows, one's organs function, even while one sleeps.

A bed for a tiny baby as well as for an adult should be solid, the springs even and not too yielding, the mattress level and not too soft, the pillow—if there is one—low but firm and smooth.

Bed clothing should fit the bed, and the sheets especially should adequately cover and protect the mattress, which necessarily cannot be changed every so often. Blankets should be warm and light and scrupulously clean. They are a splendid breeding place for germs, and since they constantly touch the face, may easily carry infection to the sleeper.

All the bed clothes should be aired once a day, and then drawn up on the bed smoothly and replaced tonight.

If it is humanly possible, children should sleep alone. Almost any other detail of housekeeping can be neglected more safely than the beds in which the members of the family spend so large a part of their lives.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—One Shirley Temple (autographically speaking) is worth three Arthur Treachers or five Robert Kents. But the market in stellar signatures fluctuates constantly, price being determined by two factors: popularity of the player, and scarcity of his signature.

The "autograph ring" of Hollywood, therefore, knows and studies the careers of movie people with a truly professional zeal. Anybody can enter the autograph-seeking game as an amateur, but traffic in the sale of signatures is "controlled" by a group of perhaps 75 boys and girls ranging in age from eight to 13 years.

Like the movie companies, their business activities are divided into

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Frederic J. Haskin A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. What is the earliest postmark? H. M. A. An example of the earliest postmark known was recently auctioned in London. It was a Bishop mark, dated 1622, imprinted on the envelope of a letter from Bartholomew Hussey of Dublin to John Morris at the Flying Horse at Cornhill. Henry Bishop introduced his mark, a date in a circle, a year earlier when he paid his first installment of $107,500 for the office of Farmer of the Posts, the equivalent of Postmaster General.

Q. Who executed the bronze tablet on the Lizette Reese's poem "Tears"? S. D. A. The distinguished Baltimore sculptor, Hans Schouler. His statue of President Buchanan is in Meridian Park, Washington, D. C.

Q. Please give a biography of Mabel Dodge Lohan, author of Mover and Shakers. E. J. A. Mrs. Lohan was born at Buffalo, New York, February 26, 1879, daughter of Charles F. and Sara McKay Ganson. She was educated at St. Margaret's School, Buffalo, and at the Choate, Chace School, Washington, D. C. She was married to Carl Evans in 1900; Edwin Dodge, 1908; Maurice Sterne, 1916. In 1923 she married Antonio Lohan of Taos, New Mexico, where she now makes her home. Among her books are: Lorenzo in Taos, 1918; Memories; Vol. I, Background, Vol. II, European Experiences, and Winter in Taos.

Q. What is the name of the poem which begins, "Twas the Night Before Christmas"? N. N. A. Its title is A Visit From St. Nicholas.

Q. What is the oldest college cheer? W. M. A. It is claimed that the Princeton locomotive chug is the oldest: Tiger, tiger! Sis, sis, sis! Boom, boom, boom! Ah! Invented by an unknown soldier of New York's famous Seventh Regiment on April 30, 1861. The cheer caught the fancy of Princeton undergraduates who heard it that night as the Seventh passed through the college town on its way to war.

Q. Who is the new president of Cornell University? H. M. A. Dr. Edmund Ezra Day, director of the social science programs of the Rockefeller Foundation and the General Education Board, will succeed Dr. Livingston Farrand in June.

Q. What is the purpose of the Lizette Woodworth Reese Foundation? A. The monument represented by this organization was initiated by the Woman's Literary Club of Baltimore, of which the poet was a charter member. The purpose is to make live the works of this famed poet. The Foundation is growing rapidly.

Q. How many letters without proper addresses are received in a large post office? C. F. A. In New York City approximately 43,000 pieces of mail a day without street addresses are received.

Q. Who said that progress does not consist in increasing truth, but in freeing it? R. C. B. A. The quotation is from Tolstoy: "Progress does not consist in increasing truth, but in liberating it from its veils."

Q. What is the maximum percentage that an employe will ever have to pay under the present Social Security Act? K. T. A. The maximum, going into effect in 1939, will be 3 per cent. The maximum in cash will be $90 a year, for a salary of $3,000 or more.

Q. How do the children celebrate Christmas in Mexico? K. M. M. A. The festival dear to the Mexicans is the Pasco, which means "inn." In their homes, the children form in groups and march upstairs and down singing hymns. All doors are shut and the singers knock at each in turn, for they represent the journey of Mary and Joseph to Bethlehem. Each room is supposed to be an inn, and as they knock someone from inside shouts, "No room in this inn. You cannot enter." When the little pilgrims are tired out, some unexpected door is joyfully opened, and they behold upon a table a doll, representing the Infant Jesus around which are arranged Christmas greens and toys.

Q. How much do the bicycles cost used are used in the Six-Day Bicycle Races at Madison Square Garden, N. Y. H. W. A. The bicycles which weigh only 19 pounds cost $100. A team uses six during a race. They are composed of 1,400 different parts and the cork racing tires used on the wheels cost $5 a pair.

Q. What is Jack Benny's real name? H. G. A. The screen and radio comedian is named Benny Kubelsky.

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

"Why, you damned incompetent bungler, every time you've come up against that man he's bested you. And look at the position now. Half your tame crooks have deserted you. The police are after Ruth, and most likely they'll catch her. If they catch her, they may send her to prison; in any case they'll detain her for a time."

"In either case she'll come into her money when she's twenty-one, and she'll be after my blood. You know perfectly well that once any smart lawyer starts investigating her affairs it will mean about five years for me. And that is what will happen; then you'll hang."

He banged his fist down suddenly on the table. "Understand this, you pitiful, cheap charlatan!" he shouted. "If I am ruined, I'll take good care that you won't get off scot-free. I know enough about you to ensure that you'll get a heavier sentence than I shall, and I'll see that you get it. And once you're in prison, the police may find out a thing or two more about you than I can tell them, and then you'll hang."

Lawson listened, leaning back against the mantelpiece in a casual attitude. His face had gone slightly paler, but his expression was cold and disdainful. Actually he was surprised that a man of Lee-Ramsden's normally cool temperament should have so far lost control of himself; he failed to take into account the nerve strain under which the old man had been living during the last week.

But, though he concealed it, he was furious at the insults Lee-Ramsden had hurled at him.

Chapter 44. STRUGGLE. "Are you threatening me?" Lawson asked in a cold, quiet tone. "Do you think that is wise? I have my own ways of dealing with people who threaten me, you know."

It was quite the wrong thing to say, and Lawson realized it almost as soon as he had spoken. He ought to have calmed Lee-Ramsden down, reassured him, and then dealt with him swiftly and unexpectedly.

There was no hope of that now. Lawson's tone of cool contempt had added fuel to Lee-Ramsden's rage, destroying any hope of even a temporary reconciliation. The old man's face became suffused with a flush of anger. Lawson rose slowly to his feet. All his impatience and anger had left him; his mind was cool and alert to deal with this new situation which had arisen.

The chances were that his house was being watched by some of M'hony's friends; Lee-Ramsden would have been seen arriving; and it would be impossible to explain Lee-Ramsden's death.

Lawson frowned, and meditatively sipped from the glass of brandy which he was holding in his hand. Lee-Ramsden's car was outside the house; his hat and overcoat were in the hall. He sipped his brandy again and nodded slightly. He knew what he was going to do.

PAMPA OF YESTERYEAR

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY. A shipment of livestock royalty from the Pampa vicinity returned after a tour of shows in the north. The owners, Mrs. Phoebe A. Worley, Albert Combs, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Osborne, also came in, accompanied by Mrs. Inez Carter and Mary Jane Osborne.

Business and Professional Women's club members sent Christmas greetings to members of clubs in foreign countries, a project directed by Mrs. Finis Jordan.

A. A. Hyde was elected chairman of the Pampa Boy Scout council. Lloyd Moore was chosen captain of the Harvester basketball team.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY. A contract was let to O. L. Boyington, whose bid was $34,025, for construction of additions to Sam Houston and Woodrow Wilson schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smellege announced the birth of a son, Robert Hickman III.

Alex Schneider returned from a meeting of the Texas Hotelmen's association at El Paso, where he had been elected second vice-president.

MAJOR BUYERS EXPECTED TO MEET PRICES

OIL INDUSTRY DUE TO BE IN STRONG POSITION

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 10 (AP)—The petroleum industry swept along today toward a strong year-end position with all factors borne out to a new pitch of optimism by higher prices.

Other major companies had not as yet followed the lead of Continental's unprecedented month-ahead announcement of a 17-cent horizontal increase in the price of crude oil but reliable indications were that by the time the new Continental prices were effective, Jan. 4, they would have been met by all major purchasers.

Oil executives took Monday's increase on gasoline prices by Standard, three-tenths of a cent in ten midwestern states, as a good indication that the majors, following the trend of higher prices, would meet the crude price increase.

Authoritative opinion was that the consuming public would be paying a cent more a gallon for its motor fuel shortly after the first of the year.

Intensely pleased with the strong statistical position of the oil business, leaders forecast even greater strides in 1937. Continued strict supervision over allowances by state regulatory bodies to keep production of crude in hand seemed a foregone conclusion.

The demand for crude oil remained good. Inquiries for refined products, high gravity gasoline, kerosene and fuel oil, increased. The fore part of the week found refiners busy with calls for higher octane motor fuel. It was evident that jobbers with cash and storage were anxious to buy at prevailing prices, mindful of further price increases for refined products after the higher quotations for crude become effective.

ROOM SERVICE
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A Chicagoan returned excitedly to a hotel here from which he had just checked out and whispered to James E. Joyner, desk clerk.

"I'll catch him for you," comforted Joyner. Fashioning a fish line noose, clerk Joyner hastened to the Chicagoan's room, lassoed a venomous water moccasin. It had escaped from the guest's suitcase.

"It's simple," said Joyner. "I learned it from Texans."

'ART IS PROPAGANDA,' LAUGHS RIVERS AS HE SMEARS PLASTER

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Chuckling quietly or laughing aloud, a giant Mexican spread flaming colors at furious speed across the walls of the new Hotel Reforma here. In five weeks he completed four fresco panels.

He likes them, he said, "as well as anything I've ever done"—and scarcely was the plaster dry when Diego Rivera, called by some critics "the greatest painter of our time," was defending again the right to practice his tenet that "art is propaganda."

Three years ago muralist Rivera tussled on the front pages with John D. Rockefeller, Jr., when the capitalist removed from his Radio City development in New York a Rivera panel containing a portrait of Communist Nikolai Lenin.

Rivera's roaring laugh changed to roarin rage. Calling the hotel owners "enemies of the social ideology that these painting exalt," he and his friends demanded a senatorial investigation.

Supports 'The Revolution' A "poor man" by his own admission, Rivera says that way because all his money goes to "the cause," which of course is world revolution.

Just now he is affiliated with the international proletarian front, having been "kicked out of the communist party," he chuckles, "because I was too much of an extremist."

A great composite dictator's head—Rivera says it has Mussolini's chin, Hitler's mustache and Roosevelt's mouth—dominates one of his hotel panels. The dictator holds a flag bearing the stars and stripes

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Dec. 8 (AP)—C. V. Terrell, member of the Railroad Commission, is a big-game hunter. For several years he has journeyed to the Rocky Mountains near Yellowstone National Park and bagged elk, moose and bear.

Recently, however, he went out for deer and obtained only a coyote. Hunting near Austin, he failed to sight a buck and, returning home, remarked to a friend that usually if he didn't get a deer he did get a wolf. At that moment a coyote popped up in the road 50 yards ahead.

Terrell stopped his automobile and fired through the raised windshield, dropped the little animal in its tracks.

The latest rumor about Governor Allred's intentions after he is inaugurated in January is that he will serve out his second term, support Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Railroad Commission, for governor and then be appointed a member of the commission, if Thompson is elected.

BEFORE THAT IT WAS REPORTED HE WOULD RESIGN AS GOVERNOR TO ACCEPT A FEDERAL JUDGESHIP, OR WOULD RUN FOR CONGRESS.

Another story was that he would retire from office two years hence and practice law in a firm composed of himself, Everett Looney, Bob Anderson, and Edward Clark.

Looney, Anderson and Clark are former assistant attorneys general and close friends of the governor. Anderson has been tax commissioner and now is chairman of the unemployment compensation commission. Clark was Allred's first secretary for the last two years and recently was appointed secretary of state, effective in January.

An error in the official report on the general election in Cameron county, which showed 150 communist votes were cast, was hastily corrected by County Judge Oscar C. Dancy.

Judge Dancy advised Secretary of State B. P. Matocha that Homer Brooks, the Communist gubernatorial candidate, received only three votes. Matocha agreed to a correction.

VANISHING RAILROAD

STUEBENVILLE, O.—A railroad track apparently isn't safe from thieves these days. A mile of rails of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Busy Run, O. spur disappeared. Police investigated and arrested three men on charges of ripping up the rails, cutting them into small lengths and selling them as junk.

Q. Was the Concepcion Mission originally established at its present location near San Antonio? T. C. A. The Concepcion Mission was first located in 1816 (La Purissima Concepcion) near the village of the Hainai Indians, not far from the Linwood crossing of the Angellina river in Nacogdoches county and was moved to the San Antonio location in 1730. Q. I would like information as to the birthplaces of James McLaughlin and John McLaughlin and as to the colony they settled in Texas. S. G. C. A. They were brothers-in-law, natives of County Sligo, Ireland, who were living at Matamoras, in 1828, when they secured the empresario rights that had been granted to Purnell and Low in 1825 to locate 300 families in Texas. The first of these arrived at Copano Bay from Ireland in 1830 and established a colony at San Patricio or Hibernia. Because they were directly on the route from Matamoras to San Antonio, the sturdy Irish folk bore much of the brunt of the Texas revolution. Q. When were the San Patricio townsite and municipality established? S. G. C. A. The townsite was surveyed in 1834, six miles long and one mile wide, with constitutional square as the center. It was some three miles from the old fort or mission, Lippantian, erected by Franciscan priests in 1690 for education of Lipan Indians. San Patricio became a municipality in 1834 and the county was organized in 1836. Q. Where is the "Hank Smith Park"? B. M. A. It is the acreage surrounding the former home of Hank Smith in Crosby county, now occupied by his son. A barbecue attended by thousands from the Plains country is held there annually.

OUT OUR WAY - - - - - By WILLIAMS

Cartoon by Williams showing a woman running away from a man. Speech bubbles: "STOP IT! STOP IT! YOUR FATHER IS TAKING A NAP, AND IF YOU WAKE HIM, I'LL HAVE THREE RAVING MANIACS TO LISTEN TO!!" "OH, YEAH! WHO'S GONNA SLAP IT? I'M TELLIN' YOU, AGAIN, THAT BEAU OF YOURS IS A TIGHTWAD! DOES HE EVER BRING YA A BOX OF CANDY? NO!!" "SHUT UP YOU! ONE MORE CRACK LIKE THAT, AND YOU'LL GET YOUR FACE SLAPPED!" "THE SILENCER."

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

EQUIPMENTS Because of overhanging uncertainty as to freight rates and employ wages there is a cooling of speculative ardor for railroad securities. Yet some circles insist that this department of the list will do better price-wise. The argument is that railroads are now ordering rails and other equipment. This, to them, means that income is better and so is the outlook. Conservative interests say that to follow such an opinion isn't wise. It is the view of those who digest news that if railroads are buying they must pay. And if they pay it would be wise to purchase the equities of those companies which are to receive. Looking into the matter with caution they say that rail shares should be avoided but that equipment manufacturing securities should be accumulated.

EXPLAINED Your correspondent has found that a great many FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG readers can't account for the Paramount common shares being shares. There's a definite reason. It is that the 2nd preferred is limited to size of dividend payments which is sixty cents a year. Since the organization is showing earnings expansion it is assumed that in due time Paramount common stockholders will receive larger dividend payments than sixty cents a share. This possibility, of course, accounts for the speculative enthusiasm.

FACTS There are about 1,200 issues of stocks and upwards of 1,400 issues of bonds dealt in on the New York Stock Exchange as compared with 42 issues in 1827—current listed values account for one-third the estimated wealth of the United States... Continental Can owns a nice stock interest in Vulcan Detinning. A good number of corporations will pay the penalty tax on undistributed 1936 earnings so they may conserve cash for working capital... Trans-America Corporation is termed "a billion dollar banking and commercial giant"... Speculative sentiment disturbed by growing realization that important dividend gratuities resulted because of a tax law and not because directors have become liberal-minded... Union Bag & Paper is to construct a third unit at Savannah, Georgia, for the manufacture of kraft paper—new unit will cost $3,500,000... All signs point to higher 1937 wearing apparel prices due to increased prices on rayon, wool, silk, cotton and textiles.

RATE WAR To offset seasonal decline in revenues, Transcontinental & Western Air has adopted the policy of reducing passenger fare rates. The experiment has attracted industry-wide interest. Competitive organizations believe the move will fail. The industry's insiders admit that should T. & W. show increased net revenues as a result of the move all in the business will follow along. But—said one high in the air passenger service—if, as and when that happens airline passenger services are headed for a price war.

BETTER FARM PROGRAM THAN AAA OFFERED

ECONOMIC SECURITY IS PROMISED BY WALLACE

BY PAUL D. SHOENAKER, Associated Press Farm Editor, PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace promised the American farmer a better program than the outlawed triple A yesterday and declared greater economic security for those who live off the soil is the objective of the administration.

Addressing the eighteenth annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the secretary said: "You may have heard the idea advanced that the agricultural adjustment act should be re-enacted; that the program carried out under its original provisions was the best program agriculture ever had. But good as that program was, we want to see it improved upon. A better program can and will be built."

Attainment of the administration's objective, the secretary said, centers around some method of controlled production, crop insurance, the ever normal granary and other subjects essential to agricultural welfare.

"Crop insurance," the cabinet member asserted, "would be a valuable supplement to any production adjustment program that happened to be in effect. To assume it would be a complete substitute for production adjustment in a series of years of normal weather would be a mistake."

If and when normal weather returns, farmers will find that storage in the bins will not be sufficient in itself to take care of their surplus problems. They will find that storage in the bins must be supplemented with greatly increased storage in the soil. In that kind of a situation, the welfare of the farmer and the nation will require that the farmers again have power equal to that which they once had under the agricultural adjustment act and of which they were deprived by decision of the U. S. Supreme Court.

The plan for crop insurance, as outlined by Mr. Wallace would provide for the accumulation of reserve supplies of commodities during the good crop years, to be drawn upon in time of scarcity by farmers who had paid their insurance premiums in kind. Co-operators could take their benefits in kind or in cash.

PREPS FOR GAME.
AUSTIN, Dec. 10 (AP)—The University of Texas all-stars, who play St. Mary's university Rattlers of San Antonio in a charity tilt here Saturday, "coached themselves" through an initial drill in Memorial stadium. The post-season clash which last year drew more than 2,000 to see the all-stars plaster Southwestern university of Georgetown, 19-0, will be sponsored by the Austin Lions club in the interest of under-privileged children.

Loyal to King Edward

"We want Edward VIII, not Baldwin," chanted crowds who followed this bicyclist to Downing Street to let the Prime Minister and his cabinet know how they felt about the crisis. The NEA radiophoto shows a policeman telling him to move along — the simple way unmanageable crowds were kept from assembling.

3 Things Necessary to Make C-C Click Declares Speaker

An aggressive group of successful men with a definite program in mind is what it takes to make the wheels go around in any progressive Chamber of Commerce.

That's the message given to the assembled membership of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon by Arch Booth, fiery assistant manager of the Wichita, Kas. Chamber of Commerce.

Booth addressed the local group at their regular monthly luncheon held in the First Methodist church.

"It takes three things to make any Chamber of Commerce click," Mr. Booth said. "First, the members must be aggressive; second, there must be a definite program; and third, the leadership must be made up of successful men."

Mr. Booth injected many anecdotes into his speech which kept his audience in an attentive mood, and at the same time served to drive home striking illustrations of the points he had in mind.

Presentation of the Pampa Daily NEWS trophy for the best decorated Christmas window was made at the meeting. The silver loving cup was presented to A. N. Dilley of Dilley's Bakery, by A. J. Johnson, general chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Santa Day committee.

Johnson also made a report of the Santa Day program and expressed appreciation on behalf of the Jaycees for the splendid operation from Pampa merchants.

An explanation of the proposed police radio broadcast system was given by James Lyons and Jim Collins made a report of activities of the BCD committee which took Gray county's highway problems to Austin several weeks ago.

CONFLICT AND TURMOIL IN CONGRESS FORESEEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—An abundance of opportunities for conflict and turmoil in the forthcoming session of congress was foreseen today by some members who have been surveying legislative prospects.

They pointed to such far-reaching measures as the Frazier-Lemke bill to refinance farm indebtedness with $3,000,000,000 of new money, the Elack-Conner 30-hour work week bill, and a bill to divorce manufacturing and retailing contemplated by Rep. Patman (D-Tex.).

There also is much talk of amending the constitution to give congress specific power to enact legislation of a social character.

The question of a new appropriation for relief appeared likely to be an early trouble maker. Some house and Senate members believed it should be held to a minimum; others want a sizeable sum. Rep. Dunn (D-Pa.) may put in another $10,000,000 works-relief bill.

Among the measures listed as likely to receive attention in the approaching session — any of which might be loaded with dynamite to shatter a tranquil congress — were crop insurance, farm tenancy, low cost housing, aid for consumer cooperatives, food and drug regulation, and extension of the holding company act.

Vanderbilt Girl Will Spend More Time With Mother

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—A settlement giving Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt custody of her 13-year-old daughter, Gloria, for longer periods, was approved yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Timothy A. Leary.

Custody of the child was awarded to her aunt, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, for all but week ends and one month during the summer by Supreme Court Justice John Carew after sensational hearings two years ago.

Under the new agreement, reached between lawyers for the litigants last night, Mrs. Vanderbilt will have custody of her daughter from the close of the school term in June, 1937, to sundown of August 15, 1937, and for the same period in 1938.

The new agreement also modifies the holiday periods, to give Mrs. Vanderbilt custody of her daughter for 12 days at Christmas and for six days of spring school vacation.

The settlement brings to an end for almost two years at least action that was resumed a few days ago before Justice Leary when Mrs. Vanderbilt sought revision of the original order of Justice Carew. Only one hearing was held in Justice Leary's chambers before negotiations for a settlement were started.

THE SIMPSONS ON SIMPSON
CHICAGO (AP)—Most of the Chicago Simpsons, an inquiring reporter discovered, feel that a Simpson was good enough for any king.

About three fourths of the 58 Simpsons interviewed answered yes to the question "should King Edward of England marry Mrs. Wally Simpson?"

A bored few expressed hope the crisis over the king's romance would soon end.
