South Viet Leaving Vital Area

SAIGON, South Viet (Nam. UPI)—Government troops are abandoning an outmoded system of forts in the Mekong Delta in the face of mounting Communist pressure, it was learned today.

The delta, Viet Nam's rice bowl and main source of income, is also one of the heaviest areas of Communist penetration. It lies south of Saigon, between the capital and the South China seacoast.

The last remaining symbols of central government authority for thousands of Vietnamese peasants are now being erased as the small detachments of government troops in the old mud-walled forts are marched away.

The withdrawing troops pull down the yellow and red striped government flags from the watchtowers where soldiers have guarded roads and canals and villages in the five southernmost provinces making up the defense area of the Vietnamese 21st division.

The price in blood has become too great to hold the forts. At one time, the spike-studded moats and mud walls could hold back the badly armed guerrillas.

But now, even barbed wire and minefields surrounding the forts do not offer enough protection against the mortars and other weapons of the Viet Cong. Since the military junta seized power last month, its officers have been reevaluating the government's tactics in the war against the Communists.

The decision to pull out of the old forts was a result of that study.

Traffic Toll Reaches 221

By United Press International
The Christmas holiday traffic death toll edged past 220 today, meeting the advance National Safety Council estimate that from 200 to 250 Americans would die on the nation's streets and highways during the 30-hour period.

Late reports of fatal accidents trickled in although the official holiday period ended at midnight Christmas day.

A United Press International count—the official safety council tabulation—showed at 8:30 a.m. EST at least 221 persons dead in traffic accidents. The breakdown:

Traffic 221
Fires 32
Planes 7
Miscellaneous 20
Total 280

California led the nation with 33 traffic deaths. Texas had 16, Kansas 14 and Michigan 13.

Coloradan Sought After House Burns

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—Efforts resume today in Texas to contact Berwin J. Turpin, an air police officer stationed at Peterson Field in Colorado Springs, whose house burned down Christmas morning.

She smiled and waved a white-gloved hand Wednesday as she entered a car to travel; the two miles to the estate where she is staying with her two children.

The first Christmas for the Kennedy family without the assassinated President was a quiet one — presents were opened,

QUIET BROKEN — A rifle-carrying plainclothes policeman stands guard as an auto carrying Cyprus President Archbishop Makarios and Vice President Dr. Fazil Kutchuk arrives at the gate of the police station in Nicosia, Cyprus. Turkish Cypriots opened fire on the president's palace in the heart of old Nicosia, shattering the quiet that had settled over Cyprus after three days of fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots. The Turkish minority is angry over plans to change the constitution. The fighting has left 14 dead and about 50 wounded. (NEA Telephoto)

Turkish Faction Attacks Greeks On Cyprus as British Intervene

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—Turkish Cypriot civilians attacked Greek Cypriot civilians in Nicosia for four hours today, breaking a cease fire agreement.

The situation remained tense as the British army took command of Greek and Turkish military forces stationed in Cyprus under terms of the agreement under which Cyprus won independence three years ago.

The United States and Britain joined in appeals to bring the situation under control, and the British disclosed they were flying in troop reinforcements from their strategic reserve in England.

A government statement said the Turkish civilians opened fire on the Greeks this morning, using heavy weapons. But the government said the Greeks respected the truce reached at 7:30 Wednesday night and did not return the fire.

There was no indication that the detachments of Greek and Turkish regular army units stationed on this island by treaty were in any way involved in this morning's shooting flare-up.

Estimate Casualties
Unconfirmed reports said that since fighting began Saturday an estimated 200 persons have been killed or wounded. Official figures report 17 killed and 50 wounded.

(In London, the Cyprus Turkish Association said it had received reports from Turkey that 60 Turkish Cypriots had been killed and that the Turkish fleet was "awaiting orders" at ports on the south coast less than 100 miles from Cyprus.)

The British army today took command of Greek and Turkish forces stationed on the island to prevent the communal clashes from erupting into civil war. Since the fighting began Saturday 17 persons have been killed and more than 50 wounded, according to official figures.

Unconfirmed casualty tolls today put the figure at 200 dead and wounded.

Enforce Cease-Fire
British armored cars were ordered into position between Greek and Turkish Cypriot positions to enforce the cease-fire.

(Ankara Radio charged that Greek Cypriots clashed with Turks in a suburb of Nicosia and that women and children were among those killed.)

The island's Greek majority and Turkish minority are fighting over proposed constitutional amendments the Turks say will endanger their standing.

Dallas DA Praised In Ruby Case Work

DALLAS (UPI)—A defense lawyer in the Jack Ruby case Wednesday lauded the district attorney's handling of a bond hearing Monday and said it was "quite a shock" to Melvin Belli, chief defense counsel.

"I think the big city lawyer from out-of-state found out that Texas district attorneys can hold their own in a courtroom," Tom Howard said in an interview with Larry Dum of the Dallas Morning News.

"And I think it came as quite a shock to him," Howard said. "It hasn't quite soaked in to him yet. But I think it's about time it did."

Howard was retained by Ruby a short time after Lee Harvey Oswald, accused presidential assassin, was gunned down in the basement of city hall.

Belli, a spectacular plaintiff's attorney from San Francisco, was later named chief defense counsel. He headed a six-man team, but now the defense lawyers have been reduced to four.

Belli failed Monday to get Ruby released on bond for the

LBJ Breakfasts In Kitchen and Goes Hunting

Afternoon Meeting Planned on Cyprus Situation, Budget Matters

By MERRIMAN SMITH
JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson had breakfast in his ranch house kitchen before sun up today and went deer hunting.

With him was his old friend and political adviser, former Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington.

Clad in khaki slacks, shirt and zippered jacket, with a broad-brimmed Texas hat and boots, the President and Ellington left the LBJ ranch by helicopter for the neighboring ranch of A. W. Moursund. They had their choice of hunting grounds on the Moursund ranch or on three pieces of ranch land Johnson owns.

Two business problems awaited his return. He was keeping in close touch with the State Department about the explosive situation in Cyprus and he had under constant study administrative moves to hold the 1965 budget to the lowest possible level. As part of this, Johnson Wednesday ordered department and agency heads to eliminate unnecessary federal jobs.

Johnson expected to confer tonight or Friday at the LBJ ranch with John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

Rusk, Bundy Due
Secretary of State Dean Rusk and McGeorge Bundy, special assistant to the President for national security affairs, were due sometime Friday to prepare for the Saturday and Sunday talks here between the President and West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

A group of White House staff members also was expected to arrive today from Washington to work on a series of messages Johnson will send to Congress next month.

One of the more important of these messages will be the new budget. Action taken by the President Wednesday may have an important long-range effect on fiscal planning of the administration.

The Chief Executive, in a memorandum rushed to department and agency heads, called for an immediate halt in the growth of federal employment. This had the practical effect of a job freeze.

Similar Moves Expected
The President announced his action personally to a group of reporters who called at his ranch Christmas afternoon. The President indicated privately to associates that there will be other similar economy moves between now and when Congress reconvenes Jan. 7.

State Banking Unit Asks For Reports
AUSTIN (UPI)—The State Banking Department today issued a call for all state banks to report their financial condition as of Dec. 30.

The call coincides with one issued by the U. S. Comptroller of Currency for the same date for national banks.

Banks are required to report deposits, assets, liabilities, loans, discounts and other financial information once each quarter.

Wall Street Heist Turns Out to Be 'Token' Robbery

NEW YORK (UPI)—A stickup man — if he doesn't get caught — will be riding free for a long time on the New York subway system.

He took 12,600 subway tokens at gunpoint today from an attendant at a Wall Street station. That's $2,890 worth of free rides at the going rate of 15 cents a token.

Police said the gunman escaped with 12 bags each containing 1,000 tokens and an additional 60 loose tokens and $10 in change after menacing transit authority clerk Egbert McDonald with a .45 caliber automatic. The man dumped the loot into a big canvas bag before escaping.

Congress Sets Brief Parleys For Record

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate and House, their Christmas holiday marred by the foreign aid bill tieup, will hold brief sessions Friday. But it's only for the record and no business will be transacted.

The "pro forma" meetings are necessary to conform with legal requirements. Only a very few members from each house are expected to be on hand.

For all practical purposes, the House has shut up shop for the year and members won't return until Jan. 7 when the second session of the 88th Congress convenes.

But the Senate plans to meet Monday to take final action on the foreign aid money bill if a quorum of 50 members can be rounded up. After passage of the aid measure, Congress will adjourn.

Administration leaders are trying to smooth over the feelings that were ruffled in the past few days.

At stake is the remainder of the legislative program set forth this year by the late President Kennedy and adopted by President Johnson. The civil rights and tax reduction bills are the main items. Republican support is needed, especially on civil rights.

Holiday Blazes Claim 33 Lives

Holiday fires claimed the lives of at least 33 persons, including 16 children and teenagers who never got to share the joys of Christmas with their families.

Charged With Aid To CIA

VIENNA (UPI)—A former leading Bulgarian diplomat and international lawyer pleaded guilty today to voluntarily spying for the United States, the Bulgarian Telegraph reported.

Ivan-Assen Hristov Georgiev, 56, told the Bulgarian supreme court in Sofia, "I have committed the heaviest of crimes that can be committed by a man, a crime which has always received the heaviest of punishment at all times," the agency said.

Western experts said Bulgarian law prescribes a maximum penalty of death by shooting for treason.

The former counselor at the Bulgarian mission to the United Nations in New York was charged with spying for the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) for seven years and collecting about $200,000 for his work, which the Bulgarians said he spent on "loose women" and various mistresses.

"I placed myself voluntarily in the service of U. S. intelligence," Georgiev was reported to have told the court.

Describes Activities
The Bulgarian agency said Georgiev gave the court a detailed description of his activities which included giving the CIA political, economic and military secrets.

Georgiev, identified as the president of the International Institute of Space Law, worked secretly for the U. S. from his New York post for five years and in Europe until his arrest about three months ago, the agency said.

It said Georgiev used the code name of "Georges Duvalle" for his "espionage activities."

After testifying this morning, Georgiev became ill and the court granted a defense request for adjournment of the afternoon session, the agency said. It said only that Georgiev had suffered an "indisposition."

Agency Mentions Letter
The agency said Georgiev at one point wrote a letter directly to former CIA Chief Allen Dulles complaining about the attitude CIA agents were taking toward him and the refusal of his request for $60,000 to found an international institute of philosophy.

Georgiev was quoted as saying U. S. intelligence wanted to bring him down to "the position of an ordinary police informant." The agency said CIA agents "asked him not only for political information but also for ordinary police information relative to Bulgarians who had fled abroad..."

SOME SURVIVORS REFUSE TO SAIL

Ship's Crew Hassle Still Raging

LONDON (UPI)—The Greek liner Arkadia headed for the British Isles today carrying 120 passengers and 150 crewmen who survived the fearful fire aboard its sister ship, the Lakonia. About 100 other survivors refused to sail on another ship of the line.

The Arkadia's departure from the Madeira Island port of Funchal was delayed because of the dispute. Some of the dissident passengers will return to England aboard the Transvaal Castle on Monday. Others will come back by plane.

The controversy over the performance of the Lakonia's captain and crew continued to rage in London, where returning survivors made strong allegations that were denied vigorously.

A spokesman for the Greek line, operators of the Lakonia, said that 985 persons out of 1,027 were accounted for, including 89 whose bodies were recovered.

42 Still Missing
But 42 persons were still missing as a result of the fire that virtually consumed the Lakonia last Sunday night as it neared Madeira. The ship was on a Christmas holiday cruise.

Wednesday Capt. Matheos Zarbis, skipper of the Lakonia, denied charges that his crew panicked as the flames broke out of control and everyone was forced to abandon the vessel.

"There was no panic aboard my ship — neither with the crew nor the passengers," he said in a telephone interview. Zarbis was taken to Santa Cruz de Tenerife in the Canary Islands after his rescue.

The captain also denied allegations that some of the crew had been drunk. One woman claimed on her return here that intoxicated crew members were "making passes at me" instead of fighting the fire.

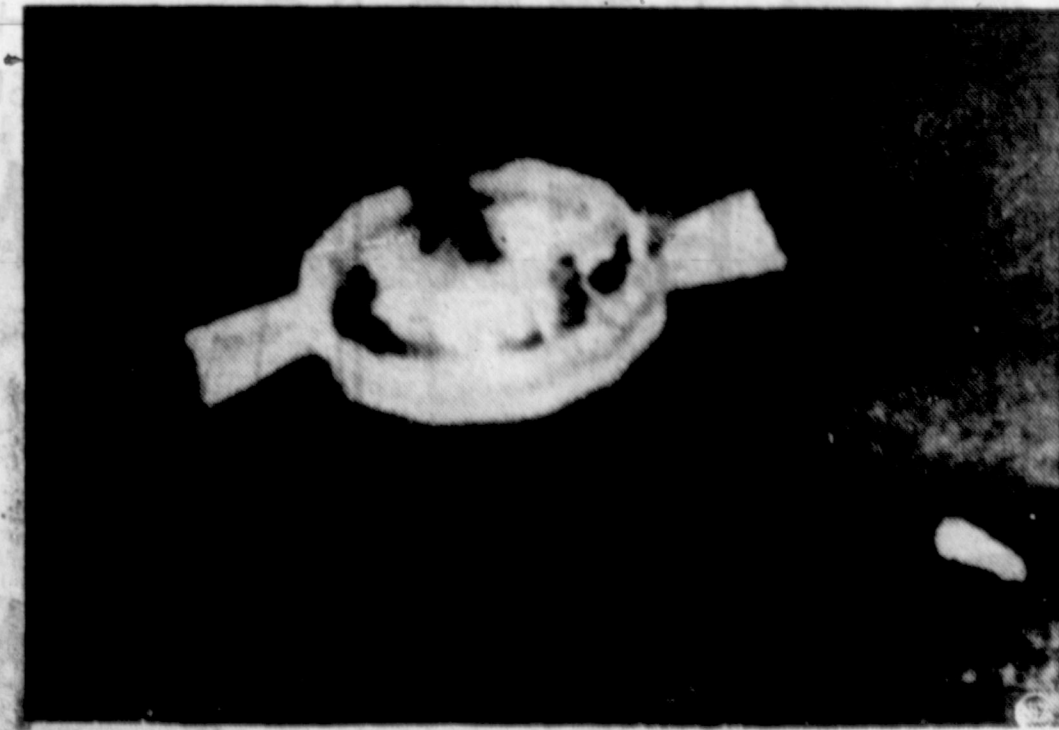

Promises Full Statement
"The crew did quite well," Zarbis said. "They worked well." The skipper promised to make a full statement in London "in a couple of days."

His voice cracking with emotion, Zarbis emphasized repeatedly that reports of panic among the crew were "not true."

"I don't know how the fire started," he said. "I was doing my duty. We got the passengers off. It was all very fast. We were only in the water three or four or five hours before the (rescue) ships began picking us up."

But one of his crewmen, Josef Kronschnabl of Starubind, Germany, said: "The operation was very disorganized. That is all I can say for now."

SURVIVORS — A handful of survivors from the burned Greek Line cruiser "Lakonia" sit in a raft dropped by a U.S. Air Force plane in the Atlantic Ocean off Portuguese Madeira. Rescuers have picked up 921 survivors from among the 1,036 passengers and crewmen aboard the vessel when a fire broke out aboard the ship. A number of bodies have been plucked from the sea, leaving 113 unaccounted for. (NEA Telephoto)

GOP Outlook Stirred Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Republican presidential outlook appeared more uncertain than ever this week with the announcement that Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton may become an active candidate for the nomination.

Scranton disclosed in Harrisburg, Pa., last weekend that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower urged him to run. The governor said he was giving the suggestion "deep thought" but was still disinclined to become an active candidate.

Eisenhower recently suggested that Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to Viet Nam, also deserved consideration. And Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 Republican nominee, also has been a recent visitor to the former President's Gettysburg, Pa., office.

GOP leaders believe that Eisenhower is cool toward Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., although he has pledged himself to support whoever is nominated by the Republicans next year.

Goldwater, who is not a declared candidate, is still far in front of the field in terms of potential delegate strength at the GOP convention.

But Republican leaders have been quietly reappraising their prospects since the death of President Kennedy. Goldwater is judged to be a weaker candidate against President Johnson than he might have been against Kennedy.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York is the only announced candidate. But few Republicans can regard him as a likely winner of the nomination until and unless he defeats another major candidate in a state primary.

Since Kennedy's assassination, Republicans have looked to Nixon and Scranton as the longest potential rivals.

Goldwater — Nixon as a man close to the center of the GOP and Scranton as a representative of the liberal faction.

Needs Massive Buildup

Scranton is viewed as a sort of "Republican Kennedy," a youthful, handsome Ivy Leaguer a millionaire with charm and tested appeal in a big industrial state. But to make him a national figure, a massive buildup must start soon.

The governor told newsmen that Eisenhower urged him Dec. 15 to consider becoming a candidate.

Mexican President Asks On Treaty

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Ambassador Vincent Gavito Sanchez asked the Mexican senate Monday to ratify the U.S.-Mexico agreement on the Chamizal and termed it an eloquent testimony to the friendship which the late President John F. Kennedy bore for Mexico.

Gavito Sanchez, Mexico's ambassador to the United Nations, appeared before the Senate's Foreign Relations Commission to explain the Chamizal agreement point by point.

He said the convention, signed here last Aug. 29 and already ratified by the U.S. Senate, provided for a "complete" solution to the Chamizal problem, which has been a point of irritation in Mexico-U.S. relations for many years.

Pampans Enjoy Balmy Yule After Snow and Cold Wave

Pampans headed into the holiday weekend today after a sunny, joyous Christmas Day that brought springlike temperatures all across the Texas Panhandle.

After the snow and cold that enveloped the area Sunday and Monday, Wednesday's warmth had erased all traces of snow and ice and projected Pampans into weather that was warmer than Florida's.

The high here Wednesday was 69 degrees after a low of 28 on Christmas morning. The highest temperature registered in Florida yesterday was 64 degrees.

It was 37 degrees in Pampa at 8 a.m. today and the mercury had climbed to 47 degrees at 12 noon. The high today was expected to hit the mid-50s. A small cool front moved in late last night and cut about ten degrees from the mercurial measurements for today.

The official forecaster said at noon today fair weather will continue for the next 24 hours, although it will be a little cooler tonight. Friday is expected to show but very little change in temperatures.

The low early Friday is expected to be in the lower 20s with the afternoon temperatures again reaching into the mid-50s.

Pampa Teenagers To Be Arraigned

Two Pampa teenagers were to be arraigned at 10 a.m. Friday before Peace Justice Nat Lunsford on charges of minor in possession of liquor following their arrest Wednesday by law enforcement officers.

The youths were released on appearance bonds after their arrest by Texas highway patrolmen, Gray County deputies and Pampa policemen.

Lunsford set the hearing for arraignment after talking with arresting officers by telephone Wednesday.

Authorities said the incident still was being investigated.

Man Held Has Heart Attacks At City Hall

A 33-year-old Perryton man was treated and dismissed at a Pampa hospital today after suffering what police feared was a heart attack at police headquarters.

Police Chief Jim Conner said the man was being fingerprinted at 5:20 a.m. on a charge of intoxication when he collapsed. Officers called a doctor who recommended the man be released to go home, telling Conner the man apparently had suffered a mild heart attack.

He was allowed to rest on a bench at the police station while a friend was being summoned to take him to Perryton, Conner said. The man suffered another attack at 6 a.m. while still at police headquarters.

Officers summoned an ambulance and he was taken to a hospital where he was held for observation until mid-morning.

Conner said that the man had been officially released by police before the second attack. He had been picked up at 5 p.m. Wednesday for intoxication, Conner said.

Funeral Services Conducted For Mrs. Pearl Bowers, 83

Funeral services for Mrs. Pearl Bowers, widow of former Wheeler County Sheriff Newt Bowers, were held today in Corpus Christi with burial in that city.

Mrs. Bowers, 83, died Tuesday in a Corpus Christi rest home where she had been ill for sometime following a fall in September.

Mrs. Bowers was the mother of three Pampa residents and was grandmother of three other Pampans.

She was born in Statesville, N. C., in 1880 and married Bowers in Mobeetie in 1900. Bowers was sheriff of Wheeler County from 1900 to 1904 and a daughter, Mrs. Lou Pearl Reed of Pampa, was the last child to be born in the old Wheeler County jail when it served as home for the sheriff as well as a jail.

Mrs. Bowers was a member of the Methodist Church and had been living in Corpus Christi for a number of years.

Besides Mrs. Reed, she was the mother of Mrs. W. W. Doom and Isaac Bowers of Pampa. Other survivors include four other daughters, Mrs. Marie Green and Mrs. Ann McClung of Riverside, Calif.; Mrs. Margie Alsop of Fort Worth, and Mrs. Laura Haynes of Corpus Christi; two other sons, Forrest Bowers of Pecos, and T. H. Bowers, of Lamar, Ark.; 20 grandchildren, including Mrs. Florrine Burns, Mrs. Francine Price and Isaac Doom, all of Pampa; 32 great-grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Student, Officer Holiday Visitors

Lt. & Mrs. Ben L. Sturgeon and Miss Mary Sturgeon are spending the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Sturgeon, 1331 N. Russell.

Lt. Sturgeon is a law specialist in the Navy, stationed at Key West, Fla. Mary Sturgeon is a senior at TCU, majoring in English and education. She will graduate in May.

Residents Asked to Aid Cleanup

Pampa residents have been asked by a city official to help present sanitation department workers with a post-Christmas gift.

R. B. Cooke, director of Public Works, asked residents today to please place Christmas trees beside their trash cans this year rather than inside the containers.

Cooke pointed out that trees placed inside trash cans are difficult to remove because they jam and stick.

He said by placing the trees next to the trash cans, residents will allow city employees to make their rounds on schedule.

Chicken From the Hills

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Guitars and folk song records, singing and clapping are the order of the day where teenagers gather this holiday week. What do these lusty youngsters want to eat at their Hootenanny gathering? A group of bright teen-agers questioned by the Scott Home Service Center said, "Lots of simple but hearty food, lots of soft drinks and no fussiness."

CHICKEN in a bun puts the hoot in hootenannies.

On that advice, the center suggests the following: Individual bandana-wrapped baskets, chicken in a bun and hot biscuits with pre-cooked slices of Canadian bacon. Ahead of time the young hostess assembles the baskets, lining each with a colorful paper towel, and provides stacks of paper napkins for wiping fingers. Relishes are prepacked in wax sandwich bags. A jug of apple cider is a popular beverage.

CHICKEN FROM THE HILLS
Large hard rolls or small French bread loaves (1 per person)
Chicken drumsticks for each person
Seasoned flour
1/4 cup butter or margarine
Cut top from each roll; slightly hollow out bottom. Start heating oven to 425-degrees. On wax paper, coat chicken with seasoned flour. In shallow roasting pan in the oven, melt the butter. Remove pan from the oven; in the pan, arrange the chicken pieces in a single layer, with skin sides down. Bake 30 minutes; turn the chicken and continue to bake 15 minutes or until brown and tender. To serve, tuck the chicken drumstick in the hollow of the roll. Eat with the fingers. The chicken "butters" the bread.

PAPPY'S BISCUITS
1/2 pound Canadian-style bacon, sliced thin
2 rolls packaged ready-to-bake biscuits
Before guests arrive: lightly brown thin slices of Canadian bacon. Open rolls of biscuits. Arrange on a baking sheet or in a pan. Cover with wax paper. Refrigerate. Just before serving, remove from refrigerator, lift off wax paper and bake according to package directions. Split and insert cooked Canadian bacon slices in each. Serve hot.

Canapes Made for Parties

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
During the Christmas party season every hostess wants delicious canape-recipes. We tried this pickle canape sandwich recently, and we hope your guests enjoy it as enthusiastically as ours did. Many of them took the recipe home with them for their parties.

PICKLE CANAPE SANDWICH
(Makes 6 servings)
1 6-inch round loaf pumpernickel or rye bread
Softened butter or margarine
1 can (7 1/2 ounces) minced clams, drained
2 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese, softened
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 can (4 1/2 ounces) deviled ham
1/4 cup sweet pickle relish
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
Sweet gherkin slices

PICKLE CANAPE sandwich is attractive fare.
Canned pimento strips
Cut loaf of bread into 3 cross-wise slices. Remove crusts from bread. Spread bread with butter. Combine clams, 1 package cream cheese and salt; blend and spread on 1 slice of bread. Top with second slice of bread.

Combine ham, pickle relish and horseradish; blend and spread on bread. Top with third slice of bread. Spread bread with remaining cream cheese. Top with Gherkin slices and pimento. Cut into wedges to serve.

Bethany Class Holds Yule Social

Members of the Bethany Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church recently met in the lounge of the Educational Building for a Christmas social. Appropriate music was played as the members assembled. Mrs. Rachel Hutto led in prayer, followed by a vocal solo, "Sweet Little Jesus Babe", presented by Mrs. Lonnie Richardson. Mrs. Rufe Jordan told the story, "How Come Christmas".

Presents were distributed from a beautifully decorated tree. Coffee, ice cream and cake were served.

Those attending were Mrs. L. H. Greene, Clara Vandover, Winnie Young, A. W. Thorne, O. J. Moore, Jess Reeves, Lizzie

Henry, Carrie Austin, Doshia Anderson, M. E. Wells, Ethel Vanderburg, Gussie Archibald, O. A. Davis, Cora Patterson, P. G. Turner, Myrtle McDaniel, Rachel Hutto, Mabel Winter, Jessie McKinney and Lida Ramsey.

PERMANENT WORDS

The home permanent has taken on an international flavor, both in styling and description. In Africa, they call it "tuisgolving," in Germany it's "heimdauwells" and in France it's "permanente chez soi."

Culture Club Holds Party at St. Ann's Home

Pampa Civic Culture Club honored residents of St. Ann's Home with a Christmas party recently.

Mrs. K. A. Sorenson, president, Mrs. H. S. Alexander, Gray Lady chairman, Mrs. Irvin Cole, Mrs. Harvey Morris and Mrs. A. D. Hills, were in charge.

Christmas carols and games were a part of the planned activities. Refreshments of hot spiced tea and cookies were served.

Dear Abby....

Office Birdies All Sing Occasionally

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of an employee who arrives at her job promptly at 9:00 A.M., but spends the first half hour of her working day fixing herself coffee? (She sends out for donuts or rolls because she hasn't as yet had her breakfast.) There is a coffee-break at ten in which she participates. No one has the nerve to report her to the office manager because she is a nice person otherwise and we don't want to start trouble.

CO-WORKERS

DEAR CO-WORKERS: If she's so naive that she doesn't know she is chiseling the company, and incurring the resentment of her co-workers to boot, somebody should tell her. If she knows and doesn't care, it's only a matter of time before the office manager finds out. All offices have a little birdie, which sings occasionally.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is right for my mother-in-law to walk into our bedroom when we are in bed? She has done this several times. We live in a house trailer in our in-law's yard, and she does my washing for me. I don't have a place to wash so I offered to take my things to her place and do it myself, but my mother-in-law insists on doing it herself. It is really a big help to me because I have a pair of twins two years old who take a lot of my time. When she walks into our bedroom to get the clothes and I want to know if I should tell her not to, or should my husband tell her, since it's his mother?

DEAR WALKED: It isn't necessary for anyone to tell her. Gather the clothes together the night before wash day and take them to your mother-in-law's house.

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorced man of 44. I have been practically married for the past two years (all but the legal formalities) to a very wonderful woman who is 29, and is also a divorcee. Neither of us has children. Abby, I love this woman and have been begging her to marry me for almost as long as I have known her, but she insists that she does not want the responsibilities of marriage. She says she loves me and wishes to continue our relationship as it is, free of legal commitments. I want a conventional life, complete with wife and family. She does not. How can I get her to change her mind?

DEAR WANTS: I doubt if you can. Start looking for a conventional woman—This time in a more conventional way.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

50TH YEAR

Christmas Luncheon Marks End Of Year for Petroleum Society

The Starlight Room of Coronado Inn, decorated with Christmas gaiety, set the scene for a recent luncheon meeting of the Petroleum Engineers' Wives Society.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. J. E. Corzon, president, conducted a brief business meeting. Members voted to have their husbands as guests for a dinner meeting in February. Mrs. John Smith, social chairman, will be in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Paul McLaughlin, Borger, Mrs. Jack Dennis and Mrs. Marvin Dees will assist.

Mrs. Homer Kruger and Mrs. Forrest Hills, members of Pampa Little Theater, presented the program. Mrs. Kruger discussed drama and music from a composer's point of view. "Live drama requires background music," stated Mrs. Kruger, "to heighten action and lend atmosphere." She played tape recordings of prologue and background music that had been composed by her and her husband.

Determining how many songs are in a piece to use them is the most difficult part of composing for musicals according to Mrs. Kruger. She stated that lyrics must make sense in themselves as well as lending atmosphere and meaning to the play.

Mrs. Hills sang two selections, "Only Yesterday" and "The One Man in All the World," from Pampa Little Theater production, "Manana". All the music for the play was composed by Mr. and Mrs. Kruger.

A program on the topic, "Interior Decorating", will be presented at the next meeting of the society, Jan. 14 in Sutphen's Restaurant in Borger. Mrs. Billy Gillman will be hostess.

School Going Under Ground for Silence

By MICHAEL WHITTAKER
LAKE WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—The whine of a B-58 jet bomber hurtling down the nearby runway split the winter stillness. In their classrooms 1,715 school children waited patiently for the noise to stop.

"That's why we are going underground," Grady W. Vaughn, school superintendent of this Fort Worth suburb, said. "We lose eight to 10 per cent of our classroom time to those jets."

Early next year work will begin on a new junior high school. It will be built underground.

More Noise Ahead

"Those B-58s take off from Carswell Air Force Base, just two miles away. When they get the TFX (experimental fighter-plane) it will be even noisier," Vaughn said.

The voters of this small town recently approved construction of the $461,000 building.

It will be the nation's second underground school. The first built two years ago in Artesia, N.M.

"That's what convinced us,"

Vaughn said. "Last summer the school board and I went out to look over their school. They were sold on it and so were we."

More Underground

"If this area develops as I think it will, in 10 to 15 years all the school buildings will be underground."

Vaughn said that noise, although the main problem, is not the only one.

"Land prices here are very high. Going down into the earth is cheaper than buying land. Fifty acres of land would cost us $150,000. You can build a lot of classrooms for $150,000," Vaughn said.

The new junior high will be located in the center of a small complex of school buildings. Its of a street roof will serve as a playground for a nearby elementary school. The cafeteria roof will be part

A thought for the day — The Roman historian Plutarch said: "Men are usually more stung and galled by reproachful words than hostile actions."

'White Negroes' Included in Publisher's 'Forecast 1964'

NEW YORK (Sp) — Offspring of colored people in the U.S. will be able to become white within two generations, Hugo Gernsback says in his "Forecast 1964," the latest annual edition of the pioneer science-electronic publisher's unique Christmas greeting.

Over the years, Gernsback's forecasts have had an amazing habit of coming true — ever since 1908 when he forecast radar, television, blood transfusions and a host of other events that have established his reputation as perhaps the foremost leader in scientific forecasting.

In his "Report From the Future," Anno 2064, Gernsback writes that by 1972 chemists had developed a method for changing skin color — for all who desired it — in future generations by altering the genes which control color pigmentation. This change of skin color, because of melanin, removed "a basic source of friction."

Another scientific breakthrough, Gernsback forecasts, is the instant newspaper to be distributed via radio. Called Rafar (for Radio Automated Facsimile And Reproduction), newspapers will be set in type and made up exactly as now. However, the printing operation will be eliminated and instead the completed page will be photographed on film or special paper for facsimile transmission to special receivers in individual homes.

Electronic weather control is possible today if the world's governments want it. Gernsback would use eight 100-mile-diameter space mirrors to illuminate the earth's dark side continuously, creating perpetual spring by heating the jet stream of our atmosphere at stratosphere level. The mirrors would disperse storms and hurricanes into unpeopled areas.

Final '63 Report on Crops Give Wheat, Corn Estimates

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department's final production report of the year this week estimated the 1963 corn crop at 4,081,395,000 bushels and the wheat crop at 1,137,641,000 bushels.

The final corn crop estimate compares with last month's forecast of 4,033,033,000 bushels, last year's revised production figures of 3,636,673 bushels, and the 1957-61 average of 3,551,952,000 bushels.

The final wheat estimate, made up of 904,828,000 bushels of winter wheat and 232,813,000 bushels of spring wheat, compares with November estimates of a 1,133,010,000 bushel crop—895,904,000 bushels of winter wheat and 237,106,000 bushels of spring wheat.

Estimated corn yield included Missouri's 203,740,000 bushels compared with a 1962 crop of 172,956,000 bushels.

Dogs Bite Less Times, Harder

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — A post office safety officer here reported today that less mailmen were bitten by dogs in 1963, but the bites were more severe.

He blamed the increased ferocity on "canine neurosis."

Most suburban homes do not have fences, explained M. E. Ackerman of the Memphis Post Office, and families without fences usually chain their dogs. This, he said, is "very bad for a dog's temper."

"The dog goes out in the morning. He's tied up. He can only move a few feet. Nowhere to use his energy."

"When the postman arrives, the dog is mighty bad tempered, aching to sink his teeth into someone."

There's little a carrier can do to defend himself, Ackerman said, since "the dogs that attack are the ones you don't usually see."

Postmen may beat the problem yet with the help of the U.S. Post Office Department in Washington. Ackerman said an experimental "spray gun" which immobilizes dogs with a harmless gas is being developed there.

Announcing... DRUGTAX A SERVICE TO TAXPAYERS

Ever wish, at income tax time, that you had a complete record of every cent you spent for drugs and drug products throughout the year—and how much of it was legally deductible?

That kind of a record could save you money. And that kind of a record can now be yours, every year, absolutely free of charge.

This new service is called DrugTax. We are making it available to all of our customers immediately, free of charge, as another way of saying "thank you" for their patronage.

You would be surprised at the number of drug and medical supplies that can be of a deductible nature—items such as antiseptics, aspirin, cough and cold preparations, and hundreds of others.

Indeed, the American taxpayer has been losing millions of dollars annually because he hasn't been aware of how many drug items are legally deductible.

But you must be able to offer proof of purchase in order to claim such items in preparing your federal income tax return. And when you buy from us, you get that proof—in the form of an annual record, mailed in February.

Come in today and let us tell you more about DrugTax. And from now on, buy all of your drug and medical supplies from the store that gives you the free DrugTax record.

Notice: those registered for Drug Tax in 1963 NEED NOT register for 1964

Wall Street In Review

Wall Street Chatter
NEW YORK (UPI) — L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co. notes that "people are coming over their portfolios for opportunities to save taxes, and a high percentage of all trades are for tax reasons."
Hooper says that "tax selling usually is not an over-all market price influence. This is because the person who sells to take a loss almost always buys something to replace what he sells at approximately the same time."

International Statistical Bureau, Inc., says that "fundamental economic factors continue favorable for an extension of the advance through most of 1964. Christmas volume will provide cheer, even though the pall of the national tragedy will not have been entirely dissipated. The less favorable showing in November's retail sales is not a harbinger of the December trend."

NEW YORK (UPI) — "There are good reasons for believing that many investors have delayed taking profits in order to avoid any increase in their income tax liability for 1963," says Shearson, Hammill & Co. "Thus," the advisory service says, "there is a fair chance that there will be substantial selling after the end of the year in those stocks which have shown substantial price appreciation in 1963. No one can say how important such selling is going to be, nor to what extent other investors are prepared to purchase the issues now scheduled for sale after New Year's Day, in any case, we continue to believe that this is not a time for investors to commit all of their available cash and borrowing power to the stock market."

Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone & Co. says "The primary trend remains bullish and there does not appear to be any important top formation indicated on the general market. However, the speed and extent of the recovery which has carried the Dow-Jones industrial to all-time highs suggests that more than the usual amount of care should now be exercised about initiating new purchases."

Foreign News Commentary

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International
PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle is setting his sights on making France once more a power to be reckoned with in the Far East. His aim is not military.

But, slowly and cautiously, he is unleashing what may expand into a full-scale French political and economic offensive in that area.

His aims, according to informed French sources, include opening up a vast market for French exports in Communist China coupled with possible recognition of the Peking regime, reunification of North and South Viet Nam and ultimate easing of the United States out of Southeast Asia.

The De Gaulle "offensive" in the Far East even may take precedence in coming months over his attempts to promote a French-sponsored "grand design" in Europe, it is said.

De Gaulle's Red China drive is well under way.

Scouted Red China

Former Premier Edgar Faure, a middle-roader who headed a Fourth Republic government for 11 months in 1955-56, returned recently from what generally was regarded here as a scouting mission on De Gaulle's behalf to Red China, where he was given VIP treatment.

He made a two-hour report to De Gaulle.

The report was said to have been optimistic about prospects for French trade in Red China but politically less encouraging.

The Peking government reportedly insists De Gaulle must break with the Chiang Kai-shek regime in Formosa if he wants diplomatic relations. French officials say De Gaulle will insist on a no-strings deal or none at all.

But, according to French sources, De Gaulle is convinced there are excellent prospects for opening up vast markets in Red China for French industrial exports. The Red Chinese also reportedly are interested in French aid in reconstruction of railroads, airfields and other similar public works projects.

A high-powered delegation of French businessmen returned from Peking last month with glowing reports of export prospects. Two Red Chinese technical missions, one of them consisting of oil and gas experts, currently are in France looking around.

Prosperous Possibility
Some French officials say De Gaulle believes the Chinese market could provide outlets for French exports that would guarantee prosperity for this country's industry for the next 20 to 30 years.

The De Gaulle campaign in Southeast Asia is unfolding more cautiously. He has no thought, French officials say, of becoming militarily involved in France's former Indo-China possessions abandoned in 1954.

He tipped his hand shortly before the downfall of the Dinh Diem regime in South Viet Nam in a statement indicating his belief that South and North Viet Nam should be reunited and cautiously offering French help in promoting this.

French officials say De Gaulle long has been convinced that United States policy in Viet Nam is leading nowhere.

Officials say he believes the time will come when the only solution will be reunification of the Communist North and anti-Communist South, as provided under the 1954 Geneva peace settlement which never was carried out in this respect.

Water Unit Names Slate of Officers

CANADIAN (Sp) — R. T. Smith of Canadian was elected president of the Canadian Water Works and Sewage Association at a regular meeting of the group here Thursday night.

Other officers elected without opposition included A. M. Lemons, Booker, vice president; Wilburn Miller, Shamrock, secretary-treasurer; and Jack Nix, Canadian, program chairman.

Dues for member cities were discussed and officers said statements would be sent by Jan. 1.

Association members were present from Miami, Spearman, Shamrock, Canadian and Booker.

Three Killed in Houston Accident

HOUSTON (UPI) — Three persons on a Christmas shopping tour were killed Monday when a Rock Island passenger train barreled into their automobile, sending the car sprawling 100 yards.

Killed were Amanda E. Raduykovich, 58, of Port Arthur; Hazel Cunningham Rowan, 41, of Houston; and Michael Romo, 4.

Police said there was no apparent cause for the car to drive in front of the train. The flashing light and bell were both working at the crossing, the day was clear, and the crossing had no ice on it.

The impact of the collision tossed Christmas packages along the right of way.

Lawyer Gives Signed Books

DALLAS (UPI) — Melvin Bell, dramatic courtroom lawyer and author from San Francisco, prefaced Jack Ruby's bond hearing Monday with displays of his new book, "Bell Looks at Life and Law in Russia."

"We have a Christmas present for you," Bell said, handing a copy to Dist. Atty. Henry Wade.

"I really appreciate this," Wade said. "But I doubt I'll have time to read it today."

Bell also gave a copy to the presiding judge, Joe B. Brown. Bell autographed another book, his "Ready for the Plaintiff," for Carl Freund, Dallas Morning News reporter.

"To Carl Freund with all good wishes, Melvin Bell. Not a flamboyant lawyer — colorful, yes."

Shockers Ride to Borger With Win Streak on Line

The first annual Borger "B" Team Tournament will get underway tonight with Pampa and Perryton kicking off the show at 7.

Borger and Dumas will wind up action in the first day of the two-day tournament at 8:30 p.m. The Shockers and Bullpups have been established as early favorites. Coach Roy Kieval's crew will carry an unblemished record into the fray. Their closest competition has come from Borger a team they whipped earlier 57-55 at Borger.

Pampa will be without the service of 6-6 David Cain who has been promoted to the Varsity for the Top o' Texas tournament. Cain scored 26 points in his last outing against Perryton.

COACH ROY KIEVAL eyes Borger title

Replacing Cain will be "Gunner" Brown.

The Shockers carry an 11-game winning streak into the tourney. They have beaten every team in the tournament at least once and Perryton three times.

The Shockers should have little trouble getting by the Deputies in the opener. Earlier this year they defeated Perryton 74-54, 58-48 and 74-40. Kieval's crew took Dumas out in the finals of the Phillips Tournament.

It will be the Shockers second tournament of the year.

Holiday Tournaments Take Cage Spotlight

By GEORGE C. LANGFORD UPI Sports Writer

A ponderous snowball, known as the holiday tournament season, starts rolling Thursday and by the weekend will have enveloped nearly every collegiate basketball team in the nation.

Eight major-college tournaments begin Thursday, four of them in the afternoon, and before Friday night is over a total of 234 NCAA-member colleges, including 144 university division schools, will have participated in a tournament of some description.

Thirteen major college tournaments start Friday along with 20 small college playoffs.

Second-ranked Michigan will carry a six-game winning streak into the Los Angeles Classic against 10th-ranked New York University in a night game after undefeated, fifth-ranked UCLA tangles with once-beaten Yale in an afternoon affair.

Fights Set Here Tonight

The Pampa Optimist Club weekly boxing program will be held tonight with plenty of action on the card.

Amarillo, Skellytown, Lefors and Pampa boxers will be matched in what matchmaker Bo Brown calls "some exciting fights."

The highlight fight will feature Ronnie Fletcher of Pampa against Ronnie Shannon of Amarillo in a 155-pound match. There will be 18 fights on the card, with another good contest bringing James Ray of Pampa and Charles King of Borger together in a high school Heavyweight battle.

Fight time will be 8 p.m.

Pre-Cotton Bowl Activities Open

DALLAS (UPI) — Pre-Cotton Bowl activities opened today in Dallas, with a rodeo and high school basketball tournament. Texas meets Navy in the gridiron classic New Year's day. The Cotton Bowl Rodeo planned six nightly performances at the State Fair Livestock Coliseum and a matinee at 2 p.m. Sunday. The schoolboy tournament finals were set for Monday.

Oakland's Al Davis Named American Loop's Top Coach

NEW YORK (UPI) — Al Davis, the energetic young man from Brooklyn who made the Oakland Raiders the most improved team in pro football in 1963, today was voted United Press International coach-of-the-year in the American Football League.

Davis won by a landslide in the poll of 24 regular AFL writers who voted for UPI all-star honors. The group, made up of three writers from each league city, cast 20 votes for Davis and two each for Sid Gillman of the San Diego Chargers and Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots.

Under the handsome, 34-year-old Davis, a football super-salesman, the Raiders accomplished an astonishing turnabout this season. After winning only one league game in 1962 (and extending a losing streak to 19 games), they compiled a 10-4 record this year and battled the Chargers for the Western Division title right to the final Sunday. The achievement is even more remarkable when it is considered that this was Davis' first major head coaching assignment since he began his coaching career in 1950.

Davis is the fourth Oakland coach in as many seasons, and by far the most successful. The Raiders won six games in their first AFL season, dropped to two in 1961 and only one in '62. Davis revamped the Raiders drastically. At one stage of the season 19 of the 33 players on the roster were new men. Art Powell, one of the league's best pass-catchers, was picked up as a free agent after he had played out his option with the New York Titans. Archie Matsos, an experienced middle linebacker, was acquired in a trade with Buffalo, and defensive back Claude Gibson from San Diego. Unbeaten Also Featured The Los Angeles tourney has the most number of ranking teams (3) in its field, but several other get-togethers will feature undefeated and highly regarded quintets.

Villanova, ranked 11th, tangles with unbeaten Dayton in the second afternoon game of the Holiday Festival in New York's Madison Square Garden, and seventh-ranked Oregon State opens the Far West Classic in Portland, Ore., against Louisiana State in two important contests.

Rugged Wichita will face Montana State in the featured game of the All-College Tournament in Oklahoma City, the originator of the holiday tourney snowball 28-years ago. Kansas State, No. 17, plays Nebraska and Oklahoma in the first round of the Big Eight Conference feud at Kansas City. Unbeaten DePaul meets Canisius in the Queen City Tournament feature at Buffalo, N.Y.

Major Tourney Rundown Completing the major tournament games Thursday St. John's tackles unbeaten Utah, Cornell challenges Minnesota, No. 15, and St. Joseph's (Pa.) meets Providence in the Holiday Tourney first round; Illinois plays West Virginia and Pittsburgh clashes with Southern California in the Los Angeles Classic; Iowa and Colorado State complete the first round Far West Classic; two Ohio representatives, Xavier and Miami round out the Queen City affair while the All-College meet pairs Washington and Texas A&M, Wyoming, and Houston and Idaho and Oklahoma City.

The Gator Bowl will pit the Air Force Academy against Florida State and Manhattan against Florida at Jacksonville and the West Coast Athletic Conference tourney at San Francisco will match Santa Clara and Pepperdine, St. Mary's (Calif.)-University of Pacific, San Jose-Loyola (Los Angeles), and California at Santa Barbara-San Francisco. Among the tournaments beginning Friday are the Quaker City at Philadelphia featuring top-ranked Loyola of Chicago, the Motor City Classic in Detroit; the Vanderbilt Invitational hosted by sixth-ranked Vanderbilt; the Milwaukee Classic and the Hurricane Classic at Miami.

Emerson Opens McKinley Effort

ADELAIDE, Australia (UPI) —The United States, looking for its first Davis Cup tennis triumph since 1958, was forced to settle for a 1-1 split of the opening challenge round singles matches against Australia today when Aussie Roy Emerson upset Chuck McKinley, 6-3, 3-6, 7-5, 7-5.

Cocky, often temperamental Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., gave the Yanks the early lead when he blew a two-set lead and then rallied to beat 19-year-old John Newcombe of Australia, 6-4, 6-1, 9-8, 4-6, 7-5.

But then Emerson, trailing 4-1 in the third set as Wimbledon champion McKinley of San Antonio, Texas, seemed about to put the Yanks in the driver's seat, staged a stunning comeback to win their battle in two hours and five minutes.

The net effect of the split, watched by a crowd of 7,000 at the Memorial Drive Courts, was to bolster Aussie hopes of keeping the cup. The defending champions, ruled slight favorites to win the doubles match Friday.

The chunky McKinley, who battled back into condition after reinjuring his back last month to make his first appearance in a Davis Cup challenge round, appeared to be taking command of Emerson when he rallied from his first-set defeat to capture the second and roll to his big lead in the third set.

But at this point Emerson, the man tennis experts were touting a year ago as a possible grand slam champion in 1963, suddenly began to look that part again. He uncorked some of the most brilliant tennis of his career to win six of the next seven games, breaking McKinley's service three times as he did, to take the set.

Postponed Game to Be Played Tomorrow

WHITE DEER (Sp) — The White Deer-Gruver basketball game, postponed Tuesday night due to weather conditions, will be played in White Deer tomorrow night.

The girls' game will start at 6 p.m. and the boys' game will follow.

LAWTON'S NO. 2 MAN — Setting a fast pace with Lawton, Okla. High School's leading basketball scorer this season is Chuck Large, 5-10 junior, who has posted a 14-point average so far this year in six games with the Wolverines. Large is one of three youths who have hit in the double figure bracket during the early part of the current cage season. The Wolverines will open the Top o' Texas basketball tournament at 7 p.m. Friday against a tough Dumas Demon squad. (Lawton Constitution-Press Photo)

Injuries, Late Start Endanger Dumas Chances in Tournament

By ROCKY RANDALL News Sports Reporter

The "ding-dong daddy" Dumas Demons will find the m-selves occupying the unfamiliar role of the underdog when they take the floor against powerful Lawton, Okla., at 7 p.m. Friday. The battle will open the eighth annual Top o' Texas basketball tournament with the Demons accorded little chance of improving on their third place finish of last year.

When Coach Jerry Hale's quintet unravels for tipoff they will be sorely lacking in several winning ingredients that have made them the basketball terrors of the Panhandle for the past few seasons.

The 1963 Demons will be handicapped by lack of experience, crippling injuries to several key players, delated workouts and a deficiency in height that were so characteristic of former Dumas powerhouses.

Missing from action for the Demons when the buzzer sounds Friday will be 6-4 Hulon Kirkland, the team's chief rebounder, and 6-4 Dennis Cochren, the club's ace scorer. Both lads are out with injuries. Impairment to other members of the squad will throw the burden of performance on several untried hands.

Hale will probably go with a starting line-up of 5-10 senior Norman Bonner, 6-2 sophomore

Robert David, 6-0 Jimmy Roades, and a pair of 5-8 guards in Butch Cariker and Ray Stewart.

Bonner, Doug Holtzclaw and Robert Moffatt reported somewhat belatedly due to a long football season.

Relying heavily on a rugged defense the Demons try to force other teams into mistakes that they can capitalize on. In past seasons, Coach Hale's tactics have paid off handsomely.

"We are still in the experimental stage," the head Demon said recently. "As you know we had a rather lengthy football season and some of our football players are behind."

Coyotes Unimpressive In Early Cage Battles

WICHITA FALLS (Sp) — Youthful, erratic and certainly unimpressive, the Wichita Falls Coyotes have spent more time around the hardwood floors than the Christmas table working for their coming invasion of the Top o' Texas Basketball Tourney set to open in Pampa Dec. 27.

Coach Morris Mercer's Pack have posted a record of 4-3 in games to date and that in itself is a mild surprise.

Never, at least since the late 50's, has Wichita Falls been considered a top flight basketball contender and 1963 is no exception.

With three high schools in Wichita Falls currently, WFHS, Rider and Hirsch, the cage talent has been spread over a larger area than this city is used to accommodating.

However, unimpressive as they have looked they have been able to post victories over Pampa, Burkburnett, Vernon and Bowie. Their defeats have come at the hands of two Oklahoma schools, Lawton and Duncan. The later in the Duncan Invitational Tourney, 63-55.

Of the starting five, only Jackie Pennington (6-3) is a senior, but he is the leading scorer with 101 points in six games for an average of slightly over 17 points per game.

Juniors David Oliver (6-0) and Tom DeVoy (6-2) have been instrumental in delivering crucial points in close contests. Oliver has hit for 73 points and DeVoy 72 to give them a per game output of 12 each.

The Coyote offense isn't a high scoring machine and they have relied on defense to the play a major role in victory. Both losses, Duncan and Lawton, were spelled on the backboards and the Coyotes lost by a wide margin in rebounds, 100-60 and 83-51 respectively.

Playmakers Tom Campbell (5-10) and Steve Keller (5-11) have been highly effective when in the game, but have seen but limited action as Mercer is giving his juniors and sophomores plenty of pre-district experience and putting his hopes on next season.

During their latter three games, Mercer has brought to the varsity John Cunningham, (6-2) to aid in the height department and also spell the regulars. Cunningham has averaged 7 points per game.

Personal fouls have played havoc with the Coyotes. They committed 28 against Pampa, 28 with Burkburnett and 27 against Lawton.

Dale Lewis On Mat Card

For the second consecutive week, 230 pounder Dale Lewis is challenging an opponent to meet him in the wrestling ring Friday night at the Top o' Texas Arena.

Last week Lewis disposed of Sputnik Monroe in a special challenge match and immediately "invited" Sir Rodney Shane of London, England, to "share" the squared circle with him.

The match has been arranged as the second of a double main event. The first half of the twin bill will pit Sir Nelson Royal against Bill Graham. Both bouts will be two out of three falls with a 60-minute time limit.

Preliminaries will find Luis Martinez taking on Denmark's Great Dane and Alex Perez tangle with the Masked Lawman. Match time is 8:30 p.m.

PACES TCU FRESHMAN SQUAD

Kreis' Ability Praised by Paper

The Dec. 20 edition of Texas Christian University's student newspaper, the Skiff, has chronicled the basketball activities of former Harvester star Wayne Kreis as a member of the TCU freshman team.

Here is what the Skiff said in the feature article.

"Freshman Coach Johnny Swaim of TCU will testify that number 22 wasn't given to Wayne Kreis because he's as fast as the bullet.

"But Kreis does make up for his small stature with speed and accuracy. The 5-10 guard is small as basketball players go these days, but he was the top scorer in the Wogs early games."

Kreis notched 21 points against Kilgore Junior College and meshed 24 and 32 respectively in two battles with Lon Morris Junior College. His total point output adds up to 77, or almost 26 point per game.

Kreis is a 1963 graduate of Pampa High School where he was a three-year letterman. The sharpshooter learned most of his basketball under present Harvester Coach Terry Culey. He led District 3-AAAA in scoring his senior year, and his three-year total point production at Pampa was second only to all-stater Randy Matson. Matson held a one-point advantage.

300-Pound Athlete Puts Brains In Work

By CARLTON WILSON AUSTIN (UPI)—Terry Todd is a 300-pound testaminal that brains and brawn do go together.

A champion weight lifter, Todd is also a candidate for a doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Texas who puts studies before barbells.

"Lots of people have the wrong first impression that big and strong men are not necessarily bright," Todd said in an interview. The 160-pound reporter was not about to disagree with Todd and his 21-inch biceps.

"It is my ambition to bring the weight lifting title back to the United States in next year's Olympics," Todd added.

He may have a good chance if he can improve in a personal record dead lift of 681 pounds set in a San Antonio competition in October.

World Record Holder Todd also had a bench press of 435 pounds and a squat of 575 pounds to go with that. In previous competition his total in the three lifts had been as high as 1,615 pounds which Todd was told was a world record.

A 6-foot-2 inch man, Todd is much smaller than the current weight lifting champion from the Soviet Union, Juri Vlasov, who is 6-6 and weighs 350.

"The Russians like to say that they have the 'strongest man in the world' and it gives them tremendous propaganda value in the parts of the world where lifting is a major sport," Todd said.

"In this country its a minor sport," he added.

Todd also plays tennis and earned a varsity letter when a sophomore at the University of Texas. He also met his wife Ellen, in another extra-curricular activity — singing in the school's capella choir.

Loves Steak

"She keeps me well fed," Todd explained. His favorite food is steak and he once won a 72 ounce steak from a San Antonio restaurant that offered the $11.50 meal free to anyone who could eat every bite.

The main problem the soft-spoken weight lifter encounters is shopping for clothes — he wears a size 58 suit and shirts that measure 21 inches at the collar and 35 inches on the sleeves. That size is hard to find.

Reading is a favorite pastime of the intellectual Todd, whose college grade average is a B-plus. He also likes to romp with a pet dog, a bull mastiff, that weighs 130 pounds.

Kreis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Kreis, 1424 Hamilton.

"He was recommended to varsity Coach Buster Brannon by his former coach at Pampa, since he had already shown an interest in the Frogs, and because he liked the City of Fort Worth.

"Wayne picked TCU after playing in the Lions Club Tournament here (Fort Worth) last year 'because it's not too big and because of its friendliness.'"

"According to Swaim, 'Kreis is just a real good all-around player.' He seems to have all the qualifications of a fine player that many lack, including good ball handling and excellent shooting."

The Wogs have failed to dent the win column thus far but have improved with each game. All their games have been against strong junior colleges competition.

Dodger World Series Sweep Rated as Nation's Top Story

UPI Sports Writer MIAMI (UPI) — Far and away the top sports story of the year 1963 was the four straight sweep of the Los Angeles Dodgers over the never-sotreated New York Yankees.

It was completely unpredictable, the manner in which the under-dog Dodgers rolled relentlessly over the perennial world champions. This, plus the ever-lasting drama of the World Series, moved it beyond the realm of the "ordinary" fall classic and put it in a class all by itself.

Nothing was really close. But if you have to correlate a "first 10" in the sports world for the last year, it would come out close to this:

1. Dodger World Series victory in four straight over the Yankees.
2. Professional football scandal.
3. Wally Butts' libel suit against a major magazine. (Saturday Evening Post.)
4. Veteran Julius Boros' playoff victory over Arnold Palmer and Jacky Cupit in the U. S. Open golf championship.
5. Sonny Liston's second straight one-round knockout of Floyd Patterson.
6. Chicago Bears' Western Division victory in the NFL pro gridiron race.
7. The death of "Big Daddy" Lipscomb.
8. Jack Nicklaus becoming the youngest winner of the Masters golf championship in history.
9. Chateaugay's Kentucky Derby triumph over Never Bend and Candy Spots.
10. Chuck McKinley's victory at Wimbledon.

There were a great many other thrillers and chills. Such as the boxing death of Davey Moore, John Pennell's 17-foot pole vault, the Pan-American games at Sao Paulo, Yogi Berra being named manager of the Yankees, and the untimely death of Ernie Davis, a kid who might have been one of the pro football greats.

Add to these Loyola's victory over Cincinnati in the NCAA basketball championship, Gordie Howe breaking the immortal Maurice (The Rocket) Richard's goal scoring record in ice hockey, the U. S. win over Russia in a dual track meet, the retirement of Stan Musial, Joey Giardello's upset surge to take the Middleweight title from Dick Tiger, the winning play of Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer in the Canada Cup tournament in France, and the spine-prickling come-back of Sandy Koufax.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The Day After Christmas

For many people, a certain lull follows Christmas, something that doesn't happen after any other holiday.

They complain that they went overboard on presents, that the card list got out of hand, that Aunt Harriet didn't like what she got, that the day just wasn't worth all the trouble that went into it.

They're thankful, they say, that it is over.

It may be inevitable that this be so, for no other holiday is thought about so much, talked about so much and prepared for so far in advance. Indeed, it seems, as if the importance of Christmas, having almost obscured Thanksgiving, is slowly creeping back on the calendar to cast its shadow even on Halloween.

It is not the exploitation of Christmas that causes the letdown. Nor is it the hustle and bustle, the social obligations, the emotional strain. These are shallow reasons.

A more basic explanation — at least for those who are affected by the true meaning of the season — may be that the very idea of Christmas revolves around intangible things like happiness, love, good will. Presents and all the rest are only the visible symbols of Christmas. The true Christmas

Drifting Away

It was Chief Justice John Marshall who more than a hundred years ago said: "No political dreamer was ever wild enough to think of breaking down the lines which separate the States, and compounding the American people into one common mass."

Well, if Chief Justice Marshall were alive today he would be utterly dumfounded by the extent to which some of the men in the White House and some of those in Congress have succeeded in breaking down the lines which separate the States; often with the urging of the people themselves, who have been willing through the years to abandon their responsibilities as citizens and let the Federal Government take them over and pay the bills.

About the time that he assisted in writing the tenets of the Democratic Party, Thomas Jefferson said that total trust was not to be placed in mankind. He phrased it like this: "Let no more be heard of confidence in man, but bind him down from mischief by the chains of the Constitution."

Well, if Thomas Jefferson were alive today he would see how the chains of the Constitution have been bent and broken by political dreamers who in seeking to achieve their aims have apparently been willing to abandon entirely the safeguards of the Constitution.

Woodrow Wilson when he was President tackled the matter from another angle. He believed wholeheartedly in the Constitution and in the manhood of man and he warned against any weakening. President Wilson said: "If any part of our people want to be wards, if they want to have guardians over them, if they want to be taken care of, if they want to be children patronized by the Government, I am sorry, because it will sap the manhood of America."

Well, President Wilson probably would be surprised if he were alive today at the degree to which the people have become wards of the Government.

The thing about it is that it is no laughing matter but a very serious situation. It is not a situation which can be checked by talk but it is one which can be checked by action. The people through their votes and the Congressmen, through the power which they exert, owe it to the American people to put a checkrein on those in Executive power, who, in order to achieve personal political ideas are willing to abandon all self-reliance by the people and all vestiges of independent government by the states.

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

Fiction is sometimes stranger than truth. John Makris, famed Boston crime reporter and author, wrote a TV script in 1961 for 20th Century-Fox called "The Big Haul," which was never produced due to cutbacks because of the company's financial losses. It concerned a mail robbery that netted $1,000,000 pulled off by robbers disguised as cops, who used traffic signs to channel traffic away from the scene. A year later real robbers disguised as cops used detour signs to enable them to loot a mail truck bound from Plymouth to Boston of more than a million dollars. Curiously enough, Makris has never sold his script and the real robbers have never been caught.

Today's smile: A police officer was testifying in court when he was interrupted by the defense lawyer: "But, officer just because my client was on his hands and knees in the middle of the road is not proof that he was drunk." "No," the witness replied, "but he was trying to roll up the white line."

More than 700,000 men received gifts of cologne this Christmas from women who don't use any fragrance themselves, according to the Drug and Cosmetic Industry, which also asserts that more men use fragrance than women. They back up their assertion by stating that at least 10 million men use after shave lotions and other fragrant concoctions. Lyndon Johnson is the 36th President of the United States, but the 35th man to hold that office. That's because another Democrat, Grover Cleveland, served two non-continuous terms. He was the 22nd President when inaugurated in 1885, and became the 24th when he again took the oath of office in 1893.

Thoughts while shaving: Italian sailors can have a wife in every port, according to the laws of their land, as long as only one of the ports is in Italy. That's okay, but how are they going to support them? Cigarettes were first produced in Mexico, where tobacco was packed in a reed or wrapped in maize. Wonder if they satisfied, or if anyone ever walked a mile for one? ... Sometimes Edgar Bergen takes a lot of license with Charlie McCarthy, but he was recently toned by an Irish ventriloquist who obtained a driver's license for his dummy, simply to prove that anyone can get behind the wheel of a car on the Old Sod. ... Lyle Sam gives us one reassembling note at Christmas: the Thanksgiving dinner we enjoyed a month ago cost $6.40 for an average family of four, about 30 cents cheaper than last year. We wouldn't want to dispute our Uncle, but we think ours cost a little more. ... We don't exactly know how they do it, but some enterprising South Africans are selling canned country air, and have even had some orders for their product from the United States. ... Amazing Stories magazine has published science fiction in this country continuously since 1926. Many of the ideas, considered far-fetched when published, are now commonplace in the nation's news stories.

Punctuation, the consistent use of conventional signs for the division of the stream of speech into parts, was neither standard nor obligatory before the Middle Ages. Early manuscripts were usually devoid of punctuation, and careful legal documents are still drawn in such a way that punctuation may be omitted without affecting the meaning.

Allen-Scott Report

Undercover Communist Blackmail Ring Doing Active Business in U.S. Passports and Visas

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The first full-scale congressional inquiry of the nation's immigration laws in ten years has uncovered "a massive Communist blackmail ring" dealing in U. S. visas and passports.

The undercover ring, which has succeeded in bringing several thousand refugees into the U. S., has its headquarters in Geneva and employs agents both behind the Iron Curtain and in the U. S.

These covert operators arrange the illegal purchase of valid U. S. passports and visas for refugees who want to join relatives or friends already in the U. S.

Once these refugees are admitted to this country, they are contacted by U. S. members of the ring who extort funds under the threat of revealing their illegal entry to immigration officials.

These and other still-secret details of the Red Blackmail ring are highlighted in a report of a preliminary overseas investigation made by the Joint Congressional Immigration Committee.

Headed by Representative Michael A. Feighan, D-O., the committee turned over its findings to the House and Senate Appropriations Committees to support its request for $140,000 to complete the blackmail ring probe and to investigate other alleged "pay-offs" in the issuance of U. S. visas to refugees.

from the refugees and their relatives. This matter is now under investigation by the Joint Committee.

The legislators stressed that they are particularly interested in the blackmail ring's operations among refugees coming from Rumania. One Intelligence estimate indicates there are more than 55,000 willing to pay large sums of money in Rumania to obtain visas to the U. S.

When aired in public hearings early next year, the committee's findings could influence Congress to make drastic changes in U. S. immigration policies and the State Department's handling of passports and visas.

FORMER PRESIDENTS — Former President Harry S. Truman is going all-out in opposing changes in the present law of succession to the presidency, which is expected to become a major issue in the 1964 session of Congress. Truman has told close friends that he plans to support the existing law in a series of TV-radio appearances.

THE RED RING — The Joint Immigration Committee based its warning of the Red blackmail ring in visas and passports on first-hand information gathered by "interviewing refugees from Rumania, Hungary, Yugoslavia and the United Arab Republic," and from sources within U. S. Intelligence services.

The report frankly states that, "These interviews provided information on the organizational structure of a massive Communist blackmail operation at work in the free world."

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure any.)

QUESTION: "Why is it so difficult to find individuals who have convictions on what is right, just, and good who can rationally defend them?"

ANSWER: There are probably many reasons. In the first place the child has no real convictions that he can defend. He has to acquire them with age and the environment he comes in contact with. If he has an environment in which the people believe in initiating force to compel people to do certain things against their will, he probably will grow up to believe in some form of initiated force, dictatorship, divine right of kings, or believe that some people have rights that other people do not have. In other words, they believe in the caste system where people are treated not by how they live morally but by their ancestry.

Newspapers are one of the reasons. There are very few newspapers that have any convictions that they will try to defend. Those in charge of tax-supported schools of course, have no real convictions, unless it is the conviction that the majority determines right from wrong. They hardly want to admit that. Even organized religious groups quite often try to get control of the individual by telling him if he does something for them in this world, they will do something for him in the next world. If the man or the child believes it, the man who is making the promises will have complete control over the life of the individual until that individual begins to use his own mind and make his own decisions.

Another reason is that they follow without questioning those who profess to be educators, leaders, and moral people. But we cannot believe that a moral rational person will refuse to answer questions about what he is advocating or opposing. The great teacher said "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall set you free." The more we know the eternal laws that govern the universe the more we will get out of life — the more convictions we will have. Our convictions always will be subject to examination to determine whether there is an exception.

The best way to improve man's convictions is to try to get convictions oneself and be willing to have them examined by anyone, not just those whom you want to question you. If you can answer all questions without contradiction or evasion in a rational manner, your convictions become a guide of what is right and wrong. Then one automatically makes decisions from these convictions. If you have no standard of right and justice and are merely subject to the whims of the majority, you are a lost sheep. You are getting very little out of life. Your life becomes largely physical and has very little spirituality.

Yes, the need of our country is men with convictions.

THE IMPORTANT ONES

Don't Fear Own Thoughts Nor Apologize for Being

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph. D.

They do not fear their own thoughts, the important ones, nor are they apologists for their own existence. They dare to walk or sit or stand alone but do not shove their way through a crowd, nor do they attempt to intimidate others with the tyranny of the loud voice, or the clever catch phrase and when they do communicate with all of their senses alive and cognizant, and when they listen, the listening is also feeling and if this intensity appears too quiet or even absent minded, it is because they try to absorb the total value of what you have to say, without fear, secure in their own beliefs.

A soft speaking, attractive and totally female important one truthfully envisioned herself capable of being President of the United States, without conceit. Politically knowing, she had a head start, recognizing the long, tough road ahead. At the age of 19 she had already achieved a degree of political influence through hard work and thoughtful concentration to the job at hand.

But she continued to listen to the voices around her, sifting, weighing, making decisions. One voice was absent and she knew not what that voice might be saying.

Yes, she heard the word freedom but it sounded unreal because such words as force and power and majority and compromise were too frequently heard in the same sentence and Leanna Koehn cried, "Wherefore, Wherefore!" In anguish, "My country, my country, Wherefore hast thou forsaken me?" and wept for her doomed people, "Casting ashes and dust upon her head, To assuage the terror and the sorrow For a nation that sold Freedom, as if they were her sins."

Listening, with all her strength, she understood, the people were "Crying, 'save us!' and she listened. But they wanted no real deliverance, No Freedom." And Miss Leanna continued to listen and to write:

"I would have been a household word, a name that people would have used, When they discussed the pros and cons of varying degrees of slavery. I have no desire to be a crucifix. Nailed to a nation's walls."

The end of a dream came with the understanding of the martyrdom involved in accepting responsibility for those who insist upon being irresponsible. With no lust for power, nothing else remained and Leanna Koehn wrote:

"I raised my shoulders from beneath their burden: 'I raised my head to look up. My Beacon waited me there in the sky. With a smile I reached my hand to close it on a star.' In the final verse of her poem of release from the earth, she wrote:

"For all the earth is mine, I will be with you and for you."

Turning Back The Years

(From the files of the Pampa Daily News)

30 Years Ago Today Dec. 26, 1933

Directors of the Board of City Development will meet tonight to elect officers for 1934.

The mercury dropped seven degrees to 16 above between 5 a.m. and noon today to give Pampa its coldest weather of the year.

25 Years Ago Today.

Two men received severe but not fatal burns in fires over the weekend. Paul Gavin was burned about the arms and shoulders, early Sunday morning when his home in the Talley Addition was destroyed by fire. W. A. (Bill) Roberts suffered back and arm burns in a fire which followed an explosion in his room at the Santa Fe Hotel.

10 Years Ago Today

A former member of the United States diplomatic service was a visitor in Pampa. He was Everett Buckingham, who visited in the home of his brother, Howard Buckingham, 1030 Mary Ellen. The Pampa visitor was attached to the U.S. embassy in Warsaw, Poland, for four and one-half years and later was in Teheran, Cuba, Newfoundland and Greenland.

Pampa residents shopped for practical gifts rather than luxuries, according to a post-Christmas shopping survey.

atwart the years, "The land attends my coming with a song. I am no more bound by the four walls of a ballot box; Now all the earth lies fallow to my hands. Only the Free can hold the keys to life." I have quoted from the poem, "The Reluctant Christ," by Miss Leanna Koehn of Dodge City, Kansas, with her permission and I would consider it a privilege if I were permitted to quote no more than this single line: "I am no more bound by the four walls of a ballot box." For the first time since I have been writing this column, I will use less than the space generally allotted to me. To the poignancy of Miss Koehn's declaration, I will only add: Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

The American Way

By HARRY BROWNE

Editor, Freedom Magazine

Authors continually attempt to define the word "freedom."

They create high-sounding phrases to capture its meaning; but soon find they have to qualify their definitions when they descend from the abstract to the practical. Then they are forced to make all kinds of exceptions and restrictions for the lofty ideal they've just created.

They become trapped by such questions as "Does freedom of speech include the right to shout 'fire' in a crowded theatre?" Or perhaps "Does freedom mean letting companies engage in 'cut-throat' competition?"

In the end, their concept of freedom becomes nothing more than a limited area in which we are free to move as we desire — so long as our desires conform with those of the ruling authority.

True Meaning

Obviously, that isn't freedom. But what is? The answer is very simple. It was eloquently expressed by Joseph Galambos when he said: "Freedom is where each and every person has 100 per cent control of his property."

Isn't that an expressive definition? It requires no elaboration, no qualification, no exceptions. "Freedom is where each and every person has 100 per cent control of his property."

With this as the yardstick, we can answer any question. For example, any person can shout "fire" on his own premises; but not in any theatre, if that is against the rules laid down by the theatre owner.

Free Choice

And all companies and consumers should have the right to exchange their products and paychecks in whatever way they voluntarily choose to do. At the same time, no one has the right to infringe upon the property of others.

Anti-trust laws, zoning laws, licensing laws, regulation of business, income taxes and other restrictions are all invasions of the freedom of each to control his own property.

It is the height of hypocrisy to attempt to picture them as elements of freedom when they are just the opposite. Our progress toward greater freedom requires that these laws be repealed. In their place, we must help each man to develop the capacity for self-government — the ability to govern his own affairs.

Toward Freedom

To promote justice, prosperity and human respect, we should be aiming toward more freedom, more control over one's own property — rather than a passing new laws designed to lessen man's self-control. Keep this meaningful yardstick in mind whenever new ways are proposed "to promote the general welfare." Ask yourself whether freedom will be increased or decreased. And remember: "Freedom is where each and every person has 100 per cent control of his property."

HOW TO ADDRESS OUR LAW MAKERS

You may wish to write your senators and representatives in Washington and Austin. Here are their addresses: (FEDERAL) Rep. Walter Rogers, House Office Bldg., Washington 25, D. C. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Senate Bldg., Washington 25, D. C. Sen. John Tower, Senate Office Bldg., Washington 25, D. C. (STATE) Rep. Granger McWhorter, House of Representatives, Austin, Texas. Sen. Grady Haxelwood, State Senate Bldg., Austin, Texas.

WATERY CLASSROOM—Oklahoma Air National Guardsmen get slightly damp while training at Federal Aviation Agency's center at Oklahoma City Municipal Airport. The guardsmen, who have been flying C-97 troop carriers to Japan, are required to practice getting out of a land plane that has ditched at sea. In top photo, a fuselage has been lowered into the training pool. At the sound of the ditching bell a life raft is tossed out and inflated and the crew piles out, taking radio and other survival gear with them. Below, they float in the raft momentarily before trying the exercise again.

Washington Window No Promises Made Of Balanced Budget

By LYLE C. WILSON United Press International Conservative Democrats and Republicans alike are slow to get the word that in all of President Johnson's talk of government economy there is mighty little emphasis and no promise at all of a balanced federal budget.

The new President's ideas on economy have had more public exposure than any other aspect of his thinking since he took office. This is partly by Johnson's choice and partly a seasonal thing, this being the time at which the new budget is being put in final form.

Conservative citizens may have believed that the United States at last was in charge of a Democratic administration that would break with the spending theories of the Roosevelt, Truman and Kennedy administrations. These citizens should await further development. The chances are that their optimism is without foundation.

Holds Spendings Line The new President talks in terms of specific economies, some of them small although newsworthy, such as a cut in the number of big, expensive limousines allotted to government brass. He takes pride, and rightly, in his effort to hold the spending line. But this is line holding with qualifications - very substantial qualifications.

President Johnson is committed to the theory that federal budgets and federal spending must increase from year to year. He is not committed nor does he appear to be friendly to the theory that there are large areas of federal spending which could be diminished or abolished without hurt to national defense nor to the general welfare.

On the contrary, the President told newsmen last week that he was starting on his own 1965 budget where the late President Kennedy left off with at the Northwest corner of Section 36, and extending in a southerly direction to the Southwest corner of Section 28, Tyler Tap RR, Co. Quotes From The News

By United Press International
MOSCOW — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, warning that Russia will remain strong despite defense cutbacks.
"We are realists and we see perfectly well that there exist forces quite substantial, which are not averse to starting on the road of new military adventures."

ATLANTA — State officials who assigned marksmen to fire shotguns into swarms of starlings in an attempt to get rid of the birds.
"The idea is not so much to kill them as to scare them."

WASHINGTON — President Johnson, warning against further cuts in the foreign aid program.
"We cannot oppose the spread of communism and promote the growth of freedom by giving speeches."

LA PAZ — Bolivia's left-wing vice president, Juan Lechin, after the National Miners Union he heads released 21 hostages.
"I can tell you that episodes such as this will be repeated."

IT'S A WINNER—Ornate structure, above, is this year's winner of the Design in Steel Award for use of welded steel reinforcing bars, usually encased in concrete. It tops the observation tower at Vacation Village, Mission Bay, San Diego, Calif.

Season Appropriate To Reaffirm Faith

Christmas 1963

In this season bringing the feast of Christmas, the celebration of the birth of our Lord and Savior, we who are Christians reaffirm our devotion to Jesus Christ and His way, and dedicate again the conduct of our lives to the precepts of His teachings.

In the destiny of our private lives — and in the public affairs of our Nation — we rely on Divine Providence to be our strength and our guide and our succor. If anyone needs a reminder that faith is a continuing powerful force in American life, the prayers, conduct, and statements of our citizens, public and private, in the wake of the assassination of President Kennedy, should indeed provide strong reassurance.

Through all of our history has run the theme of Christian faith. Our Constitution determined that there should be a separation in American life of church and state, that one must not control or dictate to the other, and in so doing our forefathers gave to Americans one of our most precious freedoms — the right to worship God in the manner we find most fitting. From our earliest history, the men who were charged with the responsibility of governing this nation sought to invoke the blessings of the Supreme Being on the conduct of their offices and on the continuance, in safety and prosperity, of the United States. And so it is today.

Inaugural addresses of the presidents show that each has sought strength and direction from above, and that the grace of God is the dependence upon which our future rests.

I'd like to quote for you, as space allows, some deep expressions of faith by our presidents:

George Washington, April 30, 1789 — "No people can be bound to acknowledge and adore the invisible hand which conducts the affairs of men more than those of the United States."

John Adams, March 4, 1797 — "Adm may that Being who is supreme over all, the Patron of Order, the Fountain of Justice, and the Protector in all ages of the world of virtuous liberty, continue His blessing upon this nation and its government and give it all possible success and duration consistent with the ends of His providence."

Thomas Jefferson, March 4, 1805 — "I shall need, too, the favor of that Being in whose hands we are, who led our fathers, as Israel of old, from their native land and planted them in a country flowing with all the necessities and comforts of life."

John Quincy Adams, March 4, 1825 — "I shall look for whatever success shall attend my public service; and knowing that 'except the Lord keep the city the watchman waketh but in vain,' with fervent applications for His favor, to His overruling providence I commit with humble but fearless confidence my own fate and the future destinies of my country."

Franklin Pierce, March 4, 1853 — "It must be felt that there is no national security but in the nation's humble, acknowledged dependence upon God and His overruling providence."

Abraham Lincoln, March 4, 1865 — "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle and for his widow and his orphan, to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

William McKinley, March 4, 1897 — "Our faith teaches that there is no safer reliance than upon the God of our fathers, who has so singularly favored the American people in every national trial, and who will not forsake us so long as we obey His commandments and walk humbly in His footsteps."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, March 4, 1933 — "In this dedication of a nation we humbly ask the blessing of God. May He protect each and every one of us. May He guide me in the 'days to come.'"

Harry S. Truman, Jan. 20, 1949 — "With God's help, the future of mankind will be assured in a world of justice, harmony and peace."

Dwight D. Eisenhower, Jan. 21, 1957 — "Before all else, we seek, upon our common labor as a nation, the blessings of Almighty God. And the hopes in our hearts fashion the deepest prayers of our whole people."

John F. Kennedy, Jan. 21, 1961 — "Finally, whether you are citizens of America or citizens of the world, ask of us the same high standards of strength and sacrifice which we ask of you. With a good conscience our only sure reward, with history the final judge of our deeds, let us go forth to lead the land we love, asking His blessings and His help, but knowing that here on earth God's work must truly be our own."

Yes, in God we do trust. And in God we must continue to place our trust, and that of our nation.

Recent visitors included Aaron T. Isaacs, Houston Lust and Calvin Petty, all of Dimmitt; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Edwards of Panhandle and Grady Fox of Amarillo.

From Mrs. Rogers and the children, as from me, a very Happy New Year.
