WEATHER
PAMPA AND VICINITY: Fair to partly cloudy today through Thursday, continued cold today and tonight. Warming Thursday. High yesterday 32, low 9.

Senators Eulogize Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate, where he served for eight years, voiced its own special tribute today to John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

The entire Senate session was reserved for eulogies to the President who was slain by an assassin Nov. 22 in Dallas, Tex. No other business was scheduled.

Brief and moving tributes were paid to the late President at a special, unscheduled Senate session on the morning of Nov. 25, shortly before Kennedy's flag-draped coffin was removed from the great Rotunda of the Capitol for funeral services at St. Matthew's Cathedral.

But only Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., spoke on that occasion.

Pay Tributes

Other senators had their chance today to pay their own tributes to the boyish Massachusetts senator who moved from a back row seat to the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960 and went on to defeat then Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the GOP nominee, for the presidency.

The House held a similar session last Wednesday, with dozens of members paying tribute to the slain President's memory in a four-hour session.

Kennedy served six years in the House before winning election to the Senate in 1952. He had served one full Senate term and two years of a second when he moved up to the White House.

The session today was announced by Mansfield on Nov. 25 the day after Kennedy was buried at Arlington National Cemetery.

By a quirk of fate, Kennedy's youngest brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., was presiding over the Senate when the fatal shots rang out in Dallas and the first news reached the Capitol moments later.

New Coin

In a related action, President Johnson asked Congress Tuesday to authorize the minting of a new 50-cent piece bearing the late President's likeness.

If approved, the new coin would replace the 15-year-old Benjamin Franklin half-dollar and would be the first of that denomination to bear a portrait of a former President.

In his message to Congress, Johnson indicated that his request was prompted in part by similar appeals from "many Americans" in letters written since the assassination. The same sort of widespread public demand was credited by a Treasury Department spokesman for adoption of only two other such designs, the Lincoln penny in 1909 and the Franklin D. Roosevelt dime in 1946.

WHITE CHRISTMAS — The snow under the giant Christmas tree, erected by radio station KHHH on the lot of the burned La Nora theater, gives a promise of a possible "White Christmas." The weather forecast calls for slightly warmer temperatures tomorrow following temperatures as low as nine degrees Tuesday evening and early today.

Season's First Snow Glazes Pampa Streets

The first snow of the season blew into Pampa last night on the heels of a biting cold front which made driving extremely hazardous. No major accidents were reported in the area, however.

Bill Bowen, of the Panhandle Amateur Weather Network, reported the high yesterday to be 32 with a low of 9 last night. A half inch of snow covered the ice that was on the streets due to the freezing mist that fell in the afternoon and early evening. The snow melted to .05 moisture, Bowen said.

Foster Whaley, county Agriculture agent, said that no damage among cattle had been reported to him. The Highway Patrol said no major accidents had been reported within the immediate Pampa area. No fires were reported in Pampa.

Don Jennings of Amarillo was burned to death in an accident about a mile south of Bradshaw, which killed three other persons. The head-on collision was attributed to the rain and fog.

The storm barreled deep into Texas, bringing an average of 11 to 15 degrees below normal temperatures to North Central and Northeast Texas. South Texas had an 8 to 10 degree drop.

Singer Released On Street

BULLETIN
WEST LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Young singer Frank Sinatra Jr.'s kidnapers turned him loose unharmed today after the youth talked them into letting him go before they knew $240,000 ransom had been paid by his famous father.

"He talked that guy into turning him loose, that's what he told me," said the security guard who picked up Frank Jr. shortly after he was released near his mother's home.

Terrorists in Bolivia Blast Residence

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI) — Terrorists attacked the home of Bolivia's labor minister with dynamite and bullets today shortly after the government gave rebellious tin miners a 48-hour ultimatum to release 17 hostages, including four Americans, or face military action.

A stick of dynamite, commonly used in mining operations, was thrown on the doorstep of Labor Minister Anibal Aguilar Penarrieta at dawn and two shots were fired into the house.

West Coast Lawyer Takes Ruby Defense

DALLAS (UPI) — Melvin Belli, flamboyant San Francisco lawyer, today took charge of defending Jack Ruby, self-styled avenger of President Kennedy's assassination.

"Because of justice," Belli said, he took the case. He charged into Dallas wearing cowboy boots and a fur-collared overcoat and spent nearly two hours in Ruby's closely guarded cell.

"We will plead him not guilty by reason of insanity," Belli said. "We will be ready by the scheduled trial date of Feb. 3."

Belli said Ruby would be tried "thoroughly, detailedly and meticulously" in the court room and he would not discuss intricacies of defense with news media. He said he had no objection to live radio, television or photographic coverage of the trial, which had not been settled.

By JOSEPH FINNIGAN United Press International WEST LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Young singer Frank Sinatra Jr., kidnaped at a Lake Tahoe resort two days ago, was returned early today after $240,000 ransom was paid by his famous father.

Frank Sinatra Sr. held an impromptu news conference outside his first wife's palatial hilltop home in Bel-Air in pre-dawn darkness to describe the return only minutes before, of his 19-year-old son.

"I'm sorry," were the boy's first words, his father said. He added the boy appeared unharmed although "he hadn't eaten much."

Sinatra said he had talked with Frank Jr. twice during eight telephone conversations with the kidnapers in the two days.

The first call was to his motel in Reno, Nev., where he kept a tense vigil.

"They said they had the boy, and, bang, that was the end of the conversation," the senior Sinatra said.

He said he believed seven or nine persons were involved in the kidnaping. He said he usually talked to the same kidnaper each time, a man whose voice led Sinatra to believe he was in his early 20s.

Sinatra said the money was left in a piece of luggage at the U.S. Veterans Hospital on Wilshire Boulevard, not far from where the Sinatra home is located. He said the ransom, collected from several banks Tuesday, was paid in $100, $50, (See SINATRA JR., Page 7)

Sabotage Report Spurs Security Check for All Air Force Bases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Armed Services Committee will be asked to check the security at all Air Force bases following the Defense Department's admission that 61 planes were sabotaged at an Arizona base.

Rep. Leslie C. Arends, ranking GOP member of the committee, termed the revelation "shocking." He said Tuesday that he planned to ask the committee to investigate all military security precautions.

He said the sabotage incident revealed a laxity in our military security that was "incomprehensible and inexcusable."

The Defense Department said Tuesday that 61 T38 jet training planes had the electrical wires leading from the power system to the gears cut. The wires ran along the outside of the plane. All of the planes were stationed at Williams Air Force base, Ariz.

The planes were grounded but officials said the sabotage was not considered dangerous. Under ordinary conditions, officials said the damage would have been discovered before the planes were used in flight.

According to reports from Williams, the sabotage was discovered by ground crews on a routine check.

In a brief speech to the House, Arends said the incident would never have taken place if the proper security precautions were followed.

He said the sabotaging of a single military plane at a U.S. air base would be hard to understand. "To have 61 planes sabotaged is incomprehensible and inexcusable," he said.

The FBI was called in to investigate the incident, but as yet there have been no arrests. There has been speculation that the planes may have been damaged by a disgruntled civilian employe at the base or a dissatisfied serviceman.

Texan Again On Panel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. John Young, D-Tex., today was serving on the House Rules Committee, replacing another Texas Democrat, Rep. Homer Thornberry.

Thornberry was named to a federal judgeship in Texas by the late President Kennedy. He will leave the House Dec. 20.

Thornberry's letter of resignation from the committee, effective immediately, was read to the House Tuesday and Young was appointed.

House liberals were not happy at Young's selection by Speaker John W. McCormack to replace Thornberry on this crucial, closely divided committee, which sometimes holds life or death powers over controversial bills.

Ex-Councilman Houston Mayor

HOUSTON (UPI) — A former councilman, Louis Welch defeated political newcomer Bob Hervey Tuesday by more than 13,000 votes in unofficial returns of a runoff election for mayor.

Welch and Hervey both had defeated incumbent Mayor Louis Cutrer in the Nov. 16 primary.

Bids Announced on Canadian Project

Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa announced today that the Bureau of Reclamation will invite bids during December on construction of four large in-door - type pumping plants between Sanford and Amarillo on the main aqueduct of the Canadian river project.

Residents Take Cold in Stride

Pampans today were taking the bitter cold snap in stride. City street department crews were out early this morning spreading sand at main intersections.

Service station attendants reported the first onslaught of service calls to start engines in cars stalled by overnight cold temperatures.

Public and parochial schools in Pampa held classes as usual today and little, if any, drop in attendance was noticed because of icy streets and cold weather.

School buses maintained their regular schedules this morning although drivers were forced to proceed with extra caution.

Supt. Jack Edmonson said the school buses were only about two minutes behind schedule on re-loading of students at the high school for trips to other schools.

Pampans attending social affairs Tuesday night had difficulty freeing car windshields of ice when they were ready to start for home.

Kenya Notes Independence

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Tribesmen and city dwellers today staged premature celebrations of Kenya's independence, which becomes official at midnight tonight in a ceremony ending Britain's 68 years of rule over this rich East African nation.

Heavy rainfall hampered the festivities, but Africans in the capital and countryside already were celebrating "uhuru," or freedom, as the last day of British dependence dawned.

Prince Philip, the husband of Queen Elizabeth, and many other foreign dignitaries including U. S. Assistant Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams, United Auto Workers' President Walter Reuther, and Negro author James Baldwin were here to witness the lowering of the Union Jack in the stadium ceremony.

Space Age Santa Claus Due in Pampa Friday

Pampa will be host to Santa Friday and Saturday when he arrives in his giant rocket sleigh. No fallout is expected, however, as the nuclear-fission craft carries some 10,000 children over the streets of Pampa.

Every child in the area can ride on the 40-foot rocket sleigh, largest in the world. Local merchants foot the bill for the ride and Santa's space hostess and helpers give away free candy.

This is one phase of the nuclear space program that costs the federal government nothing.

The Pampa retail, wholesale and professional businesses are paying for the entire attraction.

Safety experts designed the huge craft so that 100 boys and girls can safely enter the craft for the ride and a chat with Santa.

Santa phones orders direct to the North pole over his personal telephone in the sleigh.

Parents and grandparents may ride with the little astronauts.

The merchants activities committee of the Chamber of Commerce is going all out to make

Dear Abby... Small Town Needs Some Imports

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that bothers me immensely. We have a new minister whose language is atrocious. I can hardly sit through his sermons any more. He says, "He done," "had went" and "they is."

Abby, don't you think that after four years in Bible college he should be able to do better than that? My ten-year-old son notices these mistakes and mentions them to me. Is there a remedy?

SMALL TOWN

DEAR SMALL: I don't know how "small" your town is, but if the people were bigger they could raise enough money to import a more literate minister.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law is interfering with my marriage. We have lived with her ever since we've been married and she is the type who likes to run everything herself because nobody can do anything as well. I have never made a meal, and I am not allowed to clean or iron. If I do anything, she does it over. My husband thinks I should consider myself lucky to have free room and board. When his mother criticizes me, my husband never says a word to defend me. Should I leave him now before we have any children?

UNHAPPY

DEAR UNHAPPY: If it's a question only of whether you should leave him BEFORE you have children, or AFTER you have had them, I'd say leave him now. Better yet, why don't you BOTH leave his mother? The room and board is far from free—it's costing your happiness.

DEAR ABBY: I have recently moved to a city where I have no friends and know very few people. I would like to meet a handicapped girl between 20 and 30. All the handicapped girls I have ever met have such a sweet quality about them. Perhaps it is because they have suffered and consequently have more feeling and depth. This may seem strange to you, but I have my reasons. Where can I meet such a girl?

DEAR "S": The local Society for Crippled Children and Adults (also known as the Easter Seal Society) is listed in your telephone directory. Ask them if you may be included in their next social get-together when their local club meets. I am sure they will welcome you.

Plans to give a Christmas basket to the needy family helped by the group Thanksgiving were made. Gifts for this basket should be taken to the office of Martin and Turner, 107 N. Frost, before Dec. 21.

Letters from Mrs. Rhea Smith, Mrs. Ora Ott and Mrs. Lillian McNutt were read.

The next meeting, Jan. 2, will be held in the home of Mrs. Ann Heskew, 1120 N. Somerville, at 7:30 p.m.

The Clothes Poll

These days, the best dressed women come apart at the seams. But that's not a disadvantage, as you will see.

To the trusty zipper and the imagination of a few designers we owe a group of convertible fashions that are hard to beat for versatility. They're economical, too, if you can afford the initial investment.

Although short evening coats are fashionable, many women don't like the line created by a long skirt under a short wrap. And a few enterprising fur designers have come up with the perfect answer.

They give us full-length evening coats from which a strip of three or four skins can be zipped off at the bottom to make the coat daytime length. And to add to the rosy picture, the zipped-off skins can be worn as a stole.

Other long evening furs zip apart at the neckline to make handsome jackets.

Of course, these coats are in mink and sable. But when they get around to zipping bunny fur into sections, won't that be a boon to the working girl?

You can buy "sectional" evening gowns, too. And they are a find for the girl who occasionally needs a formal gown but would find a pretty cocktail dress far more practical a purchase.

There are long evening dresses that actually are daytime length tunics over slim evening skirts. The two pieces come apart. You can wear the tunic as a cocktail dress, with the skirt as a floor-length gown, or you can top the skirt with a different evening blouse and have two formal gowns.

So happy holidays. You can zip in and out of formal and informal evenings in the same dress and coat, with no one the wiser.

Chic Chat

Q — I am getting married in December and plan to go to the Caribbean for my honeymoon. Can you give me a general idea of the kind of clothing I will need?—Alma T.

A — Dear Alma T: You should take a minimum of two swimsuits and a beach robe or some covering to wear over your suit on your way to the beach. Three pairs of Bermuda shorts, two pairs of slacks and several shirts should take care of most of your daytime wear. But when you shop in town, wear a light dress. Shorts or slacks are frowned on for town wear in most island resorts. For evening a stole and/or cashmere cardigan will be enough cover. Your dresses should be in bright colors in fabrics such as chiffon, lace or linen.

Please send your fashion problems to Helen Hennessy in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column. . .

Mission Study Held by Circle

Betty Tension Circle of Hobart Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Arnold Hale, 932 S. Banks, recently for a program based on the mission book, "Bill Wallace of China". The meeting was opened by repeating the W.M.U. Watchword. The prayer calendar and prayer followed. Mrs. Glendie Watson, chairman, was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. Delmar Barefoot, program chairman, brought the discussion.

Mrs. Warren Thomas adjourned the session with prayer. There were eight members present for the meeting, after

Like most homemakers I juggle the available cash to fit demands graded in order of importance. Thus, when the orthodontist told us firmly that not one but two of the children were in need of his talents the reaction echoed clear down the budget line. Plans for replacing two still-strong but seedy end tables were scotched.

What to do? The venerated round tops can't be refinished. "Cover them a la Victorian decor," suggested a knowing friend.

Victorian-style floor length round table cloths were often dark, heavy affairs of velvet or paisley. But today we can select from a beautiful assortment of colors and fabrics more in keeping with modern interiors. Such coverups are fine camouflage for any round table that has seen better days.

Select fabric according to how and where the table will be used.

For a table cover that will be washable, I like some of the new blends of Avril rayon and cotton.

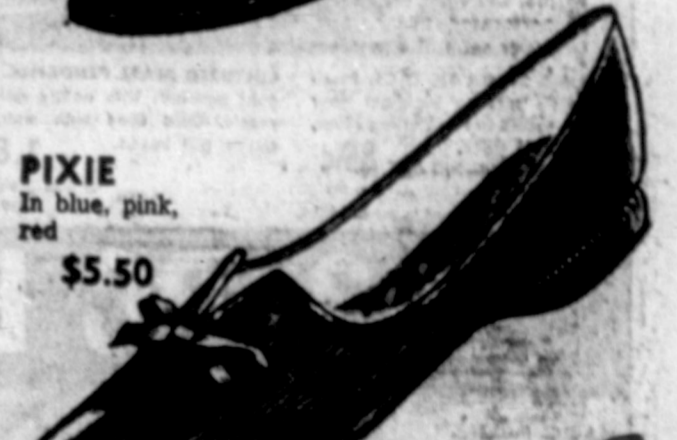

If you will use the table for dining, have a couple of square top cloths banded in matching braid.

To make a round cloth, first measure the diameter of the table. Then measure from table edge to floor and double this measurement. Add the two measurements and you have the width needed.

Measure the table from its center to the floor and cut a string the length of this measurement (add two or three inches for the hem). Attach one end of the string to a pencil and hold the other end in the center of the fabric and draw a circle. Add the trim.

Top cloth is simply a hemmed square with braid border.

'Clearing House' Due For U.S. Gas Industry

SANTA FE, N. M. (UPI) — Federal Power Commissioner Lawrence J. O'Connor Jr. today called for creation of an information clearing house to solve the major technical problems of the natural gas industry.

O'Connor, speaking at the annual Interstate Oil Compact Commission meeting, urged the representatives of 33-oil producing states to enter a new phase of cooperation between government and industry to help eliminate the "weaknesses in the information picture" of the gas industry.

Also speaking at the meeting's first general session was Gov. Mathew E. Welsh of Indiana, chairman of the IOCC, who reported on the progress of the historic special efficiency study of oil conservation laws and policies in the member states.

The study, suggested by Interior Secretary Stewart Udall last April, is expected to be completed within a year and will be a comprehensive analysis of the oil and gas industry. O'Connor said there is an immediate need for standardization among the states and federal agencies of uniform measurement of natural gas. He suggested the IOCC make it a top priority item.

O'Connor suggested the U.S. Census Bureau as a possible center of gas industry information, or pointing a joint government-industry clearing house. He noted there is a great need for a standard pressure base in the industry for stating gas volumes, now reported to the government 14 different ways. There also is a need for a universal standard for the heating value of natural gas in the so-called "cubic feet," which has not been standardized, he said.

"A soon-to-be-released report by one of the Federal Power Commission's national power survey advisory committees predicts that in spite of the fact that coal will capture a larger percentage of future markets for electric power production," he said, "the amounts to be supplied by natural gas are staggering."

"Consumption of gas for this purpose will increase from 1.73 trillion cubic feet in 1960 to 4.06 trillion cubic feet in 1980, the report estimates."

The annual conference, which governors of nine oil-producing states are attending, will conclude Wednesday with the election of new officers and the reports of standing committees on progress in the special study.

"Have trouble with plastic curtains or tablecloths wrinkling after you wash them? Press them between a piece of cloth with the iron set at 'silk' and the wrinkles will disappear."

When we went looking for a new home, they wouldn't take our present home in trade because the Negroes have been moving into this area," said Mrs. Hillis. "The Negroes are still eight or ten blocks from us, but our property isn't worth what it used to be because of this."

Mrs. Hillis, a 33-year-old housewife, said she sided with the Negro cause more than a year ago. That was before the Hillis property value dropped.

Take Legal Steps Last summer, the late President Kennedy issued an executive order forbidding discrimination in any building project that receives federal aid. The U. S. Supreme Court has outlawed real estate covenants that restrict home buying to certain racial groups.

A 1961 Indiana law provides that any person who bars another from a public housing project "by reason of race, creed or color" is subject to a maximum penalty of 30 days imprisonment and a $100 fine. There have been no convictions.

Many other ordinances, resolutions and rulings have been issued to forestall actual or de facto segregated housing, but few have resulted in great success. Most are superseded by an unwritten law: When Negroes move in, whites move out.

Negroes themselves are making an effort at education campaigns to forestall panic selling by whites and greedy buying by Negroes.

Some of the strongest sentiment against Negroes moving into predominantly white residential areas has been in the non-South.

When Harold Amos, a Negro, started constructing a home in a white suburb of Buffalo, N.Y., anti-Negro slogans were scrawled on the partially completed dwelling. The Rev. Robert A. Rounce, a white clergyman, appeared with 20 of his church members the next day and painted over the words.

Main Problem Negroes say their main housing problem is finding adequate homes for low income Negroes and housing they can afford.

A high-rise, high-rent apartment building now dominates the scene in Atlanta's "Buttermilk Bottom," formerly an area of dilapidated Negro shacks. But some of the best low-cost housing available to Negroes in the nation has replaced the slums.

The most desirable Negro section in Jacksonville, N. C. is a new subdivision developed by a prominent white builder. The project resulted from efforts of James Robinson, publisher of the Jacksonville Daily News. The homes are two- and three-story brick structures on paved streets.

The negative side of Jacksonville's Negro housing is along lower Court and Kerr streets. This is the city's garbage and sewage disposal area.

When it comes to segregation versus integration, "lines of communication" between the races often make the difference in peace or tension.

"When it comes to housing, I don't think the Negro understands the way the white feels, and I don't think the whites are making any attempt to know how the Negro feels," says Mrs. Thomas Newman, a white housewife in Eminence, Ky. "The Negroes are going too fast in housing."

Two of the largest concentrations of Negroes in the world are in New York City and Chicago. In Chicago the Negro population has gained 65 per cent in the past 10 years. During the same period, the white population decreased by 13 per cent.

Housing Problem Major One for Negroes in U. S.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Many Negroes believe the only string that should be attached to obtaining housing should be the purse string. The following dispatch reports on the sentiments and problems the Negro faces in obtaining a place to live.

By AL KUETNER United Press International When a Negro goes house-hunting, he is headed for one of the major tension points of the civil rights dispute.

Even in areas where there is almost whole-hearted sympathy for the Negro revolution, there is an attitude that the problem should be solved "but not in my neighborhood."

A railroad track... a river front... the end of the pavement. Those are the boundary lines in city after city between the white and Negro sections. Negroes say they still are restricted to ghetto life, regardless of how extensive their neighborhoods or how expensive their dwellings.

Most states report that Negroes live in their own neighborhoods "by custom." But "whose custom is it?" asked one Negro.

"You might say that Negroes are just expanding the ghetto," reported a St. Louis Negro newspaper publisher.

In just about every state in the nation where there is a sizeable Negro population, a move by Negroes toward or into a white neighborhood produces an exodus or violence — sometimes both.

Same Everywhere It is the same in Folcroft, Pa., Dayton, Ohio, Atlanta, Denver, San Francisco, New York or scores of other spots. It is fear of lowered property values. It is, for Negro and white, a stubborn battle for the biggest material investment most of them ever make: a home.

In Oklahoma City, Mrs. Leaven B. Hillis says some of the most tolerant whites are those who live in "safe" neighborhoods.

"When we went looking for a new home, they wouldn't take our present home in trade because the Negroes have been moving into this area," said Mrs. Hillis. "The Negroes are still eight or ten blocks from us, but our property isn't worth what it used to be because of this."

Mrs. Hillis, a 33-year-old housewife, said she sided with the Negro cause more than a year ago. That was before the Hillis property value dropped.

Baptist Name Center Pastor

DALLAS (UPI) — Dr. J. Carroll Chadwick, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Center, Tex., was elected chairman of the 192-member Texas Baptist Executive Board Tuesday.

In unexpected action at the Gaston Avenue Baptist Church here the board voted by acclamation to promote vice chairman Chadwick to the chairman's position.

Dr. L. L. Morris, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Midland, Tex., had been expected to win election as chairman.

It developed, however, that Morris was ineligible for the post because his term on the board had expired and he is no longer a member of the board.

The board also elected by acclamation C. L. Robertson, insurance man from Paducah, Tex., as vice chairman of the board and re-elected Dr. R. A. Springer of Dallas, treasurer of the Baptist Convention, as recording secretary for the board.

Oil Man OKs LBJ's Stand

DALLAS (Spl) — Asked for comment on Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall's report that President Johnson had asked his department to take over major decisions on oil matters, James L. Sewell, Dallas, president of Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, said: "The Interior Department being the only cabinet department with an oil and gas function, appears to be the logical place for formulation of major executive branch decisions concerning the U. S. petroleum industry."

"Clarification of lines of authority and fixing of responsibilities appear to be characteristic of President Johnson's program. The industry has generally been impressed with the competence of key people in Interior who have a working knowledge of industry operations."

Gifts of the Magi

On the day before Christmas Della counted up her savings.

One dollar and eighty-seven cents. Pennies saved one and two at a time. Three times she counted it, but that was all.

There was clearly nothing to do but flop down on the shabby little couch and cry. So Della did it.

Della finished her cry and repaired her makeup. She stood by the window and looked dully at a gray cat walking a gray fence in a gray backyard.

Tomorrow would be Christmas Day, and she had only $1.87 to buy Jim a present. Many a happy hour she had spent planning for something fine, something worthy of being owned by Jim.

Suddenly she whirled from the window and stood before the mirror, her eyes shining brilliantly.

Walter Rogers Reports

Congress Follows Orderly Procedures

It is customary for a president of the United States, charged by the Constitution to "from time to time... recommend" to the Congress "such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient," to assign priorities to the legislative program proposed by his administration. President John F. Kennedy placed top priorities on the tax bill and civil rights legislation. It was to be expected that President Lyndon Johnson, who had worked closely with the late president in formulating the administration recommendations, would restate those priorities when he addressed the joint session of Congress last week.

But this does not mean that Congress, in the wake of reaction to President Kennedy's assassination, will put aside its traditional processes and rush to enactment those measures the late president so strongly advocated. By now it is clear that this will not happen. Congress will not do this for the very sound reason that it can't without abrogating the foundation strength of our legislative process.

Congress brings together 435 members of the House of Representatives and 100 Senators who, coming from every section of the United States, represent a diversity of views about what should be done in the exercise of legislative power granted by the Constitution. Reaching a consensus in such large bodies as the House and Senate is never easy. It is a most difficult process when legislation of sweeping impact — like the tax bill and civil rights bill — is laid before Congress for its deliberation and decision. Basically, the congressional process requires that reasonable men find a way to reconcile their differences and decide upon a common course of action. In committee study and floor debates in the two houses, the elected representatives of the people hammer out legislation that, if approved by a majority, is thus determined under our system of government to be acceptable to a majority of our citizens.

But under our system, the majority is not permitted to have its way until the minority has had its right to express its position. This system, traditionally so well respected in the House and Senate, permits those who dissent from a legislative proposal to exercise every last measure of their parliamentary right to be heard and to advocate another course.

In the wake of President Johnson's address to the joint session, editorial writers who understand and respect less well than the President the methods and means of Congressional action renewed their attacks on Congress for alleged "foot-dragging." One editorial complained that Congress is "one of the most lethargic legislative establishments in the history of democratic government." Congress needs no defense from me or from any American who respects the responsibility imposed on Congress to deliberate fully before acting. Congress should be judged by the quality of its acts — not the quantity of them. There is often more significance in what Congress does NOT enact as in what it does pass into law, and I would assure everyone that it is often more difficult to keep bad bills from becoming law than it is to pass good ones. However, for those who are more interested in the quantity than the quality of Congressional action I cite these statistics: Since Jan. 9, when the first session of the 88th Congress convened, through Nov. 30, 10,938 legislative measures were introduced in the House and 2,779 in the Senate; 653 bills were reported by House committees and 731 by committees of the Senate and 189 public and 107 private bills enacted into law.

Criticisms arise because national attention falls on a few measures such as the tax bill, the civil rights bill, and appropriations bills. The tax bill received the extended study it received in the House ways and means committee; which amended it measurably before sending it to the full House for thorough debate before it was passed. It is receiving the same careful deliberation in the Senate. The civil rights bill was highly controversial when it was being considered by the House judiciary committee; it is highly controversial in the rules committee where it is now pending; it will be bitterly controversial when it is debated by the full House. Appropriations bills have required lengthy consideration because of the efforts of many to effect substantial cuts. None of these measures will clear the Congress because of emotional pressures. They will be handled in the regular and orderly manner, as they should be. If this is "foot-dragging," let those who would criticize it make the most of it.

Unlike the 2,500,000 men and women who man the agencies and departments of the government's executive branch, the 435 House members and 100 Senators (and the 7,000 or so men and women of their personal and committee staffs) are directly accountable to the people of the United States through the elective process; I would urge Americans to remember that only one form of government brings quick action directly applied as a result of any problem laid before it — a totalitarian dictatorship. I'll take, and I know you would, OUR system.

Gov. Connally Goes to Hospital

AUSTIN (UPI) — Gov. John Connally today was taken to a hospital for treatment of a "superficial" inflammation of a vein in his right leg.

The governor's doctor said that no surgery is contemplated, and that he would be hospitalized at St. David's Hospital in Austin for about four or five days.

Connally was gravely wounded Nov. 22 by the same sniper that assassinated President Kennedy. The bullet of a high-powered rifle passed through his right chest, right wrist and lodged in his left leg.

Connally's doctor said his condition is not considered serious.

Military in Rule In Bolivia Town

ORURO, Bolivia (UPI) — Virtual martial law was in force today in this two-mile-high mining center, a key front-line position in a conflict between the government and its Communist-infiltrated opponents which could explode into civil war.

It was not certain what would happen later today when time runs out on an ultimatum presented to the government Monday by rebellious tin miners demanding the release of three imprisoned Communists within 24 hours.

LEFORS — Phil Woodring and Don McCool opened the fourth quarter with successive field goals to give the Lefors Pirates a lead they never again relinquished, propelling them into a 44-38 win over Stinnett and their fifth victory in a row.

The Shamrock Tournament champs blew a seven-point first-quarter lead, but the rebounding of Lightning Coleman and the shooting of McCool and Dave Roberts broke up a third-quarter tie and gave them the victory.

Phil Woodring, Roberts and Coleman completely dominated the boards in the opening frame, taking the ball away from Rattler big man Guymon Phillips and feeding it to McCool and Terry Bromlow on fast breaks. With Bromlow ballhawking, Lefors took a 13-6 margin, but Bobby Bain drove in at the buzzer to cut the edge to 14-10.

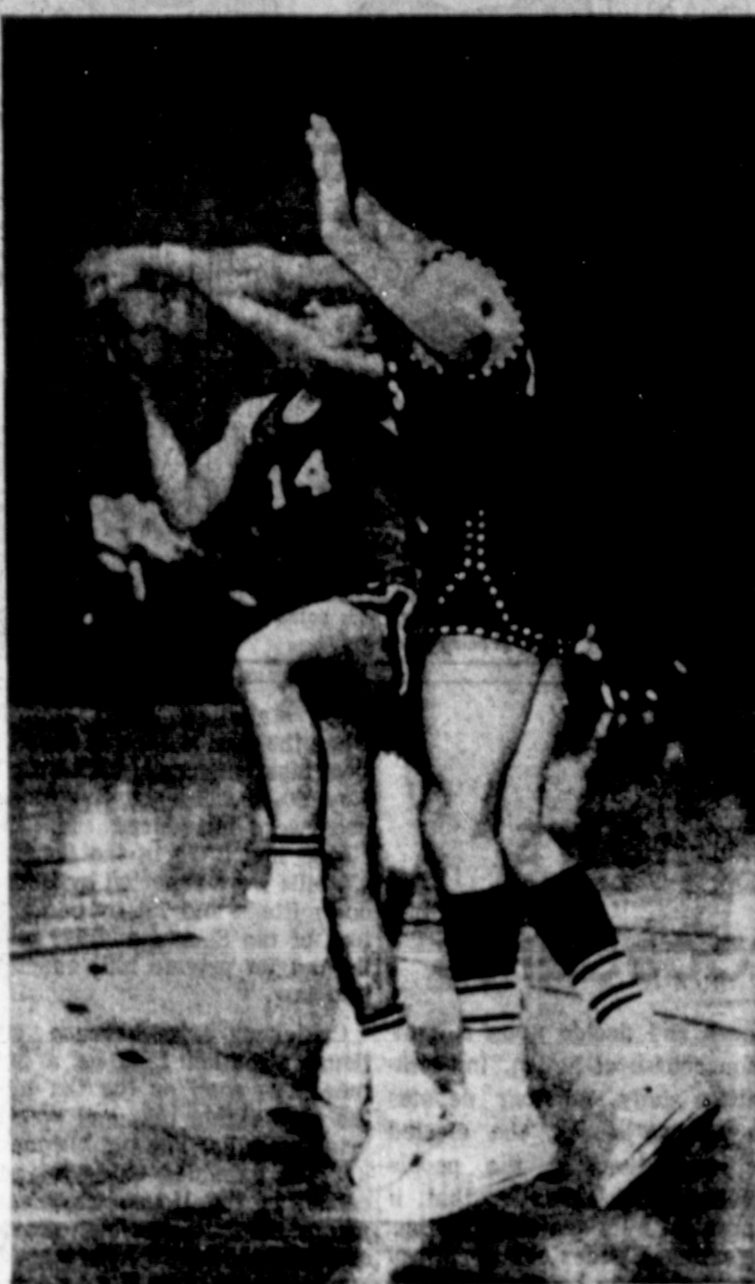

Roberts opened with a bucket to give the Buccaneers a six-point lead which they held through most of the second period as the Pirates again headed the boards, but threw the ball away on bad passes, with Bain again bucketing to tie the game at 20-all. Coleman hit two in a row and Lefors had a 24-22 half-time lead.

Bill Blackshear tied up the game and Ronnie Serber put Stinnett in the lead on a rebound dunk, but Roberts started hitting with deadly accuracy and the lead switched back and forth, going into the final frame at 32-all.

Lefors took the fourth-quarter lead and stayed two to four points ahead, as Stinnett tried to work the ball in, but couldn't get past the Buc defense. McCool and Coleman clinched the win with two closing buckets.

McCool had 16 points, Coleman had 10, and Roberts 10. Blackshear led the Snakes with 15 tallies. Coleman dragged down 15 rebound off the boards.

The Lefors Pirates played one of their best games of the season, but Stinnett pulled away in the final minutes for a 32-21 girls victory. Francie Clarke had eight and Kathy Gatlin seven points for the Pirates, Peggy Dean had 21 for Stinnett.

FOUL — The referee blows the whistle on this one as Don McCool of Lefors comes driving through, only to be "delayed" by Stinnett's Bill Blackshear. (Daily News Photo)

Pro Basketball

Confusion reigned supreme at Oakland, Calif., Tuesday night when Baltimore rookie Gus Johnson jumped to stuff in a shot against the San Francisco Warriors and broke the plexiglass backboard with his efforts.

Both coaches quickly lodged protests. Warrior mentor Alex Hannum filed one over the failure of officials to call a foul on the play. Baltimore's Bob Leonard filed his over a "defective backboard."

The contest was held up 25 minutes while the backboard was fixed and the Warriors went on to a 117-108 victory.

The evening's other National Basketball Association action took place in a twin bill before 8,237 fans at New York's Madison Square Garden.

St. Louis defeated Philadelphia, 113-103, and then Boston made its record 18-2 with a 132-113 decision over New York.

At Oakland, Wilt Chamberlain and Walt Bellamy led their clubs as usual. Chamberlain had 49 for San Francisco and Bellamy 36 for the losers.

In the opener at New York, reliable Mike Farmer of St. Louis had the highest one game total of his career with 27 points, but Bob Pettit still took team scoring honors with 28.

Johnny Kerr of the 76ers led everybody with 32 tallies.

In the nightcap, Boston's Tom Heinsohn and John Havlicek tossed in 27 points apiece.

Veteran Frank Ramsey of the Celtics played in his first contest since being criticized Monday by Commissioner Walter Kennedy.

The commissioner was irked by a magazine article in which Ramsey discussed methods of intentionally drawing fouls.

Ramsey had four fouls called on him, but he also hit in five free throws and had 15 points altogether.

LEE LOSES

PHILLIPS — The Lee 8th and 9th grades both suffered close defeats here last night, the Rebels being nipped by the Phillip 9th, 50-46 and the 8th grade being edged, 36-33. James Matney and Doc Cornutt each had 12 points for the Rebs, Gordon Bailey led the Little Rebs with 16 markers. Lee plays Sam Houston at Berger Thursday.

HILLEBRAND GETS AWARD

NEW YORK (UPI) — Linebacker Jerry Hillebrand was selected Tuesday as the New York Giants' rookie-of-the-year for 1963. The 240-pound former University of Colorado star was a unanimous choice of the sport writers who covered the Giants this season.

Chisox Trade Nellie Fox To Houston Colts

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox, for the second time in a decade, loaded their American League pennant hopes on a rookie today.

In 1956, the Sox traded shortstop Chico Carrasquel and assigned the job to Luis Aparicio. In 1959, the team won the pennant.

Tuesday, the Sox dealt veteran second baseman Nellie Fox, the league's most valuable player in 1959, to Houston for money and two minor league players.

"We don't think it poses a problem," Sox General Manager Ed Short said. "Don Buford can play second base. He's playing it right now in Puerto Rico, and Tony Cucinello is watching him, and feels he can do a pretty good job, and improve as he plays."

"He has tremendous speed, a good arm and he hits left or right handed. Last year he led the International League in times at bat, runs, doubles, stolen bases and batting average, and was voted most valuable player."

"We think Buford is going to be our second baseman, and Fox is the kind of player who wants to play every inning of every game. He's not going to be happy sitting on the bench, and if he's on the bench, you're not going to pay him as much."

"Going to Houston can prolong his career, and he can command the type of money he's been getting."

It was no surprise that Fox was dealt off to the National

SWC Roundup

By United Press International
Three Southwest Conference basketball squads tangled with out-of-state teams Tuesday and three SWC cage units were defeated.

Southern Methodist University was hapless before the 65.6 percent shooting of Oklahoma City's Bud Koper who paced the Chiefs to a 95-90 victory at Dallas. Koper hit 44 points and broke open the otherwise tight match.

Texas A&M, invading Utah State, crumbled under a 41-point attack by Wayne Estes who led the Utah Aggies to a 94-71 triumph over the Aggies. The game was tight the first five minutes, then Estes exploded.

Tech Fights Hard
Texas Tech fought back hard from a 12-0 lead by Kansas at Lawrence, but lost 73-67. Tech led 34-32 just before halftime, but trailed 38-36 at intermission. The Jayhawkers, paced by George Unsel's 23 points, plowed to the victory in the last stanza.

In other games, Lamar Tech roared from behind to scuttle Abilene Christian 102-84 in a Southland Conference clash. Abilene led 48-46 at halftime but faltered in the last half. Lamar stands 3-0 in loop play.

Denny Neumann's push fielder with five seconds to spare gave the Houston Cougars a 59-56 victory over North Texas State. Lucious Johnson hit 29 points to pace Pan American to a 75-66 victory over Texas Southern.

McMurry Slips
McMurry slipped to an 89-87 triumph over Arlington State. Stephen F. Austin was never headed in a 62-33 triumph over McNeese at Lake Charles, La.

Ross collected an 85-71 triumph from Tarleton. Hardin Simmons mastered Howard Payne 88-51. Midwestern downed West Texas 89-82. Decatur Baptist won 79-75 over Cameron Okla. State.

Canadian Splits Pair At Mobeetie Cagers

MOBEETIE (Spl) — Mobeetie basketball coach Cecil Reynolds returned to the cage wars last night and guided the Hornets to a 41-37 victory over the Canadian Wildkittens, although the hot-shooting Wildcats came from behind in the second half for a 62-46 victory in the boys game.

Reynolds, injured in an automobile accident before the season started, was on the coaching lines for the first time this season, but couldn't stop the deadly third-quarter shooting of Ken Willis and Butcherby Bennie Eckles.

Willis' deadly jump shots matched the scoring of Big Ray Corcoran in the first quarter and Canadian moved into a 14-11 lead. Corcoran and Billy Whitten completely dominated the boards in the second quarter and scored on rebounds and close-in shots to push the Hornets into a 28-21 halftime margin.

Moving into a zone defense, Canadian held Mobeetie to only nine points in the third frame while Willis and Eckles slammed for 19 to give Canadian back the edge, 40-37. Eckles and Jumping Joe Schaefer dominated the backboards in the final frame to stretch the margin.

Willis had 23 points and Eckles 18. Corcoran had 20 points and Whitten 15.

Minus sharpshooting Dixie Petree, the Wildkittens trailed all the way. Mary Helen Gudgel hit the nets and Judy Rowle

McLean Defeats Shamrock, 54-44

By JEFF MONEY
News Sports Correspondent
McLEAN — Giant Derrith Welch and Eddie Windom got hot in the second half to break open a low-scoring ball game and lead McLean to a 54-44 win over visiting Shamrock last night.

The pair got only five points apiece in the first half as 6-3 John Palmer and 6-2 Jimmy Cook fought the 6-6 All-Stater on defense. The Tiger pair dominated the backboards, but could not get their scoring chances, and George Green and Jim McCarty took over the scoring load, for a 12-7 quarter lead and a narrow 17-14 halftime margin.

Welch and Windom broke through the barrier in the second half and rattled the nets. Clyde Edwards and Billy Don Reeves kept pace with them in the third quarter, 34-27, but Green and McCarty joined in the shooting and rebounding to pull away in the final frame.

Welch canned 22 points, Windom 14 and Green 11. Palmer had 12 and Edwards and Reeves 10 each. Welch dragged down 18 rebounds, while Windom, McCarty and Green had eight apiece.

The McLean Tigerettes put on a fourth-quarter rally that just fell short as they took a 42-38 loss. Trailing throughout the game, McLean was behind, 35-26, going into the final frame, but Sharon Goldston, Jan Bailey and Joan Flowers made the game close in the final minutes.

Diana Gragg led the winners with 25 points. Sharon had 13 and Jan and Joan 12 each for McLean.

Shimer College Sets New Mark

By United Press International
It was a tough fight, ma, but top-ranked Loyola and third-ranked NYU both made it okay, which is more than can be said for poor little Shimer College.

Whadd'ya mean you never heard of Shimer?

It's been in existence 110 years, it's located in Mt. Carroll, Ill., and it equalled an all-time college basketball record Tuesday night by dropping its 46th consecutive game.

Black Hawk Junior College was the culprit, shellacking Shimer, 124-54.

Only two other colleges have lost that many in a row — Mississippi in 1946 and Olivet of Michigan in 1961.

Going in the other direction, Loyola had to survive an overtime session to down Detroit, 113-106, for its third straight victory while NYU warmed up after a cold first half to beat Northwestern, 75-68, in a Chicago Stadium doubleheader.

Loyola and NYU were the only members of the top 10 which were in action Tuesday night. Wisconsin put the first blemish of the season on Pittsburgh's slate, overcoming a seven-point deficit in the second half to upset the Panthers, 85-83. Unbeaten Kansas spurted to a 12-0 lead and needed it to down Texas Tech, 73-67. Wally Jones became the ninth player in Villanova's history to score down Texas Tech, 73-67. Wally Jones became the ninth player in Villanova's history to score 1,000 points as he tossed in 17 in a 97-48 victory over Scranton.

Quarterbacks Set Banquet

The annual banquet honoring the football team will be combined with the annual basketball banquet to hold an all-sports banquet for Pampa High athletes.

At the final meeting for the season of the Pampa Quarterback Club last night, it was announced that the QB Club and the Chamber of Commerce would join together to hold an all-sports banquet in the early spring, honoring, as well as the football and basketball teams, the baseball, track, golf and volleyball teams.

Election of officers for the coming year was held, with Bill Parrish being named as the new president, W. C. Epperson as vice-president and Cliff Daniels as secretary-treasurer.

Owls to Mob Dick Bivins

GARLAND, Tex. (UPI) — Eager football fans have chartered planes, busses and a special train to take them 373 miles to see Garland play Amarillo Tascosa in a state Class AAAA semifinal schoolboy football game.

Around 4,000, and possibly 5,000, tickets to the game are expected to be sold by Friday when the Garland Owls fly to the Panhandle city.

Only 700 to 800 of this enthusiastic group will be Garland High students, who will make the trip in busses.

The remainder — enough to fill a 960-capacity special train, several special busses at least three chartered 80-passenger airliners — will be townspeople from Garland.

ROBBER — Guyman Phillips of Stinnett goes high in the air to steal a pass intended for Lightning Coleman of Lefors (32). Watching the action is Rattler Bobby Bain (21).

Cold White Deer Falls to Phillips

By RICHARD ULRICH
News Sports Correspondent
WHITE DEER — Last night was the coldest of the year for the Top O' Texas. . . and for the White Deer basketball team as well as they could hit only 16 percent of their shots in losing a 62-29 decision to the visiting Phillips Blackhawks.

The Bucks were as cold as the weather, while the Hawks were as hot as the inside of a coal stove, hitting 50 percent of their field goal attempts. Leading all the way, the Blackhawks put in reserves in mid-third quarter, and the reserves kept up the same red-hot shooting pace.

None of the Bucks could find the bucket with any consistency, while Hank Boykin did a one-man job in the first quarter to give Phillips a lead they never relinquished. Hitting five out of six jump shots, Boykin moved the Hawks into a 13-5 quarter lead. Larry Lewis started sniping from the outside to push them into a 28-10 halftime breeze, and it was 44-20 at the three-quarter mark.

Boykin and Lewis finished with 13 points each. Dan Simmons, Cal Johnson and Gary Turner each had seven for WD. Turner also pulled in 11 rebounds.

Phillips won the B team game as well, 69-32. Johnny Mooney led the locals with eight points.

Horns Upset Miami, Warriorettes Win

By MILO O'LAUGHLIN
News Sports Correspondent
DARROUZETT — The Darrouzett Longhorns got revenge last night as they upset the Miami Warriors, 55-33, although the Warriorettes took the girls game, 48-34.

The Longhorns, picked to win last weekend's Miami Tournament, couldn't get past the semifinal round, while the host Warriors went on to retake the title. With backboard control, fast breaks and a razzle-dazzle defense, the Longhorns blew open a tight game in the second quarter last night for a measure of vengeance.

The first quarter switched back and forth, with Wayne Daugherty putting the Warriors into a 10-9 lead at the buzzer. Darrouzett suddenly exploded in the second quarter as they fast broke for five straight points, with Danna Duke and Scotty Jergenson robbing the Warriors blind.

The befuddled Warriors literally threw the ball away, getting only a few shots at the basket, with Mike Koschke and Clinton Hanshu dragging down the rebounds, and Darrouzett surged into a 22-13 halftime lead.

Miami started to come back in the second half, picking up on the scoreboard, only to have the slick-fingered Duke rob the ball and run it down on fast break again and Darrouzett moved into a 35-23 lead going into the final frame.

Jergenson had 18 and Hanshu 16 points for the Horns. Little 'n' Holland was the only Warrior to hit consistently, finishing with 18 points.

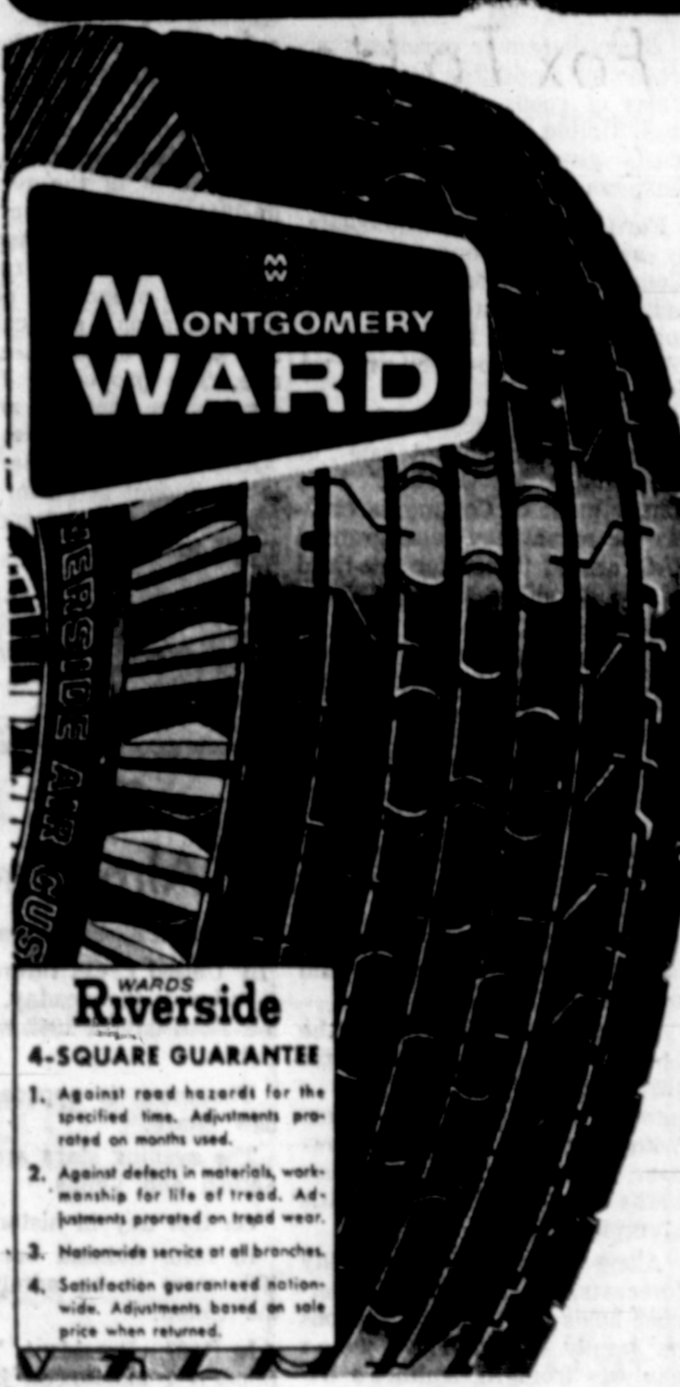

The Warriorettes rolled on to their sixth straight victory, as Cheryl Gill was outstanding in scoring and rebounding, leading Miami to a 23-8 quarter edge. Kathy Howle, hitting with deadly accuracy on free throws, put Darrouzett back in the game in the second period, 31-23, but Judy Anderson and Ruth Ann Cunningham put the defensive pressure on her while Cheryl and Connie Dodson kept ripping the nets, and the Warriorettes moved it out to 44-27 at the three-quarter mark.

Cheryl had 21 points and Connie 18, Kathy had 18 for the losers.

Miami goes into the Gruver tournament tomorrow.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Education for Socialism

In reflecting on the state of the union and the state of thinking throughout the nation, there can be no question that we are far down the road in an active acceptance and participation in socialist theories. If readers are as yet unaware of this fact, we would have to advise other reading than this. There is a wealth of literature which not only supports this conclusion, it documents this case with some thoroughness. Our purpose here is to examine the present situation which we believe to be as described, and then to try to find out why this nation, founded upon the concept of liberty; foremost in all the world in the productive processes; basing its entire ability to survive on a free market, free enterprise system; has nonetheless turned squarely about in a flirtation with economic folly discredited and disproved by more than 300 years of experience in this new world of the Americas.

Why have Americans even considered socialism for a moment? We were successful when we were not socialists. Ever since that magic moment at Lexington when the embattled Minute Men fired the "shot heard 'round the world," we continued to advance until recent years. Today, while we admittedly maintain the appearance of progress, we are in fact engaged in gobbling up our seed corn, planted with such danger and difficulty so many years ago.

In the years from 1650 up until possibly about 1910 America offered the consistent image of a people well able to make individual decisions and successfully manage their own affairs. Today there is only a remnant who still believe in themselves. The faith of the nation has shifted very largely from individual resolve and reliance to a faith in the collective, the mass, and worse: to decisions which must be made and forced upon us by an ever-encroaching state.

The Qualm Before the Starving

When power is accumulated in government hands, the manner in which the power will be invoked and employed frequently passes understanding.

We have learned on good authority that the Food and Drug Administration has banned the production of a product called "fish flour" because it is "aesthetically unfit." This revelation came from a California congressman who informs us that the VioBin Corporation, a major domestic producer of fish flour, has been ordered to stop preparing the product because it might offend the aesthetic sensibilities of some people.

It turns out that fish flour is made by a process which employs sea fish normally not caught yet available anywhere in the world at very low cost. According to one analysis, the protein concentrate contains the nutritional value of milk or meat but it costs from one-third to one-fifth as much. It does not spoil, does not change, and can be kept on hand indefinitely.

According to the congressman, "... the Food and Drug Administration was established to protect the public from food and drugs which were unfit because they are dangerous, or because they are 'filthy.'"

"Since when did they begin to determine aesthetic values?" Aesthetics appears to be the sole reason for the F.D.A. prohibition. The product is made from whole fish, very small in size, which are ground up and dried to produce the flour. The entire manufacturing process insures a clean, odorless, tasteless, high-protein product. According to food experts, the whole population of the earth is "starving" for an adequate protein diet.

The congressman points out: "The real harm is not to you and me, but to the use of this product overseas. No federal

Why this 180-degree turnabout in our philosophy? Obviously, no single reason could explain what has happened and is still happening.

Clearly, socialism is ancient in origin. Savage peoples the world over have always practiced it. Barbarians made little improvement on it. Ancient-legal writings indicate that socialism was implicit in the ancient governmental forms which came into existence.

Yet, in spite of the fact that socialism is most ancient, that governments always practiced it, and if we care to consider the evidence, much of the world's great literature from Plato until modern times advocated it and spell it out for the benefit of all; still it never became acceptable as a generally held philosophy until modern times.

The communist school of thought, inspired by Karl Marx, had some degree of success, but ended in alienating millions of people because of the violence he espoused. The anarchists, under Bakunin were even less realistic than Marx and certainly, with their bomb-throwing and assassination efforts, equally unattractive to most. Yet, today while most people say they oppose communism or anarchy and can offer good reasons for doing so, the fact remains that these same people have accepted and are practicing socialism. Further, they are advocating it and welcoming it with open arms.

If we wish to find a rather all-encompassing reason for this massive acceptance of socialism in our midst, we must look to the Fabian school in Britain and to the methods adopted by that school which related to education rather than violence.

While many deplore the slowness of the educational approach, it is demonstrable that socialism made small headway as an acceptable philosophy until educational techniques were advanced by the Fabians to "sell" the ideas to the public in general.

agency may make use of a product the F.D.A. has determined to be "unfit." Therefore, our State Department has not been able to make use of fish flour and its almost unbelievable potential in underdeveloped nations.

The other countries have been doing research on fish protein concentrate, the congressman said, they ask, "If it isn't good enough for the people in the United States to eat, why is it good enough for us?"

Therefore the congressman concludes, "The F.D.A.'s questionable ruling has hurt the cause of peace, has hurt our country economically, and has deprived millions of starving people around the world of a low-cost, high-protein food."

There appears to be no question as to the purity of the food. Also, there is no question as to its protein content, its low cost and its general availability. But obviously, the Food and Drug Administration wants everyone to have the correct table manners and to make use only of food which does not offend the delicate sensitivities of folks who might be squeamish.

It's a bit incongruous to find the F.D.A. backing up on fish flour when it gives its benign approval to chocolate-coated grasshoppers and ants and to such whole fish products as shrimp, clams and oysters. These are apparently not offensive aesthetically. We wonder if shrimp, clams and oysters were to be ground up and rendered non-identifiable, would someone feel an aesthetic qualm?

But, as we indicated, when power is concentrated in political hands, even a protein concentrate can't match that power. If the F.D.A. is now to decide what we may eat and drink on the grounds of aesthetics, we wonder if color preferences will be next in order.

No wonder Lord Acton said:

SOMETHING NEW IN POLITICS

By Willis E. Stone
Governor Love of Colorado, on October 9, 1963, made his first speech since taking office. It was something new in politics because he forecast a tax revolt which "could make the Boston Tea Party seem like a mild disagreement." He reasons that "fuzzy thinking and social tinkering" have built a public resentment that must now be reckoned with.

There is much to support Governor Love's analysis. The Oregon Legislature recently enacted a special tax levy to get another $60 million from the same old taxpayers. But the taxpayers circulated petitions to put the question on the ballot in a referendum, where the measure was soundly defeated by a whopping 3 1/2 to 1 vote.

Substantial Concern
The temper of the people observed by Governor Love of Colorado, and so clearly demonstrated to Governor Hatfield of Oregon, appears to have real substance and a very definite objective.

The same public sentiment became evident in Michigan where the Legislature responded to it by summarily defeating the tax program advanced by Governor Romney. The political forecasters, who appear to know little of what is going on in the grass-roots of public thinking, immediately concluded that this defeat killed Gov. Romney's presidential aspirations. They apparently assume that a public figure who fails to contrive more ways of getting more money out of more people is a political liability.

This may be the popular viewpoint among political spenders, but a totally different viewpoint is developing among the taxpayers, and their number is legion.

People Defined
The problem are less concerned with politically acceptable candidates than they are with a solution to the main problems of taxing and spending. Their current resistance is directed to the state situation because this area of action is easier to reach. The real problem is recognized as being national, however. As Governor Love pointed out: "In Colorado, the total state expenditure last year was $400 million. Compare this with the $1.27 billion skimmed from this state by the federal government."

The LIBERTY AMENDMENT will reduce the federal drain upon the people and the states. It will resolve the national taxing and spending problems with absolute equity, cutting the cost of the federal government half — enough to accommodate repeal of federal individual income taxes. The amendment is becoming the major issue for 1964.

Mississippi offers an illustration. In 1962 the LIBERTY AMENDMENT was introduced in the Mississippi Legislature. It won in the Senate 39 to 4. It lost in the House 64 to 62. It became an issue in the recent gubernatorial election there.

In the run-off primary Ex-Governor Coleman violently opposed the LIBERTY AMENDMENT, claiming credit for its defeat in the House. Lt. Governor Johnson supported the Amendment, claiming credit for its victory in the Senate. Result — Mr. Johnson won a smashing victory.

It appears this is NOT a coincidence. Of the 64 members of the House who voted against the Amendment, 43 will not be in the House when it assembles in January. A mortality rate of nearly 70 percent of any legislative group in a party primary is no coincidence. It is powerful evidence of the direction in which political winds are blowing — and they have just begun to blow.

People are swarming to the support of the LIBERTY AMENDMENT. There are organized activities now operative in every State. To learn more about it, write LIBERTY in every State. To learn more about it, write LIBERTY AMENDMENT COMMITTEE, 6413 Franklin Ave., Los Angeles 28, Calif.

The proposal, now pending in Congress as H.J. Res. 23 has already been approved by Wyoming, Texas, Nevada, Louisiana, Georgia and South Carolina. It provides that:

"Sec. 1. The Government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution."

"Sec. 4. Congress shall not levy taxes on personal incomes, estates and or gifts."

"All power tends to corrupt; absolute power corrupts absolutely."

Our Spending Spree: Spur In The Ribs of Economy

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Increased consumer expenditures for 1963, continuing well into 1964, are predicted by the latest reports from U.S. Departments of Commerce, Agriculture and Labor.

Since consumer purchases account for two-thirds of the total sales of goods and services in the United States, these forecasts give a good indication of business trends.

For the six months immediately ahead, the Department of Commerce reports high consumer buying intentions on autos, houses and household appliances, the so-called hard goods.

Reporting a record personal income at the annual rate of $470 billion for October, the Department of Commerce credits the recent pay raise granted U.S. armed forces for one-third of the $3 billion increase over September.

The increase over October 1962 is 5 per cent, or $22 billion. Another 5 per cent increase is predicted for 1964. All this adds to purchasing power, so it is a direct stimulus to the economy.

Principal focus of the Department of Agriculture's Outlook Conference, held at this time every year, is on the prospects for farm production, prices and marketings.

"Farm output this year will be about 10 per cent above the 1957-59 average, establishing a new record high of $41 billion. With higher farm costs, however, the net may be below 1962's $12.6 billion, and a little lower in 1964.

Along with the commodity forecasts, the Outlook Conference holds four half-day sessions on family living. This year analysts from Agriculture's Bureau of Family Economics and the Bureau of Labor Statistics have come up with new material to show changing trends in consumer budgets.

This is the result of the first survey in 20 years on comparative spending by urban rural and rural nonfarm families. Preliminary data indicate average spending by city families has risen from $3,900 in 1950 to $5,365 in 1960.

Food, clothing, housefurnishings and recreation now account for smaller shares of the spending than 10 years ago. Shelter, utilities, medical care, education and transportation take larger shares.

Although the consumers' price index, or cost of living, rose 24 per cent in this decade, food expenditures are reported to have dropped from 29 per cent of the family income to 24 per cent.

The reason given is that while per capita consumption of meats has increased, consumption of cereals has declined.

Increased home ownership — from 55 per cent of all dwellings in 1950 to 62 per cent in 1960 — and increased ownership of automobiles — from 39 per cent of

New Jet Puts Britain Back in Big League

By ED DELANEY

LONDON — A few hours after I arrived in London, a BAC (British Aircraft Construction) jet plane, known as the One-Eleven made a 26-minute test flight over Bournemouth and put Britain back in the big league of the world's aircraft makers. On millions of TV screens in the country and on the front pages of London's newspapers great-to-do was made over the achievement of the new One-Eleven. We were informed that a new page had been written in aviation history. It promised rich returns for the ailing aircraft builders on this tight little island. But although it took only 26 minutes of test flying to prove the efficiency of the new craft, it had been on the drawing boards and in construction for over two years. Before the ship got past the drawing board stage, millions of dollars worth of contracts had been written for planes to be delivered as soon as possible. Sixty of the craft were on order, 31 of which orders were placed by American companies.

The unique feature of this new craft is that it can take off or land on small flying fields which in recent years have lost out to the airports and operating companies that have linked their fortunes with the makers of the large jets. But the big jets need big fields and facilities for their operations. The One-Eleven is called the "bus-stop" plane because it will link the small city flying fields with the larger communities where the trans-continental or trans-oceanic flights take off. One of the American airlines has contracted for 15 of the One-Elevens, despite the policy of "buy American" which is being emphasized by politicians and labor unions.

An executive of that company told this writer that his company had ordered the British-made jets before they were even constructed, because the only comparable aircraft of American make is the Douglas DC-9, which will not get into the air until about March 1965. He said also that although he will have to pay about 15 per cent duty on the planes when landing them in the United States, it is worth it to him. As to be expected, the British press has played up this challenge to the American aviation industry. They take note of the fact that four factories and over 8,000 people are working on the "One-Eleven" project. Initially they will produce but one plane a week. After getting into production that schedule (pronounced schedule here) will be stepped up to 12 a month and they anticipate building 300 or more of them before the American aircraft industry will be able to meet their competition. Such may well be true.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government, which will not injure any.)

QUESTION: "Is 'planning' a dangerous and confusing word?"

ANSWER: It most certainly is because some planning is absolutely necessary for life and other kinds of planning deprive man of real life. It makes him a robot and a slave. Planning by individuals that is on a voluntary basis is necessary for progress. It is the only way that we can have progress. It is looking ahead and not thinking only of the present. That is, considering a continuous sequence of results. What you do today has its influence on what you are inclined to do tomorrow and the succeeding days. If you plan your whole life to try to understand more of the laws of nature, you will get great joy and satisfaction out of life. You will respect man's rights in property. You will have good will in your heart and you will want nothing that everyone else couldn't have on the same terms.

On the other hand involuntary planning by the government over the lives of others is always harmful and it leads to stagnation, poverty, misery and eventually slavery. Every dictator wants to plan the lives of other people and he wants to use initiated force to plan the lives of other people who have different ideas.

Government planning usually starts in each community. We have never heard of a man who believed in government planning who could rationally harmonize his beliefs with the Declaration of Independence, the Human Relations Commandments, or the Golden Rule. A man that wants to plan other people's lives is a law unto himself as Louis XIV was. He becomes the law.

He is an exalted person and he that exalts himself shall be come abused. A man that wants to plan other people's lives stops learning because he will not answer questions, he will not try to develop his own faculties but wants to manage others. The less he is able to manage his own life and property, the more he insists on the right to have the state give him force to plan the lives of others. It is purely a political privilege sought by men who have little natural ability to be useful to their fellow man on a free market basis.

Yes, voluntary planning by individuals is wonderful and necessary, but planning by government by the use of force over the lives of others is always harmful.

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

This winter will be warmer than last, but there'll be more snow, according to the Old Farmer's Almanac, which has made its 172 annual appearance. The little yellow book is the oldest publication continuously issued in the same name and format in the United States. Thousands who never saw New England, read it for its weather predictions, which are uncanny, and the wealth of interesting information it contains. It was established in 1792 by Robert B. Thomas and is now published by Robb Sagendorf, widely known "Yankee" editor of Dublin, N.H. It is always No. 1 on our reading list at this time and we glance at it frequently during the year to see if the Old Farmer ever guesses wrong on the weather. He seldom does.

Country Editor speaking: "Kindness works simply and perseveringly, and is the most effective of all forces."

The recent selection of books for the White House library recalls that the first book collection there was established in 1851 by the wife of President Millard Fillmore, a former school teacher. Astounding: The 500 million Chinese comprise one-fourth of the world's population. And, within 10 years, India's population will reach 450 million. How are we going to feed them all? The French sold 58 million bottles of champagne last year, with Britain taking more than 4 million of them and the U.S. making a poor second with only 2.5 million. The French only partitioned with 15 million bottles, keeping the rest to make gay Paris gayer.

Memory Lane: Back in the 30's everybody was reading Alexander Woolcott's "Whistle Rome Burned," which returned the essay to popularity, and turned the acridulous New York drama critic into a celebrity.

Big business: The giant Western Electric Co. last year paid out $1.2 billion for products and services to 40,000 small firms in more than 3000 cities and towns from coast to coast. The "factory" system was extant 9000 years ago in what is now Ohio, according to archeologists, who recently uncovered evidence along the Wauhatchie River that pre-historic Indians made javelins and tools on a mass production basis. No mention of union labor though. Nothing new: Labor is now plugging for a shorter workday. In 1923 electrical wizard Charles Steinmetz predicted the four-hour day, and in 1934 William Hearst recommended working only six hours for all laboring men.

Canadian railways are luring passengers through fare reductions, free meals, faster runs and other inducements. Last year they carried 527,000 more passengers than in 1961. The detergent problem plaguing sewerage systems will be solved by adding a sugar-base compound to the soap product, so say government scientists. The idea will be to "feed" the bacteria, resulting in decomposition of resulting suds. Still going strong: "Gone With the Wind" will soon have its first showing in Poland. It was produced in 1939, reissued six times since, and has grossed $41,200,000 in the past 22 years, an all-time champ.

Today's smile: We liked the one about the psychiatrist who met a fellow practitioner carrying a couch on his back and inquired about it. "I'm making a house call," said the burdened one.

PRICE HIKE MADE
SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (UPI) — General Electric Co. announced a 10 to 15 per cent price increase on switch and bus insulators, effective Dec. 22. Ohio Brass Co. had announced a similar increase will become effective on its products on Dec. 16. Switch and bus insulators are protective devices used on heavy electrical equipment.

NO SILVER IN THEM THAR BILLS—The Treasury Department has placed a new dollar bill in circulation. It has no silver backing and is the first change in the dollar bill since 1957 when the motto "In God We Trust" was added. While the face of the new bill has the same reassuring portrait of George Washington, all references to silver above and below his portrait have been deleted. (new bill at top). The more than 50 million new bills will free the government stockpile of silver bullion for coins.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International
A decent interval will have passed by the time Congress convenes in January and Republicans will be able to resume speaking frankly their opposition to the Kennedy-Johnson program.

The Republicans are handicapped just now by a whimsical fraud variously known as a political truce or a political moratorium. This is a period of grace and seemingly conduct most often in effect after some tragedy of national proportions such as the assassination of a president. In the shocked aftermath of such an event, the loyal opposition usually hastens to announce that for the time being it will forego petty politics and nasty cracks about the late leader. If the opposition is caught with a big political clambake scheduled, it is traditional to postpone or to cancel it — as the Republicans cancelled a midwestern meeting at which was to be launched the campaign to retire the Kennedys (all three of them) from public life.

An Absolute Phony
Such are the outward manifestations of a political truce in the train of national tragedy. It is of no consequence that such a political truce is an absolute phony. The facts, of course, are that the loyal opposition calls the truce against itself. This is done, not so much in respect to the late leader as in the certainty that outrageously noisy political activity at a time of national grief would offend a great many citizens and, thereby, cost the political activists a lot of votes next time around. You might say that there is a generous helping of self service in any political truce called against itself by the loyal opposition.
But this does not prevent the loyal opposition from becoming restive as the truce is prolonged and the party in power happily ignores it. Not only does the party in power ignore the truce, but it does so in confidence that no citizens will be offended nor votes lost in the process. This enrages the loyal opposition which can only pout or mutter to itself that the time of the loyal opposition will come. One day, and when it does the dabbled administration and its politicking president had better not forget to duck.

GOP Holding Off
And so it is with the Republicans just now and with President Johnson. Politics as usual is not for the Republicans during this period of mourning for John F. Kennedy. The citizens would resent it and that is that.
But no such hazard frustrates the political activity of JFK's successor, nor should it. A president who undertook to observe a political truce would be abdicating his responsibilities as chief executive. The presidential job is politics and if there is no politicking the job is not being done.
So it is that President Johnson has been the busiest man in Washington in the past two weeks politicking with labor leaders, Negro spokesmen, congressional leaders and such. Some Republicans are becoming unhappy as Johnson's activity is publicized and their own activity is submerged.
They know better, however, than to break the truce. So they await during the decent interval, honing their weapons while the while for blood-letting when the second session convenes in January.

Mexico President To Meet Johnson
MEXICO CITY (UPI)—President Adolfo Lopez Mateos will meet President Lyndon B. Johnson as soon as arrangements can be made through normal procedures, press reports quoted unofficial sources as stating Monday.
The Foreign Ministry has made no statement regarding Johnson's expected invitation to Lopez Mateos to make his second trip to Washington as Mexico's president. Lopez Mateos visited Eisenhower in the U. S. capital and also stopped in Canada in 1958.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Under the leadership of Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet Union has had but one standard of comparison, the United States.

For the people of the 15 Soviet republics, living on broken promises, it has been a tragedy. For Khrushchev, first secretary of the Communist party since 1953 and premier since 1958, it has been an example of personal destructibility.

On July 30, 1961, the Soviet Communist party announced its third program, a milestone in the history of communism.
The first program had been drawn up in 1953 and called for "the overthrow of the Czarist autocracy" and the "establishment of the dictatorship of the proletariat."
"Socialist Society"
The second program, drawn up by Lenin in 1919, had for its goal the "building of a Socialist society."

The third, drawn up under Khrushchev, declared:
"In the current decade (1961-1970) the Soviet Union will surpass the strongest and richest capitalist country, the United States, in production per head of population; the people's standard of living and their cultural and technical standards will improve substantially... hard physical work will disappear."
This week before 6,000 members of the Soviet leadership in the Kremlin Hall of Congresses, Khrushchev gave his accounting of failure.

Typically, his accounting contained no note of personal failure nor of the fact that as he personally guided the destiny of Soviet agriculture he has seen first mechanization as the cure-all for the ills of Soviet production, then the opening of the virgin lands and now, finally, the massive use of fertilizer, an-announced crash program.
To bring this about he announced a crash program to more than triple the output of the Soviet chemical industry in the next seven years.
Two hundred new chemical plants are to be built and 500 existing ones rebuilt.

But, again typical of the twists and turns of various Soviet five, seven and 20-year programs, the announcement took no notice of past failures.
"Unprecedented" Plan
The Khrushchev announcement called the new plan "unprecedented" and, among other things, called for the production by 1970 of 3.5 to 4 million tons of plastics and synthetic resins, a jump of six to seven times over the present level.

Ignored was the fact that the pie-in-the-sky program of 1961 called for more than 5 million tons of plastics and synthetic resins by 1970.

Khrushchev made special note of the claim that since the death of Josef Stalin 10 years ago, Soviet production of meat and milk has more than doubled and the production of eggs tripled. But he omitted to note that most of this gain came from the small private plots allotted to Soviet peasants for their own use.

He also failed to note that while production was increasing, so was the Soviet population at the rate of 3.5 million per year.

With Soviet space accomplishments in mind, there is no disposition to discount Soviet technical ability. Rather, U.S. experts are inclined to attribute Soviet failures to too much haste and too little planning.
But it is easy to see why Khrushchev, beset by problems on every side, has need for haste.

Mexican Fruit Flies to Be Released in Study of Habits

AUSTIN (UPI)—Millions of Mexican fruit flies will be released into Rio Grande Valley citrus groves next month in a study of migration habits but there is nothing for growers to worry about, the State Department of Agriculture said Tuesday.

The artificial "infestation" will not threaten the crop, agriculture commission John White said, because the adult fly itself does not damage fruit.

State and federal entomologists plan to release large colonies of sterilized male and female Mexican fruit flies fed a dye compound which causes their bodies to glow under fluorescent light, he said.

By keeping a record of release points and dates, researchers can tell a great deal about the flies traveling habits when they are later caught in traps set up at various points in the Valley.

"This is not a deliberate attempt to destroy the citrus fruit industry already harassed by the citrus black fly, soft brown scale, rust mite and intermittent freezes," White assured growers, "no damage will result from this experiment."

White explained that the sterilized females will be incapable of producing eggs that develop into hungry larvae — the actual culprit.

The males are sterilized so they cannot breed with any female flies present before the program starts.

Unfortunately, he said, the sterilization program will not reduce the Mexican fruit fly population such as the successful eradication of the screw-worm by the same methods.

Mexican fruit flies breed several times each season. The female screwworm fly breeds only once in a lifetime.

Oklahoma Town Hit by Epidemic

STILWELL, Okla. (UPI)—Health officials today fought a diphtheria epidemic with mass inoculations at this eastern Oklahoma city, less than 10 miles from the Arkansas border.

Thirteen persons in Adair County have been stricken with the disease. Additionally, three persons died from what was believed to be diphtheria. This, however, has not been confirmed.

The persons known to have diphtheria are undergoing treatment at hospitals in Oklahoma City and Stilwell and at Prairie Grove and Sloom Springs, Ark. The mass inoculation program moved into high gear at the Stilwell High School gym today. Health officials inoculated 700 persons Monday and 500 others last Friday after the spreading disease brought alarm.

Today, persons from throughout the county flocked to Stilwell to take part in the program. A total of 6,875 doses for children and adults were sent to Stilwell.

NO TICKET
DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Meter Maid Wilma Johnson told police she did not write the name and address of an over-time parker on a ticket because she looked at the back seat and saw "a huge black dog."
"He didn't do anything but look," she said. But she wrote on the back of the ticket, "No name or address. Big black dog in car. Scared."
