Massive Storm Grips Panhandle

Low Temperatures Remain in Forecast

By GLENN McCASLAND

A blinding snowstorm, which struck the Pampa area Monday continued to hold the Top O' Texas in a paralyzing grip today.

Snow, measuring up to 15-inches in downtown Pampa, forced schools to close all over the district, caused at least one serious accident, and damaged a number of buildings in the city.

Police, highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies were swamped with assistance calls and were running as many as 25 to 30 calls behind during the morning.

Pampa city commissioners cancelled their regular meeting while city public works employees fought to free automobiles and unclog streets from the blowing snows.

City Manager Harold Schmitz

He urged Pampa residents to stay home unless it was an emergency trip. Police Chief Jim Conner said extreme care in driving was needed and that many streets in the residential areas were not usable.

Many downtown stores were closed today because clerks were unable to get to work and shoppers were almost a minus quantity.

Highway Patrol Sgt. J. W. Wilson reported most roads leading out of Pampa were "barely usable" and warned motorists to remain off highways unless "the trip is an emergency."

Wilson said the road to LeFors was closed for a while last night, but re-opened after an overpass was cleared by State Highway Department workers.

A spokesman for the department said some 25 men were working to clear paths out of Pampa along all state and federal roads. The department also managed to clear away one or two farm roads, with hopes of continuing to assist county employees later in the day.

"The roads are open, but that's about all we can call them," the department said. "We have every available worker and grader out now and have been since snow started yesterday."

Police reported Anthony's Department Store and Pittsburgh, Paint and Glass Company were damaged when snow caused awnings to fall, crashing

Most Gray County court house offices were operating with skeleton crews this forenoon.

Pampa dairies were making deliveries of needed milk and trying their best to serve their regular customers.

L. A. Bivins, dispatch clerk at the Pampa postoffice, said postal service today had been severely hit by the storm.

Bivins said the only mail deliveries made today would be in the downtown Pampa business section.

There were no residential deliveries and no service to Star Route and rural route areas from the Pampa postoffice.

Wallace Promises To 'Resist'

By United Press International

Gov. George C. Wallace poured 175 state troopers into Macon County, Ala., today and promised that "we will resist" a federally ordered transfer of 12 Negro students from padlocked Tuskegee High to schools in neighboring towns.

The racial crisis blew up quickly when a federal judge ordered Monday that the 12 students be transferred by Wednesday to schools in Shorter and Notasulga, Ala.

The state closed Tuskegee High because white students abandoned it when the Negroes integrated the school last September. It has been operating for the 12 Negroes ever since.

Wallace said he would not be on hand in Macon County himself, but said "we intend to take action. We intend to resist." He would not say how he would resist.

While Wallace was mapping his strategy for the new school crisis Monday night, students at all-Negro Jackson State College in Jackson, Miss., staged wild rock-throwing demonstrations over a traffic accident in which a white motorist struck a Negro coed. Police used tear gas and shotguns fired in the air to quell the demonstrations and three Negroes were superficially injured by buckshot.

In other racial developments: Birmingham: Two Negro students attended graduate classes at the University of Alabama extension in Birmingham. Their entry brought to four the number of Negroes attending three separate branches of the once rigidly segregated system.

Chapel Hill, N.C.: Police arrested 33 Negroes when they attempted to integrate a drug store. Since current demonstrations began in Chapel Hill Dec. 13, 450 persons have been arrested.

New Orleans: A White school teacher filed a federal suit seeking admission to all-Negro Southern University's New Orleans branch. According to state law, only Negroes may attend the school.

Hattiesburg, Miss.: Nine Presbyterian ministers were convicted on breach of the peace charges stemming from voter registration demonstrations. The ministers, most of them from New York, were sentenced to four months in jail and fined $200 each.

Snow-Seeker Snowed Under

A Wichita Falls ski enthusiast took off for the snow-swept slopes of New Mexico over the week-end and found only grassy hills and a mild climate.

Disgruntled at his spoiled venture, Bob Gunn, an oilman in Wichita Falls, climbed back into his car — skis firmly strapped on top — and began his trip back to Texas, and what happened?

Why, he ran into more snow than New Mexicans could shake a yucca stick at. And if he gets back to Wichita Falls today, he may have to leave the car, put on his skis and slide off the Carrock on a southeasterly heading.

Million-Dollar Snow Has Drawback, Too

In addition to producing a million dollar's worth of moisture, a 15-inch snowfall carries with it plenty of weight.

That was evidenced by damage caused by collapsing canopies and awnings at several Pampa business places.

At least three stores suffered damage when aluminum awnings collapsed during the night under the press of the heavy, wet snow.

Canopies broke away from their brick wall moorings and crashed into display windows at the C. R. Anthony Co. Store, 118 N. Cuyler, and the Pittsburgh Glass Co., 112 N. Somerville.

Slight damage was caused at both places by the crashing glass. A clothing display in the Anthony store was slightly damaged.

Another aluminum awning at the Cut Rate Liquor Store, 866 W. Foster, broke down on one end and fell to the sidewalk, but the display window was not broken.

All three awnings fell when the snow load accumulation reached more than 12 inches. There were 13 inches of snow on the roof of the Pampa Daily News at 9 o'clock this morning when the snow gauge was read.

Public utility services in Pampa had not yet been hampered to any great extent by the heavy snowfall. Officials at Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. said there was little or no trouble except that equipment was overloaded because of an unusual deluge of telephone calls by snowed-in Pampans seeking some type of assistance.

Southwestern Public Service Co. said service in the city was as usual with only some slight trouble in rural areas where heavily laden wires were thrown into contact causing short circuits.

There was no trouble at Pioneer Natural Gas Co. where officials said services was operating at normal.

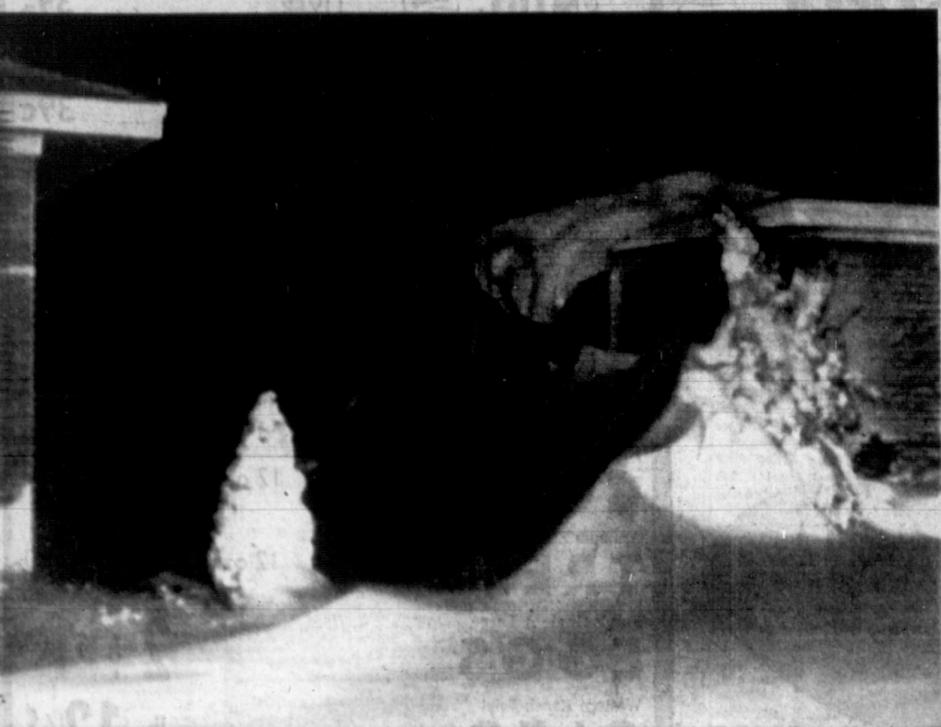

City manager Harold Schmitz said City Hall offices were operating practically at full force. City cars brought most employees to work today, he said.

Most Gray County court house offices were operating with skeleton crews this forenoon.

Pampa dairies were making deliveries of needed milk and trying their best to serve their regular customers.

L. A. Bivins, dispatch clerk at the Pampa postoffice, said postal service today had been severely hit by the storm.

Bivins said the only mail deliveries made today would be in the downtown Pampa business section.

HEAVY DRIFTS COVER HOUSE — This residence, located in the 2300 block of Mary Ellen, was almost buried by heavy snows that caused drifts that piled some eight to 10 feet high. About two feet of space between the roof and building kept this home from being completely covered by the fluffy white stuff that began falling early Monday morning.

Population Explosion Caused by Weather

GROOM — This Gray County community grew in size overnight, but it's population explosion isn't expected to last long.

Stranded motorists made up the number of "new" residents here, as roads leading from Groom to Amarillo and other southern points were closed by some 15 inches of snowfall.

Groom residents turned out in force to aid the stranded motorists. Highway patrolmen reported at least 60 automobiles were trapped from 3 p.m. until this morning.

Roman Homen, owner and operator of the Ranch House Cafe, reported he had remained open all night to furnish motorists with hot coffee and a warm place to gather.

A total of 20 persons were housed at the American Legion building and the Assembly of God church was put into use for additional housing.

Homen reported many residents took motorists into their homes, bedding them down and helping to dig their automobiles out of the snow.

He reported that by this morning traffic was moving at a slow pace with the aid of chains on tires.

In the tiny hamlet of Jericho, eight miles from Groom on U.S.

66 and U.S. 75, Mrs. Tom Reed used snow to make coffee and wash dishes when power failed at the Reed Service Station, the only remaining business in Jericho.

"We fixed baby bottles and kept the little ones happy, then they finally got off to sleep," Mrs. Reed said. "We had several little tykes here at the store."

Roads to Groom had been closed by the snow and the motorists were welcomed by the Reeds. They served coffee and kept spirits high until the wee hours of the night and early morning.

"We just melted snow for the coffee when water service failed," Mrs. Reed said.

The Reeds said they were getting ready for more visitors if the weather continued tonight as it did Monday night.

"We're just glad to be of service," she declared. A total of three families live in Jericho.

Star Route residents have a visit from the U.S. postmen due (See PROSPECTS, Page 3)

Prospects for a let-up in the storm were given a little boost at noon today when the U.S. Weather Bureau forecast said the snow would end late tonight with a slow clearing trend beginning from the west.

The forecast called for blowing snow the rest of the day with temperatures in the low teens tonight and warming into the upper 30s by Wednesday.

Measuring stations here showed 1.38 inches of moisture and 13 inches of snowfall at 8:30 a.m. The 8:30 a.m. mercury showed 30 degrees with the maximum set at 34 degrees.

Superintendent of Schools Jack Edmondson announced at noon there would be no school Wednesday making it the second day for schools in Pampa to be closed. He had closed doors today after the first heavy snowfall Monday.

St. Vincent's School was also closed today and will be closed Wednesday also officials said.

STORE DAMAGED BY SNOW — Metal awnings in front of the Pittsburgh Plate and Glass Company building, 212 N. Somerville, came tumbling to the ground about 9:30 p.m. Monday when some 11 inches of snow broke the supports of the awnings. Police discovered the breakage about 10 p.m. and reported windows of the store also smashed. Estimate of damage was not given. The store was one of three damaged by the heavy snowstorm.

Fight Looms In US Senate On Tax Bill

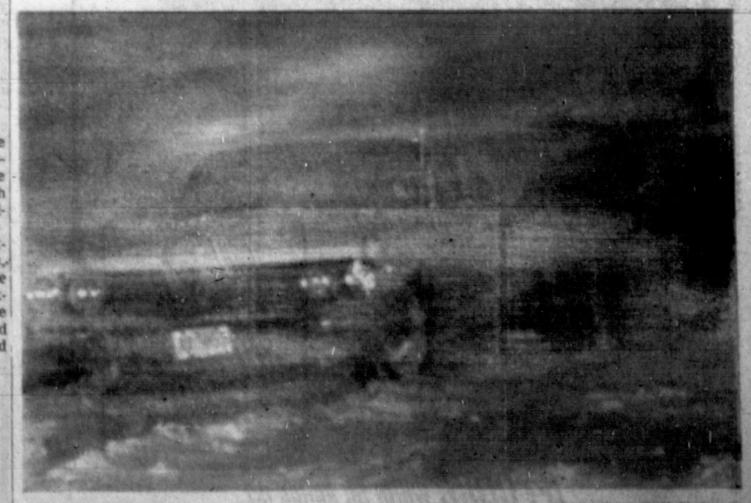

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate faced a major battle today on an amendment to the $11.6 billion tax cut bill which would allow tax relief for college expenses.

The Senate fight was expected to cut across party lines, bring up the church-state issue in education and produce an extremely close vote. Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., predicted the proposal might be defeated by a "razor-thin edge."

BLIZZARD CONDITIONS — An unidentified motorist works to free an automobile stuck on a bridge along Kentucky St. about 6 p.m. Monday as snow almost blots him out in the photo. A total of 12 automobiles became stuck on the bridge between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. and again this morning. Police urged motorists to remain at home and said that "blizzard conditions" applied to every street in the city.

SCIENCE SKETCHES

HEARTBEATS are turned into "heartbeats" by an electronic device invented by a Detroit surgeon, Dr. William F. Velig. The heart monitor audibly signals the heart's electric wave activity, alerting hospital personnel to any need for oxygen, stimulants, heart massage or other measures.

BUG-EATING BUGS are a powerful ally in man's battle against insect pests, says the Department of Biological Control, University of California. Studies show, for example, that the typhlodromus mite feasts happily on the cyclamen mite, one of the worst enemies of strawberry growers, but leaves the fruit alone.

UNDERGRADUATES at Harvard University eat more than graduate students, 3,300 calories a day compared to 2,900. Harvard football players put it away at the rate of 4,100 calories a day. But that's not much when you compare it to the intake of a Connecticut football squad in 1890: 5,700 calories per man a day.

Review Scheduled on Return of US Troops

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department may have to review its four-month-old plan to bring home most of the U.S. troops in South Viet Nam by 1966.

Pentagon sources insist that the plan remains the same now but may have to be reappraised because of the recent military coup d'etat and stepped-up activities of Communist guerrillas.

The White House announced last October it hoped to return the 15,500 U.S. military men in another two years, but keep a limited force in the Southeast Asian country indefinitely in training roles.

But last week's change of government has resulted in some uncertainty about the new military regime's attitude towards civil administration as well as military operations.

Condition Remains Grave
Also, the condition of the anti-guerrilla war continues "grave," as Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara told Congress last week.

Considering these conditions, the sources said Saigon may decide to request the United States for more supplies and additional technicians to bolster forces already there.

President Johnson promised Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh Saturday that the United States would continue to provide his government with aid to fight the Viet Cong and to "increase the confidence of the Vietnamese people in their government."

Receives Assurances
The President also said he had been assured by Khanh that the South Vietnamese army would increase its efforts against the Communist rebels, especially in the vital Mekong Delta area where guerrillas have scored recent successes.

McNamara was expected to give Congress the latest reports on the situation today at a closed session of the Senate Armed Services Committee. Senators were likely to press him to explain a statement last week that he was "encouraged" by the progress of the war after he had told a House committee the day before that the situation remained "grave."

EGGS BY MUSIC
BLANEFIELD, Scotland (UPI)—Hens on a farm owned by Sir Charles Connell, chairman of a Glasgow shipbuilding firm, are being coaxed to lay eggs by music.

"We broadcast the music to the hens through two loudspeakers from an ordinary electric radio set," a farm official said.

"We get 285 eggs per hen and hope to increase this to more than 300 as a result of giving them the music which makes them more contented."

GOP Senators Want Questions In Baker Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Republican senators want the Senate Rules Committee to question any senators or top senatorial aides who become involved in the Bobby Baker investigation.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., said he disagreed with the argument that the inquiry into Baker's business interests involved only Senate employees and that "the senators themselves are too sacred to touch."

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., a member of the rules committee, said he would insist that the Senate group call any witness who could give information. He said there was "not a particle of doubt" that the Baker case involved "corruption in government on the part of Senate employees."

Williams gave his views in a television interview Sunday with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y. Scott was questioned in a radio interview.

Scott said that Democrats who had assailed White House aide Sherman Adams for gift-taking in the Eisenhower administration now "want to run away as fast as possible from Bobby Baker."

Congo Town Gets Assist From Officials

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — United Nations officials today organized help for the small Congolese town of Gungu, which is besieged by Communist-led terrorists and running low on food and ammunition.

Gungu, about 280 miles southeast of the capital, is in Kwilu Province, where guerrilla bands have attacked towns and mission stations in the past month. But no missionaries were believed to be in the besieged town.

The last American missionary working in an area endangered by the terrorist bands, Miss Mae Clark, 55, of Myrtle Dale, Pa., was rescued by U.N. helicopter Saturday.

Miss Clark had refused to leave her orphanage at Kalnganda unless the 19 African orphans in her care could be rescued, too. But the terrorists refused to allow the children to leave the area and officials finally persuaded Miss Clark to go.

The orphanage is just north of Idiofa, one of the centers of terrorist activity. The guerrillas, led by Peking-trained Pierre Mulele, a former Congolese cabinet minister, have sought to drive all white missionaries from the area they control.

Youth's Condition Reported Improving

AMARILLO (Spl) — Authorities at St. Vincent's Hospital in Amarillo reported today that Milo O'Loughlin's chances are improving, and "if he passes the crisis tomorrow morning, his chances of survival are very good."

MILO O'LOUGHLIN ... Improving

O'Loughlin, 17-year-old Miami High School senior, was critically injured early Sunday morning in a one-car accident near Panhandle, in which a companion, Henry Harnly of Pampa, suffered only minor injuries.

O'Loughlin was reported to have received a severed spinal cord, in addition to intensive injuries to his head and back. He has remained on the critical list at St. Anthony's, with three doctors in attendance.

Reports Sunday were that O'Loughlin faced a three-day fight for survival, with his chances improving each day. If he comes through tomorrow morning, hospital authorities are very optimistic about his chances after that.

It has been reported unofficially that O'Loughlin may be paralyzed from the waist down if he survives.

O'Loughlin was a varsity football player for Miami his first two years in school, but saw limited play last year. A jour-to the storm. Despite the heavy snowfall and bad road conditions, no deaths had been reported. However, Borger and Pampa law enforcement officers were expressing concern at noon for four area residents.

Stanley Shulkin, manager of the Pampa Levines Store, and Charles Tulis, an employee of the firm, were reportedly missing between Borger and Pampa. The two men, who both live in Borger, left their homes, according to Hutchinson County officers at 4 a.m. They reached Pampa safely about 1 p.m. after leaving their automobiles at Skellytown.

At Borger, Jack Wood, an independent oil driller, and Kenneth Lousure, a representative of Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., were reportedly missing since 6 p.m. Monday. The two left to inspect an oil lease on a nearby ranch and officers have been unable to reach them since.

Moisture Yield Makes Farmers In Area Happy

The blizzard conditions which left some 13 to 17 inches of snow in the Pampa area today made farmers very happy.

Gray County Agent Foster Whaley said the snow was "highly beneficial, due to high moisture content and in spite of heavy to moderate drifting."

"Dryland winter wheat will get a new lease on life and the grasslands area should receive enough moisture to get grass off to a good spring start," he said.

Whaley said no unusual death loss of cattle had been reported this morning. The county agent made spot check, by telephone, of farmers and ranchers around the county and received "happy" reports over the snow.

Lloyd Collis, north and east of White Deer, at 10 a.m. today reported moderate to severe drifting. Collis last night had brought in 1,000 head of sheep for protection and felt no unusual loss could be expected.

However, he felt he would have had a severe loss had he not brought the sheep in for protection.

Collis was very optimistic about 1964 dry land wheat crop. He remarked "we usually make some kind of a wheat crop following good winter moisture like this."

Jimmy McCracken, 17 miles south and east of Pampa, said drifting was too great at 9 a.m. today to attempt to feed cattle.

If weather permitted he planned later in the day to get to his cattle. He expressed no worry regarding unusual death loss on cattle.

Jerry Bond, rancher south of Skellytown, said the snow was half knee-deep in open grass land. He also reported moderate drifting. Bond said, "I can't even get my pickup out of the garage and I feel it almost impossible to get around to feed and am making no attempts to feed until later."

Bob Andis, Pampa rancher, was attempting to reach his farm 12 miles south of Pampa to reach four-wheel-drive machine in order to feed his cattle.

Bond, son-in-law and partner of Andis, attempted to reach him by two-way radio to get a report from Andis and was unable to do so. Andis has ranches at Asthola, Skellytown and Pampa area connected by two-way radio.

Weather Delays Court Action

City police said today arraignment of two prisoners was being delayed because of the weather and illness.

Both County Judge Bill Craig and County Attorney Don Cain were ill at their homes.

through windows.

One Pampa man was injured in a collision 9 1/2 miles east of Borger, but hospital officials here reported his condition was "good" this morning. The accident happened about 12:45 p.m. Monday.

Highway Patrolman Vernon Cawthon said Robert K. Horn, 64, of 618 N. West, suffered chest injuries when his automobile went out of control and crashed into a ton and half truck while proceeding down a hill.

Cawthon said the accident could be considered caused by ice on the highway. The officer said Horn topped a hill and began his descent. His car spun out of control and crossed lanes, into the path of the truck.

Two accidents near Lefors were reported, clogging highways, but causing no injuries. Highway patrolmen had to have assistance of road graders in both instances.

"It was impossible to work an accident without becoming clogged with snow," Wilson reported.

Pampa School Supt. Jack Edmondson closed schools today and tomorrow.

Edmondson said he could not get out of his house, having to make his official announcement by telephone.

"We're snowed in tight," he reported. Edmondson lives in the 1200 block on Garland.

Most of the police calls in Pampa were from motorists needing pushes, rides to work and other assistance.

Police Capt. Dennis Roan spent two hours or more bringing nurses and other staff members to Highland General Hospital.

Bill Robertson, director of the hospital, said that the hospital was working on "a half-staff basis."

"We haven't had any trouble here yet," he said. "We are going to try and make do with what we've managed to get to work."

The hospital reported no serious emergency calls had been received during the storm.

Schools in the area were closed and most basketball games were either cancelled this morning or were on the verge of being cancelled.

Bus travel was almost nil in the area and telephone lines to the Pampa bus depot were jammed with people inquiring about schedules.

In the Top O' Texas area, two small communities received attention with a number of motorists being stranded at Jericho and Groom.

Police said Groom was overflowing with stranded motorists while those trapped at Jericho had been freed by snow plows.

The storm covered an area of some 400 to 500 miles into New Mexico and further into Texas. One tornado was reported on the Gulf Coast at Rosenberg where 10 houses were damaged but no one was injured.

Rains covered most of the state and Houston reported heavy winds, some causing damage, plus rains.

But most Pampans were too busy digging out to worry about the rest of the state.

Reports from area towns were almost identical with the snow and wind taking their toll. Eight to 15 inches of snow were reported up until noon today.

LEFORS

Travel in and around the community possible with use of chains. Schools closed. Electrical power was faulty until around 8 a.m.

SKELLYTOWN

Business, schools and offices in the most part are closed. Stranded cars blocked roads in and out of town. No electricity or telephone service early today. Blowing snow with five to eight-foot drifts.

MCLEAN

Jack Shelton of the McLean News reported that traffic through McLean on U.S. 66 was very light. No school classes were conducted and a minimum of business establishments were open.

WHEELER-MOBEETIE

Blowing snow cut visibility to near zero. Schools closed and travel was impossible without chains.

MIAMI

Drifting snow made travel within the city limits impossible. Tractors were used to pull automobiles transporting business operators to work. School was dismissed.

CANADIAN

Walter Adams, sheriff of Hemphill County, reported that 14 to 15 inches of snow had fallen in the Canadian area early today. Cattle were in no danger this morning. Schools were closed and hotels and motels filled with stranded travellers.

Dear Abby... Shower-Type Reception For Parents of a Child?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A year ago last November my daughter was married in Las Vegas. She was four months along then, but, to save face, we told everybody she had been secretly married in June, right after her high school graduation. Her husband was in the Army but was able to get a 10-day-emergency leave at that time. Now he won't be able to come home again until he is discharged in October, when our grandson will be a year and a half old. Everything happened so fast there wasn't time for showers or even a wedding reception. The kids will have to start house-keeping from scratch and they don't have a thing. Would it be proper to give them a big shower-type wedding reception when her husband gets back?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: You may honor the couple with a "party," but I wouldn't recommend a "shower-type wedding reception" for parents of a one-and-a-half-year-old child.

DEAR ABBY: Recently our son brought a girl to our home so we could meet her. He is probably serious about her because he never brought a girl home for us to meet before. Well, that boy could not sit down without this girl plopping herself on his lap. She always had to be holding his hand, smoothing his hair and she would not let him out of her sight for one minute. We tried hard to like her, Abby, but she was disgusting! Our son is a college junior and so is she. If you were us, would you tell your son what you thought of such a brazen girl?

HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Only if he asked me.

DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me why the brides who never found the time to get out their thank-you notes always manage to find the time to get out the birth announcements? MISSISSIPPI MRS. DEAR MRS.: That's not always the case. It just seems

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
 UPI Foreign News Analyst
 Back in the 1940's and early 1950's when the signal fires of revolt were burning on Bolivian mountain tops, the man with his finger on the trigger was Juan Lechin Oquendo.
 Lechin had the loyalty of the tough Bolivian miners, and without him no revolution was likely to succeed.
 Working with Lechin, a man of little education, was Victor Paz Estenssoro, an intellectual, a college professor who had founded the National Revolutionary Movement (MNR) in 1942.
 A revolt triggered by the MNR in 1949 failed, but another in 1952 succeeded. Paz, in exile in Argentina, came back to Bolivia to become president. One of the men who brought him back was Lechin, who then became minister of mines.
 Lechin still retains the loyalty of the miners but his old friendship for Paz has changed to open enmity. The split became final late in January when the MNR named Paz as its candidate to repeat himself in another four-year term as president and expelled Lechin from the party.
 Boycotts Convention
 Lechin, vice president in Paz's current term of office, boycotted the convention and announced that he would run against Paz in the elections next June.
 A rump convention of the MNR's large left wing is expected to name Lechin as its candidate later this month.
 The split between the two men has led to fears that once again the miners will take up arms and that Bolivia, into which the United States has poured $300 million in an attempt to insure stability, again will be torn by revolt.
 Lechin has accused the Paz government of corruption and of being anti-democratic.
 Specifically, he opposes Paz's program for rehabilitation of Bolivia's lagging state-owned tin mining industry, closing down some mines and eventually reducing the number of miners by 5,000. Lechin has accused Paz of trying to wreck the unions and of being willing to sell out the country to foreign interests.
 Four Americans Seized
 An outgrowth of the dispute between the two men was last December's seizure of four Americans by the tin miners who held them for 10 days as hostages for the release of three jailed union leaders. The three, described as Communists, were accused of manslaughter and embezzlement.
 Lechin played a prominent role in obtaining release of the hostages, advising the miners to await a more favorable opportunity to "defeat the government." Communist leadership among the miners gave similar advice.
 Lechin has denied that he is either Marxist or Communist. He frequently has denounced both the United States and the U. S.-supported Alliance for Progress.
 As a candidate he seems to have softened his views somewhat, saying now he would make use of the alliance and would offer guarantees to foreign investors.

Stassen Predicts Victory Over LBJ

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI)—Presidential hopeful Harold Stassen kicked off his New Hampshire primary campaign Monday with a prediction that he will be nominated and will beat President Johnson.

Stassen, acknowledging he has "a long way to go in this political comeback," said he believes he can "beat President Johnson with a return to the Eisenhower brand of Republicanism."

Stassen told a newsman he would not have entered the presidential fray if President Kennedy had not been assassinated.

"I feel my policies are closer to President Kennedy's than to Johnson's and that I could do a better job than Johnson," he said. "His attractiveness will wear off when the honeymoon is over."

Stassen, who formally entered the March 10 primary last week, said he expects to win "at least 10 per cent of the vote. That will be a big step forward in re-introducing myself."

Stassen lost twice previously in presidential bids.

THE OWLS OF TEXAS

HOUSTON (UPI)—One guest in a plush suite at the Shamrock Hotel picked up his telephone one night and told a clerk, "Do something about those darned owls going 'hoo... hoo' all night every night."

The hotel investigated and found the birds had taken a liking to the top three floors of the hotel, where their flapping and hooting was bothering the guests.

The hotel now hires a steeplejack to climb around the roof periodically and dispatch the owls.

Income Tax Primer—2

Question That Faces Everyone: To Itemize or Not

By CHARLES W. SCHOENEMAN

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of 10 articles providing tips on completing your income return.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Since the beginning of the new year, the popular averages have continued to advance to new highs—spurred on by an almost universal optimism over 1964 economic prospects and accompanied by evidence of increasing public participation in the market," says Abraham & Co.

"While by and large, quality leadership continues to be impressive, disturbing signs of speculative excesses are appearing with more frequency. Economic indicators for the most part are still encouraging and much is made of the additional stimulus that will be supplied by the proposed tax reduction, though the extent to which that may have already been discounted cannot be calculated. Certainly both the economy and the level of equity values appear much sounder today than they did in the latter part of 1963 and it would not surprise us if the market's course continued upward over the next few months. Nevertheless, with the present business expansion approaching the ripe old age of three years and the stock market providing more than a few examples of unwholesome speculative fervor, we feel that the prudent investor should proceed with increasing caution."

Investment adviser James Dines says that "psychological indicators show the public becoming gradually optimistic, which normally points to a lower stock market. Their speculative fever is not yet up to the levels that normally precede large market declines—but watch closely."

The biggest decision most of us have to make when we fill out our tax return is whether we'll be better off taking the standard deduction or itemizing our nonbusiness deductions.

You have to use the long form in order to itemize. When you get to line 9—that's where your adjusted gross income goes—you have reached the time of decision.

If you choose the standard deduction, you are entitled to 10 per cent of the amount on line 9 or $1,000, whichever is less.

Remember also that if your line 9 amount is less than $5,000 you can use the so-called "tax table," which simplifies the job of completing your return. But the "tax table" may be used only if you do not itemize your nonbusiness deductions. It allows you approximately the 10 per cent standard deduction.

In asking yourself whether you should itemize, you must perly by hurricanes, floods, and acts of vandalism generally qualify.

A deduction is available for damage to your personal automobile resulting from a collision even though you were at fault—just so long as the damage caused by you to your car was not a result of your willful act. (Damage to the other car which you paid is not deductible.)

You can deduct only your loss in any case. Therefore, you must reduce the damage by any insurance payment you received. And remember also, loss is not the cost of repairs; it is usually the decrease in value caused by the accident.

A recent change: the IRS used to allow sudden termite damage as a casualty loss. Now, the IRS says, after long study, no termite damage occurs with enough suddenness to amount to a casualty loss.

So remember your casualty losses last year when deciding whether you should itemize your deductions, but remember also, you should be able to prove the amount of your losses.

know what the deductible non-business expenses are. All non-business interest—even interest on credit purchases, is deductible. Certain specific types of taxes are deductible on Page 2 of your return. Medical and dental expenditures are Page 2 deductions, and so are charitable contributions. Child care expenses are Page 2 deductions. And don't forget casualty losses.

The IRS says that a casualty loss deduction is allowed for any losses from fire, storm, or shipwreck or in any event due to some sudden, unexpected or unusual cause. Damage to nonbusiness pro-

'Coded' Message

Disturbs Soviets On Hot Line

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The quick brown fox jumped over the lazy dog's back on the "hot line" between the White House and the Kremlin recently and the Russians did not know what to make of it.

A high American official said the familiar test sentence was transmitted by technicians on the communications device.

"The other side was puzzled and asked what it meant," he was furnished.

So far, he added, it has not been necessary to use the "hot line" for any formal exchange of messages between U.S. and Soviet leader.

CARS DON'T HELP

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)—President Thomas F. Jones of the University of South Carolina said Monday that grades among new students rose after freshmen were prohibited from having cars.

Among older students, however, the interwoven problem of poor grades and cars remains, Jones said, and parents often are to blame. In one instance, he said, a capable student was falling at midsemester and was given a car by his parents, "presumably as an incentive to study."

"That student, I regret to say, is not with us now. He's off somewhere in his new car," Jones said.

Last-Second Break Saves Parachutist

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—A skydiver goes about his dangerous hobby of jumping out of airplanes content in the knowledge that if his main parachute doesn't open, he always has the reserve chute to depend on.

But for agonizing seconds Sunday, amateur parachutist Fred Hastings dropped like a stone toward the ground after both his parachutes failed to open properly. At the last second, the reserve chute billowed enough to act as a life-saving brake.

Hastings, 29, Gainesboro, Tenn., jumped from a plane at 5,500 feet and dropped more than 2,500 feet in a spread-eagle free fall before attempting to open his principal parachute. The chute's shrouds tangled with the canopy and flapped out behind him like a silken tail as he continued to fall.

Hastings then jerked open his chest pack reserve parachute but it became entangled with the main chute trailing over him. At the last second, however, the reserve parachute opened enough to slow Hastings' fall.

Red Chinese Hit LBJ, Russians

TOKYO (UPI)—Communist China compared Soviet leaders and President Johnson to Siamese twins Monday.

The Peking People's Daily, quoted in a Communist New China News Agency dispatch monitored here, was replying to an article published in the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda.

The Pravda article had criticized Peking for its attitude toward Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's disarmament plea. Pravda also charged that no Chinese Communist newspaper had published messages sent by Johnson and Khrushchev to the 17-nation disarmament conference in Geneva.

The Peking paper said: "Once upon a time there was a story of the Siamese twins. It was said that when one of the pair was hit, the other felt the pain. 'What puzzles one now is that this curious kinship should appear between the Communist leaders of the Soviet Communist party and the president of the United States.'"

Tourism Promotion Features Citrus

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—The Lower Rio Grande Valley plans to send 10,000 pieces of literature, 50 bags of citrus fruit, 16 horses and riders and 2 chamber of commerce managers to San Antonio Feb. 9 to promote tourism.

The trip will also emphasize the Valley's part in the annual San Antonio Livestock Show and Rodeo.

James Gibbs invented the chain-stitch sewing machine.

Castro Makes Public Show

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro, whose assassination was rumored last week, appeared in public for the first time in nine days Sunday to inaugurate the national amateur baseball championships.

Befitting his position, Castro chose to be the lead-off batter. With the count three strikes and one ball, he connected with a short fly ball which fell safely—with suspected help from the center fielder who let the ball drop in front of him.

The assassination rumor, which pops up periodically, was believed traceable to Cuban exiles in Miami. It circulated around the world, although no concrete evidence was discernible in the state-controlled Cuban press and radio broadcasts.

Quotes From The News

By United Press International MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Segregationist Gov. George Wallace of Alabama, commenting on a federal court order to transfer 12 Negro students from padlocked Tuskegee High School to white schools in neighboring towns: "We plan to take action. We intend to resist."

NEW YORK — The Rev. Milton Galamison, one of the organizers of Monday's anti-segregation school boycott, describing the protest: "This is the greatest demonstration in the history of the country."

MISENHEIMER, N.C. — Former Vice President Richard M. LIZUM, Austria—Eddie Fisher, claiming he is a changed and happier man since his separation from Liz Taylor: "Whatever happened to me, terrible as it seemed at the time, has made me a happier man. I was involved with one woman — now I am involved with life. And I love it."

Weather Wreaks Havoc With Basketball Plans

Pampa High basketball coach Terry Culley reported this morning that the Harvesters

PAMPA TILT OFF
Pampa athletic director Weldon Trice announced today that due to the continued bad weather, tonight's scheduled basketball game at Plainview had been postponed. The game, crucial to Plainview's chances in the district race, will be played this Saturday night at Plainview, with the B and varsity games as regularly scheduled.

planned to travel to Plainview tonight if at all possible to play their key district 3-AAA game with Plainview.

Other Top O' Texas cage teams reported their games postponed, or in doubt depending on whether or not the snows cleared up on the highways. Culley said that the Harvesters had planned to leave by bus for Plainview at 1 p.m. today, for the 130-mile trip to Plainview. The B team game is scheduled for 6 p.m., the varsity game for 8. Culley said he would report later if continued bad weather forced a change in plans.

Miami School Superintendent Weldon Snodgrass said that the scheduled district games with Mobetie were being postponed, with a possible replay Thursday night.

A key district game between Lefors and McLean is being postponed, but will be replayed at a later date.

Groom and Wheeler had not made definite decisions this morning as to whether tonight's games would be played. Wheeler coach Grady Burnett said visiting Kellon would wait and see if the roads cleared up. Groom, scheduled to host Claude, also was awaiting further weather reports. Neither school was holding classes today.

Canadian coach James Anglin said that tonight's girls game with Draughton's of Amarillo had already been cancelled. The boys district game with Memphis would probably be postponed to a later date. Bad telephone connections between Pampa and White Deer made it impossible to contact coaches Roy Simmons and Ronnie Mills to check on their scheduled district games at Spearman.

OUT OF MEET

NEW YORK (UPI)—A spike wound incurred by Fordham's Sam Perry during the Boston Athletic Association track meet last Saturday will keep him out of the Philadelphia Inquirer meet Friday. Perry, the National AAU indoor 60-yard champion, sustained a cut on the back of his left leg which required 14 stitches. He will be out of action for an indefinite period.

American Skater Takes First Olympic Gold Medal

INNSBRUCK, Austria (UPI)—Terry McDermott, a 23-year-old barber from Essexville, Mich., using skates he borrowed from his coach, gave the victory-starved U.S. team its first gold medal of the Winter Olympics today when he won the men's 500-meter speed-skating race in an Olympic record of 40.1 seconds. Heavy favorite Evgeny Grishin of Russia, holder of the old mark of 40.2 seconds and many-time world champion, skidded slightly on the first turn and finished in a three-way tie for second place, in 40.6 seconds. McDermott's upset triumph touched off an explosion of joy in the camp of the American team. Until today the only medals won by the United States were one silver and one bronze, both by Jean Saubert of Ogden, Utah, in women's skiing. McDermott's time, which stunned a capacity crowd in the Olympic ice stadium because the ice had been thought to be slow as a result of mild weather, eclipsed the mark that Grishin set in winning this event in 1956 and tied when he won it again in 1960 at Squaw Valley, Calif. "I did it on borrowed skates," the jubilant McDermott disclosed. "I broke my own skates in training in Colorado and Coach Leo Freisinger suggested I use his." Freisinger, of Los Angeles, hailed Terry for "skating a perfect race," and McDermott said, "I got into good form right at the start and held it."

Matson Breaks Texas Record

LUBBOCK (UPI)—Southern Methodist's Billy Frost Monday night equaled the world college 60-yard dash record with six seconds flat at the third annual Lubbock Indoor Track Meet. Olympic star Ralph Boston, running for the Los Angeles Striders, broke meet records in the high jump and broad jump. The 24-year-old graduate student was voted the meet's outstanding athlete. Boston leaped 23 feet, 7 inches in the broad jump and made 6 feet 8 1/2 inches in the high jump. Randy Matson of Pampa, Tex., a Texas A & M freshman, set a Texas college shot put record with a 60-foot, 3/4-inch heave. Parry O'Brien of Pasadena, Calif., missed the meet because of a raging snow storm that interrupted air travel. He was favored in the shotput. An Oklahoma team, running the two-mile relay in 7 minutes, 56.8 seconds, set a meet record. Texas Tech made the one-mile relay in 3 minutes, 27.3 seconds for another record. Richard Romo of Texas set a one-mile record with 4 minutes, 24 seconds. Janice Rinehart of Texas Tech Track Club tied the women's 60-yard dash record, 7.3 seconds.

UCLA First Place Team

NEW YORK (UPI)—UCLA, aiming to bring the national basketball title back to the West Coast for the first time in four years and join an exclusive group of unbeaten champions, today ranked No. 1 in the United Press International major college ratings for the fifth straight week. The Bruins own the only perfect record among major teams and if they can survive a schedule which calls for six games away from home in the remaining nine, they could become only the fourth unbeaten UPI champion since the ratings were instituted in 1950. The last West Coast champion was California in 1960. The North Carolina team of the '55-'56 season and Ohio State's '60-'61 quintet are the only perfect-record champs. For the third consecutive week 32 of the 35 coaches on the UPI rating board ranked UCLA No. 1 and awarded the same point total of 348, four points less than a perfect rating. Michigan received two first-place ballots and Kentucky one. The points are distributed on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-1 basis for votes from first to 10th, respectively. Michigan and Kentucky continued to rank 23, respectively. Soaring Wichita, 12th three weeks ago, rose from sixth to fourth on the strength of its unblemished Missouri Valley Conference record.

Orange Bowl Ends Tieup With Big 8

MIAMI (UPI) The Orange Bowl Committee, which in the days of Oklahoma superiority had only half a problem in planning for New Year's Day, will be bidding for both its teams in the open market this fall, its Big Eight tieup ended. Committee President B. Boyd Benjamin announced Monday the vote to end the 11-year series of contracts. He said the committee, with more money to offer now and the first night game among the major bowls, felt it could reach new heights by leaving the possibilities wide open. He said the decision was "a difficult one" because of the good relations with the Big Eight, which puts its champion in the Miami Bowl game from 1954 through this year. Five times it was Oklahoma, and the Sooners lost but once. HARTMAN DIES LANCASTER, Pa. (UPI)—George H. Hartman, nationally known dog show judge, died here Monday. He was 60. Hartman, also a director of the American Kennel Club, was a resident of nearby Lampeter.

Thief In the Vault

A 21-ton steel door, locked with multiple dial combination, bars entrance to the U. S. Government vault at Ft. Knox, Ky. containing over $11 billion in gold.

Maximum protection is the order day and night over the federal supply of gold, the traditional standard for man's medium of exchange.

Yet there is growing evidence that the protection is not functioning; that the money supply has been tampered with; that a master thief has penetrated the elaborate devices of steel fences and vaults, and ironclad regulations.

Dr. Rothbard explores the function of money in a free society. Then, under the chapter, "Government Meddling With Money," he analyzes the revenue of government, the economy effects of inflation.

What Voluntary Agreement Does

A voluntary agreement signed by six oil-producing states nearly 30 years ago has made possible the recovery of billions of barrels of oil and trillions of cubic feet of natural gas that otherwise would have been lost forever.

leaving large quantities of oil underground. Credit for halting this tragic loss belongs largely to conservation measures worked out by oilmen in cooperation with the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

Course of Excellence

The nation, if it is to honor itself in the long decades which lie ahead, needs to place itself upon a course of excellence. It can neither serve its own great purposes nor those of free men in the world at large if it does not do this.

Our motion pictures are nudged aside by foreign films. The Broadway stage is heavily marked by European imports. What great new novelist is America halting today?

HOW TO ADDRESS OUR LAW MAKERS

By United Press International Catastrophic accidents, those in which five or more persons are killed, were responsible for nearly 1,400 deaths last year in the continental United States, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

We are not. We are still a rich, resourceful, inventive and energetic people. The fact of great consequence is that we find it much too easy in this decade of the '60s to forgive ourselves and others for not living up to the best that is in us — as individuals.

Her First Visit to His Apartment

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — The Senate's first report on those defense contract controversies President Johnson inherited from the Kennedy Administration is about to hit the headlines.

The Senate Armed Services Preparedness Subcommittee plans to publish its findings this week sharply criticizing former Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell Gilpatric for overruling a military selection committee in awarding the contract for the X-22 vertical take-off airplane.

In their "little TFX" report, the senators will blast Gilpatric, who resigned from the No. 2 Pentagon post last month, for acting with "incomplete and inadequate information" in awarding the $18 million contract to Bell Aerosystems Development Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

They stress that their six-month investigation showed "a reversal of the selection committee's recommendation without full, thorough, and adequate consultation, and without knowledge by the decision-maker of material facts that would have justified an opposite conclusion."

According to the Senate report, "Douglas submitted a superior technical proposal which had no unacceptable items requiring correction," while, "Bell's design had four areas (vision, escape, transmission and fuel systems) which were unacceptable and required correction costing the government an extra $422,000."

The military selection committee, made up of 75 top Navy scientists, and technical evaluators, estimated Douglas' cost for developing the radical flying craft to be $780,000 lower than Bell's.

THE REPRIMAND — The senators also reprimand Gilpatric for discussing the case with former Navy Secretary Fred Korth after the Texan had withdrawn from the decision-making because of a possible conflict-of-interest, stating: "Secretary of Navy Korth had previously been a member of the Board of Directors of Bell's parent company and had been a president of a Fort Worth, Texas, bank with which Bell had banking relations. Therefore, in order to avoid any appearance of a conflict-of-interest, Secretary Korth had turned the matter over to Dr. James H. Wakelin, Jr., Assistant Secretary of Navy for Research and Development, and expressed the desire not to be involved in the decision-making process."

Customer — I want to try on that suit in the window. Salesman — Sorry, sir, but you'll have to use the dressing room.

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The Senate's first report on those defense contract controversies President Johnson inherited from the Kennedy Administration is about to hit the headlines.

In view of Secretary Korth's previous position in this matter, it was unfortunate that he became involved in it and was called upon to express and did express an opinion. Secretary Gilpatric should have refrained from consulting Secretary Korth about this matter.

THE COMPARISON — Significantly, the senators point out that their "little TFX" inquiry raised many of the same questions involved in the congressional probe of the big TFX multi-billion dollar contract.

They conclude that, "The inquiry is significant and noteworthy since this was the first instance known when a unanimous military service selection committee's recommendation was overruled by the Office of Secretary of Defense. The TFX award, which is currently being investigated by the Senate Permanent Investigating Committee, came at a later date."

This inquiry led indirectly to the resignation of both Korth and Gilpatric. Defense Secretary McNamara's appearance to testify on the Big TFX contract will be the next major step in that investigation, which is still underway.

VERTICAL TAKE-OFF — The Department of Defense now has three VTOL (vertical take-off or landing) airplane projects under development — the X-19, XC-142 and X-22. Each project is a tri-service effort with the Army, Navy and Air Force sharing equally in the costs. These planes are being designed to fly both vertically and horizontally. They are to take off or land vertically, like helicopters, eliminating the need for costly runways and permitting operation from unimproved airstrips. The planes also will fly horizontally at acceptable speeds carrying payloads comparable to those of conventional horizontal aircraft. The Navy's X-22 specifications call for an aircraft that will weigh about 15,000 pounds, carry a pilot and co-pilot, plus a payload of 1,200 pounds; achieve a 6,000-foot ceiling; maintain a two-hour flight endurance at sea level; cruise at 250 knots. The first flight is scheduled in early 1965.

Editor: Leaving the casket open is a pagan funeral practice, says Louis Cassels in the Pampa Daily News of 1-24-64. The UPI columnist goes on to add that morticians nowadays have immoral and indecent ads in newspapers that say, "Funeral customs and religion are intertwined."

I don't believe it. I believe Cassels' article is an affront to the Christian community. He obviously is parroting Jessica Mitford's "The American Way of Death."

She also was identified as one who attended a closed meeting of the Communist Party on Jan. 28, 1951, at El Cerrito, Calif. When questioned on this she took the Fifth Amendment.

I think it is significant that on the same day that Cassel's diatribe appeared in the Pampa Daily News the head of the Communist Party's ideological commission reawakened the drive to stamp out church practices.

You Don't Have to Know Nothin' to Be a Voter

By ED DELANEY

The devotees in what they regard as the cause of "civil rights" would abolish literacy tests as a prerequisite for voting in our national elections. No American, they contend, should be denied the right to vote merely because he does not know his A-B-C's.

One member of that federal commission, Brendan Byrne, executive director of American Heritage Foundation, cited the ridiculousness of the argument for abandonment of the literacy tests for voting in some states.

Leaving the casket open is a pagan funeral practice, says Louis Cassels in the Pampa Daily News of 1-24-64. The UPI columnist goes on to add that morticians nowadays have immoral and indecent ads in newspapers that say, "Funeral customs and religion are intertwined."

Liberties Union or the N.A.A.C.P.?

No naturalized citizen of this country may vote in an election unless he or she is able to read, write and speak words of ordinary usage in the English language. No immigrant is permitted to come into this country unless he or she can read and write in some language, usually that of their country of origin.

But the bleeding-hearts who are so solicitous for the voting rights to our native born illiterates, are saying, in effect, that they are entitled to exercise their right of franchise, even though they do not know A from Z. Why should they? What's right for the foreign-born person, is right for the American-born. Remember, the motto is "equal rights for all." Or is it?

TAKE TEN—Dressed in her jump suit and leaning against her parachute, Ingrid Kaye, 24, pauses for lunch before taking another jump. The skydiver, a native of West Germany, is a veteran of 205 jumps. NAVY CHOW

ALAMEDA, Calif. (UPI) — The U. S. Navy is trying to improve the food service for its enlisted men, but Captain Charles E. Roemer of the aircraft carrier USS Coral Sea has carried it to the extreme.

The vessels' 1,600 enlisted men, served by Japanese waitresses, enjoyed the following lunch Wednesday prepared by the chef of the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco:

"Roast duck a l'orange, cornbread dressing, beef stroganoff, sweet potatoes, two vegetables, a variety of salads and cherries jubilee."

TURBINE-HEATED SCHOOL

McALLEN, Tex. (UPI) — A high school in McAllen gets its comfort from the same things that make a jet go.

The school is the first in the country to use a gas turbine, similar to the aircraft jet engine, for its energy for air-conditioning, electricity, hot water and heating. In cold weather, the turbine exhaust heat from the electricity turbine is used for hot water and heating. In warm weather, the steam is used as an energy source for an absorption chiller for air-conditioning.

5 directions to follow for wise investing

You may want to own stock with the aim of building a second income. Or to give your money a chance to increase as the years fly by. Whatever your goal, here are 5 directions to help you stay on the track:

First, give careful thought to the broker you choose. At a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange you'll have the help of a broker who, when he was registered, had to meet Exchange standards. Though Member Firms may differ in many ways, they are all subject to the Exchange's rules and regulations.

You'll be wise to be candid with him about your resources and ambitions. For the investing route you take depends upon where you hope to go. And you're more likely to get there when your investments snugly fit your goals. He can help you with your decisions—but don't expect to find a crystal ball on his desk.

Second, weigh the risk against the reward. Some companies have prospered greatly and their shareowners have benefited—sometimes handsomely—from their growth. But other companies have found the going rougher, perhaps making no profit, paying no dividends. Keep in mind, too, that stock prices, like other prices, fluctuate for many reasons.

Third, consult your pocketbook. Are your living expenses amply cared for? Have you made proper provision for emergencies? Do you still have funds left over? Then you may be ready to consider making some of your dollars work as hard for you as you worked for them—through investment in good stock.

Fourth, always distinguish between fact and rumor. When tips and rumors have no basis in fact, they can cost you dearly. Ask your Member Firm broker to help you check earnings and dividend records, sales trends and other important information. And inquire about the relative safety and stability of bonds.

Fifth, send for a copy of "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." The coupon below will bring you, free, the records of more than 500 stocks that have paid cash dividends each year for 25 years or more. It also tells about the Monthly Investment Plan through which you can start acquiring stock by investing with as little as $40 every three months ($3.08 a week). Send the coupon today.
