

Castroites, Communists Blamed for Panama Riots

(EDITOR'S NOTE — A key question in the Panamanian riots of Jan. 10-15 was whether Communists and Castroites were involved. U.S. Army Secretary Cyrus R. Vance said at least 10 Cuba-trained Communists had been arrested by the Panama national guard. A Panamanian spokesman ridiculed the charge that professional Reds participated in the anti-American rioting. In the following exclusive dispatch, UPI Latin American News Editor Francis L. McCarthy discloses details of the rioting, documented by photographs.)

By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY
NEW YORK (UPI) — Communists and Castroites helped organize the anti-American rioting in Panama in which 21 persons were killed and several hundred wounded earlier this month, authoritative sources told UPI today.
 The sources supplied several photographs and identifications of participants.
 About 70 known Communists and Fidelistas (Castro sympathizers) seized on an incident to spark and develop the outbreaks. Some 40 of these, who played leading roles, were said to have been recent visitors to Cuba, Soviet Russia and Red China.

The Reds who led the demonstrations all were armed.
Arrest A Few
 Panama authorities were reported to have arrested some of the better known subversives after American complaints. These were reported to have been released quickly because of their leading roles in student affairs and government fears of adverse public reaction in Panama. (A palace guard spokesman in Panama said he did not know anything about such arrests.)
 The sources said a flag-raising incident at the Balboa High School in the Canal Zone, for which American students were to blame, gave the Communists and Castroites the incident they long had been seeking to provoke violence.

 Their subsequent actions responded to appeals from Havana for riots and disorders throughout Latin America. It was hoped these would divert world opinion from formal Venezuelan charges to the Organization of American States (OAS) that Communist Cuba supplied arms to the terrorist underground. Armed Forces for National Liberation (FALN). The appeals were intercepted in Caracas and form part of the Venezuelan case against Cuba.
 UPI's sources traced organized agitation in the days immediately preceding and following the flag-raising incident as follows:

Interrupt Rally
 On Jan. 9, Communist speakers interrupted a student rally at the National Institute in Panama City to announce a march on the Balboa High School. The Communist orators at this rally were identified as Floy Britton, Carlos Nunez and the leader of a women's affiliate, Virginia Ramirez.
 The sources said they openly called for violence to follow the march.
 Britton, 26, was described as the sparkplug at the Jan. 9 rally.

 A card-carrying Communist since 1960, he instigated demonstrations against the U.S. Embassy in Panama City in 1955, participated in the Cuban-sponsored guerrilla activity in the Panamanian interior in 1959, and in student riots against the Panama Canal.
 He was a Castro guest in Cuba in late 1961 and early 1962.
 On Jan. 10, following a night of rioting, Panamanian Communist leaders appeared at the National Institute to distribute arms to demonstrators. Identified and reported to the Panamanian national guard were Cleto Souza, Ruben Dario Souza, Jorge Turner and Cesar Carrasquilla.

Identified as Communist
 Carrasquilla, the ringleader, was identified as a Communist cell leader in the science faculty at the University of Panama.
 Speakers were heard urging the crowd to "kill Americans" and keep up the disorders "until all Americans have left Panama."
 Later the same day, a deputy in the National Assembly, Thelma King, a close friend of Fidel Castro and a frequent visitor to Communist Cuba, personally led a mob of about 1,000 persons to national guard headquarters to demand weapons.

At the same time, Radio Tribuna, a transmitter partly owned by Miss King, openly broadcast appeals for mob violence.
 A subsequent meeting at Panama University, which led to further violence, was organized by Victor Avila, 24, Communist student leader. He was described as a Communist since 1960 and a former secretary general of the Panamanian Students Federation.
 Avila, like Britton, was trained in Cuba. After the meeting, Britton was observed leading the demonstrations along the zone border.

Agreement Sought To End Island Crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States told Allied governments today it would be willing to send a small force of troops to Cyprus as part of an international peace-keeping team, provided an agreement could be worked out on three-point peace plan by all parties concerned in the dispute.
 According to U.S. officials, this is the plan:
 —Peace-keeping forces would be drawn from several NATO countries. The United States would contribute only a relatively small component — perhaps 1,000 to 2,000 men out of a total international force of about 10,000.
 —The international force would remain on the eastern Mediterranean island only three months.
 —All parties to the Cyprus dispute would agree to the appointment of a mediator — probably a European, but not British, Greek, Turkish or American.
 U.S. confirmation that it was willing, conditionally, to send troops to Cyprus if needed followed persistent reports to that effect from London and elsewhere. The United States had insisted until today that no final decision had been taken on this question.
 U.S. officials said the three-point peace plan was being outlined to the Greek, Turkish and Cypriot governments today.
 All Must Agree
 American spokesmen stressed that all three points must be accepted by all parties before there would be any final U.S. agreement to commit troops.
 The peace package was drawn up by U.S. officials in response to various British,

Special Farm Message Studies Supermarkets

By BERNARD BRENNER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson today sent Congress a special farm message outlining new agricultural programs with a city-flavored program to study the growing economic power of supermarkets.
 Johnson's shopping list of farm proposals, some carried over from the Kennedy administration and already part way through the congressional mill, included programs for wheat, cotton, milk, sugar, and potatoes.
 The President said the new plan, which he framed in broad, general terms to allow room for congressional compromise, should make market prices more competitive with other fibers.
 The wheat plan on which Johnson asked "prompt action," is designed to head off $500 million-$700 million drop in grower income this year by offering higher price supports to producers who voluntarily curb output.
Attacks Rural Poverty
 The wide-ranging message also called for fresh steps to attack poverty in rural areas, to broaden food aid to needy, and a five-year extension of the decade-old Food for Peace program.
 In one of the few real surprises in the message, Johnson said there was "pressing need" for a bi-partisan commission to study revolutionary changes which have been sweeping the food marketing system.
 The President said one of every two dollars spent for groceries now goes to fewer than 40 corporate, voluntary, or cooperative chains. Not enough is known about the effects of this "greatly increased concentration of power" or about changes including contract farming and vertical integration of production and marketing, he added.

 "I urge that the Congress establish a bi-partisan commission to study and appraise these changes, so that farmers and business people may make appropriate adjustments and our government may properly discharge its responsibility to consumers," Johnson said.
Retailer in Control
 An administration spokesman said there had been charges that retailers now have the power to control prices of some food products. But he said the proposed study was not designed to make a whipping boy of anyone.

 In another proposal, Johnson asked for a bill allowing potato-growers to vote on whether to accept rigid production controls to stabilize supplies and market prices. No federal price supports would be coupled with the control program.
 Johnson also asked for approval of a bill pending in Congress since last year to authorize future expansion of the food stamp program which swells the food-buying funds of needy families.
 And in a proposal allied to his planned general anti-poverty campaign, he said some of the poverty-fighting funds he already had requested should be used to purchase equipment to enable schools in low-income areas to participate in the federal school lunch program.

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle called today for neutralization of embattled Southeast Asia but said this is impossible without agreement with Red China.
 De Gaulle told a crowded news conference this was one of the reasons why he recognized the Chinese Communist this week.
 "No peace or war is imaginable in Asia without China being involved," he declared. "It is inconceivable to be able to conclude a treaty of neutrality concerning the states of Southeast Asia to which France bears a special and cordial attention — without China being a party to it. Neutrality, in fact, seems to be the only situation compatible with a peaceful life and progress for these peoples."
 On the Common Market, De Gaulle said the agreement on a joint farm policy reached by the six member nations just before Christmas was essential if the trading group is to push ahead.
 The whole French cabinet and nearly 1,000 French and foreign newsmen and officials were packed into the ornate, gilded state salon of the palace. They included two Nationalist Chinese and one Communist Chinese correspondent.
 De Gaulle made a brief opening statement before asking for questions.
 "The nation is at peace abroad and is not involved in

Rainfall Over State Makes Farmers Happy

Rainfall measuring .22 of an inch, which pleased Pampa area wheat growers, preceded a weak cold front that moved in today.
 The rain, which measured almost three inches in some Texas areas, soaked dry soil and low stock ponds along with streams were replenished.
 The cold front cleared skies and caused slight cooling in north sections of the state. A warming trend was expected during the day and a sunny and mild weekend was the outlook.
 Fog, which swept into Pampa about 9 p.m. Thursday, was reported generally in the Top O' Texas area with overnight state temperatures ranging from 27 at Dalhart and Amarillo to 63 at Beaumont.

San Antonio had a 2.46 measured rain fall to top the state. The rains came from cloudy skies and was welcomed by area wheat farmers.
 County Agent Foster Whaley said the crop outlook had not reached the danger stage, but the shower certainly removed much of the fear that wheat would be endangered.
 Whaley made the report as the rains settled fields that farmers had been watching in fear of dust blows prior to beginning preventive cultivation.
 "We're in good shape here, but we can stand the rain," Whaley said. The county agent went on to explain that the Pampa area had received "lots more rain than in other parts" (See RAINFALL, Page 3)

Hospital Plans For McLean Deadlocked

Efforts to obtain additional funds for a 21-bed hospital at McLean reached another deadlock Thursday afternoon when county officials met with the McLean City Council.
 The project, for which a $150,000 bond issue was voted last August, has been stalled because builder's estimates show the cost of construction would run closer to $195,000 for 21 beds.
 County Judge Bill Craig said the entire McLean City Commission met with the county commissioners and representatives (See HOSPITAL, Page 3)

Teen Ticket-Getters Fewer, Says Judge

Corporation Judge John Warner's system of handling teen-age traffic violators is paying off.
 It's paying off so well, Judge Warner said today, that he is reducing the weekly teen-age traffic court days to twice a month sessions.
 Starting with February, Warner stated, the teen-age court appearances will be scheduled for the first and third Saturday mornings of each month.
 "We have reached the point," Warner said, "where the number of violators appearing for the weekly court sessions is down to five or six."
 In October the courtroom was crowded each Saturday with 15 to 20 violators.
 Judge Warner last summer started a system whereby teen-age traffic violators had the choice of writing a traffic safely theme or paying a fine. Many of them chose the theme-writing method which requires research on traffic safety measures.

 "I believe it has had a good effect on the city's youthful drivers," Warner said. "This is shown by the big drop in violations."
 Warner pointed out that in the period from Oct. 1 to Dec. 31 some 207 teen-agers were convicted of traffic charges. 114 paid fines and 93 wrote themes.
 Only six of the theme writers have been repeaters, Warner stated, while 20 of those who paid fines have been back in court on traffic charges.

Court Supports Open Beach Law

HOUSTON (UPI)—The First Court of Civil Appeals supported Thursday the Texas open beaches law and declared the public has a right to use Galveston's West Beach.

The decision upheld a 1961 trial court decision at Galveston.

The original suit was brought by the attorney general's office when Will Wilson was in office, against Seaway Co., Inc., of Galveston, which had fenced off part of Galveston's West Beach. The company sought to make the portion of the beach a private area in the Sea Isle subdivision owned by Seaway.

The suit sought to clarify whether the public beach stretched only to the mean high tide water mark or to the vegetation line.

The 122nd District Court presided over by Dist. Judge L. D. Godard upheld the state's claim to the beach area to the vegetation line.

In a 38-page opinion written by Chief Justice Spurgeon E. Bell, the appeals court said today the trial court correctly that there was an easement established setting up the public's access to the beach.

Seaway contended the open beach law is unconstitutional and denies certain private property rights.

Whether the United States served its own best interest when it agreed to sell U.S. wheat to Russia still is a matter of debate.

Undeniable, however, is the effect it has had on the United States' friends and allies in defending their own dealings with Communist-bloc nations, especially Cuba.

In reply to expressed U.S. displeasure over the $11 million sale of British-made buses to the Castro government, a company official remarked tartly that the United States had asked no one's permission when it decided to sell wheat to the Soviet Union.

In Madrid, the Spanish information ministry weekly, El Espanol, also referred to the wheat deal in defending a proposed exchange of Cuban sugar for Spanish-built fishing vessels and medium tonnage freighters. The weekly added:

"Despite American pressure, Spain is doing everything possible...to increase its non-strategic trade with Cuba... Negotiations between the two nations continue their course."

The sale of the buses was for Britain the largest in some years in her dealings with Cuba.

Of much larger proportions is the proposed exchange between Spain and Cuba, involving on the one hand the sale of 350,000 tons of Cuban sugar worth about $80 million and on the other ship construction valued at roughly $50 million.

In a different category but also representing a breakthrough for Castro's efforts to nullify the U.S. economic boycott was a Havana Radio announcement of a new trade agreement with Sweden.

Sweden, practically exempt from U.S. pressures, reportedly will provide Cuba's cement industry with machinery, repair parts and raw material.

As for Spain, the United States has become increasingly concerned over that country's growing economic and transportation links with Cuba, and has used both economic and moral pressures.

Spain reportedly has been warned that the United States regards the impending Cuban deal as a breach of friendship and that it could endanger a U.S.-financed $100 million development program for Spain.

The Spanish press regularly condemns the Communist Castro regime, but the government position has been that both historic and cultural ties, as well as a need for trade, justify a policy of closer relations.

Spain also argues that good relations with Cuba are necessary to watch over the interest of 40,000 Spanish citizens living in Cuba.

Halleck Predicts Passage Soon of Rights, Tax Bills

CHICAGO (UPI) — House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., said this week the tax and civil rights bills will be passed by Congress "in the near future."

Halleck, in a speech to a meeting of the independent grocers' alliance, said Congress "will measure up to its responsibilities to the people."

Both the tax bill and the civil rights bill are highly complicated measures and are receiving thoughtful consideration, he said.

"We have demonstrated that in times of crisis we can move swiftly on matters obviously in the public interest," Halleck said. "But the Congress has always been cautious not to be stampeded into ill-considered action for which there is no demonstrated need or widespread public demand."

Halleck said the tax cut would be approved "because enough of us insisted there be a cut back in spending to make a tax reduction meaningful."

Artist Sets Auction Here

Clarence Kincaid Sr. who is bringing some of his original works of art here 2 p.m. Sunday for an auction sale at 120 W. Foster is no amateur painter, and is well known through out this area, having lived in Amarillo, Texas for some 35 years, and has painted this western country as few artists have.

In earlier years, Kincaid was a commercial artist and business man, and more recently operated his own art gallery in Taos, N.M.

He has painted the Palo Duro Canyon, New Mexico, Arizona, and the Ozarks of Arkansas.

Kincaid was the first to bring the auction sales to this part of the country and hopes in this way to stimulate an interest in original works of art by local artists.

Larry Hilburn who will handle the sale here Sunday, is also an artist, holds a master's degree in art, won a Fulbright Scholarship and studied in Paris. He also taught art in the public schools of Amarillo at one time.

Dear Abby....

There Was A Reason— Lack of Courage

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My heart feels like a ton of lead inside me. My daughter, who is a lovely girl of 19, asked permission to spend the night with her girl friend, whom we shall call Laurie. We know Laurie and her parents very well. Laurie has spent many nights with our daughter. I wanted our daughter to stop at the grocery store before coming home the next morning, so I telephoned her at Laurie's house. Laurie's mother said that our daughter had not slept there, and she was under the impression that Laurie had spent the night at OUR house. Abby, what am I to think? Why did these girls lie? And where were they?

ONE SAD MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: I don't know where the girls were, but I would certainly ask them. They lied for the same reason that most people lie—because they haven't the courage to tell the truth.

The Doctor Says

DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
The symptom your doctor is most frequently called on to relieve is pain. Yet he often has no way of knowing whether the pain is mild or severe.

Some persons have such a low threshold for pain that a very slight discomfort is described as an excruciating pain. Others with every reason to have severe pain how little or no evidence of having any pain at all.

Pain may be said to arise whenever a nerve that is a pain felt acts as a warning to irritation can be brought on by pressure from a sharp or blunt object, by extreme heat or cold, or by a chemical reaction such as contact with acid, alkali or salt. Very light stimuli may cause tickling or itching. Thus, these sensations may be considered a mild type of pain.

When a stimulus in the form of a pin, heat or a chemical is applied to the skin, the pain felt acts as a warning to withdraw before extensive tissue damage results. Thus, we all recognize the value of pain arising on the surface of the body. But when a pain arises from within the head, chest, abdomen or a joint, the immediate cause is often not so obvious. We are then apt to look on the pain not as a warning, but as something to be rid of as quickly as possible.

This has frequently caused a great deal of mischief. An all-too-common example is the person who, when confronted with a severe pain in the abdomen, rushes to the medicine cabinet and takes a purgative. If the pain is due to an inflamed appendix, the purgative is more than likely to cause it to burst. This would result in peritonitis and possible death. In such a case, it is better to suffer the pain and call a doctor to determine the cause.

It is unwise, too, to take a strong pain-killer while waiting for the doctor to come. Such a drug may not only dull the pain, but also bring down a fever and may thus mask the evidence of an infectious disease. This would cause your doctor to lose valuable time in arriving at a correct diagnosis.

At the other end of the spectrum is the person who complains incessantly about a pain that is little more than a minor discomfort. Constant pleas to do something—anything—to relieve the unbearable pain have led to many a fruitless exploratory operation on the abdomen that has left the victim no better off than before the operation.

Rose Society Year Books Distributed

New year books were distributed to members of the Pampa Rose Society during a meeting conducted recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Carlson, 2211 Charles.

Homemade Apple Relish Exclusive with Pork

By GAYNOR MADDOX
We asked Demetria Taylor, a magician with apples, to give us an exclusive recipe for homemade apple relish to serve with pork or ham. Here it is:

APPLE RELISH (6 servings)

2 large red apples
1 lemon, juice
1 medium onion, chopped
¼ cup sliced sweet gherkins
1 tablespoon capers
¼ cup sliced ripe olives
½ cup French dressing
Core apples; do not peel. Cut crosswise into ½-inch slices, then into ¼-inch chunks. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Add remaining ingredients; toss to mix well.

Relish makes a fine accompaniment for roast pork, pork chops, baked ham, ham slice, smoked pork butt—indeed, any kind of pork, fresh or cured.

Did you ever stuff apples with cooked chicken, then bake and serve as a luncheon or supper dish? It's worth trying.

ARABIAN STUFFED APPLES (6 servings)

6 medium-large baking apples
1 cup finely chopped cooked chicken
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ground black pepper
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
1-3 cup soft-bread crumbs
1 teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Instruct children to wash their hands in the bathroom—not in the kitchen sink. This health tip comes from William H. Cary Jr., chief of the Washington, D.C. Bureau of Environmental Health.

APPLE RELISH was made for pork and ham.

Wash apples, peel about ¼ 7½x2-inch baking pan. Cover the way down the apple, beginning at stem end. Remove cores, being careful not to cut through the bud end. Combine chicken, salt, black pepper, cloves and bread crumbs. Spoon into apple cavities. Place apples in a 12x

Casserole Mohican Satisfies Teeners Following Sports or High School Hop

GAYNOR MADDOX - Teen-agers automatically follow the lead of their parents. They like to invite the home for an impromptu party. They like to have a party. They like to have a party. They like to have a party.

in easy reach. Best of all, paper service offers "built-in" maid service. Dishwashing becomes a simple matter of tossing the used plates and cups into a kitchen waste container.

For such teen-age surprise forays, keep a supply of canned peannts, assorted cookies, packaged chips and hard candies on hand, as well as canned ingredients for main dishes.

CASSEROLE MOHICAN
2 1-lb., 14-oz. cans meat ball stew
1 10 1/4-oz. can beef gravy
1 teaspoon basil
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 10-oz. box corn bread mix
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
Spoon meat ball stew into a 3 1/2 to 4 quart casserole. Add beef gravy and seasonings, mixing in gently. Prepare corn bread mix with egg and milk as directed on the package. Squeeze mixed batter from plastic bag to form a border around edge of stew. Bake in a 425-degree (hot) oven for 30-40 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

There Really Quick Energy?

GAYNOR MADDOX - What do syrup and fast food advertisements claim by the claim of "quick energy"?

In his highly regarded "Foods Without Fads," E. W. McHenry answers the question. "The expression, 'quick energy,' is used irregularly in advertisements for syrups and breakfast cereals. The meaning is doubtful. The impression is given that the use of these foods gives people a lift in a few minutes. Solutions of sugar are quickly digested and absorbed, but whether that will give a sudden feeling of energy and a capacity for work or exercise is not so clear. The expression is a kind of truth intended to give the impression of the value of a specific product."

Doesn't cooking meat result in a substantial loss of protein? No. Although meats are cooked, much of the protein is water, which evaporates and goes into the drip. Some fat also is in the drip. But the protein value is not destroyed by cooking, and only small amounts of it go into the drip.

Rice Ring With Meat Balls Proves Nutritious and Easy to Prepare

As a family dinner treat, serve these Corned Beef Balls in a festive, easy-to-prepare Rice Ring. Accompany with a quick cheese sauce made from condensed soup.

CORNED BEEF BALLS IN RICE RING

Harvesters Host Caprock 'Horns

Saddle up your cayuses, homeres, hyar we go! After being mbushed, dry - gulched and flain - jumped along the murerous District 3-AAAA basket-all trail, the Pampa Harvesters get a chance to do a little ustling of their own tonight, saying aside their scythes, they rab their running irons to mackerick a strayed herd of Caprock Longhorns.

Despite the pessimistic proests of coach Terry Culley, disappointed over Pampa's showing in last Friday night's 50-47 loss at Palo Duro, there seems little doubt that the Harvestereserves will see plenty of action while the regulars take a rest on the bench, as the visiting Longhorns, despite hustling and fighting, are simply no match for the rest of the district in manpower, height or experience.

Caprock is 0-12 in district play and has already had over 1,000 points scored against them in the loop this year. Four of their opponents, including two of their last three, have gone over the 100 mark. The Horns have won only one game the entire season, their first in basketball. Culley, however, disappointed with the Harvesters' play against PD, said "the way we played the other night, they probably could beat us."

"I was kinda disappointed in that last quarter. We played one ball the first half. Ropes toper played the best game of his life (14 points and 19 rebounds), but we just didn't seem to hustle in that last quarter and we let them take it away from us. I don't mind a team losing as long as they hustle, but when they don't hustle, then... look out. They got a good talking - to, and they've been hustling real good in practice the last two games, I think they'll snap out of it."

"Seriously, we shouldn't have to worry about Caprock, but there is no doubt they have improved offensively, if not defensively. At first, they couldn't score any points while the opponents were scoring at will... now they are scoring in the 60s and 70s even if they get beat. They got two good transfer boys in... Leslie Lovett, who was second-team all - district last year at Amarillo, and Gene Buchanan, a good boy from Memphis. Caprock lost to Tascosa, 104-63, last week, but Lovett scored 11 points."

In the first Pampa - Caprock meeting, the Harvesters rolled to an 86-41 decision. The starters played the first and third quarters and the reserves the second and fourth. Charlie Price had 16 and Roper 14 to lead the regulars, Robert Howard had 14 to top the reserves, aided by Lanny Lewis with eight, Charlie Snuggs with six, Harny Harnsberger with five and Davy MacDaniel with four.

"We'll see tonight how badly the seniors want to play," said Culley. "If they don't hustle, they may find themselves on the bench. In any case, if we get an opportunity, I'm going to try to play everybody tonight."

Gubner Wins Millrose Shot With 61-6 1/2 Heave

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tom O'Hara, the jockey-sized miler from Chicago, and Canada's Bill Crothers today revealed their newest targets in the wake of record-breaking performances in New York's first indoor meet of the season.

O'Hara broke his own Wana-maker Mile record with a clocking of 4:00.6 and Crothers established an American indoor mark of 1:50 for the 880-yard run Thursday night in the Millrose Games before a turnout crowd of 16,004 at Madison Square Garden.

Both athletes were surprised when their clockings were announced.

"I just wanted to do 4:04," said O'Hara, who ran the last quarter in a nifty 55 seconds.

After New Record

The skinny strawberry blond from Loyola of Chicago then announced he will shoot for the world indoor mile record of 3:58.6 in the Chicago Daily News meet, March 6, "unless I'm pushed in another meet before then."

Crothers said, "I didn't know I was running that fast" after he wiped out the old American

Yank Hopes Few In Ice Olympics

By HENRY W. THORNBERY
UPI Sports Writer

INNSBRUCK, Austria (UPI) — Russia's overall lead in the winter Olympic games was given a big boost today when blonde schoolteacher Lidia Skoblikova won her second speedskating gold medal, while U.S. fortunes slumped again with a disappointment in bobsledding.

Miss Skoblikova, who won the 500-meter skating title Thursday, came right back to win the 1,500 meters — "metric mile." Her clocking of 2:22.6 smashed her own olympic record of 2:25.2 set in 1960.

Her victory today was the third Soviet gold medal and, as a teammate took the bronze medal for third place, gave Russia a grand total of seven medals.

The United States, still without a medal of any kind, suffered a major blow in the two-man bobsled when its spanking-new "glamor" sled, the first U.S.-made bob to compete against the Italian-made podar sleds, failed to live up to expectations.

Comes From Behind

Tony Nash of Britain, coming from behind on the second of today's two heats on the icy bob-run, held the halfway lead in the two-man bobsled with a total clocking of 2:10.63. The event concludes Saturday with two more heats.

Victory Emery of Montreal, Canada, whose sled had been in front after the first heat with a clocking of 1:05.15, could manage only 1:05.93 on the second run and dropped to fourth place with a 2:11.08 total.

The best U.S. showing was only fifth place, by the sled driven by Charlie McDonald of Malone, N.Y., with Chuck Vandolph of Saranac Lake, N.Y., as brakeman in 2:11.82 on runs of 1:05.97 and 1:05.85.

The Soviets, who scored a 1-2-3 sweep in the 500-meter Thursday, came close to duplicating it today in the 1,500. But Kaija Mustonen of Finland took PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Georgia's Doug Sanders and California's Charlie Siford jointly hold a two-stroke lead today going into the third round of the marathon 90-hole endurance contest known as the Palm Springs Golf Classic.

Sanders vaulted from sixth place to the top rung on this intricate golf ladder by shooting a four-under-par 68 Thursday at the Eldorado course in the second round.

BOSTON (UPI) — An alternately joking and threatening Charles O. Finley insists he "won't be chased out of the American League."

Finley invaded American League President Joe Cronin's backyard Thursday night to address the silver anniversary dinner of the Boston Baseball Writers. Cronin remained confined to his nearby home by illness.

Displaying three sets of uniforms he said the Athletics would wear next season, Finley acknowledged, "it sure looks like my club will be in Kansas City."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The stars of professional hockey and basketball told Congress today that what is good for baseball is good for them.

J. Walter Kennedy, president of the National Basketball Association (NBA), and Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, strongly endorsed legislation which would exempt some of their internal operations from antitrust laws.

Lee Racks Up Borger Houston

Lee Junior High turned back Houston of Borger yesterday, the 9th grade Rebels slamming to a 75-52 win and the 8th grade Johnny Rebs to a 39-33 win.

Houston jumped off to a seven-point lead in the opening quarter, but the rebounding and shooting of James Matney and Doc Cornutt brought the Rebels to an 18-18 quarter tie. Matney exploded for 14 points in the second quarter, aided by reserves Mike Donald, John Kuhn and Steve Williams and it was 40-30 at the half. Snaigson Goodlett started sniping the nets to build it to the final margin. Matney racked up 34 points, a team high for the season. Goodlett had 11 and Cornutt nine.

The eighth grade led all the way, 26-14 at the half and 36-23 at the three-quarter mark, with the visitors rallying in the final frame against the reserves. Beetle Bailey again led the Johnnies with 19 points, Jim Cornutt and Johnny Marsh had seven apiece.

Lee hosts Perryton Tuesday.

Catholic Asset Rather Than Liability

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

When John F. Kennedy was elected President in 1960, many people thought that the religious issue had been banished forever from American politics.

But it now appears that this divisive issue may be revived — with a reverse twist — in the 1964 presidential campaign.

Once again, politicians, are talking as though a candidate's religious affiliation were more important than his character, experience or other qualifications for high office.

The only difference is that they now regard membership in the Roman Catholic Church as a political asset rather than a liability.

For many years prior to 1960, the party pro's insisted that a Catholic's name would be pure poison on a national ticket. Kennedy proved them wrong. Now they have flopped all the way to the other extreme, and are saying that Lyndon B. Johnson must have a Catholic running-mate.

Extended To GOP
Although this kind of talk first was heard in connection with the Democratic vice presidential nomination, it is already being extended to the Republican ticket. The argument is the same in both cases: that a national party must include a Catholic among its nominees to attract the Catholic vote.

Religious leaders are disgusted and alarmed by this development.

The Catholic magazine America voiced its contempt for ticket balancing in a recent editorial.

"It is gratifying that a man's Catholic faith is no longer an obstacle to the highest federal office," said America. "We credit Mr. Kennedy with burying that issue forever."

"But we should regret to see it rise again in a new form, this time turned inside out. A candidate's Catholic faith should not become a qualification for office. It should neither block his way nor ease him onto the ticket."

"If the old 'religious issue' was shameful, its new version is ridiculous."
Protestants Are Critical
The Protestant magazine Christian Century was equally vehement in condemning what it called a new, subtle yet virulent form of religious bigotry.

It said that some "able men" — such as U. N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut — have been brushed off by some politicians as possible Democratic vice presidential candidates "simply because they are not Roman Catholics."

"The American principle — at least clearly affirmed in the 1960 election — is that a man's character has much to do with whether or not the American people want him for a national office, but that his religious affiliation should have nothing to do with whether or not they elect him to that office," the Century asserted.

"A Tragic Day"
"It will be a tragic day in our political history if we bring in through the back door an ugly religion issue which at great effort we have last expelled from American politics through the front door."

Leo Pfeffer, counsel of the American Jewish Congress, also has expressed concern. In a report to the AJC's governing council, he called attention to the strong pressures building up in the Democratic party to nominate a Catholic vice presidential candidate "to attract the Catholic vote."

"In order to meet this challenge, the Republican party will inevitably feel it necessary to follow suit — if not in 1964, then in 1968," said Pfeffer.

"The pattern of religiously balanced ticket, of which the state of New York is the prime example, may thus develop on a national level."

"The potential effect of such religious fragmentation on the democratic process can hardly be overestimated."

'Faith or Opinion' Topic at Mary Ellen at Harvester Church

The subject for the Sunday morning worship service at the Mary Ellen at Harvester Church of Christ will be "Faith or Opinion." Guy V. Caskey, minister, will continue his discussion of "Why I Believe in God" at the evening service. Last Sunday this subject was viewed from the cosmic standpoint, while next Sunday evening's sermon will deal with the anthropological reasons for man's belief in God. Regularly scheduled services are at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.

It is believed that the Church's missionary work in Tanganyika will not be affected by the current uprising there, since the chief aim of the rebelling natives is to achieve better wage and working conditions. Also, the geographical location of the school and hospital, some 540 miles from Dar-es-Salaam, removes the missionary group from the area of dissension.

The Chimala area, where the Church settlement is located, is geographically most unique in that it is a "middle world" located between a high plateau, with climate similar to the temperate zone, and a low plateau that is tropical — both within a mile of each other. Back when the world was young, a great segment of the earth's surface sank several thousand feet below the surrounding country, creating the Great Rift, which stretches from the Jordan valley to Mazambique. Chimala is located at the doorstep of the Great Rift. Northwards, this torrid, sunken plain stretches out in miles of lush prairies and green swamps. Behind Chimala to the south, a narrow plateau of rolling hills and tumbling brooks rises steadily to the Elton Plateau, which is a 9,000 foot tableland, too cold for a settled population. Many visitors have declared Chimala to be the most beautiful spot in Tanganyika, and it is probably the most favorably located from the standpoint of evangelism.

The Great North Road, which stretches from Cape to Cairo, divides both the village of Chimala and the Church property and has brought a myriad of settlers and visitors to the area.

There is a radical element in Tanganyika who resent the white man, but for the most part, the native peoples, who have known no change in two millenniums, have a new awareness that history has passed them by, and they are eager to catch up by accepting the white man, but for the most they are trying to step in one generation from the doorstep of civilization to the atomic age. As their fingers clutch at bicycles, sewing machines and cameras, their minds reach out to new ideals, new political philosophies and new religions. This is, indeed, a fertile area for the spreading of God's Word.

'Actress Playing Major Role' Subject

Dr. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be in the pulpit for both services of worship Sunday. "A Minor Actress Playing a Major Role" with the text taken from II Kings 5:3 is the sermon topic he will speak from at the 11 a.m. worship. The Church, Senior High, and Junior High Chorus will combine and sing the anthem, "Praise to the Lord" arranged by Leon Brown, accompanied by a seven-piece brass ensemble. Joe Whitten, minister of music, will direct the choir and ensemble. Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "Andante" by Thompson for the offertory.

The Ordinance of Baptism will be administered at the beginning of the 5 p.m. worship. All awaiting candidates are asked to meet the pastor in his study at 4:45 p.m. The ordinance of the Lord's Supper will also be observed during the evening worship and the Pastor will speak from a topic in keeping with the ordinances observed, and special music will be presented also in keeping with the ordinances. "Andante Religioso" by Gade will be the organ offertory.

Carroll B. Ray will continue the study of the book of Ephesians at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday during the mid-week service. The regular correlated program of activities will continue with the cafeteria style supper beginning at 5 p.m. through 6:45 p.m.

The Lighter Side Little Known Music Man Actually Great

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Being ever interested in the fine arts, I had a talk this week with the music consultant for a mining company.

Harmonians and the Ben Selvin Novelty Orchestra — all of which were the same outfit.

At first glance, that title might not look very impressive. But when I tell you that the consultant is none other than Ben Selvin, it still does not look very impressive.

In addition, he worked for several record companies as the anonymous conductor of the studio orchestra, or "house band."

Let us face it, Selvin is not one of the world's 10 best known men. You probably could drop his name from here to New Market, Va., without hearing a single grunt of recognition.

Know who was at the baton when Jimmy Durante first recorded "Inka Dinka Do"? Selvin. Know who started Bing Crosby whistling? Selvin.

In a way, this is rather paradoxical, because Selvin has for the last 50 years been one of the leading figures in the popular music field.

Recently, he came out of retirement to serve as consultant to the Minneapolis Mining and Manufacturing Co., which is bringing out a new line of tape recorders.

Know who made the first record ("Dardanella") to sell more than a million copies? Selvin. Know who has recorded more music than any other man in the world, being responsible for some 9,000 discs? Selvin.

Benny Goodman used to play in Selvin's orchestra. So did Tommy Dorsey, Meredith Wilson and Jerry Colonna, who started out as a trombonist. So did Eugene Ormandy, the symphonic conductor.

Know who was the first orchestra leader to have a dance program on radio? Selvin.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Pete Cowart of Canyon, is sponsored by the Presbytery of Plains Youth Subcommittee of Christian Education.

Okay, if Selvin has done all of these things, how come he is not more famous than he is? Well, one reason is that he used a lot of aliases.

The new program, using the title of the "Texas Plan," was developed in El Paso in response to national concern for the young people of the church. It is designed to make a dynamic program of organizations which have become static.

During his peak productive years, in the 1920s, he made records for nine different companies, using nine different names.

Copies of the new Texas Plan will be sent to each church participating for study by delegates before the meeting.

If he and his orchestra were recording a waltz, they called themselves the Cavaliers; if it happened to be a Latin number, they became the Castilians. For show tunes, they were the Knickerbockers.

Meeting with the delegates from Pampa will be others from Perryton, Canadian, Borger, Spearman, McLean, Memphis, Childress, Clarendon and White Deer.

Eleven-Week Bible Study Program at Central Church

One of the major objectives of a Sunday School is to reach people by Bible Study. This study of the Bible becomes effective when people attend regularly. Believing this, Central Baptist Church launches an 11-week program for reaching people on Feb. 2.

John. This scripture gives us the discourse between Jesus and the Samaritan Woman at the well of Sychar. Sunday School begins at 9:45 a.m.

In Training Union, which begins at 6 p.m., we continue the study of Basic Bible Doctrines. If your heart hungers to feel the power of God in a worship service you can find such an experience with the people of Central Baptist Church, East Francis at Starkweather.

During the 11 weeks of the program it is planned to reach every member of the Sunday School for Bible Study. Several special days will augment this program. On Feb. 9, the church will worship in this new auditorium for the first time.

The weekend of Feb. 28-March 1 has been designated as Homecoming Week with Sunday, March 1, as dedication day for the new auditorium. The closing two Sundays of the campaign will be the Spring Revival, April 5-12.

Sunday, Feb. 2, the pastor T. O. Upshaw, will speak at all three worship services. He has chosen for his subjects for the 8:45 and 11 a.m. worship services "Postures of a Deep Spiritual Life", and for the 7 p.m. worship service, "Anchors of Faith."

The objective for attendance in the Sunday School has been set to have 757 persons present. These will be taught in 34 departments with a class of compatible age for every member of the family. The lesson will be taken from the 4th Chapter of Lucy has been hospitalized in Silver City since she fell down an abandoned mine shaft near Central, N.M., Dec. 28.

CHURCH WOMEN
NEW YORK (UPI) — A new booklet, "Programs for Church Women," is being offered without charge to officers and leaders of church women's groups by the American Bible Society.

"I think I'm going home Saturday," Lucy said over her bedside telephone. "The doctor said he was going to put a splint on my leg."

The booklet provides content and suggestions for three complete programs about the Bible and the work of the Bible Society in the translation, production and distribution of Scriptures throughout the world.

Lucy received a broken leg, among other injuries, in her plunge down the 100-foot shaft and lay unconscious or semi-conscious for almost two weeks following the fall. She only recently completely recovered her ability to talk.

Lucy's father, a former teacher at Hammond, is working on a degree at the University of Texas in Austin.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

RICHARD JOHNSON, ED. DIRECTOR
CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

— WORSHIP —

Throughout all the history of mankind and among all people today there is the indication of the need for worship. Because man is created in the image and likeness of God, he is to have fellowship with God. This fellowship comes through worship. Only as man comes to worship God can he come to the fullness of the desire of the Creator for him.

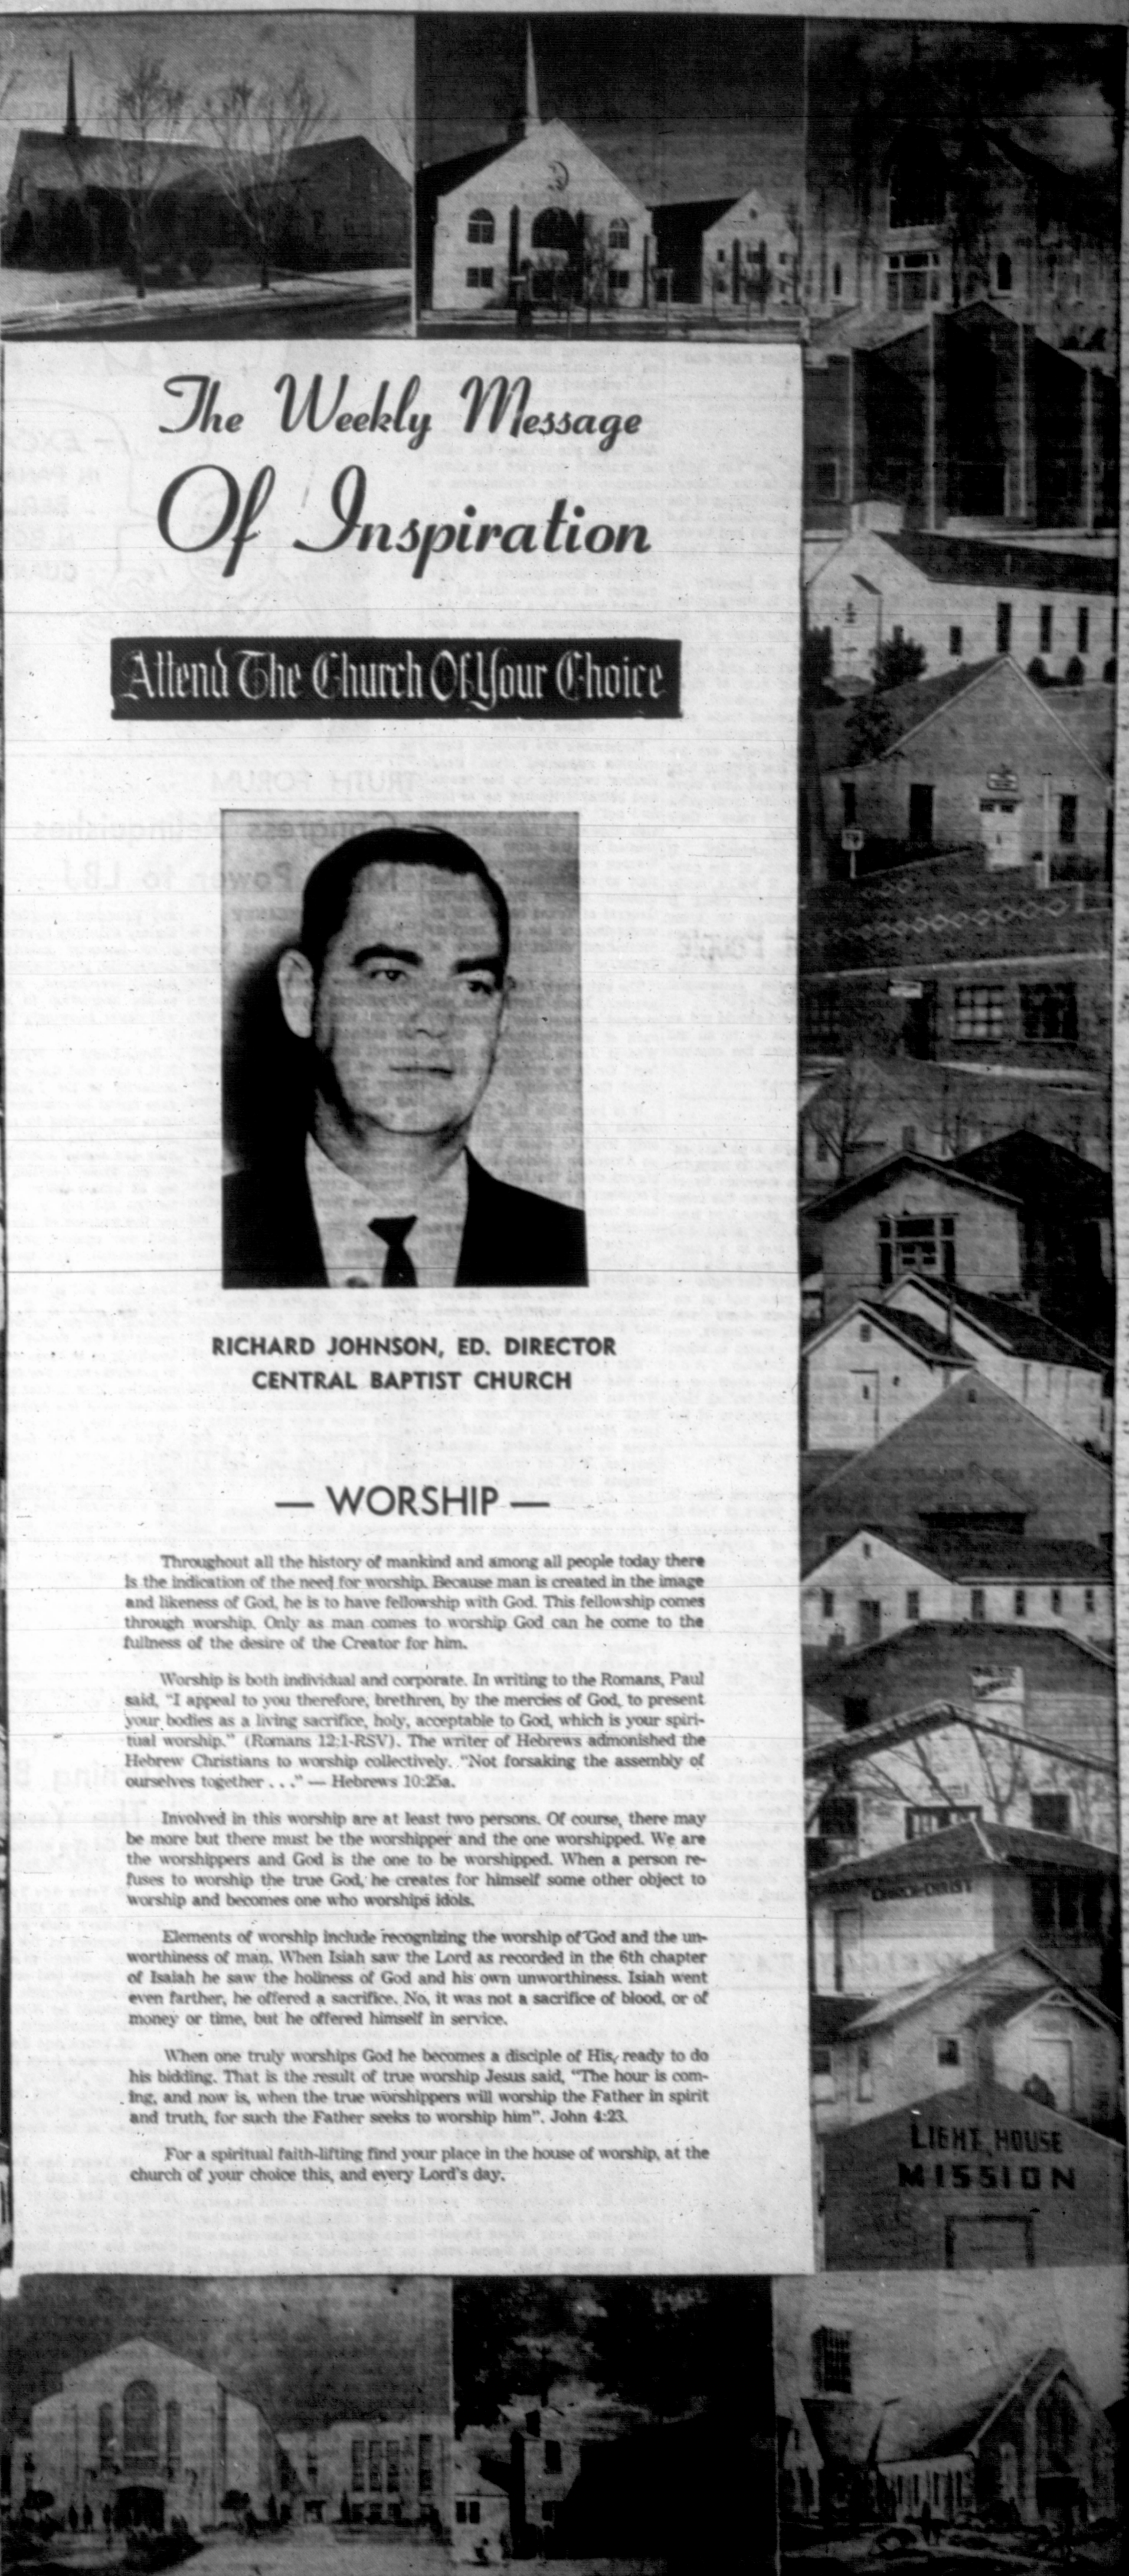

Worship is both individual and corporate. In writing to the Romans, Paul said, "I appeal to you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship." (Romans 12:1-RSV). The writer of Hebrews admonished the Hebrew Christians to worship collectively. "Not forsaking the assembly of ourselves together..." — Hebrews 10:25a.

Involved in this worship are at least two persons. Of course, there may be more but there must be the worshipper and the one worshipped. We are the worshippers and God is the one to be worshipped. When a person refuses to worship the true God, he creates for himself some other object to worship and becomes one who worships idols.

Elements of worship include recognizing the worship of God and the unworthiness of man. When Isaiah saw the Lord as recorded in the 6th chapter of Isaiah he saw the holiness of God and his own unworthiness. Isaiah went even farther, he offered a sacrifice. No, it was not a sacrifice of blood, or of money or time, but he offered himself in service.

When one truly worships God he becomes a disciple of His, ready to do his bidding. That is the result of true worship Jesus said, "The hour is coming, and now is, when the true worshippers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, for such the Father seeks to worship him". John 4:23.

For a spiritual faith-lifting find your place in the house of worship, at the church of your choice this, and every Lord's day.

Cuba Ex-Journalist To Speak in Amarillo

Jose Norman, former journalist for the Havana Post and a coffee plantation owner in Cuba will address a public gathering Wednesday noon at the Colonial Cafeteria, Wolfing-Georgia Shopping Center in Amarillo.

JOSE NORMAN
... expert on Cuba

Norman, an Englishman, witnessed at first hand the atrocities and terror imposed on the people of Cuba during and after that tragic country's take-over by the Communists. When his own farm was seized by the rebels, Norman protested to Castro's high command, and was promptly arrested. He narrowly escaped a Castro firing squad and managed to flee with his family to the United States.

Norman maintained contact with Cuban patriots and the underground, and began revealing the Communist military buildup of Cuba in newspaper articles and in public lectures, long before official Washington recognition was made of these alarming facts.

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — A Texas veterinarian looking into the not-too-distant future, sees an insect sterilization program as an effective means of bug control.

Dr. R. D. Radeleff, speaking at Louisiana State University's annual veterinary conference, predicted that the world's bug population will someday be controlled by chemicals inducing sexual sterilization.

Radeleff, who is with the United States Department of Agriculture animal disease and Kerrville, Tex., warned against too hasty use of the chemicals, called chemosterilants.

While researchers have received encouraging results in experiments, he said the chemicals "must be carefully and intensively studied before any general use of them is contemplated."
