WELL-TO-DO DOCTOR'S SON KIDNAPED

TEX'S TOPICS

And, now about all that's left of 1936 are the remaining days of this final week in which you can contemplate the coming of 1937 and what you can do about it.

These last dying embers of December and an old year reflect the doings and the goings on, the has-beens and the never-will-be-again of the last 12 months.

Just how much better off are you now than you were a year ago... Can you look back on accomplishments of any kind or have you merely been just going down the lane aimlessly? Pertinent questions, you say?

Well, maybe so—but it's the time of year when everywhere around the nation inventories are being taken... And, with merchants doing their checking up, it is just a thought that here, too, is a good time for personal inventories to be taken... Never mind about ours—how does yours stack up?

A kidnaper named Brunette recently was trapped by G-men in New York. It was one time the authorities weren't seeking a mysterious blond.

The Maryland university youth who conducts a student awakening service must annoy professors when he snaps his fingers during classes.

A Scotchman, it is reported has a new angle on the Townsend old age plan... He would reverse it to read $65 a month for everybody over 200 years of age.

The other day we listed here some news stories of 1936 that shook the world... Today we take the other side of the argument and bring back to mind some of the 1936 news stories that definitely did NOT shake the world.

Historians, impressed with the passing twelvemonth's succession of world-shaking events, may record 1936 as a grave and solemn period... This would be unfair to 1936.

The year deserves credit for dishing up more than its share of laughs... Certainly posterity should pay special attention to a year which saw a man in white duck pants marching in a king's funeral procession, a man jumping on a banquet table and tossing feathers in people's dessert.

Definitely historians should remember a year when a Budapest insurance salesman challenged nine men to duels for the honor of his wife; when dozen women claimed a $500,000 prize in a baby-bearing race... If a vaudeville gag man had thought up these stories, they would have been hilarious but insignificant. Maybe Destiny is a gag man... For instance:

Woody Hockaday of Wichita, Kas., brought a new technique to the peace movement. "Feathers, not bullets," he shouted, as he showered public dignitaries with white feathers. Woody reached the heights when he made an unscheduled appearance before Maryland American Legionnaires in convention at Baltimore.

Among gold-spangled dignitaries marching in King George V's funeral procession news pictures showed one little fellow in white duck trousers and plain felt hat. The story got around that he was a masseur who some way had got mixed up in the procession and just kept march-

Airliner With Twelve Aboard Lost On Coast

BURBANK, Calif., Dec. 28 (AP)—United Airlines announced today that searchers had sighted the wings of an airplane in the mountains north of here, presumably their missing air liner with 12 persons aboard.

BURBANK, Calif., Dec. 28 (AP)—Three sister ships of United Air Lines flew northward into storm-threatening skies today, hunting the transport with four women and eight men which vanished last night a few miles from Union Air terminal here.

Twelve hours overdue, the lost airliner, its radio silenced in bad weather last night, was feared crashed somewhere in rugged country lying on its route from San Francisco.

A regularly-scheduled airliner, and two surplus transports piloted by United's men, hopped off here a few minutes after 7 a. m. (PST) (9 a. m. CST).

They were instructed to make a detailed and careful check of the Santa Susana and Tehachapi mountain areas, the first plane then proceeding to San Francisco.

Meanwhile, at least 15 more ships were mobilized by air line officials, along with a fleet of 20 automobiles, for extending the search if necessary.

A southbound transport from Seattle landed here at 5:30 a. m., the pilot reporting no glimpse of the missing plane. No. 34, as he designated on his scheduled course.

The pilot had only moonlight to see by and it was but a bare chance the glint of a metal wing against a mountainside could be picked up from the air.

An automobile searching party was in the Simi valley, northwest of here, investigating a slim possibility that a reported power failure might have been caused by the plane's crash into a power line.

Paul Wright, president of the terminal, two mechanics, and a radio operator left immediately to check the area by motor.

Due at 7:37 p. m. (PST) here, the plane's pilot, Edward Blom, radioed a minute ahead of time for a radio beam to direct him to the field. It was the last definite word. The plane was believed within 15 miles of Burbank.

The Simi rancher, a man named Harrington, reported to authorities that the radio and lights in his home were disabled at the instant he heard what he believed was a clap of thunder. Later in the evening, he was informed one on adjoining farms had heard the thunder.

Determined to explore every possibility, officials ordered the searching car sent out.

Others aboard the plane were:

A. L. Markwell, Los Angeles diamond broker.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Ford Jr., San Marina, Calif. Ford is a son of the president of the Grace Line Steamship Company.

John Korn, believed to be from El Centro, Calif.

Ms. Teague, Los Angeles.

Mrs. W. A. Newton.

M. P. Hare.

A. Novak.

Miss E. Valance.

LABOR PLANS BIG PUSH TO EXTEND GAINS

(Editor's Note: Strikes and strike threats troubling the industrial scene have focused increased attention on the organized labor movement and differences among the workers themselves. In a series of three stories, a staff writer who has specialized in the labor field, the Washington bureau of the Associated Press will discuss the labor movement, its industrial and legislative demands and the leading personalities involved.)

BY JOSEPH L. MILLER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—Counting on strong support from President Roosevelt, organized labor leaders soon will start a big push on legislative and industrial fronts to extend gains labor claims under four new deal years.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine workers, expects to bring his organized drives in steel and automobiles to a head before next summer. Most labor men feel strikes in both industries are probable.

Lewis must meet the soft coal operators to renew his own contracts that expire April 1. The soft coal industry has been sick economically for many years. Any demand for an increase in labor costs will meet stiff opposition. A coal strike may

GOVERNOR REARRESTED IN BANK THEFT CASE

RUTLAND, Vt., Dec. 28 (AP)—Gov. Charles M. Smith and other officers of the Marble Savings bank were arrested some time ago in connection with the concealment of theft at the bank, were rearrested today on charges of violating the banking laws. Those arrested besides the chief executive, who is president of the bank were: Lathrop H. Baldwin, treasurer, recently convicted of perjury in the case; Samuel A. Howard and Bert L. Stafford, trustees. Stafford and Howard had not been tried in the previous cases.

The actions are outcomes of the defalcations of a former bookkeeper, John J. Cocklin, now serving a state prison sentence for the theft of bank funds.

The charges brought against the quartet today were that they failed to make semi-annual audits of the bank's books and report to the trustees on such audits, and that they failed to mention Cocklin's defalcations.

WEATHER FORECAST

WEST TEXAS: Increasing cloudiness and warmer tonight; Tuesday cloudy, probably occasional rain in north portion, colder in Panhandle in afternoon.

Germany To Skirt Edge Of War With Loyalists

(By The Associated Press)

Germany will skirt the edge of war with Socialist Spain without resorting to actual hostilities, persons in authority in Berlin indicated today.

Berlin: The reich probably will continue to permit volunteers to sail for Fascist Spain and may station warships at a Spanish Fascist port to convoy German vessels. There will be no armed rescue of the seized freighter Palos at Bilbao, and whole units of the reichswehr, or regular army, will not be sent to the war.

Barcelona: Basque authorities at Bilbao, supporting the German government, said the master of the interned freighter Palos had destroyed "compromising" documents before last week's capture, that she carried contraband of war, and that there was no question of her release.

LARGE RANSOM DEMANDED IN SNATCH NOTE

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 28 (AP)—A police official, who declined to allow the use of his name, reported today the Dr. W. W. Mattson family has been directed to make contact with the kidnaper of Charles Mattson, 10, some time this afternoon.

The official said the instructions were included in the note left by the kidnaper when he abducted Charles from the Mattson living room last night. He also confirmed that the note demanded $28,000 ransom.

Of this, the official said, the kidnaper demanded $10,000 in old bills of small denomination (two or five dollars), and the remainder in old bills of $50 or over. In each case, the official said, the bills were ordered to be "old and wrinkled."

He refused to disclose any additional information about the ransom note, or to say where the rendezvous was set.

His statements came in the middle of a morning previously marked by no developments in the widespread search for the missing boy. A scheduled "foot-by-foot" hunt through a wooded ravine adjoining the Mattson city estate was cancelled shortly after dawn.

The Mattson home was surrounded by city police who excluded all but members of the family. Department of justice agents and state police made numerous unexplained trips through the grounds.

In Seattle police and federal operatives checked fingerprint and other criminal records, leading to an unconfirmable report that investigators had found the kidnaper's fingerprints on the ransom note he dropped in the Mattson home.

Seattle police were informed Tacoma police believed they knew the kidnaper's identity from the description furnished by Charles' brother, sister and a Seattle girl friend of the family. The suspect was described as a partly-demented former patient of Dr. Mattson.

WAGE PLAN IS NOW STUDIED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—Ways to bring about adoption of minimum wage and maximum hour standards in all the states, rather than attempting another NRA, are being studied within the administration.

Members of congress arriving in greater numbers today for the session to convene next week found that subject among the foremost at the capitol.

While President Roosevelt has kept his views to himself, some leading democrats evidently do not expect him to side with advocates of an immediate attempt to amend the constitution or to curtail the powers of the Supreme Court.

They predicted he would discuss the problems of spreading employment and purchasing power at least broadly in his opening message to Congress or in his inaugural address, but might let detailed recommendations await reports being prepared.

Committed to pursuit of NRA objectives, the administration has met difficulty in devising specific methods.

The White House preference apparently is for each state to legislate for itself on labor standards and fair business practices, and establish federal jurisdiction when problems become interstate or national in character.

Success of such a plan would be contingent on conformance by virtually all states. Up against the same handicap on unemployment insurance, Congress imposed a uniform payroll tax under which the cooperating states get back almost all they put in. The non-cooperating states lose their share.

NEW DEAL CONCERNED OVER MAXIMUM HOUR IDEA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—Guided only by a crudely printed note thrown by a masked, shabbily dressed kidnaper, private citizens and police searched borders of Puget Sound today for 10-year-old Charles Mattson.

He was snatched from the living room of his palatial home last night while three other youngsters were terrified by the invader's pistol.

The ransom note, apparently printed on a child's printing press, was variously reported as demanding $18,000 or $28,000 for the boy's return. Department of Justice agents refused to divulge the full contents but a reliable source said a Seattle rendezvous was named for the payment of the money.

The masked intruder broke into the living room of the residence of Dr. W. W. Mattson, well-to-do Tacoma physician, last night and snatched a pistol at the three Mattson children and a friend.

He searched the children for money, found none, then snatching the boy's cry.

"This is something better than money."

He threw the note to the floor,

JUDGE EWING TO PRE-SIDE HERE FOR TEN WEEKS

Thirty-first judicial district court will open a ten-week term in Pampa Monday, it was announced today by Judge W. R. Ewing as lists of prospective jurors and non-jury settings were released from the district clerk's office in the Gray county courthouse.

In the past the court has been setting aside the second week of the term as first civil jury week, but Judge Ewing stated today that because it is so difficult to get civil cases to trial during that week, the criminal docket hereafter will be set for Monday of the second week and the civil jury docket for Monday of the third week.

The court has made the following designations for each of the ten weeks in the January term: first week, non-jury cases; second week, criminal jury; third week, civil jury; fourth week, civil subject to criminal jury; fifth week, civil jury; sixth week, civil jury; seventh week, civil jury; eighth week, civil subject to criminal jury; ninth week, civil subject to criminal jury; and tenth week, non-jury.

The entire criminal docket is set for Monday of the second week which falls on Jan. 11 and all criminal cases will be called for trial at that time. Cases that cannot be reached for trial during that week will be re-set for a later day in the term.

The entire jury civil docket, which includes all cases now pending, has been set for Monday, Jan. 18, the third week, and will be called for trial in their numerical order of filing.

Judge Ewing said: "This is a definite setting. The court has had much difficulty in getting civil cases to trial in the first jury week, the tendency among the bar being to postpone cases by agreement to some later week in the term. The result of this usually is that frequently during the early part of the term very little business is disposed of and during the latter days of the term the court is confronted with a congested docket necessitating the continuance of cases that could have been tried earlier in the term."

Then Judge Ewing issued this warning: "Mere agreement to postpone will no longer be recognized by the court. There will have to be a good reason for the agreement."

Judge Ewing also stated that on the opening day of court, next Monday, the entire docket will be sounded. On the next day, Tuesday, Jan. 19, the docket will be sounded.

The fund officials said it was expected the campaign would be pushed across the goal within a day or so. The goal is $5,000. Nearly $4,700 had been reported today.

The fund advisory council was in session at City Hall this afternoon to work out policies and regulations for disbursement of the relief money.

Leon Robinson, student at Trinity University, is here from Waxahachie spending the holidays with his parents.

PAMPA'S RELIEF DRIVE IS RENEWED BY GROUP

Pampa's relief drive was renewed today as workers began the wind up work of calling on prospects who had not been contacted before the Christmas holiday week-end.

Fund officials said it was expected the campaign would be pushed across the goal within a day or so. The goal is $5,000. Nearly $4,700 had been reported today.

Hit-Run Driving Charges Filed In Death Of Hays

Madrid Wreck: Bomb Rams Auto

A charge of hit and run driving was filed in justice court this morning against Ted Hudson, 25, in connection with the death of Wilford "Wimpy" Hays who was struck down early Christmas morning on South Cuyler street. Hudson waived examining trial and bond was set at $2,000 by Justice E. F. Young. Hudson is still in jail.

Hudson was arrested Saturday afternoon. He said he was employed by the Magnolia Petroleum company. He was driving a Ford Roadster with the left front fender smashed.

The accident happened on South Cuyler street early Christmas morning. Hays died in a local hospital on Saturday afternoon. Hays and his brother, Ed Hays, had just pushed their car to get it started and were entering the machine when a car driving south on Cuyler street struck Wimpy Hays as he jumped on the running board. Two girl companions were with them.

The party had just left Six's Pig Stand at 818 South Cuyler street when the car stalled. The brothers pushed the car north, on the west side of the road, when the other car appeared. The driver of the approaching car tried to go between the Hays' machine and the curb but struck Hays as it jumped the curb without stopping, the car roared south and disappeared.

Hays' body was sent to Burkhardt yesterday. Burial will be tomorrow afternoon. Survivors are five brothers and a sister.

The victim was employed by the Skelly Oil Company at its Scherler plant near Skellytown. He was a star softball pitcher and well known over the state.

Boy Scouts Want Christmas Trees

The Boy Scouts want them. They will use them next spring in their annual Scout circus, according to Scout Executive C. A. Clark. Persons who expect to discard Christmas trees pretty pronto are asked to telephone 1560, Boy Scout headquarters in the city hall, or else leave their address and when they want the trees moved at the Scout office.

Then the trees will be called for and stored for use in the spring, it was said. The boys already have a big collection of Christmas trees, some 20 feet high. The Veterans of Foreign Wars last Saturday gave the boys between 40 and 50 trees. At their district meeting in Amarillo, the VFW voted to support Scouting this year.

Barrett Garage Raked By Flames

Fire of undetermined origin partially destroyed the garage apartment of L. W. Barrett, 1103 East Francis avenue, early yesterday morning. Firemen strung 1,000 feet of hose in extinguishing the blaze.

No one was at home when the fire broke out. It was discovered by a neighbor who called the fire department at 1:20 a. m. Fire Chief Ben White had not determined the amount of loss today.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

In that house the name of Woodrow Wilson is always spoken reverently and with emotion.

And so, last night, one said, "Tomorrow is his birthday; he would have been 80 years old." And the boy said, "Tomorrow is my birthday, too!" "Mine too," said another youngster. And they were glad they were born on the birthday of him who praised peace without victory.

Passionately, people either loved or hated Woodrow Wilson, and today thousands of dollars are being placed on his tomb in that Washington cathedral. One great poet has written: "... Your tragic quality required the huge delusion of some major purpose to produce it (death)... Loyal to your highest, sensitive, brave, sanguine, some few ways wise... enjoyed a vision, endured betrayal... visionless men, blind hearts, blind mouths still live."

TIRE SHOP IS FIRST BROKEN INTO IN NIGHT

BURGLARY DISCOVERED BY EMPLOYEES OF COMPANY

Safe burglars gained entrance to the Tex Evans Buick Company offices, Kingsmill and Ballard streets, early today, knocked the combination off the safe with a sledge and escaped with $152.15 in cash.

A deputy sheriff who investigated the case said that the burglars first entered the Joe Burrow tire store in the same building but left there without any loot.

Just how entrance was gained to the Evans Company office had not been determined at noon today, the officer stated. Entrance to the Burrow store was made by knocking the lock off a door.

The Buick safe was rifled, papers strewn about the floor, but nothing but cash was taken. Checks were left by the burglars.

The burglary was discovered at 6 a. m. when the office was opened today. Attaches of the company expressed belief that the burglary had been committed between 4 and 6 o'clock this morning.

Final Tribute Paid To Arthur Brisbane

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Prominent persons from all walks of life paid final tribute to Arthur Brisbane, noted journalist and editor, during funeral services at St. Bartholomew's church on Park Avenue, today. More than 2000 persons filled the structure.

At the request of the family a simple Episcopal service was conducted by the Reverend G. P. T. Sargent. There was no eulogy. The Episcopal burial service consisting of the 23rd Psalm and a short commitment followed. A choir sang "Lead Kindly Light" and "Abide With Me," Mr. Brisbane's favorite hymns.

A long cortege of limousines followed the hearse to Bellaire, N. J., where interment was to be on the Brisbane estate.

William Randolph Hearst headed the list of pall-bearers which included Governor Herbert H. Lehman, Bernard Gimber, Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, Walter Chrysler and Arthur Knudson.

PICKET LINES BROKEN UP IN DOCK DISORDER

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Picket lines of rival union factors were broken up by police today as they paraded on the dock of the American Merchant lines pier on the Hudson river.

A line of 50 pickets, led by Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's union were ordered to "move on" when they took up positions alongside insurance members of the International Seamen's union headed by Joseph Curran.

Curran's forces, numbering 600, were reduced when policemen ordered 400 of them to retire from the pier, where they had been exhorting truck drivers not to deliver goods to the steamship American trader.

Curran yesterday won the support of insurgent members of the Teamsters' union who agreed, despite the union's failure to back maritime strikers and despite a series of fistfights preceding the union meeting, to refuse to drive through picket lines along the waterfront.

JAYCEE OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED TONIGHT

Officers to lead the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce during 1937 will be elected tonight at a meeting of directors and alternates at 7:30 o'clock in the city hall. President Tommy Chesser will preside.

Jaycees will not meet in regular session tomorrow noon in the Schnelder hotel. The next meeting will be on Jan. 5. Old officers will remain until the national Jaycee banquet, date to be set.

FATALLY BURNED

CENTER, Dec. 28 (AP)—A gasoline explosion fatally burned Mrs. Dewey Bates, 34 and her infant daughter, and injured critically four others yesterday near Joquim, 18 miles east of here. Betty Jo Plunkett, 5, and Mrs. Levon Guy, 26, were not expected to live. Dewey Bates and Levon Guy were seriously burned endeavoring to rescue their wives.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kincaid and son, Dick, of the Gulf camp south of Pampa, spent Christmas with relatives in Wichita Falls.

Coach Odus Mitchell has also been a backer of the change which would put schools with 1,000 or more enrollment in a bracket by themselves. That move has been started and will be brought before the next meeting of the Texas Interscholastic league. At least four schools in this section would be Class AA institutions—Amarillo, Lubbock, Wichita Falls and Abilene.

PIONEER BALL TOMORROW NIGHT WILL AD HUNGRY CHILDREN

HOLIDAY DANCE PROGRAM GIVEN OLD-TIME NOTE

Guests to Come From Over Plains For Dancing

Old-time Christmas dances of the plains will be recalled tomorrow evening at the pioneer ball which will break into a series of modern holiday dances. Long-time residents of the city are sponsoring the ball at high school gymnasium to benefit the school cafeteria fund.

Entire proceeds will go to furnish hot lunches for children who do not receive enough nourishing food at home.

As they did during the carefree holiday seasons of long ago, dancers will come from miles around to join in the merriment. Local hosts have received replies from invitations sent to almost every community in the eastern Panhandle, giving assurances that the guests will be here when Homer Ratliff directs his orchestra in the first tune.

A large delegation is assured from Canadian, where an old-time dance was enjoyed Saturday evening and 46 persons went from Pampa to swell the crowd.

A. A. Tiemann will be floor manager for the evening. With Mrs. E. A. Shackleton, Mrs. H. H. Heiskala and Dave Turcotte, he completes the local committee in charge. All Pampans present tomorrow are asked to consider themselves among the hosts, and welcome the visitors. Out-of-town hosts have been named from a long list of Panhandle towns.

Sermon Denounces Local Indifference

"Sometimes I think that when we approve of things that we know to be wrong, that our worship is a mockery to God," declared the minister, John S. Mullen, last night at the First Christian church. "I wonder if there is not something today that could be said about America as was said by the prophets of old against the Jewish nation," he continued.

REAPERS CLASS
A business meeting will be conducted for Reapers class of First Baptist church at 2:30 tomorrow at the church.

Mary's Little Lamb Makes Coat

Snowy as the holiday season ought to be and flattering as an ardent suitor are the new white lambskin swaggar coats. Warm and soft, they are chic over sports dresses and equally smart with long dinner dresses. This one, designed by D'Angelo, buttons high around the neck, flares at the back and is exactly right for a week-end of winter sports.

CHORUS LEADS PRESENTATION OF 'MESSIAH'

Many Hear Inspiring Music Of Famous Oratorio

A crowd that filled First Methodist church yesterday afternoon responded to the inspiring music of "The Messiah," Handel's great oratorio which had one of the best presentations ever heard here.

It was sung under direction of Lester Aldrich, sponsored by the Philharmonic Chorus. Other singers of the city assisted, as did groups from the Amarillo and Hereford Civic Chorus. Mrs. May F. Carr here from Pulaski, Tenn., for a visit, played the accompaniment as she has done in past presentations when she was a leader in Pampa musical groups.

Solos were beautifully sung by Mrs. C. E. Powell of Pampa, Mrs. Otis Trulove of Amarillo, and Miss Ruby Thompson of Hereford, soprano; Miss Florence Snodgrass of Amarillo and Miss LaNette Scheibagan of Hereford, contraltos; Emil Myers and H. A. Shaw of Amarillo, tenors; and Mrs. J. H. Aldrich of Pampa and Clifton Janek of Amarillo, basses.

Forty voices blended in the choral numbers which swelled to a climax in the concluding "Hallelujah Chorus."
Instrumental solo, Pastoral Symphony, was played by Mrs. Carr. She played all accompaniments for the afternoon, using the piano instead of the church organ which was out of repair.

The Rev. Will C. House, Methodist pastor, presided for the program; the Rev. John S. Mullen of First Christian church pronounced the invocation and the Rev. C. E. Lancaster of First Baptist church the benediction.

Bishop Seaman To Conduct Service Here Wednesday

The Rt. Rev. E. C. Seaman of Amarillo, bishop of Northwest Texas, will conduct a service of confirmation at St. Matthew's Episcopal chapel here Wednesday evening.

The service will begin at 7:30 with evening prayer and confirmation. The Rev. R. J. Snell, minister, invites all members and the public to attend.

BOOZIEKE FUNERAL TO BE HELD ON TUESDAY

Funeral services for Charlie Boozieke, 56, pneumonia victim, will be conducted at the chapel at Pampa Mortuary tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock with the Rev. Will C. House, pastor of First Methodist church, officiating. Burial will follow in Fairview cemetery.

Mr. Boozieke, Pampa merchant for 10 years, was in a Panhandle hospital convalescing from an operation at the time of his death. She left the following day and will arrive in Pampa about 6 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Besides the widow, Mr. Boozieke is survived by four children and a brother.

Smart Simplicity for School or Office

Easily Made—the Sleeves Cut in One with the Shoulders
By ELLEN WORTH

The smart simplicity and lines of this dress as well as the youthful collar, makes it particularly interesting to schoolgirls and young business women.

You can sew it in a few hours and it only requires 3 1/2 yards of 39-inch material for the 16 year size.
Plain or plaid woolen will probably be your first choice.
Nubby crepe silks are also attractive for this model.
Velveteen is still another fascinating material that is popular right now.
Style No. 1839 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20 years.
Get yourself a handcraft hobby! Many interesting things which you can accomplish with your hands come under the head of "Handicrafts." Knit yourself a smart new dress, sweater or accessories, it's easy even for a beginner with the new knit guide. Household linens either hand or machine monogrammed will thrill the new bride. Make yourself a little star appliqued chintz source for your dressing table. Personalize the children's room with motifs that will please them or make a quilt that will some day be an heirloom piece. You will find everything from the latest dressmaking designs, glove making, knitting, quilting and embroidery in the latest FASHION AND NEEDLEWORK BOOK. It is worth many times its cost which is only 10 cents.
Price of BOOK 10 cents.

Won By Cable

Being 3000 miles away from the object of his affections couldn't stop George Kamen, in London, from wooing Lenore Prince (above), New York department store buyer whom he met when she was abroad. He devised and dispatched a proposal daily and was accepted in a transatlantic phone finale. Courtship cost $650.

PAGEANT AND MUSIC OBSERVE CHRISTMAS AT SKELLYTOWN

SKELLYTOWN, Dec. 28. — A Christmas play, "The Wise Men at the Well," was presented Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium under the auspices of the ladies' class of the Community church Sunday school, and under the direction of Mrs. Paxton. While the tableau of Joseph and Mary and the Christ Child in the manger, and the visit of the wise men, was being staged, the Sunday school observed their "White Christmas" and brought their presents to the front and loaded down a long table with gifts for the under privileged children of the community.

After the program, Santa with several large cartons of Christmas bags containing apples, oranges, candy and nuts appeared on the stage. Santa and his helpers distributed a bag, not only to each expectant boy and girl present, but to everyone. The service was brought to a close by Santa Claus calling Rev. W. P. McMicken, pastor of the church to the front and presenting to him, in the name of the men's class of the Sunday school, a beautifully wrapped box which, upon being opened, was found to contain a watch, which was greatly appreciated.

At the Community church Sunday morning a beautiful Christmas sermon by Rev. W. P. McMicken, pastor, was greatly enjoyed, also the special Christmas music by the choir, and a beautiful Christmas duet by Miss Dorothy Neill of Amarillo and W. L. Alsop.

The choir was in charge of the evening service, and presented an exceptionally beautiful musical program, consisting of a piano prelude, "Silent Night," and a piano solo, "Christmas Fantasia," by Mr. Alsop; and the story of the birth of Christ, arranged from the New Testament and read by Mrs. E. J. Haslam, with Christmas music by the choir throughout. Concluding number, Mrs. George L. Stanley read "The Other Wise Man," by Dr. Henry Van Dyke, in a most impressive manner. The Christmas decoration, the Christmas spirit, and the evening program all blended into a concluding service of worshipful charm and beauty.

It was the largest congregation since the coming of the new pastor.
Girl Is Hostess
Sara Florence Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. B. Parker of the Skelly-Schafer plant, entertained ten of her Pampa friends

Saturday in the home of her parents.
Decorations were in the Yuletide spirit and gifts were exchanged from a beautifully lighted Christmas tree. After games and singing of carols, refreshments were served to Edna Mae Trainer, Joella Shelton, June Davis, Erlene Shotwell, Billie Louise Sackett, Janell Troxel, Sammie June Lanham, Phyllis Perkins, Patricia Lively, John Edward Parker and the hostess, Miss Joe Shelton, John I. Daddy's a Sit-Down Striker

Daddy was treated to a visit with his little daughter at Leeds, Mo., although he was one of the workers in an automobile assembly plant who participated in a sit-down strike to protest dismissal of a fellow employe. Mother brought baby to the plant fence to say fused to leave the plant at shutdown.

Mechanical Cotton Picker Seen First Time In North

First device of its kind shown north of the Mason and Dixon line, a new mechanical cotton picker, developed by International Harvester, is displayed in the top photo. Russell H. Miller of the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry is at the controls. The photoed cotton plant shows where it enters the machine to be stripped. At left, lower photo, is a closeup of the spindles which pick the cotton. They are heavy pins, with burrs on them. The plant is pushed past the pins, which strip the cotton and then it is taken off the

Here's the Smile of a Good Loser

A smile worthy of the election victor rather than the loser spread across Alf Landon's face as he arrived at the White House for a noteworthy visit with his successful rival, President Roosevelt. Waving his hat in the old campaign gesture, the Kansas governor greeted a throng before he went to the executive offices to swap fishing stories with the president.

Studies Her Own Kidnaping Case

June Robles, above, now 9 years old, is interested in newspaper accounts of new efforts to bring to justice the person who kidnaped her, April 24, 1934, and held her prisoner for 19 days in a crude cage in the desert near Tucson, Ariz. The case was placed before a federal grand jury at Tucson after the only previous indictment, against Oscar Robson, Tucson night club owner, was dismissed.

'Work You Say? Bring It On!'

Completely recovered from the strain of his arduous campaign, President Roosevelt approaches his second term rested by his long trip to the Argentine, vigorous and eager to get back into the harness in preparation for the session of Congress that gets under way soon after New Year's Day. "Bring on the work!" his energetic gesturing above says as loudly as any words.

Army's $90,000 Plane Crash

Motor failure a few minutes after taking off from Mitchell Field, L. I., forced Lieutenant Glenn Thompson to attempt an emergency landing in a vacant field near Hempstead, L. I. Result—a crash that nearly demolished the new $90,000 U. S. Army bombing plane, injury of its three occupants. The wreckage came to a stop alongside a greenhouse after shearing off a 23,000-volt power line.

Drawn Into Auto Labor Dispute

Major figures in labor trouble which threatened to "tie up" 211,000 employes in General Motors Corporation plants included Alfred P. Sloan, top photo, president of the corporation, and William S. Knudsen, lower photo, executive vice president. The United Automobile Workers' Union, seeking collective bargaining rights, sought conferences with Sloan and Knudsen, but was told to take up the problem directly with local plant managers.

Spotlight Again Hits Baby Marie

The comedy she portrayed as "Baby Marie" Osborne in movie films years ago was missing for Mrs. Marie Dempsey, top photo, as she told in Los Angeles court that her husband, a steel worker, stayed out late, showed up for breakfast with lipstick on his face, and claimed the lipstick was hers, when she "knew better." She won a divorce. Lower photo shows her as she appeared when she was the baby star of the films.

Stock Boom Puts Exchange in Spotlight Again

100 CCC Boys Dig In For Winter On Isle

Voluntary exiles from civilization, 100 members of the Civilian Conservation Corps are ready, on Lake Superior's lonely Isle Royale, for severe winter weather which will isolate them until the ice breaks in May. Three of the youths are pictured above, cutting wood for fuel. Temperatures often reach 30 below zero. Objective of the project is to eliminate, by burning, tree trunks and other fire hazards left by last summer's disastrous forest fire.

FOODS AND FEUDS

Restaurants, as a rule, are homey places in which people spend some of the most serenely content moments of their lives. But this does not, it seems, apply to Hollywood restaurants.

OUR INTANGIBLE ASSET

In an era when greed has lured many to take chances with their reputations, the story of Oberlin M. Carter offers a highly significant moral.

A one-time army engineer, Carter was ordered discharged from the army in 1899 after a court-martial had convicted him of embezzlement. Ever since then he has fought vigorously, continuously to clear his name.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher. A series of six articles on Congress, its lineups, and the vital issues which confront it has been written by Rodney Dutcher, NEA Service and The Pampa Daily News Washington correspondent.

WASHINGTON.—The new Congress is more than likely to map out a far-reaching program of relationship between business and government.

It is understood that Roosevelt has not made up his mind as to specific measures for industry regulation. But he promised in a campaign speech to keep fighting for shorter hours, higher wages, collective bargaining, abolition of child labor and sweatshops, fair trade practices, plus fair value, honest sales, and a decreased price spread for the consumer.

Fundamental in Roosevelt's recent philosophy is his desire to reduce the power of the big concentrations of industrial and financial control. Congress is sure to receive certain recommendations arising from that desire.

Determination of labor leaders who helped win the election and prospect of a strong labor lobby in Washington make wage and hour legislation a rather good bet at this time.

A fight seems certain over the question whether industries are again to be given such privileges as they enjoyed under NRA, theoretically in return for willingness to reduce hours and raise wages.

Freedom from anti-trust laws encouraged monopoly and price-fixing. Some New Dealers are urging labor leaders to insist on keeping their demands separate from proposals to regulate trade practices and set up competition standards.

Proposals of Co-ordinator George Berry's Council for Industrial Progress would virtually revive NRA standards under a "fair competition act," without reviving the cumbersome code machinery.

Tremendous general interest has been expressed in the federal incorporation bill which will be promptly reintroduced by Senator Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming.

O'Mahoney's bill, backed by organized labor, establishes general regulatory power over all corporations engaged in interstate commerce.

Commander Spencer asked his former wife how she was and she said she was fine. He asked her if she were going to be Queen of England and she said she didn't know.

She said she hoped Spencer was fine, too, and that was about all until they said goodbye and good luck.

NOW COMES THE REALLY BIG ISSUE!

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

NEW YORK—Edgar Varese, the composer, whose modern symphony in which chains were clanked and factory whistles blown caused a sensation several years ago, is back from the southwest and worrying about a missing string of snake's rattles.

He fears they are lost and is greatly disturbed because, in a fashion, they stand as a symbol of conquered fear. A dislike of reptiles almost persuaded him against going to Santa Fe last spring, and had he heeded it he would have missed many experiences.

"He will be able to speculate on the wealth of polyrhythmic possibilities. Any number of frequencies will be made possible—any intensity and any differentiation of timbre."

Mass Interview. Thousands of high school editors throughout the country who have petitioned Helen Hayes for an interview have been made happy, but Miss Hayes was hard put to figure out a way to grant them.

"By projection I mean the feeling given by certain blocks of sound—I should call them beams of sound, as the feeling is akin to that aroused by beams of light, sent forth by a powerful searchlight. For the ear, as for the eye, Varese grows rhapsodic when he speaks of the air, the color, the clerk, and the mountains of New Mexico. And, being an artist, he translates them into terms of music.

"In music until now," he says, growing slightly technical, "rhythm can be defined as order and proportion in time. In my new conception, I imagine rhythm as order and proportion in time and in space."

"By projection I mean the feeling given by certain blocks of sound—I should call them beams of sound, as the feeling is akin to that aroused by beams of light, sent forth by a powerful searchlight. For the ear, as for the eye,

He has now a tower of Seville Cathedral, but takes its name from the weathercock which surmounts it. Giralda means weathercock in the form of a figure or statue. This particular one is a statue of Faith, which turns to face every wind and storm.

"Q. What does Alhambra mean?" J. F. The word is from the Arabic al-hambra, meaning red. The palace at Granada, Spain, is surrounded by a red brick wall.

"But I had this story," he protests, "a year ago, long before—or, er—well, long before. It was announced for production many months ago. Tell you how it happened."

"I was playing tennis with Norman Krasna, the writer, and after the game I was telling him about Fernand Gravel, the French star I'd signed up, and asking him if he had a story that would fit him. Something light, gay, funny—that was what I wanted. Krasna said he had just the thing."

"He'd written a story when he was at Paramount, but they didn't have anybody to play the part. He and Croucho Mark got together on it later, and that was the script Norman showed me. I said I'd act it after I'd read the first two acts—I didn't have to finish it to know it was exactly what I wanted."

And then Gravel came over, the Belgian youth, by LeRoy as the "biggest star" in France, and the picture was started—and then the headlines began popping in earnest.

Hollywood producers by mutual consent overlooked the biggest hot-from-the-news bet in years, but Mervyn LeRoy—in no way an "in" on his title and his picture. And "in" to a large financial tune.

"Besides," explains Mervyn, "our story is about an ex-king, of a nameless mythical country, the setting in Paris, and its headline comedy with music—in no way an attempt to cash in on headlines that weren't even dreamed when we began."

The chronological order of events even if his earnest protests were disregarded, atests his sincerity. Nevertheless, there is probably not a producer in Hollywood who, contemplating the spectacular work-

Q. What is the name of the woman's college in New York that has no examinations and uses no textbooks? H. W.

A. Sarah Lawrence College at Bronxville, New York, has no examinations, no required courses, no marks, and uses no textbooks. The college is said to be the first to pledge allegiance to experimentation.

Q. What horse is the best racer of the year? H. J.

A. Grandville, owned by William Woodward, was named as the best race horse of the season in a poll of the leading writers. The poll conducted by the Turf and Sport Digest listed the horse not only as the best 3-year-old but as the best all-ages racer.

Q. What are the Sea Scouts? E. H.

A. The Sea Scouts are an important part of the Boy Scout organization for youths of 15 or older. They are concerned with nautical and aquatic matters—swimming, sailing, rowing, marine history, marksmanship, seamanship, ground tackle, life aboard ship, rules of the road at sea, foreign commerce, navigation, signaling, and cruising.

Q. How many of each party were elected to the Cortes at the last election in Spain? C. K.

A. The total number of members of the Spanish Cortes is 473. In the February election of 1936, the party of the Left, which is the party of the present government, secured 253 seats; the party of the Right, consisting of the Conservatives, the Royalists, Clericals or Catholics, Agrarians, Fascists, Liberal Democrats, and Monarchists, obtained 200 seats; while the Center party, with political affiliation with the Rights, secured approximately 20 seats.

Q. Please give a biography of M. Moon, the philanthropist who did so much for the blind. G. T. W.

A. William Moon (1818-1894) was born at Horesmonden, Kent. He gave up his studies for the church when he became totally blind at 22. His energies were devoted thereafter to the care of the blind. Moon invented an embossed type to make the Braille system more accurate and maps for the blind, and established libraries and schools.

Q. Who discovered Lillian Russell? H. K.

A. Tony Pastor discovered the actress singing in the chorus of the Broadway Park theater. He met her name from Helen Louise Leonard and gave her her first chance on Broadway at $40 a week in a burlesque of Pinafore.

Q. How long did it take the cowboy who rode a horse from Long Beach, Calif., to New York, to make the trip? C. W.

A. Dan Stewart, a retired cattleman of 71, covered the 3,166 miles in 126 days on his horse, Diamond. The horse used 13 sets of horseshoes.

Q. Who first used the word, "psychanalysis"? E. W.

A. This name was first applied by Sigmund Freud to a method of treating nervous disorders.

Q. When was the water supply in Death Valley discovered? L. W.

A. Underground water supply was found and developed in 1935.

Q. What is meant by saying that the Giralda in Seville, Spain, was the first astronomical tower in Europe? C. S.

A. This is now a tower of Seville Cathedral, but takes its name from the weathercock which surmounts it. Giralda means weathercock in the form of a figure or statue. This particular one is a statue of Faith, which turns to face every wind and storm.

Q. What does Alhambra mean? J. F.

The word is from the Arabic al-hambra, meaning red. The palace at Granada, Spain, is surrounded by a red brick wall.

Chapter XI. One by one, the men drifted back to the house. If any of them had met on the mesa or were aware of the others' missions, they did not mention of the fact. Only Pearl Pierre made any remark about why he had been outside.

"I think the road up the canyon will be passable tomorrow," he announced. "It has stopped snowing. The men from Santa Fe may have found they could not get through and turned back." He looked at the assembled company as though expecting contradiction, but when no one answered, he walked away. Soon the others went to their rooms. They were all more tired than they cared to admit.

The next morning Ramon Vasquez sought out Professor Shaw and invited him into his room.

"I've been wondering, Professor, about your archeological work here on the mesa," Ramon said when he had seated the older man comfortably. "I've been following the uncovering of these prehistoric pueblos with a lot of interest."

His manner was conciliatory. There was now none of the brusque suspicion he had displayed toward the professor. "You may not have guessed from what I said yesterday, but my nerves were pretty well shot. Please forget about that."

"It never did disturb me, young man," replied the archeologist coolly. "As a man of science, I recognize, of course, the near hysteria everyone in this house has been feeling. But about the work on the pueblo—

"You may not have guessed from what I said yesterday, but my nerves were pretty well shot. Please forget about that."

"It interests me so much, Professor Shaw, that I've put in several months excavating in this neighborhood when the weather is so good. For the most part, the work is not too hard. I've wrangled an invitation out of him to come up. I'm trying to get my notes on my work in shape now to be published. That's why it caught my attention when you said you'd been looking around up here."

"Ah!" The professor glanced at him sharply, and Ramon could not be sure whether he was pleased or not. "Then you're just a dabbling—a collector of arrowheads. I didn't think you were interested in archeology, somehow. Young people are generally looking forward, not back into the dim ages of antiquity. So you thought Thunder Mesa might be interesting, eh?"

"Yes," answered Ramon. "I was glad to see you on this mesa. I didn't expect I'd be stepping into a murder mystery. But that obsession knife caught my attention. I was interested when you said it probably had some religious significance. Have you found any signs of old Indian religions on this mesa?"

"Oh, yes," answered the professor. "At one time, there must have been a great many people living here in what was probably a very extensive pueblo. Of course, you know the Indians liked to build on high places, especially in the mountains. Thunder Mesa which has only one trail down to the plains below."

"Protection against enemies and all that," Ramon offered the professor a cigar. "And there's plenty of water here, apparently."

"Yes," answered the professor. "The foundations of the main pueblo, and the hacienda well is the same one as the Indians used."

"But I've been unable to make any first-hand examination of the ground plan of the pueblo, for the house basement seems to be a mass of constructed right over it, and the present owners are not at all interested in tearing up the floor of their cellar to further archeological knowledge. That perhaps is not astonishing when you come to think about it."

"I suppose not," Ramon agreed, with a smile. "I can't imagine any of the foresters allowing much excavation to be done under their floor boards. But the sacred knife must have come from right here, then?"

"I'm not sure about that," Professor Shaw said. "They never would say. Claimed they did not know, in fact, but if I could determine that point it would be an important step forward in our knowledge of the early inhabitants of this continent. There certainly is not another knife like it in existence."

"Why don't you ask the Indian servant about it?"

"I've tried repeatedly, but he only shakes his head and pretends he doesn't understand, though I hear he connects in some way with the tribe which lived here originally."

"The professor rose. "Have I answered any of the things you wanted to know? I'm sure I haven't told you a thing any of the family would not have been willing to tell you, if they didn't have such much else on their minds just now."

"That's just it," Ramon answered quickly. "You see, as a guest in the house, it would put me in rather a bad light to go about inquiring into things I'm not supposed to have any interest in. But ever since I came, I've wondered about this place, and in view of what's happened, I'm not so sure the whole thing isn't knit together in some way. Tell you what, Professor—suppose we work together."

"For the moment the professor seemed to be turning this over in his mind. Then he nodded. "I can't see that it would do any harm to anyone," he said. "Certainly the mischief is only interested in the fact, not in solving a murder mystery. You may owe it to ourselves and the other innocent people who are all housed here with a maniac, likely to go into action again any minute."

"You think, then, that it was some member of the household and not one of the outside guests?" Ramon asked.

"Not the slightest doubt about it." The professor's tone was positive. "No one could live here with the family, as I have, for any length of time and not be convinced that one of them had sufficient cause to drive him to murder if a little extra pressure were brought.

It's the most interesting group of people I ever came in contact with. A group whose naturally strange dispositions are accentuated by isolation. If the young man could get away, he probably would be quite normal but, kept here with these eccentrics a few years more, I imagine he will be just like the others."

Ramon agreed, remarking that Pearl John seemed rather a decent sort of chap. Then he asked if the professor had seen the obsidian knife since the murder.

"No. But I suppose it has been returned to the safe where it was kept," the professor said. "I didn't want to mention such a painful subject to either of the brothers, but I have worried about the artifact."

In the excitement it might so easily be mislaid or cast aside with a feeling of repugnance.

"Since you're so keen about the knife, Professor, let's hope it has been kept safely," answered the younger man, holding the door open for the archeologist.

Ramon watched the professor walk down the hall, then shut the door, and, lighting a pipe, sat down to think over what he had heard. So there was an ancient building under the hacienda—a building about which the professor had intrigued a pretended lack of interest.

Butler Recalls Strict Life Of Robert Browning

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28 (AP)—Eighty-two-year-old William Thomas, who says he was butler in Robert Browning's London home for about five years, declares the renowned English poet was a gentleman, he was.

"He was a man of few words, hard work and strict habits," Thomas recalled.

"Mr. Browning had his breakfast each day at 8 o'clock before looking himself in his study. No one dared disturb him and no noise was permitted while he was at work. Why, one day he nearly gave me the sack for pounding a tack in the wall."

The poet wore only two suits Thomas said, "a little gray one—for he was not a tall man—in his study, and evening attire for his visiting."

"One day in every seven he permitted guests to pass through his study. He ushered into the parlor and called into his study one by one."

"And regarding that study—I was never allowed to touch a living thing on his writing table. Well I recollect one day he said, 'William' (he always called me by that name), 'they were ushered into the parlor and called into his study one by one.'"

"Thomas said he remembers Elizabeth Barrett, later Browning's wife, as a "fine lady, delicate, pleasant and beautiful."

Regulars Move To Punish Holt

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—Democratic regulars in the senate moved today to punish Senator Rush D. Holt, youthful and rebellious democrat from West Virginia.

Holt, who waged a strenuous fight with Harry E. Campbell, W.P.A. member who unsuccessfully opposed the reelection of his democratic colleague, Senator M. M. Neely of West Virginia, announced through his office here that he had received notice that he would be deprived of certain patronage privileges that had been assigned to him.

Holt announced he had received the following letter from Senator Carl Hayden (D-Ariz), chairman of an unofficial democratic committee which controls such patronage jobs as Capitol Hill policemen and elevator operators:

"It has become my duty to advise you that when Congress convenes in January you will in all probability be deprived of the patronage positions now assigned to you."

"From expressions made to me by democratic senators, this action will be taken as a result of two facts, first, because you gave comfort, if not aid, to those who were seeking to defeat the democratic national ticket, and also opposed the election of a democrat to the United States Senate."

PINKNEY APPLICATION IS DENIED BY ATWELL

DALLAS, Dec. 28 (AP)—Judge William H. Atwell in federal court here today denied the application of the Pinkney Packing company of Amarillo for a temporary injunction restraining the government from collecting about $8,000 in windfall taxes.

In a verbal opinion, however, Judge Atwell said he believed the tax was unconstitutional.

Under the new law the government sought to collect up to 30 per cent of undistributed processing taxes refunded by the government after the AAA was ruled unconstitutional.

The court did not rule on the government's motion to dismiss the application, and indicated the motion could be granted or denied up should the company desire to press its suit to prevent collection of the tax.

Judge Atwell said he denied the injunction because the plaintiff did not show sufficient grounds for granting the restraining order.

John Erhart, assistant United States attorney, said he did not know when a trial of the suit on its merits would be sought.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson, mother of President Andrew Jackson, is buried in an unmarked grave near Charleston, S. C.

EXES OF MCLEAN AND SHAMROCK HIGH SCHOOLS WILL PLAY ON FRIDAY

CHRISTIAN TO LEAD MCLEAN GRID ELEVEN

FOOTBALL STARS OF 2 TOWNS TO BATTLE IN GAME

McLEAN, Dec. 28—It won't be a "bowl game" but it will be a mighty interesting football game when the "exes" of McLean high school meet the "exes" of Shamrock high school on Tiger field here Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents with proceeds going to the local athletic fund.

Keen rivalry between high school teams of the two cities has been at top notch for several years. Boys from college who are home for the Christmas holidays will participate.

Leading the McLean eleven will be the sensational "Runt" Christian, quarterback of the Tigers three years gone by. Christian this season led the McMurry Indians through a great season. Missing, however, from the Tiger lineup will be Buell Ellison. The great lineman will be playing for Hardin-Simmons in the Sun Bowl game in El Paso that afternoon.

McLean stars of former years who will be in the game are "Snort" Tolliver, Cunningham, George and "Red" McCarty, Cooke, "Whimmy" Kennedy, Dowell, Lashwell, Williams, Dwight and many others. The last three named were stars on the 1936 team.

Shamrock will also have a host of stars including several players from the 1936 team. Missing from the lineup will be Ed Cherry, sensational fullback of a few years ago. Cherry will be in the backfield for Hardin-Simmons in the Sun Bowl game.

Leland McIntyre, who finished his school work in Clovis, N. M., and his brother, "Big" McIntyre of Southern Methodist university, will probably be in the Shamrock lineup. The Rook Brothers, one or more of the Close boys, Brothers, Drake and a number of other stars will also be in uniform for the Irish.

Cherry Expected Sandies To Block 4 Antler Punts

Amarillo Coach To Be Married On Tuesday

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT.
DALLAS, Dec. 28 (AP)—Speculation as to whether Blair Cherry, maker of three straight championship schoolboy eleven for Amarillo high school, will remain at his post at the Panhandle today.

The Golden Sandstorm made it 86 triumphs against only five defeats in the seven years Cherry has directed Sandle grid fortunes by bagging their third title Saturday.

Seventeen thousand cheered Cherry's magic as his all-senior Sandstorm outmarched Tivy of Kerrville, 19-6, in a thriller.

Sources close to the situation report Cherry, who filed a formal application for the head coaching job at the University of Texas, will not consider an assistant's post at the Austin school. It is the No. 1 position or nothing for him, sources said.

Other reports have his name linked with the Kansas university vacating its coaching position. The job will be given by Cherry himself. He is to be married tomorrow and will leave immediately on a three weeks honeymoon.

Shortly before game time Saturday, Coach Cherry told his Sandies scouting information revealed Kerrville slow on getting off punts. He blocked both, recovered one for the first touchdown and gave Pat Toombs, center, opportunity to fall on the other for the second score.

Bobby Clesson and Raymond (Wildhorse) Maves alternated at passing and running to produce the final score. Kerrville's scrappy Antlers, who, statistics reveal, actually outplayed the Sandies, twice knocked at the goal line order before Holbrook tossed a touchdown pass to Rust, right end.

Wings' Right Wing Right

SCHMELING NAMED WORLD'S NUMBER 1 FIGHTER FOR 1936

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—For making just one fistic appearance before the cash customers, Max Schmeling was nominated by "The Ring" magazine as the world's number one fighting man for 1936.

Der Moxie knocked out Joe Louis in his lone competitive start to win the top spot the Brown Bomber held for 1935.

Heavyweight champion Jimmy Braddock was not called on to throw punches in competition and as a result was dropped to number three. Aside from Schmeling, the only other non-champion to top a division in "The Ring's" rankings was Benny Lynch of Scotland, who headed the flyweight groupings. The National Boxing association's titleholder, Eddie Fenech Smart of the Philippines, was rated second.

Rankers put Schmeling in a group by himself among the heavyweights, with Louis and Braddock listed one-two in "group two."

Light-heavyweight John King Henry Lewis of Phoenix, Ariz., was listed alone in group one in his weight class, as were the middleweight titlist, Freddy Steel of Tacoma, Wash., and welterweight champion Barney Ross of Chicago.

In the lighter divisions, however, the top punch-throwers apparently were regarded as more evenly bunched.

Lou Ambers, the Herkimer (N. Y.) champion who dethroned Tony Canzoneri as lightweight champion a few months ago, was placed at the top of the 135-pounders, but grouped with him were five others, with Pedro Montañez of Puerto Rico, second, and, surprisingly, Canzoneri in third place.

The magazine rated Petye Sarron in front among the featherweights. Mike Beilose of New York was third, behind Henry Armstrong, the Los Angeles better.

Among the flyweights, American-born battlers were completely shut out. In group one, in order, were Charles Fenwick of England; Jim Warlock, Ireland; Ernst Weiss, Austria, and Pat Palmer, England.

Rose Bowl Elevens Work At Pasadena

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 28 (AP)—Gridiron machines of the University of Pittsburgh and University of Washington began the final stages of practice today for their encounter in the twenty-second consecutive edition of Pasadena's Rose Bowl football attraction New Year's day.

The Washington Huskies, led by Coach Jimmy Phelan, trotted out on Brookside field today within the shadows of the huge Rose Bowl for their first practice on local soil after a week of conditioning at Santa Barbara.

Pitt remained at its Arrowhead Springs hide-out at San Bernardino and Coach Jock Sutherland, continuing to juggle around for a starting lineup, said he would bring his squad here Thursday morning, take a light workout in the Bowl and stand ready for the game the next afternoon.

High Waters Block Road At Corsicana

CORSICANA, Dec. 28 (AP)—Traffic was restored to highway 75 between Corsicana and Ennis through Chambers creek bottom about 5 a. m., today, after the road had been blocked since about noon yesterday because of high waters.

Heavy rains sent Cummings and Chambers creeks out of banks and breaks in the protective levee system permitted the floodwater to cover the highway for more than four-tenths of a mile, according to Sam Thomas, highway maintenance foreman. The levees were damaged by a flood several weeks ago.

BAUGH AND BUIVID TO HAVE IT OUT ON NEW YEAR'S DAY

DALLAS, Dec. 28 (AP)—Two of the nation's greatest pigskin passers—Elingir Sammy Baugh of Texas Christian university and Ray "Buz" Buivid of Marquette university—practiced their art today in preparation for their clash in the Cotton Bowl battle New Year's day.

Lured by the prospect of seeing Baugh and Buivid battle it out for aerial honors, more than 30,000 were expected to attend the initial Cotton Bowl classic. Promoter J. Curtis Sanford sold more than 15,000 tickets already had been sold.

Long scrimmage sessions were ordered today by coaches of both teams.

Determined to have their charges in top condition, the mentors took advantage of clear weather Sunday and put their players through workouts.

MAJOR ALTERATIONS IN GRID RULES ARE NOT NOW EXPECTED

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Unless their discussion of the controversial pass-interference rule leads to changes, the nation's football coaches, opening their annual convention today, don't expect any major alterations in the gridiron game for next season.

Bill Cowell, permanent secretary-treasurer of the American Football Coaches Association, said there may be a "few" new regulations, but he didn't foresee any important changes unless the pass-interference controversy came to a head.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association meeting coincidentally with the coaches—and three other organizations governing college sports, opened last night with a closed council meeting.

Subsidization of athletics will be discussed tomorrow, with college presidents giving viewpoints on the topic, "are our inter-collegiate athletics to remain amateur?"

As is the custom, Harry Kipke, Michigan coach, will be elevated from the association's first vice presidency to the presidency, now held by Tuss McLaughry of Brown. For this reason, the coaches generally don't believe Kipke will be ousted at Michigan, as has been rumored.

"Baby" of the new Congress will be a stocky representative from Oklahoma, Lyle H. Boren, shown above at his desk. Boren, who is only 27, will occupy the seat formerly held by the colorful Representative P. L. Gassaway. A Democrat, he will represent the Fourth Oklahoma district.

BITSY GRANT RANKED THIRD IN TOURNAMENT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 28 (AP)—Sugar Bowl sports enthusiasts turned to tennis matches today for a tournament in which Bryan (Betsy) Grant of Atlanta, third ranking American netman, was seeded number one.

Frank Parker of Lawrenceville, N. J., was seeded behind Grant and others entered included Dr. John McDiarmid of Princeton, defending champion, Arthur Hendrix of Lakeland, Fla., Edwin Hinton of Orleans and Walter Senior, San Francisco champion.

Four thousand fans turned out in a drizzling rain yesterday for the track meet, first of the sports events which will be climaxed with a football game between Louisiana State and Santa Clara on New Year's day.

Southern records fell in the mile and two miles. Archie San Romani, Kansas State Teachers, nosed out the veteran Glenn Cunningham in a 4:14 mile, two seconds under the mark set here by Cunningham last year. Don Lash, Indiana, was third.

Wayne Rideout of North Texas Teachers set the two-mile mark by running the distance in 9:03.5; Lash, who established the former record of 9:15.5 last year, was second.

TRUCK DRIVERS DUE TO BACK MARITIME STRIKE

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Striking maritime workers look for support today from rank-and-file truck drivers who promised to back picket lines along the waterfront.

The strikers won support of insurgent members of the stevedores' union yesterday at a meeting presided by a lively series of fist fights attributed to union dissension.

Opponents of the strike sought to prevent teamsters from meeting with the seamen led by Joseph Curran, and emergency police squads were summoned to quiet the disturbance.

Strange Bedfellow
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Camille Jordan noticed the front door ajar in the cottage of a neighbor who was away. Investigating, she found a stranger in bed, staring at her.

She called police. Intrepid officers warily closed in on the bedroom, brusquely barked at the stranger. No answer. They shook the bed. Onto the floor rolled a wax model head—of Jesse James.

Police decided the dummy had been planted to frighten thieves.

LATE START

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Jacob Strackbein's first journey away from home took him almost half way around the world. When he arrived here from Saratov, Russia, where he had lived since birth 67 years ago, Strackbein, who intends to make his home with a son here, waited five years to get permission to leave Russia.

Georgia Tech is the only inter-sectional foe of the past decade to win a football game from the University of California. The Engineers trimmed the Bears 8-7 in the Rose Bowl game of 1928; they play again in Atlanta, December 26.

GOLDBERG IS BALL CARRIER FOR PANTHERS

MAKES ONE-THIRD OF PITT'S YARDAGE IN SEASON

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A blue-jerseyed halfback grabbed the football out of the air and raced 41 yards to a touchdown while the crowd cheered.

The halfback was young Marshall Goldberg, powerful ball carrier of the Pitt Panthers, who were engaging their bitter neighborhood intra-city rivals, the Carnegie Tech Titans.

The happiest man in the crowd was Sol Goldberg, father of "Biggie," as the young sophomore star from Elkins, W. Va., is known. Sol jumped up to cheer and hearily sprained his back doing so.

A few minutes later Halfback Goldberg got his hands on the ball again. The crowd let loose another cheer but this time Sol couldn't get up with the rest.

He turned to his companion: "How many yards did he run?" "Oh, about 75," was the reply. "Hmmm," the elder Goldberg commented, "I guess that's far enough."

It actually was a run of 83 yards and helped make victory easy for the Panthers by a 34-14 margin.

This same Goldberg, spark-plug of the Pitt offense, has accounted for one-third of all the ground gained this season by the team that will engage Washington in the Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena New Year's day.

Gains Half a Mile
He has carried the ball 151 times in nine games for a total of 860 yards in scrimmage plays. All of the other Pitt backs combined ran up 1,671 yards of the total of 2,531 recorded by the team.

Goldberg is one of the "babies" on the youngest team to represent Pitt in a long time. Six regulars are only 19. The other five are William Daddio, star end from Meadville, Pa.; Harold Stebbins, fullback from Williamsport, Pa.; Charles Fleming, end from New Castle, Pa.; John Chickerno, another halfback from Warren, O.; and Fabian Hoffman, end from Pittsburgh. All are sophomores.

Of 25 "first string" players, 10 are sophomores, nine are juniors and six are seniors. Most other players on the squad are sophomores.

Young Goldberg's nickname, "Biggie," grew on him in his grade school days at Elkins. Friends said he got it because he was the smallest member of his family. Now he weighs 180 pounds. His weight didn't vary half a pound from start to finish of the grid season.

Sutherland Shifts
Coach Jock Sutherland of the Panthers often shifts his players, and Hoffman, for instance, quarterback for two full seasons, replaced the injured Bill Stapulis at fullback in the game with Nebraska and he scored two of Pitt's three touchdowns against the Cornhuskers.

The best kicker on the team is Johnny Wood, 165-pound senior halfback from New Martinsville, W. Va. Johnny boots the pigskin 60 yards in his bare feet. He was one of the most promising freshmen ever to enroll at Pitt, but injuries kept him out of the lineup his first two years. In the varsity he didn't keep him out of classes however—he is an honor student.

A football prospectus issued by Pitt last summer did not mention Averell Daniel. He had been on the sidelines much of the 1935 season, although he earned a letter.

This season, Daniel started every game Pitt played at right tackle.

And, named to the All-America team, he was generally hailed as one of the greatest tacklers in the game.

Harvester Cagers Will Try Out New Offense Tomorrow

Pampans To Play At Perryton On Tuesday

Three Harvesters will be in the scoring zone in a fast-breaking offense when they invade Perryton tomorrow night for a return game with the Perryton Rangers. Coach Odus Mitchell has been working on the new formation for several days and his boys showed much improvement in practice Saturday and this morning.

In the past, two Harvesters "went in" with the third offensive player waiting to follow the ball. Because of inexperience and lack of size, the change in offense has been found necessary in an effort to work up a scoring punch.

Perryton is considered the strongest team in the Panhandle up to the present time. Coach Pat Gerald's Panthers and the Berger Bulldogs have yet to be heard from, however.

Starting Harvesters will probably be Dewey and Cox, forwards, Noblitt, center; Ayer and Heiskell, guards. That combination looked good in a long, hard practice this morning. A "scrimmage" followed work on new formations and plays. Elcoe and Kilgore also looked better in the workout.

On Wednesday Coach Mitchell will take his Harvesters on a road trip to Abernathy, Levelland, Floydada, and Tulsa.

GULDAHL NOW LEADING PROS IN GOLD RUSH

COWAWKY PRO WON ONLY $54 IN 1935 SEASON

BY SCOTTY RESTON
(FINCH HITTING FOR EDDIE BRIETS)
NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Primo Carnera, pathetic prodigal of the ring, may come back from his native Italian hills on a strange and monstrous mission. An ingenious if heartless, New York theatrical manager has proposed using "Da Freeman" in a dancing act, with African female pygmies as the chorus. . . the victory needed, injected by Football Coach Bernie Bierman, is making the Minnesota sports fan sick. . . Until the Gopher gridgers began running wild, there was little complaint about Dave MacMillan's mediocre record with the Minnesota basketball team. . . but now the fans are yelling for his job, even before the Big Ten season is really started. . . MacMillan's Big Ten record is 37 won and 71 lost. . .

It took an auto accident to make Old Dade drop his gloom. . . He's wheeling around his Boston. . . now smiling like a kid on Christmas. . . He's glad to be alive, that's all his. . . Mickey Cochrane has told his ball players to leave their wives and sweethearts at home this spring, and he's not kidding. Rumor here is that "Bolly" Grimes will appoint Jesse Haines, veteran Card's pitcher, as his second coach.

Football coaches are in town congratulating each other on holding their jobs. . . Mainly they tell stories, see shows, catch up on their self-pity, moan about the boys they lose next year, and shop around among the athletic directors just in case.

From One Tournament: $4
The sum total of his 1935 tourney take was $54—$50 in the Los Angeles open and $4 in the Riverside amateur.

Now he's possessor of the Radix cup for the best medal play along the 1936 tourney stretch, counts upwards of $7,500 as earnings for the year, and is rated a favorite in the Miami open, first meet of 1937.

In 1934 Ralph played in eight national open and then, finished tenth in the national open at Merion. . . But then he lost his putting touch, much of his swinging power—and his job at the St. Louis country club.

He began to cast around and landed a connection with a public course in Los Angeles. He had only enough money to play in events in the immediate vicinity.

Finns Patron
But the attention of a manufacturer of golf equipment had been drawn to Guldahl some time ago, and this patron believed a sense of security would work wonders with Guldahl's game. So he stacked him to touring expenses and saw his long-shot romp home.

Guldahl's spurt in 1936 began in the Los Angeles open, where he picked up $29 for a score of 293. In Dayton, Ia., Guldahl won the Western open and $500, with a 72-hole score of 274. It was the lowest open tournament score made in the United States during the year.

He is soft-spoken but "steely" for competition, physically free from tension, loose and supple. He has an odd physical build for an athlete, with wide hips and slightly narrow shoulders. His boyish face belies the power he puts into his shots and his strong determination to win.

Chang Will Be Restored To His Army Command

NANKING, Dec. 28 (AP)—Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, it was believed today, will be restored to command of the armies he led in revolt against Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and the civil crisis his capture of the premier precipitated will soon be forgotten.

Chiang was reported already to have told his erstwhile captor, who in sudden turn of events yesterday gave himself up, he would be returned to Sianfu, seat of the rebellion, and his military post.

Legally, the marshal is "guilty of treason and should suffer a traitor's punishment," Foreign Minister Chang Chung said, explaining the situation, "but his release of the generalissimo unharmed has entitled him to consideration."

Authorities believed the premier's recommendations for leniency would be accepted by the government but to satisfy the requirements of justice, Chang would be condemned and then given a special pardon.

Fatigued by his captivity, Chiang canceled public engagements and rested under medical supervision.

Greenville Coach Is Arrested After Automobile Wreck

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 28 (AP)—Milton (Speedy) Moffett, head football coach at Greenville, has been released at liberty under a $200 bond to appear in city court here Monday in connection with an automobile accident here Saturday night.

Police Chief George H. Hodgins said further investigation will be made as to the cause of the wreck. It is supposed to have crashed into another machine. Moffett was released from a hospital Monday. He suffered a slight brain concussion and minor bruises.

Big Six sports writers, who overlooked the second-place University of Missouri eleven at the start of the 1936 season, are already picking the Tigers to lift the conference football crown from Nebraska in '37.

David I. (Red) Barron, great Georgia Tech halfback of the early '20s and former big league baseball star, is president of an agricultural and industrial school at Monroe, La., and coaches the football team, known as the Monroe Aggies.

Of Washington. The eleventh member comes from close by—Bend, Ore.

The four Chicagoans are Steve Silivinski, guard; John Wlatrak, center; Vic Markov, tackle, and Frank Peters, end.

Max John Starcewich, all-American guard this season, is Duluth's representative, while Jimmy Cain, all-Coast halfback, comes from Oklahoma.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS
BY WILL H. MAYES.
In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquiries must give their names and address, only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Where was the town of Texana?
H. J. K.
A. Texana, which was first known as "Santa Anna," was at the junction of the Lavaca and Navidad rivers in Jackson county; was the capital of the municipality of Jackson in 1835 and was the first county seat of Jackson county; once an important town, but now abandoned.

Q. How many men were shot and how many escaped in the March 27, 1836, massacre at La Bahia (Goliad)?
J. L.
A. Reports vary. Col Portilla, the Mexican commander, reported 330 shot and 27 escaped, about 80 who had just arrived in Texas and had not borne arms against Mexico, being released. Some writers give the number as high as 364 shot and 34 escaping.

Q. What was the route of the retreat of the Mexican army after the battle of San Jacinto?
W. C.
A. Houston's agreement with San-davide requirements Baltimore & a justice, provided that the Mexicans should be permitted to withdraw beyond the Rio Grande. His reasons for this were that he did not have sufficient force to meet the 2,500 or 3,000 Mexicans or the supplies with which to care for the prisoners had they been captured. The withdrawal also stopped further marauding for the time and permitted Texans to return to their homes and plant crops.

INCOME.
Analytical quarters submit the following figures as a result of the I. C. C. decision concerning emergency freight rate surcharges. The first amounts are those of estimated per share 1936 income and the second are the per share income earned by the carrier from the eliminated emergency rates:
Atchison: $1.49-$1.03; Atlantic Coast Lines: $2.37-$1.58; Baltimore & Ohio: 40 cents-$2.57; Chesapeake & Ohio: $5.52-$6 cents; Great Northern: $4.63-$4 cents; Lehigh Valley: $1.14-$1.25; Louisville & Nashville: $8.03-$3.17; New York Central: $1.50-$2.20; Nickel Plate: $5.32-$4.44; Norfolk & Western: $2.41-$3.84; Northern Pacific: 41 cents-42 cents; Pennsylvania: $3.07-$1.12; Southern Railway: $1.07-$2.31; and, Union Pacific: $7.74-90 cents.
On the above figures it is disclosed that Chesapeake & Ohio, Great Northern, Southern Pacific and Union Pacific are least affected by the I. C. C. decision.

EXPECTATIONS.
Railroad executives say that there is no justification for the exaggerated horror expressed over the I. C. C. emergency freight rate ruling. They believe that all work out nicely since truck competition will be reduced. They saw passenger revenues increase when the fare rates were cut and believe that history will repeat.
But railroad circles argue that the commission could have waited until the new freight rate schedules were being discussed at hearings. It is believed that January rail revenues will make bad reading. That is why it is expected that the requested rate increases will be allowed—in part.

WORRIED.
Railroad students aren't worried because of the I. C. C. rate decision. What is a headache is the over-hanging threat of labor difficulties. It is feared that the Brotherhood will insist upon the 34-hour work week with no decrease in wages.

DEMAND.
Basic factors account for the strength in mining shares. They

WHY?
Financial interests can't understand why the Chicago Great Western Railroad should reorganize. Here's the story: The road's current fixed charges are $1,940,000 a year. At a reorganization hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission the general auditor for the railroad predicted earnings over the next five years. He looked for an income of $2,005,500 for 1937. And anticipated an increase every year until $3,119,500 was reached in 1941. That is why Wall Streeters are asking "Why reorganize if the outlook is so good?"

ESTIMATES.
With steel mills operating at high production averages trade insiders again revised their 1936 per share estimates. Compared with 1935 results they now read: United States Steel—2.50 net against a deficit of $2.77; Bethlehem Steel—$2 net against a deficit of 70 cents last year; Republic Steel—$1.60 against 49 cents net in 1936; Youngstown Sheet & Tube $7 against only 39 cents net a year ago; and, American Rolling Mills—$2.25 against a $1.51 net 12 months ago.

COOPERATE.
Due to recent favorable reception of corporate reorganizations, bond dealers expect railroad reorganizations to come through with a bang starting early next year. It is felt that new plans will now receive more friendly reception because loadings and revenues show betterment.

It is also mentioned that the government will help along on rail plans. The RFC and the ICC will cooperate. In fact, there are expectations around that Congress itself is ready to smoothe the path of the carriers wandering through bankruptcy courts.

33 KILLED IN TEXAS SUNDAY

33 DEAD, 200 INJURED SINCE CHRISTMAS EVE

(By The Associated Press.) The holiday season's traffic deaths in Texas mounted to 33 today, with at least 200 others injured, some critically. Seven deaths yesterday were added to the 26 which had occurred since Christmas Eve.

'People's Army' Holds Its Ground

MADRID, Dec. 28 (AP)—The "people's army" held its ground today as Madrid's gloomiest Christmas ended and the eighth week of the siege began. Strong defenses were thrown up in the recaptured Boadilla sector, including the village of Boadilla del Monte itself seven miles west of Madrid—routing whatever hope the fascists might have had of celebrating in Madrid the Children's Feast of the Three Kings—when the Spanish children await Santa Claus.

27 INVOLVED IN PLANE ACCIDENTS IN WEST

(By The Associated Press.) Twenty-seven persons have been involved in four plane mishaps occurring in the west this month with 15 of that number killed or virtually given up for dead. The four: Dec. 15—A Western Air Express plane and five men aboard disappeared while flying from Los Angeles to Salt Lake. It is believed covered by snow somewhere in Utah with all occupants dead. Searchers feared it might not be found until spring.

Associated Press Financial Writer. NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—An eventual year of recovery-consolidation found new faces, as well as many long familiar, among the pilots of finance, business and industry. A retiring 61-year-old bachelor lawyer, Herbert Fitzpatrick, suddenly leaped to command of one-seventh of the country's rail transportation when the mantle of the Van Sweringens—Mantis J. and Oris P.—fell upon his shoulders.

TEXAS FIFTH IN CHRISTMAS ROAD DEATHS

555 PERSONS KILLED ON HIGHWAYS OF NATION

CHICAGO, Dec. 28 (AP)—More than 750 persons died violent deaths in the nation during the Christmas holiday and week-end. Traffic accidents brought death to at least 555 persons. A variety of other causes swelled the total to 761.

Thousands of motorists, taking advantage of unusually mild weather for late December, crowded the highways from Christmas Eve to Sunday night. Traffic fatalities far outnumbered those of the double holiday last Fourth of July when 444 were recorded.

Thirteen died in shootings and stabbings in Kentucky. Other fatality causes included burning homes, fireworks, falls, drownings, plane and train accidents, and suicides. The holiday period was unlighted by violent deaths in only three states—Delaware, Vermont and New Hampshire. California paced the states in traffic deaths with 58. Michigan had 44, Illinois 43, Ohio 35, Texas 33, and Pennsylvania 32. Kentucky's 11 contrasted with the total of 17 attributed to other violent causes.

ODDS AGAINST KIDNAPER OF TACOMA CHILD

OTHER SNATCHERS ARE CAPTURED AND PUNISHED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—The man who carried 10-year-old Charles Mattson from his Tacoma home last night, leaving a ransom demand, was matching his nerve against the records of some of America's most famous kidnapers.

Three other famous victims were wrenched from their homes by kidnapers and in each case the abductors were caught and punished.

Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. was taken from his cot in the home of his famous aviator parents at Hopewell, N. J. Although the child was dead when found, $50,000 had been paid, fruitlessly, for his return.

Thomas H. Robinson Jr. was charged with invading the bedroom of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll's Louisville home, where she had been ill, and carrying her off.

Little George Veyernauser, victim of the last major kidnaping and neighbor of last night's victim, was seized in the spring of 1935 as he walked home from school for lunch at noon.

The Karpis-Barker gang seized Edward Bremer and William A. Hamm, both prominent St. Paul business men, on the streets of the city. They collected $200,000 for Bremer's return, $100,000 for Hamm.

DENVER RAILWAY SUED FOR TOTAL OF $15,000

Damages of $15,000 were asked today in a lawsuit filed in district court by J. J. Emier, of Wheeler county, against the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway Company.

Emier charges in his petition that when he was employed along the defendant's right-of-way near Pampa in September of 1935 he was permanently injured.

The plaintiff was engaged in driving a team plow and was thrown when the share struck a rock. Negligence is charged to the defendant for failure to have an assistant to help Emier with the work.

Mrs. E. L. Norman returned yesterday from a Christmas visit in Weatherford.

The American Federation of Labor is planning an intensive organization drive in industries other than those marked out by Lewis.

The craft-industrial union dispute, popularly known as the scrap between Lewis and William Green, A. F. of L. president, will continue through the winter.

Lewis and his committee on industrial organization favor organized labor by industry as opposed to organization by crafts extending through several industries.

(1) The Wagner billion dollar housing bill to provide cheaper rent for low income workers.

(2) The O'Mahoney industrial litigation bill to require corporations dealing in interstate commerce to conform to government-fixed labor standards.

(3) The Black-Connerly 30-hour week bill.

(5) Amendments to broaden the scope of the social security act and to increase its benefit payments.

The German army there, however, for that would mean war.

Germany will avoid an actual armed rescue of the seized freighter Palos, now held by the Spanish government at Bilbao as a contraband carrier, but most likely will station a formidable part of the reich's fleet at San Sebastian, or some other Fascist-held port, to meet and convey any German vessel bound for Fascist Spain.

Palos Question France and England hoped offers to aid Germany's economic and colonial needs in return for non-interference would weigh heavily.

In the face of the German warning to free the Palos, the Spanish Socialists answered through the embassy at Paris:

"There is no question of releasing the Palos."

Germany gave Spain another day of grace before determining what action she would take.

Movement of German warships to Spanish waters was reported but the Nazi foreign office remained non-committal.

Resumption of normal routine in the German capital led to hopes there might soon be some hint as to what orders had been dispatched to the German fleet.

Hitler seemingly was in no hurry to communicate any decision he might have reached to Europe's warring capitals, leading to the belief delay was increasing the chance for a favorable settlement.

SPEAKER RACE NARROWS TO TEXAN, TWO OTHERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—The list of active candidates for the house Democratic leadership narrowed to three today as friends of Rep. Mead (D., N. Y.) said today he was out of the race.

In the bitterest of battles, the most bitter for many a session, were Rep. Sam Rayburn (D., Tex.) and O'Connor (D., N. Y.) with Rep. Rankin (D., Miss.) claiming enough votes to "tie up" the scrap on the first ballot.

House Democrats will caucus next Monday to elect their floor leader and renominate William B. Bankhead for speaker.

Both O'Connor and Rayburn were claiming sufficient votes to win on the first ballot. If all 333 House Democrats take part, 167 votes will be needed for a victory.

So many moves and counter moves have entered into the contest that many neutral observers are willing to go no further than predicting the race probably will be close.

Rayburn forces, nevertheless, were counting on some New York support to elect their floor leader, on 26 of 27 votes from Pennsylvania, although Rep. Nichols (D., Okla.) an O'Connor campaign manager, has asserted the Texan will get no more than ten.

lifted the boy into his arms and fled toward the waterfront through the same French window by which he entered.

Charles' sister, Muriel, 14, and her friend, Virginia Chatfield of Seattle, were sitting on a davenport near the window when the man first appeared.

The children said the man's mask slipped from his face while he was in the room, enabling them to see he was dark-complexioned with a heavy beard.

The search turned to the waterfront on the theory the kidnaper may have had a boat beached below the Mattson home for his getaway.

The $50,000 residence over-looks the waterfront some two blocks and 300 feet below it down a steep terrace.

Officers were handicapped by lack of police books but several privately owned cars searched nearby coasts for strange boats.

On shore, officers combed the ravines and wooded sections near the Mattson home. Surrounded by moderately expensive residences, the house is only a few blocks from numerous wild ravines and a "cutter" section of wasteland within the city limits.

The two girls told police they saw the kidnaper run over the top of the terrace toward the waterfront.

The searchers were told the boy, somewhat small for his age, was wearing a blue sports jacket, blue knicker and brown house slippers. His height was given as four feet six inches; weight, 70 pounds; light complexion, brown eyes usually smiling.

Teachers described him as an unusually intelligent pupil, with a bright, friendly air.

Former Grid Linesman TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 28 (AP)—Dr. W. W. Mattson, physician and former Washington and Pennsylvania university football line-man, gave officers full control today in the search for his kidnaper.

"I'll do anything the police says," he asserted as he sat in a living room alcove while a detective took charge of the household. "I don't want to do anything that might hinder them."

SEAT OF INTELLIGENCE TRACED TO WHOLE BRAIN, NOT TO PART

LATE NEWS

German torpedobats will convey Nazi merchant ships in the Bay of Biscay, informed sources in Berlin reported today as British officials were declared to be considering formation of a six-power naval patrol of Spanish ports.

Animal brains have indicated intelligence is probably generally distributed, and that one part of the brain can sometimes take over the job of another part, but this has not been heretofore proved for humans.

He reported on 247 humans with brains partially destroyed by disease. The damage, he said, was widespread, one of several areas being affected, with no uniformity in where the disease struck.

The brain injuries were due to syphilis or to atheromatosis, a type of hardening of the arteries. The resulting diseases included paresis, sclerosis and various effects of syphilis.

In all cases, Dr. Hildreth said, these persons showed lowered intelligence tests on the Stanford-Binet scale.

Whichever part of the brain was affected made no apparent difference in the first week of the term; Each brain was operating like a unit on intelligence tests.

Man Dangles On Side of 3,000-Foot Mountain

GLENCOE, Argyllshire, Scotland, Dec. 28 (AP)—Hope was virtually abandoned today for the life of a young Christian, dangle head downward from a rope near the peak of a 3,000-foot Scottish mountain.

Dawn disclosed the 25-year-old mountain climber still suspended by his feet far down the side of a cliff after an all-night race by rescuers to reach him.

Searchers discovered he had not shifted his position during the night and they feared he was dead.

The injured were: D. D. Dallas, Clayton, N. M., head injuries; his father, G. J. Dallas, Sr., Clayton, broken nose and possible internal injuries; G. J. Dallas, Jr., Borger oil field worker, cuts and bruises.

Marvin Reed, driver of the bus, attributed the accident to a third vehicle, parked on the pavement. Investigating officers found the bus driver swerved into a ditch on his side of the road but said the collision could not be avoided.

KIWANIS MEETING CHANGED Because New Year's day falls on the regular meeting day, the Pampa Kiwanis club will meet this week on Wednesday noon at the Schnelder hotel. President Bill Jarratt announced. Installation of officers for 1937 will be conducted at a Ladies' night banquet and dance, Jan. 7, Chris Martin is the incoming president.

DRUG ADDICTS WILL BE EXECUTED IN PEIPING

PEIPING, Dec. 28 (AP)—About 100,000 drug addicts, ordered by the government to "be cured or die," will be liable for execution after New Year's, Mayor Teh-Chun estimated today. Police officials awaited orders for the round-up of addicts which is scheduled to start shortly after the Dec. 31 deadline set by the government several years ago.

Mayor Chin expressed belief however, the executions would be limited to a few hundred in the early stages of the campaign of death for confirmed narcotic users.

For persons ill at ease in public because they don't know what to do with their hands, 1936 provided a remedy. It was called "handies," and everybody—well, almost everybody—played it.

When Louis E. Crawford came home one evening to his cabin at Pearl River, La., his wife showed him a 2-day-old boy. A big black dog had trotted out of the brush carrying the baby in its mouth, she said, and dropped him at her feet. Later she admitted the baby was her own, born outdoors and hidden two days in the woodshed. They called his name Moses.

Albert W. Wickey, retired St. Louis expressman who had spent his life dispatching things to places he never saw, got quite a vicious kick out of it when friends sent him his hat clear around the world.

Walter Johnson, old-time baseball pitcher, tested the plausibility of the legend that George Washington threw a silver dollar across the Rappahannock river. On his third try Johnson equalled Washington.

There was quite a stir in Racine, Wis., when people saw in the phone book the name BOWMAN, OOFTY GOOFTY. Mr. Bowman told reporters that really was his name, that he liked it and intended to keep it.

When Dr. Franz Sarga eloped with Magda Marko in Budapest, some folks said he married her for her beauty. Insulted, Dr. Sarga eloped with nine sabre duels, fought three, winged one opponent with a pistol.

And, so much for some of 1936's goofiest news stories . . . Possibly you can do a better job of thinking of still goofier ones.

SWEET HOLIDAY MULLIN, Dec. 28 (AP)—The bees had a sweet holiday feast near Mullin today. The accident John Carlisle, ranchman, had while bringing 150 gallons of syrup here by truck attracted swarms of bees from miles around. His heavily-laden truck skidded in gravel and overturned, drenching him and an 18-year-old boy in the truck with the contents of some 50 of the gallon syrup containers.

WAR VETERAN IS BEHEADED

FRESNO, Calif., Dec. 28 (AP)—Officers today held as a material witness a woman they said told conflicting stories about the decapitation of Emory Parr, 58-year-old pensioned war veteran.

An unidentified man also was sought. Under-Sheriff C. A. Tarr said, on the woman's story of a Christmas drinking party at the home of Dr. P. S. Lindsey, dentist, where Parr was acting as caretaker. Fears that Lindsey, his wife and Bernard "Jack" Smith, regular caretaker of the couple's home, were also killed, were dispelled when they were located at Los Angeles.

Tarr said the woman, Thelma Switzer, highway lunch counter operator, said she was stunned by a blow at the Christmas party and heard a man threaten Parr.

The veteran's decapitated body was discovered on a railroad right-of-way two miles from the Lindsey home.

Officers said a note in his pocket, reading "Carman Switzer responsible for this," convinced them he was killed and then thrown on the track in an attempt to make it appear he committed suicide. They interpreted the note as part of the plot.

The woman, who police said was also known as Carmel, or Carman Switzer, was taken into custody after being treated at the county hospital yesterday for injuries.

Officers said part of one of her ears had been cut away and a tooth knocked out. The tooth was found in the blood-smeared home.

LAWSUIT FILED A lawsuit for $482.50, allegedly due on a promissory note, was filed in district court here today by J. S. Huckabee against L. V. Graham.
