... services Thursday

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sears of 16 Hamilton.

Young Sears was found dead about 11:45 a.m. Tuesday by Jon Pitts, another Pampa youth, who was his roommate.

Filson and Johnston said they are awaiting a report on blood test and other chemical tests following an autopsy which resulted in "inconclusive" evidence regarding cause of death.

He said, "We are looking into further and it will take about two or three days to get a full report back from the chemists."

Johnston said investigation sought out this story.

Sears and Pitts returned to West Texas State after attending a fraternity business meeting in Amarillo Monday night.

They had planned to sleep on Tuesday morning, going to afternoon classes only. Pitts said the sheriff had a telephone call for Sears about noon.

Camel Collision Basis for Suit In California

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—A $30,000 damage suit was on file today against the San Diego Zoo in which a Stamford, Conn., woman claims she was bumped into by a camel.

Mrs. Gerald F. O'Hagan claimed in the action brought Monday that the zoo was negligent in maintaining a section called the Children's Zoo. She said that while on vacation here March 10, 1963, the camel and other animals "violently collided with her."

Race Disputes Hit North and South Schools

By United Press International School integration disputes look the racial spotlight in both the North and South today, sparking boycotts by both sides in the controversies.

White students in Macon County, Ala., continued the walk-out touched off by court-ordered desegregation of their schools and forced closure of all white high schools in the rural county.

Negroes protesting de facto segregation today claimed boycotts in Cambridge, Md., and Cincinnati were successful in dramatizing discrimination and school authorities in Boston planned meetings with Negro leaders to head off a threatened walk-out there.

In Williamston, N. C., about 45 per cent of the community's Negro students stayed away from school Tuesday to back up demands for elimination of all racial barriers in schools.

In Cincinnati absenteeism was about 25 per cent above normal and an NAACP spokesman termed the protest a "tremendous victory."

About 400 of Cambridge's Negro school children stayed home.

Other racial developments: Greensboro, N. C.: Chairman Floyd B. McKissick of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) told a student group Tuesday that street demonstrations would likely continue even if a national civil rights law is passed.

Cyprus, Cuba High On Problem List

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson and British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home met today for a far-ranging discussion of critical world problems, including Cyprus, Cuba, Berlin, and Southeast Asia.

The British prime minister, accompanied by Lady Douglas-Home, British Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler, and other top aides, arrived at the White House by helicopter from Andrews Air Force Base where their Royal Air Force jet liner put down after a flight from Ottawa.

Johnson and Douglas-Home faced the task of hashing over in two days the issues that divide them, such as Cuban trade and credit to the Soviet Union, as well as the problems on which they are working together to damp down Communist-inspired threats.

Douglas-Home arrived after talks with Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson. While in Canada, he indicated Berlin and Germany might be the principal issues during his Washington discussions.

American officials said the Berlin and German problems undoubtedly would be discussed but that the issues of Cyprus, Cuban trade and the Communist peril in Southeast Asia appeared more urgent at the moment. They expected more time would be spent on them by the two free world leaders.

Their talks today and Thursday come at what American officials admit is a critical point for the Western Alliance. It is plagued by France's new neutralist drive in Asia, differences among NATO members on military strategy, and indecision as to how to handle new Communist-inspired troubles from East Africa to Southeast Asia.

The conferences are the first real business sessions between the two since Johnson became President. They met briefly when Douglas-Home was here for the funeral of the late President John F. Kennedy.

The problems of the Anglo-American leaders are complicated by the fact that while dealing with international issues, each faces a national election this year and must keep in mind the domestic political effect of moves made abroad.

The list of critical issues for British and American discussion is long and Johnson and Douglas-Home may fail to get through all of them in two formal business sessions they have scheduled.

However, British Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, with other officials from both sides, planned additional talks to fill in any gaps left at the top level.

Associate of Estes Favored In Reversal

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Court of Criminal Appeals today reversed the conviction of Robert Earl Clements, who was sentenced to two years in prison for deals made by the company that furnished fertilizer tanks to Billie Sol Estes.

Clements, former owner and manager of Superior Manufacturing Co. of Amarillo, was convicted by an Amarillo jury of the theft of a $37,690 check.

The criminal appeals court, however, said Clements' indictment failed to allege from whom the check was stolen and ordered a new trial.

During the 1930's, Clements was a co-founder of the Townsend pension plan for the aged. Harold Orr, Ruel G. Alexander and Coleman D. McSpadden, all business associates of Estes, testified against Clements at his Potter County trial.

They said Clements helped prepare a fictitious $45,039 mortgage which was sold for $37,690 to Southwestern Investment Co. to raise cash so Orr and Alexander could buy Superior from Clements.

Orr and McSpadden were sentenced to 10 years in prison on federal swindling charges and Alexander was given a six-year term. All are scheduled to go to prison March 1.

Estes was convicted on federal and state charges arising from his mortgage deals on fertilizer tanks made by Superior. His prison sentences total 23 years, but he is free pending appeal.

TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN — This statue, by Avarad Fairbanks, stands at the entrance to the New Salem, Ill., State Park. Lincoln lived for six years in the town and met Ann Rutledge, who later became his wife. Americans throughout the nation today are paying tribute to the "rail-splitter" president.

'Human Relations' Tops Clinic Talk

By GLENN McCASLAND Pampa High School students were told today that development of good human relations plus three other factors are important towards success in a given field.

Dr. DeWitt Reddick, who keynoteed the sixth annual Career Day Clinic at Pampa High School, told the students that "tensions and worry of the 20th Century" makes the human factor important in professional work.

"We have too many people fearful of losing their jobs to automation and machinery to think about what human relations mean in professional work," he said.

He said that the ability to communicate in all fields was needed to help round out a profession.

And he pointed out that new fields of work in research are expanding daily, not only in science and medicine, but all fields.

"This doesn't stop with just the researcher who discovers things any more, because seldom does any person who discovers a new product put onto the market," Reddick said.

"This means there are new fields for people to place the new discoveries of our time into use by the public and it is important that anyone remember this as they train for a way of life."

Reddick's talk opened the giant career clinic which saw 85 consultants assist students in two workshops throughout the morning.

Evaluation of the workshops will be held during the afternoon classes at the high school in homeroom periods.

Following his talk, Reddick was presented with an award from Quill and Scroll for outstanding service in the field of journalism.

Reddick said later he was surprised at the award and very "pleased to accept it."

The University of Texas school of journalism director hurried into his workshop where (See CLINIC, Page 3)

Russians Want Defector Back: Accuse Swiss

Immediate Return of Soviet Security Official Demanded

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union today demanded the immediate return of Soviet defector Yuri I. Nosenko and accused Switzerland of permitting "foreign agents" to engineer his disappearance.

Nosenko, who was a state security officer on the Soviet delegation to the 17-nation disarmament conference, disappeared last Tuesday. The United States said he had defected and had asked for political asylum.

Soviet Ambassador Semyon K. Tsarapkin told a news conference Moscow expects Switzerland to use its sovereign rights in asking for Nosenko's return to his work, wife and family.

Tsarapkin said Nosenko is "really in the hands of the United States authorities."

"This can only mean that Swiss authorities not only do not provide delegates to international conferences with sufficient protection, security and guarantees, but also allow the provocative activity on their soil of foreign agents," he said.

Western officials said information possessed by Nosenko could be very valuable to the West in devising strategy for the disarmament conference. The 36-year-old defector was an agent for the KGB, the all-purpose Russian intelligence and security agency.

The United States said Nosenko had asked for political asylum, but it did not disclose his whereabouts. Informed sources said Nosenko used his possession of secret information as a bargaining point in seeking refuge.

What effect Nosenko's defection would have on the future course of the conference here was uncertain. Disclosure of his flight surprised most delegations, and first reaction of the Russians was one of silence.

The weatherman said there will be northerly winds 25 to 35 miles an hour tonight, but diminishing by morning.

The high in Pampa late this forenoon was 40 degrees and 39 at noon. The mercury then headed into a downward flight, and was scheduled to move into the middle 30s by mid-afternoon. Tonight's low was expected to be around 30, one or two degrees below the freezing mark. Tomorrow's high is expected to be in the same mid-30 range.

The latest forecast news was received with a bit of dismay by city officials and street department workers who were just beginning to see daylight in their task of getting rid of last week's 17-inch snowfall.

R. B. Cooke, public works director, said that city crews worked through the night and were continuing today trying to spread out the old snow so that it would melt faster.

The spreading of the snow has resulted in more slush on the streets and made things a bit more difficult for pedestrian traffic.

"It's the only way we know to (See SNOW, Page 3)

Value Days Scheduled By Merchants

All retail stores in Pampa today were invited and urged to participate in George Washington Value Day scheduled here for Saturday, Feb. 22, according to Duggan Smith, chairman of the Merchants Activities Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

There is no cost for participation, other than advertising done individually. Special posters are being prepared by the committee and will be available to all participating firms by calling the Chamber of Commerce office, MO 4-3241.

Smith explained the posters which will be provided for the promotion will contain space for five one-dollar bills. The posters containing the bills will be on display in participating stores. The names of individuals picked at random from Pampa's trade area will be listed under each dollar bill and may be redeemed by identity. (See MERCHANTS, Page 3)

Pope Leads Service In Opening of Lent

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — six "Roman Stations" of Lent Pope Paul VI led the world's Roman Catholics to observe before 10 million Roman Catholics today in Ash Wednesday services marking the opening of Lent, a 40-day period of fasting and penance before Easter.

With the traditional words, "Remember man that thou art dust and to dust thou shalt return," the Pope planned to judge the forehead of his 1,000-odd followers with the Sistine chapel in an early morning ceremony. The ashes are from palms burned last year on Palm Sunday and blessed by Pope John XXIII.

A special audience was scheduled for the rectors of Roman Catholic churches and Lenten preachers before the usual 10-day general audience.

A solemn procession was planned during the afternoon on the Avenue of the Kings to the church of Santa Sabina. The Pope was to lead the line of friars chanting the Litany. His arrest, crucifixion and resurrection.

Travel Deductions Stiffer

By CHARLES W. SCHOENEMAN
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
(Seventh of 10 Articles)
You've undoubtedly read or heard about the controversy over the new travel and entertainment rules applicable to 1963 taxes. They apply to independent businessmen, employees who are reimbursed for their business travel and entertainment, and so-called "outside salesmen."

"Let's see, have I everything? Itinerary, tickets, samples, money, charge cards. Oh yes, Miss Jones, almost forgot my diary!"

The new rules are in addition to the requirements of the old law which provided that all business deductions for travel, entertainment and gifts must be "ordinary and necessary."
While the regulations were technically in effect as of Jan. 1, 1963, the Internal Revenue Service announced that taxpayers who made a good-faith effort to comply with the new rules for the period before July 31, 1963, would have all reasonable doubts resolved in their favor.
The 1963 "T and E" rules are in two parts: First, the stricter rules as to what is deductible; and second, the more detailed rules as to how you keep records.
Focusing on the deduction-for-entertainment rules, a taxpayer must be able to show the IRS that the amount of the expense was either:
- "Directly related" to the active conduct of his business.
- "Associated with" the ac-

...tive conduct of his business and kept regularly is satisfactory for this purpose.
An employee who does not claim a deduction in excess of the amount of his reimbursement after transcribing his diary to the expense account form, generally need not keep his records to show the IRS.
However, in the case where the employee is related to his employer (by either family ties, corporate stock ownership or other similar relationship) the employee should keep his records to show an IRS agent if he should ask to see them.

Woman Given 30 Year Term

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (UPI)—A woman who confessed acting as a recruiting agent for a white slave ring was sentenced Monday to 30 years in prison, fined $1,280 and indemnity of $1,200 each to 18 young women who were held as "working prisoners" in houses of prostitution.
The sentence decreed by the state Supreme Court named Josefina Gutierrez Garcia, who has been in prison on conviction of prostitution and related offenses, and substituted a previous seven-year sentence she has been serving.
The woman last week testified in an investigation being conducted by Jalisco authorities in connection with the Guanajuato "white slave concentration camp" allegedly operated by the sisters Delfina and Maria de Jesus Gonzalez Valenzuela.
She testified that she had worked for the two sisters, on trial for murder of eight women and five newborn children.
The charges under which she was sentenced by the high state court are illegal deprivation of freedom, rape, corruption of minors, and prostitution.

$3 Million Spent To Calm Vibrations

HOUSTON (UPI)—Engineers spent more than $3 million to calm down the "pogo-stick" vibrations in America's Titan-2 rocket — but it could mean an extra margin of safety for astronauts on future rides into space.
It started off as an emergency project to eliminate, or at least reduce, vibrations in the Titan-2 that could prove annoying and possibly dangerous to the two-man space teams it will lift into orbit.
The program not only toned the Titan-2 down to safe levels, but also paid off in knowledge that can — and should — be applied to the bigger and better space boosters of the future.
Jerome B. Hammack, chief of launch vehicle launch systems integration for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), said.
"Others Can Benefit
"We shouldn't just let this work stop now," Hammack said. "Other vehicle systems can benefit from it, so let's don't be selfish about using it."
He suggested that giant super-boosters, such as the 1 1/2 million pound thrust Saturn-1, the Saturn-5 moonrocket and the Air Force's mighty Titan-3, might find some useful chap-

Highway Pacts Set for Bids

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas Highway Department will let a total of $24.4 million in highway construction contracts this month, including a vital bridge in the plan to provide a four-lane divided highway between Houston and Lufkin on U.S. 59.
The four-span continuous deck plate bridge will span the Trinity River in Polk County and be completed by the end of the year.
The Highway Department said it will ease the traffic bur-

Farm Chemicals Meet Scheduled

LUBBOCK (SpI) — Twenty-two reports stressing the necessity of agricultural chemical use will be presented during the 11th annual Agricultural Chemicals Conference Thursday and Friday in the Texas Tech Student Union Building.
Them for the conference, which opens at 9 a.m. Thursday, is "the place of chemicals in West Texas agriculture."
Officials say that the conference is designed primarily for agricultural chemical dealers, distributors, processors and manufacturers but is open to farmers and other interested persons.
Following a Thursday morning welcome by Dr. R. C. Goodwin, Texas Tech president, Dr. E. D. Burgess will deliver the keynote address entitled "The Necessity for Use of Agricultural Chemicals." Dr. Burgess is director of the Agriculture Research Service, Plant Pest Control Division, of the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Hyattsville, Md.

'Black Muslim' Held in Jail Following Fight

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Three Negroes who claim to be leaders of the secret Black Muslim group were in jail today charged with destroying property during a brawl. The FBI was looking into their activities.
Police said William Edward (X) Adams, who said he was the Dallas leader of the Muslims, complained the three to his clothes and hurried through the windshield of his car.
The dispute was apparent over territorial rights and literature of the organization, which is dedicated to black supremacy.
The three men jailed were David Miles, alias David Hassan; John Scott, alias John Mohammed and Maurice Sha who gave only that name.

Toastmasters Hear Dentist

A serious message, intermingled with side-splitting laughter, was tossed at some 300 members and guests of the Top O' Texas Knife and Fork Club Tuesday night.

Dr. Charles W. Jarvis, a San Marcos dentist - humorist, literally left his listeners "rolling in the floor" with laughter, but he got his message across at the Robert E. Lee Junior High School.

Speaking on "A Prescription for the Happy Life," Jarvis told the group that too many people "are enjoying their poor health today, losing the love of their wife or husband and losing the respect of their children."

Weaving a pattern of humor as he talked, Jarvis lashed out at "the nine men who told the world that our children can not pray in a school like this."

Jarvis was introduced by Dr. S. B. Sybert, a former schoolmate of the San Marcos dentist.

Prior to the speech the club members were honored with a dinner and cast ballots for three new board of director members out of a field of six. Announcement of the election winners will be made later.

County Commission Opening Truck Bids

Gray County Commissioners were meeting today in the courthouse to open bids for purchase of new trucks and discuss a number of other county problems.

The meeting began at 11 a.m. according to Judge Bill Craig, and would continue until late in the day.

Craig said that most of the business before the commissioners would be "routine" but solution to the McLean Hospital bond problem was expected to come before the group something during the session, according to observers.

McLean has been trying to find funds to take care of a $150,000 bond election which passed last year, but fell short of the needed money to construct a 21-bed hospital there.

County Commissioners have been studying a number of plans which might compromise the problem. A 21-bed hospital would cost some $195,000 to construct.

Two Teen-Agers Nabbed in Theft

Two Pampa teen-agers were arrested Tuesday about 9 p.m. near the Gibson Discount Center when store officials notified police of suspected shoplifting.

Police Chief Jim Conner said the youths were brought to police headquarters where, one of the boys admitted taking a book from the store.

The second youth, age 14, was not involved in the theft, but as accompanying the first boy, Conner said.

Parents of the two youths were notified and the boys released into their custody and juvenile officers were investigating today.

Conner said one other theft was reported to officers today. Mrs. Emma Wheelers of 1428 Hamilton reported the theft of a tire and wheel from her automobile during the night.

The tire and wheel had a value of $34.89, Conner said.

attempt, Pitts became frightened that the youth might be dead. He called authorities.

Pitts said he awoke once, about 10 a.m., and noticed Sears asleep in the bed next to his. He did not notice anything unusual about the boy, he told Johnston.

Sears was a member of the West Texas State student senate, as is Pitts.

Sears was born Dec. 20, 1944, in Newton, Kan., and moved to Pampa later with his parents.

He was a member of First Methodist Church and was an active member of the Pampa Key Club, serving as treasurer, senior director, and Lt. Governor of the Division 6, Texas and Oklahoma Key Club area last year.

He was a member of the Top O' Texas Order of the DeMolay and had been honored with the Boy Scout God and Country award, which is Scouting's highest honor.

Young Sears was a past member of the Chespan Troop 1010 and was currently serving in the West Texas student government.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sears; one sister, Carole; an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Max Scheffler of Newton, Kan., and an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sears and Sue James of Hereford.

Funeral services will be 3 p.m. Thursday at the First Methodist Church with burial in Fairview Cemetery under direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home, Rev. Jack Riley, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church, will officiate.

Pallbearers will be Raymond Nance, Wayne Henson, John Holloway, Jon Pitts, Keith Swanson, Bill Mangham, Tommy Veale and Donnie Rexroad.

Members of the Pampa Key Club will serve as honorary pallbearers.

Bryan Swain, Moore County agent, will judge all classes of the show, which begins at 10 a.m. in the Lane and Company building on Main St. Judging will be at 2 p.m.

Auctioneer for the sale, set for 7 p.m., will be Maurice Britten of Groom.

Robert Sims, Carson County agent, stated that entries have been received from FFA and 4-H members from Panhandle, White Deer, Groom and Conway.

Obituaries

Melodie Ann Hutto
McLEAN (Spl) - Graveside rites for Melodie Ann Hutto, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutto, Amarillo, were to be conducted at 10 a.m. today in Alanreed Cemetery. Rev. Steve Greenwood officiated and burial was under direction of Lamb Funeral Home, McLean.

The infant died at birth Monday in Groom Hospital.

Other survivors include two sisters, Janice Reneau and Donna June; two brothers, Ronnie Frank and Glenn Doyle and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Foshee, Alanreed.

John Mack Patton

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Chapel for John Mack Patton who died at his home yesterday. Rev. Glyn B. Adair, Pastor of First Christian Church, will officiate and burial will be in Fairview Cemetery beside his wife who died in 1953.

Pallbearers will be Jay Meador, Don Meador, Paul Jones, Doc Kitchens, Lewis Meers and Ed Anderson.

Play Opens at PHS Tomorrow

Premiering at 8 p.m. Saturday, Pampa High School dramatists will present "A Roomful of Roses", a two-act comedy, in the high school auditorium.

The drama will be presented for a second showing Monday night under direction of Mrs. Don Myers, high school drama teacher.

Dana Taylor plays the lead in the production, which revolves around Bridget MacGowan, a teen-age victim of her father's desire to repay her mother for leaving him, when the girl was a small child.

Ann Qualls plays the mother, Nancy Fallon, who showers Bridget with love, willingly aided by Pat Spears as Jay Fallon.

Other cast members include Kenneth Baxter as Larry Fallon, Rita Scholl as Grace Hewitt, Carole Sears as Jane Hewitt, Sam Bryan as Dick Hewitt and Jean Heaton as William, the Fallon maid.

Billy Hayes portrays Bridget's father, Carl MacGowan.

Tickets are still on sale for both dates and may be obtained at the door. Admission is $1 for adults and 75 cents for students.

School Board Sets Regular Meet

Tax Collector Receives Praise

A letter commending Gray County Tax Assessor - Collector Jack Back was received this week from the Texas Highway Department's motor vehicle division.

And Back took the opportunity to make good use of the pat on the back to remind auto owners that new Texas license plates were on sale at his office.

The letter dealt with the low percentage of rejected applications for certificate of title from this country between July 1 and Dec. 31, 1963.

The state average is only 2.9 per cent, and Gray County's is 1.2 per cent, a very low mark.

The letter was from R. W. Townsley, director of the motor vehicle division.

Back urged motorists to obtain new license plates as soon as possible in order to avoid the March and early April rush.

Deadline is April 1 for the new plates.

Walter Rogers Reports:

Good Weather Word For Area Top Wish

Washington newspapers devoted long articles (and a page one photograph) to the blizzard that swept the Panhandle last week. The stories revived the well-known libel that only a barbed-wire fence separates the Panhandle from the North Pole. I wish the Eastern papers would say a good word for our weather when it's ideal — as it is most of the time. But the fact that the Panhandle receives such widespread attention as it did last week points up one of our regional advantages: Although it's a part of Texas, the Panhandle is regarded by the rest of the country as a place so special that it has its own separate identity. Few other regional areas can make that claim.

Our 18th Congressional District is comprised of 28 counties totaling 27,500 square miles, an area large enough to contain 22 Rhode Islands with room to spare. The 18th District is an area larger than any of ten of the Union's 50 States (Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Vermont, and West Virginia). Four of the 28 counties are each larger than the State of Rhode Island (the counties of Dallam, Deaf Smith, Hartley, and Oldham). Into the 18th Congressional District could be placed at one time the entire States of Delaware, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Rhode Island, and Connecticut — States represented in the House by a total of 36 Congressmen — with room left over for half of Hawaii. The District is half as large as Georgia, one-sixth the size of California, nearly as large as the State of Indiana.

The diversity of the Panhandle's rich agricultural productivity points up the variety of interests of the 18th District's people. In abundance we produce wheat, grain sorghums, vegetables, cotton, sugar beets, cattle and other livestock. The problems facing the producers of each are not identical. Approaches to the matter of government controls on agricultural production vary widely, even among producers of the same crop: in the wheat referendum last spring percentages of "yes" votes ranged from 20.5 in one county at the north end of the District (Sherman) to 80.2 in one county to the south (Cottle). The challenges to our irrigation farmers are not the same as those faced by farmers dependent on rainfall. While population is increasing in the larger cities and towns of the District, population is declining in rural areas and some smaller towns. Proposed solutions to the resultant economic problems are varied, as are the views on ways in which the Federal government should or should not be of assistance. The Canadian River Project will help meet the municipal-industrial water needs of the District's three largest cities — Amarillo, Pampa, and Borger — but smaller cities, particularly those in the Eastern Panhandle, face water problems for which solutions are still being sought. The interests of big city wholesalers and small town retailers are not necessarily the same in legislation affecting commerce. Railroad men and truckers often hold opposing views, as do men affiliated with labor organizations and men who are not.

On any given legislative issue coming before the Congress, it is possible to find within the 18th Congressional District of Texas sincere and vociferous advocacy on all sides.

The late, great Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Honorable Sam Rayburn, told me many times that he knew of no District in the United States with such wide, varied, and divergent interests, and that very few pieces of legislation came before Congress that did not have some impact directly or indirectly on our area. I think this points up the fact that the Panhandle District could aptly be called "Little America" — a section in which the people are fiercely independent, desirous of being self-sufficient, but fully realizing because of the problems of their own neighbors the many different trials and tribulations that beset mankind in all walks of life. Whether the matter before the Congress is a bill concerning the interests of the trucking industry along the Atlantic Seaboard, the building of a power dam in the far reaches of the Northwest, irrigation in the Imperial Valley of California, coal research and development in Pennsylvania, the citrus crop in Florida, the supply of gas in New York City, the texture of a steak in a Canadian restaurant, the supply of carbon black in England, the chicken problem in the Low Countries, the import question on beef, recreational facilities at a water hole, the moon program, outer space activities, and a thousand others, the Panhandle of Texas has a vital interest. After these there are many local problems that daily affect the lives of our people — information needed for a school debate, assistance in getting word to a serviceman overseas of an emergency in his family, helping to get someone on the right track in applying for a Federal license, assisting in passports, small business loans, government contracts, housing, on and on, ad infinitum. In other words, the Panhandle has it all.

Recent visitors included Sister M. Thomasin Carter of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Shackelford and Don, from Tulsa; Clark de Schweinitz of Canyon; John Tyler of Amarillo; A. R. Labor Leaders Plan Candidate Selection

By WILLIAM HAMILTON
Money and group support were drawn on the minds of political candidates Tuesday now that the battle lines are drawn for the May 2 party primaries. A center of activity through Thursday will be the meeting in Arlington, Tex. of labor leaders to decide which candidates will get their backing.

Endorsements, if any, will come Thursday in the closing hours of the statewide gathering of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE). The race for governor was the biggest question mark.

Once Had Backings
Don Yarborough, an avid liberal, got the COPE backing in 1962 but faces what many labor leaders consider unbeatable opposition in the Democratic primary in Gov. John Connally. Hank Brown, president of the state AFL-CIO, said he was opposed to Yarborough's candidacy — viewing the link between the late President Kennedy and Connally, who was wounded by the assassin.

A copyright story in Monday's Washington Post said labor will NOT endorse Yarborough or Connally. The newspaper said "President Johnson's long political arm has reached into Texas" and blocked the endorsement.

Johnson applied pressure to union leaders Walter Reuther, David McDonald and Al Hayes, the Post said, who in turn sought to persuade Texas locals not to endorse.

While Don Yarborough can only hope for formal labor support, there is another man assured of all the backing the union members can give. He is U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., who faces party primary opposition from two political newcomers and then probably a stiff fight against a Republican in November.

Others Try
Two other Democrats who are trying hard to get the backing of COPE are Albert Fuentes Jr. of San Antonio, running against Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, and Dan Sullivan, a candidate for congressman-at-large.

Many state labor leaders are already committed in the large race to former State Sen. Bob Baker of Houston, however. Labor leaders don't support the incumbent, U. S. Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas.

Trial Rescheduled For McClelland

HOUSTON (UPI)—Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe said Tuesday the scheduled trial of former probate Judge Clem McClelland on charges of accepting a bribe will be March 23 instead of March 16.

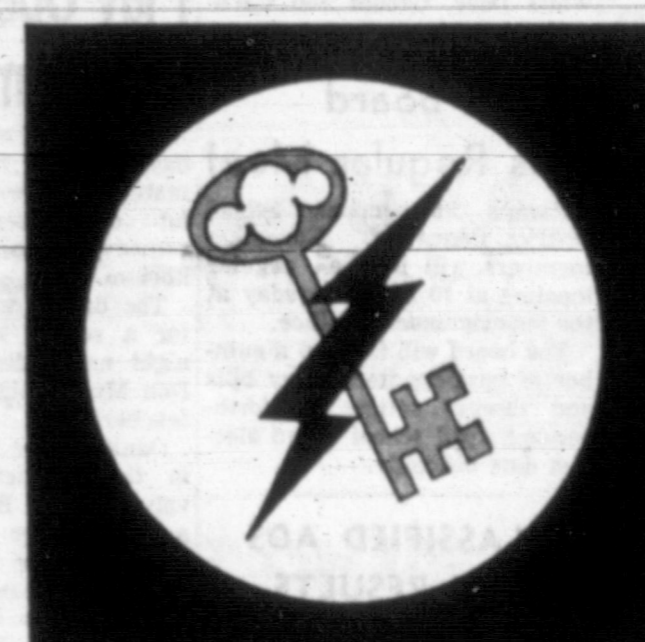

The week's postponement ordered by Dist. Judge John C. Patterson will let defense lawyer J. Edwin Smith complete a federal court case that might have conflicted.

McClelland is accused of taking a bribe to make certain appointments to probate matters.

ELECTRICITY POWERS PROGRESS

This is National Electrical Week, marking the 117th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Alva Edison. It was Edison's invention of the first practical incandescent lamp that gave birth to an industry that now employs more than three million men and women, or 1 out of every 20 American workers. Almost every industry owes its progress to the power produced by electricity for, truly, electricity powers progress.

Southwesterners Plan Valentine Sweetheart Dinner

Plans for the Sweetheart dinner scheduled for Saturday were completed during a meeting Monday of the Southwesterners. Mrs. Eldon Maxwell, 600 Lowry, was hostess.

Due to postponement of a meeting last week, announcement was made that the club will forego the next scheduled meeting and meet again the first and third Mondays in March.

Mrs. Ferrel Baird was winner of the door prize.

Mrs. Maxwell showed the group how to make a net ball of white net and red velvet hearts. This could be filled with sachet and hung in closets. Ideas for changing the colors to correspond with the season were given for this unusual gift suggestion.

Mrs. Evert A. Revard, 1100 Seneca Lane, will be hostess for the next meeting which is scheduled for March 2 at 7:30 p.m.

Dear Abby... Misery Loves Company, And She Can Find Plenty

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 21 and, after three years of marriage, am proudly awaiting the birth of my first child in June. My mother is expecting around the same time. The problem is Mom. She is 40, unmarried and mad at the world. In her case there's no chance of marriage. She gets angry with me when I show any signs of happiness over the baby. I feel guilty even mentioning it because she's so miserable about her condition. I'm so happy about mine. Mom has lived with us since our marriage. She's been self-supporting but will have to quit work soon. My friends and relatives have given me baby showers, but they treat Mom like an outcast. She feels so bitter and left out. I told her she ought to go to a Home For Unwed Mothers, but she says, at her age, she'd feel foolish with all those young girls. What should Mom do?

WORRIED DAUGHTER DEAR WORRIED: She should go to a Home For Unwed Mothers. If misery loves company, she'll have plenty of company her own age—and even older. I will send her a list of Homes in her area immediately on request. She may use her correct name without fear or embarrassment. All inquiries are strictly confidential. Good luck!

DEAR ABBY: Please tell that mailman's wife, who is afraid she'll lose her husband to one of those awful women who comes to the door in her bathrobe, something for me. Yes, I do have a passionate love for my mailman. He brought my children home when they followed the garbage truck down the street and got lost. He pulled a little boy out from the path of an oncoming car right in front of my house one day. He caught our runaway dog and held him until the boys got there with the leash. He's paid my postage due mail out of his own pocket when I had no change. (I repaid him.) He has walked through sprinklers to get to my mailbox. Sure I love him. Who wouldn't? But a great affair we would never have. He has four children and I have seven. Besides, he doesn't have time for it, and neither do I.

Mrs. P.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I disagree on something we hope you will settle for us. When Christmas cards come trailing in a day or two AFTER Christmas (and some of them are "airmail"), don't you think it proves that the senders really didn't intend to send you one, but after getting one from you they felt cheap and tried to make up for it? I do. And I think those people should be dropped from our Christmas card list next year. My husband says that some people are just "behind" with their cards and it shouldn't matter when their cards get there, as long as they do. Well?

MR. AND MRS. DEAR MR. AND MRS.: I agree with your husband. Better late than to be ignored. And who counts?

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's new booklet, "How To Write Letters For All Occasions."

Biblical Staple Proves Good as Meat Side Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX Q—Please tell me what is bulgur? A friend says it's a Biblical food.

A—Bulgur is a dried whole wheat food similar to rice. Biblical housewives used bulgur in making bread and meat dishes. The whole kernels of wheat used in the ancient product were washed, cleaned, boiled in open pots, spread in the sun to dry and finally cracked with rocks.

Modern bulgur is made by a continuous operation. It is a highly versatile food with a toasty appearance and a nutty flavor. Can be served as a side dish with meat, poultry or fish; combined in casseroles, meatloaf or stuffing; used as a cereal and as an ingredient for rolls and pancakes.

Q—Please tell me why my cookie dough is too soft to roll or spread?

A—Several factors may cause your dough to be too soft:

1. Undermeasurement of flour or use of flour that has been stored when humidity was high.
2. Overmeasurement of shortening, butter, margarine or use of extremely soft or melted shortening.
3. Overmeasurement of liquid or use of extremely large eggs.
4. Dough mixed in a very warm room.

OWNER'S POLICY vs. MORTGAGE POLICY
Three out of four families who buy houses in the $11,000 to $15,000 price range jeopardize their investment because they do not protect their cash and ownership with commensurate title insurance.

These financial risks result from insufficient knowledge of the difference between an 'owner's policy' and a 'mortgage policy,' and lack of information about title insurance.

The main point is that the usual title insurance taken out by the purchaser of a home in the up-to-$15,000 bracket serves only to protect the bank or lending institution. It is often compulsory for the buyer to purchase this insurance, known as the 'mortgage policy,' since some mortgagees insist upon this particular safeguard as one of the loan conditions. The 'mortgage policy,' however never protects the home owner's equity. This is so even after the mortgage is fully paid.

A course remains open for the purchaser who wants to cover himself for the entire price of the home. He should, at the time of application for the required 'mortgage policy,' check with his attorney about simultaneously obtaining an 'owner's policy.' The 'owner's policy,' in contrast to the 'mortgage policy,' protects the home buyer as long as he owns the property. In many instances, it also protects an owner even after he sells, if he has a warranted title.

Owners of higher-priced homes usually take out both title policies. Thus, they purchase peace of mind on their substantial equity instead of trying to 'save' a few dollars, a false economy which may later invite trouble.

Title insurance took on greater significance after World War II. It is a requisite today by many banks and lending institutions for those applying for mortgage loans, and is for the lender's protection. A defective title, it was shown, may cost the owner not only the price of the home but considerably greater sums if the new owner 'inherits' previously undiscovered liens, back taxes, or defects of title that do not appear on the records.

The purchaser of the $11,000-$15,000 home often withholds taking the 'owner's policy,' which protects his equity continually, in order to save a few dollars. An element of risk enters, however, if flaws are subsequently found. The owner without title insurance would not be reimbursed to the extent of the defect. To compound his difficulties, the owner would be burdened with the cost of correcting the title defect and legal costs.

To illustrate the difference in an 'owner's policy' and the 'mortgage policy,' the following case was cited: Mr. Smith buys a home for $15,000. He places $2,000 down and takes a $13,000 mortgage loan. Pursuing the course of many home buyers, his only title insurance purchase is a 'mortgage policy' for $13,000, which the mortgagee demands and which protects only the lending institution. Each year Mr. Smith's equity increases as his mortgage decreases. Nevertheless, knowingly or not, Mr. Smith is not carrying any title insurance which protects Mr. Smith.

If a faulty or fraudulent title should be discovered, or if previously unknown liens against the property were to be established during the life of the mortgage, or after it was paid, Mr. Smith would have no protection.

HOUSEWIFE HOLDUP

DECATUR, Ga. (UPI)—A six-foot, 215-pound housewife who needed money to pay an overdue house note disguised herself with a dark cap, overcoat and black gloves and held up a finance company for $276 Monday, police said.

Authorities said Mrs. Kate Whitlock, 32, paid the note shortly after the robbery and was arrested as she arrived at her home in this Atlanta suburb.

Sugar 'Shuttles' About Roundball

By GLENN McCASLAND

Most basketball players know which unit they're on without having to check each day.

But with Pampa Harvester David (Sugar) Cain, it's a different story entirely.

The towering 6-5 sophomore decided long ago that he needs a "shuttle bus" to make the ride from the varsity bench to the B-team bench.

The "bus" is needed because he never knows which will be the case — a starting assignment on the Shocker B-team or play on the Harvesters.

Monday night Cain played with the varsity, the B-team got whipped soundly. This Friday night, Cain may find his bulk working the boards for the B-team against Tascosa.

"It doesn't bother me at all," the youth grins. "As long as I play."

David has a variety of nicknames ranging from "Sugar," which sports writers dubbed him to "Harv," a name bestowed by teammates.

The good-natured Cain displays nothing but a big grin when somebody calls down from the stands "move it, Harv" or "shake a leg out there, Sugar."

Cain went into the Amarillo Sandie game last Friday and boomed home two field goals when the Harvester squad was colder than ice, thus providing senior Kenny Hebert with enough point spread to nip things in the bud and bring home the bacon.

"Then I figured to get on the shuttle bus in practice and help Coach (Roy) Kieval," he declared. "I missed the 'bus' and stayed with the varsity."

Sugar likes his size and the height problem doesn't shake the youth up, but it poses a minor problem at home, according to his father, County Attorney Don Cain.

"What can I say when I look up at the boy," Cain ruefully declares. "Plus the fact that I've got to buy a new bed about every year."

Joking aside, the elder Cain has hopes that his son will continue to grow, become more agile and generally improve over the next 12 months.

"He likes basketball and that's just fine with me and Mrs. Cain," he says.

It's also just fine with Coach Terry Culley who laughs at the "shuttle bus" idea and keeps his fingers crossed, hoping that in Cain another great Harvester is about to come into bloom.

"He's got the size, willingness to learn and a fine nature about him," Culley declares. "This makes for a good basketball player."

DAVID CAIN

B-team Coach Roy Kieval is just as high on Cain's potential. He points to the youth's good grade record and interest in outside activities as well as his basketball.

"It takes all these things to make a well rounded athlete. David is starting out just right in high school with these various projects and outside work," Kieval commented. "Besides, he can be murder on the basketball court."

And so with all this hoping and declaring of potential, Cain goes to Boy Scouts, church and devotes his extra time to his hobby — reading law books and looking forward to following in father's footsteps.

"I've always wanted to be a lawyer," Cain said recently. "There isn't any profession where I feel that a person can do so much for people, other than medicine, as he can in the practice of law."

Young Cain said he feels too many people "earn fees instead of defend" accused persons in criminal law.

"There isn't such a thing as a criminal law practice," he firmly declares. "Nowadays, they just enter pleas and take their fees."

Culley and Company hope that Cain becomes a good "court" lawyer before too long — on the basketball court — and "defends" the team into a front-running squad in District 3-A.A.A.A.

And so does "Sugar" Cain, who spends his time in the afternoons waiting for his "shuttle bus" to somewhere.

White Deer Hits On Dunivan FG

By RICHARD ULRICH and SUSIE HUGHES

News Sports Correspondent

WHITE DEER — Jack Dunivan hit a 25-foot jump shot at the buzzer to give the White Deer Bucks a come-from-behind win over the Boys Ranch Roughriders last night, while the WD Does rolled over the Perryton Rangerettes, 77-56, to make it a double victory in White Deer's first action in two weeks.

Mike Reynolds came in for the second half and sparked the Bucks rally with 12 points and eight rebounds after WD had trailed by 15 points late in the second quarter.

Six-two Pete Flack dominated the boards in the first half to give the visitors the edge. The score went back and forth for most of the third quarter with Dan Simmons hitting for the hosts, but Allen Reeves moved BR into a lead they held until the final minute and it was 15-12, Roughriders at the quarter.

White Deer went stone cold in the second quarter while Reeves and Flack kept hitting and they moved the Riders into a 27-12 edge, notched to 27-15 at the half.

Roy Simmons' charges came out for the second half in a full-court press, with Simmons, Cal Turner and Billy Gann harassing the BR ballhandlers and Reynolds picking off the passes, hitting three straight field goals to cut the edge to four points.

The White Deer Does stayed one game behind behind Spearman in the district race as they took a foul-filled encounter. The Does shot a tremendous 65 percent from the floor, but the game saw 75 fouls called and Perryton made 35 points on free throws.

WD led all the way, 26-10, 31-24 and 55-42 at the quarter stops. Little Cindy Hubbard belted in 32 points, Betty Peters had 19 and Linda Hawpe 15. Susie Holt had 39 points for the Rangerettes, 29 of them on charities. The Does are now 7-1 in district to Spearman's 8-0.

Reeves rolled BR back to a 34-27 third-quarter margin. Reynolds hit three for four from the floor in the final frame to cut the edge again, and with 15 seconds left, Simmons made both ends of a one-and-one to tie the score at 43-43.

Gann deflected the ball and WD got it out of bounds with eight seconds left, Dunivan letting go with his set shot a split second before the buzzer for the win.

Simmons shared WD scoring honors with Reynolds with 12 points, Monte Hawpe had 10 rebounds and Gann nine. Reeves had 22 points and Flack 12 rebounds for BR. The Bucks are now 3-4 in district, hosting Darrhart Friday and playing make-up games at Shamrock and Spearman Monday and Tuesday.

Miami Cagers In Erratic Year

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor
MIAMI — "Maybe I was over-optimistic, but I still feel that this team can be as good or better than last year's team if they give 100 percent effort," said coach Lawrence Overcast today.

On the eve of the district 2-B tournament at Wheeler Overcast had to confess that the Warriors, who finished a disappointing third in round-robin play, were a long shot to come back and win the tournament and force the district into a playoff.

On the basis of returning veterans from last year's great team, and on their pre-district showing, Miami had been picked as a strong favorite to repeat as district champs.

"The only way I can describe our play this year is 'erratic,'" admitted the dark-haired cage mentor who, in his first year at the helm, came within two points of the state championship. Last year's Warrior team, steam-rolling everything in sight, lost to McAdoo in the regional finals, after which no one came closer than 16 points of them as McAdoo swept the state title.

With three starters and three lettermen returning from that team, outstanding height for a class B team, and a slewful of promising youngsters coming up, things looked good for the Warriors this year. Overcast, looking at the prospects factually, opined before the season started that if the Warriors lived up to their potential, they would, because of their better balance and greater depth, be even better than last year's squad.

The beginning of the season seemed to bear every word out. The Warriors calmly walked out and rang up a 14-3 record. Only Class A powerhouses Sanford-Fritch and McLean, which boasted two of the tallest teams in the Panhandle and speed demon Samnorwood, could stop the Warriors as they swept the Miami and Gruver Tournaments, disposing of such strong teams as Canadian, Spearman, Gruver, Allison, Groom, and Claude.

Then came district play and the Warriors suddenly became the Warriors in Overcast's words, "erratic." One night Miami would be old self, the scourge of the Panhandle, outbounding, outshooting, and outdefending their foes. The next they couldn't buy a bucket or block one, losing to teams they had previously triumphed in early-season play, finishing in a tie for third as they dropped two games to Briscoe and split with Wheeler and Allison.

"I guess we've been falling down in the clutch," sadly admitted Overcast. "But I still feel this is a great team, and they could prove it to themselves if they just get out in this tournament and play the way I know they can."

Plainview In District Tie

BORGER (Spl) — Firing away at the bucket to the tune of 60 per cent, Plainview's Bulldogs moved into a tie with Lubbock Monterey in District 3-A.A.A.A.

The tie problem came with a 77-58 victory over the Borger Bulldogs in the next-to-last district game for both teams.

Ronnie (Duck) Peret blasted out 34 points to pace the Plainview team which holds an 11-4 district mark, same as Monterey, and puts the Bulldogs a half-game ahead of Lubbock High, with a 10-4 mark.

The two Lubbock teams battle Friday night while Palo Duro meets Plainview. The final clash for Lubbock High comes Saturday night against Caprock.

Plainview held a close 14-12 first period lead, then spread it to 36-31 at the half before breaking the contest open in the final two quarters, 52-46, and the final count, 77-58.

Joe Robinson hit 26 points for Borger and Joe Shelton had 13 points.

Paul Aday followed the big Peret with 15 and Roger Grant had 11 for the visitors.

Plainview hit 30 of 50 field goal shots and the 6-8 Peret led the way by hitting 14 of 19 attempts and adding six free tosses for his 34 points.

The district picture should clear after Friday night. Should Plainview win from Palo Duro, the Bulldogs could be forced into a play-off with one of the Lubbock teams, depending on the outcome of their game Friday night.

Mustangs Land Most Prospective Athletes

By United Press International — Despite his complaints that rumors Southern Methodist faces recruiting violations penalties, SMU coach Hayden Fry walked off with opening day honors Tuesday in the 1964 recruiting chase.

Fry complained that rumors SMU is "either on probation or going to be" caused six prospective athletes to change their minds about enrolling at the Dallas school and "I don't know how many more it may cost us."

But despite the rumors or Fry's complaints, 11 schoolboys took advantage of the opening day of the recruiting season to sign pre-enrollment applications with SMU. It was the biggest haul for the day.

Texas Gets Choice Players Texas landed eight prepsters on opening day, including some choice players.

Tuesday was the first day schoolboy athletes could sign with the colleges of their choice without losing their remaining high school eligibility.

Top prize among the SMU recruits was 190-pound quarterback Mike Livingston of Dallas South Oak Cliff, Livingston's high school teammate, 195-pound end Ronnie Salter, also signed with the Mustangs.

Other SMU signers were end Tommy Briscoe of North Dallas, Mark Babina of Grand Prairie and Ronnie Denbow of Corsicana; backs Jim Hagle of Corsicana, Fred Clements of Carrollton and Ricky White of Dallas Woodrow Wilson; guards Dan Chilton of Grand Prairie and Jim Wood of Corsicana and tackle Al Cushman of Fort Worth Paschal.

University signed five players—a tackle and four full-backs. They were 6-foot-2, 195-pound tackle Coye Connor of Big Spring and fullbacks Mike Easton of Waco Connally, Joe Ward of Waco University, Bobby Smith of Kingsville and Larry Pullin of Clifton.

Quarterback P. D. Shabay and end Gordon Nees, both of Graham, and fullback Bat Alexander of Wichita Falls signed with Texas Christian.

At least one school boy star said he was going out of state to attend college. Don McCol, an all-district fullback at Class A Lefors High School, signed a letter of intent to enroll at Oklahoma State.

Rice signed 235-pound tackle Calvin Powitzky of Pasadena, quarterback Kenny Williams of Galena Park and 225-pound tackle Ernest Richardson of Betwick, La.

Allison Wins District 2-B Over Briscoe

ALLISON (Spl) — Briscoe broke for 14 points in the last three minutes of a loosely defended ball game, but were unable to overcome a 20 - point Allison lead as the Antelopes took an 81-75 victory and the district 2-B round - robin title.

The two teams finish the regular season, Allison winning the first half with a 9-1 record, having lost only to Miami, and Briscoe with 8-2, being beaten twice by Allison. Miami had won the girls honors the night before in a playoff with Wheeler.

A meeting for bracketing and seeding the teams for the district tournament will be held tonight in Wheeler. Tournament play will begin tomorrow at 5 p.m. at Wheeler, closing out Saturday night.

Lonnie Richardson, Allison's All - State candidate, again was the man of the hour as he scored 30 points and dominated the offensive boards.

The first half was Richardson vs. the entire Briscoe team as the 6-2 senior hit time and again on rebounds and follow-up shots, Briscoe matching him on the dribble in layups of 6-2½ sophomore Orville Atherton. The two teams were tied at 15-all at the quarter and Allison held a 33-32 halftime lead.

Richardson, who had scored 17 points in the first half, built up the margin to six points as the second half opened, and the rest of his team suddenly came alive, with Gary Hall, Mike Childress and Tim Aderholt also finding the range. Leading 61-53 at the three - quarter mark, Allison built it to 81-61 in the first five minutes of the final frame as Richardson was bringing the ball down through the Briscoe press.

Allison simply relaxed during the last minutes and Ronnie Hayes drove again and again, but time ran out on Briscoe. Childress backed Richardson with 16 points, Aderholt had 15 and Hall 14, Ronnie Hayes had 29 and Atherton 19 for Briscoe.

The Briscoe girls won the finale and third place in the district standings with a 51-43 victory.

SWC Roundup

By United Press International It took a last-second shot off a stolen pass, but Texas Tech did it to vault into a tie with Texas A&M for the lead in the Southwest Conference basketball chase.

Sid Wall hit from 20 feet away just as the buzzer sounded Tuesday night to beat the Aggies 84-82 and send 10,150 fans at Lubbock Coliseum into frenzy.

The shot climaxed an unbelievable second half Tech rally. The Red Raiders trailed 19 points, 52-33, at half and were down 10 points with just five minutes to play.

It left Tech and A&M tied with 6-1 records, followed by Rice, Arkansas and SMU at 4-3, Texas at 3-4, Baylor at 1-6 and Texas Christian at 0-7.

Arkansas dumped SMU Arkansas dumped SMU 83-71. Texas rattled Rice 98-80 and Baylor beat TCU 83-67 in other games.

The Tech victory came despite a 30-point spree by A&M's Bennie Lenox and a 20-point production by John Beasley. Little Dub Malaise scored 19 to lead Tech before fouling out in the closing minutes.

Texas hit a torrid 67.6 per cent of its shots from the field in whipping the Owls. The Longhorns jumped into an early 13-5 lead and never faltered.

Joe Fisher led the winners with 28 points and teammate Larry Franks and Rice's Kendall Rhine scored 23 each. Rice pulled to within six points, 47-41, at the half, but a Texas outburst in the first four minutes of the second half put the gam out of reach.

Arkansas used a pressing zone against SMU and built up leads of 21 points several times in the second half before a closing-minutes spurt brought the Ponies close.

Wellington Nips Pirates, 60-58

By KEITH GEISLER
 Wellington's Bill Spillman made two free throws in the final 30 seconds of the game to give the Pirates a 60-58 victory over the Lefors Pilots last night.

The win keeps Wellington in first place in the district with a 10-1 record, half a game ahead of the Lefors Pilots. The two teams will meet in the district showdown today, but the loop will not be officially decided until next Tuesday night, when Lefors still feels a make-up game and they play the Bucks in a 5-3 record and eliminates them from a title chance.

It was Terry and the Pirates who were the heroes of the game as Terry Bromlow played one of his finest games of the season, hitting from all over the court for 26 points, while backcourt mate Don "Squash" McCol, Oklahoma State-bound, checked him right up with 20 points. The deadly shooting of Jerry Weems, however, and the free throws were the difference in the ball game as neither team ever held more than a four-point lead.

The first quarter switched back and forth as Bromlow and Weems matched baskets, with the Rockets moving into a 19-15

Groom Goes Into Second

DODSON (Spl) — With the aid of substitute J. B. Parker and a drafted referee, Driving Dan Craig drove the Groom Tigers into a second-place tie in district 9-B last night with a 69-37 victory over Dodson.

Utilizing a full-court press from the opening buzzer, Groom never let the Eagles get the ball past mid-court as Craig stole everything but the official's whistle while Big Jerry Quirk and Jerry Roberts dominated the backboards.

Craig stole the ball and drove for 11 points in the first frame for a 23-12 lead, and kept up his thievery in the second half, feeding passes to Quirk, who dumped in eight points for a 39-18 halftime bulge.

The referee became ill at the half and was unable to continue the game, but luckily, a visiting official was in the stands and was pressed into service on the spot.

The starters headed for the bench and a well-earned rest in the second half and J. B. Parker took over at that point, smashing in 22 points and grabbing 11 rebounds in the half as he led the Tigers to a 56-30 third-quarter edge.

Craig had 13 points, Quirk and Roberts 10 each.

Groom's Tigresses led all the way in pulling out their third district victory, 31-23, although the game was actually a forfeit, as Dodson fouled three players out and had only four in uniform midway in the fourth quarter.

Quail leads the district with a 6-2 record and Groom, Hedley and Samnorwood are all tied for second with 5-3 marks. Groom hosts Claude Friday, and then will play a make-up game with Quail Monday or Tuesday which will probably determine the district round-robin winner.

Red Raiders Move Into Tie With Texas

By United Press International
 Although they don't like to admit to many shortcomings in Texas, basketball fans at Texas Tech chafed up last season to inexperience.

The Red Raiders posted a 6-17 record and a fifth-place tie in the Southwest Conference.

This year, under Coach Gene Gibson, the Raiders are attempting to regain the conference championship they held in 1961 and 1962. Tech moved into a first-place tie with Texas A&M Tuesday night by defeating the Aggies 84-82 at Lubbock.

Urged on by a crowd of over 10,000, the Raiders engineered a second-half comeback after trailing by 19 points at halftime. Tech battled back to knot the score at 82-82 with seven seconds remaining and A&M in possession of the ball.

Employing a full court press, 6-foot-5 Glen Hallum intercepted the in bounds pass and flipped it to Sid Wall. The 20-year old senior from Dallas leaped a 20 foot jump shot that pierced the cords as the buzzer sounded.

Davidson used a well-balanced attack to coast to a 95-67 win over Richmond. In winning their 19th game in 20 outings this year, the Wildcats tightened their grip on the No. 4 spot in the college basketball ratings.

The slightly regarded Spiders gave Davidson one of its roughest evenings earlier this year when they played ball control only to fall short, 82-49.

All-America candidate Fred Hetzel and Dick Snyder showed the way for Davidson this time with 24 points apiece.

Wisconsin managed to hold Rick LoPessa to five points but Rich Falk came through with 25 as Northwestern scored a 72-64 Big Ten victory. Jack Brens who averaged 17 points last year for the Badgers could collect only 10 points, as he played his second game of the season

Van Brocklin Will Stay On At Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (UPI) — Norm Van Brocklin will stay on as head coach of the three-year-old Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League.

Van Brocklin, who has been head coach since the Vikings started, Tuesday decided not to consider a possible offer to become general manager of the Philadelphia Eagles, a team he quarterbacked to the championship in 1960.

Philadelphia owner Jerry Wolman had said he asked Vikings President E. W. Boyer for permission to talk with Van Brocklin about the Eagles job.

Van Brocklin indicated early Tuesday that he was interested. However, after meeting with three of the Vikings' directors later in the day, he issued the following statement through the Vikings' office:

"I have considered very seriously the interest shown me by the Philadelphia Eagles and the possibilities presented there were certainly most tempting. However, I have come to the conclusion that the best interests of everybody will be served by my continuing to carry out my obligations here. I trust the owners of both clubs will concur in this decision."

Tigers' Avenge Canadian Loss

By JEFF MONEY
 News Sports Correspondent
 McLEAN — Derrith Welch and company got sweet revenge last night as they rode over the Canadian Wildcats, 67-53, to stay in the thick of the district 2-A cage race. The Wildkittens pulled out a hair-raising first game in the preliminary, 41-39.

Welch put on one of his finest performances of the season and scored his district high of the year, but got plenty of help from his teammates last night. In their previous game, the Shorter Cats had surrounded the 6-6 All-State, and had taken a win. Welch, in addition to slaming in 41 points, a district mark, pulled down 27 rebounds as the Tigers' gobbled an awesome 68 balls off the boards, George Green grabbing 12 and Jim McCarty 11. Deadpan Derrith also got key shooting help from Green and Glen Swift.

Welch, hitting 12 field goals, dropped in 17 of 22 free throws to overcome good shooting by Deadeye Ken Willis, Butcherboy Eckles and Tony Steine.

McLean led throughout the contest. Welch hitting nine points and Green four as the Beagles took a 17-11 quarter lead. McLean upped the margin as Welch hit 11 in the second frame for a 34-19 halftime bulge and then wrapped it up in the third quarter as Welch hit 13 while McLean pulled to 56-32.

Willis had 17, Eckles 16 and Steine 14 for the Cats. Canadian finishes their regular season Friday night with Clarendon, McLean heads for the district showdowns with Wellington Friday and Lefors Tuesday.

Dixie "Squeaky" Petree again came through for Canadian as he sank two free throws in the final seven seconds to stop a tremendous McLean rally.

With the all-district Squeaky smashing the nets, Canadian had taken a 15-12 quarter, and 29-21 halftime lead. Joan Flowers had led a rally that cut the lead to 35-31 in the third quarter, and then came on to tie the game at 39-39 with a minute left, only to have Petree make the winning charity. Dixie finished with 28 points, Joan with 23.

Happy New Year To Baseball Hurlers

By MILTON RICHMAN
 UPI Sports Writer
 Happy New Year!
 A little late maybe, but it certainly applied today as far as pitchers Bill Monbouquette, Tom O'Toole and Bob Shaw are concerned.

All three came out far better than American Beauty roses in the matter of signing their 1964 contracts.

Monbouquette and O'Toole each received substantial pay raises bringing them up around $30,000 mark for a pair of winning seasons and although law did not have one, he still wasn't asked to take a slice by a new club, the Giants.

Mombo earned his raise from a Red Sox offer his 20-10 record last season, by far his best five with the club, which also signed catcher Bob Tillman, cond baseman Chuck Schilling and rookie outfielder Tony Migliaro.

O'Toole moved into the $30,000 bracket with a 17-14 slate last when the Reds announced a signing they also announced rookie pitcher Don Secrest had come to terms.

Usually Get A Cut
 The 30-year-old Shaw, who has dealt to the Giants by the Braves last November in a multi-player deal, had a 7-11 record last season, one that usually is accompanied by a cut.

But no team which ever acquires a new player in a deal runs around and trims his salary. It isn't good business. You have to make the new fellow happy and wanted.

Not only that, but the Giants also took into consideration Shaw's fine 2.66 earned run average with the Braves and his saves in relief.

With that in mind, they offered Shaw the same $27,500 Milwaukee paid him last year and he took it.

First baseman Jim Gentile was more or less in the same boat with the Athletics, who obtained him in a deal with the Orioles during the off-season.

Gentile didn't exactly set Baltimore aflame last year. Fact of the matter is his .248 batting average, 72 runs batted in and homers represented his first year in the American League.

With the Orioles he could have figured on a cut for sure; with the A's, though, he'll draw the same money he did in 1963.

Charlie Finley wants to make Gentile feel welcome and Diamond Jim really appreciates it.

Comes To Terms
 Howard (Doc) Edwards also came to terms with the Athletics, who now have satisfied 19 players.

Catcher Camilo Carrion and pitchers Mike Joyce and Ed Ollie agreed to terms with the White Sox. They made a total of 21 singles for the White Sox who still have 21 more to go.

Rollie Sheldon, one of the Yankees' pitching prizes of 1961 but something of a bust last year, was one of four young

McMurry Okays Full Scholarships

ABILENE (UPI) — Little McMurry College, which only a year ago dropped full athletic scholarships in a move to de-emphasize athletics, announced Tuesday it will resume a full scholarship program covering all sports.

McMurry had gone to half scholarships and joined the affiliated Texas Athletic Conference with Hardin-Simmons, Tarleton State and Midwestern of Wichita Falls.

Golf Pros Up For Tucson $

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — The touring professionals lined up today for another crack at the golf and glory this time without the menacing forms of Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer in the ranks.

The $30,000 Tucson Open golf tournament gets under way Thursday and the favorite is Gary Player of South Africa, one of golf's glamor boys.

Tony Lema, winner of the $50,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am, had been regarded as Player's top rival but had to cancel plans to compete because of illness.

Player, making his first United States start of 1964 in the Phoenix Open last week, was tied for the lead with only 16 holes left to play, but lost out when Nicklaus put on a tremendous surge to capture top money.

Competition will be over the Forty Niner Golf Club course where Don January ran away from the field last year. January is back to defend his crown and is at the top of his game.

Pro Basketball

By United Press International
 East is east but West is best as far as the Los Angeles Lakers are concerned.

Jerry West, that is.

Disregarding a broken right thumb that was taped and braced, West scored 40 points Tuesday night to lead the Lakers to a 113-109 National Basketball Association victory over the Boston Celtics.

A late basket and a free throw by Bill Russell enabled the Celtics to take the lead with two minutes remaining but Elgin Baylor scored after taking a pass from West to put the Lakers back in front and West added a pair of icing free throws with nine seconds left.

The win enabled the Lakers to remain one game behind the second-place St. Louis Hawks in the Western Division of the NBA. The Hawks held their slender grip on the second rung with a 125-103 win over the New York Knicks as Cliff Hagan scored 25 points.

Wilt Chamberlain poured in 59 points as the San Francisco Warriors downed the Detroit Pistons, 128-118, in the other Tuesday night game. Bailey Bowell had 23 points for the Pistons.

Alvin Dark Denies Move to Houston

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (UPI) — Alvin Dark shrugged off speculation Saturday that he may leave the San Francisco Giants after this season and take over as manager of the Houston Colts.

"As long as the people of San Francisco want me here, I want to manage the Giants," Dark said briefly before teeing off at the Santa Rosa Golf and Country Club. "Horace Stoneham gave me a chance to manage and I'm grateful for it."

Dark confirmed reports that he planned to sell his home in Atherton, a San Francisco suburb, and move back to Lake Charles, La.

Mr. Streigel and the Titan

Who was right and who was wrong we couldn't begin to guess, but the actions of Mr. Edward Streigel in the sagebrush of Idaho cheer us, nevertheless. Mr. Streigel, head of Gem State Utilities, personally cut off the Government's service when it didn't pay its phone bill.

That he actually unplugged communication between headquarters and a couple of Titan missile bases sounds appalling, but the Pentagon said it had alternative communications—a fact Mr. Streigel probably knew. And the service was off little more than an hour. The manager just wanted to make a point.

Gem State Utilities sounds pretty grand, but it actually is a miniature telephone company with less than a thousand subscribers. The others seem to pay their bills, but according to Mr. Streigel, the Government owed upward of $41,000. There was a dispute about

You Can Take It With You

If you've ever been in a group where someone comes up with an album of old snapshots, you know what the Chinese philosopher meant when he said: "One picture is worth ten thousand words." Especially if one of them depicts an elderly member of the company in her birthday suit or a bearskin rug—at an early age, of course.

In fact, we sometimes wonder what people found to talk about before they were taking pictures. How could you get the floor to brag about your baby or last season's buck or your girl or your boat if you don't have a picture to show? And what's the use of taking a trip—to Zanzibar or the nearest zoo—if you don't take pictures? Who will ever know you went anywhere? How can you prove it without snapshots or color transparencies or movies?

Significant, we think, is the fact that a noted tour director urges all of his clients to take cameras with them wherever they go. He has found, he says, that this makes all the difference in the satisfaction they get from a trip since its the only way travelers can take home with them the outlying world they have seen.

With a camera at the ready, they look at the significant, the historic and the beautiful things at least twice—first out of curiosity and excitement, and again to take a picture. Furthermore, he confides, "I have a hunch that those who intend to photograph their tour do a little more homework in advance of a journey—so as to get worthwhile shots, and know what they mean."

Not every photo may be worth the full Chinese quota of ten thousand words, but, discount it a few thousand and that still makes quite a conversation piece out of the click of a shutter. Or, can you wiggle your ears?

POVERTY - STRICKEN MINDS AT WORK

By TOM ANDERSON

President Lyndon Johnson's State-of-the-Union message declared war on poverty long ago. From a poor Texas ranch he gravitated to Washington as Franklin D. Roosevelt's National Youth Administration Director. He's been there ever since. And anybody who can convert a reported inheritance (his wife's) of $68,000 into a $20,000,000 estate while working for the government certainly knows how to fight poverty.

Johnson's anti-poverty proposal is designed to create jobs by eliminating overtime. Henceforth American employers (already paying two to ten times higher wages than any other employers in the world) will be forced to pay double pay for overtime. This is not Johnson's idea. It was spawned by Walter Reuther, international socialist and co-owner (with Bobby Baker and Billie Sol Estes) of the Johnson Frontier. Thus share-the-wealth becomes share-the-work, just like in the other socialist nations of the world.

No Real Opportunity

Of course the Reuther-Johnson share-the-poverty plan makes no more job opportunities. It creates nothing except new time cards. It does not expand the economy. It penalizes ambition with a built-in brake on initiative. It puts us at a further disadvantage with the Common Market and with the World Socialism legislates mediocrity, penalizes efficiency, robs the successful and gives to the sluggard. The greatest pocket of poverty in this country is in the socialist mind.

There is, on only one American front, a super-boom in employment. Since the Kennedy-Johnson team was allegedly elected in 1960, the increase in the federal payroll has mushroomed at the rate of 4.2 "workers" every two minutes of every eight-hour five-day week.

Stops Incentive

The average manufacturing employee now works 2.8 hours of overtime each week. By making overtime so expensive that no employer can afford it, our socialist government estimates that 919,000 full-time jobs will be created. Thus the worker who is willing to beat his brains out to take home some extra bacon will be legislated out of this right by a labor dictatorship, in favor of some unemployable statistic. These unemployable statistics can vote, friend. And they no longer have to fork up a buck for the privilege, since the 24th Amendment outlawing the poll tax has been ratified. Also, the more of these unemployable statistics are employed, the more members the unions will have.

Run Government

America faces the prospect of a socialist-labor-welfare dictatorship with the Reutherite henchmen in the majority in Congress and a Reutherite yeman in the White House. Reuther would not only run the whole automobile industry, but the government too. Reuther would not only bargain for the auto workers, but for all employees, stockholders, and customers. He will never be satisfied with collective bargaining until it produces a collective economy—a planned economy in which union leaders enjoy joint management with the owners of business to share profits but not the losses; the decisions but not the responsibility; the security but not the insecurity, with a Labor government relieving.

The average union leader's goal is: "More."

But Reuther is not average. His goal is international socialism.

When the Profumo scandal broke last spring, two Air Force sergeants were recalled from England by the Defense Department for questioning. They were cleared of any wrongdoing by a special Pentagon inquiry.

The new disclosures are expected to add explosive fuel to a congressional investigation now underway of the State Department's lax handling of the granting of visas to foreigners.

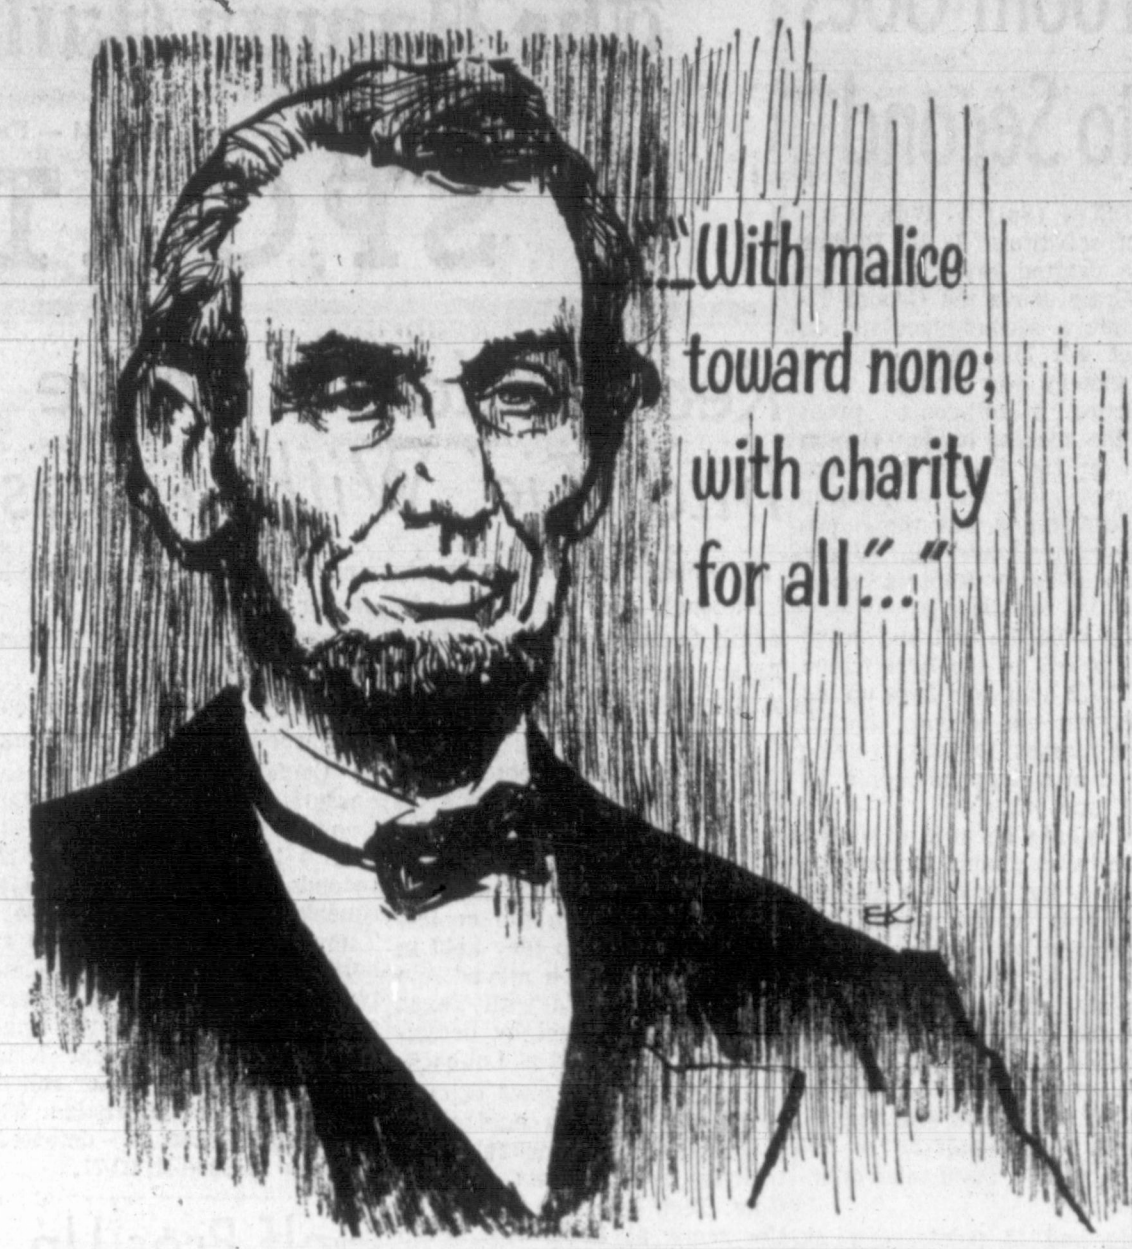

GOING TO THE TOP

In another headline-making case, Representative Feighan has taken his fight to revoke the U.S. visa granted British actor Richard Burton straight to Secretary of State Rusk.

During a White House reception for members of Congress, the veteran Ohio legislator cornered Secretary Rusk and bluntly lectured him on the Burton case, stating:

"Mr. Secretary, the President has launched a major physical fitness program to improve the health and well-being

This I believe. A man is a man, no matter whether his color is bronze, yellow, white, black, red or polka-dot. There are some good qualities in the character of the most wicked man on earth and there are some bad qualities in the character of the most righteous man on earth.

There are little men, big men and medium-sized men, in fact, there is just about every kind of man imaginable in this old world, but there is one kind of man that does not exist. There is no perfect man. Certainly there is not a man upon this earth who does not need to improve his character, to become more Christ-like in character.

It is a shame that the world has suffered so much because of racial prejudice. As far back as we can trace history it seems there has been hatred between races, almost every race of people seem to feel that they are superior to all other races.

When will the people of the world ever learn (perhaps they never will) that there is only one quality that exalts man above the other species of this earth, and that quality has nothing to do with the color of a man's skin. That quality is twofold... man's ability to distinguish between right and wrong, between good and evil and that man is an eternal being made in the image of his Creator. The only perfect being who ever lived upon this earth was killed because the world could not abide his perfection, but during his brief thirty-three years on earth he set the perfect example of how a man should strive to live.

All Christian denominations share one common goal, that of trying to help their members to become more Christ-like in character. Now if a man can learn to live 75 per cent of Christ's teachings, is he not that much closer to attaining a Christ-like character, regardless of the color of his skin? If a man could gain strength enough to live 90 per cent of Christ's teachings would he not be that much closer to perfection, regardless of the color of his skin? If there ever should be a man upon this earth who gained strength enough to live all of Christ's teachings, would he not then have a perfect Christ-like character regardless of the color of his skin?

This is not a plea for passage of the civil rights bill. It is my opinion that within the civil rights bill there are some things that would give the Federal government dictatorial power, which would be ruinous to all citizens.

As a Christian, believing in Christian principles, I believe we are morally wrong when we place restrictions on a man's right to live where he wants to live, to go where he wants to go, regardless of his color.

This is only one man's opinion, but it seems to me that a man is good in direct proportion to his ability to live righteously and that he is bad in direct proportion to how far astray he goes from

U.S. Officials Are Caught Flat-Footed in Viet Nam

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — This is the story of how the United States in South Viet Nam could be caught with its intelligence down — even with 15,000 U.S. military, State Department and aid men on the spot and with advisers attached to every major South Vietnamese military unit.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Defense Secretary Robert McNamara were all caught flat-footed. Thirty hours before the coup McNamara was indicating the junta had things in hand. Most surprising of all was that Maj. Gen. "Raymond" Nguyen Khanh's coup came as a surprise. Any way you figure it, he was the most logical South Vietnamese to engineer a coup.

He had been a favorite of President Ngo Dinh Diem. He had supported the junta's coup only after it was certain to succeed and on the understanding Diem's life would be spared.

He was known as a completely ambitious general. He had built up a strong position in the army as chief of staff of the joint general staff for several years. Lt. Gen. Van Tuy was theoretically his boss. Tuy had cancer and became a figurehead. Khanh ran the army and put his men in key spots.

U. S. experts knew the junta was suspicious of Khanh and was watching him closely. They knew he had been "exiled" to the northern border as commander of the 1st Corps to get him too far from the capital to stage a coup.

They knew the junta was weeding Khanh men from the joint general staff. He was known personally to differ strongly with key men in the junta circle.

To top it off there were persistent rumors about a coup. These rumors were duly sent in to be processed and evaluated. How did the State Department and military men miss?

For one thing: The experts were looking in the wrong direction. They were certain any coup would be headed by someone in Saigon or close by. The political intelligence men concentrated so heavily on the capital city they didn't know what was happening politically in the provinces. Because of the growing neutralist feeling in Saigon, the experts were certain any attempted coup would be rigged by pro-French neutralists.

So when they heard coup rumors, they concentrated their search in neutralist circles. As for Khanh, he was so obvious a suspect, he was overlooked.

One official says: "The rumors all the time. We knew that various people were reported plotting. It's part of way of life in South Viet Nam. It happened all the time during the Diem regime. Usually no one was in the plot. You might say 'everybody' was plotting. That didn't mean anything would happen.

"So, you ask, didn't anybody suggest Khanh was plotting? Yes, of course. But there was anything new in that and sides everybody knew it."

Part of what happened — an intelligence standpoint — is a mystery. Presumably, there were several hundred American officers and men on the staff of the American military advisers to Khanh and his 1st Army Corps during the past months. Some of these were intelligence officers. While friendly political intelligence wasn't their job, they, presumably, were training men, with eyes, ears — and friends.

What happened?

BLONDIE

CHIC YOUNG
DAGWOOD'S AT IT AGAIN!

Breathes there a man anywhere with Dagwood Bumstead's knack of putting his foot into it? The answer is—yes... for in every man alive there is something of faking Dagwood. The "human touch" is not just another phrase, when you speak of BLONDIE. Here is a comic strip so warm, so believable, so richly humorous that you'll lose your heart to it.

Beatle Bangs Squashed at Spring Branch

HOUSTON (UPI) — Beatle bangs were banned Tuesday at Spring Branch High School. Assistant principal George A. Skipper Jr. said he found a half-dozen or so boys in class Monday with their tresses combed Beatle style — heavy bangs up front, straight down all around. One of them had some of that greasy kid stuff holding his hair in place. Skipper said.

"I made him go home and get it out and I just had the other boys go into the restroom and comb theirs out."

Mike Toland, 18, said he watched the Beatles. England's current 'teen music rage, perform on television Sunday and decided to comb his hair their way.

"I think it's wild," he said, "which is 'teen-age for time, but 'wild' is a good description."

Some of the boys think the principal should not be able to tell them how to comb their hair, but they expect to obey his orders.

TEST FOR NEUTRALITY
 It is the countryside which provides the real testing ground for the Laotian neutrality agreed upon in Geneva in July, 1962, and which remains as it was before, a cauldron of conflicting interests with the military advantage remaining with the Communists.

U.S. planes take off from the Vientiane field to airdrop supplies to friendly people cut off by the Communist-led Pathet Lao.

Communist North Viet Nam exports leadership and supplies to the Pathet Lao.

Within the government there remain the divided forces of right, neutral and Communist, including separate military commands.

As Soviet influence wanes, Red Chinese influence grows.

An international control commission set up to enforce neutrality is hamstrung by the intransigence of its Polish member until he makes a sudden about-face. There is speculation that the Pole's about-face is due in part to Poland's fears for the future of U.S.-Polish trade.

Within the torn land there are the trappings of neutrality as seen by trade agreements—both with the West and with Moscow and Peking.

Right-wing leader Gen. Phoumi Nosavan occasionally hears himself praised by the Moscow, Peking or Hanoi radios.

Agreement Evasive

Occasionally, neutral Premier Souvanna Phouma confers with his Red half-brother and Deputy Premier Prince Souphanouvong but agreement stays just out of reach.

In the Plain of Jars, tactical key to Laos, neutral forces retreat before the Pathet Lao and finally lose the plain altogether. The Communists reinforce their hold upon the Ho Chi Minh

 In Vientiane, which lies along the Mekong River and is the administrative capital of Laos, the Japanese are building a water system designed to give the capital for the first time a water supply which its residents can drink without boiling first.

Airliners take off from an American-built field after passing through a French-built terminal.

A new gambling casino operated by Chinese and Vietnamese is another of the innovations moving in upon gently resisting Laotians who in the main prefer a less complicated life.

But despite these things, and a flood of Western educators, economists and agricultural experts sent to help preserve a neutral Laos from communism, Vientiane remains a sleepy town dedicated to its ancient Buddhist ways.

 ABERDEEN, Scotland (UPI) — George Horne and his wife, Muriel, felt sorry for their new puppy because it was trembling, so they took it into their bed to keep it warm. That was 13 months ago and the dog—now a fully-grown Labrador—still stays with them in bed. The dog refuses to sleep anywhere else.

NEWEST PROJECT — In a few years, this Air Force manned orbital laboratory (MOL) may be hurled into space by solid-fuel rockets. At present, it is the United States' newest space project. It is made up of a two-man space capsule and a pressurized cylinder about the size of a small house trailer in which astronauts may stay aloft for a month.

Snow, Rains Bring Grins For Farmers

AUSTIN (UPI) — Moisture from last week's heavy snow in the Northern High Plains and soaking rain elsewhere has put happy grins on the faces of ranchers and boosted spring range and pasture prospects.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture noted moisture tapered off into the Southern High Plains but the Northern High Plains had 10 to 25 inches.

While the heavy snow closed all pastures and made caring for livestock difficult, farmers were jubilant with revived dryland wheat prospects, USDA said. It was the first substantial rain in that area since dryland wheat was planted.

Moisture in this area is now sufficient to carry crops until spring growth starts. Wheat prospects also have improved considerably in the Low Plains and across North Texas.

Sea Water Plant Seen Year Away

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Officials estimated Tuesday it would take about a year to construct a plant at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, to convert sea water into fresh water for the U.S. naval base there.

The Defense Department announced Monday that the permanent water treatment plant would be built at Guantanamo to replace the fresh water supply cut off last week by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

The department also announced that it had started firing some of the 3,000 Cubans who work on the base and pour more than $4 million a year into Cuba's economy through their earnings.

Government experts estimated the rock bottom cost of supplying a million gallons of fresh water daily to Guantanamo through a desalination plant at $350,000 a year.
