Lodge Returns from Viet Nam To Aid Scranton in Campaign

By ALVIN SPIVAK
WASHINGTON (UPI) — For Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. President Johnson today gave a final report on the war in South Viet Nam. He said the situation there is "encouraging."
Lodge spoke after the President introduced him to reporters in the cabinet room of the White House. Johnson praised Lodge as having served with "great distinction."
The President said Lodge had given him "a complete, full and report on the situation in Viet Nam." Lodge "has earned the gratitude not only of the people of Viet Nam but the people of the United States."

Field Service Students Plan Two-day Stop Here

A bus load of 44 students representing 25 different nations will arrive in Pampa today for a two-night and one-day stop-over.
The students are on a return trip to their respective countries after spending a year in American communities attending local high schools.

The students will be met today at Coronado Inn by their host families. After the evening meal they will go to host homes for a visit and rest.

Tomorrow they will have breakfast and lunch in Pampa homes and then start a round of activities at 1 p.m. when they will have a choice of a ranch tour or a tour of the Pampa Celanese plant.

Following the tours a period has been set up for swimming. Highlight of the visit will be a chuck wagon barbecue to be served on the Southwest 40' of the Coronado Inn.

Departure from Pampa is scheduled for 8 a.m. Wednesday by chartered bus from the Coronado Inn.

In his conversation with Eisenhower, he said he would imagine the Scranton campaign was bound to come up, but he expected to talk to the former President "about some other things, too."

In a planeside interview at Andrews Air Force Base, outside Washington, Lodge said that he did not see "how it is practical" to make a campaign issue of the war in South Viet Nam but he declined several times to give a blanket endorsement of the Johnson administration's conduct of it.

Two persons were killed and three others badly hurt in a crash Sunday night on U. S. highway 90 at Sheldon Road five miles from Houston.

Dead were James Franklin McGill, 34, of Houston, and Grace Judkins, 60, of Stroud, Okla. Authorities said a car driven by Henry L. McKinley, 34, of Houston rammed broadside into an auto driven by Dorothy Markem, 55, of Houston as the Markem car made a left turn.

Mrs. Markem was in serious condition. McKinley and Joyce Elaine McGill were in critical condition.

CHELMSFORD, England (UPI) — Detective Richard Ross, 33, said today he quit the police force because his chief kept telling him he ought to have a child and even offered to talk to his wife about it in case she was "awkward."

Gov. Scranton Invades Barry Vote Territory

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Gov. William W. Scranton heads into southern Goldwater country today in a bid to halt the Arizona senator's drive toward the Republican presidential nomination.

His 11th hour swing through Dixie, his second within a week, will take him first to Charlotte, N.C., then to Atlanta and Knoxville, Tenn.

He was scheduled to arrive in the North Carolina city at 8:15 a.m. aboard a private plane. Scranton will hold talks with Tarheel GOP delegates before going to Georgia.

Eleven states in the old Confederacy will send 279 delegates to the convention in San Francisco next month. Goldwater has 245 of these committed to his nomination but the senator's aides say their man will get 253.

Scranton invited all 26 of North Carolina's convention delegates to meet him at Charlotte's airport. But political observers expected less than half to show up.

Only two members of the delegation are specifically instructed to cast their ballots. But 22 others have publicly stated they will back Goldwater, and two others are uncommitted.

In Georgia, one delegate said he favored Scranton and there were indications five others may go to the governor. But Goldwater supporters say that 22 of Georgia's 24 delegates will vote for the senator.

All but two of Tennessee's 28 delegates are pledged or lean strongly to Goldwater.

Last Wednesday, Scranton went to Florida where only 18 of 34 delegates support Goldwater.

Sunday Scranton made his strongest attack on Goldwater to date in a paid political television appearance at Dalton, Pa., the governor pictured the Arizona as a "weak" candidate for the Republicans to offer against President Johnson in November. He said Goldwater was "seeking not to lead the Republican party but to start a new political party of his own."

He accused the senator of "hip shooting" on questions of grave domestic and international import.

Practicing for Holiday

42 Violent Deaths Mar Texas Weekend

By United Press International
Death practiced up for the July Fourth holiday over the weekend, as Texans in steadily mounting numbers died in auto crashes, drownings and other violence.

The weekend was marked by several multi-death highway smashups and an apparent gangland killing.

A United Press International survey showed 42 violent deaths in the period from 6 p.m. Friday until Sunday midnight. Half of them—21—were in traffic accidents.

Mae Willie Johnson, 50, was shot to death Sunday at her Houston drive-in when she tried to break up a fight.

Levi Ryan, 44, of Houston, who was stabbed Saturday, died Sunday. He had been revived by open chest surgery after the stabbing.

A house fire in Houston Sunday claimed the life of Albert Ingraham, 52, a guest in the Polish Students Cheer Kennedy

CRACOW, Poland (UPI) — Cheering students hoisted Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to their shoulders today, and 15,000 Poles in the medieval market square roared their approval when he sang a version of a popular ballad that he called "When Polish Eyes Are Smiling."

"Long live the Kennedys," shouted the crowd that engulfed the touring attorney General's car in a welcome from a Communist country that far surpassed a more restrained greeting today for Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in the Western world's Norway.

Kennedy's greeting here was tumultuous, while Khrushchev was greeted in Oslo by a crowd of 5,000 that seemed friendly but mostly silent. The Oslo welcome, despite its comparative reserve, was the warmest Khrushchev had received yet on his Scandinavian tour that took him previously to Denmark and Sweden.

"Even such an Irishman as I greatly admire the bravery and determination of the Polish nation," Kennedy told the students who had welcomed him after his arrival from Warsaw at the 600-year-old Jagellonian University.

Later, at the market square with his wife, three of his children and other Americans in his party, he sang "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," substituting "Polish" for "Irish." The crowd loved it.

Kennedy said here today the assassination of President Kennedy was carried out by Lee Harvey Oswald as a "single act of one person protesting against society."

Cole declined to elaborate on the latest development in a search of nearly a week for the missing trio except to say "one was heavy — like Schwerner, and the other was lighter."

But he said the resident reported the men were standing only a few hundred yards from the point where searchers found the missing workers' station wagon abandoned and burned.

The station wagon had not been burned when the two men were seen beside it, the patrol said.

Cole said troopers today would set up a checkpoint on the highway that passes the spot to stop all cars and ask the drivers "if they have seen or heard anything."

Sailors were to take up the search again today for the missing workers after taking a day off Sunday.

Searchers also planned to begin dragging man-made lakes and ponds in the area. Authorities indicated they were pinning their hopes on the theory that more than one or two men were involved in the workers' met foul play. The more per-

Authorities Uncertain If Shot Down by Reds

By MICHAEL T. MALLOY
SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — All four American crewmen were killed today when their helicopter crashed and burned while on a mission over a Communist-infested section of the Mekong River Delta south of Saigon, reliable sources said.

The deaths raised to 241 the number of U.S. Servicemen who have died in South Viet Nam since January 1961. It was not immediately known whether the helicopter was shot down by Communist ground fire or whether the crash was accidental.

The sources said the pilot, copilot and two gunners died when their combat helicopter went down near Cao Lanh district of Saigon.

The incident occurred as troubleshooter U. Alexis Johnson went to work as the No. 2 man in America's most crucial diplomatic post — South Viet Nam.

A U. S. military spokesman reported that a Viet Cong battalion overran two government outposts only 20 miles west of Saigon early Sunday at about the time that Johnson arrived here. The spokesman said that while guerrillas attacked the outposts at Tra Cu airstrip and the nearby Binh Hoa watch tower, other rebels poured mortar fire into the district capital of Duc Hoa, only 12 miles from Saigon. The bombardment apparently was designed to prevent reinforcements from going to the aid of the outposts.

Johnson, the new U. S. deputy ambassador, promised on arrival Sunday that he and the new ambassador, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, will devote their "total energies" to saving South Viet Nam from Communist rule.

Johnson, 55, the top-ranking career man in the State Department, is a veteran at face-to-face dealings with the Communists.

He is a former ambassador to Czechoslovakia and he opened the unofficial ambassador-level talks with the Chinese Communists in 1955 that are continuing today.

His chief, Taylor, who was chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, will arrive later. Johnson came here hours before the departure of U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Johnson, whose previous post was in Washington as deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs, said in his arrival statement, "I'm proud to have been selected to help represent my country and I'm proud to have this opportunity for direct association with the gallant people of Viet Nam."

"I have confidence in their strength and in their ability to save their freedom and independence from those who would seek to destroy them."

Goldwater is due to arrive at Mercer County airport at 6:30 p.m. EDT on a flight from Washington. He will speak briefly at the airport and then ride in a motorcade to a downtown hotel where he will address the delegation.

Sen. Clifford P. Case and fellow delegate Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen have announced their support of Goldwater's rival, Gov. William W. Scranton of neighboring Pennsylvania. Scranton met the delegates last Tuesday.

Goldwater is due to arrive at Mercer County airport at 6:30 p.m. EDT on a flight from Washington. He will speak briefly at the airport and then ride in a motorcade to a downtown hotel where he will address the delegation.

Two Pampa men were caught red-handed early yesterday morning in the act of burglarizing a drive-in.

Placed under $1500 bonds each were 36-year old R. T. Franklin of 839 S. Gray and 33-year old Harold Ray Brooks of 805 S. Gray.

The men, both Negroes, were apprehended at 2:35 a.m. Sunday in the act of breaking - in the Legion Drive Inn, 709 S. Gray.

According to investigating city police officers, the men were caught as they attempted to crawl through a rear window after ripping off the board covering.

The owner, Arthur Sims, called police after seeing the men trying to enter the building.

Brooks, according to police, served two years in the state penitentiary during 1949-50 after being convicted of murder here.

The men remained in jail in lieu of the bond, set by Justice of the Peace G. L. (Nat) Lunsford.

Dear Abby.... Petty People Harp On Petty Subjects!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our 12-year-old son took our power lawn mower to his aunt's house, which is near us. He told her that her lawn needed cutting and he would be glad to cut it. She asked how much he charged, and he said he would not charge her anything. She told him to go ahead. They have close to one acre. Just as he was finishing, his uncle came home and asked our boy if he had been paid for the job yet. He said he wasn't charging anything. Then his uncle forced two dollars on our son. This evening, the wife called me and said she thought it was pretty cheap of our son to accept the two dollars for a job he agreed to do for nothing. Then she reminded me for the fiftieth time of all the clothes her son had outgrown and she had given me for our son. What do you make of this? How should it be handled?

BURNED UP
DEAR BURNED: Auntie is "pretty cheap." And should she again offer you hand-me-downs, suggest that she make the Salvation Army or Good Will Industries the objects of her generosity.

DEAR ABBY: Years ago my father was also faced with the problem of having the neighbor's chickens wander into our yard. This is how he solved it. He pierced tiny holes in dry corn kernels. Then using a fine silk sewing thread, just long enough to reach the chicken's craw, he threaded each kernel of corn and attached a note to the other end of the thread. It read: "PLEASE KEEP ME HOME. I FEEL FOOLISH."
This didn't hurt the chickens, but they did look mighty silly walking around with those messages hanging from their beaks. The chickens never visited us again, and relations with our neighbors remained friendly.

I. S. H.
DEAR I. S. H.: And there lies a moral: Never underestimate the power of corn.

DEAR ABBY: Back in 1906 my mother thought up a good way to keep the neighbor's chickens out of our yard. She soaked bread crusts in Dad's corn liquor (much to his displeasure) and she scattered these crusts around our yard, where the chickens visited daily. The chickens came over as usual, ate their fill and promptly napped out just like humans all over our yard. My mother went out, picked them up and threw them back into their owners' yard. When the neighbors saw their chickens living there like dead, they got the hint. No more chickens for mother. It was much Bouquets of red roses and a large golden star in front of the Worth Matron's station decorated the Hall. The Bible was presented by Gary Argo, another grandson.

Retiring Worthy Matron Mrs. Emmett Saxon and the retiring Junior Past Worthy Patron Hardy Boyd, father of Mrs. Saxon were presented gifts by the Chapter and Rainbow Girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Grayum were escorted by their grandson, Kenneth Argo.

The Worthy Matron's chosen colors of red, gold and green were carried out in the red rose corsages she presented each of her new officers along with a handkerchief embroidered with the Eastern Star Emblem. Mrs. Clarence Hoskins presented Mrs. Grayum with an Eastern Star Bible for the officers.

Mrs. Warren Argo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grayum, attended the guest book which was a gift from her family.

A reception honored the new officers immediately following the closing. The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered by an arrangement of red roses. Chrystal appointments were used in serving the sheet cake decorated in the chosen colors and inscribed with the names of the honored couple. Mrs. Argo served the cake while Mrs. Irene Chamberlain and Mrs. Bill Harlan poured and served the punch. Approximately 50 guests attended.

Colts Lose Three Tri-State Loop Games

The Pampa Colts lost three games Saturday and Sunday to the two teams which had entered the weekend tied with them for third place in the Tri-State League.

Graham Plow took a doubleheader for Pampa Saturday night in Amarillo by scores of 7-1 and 8-7, the latter in extra innings.

Guymon beat the Colts for the third time this season Sunday, 14-8.

Cagle Davis, the Texas Tech baseballer, smashed Glover's first pitch of the second inning and hit the scoreboard in deep left field with it for a home run. Tony Thompson followed with a triple and Greg Dye sent him home with a single before any were out.

The two runs were all Graham needed but the Plowboys added three more in the fifth and two in the sixth to make sure.

Glover finally got the Colts on the scoreboard in the seventh with a home run of his own.

Bobby Price pitched eight innings of seven-hit ball in the nightcap, scheduled for seven innings, before being relieved in the ninth by Mike Clark.

The Colts had taken a 7-4 lead in the top of the ninth with three runs on three hits and an Amarillo error.

After two were out Mike Stewart singled and Larry Gregory was safe on an error by the center-fielder. Glover doubled, sending home Stewart, and both Glover and Gregory came home on Mike Clark's double.

Tommy Johnson, who had relieved starter Wayland Danile in the seventh, opened the Graham ninth with a single. Price was pulled when he walked Ron Covington and Clark walked Dean Reding to load the bases with none out. Jerry Johnson singled in Tommy Johnson, Covington scored on a wild pitch and Reding tied the ball game when Bill Defee was safe on a fielder's choice. Defee worked his way around to third and scored on Cagle Davis' groundout to end the game.

The Colts were in contention until the ninth inning of the Guymon game but four Duster runs there salted it away.

In the fourth, Mike Elmorie tied the game in a hurry with a home run on Mike Clark's third pitch of the frame. Ray Ralston and Don Gribble singled and Schneider hit his first home run of the day to give himself a 4-1 lead.

Glover walked in the fourth, went to second on a passed ball, stole third, and came home on an error by the catcher, who threw the ball into left field trying to pick Glover off rather than throwing to first to get Roy Stephens.

Stephens went to second on the wild throw and scored moments later on an error by the second baseman.

Guymon scored four more runs in the sixth on two singles, a double, and Schneider's second home run.

The fleet Roy Don Stephens, who was recruited from Weathered Humble's softball team and was making his first appearance for the Colts, scored again in the sixth when he singled, went to third on the right fielder's error and scored on a groundout.

Back-to-back doubles off Jerry Glover gave Guymon another run and a 9-4 lead in the seventh but the Colts tightened it up with three runs in the bottom of the inning.

Singles by Stewart and Glover, a walk to Don Hickman and a triple by Stephens did the damage.

Schneider was held to a triple in the eighth but scored on a sacrifice.

Bobby Price got it back on a single, a hit batsman (Claude Middleton) and a double by Stewart, but Guymon decided the matter with four more runs in the ninth.

Clark took his second loss in as many days and Schneider received credit for a well-deserved win.

Giants In First

By United Press International
The San Francisco Giants are back in first place today, thanks to a sore-armed pitcher who cast his lot with the best bullpen staff in the National League.

The pitcher is lefthander Billy O'Dell, who recently shuffled off to the Giants' relief corps after encountering arm miseries to join ace firemen Gaylord Perry and Bob Shaw.

In his last three rescue efforts, O'Dell has registered one win and two saves, including a spectacular ninth-inning job Sunday when he retired three consecutive Los Angeles Dodger batters with the bases loaded to preserve a 1-0 victory for rookie sensation Ron Herbel and boost the Giants into first place for the first time in two weeks.

Phils Split Two
The Philadelphia Phillies, who suddenly have been coming apart defensively, split a doubleheader with the St. Louis Cardinals, winning 5-0 then dropping an 8-2 decision in the nightcap when they committed six errors and two mental blunders. The loss dropped the Phils a half-game behind San Francisco.

In other National League action, the Chicago Cubs beat Houston 10-2 in the opener then dropped the 10-inning second game, 4-1; Milwaukee swept the New York Mets, 7-6, 9-0, and Cincinnati toppled Pittsburgh twice, 6-2, 6-5.

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., following a left-handed path to what he hopes will be his second straight Wimbledon tennis championship, met Abe Segal of South Africa today in a quarter-final round of the men's singles.

McKinley, top-ranking player in the United States and seeded second here behind Australia's Roy Emerson, had to overcome four left-handers in the first week of play. Although he occasionally had difficulty with them, the 23-year-old Texan was a strong choice to subdue Segal, another southpaw, on center court.

American hopes for a men's victory rested squarely with McKinley, the only survivor of an original 25-man U.S. delegation in the singles. If McKinley wins, he'll be the first Yank to score back-to-back successes here since Don Budge in 1937-1938.

Twins Rip White Sox
By United Press International
The Minnesota Twins keep hitting home runs while frustrated club President Calvin Griffith wheels and deals for pitchers who will make the slugging worthwhile.

Griffith has engineered 14 player changes in the last two weeks, including four in the past three days, but his powerful Twins still are no better than fourth place in the American League because they can't get the kind of pitching to match their tremendous hitting.

However, Griffith sees a ray of hope.

The Twins bought relief hurler Johnny Klippstein from the Philadelphia Phillies Sunday and last week they obtained veteran Al Worthington, both of whom Griffith feels will bolster his bullpen.

Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison and Zolo Versalles crashed home runs Sunday for the Twins in a six-run seventh inning as Minnesota plastered the Chicago White Sox, 9-3.

Rookies Shine
But what elated Griffith more than the home runs was the one-hit relief pitching of winner Worthington over the last 3 1/3 innings and the hitting and defensive work of rookies Ron Henry, a catcher, and Jim Snyder, a second baseman, who joined the club Saturday. Each drove in a run with a double and single, respectively.

The Baltimore Orioles increased their league lead to four games over the Yankees by beating Washington, 6-4, while New York was splitting a doubleheader with the Detroit Tigers, winning the opener on an eighth-inning grand-slam by Tom Tresh, 8-6, but losing 6-5 on Gates Brown's seventh-inning homer in the nightcap.

Tony Lema Wins Playoff
By JOE DURBIN
By United Press International
CLEVELAND (UPI)—Champion Tony Lema didn't win the U.S. Open Championship but he won everything else this month.

Lema captured the $110,000 Cleveland Open Sunday, his third victory since June 1, by defeating defending champion Arnold Palmer on the first hole of a sudden death playoff.

Lema won it by canning a 15-foot putt for a birdie after he had missed a "routine tap-in" on the 72nd hole that made the playoff necessary. He dropped the putt after Palmer's third shot, from just off the green, rolled 10 feet past the pin.

The 30-year-old Californian, after again ordering champagne for the press, described what happened on the 18th hole. "I guess I didn't have my mind on it," he said. "It was just a routine tap-in."

Summing up the victory, he said "after throwing it away, I was fortunate enough to get it back."

Magazine Article Illustrates Changes in Modern Industry

Financial Gossip
By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The constant change which characterizes modern industry has seldom been better illustrated than in a recently-published study of the chemical industry.

The emergence of petroleum companies as factors in the industry, the growth and diversity of new products and the expanding use of chemicals in the consumer products field, all are more or less familiar to the investor.

The study, which might almost bring the reader to ask himself where are the boundaries which define the chemical industry, goes into detail in developing the theme of "competition in the chemical industry."

Written by Jules Backman, research professor of economics at New York University and compiled from published data, it was published by the Manufacturing Chemists' Association, Inc., a trade group with headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Backman wrote that "there are no precise yardsticks to determine the effectiveness of competition in any industry."

"He says that there is no such thing as "pure or perfect competition."

But he also finds that "chemical companies operate in a dynamic and vigorous competitive environment. Competition is experienced from other chemical production (interproduct) and from products of other industries (interindustry). Competitors include other chemical companies, companies with a primary interest in other industries (especially petroleum) and foreign companies. Since there is a considerable volume of sales to other chemical companies another dimension of competition is the ability of many customers to produce their own raw materials (captive production)."

The publication cited the number of establishments producing basic chemicals climbed 67.2 per cent from the 1,015 in 1939 to 1,698 in 1958; those putting out fibers, plastics and rubber went from 71 in 1937 to 407 in 1958, up 473 per cent.

Most marked increases in the number of establishments were for plastic materials and for organic chemicals. But the author cautioned that new producers may get into a market by setting up a new establishment or by putting out new product lines in existing establishments. Hence the changes in number of establishments do not give a complete picture "of the dynamic pattern which has characterized the competitive picture for many chemical products," Backman wrote.

Amarillo Man Is Elected to Head Suppliers' Group

James S. Kone of Amarillo has been elected president of the Natural Gas Processors Suppliers Association. Other officers assuming office during a meeting of the organization's board in Houston Wednesday are: Rudy Zorn, Houston, vice president; Earl Nutter, Tulsa, vice president, and W. H. Plowman, Houston, treasurer.

Kone is president of James S. Kone & Co., with offices in Amarillo and Odessa. He is a veteran in the gas processing industry, having served in gasoline plant operations of Sunray DX Oil Co., Phillips Petroleum Co., and with Manning, Maxwell & Moore before forming his own supply company in 1950. He is a graduate of Austin College, Sherman, Texas, with a BS degree in chemistry.

Zorn is assistant sales manager for Cameron Iron Works, Houston. Nutter is president of Nutter Engineering Co., Tulsa, and Plowman is district manager for Goulds Pumps, Inc., Houston. All are veterans in the gas processing industry.

Junior Riding Queen Named at Canadian

CANADIAN — Eight members of the Canadian Junior Riding Club vied for the honor of being Junior Rodeo Queen for the 1964 show at the rodeo arena Sunday afternoon. Three of the girls, Sheila Stubbfield, Billie Snyder and Diana Wilson, tied for the honor. In a run-off ballot Diana won. Other contestants were Ann Murry, Brenda Green, Debbie Bessire, Janie Parsons and Linda Wilson.

Last year's queen, Louise Snyder, crowned the new queen. Diana will lead the Grand Entry at both performances of the annual Little Britches Rodeo which will be held here Wednesday afternoon and evening, July 1. The Little Britches Rodeo is open to youngsters between the ages of 8 and 16 years. Events will include boys and girls barrel racing, pony express races, pole bending, and team roping; calf roping and bull riding for the older boys and spear the hoop races for the older girls.

Last year a large number of area youngsters joined the Canadian cowboys and cowgirls at this annual event which is gaining in popularity each year.

Redistricting to Cause Shakeup in Legislature

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas legislature will be in for one of its most drastic shakeups in history under a redistricting mandate almost certain to face lawmakers when they meet in the 59th session next January.

If federal courts rule as expected in a suit now pending in Houston to redistrict the legislature on a strict population basis, at least 50 of the 150-seat House of Representatives will have to be drastically altered.

These 50 House seats all range from near 10,000 to as much as 30,000 under the population "norm" of 63,864 if the 150 seats were equally divided on the basis of the 1960 federal census.

Laws Unconstitutional
The U.S. Supreme Court already has ruled several state legislative districting laws unconstitutional because they primarily favor rural areas over urban districts.

Police Receive Note and Hat From Strangler

PARIS (UPI) — Police Commissioner Jean Samson received another calling card from the self-professed "Paris strangler" Saturday — and a battered old hat.

The man who claims two murder victims here in the past month said the hat belonged to one of them, a hobo.

Police have yet to find the body of the "clochard" that the prolific letter writer claims he threw into the Seine last week.

But police said evidence he has provided concerning 11-year-old Jean-Luc Taron, who was found strangled in a suburban forest May 24, is more ominous.

The "strangler's" letters were all in the same handwriting. They pinpointed the position of the boy's body.

The author of more than 40 letters to police and news media has said he is the son of a high French official who lives in the 15 Arrondissement (district), drives a Citroen D-S and learned his "philosophy of murder" in torture sessions during the Algerian war.

BOOSTS YARN PRICE
NEW YORK (UPI) — American Enka Corp. announced Thursday a price increase of 5 cents per pound on its 300 denier, 120 filament, high tenacity rayon yarn to 80 cents per pound.

The yarn is used in the manufacture of webbing braids and pressure-sensitized tapes.

NOW YOU KNOW
By United Press International Norway, whose heavy forests provide one of its major industries, has an area of 125,064 square miles, only 4,300 square miles of which is cultivated, according to the World Almanac.

This is exactly the case in Texas. Almost without failure, the rural districts run below the average while in the big cities representation is far above average.

If the state is redrawn on a near population basis, Houston and Harris County stand to gain seven House seats, Dallas County six seats, Bexar three and Tarrant two. If this comes about, the five big-city areas of Texas would have 53 seats in the lower chamber, or over one-third of that body.

A similar situation exists in the state Senate. That body has 31 seats and if they were drawn on a population-only basis, Houston would get a total of four state senators (it now has one), Dallas three and Fort Worth and San Antonio two each.

The 59th Legislature not only will face the problem of redrawing its own districts, but already is under federal court order to redistrict the state's 23 congressional seats on a population basis.

Thorny Subject
Observers at the Capitol all agree that redistricting will be a real thorny issue in the next session. Some predict the subject may force one or more special sessions to run into next summer.

Robert E. Johnson, executive director of the Texas Legislative Council, and his staff already have done extensive work on the congressional redistricting issue. The council has called public hearings July 9-10 in Fort Worth and Dallas and July 17 in Houston on the subject.

Most of the basic information we have turned up on congressional redistricting can be used if we have to do such a report on the legislature," Johnson said.

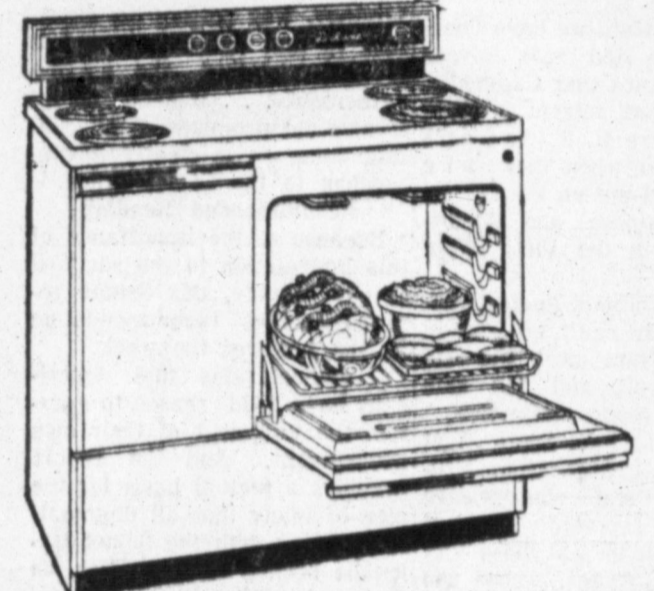

"We already have collected some basic information on the legislative districts. But there are a lot of questions that need to be answered on legislative redistricting."

Johnson pointed out that Texas has a redistricting board made up of the house speaker, lieutenant governor, attorney general, comptroller and land commissioner which is charged by law to redistrict the legislature if that body fails to do so the first regular session after each federal census.

"The legislature wrote a redistricting bill in 1961," Johnson pointed out. "Now, the question is: Can the legislature under the law redistrict itself a second time, and if it fails to do so, is the redistricting board to step in?"

Legislative redistricting is expected to be most controversial in the smaller rural districts. Some of them, like District 92 in the Panhandle, have only some 33,000 constituents. Wharton County, with 38,000 residents, also has its own representative.

So, all agree that the main attraction at the 59th Legislature will be redistricting.

Crude Oil Pipeline Returned to Service

HOUSTON (UPI)—A 57-year-old East Texas segment of a historic crude oil pipeline is being restored and returned to service as a carrier of refined petroleum products, the Gulf Oil Corp., announced Saturday.

A construction marvel of its day, the original eight-inch diameter line was built by Gulf in 1907 to transport crude oil from the newly discovered Glenn Pool field near Tulsa to Gulf's refinery more than 400 miles away at Port Arthur.

The Gulf Refining Co., the transportation subsidiary of Gulf Oil, is taking up 80 miles of the old system between Lufkin and Gulf's Big Sandy, Tex., pumping station near Tyler.

After reconditioning, reusable pipe is going into the construction of a new line which will transport automotive gasolines northward to serve Gulf's East Texas customers.

Construction of the original Glenn Pool-Port Arthur line began from Sour Lake, Tex., on Feb. 3, 1907 and from the Tulsa end on March 12. More than 3,000 men swung picks and shovels from daylight to dark, digging a ditch three feet deep and 413 miles long.

The project was completed in late August of the same year. The development of the prolific East Texas field in 1930-31, reversed the line's flow northward from Big Sandy to move crude to Gulf oil refineries in the Midwest. New lines from West Texas to Port Arthur were built later and the Lufkin-Big Sandy portion of the original crude system went out of service for a number of years.

MISS OKLAHOMA — Lovely 18-year-old Jane Hitch of Guyton, Okla., was crowned Miss Oklahoma of 1964 at ceremonies in Tulsa, Okla. Miss Hitch lives on a ranch in far western Oklahoma and plans to study drama at Oklahoma State University.

on my last car!
How? Through my State Farm Mutual agent. He helped me get financing through a local cooperating bank. And that low cost bank financing really saves you money! Then I insured the car with State Farm too, and enjoyed the extra value of their insurance. Guess a lot of car owners save like this through State Farm. Say... why don't you call your State Farm agent?

PAMPA Business News...

SURPLUS CITY — Pampa's most complete line of sporting goods are being offered at bargain prices at Surplus City, 403 S. Cuyler. The local store has also added hundreds of new items to the stock to make shopping a pleasure for Top of Texas residents.

Pampa's Surplus City Offers Complete Sporting Goods Line

"Going fishing on that vacation? If so, be sure to drop in at Surplus City, 403 S. Cuyler, to choose from the most complete line of fishing and boating equipment in Pampa." Tom Glitsch, owner, said. "If you don't want to rough it, be sure and look over our complete selection of camping equipment."

Surplus City has added hundreds of items to their stock recently, including many different types of Army surplus.

"We also cater to the women," Glitsch said. "Our stock includes many health and beauty aids plus housewares and women's clothing featuring the lowest prices in the Top of Texas area."

Surplus City has a competent staff to better serve area residents. Included on the sales staff are Tom Glitsch, Jimmy Roland, manager; Carolyn Goodner, clerk; and Randy Glitsch, 10-year old salesman. Glitsch has had considerable experience in merchandising which has proven to be of great value in the operation of the local store. He has made Surplus City the little "big" store where shopping is a real pleasure.

Glitsch asks that you too join the many folks who are already shopping at Surplus City and enjoy the friendly atmosphere.

"You will especially enjoy shopping for many everyday items plus many hard-to-get items and of course unusual merchandise," he said. "Come on in, the savings are tremendous. We're the working man's friend and we're right on the corner plus right on the price."

TIPRO Meet to Spotlight Federal Antitrust Efforts

AUSTIN — Federal antitrust efforts will occupy a major share of the spotlight when the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association holds its 18th annual meeting in Fort Worth September 13-15. TIPRO president E. Bruce Street of Graham announced Tuesday that both William H. Orrick, chief of the Antitrust Division in the U.S. Department of Justice, and Trade Commissioner Everett A. MacIntyre are to speak to the several hundred independents expected for the three-day meeting.

Assistant Attorney General Orrick has in recent months intensified the Antitrust Department's attack on oil industry monopoly trends, with that effort very much in the national spotlight now.

The FTC, with MacIntyre as one of its five commissioners, is currently considering the possibility of a gasoline marketing rule to deal with the marketing chaos, one of the underlying factors in the crude price erosion which has hit Texas and its independents so hard in recent years. TIPRO has asked that if such a hearing is held it be allowed to participate, contending that any such rule would have a bearing on crude prices, independents, and Texas.

Antitrust Chief Orrick practiced law privately in San Francisco before President Kennedy appointed him to the Department of Justice in 1961. A year and a half later he was called by the State Department to be its undersecretary for administration. In June 1963, he returned to the Justice Department and replaced Lee Loevinger as head of Antitrust.

Trade Commissioner MacIntyre in his long public service career has had extensive experience analyzing the problems of small businessmen. He became an attorney examiner for the Trade Commission in 1930, rose to become chief of the division of antitrust trials in its bureau of litigation. In 1955 MacIntyre was legal advisor on anti-monopoly cases, resigning that year to become staff director and general counsel of the House Select Committee on Small Business. President Kennedy named him as a Trade Commissioner in September, 1961.

Much of the spadework for the Robinson-Patman Act, the basis for Mid-Continent Independent Refiners Association's request for a hearing on gasoline marketing, was laid by MacIntyre. While still with the Trade Commission as an attorney he was loaned as chief counsel to a special House committee investigating large-scale buying and selling.
