Week Big for Boys of PHS

The old saying "the worm turned" holds true this week at Pampa High School. For what the young men of the school call "one sweet week," the male population of PHS will be able to fold their arms and stand still while the girls of the school ask them for help.

This backward situation comes in TWIRP (The Woman is Requested To Pay) week, which started off at 9 a.m. today. It's all fun and games for the boys, but hard work for the girls, according to TWIRP Week chairman Richard Fatheree. Fatheree explained that boys have written the rules and are awaiting the result of their efforts.

There are the TWIRP Week as laid down by Fatheree. All girls must have a TWIRP Week license, which is 10 cents, in order to ask a boy for a date.

Girls must defray all expenses on the date. Girls must furnish transportation. Girls must buy the boy a drink.

Girls must walk their dates to the door after date. Girls must be the ones to make the telephone calls. We aren't trying to make it hard on the girls," Fatheree said, "but just to put a dint in their purses."

The TWIRP Week program, of course, is a fun-type thing at high school and will be held on Friday night by a TWIRP hootenanny.

Meanwhile, the girls are warned to get out the baseball bats, for favorites may be hard to find with so many young ladies knocking them out.

Russians Eye Liberal Law On Divorces

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet legislators today worked on a liberal family law that will remove ill-era restrictions on divorce and guarantee equal rights for illegitimate children. Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has no intention of returning to the early Communist laws that permitted divorce by postcard to the view expressed by a Communist leader shortly after the revolution that sex appetites should be satisfied simply as the need for a glass of water.

What his government does in is to cut away the red encumbering divorce suits and to provide more protection for children born out of wedlock.

EMERGENCY AID — Wounded Turkish Cypriots are shown in a community center, converted into an emergency hospital in the Turkish sector of Limassol, Cyprus, following bloody fighting with Greek Cypriots.

Britain Reinforces Armies To Curb Fighting in Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—Britain reinforced its peace-keeping forces in Cyprus today in an effort to curb the communal fighting while the United Nations seeks a solution to the crisis.

President Archbishop Makarios warned Sunday night that there is danger of increased fighting between Greeks and Turks on the island and foreign intervention unless a settlement is found soon. He said "mere recourse" to the United Nations does not mean a satisfactory solution.

The United Nations Security Council was opening debate on the Cyprus problem this afternoon. Britain and Cyprus, a former British colony, requested the council meeting after Anglo-American efforts to establish an international peace force in Cyprus failed.

Situation Is Explosive
While the situation remained potentially explosive, the immediate threat of military intervention by Turkey or Greece appeared abated pending U.N. consideration of the problem.

(Some sources in London close to the Cyprus problem felt the Makarios government was becoming fragmented, with the archbishop having only limited control. The sources said the dangers were increased by the existence of "private armies" in the countryside and arms smuggling to Greek Cypriots.)

Industries of Pampa Listed in Fact Book

(EDITOR'S NOTE: — This is the third in a series of articles based on information found in the Industrial Facts Book prepared on Pampa by Texas A&M University for the Chamber of Commerce's industrial development committee.)

By GLENN McCASLAND
There are some 311 business industries located in Pampa according to the recent survey conducted by Texas A&M University.

Leading the list are gasoline stations with 58 in number and drug-drinking establishments second with 55 total. Food stores are 37 in number and oil field supply firms rank fourth with 35.

A total of 39 wholesalers operate out of Pampa with 17 of these gasoline and petroleum products and 12 of them automotive parts and supply companies.

Undersecretary of State George Ball, who headed the U.S. peace mission to Cyprus, Greece and Turkey, said on returning to Washington Sunday night that the situation in Cyprus is "very critical." He said top priority must be given to stopping the bloodshed between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Send In Troops
With communal fighting erupting daily, the British ordered 260 crack troops from the Royal Guards regiment, equipped with armored cars, to reinforce the 5,000 British troops policing this Mediterranean island republic.

British authorities also began setting up numerous subsidiary headquarters all over the island to act as fire stations for rapid action when shooting starts in the villages.

The dispute stems from Turkish Cypriot fears they will lose their minority rights under constitutional changes proposed by Makarios. Fighting broke out in December, killing 200 persons before a ceasefire was called under supervision of the British security forces. Greeks in Cyprus outnumber the Turks four to one.

Barry, Rockefeller Push Campaign Drive

By United Press International
With the New Hampshire primary only three weeks away, Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller stepped up their campaign activities in a final drive for Republican votes.

Goldwater said Sunday he had regained all of the support he may have lost after the assassination of President Kennedy and that his campaign organization was way ahead of any other candidate.

The Arizona conservative intends to return to New Hampshire Tuesday. Rockefeller is scheduled to resume his tours of the state Wednesday. The election is March 10.

The two most prominent candidates for the GOP nomination have been out of the state on other chores, but continued their criticism of the Johnson administration and each other.

Smith Ends Tour
Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, a third announced candidate, winding up a week of low-key campaigning in the New England state, said she might return before the election if there was no pressing business in the Senate.

Harold E. Stassen, the fourth announced candidate, said in Minneapolis Sunday that he was confident of beating President Johnson in November.

After an organization meeting in Chicago during the weekend, Goldwater said he already had about 450 convention delegates for certain and another 125 "practically sure." He said he was counting delegates from Illinois and Nebraska, but not from California, New Hampshire or Oregon.

The bulk of his support, Goldwater said, was in the Midwest, the Far West and the South.

Union Leader Plans to Halt Wheat Loading

Longshoremen Demand Shipments Be Made in More U.S. Vessels

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—A union leader threatened today to halt loading of American wheat for Russia aboard every ship along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts unless the government agrees to send more of the grain in U.S. vessels.

Thomas W. (Teddy) Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA), demanded that the government live up to a commitment that he said guaranteed shipments of 50 per cent of the grain in American ships.

"We've got three ships tied up today and we'll tie up very single ship on the coast with grain," Gleason said.

"I demand—I don't request—that the government live up to its commitments for we are not going to load even American ships."

Consider Wheat Deal
Gleason's statement was made at an open meeting of the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department's Executive Board considering the Soviet wheat deal.

The board denounced Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges for "trying to appease selfish business interests" by revising the requirements for ships to be used in carrying grain to Russia.

A resolution adopted by the board said it was "shameful" that the Commerce Department had become an agent of the grain traders and urged President Johnson to intervene before an international crisis develops.

The board said Johnson should instruct all federal agencies to abide by a promise it said was made by the late President John F. Kennedy that 50 per cent of the wheat would be sent in American ships.

"We are not going for any other deal," Gleason said. His position was backed by the maritime union's chiefs.

Criticizes Hodges
Paul Hall, president of the department and the Seafarers International Union, sharply criticized Hodges for telling the union they were coming dangerously close to interference in U.S. foreign policy.

The conferees were trying to work out differences between the $11.2 billion tax cut approved by the House and the $11.8 billion reduction voted by the Senate.

The conflict between the two was considered minor and both sides were predicting quick agreement. The individual and corporate tax rate cuts approved by both Houses are identical.

The conferees agreed last week to cut the individual income tax withholding rate to 14 per cent this year to pump an extra $800 million a month into the economy quickly.

Few Copies of Book on Kennedy Still Available

A few remaining copies of "Four Days," a factual account of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, are available to the public at the Pampa Daily News.

The books, published jointly by United Press International and American Heritage Foundation, may be obtained by contacting the Pampa Daily News office.

The third prepaid order of the books is being mailed to those who requested them this week and should reach residents within the next day or two.

Expert Calls Picture Theft Job of 'Maniac'

BRUSSELS (UPI)—A Rubens painting valued at $1 million was stolen during the weekend from Brussels' Ancient Art Museum by thieves who broke in through a skylight, police said today.

"Only a maniac could have stolen this painting," the museum's former director, Leo van Puyvelde, said. "It cannot be sold—or even shown—anywhere in the world."

The police announcement set no price for the painting, but another art expert, Urbain van de Voorde, called it one of the 17th century Flemish master's greatest and said it was worth at least $1 million.

The painting, one of the world's most valuable, is entitled "Negroes' Heads."

The thieves broke into the museum through a skylight, removed the 18 by 26 inch painting from its frame, left the frame behind, and escaped with the canvas, police said.

The painting is a national treasure, a Belgian government designation for especially valuable works of art in this artistic nation.

It depicts the heads of four Moors—Negroes from North Africa—and is a study for a later work considered the masterpiece of the painter, "The Adoration of the Magi."

The painting is reproduced on Belgium's 500-franc notes. It is as familiar to Belgians as the portraits of American presidents on U.S. currency.

Van de Voorde said the painting is one of the greatest paintings Rubens ever created. "It is nearly impossible to attach a price to it but I would say it is worth at least 50 million francs ($1 million)," he said. "It is a national treasure."

Peter Paul Rubens, the Flemish master who lived and worked in what is now Belgium at the end of the 16th and beginning of the 17th century, found the Moorish models for his painting in the port of Antwerp.

Trial for Jack Ruby Started

By H. D. QUIGG
DALLAS (UPI)—Jack Ruby's lawyers, challenging "the climate of Dallas," demanded at the start of his murder trial today that jurors as well as spectators be searched.

Judge Joe B. Brown rejected the defense demand as well as defense requests for a directed verdict of acquittal on grounds of insanity and double jeopardy.

Ruby, smiling cheerfully, entered the court through a little green door and took his seat. His sister, Mrs. Eva L. Grant, and his brother Earl Ruby of Detroit, sat among the spectators in the stuffy room.

The judge accepted the defense announcement that Tom Howard of Dallas, the first attorney to come to the aid of the slayer of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, had withdrawn from the case.

Chief defense attorney Melvin Belli and his assistant, J. H. Tonahill, argued with the judge over security arrangements.

Jurors Not Searched
"The records will show that everyone who enters the room has been searched except the jurors," Brown said.

"We want to know why," said Tonahill.

Belli chimed in to argue the jurors must be searched so they know about what he has repeatedly referred to as "the climate of Dallas." The defense contends Ruby cannot get a fair trial in the city.

"Mr. Belli, they (the jurors) won't know anything about it unless you tell them," Brown replied.

A batch of 125 names was being taken by lot from a panel of 900 prospective jurors.

Tonahill, seeking acquittal on grounds of insanity, said medical examinations show Ruby suffered organic brain damage and psychomotor epilepsy, which is characterized by forgetfulness and impulsive acts.

Brown refused that and also turned down a request to have every policeman, Texas Ranger and deputy in the courtroom identified.

The trial started at 9:05 a.m. with the defense "regretfully" announcing that Howard had left the team.

Approves Withdrawal
Howard said he pulled out after talking to Ruby and his family. The judge approved the withdrawal motion, a technical one. (See RUBY, Page 3)

Maximum Protection Sought For Americans in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI)—The United States stepped up security measures today and demanded "maximum protection" for Americans in Saigon following the terrorist bombing of a U.S. armed forces movie theater in which three persons were killed.

U.S. authorities placed heavily armed military policemen on school buses for American children, assigned extra guards at American installations and closed the United Service Organization (USO).

The bomb that shattered the Capitol Kinde Theater Sunday night was the third attack in a week by Communist terrorist guerrillas on U.S. servicemen and their wives and children. Forty-nine persons also were injured in the attack, and sev-

Joan Carroll Nye and Jim Tidwell Exchange Wedding Vows in Denton

Miss Joan Carroll Nye became the bride of Jim Tidwell in a double ring ceremony read by the Rev. Dean E. K. pastor of the Highland Baptist Church in Denton January 24. Vows were exchanged before a floral arrangement of white gladioli.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Nye, 2114 N. Summer, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tidwell of Dallas.

BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white wool suit with matching accessories and a white satin pillbox hat. She carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations.

ATTENDANTS
Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Beth Pearson. She wore a blue wool suit with matching accessories and a carnation corsage of white.

Mrs. Nye chose for her daughter's wedding a pink wool sheath with matching accessories. The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Tidwell, wore a blue silk sheath with matching accessories. Mrs. Tidwell is a 1963 graduate of Pampa High School and attended North Texas State University. She is presently employed by the Floyd West Insurance Co. in Dallas. The bridegroom is a student at North Texas State University and is an accounting major. The couple is at home in Dallas.

Clothes Poll

A clothes closet can be a time-saver if it's properly organized. It can cause valuable minutes to be wasted if it's cluttered. The truth of this little homily was brought home to me the hard way.

I was embarrassingly late for an important engagement because I couldn't find the purse I'd planned to carry. It was buried under Christmas packages, hat boxes and other purses — all of which came tumbling off the closet shelf. Even the purse that hit me on the head wasn't the one I wanted to use.

The next day found me at the notion counter, where for a few well-spent dollars I bought closet accessories that have proved to be the nearest timesavers I've ever seen.

My first purchase was a combination hanging shoe and handbag holder. Only 10 inches wide, it can store 18 pairs of shoes and four handbags. Instead of several small garment bags, I bought a suit bag and one matching jumbo bag that holds 30 garments without crushing even one. The clothes are easy to get at, for the bags open on three sides.

These storage containers are all transparent so that I can see any item at a glance, except for one chintz bag I use for furs. Plastic doesn't permit fur to breathe.

Now all that's on my closet shelf are my neatly lined-up hatboxes. And what a satisfying sight a tidy closet can be.

If I ever get another lump on my head, it won't be from a falling purse.

Chic Chat:
Q — "I saved for a long time to buy alligator shoes, and the first time I wore them they became spotted and muddy. I can't find any polish made especially for reptile and I'm afraid to use ordinary leather polish on the shoes. Can you suggest the name of a good polish for alligator?" — L. D.

Dear L. D. — Never use polish on alligator. Just wipe the shoes with a damp cloth. The leather retains its own natural luster and doesn't need polishing.

Q — "I have a white fake fur coat. It was inexpensive, but it's got a looker. It gets soiled quick, yet each time I have it cleaned it costs me nearly $10 because my cleaner says it must be cleaned in the same manner as fur. Is this true? If so, it seems I made a silly purchase." — Florence J.

Dear Florence J. — Fake fur can be cleaned by the ordinary dry-cleaning process, but it may not look as good as it would if cleaned with the process for fur. Any white outer garment uses up a fortune in cleaning bills and should only be bought for occasional wear unless one has money to burn.

DISCOVER MOUNTAINS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. Navy fliers discovered a mountain range in Antarctica Monday and dropped an American flag on its highest peak.

Navy Secretary Paul Nitze announced Wednesday that the 4,000 to 5,000 foot mountains were sighted in an uncharted area of Queen Maud land. The mountains are an extension of the Shackleton Range, rising to 80 to 100 miles west of known peaks.

DEAR ABBY: I am a senior in high school and I like a boy who is also a senior. Even though he has never asked me out, when we had our big Girl - Ask-Boy dance, I asked him to go. He said he was sorry but he was a Junior Volunteer Fireman, and he might get a call that night. Then the Rainbow Girls had a dance and I asked him again. He said his sister was having a baby and it might be born that night, so he didn't think he should make any plans. Now the Girls' Glee Club is giving their big Annual Hayride and I want to ask him, but I am wondering if maybe he might get the idea that I am chasing him.

BLONDE AND CUTE
DEAR BLONDE: He's just might.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is a good-looking, well-educated, charming young woman in her early thirties. All her life she has disappointed us by her choice of friends. She was married and divorced three times in ten years to three of the lowest characters you could imagine. One is serving time now in a Federal penitentiary. She has recently taken up with another inferior type. He is lazy, illiterate and dishonest. We know we can't live our daughter's life for her, but we want to help her. Why, oh why, does an intelligent, well-bred girl, who could have had any number of fine men, prefer these worthless, good-for-nothing characters?

HEARTSICK MOTHER
DEAR HEARTSICK: Your daughter has a feeling of worthlessness, and is at ease only with those to whom she can feel superior. A psychiatrist could probably tell her why. But unless SHE wants to know, no one can help her.

DEAR ABBY: A relative is my concern. He is his own worst enemy. He is a poor listener, and will interrupt anyone to change the subject to tell his point of view. He is arrogant and sarcastic when someone disagrees with him, whether it is at the bridge table or in general conversation. His bragging is insufferable, and if he didn't have money nobody would put up with him for a minute. I would like to be helpful. But how?

A RELATIVE
DEAR RELATIVE: He does not want "help" — he wants an audience. Avoid him.

No-Bake Chocolate Cheesecake Is Easy to Fix, Low in Calories

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Here's a three star cheesecake — (1) It "bakes" in the refrigerator. (2) It is relatively low in calories. (3) It is low in cost. Most important, it is delicious. So let's go:
NO-BAKE CHOCOLATE CHEESECAKE
(8 to 10 servings)
½ cup graham cracker crumbs
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 package (4 ounces) chocolate pudding mix
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
2 cups water
½ cup sugar
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 cup creamed cottage cheese
½ cup instant nonfat milk crystals
½ cup ice water

2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup sugar
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
½ cup chopped almonds
½ cup flaked coconut
Mix together crumbs, 1 tablespoon sugar and butter. Press in bottom of 8-cup mold. Combine pudding mix, gelatin, 2 cups water, ½ cup sugar and egg yolks in saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cool thoroughly. Beat cottage cheese and pudding mixture until blended. Combine instant crystals with ice water and whip until soft peaks form (3 to 4 minutes). Add lemon juice and continue whipping until stiff peaks form (3 to 4 minutes longer). Gradually add ½ cup sugar. Fold whipped instant crystals, egg whites, almonds and coconut into pudding mixture. Pour into mold over crumb mixture. Chill until set (at least 3 hours). Unmold. Garnish with additional almonds and coconut, as desired.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE BRANDSTADT
Q — I am 78, and I have a constant roaring in my head. It is usually worse at night. What causes this? Is there any help for it?

A — The most annoying thing about head noises is that you can't shut out the sounds by using earplugs, or by going into another room and closing the door. Head noises are usually worse at night because there is less background noise. There are many causes of these noises.

You should have your doctor determine the cause. The earlier corrective measures are applied, the more likely you are to get relief.

In some persons allergy may be the cause. In others it may be an accumulation of hardened wax pressing on the eardrum. Obstruction of the Eustachian tube leading from the throat to the middle ear is another cause.

Such drugs as aspirin, quinine and streptomycin and heavy smoking will cause head noises in some persons. Sometimes, if a personal idiosyncrasy exists, a relatively small amount of the drug will do it. In a person who is over 65, arteriosclerosis is the most likely cause. Here, one of the many drugs that dilates the arteries may give relief.

Otosclerosis, an inherited disease in which there is hardening of the cartilages that connect the minute bones of the inner ear, which enable you to hear, can be corrected by an operation.

Q — What would cause the corners of my mouth to crack? One corner will split and, just as it seems to be healed, the other side will crack.

A — Cracking of the corners of your mouth may be caused by a low-grade infection. Different germs have been implicated. Ammoniated mercury ointment or sulfadiazine ointment will usually clear up the infection. If this fails, a lotion containing amphotericin B should be applied two or three times a day.

Q — I have been taking Decadron for arthritis. Are there any harmful side effects?

A — Dexamethasone (Decadron) is closely related to cortisone and may cause the same side effects — peptic ulcer, moonface, softening of the bones, insomnia and hemorrhages in the skin. These effects occur only when large doses are continued for a prolonged period. This drug should be taken under regular medical supervision.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.C., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Newest BB Proves Success

By ALICIA HART
A bun and a bang go over big with Parisian teen-agers, according to Alexandre, a hair stylist in the City of Light.

He claims that Paris suddenly recognizes the teen-ager as a factor in make-up and coiffure fashions. If true, this means this fashion center of the world has been dragging its feet because the influence of American teen-agers in this area is unquestioned.

Be that as it may, Alexandre dictates that the young woman's hairdo be simple, that she may have a bun but not a sugarloaf on top for parties. For less formal occasions, she will wear her hair plain and smooth. The secret to this simplicity is expert cutting, careful shampooing, lots of brushing and adroit use of hair sprays and setting solutions. Once it dries, you are ready to brush out your new coif.

If you would like to try one of the latest Alexandre designs, have your hair cut all around to earlobe length. Set it to wear with a fringe, or bangs, to the eyebrows. If long bangs make you look too much like a sheepdog, modify the length to suit your face.

Set your hair on large rollers, beginning with the bangs. Use two large rollers on each side above the ears with the one farthest from the face slanted toward the back. Turn the hair under on the rollers.

Incidentally, instead of using one of the body permanent lotions after a shampoo, you now can use spray that adds body.

DeLuxe Apples Are A Party Dessert When Teamed With Vanilla Sauce

By GAYNOR MADDOX
With so many fine apples in the market now, let's try this de luxe variation on the old-fashioned baked apple.

Actually, it is a party dessert with a cool, vanilla-flavored creamy sauce.
ALMOND BAKED APPLES
(6 Servings)
6 medium-large baking apples
¼ cup (4 tablespoons) butter or margarine, melted
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
4 tablespoons sugar
¼ cup very finely chopped blanched almonds
1 tablespoon water
6 teaspoons butter or margarine
Vanilla sauce
Peel apples and remove cores. Roll whole apples in melted butter or margarine and then in bread crumbs mixed with 2 tablespoons of the sugar. Mix almonds and remaining sugar to a paste, adding a little water until well blended. Spoon into the cavities of apples. Place in a baking pan and dot each with 1 teaspoon butter or margarine. Cover with foil and bake in a preheated 350-degree oven (moderate) 40 minutes. Remove cover and bake 45 minutes or until apples are tender. Baking time depends upon size and type of apple.

Vanilla Sauce
(2 pints)
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cornstarch
1-16 teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks
1 cup milk
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in the top part of a double boiler. Blend in egg yolks and ¼ cup of the milk. Add remaining milk. Stir and cook over hot water (not boiling) until custard thickens and coats a metal spoon. Remove from hot water and cool. Fold in whipped cream and pure vanilla extract. Serve over Almond Baked Apples.

The Mature Parent Four Year Old Rebel Is Scared and Confused

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: This indulgence collides with his own constantly increasing experience of denied wants. When he wants to wiggle his finger in his glass of milk, he gets, "No — drink it up or I'll take it away." When he wants to splash in the bathtub, he gets, "No, none of that now. It's time to go to bed."

If you have not noted the contrast between grown-up indulgence of baby's every wish and resistance to most of his brother's wishes, the brother has noted it. Flinging dirt on that baby's laundry was passionate protest against the baby's over-privileged state.

I'm sorry he stuck out his tongue at you. But I'm sorrier that you can't think of anything better to do about it than run away.

If you want to complete this visit, start right now to help your grandson to form some wishes which can be indulged without making everybody irritable.

Why doesn't his grandfather propose that he wish for a rope swing in the back yard — and then GRANT the wish by constructing the swing for him?

Why don't you propose that he wish to make a picnic out of lunch — and then GRANT that wish by producing his picnic on the back lawn?

What about using your hands to make the point that indulgence of wants is not that baby's monopoly?

Does BLADDER IRRITATION MAKE YOU NERVOUS?

After 21, common kidney or bladder irritations affect twice as many women as men and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent, burning or itching urination both day and night. Occasionally, you may lose sleep and suffer from headache, backache and feet aches. Urine, depressed, in such irritation, CYSTEX usually brings fast, relaxing relief by soothing irritating areas in strong, acid urine and by analgesic pain relief. Get CYSTEX at drugstores. The Carbon Black Division of Cabot, Pampa Foundry and Panhandle Packing Co. are third in employees with 50-99 in the books. Pampa Daily News and Cities Service Petroleum Co. run fourth with 25-49 employees.

Business indices in Pampa show utility connections in December of 1962 at 9,421 electric meters, 13,544 telephone connections, 7,954 water connections and 8,328 gas meters. Scholastics show 6,152 students as of October of the same year, $255,231 postal receipts (adjusted), $1,238,458 in building permits, 21,979 motor vehicle registrations in the county and total deposits in banks and savings and loan firms $70,331,000.

Armed with this information, the Industrial Facts Book turns to another field, which must be combined with the above facts in order to better paint a picture of growth and prospects for the city. (NEXT WEEK: Utilities and Communications.)

Wheeler Charges Man on 2 Counts

WHEELER — A Dumas machine operator was charged today in County Court here with two counts of theft after his arrest by Texas Rangers and highway patrolmen in Pampa Sunday morning.

Benny Burkes, 34, was charged with the theft of 18 bales of hay from a ranch 14 miles east of Wheeler on Highway 152 Saturday.

He also was charged with theft of 15 additional bales some 10 days ago at the same place, which is located about 100 yards off the highway, according to Wheeler County Attorney Guy Hardin.

Burkes was arrested by Pampa Texas Ranger Bill Baten and highway patrolmen while driving through Gray County in a pickup truck after Sheriff Bus Dorman radioed for him to be held.

Dorman returned Burkes to Wheeler County Sunday afternoon. Hardin said the man would be given a hearing in county court this afternoon.

Ruby

Belli and his staff presented a motion asking the prosecution to provide photos and documents pertaining to the slaying of the accused assassin of President Kennedy. Brown sharply reminded the defense he had rejected that request during earlier hearings and he rejected it again.

Ruby, neat in a dark suit, white shirt and gray tie, smiled and said "good morning" to his counsel as he entered the room.

During his bail bond and change of venue hearings newsmen had been permitted to talk with him before court sessions. But not today.

Belli, never a man to miss an opportunity, charged before the trial started that his hotel room and telephone have been "bugged" by somebody or other.

"My phone has been bugged, my room has been bugged," he said. "That's the reason we've been working away from here."

The statement was made at the end of an interview in Belli's room at the Statler-Hilton Hotel. He and his assistants have been working elsewhere preparing for the questioning of prospective jurors in a town whose image he says "is that it has to vindicate itself."

Belli—a man so skilled in the medical nuances of the law that his cronies call him "Doc"—today was on a new tack: Trying, by actually quizzing prospective jurors, to convince a down-to-earth judge that Dallas is sick with a fever of subconscious guilt.

It's a fever that permeates the citizenry so thoroughly, he contends, that they are rendered unfit to sit in judgment on the killer of the man accused of killing John F. Kennedy.

That is the announced intention of the chief defense counsel for Jack Leon Ruby, 32, a former Chicago brawler whose skin now is sickly pale, whose balding hair tops off a personality that defense mental experts call psychopathic.

The long-awaited murder trial of Jack Ruby, the striptease joint proprietor, physical culture devotee, boxing follower, and Dallas police buff, came up to its 9 a.m., opening today with the defendant increasingly edgy—and, really, no trial at all is on yet.

The case of the State of Texas versus Jack Ruby was to have a very short day. It began a week during which Belli said he would show by questioning of prospective jurors that it is obvious no fair jury can be got here. He believed he could do it by Friday.

Suspects Sought In Store Theft

WHEELER — Sheriff's Deputies today were seeking two suspects in the Saturday night burglary of a Mobeetie grocery in which a large amount of groceries was taken.

Sheriff Bus Dorman said the Atkins Grocery and Market in New Mobeetie was found broken in about 10:30 p.m. Saturday.

He said the burglars took some 20 cartons of cigarettes, five baked hams, 12 sacks of sausage, a five-pound block of cheese, several pounds of bacon, weiners and a large amount of bread.

Some $20 in nickels and dimes was also removed from the store's cash box, Dorman said. Entry was gained by breaking the glass of the front door and opening the lock from the inside.

Dorman said one suspect was checked out early Sunday, but no arrest in the burglary had been made.

Cause of Death For Sears Told

CANYON — Cause of death of Don Sears, 19-year-old Pampa youth who was found dead last Tuesday in his room at West Texas State University, was listed this week as natural causes.

Justice of the Peace W. A. (Bill) Wilson said investigation showed young Sears died from pulmonary edema, a myocardial failure, probably caused by ventricular fibrillation.

Wilson said this was fluid on the lungs which Sears' heart could not take care of and brought about a complete "breakdown of the heart muscles."

Wilson said the case was closed with his ruling.

Sporting Sidelines

by JEFF COHANE

THE NATIONAL Football League, or the television networks, whichever are to blame, have really struck a blow at their own foundations when they decided to televise football games on Friday night.

Both colleges and high schools have protested strongly, but plans are going right ahead. Any question of whether professional sports are a monopoly seems to be resolved by this one. Baseball ruined its own minor leagues with television, boxing killed its own "farm clubs" with TV, and now pro football is striking at its own grass roots... high school football.

LET US TAKE the state of Texas as an example. Although schools in some states play on Saturdays still, Texas high school football is almost entirely, play on Friday nights. To 4-A high schools, football is the major source of sports revenue.

While a traditional like Pampa-Amarillo or White Deer-Panhandle or McLean-Lefors would draw regardless of anything short of World War III; what would the average Pampa football fan do, unless dedicated to the Harvesters, if he were offered a choice of Pampa-Caprock in snow, cold or rain, and the New York Giants vs. the Chicago Bears in his nice, warm living room?

PRO FOOTBALL has always been particularly blessed. While other sports such as baseball have either had to raise their own or get their talent through tremendous bonuses, the pros have had a ready-made farm system... the colleges. After a boy has played, been taught and is fully grown, then the pros step in and reap the fruit of many years of high school and college labor.

Yes, high school labor! How many college players make a team if they haven't played high school ball? Not very many. So... in order to have their material ready-made, the pros should, by all means, nurture the high schools.

INSTEAD, they are pulling a maneuver that could very well cut their throats. It is conceivable that the TV competition could kill football in the eight-man and six-man and Class B schools, (and just as great pros come out of little college like Philander Smith and William Jewell, great college stars often come out of little schools like Wheeler and Booker) and force the large schools to cut down drastically on their programs due to a cut in revenue. Eventually, like boxing, they will have killed their own farm system.

Far-fetched? That's what they said about it hurting the minors when they started broadcasting pro baseball some 15 years ago!

MCKINLEY WINS MEET PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Wimbledon champion Chuck McKinley defeated Raphael Osuna, 6-3, 8-6, 5-7, 4-6, 6-3, Sunday to win the Philadelphia indoor tennis championships at St. Joseph's College Field House.

ROZELLE ENDORSES PRO LEGISLATION WASHINGTON (UPI) — National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle today endorsed legislation to exempt major professional team sports from the antitrust laws.

ROZELLE, in his prepared testimony, said the bill was "an informed and intelligent response to a situation which requires legislative action." He urged its "early passage."

The NFL commissioner said it was clear that "there is no present basis" for discrimination between different sports. But, he said, the answer "lies not in questioning the existing status of baseball, but in extending like privileges to all sports leagues."

Liberal Not At Baseball Loop Meet

STINNETT (Sp1) — Representatives of Liberal, Kans., failed to show up for yesterday's Tri-State Baseball League meeting, apparently confirming their announced withdrawal from the League.

League secretary Travis Lively read a copy of the Pampa Daily News of Feb. 1 which recorded an article from the Liberal newspaper quoting officials of the Bee - Jays as having decided to pull out of the league. Leo Dromgoole, league statistician and Borger sportswriter, confirmed the newspaper report.

All members condemned the statements of W. A. Shufelberger of Liberal, former league secretary - treasurer, as to why he had recommended pulling out of the league, stating that Shufelberger's alleged reasons (that Amarillo was planning to pull out and that the league was going to schedule nothing but weekend games) for withdrawal were completely untrue.

Tom Glover, manager of the Pampa Colts, said "There seems little doubt but that Liberal is, as announced in the papers, pulling out, but they could have had the decency to notify us officially rather than just having to read about it in the newspapers."

With Woodward, Kans. also apparently out of the league, officials discussed the possibility of inviting Umberger and Silverton of the Irrigation League, who contended in last year's NBC district tournament at Borger, to join the loop. "The Tri-State League will continue in operation regardless of who pulls out," declared Glover.

"We have a good league and some good teams and we intend to continue things that way."

In other business, the league voted to raise the entry fee from $25 to $35 per team, so as to have extra operating capital. Minor changes in league rules, such as a tightening up of the forfeiture clause were also agreed on. The league also voted to back president Jack Anderson for director of this year's NBC district tournament, being sought by both Borger and Pampa.

THE game in the Ozarks will leave the Aggies with only one more road game—against TCU March 3—and if they can win both games this week will be in the enviable position of having three of their last four games against three tough foes—SMU, Tech and Texas—at home.

SMU and Arkansas try to stay in sight of the top tomorrow night against tough competition with Arkansas at Houston against Rice (4-4) and SMU at home to Texas (4-4). Saturday night action will have Baylor at Rice and TCU at Texas.

Tech overcame a huge deficit to trip A&M 84-82 in the final two seconds last week to pull the Aggies down a peg, but then the Raiders stumbled 78-76 on the road against Texas while the Aggies returned home to beat Rice 79-67.

Arkansas Matches SMU Arkansas beat SMU 83-71 and then downed Baylor 73-61 to climb up even with SMU as the latter bounced back to beat TCU 85-75.

Bradds Bolsters Buckeyes' Bid

By United Press International Life begins at 40 for All-America Gary Bradds.

Bradds bolstered Ohio State chances for a return to NCAA championship play when he recorded his sixth consecutive 40-point or better performance last Saturday night in the Buckeyes' 92-74 victory over Wisconsin.

The Bucks, a game behind Michigan in the Big Ten Conference, can halve that margin with a victory tonight over Iowa.

Bradds was a sophomore on the last Ohio State team to reach NCAA title participation. With Bradds handling the ball alongside Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek, Coach Fred Taylor's charges advanced to the final round before losing to Cincinnati in 1962.

The sudden scoring surge by Bradds has netted the Buckeye star 266 points in his last six games.

Top ranked UCLA, the only unbeaten major school, won its 21st consecutive game Saturday and virtually clinched the Big Six title by overwhelming Washington, 98-60. The Uclans finished fourth in the 1962 NCAA championships and are considered a good bet to go all the way this season.

Walt Hazzard scored 15 points against the Huskies to set a new school record of 1,226. The old mark was held by Willie Naulls of the professional Boston Celtics.

Third-ranked Michigan defeated Indiana, 99-87, to retain its Big Ten league lead; No. 5 Duke halted fourth-ranked Davidson, 82-75; Wichita, rated sixth, beat Cincinnati, 89-58, in overtime, and ninth-ranked Villanova crushed Canisius, 73-58. Vanderbilt, No. 7, was upset by Tennessee, 64-62.

AL To Decide Finley's Fate BOSTON (UPI)—What could be the closing of the books or the opening of a new chapter in the future of Kansas City Athletics owner Charles O. Finley may be decided Friday during a special meeting of American League club owners.

League President Joe Cronin agreed Sunday to schedule the Friday meeting so the league members "could consider the negotiations between Charles O. Finley and Co., Inc., and Kansas City for a lease of the Kansas City stadium."

"We will determine, after a review of such negotiations, whether a further meeting should be held to consider the termination of membership in the league of Charles O. Finley," Cronin said.

Cronin said Kansas City officials would be invited to attend the meeting at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel.

Finley, reached Sunday at his Gary, Ind., home, gave a quick "no comment" to Cronin's statement or the meeting.

Saturday night, Finley failed to meet a midnight deadline set by the league when he did not sign a lease for Municipal Stadium.

A league spokesman said Finley's failure to meet the deadline did not mean automatic expulsion from the league, however, it did force the league to establish a plan of action against the Athletics owner.

Cupit Changes Mind, Wins Tucson Open Golf Tourney

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—Sometimes it pays off to change your mind. Jacky Cupit did — and it paid off with a $4,000 check for capturing the Tucson Open golf tournament Sunday.

Cupit was tired after six straight weeks of play and when he finished the Phoenix Open last week he decided to go home.

"But I was playing well, and on second thought I decided to send my family home and I came over here to play."

It was one of the best decisions the stolid, 26-year-old Texan now playing out of Corona, Calif., ever made.

He won the Open by two strokes; picked up a check for $4,000 and also assured himself of a place in the Tournament of Champions which guarantees a minimum of $1,000 or more.

Non-Winner Tourney This tournament is designed for non-winners and Cupit hadn't won a championship since he captured the Western Open in 1962.

"It has been a long, dry spell," he said after the victory.

To capture the crown, he fired a final round of 71 for a 274 total. That gave him a two-stroke victory over fellow-Texan Rex Baxter, who had a final round 69 for 276 — good for $2,700. Both men went to the University of Houston, the noted college golf factory.

The shock of this tournament was the fact that Gary Player, the little South African who had finished in the money for 26 consecutive tournaments, could not make the grade in this low-pressure field. He got a final round of 37-41 for a 78 — five shots out of the money.

Bruce Crampton of Australia finished in third place with a 278 and picked up $1,900. Dave Hill, Tommy Aaron and rookie Chuck Courtney came next at 279, each good for $1,600.

Held Three Stroke Lead Cupit had gone into the final round with a three-shot lead over Tommy Aaron and four over the second-place finisher Baxter. He played a steady two-under-par 34 on the front nine to hold his advantage over Baxter, while the others in contention faded.

But he bogeyed the 10th while Baxter was getting a birdie there and he had only a two-shot advantage.

When Cupit bogeyed the 12th hole and Baxter got a par, all of a sudden there was only a one-shot difference.

Cupit got hold of himself to like father love son

For every man who ever fell in love with a Jeep — a new kind of family station wagon has been born. The Jeep Wagoneer. It's the first station wagon ever built to offer the comfort, silence, speed and smoothness of a passenger car — plus the traction and safety of 4-wheel drive.

It's sheer pleasure to drive. Simple too. One lever puts you in 4-wheel drive. So at a second's notice you can shift into greater safety... from wheel-spinning in mud or snow... from skids on slick surfaces... from getting stuck or going out of control on the highway or off!

The Wagoneer really makes a demonstration worthwhile. It'll be your most exciting 30 minutes behind the wheel in 1964. Also in 2-wheel drive models. See your Jeep dealer.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Pampa Welcomes New Factory

One of the best news stories to break in Pampa in many years came Sunday, with the announcement that the city is to get a new factory that will provide jobs for some 300 persons.

Official Pampa, from city chamber of commerce all the way through the civic clubs, has joined in a welcome to the Form-O-Uth Co. of Los Angeles which plans to start immediate construction of their plant.

The new industry brings to Pampa a payroll that in two years should be approaching the million dollars a year mark.

The officers and directors of the Los Angeles company will find, we believe, that they made no mistake in selecting Pampa.

The warm and friendly contacts of Pampans who have worked hard on the project was acknowledged at Saturday's announcement luncheon by Calvin W. Fraser, company president.

Pampa is indebted to Aubrey

Steele, chamber president, and E. O. Wedgeworth, chamber manager, and the members of the chamber's industrial committees who have taken part in the two years of negotiations to get the Form-O-Uth factory to come here. The list would include many Pampa civic leaders who have worked diligently to present the Pampa story to the California industrialists.

Coming on the heels of this announcement was another important piece of news that the Pampa Industrial Foundation is being organized.

The foundation will be used to implement other efforts to promote Pampa's industrial growth.

The foundation will be privately financed and sponsored through the Chamber of Commerce.

Pampa is on the move again and, with the deserved support of all citizens in a progressive community, it is safe to say that nothing but good can result.

Something New

One of the characteristics of private enterprise is its proven ability, on occasion after occasion, to achieve what many have believed to be impossible.

England will see a good example of it next spring. A heavily insulated tanker will slip alongside a jetty near London. Aboard will be a cargo of "frozen gas", super-refrigerated to a temperature of minus 258 degrees Fahrenheit. It will be the first of many shipments destined to bring cheaper and more convenient heat and fuel to millions of people over seas.

The freezing of natural gas has been in the project stage for years. There were grave doubts as to its feasibility, though there was no question that, if it could be successfully achieved, the benefits would be enormous — for instance, it takes only one barrel of storage space for the frozen gas for each 600 barrels of space it occupies as a vapor. One by one the problems were solved. And a mammoth production project was pioneered by a group of enterprisers — the Union Stock Yard and Transit Company of Chicago, Continental Oil Company and the Royal Dutch Shell Group, working with the Gas Council of Great Britain.

The long-range possibilities are now probabilities. New opportunities are open for gas-hungry countries seeking a more economical fuel that cannot be served by pipelines. And it will make its mark here at home by aiding the U.S. gas industry to liquefy natural gas during off-peak seasons for storage and later reevaporize it to meet demands of peak periods.

That old saying — "There's nothing new under the sun" — needs revising!

Deserved Recognition

Future Farmers of America are being honored this week, and so it should be. Preparing young people for a lifetime career in modern agriculture is a matter of top importance. On their shoulders will rest much of the responsibility of bringing forth the miracles of production that the future will require from America's farmland.

Throughout the United States, farm boys between the ages of 14 and 21 belonging to FFA benefit from a coordinated program of high school instruction in vocational agriculture combined with guided activities which give practical business and farming experience. FFA organizations have become focal points working for improved agriculture, betterment of local communities, more satisfying farm home life, and more efficient farmer citizens. They deserve our heartiest congratulations for a job well done.

THE LAPPING TIDE OF CHAOS

These days Americans open their newspapers to read of almost continuous insults to the dignity of the United States. In Cyprus, the U.S. embassy was bombed. In Ghana, which recently became an official one-party state with a constitution copied from Soviet Russia, angry mobs marched on the embassy and hauled down the American flag. Anyone who says we are loved all over the world is either completely ignorant of the facts or refuses to face the facts — to put it politely.

In Cuba, the communist Castro regime cuts off the fresh water supplies to the U. S. Naval Base at Guantanamo.

This is a time of shame for Americans because beggar nations and those that hail Marxism have free rein to insult the United States and abuse our citizens. Nothing is done to halt these attacks or to penalize the attackers. The Johnson administration has adopted the entire Kennedy administration's "no-win" foreign policy.

In Panama, American territory is invaded by mobs led by identified communist agitators, and Washington never warns of calling out the Marines to land in the Canal Zone. The only news of troops being "alerted" is the news report that troops at Fort Benning were alerted to move into the sovereign state of Alabama. Ghanaian communists can attack our embassy without fear of U. S. reprisal, but American citizens cannot regulate their own school systems without the threat of armed intervention. It is truly a crazy, mixed-up world.

The truth is that the values of our country have been twisted almost beyond recognition. It is not only in the field of foreign policy, but in domestic matters, as well that distortion of values has been widespread.

In times past, our government was most concerned for the citizens who were self-reliant and who had demonstrated an ability to add something to the life of their community and nation. Prosperity was recognized as a hallmark of energy and good citizenship. Government took the wishes of enterprising citizens into consideration. Nowadays, government seems almost exclusively concerned with the dependent elements in society — those who have shown the least self-reliance. The businessman is scorned by bureaucrats as a reactionary, though it is business that earns the money that the bureaucrats dispense.

In other times, government also gave its support to those citizens who obeyed the law. Today, federal agencies appear to believe that their function is the protection of law-breakers. An agitation group can hardly attempt a sit-in, for example, without federal officials rushing to be on hand to assert the "rights" of the demonstrators. The "rights" of the law-abiding property owners do not receive equal protection from the federal officials.

Anarchism is spreading throughout the United States, and with the encouragement or easy acceptance of public bodies. In New York City, 400,000 students are withdrawn from the public school system in violation of the truancy laws of that municipality, but no prominent official even mentions the possibility of applying the pertinent law. They are intimidated by the political power of the boycott leaders.

In Cleveland, Ohio, demonstrators, including ministers of the gospel, invaded neighborhoods that are not their own to insist on local areas bowing to the demands of pressure groups. These same demonstrators invade the city school administration building and "he down" on floors, disobey orders to move, and block the passage of police officials. Despite these unruly, lawless actions, they are treated with kid gloves, as though they had a mandate to break the law. And so it is in New York, Cleveland and other cities, a special privileged class of lawbreakers, who insist they have a right to select the laws they wish to obey, has come into existence and threatens the peace and good order of the country.

The school boycott in New York City and the street demonstrations in Cleveland are part and parcel of the same kind of lawlessness evidenced on Cyprus and in Ghana. It is an affront to civilized government and the best interests of the American people.

Americans don't have a lot of time to wake up to what is trans-

Two Soviet Officials Linked to Nosenko Suddenly Dead Since His Defection to U.S.

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Two high-level Soviet officials have suddenly "died" since Yuri I. Nosenko, a ranking secret police official, defected in Geneva and requested U.S. asylum.

Dead under mysterious circumstances are Pavel M. Zernov, deputy minister of medium machinery buildings and V. V. Borisoglebskiy, chairman of the military tribunal which handled the trial of former U-2 pilot Francis Powers after he was shot down over Russia.

Both Soviet officials had been superiors of Nosenko before his assignment as chief KGB officer with the Soviet disarmament delegation in Geneva. Only the most trusted KGB agents are permitted to operate outside of Russia.

U.S. Intelligence authorities handling the Nosenko case are taking for granted that Zernov and Borisoglebskiy were put to death on orders from the Kremlin because of their roles in promoting the defector within the KGB.

At the time of his defection, 36-year-old Nosenko was on special assignment in Geneva from the "American section" of the KGB. The initials KGB stand for the "Committee for State Security," current designation of the Russian secret police.

According to highly reliable intelligence sources, Nosenko is now in the U.S. under the "protective custody" of the Central Intelligence Agency.

They stress that the youthful KGB operator, now No. 1 on the Kremlin's assassination list is the most important official to defect to the West since the end of World War II.

If he lives to tell his full story, these intelligence experts point out, Nosenko is in a position to give details from the KGB file on Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of the late President Kennedy, and Mrs. Marina Oswald, his widow.

Nosenko's high-level assignment of the KGB gave him access to plans and information on Soviet secret police operations in the U.S. — including details of possible Kremlin involvement in the Kennedy assassination.

data on whether the Russians have cheated on the nuclear test ban since signing the treaty in Moscow last July.

"Nosenko can give us the information to determine if the U.S. acted wisely in signing the nuclear test ban," one military intelligence officer reported.

"He can reveal how right or wrong our policies toward Russia have been during the past four or five years."

MORE SPYING — Nosenko's revelations could also blow sky high the U.S.-Soviet cultural exchange negotiations now going on in Moscow.

As a former KGB agent who worked closely with cultural exchange officials, Nosenko is putting his finger on a number of Russian scientists and artists who actually were KGB agents sent to the U.S. to spy under this program.

Already Representative Michael Feighan, D-O., chairman of the House Judiciary subcommittee investigating the U.S.-Soviet exchange program, has asked the State Department to submit a full report on Nosenko and his revelations.

Feighan has requested details of a State Department visa granted Nosenko "several years ago" to visit the U.S. as a member of one of the industrial exchange groups. Department records show that Nosenko never used the visa.

While not all the reasons behind Nosenko's decision to defect are known at this time, one intelligence summary of interviews with the former KGB agent quotes him as saying he was afraid that he would be shot.

Nosenko pointed out that several of his close KGB friends were killed after being linked with Lieutenant Colonel Oleg V. Penkovsky, a Soviet official who was executed in 1963 after being charged with spying for the Central Intelligence Agency.

COMING AND GOING — Two prominent South Carolinians are slated for appointment to the federal bench. President Johnson will name Representative Robert Hemphill and State Senator Charles Simons, "one-time law partner of Senator Strom Thurmond, as district judges. Hemphill was recommended by Attorney General Robert Kennedy, and Simons was on a list the latter submitted to the President. . . . Two top Pentagon military leaders are definitely retiring this year — General Maxwell Taylor, head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and General Curtis LeMay, air chief of staff. Taylor, brought back from retirement by the late President Kennedy, gets along harmoniously with President Johnson, but is leaving so the President can install his own chairman of the Joint Chiefs. Last year, LeMay's term was extended for one year by Kennedy, and Johnson will not renew it. . . . Also slated for retirement are General Thomas Power, commander of the Strategic Air Command; Admiral

The modern-day Tex Rickard, who promoted the big fights of the roaring 20's, is William B. MacDonald. After making a ton of money building house trailers, he retired to Miami and has been successfully backing sporting events. Now he is betting that he will make a profit on the Liston-Clay brawl scheduled for February 25th. Although the convention hall at Miami Beach is scaled so that a million-dollar gate is possible, most observers say he will not recover the $625,000 MacDonald paid for the "live" or "flesh" rights. Bill has the golden touch and we are inclined to go along with him because he has a computer-like mind when it comes to making money.

Today's smile: A fellow consulted a psychiatrist and learning his fee was $25 an hour, wrote a check for $250, paying in advance for 10 hours' consultation. The psychiatrist noticed he signed the check "George Washington." "Just a minute," he said to the prospective patient, "you're not George Washington." "Of course not," the patient replied, "but if I signed my own name I wouldn't need to see you."

We learned recently that from the time a $1 bill leaves the government printing press until it is reclaimed by the Treasury Department, its life expectancy is only 18 months. Other denominations remain in circulation longer: $2's 79 months; $5's 20 months; $10's 33 months; $20's 54 months; $50's 108 months; and $100 bills 144 months. . . . You frequently see the word "author" used as a verb ("Erskine Caldwell authored a new novel") but the consensus of good usage still asserts that books are "written" and not "authored."

Thoughts while shaving: For those cigarette addicts who heeded the government report, but are having a hard time quitting the weed, the record industry has just come out with a new LP album entitled, "Music To Help You Stop Smoking." We'll bet two songs you won't find in it are "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" and "Two Cigarettes in the Dark." . . . The equality of the sexes is amply demonstrated when you consider the term "authoress" is no longer used. Female authors today are described as "writers" along with their male counterparts. Even the U.S. Post Office Dept. no longer tolerates "postmistress" and designates all heads of local post offices as "postmasters," regardless of sex. . . . Incidentally, the U.S. Postal System handles two-thirds of all the world's mail, and New York City, for example, handles more mail than the entire British system. . . . The New York HERALD TRIBUNE reported: "Earlier, a bottle between Moslems and Jews left 2 Moslems dead and 10 persons wounded." If they can't drink without fighting, they should quit drinking together. . . . Six American statesmen sometimes called "unelected" Presidents were Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, Stephen A. Douglas, James G. Blaine, Horace Greeley and Samuel J. Tilden. History will undoubtedly add the name of Robert A. Taft to that list.

Country Editor speaking: "When you reach the point where you can't laugh at yourself, you're overlooking a very funny subject."

CAPITOL EYE:

Goldwater Strategists Meet Today

By BRUCE BOSSAT — WASHINGTON (NEA) — Sen. Barry Goldwater and his key organization men assemble in Chicago today for what may prove the largest, most inclusive organizing and strategy conference ever held in a presidential nominating campaign.

At the O'Hare Inn, a motel near Chicago's airport, this hitherto unpublicized meeting will draw 60 to 70 Goldwater leaders — the senator's Washington headquarters group, led by Denison Kitcher, Richard Kleindienst and F. Clifton White, the regional chairmen, some 40 state chairmen and assorted others.

The session will run all day. Goldwater himself, flying east from Phoenix that morning, will manage about a four-hour stop-over at the conference on his way to Washington.

The conferees will gather in what might be described as a mood of "nervous confidence." The many realists in the Goldwater camp believe genuinely that Goldwater still has an immense lead for the 1964 nomination on the Republican ticket at San Francisco. But they see as well as anyone the cracks that have developed in their facade since President Kennedy's assassination.

One leader, running over heartening delegate figures as now projected, suddenly paused and said: "But — if we don't make it in these primaries, they'll scatter like doves."

The Chicago gathering will have as one major task a better threading together of the massive, sprawling but thus far too loosely woven Goldwater organization.

Never lacking for Indians, this movement only recently acquired its true chiefs. They have barely begun pulling the whoopers into effective line.

Twelve days after "Sunday in Chicago" the first two among many state conventions will be choosing national convention delegates. The time for mere talk will end. Strategists will be counting delegates in the bank.

At Chicago there will be status reports on Goldwater's delegate position in every state.

It is an established working principle in Goldwater's circle (Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's, too) that the June-2 California primary bringing the two men into collision is the pivot point of the 1964 race. The prize: 86 votes. Goldwater's strategic problem with regard to California, a matter needing careful review at Chicago, is two fold:

1. To campaign persuasively within the state.

2. To bring to bear elsewhere, as early as possible, his acknowledged strength, in hope of building a winning psycholo-

The Almanac

By United Press International Today is Monday, Feb. 17, the 48th day of 1964 with 318 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history: In 1817, for the first time in American history, a city street was illuminated by gas lights in Baltimore.

In 1906, Alice Roosevelt eldest daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt, was married in the East Room of the White House.

In 1936, the Supreme Court ruled in a test case that the Tennessee Valley Authority's Wilson Dam can sell electrical power, a major victory for the New Deal.

In 1944, American soldiers landed on the Japanese-held base of Eniwetok in the Marshall Islands.

A thought for the day—Irish playwright George Bernard Shaw once said: "We have no more right to consume happiness without producing it than to consume wealth without producing it."

HOW TO ADDRESS OUR LAW MAKERS

effect which could have important impact on the California decision. The difficulties of campaigning in huge, diverse California are legendary and need no new emphasis. On the second point, Goldwater could help his cause mightily with clean-cut victories in New Hampshire and Oregon. A big pileup of votes in the many state conventions also could have commanding influence.

Yet New Hampshire and Oregon threaten murky results. The convention timetable, skippy in the early months, does not favor a pre-California bandwagon. A sizable list of big states, some tied to favorite sons, will hold their votes off the market until very late.

Goldwater's high command, assembling in unprecedented numbers, thus has its labor well marked out.

Knave, a word whose current meaning is rogue, originally meant a male child, a boy. It was applied to any lad employed as a servant, and thence to male servants in general, and from that meaning came to include all menials.

Notes From Wall Street

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bradbury K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohn & Stetson says "stock prices are not giving a very encouraging performance."

"We believe a serious reaction may be near at hand and would look on near term weakness as a warning to sell weak stocks rather than as an opportunity to buy bargains. However, since our views are in the minority and may well prove wrong, we suggest that those who are optimistic on the market outlook should consider buying good cyclical stocks such as steels, coppers, aluminum, railroads, machine tools and railroad equipment."

Shearson, Hammill & Co. says "the market is devoid of any significant excesses that need to be corrected and any reaction that might set in should not carry very far. For investors who can be content with moderate intermediate term capital gains, such a reaction ought to provide a profitable buying opportunity."

WHO'S DIETING? — Metered-calories dieting aids scored the biggest drop in grocery store sales in 1962 — sinking 55 per cent below the all time high of $91,250,000 set in 1961, according to Food Topics and Food Field reporter, both trade magazines.

BRIGHTEN UP — Leymond Hall, owner of Hall Tire Company, 700 W. Foster, shows how to brighten the interior of an automobile and at the same time lengthen the life of the car — with seat covers. Hall Tire Company offers the widest selection of ready-made and custom-tailored seat covers in the entire Top O' Texas area.

Seat Covers by Hall Will Brighten Auto

Hall Tire Company, with the widest selection of seat covers in the entire Top O' Texas area, invites you to come in and see how seat covers can brighten the interior of your car, and at the same time increase the life of your car.

Hall Tire Company, 700 W. Foster, MO 5-5755, features seat covers in sizes to fit every make and model of auto, priced to fit every budget, in all the latest patterns and color schemes, in favorite materials: Nycar, plastics, Lum - Puff, Combo-Weave.

Other features of Hall Tire Company include complete floor mat and custom interior work; complete tire service with Dayton, Mobil and National Tires — used tires and retreads. There are tires to fit all cars, prices to fit all budgets.

Leymond Hall says: "We can save you money, just the way we have saved money for hundreds of others. Come by and let us prove this statement to you."

The trim department can do custom work on your automobile, no matter what make or model, providing you with custom tailored door panels, arm rests, floor mats, seat covers or most any part of the interior of your car or truck.

If the floor mat in your car is getting unsightly, Hall Tire Co. can put a beautiful new floor mat, carpet or rubber-type, in your car at a reasonable price.

How about the door panel, getting worn near the bottom or at the front? Hall Tire Co. can put in two or more matching door panels at much less expense than you probably imagine and greatly increase the interior beauty of your car.

And, the most widely recognized place of beauty in your car, the seat covers. These can be tailored by the staff at Hall Tire Co. or you might prefer the regular seat covers offered by the firm and styled by the Howard Zink and Arthur Fullmer Co. in a wide selection and price range and ranging from plastic to fabric and in combinations.

Father and Son Killed in Mishaps

MARATHON, Tex. (UPI) — Domingo Hernandez, 49, was killed Wednesday when a freight train slammed into his car.

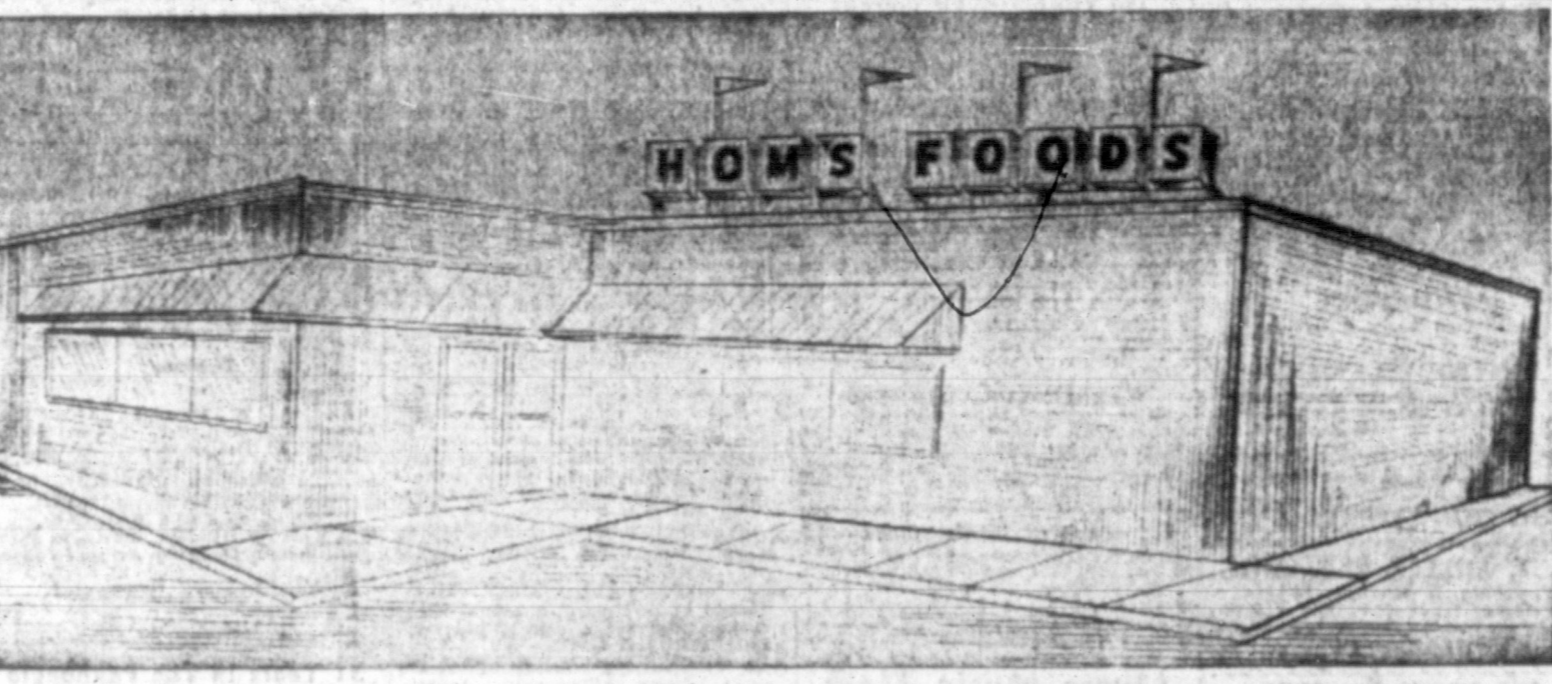

A few hours later, his 17-year-old son, Daniel, was killed when the brakes on a pickup truck locked and the vehicle flipped end-over-end.

Harper's Ferry Arsenal was established by George Washington.

Nursing Home Taking Patients

Mrs. Jim Davenport, owner and manager of Twilight Acres Nursing Home, has announced that the new nursing home known as Twilight Acres No. 2 is now open and accepting patients. At this time the formal opening will not be held due to the weather.

Twilight Acres No. 1 will continue to operate at 1401 E. Kingsmill and will admit up-patients only, whereas the new home located on W. Kentucky,

PLANS MADE — George Hom has announced plans for a new supermarket building to be constructed directly behind the present Hom & Gee Grocery at 421 E. Frederic. The new store will have 6,631 square feet of floor space and will be divided into three departments. Construction is due to start this month and Hom hopes to open the new store in May.

Deadline Given On Scholarships

FORT WORTH (SpI) — Applications for scholarships at Texas Christian University for the 1964-65 school year must be received by March 1. Logan Ware, director of scholarships and student financial aid, pointed out this week.

The deadline for applications for grants-in-aid is April 1 and for student loans May 1.

The scholarships, which are awarded for academic achievement only, go to several hundred students each year. They range from an "honorary" grant of $100 to $1,200 annually, depending on need.

Grants-in-aid are awarded in varying amounts and do not depend primarily on academic achievement. They go to promising students scholastically and others with special interest and skills in various areas.

Full information on the University's program of student aid can be obtained by writing or calling Ware's office on campus.

Cub Scout Banquet Served at Church

The Cub Scout Blue and Gold Banquet of Pack 4 was held at First Christian Church Thursday evening.

Charles Lanehart introduced the special guests Rev. and Mrs. Glen B. Adsit, their daughter Janice, and Mr. Charles Beard, Santa Fe District vice-chairman, who spoke on the recent Boy Scout exposition.

Den 3 gave the opening and invocation.

San Williams rendered a fascinating account of his trip as an American delegate to the 11th World Jamboree in Greece. His detailed travelogue was accompanied with color slides — many of which caught glimpses of Pampa's four delegates at various points of interest.

David Bailey, who delighted the recipients in his full Indian regalia, presented awards to the following Cub Scouts:

Joe Zuerker, Glenn Nichols, Jim Thompson, Grant Price, Jerry Simms, Terry Washington, Terry Allen, John Truby, A. J. Brewer, David Lanehart, David Carruth, Mike Bradford, Tommy Cauthorn, Frank Henderson, Mark Mayer, Rodney Collier, Tommy Gerken, Rodney Imel, Jeff Joyner, Weldon Jack, Jim Johnston, Steve Flowers, Rex Thompson, Kim Lindsey, Larry Jones, Tony Frogge and Drew Jolly.

For patience and generosity in sharing their Den Mother mothers and Pack Leader father, unofficial awards were given Tommy Washington, Mark Collier, Kevin Joyner and Steve Mayer. Jean Johnston was so honored for baby sitting above and beyond the call of duty.

Quotes In The News

By United Press International

LOS ANGELES — Frank Sinatra Jr., telling at the trial of his three alleged kidnapers how he felt when one of them first produced a gun:

"For a moment I must admit I stared rather blankly at this weapon as if this was some kind of bad joke."

WASHINGTON — British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, referring to his differences with President Johnson over trade with Cuba in a jesting White House toast:

"We may send more buses to Cuba but we will not let anything interfere fundamentally with our friendship."
