Rusk Warns of Second Crisis In Cuban Area

Allies at the Hague Asked to Send South Viet Nam Regime Aid

THE HAGUE (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk warned today that a second Cuban crisis, as dangerous as that in 1962, could erupt if Cuba shoots down an American reconnaissance plane.

He called on America's Allies to isolate Cuba "politically, economically, militarily, socially and spiritually."

He also appealed to them to help shore up the beleaguered South Viet Nam regime with non-military aid in the form of hospitals, medical teams and help for farmers.

Rusk was the first speaker when the council began a sweeping world policy review at the start of its three-day spring session here.

Rusk said Cuban Premier Fidel Castro may show less restraint than the Soviets in interfering with American air reconnaissance over Cuba. He warned a "very serious situation" would develop if an American plane were shot down.

Cuba, Rusk declared, is not large enough for Castro's ambitions. He said Castro is exporting arms and propaganda to six other Latin American states, including Venezuela.

Earlier, addressing a formal opening session of the council, Rusk warned the Communists are spreading their expansionist

Death Toll Rises To 77 in Crash of Military Transport

CLARK AIR FORCE BASE, The Philippines (UPI)—The death toll rose to 77 today in the crash of a U.S. Air Force jet transport here when two of the survivors of Monday night's disaster died at Clark Air Base Hospital.

Eighty-three persons were aboard the four-jet C135 transport when it struck a 42-foot radio beam pole a quarter-mile short of the runway, broke up and caught fire just outside this U.S. Air Base 60 miles north of Manila. One of the dead was in a taxi struck by the plane.

Tear Gas Used to Quell Mob

By JOHN T. KADY
CAMBRIDGE, Md. (UPI)—Eleven integrationists were under arrest and two others hospitalized today in the aftermath of a wild, brick-throwing Negro street demonstration quelled by National Guard tear gas.

The street violence came Monday night after the guardsmen, who have kept this racially tense eastern shore community under "militia law" a form of limited martial law since last summer, managed to turn away one crowd attempting to demonstrate against Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Wallace, a candidate in Maryland's presidential preference primary next Tuesday, spoke before a whites-only audience of more than 1,500. He was invited to Cambridge by the Dorchester County Business and Citizens Association, an organization formed last summer to combat Negro integration demands.

Among those under arrest at the Maryland National Guard armory in Pikesville, near Baltimore, today was Mrs. Gloria Richardson, chairman of the Cambridge Non-Violent Action Committee and acknowledged leader of the city's integrationist movement.

Brig. Gen. George C. Gelston, deputy Maryland adjutant general who has been stationed in Cambridge since last summer, imposed an 11 p.m. curfew and said he would keep his troops in the city at least through today.

Five guardsmen were injured slightly in the scuffling that erupted when they attempted to drag the demonstrators away Monday night. Two of the demonstrators were hospitalized: One for a cut leg, the other for a gas burn.

Wallace spoke at an invitation-only rally at the Cambridge Fire Arena. At the same time, Mrs. Richardson and other integration leaders, including John Lewis, head of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, staged a "freedom day" counter-rally five blocks away.

Wallace told a wildly cheering audience that grassroots sentiment around the nation would stand firm against integration demands. He attacked the civil rights bill pending before the Senate, the Supreme Court, "the left-wing liberal press," and "the social engineers in Washington."

"I am not, and I know you are not, racists or bigots," Wallace said. "We believe in individual American freedom. Neither have I made an utterance which would reflect on a man because of his race, creed or color."

Elsewhere:

Nashville, Tenn.: About 40 Negroes and whites split into roving bands and picketed segregated restaurants Monday. The incidents began the third week of a campaign to "totally desegregate" the Tennessee capital which has resulted in minor violence and more than 200 arrests.

Farmville, Va.: U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy Monday toured a private school system for Negroes at Farmville, Va. He inspected four schools set up to educate children left without schools when Prince Edward County's public schools closed in 1959. Most of the county's white pupils are attending private segregated schools.

DOG LAW ATTRACTS CROWD — The biggest crowd to attend a city commission meeting in nearly two years was on hand this morning for the final reading of Pampa's new dog control law. Part of the audience is shown here as Jack M. Dennis, 2801 Rosewood, standing with arms folded, spoke in favor of the legislation. The ordinance was unanimously approved by the commission after more than an hour of pro and con discussion.

OVERFLOW CROWD ATTENDS PARLEY

City Passes Dog Ordinance

The Pampa City Commission unanimously passed the city's new dog control ordinance today after listening to pros and cons on the legislation from an overflow audience.

By 8:45 a.m. nearly every seat there was occupied. The audience was fairly evenly divided between men and women.

The dog control law, up for third-and final reading, was near the top of the agenda, and Holmes threw the subject open for discussion early in the session.

Leon Holmes, mayor pro tem, promptly moved the meeting to the Palm Room on the third floor.

A dozen or more persons in the audience of approximately 60 spoke their pieces for and against the ordinance.

Some thought the legislation's impounding fee of $10 and $2 a day for care at the city dog pound was excessive. Others thought the provision permitting a fine of up to $200 was too high. Present ordinances provide the same penalty for conviction.

Practically the only difference between the new ordinance and five old ones, which were repealed today, is the amount of the pound fee and the charge for dog care at the pound. The old fee was $2 to reclaim a dog plus $1 a day charge for care. The new ordinance does away with the current licensing of dogs which, under the old law, was $1 for male and $3 for female dogs.

Both the old and new legislation required vaccination against rabies.

Speakers for and against the ordinance were applauded.

There was little opposition to the plan for control of dogs and keeping them contained in their own yards.

Most objections came from persons who felt that a dog that is kept under control can accidentally be let out by a meter reader, the neighbors' children or in other ways. Owners of these dogs, the opponents of the law stated, should not be forced to pay such a high penalty to reclaim the dogs if picked up by the dog warden.

Commissioner L. P. Fort read a statement from the State Department of Health setting forth the dangers of rabies in a community where dogs are permitted to run at large.

It was pointed out that Pampa has had a leash law and prohibition against dogs at large under all of its old ordinances.

City Manager Harold Schmitzer said he is planning to revamp the city's system of enforcement of the dog ordinance. This may include the hiring of an extra man and changing of shifts so a dog warden will be on duty early in the mornings and late at night.

The city manager also said he is considering the possibility of using tranquilizer guns to round up stray female dogs on city streets.

The city manager said the dog problem has long been a matter of enforcement and he believes the city now has legislation which can be properly enforced.

The ordinance was passed on its final reading after more than an hour of discussion.

The new legislation will become effective in approximately three weeks.

City Attorney Bob Gordon said the ordinance must be published in the newspaper once a week for the next two weeks and it becomes effective ten days after final publication.

In other business today the commission awarded a contract to the Midwest Tank Co. of Pittsburgh, Kan., for cleaning, repairing and painting Pampa's two water storage tanks. The contract price was $9,185, low among four bidders.

The commission authorized the city secretary to place $63,000 from the Water & Sewer Improvement Bond Fund on time deposit for six months.

A scheduled discussion on condemned buildings in Pampa was delayed until next week's regular commission meeting.

April bills totaling $35,133.21 were approved for payment.

Winners Foreseen in Two State Primaries

By United Press International
Nebraska and West Virginia hold presidential primaries today but the results in each state are a foregone conclusion.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who was in Oregon campaigning hard for the state's Friday primary, was the only GOP presidential contender on the West Virginia ballot.

In Nebraska, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., was unopposed but made an 11th hour sortie into the state Monday to fend off write-in support for former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

The only other primary-related activity was in Maryland where an appearance by segregationist Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama in racially tense Cambridge triggered a wild street demonstration. National Guard troops used tear gas to quell about 200 brick-throwing Negroes.

Wallace vs. Brewster
Wallace was campaigning for Maryland's May 19 primary against favorite son candidate Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md.

a stand-in for President Johnson.

Nebraska Republicans were to choose six of their 16 GOP National Convention delegates today with the other 10 to be selected later at the state party convention. West Virginians were to vote for 14 delegates. In neither state were the delegates bound by the outcome of the presidential preference balloting.

Goldwater backers in Nebraska predicted that their man would get five of the six delegates to be elected and all ten of those to be chosen later at the state party convention.

The last-minute write-in campaign for Nixon was sparked by Hastings, Neb., publisher Fred Seaton, who served as secretary of the interior during the Eisenhower administration.

Brings Good Response
Seaton said a letter campaign launched by Nixon backers after the 1960 Republican presidential nominee's "non-political" appearance at Omaha Thursday night, had brought an "absolutely fantastic" response.

The Rhode Island Republican state convention also was to be held today. Goldwater backers predicted that the Arizona senator would get four national convention delegates; four would go to Rockefeller, four to Lodge and two to Nixon.

Going into the primaries in West Virginia and Nebraska and the state convention in Rhode Island, the latest standings in the UPI count of delegates already selected showed Goldwater far ahead with 285; Lodge with 44; Nixon with 8; Rockefeller with 5 and Gov. William W. Scranton with 61, all from his state of Pennsylvania.

Air Force Hopes to Gain Bomber Support

PALMDALE, Calif. (UPI)—The Air Force hoped today that the striking debut of the revolutionary SB70 transport plane will help its battle with the Defense Department for super-sonic bombers to defend the nation.

Although the unique ship, unveiled Monday, is mainly a forerunner of triple-sonic airliners of the future that will dash across the nation in only 90 minutes, the Air Force seeks to make the highly controversial aircraft a war plane.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has advocated an all-missile deterrent force for the United States, while the Air Force maintains that super-sonic bombers are needed in addition to war rockets which still have to prove their reliability.

At Monday's roll-out of the XB70, Air Force Brig. Gen. Fred Ascani, commander of the program, said the ship represents a turning point in aviation history.

The ship, unveiled by the Air Force and North American Aviation, its manufacturer, resembles a huge white dragonfly. Ascani called it "a missile with windswept wings."

The XB70 will fly at 2,000 miles an hour and to altitudes of 75,000 feet or higher and it has many design and instrument innovations never before put into an aircraft.

Union Leader Asks Obedience of Order

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A rail union leader today called on his members to obey a federal court order banning wildcat strikes over terms of an arbitration award.

H.E. Gilbert, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (BLEE), also urged railroads to refrain from taking job-cutting steps that the union is challenging before the arbitration board.

Gilbert said some carriers were taking steps that would disrupt seniority systems and force some firemen to move long distances to retain jobs. This is creating an "explosive" situation, he said.

"I know emotions are running high but this is a court order and it must be obeyed," Gilbert said. Railroad spokesmen warned that workers who refused to show up for work without a lawful excuse may be fired if the work stoppages continued.

Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff granted a permanent injunction Monday barring any walkouts over terms of the award. He advised the union to take its complaints to the arbitration board for clarification and then come into court if it were not satisfied with the results.

Holtzoff said defiance of his order could result in contempt of court findings against union leaders who encouraged any walkouts.

Gilbert, who said the injunction was a "harsh" one, was busy trying to end a walkout against the Milwaukee Road at Spokane, Wash.

Downtowners Make Final Drive Plans

The Downtown Business Association of Pampa met Monday afternoon at the Pampa Hotel to finalize plans for the membership drive in the organization which opens today.

Ray Duncan, temporary co-chairman of the group, explained that Monday's called meeting was held to give final instructions to drive captains before they started making their calls on merchants and property owners.

Eight teams have been designated to contact merchants in various downtown areas. Team members include Gene Lewis, Stan Shulkin, Bob Addington, Preston Fowlkes, Joe Tooley, J. C. Roberts, B. M. Behrman, E. C. McCollum, Duffy Briscoe, John Wortman, Elmo Wright, Jim Brown, Frank Smith, R. M. Samples, Leon Gilbert, H. R. Miller, F. L. Stone and Jim Morris.

Duncan is in charge of soliciting memberships from property owners and his assistants include Kirk Duncan, Charles Cook and Tom Rose.

The drive was started officially this morning and the group will meet at 10 a.m. Friday in the Pampa Hotel for a report on results of the campaign.

Aid Pledged To Viet Nam By McNamara

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, guarded by nearly 1,500 police and troops because of a Communist threat to kill him, today pledged U.S. aid to Viet Nam "for however long it is required" to win the guerrilla war.

McNamara arrived from West Germany for a two-day assessment of the war against the Viet Cong. He immediately held Viet Cong talks with the U.S. diplomatic and military chiefs here.

Vietnamese police Saturday uncovered a plot to blow up a bridge along McNamara's route into town from the airport. But today, his motorcade avoided that route and took side streets to reach the U.S. Embassy without incident.

Three suspects caught laying wires near the bridge were arrested Saturday, but other members of the terrorist group were believed still at large.

Because of the threat, unprecedented security precautions were ordered. A battalion of about 450 battle-ready Vietnamese paratroopers reinforced 1,000 Vietnamese policemen around the airport and routes into town.

New Fighting Breaks Out in Cyprus War

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—New fighting broke out today in Famagusta where the Greek army Monday night suffered its first casualties since the Cyprus fighting erupted last December.

There were no immediate details on the renewed fighting in Famagusta. A running gun battle there Monday night killed three persons, including two officers of the Greek regular army stationed on Cyprus.

British families were ordered to stay indoors and army schools were closed today in fear of violence.

(In Athens, the Greek government protested the shooting of the army officers. The Greek representative to the Allied headquarters in Nicosia delivered the protest "denouncing the murder of the Greek officers" by Turkish cyprits.)

Miss Merriam, who reported she had feathered one engine of her twin-engine Piper Apache while 150 miles off the California coast, made a perfect landing at 9:13 a.m. PDT (12:13 p.m. EDT). Both engines appeared to be operating at the time of landing.

Refugees Cross To Soviet From Communist China

MOSCOW (UPI) — Refugees are crossing into Soviet territory from Communist China at the rate of 1,200 a month to escape Chinese persecution, diplomatic sources said today.

The sources said the refugees are Mongol-Turkic people who are seeking asylum in the Soviet republic of Kazakhstan, which borders China's Sinkiang Province and contains people of the same racial background. The Peking persecution is both racial and economic, the sources said.

The sources said the refugees cross the border ragged and famished and are resettled in Soviet collective and state farms with their ethnic kinsmen. Chinese border guards occasionally try to prevent the flights but the border is too long and sparsely guarded to stop very many.

Some diplomats suggested the Chinese may be deliberately permitting the escapes to rid Sinkiang of its Moslem tribesmen and open the way to more Chinese colonization.

Sinkiang originally had a population of about 5 million, most

CofC to Finalize Plans on Tourism

Pampa Chamber of Commerce officials announced today that plans are being finalized for a tourist clinic to be conducted in Pampa May 27-28.

George R. Jordan, director of tourist development of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will conduct the two-day affair which will feature two sessions per day. Each session will deal with the promoting of tourism in the area, according to E. O. Wedgworth, chamber manager.

Wedgworth extended a cordial invitation to all persons and businesses who deal with the traveling public to attend.

Each person completing the course will be awarded a "Top O' Texas Ambassador Certificate."

Registrations should be made as soon as possible at the chamber offices in the Hughes Building.

Of it Uigurs, Kazakhs, and Kirghizians. Since the Communist seizure of power, official policy has been to send Chinese to the province, and its Chinese population has expanded from about 300,000 to more than 2 million.

Suspect to Be Returned to City

Ex-convict Miram Fly is expected to arrive back in Pampa today in the custody of deputy sheriff Jimmy Bowers to stand trial of theft by false pretext.

Fly, currently under grand jury indictment on the charge, fled from Pampa after allegedly giving Culbertson Chevrolet a worthless check for the purchase of a new automobile.

The incident occurred Dec. 22, 1963; however Fly wasn't arrested until May 5 in Broderick, Calif. There he gave officers a signed statement admitting the worthless check charge.

Robbery Charges Due Man, Woman

WAXAHACHIE, Tex. (UPI) — County Atty. Bruce Allen said today he will file bank robbery charges against a 35-year-old Minnesota man and his 23-year-old woman companion for Monday's $7,255 holdup of the First National Bank at Milford, Tex.

Allen said he will file the charges against Robert Paul Snyder of Duluth, Minn., and Betty Jean Talavera of Los Angeles.

The couple was arrested in a motel in the Dallas suburb of Grand Prairie Monday less than two hours after a man carrying a 45-caliber pistol held up the Milford Bank. Milford is south of Waxahachie and about 45 miles south of Dallas. The money was recovered.

Club Thief Gets Beer, Sandwiches

Pampa police were searching today for the thief who made off with four cases of beer, a handful of cigars, and 10 sandwiches last night from the Tuff Club, 117 1/2 W. Foster.

The burglary was discovered at 8:20 a.m. by G. W. Schmidt, owner, when he opened for business.

Schmidt told police the thief apparently gained entry by crawling through a window on the west side of the building.

Police Capt. Denny Roan said the safe in the building had been left unlocked and the thief locked it inadvertently by twirling the knob when he attempted to open it.

Loss was estimated at about $35.

Purpose of the squirrel's tail is to maintain and correct the balance of the animal as it leaps from branch to branch.

ROY McCLUNG
... Lefors speaker

Area Baptists Set Meet at Lefors Church

LEFORS (Sp) — Baptists from a four-county area will meet at Lefors Tuesday night to hear spokesmen from their denomination's Christian Education, human welfare and state missions divisions.

Dr. Byron Richardson, an evangelist from Dallas who is well-known to Pampans, will head the program, which begins at 7:15. Richardson is in the Texas Baptists' Evangelism Division, and has held several revivals in and around Pampa.

Roy C. McClung, popular president of Wayland College at Plainview, will be another speaker for the Palo Duro Association's "Denominational Night." Since he took over as president of the college last summer, enrollment has increased by 22 per cent, spokesmen note.

Rounding out the Tuesday evening program will be Chaplain Taylor Henley of the Baptist Memorial's Geriatric Hospital in San Angelo. Taylor is the resident minister in this largest of Texas Baptists' three old-age care institutions. His subject of "Human Welfare" also includes the child-care institutions at nine locations across the state.

Of the 12,291 active members of the 23 churches in Palo Duro Association, nearly 6,000 live in the Pampa trade area. Over 4,750 of these live in Pampa and attend the six cooperating churches. The Association reaches from Lefors to Pampa, and from Goodnight to Stinnett.

Lefors Baptists are preparing to serve a fried chicken supper to their guests at 6:15 Tuesday evening. A Woman's Missionary Union meeting and a meeting of the Association's Executive Board is also scheduled.

Since Southern Baptists depend entirely on the voluntary support of the churches, it is meetings like this that provide information and inspiration about the churches' cooperative work. Church leaders, such as deacons and Sunday School superintendents, will attend the Lefors meeting to get the information they need to promote these three phases of cooperation.

The Palo Duro Association Brotherhood will be in charge of the June 22 meeting, at Central Baptist church in Pampa. "Interested friends and ordinary church members are always welcome at these meetings, and in any of our churches," Association moderator Ed Spivey of Lefors stated.

HOLD ONTO NEW COIN
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Nearly 60 million Kennedy half-dollars have been turned out so far, but few of them appear to have found their way into circulation, Mint Director Eva B. Adams said Monday.

According to the latest figures, 57,752,000 of the new coin have been minted. Collectors and non-collectors are still "hiding them away," Miss Adams said.

RIGHT AT THE OSCAR, ED—Actor Ed Begley is a distinguished, conservative gentleman whose roles are precise and proper. Why, he even won an Oscar in 1962 for his high-level acting in "Sweet Bird of Youth." Naturally, Ed plays only intense, dramatic roles. And he's at his solemn best in this emotional scene from "The Unsinkable Molly Brown."

Agriculture Agency Gives Wheat Figure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department today estimated the 1964 winter wheat crop at 1,013,445,000.

Today's estimate by the department's crop reporting board, based on May 1 conditions, compares with an April forecast of 1,010,679,000 bushels and 1963 production of 904,828,000 bushels.

The estimated winter wheat crop, added to a possible spring wheat crop of 262,000,000 bushels, would mean a total wheat crop of 1,275,445,000 bushels for 1964. This compares with total wheat production of 1,137,641,000 bushels in 1963.

The estimated winter wheat production compares with the 1958-62 average of 1,019,570,000 bushels.

Estimated 1964 winter wheat production, in bushels, compared with 1963 included:

Kansas May 1 estimated 229,824,000 bushels, 1963 crop 185,480,000.
Okla. 85,218,000 vs. 75,411,000.
Mo. 47,770,000 vs. 38,708,000.
Tex. 50,544,000 vs. 40,618,000.
Colo. 38,133,000 vs. 21,438,000.

Magazine 'Drinkers' Get Phoney Boost

United Press International
Drunk any good magazines lately?

Readers who may have purchased the August 1964 issue of Escapade, a girls' monthly, were warned today by local health departments and the Texas State Board of Pharmacy not to take the drink recipe on pages 15-16 too seriously.

A seven-page photographic study of an amply endowed, scantily clad miss also gives tongue-in-cheek directions for a deadly "mirageability" test.

"Readers are supposed to dissolve a page in methyl alcohol and drink the solution," said Dr. W. V. Bradshaw, Fort Worth city health director. "This was to give a hallucinatory sensation."

Bradshaw said he understood the magazine claimed "the ink contained 'a powerful hallucinogen.'"

"It doesn't matter what the ink is supposed to do, just a drink of methyl—or wood—alcohol can cause blindness or even be fatal."

He said a letter from U.S. Commissioner George W. Larrick of the Food and Drug Administration had told him about the lethal highball.

A form letter to pharmacists from the Texas State Board of Pharmacists in Austin warned druggists about the magazine and the article. It urged local drugstores to publicize adverse effects of drinking the alcohol.

Across the state, reactions varied from attempts to recall the magazine from newsstands to apathy.

—In San Antonio, the city health department sent letters to magazine dealers asking them not to put the publication on the stands.

—In Dallas, one newsstand called the article "stupid" and continued to sell the magazine. —In Fort Worth, 200 copies had been sold and dealers were asking readers to return them.

—In Edinburg, pharmacy owner D. L. Garza said he has had several requests in the last few days for methyl alcohol. Garza said he understood the publisher, Douglas Allen, intended the article as a joke.

Hope Fades for Tot's Recovery

CHICAGO (UPI)—Mrs. Dora Fronczak today faced another lonely trip to the church where she has prayed daily for the safe return of her baby boy who was kidnapped from her arms three weeks ago.

A nurse's suspicions about a child brought to Illinois Masonic Hospital Monday night raised for a time some hope that the missing Fronczak child had been found.

The nurse's report triggered a flurry of police activity but footprint checks revealed that the hospitalized child was not Paul Joseph Fronczak, who had been taken from his mother the day after his birth by a woman posing as a nurse.

The footprints of the baby brought to the hospital verified his mother's story that he had been born to her April 6. There are no recorded footprints of the Fronczak child.

BALKS AT GOLDWATER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N. Y., said Sunday he would support Sen. Barry Goldwater as a presidential candidate only if the Arizona Republican liberalized his views.

GETS INDIAN CONTRACT

NEW YORK (UPI)—General Electric Co. announced Monday it has signed a $95 million contract with the government of India covering the construction of a 380,000-kilowatt nuclear power plant at Tarapur, just 60 miles north of Bombay.

We drove 3,243 miles to make a point about our Super Turbine transmission

You can do it on the way to the grocery store

Would we drive a Buick with a Super Turbine transmission* all the way from Pasadena to New York City just to win Class C in the Mobil Economy Run?

Of course. And just in case anyone failed to get the message, we did it twice again. And won Class D and Class G. In all, Buick entered 4 classes, and won 3—more than any other make of car. (Remember when people used to think Buicks used a lot of gas?) Did we make our point about the Super Buick Motor Division

Turbine transmission? You bet. Obviously you aren't planning to drive 3,243 miles to prove your new Buick is economical. And you can't expect to get as many miles per gallon as the experts in the Economy Run. Still, it is nice to know you can win the economy run around town.

And the good looks prize at the same time. See your Buick dealer about it. No doubt he'll think of a number of other reasons to drive a Buick. *Optional at extra cost.

Show at Fair Fails to Get Off Ground

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the major theater attractions at the New York World's Fair closed Sunday before its official opening.

The closing of producer Mike Todd Jr.'s $150,000 show, "America Be Seated," appeared to be in line with growing concern by concessionaires in the fair's amusement area that the crowds were not being drawn to their attractions.

Todd said the minstrel-type show closed because it was "not up to standard." It was to have opened officially next Friday at the Louisiana pavilion but Todd has been putting on performances since it came down from a New England try-out last week.

In its tryout, it received favorable reviews. But attendance at the preview showings at the fair was poor, perhaps because of the $5 price for tickets.

Several amusement concessionaires at the fair have complained the crowds are drawn

Senator Says Baker 'Blackened' Names

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., said today each senator's name had been blackened by the Bobby Baker case and Senate investigators should clear up "this sorry state."

Case made the statements in testimony prepared for a closed session of the Senate Rules Committee. He presented to the committee his proposal that each senator be asked about business dealings with Baker and any campaign assistance given or offered by the former Senate aide.

The New Jersey Republican said that the committee could not avoid responsibility for getting full information on the activities of Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats who resigned last fall.

"As an individual, I resent Bobby Baker's ability to blacken me," Case said. "As a member of the Senate, I resent his ability to blacken the Senate, and as a citizen I find it intolerable that Bobby Baker should pervert this public instrument to his selfish purpose."

Case said he had gotten the impression, along with the public, "of an effort to put an end to an unpleasant episode — to push the whole matter aside in the hope it will soon be forgotten."

He said he was not saying the committee had that intention, but added that "it is intolerable that we leave the matter in this sorry state."

Quirks In The News

By United Press International
ILLEGAL OPERATION
NEW YORK (UPI)—Teenage nightclubs here are in a legal bind because they serve soda pop instead of scotch and soda.

Legally, the teen clubs are cabarets because they have live entertainment and serve food. But they cannot get city cabaret licenses because such permits traditionally are issued to holders of liquor licenses only. As a result, several such clubs are operating illegally and are subject to legal action.

ANNOYING CALLS
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An irritated telephone subscriber Monday proposed a new weapon in the fight against unwanted telephone solicitations — an asterisk.

Morey W. McDaniel of Palo Alto, Calif., asked the California Public Utilities Commission to compel Pacific Telephone to place asterisks next to the names of subscribers who do not want to be bothered by telephone solicitors.

McDaniel said telephone solicitors "irritate, annoy and disturb" him and intrude on his privacy.

DELAYS TRIAL
DETROIT (UPI)—Federal Judge Wade H. McCree Jr., Monday granted a delay in the trial of Robert L. Rubin because Rubin's attorney is pregnant.

McCree granted the motion to delay the trial scheduled for May 19 "until counsel can appear in other than maternity attire."

Rubin is accused of smuggling gold coins into the United States from Canada.

His wife Vivian is his attorney.

TOASTED MONEY
FORT WORTH (UPI)—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Swanson carefully hid their $400 in bills in their oven before going to bed Sunday night, sure it would be safe.

Their 14-year-old son, Jackie, arose before them and made toast for breakfast.

Most of the serial numbers on the burned bills are recognizable, so the Swansons probably will get it redeemed by the Treasury Department.

DOOLEY ESTATE GROWS

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—The estate of Dr. Thomas A. Dooley was valued at $196,687 in a probate court inventory on file Monday.

Dooley was a physician in Southeast Asia and co-founder of MEDICO until his death in 1961.

The estate had grown since his death due to sales of his books.

KEEP DOORS CLOSED

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) wants all U.S. airlines to keep the cockpit doors on airliners locked during flight.

The new regulation will be mandatory after Aug. 6. It is aimed at preventing hijacking or assaults on flight crew members. The FAA said it would allow an exception during landings or takeoffs in cases where the cockpit door may lead to an emergency exit.

The United States, having tried the velvet glove in its dealings with Indonesian President Sukarno, now seems ready to wield the big stick.

The velvet glove approach came in Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy's visit last winter to Southeast Asia in an attempt to soften the rambunctious Sukarno's announced determination to "crush" the new federation of Malaysia.

It was part of a broader scale U.S. campaign to encourage Asian leaders to settle their disputes by peaceful means and it did result in a shaky cease-fire and a momentary lull in the verbal insults exchanged between the two disputants.

The calm lasted less than a month.

Issues Action Command
Early this month Sukarno, in a speech in his capital of Jakarta, issued an "action command" to "21 million volunteers" into the fight to crush Malaysia which Sukarno regards as an extension of British colonialism.

The speech was typical Sukarno.

Sukarno, whose father image retains an almost hypnotic control over the Indonesian people, is indifferent to the details of government and to the manner in which his "commands" are to be implemented. And so it was this time.

To observers in Jakarta it seemed to mean he planned to step up the guerrilla war in North Borneo where Indonesia is edged to aid the "independence movement" against the Kuala Lumpur government of Malaysia.

Into this worsening situation stepped Assistant U.S. Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs William P. Bundy. Bundy warned that further interference in North Borneo could result in a final cut-off of already reduced U.S. aid to Indonesia.

Withdraws Aid Plan
U.S. economic aid to Indonesia has totaled around $1 billion. Last fall in the mounting Indonesian-Malaysian crisis, the United States withdrew from a plan which would have set up a $500 million credit for Indonesian long-term development and halted shipments of weapons and ammunition.

It continued technical assistance programs amounting to about $11 million and surplus food shipments of up to $35 million.

Sukarno's dreams of empire take little account of the sufferings of Indonesia's 65 million population, an estimated one-third of whom suffer from malnutrition.

To the Malaysian people who demand rice and detest a corn substitute, he says: "I say let us eat corn to crush Malaysia."

And to U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones, he already has said: "To hell with your aid."

Last September, as part of his policy of confrontation against Malaysia, Sukarno cut off all economic relations with the new nation despite the fact it meant cutting off nearly half the markets for Indonesia's export trade and placing new burdens on an already staggering economy.

The United States has helped Sukarno in the past on the theory that only massive economic aid would enable him to stand against Indonesia's powerful Communist party. It now appears that the end of U.S. patience is nearing.

But on the basis of the record, Sukarno is not likely to change his course.

Sunday Sales Law Upheld in Missouri

JEFFERSON City, Mo. (UPI) — The Missouri Supreme Court has upheld the constitutionality of the state's Sunday sales law for the second time.

The action overturned Jackson County Circuit Judge Joe W. McQueen's injunction which prevented the state from enforcing the act.

McQueen issued the injunction before the law went into effect last October at the request of the petition of the Katz Drug Co. of Kansas City, but the court issued a writ of prohibition against the injunction before it could become effective.

Earlier the court upheld the act in the case brought by G-E-M Stores Inc., of St. Louis.

Train, Auto Crash Kills 10 Persons

MESA, Ariz. (UPI) — A high-speed express train smashed into a station wagon carrying two sisters and their eight children at a rural railroad crossing late Monday, snuffing out all 10 lives.

One of the sisters was the mother of six of the youngsters who died in the crash and was expecting another child.

The tragedy occurred in clear sunny weather with excellent visibility.

Investigators said the driver of the station wagon apparently failed to see the flashing warning signal at the crossing and drove into the train's path.

The crossing is in a flat, semi-agricultural area about five miles south of here.

Groceries were scattered over a wide area around the wrecked station wagon, indicating the women had been on a shopping outing with the children.

Dead were Lola King, 26, Phoenix, Ariz., and two daughters, Victoria, 3, and Michelle, 2, and Mrs. Ina Lowe of Winkelman, Ariz., and her children — Clifford, 10, Mitchel, 8, Linda, 7, Karen, 5, Mark, 3, and Gregory, 1. Mrs. Lowe was nine months pregnant.

The Lowe had been visiting at the King home in Phoenix—20 miles to the west of here.

No one on the train was hurt.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — International Statistical Bureau says the peak in stock prices has not yet been seen. Any reaction, it adds, will be temporary and moderate.

"The advance of the industrial average to a new high clearly indicates that the recent irregular trend was largely a period of consolidation and not a forerunner of markedly lower prices," the bureau said. But it cautioned against expecting a "straight-line advance."

Winslow, Coahu & Stetson says "some traders have undoubtedly been frightened out of the market by the recent weakness. It remains to be seen," the brokerage house adds, "whether what now appears to be synthetic strength in a few volatile blue chips will come to inspire a broad buying interest in other issues or will merely cause renewed deterioration in technical strength, preparatory to a resumption of the decline."

The Alexander Hamilton Institute advises investors to retain "good quality" stocks and maintain a cash reserve awaiting further development. The

Mrs. Don George, water safety chairman on the Red Cross board, reports that this is the 50th anniversary for the water safety program through the Red Cross. She said we have 29 instructors with one new instructor, James Head, Life Guard for the Youth Center Pool. Last year in the Summer water safety program, we trained 1,174 boys and girls and adults in our water safety and swimming program, at the city pool, the Youth Center pool, and the Marcus Sanders pool. Mrs. George states that many wonderful things come from the swim program — such as recreational swimming, diving, boating, racing and professional swimming and skiing. Boating and small craft are a sport that is enjoyed by many people today and they will pass many hours of enjoyment this summer on the water.

Registration for the summer swim program will be held May 15 at the VFW-Legion Hall at 1 p.m. for the city pool, and May 18 for the Youth Center pool at the Youth Center. The fee will again be $1 and this fee will go for the use of the pool to the pool manager. The classes will be held for three sessions beginning June 15 and ending July 24. There will be a junior and senior life saving class held at the Pampa Youth Center beginning Aug. 3 through Aug. 14.

URGES RESISTANCE WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Polish-American Congress told President Johnson Monday that the United States should encourage passive resistance to Communist rule in Poland.

Charles Rozmarek, president of the congress, said resistance to communism was increasing in Poland. He cited as a "breakthrough" for intellectual freedom the manifesto handed Polish Premier Wladyslaw Gomułka recently by 34 of the nation's leading scholars.

NEW MOVING RULE WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Interstate Commerce Commission issued new regulations Monday designed to give the public greater protection against unscrupulous movers.

The rules would require the moving companies to notify the commission whenever their actual charges for moving household furnishings exceed the estimated charges by more than 10 per cent. They also require the companies to notify customers of such discrepancies before delivery is made.

institute notes that the recent erratic and rather volatile behavior of the market "reflects a confused picture of nervousness over the near term."

Dear Abby.... 'Love Us, Love Our Dog' Is A Bad Attitude!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Why do so many nice people with dogs have so little regard for their guests' comfort? When we visit these people their dog jumps up on us the moment the door is opened. As soon as we sit down, the dog jumps up on the furniture right next to us. When we sit at the dining room table, the dog is under the table, with his nose on our legs. He even puts his paws on the tablecloth, "begging" for food. (The master thinks nothing of feeding the animal from his hand, and then goes right on eating. Yich!) We love dogs, Abby, and have always had one. But when we entertain, our dog is not included with the guests. Do you agree with those who have the "Love us, love our dog" attitude? Or can you see our side of it?

THE "E's" in HILLSBOROUGH

DEAR "E's": I can more than SEE your side of it — I'm ON IT!

DEAR ABBY: With so much divorce and remarrying these days, isn't there some wedding etiquette for divorced parents of the bride and groom? Say the bride's parents are divorced and have both remarried, but the bride wants her real father to give her away. Where does the father go to sit after he has given the bride away? Surely he doesn't go to sit with the bride's mother, who is sitting with her present husband! And if everyone is friendly, and the father's present wife is invited to the wedding, where does SHE sit? Should she be right up front with the relatives in the wedding party, and beside her husband at the head table at the wedding dinner?

NEEDS TO KNOW

DEAR NEEDS: The bride's mother and present family sit in the first pew. The bride's father, after giving away his daughter in marriage, then goes to sit with his present wife and family in the second pew. The father's present wife sits beside him at the wedding dinner.

DEAR ABBY: A young, rather pretty little married woman lives next door to me, and she is always telling me that a door-to-door salesman made a pass at her and she had to put him in his place. She claims the mailman, milkman and grocery man have also made improper advances to her, and she had to tell them off.

Abby, I have the same mailman, milkman, grocery man, and the same salesman calling on me, and I have never had one speck of trouble with any of them. Do you think she is making all this up, or can it be true?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: She's probably making it up. But if only part of it is true, she should take a good look at herself in the mirror, and listen to herself talk.

DEAR ABBY: Re the man who accused his good and faithful wife of every dirty deed in the book: I have been down that road myself, and I, too, was sick at heart at all my husband's accusations and suspicions until I learned that it all came from his own guilty conscience. Everything he was accusing me of doing, HE was doing — the rat.

'It Happened in Washington'

By United Press International
Washington has been the scene of some historical foulups but this one was the granddaddy of them all.
To give you some idea of the confusion, Gil Hodges said he "never saw anything like it"—not even during his Dodger days in Brooklyn.
It all happened during the seventh inning of a game in which Washington outlasted Baltimore, 6-4, Monday night.
Here was the picture, and you'd better pay attention because some of the principals didn't, and what a mess it caused.
The Senators filled the bases with one out and the score tied, 5-5. Bennie Daniels lofted a soft fly to shallow center and Don Lock scored from third as the ball dropped safely among three converging Orioles.

It was a confusion play for everyone," Hodges said. "No one did what he should have done."
Brandt committed a boner by stepping on the bag first, forcing Blasingame and taking the force off Hunt, who now was entitled to the base.
Brandt committed a boner by stepping on the bag first, forcing Hunt, who pulled the original boner by not at least moving off the bag.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

The Pampa Babe Ruth League season opened at Optimist Park last night with a 6-3 victory by Hardware over Cree, and then Larry Turcotte hurled a two-hitter in the nightcap to give Fannin a 15-0 shutout win over Bank.
Punchy Molberg allowed Cree only four hits while walking three and striking out eight in the opener. His teammates backed him with a 15-hit assault, headed by Sanders with 4-for-4.
Turcotte gave up two walks and struck out eight as his mates battered Lin Engle and two relievers, with bases on balls causing the major damage. Stephens had a double and three singles for a perfect hitting evening.
Following the Pampa High game today, Ideal will meet Kist at 7:30 p.m.

Wayland to Host Basketball Camp

PLAINVIEW (Sp) — Registration is now under way for the eighth annual Wayland College Summer Basketball Camp. Three sessions are booked this year, two for junior high school athletes, June 10-19 and July 15-24, and a third camp for out-of-state high school athletes and Texas graduating seniors, August 5-14.
Directed by Harley Redin, Wayland athletic director, and Clifford Ozmun, coach of the Wayland Pioneers, the camp offers instruction in fundamental basketball skills. Athletes attending the camp receive three hours of instruction per day and participate in team scrimmages six nights.
Each camp session will be limited to 36 boys. Reservations will be accepted on a first-come-first-served basis and can be secured with a $13 deposit mailed to the Wayland College Summer Camp in care of the College.
Cost of the camp is $67 which includes insurance, tuition, room and board, and supervised activities such as swimming, tennis, movies and each day's basketball instruction. The boys will be housed in McDonald Hall on the Wayland campus and will be supervised by Redin and Ozmun throughout their stay at the camp. Every effort will be made to develop good sportsmanship and desirable character traits.

Ramos-Robertson Set for Rematch

ACCRA, Ghana (UPI) — Sugar Ramos and Floyd Robertson are headed for a rematch in Mexico City or Miami Beach.
"I am positive Floyd would beat him (Ramos) anywhere, any time," Sammy Docherty, Robertson's Scottish manager, declared Monday. "We are even prepared to go to Ramos' hometown, Mexico City, for the rematch."
Promoter Chris Dundee of Miami Beach, whose brother Angelo is Ramos' trainer, said he was "interested" in lining up a Ramos-Robertson rematch for the Florida city.
Chris Dundee was among the 40,000 fans who watched Ramos the world featherweight champion, gain a disputed split decision over Robertson in their 15-round title bout at the Accra Sports Stadium last Saturday night.
The Ghana Boxing Authority later reversed the decision and said it would recognize native son Robertson as champion.
Referee Jack Hart of London cast the only vote for Robertson. The two judges who favored Ramos were Ed Lassman of Miami Beach, president of the World Boxing Association, and Ramon Valesquez of Mexico, the association's international coordinator.
The WBA will continue to recognize Ramos as the titleholder.

Hornets Can Clinch 2nd

MOBEETIE (Sp) — The Mobeetie Hornets need a win today to cop second place in the district baseball race, and playing league tail-ender Hedley, have a good chance to do it.
Powerful Quail, behind the pitching of Deady Dale Morris, has won its second straight title, and the Hornets are fighting it out for second place, tied with Samnorwood. With Samnorwood facing Quail today in their finale, the Hornets have the big odds in their favor as a win by them or a loss by the Eagles sews it up.
As a team, Mobeetie is sticking the ball at a tremendous .371 clip, one of the highest team batting averages in the state. Five regulars are over the .300 mark, one, Eddie Ray Hodges, batting a fantastic .733! Hodges has 11 hits in 15 at-bats, with a double, a triple and two stolen bases.
A pair of .500 hitters follow. Big Ray Corcoran with .550 and pitcher - first baseman J. L. Gudgel with .533. Corcoran has a homer, two doubles and three stolen bases among his 11-for-20. Gudgel-Corcoran and Gerald Gudgel are tied in runs scored with six each. Gerald Gudgel rounds out "Murderer's Row" with a .333 average.
J. L. Gudgel has seen the most pitching action, 21 innings and a one won, two lost record. Eddie Hodges, with a three-inning relief win; Eddie Yowell, 0-1, and Gerald Gudgel are the others who have seen mound action.

"MY DODGE WILL GO EVERY WAY BUT UP"

"I don't think Dodge knows how tough their trucks are. My '55 half-ton pickup is amazing. I don't think it'll ever wear out. At 58,000 miles, nothing's been touched but plugs and points. It still runs like new. I work it six or seven days a week for 51 weeks a year. The 52nd week I put on a camper body and head for the Sierras. In the mountains, she goes where I go, up stream beds, over rocks and logs like a deer. The only way she won't go is straight up!" W. F. Huston, San Fernando, California. Mr. Huston said this about his Dodge pickup over a year ago. Since then he's put on another 10,000 miles, installed an antimog device, and had his truck repainted. If he wanted to replace his tough old Dodge, we'd have some interesting figures for him. Proof, in black and white, that Dodge trucks are priced nose-to-nose with comparable Ford and Chevrolet models. So when we say that Dodge trucks are priced lower than most of the competition, right in line with the rest, we mean it. And you can get some more interesting price figures from your dependable Dodge truck dealer right now.

Spadia Replaces Vic Morabito

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Lou Spadia, a member of the San Francisco Forty Niners front office since the team was founded, took over today as the new managing owner and the club went on record that it would not sell to any new group.

Spadia replaces Vic Morabito, who died at the age of 45 of a heart attack early Sunday morning.

His appointment was announced in a joint statement Monday by Mrs. Josephine Heintzelman and Mrs. Elizabeth Morabito, widow of the club's co-owning brothers. The two women hold 55 per cent of the club stock.

Mrs. Heintzelman is the widow of Tony Morabito, who founded the team in 1946 and succumbed to a heart attack himself 11 years later during a game with the Chicago Bears. "Mrs. Heintzelman and Mrs. Morabito will continue to operate as controlling owners and neither they nor any of the other partners contemplate any sale now or in the future," the club announced in a joint statement.

The statement said that Spadia, the team's veteran general manager, would assume "sole operational control." He is scheduled to attend the National Football League's spring meeting in New York next Monday.

Nominated so far are trackman Danny Roberts of Texas A&M, swimmer Jon Rowe of Southern Methodist, halfback Roger Gill of Texas Tech, quarterback Duke Carlisle of Texas, and quarterback Don Trull of Baylor.

No Hit, Good Pitch, Trademark of Colts

By United Press International
It's a lot easier to hit oil in Texas than it is to hit that Houston pitching.

The first-place San Francisco Giants discovered that sad fact Monday night when Dick Farrell beat them, 4-1, to record his fourth victory for the Houston Colts in five decisions.

The Colts are something of a paradox. Their hitting is treated as a joke in rival National League dugouts, but no one does any laughing about their pitching.

Much of the credit in that department goes, of course, to General Manager Paul Richards. The unsung hero of Houston's pitching staff, however, is pitching Coach Cot Deal who, in his own quiet efficient way, provides as much help to Manager Harry Craft as Whitey Ford does to Yogi Berra.

Scatters 10 Hits
Farrell, one of the Colt pitchers who has profited from Deal's theories, gave up 10 hits Monday night but worked his way out of repeated jams so that the Giants could score only once off him in the fourth on Willie McCovey's double, Tom Haller's single and a double play ball.

Houston broke a 1-all tie and handed Billy O'Dell his first defeat with a three-run sixth inning rally composed of five singles. Rookie Mike White led the Colts' eight-hit attack with three singles.

Willie Mays stretched his hitting string to 18 games by singling through short in the first inning.
The St. Louis Cardinals edged the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2, and the Cincinnati Reds beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-6, in the only other NL games scheduled.

Javier Homers
Julian Javier broke up Ray Culp's no-hitter with a sixth inning single and then clipped the Philadelphia right-hander for a three-run homer in the seventh that gave St. Louis its come-from-behind victory.
Ray Sadecki posted his first victory after three losses by holding the Phils to six hits. The loss for Culp was his third compared with one victory.
Hustling little Pete Rose drove in four runs for the Reds against the Pirates with a

Earl Battey Hospitalized

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Catcher Earl Battey was waiting word from doctors today on when he could get back in the Minnesota Twins' lineup.

Battey was recuperating in St. Barnabas Hospital following a blow on the head in Sunday's game with Kansas City.

He was injured when he made a sensational catch of a foul popup of the bat of Kansas City's George Williams. Battey one-handed the ball while running toward the seats, then tripped over a tarpaulin and struck his head against a metal folding chair.

Battey said he was knocked momentarily unconscious by the crack on the head.

"The first thing I remember is Doc Lentz (Twins' trainer) telling me, 'Earl, you can let go of the ball now,'" Battey said.
"I felt kind of dizzy so Doc had me lie down for about an hour after the game," Battey added. "When I got up I felt dizzy, sort of like I lost my equilibrium. This is when Doc insisted that I go to the hospital."

Dr. William Proffitt Jr., Twins' physician, said X-rays revealed no fracture.
"We think he may possibly have a mild concussion," Proffitt said.

Casper Jumps To Third Place

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI)—Billy Casper Jr. jumped from seventh to third place on the professional golfers' money winning list with his victory in the Colonial National Invitation last weekend.

Casper picked up a $14,000 check for his win in the Fort Worth, Tex., tournament and raised his earnings for the year to $30,891.67.

Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Home run production is up appreciably in both major leagues today and the sweetest shillelachs are being swung by wondrous Willie Mays and the Minnesota Twins.

Based on the exact number of games each team has played compared with last season, the American League is 2 ahead of the 1963 pace with 212 homers while the Nationals are 25 ahead with 185.

Minnesota, it appears, is a dead cinch with 42 walloped already in the first seventh of the season to smash the Yankee team record of 240 in 1961.

Those Twins are driving rival pitchers nutty the way they are teeling off on the ball. Last season in their first 23 games the Twins had only 17 homers. This time in 23 games they have those 42 which lead both leagues with a power plant sparked by Jimmie Hall, rookie Tony Oliva, Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew.

Mays swatted 11 homers in his first 21 games and jumped far in front of Babe Ruth's 1927 home run pace of 60 in 154 games and ahead of the pace Roger Maris set with his 61 in 162 games in 1961. It took Ruth 34 games to belt 11 and Maris needed 40 games for that number.

Frank Howard with 10 in 25 games and Rocky Colavito with nine in 21 games also are both ahead of the Ruth-Maris pace. Minnesota's 25 homer increase over a 23-game span when compared with last season is almost matched in rations by the Kansas City A's. Over 21 games they have upped their output from 10 last year to 31 for an increase of 21.

The Chicago Cubs, sparked by Billy Williams' seven homers, lead the National League home run parade with 25 in 20 games, up 12 over the same span last season. Pittsburgh and the Giants both have hit 22, both up four. The Pirates needed 24 games.

Mays with his 11 and Willie McCovey with six lead the Giant attack which clubbed that many in 21 games.

As Casey Stengel might say: You can't win 'em all or even come close or hit home runs or anything hardy when you're limping along like one time in Kankakee and you don't have fellers like Mays and Howard and Colavito and Hall and Oliva or good rookies or nuthin' and who cares about records anyway.

Senator Asks For Revolution

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., has called for a "virtuous revolution" in American sports to offset the "overwhelming psychological advantage" that Russia gained in the recent Winter Olympics.

Smathers issued the call in a speech Monday night before the men's athletic division of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Smathers urged coaches, teachers and recreation workers to lead the "revolution" which he said could result in a "significant victory in the cold war" for the United States.

Welshman Is After Ramos

WEMBLEY, England (UPI)—Welshman Howard Winstone defends his European featherweight title at the Empire Pool tonight against Italy's Lino Mastellaro and hopes a "good victory" will earn him a shot at the world title.

Winstone, who has only lost twice in 44 starts, previously stayed clear of champion Sugar Ramos of Cuba. But following last Saturday's controversial fight at Accra, where Ramos retained his title with a split decision over challenger Floyd Robertson of Ghana, the Winstone camp is now gunning for the champion.

The 24-year-old Welshman is a 3-1 betting favorite to keep his title with a decision over 15 rounds. Mastellaro, 25, who only arrived in London today, has a 24-2-5 record.

'Voting Can Be Dangerous'

John Keats, who gave us "The Crack in the Picture Window" and "The Insolent Chariots," has given us something more important than either of these books. It was a short, provocative article in the Saturday Evening Post, entitled, "Stay Home and Don't Vote."

Keats, a newspaperman, and a keen observer, is not innocent of logic. Although what he says is brief, it is clearly drawn and gets to the punch line early: "The present fact of the matter is that most Americans should not be allowed within 10 miles of the polling booths."

"Indeed, if most of us wish to do something for our country, we would do well to stay at home and forget about voting." And he makes point after point:

1. The democratic ideal is a dream that has no existence in reality. The idea that everyone should vote is predicated upon an informed electorate. The informed electorate doesn't exist, never did and never will. The idea that the man in the street is going to know enough about human motivation, psychology, technical phraseology, the minute requirements demanded in even minor issues is absurd. We vote in ignorance and thus ignorance is at the wheel driving the ship of state.

2. We demand a show of competence and excellence if we seek a job, try to enroll in a college or enlist in the army. But EVERYONE gets to vote on exactly the same level, whether the person has a doctor's degree in political science or is an ignorant illiterate with no more knowledge of what happens in politics than most of us could muster if we tried to pilot a space capsule. Says Keats: "... a proposition that makes about as much sense as insisting that the vote of some squallid banana republic, or newly emergent nation of huts and witch doctors, should be considered equal to the vote of the United States, or Russia, in the United Nations. This is obviously a highroad to bedlam."

3. Not only do most people fail to understand what they are voting for or against, but they tend to follow a party line over the gaps in their knowledge. Nor does it help to be an "independent" in the voting booth. Hearsay or a lack of hearsay is hardly a safe ground on which to stand if one considers the rules of evidence. Nor does the appearance of a candidate, and certainly very little a candidate says when he is campaigning — for support, provide any substantial reason for voting for or against him.

Having done a devastating job in showing why you shouldn't vote unless you are capable of absolute knowledge, have the ability to foresee human action, and are thoroughly conversant on all political issues, Keats weakens his case by suggesting that this can be done and that YOU can do it. Actually, he is right the first time and would have performed a larger service if he had omitted his final two paragraphs.

His explanation of what happens, IN FACT, in the voting booth is priceless. Take a general election for example:

"... He sees the familiar names of the national candidates. Beneath them is a long list of total strangers who seem to be running for dozens of state and local offices that Mr. Neighbor has never heard of until this moment. At the bottom of the list are three public questions, and Mr. Neighbor is told to vote Yes or No as to whether he believes his city should have a charter government, a dog control law, and an intricate new scheme for funding its public debt. ... He stares at the ballot for a long moment. He makes his choice between the national candidates. Then, since the rest of the names are meaningless to him he decides to vote a straight party ticket and hope for the best. He next votes Yes on the referendum questions because it is always easier to say yes than no. ... All of this is just to give you something to think about—something that may not have occurred to you before."

Let Well Enough Alone

As consumers, every person in the country should be alarmed by legislative proposals now before Congress which are aimed toward establishing the federal government as ruler of the free market and competitive retailing. One such proposal, which has passed the Senate, is called the Design Protection Bill. But Congressman Willis, who is chairman of the House Sub-Committee considering the measure, has stated that it will not be reported on before the opposition has had an opportunity to be heard.

That is good news. For the bill, superficially desirable as it may seem, is filled with dynamite. And the damage that it could do to manufacturers, retailers and the vast majority of consumers needs to be revealed.

Women's clothes are an excellent example. At the beginning fantastically priced "originals" are produced by the fashionable couturiers here and abroad. Then, later the widely-publicized designs are copied, in whole or in part, and made available to the mass market at reasonable prices. This has always been the case and it has worked to the satisfaction of all concerned. The wealthy woman of fashion gets her expensive dress; the woman who can't afford a $500 original, later gets what she wants and finds attractive at a price she can pay.

The new bill would change all this. It would make possible a monopoly of design. Imports, according to retail authorities, would be eliminated or virtually so. And the effects of the bill would not be confined to such things as dresses. Its influence would be felt over an extremely broad spectrum of merchandise used by almost all of us.

Here, certainly, is a case where the government should let well enough alone.

Unfriendly Persuasion

If someone can get you to feel guilty when you look after yourself and virtuous when you fail to look after yourself that someone has acquired power over you.

Dogs Dog Politics

You could argue that American politics went to the dogs long ago, but it's surprising how often canines have actually become involved in election year goings on.

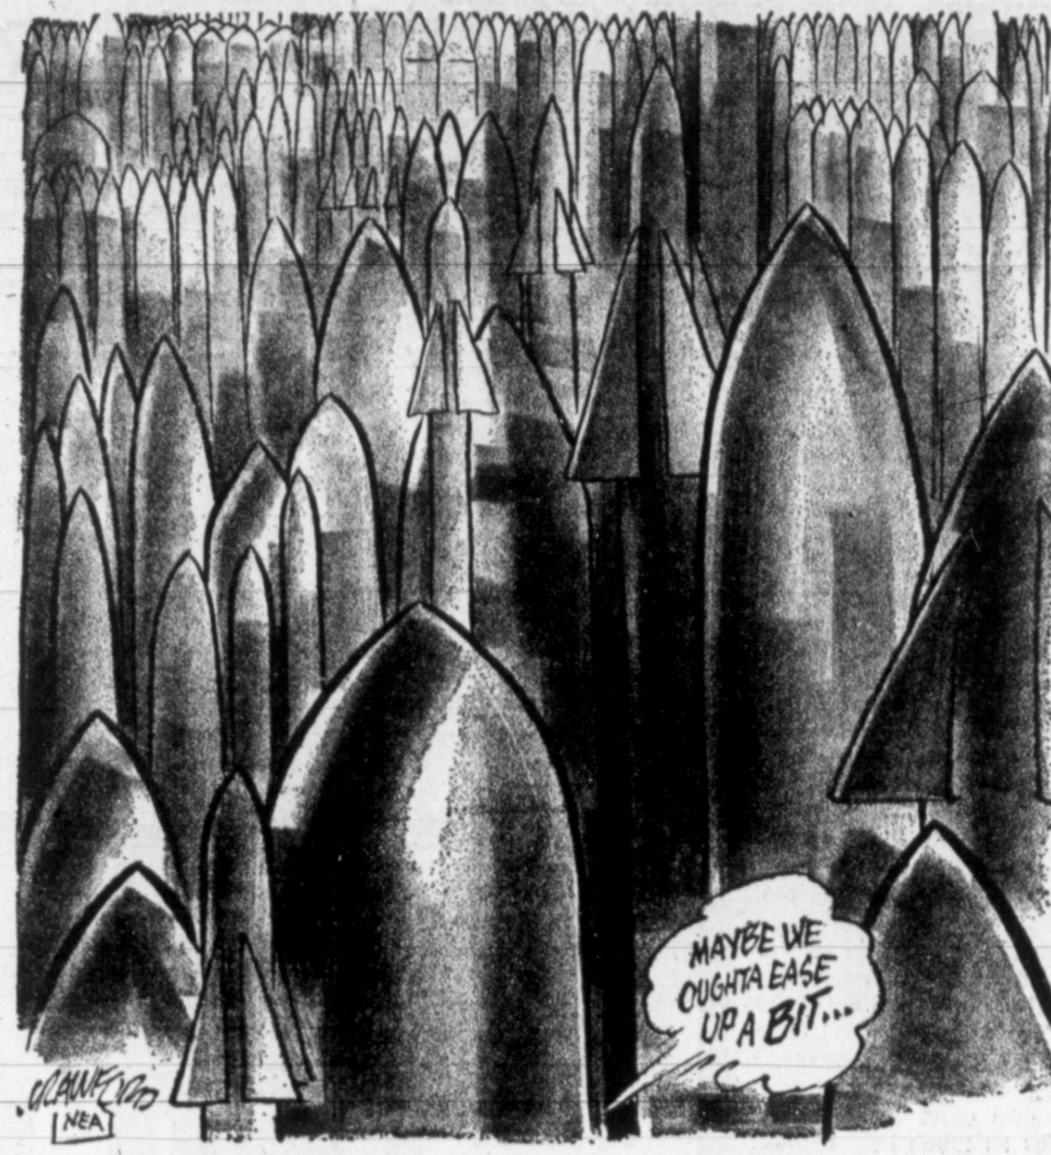

First there was Roosevelt's little Scotty, Fella, who the Republicans indignantly charged, had had a special plane placed at his disposal on one occasion. FDR neatly turned the criticism back on them.

In 1956, in his famous television appearance to clear himself of charges of misusing a campaign contribution, Richard Nixon won friends by defending his children's dog. Checkers, who was the gift of an admirer. (Incidentally, as a result of the broadcast, President Eisenhower pronounced his running mate "as clean as a hound's tooth.")

Now Lyndon Johnson is in the doghouse with some people because he picked up his beagles by their ears. Fortunately, the President has six months before the election to establish his image as a dog lover.

Apparently, people don't mind if politics is a dog-eat-dog business — just as long as it's confined to humans.

Fulbright's Real Mission In Cyprus Trip: To Negotiate Joint U.S.-British Trade Policy on U.S.S.R. and Cuba

PAUL SCOTT

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

WASHINGTON — Senator J. William Fulbright's fact-finding trip to Cyprus is a cleverly devised White House cover for a much more significant presidential mission.

The author of the speech charging "myths and errors" in U.S. foreign policy was commissioned by President Johnson to use his European visit to negotiate a joint trade policy with the British on the Soviet Union and Cuba.

The President gave the "dean" of the congressional Rhodes scholars the task of offering U.S. backing for Britain's plan to increase trade and grant long-term credits to Russia in exchange for support of U.S. policy of economic denial to Cuba.

The trade concessions to the Soviet, which Fulbright discussed in London with Prime Minister Sir Douglas Home, closely match the U.S. proposal made to Premier Khrushchev earlier this month in exchange for Russian concessions on Cuba.

Like Khrushchev, Home welcomed with open arms Johnson's proposal for a relaxation of East-West trade bars, but showed little interest in changing his government's policies toward Cuba.

Because of his own highly publicized disagreement with the administration's Cuban policies, Senator Fulbright reported to the White House he was having trouble convincing Home that Johnson's proposal was being advocated as anything but a domestic political move.

Aides report that Fulbright's message caused the President to call Home and personally assure him he was serious in trying to deny trade to Castro while favoring the exchange of more goods with Khrushchev.

INSIDE STORY — The Fulbright trade mission is designed as a key part of a major effort by the President and his chief foreign policy advisers to tidy up the so-called "Cuban mess."

Deeply concerned over the political problem Cuba will present the President in the coming campaign, these administration policy-makers are trying to create the image of a "Johnson victory" in Cuba without a new war scare.

An agreement with the British to reduce their Cuban exports, and a public "deal" by Russia that her control over Castro is being loosened, would fit nicely into this rosy picture, since all hard Cuban news is now controlled by Castro or the Johnson administration.

U.S. intelligence on Cuba is getting worse rather than improving.

The subcommittee, headed by Senator John Stennis, D-Miss., is planning new hearings because of reports from veteran military intelligence officers that the Central Intelligence Agency is securing less hard information on Cuba than before the October-November 1961 missile crisis. It was during this period before the confrontation that Khrushchev was able to sneak his missiles to the island without detection by the CIA.

Senator Stennis and the other committee members want to know why the super-secret CIA hasn't improved its other information-gathering methods on the island and is depending almost entirely on a limited number of U-2 flights for 90 per cent of its Cuban intelligence.

THE FEUDING GIANTS — The bitter backstage feud between Attorney General Robert Kennedy and Teamster boss Jimmy Hoffa has temporarily spilled over into the Senate.

Kennedy, using the full power of his office as the government's chief legal officer, interceded last week to prevent Senate investigators from questioning one of the government's key witnesses in convicting Hoffa of jury tampering.

The witness, Edward Partin, Baton Rouge, La., one-time close associate of Hoffa, revealed himself at Hoffa's trial in Chattanooga, Tenn., as a government informer against the Teamster boss.

According to a member of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, Partin and his former secretary, Marjorie Ann Smith, were awaiting questioning when Kennedy called Senator Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., acting chairman, and arranged to have the hearing called off.

Partin, a former Teamster official, was under committee summons at the time for questioning about allegations that he was involved in arms dealings with Castro.

This hearing was to be based on affidavits the subcommittee received from Miss Smith and J. D. Albin, a union organizer, in which they gave alleged details of two visits Partin made to Cuba in 1960.

Hoffa aides obtained the affidavits and turned them over to the subcommittee's staff, which recommended that the witnesses be questioned in executive hearings together with Partin.

Around the World

By Robert Morris

KHRUSHCHEV AND VIET NAM

Some of the most revolting crimes reportable are being committed today by the dread Viet Cong in embattled South Viet Nam. Stories of foul and grotesque murders of women and children, with the victims often being dismembered, of savage cruelty and of sheer terror, are pouring out of the little Southeast Asian country.

Yet, in February, Khrushchev's official news agency, Tass, had this to say of the situation there: "True to the policy of solidarity with the peoples who are fighting for freedom and independence, they (the Soviet people) follow with profound sympathy the just national liberation struggle of the South Vietnamese people and will render the necessary assistance and support to this struggle."

There you have it from Khrushchev's official agency itself — "necessary assistance" and "support" to the dread Viet Cong. Not only is Tass a Khrushchev operation, but obviously so is the Viet Nam terror campaign.

Terror, approved and sanctioned by Khrushchev is not a new phenomenon. The incredible story of cruelty and terror he committed at Budapest in 1956 and in the months and years following when he crushed the uprising of the gallant Hungarians, his bloodbaths earlier in the Ukraine and elsewhere — all indelibly stamp him as a murderer beyond the pale of morality, beyond the pale of international decency.

Yet, on the world scene our President and the leaders of our State Department are courting and diplomatically embracing the bloody dictator. The President literally hailed him a few weeks ago as a "man of peace."

Dean Rusk insists that the "peaceful coexistence" of Khrushchev prevail in the Communist world. We are pouring out our resources and our substance, in the form of foreign aid, of cultural exchange, of trade with the Communist bloc, to shore up Khrushchev's cruel economy. Our diplomats work night and day to give him "great power status."

What about the morality of this? If this craven performance had not been preceded by a systematic conditioning of the public, we should be outraged and every churchman in the country would be deploring these obvious transgressions of the moral code. Yet, we are accepting and openly condoning the foulest of murders. The same newspapers that tell of the savagery in Viet Nam report our leaders' praise of Khrushchev.

This, obviously, is why Senator J. W. Fulbright, in his semi-official State Department role of Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, calls for the rejection of what he calls the "Myth of Moralism."

Even this call for us to jettison bol. He points out the pigeon depends entirely upon the handouts it gets from others. ... Back in the 1880's, American Tel. & Tel. considered a number of designs before adopting the most logical one, a bell to represent Alexander Graham Bell's telephone.

Country Editor speaking: "Don't always try to change things. An old setup is better than a new upset."

Editor:

In May 8th editorial "A Place to Visit," The New York Stock Exchange, I also might add the NYSE could be called The World's Greatest Gambling Casino.

Las Vegas is a penny ante piker compared with Wall Street.

Khrushchev grows and wham, stock prices drop 10-billion dollars.

Gross National Product expected to rise, bang, stock prices jump 5-billion dollars.

Just like watching the roll of the dice the amateur public is in the market hoping to make a buck and the professionals are there ready to shear the sheep.

Wall Street can't lose because with every share of stock bought they take their cut, and with every share of stock sold they take their cut.

Oh well, who wants to outlast gambling, and if that stock certificate ever becomes valueless don't throw it away; it makes beautiful wall paper.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Tuesday, May 12, the 132rd day of 1964 with 233 to follow.

The moon is approaching the first quarter.

The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:
In 1932, researchers found the body of the baby son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, kidnapped on March 1.

In 1937, George VI was crowned king in Westminster Abbey, London, following the abdication of his brother, Edward VIII.

In 1949, after 328 days, Soviet authorities in Berlin announced the end of the land blockade of the German capital.

The norms of morality that have been our guidelines is accepted by our now conditioned public. We are, indeed, losing our capacity for moral indignation and dissent.

But if we continue to reject "moralism" and continue to embrace the perpetrator of the foulest of deeds, condone bondage in a third of the world, wink at terror, tolerate the shooting down of our sons serving in our armed forces, what is to become of us as a nation?

This same Khrushchev gets a superlative press. He is represented as a loving grandfather, a mellowing head of state, a suave diplomat — the moderate in the Communist firmament.

Literally, we are being told that black is white. We seem not to have the moral resistance even to say it isn't so.

I write this in New York City where, just yesterday, forty people heard, watched, and walked on when an 18-year-old girl was being wantonly attacked. It didn't surprise me, for that is precisely the standard our leaders in Washington are setting today as they watch Khrushchev commit his crimes. Washington even goes a little further. It rewards the attacker.

CULPRIT — This overturned trash barrel is just one of the many reasons Pampa's streets stay dirty. City Manager Harold Schmitzer has issued an appeal to all residents to inspect their trash barrels and garbage receptacles to see that city ordinances are complied with.

City Manager Urges Trash Barrel Study

City Manager Harold Schmitzer urged city residents to take a look at their trash barrels to see if they could be the culprits that are littering the city streets.

Schmitzer pointed out an ordinance governing trash and trash containers which says, "It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sweep, place, or permit to be placed upon any sidewalk, street or avenue any waste paper, floor sweepings or waste matter of any kind, except that it be placed in a metal box with a lid or cover attached in such a manner as to prevent such paper or waste material from becoming scattered upon the streets."

Schmitzer said the trash problem is not a new one and that it dates back to 1928. He urged residents, however, to put forth an extra effort during "paint up - fix up - clean up" campaign to curb the problem. Schmitzer said, "The city does not want to enforce compliance with these ordinances by arrests and fines, we want voluntary compliance from citizens who want to clean up our town." He said, "your city government cannot clean up our city if your citizens are willing to live under the present trash conditions."

Schmitzer passed along these pointers for keeping our streets free from litter: make sure trash barrels are tied down by chain or on approved racks; make sure each trash barrel has a secure fitting lid; do not pile lumber or heavy objects in trash containers that cannot be handled by dump trucks, do not leave Dumpster Dumpster lids open and do not put more than 75 pounds of trash in one container.

The paint up-fix up - clean up campaign ends May 29.

MOON STONE HUNT—"Project Moon Harvest"—a hunt for unusual stones that might be chips knocked off the moon by "shooting stars"—is being conducted in Iowa during the spring plowing season. Federal officials say the lunar fragments may provide clues to the exact make-up of the moon's surface, information which space engineers would like to know before designing landing mechanisms for space ships. Farmers and school children are hunting for moonstones in an area between Council Bluffs and Sioux City.
