State Board Commends Fort Worth School Plan

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Fort Worth public school system's "Americanism" campaign Saturday was commended at a meeting of the State Board of Education. State board member Vernon Baird of Fort Worth distributed copies of a newsletter in which Fort Worth School Supt. Elden B. Busby described the campaign.

"Pupils in grades 1-3 learn about private enterprise and the many benefits provided by the capitalist system," Busby wrote. "In grades 4-5, instruction in the geography and history of Fort Worth, Texas and of the United States is undertaken."

Teachers in junior high contrast competing ideologies clearly with our American way and show how inferior they are," Busby said. He said high school students come to know the misuse and distortion of words by the propagandist with evil intentions.

Texas Teachers Move to Erase Race Barriers

"Any white teacher or white friend of education" is eligible for TSTA membership under the present constitutional provisions.

How? Through my State Farm Mutual agent. He helped me get financing through a local cooperating bank. And that low cost bank financing really saves you money! Then I insured the car with State Farm too, and enjoyed the extra value of their insurance. Guess a lot of car owners save like this through State Farm. Say... why don't you call your State Farm agent?

Front Runners Swept To Victory in Runoff

By KYLE THOMPSON
DALLAS (UPI)— Front-runners in the May 2 Texas primary swept to victories in Saturday's runoffs, and the Political Association of Spanish-Speaking Organizations (PASO) suffered a setback.

In five local runoffs in the Rio Grande Valley area, voters rejected candidates endorsed or supported by PASO.

The ambitious PASO entered into the races before the primary with the announced intention of making itself a formidable in state politics.

In statewide voting, George Bush defeated Jack Cox in the battle of Houston oilmen for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination. Bush will face Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., in the November general election.

Pool Defeats Baker
Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas defeated Democratic challenger Robert Baker of Houston to win nomination for a second term as congressman-at-large.

Eligio (Kika) de la Garza beat Lindsey Rodriguez for the 15th Congressional District Democratic nomination.

El Paso lawyer Richard White won the Democratic nomination over State Rep. Malcolm McGregor of El Paso in their 16th District Congressional race. White will face incumbent Republican Rep. Ed Foreman of Odessa in November.

Two-to-One Margin
Rodriguez, a liberal, was supported by PASO in his bid to capture the congressional seat being vacated by retiring Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen. De la Garza, considered a moderate conservative, won by nearly a 2-1 margin.

Final reports by the Texas Election Bureau showed that Pool got 355,063 votes to 267,975 for Baker. Bush beat Cox 49,658 to 30,122; de la Garza beat Rodriguez 34,631 to 18,991 and White beat McGregor, 19,364 to 16,938.

The TEB said only about 1,700 votes remained to be counted in the Democratic runoff and no further counts would be issued.

Paso candidates who lost in the Valley were running for Hidalgo County sheriff, Hidalgo County commissioner and two state legislature posts.

PASO state president Albert Pena of San Antonio won re-nomination for another term as Bexar County commissioner.

About 80,000 Turnout
The Republican turnout of about 80,000 votes — a little more than a fourth of the total in the May balloting.

Lack of voter interest kept the Democratic total to about 600,000 votes — a little more than a fourth of the total in the May balloting.

Bush, son of former U.S. Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., pledged to beat Yarborough, who he said "is a man the people of Texas don't want."

Yarborough said Cox was "used as long as the Republicans thought he could pull other Democrats away from their own party into the Republican party."

Cox is a former Democrat. State GOP chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr. of Dallas predicted Yarborough would be forced "by political expediency" to change his stand on the civil rights bill now before the Senate.

Supreme Court Meets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court meets today to get some more opinions out of the way preparatory to adjournment after this month.

The court still has more than 20 decisions to hand down before it can start its vacation.

SUGGESTIONS FOR YOUTH AND PARENTS

Editor's note: — The following is one of a series of brief, informative articles to be published daily in the News. They are designed to offer aid and advice to young people as well as their parents. The series is furnished as a public service of city and county juvenile and police officers and corporation court.

POLICEMEN

With the beginning of school vacation it is a good time to remind children that a policeman is his friend. Threatening a child with the police and the law to make him behave usually produces undesired results. It teaches a youngster to develop a set of ethics based on fear. He reasons that he shouldn't lie, cheat or steal only because he might be caught. Also, it causes him to be scared of policemen, making him unwilling to seek one out should he be in trouble.

Every child should be taught that if he becomes lost, locks himself out of his house, loses his money, or needs an adult's help in any way, the policeman is the one to go to.

TELLS THE STORY — The license plate on this car and a shoe belonging to 2 1/2-year-old Jeanne Moore tells the story after Jeanne was struck down at a crosswalk in downtown Ontario, Calif. Ironically, the letters of the license plate spell "HIT." Driver of the car suffered a fatal heart attack, which was the cause of the accident. Jeanne is in critical condition at a local hospital.

Strike of New York Actors Is Thwarted

NEW YORK (UPI)—An actors' strike which threatened a prolonged Broadway blackout was tentatively settled today. Mayor Robert F. Wagner succeeded in getting an agreement in pre-dawn talks with both sides at his home.

Wagner stepped into the dispute at midnight, summoning officials of Actors Equity and producers to Gracie mansion a short time after picketing began at the Imperial and Brooks Atkinson theaters where "Olivier" and "The Deputy" were to have Sunday matinees.

The dispute affected more than 670 performers, some of them among Broadway's biggest stars, and more than 3,000 other theater employes such as backstage crews.

Grand Jury in Session Today

The Gray County Grand Jury was impaneled for its June term this morning and sworn in by District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich.

Members of the new grand jury are Mrs. Roy Lee Jordan of Lefors, Guy M. Cawfield of Albreed, Frank J. Redwine of McLean, Harry L. Allen, Mrs. Charlie Ford, Gary Griffin, Lige Lindsey, J. C. Roberts, Frank Smith, Ken Peoples, John E. Parker and Richard W. Stowers, all of Pampa. Roberts was elected foreman.

Colts Split Pair In Tri-State Play

The Pampa Colts returned home after a 13-2 shelling by Umbarger Saturday night to beat Amarillo's Graham Plowboys 6-2 yesterday in Tri-State League action.

Former Amarillo Gold Sox pitcher Hugh Blanton held the Colts to one hit in five innings Saturday night and struck out eight to pick up the win. Pampa got both its runs off reliever Darrel Reed.

Larry Gregory picked up a single and a double and Chuck Bennett a single to account for the only Pampa hits.

Reed, who started out in right field before coming to the mound in the sixth, hit a single, double and home run to pace the Umbarger attack.

The Colts found the range early on the Plowboys yesterday and jumped off to a four-run lead in the first inning that was good enough for the win.

Amarillo pitcher Tommy Johnson hit Jerry Layne to open the Colts' first inning, then walked Keith Gregory after Layne stole second. Jerry Glover forced Layne at third and Mike Stewart drove in one run with a double. Mike Clark cleared the bases with a home run.

Amarillo tightened up the game with single runs in the sixth and eighth innings before the Colts put it out of reach with two runs in the bottom of the eighth.

Ray Dean opened the eighth for Pampa with a walk, moved to second on Glover's single, to third on an error by catcher Jerry Johnson, and scored on a fly to left field by Stewart.

The next run was much simpler. Clark got on on a fielder's choice and came home on Gary Hill's double. Hill was out at third trying to stretch his hit.

Jerry Glover picked up the victory on five innings of scoreless pitching. He gave up three hits, walked one and fanned four.

Mike Clark pitched the last four innings and was just as impressive. He gave up two hits, walked none and struck out five.

The Colts travel to Guymon, Okla., Wednesday and then host Stinnett Saturday in two night games this week.

Chicago White Sox Back In First—Maybe to Stay

By United Press International
The Chicago White Sox are back in first place and may stay there — if you believe in signs.

The first sign has to do with Manager Al Lopez and his cycle of five.

He seems to come up with a winner every five years. Loper won the American League pennant with the Indians in 1954 and again with the White Sox five years later in 1959. Now, five years since then, he says he's due again.

An even stronger sign is the 15-5 record the White Sox have compiled during the past three weeks. That's a sizzling 750 pace, which should be good enough to win in any league.

The White Sox came up with good pitching and timely hitting Sunday to sweep a doubleheader from the nose-diving Detroit Tigers, 8-3 and 2-1.

Talbot Win First
Dave Nicholson's eighth homer with two on in the second inning of the opener gave the White Sox a 3-0 lead and Floyd Robinson singled home two more runs in the seventh. Rookie Fred Talbot was credited with his first major league victory while Phil Regan suffered his fifth setback.

Joe Horlen limited the Tigers to three hits in the nightcap as Gene Stephens singled home the winning run in the eighth to hand Hank Aguirre his second defeat.

The Minnesota Twins knocked the Baltimore Orioles out of first place by beating them, 5-2; the New York Yankees downed the Los Angeles Angels, 9-3; Cleveland nipped Washington, 3-2, in their 15-inning opener but lost the nightcap, 6-3, and Kansas City snapped a six-game losing streak with an 8-6 nightcap victory over Boston after the Red Sox won the first game, 9-5.

Wally Bunker, Baltimore's 19-year-old rookie, suffered his first loss after six straight victories when Minnesota clipped him for seven hits during the seven innings he worked. Harmon Killebrew hit his 15th homer with one on and Bernie Allen belted his fifth homer as Camilo Pascual hurled a five-hitter for his eighth victory.

Southpaw Whitey Ford scored his seventh straight win with late inning help from rookie Pete Mikkelsen. Tom Tresh and Elston Howard homered against the Angels. Ken McBride was charged with his 10th straight defeat after winning his only game on the opening day of the season.

Hit Breaks Tie
Al Smith's 15th inning single in the opener broke up a 2-2 tie between the Indians and Senators. Pedro Ramos notched his third victory of the season and the 100th of his major league career. Rookie Bob Chance belted a pair of homers in the opener and two singles in the nightcap. Alan Koch scattered eight hits in the second game to register his first victory for the Senators.

Frank Malzone and Carl Yastrzemski each homered and drove in three runs to lead the Red Sox to their opening game victory over the Athletics.

WINS SOCCER PENNANT
ROME (UPI) — Bologna won the Italian soccer pennant Sunday by scoring a 2-0 victory over Inter of Milan in the first championship playoff in 40 years.

Bowling
Carol Belmont who competed this weekend at Dallas for the State Junior Championship placed second in the senior girls division and returned with a trophy. Carol Belmont and Don Rader were guests of the State Junior Bowling Association over the weekend at Dallas.

Don competed in the senior boys division but was eliminated in the first round. The State was divided into nine districts and these juniors were representing the Panhandle by virtue of winning the district title at Amarillo.

Optimist Ball Fete Tonight

The Pampa Optimist Club's annual baseball kickoff ceremonies, featuring former major league great Pepper Martin and Tulsa Oilers general manager Hugh Finnerty, will kick off tonight at 5:30 at Optimist Park.

Opening the evening will be a barbeque, picnic style, on the grounds, with a concert by the Amarillo Air Force Base Band.

At 6:30 p.m., the ceremonies will begin with welcoming addresses by Mayor H. R. Thompson and Chamber of Commerce president Aubrey Steele. Local dignitaries and officers of the two Optimist Clubs will be introduced, as will special guests M. K. Brown and Mrs. C. M. Jefferies.

The ceremonies will close with Finnerty making the principal speech, followed by a Martin clinic for all interested youngsters. At 8 p.m., three baseball games will get underway, with two of the Little Leagues opening their season and a Babe Ruth game in Optimist Park itself.

Also to be introduced are the eight girls running for the two Queens of the Babe Ruth regional tournament next month. Currently leading the voting are Debbie Roper and Marcia Jewell. Votes are 1 cent each and the candidates' pictures and ballots are on display at the park. Voting will continue through July 3.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

Cree edged Bank 7-5 in a single Babe Ruth League game Saturday at Optimist Park.

Don Whitney went all the way for the win, giving up four hits, striking out five and walking eight. A Cree double play in the fourth inning stopped a big Bank threat and pulled him through. Bank also got a twin killing when Frank Parrish flied to short and Gary Abbott was doubled off third. Randy Harris went all the way in defeat.

Lane Hooten was the big stick for the losers with a two-run homer and single. Larry Hargus led the winners with two hits.

San Francisco first baseman was lying on the ground when he stopped the ball and knew he couldn't get to his feet in time to beat the streaking Herrnstain to the bag.

So Cepeda dove headfirst toward the bag, gulping nearly half an acre of real estate en route. But he figured it was worth it because there was umpire Ed Vargo with his thumb in the air, signifying Herrnstain was out by half a step.

That play officially nailed down the Giants' third straight victory over the Phillies and increased their National League lead to 1½ games.

Jim Bunning started for Philadelphia and had a four-hit shutout until the ninth when San Francisco tied the score at 3-3 on Duke Snider's two-run homer and Jim Hart's solo

Rebels Hike Loop Lead, Beat Borger and Perryton

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

BORGER — The power hitting of Ricky Goodwin, backed by Rick Stewart and James Matney, and the clutch relief pitching of Ronnie Curlee propelled the Pampa Rebels to an 8-5 victory here yesterday. Coupled with the Rebs' 18-3 slaughter of Perryton Saturday night, it gives them a 3-0 district 18 record and undisputed first place in the northern zone.

The burly Goodwin slammed out a home run over the right field fence and three doubles off the wall up the middle, followed by Stewart with a nether right field homer and a pair of singles, and the big frosh with four-for-four, including a pair of doubles, to lead the hitting in a free-swinging affair.

Big Jim Arthur took the win, but a tired Jimbo was in trouble all the way, saved by tremendous fielding headed by rifle-armed catcher Roy Harper, who picked a runner off first, another off second and threw two men out at third. Another fielding gem was turned in by Ricky Maynard, who leaped over the left field fence and made a one-handed grab of what looked like a sure home run by Terry Brewer in the fifth inning.

Ace reliever Curlee again put out the fire as he came on with the tying runs on base in the seventh, fed Gregg Pollard a double-play ball on the first pitch and allowed only two runners the rest of the way.

Saturday night saw Jerry Garrison fire a one-hitter, striking out 15 batters in a seven inning affair. The little left-hander was plagued by wildness, walking 10 batters to set up a 2-0 lead for Perryton going into the bottom of the third inning.

The Rangers fell apart at that point as their catcher allowed five passed balls in the inning, coupled with three hits and two walks, for 11 runs. The Rebels went on from there, belting out five hits for five more runs in the fifth inning, featured by Jim Arthur's triple off the left field fence.

The Rebels play their fourth district game at home Wednesday night, hosting Vega at 8 p.m.

More Federal Money

State government expenses, rising steadily each year, are being met increasingly with funds from the federal government, and at the same time the states complain of federal control. A recent Census Bureau summary of state finances reveals that the states took in three times as much money from the federal government in fiscal 1963 as they did in 1954. This amount made up 24.3 per cent of all state general revenue in 1963, compared with 18 per cent of the total in 1954.

The traditional major source of state revenue—taxes—continued its pre-dominant role. But while taxes had made up 72 per cent of the total in 1954, they accounted for only 65.3 per cent in 1963.

Thus, while state revenues and expenditures were more than doubling in the nine years since 1954, tax revenue was not keeping pace and the difference was being made up by the federal funds going to the states through grants-in-aid and other programs of assistance.

The only tax source which went up at a faster rate than the revenues and expenditures was the individual income tax, which tripled its take from 1954 to 1963.

The Census Bureau report dealt with total revenue (made up of general, liquor store and insurance trust revenues) and total expenditure (general, liquor store and insurance trust expenditures). The general revenue was 82.7 per cent of the total revenue in fiscal 1963 and consisted of taxes, intergovernmental revenue (of which 94 per cent came from the federal government and the rest from local governments) and charges.

The total revenues and expenditures of the states set new highs in fiscal 1963, with the former totaling $41 billion (up 9 per cent from 1962 and 118 per cent from 1954) and the latter totaling $39.6 billion (up 8.7 per cent from 1962 and 112 per cent from 1954). Tax revenue was up 7.6 per cent from 1962 to 1963 and 99.4 per cent from 1954 to 1963.

All major sources of state revenue increased, the Census Bureau said, except for borrowing, which was at its lowest level ($2 billion) since 1957 and which was 32.1 per cent lower than the 1962 figure. Five states—California, Illinois, Louisiana, New York and Pennsylvania—accounted for almost one-half of the $2 billion.

For the second year in a row, the states took in more revenue than they spent—$1.4 billion. This was the largest excess revenue in the nine-year period from 1954 to 1963. In 1958 and 1959 expenditure exceeded revenue by $1.9 billion.

Also rising to a new high in 1963 was the total state debt $23.2 billion as compared to $22 billion in 1962 and $9.6 billion in 1954.

Only three states did not experience increased revenues in 1963—New Hampshire, South Dakota and Vermont. But 16 states spent more money than they took in.

California continued to lead all the states in total general revenue ($4 billion) with New York again, second ($3.3 billion). The state which realized the biggest one-year gain in revenue from 1962 to 1963 was Wisconsin with a rise of 22 per cent.

Alaska, which had the third lowest total general revenue in 1963, led in per capita revenue and expenditure that same year through a combination of the smallest population of all the states (248,000) and all the largest amount of revenue per capita from the federal government, as against the total state average of 23 per cent.

The state of Texas ranked 35th in per capita personal income in 1963; 38th in general government revenue; 38th in tax revenues.

Texas spent $143.4 million for general expenditures; $62.17 million for schools; $39.35 for highways; $21.84 million for public welfare; and $6.73 million on hospitals.

No Witch's Broomstick?

There are so flying saucers—also flying washbubs, flying eye-glasses, flying knapsacks, or what look like them—and many more weird contraptions that will whisk a human, or 200 of them, off the earth and return him or them right-side-up with care.

"These things exist. They work," writes Wolfgang Langewiesche in the June Reader's Digest. "How soon you'll be looking out the window at them is another question—maybe five years, maybe 15. But they are coming, and you may want a briefing."

This, the author proceeds to give us in his article: "Look at the New Flying Machines." Flying, he explains, is a matter of pushing air around. Push it under you to get off the ground, behind you to get from here to there. With this in mind, we can begin, at least to have some comprehension of the new planes that take off straight down; of the Flying Crane, that can hover over a mired ten-ton truck or battlefield cannon, pick it up, move it slowly and put it down where it can function. At the other end of the scale is the "Hoppicopter," which you strap to your back and hop off for an airborne 1,000 feet or so.

Then there are the "ground-effect vehicles," the "hovercraft" or "skimmers," which says Mr. Langewiesche, "fly not at 20 feet, but at two feet or two inches... just off the ground—or off the water." Already in use in ferry service between North Wales and England, more such vehicles—or air-cushion vessels—are now building. Trains, suggests the author, may one-day fly just above the tracks and loaded trucks breeze along an inch or so above low-cost rights-of-way.

But still, those who can remember what people were saying about the Wright Brothers—even after they'd proved something on the North Carolina dunes—will agree with the Digest writer when he concludes: "And however fanciful they get, the new air vehicles will never seem as crazy as that contraption at Kitty Hawk."

A Great Danger

By playing rubber stamp to an all powerful Executive, the Administration, the Congress is letting the Executive Branch of the government take over functions of the Constitution designated as the sole responsibility of the Congress. The theory that the Executive proposes and the Congress disposes has given away to a system which too often the Executive moves and the Congress automatically approves.

It seems that this is only a continuation of the same old irresponsible attitude that lost many of our states rights to the federal government. This knowing to the Executive can only lead to the assumption of all congressional responsibilities

State Department Sends $25 Million to Hong Kong To Resettle Russian 'Refugees' Sent from Red China

WASHINGTON — The State Department is secretly engaged in one of the most astounding "refugee relocation" operations on record.

Involved in this extraordinary affair are thousands of Russians whom Red China mysteriously is permitting to "flee" from their long-time settlements in the Harbin area in northeastern Manchuria.

Already more than 10,000 have reached Hong Kong, several thousand miles from Harbin, and other "refugees" are arriving at the rate of several hundred a month.

Aim of the State Department is to resettle these unscreened Russians, who have lived for years under Communist Chinese rule, in various countries, among them Australia, New Zealand, Canada, Latin America and the U. S. — if congressional authorization can be wangled.

Anticipated cost of this huge and so-far carefully-unannounced operation is $25 million—to be borne entirely by the U. S.

Various agencies are being tapped for these funds, including foreign aid.

All this is being done with the full knowledge and approval of President Johnson. The necessary backstage directives have been handled by Secretary Dean Rusk.

In immediate charge is Abba Schwartz, controversial head of the Bureau of Consular & Security Affairs, who has been in Hong Kong for several weeks setting up the resettlement machinery.

In this unpublicized project, Schwartz is encountering two embarrassing difficulties: One is the sinister record of several thousand of these Russian "refugees" resettled in 1960, with U. S. assistance, in Brazil, Ecuador, Colombia and Mexico. In all of these countries, a number have been expelled or jailed on grounds of espionage, violence and joining local Communists in attempts to overthrow the government.

The other problem is the vehement opposition of U. S. and British authorities in Hong Kong, who are bombarding Washington and London with blunt warnings against the operation.

UNDER CONGRESSIONAL SCRUTINY — Edward E. Rice, U. S. consul general in Hong Kong, has been particularly outspoken in his protests.

In numerous cables, carefully stamped "Top Secret" by the State Department, Rice has sought to ascertain who initiated this explosive "refugee" resettlement program without consulting him and other on-the-ground officials. So far, Rice has gotten no answers to his pointed questions.

Odds Even On Plot by Cuban Exiles

By RAY CROILEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Some official analysts here estimate privately that Cuban exile groups have a 50-50 chance to overthrow Castro eventually if they can once establish themselves on the island and are willing to persist through years of guerrilla warfare.

The chances of establishing that crucial beginning foothold: also 50-50.

As of this writing, there are three major groups involved in plans for gradually infiltrating Cuba, each operating separately. The Movement for Revolutionary Recuperation is led by Manuel Artime. The Junta Revolucionaria Cubana is led by Manolo (Manuel) Ray. A coalition of the Alpha 66, the Revolutionary Movement of the People and the Second National Front of Escambray is under the military leadership of Eloy Outeiro Menoyo.

The analyst I talked to agreed on one thing: there can be no quick victory; infiltrating exile groups must be prepared to take as long to win as Castro did.

This concept of infiltrating Cuba slowly with small groups over a period of years as part of a long struggle was the original plan for the operations which eventually became the Bay of Pigs debacle.

Somewhere along the line, the plans were changed. That invasion became a mixture — neither an infiltration nor a well-backed massive landing. Having the weaknesses of both concepts and the strengths of neither, it failed.

So, U. S. strategists studying these new Cuban exile plans like the present approach. But there are other things that worry them: One: They're not certain how much active support the infiltrating troops will find on the island.

The analysts estimate 25 per cent of the population is strongly opposed to the regime. But only 5 per cent of the people may be willing to take direct action.

Half of the Cubans are believed lackadaisical; they may grumble but must be considered neutral. An eighth of the people are believed fanatical backers of the regime. Another eighth give it real support because of self-interest.

Two: Cuba's intelligence network has been so strengthened since the Bay of Pigs that Castro men may be able to effectively catch many islanders who wish to join up with the infiltrators.

One Reason Why Paycheck Doesn't Meet Family Bills

When the family paycheck fails to meet the family bills, one of the subjects furthest

Mississippi Cooking Up Delay Plot

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The State of Mississippi is getting ready with a plan the aim of which — at the very least — is to delay a final potentially explosive confrontation with federal authority over desegregation of public schools.

Likely to be handed soon to Gov. Paul Johnson for signature are four legislative bills which would, for all practical purposes, allow him to close public schools that have been ordered by U. S. courts to desegregate and to set up a private school system for Mississippi white children.

The proposal in question would permit the state to make tuition grants to private school students, to provide them with free textbooks, to protect the retirement status of teachers who may shift from public to private schools, and to vest in the Education Finance Commission the power to supervise these efforts.

These measures have the governor's backing, and it appears his clear intent to use them to avoid as long as possible any racial mixing in Mississippi schools.

This formula, of course, is closely patterned after that employed by local authorities since 1959 in Virginia's Prince Edward County. The U. S. Supreme Court has just voided this approach, in effect ordering Prince Edward to re-open its long-closed public schools.

But Mississippi authorities indicate their belief that any application of the Prince Edward decisions to Mississippi schools could not be managed in time to prevent use of the private school system in certain areas in the coming fall school term.

If that expectation should prove correct, then the operation of public schools with both white and Negro pupils might be put off at least until February 1965 and perhaps later.

With such delay would come avoidance of the explosive dangers which would inevitably accompany the introduction of school desegregation into the last U. S. state with no shred of it today.

The prospect would be elimination of the possibility that President Lyndon Johnson might have to resort to use of federal troops to halt possible resistance to desegregation orders. This has been one of the few really sharp swords hanging over the President's head in an election year that in most ways looks amazingly promising for him.

Mississippi observers are guessing that final desegregation orders will soon be handed down for public schools in the cities of Jackson and Biloxi and the rural county of Leake, home county of former Gov. Ross Barnett.

U. S. District Judge Sidney Mize recently heard the Jackson case on its merits. It involves as petitioners the children of slain Negro leader Medgar Evers. The Jackson school board is under temporary court order to produce by July 15 a one-grade desegregation plan for the coming year that could be made to stand.

Hearing in the other cases will be coming along shortly with the ultimate prospect much the same.

Once the legal situation is finally defined, Gov. Johnson could act to institute private schools in the affected areas. The timing of any moves could be governed by the evident hope of achieving maximum delay.

Yet the two subjects are directly related. To see how this is so, scrounge up a ten-spot and lay it in front of you so you can see it real good. That way we won't be talking about intangibles.

Out Of Your Pay Okay, now this $10 bill in front of you so you can see it real good. This is one ten spot that the tax collector didn't get. But he did get its brother. If that other $10 bill hadn't been deducted from your paycheck, you would be just $10 richer than you are right now.

If you had received all that you had earned, you might be able not only to meet your monthly bills comfortably, but also to take the wife out for dinner on Friday evenings a little more often.

So that is the direct relationship between the take-home pinch and the $10 taken from you to finance foreign aid!

Now, just for fun, let's follow the $10 that was taken from you and find out where it finally ends up.

First Stop: Washington, D. C. After it leaves your paycheck, the first destination of your ten spot is Washington, D. C. There a man in a big office by a stroke of the pen assigns your $10 to the foreign aid fund.

Right here is where your thinking may be thrown off the track. You may imagine that Uncle Sam takes your $10 bill and hands it to some peon in South America. You then envision the peon's going into the village with the $10 bill to buy himself a new hoe by which the better to chop thistles out of his cocoa patch.

But that isn't the way it happens at all. In the first place, your $10 bill in the hand of a South American peasant would be worth three times a week from 1:30 to 2 in the afternoons and from 11:30 to midnight in the evenings.

of course. He gets paid for handling foreign exchange, whether it's stolen money to buy Florida real estate or honest money to buy hoes for peons.

The New York banker—most of the major international banks in the country are located there — has a stake in foreign aid and he hires the most expensive publicity people and the foremost "news" gatherers to make you believe that giving away your $10 bill is a good thing.

Obviously it is a good thing, but the question you'll want to ask is "for whom?"

Dear Abby....

Count to 10 Before Telling Strangers Intimate Facts

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Is there something wrong with me? Whenever I take a trip on a bus or train, I get into very intimate conversations with the person sitting next to me. I don't know why, but before I know it, I am telling this person my life's history. I've told complete strangers things about myself that I'd never think of revealing to anyone I know. If I ever ran into any of these people again I would die of shame, but I can't seem to help myself once I get going. I am not a child. I am a grown woman who has seen 33 summers. Please don't use my name.

TALKS TOO MUCH
DEAR TALKS: Some people who "talk too much" are reacting to a deeply rooted psychological problem. If you're lucky, it won't hurt you (although it may bore others). Meanwhile, try counting to ten before you start, then talk about something besides yourself. You MAY not be that interesting.

DEAR ABBY: I live in a very small town where everybody knows everybody else's business. After I graduate from high school it is only natural for people to wonder why I don't look for a job. The trouble is I can't work because I am five months pregnant, and I have to get out of this town as soon as possible. I am being pressured from all sides to go look for a job. I have only enough money for a bus ticket to a place not more than 200 miles from here. Is there a home for unwed mothers that will take me in? Please put your answer in the paper.

MARION (not my real name)
DEAR MARION: Send me your real name and address at once and I will send you the information you need immediately.

DEAR ABBY: My son was asked to be an usher at his friend's wedding. He will have to rent a tuxedo for the wedding. Who is supposed to pay for it?

MRS. D.
DEAR MRS. D.: Either you or your son, depending on his resources. But in any case — not the friend who is being married.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from Wrestler's Wife has prompted me to write. Soon after we were married, my husband's brother would snap his fingers on my bare arm, shove me, and otherwise horse around. I didn't want to make an issue of it, and my husband didn't say anything, so I let it go. Sixteen years ago, at a family reunion, this brother rushed across the room, grabbed both my feet and pulled me off the davenport. I hit the floor like a melon. My teen-aged children were present and so were his. The laughter ceased when I couldn't get up. When it was ascertained that I had broken the end of my spine, my brother-in-law felt terrible. Since then I have spent weeks in the hospital, months having therapy and years in a heavy body brace. I might have been spared all this if either my husband or I had made it clear from the start that I did not want to be touched.

Women Outnumber Men When It Comes to Garden Chores

By GAY PAULEY
NEW YORK (UPI) — More women than men belong to the dig-we-must-set, reversing the man with the hoe trend. A study of 11,000 gardening families in 50 states shows women today make up 54 per cent of the green thumbs. Just a year and a half ago, it was the other way around with men constituting 55 per cent of those working front lawns and backyard plots. A garden tools producer, which did the study, said there were several reasons women gardeners outnumbered men. More women now work part-time or are not holding jobs outside the home at all, as automation eliminates the positions they once held. Vegetable growing is a stand-by stretcher of the budget. Women want to keep in shape and find that gardening is a good way to get exercise and suntan simultaneously. There are more women's clubs in the nation; ergo, more garden clubs. With some one million new homes being built each year, new home-owners take pride in making their grass greener than their neighbors. The study revealed changes in gardening habits too. There has been a sudden, hefty increase in growing vegetables for home consumption. Today, vegetables are being grown by 33 million families (86 per cent of home garden households). The manufacturer's last study showed some 14 million families (36 per cent of gardening households) growing vegetables.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE BRANDSTADT
Q — What would cause my 2½-year-old daughter to be irritable? She whines all day and I'm a wreck. Our doctor says there's nothing wrong with her, but she's getting worse.

A — It is normal for a child to be irritable when she has a fever, is overtired or has a nagging discomfort of any sort. On the other hand, a chronic whiner usually has no organic disease but may have a feeling of insecurity. This may be the result of neglect or of overindulgence which is often a cover up for a lack of true affection. Such a child, although not physically sick now, will suffer poor health all her life unless there is a change in her emotional background.

Q — Our daughter has a superabundance of freckles. What can we do to get rid of them and keep them from coming back?

A — Although several preparations have been tried for the removal of freckles, none is satisfactory. They either cause a severe reaction similar to eczema or the results are only temporary. Many people find freckles very attractive and certainly no one should regard them as a disease. The best course would be for your daughter to learn to live with them. But if she is self-conscious about them, she should avoid exposure to the sun because that darkens them. If that doesn't satisfy her, she should try a masking cream.

Q — My 12-year-old son developed a bald spot the size of a dime on the back of his head about six months ago. Our doctor said it was nothing to worry about. He now has four such spots on his scalp. What would you advise?

A — This patchy baldness is, as your doctor says, no cause for alarm. The condition usually clears up spontaneously. After several months, the hair gradually comes in again. Since the cause is unknown, there is no specific treatment, but various general measures are believed by some to be helpful.

rie of Wheeler. Mrs. Dub Goad was the vocalist and sang, "I Love You Truly" as the ceremony began.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Leonard Gains. Miss Shirley Knight, a niece of the bride, attended the bride as bridesmaid.

Serving as best man was Huey Lowrie, brother of the groom.

Ushers for the ceremony were Glen Gains, brother of the bride and Harold Lowrie, brother of the groom.

The bridal gown was fashioned of white imported chantilly lace with waltz length sleeves. Her elbow length veil of illusion was fashioned from a crown of seeded pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with white carnations trimmed in white lace and blue satin streamers.

A reception followed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lowrie, parents of the groom. The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth over blue, the bride's chosen colors. The centerpiece was an arrangement of mixed cut flowers.

Mrs. Tommy Wheeler served the wedding cake and Mrs. David Swires poured the punch. Both are sisters of the bride.

Mrs. Lowrie was a member of the 1964 graduating class of Wheeler High School and Mr. Lowrie was graduated in 1963 from Briscoe High School.

After a short wedding trip to Colorado Springs, and points of interest the couple now is at home in Hereford.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lowrie and children, Mr. and Mrs. Huey Lowrie and children, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Wheeler and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knight, Debbie and Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. David Swires, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hogan and Melinda, Mrs. W.
