INDIVIDUAL CONTESTS BEGIN AT SCHOOLS THIS MORNING

Vanguard of an expected 1,200 contestants, 320 students had registered by noon today for the northern division, Texas School Band and Orchestra contests. They came from as far south as El Paso and Plainview, and from all parts of the Panhandle, and with the accompanying directors, school officials and parents, showed a prospect that attendance at the third-day meet will reach 2,000. Only soloists and the eight ward-school bands are competing today. Twenty other bands and three orchestras are entries for the following days.

Contests for band and soloists are under way today, a free concert by the Amarillo Philharmonic orchestra is scheduled for this evening, and tickets are on sale for the all-state band concert Saturday evening, as Pampa today welcomed the northern division of the Texas School Band and Orchestra association for a three-day meeting.

Rooms Still Needed. Last-minute registrations this morning swelled the entry list until more than 1,200 out-of-town musicians are expected now. The housing committee, headed by Mrs. John B. Hessey, is still in need of rooms for some of the contestants tonight and tomorrow night.

Winston Savage, high school band director here, is general chairman of the contest committee, with headquarters in the east hall of the high school auditorium. Other Pampa band directors are assisting on the committee.

Registration is in charge of Eugene Stearns in the band building on high school campus. By noon today musicians had registered.

Marching Contests Friday. Solo and ensemble contests were to be completed today, and ward school bands were also to finish their contests. High school band contests will be under way tomorrow and Saturday, with the marching contests at Harvester park tomorrow evening.

The public is invited to the free concert this evening in the new school auditorium, and the events at the park tomorrow evening, as well as to any of the contests they care to hear. Another large audience is expected Saturday evening for the all-state band concert, to be presented by picked musicians of the area. Tickets are on sale at the Pampa Drug store. This is the only paid program of the meet.

Judges, directors, and school officials will be guests Saturday at a luncheon in the basement of the Methodist church, another special event of the week-end.

All band and orchestra contests will be conducted in high school auditorium. Solo contests are in progress at the auditorium, the band building, city hall and rooms, and the Presbyterian church.

Two Men Hurt In Trying To Liberate Horse

Animal Is Trapped in Cellar of Oil Well

Serious injuries were suffered by Alton "Possum" Moore and Jim Tedder last night when they, with other men, were trying to remove a horse for an oil well cellar near Kellerville. Moore's injuries may prove fatal, attending physicians said today.

Moore received a broken back, punctured lung and fractured ribs. Tedder suffered a seriously wrenched back and bruises. N. M. Lowe was treated for minor injuries but was able to be taken to his home last night. The men were brought to Worley hospital in local ambulances.

The men, employees of the Smith Brothers Refining company, discovered the horse in the cellar at "Old Faithful" discovery well in the Kellerville area which is located in section 49, block 24, close to Kellerville, company officials said this morning in a long distance telephone conversation.

To get the horse from the cellar, the men rigged up a winch with a connection at the top of the derrick. Something gave way and fell onto the tubing boards which crashed to the derrick floor, landing on the men, it was reported.

The horse, it was learned, was lifted from the cellar this morning by means of a large winch.

BRITISH FOOD SHIPS WOULD RUN BLOCKADE

ST. JEAN DE LUZ, Franco-Spanish Border, April 22 (AP)—A defiant fleet of British food ships, under guard of British men-of-war, determined today to smash the Spanish insurgent blockade of Basque capital.

While three of the five freighters, driven to cover there by attacks from insurgent vessels, put up steam for the attempt to run the blockade, the other two turned back. The job of fighting off insurgent attacks was left to the British warships.

At that point, the government shore batteries and fleet of small armed craft opened a heavy fire along the Bay of Biscay coast started booming at dawn to sweep the turbulent waters of insurgent warships.

The food-laden British vessels were reported authorized by their owners to haul guns, and despite a warning from the British government, and were promised an escort of British warships to the three-mile limit.

Twelve new members were announced, boosting the membership to 122.

District Commander Lou Roberts in a speech said that the local post was outstanding in the 18th district in community service. He mentioned the fact that the post had received a citation from national headquarters. The Lions quartet of Chick Hickman, Jack Dunn, Bob Rose and Dude Balthrop sang several numbers. The legion will sponsor a spring dance at the Southern club, May 7.

Commander Charlie Maisel this morning announced that between 40 and 50 are planning to attend the monthly meeting of the 18th district at Shamrock, Thursday, April 29. Members from 30 Panhandle towns over the district will be present.

C. A. Cryer, superintendent of McLean schools, will be the principal speaker on the program. Mrs. Van Stewart of Perryton, who served as state child welfare chairman of the

KENTUCKIANS BARE THREATS IN TESTIMONY

YOUTH OFFERED $100 TO 'SHOOT UP' HOME

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—Senate civil liberties investigators said today they were considering measures to protect their witnesses as a result of testimony that two of them were threatened.

Lawrence Howard, swarthy young grocery clerk from Harlan county, Ky., told the committee yesterday he received an anonymous telephone call warning him to leave town or "they may bury you in Arlington cemetery instead of Resthaven"—a Harlan burying ground.

The curly-haired youth had testified a few days earlier that deputy sheriffs paid by Harlan county coal companies had offered him $100 to "shoot up" the home of William Klontz, a United Mine Workers organizer.

Another committee witness, Richard C. Tackett, testified he had been intimidated by Ted Creech, a Kentucky mine superintendent. He said Creech threatened to send him to the penitentiary for his statements to investigators.

WHOLE MAJOR FARM LEGISLATION IS AFFECTED

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—Congressional leaders agreed today with Secretary Wallace in predicting that President Roosevelt's economy plea may force postponement of major farm legislation.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the House agriculture committee said the whole program was "up in the air" as a result of the President's request.

Farm measures which may be delayed or modified, Wallace said in a press conference, are tenancy aids, crop insurance and the "ever-normal granary."

A House sub-committee delayed consideration of the $100,000,000 crop insurance bill passed by the Senate. Jones said it was not known yet whether government finances would permit this legislation.

The Texan indicated the $135,000,000 farm tenancy appropriation for 1938 recently approved by his committee would be pared considerably.

Jones said other phases of the tenancy measure — rehabilitation loans and retirement of submarginal land—might be financed from the $1,500,000,000 relief appropriation recommended by the President.

Jones said his committee probably would agree to a slight increase of the interest rate on federal land bank farm loans.

The regular agriculture appropriation bill was before the House today. Democratic leaders said they would combat every attempt to boost the $27,000,000.

Indication of the force of a campaign in congress to cut the relief appropriation under President Roosevelt's $1,500,000,000 figure came in the disclosure by a high administration leader that the President turned down an almost unanimous plea of his congressional chieftains that the fund be cut to an even billion.

Pink Panties for Convicts Favored

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 22 (AP)—Warden Fred Hunt, pink pantie treatment for recaptured prisoners at Granite reformatory gained support today of the chairman of the Oklahoma affairs board.

"I think it is a noble experiment," said Lea Nichols, head of the board, which administers the state penal institutions.

Hunt, he said, "knows more about those prisoners than we do. I certainly am not going to stop him. I will give him a free hand and a free bloomer."

Hunt scoffed at Chicago psychiatrists, one of whom branded the treatment as "silly," contending "ridicule is the best punishment in the world." Four prisoners who escaped were punished by seating them in the rotunda of the reformatory for 22 hours a day—two attired only in pink panties and two in mother Hubbard's.

Famed Musicians Judging Music Contests

A. R. McALLISTER

HORACE A. JONES

WILLIAM M. KUNKLE

Some of America's most famous musicians and band conductors are judging the contests of the North Texas School Band and Orchestra association which opened here early this morning. The judges, shown above, are as follows:

A. R. McAllister, director of theamous Joliet, Ill. string school band, and president of the National School Band and Orchestra Association; Col. Earl D. Irons, conductor of the N. T. A. C. Band, Arlington, and former assistant director to the late Pat Conway during the World war; William Kunkle, director of bands, University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, for several seasons flute and piccolo soloist with Sousa's Band.

Horace A. Jones, violinist from the University of Colorado, Boulder, will judge the string instruments. Mr. Jones is a graduate of the Royal Academy of Music (London) and a concert violinist of renown. D. O. Wiley, director Texas Tech Band, Lubbock, and one of Texas' leading musicians and bandmasters, concludes the list of judging officials. Some 1,500 band students from all sections of the Panhandle are attending the three-day meet.

NEW CASTLE, Ky., April 22 (AP)—The commonwealth accepted a jury to try Brig.-Gen. Henry H. Denhardt for murder in short order today but the defense which had been skeptical of Henry county's feelings in the case refused eight of the men.

Additional veniremen, mostly sun-tanned farmers who had been aroused from their beds last night by Sheriff Evan Harrod's deputies and summoned to court, were called.

PAMPAN CLAIMS WIFE HAS ANOTHER HUSBAND

Charging that she already had one husband when they were married in Liberal, Kas., on Dec. 20, 1936, George E. Dick today had filed in Gray county district court a petition for divorce from Elizabeth Dick.

The plaintiff alleges that he learned after the marriage ceremony was performed that his wife had been married at Liberal on Feb. 15, 1930, to Everett Rivett and that the first marriage never had been annulled or dissolved.

Dick alleges, in the complaint, that he knew nothing of the first ceremony and that he in no way was guilty of encouraging a bigamous marriage.

Celebration's Name Will Be Known Sunday

Name for Pampa's June celebration will be announced Sunday, it was decided at a meeting of the general celebration committee in City Hall last night.

Committee members last night discussed details of the coming observance and scanned the hundreds of entries in the celebration name contest.

Because of the large number of suggestions submitted, it was decided more time should be taken in making a selection of the name which will be one that is to stand through the years.

Another meeting was scheduled for 3 o'clock this afternoon at which time further consideration was to be given to the contest entries and other details of the celebration.

W. B. Weathered, head of the committee, said that more detailed announcements of the tentative program also would be ready for announcement on Sunday.

Winner of the name contest will be presented with a $10 cash prize.

LOYALISTS DROWN OUT REBELS' BOMBARDMENT

MADRID, April 22 (AP)—A thunderous government artillery assault against the gun emplacements from which insurgents have punished Madrid with death and destruction for 11 days drowned out the insurgent cannonade today and enabled government ground troops to fight their way into the insurgent suburb of Uscor.

Savage fighting began at dawn along the suburban battlefield while Insurgent General Francisco Franco's gunners, adapting anti-aircraft pieces to siege work, rained shells into the heart of the city.

But the morning insurgent bombardment, a continuation of the hail of steel that has cost at least 200 Madrid lives in less than two weeks, was short-lived. The government's own guns opened a tremendous barrage against the besiegers' gun emplacements in the suburbs.

Meanwhile, rallying against a surprise insurgent attack that swarmed over their first line trenches, the government defenders in the Uscor suburb recaptured the lost ground and swept on to bend back the previous insurgent front line.

Then they established themselves in the insurgents' old positions, setting 12 houses.

TERRELL SAYS STORAGE HERE AT LOW POINT

Panhandle oil producers, lease holders and business men were surprised, pleasantly, this morning when they learned that the allowable of the Panhandle field had been increased 9,138 barrels daily. The announcement followed a report that Chairman C. V. Terrell of the Railroad commission had hinted that another reduction might be in order.

The increase was the largest in recent years. It will mean a hike in the percentage of pro-rate oil allowed produced and be a stimulus to drilling.

AUSTIN, April 22 (AP)—The Railroad Commission today set the allowable production of Texas oil in May at 1,411,236 barrels daily, an increase of 62,272 barrels over the basic allowable for April.

The new allowable was 70,436 barrels greater than the estimate of market demand for Texas crude made by the Federal Bureau of Mines.

The production on April 19 was reported as 1,398,116 barrels, having increased normally about 50,000 barrels since the start of the month due to new completions and adjustments.

The major increases went to the following fields: Panhandle, 9,138; Van 1,200; Tom O'Connor, 1,000; Greta, 1,000 and Cayuga, 440.

C. V. Terrell, commission chairman, said it should be noted that while the allowable was above the bureau of mines estimates production was always about two or three per cent under the allowable because of shut-downs and repairs.

"This means the actual production will be about 40,000 barrels less than indicated by the allowable," he said.

"In the case of the Panhandle, the hearing disclosed there had been consistent withdrawal from storage to meet demand, and we believe storage has been reduced to as low a point as we deem fit to be safe."

"In fact, some of our refiners' storage has been reduced to as low as ten days supply of crude, which is too low for economic operation in our opinion."

The factor on which the East Texas field allowable is computed, 2.32 per cent of the hourly production, was not changed.

By districts, the comparative allowables on April 1 and May 1 were as follows: East Texas 455,500 and 459,500; Panhandle 72,150 and 81,288; Moore county 1,350 and 1,385; Osborne area 700 and 700; North Texas 64,922 and 65,963; Poard county 565 and 565; West Central Texas 62,891 and 65,350; West Central Texas 62,891 and 65,350; West Texas 178,947 and 187,915; East Central Texas 70,

Perhaps a little later there would be those who might weaken—some to seek rest for weary feet in the smoking room downstairs, some to fall into the gentle unconsciousness which one too many Scotch induces. But as yet the evening was unspoiled.

Hal Stewart's orchestra, imported from a three weeks' engagement on Broadway, swung into the lively strains of "A Fine Romance." The older women took heart; they preferred these faster tunes. The quick rhythm stirred their blood; it proved that they could step around just as lively as the 18-year-old girls, despite grown children at home.

Millie Sanders, frisking by in the arms of Jerry Johnson, glanced over her shoulder at Jerry's wife, Laura. "Who's that lovely blond with Bob Andrews?" she asked Laura excitedly, slowing Jerry down so that she might catch the answer.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

While I do not approve of unloading family problems on children who are incapable of understanding, there is another angle to it that calls for attention.

Too often the children live one life and their parents another. There is no community of ideas, and as a result the children learn to look upon their parents as mere background for supplies and comfort.

How few boys are aware of a father's struggle to provide the daily effort and endurance to pay rent and buy groceries. How few girls are conscious of their mother's responsibilities and worry. It has become one of our national failures indeed, this separating of the two camps into opposed forces.

There is nobody to blame except parents themselves. And in a way they are not to be blamed, either because they are partially compelled to follow social trends and the pull of the world.

However, as a champion of the home, I believe that it is time to turn the attention of the growing child more definitely to his home, and to his parents.

Life Begins at Home. He needs to learn what stern complexity real life is made of, and to understand the greater understanding of man's estate. Too often he goes out from school into marriage, perfectly green as to the responsibilities and requirements. The same happens with the girl who has been permitted to escape, or shield her mother's problems of family welfare.

Being in a family does not necessarily mean that the child knows anything about it. As a little child, this is largely permissible. He need not be burdened with details that discourage him. But as he grows he is entitled to be admitted to at least a few of its problems.

Many a father from sheer pride pretends to his children that the means for their happiness is always at hand. He wants to keep his affairs very secret, so afraid is he of losing their respect.

How wrong this is. We don't give enough credit to the growing boy or girl. It is unfair to these young people not to lay our cards on the table and honestly show them how things stand.

That College Problem. Now it is spring. Arrangements are being made for college next fall. In many cases parents are lying awake nights and planning how they can mortgage or sell something to give John and Mary their chance.

A year at home between high school and college might be the better answer. A year in which John might be able to help his father and learn to know him, and how he has to work and worry. A year in which Mary might learn a few things not only about her mother but with her, and get an inside view of responsible housekeeping.

Isn't a year at home, after all as much a part of life's education and preparation as any that the schools can give?

Growing children should know something of family affairs. Have a vote in policy and undertake their bit of the load. But the older boy or girl should do more. He should learn to value parents first of all and such his life by something that books and the whole world of youth cannot possibly give him.

REBEL CANNON TROOPS AGAIN BOMB MADRID

MADRID, April 22 (AP)—Gen. Francisco Franco's rebel troops, who have adapted anti-aircraft weapons to a bombardment unmatched in the experience of any other capital in 20th century warfare, staked at the heart of Madrid today—the 11th consecutive day of artillery attack.

At least 25 shells in the early morning onslaught blasted in quick, deafening succession into the populous districts along the Gran Via, Madrid's "Broadway," and connecting streets.

They wrought their havoc as the bodies of more than 32 persons killed in yesterday's attack were being carted to cemeteries. The first shells screamed into the beleaguered city about 6:15 a. m. (1:15 a. m. EST).

Men, rushing to shelter from the streets, said they saw men and women hurriedly carried to emergency hospitals by stretcher squads or hastily commandeered automobiles.

Gen. Jose Miaja, the capital's defense chief, flung defiance at Franco's artillerymen, declaring "the men who are doing this are heartless hyenas," in heated response to the exaction of at least 200 lives, injury to about 1,000, and a number of widespread property damage.

The insurgent projectiles turned Gran Via into a no-man's land. Persons working in the shell-scarred buildings along it scurried quickly from cover as they crossed the street, dodging holes in the pavement, piles of glass and other fresh wreckage.

The attack jarred Madrilenos somewhat out of the phlegmatic fatalism bred of a long intimacy with war.

Stores were opened, however, in buildings where the lower floors escaped shelling.

An ambulance corps and Madrid's firemen, already fatigued by the days of relentless attack, prepared for another feverish day.

The bald, heavy-jowled Miaja declared that if the insurgent aim was to break his stronghold on University City, "they are playing a losing game."

Repeated attempts of the University City insurgents to lay pontoon bridges across the Manzanares river to the Casa de Campo sector, east of Madrid, have failed as government searchlight snared the relief parties and machine gunners forced them back to cover.

VALIDITY OF SIMPSON DIVORCE QUESTIONED

LONDON, April 22 (AP)—Legal doubt of the validity of Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson's first divorce was raised again today after friends had disclosed plans that would make her the June bride of the Duke of Windsor.

A. Berriedale Keith, a famous constitutional lawyer, wrote to the Edinburgh Scotsman expressing his doubt that Mrs. Simpson was properly divorced from her first husband in the eyes of British law.

Mrs. Simpson was divorced from Lieut.-Comm. E. W. Spencer, Jr., United States navy, in Warrenton, Va., in 1927. Her conditional divorce from Ernest Simpson was granted at Ipswich Oct. 27, and is expected to be made final soon after April 27.

"The only divorce which English law certainly recognizes as dissolving marriages effectively for purposes of status in England are those granted in the court of the husband's domicile," Keith declared.

"It seems plain that Mrs. Simpson's first husband was not domiciled in Virginia."

The remedy, Keith suggested, would be for Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin to be asked categorically to state if his advisers consider that the proposed marriage to Windsor is valid.

If Baldwin says yes, Keith declared, there would be no objection to the wedding.

A method for making delivery of late mail pouches to the dirigible Hindenburg in midair has been developed through experiments by Colonel Udet, German aviation ace, seen as he maneuvers his plane in position to attach it on the speeding airship. The hooking apparatus projects above the wing of the plane and fastens in the hook hanging down from the dirigible.

Sport Sparks

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

DALLAS, April 22 (AP)—Pretzel-like and patterned after the Nuremberg, Germany, course, the two-mile track for the $17,500 auto race at the greater Texas and Pan-American exposition in July will be one of the world's most dangerous tracks, say officials.

The course, in the heart of the exposition grounds, will have 45 degree turns, "U" turns and crash ramps made from bales of cotton.

Topnotchers of the race game will be entered, coming here after the Indianapolis classic.

Emptying the college mail bag: Publicist J. Willard Ridings of Texas Christian says reports have it Sammy Baugh will forsake his T. C. U. freshman coaching job to accept a $7,000 professional football offer.

Watch for Texas Christian to book one of the Pacific slope's leading grid teams for 1940.

The Christians will travel 7,000 miles and play in five states next fall, opening against Ohio State at Columbus, Ohio.

And Coach Dutch Meyer predicts Ward Wilkinson and Johnny Hall, juniors, will turn up as two of the best wingbacks in Christian history.

From Baylor: The baseball statistics research department reveals that in the 32-13 licking Baylor gave Rice, 22 Bruins came to the plate in one inning; Rice used three pitchers in the same frame; 72 Bayers came to the plate in eight innings; each Bruin batted eight times in as many innings; nineteen of Baylor's 32 runs were earned, and despite the amazing run total, 14 baysiders died on the sacks and 11 Owls were left parked.

Football is looking up at Texas School of Mines. The largest squad in history, about 35, has completed spring training and will be taken to Texas Tech for the Fiesta game April 30. Last year the squad was so small Coaches Mack Saxon and Harry Phillips had to join in scrimmages to fill out two elevens.

Racing notes: The Three D's stock farm's chief reliances, including Heelfly, Kentucky Derby nominee, Gin Daisy, Liberty Scout, Top Billa, Casa Manana and others, leave Friday for Churchill Downs.

Liberty Scout, the stable's best juvenile, has been named for the Albany, Fla. and Sanford stakes at Saratoga; Narragansett, Washington Park, Arlington Park and Southwest Futurities and the Mayflower and Faneuil stakes at Suffolk Downs.

He is tagged as the stable's new hope.

Also a "rodeo" performer like Heelfly, the speedster broke away on his last appearance, ran nearly a mile before caught, came back to win the race handily.

Barrel of Blazing Tar Extinguished

The fire department was called to the rear of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company building at the corner of Ballard street and Francis avenue this morning at 9:17 o'clock to extinguish a barrel of blazing tar.

The tar was being used in construction work now under way. A 30-foot extension is being added to the building. No damage resulted from the blaze, Chief Ben White said.

MUSSOLINI AND SCHUSCHNIGG IN VENICE PARLEY

VENICE, April 22 (AP)—Premier Mussolini met Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria today for a conference that political circles said would lead to a strong reaffirmation of Italian support of the independence of her northern neighbor.

Well-informed sources declared that one of a number of developments since the two statesmen met last year, were such as to undermine the close relations between Austria and Italy.

One of the developments currently considered in diplomatic circles in Rome was that Italy's growing friendship with Germany might stay Mussolini's hand should Chancellor Adolf Hitler decide to wage a campaign for increased prestige in Austria.

Following separate luncheons, Schuschnigg and Mussolini met at the prefecture for the start of the conversations which may later be shifted to Mussolini's yacht Aurora, anchored in the harbor.

The "Queen City of the Adriatic" gave the two a tumultuous welcome.

Denied attacks of cordiality, Dr. Schuschnigg is doing a swell job in the outfield and Augie Galan appears to have regained his 1935 form.

Lester Patrick says his young New York Rangers will be Stanley cup contenders for the next three years.

Walter Donovan, former secretary of the Florida racing commission, will be back in the racing game soon.

he's to head the revival of the sport at Wheeling, W. Va.

Connie Mack says his young Athletics are the best hustlers he has directed in five years.

Latest hot baseball tip is to watch the Chicago Cubs.

INTERSTATE COMPACT BILL SENT TO ALLRED

AUSTIN, April 22 (AP)—The Senate today sent Governor James V. Allred a bill extending for two years Texas' participation in the Interstate Oil and Gas conservation compact. The governor's approval was certain.

By the vote of the upper chamber rejected an amendment which would have requested the governor to terminate the compact whenever any other state was producing more than its share of the nation's oil allowable. Sponsors of the amendment expressed the opinion Texas had not been receiving its allowable to which it was entitled by reason of its producing potentialities.

After unanimously approving the compact bill, the Senate began discussion of a House proposal appropriating $1,080,000 for rural school aid during the remainder of the current biennium.

The House heard long debate on a motion to override Governor Allred's veto of a bill remitting taxes to Harris county for flood control. The Senate previously had voted to override.

Sponsors of a Senate bill imposing heavy penalties on sit-down strikers expressed the hope the House would reach consideration of the proposal late today.

FOURTH BODY FOUND IN MEDINA LAKE

SAN ANTONIO, April 22 (AP)—Chill waters of Medina Lake near here gave up the fourth victim of an April 4 boating tragedy that claimed six lives, when the body of Samuel Johnston was found floating on the surface early today.

The body of James E. Stone, a retired railroad engineer, was recovered yesterday afternoon, ending a three week vigil at the lake by his brother-in-law, James J. Stone of Harlingen. Those of two other victims, Mrs. Lucille Lamkin and Minnie Lee Johnston, 4-year old daughter, were found a short time after a sideswipe squall caused two boats to capsize.

Detective Jack Hice, who obtained a temporary leave of absence in order to search for the bodies, reported the finding of Johnston when he called an ambulance to bring the body to San Antonio.

The detective kept vigil at Medina primarily to recover the body of Johnston, whom he had reared from boyhood.

The bodies of Henry L. Lamkin and Leslie Bowers had not been recovered.

FARLEY QUALIFIES

ARDMORE, Okla., April 22 (AP)—Floyd Farley, Oklahoma City, topped Oklahoma's professional golfers today and was qualified for the National P. G. A. tournament after he shot a steady, unspiculous 154 in 36 holes of medal play at the Dornich Hills club.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP)—The score was Jupiter Pluvius 7. Big league 1.

It may not be news that Sten Suvio of Finland, 1936 Olympic champion, has turned pro.

But it is news that he has been guaranteed $2,000 per year, plus 62 2-3 per cent of what he earns, by his American manager, Emil Sarbo.

This is just about tops for an unproved fighter.

Most of them sign up for $600 per year or the customary 66 2-3 per cent.

Apparently Sarbo believes the nice looking Suvio has what it takes.

Yan Lingle Mungo, who turned in 18 wins for the Dodgers last season, thinks he'll repeat because his South Carolina auto license adds up to 18.

Walter Donovan, former secretary of the Florida racing commission, will be back in the racing game soon.

he's to head the revival of the sport at Wheeling, W. Va.

Connie Mack says his young Athletics are the best hustlers he has directed in five years.

WELCOME SCHOOL MUSICIANS It is with distinct pleasure that Pampa lays three-day host to approximately 1,500 school musicians at the annual district contests of the Northwest Texas Band and Orchestra Association which opened here this forenoon.

The slip-horns were being slipped and the bull fiddles were being lugged around with a "jillion" other instruments today as hundreds of school musicians took over Pampa with a chord in G. . . . The occasion, of course, being the annual district contests of the Northwest Band and Orchestra Association.

AND WHO'LL BE THE FIRST ONE IN?

Man About Manhattan By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—I was going to write about Eddie Rickenbacker's party at Dinty Moore's today, but somehow this letter, from a mother on a Florida pineapple plantation, seems more important than anything I can say. She has a daughter in New York of whom she is very proud, an artist's model, 22 years old. After the death of little Ronnie Gedeon she wrote this letter.

"Not long ago your column told of the fruitless, almost hopeless task that confronted young girls when they came to New York in search of a career. You said that the odds against success were 500 to 1, and now, since the Gedeon child was slain my friends have been urging me to ask my daughter to come home."

"I don't think I shall do this, but I thought I'd tell you about her and why I am content for her to remain in your city. This is my daughter's third year in New York, as a model, and she is doing well. She knew Ronnie Gedeon, as dozens of other models did, and when Ronnie was killed she wrote me that she and everyone else were so stunned that for days they scarcely could think coherently."

"She said in her letter: 'As you know, mother, my roommate is Doris, and her mother has asked her to come home. She lives in Portland, and is leaving at the end of the week. If I thought that my being here would make you unhappy, I would come home, too, but I do want to stay. A long time ago I told you that you would never have to have any real worries about me. Remember? It was the night I left, and we were in Miami. I haven't changed, Mother.'"

People You Know By ARCHER FULLINGIM

If you got up early this week you may have seen children all over town going to band rehearsals long before you went to work. Yesterday morning the red building on the high school campus was fairly popping with martial music and overtures by seven o'clock—practicing for the contests. And children talk about "going out on town." And the band directors of the city are harried and harassed. Today at 7:30 a. m. there were four contests going at once, and it'll be like that until nearly midnight. The local directors are chairmen of this or that committee, and besides they have their own bands to keep in shape. They've been practicing the contest numbers for three weeks; the directors have been practicing with the bands by day and the soloists by night. Several of the bands have been hard hit by mumps— one director had no mumps victims yesterday, but he was afraid there would be before today. Tien there are the contest pieces. Both the children and the directors play them in their sleep. But the hardest job began today. The directors will be the busiest men in town and their only regret is that they can't be three or four places at once. But don't pity these directors and the young musicians; they've been bitten by the bug; they enjoy it.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—One of the reasons you see so many old time stars in today's pictures is "the secret six." That's an informal organization of directors. It doesn't hold meetings, collect dues, or give parties. It does all its business by telephone. When W. S. Van Dyke, for instance, finishes with an oldtimer in one of his films, he gets on the 'phone and calls one of the other "members" to let him know. If that director hasn't a spot available, one of the others has, and the word gets around. That way the people who were yesterday's stars get a fairly consistent break.

Former Extras This little sunshine-dispensing group is composed of directors who used to be, many of them, extras when the people they're helping were big shots. Among them are Van Dyke, Richard Wallace, James Hogan, John Ford, Wesley Ruggles, Al Hall, Norman Taurog, Robert Z. Leonard and Lewis Milestone. Hogan had just finished "placing" a fairly well known comedian—who had had only two days work in the past four months—when I called on him for some of those early movie days that lend so much color to this industry.

How's Your Health? Edited by DR. IAGO GALDSTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

PAINFUL LEGS When an individual of middle age begins to experience pain in the legs after moderate exertion, he should suspect that something is wrong with his blood circulation, and should promptly submit to a thorough and careful examination. By doing so, he may obviate serious complications and may help to arrest disease changes which, if neglected, threaten his health, his limbs and his life. The history common to such patients is usually somewhat as follows: Upon walking a given distance, say a quarter of a mile, either at a normal pace or possibly while walking a little faster or uphill, the patient experiences cramps and pains in the calf, in the sole of the foot, or in both. These sensations, we know, arise out of the failure of the blood supply to the legs to keep pace with the physiologic requirements of the muscles exercised. Should the patient stop walking and rest a while, the pain will disappear and he can resume his walking, only of course to have the symptoms reappear after a variable period. These symptoms are called claudication, or more properly, intermittent claudication. The disturbance in peripheral circulation may be due to arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries), with consequent narrowing of the blood vessels; to spasms of the blood vessels which cause in these instances a temporary narrowing of the calibre of the blood vessels, or to the more serious disease of the blood vessels known as Buerger's disease (thromboangiitis obliterans).

It is important that a definite diagnosis be made of the cause of the claudication, for treatment varies according to the cause. Also, the patient must learn to appreciate the hazards which attend disturbances of peripheral circulation. Particularly must he learn to take scrupulous care of his feet and to guard them against injury and infection. Because of the lessened blood circulation, the tissues of the lower extremities have a lower vitality. Slight infections which in a normal foot will heal spontaneously are likely in cases of diminished peripheral circulation to give rise to non-healing ulcers. Furthermore, gangrene or the local death of tissue is apt to follow small injuries.

and Lee in the same film, was a Confederate soldier in the morning, and spent the afternoon in the Union ranks shooting at himself. The "boys" always stuck together — if one got a job the others trailed along, usually got jobs too. Once, when Hogan was an assistant director, Allan Dwan, spotted them, told Hogan he was tired of the same gang in all his pictures, ordered them fired. Hogan got 16 long black yards; it worked, until one of the beards fell off — just as its wearer was passing Dwan.

Hogan, now directing "light-wad," once was a producer, but very briefly. With Bernie Fineman and Benny Zieckman, he made that phenomenal hit of the agents, "There Is My Wandering Boy Tonight." A shoe-stringer, it made nearly a million. Hogan says practically every one in Hollywood had a share in it — and Mickey Nielen gave his to his Chinese cook. Hogan, after the preview, sold his own share for $21,000 — to B. F. Schulberg.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS BY WILL H. MAYES.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history, and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquiries must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. What are the "Bexar Archives"? A. The "Bexar Archives" are an extensive compilation of the original provincial records of the Spanish province of Texas dating from 1731, and are now a part of the library of the University of Texas.

Q. How many courts of civil appeals are there in Texas, and where are they located? How many members have each court? A. Eleven; located by districts in numerical order at Galveston, Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio, Dallas, Texarkana, Amarillo, El Paso, Beaumont, Waco, Eastland. Each court has a chief justice and two associates.

Q. What became of the Briscoe railway enterprise? A. About two miles of grade was built out of Harrisburg and a contract was made for cross ties, some of which were delivered, when the enterprise collapsed for lack of funds. Gen. Sidney Sherman, in 1848, acquired all the unsold Harrisburg town lots of the company, succeeded in interesting northern capitalists and in February, 1850, obtained a charter for the Buffalo Bayou, Brazos and the Colorado Railroad, and by 1855 the road was completed 32 miles to Richmond. Associated with Gen. Sherman as incorporators were Gen. Hugh McLeod, William M. Rice, W. J. Hutchins and B. A. Shepherd.

Q. How was the first money obtained for the Texas Confederate Home? A. Some $3,000 was raised by private subscription and paid on the $4,000 purchase price for some 17 acres of the present site, on Feb. 19, 1896, and a "Grand Gift Concert and Lottery" was held Dec. 27-29, that netted the camp $10,851.07. After a struggling support, the Legislature took over the institution March 6, 1891.

CRAYON PROJECTS IN TEXAS HISTORY It is easy to teach children history with penciled outline pictures of historical subjects and colored crayons. History taught in this way is never forgotten and a taste is created for more information. "Crayon Projects, Texas Under Six Flags," contains 26 pages of outlines on many phases of Texas history and events, and shows the Texas Capitol under six flags, each in its correct colors. Mailed postpaid for 25 cents. Send order to Will H. Mayes, 2310 Salado Street, Austin, Texas.

This, That and Everything BY WILLIAM HUSLEY CLARK.

For the last few days I have had something to say regarding good manners, and have called attention to a few of those points seldom stressed in works on etiquette. Now I am going to leave this field of study for a while; but before doing so, wish to make two practical suggestions.

Good manners must be a part of our very nature. In other words, a kindly attitude toward all people will go farther in helping us get along with good grace than all the varied details of custom practiced purely from a sense of duty. When we attend to the nice points in social usage through sympathetic appreciation of others, our manners become spontaneous.

"Too often we think of society as the place to develop our manners. This is a serious mistake. The home is the school room for the most effective training in etiquette. One cannot hope to execute a smooth technique in good manners when out in society if such graces are not constant practices in the home.

READING And Writing By John Selby

First a word from Ludwig Lewisohn on his changing idea of literary form and method:

"I am persuaded, despite many apparent signs to the contrary, that naturalism or realism as a method . . . is passing. The complicated and tragic character of the age requires a different kind of expression. Prose is moving nearer to poetry in the larger sense and story nearer to myth, precisely as (analogously) thought is moving nearer to what is called roughly faith, and science nearer to religion."

The reflection of this idea is to be found in earlier books of Lewisohn's, and it is to be found in his new novel — "Trumpet of Jubilee." But this magnificent work is in no sense a modern fairy tale. Lewisohn does not mean that he discards all the advantages of close observation and direct, literal statement.

He has waited what is (for a writer) rather a long time to do his novel on the Jewish situation in Germany. If the wait is at all responsible for the superlative quality of the book, it is a shame some other writers were not as slow. I have steadfastly refused to judge Germany until I could re-visit her and see for myself, this is the first novel by a Jew expressing the Jewish side of what has happened there. It has been utterly convincing to me. And a book like "Trumpet of Jubilee" can be judged only on a personal basis. Its subject is too much alive, too actual, too fiery to be appraised in general terms.

It is simply the story of what happened to a Jewish family in Berlin of the tragic death of a Jew who believed he was a German first of all, and what later happened to his family. The framework means very little; the story has been written many times since 1933. It is the universal values which the author has put into the book which mean something, and it is a triumph to find that these values are not expressed sentimentally; that the book remains a novel, though more powerful than any tract.

"Trumpet of Jubilee" by Ludwig Lewisohn (Harpers; $2.50).

RECOGNITION OF CIO LIKELY TO BE DENIED

QUICK SETTLEMENT OF OSHAWA STRIKE LOOMS

TORONTO, April 22 (AP)—The C. I. O. moved to the sidelines to facilitate negotiations today for a quick settlement of the Oshawa, Ont., General Motors strike — a peace probably without C. I. O. recognition.

Harry J. Carmichael, general manager of General Motors of Canada, Ltd., and J. H. Highfield, manager of the Oshawa plant, were to meet with strike representatives who had relinquished presentation of the John L. Lewis Committee for Industrial Organization.

This yielding at the insistence of Premier Mitchell Hepburn who guided today's conference plans, indicated that a settlement without outright recognition of the C. I. O. affiliate, United Automobile Workers of America, but with wage and hour concessions by the company might be in the offing.

The conferees were called to the Premier's Queen Park office to start their dealings at 1 p. m. (EST). Meanwhile, two Lewis lieutenants who formed the C. I. O. leadership of the two-week-old strike affecting 3,700 men and women, were away from Canada.

Hugh Thompson, U. A. W. organizer, left Oshawa last night for Washington, D. C., to join his chief, Homer Martin, president of the union.

Hepburn, bitter in his opposition to the Lewis labor movement, has termed Martin and Thompson Lewis "hirelings" and twice caused collapse of peace negotiations by refusing to permit C. I. O.'s influence, recently insisting that he be present at all conferences.

Thompson said he would return tonight to Oshawa with Martin but the union president sent Hepburn word that neither would enter Canada until negotiations were completed.

Funeral Is Held For Mrs. McCurdy

McLEAN, April 22 — Funeral services for Miss Ethel McCurdy, widely known in the musical circles of the Panhandle, who died suddenly with a heart attack Saturday night at the Wheeler home in Shamrock, was held Wednesday morning at the First Methodist church of Shamrock, with the local pastor officiating.

Her body was brought to McLean where it lay at rest in the E. L. Sitter home until 4:30 when services were held at the Presbyterian church, with the Rev. W. A. Erwin conducting the rites. Interment in the Hillcrest cemetery followed.

Miss McCurdy was born in St. Louis, Mich., and was educated in the Chicago Music College, the Chicago Piano College and the Ypsilanti Conservatory of Music in Ypsilanti, Mich.

An orphan, Miss McCurdy came to Texas with her uncle, the late S. B. Fast and lived with him on his farm five miles north of McLean, teaching music in McLean for a number of years before going to Shamrock where she has been a teacher of piano for about 12 years.

Her nearest relative, a cousin and daughter of Mr. Fast, came from Tacoma, Wash., to attend the funeral. She is Mrs. Sidnah Quest, the former Miss Sidnah Fast, known by many who lived here years ago.

Funeral bearers were: A. Ashby, Chas. E. Cooke, Allen Wilson, Vester Smith, T. J. Coffey, and Charlie Gatlin.

AMERICAN INDIANS ARE INCREASING RAPIDLY

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—America's Indians, once considered a vanishing race, now are increasing more rapidly than any other group in the country.

This fact was reported by the Indian office today along with the announcement that the country's Indian population is 334,300, compared with Smithsonian Institution estimates that there were 300,000 of the redmen here when Columbus arrived.

The Indian office said births now exceed deaths by 3,500 a year, whereas a few years ago the population was steadily decreasing.

MACHINE FOR REVIVING STILL HEARTS DESCRIBED BY DOCTOR

ST. LOUIS, April 22 (AP)—A new machine in which human hearts are revived after death and made to resume their normal blood-pumping function was demonstrated today before the American College of Physicians.

Dr. William B. Joutz of Washington University described how he had brought more than 100 hearts back to normal functioning after they had ceased beating in the human body as long as 3 1/2 hours and induced them to again take up their rhythmic beating.

He described the device as different from the "glass heart" developed by Dr. Alexis Carrel, Rockefeller Institute Nobel prize winner, and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. The Carrel-Lindbergh device acts as a pump to carry nutrient solutions to a piece of tissue to make it continue living. Dr. Joutz declared.

In the Washington University apparatus, however, the heart itself is the pump which forces blood thru a system of pipes and reservoirs similar to those of the body and a recent modification makes it possible for an entire liver, kidney or other human organ to be connected to the artificial circulation so that its behavior may be studied in ways not possible within the body.

No effort has been made, the Washington University scientist said, to determine how long a revived human heart would continue to beat after it has been started. "We generally stop them after about six or seven hours, at the conclusion of an experiment. The vigor which they show when doing the work of pumping in the apparatus gives some idea of what a tough piece of muscle the human heart is."

The Roman Catholic church founded the University of Mexico in 1553.

CLARK GABLE WILL TESTIFY FOR DEFENSE

LOS ANGELES, April 22 (AP)—Having finished his testimony as a government witness, Clark Gable waited today to be called for the defense in the trial of Mrs. Violet Wells Norton, who termed her daughter a "love child" and said he was the father.

Mrs. Norton is charged with mail fraud and conspiracy.

The government alleges she sent letters through the mail to Gable and other people, asking that he contribute to the support of her pretty, 13-year-old daughter, Gwendolene.

"She is Clark Gable's love child, all right," a letter to hip-swinging Mae West said.

Gable has made two appearances on the witness stand for the government. He stated, the first time, that he was not Gwendolene's father and he had never seen her mother. Later, he identified some salary checks paid him by a Portland, Ore., lumber company in 1923.

In that year and the year before, Mrs. Norton's letters state, he was in England making love to her as "Frank Billings."

Mrs. Norton's attorney's base their defense on the "honest mistake" in identity they say she made in confusing Billings for Gable. They say she was trying, through legitimate channels, to get the actor to support Gwendolene, on the supposition that he was Gwendolene's father.

Her attorneys said they would recall Gable to show, through him, that he never was deceived by her representations, and never paid her any money, hence Mrs. Norton could not be guilty of fraud.

On trial with her is Jack L. Smith, a private detective. A third man, Frank Keenan, Winnipeg, Canada, also was named in the indictment.

DAR Defense Head Hits Reds, Peace Groups in Speech

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—Daughters of the American Revolution heard the farmer-labor and communist parties linked today in an address by Mrs. Vinton E. Sisson of Chicago, national defense chairman.

Discussing the growth of the farmer-labor movement, Mrs. Sisson's prepared speech said:

"Through the medium of this so-called American party, the communist party bores from within to accomplish its purpose."

That method, she said, is "far more dangerous to the welfare of this country than the open flaunting of the revolutionary purpose which for the present they choose to conceal."

Mrs. Sisson advised the D. A. R. to work to have the communist party "declared by law an illegal party with no right to protection under our constitutional form of government."

She promised the support of her committee for continuance of compulsory military training in colleges and universities.

"The Daughters of the American Revolution consider the R. O. T. C. as a real peace agency," she said.

Mrs. Sisson criticized "so-called peace groups" who support "repeal of the oriental exclusion act, elimination of the use of armed force in industrial disputes, repeal of teachers' oath laws and disposition of immigration powers."

Pupil Named

Bill Coons, shown above, representing the high 8th or "senior" class of Junior high school, and three others, Willetta Stark, low 8th, Billy Mounts, high 7th, and Lester Clemmons, low 7th, were selected yesterday by vote of the students as delegates to attend a Junior high school conference in Dallas next week-end. They will be accompanied by two teachers, not yet named. The school will send the four students to the conference. Alternates, runners-up in the election, were Walter Word, high 8th; Mary Nell McIntire, low 8th; Bonnie Catts, low 7th; Maxine Cherry, high 7th. The conference will be in the nature of a leadership training school.

FOR ADVISED TO FISH FOR TARPON IN RIVER

BROWNSVILLE, April 22 (AP)—"If you want to catch tarpon, come where they are," the President was advised today by this city which contends that the Rio Grande river offers the best tarpon fishing on the coast of Texas at the present time.

In support of its contention Brownsville cites that one man has just landed six big silver king tarpon in the Rio Grande, probably more than have been caught on the rest of the Texas coast so far this season. He is T. R. Miller, and he brought in three of them last night after two hours of fishing.

"Fishing in the river the President should catch tarpon almost at will," the telegram said, "whereas landing one this early in the gulf is largely a matter of luck."

"The Rio Grande is the first stop of the feeding tarpon as they move northward in the spring," the message to the President said.

The length of the Great Wall of China, including all spurs and loops, is estimated at 2,500 miles.

EAST TEXAS LEAGUE'S CLUBS OPEN SEASON

KILGORE, April 22 (AP)—Eight East Texas league clubs, strengthened for the 1937 campaign, swung into a 140-game schedule today on four fronts of the piney woods and oil sector.

Successful in winning the league pennant last year at Gladewater, oil man Dick Burnett has moved the franchise to Texarkana, a town without baseball for many seasons. Bill Windle, first sacker on the championship team last year, will manage the club.

Five new managers are starting the season while two finished, as skippers during the latter stages of the 1936 season and one, Wally Dashiell of Tyler, stayed the entire route.

Managers listed are Abe Miller, Palestine; Dashiell, Tyler; Tommy Robello, Jacksonville; Alabama Jones, Marshall; Gus Burleson, Henderson; Harry Faulkner, Longview; Tom Estell, Kilgore, and Windle.

The Shaughnessy playoff between first division clubs at the end of the season again will be used to determine a champion with a possibility of the winner playing the cotton states league kings for the "Little Dixie" title.

PAMPANS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC OVER OUTLOOK

NO DEFINITE PROMISES MADE IN REGARD TO HIGHWAY

Pampa officials who returned yesterday from Austin were encouraged over contacts made with the Texas Highway Commission relative to the Pampa-Borger-Dumas highway, in spite of the fact that no definite promises were made.

The delegation was successful in establishing the highway as the number 1 project of the entire Panhandle, the commission agreeing that the project is the most needed at this time in the Panhandle. Senator Clint C. Small, State Representative Jack Little of Amarillo and State Representative Max Boyer joined the Pampa-Panhandle-Borger-Sinnett and Dumas representatives in designating the highway as number 1 in the Panhandle.

The delegation visited Governor James V. Allred Tuesday and reminded him of a promise made several months ago that his administration would give the project from Pampa to Borger active consideration as soon as the new highway commissioner was placed in office early in 1937. Governor Allred promised to discuss the urgent need with the present commission and he predicted that the commission would be in position to work out something relatively soon in spite of the present financial condition of the department.

Plans were worked out with the commission for the entire commission and the state engineer to visit Dumas, Sinnett, Borger and Pampa, May 7, having lunch here. An escort will bring the commission over the highway where they will be given an opportunity to see the need for improvement of the route. Details of the luncheon and other plans for improvement will be worked out in the next few days, by the highway committee of the Pampa chamber of commerce.

Twenty-one Panhandle citizens appeared before the highway commission, including six from Pampa. They included: J. M. Collins, president; Garnet Reeves, manager; Reno Stinson, member of the highway committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce; Sherman White, county judge; A. Carpenter and M. M. Newman, county commissioners; J. C. Jackson, county judge; Grover Ingram, Roy Tribble, John O. Keefe, county commissioners; Carson county; Norman Coffey, county judge; Fritz Thompson, county commissioner; Hutchinson county; D. M. Clayton, member highway committee; Homer Pruitt, manager, and Cliff Haggard, member highway committee. Borger Chamber of Commerce; Noel McDade, county judge; G. O. Bain, W. W. Burnett, county commissioner; Moore county; H. D. Lewis, president Dumas Chamber of Commerce; State Senator Clint C. Small, Amarillo; State Representatives Eugene Worley, Shamrock; Max Boyer, Perryton; Jack Little, Amarillo.

Blind Open N. Y. Eyes to Their Plight

On strike against low pay, members of the blind workers' union sit in City Hall Park, New York, with their signs to picket Mayor LaGuardia's office in an effort to win official assistance for their cause. The signs charge they receive but $5 a week. They ask $12 and $15 minimums.

FORT WORTH OPENS FIGHT IN OPPOSITION TO WAGE STATUTE

(By The Associated Press.)

Texas municipalities scratched in their treasuries Thursday to find funds to comply with the recently enacted minimum wage law for policemen and firemen or joined in a direct attack on the legislation.

Fort Worth led off with a fight against the law itself, while other cities sought ways and means of paying. City officials at Fort Worth seek an amendment to the law exempting that municipality. They said compliance with the law, which became effective Monday with Gov. James V. Allred's signature, would leave no alternative but to reduce police and fire personnel 20 per cent to avoid increased salary costs of $146,000 to $226,000.

Under the law, cities of 75,000 must pay policemen and firemen a minimum of $150 a month. Policemen and firemen could not be worked more than 12 hours a day or 72 hours a week without time and a half overtime pay. A six-day week in all cities of more than 25,000 was provided. The law required a two-week vacation with pay in cities of more than 30,000.

At Houston, City Comptroller Harry A. Giles admitted that he was stumped by the situation. There were 321 firemen there drawing less than $150 and 145 policemen in the same category.

City Attorney H. P. Kucera of Dallas went to Austin Thursday to urge Gov. Allred to submit an amendment to the law to the legislature. He said he hoped thereby to avert a possible 1937 tax increase.

RICHARDSON SENTENCE AFFIRMED BY JUDGES

AUSTIN, April 22 (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals today denied a rehearing for Dwight Beard, assessed the death penalty in Dallas county for killing John R. Roberts, a former policeman, during a filling station holdup, Dec. 23, 1935. The court said it failed to find new evidence on which Beard should be given a new trial.

The court affirmed a 25-year sentence against Charles S. Richardson, convicted in Taylor county for shooting his son, Elga Richardson, Jan. 1, 1934, in Young county. The appellate tribunal said it found no error in the trial record.

Reversed and remanded was the conviction of Mrs. Nellie Harvey, alias Mrs. Thomas McNeal, assessed two years for conviction in Red river county of forgery. The case was reversed because the trial court refused a continuance asked by the defendant due to examination of a witness by whom she expected to prove she was not in Clarksville when the alleged offense occurred.

Also reversed and remanded was the case of Arvie Webb of Newton county, given 10 years for murder with malice. Trial court errors caused the reversal.

The court reversed judgment of a Harris county criminal court and granted $5,000 bail for Sherwood Vinson, charged with robbery by firearms, and remanded to jail without bond after a habeas corpus hearing.

Hornsby Hits Homer And 2 Singles To Defeat Chisox

BY SID FERER. Associated Press Sports Writer.

Old Pop Time is scared silly. Rogers Hornsby has the old fellow ready to wrap up his whiskers, toss away his scythe and give up.

The sage of St. Louis stayed on the bench for all but two games last year and Pop figured the $5,000, at 40 and with 22 years in the big-time back of him, was all washed up.

So Hornsby stepped up to the plate yesterday, banged out a homer and two singles as his Browns opened their 1937 baseball wars with a 15-10 clouting conquest of the highly regarded Chicago White Sox.

The one victory didn't change the status of the Browns in this year's American league race. They held the day's spotlight, largely because all the other clubs in both leagues were rained out, but they remain 100 to 1 shots in any book, strictly because the Brownie pitching staff is anything but that.

But Hornsby is still there when the chips are down. Maybe it was because he's getting ready to celebrate his forty-first birthday next Tuesday.

In addition to his batwork he played an errorless nine innings at second base, but it was the big stick he wielded, and the definite evidence that he's still the shrewdest trader in the business that stole the show.

In his Browns' lineup were Shortstop Billy Knickerbocker, Outfielder Joe Vosmik and Pitcher Oral Hildebrand, obtained from the Cleveland Indians this winter in exchange for Lyn Lary, Jule Solters and Ivy Paul Andrews. Knickerbocker led the way with two doubles and a pair of singles, driving in four runs. Hildebrand, although giving up 17 hits, went the route and contributed a two-run double to the 22-hit barrage.

Hornsby, who trails only Cobb, Ruth and Gehrig in the number of times his name appears in the record books, boosted several of his marks yesterday. His appearance was his 2,240th game and put him in the 23-year class, tying Rabbit Maranville and trailing only Eddie Collins, Rod Wallace and Ty Cobb. His homer was his 302nd. He boosted his runs batted in total to 1,599, his extra-base hits to 1,008, his total bases to 4,695, and his hits to 2,912. And his three-for-five certainly did not harm his 359 lifetime batting average.

Both leagues settle down to the grind again today, with an eight-game schedule.

Harvesters Will Compete In Regional Meet On Saturday

Several Harvester track and field stars will go to Canyon Saturday where they will compete in the Regional finals for the right to go to the state meet in Austin. Coach Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean were still undecided after a workout yesterday afternoon as to which boys would make the trip.

Pampa took second place in the District 2 meet here last week, losing out to Wheeler. Albert Ayer, captain of the Pampa team and the only letterman back this season, was second high in individual scoring with 11 1/2 points.

A check of time in other districts reveal that Lubbock's District 3 has the inside track with Pampa and Amarillo districts about even. Records from Childress are not available.

Ford of Wheeler is expected to give other districts a tough battle in field events.

Place winners in four districts are eligible to take part in Saturday's tournament at Canyon. Winners there will be eligible to participate in the state final journey next week at the University of Texas, Austin.

Unavailable is the summary of District 4's tourney two weeks ago at Childress. However, here's the way the marks compare in District 1, 2 and 3.

INTRA-SQUAD FOOTBALL GAME WILL BE PLAYED TOMORROW

Ice cream comes as well a victory will be at stake tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock when an intra-squad football game will be played at Harvester field. No admission will be charged and fans will be welcome to see the practice game.

The Toppees, captained by Topsy Reynolds, will clash with the Jaypees, captained by J. P. Mathews. The squad was divided by choice of captains and each thinks he has the stronger eleven.

Starting lineups were not revealed following a long workout yesterday afternoon. Coach Odus Mitchell will have charge of the Toppees with Coach J. C. Prejean mentor of the Jaypees.

The boys showed remarkable fight in workouts and a titanic struggle is expected.

'FOREIGNERS' WOULD LIKE TO PLAY ON U. S. RYDER TEAM

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP)—Since only an accident of birth bars him from a place on the United States Ryder cup golf team, burly, hardworking Jimmy Thompson would like to see something done about it.

The blond bomber with the wrestler's shoulders and Hollywood profile sat in a hotel coffee shop today, gazing at a stray cigarette ash that drifted down his cream-diluted java. He chased the ash with a spoon, then said:

"After all, except for the fact that we were born in Scotland, Harry Cooper and I are Americans. We fought over on the same boat in 1921, when I was 12 and he was 15. We learned our golf here, we're American citizens, we ply our trade here.

"Naturally, we'd like to try our skill—and that we include other foreign-born American pros like Tommy Armour, Bobby Cruickshank, Willie MacFarlane, Willie Hunter, Mac Smith and Phil Perkins—against the home-breds. But we can't play with 'em on the American team, and we can't play against 'em on the British side.

The obvious solution, Jimmy holds, is to take a team match between the two divisions of American professionals. Approval and assistance would have to be given by the P. G. A. and the U. S. G. A. have to be staged soon.

LYNN WALDORF ISN'T LOOKING FOR SYMPATHY

EVANSTON, Ill., April 22 (AP)—Lynn Waldorf could do some advance mourning over what may happen to Northwestern in next fall's football wars, but he isn't looking for sympathy yet. He shuffled an odd assortment into a winning hand last year, and won't believe things are as tough as they seem.

In the shuffling process this year Frank Young of Ponca City, Okla., a freshman fullback, and John Goldak of St. Louis, yearling guard, have become leading candidates for the center job. Joe Hamrick of Greenville, Tex., a guard last year, looks pretty good at tackle. Jack Major, somewhat of a disappointment at halfback last fall, appears to have found himself at fullback.

"I'm going to keep on experimenting," Waldorf finished, "but I can concentrate on those four positions."

TULSA OILERS CRUSH STEERS IN 13-4 ROUT

(By The Associated Press.)
WHERE THEY PLAY TODAY.
Dallas at Oklahoma City (night).
Beaumont at Houston (night).
Fort Worth at Tulsa.
San Antonio at Galveston (night).

The first division clubs had a firmer hold on their Texas league perches today.

Beaumont, Tulsa, Houston and Fort Worth, leading the circuit in that order, laid to with their bats yesterday to batter their second division opponents into defeat.

The champion Tulsa Oilers dynamited four Dallas pitchers for 19 hits and a 13-to-4 win over the team which paced the league most of last season. Stan Schino showed the way with three doubles and a single for Tulsa, while errors by Connor Houston and Pavolic added to the discomfiture of the Steers.

Max Thomas pitched for Tulsa, the Steers getting 11 hits.

Fort Worth proved the power to its bats with a 12-hit assault on Oklahoma City. Chick Autrey doubled with the bags loaded in the fifth to drive in three Fort Worth runs. Two more runs followed when Shelley tripled scoring Autrey and then scoring himself on a wild throw to home. The score was 9 to 2.

Jackie Reid held the Indians to six hits.

Galveston bedded down more snugly in the cellar after swinging futilely at the four-hit pitching of John Grodzicki. The Buifs meanwhile were demonstrating how eight hits could be converted into 11 runs. Three Galveston hurlers were unable to stem the tide and the score against them was 11 to 0.

The coltish Beaumont Exporters, breaking into Texas league competition by pacing it, again demonstrated their new-found powers with a 6-to-4 win over the San Antonio Missions. Every Beaumont batter got a hit, falling on the offerings of Liedhardt and Sams to quickly overhaul a 4-0 San Antonio lead. Ehrensberger allowed six hits.

FAMOUS MOVIE STAR COMING WITH PLAYERS

The whole town's talking—not about the high school play of that name—but about the coming of Betty Compton, motion picture and stage star, who will be in Pampa with her Hollywood softball team Saturday. The girls will play the Pampa Jaycees' men's team, at Road Runner park Saturday night at 9 o'clock.

A preliminary game between the Sooners and Phillips, men's teams, will be called at 8 o'clock. Admission to the two games will be only 40 cents. Miss Compton will make her personal appearance at the park when she will present the Jaycees with a large loving cup, autographed by Arlene Judge and John Boles.

The Jaycees have been working long and hard for the battle and expect to field a strong aggregation. It will take one of the expert lassies from Hollywood who have defeated many of the best men's teams in the country. They don't limit play to girls' teams but tangle with the men.

The Jaycees starting lineup will be revealed tomorrow. Attendees will work out this evening south of Harvester field. All Jaycees have been called to the colors for the game.

Miss Compton will line her team up as follows: Evelyn Hall, 3b; Allene Berry, ss; Jo La Hogue, 2b; Cardus Jackson, 1b; Audrey Moreland, cf; Babe McDonald, rf; Ruth Lee, lb; Gladys Hanson, c; Lois Terry or Tess Doderhoff, p.

Lois Terry is the ace of the hurling corp and the nemesis of boys' men's and women's teams.

Home-born Lois Terry, no-hit pitcher and home-run hitter, is without a doubt the most colorful soft-ball player in this new sport which has taken the country by storm.

Born in Los Angeles, California, in 1917, Lois "The Great," the beautiful soft ball player, attended Manchester school and Washington high school, graduating in 1934.

The Blonde Terror, as she is called, excelled in badminton, basketball, tennis, swimming ping-pong, hockey and soft ball. Soft ball, which she has been playing for three years, is her favorite sport, next to tennis.

Sports editors have written more copy about Lois Terry than many a star in other fields of sports, and deservedly so, for she has a record of having won 94 out of a hundred games she has played. In 1935 and 1936, and has the enviable record of a .625 batting average.

She has been photographed with the leading motion picture stars in Hollywood and appeared with Al Jolson on his nation-wide radio program.

Pitching for the Hollywood girls' all-star soft ball club, Lois Terry is touring the country with the team, which will play the leading soft ball girls' teams this summer.

Betty Compton, popular motion picture star, is sponsoring and making a personal appearance for four of the country with the soft ball players and will present the opposing team with a beautiful gold trophy autographed by the motion picture celebrities, Arlene Judge and John Boles.

Drake Relays to Begin Tomorrow

DES MOINES, Ia., April 22 (AP)—Track and field stars from all parts of the country moved into Des Moines today for the opening of the twenty-eighth annual Drake relays tomorrow.

Some 2,000 University, College and high school competitors will be here. One hundred and eighty four schools, second largest entry list on record, are entered in the midwest's greatest track carnival.

Both the best young men from California and Texas were among the first to get the "feel" of the Drake cinders. The University of Texas' crack sprinters, Whittier College's relay team, and Fresno State College entries were among the squads working out.

Archie San Romani, who breezed by Glenn Cunningham at the Kansas relays last week, will go after a new world mark for the mile and a half against the Rideout twins, Wayne and Blaine.

Six athletes who competed in the 1936 Olympics will be here. They are San Francisco of Nebraska, Mack Robinson of Pasadena junior college, Alton Terry of Hardin-Simmons, Lee Orr of Washington State, Harold Cagle of the Oklahoma Baptists and San Romani.

RUFFING IS READY TO ARBITRATE WITH YANKS

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Convinced that open warfare is not getting him anywhere, Charley (The Red) Ruffing is willing to arbitrate his baseball holdout dispute, but the New York Yankees apparently aren't having any of it.

Red says he is willing to come down in his salary demands for 1937 from $16,000 to $15,000. If the Yankees will come up a like amount in their offer of $15,000 flat. But the world's champions announced they aren't giving an inch.

Ruffing made his gesture at his home in Chicago last night. In New York, Club Secretary Ed Barrow pointed out that Charley had turned down the $15,000 offer several weeks ago, and that, technically, even that amount was no longer open. Manager Joe McCarthy said the "club has made its last

BROOKLYN BEATEN IN FINAL DRIVE OF TEST

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP)—Although decisively beaten in his three-year old debut, E. R. Bradley's Brooklyn has not lost caste where the Kentucky derby is concerned.

The highly regarded son of Blue Larkspur, rated Bradley's No. 1 candidate for the May 8 renewal of the turf classic, finished third, behind his stablemate, Billionaire, and Edward W. Duffy's Grey Gold, in a mile and a sixteenth test at Keeneland Park yesterday.

Frank Shannon, layer of future book odds, dropped the Bradley ace only a notch, however, quoting him at 8 to 1, as compared to 7 to 1 against Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Reaping Reward, and 9 to 1 against the favorite, J. H. Louchheim's Pom-poon. The New York bookmaker lost no time, however, in slashing Grey Gold, also running for the first time this year, from 200 to 1 to 40 to 1. Although Billionaire was closest to Grey Gold at the finish, he remained at 20 to 1.

Both Billionaire and Brooklyn kept within striking distance of the head of the stretch, but failed in the final drive, as Grey Gold, which failed to win a race in 14 starts last year, went on to finish two lengths in front of Billionaire.

Tomorrow Will Be Softball League Halfway Point in

Games tomorrow afternoon in the Pampa Softball association preliminary schedule will be the halfway mark in the playoff to determine the strongest teams. So far the race is close with only two teams lagging. Tomorrow evening's schedule will be:

Skelly vs. Danciger.
Colfax vs. Champlin.
Phillips vs. Unnamed.
Sun vs. Rumble.
Stanolind vs. Texas.
King vs. Cities Service.

stand, now it's up to Ruffing to make his."

Meantime, trade rumors went the rounds, one of them putting Ruffing on the block for Vernon Kennedy of the White Sox. McCarthy, however, said the club definitely will not trade its 20-game pitching winner of last year's world championships.

Barrow said, "we've received several offers, but we haven't been Thompson believes the match would be considering them."

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

PUZZLE
First quarter corporate financial reports are as good as or better than had been generally anticipated. But banking circles wonder whether second quarter reports will make as favorable reading. There's doubt in the air.

Here's the reason. Very few organizations break up the sources of revenues. That's why it isn't known whether inventory profits were accepted on high commodity and material prices. If so this is non-recurring income. The commodity declines started after the first quarter reports were prepared.

Competition
Freight car manufacturers are complaining. They say that where as a $300 per car profit is a fair margin it ran as low as $50 late last year. Since then it jumped to $100 per car.

The low net is due to Bethlehem Steel's intensive campaign to cut into the field. Trade insiders say that not until Bethlehem's shops are working at capacity will the per car profit margin reach normal levels.

Odds and Ends
Contrary to tipster reports Crosley Radio's new plant will be used to manufacture refrigerators and not television receiving sets. Solway Process Allied Chemical subsidiary will build a chlorine plant at Baton Rouge, La., adjoining its alkali plant. General Electric has a new 100 watt bulb which gives off almost as much light as a 300 watt bulb. Over in Hawaii Eastman Kodak arranges special ball dance performances so that tourists can use lots of film taking pictures. American Can now produces 2,000,000 paper containers daily. Through a subsidiary The Outlet Company—department store—owns the outstanding New England radio broadcasting station WJAR. McKesson Robbins now offering a new aspirin—"RX-99". Unless world stabilization is effected the United States will be the only country able to mint gold currency—Uncle Sam is the world's largest buyer of newly mined gold—he in turn reburies it in vaults at Fort Knox.

Dividend
According to an official source Shell Union Oil will show a net of about 15 cents a share for the first quarter. It will compare with only nine cents a share for the like period last year.

It was further stated that because of the improved oil outlook dividend action is a possibility. First payment will be made some time during the summer months.

A statistical check-up of 22 department store financial reports discloses that while sales last year increased 10.6 per cent profits jumped 85.9 per cent over a year ago. But the picture has changed since the turn of the year.

Salaries and wages being paid are higher. Working hours are being reduced which enlarges the working forces. Sold-out lines are being replaced at higher costs.

Retail sales executives say that while sales volume is larger the increased operating costs offset the profits. That's why promotional campaigns are being intensified.

From now on will be a case of driving for larger dollar volume rather than profit volume.

CARLOADINGS
Despite labor disturbances in industrial centers freight loadings this year are well ahead of last year. Rail executives say that with the labor problem out of the way traffic will expand so that it will exceed the high levels of 1931.

Based on the belief that most labor difficulties sweeping the industrial world will be eased during the summer months, the fall peak is expected to run close to 900,000 cars. If business is a bit better than normal the weekly loadings will pass that figure.

LARD
Cold storage holdings of lard are currently some 80,000,000 pounds above that of last year. This is attributed to the heavy marketing of hogs. Farmers are reported selling because of the unfavorable feeding conditions. Such selling is expected to continue into June. But should this year's corn crop be as large as anticipated feeding costs will decline and farmers will hold hog stocks for breeding purposes. Until then, however, commodity traders look for lower lard prices.

REPORTS ARE THAT:
Based on current output Texas Gulf Sulphur interests don't fear planned Texas sulphur tax because it will only amount to about eight cents a share. At current levels

Dugross-Rand adequately measures indicated earnings power. Due to cost increases Pittsburgh Plate Glass sales show better gains than profits. National Steel's second quarter net will surpass that of first quarter because old price contracts are being cleared. Long-pull interests have speculative hopes for American Commercial Alcohol. Packard Motor producing 680 cars daily—first quarter output was 39,315 units. Seaboard Oil's 1937 net will equal the $2 a share reported last year. American Car & Foundry will enter its fiscal year—May 1—with largest volume of unfilled business in years. Long range 1937 earnings estimate: McGill Corp. will show above $2.75 a share.

Lehman Corp stockholders will vote May 14 to split shares on a three for one basis—will be a stock split and not a stock melon. United Air Lines preferred by those who like air transportation equities. Jones & Laughlin's first quarter net estimated at $180 a share against previous "bull" estimates of $2. General American Transportation booked solid until early October—netted $1 a share for first quarter. Texas Gulf Producing's first quarter net was 25 cents a share. Caterpillar Tractor's March sales best in company's history. And, that if books continue as they are United States Steel's second quarter earnings will be best since advent of the depression.

On Capitol Hill

By HARRELL E. LEE

AUSTIN, April 22 (AP)—The one vote margin by which the Senate returned to committee a House bill containing a horse race repeal amendment, may have been the deciding factor in keeping racing legal in Texas for two more years.

Many "ifs" are attached however. It still is possible a repeal bill will be passed before the end of the current session, and if not, the governor may submit it at a special session.

The motion to recommit prevailed, 15 to 14, with one pair. If it had not, however, something else might have stopped the bill. Many believed Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth, leader of the anti-repeal forces in the Senate, was armed with one or more points of order against it. Robert W. Calvert, speaker of the House, said he would have ruled out the repeal amendment on grounds it was not germane. That would have thrown the bill into conference committee with no certainty what would have happened.

It would be unwise for friends of racing under the pari-mutuel system of betting to consider the repeal proposal dead as long as two Wednesdays and Thursdays remain in the session. The bill has been passed by the House and received a favorable report from Senate committee. From a procedural standpoint it is in far better position than any of the tax bills approved by the House, as these proposals were held up in Senate committee. The House thinks there is a chance of the Senate acting on controversial bills it passes within the next two weeks.

The repeal bill can come up in its regular order only on Wednesdays and Thursdays. A recent Wednesday and Thursday were consumed in debate on a constitutional amendment regarding taxation. Advocates of racing got a break as a consequence of the San Jacinto holiday falling on Wednesday.

Veteran observers of legislative proceedings cite evidence that the present House is showing more liberal tendencies in regard to appropriations than preceding bodies of representatives. A bill appropriating nearly $125,000 more for 1937 summer schools at state institutions than was allotted last summer was passed without an amendment being offered. The House recently approved an emergency $75,000 appropriation to the prison system without the amount being mentioned on the floor.

Lawmakers favoring President Roosevelt's bill to provide for retirement of Supreme Court justices at 70 point out that the state legislature is setting a like retirement age for teachers in the enabling act for a teachers' pension system. They also cite sentiment among some members of the legislature for keeping the state pension board personnel fairly young.

CANCER IS NOT DUE TO GERM, AND, THEREFORE, IS NOT CATCHING!

A FLOW, LEANED AGAINST A TREE ON THE LEFFINGWELL FARM, NEAR EXIRA, IOWA, MORE THAN FIFTY YEARS AGO, REMAINS THERE TODAY, IMBEDDED IN THE TREE.

WHEN DANGER THREATENS, THE PARENT GREBE TUCKS ITS YOUNG UNDER ITS WINGS, AND DIES.

CANCER, one of the oldest known diseases, is curable, but because of delayed treatment, is the second largest cause of death in the United States. However, contrary to popular opinion, it is not catching, is not due to a germ, and cannot be transmitted directly from parent to offspring.

SENATOR LOGAN FAVORS ADDING TWO JUSTICES

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—Senator Logan (D-Ky.), one of the first members of the Senate judiciary committee to back the Roosevelt court bill, said today he might vote to compromise on two new justices.

Even without Logan's vote, little doubt remained that opponents of the bill could modify it from a six to a two justice measure if they chose. Only a minority on the committee was ready to support it without reservations.

Logan was the fifth among the 18 committee members to speak sympathetically of the two-justice proposal.

The seventh week of hearings dragged slowly toward a close today with further opposition testimony from Dean L. J. Tepeol of Creighton law school, Omaha.

Opponents will close their case tomorrow, and the hearings will end unless the friends of the bill decide to present brief rebuttal testimony next week.

Tepeol said in a prepared statement the bill was objectionable because "it strikes at the most vital provisions in the constitution."

"The framers of the constitution," he added, "knew the weaknesses of human nature and prudence of men vested with political power to at times abuse that power to the detriment of the citizens."

WOODSMAN SPARE YOURSELF DENVER (AP)—Roy Richards, 34, was chopping off a limb from a poplar tree when he fell and was caught in a crotch. City firemen rescued him by cutting off the limb. He took his ax and tackled the trunk. The ax struck a clothesline, slipped from his hands and gashed his scalp.

CIO OFFICIALS ARRESTED IN MAINE RIOTING

LEWISTON, Me., April 22 (AP)—Police Captain Joseph Picard today arrested Powers Hapgood, New England secretary for the Committee for Industrial Organization, and William J. Mackesy, CIO director of a 29-day shoe strike involving 6,400 workers and 19 factories in the Lewiston-Auburn area.

In addition Ernest Henry, a union organizer, was also arrested. The three men were seized at their hotel.

A police warrant charged them with "riotous assault." It was issued in connection with the stoning of State Police Lieutenant George Fowler, knocked unconscious yesterday by a stone as state and auburn police turned back 1,000 strikers at a bridgehead.

Today's action followed on the heels of an injunction by Judge Harry Manser outlawing the strike and granting a temporary injunction against the strikers, and CIO reports that the court ruling was a "miscarriage of justice" that "meant nothing."

Three hundred national guardsmen patrolled Auburn today, hastily summoned by Governor Lewis O. Barrows. Three miles and injuries to a half dozen persons and arrests

AFRAID to Love

by MARION WHITE © 1937 NEA SERVICE, INC.

think she's lovely? Look, that blond girl dancing with Bob . . .

Jerry looked. He saw a slim, golden-haired girl, and even to his untrained masculine eye it seemed fitting that she should be dressed in rich black velvet, unadorned save for the gardenias at her shoulder. Her eyes were bright, clear blue, and the depth of their color contrasted vividly with the fairness of her skin. She looked to Jerry like a girl who had just stepped out of some rare old painting, too delicate for this mad whirl of dancing.

"She's a beauty, all right," he assured Millie enthusiastically. "And much as I hate to break your faithful old heart, Millie, I think I'll park you over here by the palms and cut in on her myself."

Millie laughed good-naturedly. "You're not the only one thinking that. Every eye on the stag line is following her, but Bob keeps out of the way. You haven't a chance, Jerry. Better be contented with me for a while."

Millie was right. Every time Bob Andrews approached the south end of the room, where the men were gathered, a dozen hands started upward to attract his attention. But each time, he adroitly changed his course.

After his tenth failure to cut in, Jimmy MacArthur looked disgusted. "What's the matter with Andrews tonight?" he asked Philip Hendry, standing alongside of him. "Is he afraid we'll eat her?"

Philip shrugged carelessly. "It's plain to see," he remarked with a touch of superiority. "That he begrudges you the lady's company."

"Can't say I blame him," Jimmy admitted. "Who is she, Phil?"

"My uncle's secretary, Joan Barrett."

"Joan Barrett, eh? Does she live here in Green Hills?"

"No, in town." He smiled provokingly. "And you won't find her listed in the phone book."

Philip edged away from the group, a little amused at this excitement Miss Barrett was causing. For his own part he cared little for girls of the fragile blond type. Give him a warm red-head any day, or a dashing black-eyed Susan like his sister, Sybil. . . . Where was Sybil tonight, anyway? She'd give him the devil if he didn't put in an appearance. His eyes strayed over the other couples on the floor.

Presently he saw her coming toward him, dancing with Jim Neil. Philip smiled approvingly as he watched her. His sister, he told himself, was certainly the finest looking woman in Green Hills. Tonight, in a gorgeous gown of metal cloth which emphasized every line of her tall, slim body, she was smart, sophisticated, delicately arrogant.

For the moment she seemed unusually gay. Her white teeth, strong and brilliant against the deep carmine of her lips, flashed constantly as she chatted with her partner. Her dark eyes roved provokingly over the dancers, yet Philip noticed they carefully avoided the stag line, as if she were afraid their challenge might go unanswered.

At any other time, Sybil Hendry would have been the undisputed focus of every male eye; tonight she was feeling the new competition which her uncle's secretary was offering. She was feeling it, and despite her sparkling gaiety, she was not enjoying it. For more than one reason.

Philip, quick to understand his sister's moods, saw beyond the quick flash of her smile, the cool abandon of her dancing. He saw the smoldering fire in her blue-black eyes, the tense poise of her dark head, the tiny pulse which beat spasmodically in her white throat whenever she struggled to hold her feeling in control.

He waited until Jim Neil came abreast of him again, then he stepped forward and tapped him on the shoulder. With a casual "Hello, Phil," Neil surrendered his partner. Philip guided his sister's steps to the center of the floor without speaking. With light mockery in his tone, he sang softly the words of the orchestra's selection:

"A fine romance, with no kisses—
A fine romance, I think this is,
"Keep still!" Sybil snapped, abruptly.

Her brother laughed. "Nice of me, wasn't it, to give you a chance to be yourself?"

He whirled her past Bob Andrews and Joan Barrett, smiling graciously at Joan as he did so.

"If you have to be jealous, Sybil," he murmured, "why must you look the part, for every cat in Green Hills to find it out?"

"That little upstart!" she whispered through clenched teeth. "I don't see why Bob hasn't better taste than to bring the office help out here."

"I'm afraid it goes deeper than that, Sybil," Philip said, not unkindly.

He felt her arm, resting lightly on his, go tense.

"It can't!" she said defiantly. "I won't let it!"

Philip said nothing. He felt a little sorry for Sybil. He knew, as no one else had ever guessed, how desperately—and how futilely—she had loved Bob ever since that first evening, five years before when their uncle had brought the young man home to dinner. "The best bond salesman the company ever had," Uncle John told them then; now, five years later, Bob Andrews was a junior partner, with every prospect of heading the Hendry organization eventually.

He saw a slim, golden-haired girl . . . She looked like a girl who had just stepped out of some rare old picture, too delicate for this mad whirl of dancing.

He was as striking in appearance as Sybil; he had the same dark, blue-black hair, the same straight classic features, the same flashing smile. But there the likeness ended. Where Sybil's eyes were mysteriously cold, no matter how gayly she smiled, Bob's were warm and twinkling. Where she was superficially gay and charming and calculating, with a quick smile to serve her purpose, he was naturally and sincerely friendly, with as hearty a grin for the boot-black who shined his shoes as he had for his wealthiest customer.

For five long years, Sybil had loved him. Because of his association with her uncle, they were constant companions; he was a thoughtful and attentive escort. Yet, despite every effort she had put forth to deepen their relationship, he was still as unattainable, as impersonal, as he had been on the occasion of their first meeting. He was the one thing in life which she craved above all else; his love was the only thing of which she had ever been deprived.

And now, it seemed, he was ready to throw it away on some designing, doll-faced stenographer.

Chapter II
The boys in the orchestra picked up their tiny megaphones and harmonized the chorus of their song. Lights, for the moment, were seductively dimmed. The wildly spirited tone of the music gradually became tender. Unconsciously, the younger dancers pressed their cheeks a little closer; the older men tightened their hold about matronly waists. Bob Andrews, skirting the edge of the floor, maneuvered his partner through an arched doorway onto a quiet side porch.

"There!" he said with satisfaction. "It's good to get out of that din . . ."

"The music is perfect, Bob," Joan corrected.

"Maybe so. But I was crazy to bring you here tonight."

His eyes worshipped the clearcut profile of her face, the proud lift of her chin, and his heart quickened to this chance of being alone.

Joan raised her eyebrows in mild surprise. "Why?" she asked, smiling up at him. "Don't your neighbors like me?"

"Like you!" They walked over to the porch railing. Below them on the terrace, the evergreens, festooned with gay red and green and yellow lanterns, gleamed brightly, and the reflection of the lights lent a glow of colorful enchantment to the porch.

"Like you!" Bob repeated, linking her arm more tightly in his. "Every man in the place is ready to eat me alive for keeping you to myself this way."

Still looking down at her, he caught the beauty of that moment mirrored in her wide blue eyes.

"Joan, darling," he said with infinite tenderness, "do you know that you're the loveliest girl in all the world?"

"No. But I know that I'm the happiest—tonight." She smiled wistfully. "Won't you share it, my dear?"

Joan dropped her eyes under his intense gaze.

"I could be the happiest man in the world tonight," he went on. "You could make me, Joan."

When she did look up, there were tears glistening on her lashes.

"Bob, my dear! It's so impossible—so utterly—"

"Impossible to love me?"

She started, and, for one brief instant, he read the answer in her eyes. Then his arms were about her, his lips seeking hers. At first she struggled against him, then slowly, in resignation to a force stronger than her will, she gave up to the full ecstasy of his embrace.

Inside, the music struck a livelier note, the dancing became more spirited; voices were raised in a babbling confusion. But here on the tiny porch, were only two people in all the world; two who had just discovered the answer to the everlasting mystery of life.

After a moment, he released her. She drew back, frightened at herself, and caught her breath sharply. Her eyes, as she looked up at him, were wide and fearful.

"You do love me, Joan. Don't try to deny it."

"Oh, Bob, please listen to me. I can't love you. I mustn't. Won't you understand? I couldn't ever make you happy . . ."

He shook his head, contradicting her words. He smiled joyfully down at her.

"You have made me happy, my darling, I'm the happiest man in the world, as I told you I would be. I'm going to marry you, Joan. Do you hear me? I'm not asking you to marry me . . . I've done that too often. I'm telling you, now. I'm going to marry you."

For a moment he stood there, looking into her eyes, trying to draw out their secret. Then he made his decision.

"Listen to me, Joan," he said in all seriousness. "With all my heart, I love you. Whatever the past holds, we'll forget together. Whatever the future brings, we'll fight together. But I'm going to marry you."

She stopped abruptly, looking over his shoulder toward the doorway. Sybil Hendry stood behind them, and her eyes were cold as Arctic ice.

"Bob," she said chokingly, "I'm being caught in some magic spell. I mustn't let it overcome me. I can't marry you. No matter how we feel—"

"You mean there's someone else, Joan? Someone you've already married?"

"No. There's no one else. It's not as easy as that."

"Then what is it, my dear? Can't you tell me—so that we can work it out together?"

"I can't tell you, Bob. There's something in my life that I would rather die than have you find out, because if you did, you would hate me."

recovered herself. "Bob!" she exclaimed, and her tone was gay to the point of hysteria. "I'm simply overwhelmed with surprise!"

She did not wish him luck, she did not look at Joan. But Joan, too frightened and confused herself at Bob's irrevocable announcement, did not notice the omission.

"I must tell your uncle, Sybil," Bob rushed on. "Know where he is?"

"No. No, I don't. Probably down at the bar . . ."

"We'll find him. Come along, Joan, I'm telling everybody before you try to back out."

Inside, the orchestra began "Auld Lang Syne," and the dancers were forming themselves into an enormous circle to sing the refrain. Merry voices called out cheery greetings to special acquaintances, and friendly hands reached out to draw elusive strangers into the singing circle.

Sybil watched Bob weave his way in and out among them, his arms held protectively around the girl he had chosen in preference to her. She saw the glad light in his eyes as he refused to be drawn into the circle—the glad light she had never been able to arouse.

It seemed as if all the world had suddenly stopped—as if the end of life had come as well. She was so cold that she shook like a leaf in the wind; yet in her brain a white-hot fire was raging—a fire of anger and jealousy and bitter hatred.

And through the mad flames that were her thoughts, one sentence rang out, loud and true and unforgettable.

"There's something in my life that I would rather die than have you find out, because if you did, you would hate me."

She had heard the words distinctly and unmistakably. Now they seared themselves indelibly into her brain.

Suddenly her white teeth flashed and she began to laugh, quietly at first, then so increasingly loud that those inside who heard her were a little startled.

It's our family's whiskey, neighbor—and neighbor, it's your price!

Speaking of Mild and Tasty—folks have bought 2 million cases of Our Family's Whiskey!

Just a week ago Friday they took this picture, when the creek was all swoll up and some early dogwood was out and the gully looking prettier than anything. It shows you the little party we put on as a kind of special thing celebrating the 2millionth case of our Family's Whiskey. If you study real close, you can make out the 2,000,000 stamped right onto the case. Everybody was sure surprised at seeing how much of The Wilken Family Whiskey we'd turned out, and all remarked how it just went to prove you folks must be finding it's got the mildness and real extra tastiness you've been hunting around after. Well I told everybody those 2 million cases was just a drop in the bucket compared to the number of cases the Wilken Family has put out, if you take Grandpa Wilken and Pa Wilken into account.
