Ground Broken for New Plant Here

Building To Begin At Once

By GLENN McCASLAND
Groundbreaking ceremonies at the site for Pampa's newest industry were held in 35-degree weather today but the people involved were too happy to notice the cold.

Aubrey Steele, president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, told the some 65 people present that "this marks a new era in Pampa economy."

Steele made his remarks as shovels were turned on the Form-O-Uth plant site as construction for the new industry was scheduled to begin during the day. The firm will employ some 300 persons within two years.

Calvin Fraser, president of the firm, and Dale Greenhouse, resident manager for the company, bent their backs along with Mayor H. R. Thompson, Frank Task, a Chicago engineering firm representative, and Steele.

As the gold-tipped shovels turned, city councilmen from McLean, Pampa and surrounding towns watched.

Fraser told the group he was "pleased to see this plant begun in Pampa."

He cited the friendly attitude of the people and the hard working civic leaders "who have done such a fine job and have the interest of Pampa at heart."

"Without these men and this great desire to make Pampa grow, this could not be," Fraser declared.

Mayor Thompson called the groundbreaking ceremonies "a major day in Pampa history."

"This makes me feel that we are really going forward towards a better community," the Mayor said. "We owe much to the men who worked to attract this plant to our city. We thank them all."

The site, located at the 26.5 acres of industrial land purchased by the Pampa Industrial Foundation, is located at the east end of Foster and Kingsmill Streets.

The Form-O-Uth plant will cover five acres of this land.

Joining officials in the groundbreaking were Frank Culbertson, representing the Chamber of Commerce's industrial committee, and Fred Neslage, Industrial Foundation campaign drive director, while a battery of newsmen called for more and more pictures.

Pampa Chamber officials gave credit to the "untiring work of the citizens of McLean in helping us obtain this new industry."

"They worked so hard because they felt that such an industry would benefit McLean and Gray County as much as it would help Pampa," Steele declared.

Equipment Moves
Even as the groundbreaking ceremonies concluded, big earth-moving machines pulled onto the lot, ready graders for the final job of leveling off the plant area.

A construction office had also been completed and desks, telephone and heaters were in operation.

The large delegation of businessmen who turned out to welcome the new plant officially, laughed and joked, but were all in agreement that "Pampa has something to work with for once" when the subject of the Industrial Foundation came up. (See BUILDING, Page 4)

Former President Herbert Hoover Reported Rallying

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former President Herbert Hoover, 89, rallied somewhat Tuesday night from the combined effects of an old kidney ailment and a respiratory condition that afflicted him last weekend.

Doctors attending the 31st President in his Waldorf Towers suite said in the latest medical bulletin that hemorrhaging in Hoover's right kidney had stopped by nightfall. They said he was in less pain although the respiratory trouble had caused him to have a "restless day."

Hoover has been bedridden since last Sunday.

Girl Friday of Bobby Baker on Senate Hot Seat

Carole Tyler Makes Appeal For Understanding by Public

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Trim, attractive Carole Tyler, Bobby Baker's girl Friday, today defied the Senate committee investigating her former boss and pleaded for public understanding.

Doctors attending the 31st President in his Waldorf Towers suite said in the latest medical bulletin that hemorrhaging in Hoover's right kidney had stopped by nightfall. They said he was in less pain although the respiratory trouble had caused him to have a "restless day."

Hoover has been bedridden since last Sunday.

Washington and rebellious labor leaders in Miami Beach came after a flurry of telegrams and telephone calls between Johnson and Meany, and apparently ended the President's first labor crisis and a major threat to the wheat deal with Russia, a keystone of administration foreign policy.

White House sources said that "to avoid any misunderstanding or difficulty in the future" the President had ordered that "no waivers whatever" be permitted in granting licenses for wheat sales.

The unions had complained that the administration, by approving waivers, had reneged on the late President Kennedy's original promise last October that at least half the grain would be shipped in American flag-ships if available.

The no-waiver rule will not apply to the million-ton license granted to Continental Grain Co. of New York, on which deliveries already have been arranged. But it may affect the current license of Cargill, Inc. of Minneapolis for delivery of 700,000 tons of wheat to Russia.

Wheat Loaders Wait On 'Official' Order

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A week-long union boycott against U.S. wheat shipments to the Soviet Union apparently was at an end today, though rank-and-file longshoremen appeared to be in no hurry to get started on the job.

Local officials of the International Longshoremen's Association in Houston and Galveston, Tex., where five Russia-bound wheat ships lay idle, said they had not yet received "official" word on when to resume loading the wheat.

The announcement of the boycott's end came from the White House Tuesday night. President Johnson also ordered that — without exception — at least half the cargoes go in American vessels.

With AFL-CIO President George Meany acting as his emissary, the President arranged for further meetings between administration and maritime labor officials. They will attempt to iron out several other demands, including one that the 50-50 shipping provision be extended to wheat cargoes for Soviet satellites as well.

The agreement between queen, refused to answer questions on the constitutional grounds that the senators were invading her privacy and that any answers might tend to incriminate her.

In a statement she was allowed to read, the 24-year-old brown-haired beauty said the sole purpose of the hearing "seems to be to bring down upon me and others the violence of public reaction because of my alleged past associations."

Concluding the statement, Miss Tyler said: "I pray that the public will keep an open mind regarding me in order to insure that no further irreparable injury results to my reputation."

Declines To Answer
When committee members investigating the financial ventures of Baker, the former senate Democratic secretary, pressed her with questions, she "declined to answer" on grounds of privacy invasion and possible self incrimination.

At the outset of the public session, Miss Tyler gave only her name and the fact that she was the person subpoenaed by the Senate Rules Committee. Then she read the statement which she said was prepared by her attorney, Myron Ehrlich of Washington.

Baker, former $10,000 a year secretary to Senate Democrats amassed a personal fortune while serving in the sensitive post. The senators are delving into how he did it and whether improper influences were involved.

Baker has twice refused to answer pertinent questions in appearances before the committee. He declined Tuesday at a public session after also pleading the 5th Amendment and other reasons in a closed door appearance last week.

Miss Tyler was subpoenaed to testify today after the committee said she refused to appear voluntarily.

Ehrlich told newsmen that "this committee — no one" has the right to invade the privacy of his client.

However, Ehrlich said he did not object to televising the hearing as did Edward Bennett Williams, Baker's attorney, at Tuesday's session. Cameras were barred during Baker's testimony, but his remarks were broadcast on radio and television.

Refuses To Answer
Among the questions Baker refused to answer was one on whether Miss Tyler and Elly Rometsch, glamorous wife of a German soldier stationed here, accompanied him on a business trip outside Washington.

Earlier testimony also indicated that Miss Tyler, on at least one occasion, helped to count a sizable amount of cash taken from a file cabinet in Baker's Capitol office.

Baker's refusal to answer and provide documents Tuesday could lead to contempt of Congress proceedings, a possibility mentioned by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., but any such action will await the committee's deliberations after it has heard more witnesses.

EARTH TURNS FOR INDUSTRY — Calvin W. Fraser, president of the Form-O-Uth manufacturing company, digs into Mother Earth as five other dignitaries prepare to join groundbreaking ceremonies for the newest industry in Pampa. From the left, manning shovels are Fraser; Dale Greenhouse of McLean, who will be plant manager locally; Frank Task, a Chicago industrial engineering firm representative; Mayor H. R. Thompson of Pampa; Frank Culbertson, Industrial development committee representative; and Aubrey Steele, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Some 56 persons watch as the ceremonies got under way at the Pampa Industrial site at Foster and Kingsmill Streets.

PANEL NOW HALF COMPLETED

Sixth Ruby Juror Accepted

By H. D. QUIGG
DALLAS (UPI) — A young paper salesman today was sworn in as the sixth juror in the Jack Ruby murder trial. After nine days of the trial, the jury was half completed.

R. J. Flechtner, 29, a suburbanite like four of the previous jurors selected, had been on the stand less than 20 minutes when both sides accepted him.

The speed-up of the trial, apparent Tuesday, continued today, with the likelihood of night sessions to spur proceedings.

Flechtner joins Douglas J. Sowell, Luther E. Dickerson, Mrs. Mildred McCollum, Allen W. McCoy and Max E. Causey in the courthouse isolation dormitories for jurors.

He is a salesman for the Clappitt Paper Co., and lives in Richardson, just outside the city limits. Only Sowell is a resident of Dallas.

Slight, in a black suit and a lavender tie, Flechtner said he could be a fair juror and had no scruples about the death penalty.

He is married and has two children. He is a Christian Scientist.

Ruby, tense and nervous, blinked rapidly during questioning of jurors. At one point, he held an animated whispering conversation with chief defense attorney Melvin Belli.

He cupped his chin in his hand and rubbed his jowls with a thumb.

Flechtner, the 82nd panelist called, said he saw a re-run telecast of the slaying.

Doesn't Press Point
Belli did not press the point, although he has been arguing vainly that anyone who saw a telecast is a witness and cannot be a juror.

Both sides felt that the jury would be complete by the middle of next week.

The defense is now putting out the word that Ruby, the sick looking, hollow-eyed, moist-faced little defendant, could quite easily become a nervous wreck before it's all over.

Speeding things along, Judge Joe B. Brown of Criminal District Court No. 3 served notice he may begin night sessions tonight.

"I think I'll start night sessions then," he told Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade. He could change his mind, but Wade said he sounded positive.

Defense attorney Melvin Belli, resigned but unbowed, said: "Next week, regardless of what we can do, say, or otherwise, that box over there will be filled."

He nodded toward the jury box. There are 12 seats, and no provision for alternate jurors. Texas law allows none. If a juror becomes too ill to serve, after the panel is sworn, it's a mistrial and they start all over again.

But he still was fighting to show that Dallas cannot give Ruby a fair trial.

Ruby is charged with the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of assassinating President Kennedy, in the Dallas police station basement two days after the Nov. 22 assassination.

Two jurors were chosen Tuesday, bringing the total to five.

The 67th and 68th veniremen to be questioned were accepted by both sides. They were a chemical company vice president, 27, who had not seen the Oswald slaying on television, and an airlines mechanic, 33, who had seen it on television but had not been interested enough in the case to read about it after the first few days.

U. S. Women Challenged On Freedoms

American women were challenged last night by George Newberry, Pampa manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., to spark a grass roots rebellion to regain lost freedoms and help in the fight to stamp out social welfare that is costing the nation an estimated $50 billion a year.

Newberry made his plea in an address at the annual Boss Night banquet of the Pampa chapter of the American Business Women's Association in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn.

"Loss of our freedom is the challenge we face today," Newberry said.

Newberry hit the federal giveaway programs of taxpayers' money. He cited the farm acreage allotment program as a prime example, stating that six and one-third billions of dollars had been spent last year on that program alone.

"Giveaway programs destroy incentive," Newberry said, "and when you destroy incentive, you destroy freedom."

The speaker said he thought there were eight basic steps in the progress of man. He said the American people started in bondage.

The eight steps of progression, Newberry said, took us from bondage to spiritual faith. (See CHALLENGED, Page 4)

Senate Okays Tax Cut Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate today passed decisively and sent to President Johnson a landmark $11.5 billion tax cut bill that means an average $4-to-$5 weekly paycheck boost for millions. And it'll begin showing up next week.

The sweeping election-year tax reduction—biggest in U.S. history—for individuals and corporations was whisked to the White House where Johnson was expected to sign it quickly, possibly by late afternoon.

If signed today, the benefits of the bill will be felt starting with checks received next Wednesday when wage earners get a paycheck increase because of a 4 point drop in payroll withholding rates.

Junior Show Entries Approaching Record

Entries in the annual Gray County Junior Livestock Show, sponsored by the Pampa Lions Club, swelled to almost record numbers today as the event neared opening day.

J. C. Gunn, agriculture committee chairman for the Pampa Lions Club, said 20 calves and 60 barrows had been entered in the one-day affair for county 4-H and FFA members.

The show comes one day before the beginning of the annual Top O' Texas Show which kicks off Monday.

Judging in the Lions Club event will begin at 2 p.m. Saturday and will be concluded about 4:30 p.m.

Carson County Agent Bob Sims will serve as judge for the event with Dr. N. L. Nicholl working as superintendent.

Classifying of the animals will be done by Ralph Thomas and Foster Whaley.

Last year's show was won by Lonny Brown of Groom with an Angus steer with Joe Magee of McLean taking reserve championship honors in the event.

In the pig division, Gene Ferguson of Pampa won the grand champion barrow title and Donnie Shipp of Pampa took the reserve championship barrow crown.

Proving the quality of the county show was easy as young Brown turned around and walked off with the Top Breed and Best of Show crowns in the seven-county Top O' Texas show the next week.

Ribbons for the Lions Club show will be furnished by the club while special awards will be given by the Production Credit Association, Superior Feed Mills and the Trans Con Elevators.

Publisher Hits Civil Rights, Disarmament

Wes Izzard, publisher of the Amarillo Daily News, told the Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club last night that the present civil rights bill now in Congress is 20 per cent civil rights and 80 per cent government control.

Izzard emphasized that no other measure in the last 50 years would take away as many liberties as the civil rights bill in its present form.

"It is strictly a political action," the speaker said, "and a means to allow the minorities to dictate their wishes upon the majority."

The well-known columnist spoke at the club's annual world affairs banquet in the dining room at First Baptist Church.

Beside assailing the civil rights issue, Izzard also criticized the present world disarmament plan, particularly the Communists' suggestion to burn all man-made bombers.

"This," Izzard said, "would be (See PUBLISHER, Page 4)

Negro Pupils Shun Schools in Boston

By United Press International
Thousands of students, most of them Negroes, refused to attend classes in Boston today in protest against alleged school segregation.

The boycott was joined by hundreds of students from suburban communities who went into the city by bus, car and train.

Negro leaders called the illegal stay-out an apparent success. School officials said the extent of the boycott would not be known until attendance records are compiled.

At Cambridge, Md., Negroes prepared to picket the same two public buildings where on Tuesday National Guardsmen armed with bayonets and tear gas broke up a demonstration.

Martial law has reigned at Cambridge since last July when 15 persons were shot during rioting.

The guardsmen moved in when a "control group" of 15 demonstrators violated a ban on demonstrations and all of them were taken into protective custody.

Negro leader Gloria Richardson, chairman of the Cambridge Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (CNCC) said there would be more demonstrations in the Chesapeake Bay fishing village 40 miles from Princess Anne, Md., where a bombing and cross burning capped off a day of demonstrations the day before.

In Chicago more than 170,000 children stayed home from classes during the city's second "freedom day" public school boycott in four months.

Boycott leaders claimed victory over opposing Negro leaders who had spoken against the boycott.

Editor Named For Odessa

ODESSA (UPI) — John Sliney has been named city editor of the Odessa American, it was announced today.

Sliney, a police reporter for the paper since 1958, succeeded Jim Seaver who left to become managing editor of the Clovis, N.M., News-Journal.

Sliney's appointment was announced by Olin Ashley, managing editor of the Odessa American.

Before joining the paper, Sliney worked for three years as a reporter on the Waco Tribune-Herald.

The Odessa American and the Clovis News-Journal are sister papers to the Pampa Daily News, part of the Freedom paper group.

FRESH WATER FOR GITMO—Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba will be able to manufacture its own fresh water in about six months when the first of three de-salting units ordered by the Navy is operational. The other two units, each to produce at least 750,000 gallons a day, may take a year or more to build. The seawater conversion plants will be similar to those pictured above, which were installed in Kuwait about two years ago by an American company. The Kuwait native in the photo is sampling water manufactured by the mammoth distillation units.

Many Have Too Much Moisture

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas farmers, plagued in the past by not enough moisture, were plagued last week by too much. Many fields were too wet for planting corn and other work. Though little was accomplished last week, sorghum planting in the lower valley is about 20 per cent complete, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said. Snow delayed corn planting in the lower valley is cool temperatures slowed cotton sowing.

Soil moisture reserves were improved, brightening wheat prospects in the low plains and eastward. Dryland wheat on the high plains has started new roots, but cold temperatures last week kept back the growth the USDA said.

Oat growth was promising and flax made good growth in South Texas, with scattered fields in early bloom stage. South Texas rains were helpful for growing crops but hard on harvest, the department said. Carrot, cabbage, lettuce and leafy green vegetable movements were resuming in the Rio Grande Valley as fields dried. Broccoli was in short supply. Carrots were plentiful around Laredo, but spring onions showed little growth.

MOSCOW (UPI)—A gas explosion in a northern Ural mine shaft at Vorkuta has killed several Soviet miners, Pravda reported Tuesday in a rare disclosure of an internal tragedy. Vorkuta was a Stalin-era forced labor camp.

The disclosure came in a message of condolences printed on the Communist party organ's front page from the Central Committee and the Council of Ministers. It was addressed to workers and technicians of the "Kapital" Mine No. 1.

The message referred simply to an explosion of methane gas which resulted in the death of the dear human lives of comrades of your glorious working collective.

The three-paragraph message, which said help would be accorded to surviving families, made no mention of the date of the accident or the number of miners who were killed.

The Soviet press usually avoids publishing notices of such work tragedies although Soviet air crashes are sometimes recorded when a foreigner is aboard.

Hearing Set in Gambling Case

WACO, Tex. (UPI)—A federal court hearing for Milton (Duck) Mallard, one of several persons questioned in a 1962 investigation of gambling in Southwest Conference basketball games, has been rescheduled for March 13.

Originally scheduled for Monday, the change was reportedly made at the request of Mallard's attorneys.

The hearing will be to determine if Mallard's probation should be revoked.

Mallard has been indicted by an Austin grand jury on charges of contempt of the legislature and was arrested this month on charges of probation violation.

He also faces charges of failure to obtain a federal gambling stamp and failure to register as a gambler.

His probated four-year term came on conviction of charges of concealing property with intent to defeat collection of income taxes.

Challenged

(Continued From Page 1) to courage, to freedom, to abundance, to selfishness, to apathy and from there to dependency. The final step, the speaker pointed out, is the one that leads from dependency back to bondage.

It was then that Newberry challenged the women of the country to join together in giving their assistance to fight for freedoms already lost and to save those still retained. In one of the principal features of the ABWA annual banquet, Mrs. Velma Sutton, chief operator, Southwestern Bell Telephone, was named Boss of the Year. The judges decision, made after reading letters written by employees, was given by Wallace Bruce.

Mrs. Babe Mastin was toastmistress and introduced the speaker, Maxine Neighbors, association president, welcomed the dinner guests and the response was given by Cameron Marsh, high school principal. Mrs. Mary Lee Wright gave a brief history of the organization and outlined its purposes. Diane Phillips, solist, accompanied by Jo Ann Craig, entertained. Dinner music was played by Mrs. Jessie Rance, organist.

Hitch Delays Kidnap Trial

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The federal trial of three men accused of kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr. for $240,000 ransom ran behind schedule today and a reappearance of the young singer's famous father, Frank Sr., was postponed until Friday. Prosecutor Thomas R. Sheridan had planned to rest the government's case Tuesday but was not able to get all his witnesses to the stand. First order of today's court session—the 12th day of the trial—was further cross-examination of Dennis Gray, 23, who said two of the defendants stayed at his home on the night of Dec. 12 and "played football" with bundles of the ransom money.

California Man Given Sentence

WHEELER — Ronald Morgan, 22, Los Angeles, was sentenced to serve four years in the state prison at Huntsville Tuesday in a hearing before Judge Lewis M. Goodrich.

Morgan had offered a plea of guilty to the charge two weeks ago, but Judge Goodrich deferred sentencing until he could study results of a lie detector test which had bearing on the case.

Morgan was charged with the theft of two saddles from the ranch of Oscar Laycock five miles west of Shamrock on Thanksgiving Day last year.

Another man is also charged in the theft, but has not been given a hearing yet, District Attorney Bill Waters said.

Chiari Welcomes Talks With LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Roberto F. Chiari of Panama says he welcomes a conference with President Johnson but its success would depend on Johnson's willingness to negotiate a new Canal Zone treaty.

The Panamanian president outlined his position in a television interview recorded last week in Panama and broadcast Sunday in the United States. Chiari said that unless a new treaty was worked out, further and more violent demonstrations like those in January were inevitable. In the January riots 21 Panamanians and four Americans were killed.

Asked whether he would confer with Johnson on the dispute, Chiari said he would be willing to meet the U.S. President if he got the chance and "if a meeting . . . could bring any results."

Building

(Continued From Page 1) in conversations. Fraser, in an interview with newsmen, said he had high hopes of seeing "Pampa move steadily forward with this new foundation to aid them."

Chamber officials said that the first machines for training of employees of the new plant would be placed in operation at the annex of First National Bank this afternoon. A training program at the annex is scheduled to begin this week.

Form-O-Uth, which has home offices in California, manufactures a complete line of women's intimate apparel. It operates a plant in McLean and the Pampa factory is an outgrowth of that firm. Announcement of the new plant came three weeks ago in a specially called meeting of city, county and chamber leaders.

Since that time, Pampa civic leaders have moved to insure further development by forming the Industrial Foundation and working on steps to begin accepting funds for the $200,000 foundation.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press International

Popular opinion polls showing a remarkable enthusiasm for President Johnson are lagging somewhat behind the political facts of this campaign year. This week a poll by Louis Harris in the Washington, D.C., Post reported that 81 per cent of voters questioned believed Johnson was effective in keeping government spending under control. Thus, the voters appear to find Johnson not guilty of the Republican charge that he is a typical big time Democratic spender.

Spending, the national debt and deficits are THE domestic issues on which the Republicans expect to hit hardest this year. Republicans need those issues to win.

The polls are more favorable to Johnson than are the political facts of life. The voters are saluting mere promises. For example, the Kennedy administration's big spending trend has not been checked since Johnson took office three months ago. Johnson's economy-promises are impressive and his strategies are persuasive. But the actual reduction in expenditures remains to be achieved.

Vote Reflects Promises

It is obvious, therefore, that the whopping vote of confidence reported by the pollsters represents so far only the impact of Johnson's promises and his persuasive strategies, such as cutting the White House bill for electric lights.

Another factor: The big spending pressure only now is beginning to develop. The Johnson administration's propaganda play has been to the government economists, the conservatives, to those squares responsive to the so-called Puritan ethic. Such citizens, of course, have been pleased, Edwin P. Neilan, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, got the Johnson treatment at the White House, shortly after LBJ took over. Neilan was among a group of big business callers.

"I could vote for that man," said Neilan on emerging from the presidential presence. Now, Neilan has changed his mind. The government economy Johnson talked to Neilan and his associates does not look to Neilan like the Johnson performance in that field. Over the weekend, Neilan was on record as withdrawing his favor from the new President. Neilan's reason: Big time spending projects and deficit financing.

Asks More Spendings

Meantime, big labor is turning on the heat for more spending and bigger deficits. There are several areas of labor discontent. Johnson's play for the favor of economy-minded conservatives is one of them. The AFL-CIO executive council has been meeting in Bal Harbour, Fla. The labor bosses resolved in favor of a vast increase in government spending for education, health care, low-cost housing, consumer counseling and personal guidance services for low income families and, of course, for public works.

Neilan of the Chamber of Commerce and George Meany of AFL-CIO are beginning to represent utterly opposing points of view on Johnson, each supported by some millions of like-minded voters. For Johnson, that spells out in simple terms a decision he must make.

Shall we join with congressional conservatives in a drive for real government economy or with congressional liberals in a drive for more spending, bigger annual deficits and a steadily increasing national debt. Not merely a tough decision to make. That will be a tough decision to reveal to one side and to conceal from the other.

Quotes From The News

MIAMI BEACH—Thomas W. (Teddy) Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, commenting on the maritime unions' boycott of ships scheduled to haul wheat to Russia until the government agrees to send half the wheat in U.S. vessels: "As far as I'm concerned we're going to stay that way until we get a solution."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bregman Comings & Co. says "there is little question in our mind that the various market averages will reach further new highs over the near-term after a small amount of interim consolidation."

"True enough, the Dow index is not representative of the 'average stock' but as long as so many people watch and are influenced by its movement, it will remain a useful, if not fundamentally significant tool. In this context, we expect that break-out above the 800 level will increase investor optimism temporarily. As we appraise the probabilities from here, it appears that the Dow industrials could overrun the 800 level by 10 to 15 points before becoming subject to a significant reversal, and that if a reversal occurs it likely would end with a less than 5 per cent retracement in the average."

Spear and Staff says "Although there has been little evidence that major selling is occurring to take advantage of the basic new rates, presidential signing of the tax bill could act as a psychological stimulus to induce some profit-taking. While this possibility must be kept in mind, our technical indicators are largely neutral and the fundamental economic picture remains strong. We see no reason to interrupt normal investment programs."

International Statistical Bureau, Inc. says "Regardless of the nearby trend, the market will average higher in coming months. The internal position of the market is still favorable. Maintain your long positions."

'Mom' Happy on 90th Birthday

LONDON (UPI) — Mrs. Adelaide Gilbert, a London woman known as "Mom" to American soldiers stationed here during World War II, celebrated her 90th birthday Sunday and said, "I've never felt better."

"Yet, just before my 19th birthday, when I was taken ill, the doctor called my mother to my bedside and said, 'Let her die in peace. She has only a quarter of an hour to live.' Now I'm celebrating my 90th birthday."

Mrs. Gilbert, who has lived in London's East End for more than 50 years, put up hundreds of American GIs at her home when they were on furlough.

"After the war, they kept writing to me, asking me to call on them," she said Sunday. "And in 1947, I decided to visit the States."

But she had trouble in getting a visa, so she wrote personally to President Truman.

"Within three days I had a visa and sailed for New York on the Queen Elizabeth," she smiled.

Fog Hampers Search For Jetliner in Lake

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A dense fog that lowered visibility to 50 feet delayed search operations on Lake Pontchartrain for two hours after dawn today as Coast Guard vessels tried to renew looking for bodies and wreckage from the Eastern Air Lines jet that crashed Tuesday.

The search Tuesday turned up only battered pieces of flesh, twisted airplane parts and pathetic personal effects. The four-engine craft made a pre-dawn dive into the lake Tuesday, just minutes after reporting "okay" from take-off at the New Orleans Airport.

One whole but battered body and scattered debris were recovered by rescuers. Several human scalps and other parts of bodies were found.

"No information" on the cause was reported by William Lamb, spokesman for the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB). He emphasized that the main wreckage had not been found. Lamb called a news conference for 12 noon EST today.

Vanished From Radar The Mexico City-to-New York flight took off without incident on the second leg of its trip. Just five minutes later, it vanished from radar screens and the alarm was sounded. Searchers converged on a north shore, snake-infested swamp area before an oil slick, then wreckage were sighted four miles from the shore of the 25-by-40-mile lake. A chatty letter, a check on a Massachusetts insurance company, a first grade reader, parts of wreckage and pieces of bodies were found. The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) sent 20 investigators to the scene to determine cause of the first crash at New Orleans International (Moisant) Airport in 20 years. The FBI sent a disaster team to identify the victims.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
 Foreign News Analyst
 China seldom misses an opportunity to denounce the United States, whether it be Cuba, Southeast Asia, or protection of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime on Formosa.

Of late, there have been denunciations that both the United States and Red China have been reviewing their positions. One such came from U.S. Secretary of State Rogers Hillsman Jr., who hinted under certain conditions the United States might normalize its relations with the Communist-controlled Chinese mainland.

It is the subject of a debate which apparently continues in the inner circles of Washington.

Ayub Offers Services
 curious development over the week-end occurred in Rawalpindi, Pakistan, where Redese Premier Chou En-Lai met with visiting French President Mohammed Khan. Ayub offered Pakistan's "good offices" to bring about "some sort of agreement" between Washington and Peking.

Chou added that he found the Chinese "reasonable" and "successful."

It is doubtful that such an agreement would have been made out of Chou's knowledge and consent.

Only a day or so before, Red dispatches quoted Redese leader Mao Tse-tung having told visiting French parliamentarians in Peking his regime could become friendly with the United States if it abandoned Formosa.

Watch From Sidelines
 Happily on the sidelines is Chiang Kai-shek government which has witnessed the turns of U.S. foreign policy and already suspects that the United States would support a "two-China" policy if an opportunity arose.

For the Red Chinese, an agreement with the United States would be the final breakthrough upon it first by the United States and then by its strained relations with the Communist Union.

For the United States, it would be to accept the Dele theory of a forcing-in and that chances of a Chinese collapse are negligible. It would mean abandonment of the theory that the Nationalist government is the rightful government of all China.

It also would mean the end of Chiang's cherished hope of a day leading his 600,000 army back to the Chinese mainland.

Policy Has Changed
 U.S. policy toward the Formosa government has taken numerous twists since Chiang's retreat from the mainland.

In 1950, President Truman announced the United States would give neither military aid nor advice to the "Chinese government on Formosa."

The start of the Korean War changed this position. The U.S. patched the 7th Fleet to the aid of Formosa and dispatched arms to Chiang. But it "kicked" him by imposing the condition they would be used only in defense and not for attack against the mainland. U.S. military aid to Chiang now totals about $2.5 billion.

In 1953, President Eisenhower "unleashed" Chiang, saying the 7th Fleet no longer would serve as a defensive arm against Communist China.

In 1962, President Kennedy ordered the Reds that the U.S. would not support a Nationalist attack against the mainland but minded them that the U.S. is bound by treaty to defend Formosa.

The Nationalists now are wondering what President Johnson will say.

Teen-Ager Hurt
 Auto Accident
 A 16-year-old Pampa youth was injured slightly Tuesday when his automobile struck the rear of a halted truck at Hobart and Wilks Sts.

Bartley John McLean, Route Box 111A, Pampa, suffered a hip and did not require hospitalization after the accident.

Patrolman Preston Bailey said McLean's 1960 Chevrolet coach struck the rear of a 1959 model truck operated by James A. Hultz, 21, Lubbock, as the truck was waiting for a traffic light to change.

Schultz was not injured nor was his truck damaged.

Bailey said young McLean's automobile was damaged some $500 to the front grille and bumper.

Romantic elegance is the keynote of evening fashions for spring. Coquetry steals the picture (left) in an evening dress of black silk organza, with a ruffled capelet. This Jane Derby design is voluminously belled from a high waistline and sashed in black velvet. "Domino" printed evening dress (center) by Bud Kilpatrick shows his new telescope silhouette. Dotted skirt of silk twill is designed in stripes of black, white and cinnamon brown. Buttoned stoke covers the turquoise jeweled bodice of the white silk and wool strapless evening dress (right) by Mollie Farina. The skirt arches out from a narrow belt which forms a large bow front and center.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor who has been my friend for many years told me the other day that my daughter-in-law passed the remark, "I will be worth a lot of money when my husband's old lady kicks the bucket." I am 58, in good health and have no plans for "kicking any bucket" for a long time. I have quit speaking to my daughter-in-law, but this doesn't seem fair to my son. Should I see my son without my daughter-in-law and continue the cold war? Or should I start speaking to my daughter-in-law?

ALIVE AND KICKING
DEAR ALIVE: What kind of "friend" would have repeated a remark such as your neighbor quoted? It is even possible that your daughter-in-law never said it. I think you quit speaking to the wrong woman. Talk to your daughter-in-law and straighten it out. Life is too short.

DEAR ABBY: May I put in a good word for beards? My husband has a beautiful beard. Let's face it. Some men can grow beards and others can't. Mine can, and I wouldn't make him shave it off for the world. Some men envy him because they can't grow one and others because their wives won't let them. A man who is a real man will grow a beard if he wants one. Besides, he is very distinctive. Not one person who has ever met my husband has forgotten him.

PROUD WIFE
DEAR, PROUD: You are proud with good reason. A bearded man must be above-reproach at all times because he is easily identified by the hair of his chinny chin chin.

DEAR ABBY: I had to write an original story for English Composition and I had so much other stuff to do I didn't get around to it until the last minute. To make a long story short, I asked my father to help me with it and he wrote the whole thing. I copied it word for word and thought it was great. My father happens to be a writer. He has written some pretty good stuff. They even made some movies of a couple of his books. Well, I got my paper back and the teacher had a "C Minus sign" on it. When my father saw it he was boiling mad and asked me to ask the teacher what was wrong with it. I'm afraid if I do she will find out I didn't write it and then I would be in trouble. What should I do?

WRITER'S SON
DEAR SON: Tell your teacher that the story was not your best. (It's true — it wasn't.) And ask her if you can submit another one. Then, do it yourself, son.

Couple Read Vows In Perryton Church

Brenda Jeanette Waller, daughter of Mrs. Corene Musgrave, 109 N. Nelson, and Gary Charles Punches, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Punches of White Deer, exchanged wedding vows February 3 in the Methodist Church of Perryton. Rev. Duane Bruce read the double ring service.

The bride chose for her wedding a white brocade dress with matching jacket. The rounded neckline and elbow length sleeves trimmed with fur added interest to the sheath styled frock. A circlet veil of white silk illusion was secured by a white chiffon bow.

Mrs. Punches is a senior student in Pampa high school. The bridegroom is serving with the United States Navy and will report for duty at the Mare Island, Calif., base where he will board the U.S.S. Segundo for sea-duty.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise. Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem. The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It feels like nothing on but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation. "Suddenly Slim" in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at

Invitation To A Spring Dance

By HELEN HENNESSY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Women's Editor
NEW YORK (NEA) — If Cinderella's fairy godmother waved her wand over this spring's crop of evening gowns, they couldn't be lovelier than they are. Every dress sets a romantic mood for the season's gala festivities.

Necklines can reveal all or nothing, for they run the gamut from deep and softly draped to high, wide Vs that are a revelation.

These floor-length formals are a re-enchancingly feminine. Reminiscent of the 1930s, skirts are either cut on the bias to mold the figure or they fall in gathers or pleats from a fitted bodice. Many are ruffled or flounced.

The gown you wear can add a large measure of excitement to a formal evening. And this season's selection of jeweled, beaded and bold printed chiffons will make you glad you're a girl. In one collection, a pastel chiffon skirt is teamed with a beaded feather print bodice.

There are slinky crepes, frothy lace, and floating organza and silk chiffon. Black and white are high on the popular color list. And there are a host of new, soft pastels—daffodil yellow, opal blue, willow green—that are as soft as spring itself.

It will be easy to believe, as you are whisked off for a gay evening, that the family car or taxi is indeed a golden coach.

'Mature Women in Business' Topic For Altrusa Club of Pampa Program

The program for a Monday evening meeting of the Altrusa Club of Pampa concerned the mature woman in business. Mrs. Thelma Bray, chairman of the vocational service committee was in charge. Mrs. Lillian Snow, committee member, stated that in our age, we are witnessing an invisible revolution which is quietly changing the pattern of the American way of life. Mrs. Snow added that in 1947 only eight per cent of the families had an income of $10,000; but in 1963, the two income families has an income 25 per cent above the single income family. In 1963, according to the Department of Labor, figures over 24,107,000 women are at work, one out of three. Three out of five of these women are married and one out of three have children under 18 years of age. Since 1961 the number of wives in the nation's working force has increased by five million or over one half the total job growth in the last 11 years. Women need more training, more education and admittedly the prejudices against women in our culture is greater than prejudice against race in many instances. The University of Minnesota has a most extensive program of "Continuing Education for the Mature Woman." This school gives counseling and scholarship service as well as nursery service to the working mother. Evening schools, on-the-job training and apprenticeship courses and home study courses are raising the standards of the woman workers.

Mrs. Bray stated the Pampa Altrusa Club would have a Vocational Conference for Mature Women April 16 in Lovett Memorial Library.

Mrs. Bray told why women do not succeed in business and how they can improve themselves. She cited the fact that the Altrusa Club has made up of women who have succeeded in business and how we are interested in the mature woman raising her standards in the business world.

Mrs. Lorene Locke presided over a short business session which followed the dinner. She called for standing committee reports and Mrs. Charlene Yeager distributed the "Altrusa Views," largely devoted to results of the recent Career Clinic. All members agreed on the success of the project.

Mrs. Leah Behrman gave a complete financial report for the year and thanked members for their cooperation. Funds were raised by Christmas card sales, donations and a very successful art auction.

Panhandle Circle Meeting Planned By Rebekahs

Plans for the Panhandle Circle meeting of Rebekah Lodges were made during a meeting of the local group in a meeting conducted Thursday.

Mrs. H. A. Matheny, Noble Grand, was in charge of the business session, assisted by Mrs. Eunice Maddox, vice-grand and Mrs. T. A. Mastin, secretary. Mrs. Alta Mae McElrath made the financial report.

Mrs. Ethel Black was inducted by the degree team, H. A. Matheny was re-installed by the lodge.

Refreshments of coffee and cake were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Dorothy Boyles and Mrs. Eula Thornhill.

Presbyterian Circles Conduct Meetings

First Presbyterian Church day circles met in the homes of members Wednesday for programs based on the first chapter of the book, "Be What You Are," by George Hunt, a study of Paul's letter to the Colossians.

Eleven members of Circle I met in the home of Mrs. W. T. Wilborn, with Mrs. Harvey Neustiel in charge of the program.

Mrs. Fred Stockdale presented the study for Circle II and Mrs. Don Smith read names of mission workers in Pakistan and Pennsylvania listed for the date in the Year Book of Prayer. Twelve members and a guest, Mrs. Glenn Westall, met in the home of Mrs. Henry Gindorf.

Mrs. George Friauf was hostess for 13 members of Circle III. Mrs. Glen Ritchart led the study on Colossians and the Year Book of Prayer devotional was given by Mrs. E. L. Biggerstaff.

Mrs. Fred Hobart was in charge of the program for Circle IV which met in the home of Mrs. W. L. Heskey with Mrs. M. C. Overton as hostess.

Antelopes Edge Past Bi-District

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

MIAMI — A hanging - from-the rafters crowd screamed hysterically as Darrouzett blew three scoring chances in the last 30 seconds to give Allison a 72-70 bi-district victory here last night. Allison, the district 2-B champ, now moves into regional play at Canyon Friday against defending state champion McAdoo.

Once again it was Leaping Lonnie Richardson who provided the winning basket, but it was clutch team support behind him which offset a smooth-working Longhorn crew. Allison's all - state nominee swished home 27 points, hitting 12 of 26 field goal attempts, but was backed by the 19-point production of little Mike Aderholt and 10 points by Everett Childress, while George Markham backed the rebounding. Colie Donaldson showed flashes of brilliance and Charles Hill provided key relief.

For the Longhorns, who lost only their fourth game in 31 outings this year, 6-2 Donald Pratt dominated the rebounds, smooth Scotty Jergenson dropped in 23 points and Clinton Hanshu got 20 more on drives, set up by the fast - breaking, ball - hawking trio of himself, Dana Duke, who added 10 more points, and Raymond Miller.

The lead changed hands eight times and the score was tied twice, despite the fact that Darrouzett had grabbed a 10-point lead in the opening minutes and held it into the third quarter, only to have Allison take a nine-point lead in turn, with the winning score finally being posted with 1:13 to go.

Richardson blocked a shot, grabbed a rebound and fed the opening bucket to Markham but for the next two minutes it was all Darrouzett as he scored 12 straight points in six field goal attempts, headed by Hanshu and Jergenson. Aderholt finally broke the string with a free throw and Richardson and Donaldson cut the gap to three points, only to have Pratt stuff a rebound and Jergenson hit a jumper with eight seconds left for a 19-13 Darrouzett quarter lead.

Jergenson and Duke were stealing and going down on fast breaks and they moved the edge to nine points, but Richardson went wild, grabbing off nine of his 15 rebounds in the period despite being double - teamed, and scored eight points to cut the gap to 29-20, going out for a rest with two minutes left.

Miller took advantage of his absence as he led a press that stole everything but Allison's socks and racked up seven straight points for a 37-32 half-time lead.

Leaping Lonnie came back for the second half and hit two quick buckets, and Allison chipped away at the lead. Aderholt driving with 5:12 left in the quarter to give them the lead for the first time since the opening seconds, 40-39.

Allison kept a one-to-three point margin as Jergenson and Richardson swapped out, but Leaping Lonnie drew his third foul in mid-frame and his fourth with 2:41 left and headed for the bench again. This time the Antelopes rose to the occasion, with Aderholt hitting three straight buckets. Hanshu cut it short as he connected on a pair of free throws and then a basket with eight seconds to go, and it was 56-63 Allison going into the final period.

Hanshu reversed the order to start off, hitting the free throw and then a basket for a 57-56 Darrouzett lead. Childress, Charles Hall and Richardson hit in succession for another Antelope edge, and Allison moved seven ahead, only to have the pressing Miller cut it back to two. Duke hit a long shot and another from the corner and tied the score at 68-68.

Richardson then rose to the occasion, grabbing a rebound and feeding it to Hall for a 10-foot jumper with 1:49 left. Leaping Lonnie then snatched another defensive rebound, drove downcourt and hit a 25-footer with 1:13 left, offsetting Jergenson's circle jump shot 24 seconds later and a couple of wild Darrouzett shots just before the buzzer.

GATHER ROUND — Coach Otis Holladay checks off assignments as the Harvesters' spring training was forced into the fieldhouse yesterday due to the cold weather which kept all athletic teams indoors. Holding footballs next to the skipper are Ricky Maynard (left) and Jim Arthur.

Three Defending State Champions Go Into Regional Basketball Playoffs

By United Press International
Three defending state champions — Clear Creek in Class AAA, West Sabine in Class A and McAdoo in Class B — are still in the running for repeat titles with the Texas Interscholastic League basketball race heading for regional showdowns.

Clear Creek won its regional spot Monday night with a 62-44 decision over Wharton and West Sabine survived a spirited bid by White Oak to take a 63-58 overtime decision. McAdoo drew a first round bye and will compete in a regional tournament this weekend.

The other two 1963 titlists — San Angelo in AAAA and Buna in AA — did not get out of their districts this season.

Six Class AAAA bi-district champs were determined Tuesday night with Odessa Permian beating El Paso Austin 68-48, Dallas Adamson defeating Fort Worth Eastern Hills 69-51, Houston S. F. Austin ousting Spring Branch Memorial 50-45, Pasadena besting Beaumont French in three overtimes, 75-67, Austin S. F. Austin downing Edinburg 82-60 and San Antonio Lee beating San Antonio Lanier 73-49. Highland Park and Haltom City won their spurs Monday night.

Four Class AAA teams compete in a tournament at Lubbock Friday and Saturday with Seminole playing Perryton and Graham facing Lamesa in first-round games. Greenville and Kilgore joined Clear Creek in advancing Monday night.

Tuesday night, Brenham edged Orange 57-56, San Marcos stopped Lampasas 64-43, and South San Antonio beat Robstown 50-45 to join them.

In Class AA Tuesday night, Canyon beat Stinnett 49-39, Dimmitt beat Denver City 64-63, Anson downed Seymour 73-59, Lake Worth defeated Decatur 47-41, New Boston beat MI Vernon 70-68 and San Diego beat Donna 60-51. In Class A, Sanford-Fritch beat Wellington 68-55, Petersburg beat Farwell 56-39, Henrietta beat Boswell 59-58, Honey Grove downed Wylie 83-50, Midlothian beat Alvarado 46-45, Bastrop beat Round Rock 38-37, Charlotte beat Boerne 61-59, Skidmore-Tynan beat San Perilita 61-39 and Hitchcock beat Jourdanton 60-52.

Sporting Sidelines

ALL SPORTSWRITERS — are characters, admittedly, but possibly it's because of the company we keep. (No, we don't necessarily mean the coaches and Barney Riley, although possibly that helps), we mean the characters that bug us at ball games, by mail and most of all, over the telephone.

THE CHARACTER at the sports event is one of two kinds. His opening words are "why the heck don't you give better coverage to fill in his favorite sport, usually something like jai-alai, hockey, badminton or the fortunes of Hofstra University?". If he's a little more polite about it, he starts off "you're doing a good job, but..." That BUT has sent more sportswriters to the hospital than wildy-thrown baseballs, flying discuses (discus?) and ulcers combined.

If you give heavy coverage to local sports, he insists that you give more to national sports. The next time, he immediately assails you for not covering his high school team more and wasting time on "that junk about Kentucky basketball and professional golf!"

The other type is the guy that comes from a town not in your coverage area. One, that says just a short distance out and is covered frequently due to their playing so many area games; but is definitely not one of your teams, and whose subscribers to your paper can be numbered on the finger of one finger. Sure enough, that's the guy who shows up to assail you for not favoring his team more.

The last type is the parent who criticizes because (a) your articles don't look anything like the boy or (b) you are not giving him the credit he deserves. Case b is often a girl friend (see).

Eagles Soar Over Rockets

AMARILLO (Sp) — The Wellington Skyrockets fizzled last night as Sanford-Fritch took a 69-55 bi-district victory and the right to play in the Class A regional tournament at Lubbock Saturday against Eldorado.

Wellington blew it at the free throw line as they could make only 11 of 23 foul shots while S-F was hitting 26 of 34 charities. The Rockets were never really in the game after the first quarter, having trailed since the opening whistle on the tremendous outside shooting and driving of Dwayne Holley and Curtis Whaley.

The Eagles led 18-12 at the quarter, 29-27 at the half and 41-33 at the three-quarter mark, the closest they ever came as Fritch hit 10 straight points to open the final period.

Holley hit 25 points, Whaley 14, Ronnie Hurst had 18 and Roger Weems 12 for the Rockets.

Canyon Cops Win Over Cold Snakes

BORGER (Sp) — Canyon led all the way as they moved to another date in the regional Class A tournament with a 49-39 victory over Stinnett last night.

The 1963 state finalists were never headed as they scored the first eight points of the ball game and led 13-6, 28-14, 39-23. Eddie Poole and Steve Burgess led their scoring with 13 points each, Guymon Phillips had 11 for the Rat'lers.

Purse Held Up

We Just Don't Believe It! Cassius Defeats Liston!

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Tuesday night was the night that was for Cassius Clay.

He became heavyweight boxing champion of the world — just like he said he would.

He didn't do it so much with his fists, or his fast talk for which he is noted, but with an "injury" to his opponent, Charles (Sonny) Liston.

Liston, the first ex-convict ever to hold boxing's greatest crown, called it quits after the sixth round because he no longer could lift his left arm.

Liston said he hurt it after the bell sounded ending the first round in one of boxing's greatest upsets. Neither fighter apparently heard the bell and both continued throwing punches. Liston tried to ward off a Clay punch at the same time trying to throw a blow of his own. There was a pain in his left shoulder and Liston said it grew worse as the fight progressed.

Clay stood up in his corner, lifting his arms aloft, as though he were champion.

Liston sat on the stool in his corner, surrounded by his handlers. Referee Barney Felix went over to his corner to find out what was wrong. Jack Ni-lon, one of Liston's managers, said his boxer could not continue because he was hurt.

So it went down in the records as a seventh-round technical knockout victory for the 22-year-old Lip from Louisville.

Breaking Developments
Immediately, there were some suspicions voiced. Then in rapid succession came:

—Clay shouting in his dressing room, "you hypocrites (Meaning boxing writers) can't say it was a fix."

—Cal Gardner, vice chairman of the Miami Beach Boxing Commission, announced that Liston's purse was being withheld until two orthopedic surgeons could examine Liston's shoulder to determine whether his withdrawal from the fight was justified.

—The Miami Beach City Council said it was considering whether an investigation was inorder.

—It was revealed that International Continental Promoters Inc., of which Liston is part owner, had a contract with Clay to stage his next fight under its promotion. It gave Clay $50,000 for that commitment.

Nilon, who took Liston to the hospital right after the fight, exploded when he was informed that Liston's purse was being withheld and demanded that the orthopedic surgeons desired by the Miami Beach Boxing Commission examine Liston immediately.

Loss of Feeling
Liston's personal physician, Dr. Robert C. Bennett, examined the ex-champion in his dressing room right after the fight and said Liston had no feeling from his neck to his left elbow.

One Dr. Lester Russin, went (See LISTON, Page 9)

Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The 'War' on Poverty

The declaration of war on poverty unveiled in President Johnson's State of the Union message, was an unvarnished bit of political advertising, and can be classified as a political issue which has been used many times before in election campaigns.

The value of such an issue from a political standpoint, lies in the fact that there has always been a problem of poverty in the United States, existing in various pockets throughout the country.

Recently, politicians have magnified this situation to such an extent that a current news story reports lawmakers as saying that 30 million Americans are not earning a living wage today.

The superficiality of any political issue, including this one, can be determined by comparing how government plans to accomplish its proposed objective with the same manner in which the same objective would be expedited in a free market economy.

For instance, the President has not said he intends to drop the payment of bonuses to farmers to keep them from growing food, an obvious needful commodity to the poor.

He has said nothing about the restriction of labor union monopolies which aggravate poverty by forcing artificially high prices from businesses, thereby causing a rise in the price of living.

Apparently he intends to do nothing about the minimum wage law which helps keep many persons from working by freezing the wage price at a level higher than marginal producers are in a position to pay, or marginal workers to earn.

Any thinking American who examines the poverty issue must realize that this problem cannot be solved by clinging solely to the socialist premise of wealth redistribution.

Nor can it be solved by putting into force proposals such as that made by a labor secretary who sought to reduce unemployment by raising the cost of overtime work, thus driving the employer to hire new help rather than give extra work to regular employees.

There is no doubt that it is time to take a look at the poverty situation as it exists in the nation today, but it is also time to summon the economic courage to do what needs to be done to solve the problem through the use of free enterprise methods.

There is one sure way to help solve the poverty problem; that is, by supplying the opportunity for everyone to work.

The problem can never be solved by prattling about over-production and the need to hire people not to produce goods or services.

Today, with men on all sides being corrupted by rewards for idleness — rewards that had to be first taken from producers — it is time to reemphasize the need for a rebirth of the spirit of individualism.

This simply means fanning to life sparks of self-reliance in the man or woman who, wanting employment, goes out, looks for a job and finds it; or who makes his own employment by going into business for himself.

As long as men adopt government hand-out depots as places where they can make a living, their economic progress will remain at a standstill.

It is nonsense to presume that the nation lacks opportunities for the thinking individual who wishes to augment his material welfare.

It is time to challenge the notion that the individual is helpless. There is more opportunity today for the enterprising man than has existed at any other time in the nation's history. No man need wait to be tended by government as part of a sheep flock.

Socialism, to be effective at all, must have an agency of force at its disposal, but individualism need not be dependent upon the state.

Poverty will vanish to the extent that each person carves fortunes or empires for himself thru the medium of the free market.

The People May Know

The expected forthcoming renewal of the debate on Medicare care financed by increased Social Security taxes should be conducted on a high plane of honesty, without seeking to delude the public with a "numbers game," according to C. Wilson Harder, president of the National Federation of Independent Business, which has long been opposed to the proposed legislation. The public should know that a 15.8 per cent tax increase is proposed.

Mr. Harder points out that proponents of the plan emphasize that the program of giving free medical care to everyone reaching the age of 65, regardless of their need, emphasize heavily that it would only require a 1-4 of 1 per cent increase in the tax deducted from the worker's paycheck and a like increase in employer contribution.

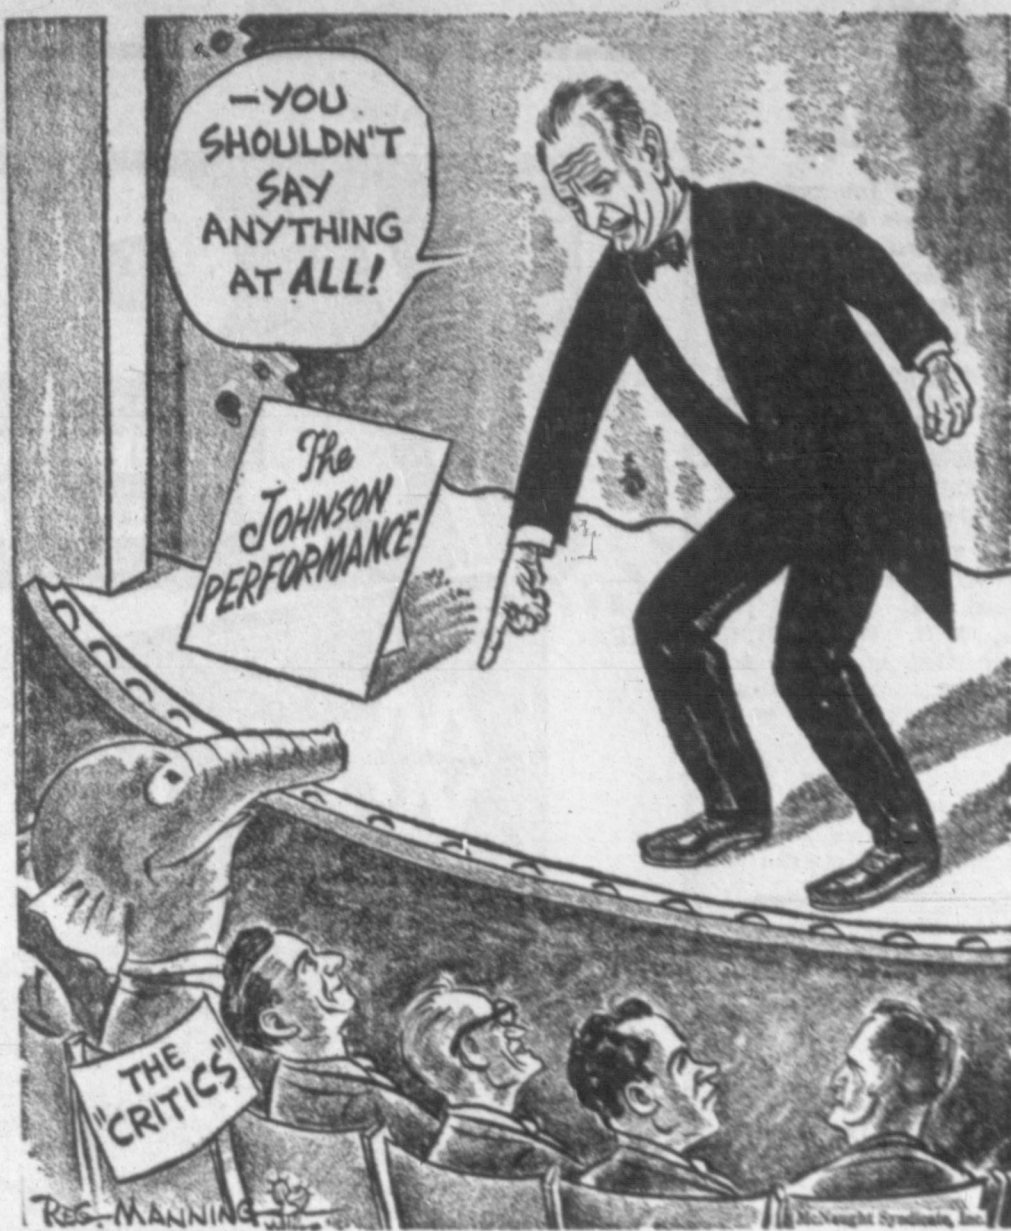

Largely minimized is the fact that tied in with this 1/2 of 1 per cent increase is a broadening of the base from the present tax on the first $4,800 of earnings per year to $5,200 per year. This will result in both employer and employee paying 15.8 per cent more Social Security taxes.

Based on the reported 1963 Social Security tax collections totaling $21,900,000,000, this increase would result in $3,400,000,000 more taxes being collected. Of this increase slightly more than half would come from the employers, while the employees would have about $1,500,000,000 less take-home pay.

In effect, as Mr. Harder points out, this one proposal would wipe out immediately over 25 per cent of the gain to the economy achieved by the current income tax reduction approved by the Congress.

Treaty With Panama Is Not for Negotiation

By ED DELANEY

Some of the appeasers in our State Department are in a mood to "negotiate" with officials of the Republic of Panama, on their claim of dual sovereignty in the Canal Zone. There is even consultation with certain pooh-bahs of the U.N. concerning what has been called American aggression in the Canal Zone. There is nothing for the U.N. or others to negotiate. Our rights and sovereignty in that 10-mile side strip across the Isthmus of Panama are in perpetuity. That is spelled out clearly in the treaty which was entered into with the Republic of Panama, Nov. 18, 1903. There appears to be much misinformation disseminated regarding our rights in the Canal Zone, as the aftermath of the flag raising incident by students in the Canal Zone recently which resulted in riots, unnecessary destruction and many deaths.

A resident of Odessa, Texas, has taken exception to some assertions in one of these columns recently, which dealt with disturbances in the Canal Zone and put the blame squarely where it belongs. The reader writes, in part: "The Panama Canal Zone has not been sold to the United States. It is therefore my opinion that the demand of Panama to have its flag flown in the Canal Zone is justified. Perhaps Mr. Eisenhower and the State Department were responsible for accepting the proposal that the two flags should fly together. It seems their action actually recognized the legal status of the canal as set forth in the treaty between the United States and Panama." Sorry, but the reader in Odessa is in error.

A bit of history is appropriate. The United States and the Republic of Colombia failed to reach an agreement for the building of the Canal. On Nov. 3, 1903, Panama revolted and declared itself independent of Colombia. The revolution may have been encouraged by the United States because, three days later, Nov. 6, 1903, the Washington administration recognized the Republic of Panama and concluded a treaty for the Canal Zone.

Article III of that treaty states that: "The Republic of Panama grants to the United States all rights, power and authority within the zone mentioned (in the preceding article) the entire exclusion of the exercise by the Republic of Panama of any such sovereign rights, power or authority." Article V notes that: "The Republic of Panama grants to the U.S.A. in perpetuity a monopoly of the construction maintenance and operation of any system of communication by means of Canal or railroads across the territory etc. . . . Article XIV states that: "The U.S.A. shall pay the Republic of Panama $10 million in gold coin of the U.S." and also "an annual payment of $250,000 in like gold coin beginning nine years after the date aforesaid" meaning the date when treaty was signed. (This payment was increased to $1,930,000 a year.)

Furthermore it is spelled out that: "If the Republic of Panama shall hereafter enter as a constituent into any other government, or into any union or confederation of states so as to merge her sovereignty or independence in such government, union or confederation, the rights of the United States under this convention shall not be in any respect lessened or impaired." signatory to that treaty are Hay and Bunau-Varilla.

As a footnote to that; in order to remove any misunderstanding growing out of the political events in Panama in Nov. 1903 the United States paid the Republic of Colombia (in 1922) the sum of $25 million.

As may be clearly understood from the foregoing, the territory of the Canal Zone was acquired with all sovereign rights to be held in perpetuity, to the "exclusion" of any rights, power or authority of the Republic of Panama. If that treaty can be re-negotiated, then perhaps De Gaulle might be dissatisfied with the deal Napoleon made in 1803, by which we acquired Louisiana and some neighboring real estate. Spain might ask a review of the agreement of 1898 under which we got Puerto Rico. Mexico might like to renegotiate California, Arizona and New Mexico and what a good excuse the Soviet would have to demand "dual" sovereignty in Alaska. Khrushchev could get the notion there was capitalistic defrauding of Russia back in 1876 and he insists on re-negotiating the deal — or else. Perhaps the State Department negotiators feel there is nothing perpetual and permanent — except their jobs. A major move toward national sanity and solvency would be to "negotiate" them into the discard. And soon.

Scientists tell us that it is a safe bet man will control and harness weather on a worldwide scale within the lifetime of many of those who read this column. A good beginning was made only last year when the United States Air Force seeded silver iodide crystals, smaller than table salt, into a hurricane with dramatic results. The wind speed dropped and ice formed around the eye of the hurricane. Although the effect was only temporary the point was proved that turbulent weather can be tamed.

Today's smie: A young lady complained to a department store clerk: "That perfume you sold me was terrible. The ad said it would make my boy friend fall for me. It didn't and he didn't. Instead I fell for him because of the after shave lotion he uses."

Many of the so-called Hollywood movies you see today were produced in Yugoslavia, where Tito's government is offering up to 90 per cent financing to American producers to make pictures in that country. The only "catch" is that Tito's government insists upon story approval and anything anti-Communist can be deleted and something pro-Communist inserted. Neat little deal for getting the message across, but many producer-fall for it. Why are "black sheep" considered worthless? The answer is simply that the wool of black sheep cannot be dyed, and so does not bring as high a price as regular wool. Yet, a black sheep eats as much and takes as much care as any other, but because its wool has less value it's hardly worth its keep.

Thoughts while shaving: A stamp collector told us recently that many of the low denomination "foreign" stamps you see in envelopes offered for sale have been issued by governments that recently attained independence and are deliberately aimed at attracting the attention and dollars of young collectors. He said purchasing large quantities of such stamps, which have little value, is known among "pros" as "wallpapering."

One of the most fascinating places to visit in New York is the Money Museum of the Chase National Bank in Rockefeller Center. About 5000 of the bank's collection of 75,000 specimens of money from every period in history are on display, including: money trees; a 28 x 12 inch check for $1 written in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., during the depression and endorsed by 62 people; the $8,500,000 check used to purchase the United Nation's site; and an old gold coin, the size of a pinhead, from Nuremberg, Germany. . . . We frequently hear that college professors are "underpaid" but many of them augment their incomes by serving as consultants to business and industry. Many of the nationally-known ones command high fees for their advice and consultation. We heard recently about a Harvard prof who gets $100 an hour from one of the nation's largest corporations for giving them the benefit of his wisdom

Panel to Quiz Widow's Manager

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The business manager for the widow of Lee Harvey Oswald will testify before the Warren Commission next Thursday, a commission spokesman said Monday.

J. Lee Rankin, chief counsel for the commission, said the decision to call Mrs. Marina Oswald's business manager, James Martin, was made at a business session of the commission.

He said the commission also received a report on the progress of its work. But he declined to discuss what was in the report.

Rankin said Mrs. Oswald met Martin at the Six Flags Inn, in Dallas, where she stayed shortly after the assassination of President Kennedy. Martin was assistant manager of the Six Flags Inn when Mrs. Oswald checked into the motel three days after the assassination.

In its meeting Monday, the commission went over "some elements of the testimony" which has been presented to it previously, Rankin said.

Walter Rogers Reports: Beef Import Plans Being Formulated

Proposals are being formulated in the Congress to legislate quotas on beef and meat imports in the wake of unsatisfactory negotiated agreements with the two major foreign suppliers of meat to U.S. markets, Australia and New Zealand. Announced this week by the Departments of State and Agriculture, the new import agreement affecting Australian and New Zealand shipments does nothing in my view but maintain the United States domestic cattle at the brink of economic disaster.

Although the volume of meat coming from Australia and New Zealand is reduced below last year's record level, the agreement helps to make permanent the conditions which have resulted in dangerously low prices paid for U.S. cattle in our own markets. The decline in prices paid for choice steers at Chicago reflects the current unhealthy situation: November, $23.51 (per hundred pounds); December, $22.30; January, $22.41; the first two weeks in February, $21.73. These are averages. While economists in the Department of Agriculture expect a price rise in the spring, no one can be sure of the future.

Under the terms of the agreement, imports received this year from Australia and New Zealand of beef, veal, and mutton will be limited to approximately the 1962-63 average level — or about 773 million pounds (the great portion of which will consist of beef and veal). This total is only 43 million pounds below the total imported by the United States from these two nations in the record 1963 year. The Agriculture Department announcement noted that future expansion of beef and veal imports, limited by the agreement to 3.7 percent annually of the total received the preceding year from Australia and New Zealand, will be "far below recent levels." This means next to nothing, however, because of the skyrocket rate at which imports from these countries have been increasing. Exports of beef and veal from Australia to the United States jumped 29 times in only six years — from 18 million pounds in 1958 to 517 million pounds in 1963. Therefore, a reduction in the rate of expansion would have to be "far below recent levels" or every cattleman in the United States would be facing bankruptcy in a matter of months.

While expansion has been checked — and for that I suppose we should all be glad — the 3.7 percent annual rate of expansion coupled with the high-volume import base on which it is calculated will mean that our domestic cattle industry will continue to be poised on the edge of a precipice. I ask this: How much of an economic recession would be required, how much of a decline from the current rate of consumer spending would be necessary, to plunge the U.S. cattle industry to destruction? With imports continuing at dangerously high levels, a cutback of consumer purchasing in U.S. supermarkets could indeed be all that is required to seal the cattleman's doom.

Australia and New Zealand, major beneficiaries of the sugar import largesse passed around the world by a too-generous Uncle Sam, accounted for 67 percent of the 1,750 million pounds of beef and veal imported by the United States last year. That total of 1,750 million pounds was 11 percent of all the meat consumed by our people. And 1,750 million pounds is a lot of beef. Calculations vary, but it is the equivalent of between 3,500,000 and 4 million cattle on the hoof. Had this number of cattle been produced entirely in the United States, the animals would have consumed some 20 billion pounds of feed — most of it now in surplus. I cite this fact to point out that the problem facing the U.S. cattle industry is a problem facing all of American agriculture.

But cattlemen and American agriculture generally now must face a fact of life that is becoming ever more apparent. Where once a "farm bloc" held considerable power in the Congress — a group of Congressmen representing primarily rural areas — the shift of Congressional power has been to the metropolitan areas of our country. It is estimated that 7 out of every 10 seats in the House of Representatives are held by Members from mainly urban constituencies. The decrease in the "farm bloc" power makes it increasingly difficult for myself and others from farm and ranch areas to enlist the aid of City Members, whose constituents are clamoring for cheaper beef prices. I'm port quota legislation does not appeal to many of them.

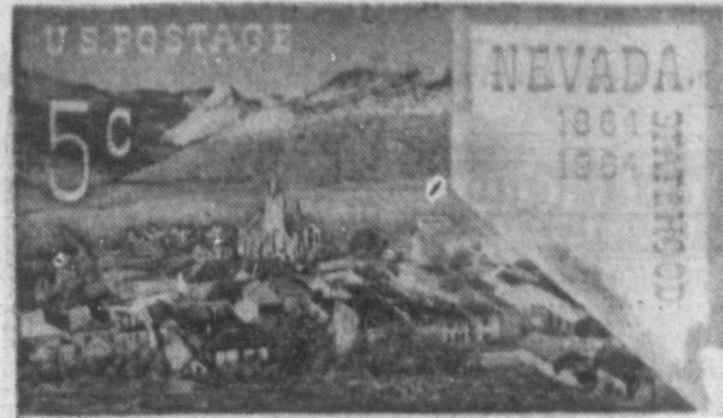

Foreign sources are being permitted to supply too much of the United States market — a market our own people are perfectly ready to serve. Just as beef imports are too high, so are imports of sugar, petroleum products, lumber, and a variety of other raw materials and manufactured goods. In order to export, we must import. But surely a less damaging balance can be found.
