Motorists in South Texas were warned to be alert for the men, Thomas Harold Caffey, 19, of Breckenridge, Tex., and Billy Ray Johnston, 18, whose wife lives in Dallas.

They plan to depart for Boston tomorrow.

Cease-Fire Violation Charged

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States declared today that it is prepared to take any measures necessary "to preserve the neutrality and independence of Laos" against Communist aggression.

The statement was prompted by a new Red offensive in the tiny southeast Asian nation which officials said threatened to torpedo the entire Geneva agreement setting up a three-way coalition government in Laos.

By MARTIN STUART-FOX
VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Neutralist forces were reported still fighting today and preparing for a counterattack against Communist Pathet Lao troops who overran the Plain of Jars.

The Communists opened an all-out offensive in the plain Sunday to drive out neutralist and right-wing forces and cut Laos in half at Paksane on the Mekong River.

Prime Minister Prince Souvanna Phouma said neutralist Gen. Kong Le's troops had been "completely submerged by superior numbers." But he said his three-party coalition government still was in business despite Communist efforts to eliminate it.

Souvanna said the Red drive was a "deliberate violation of the cease-fire agreement" which has been in effect for about two years, and he described the situation as "very grave."

Despite the deteriorating situation, a Laotian military source said the neutralists were still holding on and preparing to strike back.

Political observers in Vientiane said the Communists would attempt to capitalize on their military gains by making new political demands on Premier Souvanna Phouma.

The premier claimed Monday that Communist North Viet Nam was directing the Pathet Lao offensive which drove neutralist Gen. Kong Le from his bastion of Muong Phan on the Plain of Jars.

Souvanna insisted that his coalition government still was operating despite a Communist boycott, and he filled three vacant cabinet posts Monday night over Pathet Lao objections.

The appointment of the new ministers was expected to allenate the Pathet Lao still further because the factions' leader, Prince Sorysanouvong, has insisted on retention of the government which existed before the brief rightist coup of April 19.

Souphanouvong has insisted that any government changes must be approved by all three factions — rightist, neutralist and Communist — which made up the government established by the 1962 Geneva conference. He has claimed any changes resulting from the April 19 coup are violations of the Geneva agreements.

The April 19 coup set off the present crisis which has forced Laos into a state of disrepair close to that which prevailed before the 14-nation Geneva conference agreed nearly two years ago to guarantee the tiny kingdom's independence and neutrality.

In an attempt to stabilize the country after the coup, the rightists and neutralists joined forces, with Souvanna retained at the helm. The Pathet Lao denounced the union as a rightist plot to gain control of the government.

Hearing Starts in Mississippi Schools

By United Press International
A federal court hearing began at Jackson, Miss., Monday on suits attacking the nation's only completely segregated public school system.

Among the first witnesses in the hearing was Kirby P. Walker, veteran superintendent of Jackson city schools, who testified that racially mixed classrooms would endanger children in Mississippi. Walker said also that tests indicated whites have a generally higher aptitude for learning than Negroes.

Attorneys for Negroes seeking the desegregation of schools in Jackson, Biloxi and Leake County, Miss., said that Mississippi was the only state that has not at least made a token start toward school integration. They asked the court to make permanent injunction directing school officials in the three areas to submit school desegregation plans by July 15.

In Milwaukee, Wis., more than 10,000 Negro students boycotted public schools Monday in protest against alleged de facto segregation. Police reinforcements watched possible trouble spots, but the boycott was orderly. There also were demonstrations in support to school integration throughout New York state Monday in observance of the 10th anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court's historic school desegregation ruling.

Elsewhere:
Nashville, Tenn.: Groups of about 15 Negroes and whites picketed several segregated restaurants Monday to begin the fourth week of a drive for "total desegregation" in the Tennessee capital.

Hostage Fate Held Doubtful

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—The United Nations has been unable to find 74 of 91 Turkish Cypriot hostages taken by the Greek Cypriots since March 27, Secretary General Thant's personal representative here said today.

The representative, Galo Plaza, grimly announced that only 17 hostages are in the hands of the Greek Cypriot government. He indicated strongly that he fears the other 74 are dead.

The 17 hostages accounted for, Plaza said, were all among 46 seized by the Greek Cypriots since the shooting of Greek officers in Famagusta May 11. The other 45 were captured between March 27 and May 11.

At the same time, Plaza reported that Turkish Cypriot leader Dr. Fazil Kuchuk has denied knowledge of the whereabouts of 35 persons who the Greek Cypriots claim the Turkish Cypriots captured.

Plaza indicated the United Nations planned a tougher line against both sides here.

Another showdown built up in a second area today following the announcement that the Greek Cypriot government is seeking arms on the world market.

Thant recently insisted that peace would be achieved between Greek and Turkish Cypriots only after the disarmament of all the island's illegally armed forces.

TENSION GRIPS CUBA

Castro Braces for Overthrow

MIAMI (UPI) — Tension gripped Cuba today and Premier Fidel Castro's military guard was up to ward off a possible new attempt to overthrow his Communist regime.

An announcement was expected any time that Cuban exile leader Manuel Ray, reported to be considered by Castro as possibly his most dangerous enemy, had arrived in his homeland to take charge of anti-Castro operations by his Cuban Revolutionary Junta

Police Hunt Motive in Stricklands' Murder

DALLAS (UPI) — Police worked to piece together a motive today in the murder of Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Strickland of Duncanville, and former Pampa couple, who were shot to death over the weekend.

The nude body of the woman, 29, and her husband, 31, were found near Mountain Creek Lake early Monday but both may not have been shot to death at the scene.

An autopsy tried to determine if Mrs. Strickland had been criminally assaulted.

Her clothing was strewn through the couple's car and in high brush near the scene. There was blood in the automobile. Strickland was sprawled near the 1957 model car. His wife was nearby.

Both had been shot once in the head. Two rounds of live ammunition and a third spent round were found there.

Capt. Will Fritz, heading the investigation, said no motive had been established. He said "we're sure she was killed there (by the lake) and maybe he was."

Robbery was ruled out because Strickland had $20 in his wallet and Mrs. Strickland $10 in her purse. They had left their four children in care of an uncle Saturday night and had gone dancing.

Guevara's admission was accompanied by a new warning from the Soviet ambassador in Havana, Alexander Alexiev, that "the imperialists are mistaken if they believe they are going to act with impunity against Cuba."

Alexiev, in a statement broadcast over Havana Radio, reiterated Moscow's pledge to "stand by" Castro.

City Officials To Attend Parley in Amarillo

A delegation of Pampa city officials headed by Mayor H. R. Thompson and City Manager Harold Schmitzer will attend the Region 2 meeting of the Texas Municipal League Thursday night in Amarillo.

Officials decided at today's city commission meeting to attend the session which will start at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the Crystal Ballroom of the Herring Hotel in Amarillo.

The City of Hereford will be host at the meeting and Ernest Langley, Hereford city attorney, will be the principal speaker.

The commission today also accepted completed paving projects on N. Sumner and W. Decatur Sts. and authorized payment of $17,294.78 to Contractor Ray Boswell.

Authorized purchase of 18,000 postal cards for billing in the city water department for $720. Denied a request of Bible Baptist Church to purchase city property at Hobart and Ward Sts. to build a new church. Commissioners decided the property would be needed for ground storage purposes.

Postponed until next week first reading of an ordinance setting a hearing date and levying assessments for the paving of N. Hobart St. from 21st Ave. to 23rd Ave.

Judge Brown Grants Ruby Sanity Hearing

DALLAS (UPI)—Judge Joe B. Brown said today psychiatric examination of Jack Ruby in his jail cell indicates the condemned slayer will be granted a sanity hearing. Ruby was receiving mental therapy in his maximum-security cell.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said he understood a court-appointed psychiatrist had found the slayer of accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald to be mentally ill. Wade said he would not oppose immediate treatment, either in jail or at a hospital, even without a sanity hearing.

If found insane by a jury at a sanity hearing, Ruby would be committed to an institution and would escape execution at least until found sane.

Judge Brown, who presided over Ruby's four-week murder trial, said he was unhappy because the psychiatrist report leaked out.

Search Continues For Jail Escapees

Texas and Oklahoma law enforcement officers continued their search today in the area east and north of Wheeler for four-escaped prisoners who fled from the County jail at Wheeler Sunday night.

Sheriff Bus Dorman said late this forenoon the hunt was resumed after an all-day and all-night search yesterday.

"We feel sure the men still are on foot," Dorman said. The escapees are Charles Ray Geren, 25, and Harold Lee Beeden, 44, both of Missouri and indicted last week for burglary; William Eugene Guess, 23, from California, indicted for theft over $50, and Edward Lee Jackson, 30, Shamrock Negro, who was waiting transfer to Huntsville on a sentence of two years for burglary.

The men broke jail Sunday night when one of them apparently crawled through a hole that had been knocked in the roof, obtained the jail keys and freed the others.

The four fled in a car owned by the sheriff's wife, but the automobile was found abandoned yesterday forenoon in the brush country nine miles east of Wheeler and about seven miles north of SH 152.

Oklahoma officers, Sheriff Dorman said, were keeping an eye open for the four men in case they decided to move across the Oklahoma state line.

The sheriff said officers from Miami, Canadian, Shamrock, and McLean along with volunteer ranchers were assisting in the search today.

Teachers in Utah Schools Still on Strike

Utah's 11,000 public school teachers took their strike into its second day today under threat of court action. In East St. Louis, Ill., high school seniors picketed their striking teachers.

Both the Utah and East St. Louis teachers stayed away from their classrooms to back up demands for higher salaries.

The Utah attorney general asked a district judge to issue an injunction against the striking teachers.

The teachers, meanwhile, scheduled a mass meeting in Salt Lake City at 10 a. m. MST (1 p. m. EDT).

Traffic Commission Has Routine Meeting

The Pampa City Traffic Commission handled only routine business during their regular monthly meeting yesterday.

In the first item of business, a request by C. W. Holder of 945 S. Faulkner for a stop sign to be placed at the intersection of Oklahoma and S. Faulkner Sts. was denied when police chief Jim Conner reported that only one accident had ever been reported at that intersection.

A request for some type of traffic control at the intersection of Christine and Pennsylvania was also denied. The commission said they had investigated the intersection in the past and the amount of traffic did not warrant a stop sign or traffic light.

Preston Fowlkes, a member of the commission, outlined a plan for the changing and addition of several city streets. The plan called:

- 1) Make Somerville street from Francis north a thoroughfare and extend it to intersect opposite Coronado Drive.
- 2) Install a four - sequence stop-and-go signal light with an east-west left turn interval at the intersection of North Hobart and Coronado Drive.
- 3) Install medians on N. Hobart St.
- 4) Pave north Sumner St. from Coronado Dr. to Kentucky Ave.

The commission moved to take Fowlkes' plan under consideration but no immediate action was indicated.

Theft, Vandalism Reported to Police

A stolen car and one case of vandalism was the only activity reported today by the Pampa police department.

Mrs. Glen Don Young of White Deer reported to police that someone stole her 1961 model automobile while it was parked in the 800 block of W. Francis yesterday afternoon.

Police said the keys were left in the auto and it bears Texas license plates AX-2797.

Someone shattered a window pane of the Evangelistic Tabernacle, Starkweather and Craven, about two weeks and then came back Saturday and finished the job.

The incident was reported yesterday.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Fire in Creamery Injures 2 Firemen

PARIS, Tex. (UPI)—Fire roared through the Lamar Creamery building Monday, causing $500,000 damage and injuring two firemen.

The firemen were treated and released.

For a while the blaze, which started in the attic of the three-story building and spread to waxed milk cartons stored in the room below, threatened a 10,000 gallon fuel tank.

The fire sent boiling black clouds of smoke that could be seen for miles.

It was put out by firemen after an hour but flared up again and burned out of control for two more hours.

More than 22,000 gallons of milk was destroyed in the blaze.

The Nina, Pinta and Santa Maria were the three vessels in Columbus' fleet on his first voyage to America.

Some 400 Sign Up for Swimming

The Gray County Red Cross reported that nearly 400 persons signed up for the summer swim program during registration held Friday and Monday.

The program will get underway June 15 with classes at the City Pool and the Youth Center. Final registration for anyone who missed the first two sessions will be held Friday in the City commission room in city hall.

Dear Abby....
Alaskan Proclaims That Americans Are Not Weak!
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I write with compulsion tonight. I can no longer contain my pride in my town, my state, my nation. Where do I start: I have seen people who have lost dear ones. People who have lost only some of their worldly possessions, and people who have lost everything. But no backs are bowed. The cooperation and organization is astounding! From teen-agers who offer to babysit for their neighbors so that they may salvage what they can from their wrecked homes, to engineers and survey crews already working to rebuild. Restoration of transportation, mail service, water, newspapers, power, has begun, and even the corner grocery store is swept up, mopped up, and sometimes propped up, but open for business. What a heroic job our radio hams did, working night and day to relay messages to loved ones. And the American Red Cross! And the generosity of our sister states. I could go on and on. Let no man say that we are "soft," that we Americans are weak. I have seen our strength and I am overwhelmed.

A PROUD ALASKAN

DEAR ABBY: This is for the cocktail waitress who complained because she had to wear a short, low-cut, sexy-looking uniform on her job: A decent girl wouldn't go out in public that way. Girls who show off their bodies in the line of duty, such as strippers and models, have no shame or modesty, and would just as soon stand naked in a department store window as say "How do you do?" Any woman who would be ashamed to have her child go into the place where she is working and say, "There is MY mother!" should change jobs. And if she is standing there with most of her front exposed, and half of her behind sticking out, I mean HER!

FOR DECENCY IN NY.

DEAR ABBY: You advised that short-skirted cocktail waitress who complained about her hours and the men customers making passes at her to get a job with shorter hours and longer skirts. That is easier said than done. Six years ago my husband walked out and left me with five children under ten years of age. I had never worked a day in my life and was trained for nothing. I took a job as a short-skirted cocktail waitress. It wasn't easy, but it beat charity. I have been able to support my family and provide insurance for their future educations. If men customers get rough, I tell them in a nice way that I have five children to support and a scene could cost me my job. They never give me any trouble after that. I work five days a week from 7 p.m. to 2 a.m. and take home about $160 a week. I am a PTA president, Cub Scout den mother, blood donor and a one-day-a-week hospital volunteer. I am also—

A SHORT-SKIRTED WAITRESS
DEAR SHORT - SKIRTED: You are also a far-sighted woman. And justifiably proud.

DEAR ABBY: If those yokels who accuse you of using an old picture with your column had any sense they could see that you have a 1964 hair style! Sincerely,
SMITTE IN MILL VALLEY

New Blades Are Making Men Talk

By C. J. PARNOW
NEW YORK (UPI) — American men are the shavingest men in the world—they spend $125 million a year for blades and razors alone—but they used to do it in dreary, sleepy-eyed solitude and forget about it. Now they talk about it.

Not since Alexander the Great decreed that all his men should be clean-shaven (so enemy warriors could not grab them by their beards) has the business of shaving produced so much conversation.

"How many shaves do you get to the blade?" is the question that has given the game its name. Thanks to the advent of the stainless steel razor blade, more men than ever are playing it.

Coating does Trick
What may come as a surprise to some of the players is that it is not the "sharpness" of the stainless steel blade that has spurred the game on but the coating on the steel that gives the blades their long life and smooth shaving properties. As a result, the international razor blade war is flaring into new activity.

The war opened in 1962 when Wilkinson, an English firm, took over a big share of the United States market. It spread when the Gillette Company, biggest U.S. firm in the business, counter invaded the United Kingdom blade field.

The Gillette Company notes it holds a key patent for a process used in the making of the stainless steel blades and says that Wilkinson has acknowledged validity of the patent and is paying "substantial" royalty payments on it.

Battle at Home
But Gillette still faces a battle at home to regain its share of the U.S. market lost when the Wilkinson stainless steel blades, with little fanfare on these shores, proved so popular with the American male. For many months they were informally rationed by dealers in the cities where they were available.

Gillette, a late-comer in the stainless steel field, also followed Schick, a division of Eversharp Inc., by six months in the race to get into the market. To make up for lost time, Gillette has embarked on a heavy advertising and promotional campaign.

The chief advantage of stainless steel over carbon steel is not so much in sharpness but in resistance to corrosion. This resistance to corrosion helps the blade to keep its edge.

Voters in Maryland Cast Ballots Today

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Maryland voters go to the polls today in a primary election expected to pit President Johnson's prestige against the "white backlash" on civil rights, symbolized by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Election officials predicted a record turnout of almost 500,000 of the 933,600 registered Democrats for the primary, which marked Wallace's third anti-civil rights bill sortie into a northern state. The segregationist governor was opposed by Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md., a "stand-in" for President Johnson.

The polls open at 7 a.m. EDT and close at 7 p.m. Most fair weather was predicted for throughout the state with temperatures ranging as high as the mid-80s.

Wallace mounted an all-out attack on the civil rights bill during the campaign for Maryland's 48 first-ballot votes at the Democratic National Convention. Brewster fought to save the delegates for Johnson, calling Wallace a "trespasser" and an exploiter of the underlying tensions in race-conscious Maryland.

None of the Republican presidential candidates was entered on the Maryland ballot, and GOP voters were expected to select an uncommitted slate of delegates to the party's national convention.

Maryland state Democratic Chairman Harry Gross predicted that Wallace, whose campaign appeared to be well-financed and was smoothly run, would get between 25 and 30 per cent of the vote, but other estimates ranged as high as 40 per cent.

In Washington, Senate Democratic Whip Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn., who is floor manager of the civil rights bill, said he expected Wallace to get a little more than 35 per cent of the vote. He said a big Wallace vote might have a temporary effect on Senate feeling toward the rights bill, but would not effect the ultimate outcome.

In Wisconsin's April 7 Democratic primary, Wallace won 34 per cent of the vote, and in the Indiana primary May 5 he got 29.8 per cent.

Governor Lists Realtor Week

AUSTIN (Sp) — John Connally has proclaimed May 24-30 as Realtor Week in Texas. At ceremonies in the Governor's office in Austin, Connally presented the proclamation to George McCause of Houston, President of the 8,500 member Texas Real Estate Association. Joe Fischer, President of the Pampa Real Estate Board, has announced that they are joining in the nationwide observance of Realtor Week.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Guessing Is Fun, But No One Is Sure

One of the most fascinating guessing games these days — how many national convention votes each Presidential hopeful actually has lined up — is also one of the most hazardous.

In reality, nobody knows and nobody will know until the actual voting starts — in the case of the Republicans, sometime Wednesday, July 15.

Convention delegates are selected by a confusing multiplicity of methods, chief among them primary elections (in which delegates may run pledged or unpledged), district and state conventions and meetings of state political committees.

In 1964, 541 (41 per cent) of the 1,308 Republican delegates will be picked in primary elections. Another 735 (56 per cent) will be selected by district and state conventions. The remaining 32 will be picked by state party committees.

The selection of delegates began Jan. 28 when Pennsylvania picked its at-large delegates and will conclude with the June 18-20 Montana state convention to name that state's 14 GOP delegates to the national convention.

In a minority of cases, delegates are chosen clearly pledged or committed to a certain Presidential candidate. Thus the slate of 14 Lodge delegates, by sweeping the New Hampshire primary, assured Henry Cabot Lodge of that many votes at the Republican National Convention. When the Texas state convention meets June 16 it is almost sure it will select 56 delegates irrevocably committed to Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) Goldwater has a preponderance of the delegates chosen to date.

Most states, however, do not give their delegates clear instructions. Many send them "uncommitted" to the national conventions. Many estimates are made of how these delegates may vote, but no one knows for sure. Even the committed or pledged delegates, as a matter of fact, may desert their chosen candidate if he begins to falter before or during the convention voting.

Presidential preference polls are a major source of confusion in delegate preference sampling. Unless legally bound to vote for the preference poll winner (as in Indiana, Mary-

Take Notice

Is government ownership of public utilities — at any level — of advantage to the taxpayers and the consumers?

Anyone who says "Yes" to that question should take notice of an offer that a private utility company recently made to a city in Massachusetts, which has a municipal gas and electric system.

In substance, the company proposed this: That it would take over the municipal system under a lease arrangement for a period of 30 years; that it would make payments to the city which would make possible an immediate cut in the tax rate of $8 or an eventual cut of $12; that it would retain all employees of the city system in their present or comparable positions; that most employees would be given pay raises and none would suffer reductions and that retirement benefits would be protected; that conbeen a sitting pigeon for the road builders. Gasoline taxes have gone up year after year, in state after state, and have reached a level that no other necessity must equal.

The theory has been aired that motorists really don't mind — that, in fact, they are willing and even eager to pay higher taxes to finance road building programs on just about any scale. But there are signs that this theory is without basis — and that the overtaxed motorist is beginning to kick up his heels in protest.

Wisconsin provides a concrete land and Oregon), delegates are likely to ignore the results altogether. Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) learned that lesson in 1952 and 1956 when he won primary after primary only to see the delegates vote for another man at the Democratic National Conventions.

A common phenomenon is for a state to elect delegates pledged to a "favorite son" like Wisconsin's Rep. John W. Byrnes (R.). Ohio's Gov. James A. Rhodes (R.) or Maine's Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R.). Only a soothsayer could say how these delegations may vote once they are released by the favorite sons. If the wind is blowing strong enough for one major Presidential candidate, they may be released or break away even before the first convention ballot.

The Wisconsin delegation to the Republican Convention, for instance, is likely to stick with Representative Byrnes if no other first ballot winner is apparent. But if Goldwater is within striking distance of the nomination as the first ballot convention roll-call is completed, the Goldwater partisans on the delegation could precipitate a dramatic shift to the Arizona.

The hefty 58-man Ohio delegation, on the other hand, is in the firm control of Ohio GOP Chairman Ray Bliss. No break-away from favorite son Rhodes is likely unless Bliss approves the move. Bliss is known to be wary of Goldwater's conservatism and will probably hold off until the last minute, even if Goldwater is running strong.

Even in delegations officially pledged or known to be favorable to Goldwater, there could be surprises, especially if Goldwater were to falter in his crucial June 2 primary test with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller (R-N.Y.) in California. Look what happened in Oregon.

By late June, when the process of 1964 GOP delegates is completed, official news agency listings of which way delegates are leaning will give a fairly accurate picture of what may happen on the convention floor.

But there will still be the danger of shifting delegates positions, favorite-son withdrawals, or other developments that could radically transform the outlook for the nomination within a few hours or days.

umer rates would not be changed unless higher operating costs made that necessary; that all facilities would be returned to the city at the termination of the lease in as good or better condition.

It should be emphasized that this offer is made in the face of the fact that an investor-owned utility must pay higher costs, in taxes and in other ways, which government-owned systems are able, under the law, to avoid. There is no magic in socialism, whether on the federal, state or local level. Bu-reaucracies are notoriously wasteful. Private enterprise, whatever its field of work, must strive for ever greater efficiency and economy. Competition, the regulatory authorities, or some other irresistible force sees to that. And the result is the best possible break for the taxpayer and the consumer.

Basically, the report appears immoral, for it suggests that Americans should be content with mere coexistence with the enemies of freedom, rather than living for freedom. Jesus Christ gave his life on the cross rather than seek improved relations with forces antagonistic to divine will. Jesus could have accepted an accommodation with his persecutors, but he refused to do so. The Christian way is to fight manfully against evil, not to condemn resistance to evil.

The course of morality and conscience in our own time is to oppose any subtle argument for surrender to nations and global forces that aim to de-

Down South

By THURMAN SENSING

As a people who wish to be guided by moral as well as practical considerations, Americans are vitally interested in what the churches have to say about the issues of their time. They do not ask that church organizations be silent concerning contemporary problems, but they believe that these organizations must abide by the same rules of historical truths, factual analysis and genuine patriotism that guide other respectable groups in the nation.

This is by way of introduction to the extraordinary and deeply dismaying report issued at Pittsburgh May 8 in the name of the General Conference of the Methodist Church. It is a report that in all likelihood will shock vast numbers of good Methodists who believe that acceptance of coexistence with Marxist evil is betrayal of religious truth and the interest of free men everywhere.

According to the news media, the conference without debate accepted a report from its Committee on Social Concerns that stated:

"It is our judgment that policies of isolation toward mainland China and Cuba should be carefully re-examined to determine whether their continuance will not intensify bitterness, and imprison rather than free the people in those lands from hardships, repression and authoritarian control."

The report went on to say: "The arms race is immoral, futile and suicidal. . . Scripture reminds us (where?) that in the eyes of God the welfare of the human race is more precious than the continued existence of any nation." It also attacked armament that "steadily undermines the foundations of civilization and progressively corrupts the souls of men."

Embodied in this report is a profound defeatism concerning the cause of freedom and subtle argument for surrender.

One wonders where the authors of this report have been the last 20 years. The isolation of Red China and Red Cuba is not the result of hardness of heart on the part of Americans. Communist China is excluded from the company of free nations because it boasts of its dedication to the destruction of Western civilization, including religion. Many ministers of the Gospel are still rotting in Chinese Communist prisons. But one can be sure that they would not ask for their release if the price to be paid were acceptance of Peking's monstrous tyranny as a respectable government.

As for Red Cuba, that country cut itself off from decent nations by killing and imprisoning thousands of freedom-loving Cubans and by becoming a satellite of the Soviet Union.

Anyone who doubts that evil is inherent in Red Cuba should read John Martino's book, "I Was Castro's Prisoner." It is tragic that the authors of the church report did not read this factual book by one who spent forty months in Castro's dungeons.

The statements against national defense are equally appalling. The U.S. has armed itself not for the sake of being armed — for any extreme militarism. It is a matter of preserving freedom through strength and peace through power. If the American people throw away their arms, they will become slaves of Communism. Only our nuclear might has saved this Republic from Soviet attack.

The church report, moreover, is insulting to those Americans, overwhelmingly church-connected, who are risking their lives each day in Viet Nam and other trouble zones. No one in America wants to spend billions on defense, but Americans had rather spend billions on arms for freedom than spend a cent in tribute to Communist overlords.

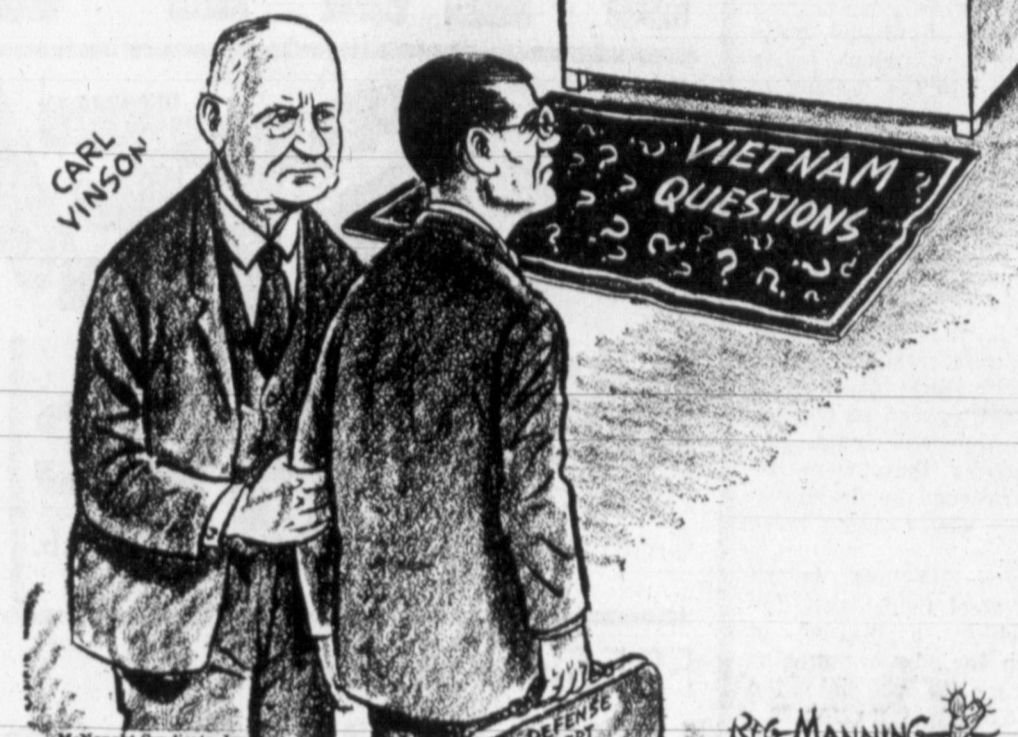

Still at issue is whether the U.S. or the Russians are going to pay for repairing the walls the U.S. security officers are ripping out of the embassy in their continuing hunt for more recording devices.

Representative John Rooney, stroy all freedom, including the freedom to worship. Just as the National Council of Churches does not represent and speak for 40,000,000 Protestants, as it claims to do, neither is it to be believed that the Methodist General Conference speaks for the 10,000,000 members of that denomination.

Microphones Found in Every Room But One Of Embassy in Moscow, Kohler Reports to Rusk

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — State Department security officers have uncovered more than 15 hidden microphones in the U.S. embassy in Moscow.

These highly sensitive listening devices, with ranges up to 50 miles, were found in every room in the building except one — a specially constructed room-within-a-room where U.S. diplomats now hold their private conferences to as not to be overheard by the Russian secret police.

Many of the secret microphones, due to their rusty condition, are believed to have been recording the private conversations of U.S. officials for as long as 10 or 12 years.

That's the jolting report Ambassador Foy D. Kohler made to Secretary of State Rusk during his recent round of consultations at the State Department.

His suppressed findings have been turned over to a House Appropriations Subcommittee, which is now investigating to determine what steps can be taken to improve security at the U.S. embassy.

Ambassador Kohler reported that U.S. Security officers are literally taking the walls apart inch by inch, checking for other listening devices still hidden in the building.

He stressed that if more recording instruments show up in the walls, it will be necessary to take the ceilings and floors apart to make certain the Kremlin isn't still wired to the embassy.

The KGB (Soviet secret police) installed listening devices in every room in the embassy, including all the rest rooms," reported Kohler. "The microphones were found in the plumbing and in inner walls within the regular walls as well as the light fixtures."

SUPPRESSING THE STORY — While the Russian government knows the full details of the successful U.S. detective work in the embassy, this latest news of the KGB's espionage operations is being kept from the American people on the ground that publication might upset the U.S.-Soviet detente.

In private discussions with the legislators, Ambassador Kohler pointed out this was the reason the decision to keep the whole sordid affair secret was made at the highest government level.

Just as the National Council of Churches does not represent and speak for 40,000,000 Protestants, as it claims to do, neither is it to be believed that the Methodist General Conference speaks for the 10,000,000 members of that denomination.

D-N.Y., chairman, suggested that Ambassador Kohler threaten to publicly expose the Soviet spying unless the Kremlin foots the repair bill.

Other subcommittee members have proposed that the State Department demand that the U.S. be permitted to build a completely new embassy and ambassador's residence in Moscow, using U.S. workers and material to prevent further "bugging" with KGB listening devices.

Ambassador Kohler also indicated in his report that the Russians are refusing to repair the present embassy's roof, rain gutters and stairs, which are deteriorating so rapidly many of the steps are considered dangerous.

PLUGGING THE LEAKS — The discovery of the hidden microphones has saved the State Department from a major security blunder.

On learning of the widespread Soviet penetration of the embassy, Secretary Rusk rejected a precedent-setting recommendation by Administrator Abba P. Schwartz, of the Bureau of Security & Consular Affairs, to hold a meeting of U.S. consular officials in the Moscow embassy.

Despite vigorous objections by the department's top security officers, Schwartz had proposed that the next meeting of U.S. consular officers stationed in Europe and Iron Curtain countries be held in the Soviet capital.

Since the U.S. embassy's room-within-a-room isn't large enough to hold all these officials, they would have had to use one of the larger rooms — which the KGB had "bugged." Some of the most sensitive U.S. secrets would have been recorded for the Kremlin if Schwartz had gotten his way and the hidden microphones had not been discovered.

THE HOT LINE — Assistant Secretary of State Robert J. Manning has submitted his resignation as head of the Bureau of Public Affairs, Manning, who recently charged in a major policy speech that the government is handicapped in carrying out its foreign policy because of what he called the unlimited freedom of the press to pry into and print government secrets, admitted he lost a secret paper while dining in a New York restaurant. . . State Department authorities have clamped the lid tight on two major scandals involving career employees. An investigation has disclosed that false security reports were being filed by a State Department security official in a Southern office. The official resigned after a three-man investigative team was sent there from Washington to probe a Civil Service Commission report indicating "questionable reports" were being turned in by the official. While the State Department forced his resignation, it took no action against him and has not referred the

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER

Abandonment of the Monroe Doctrine and supine submission to Communist aggression in the Caribbean, long term piecemeal surrender of valid treaty rights in the Panama Canal Zone, concession after concession in the disarmament negotiations without counter-concession or adequate inspection, refusal to help freedom fighters anywhere, opposition to Western colonialism while keeping silent regarding the far worse Communist colonialism, weakness and submission with reference to the war in Korea, championing of neutralism in Laos and Cambodia, refusal to assist the French when Communist aggression in Viet Nam could have been stopped, promoting the expansion of the pro-Communist Sukarno in Southeast Asian regions, the forcible suppression of Western leadership in Katanga and the Congo while championing the Communist factions in that area, and joining with the Russian Communists against our allies the British and the French to enable Nasser to illegally seize the Suez Canal — all these and many more evidences of weakness and Communist appeasement in Washington have convinced our friends and our enemies alike that our country is devoid of strength and intelligence in its foreign policy and that our enemies may continue to split in our faces and exploit us with impunity.

As a result we evacuate our personnel from one country after another as we cringe before Communist aggression, submit to insults to our flag in Panama and Ghana where rioting mobs attack our embassies while Red China openly charges that we are collaborating with Communist Russia. Unfortunately the charge is true. For a generation the main outlines of our foreign policy have been directed toward appeasement and collaboration of Russian communism. We have fought her enemies and subsidized her friends. We have toppled right wing rulers who opposed communism and aided left wing dictators who favored it. This has long been standard policy in our conduct of foreign affairs.

Instead of allowing the twin evils, Hitlerism and Stalinism, to destroy each other we backed the stronger of these two antagonists to preserve and strengthen the Kremlin tyrants. Now it appears that we are repeating this error as the break links between Red China and Red Russia. Both regimes are led by atheists, both are totalitarian slave regimes and we have nothing in common with them.

Let us profit by our previous mistake and let these two twin tyrannies exhaust one another matter to the Justice Department. . . On order of Secretary Rusk, the department is suppressing reports on a shooting involving a State Department official in Texas.

U.S. Studies Better Red Peace 'Bait'

By RAY CROMLEY WASHINGTON (NEA) — Proposals that would radically shift U. S. cold-war tactics with regard to the Soviet Union are being studied at the White House, Pentagon and State Department.

At the very time the United States is roundly attacking the British government for considering long-term credits to Nikita Khrushchev, key U.S. aides are quietly studying whether the United States should itself adopt the British strategy.

The secret debate is now going on. Decisions will probably be made piecemeal.

Proposition One — The possibility of U. S. assistance in the development of Soviet agriculture should be explored.

Proposition Two — The U. S. should be prepared to reduce its restrictions on trade with the Soviet Union.

These two proposals aim at getting Khrushchev to raise production for civilian consumption and lower his arms output. Backers of these proposals argue that if the United States would send the Soviet Union factories for the production of consumer goods, these plants would use raw materials and technicians which would have to be diverted from the Soviet arms effort.

Proposition Three — Explore with the Soviet Union various places, such as Laos and parts of Africa, where the United States and Russia could take joint military action "in their common interest."

The proposers suggest this would reduce points of military confrontation.

Proposition Four — Explore ways in which the United States and Russia could cooperate in economic aid for selected underdeveloped countries.

The planners argue this economic aid would turn into economic rivalry. U. S. and Soviet technicians, they say, would try to outdo each other, thus providing a way to prove U. S. technical and economic methods superior for underdeveloped countries.

Proposition Five — Seek unwritten agreement with the Soviet Union not to give sophisticated weapons to nations which might plunge the Soviet Union and the United States into war.

The U. S. aim would be to keep powerful new weapons from Cuba's Fidel Castro, Red China's Mao Tse-tung and North Viet Nam's Ho Chi Minh, and lessen the chances of guerrilla conflicts escalating into full-scale nuclear wars.

Proposition Six — Push a substantial increase in the exchange of American and Russian scientists.

The proposers argue that if enough U. S. scientists visit the Soviet Union each year, it will be impossible, even with Soviet security precautions, for the Russians to make a scientific breakthrough crucial to defense.

while we preserve our strength for the defense of the free world. Let us have done with appeasement and all collaboration and defense of Russian communism while we resolutely renew our determination to uphold the ideals of our Founding Fathers and free self-government throughout the world.

The Almanac

Today is Tuesday, May 19, the 140th day of 1964 with 226 to follow.

The moon is approaching, its full phase.

The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1536, Anne Boleyn, wife of King Henry VIII of England, was beheaded.

In 1856, Sen. Charles Sumner delivered a blistering attack on slavery and the people of the South.

In 1898, the Spanish fleet entered Santiago Harbor in Cuba.

In 1945, more than 400 U.S. Superfortress bombers soared over Japan, attacking Tokyo, and laying mines in vital sea lanes.

A thought for the day—Greek playwright Epictetus said: "No man is able to make progress when he is wavering between opposite things."

(STATE) Rep. Grainger McIlhenny, House Sen. Grady Hazenwood, Senate Bldg., Austin, Texas.

without the United States learning about it. The Russians, on their side, would have the same advantage. This, the proposers claim, would promote stability. Proposition Seven—Find ways to send messages to the Soviet elite — those top technicians, scientists, writers, managers and officials who have influence in Russia—telling them exactly what the United States is up to in each major peace move it makes.

This proposal aims at putting Khrushchev and his top aides under some pressure from their own people.

Master of Fact

The Conestoga Wagon, or prairie schooner, was responsible for causing American traders to move on the right hand side of the road. Early colonists had perpetuated the English custom of keeping to the left, and carriages and wagons were driven from the right side. However, the Conestoga wagon had to be guided from the left side, and drivers, to get a clear view of the road ahead, began to keep their vehicles to the right.

IT'S THE LAW

A TAX AUDIT
More and more taxpayers are getting audited as a part of the government's revenue collection. If selected, you may well ask, "Why pick on me?" Well, you may have made an arithmetic mistake, deducted too much, claimed a large refund compared to your income, had a big income, had too small an income. Or, you may have been picked out by chance.

There are many audits. An auditor may ask you to bring in your records to talk over your return. Often one talk is enough. Again you may have several talks before the matter is closed. You may bring your lawyer along if you like or anyone who helped you make out your last return.

Sometimes a federal agent may come to your home or place of business to check your records in person. Just showing the agent your records may satisfy him. But he may "adjust" your return. You then must take steps to pay, or to challenge his conclusions.

When a special agent comes to see your records, it may be well to have your lawyer on hand. As a rule most honest differences over taxes are settled without suits. But not always. Whenever taxes are challenged, take prompt steps to protect your interests. People have lost good defenses or claims by failing to act within the times set by law.

The workload of the tax offices has brought on automatic data processing. Magnetic tape and other devices may store and analyze returns on each taxpayer, say, by 1970 or sooner. Then more audits.

Bunning Pitches Phillies Back In

By United Press International
Jim Bunning has nine hungry mouths to feed and he's made a private promise to give them all a taste of some World Series melon.

The 32-year-old side-arming stringbean, who provides the groceries for seven kids as well as for himself and his wife, narrowly missed the second no-hitter of his career Monday night but still pitched the Philadelphia Phillies back into first place.

Bunning gave up only one hit, a fifth inning single by Jim Wynn, as he handcuffed the Houston Colts, 4-0, for his fifth victory compared with only one defeat.

"You might say I've been 'around the block' in this game," grinned the six-foot-three, 182-pound right-hander. "I've been in six All-Star games, had a 20-game season, pitched a no-hitter and even won with a second place club. But I've never been in a World Series.

Promises Series

"I promised myself I'd be in one before I'm through." Relying chiefly on fast balls and sliders, Bunning struck out five and didn't walk a man Monday night. The only other Houston baserunner besides Wynn was Nellie Fox, hit by a pitch in the first inning.

Manager Gene Mauch of the Phils, who took in the game from a grandstand seat where he was sitting out a two-day suspension for a run-in with umpire Lee Weaver, saw his team nick Ken Johnson for a run on three singles in the fourth and add two more runs in the fifth on Richie Allen's double, a single by John Callison and another double by Tony Gonzalez, who also doubled home a final run in the seventh.

Only two other games were played in the National League and both ended with the same score. The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 4-2, and the New York Mets ended a string of 31 scoreless innings with a 4-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

AL Action

In the only American League game scheduled, the Detroit Tigers rallied for three runs in the ninth inning to topple the Washington Senators, 7-6.

Rookie Steve Blass was a winner for the Pirates in his first major league start when he shelled Don Drysdale for three runs in the sixth inning to overcome a 2-0 deficit.

Drysdale, now 5-2, departed with the bases full and one run in, after which reliever Ron Perranoski yielded a sacrifice fly to Gene Freese and a single by Donn Clendenon that accounted for the winning run.

Blass, fresh up from Columbus of the International League, held the Dodgers to seven hits and struck out seven.

George Altman's three-run homer off Billy Pierce in the eighth inning ended the Mets scoring famine and sank the Giants. Jesse Gonder followed with a double and Joe Christopher singled off Gaylord Perry for New York's fourth run of the frame.

Shaw Takes Defeat

The defeat was charged to Bob Shaw, his second against three victories. Galen Cisco picked up his second win with the help of Larry Bearnarth, who was tagged for a homer by Tom Haller in the eighth.

Gates Brown's two-run double in the ninth for the Tigers tied the score at 6 all against the Senators and Norm Cash then doubled also to bring home Brown with the winning run. Cash had homered earlier along with Bill Freehan while Don Lock socked two homers for Washington.

Phil Regan evened his record at 3-3 in relief of starter Frank Lary while Ronnie Kline suffered his first loss after three victories.

Palmer Has 'Pretty Good Day,' Grabs Off Oklahoma City Open

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Arnold Palmer says he "had a pretty good day."

Most professional golfers would be delighted to have one of Palmer's "pretty good days." In this case, it carried the game's top all-time money winner to a two-stroke victory in the $40,000 Oklahoma City Open.

Palmer, who said his putting game showed improvement, shot a five-under-par 67 Monday in one of his typical come-from-behind charges and beat Lionel Hebert with a 277 for his second tournament victory of the year.

was a two-foot birdie on No. 18 that put the tournament beyond Hebert's reach.

Hebert forged into a two-way tie with George Bayer at the halfway point and then led all by himself after 54 holes. But, the colorful Cajun from Lafayette, La., ran into trouble at the start of the final round, bogeying his first two holes.

Palmer was three strokes behind at the start of the last round, but given his chance, he quickly made up the deficit and soared into a lead he never gave up.

Palmer joined Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper Jr. as the only double winners of the year and raised his 1964 earnings to $44,298, about $2,000 less than Nicklaus. Palmer, winner of the Master's tournament this year for the fourth time, made his 42nd tour victory since he turned pro in 1954, and upped his all-time record winnings to $511,506.

Hebert, who had a 72 Monday after he birdied the final hole, banked $3,500 for his second place finish and South African Bob Verwey came in third and got $2,700.

Jack McGowan and Mike Souchak were tied for fourth and Dave Marr, who sank the first hole-in-one in Oklahoma City Open history, placed sixth.

"My putting has been bad" the muscular 34-year-old Pennsylvanian said after he accepted the $5,800 check.

"But today, I rolled in some little ones that helped."

Two of the "little ones" locked up the victory for Palmer, thrilling the Oklahoma branch of "Arnie's army" that numbered in the thousands. One was a three-foot birdie putt on the 17th hole and the other

Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer
HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — It holds with all of them and you can't hardly say it's wrong, that the guy they beat was the greatest.

Ask Gene Tunney who was the best heavyweight of all time. He'll tell you it was Jack Dempsey, the man he dusted off twice.

Ask Gene Sarazen, and he'll tell you one of the toughest was Jim Barnes. A man, incidentally, who shot a 69 and was beaten by Sarazen for the PGA championship.

Thus it was when Slammin' Sammy Snead finished all even with Ben Hogan after seven holes of their filmed television match that he commented:

Played Great
"Hogan played really great." They go out at Houston Country Club today to film the last 11 holes and it's as if they were playing for the U.S. Open championship.

The reasons are obvious. There never has been any love lost between these two who must rank among the golfing immortals. Hogan captured four U.S. Open titles, an event which is the only one which Snead never has taken. Snead won 113 other tournaments, a mark unapproached by any other golfer in history. But the big beef between them is that

Snead three times has played Hogan head to head and three times has beaten the "wee ice mon."

Eyeballing the filming of one of the events which will be televised in the future is a singular experience.

Lets Of Equipment
There are seven cameras, two camouflaged on trucks screened with shrubbery; a director, an assistant director, various runners, a man who claps boards together and shouts "take one, hold two," a sound man who blows a whistle to let everybody know that the director is about to shout "roll the cameras," and then point dramatically at the man who is to shoot before scurrying out of lens-shot.

There's about 10 minutes between shots and it gives everybody a lot of time to talk. Snead, who for years has had a running feud with any cameraman in the same county, sweats bullets.

"You know what?" he demanded. "One of those dudes wanted to get in the sand trap with me. I told him to get out of my left eye."

Hogan, who can, and has, walked right past his own wife on the golf course, cocks an amused eye at all this window dressing and observes with uncanny calm that "a man can't hardly concentrate."

AL Giving Finley Silent Treatment

BOSTON (UPI)—The American League has finally figured out how to handle controversial Charley Finley. It's giving him the silent treatment.

Finley is the millionaire insurance man-owner of the Kansas City Athletics. He's also first in his class in the Bill Veckin school of apple cart tippers.

Some ten days ago, Finley charged that the posted distances from home plate to Chicago's Comiskey Park fences were inaccurate. The accusation, together with suggestions for correction, were in the latest letter Finley has fired off at American League President Joe Cronin.

And Cronin, a frequent target of Finley brickbats during the long fight over the Athletics' franchise in Kansas City, circulated the letter among the other nine club owners.

Cronin said he circulated it "without comment" but Chicago owner Arthur Allyn spilled the beans when he said of Cronin's letter, "I don't remember his exact words, but the gist of what he told us was that we'd be very foolish if we paid any attention to it."

Finley couldn't really expect to get any support in his drive from the Yankees. He had attacked the stadium layout a few months ago and built his celebrated "porch" in Kansas City's Municipal Stadium. It's an experiment that has paid few dividends to the Athletics.

Cronin announced that he had invited the league's club owners to submit their opinions on the Comiskey Park measurements to either himself or Finley. The league chief executive said 10 days later that he had received no answers.

Major Upsets Seen In Olympic Boxing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three major upset winners will get a chance to prove their prowess tonight in the semifinals of the Olympic boxing trials in Singer Bowl at the World's Fair.

Heavyweight Tyrone Hollins of the Army and Coffeyville, Kan., will command the most attention in a three-round bout with Buster Mathis, the blubbery Michigan mammoth, who weighs 298 pounds and stands six-foot-three.

In one of Monday's 38 opening bouts, Hollins, 22, and weighing 196, scored an upset decision over Al Wilson of the Camp Pendleton Marines and McKeesport, Pa., all-service champion. Wilson scaled 205.

That upset, plus big Mathis' comparatively unimpressive showing in his victory over Dick Pettigrew of the Navy and Tyler, Tex., boosts interest in the Mathis-Hollins bout.

The other two major upset winners, welterweight Wade Smith and lightweight Bobby Valdez have the same ambition. They will try to spark their ambitions tonight in two of the 20 semifinal bouts.

Welterweight Smith of Muncie, Ind., eastern regional champion, outpointed Quincy Daniels of the Air Corps and Seattle, the only man in the current trials who won a medal in the 1960 Olympics at Rome. Daniels won a bronze medal.

Lightweight Valdez of San Luis, Colo., a sailor on the USS Prairie, decisioned Jimmy Wright of the Camp Pendleton Marines and Omaha, Neb., all-service champion.

Sports Briefs

NEW YORK (UPI)—National Football League owners will be asked to increase the payment to players for exhibition games from $50 to $100 apiece at their annual spring meeting today.

The request was filed by Ordell Braase of the Baltimore Colts, new president of the NFL Players' Association.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle, who will run the meeting, said there are no plans for league expansion.

One proposed rule change to be considered would add a sixth official — to be known as timekeeper. He would assume the clock-watching job now handled by the back judge.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—University of Texas Assistant Basketball coach Jesse Richardson has announced his resignation, effective Sept. 1 because he wants a job with less travel.

Richardson, former University of Corpus Christi coach and former Kilgore Junior College and Corpus Christi cage star, has been in charge of recruiting for coach Harold Bradley for the past year.

DALLAS (UPI)—The caddies at Brook Hollow Golf Course say lefthander Bob Charles is likely to upset three better known pro golfers in an exhibition match for charity today.

Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema and Byron Nelson will play 18 holes with Charles, who tested the course while the others were in the Oklahoma City Open. Proceeds from the $5 tickets go to the Dallas Society for Crippled Children and the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Final exams have forced cancellation of the University of Texas two mile relay team's appearance in the California relays in Modesto this week, coach Jack Patterson has announced.

The team finished fourth at the Los Angeles Coliseum Relays last week.

RANDY TO MODESTO COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—Texas A&M track coach Charles Thomas has announced that quartermiler Ted Nelson and Freshman shot-put ace Randy Matson have accepted invitations to compete in the California Relays at Modesto, Calif. this weekend.

Matson finished second in the Coliseum relays at Los Angeles last weekend and Nelson ran fourth in the 400-meter dash in the same meet.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign News Analyst

It was about this time in 1962 when the United States found itself in the midst of a crisis situation which led it to assign troops to the defense of Thailand and powerful units of the U.S. Seventh Fleet to the Gulf of Siam.

A similar situation may be approaching—or already here.

And so it can be assumed that more than the question of military and economic reinforcement of South Vietnam occupied President Johnson and his chief advisers in their week-end talks which followed the return of Defense Secretary Robert McNamara from Saigon.

From Vietnam, capital of Laos, comes word that the myth of neutrality for that sad little country has been exploded with the rout of the forces of Gen. Kong Le, himself a sad, colorless little figure who also once believed in neutrality.

Laotian dispatches tell of Kong Le's neutralist forces being routed from the Plain of Jars under heavy attack by Communist-led Pathet Lao and Viet Minh forces and Kong Le himself seeking sanctuary among anti-Communist Montebriens in nearby mountains to the northeast.

Kong Le's forces have been estimated at 7,000 men armed with American weapons.

These events bear a marked resemblance to the crisis of 1962.

In May of 1962, Pathet Lao and Viet Minh forces broke a cease-fire with an attack on the northern town of Nam That.

Five thousand Royalist forces fled in panic with their officers in the vanguard and without even bothering to inform the American advisers assigned to them.

It left the Communists an open road to the Mekong River and to the border with Thailand.

Case Asks Extension Of Bobby Baker Quiz

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., today praised tightening of Senate regulations proposed by a draft report on the Bobby Baker case, but he said the curbs were no substitute for a full investigation.

Case has called for the Senate Rules Committee to extend the Baker inquiry so each senator could be asked about his dealings with the former secretary to Senate Democrats.

The committee's draft report, while technically secret, was widely published Monday.

The draft was prepared by special counsel Lennox P. McLendon and is to be discussed by committee members

Wednesday. Critical of "gross improprieties" by Baker, the report recommends for senators and senatorial aides:

—Compulsory public disclosure of financial interests.

—Prohibition of "all associations" with persons or organizations doing business with the government.

—A requirement that senators appear and testify on request before Senate committees.

Case called the proposals "very wholesome." He said he hoped the rules committee and the Senate would approve them. He promised to support the proposals "to the hilt," but said they "do not take the place of a complete investigatory job."
