Realtors' Head Warns Against Land 'Slickers'

fraud by mail have made it necessary to repeat earlier warnings against purchasing of property sight unseen. Joe Fischer, president of the Pampa Board of Realtors, said to

Land fraud suits involving huge sums of money have resulted in indictments and convictions recently, particularly in the Western States, Fischer

"Eleven men were indicted on mail fraud charges in connection with a Nevada - Utah land development which at tracted payments of $1 million from 3.000 persons," he said. "Three men were ordered to pay fines totaling $50,400 in a for sale by mail land promotion scandal in Oregon. There have been similar cases in other parts of the country."

One of the reasons questionable promoters are successful is that they operate on the fringe of a respectable business and copy the methods of legitimate real estate practitioners, Fischer explained.

"These dishonest promoters buy up huge tracts of desert or swamp land at negligible cost and then in glowing terms market it as retirement or investment property at what appear to be bargain prices," he

Often what is left unsaid in the attractive brochures is more mis-leading than what is claimed. The "beautiful lake" actually is "only a few miles away." but a craggy, roadless mountain range lies between the lake and the property for sale: the homesite really would not be a bad place to build, except it is situated atop a mountain and is accessible only by burro: the land really is in a "tropical, wooded setting," but impossible to reach except by helicopter or swamp buggy.

How then can the prospective buyer be sure he is buying good land? Fischer listed several courses of action:

Personally inspect, before purchase, any property offered for sale.

2. Employ independent real estate counsel to analyze investment or use values before entering into purchase or lease agreements

3. Contact the real estate commission of the state where the land is located.

Urges Move to Halt Baby Sales

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A woman who once bought a child for $3,000 urged Congress yesterday to move against the multi - million-dollar "black market" in babies.

Theresa L. Heath, a New York policewoman, testified in a public hearing by the Senate juvenile delinquency subcom-

The subcommittee is considering a bill which would make it a federal offense for unauthorized persons to profit from the interstate or foreign placement of a child.

In endorsing the bill, Mrs. Heath and Katherine B. Oettinger - chief of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare -cited cases of baby sales involving huge profits for some persons and heartbreak for others.

Mrs. Heath told the subcommittee of buying a baby at Montreal, Canada, while investigating a black market ring there in 1954 at the request of local authorities.

New York cases which she outlined involved sales prices of up to $3,800 for illegitimate babies of prostitutes and teenagers. She mentioned one "heartbroken" couple who gave up a baby they had adopted after the child began "to show Negroid tendencies."

NEW YORK (UPI) - Bache & Co. says "the recent consolidation and the market's refusal to move significantly lower have in our opinion greatly enhanced the possibility of a summer rally.

Bache adds that with "a strong economy anticipated through the early part of 1965, a positive attitude toward selected common stocks is recommended."

E. F. Hutton & Co believes that "one of the weaker and more disturbing points about the market recently has been the preponderance of big-name issues on the daily list of new lows with almost none appearing on the new high list."

Hayden, Stone attributes the stock market's recent hesitation chiefly to "disconcerting political dislocations" and the general prices weakness in foreign securities markets. It further notes that more than $100 million of available investment funds were siphoned off by the "COMSAT" offering." some stock selling in the highpriced bracket still seem to have discounted too many anticipated future benefits too far ahead."

DEAR ABBY: Please explain this one. My father is 52, a college graduate and has been in business for 27 years. We live in a $55,000 home in the suburbs. Since President Johnson started turning off the lights in the White House, my father has gone on an economy kick with our lights at home. When we offered it. DEAR ABBY: If you still have the name and address of that young girl who complained because her boy friend fell asleep every chance he had, for heaven's sake, please tell her to drop him and forget him! I have been married for 33 years to a man who falls asleep the minute he sits down. He is not ashamed to fall asleep in church, at the theatre or even while we are entertaining guests in our home. The Doctor Says

Q - Is emphysema contag-Than Wait for Burglar ious or is it and there any cure? ious or is it an allergy? Is

A-Emphysema is a very common and a very chronic lung ailment in persons over 50. It is caused by air being trapped in the lungs due to a valvelike obstruction. This obstruction occurs chiefly in heavy smokers, persons with bronchitis and those who live in areas of extreme air pollution. It is not contagious and not an allergy. Its effects are sometimes similar to those of

Although there is no cure, the best treatment is early diagnosis. This will enable your doctor to prevent serious lung damage. If you have emphysema you should report to your doctor whenever you get a cold or other acute disease of the nose or lungs. It is helpful to quit smoking and to keep fit through moderate, but regular exercise. If your work requires you to breathe dusty or sooty air, you can prolong your life by wearing a respirator or changing your occupation.

Your doctor can help you by giving you antibiotics for some types of complicating infection. Other drugs, such as isoproterenol, will dilate the blocked air passages. Breathing exercises (humming, laughing and singing) are often useful

Even victims with far advanced emphysema can be helped. Vanillic diethylamide, a respiratory stimulant, allows easier breathing. Inhalation of oxygen may make the difference between being confined to bed and being up and about. Postural drainage of the lungs (hanging over the edge of a bed for 10 minutes with your head near the floor) is another favorite method of treatment. .

A - Is it possible to be desensitized to the pollen that gives me hay fever in the summer?

A-First you must identify the pollen that is causing your hay fever. Desensitization must be started at least six weeks in advance of the time you usually get your attacks. It must be repeated

Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. William W. Scranton were members of the 87th U.S. Congress-Goldwater in the Senate. Scranton in the House. The scorekeepers report that

Sen. Goldwater and Rep. Scranton, both Republicans, 2A voted against each other more often than not. The left-wing we build any size or kind. Fort Monument. 5-5622, 129 S. Faulkner. Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) rates all members 5 of Congress each year on the basis of their votes on what liberal Get Blue Lustre. Rent electric shamproposals.

For the first session of the 87th Congress (JFK's first Congress, 1961) ADA rated Scranton as voting right 40 per cent of the time. Goldwater scored zero with the lefty ADA.

Americans for Constitutional conservative and sponsored by such persons as former President Hoover, former New Jersey Gov. Charles Edison who sey Gov. Charles Edison who was one of FDR's Navy secretaries, former Rep. Howard Buffett of Nebraska, retired Adm. Ben Moreell, USN, and Loyd Wright, Los Angeles, past president of the American Bar Association.

ACA also rates members of Congress on the basis of their voting record. One rating is called the consistency index which ACA defines as representing votes "for safeguarding the God-given dignity of the individual, and promoting sound economic growth by strengthening constitutional government; and votes against group morality and a socialized economy through centralization of government power."

Goldwater's consistency index score was 100 per cent. Scranton's was 52 per cent. ACA also rated House members in such general areas as sound money. competitive markets and such. 18 Scranton's scores were as follows in support of: Sound money, 58 per cent; private competitive markets 67 per cent; local self-government, 54 per cent; private ownership, 75 per cent and individual lib- 21 erty, 100 per cent.

For comparison, ACA scored House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck, a conservative from Indiana. Halleck's consistency index was 83 per cent compared to Scranton's 52. Halleck's other percentages in the order in which Scranton's show in the foregoing were: 83, 81, 90, 90, 100, 100.

Pattern Fits Well Scranton's voting record seems well to fit the pattern of the soft boiled Republican sought by the Eisenhower wing of the party to lead a stop-Goldwater crusade. Scranton is safe in the Eisenhower political area. Hostile for him will be the areas of hard boiled Republicanism where, if the conservatives are not a majority within the party, they may be numerous, well organized, enthusiastic and determined.
