Scranton Urges GOP To Repudiate Barry

Governor to Start Cross-Country Tour

BULLETIN

DALTON, Pa. (UPI) — Gov. William W. Scranton, an announced candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, agreed Saturday night to participate in a two-hour discussion with Sen. Barry Goldwater and New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller over the CBS television network June 21.

By JOHN F. O'BRIEN

UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

HARTFORD, Conn.—Gov. William W. Scranton, opening his last-ditch campaign for the Republican presidential nomination with a hard-hitting speech, Saturday won 12 of Connecticut's 16 National convention votes.

In a whirlwind of activity, Scranton flew into his native state convention, delivered a blistering attack on Sen. Barry Goldwater and announced that he will begin a week long cross country plane tour on Monday in his efforts to stop the Arizona senator from receiving the Republican nomination.

Scranton admitted he should have entered the race sooner, saying he felt he should have announced his candidacy last week at the National Governors Conference. He threw his hat into the ring Friday in a speech in Baltimore.

By the time he left Connecticut for New York late Saturday, the Pennsylvania governor had picked up 12 GOP National Convention in San Francisco. The other four delegates will back Goldwater.

In his prepared speech, the governor referred to some of Goldwater's policies as "outlandish." He deleted the remark when he made the address.

Later, at a news conference prior to flying back to Pennsylvania, Scranton told reporters he should have announced his candidacy for the GOP nomination at last week's Governors Conference in Cleveland.

"As I look back on it, I should have announced at that time," he said.

In his speech to the GOP convention, Scranton said Republicans must repudiate Goldwater if the GOP is to escape defeat in the November elections.

"It is a fact that we have reached the ludicrous point where every responsible leader in our party knows that to stave off defeat in November, a make-believe coating of moderation must be shellacked over the views that have been uttered by the present frontrunner," he declared.

"A small but vocal minority too often has made our party sound naive, irresponsible, reactionary and heartless... the outlandish proposals that have come from the camp of the present frontrunner — particularly in the field of foreign affairs — are not real alternatives to the Johnson administration. They are mere echoes of despair."

Scranton, who announced his candidacy for the GOP nomination Friday in Baltimore, referred to Goldwater only once by name.

"Somebody asked me yesterday whether my candidacy was the beginning of a stop Goldwater movement," he said.

"My answer is this is a movement to win in November."

A crowd of about 200 persons waited in a light rain at the airport to greet Scranton on his arrival here from Pennsylvania.

Nixon Says He's Maintaining Policy of Strict Neutrality

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Former Vice President Richard Nixon said Saturday he has excluded himself from the Republican presidential contest, and would not accept a call to the vice presidential nomination.

Nixon, who spoke at a $100 a plate Wisconsin Republican dinner Saturday night, said the GOP presidential sweepstakes was a "two-man race" between Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, and Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Earlier, in New York, Nixon said Scranton has a "fighting chance" to win the nomination from Goldwater but he criticized the Pennsylvania governor for "vacillating" about entering the race.

Nixon said in New York that Scranton "must now be his own man. He must make his own decisions and not appear to be a puppet maneuvered by someone else."

"I see no chance of a deadlock at the convention because we now have our two clear cut choices," Nixon told a Milwaukee news conference. "One of these men will get the nomination."

Nixon said Goldwater could wrap up enough delegates to clinch the nomination before the convention starts in San Francisco in mid-July. But "I assume Gov. Scranton counted the delegates too, before he decided to get into the race."

The former vice president said he will maintain strict neutrality between now and the convention.

Nixon said press reports indicated Scranton had made a "strong statement" of his candidacy in Maryland Friday to counteract "bad publicity" that had emanated from the recent governor's conference where Scranton seemed "to vacillate."

Republicans and Democrats

Local Delegates Head For State Conventions

By RAY RODGERS

Gray County Democrats and Republicans are preparing to attend respective state party conventions Tuesday and the county Democratic delegates may be walking into a red hot controversy.

The Democrats will send eight delegates to their state party in Houston. They are Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Thompson, Bill Craig, Bill Waters, Don Cain, Margaret Guidry and Mary Simpson.

The local delegates will present three resolutions to the convention which include endorsement of Ralph Yarborough for re-election as United States Senator, endorsement of John Connally and Lyndon Johnson as Democratic party leaders and a resolution expressing sorrow over the death of the late President John Kennedy.

Republicans will send 14 delegates to their state powwow in Dallas. They are Frances Fatheree, Clayton Husted, John Skelly, Ida Ruth Price, Dr. S. B. Syper, Charles Norton, Harold Cox, George Darby, Bob Price, Earl J. O'Brien, John Lee Bell, Walter Jordan, James Campbell and James Hobbs.

The Republicans will offer six resolutions at the state convention as follows:

1. Calling on the state GOP

national delegation to pledge support to Barry Goldwater for President.

2. Urging state and national GOP conventions to make an effort to preserve individual freedom by having individuals judged on personal qualifications rather than by race, creed, or color.

3. Urging the United States to halt all trade and aid to Communist nations and their satellites.

4. Urging Republican party representatives to oppose national deficit spending and calling for a reduction in the national debt.

5. Calling for the United States to take a firmer stand in South Viet Nam.

6. Urging Republican representatives in government to take a stand for abolishment of the inheritance tax.

In their Gray County convention the Republicans also adopted resolutions supporting the candidacy of Bob Price for U.S. Congressman for the 18th district and endorsing the appointment of Mrs. Kathryn McDaniels of Borger to the state GOP platform committee.

Liberal and conservative Democrats have drawn battle lines for their convention at Houston.

Eight delegations will be sent from four counties — Harris, Bexar, Randall and Hutchinson. Each county will send a delegation of liberals and conservatives.

A credential committee at the convention will then decide which delegation will be seated.

The liberals have not said they would walk out, but a statement from the steering committee left the possibility, if conservatives are seated.

In Hutchinson, Bexar, Harris and Randall counties it was conservative Democrats who walked out during county conventions.

The Sherman and Edwards county splits showed no clear liberal-conservative division at their county parleys.

Convention activities will actually get underway Monday night for both parties with caucuses of district delegations.

Both conventions should end Tuesday night, barring unforeseen controversies, and the delegates are expected back in Pampa Wednesday.

Three Executed By Firing Squad

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—Three persons convicted of treason were executed by a firing squad Saturday.

The three were among 11 persons accused of plotting to create an independent Arab Khuzistan state under the aegis of U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Goldwater Due in Dallas

Democrats Gird for Big Fight at Houston

AUSTIN (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, Alabama Gov. George Wallace and a liberal-conservative fight that could embarrass President Johnson Saturday appeared likely to dominate Tuesday's state political conventions.

Goldwater and Wallace both plan to be in Dallas Monday. Goldwater as speaker at a $100-a-plate Republican dinner and Wallace as guest of the Texas Conservative party.

Goldwater will stay over for the GOP convention Tuesday to see the state give him its 56 national GOP convention votes.

Democrats, feuding as usual, will be in Houston Monday and Tuesday.

Indications are that the Bexar County delegation will attempt to lead a contesting delegation to the National Democratic convention if the convention leadership, dominated by Gov. John Connally, attempts to replace the liberal Bexar delegates with pro-Connally conservatives.

A contested delegation from Johnson's home state could be expected to cause Johnson considerable displeasure at the National Democratic Convention in Atlantic City, N. J., in August.

Liberal-loyalist Democrats controlled the San Antonio convention May 9, but conservatives led by lawyer John Peace (See DEMOCRATS, Page 3)

Pampa Gets More Rain As Storms Roam Panhandle

For the fourth straight night Pampa received rain as thunderstorms roamed over the Panhandle late Saturday night.

Pampa got about .15-inch in heavy rain that started at 9:45 p.m.

A severe weather alert failed to develop locally by the 9 p.m. deadline and at a late hour the rain came and the danger had passed.

Other Panhandle areas were caught by rain, hail and high winds during the past two days.

Five feet of water covered U.S. Highway 84 between Sudan and Muleshoe Friday night and caused traffic to be re-routed on farm roads.

The rain stopped wheat harvesting and in some sectors beat the grain into the ground. Amarillo measured 70-mile winds and there were reports of a funnel cloud as a vicious thunderstorm covered the Panhandle Friday evening.

Pampa received .10-inch of rainfall Friday night and early Saturday morning bringing the total for the week to about .80-inch.

The wheat harvest, in full swing until about Wednesday when the rain moved in, is expected to continue as soon as the ground becomes dry enough for combines to get back into the fields.

Wheat crops around Amarillo, Borger, Fritch and Pringle were heavily damaged by marble-sized hail late Wednesday evening.

Claude recorded 1.38 inches of rain during a cloudburst yesterday, while Amarillo caught .20, Wichita Falls .80 and Lubbock .60.

Communists Call For Evacuation Of Berlin Troops

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht called Saturday for the evacuation of all troops from Berlin and turning it into a "free, demilitarized city."

But a joint communique was mild in tone and raised no particular alarm in the West. The communique followed signing of a 20-year East German-Soviet treaty of friendship Friday.

Khrushchev accused the United States, Britain and France of threatening peace in West Berlin and said removal of troops from the divided city would contribute to a lessening of tension in Central Europe.

The proposal for turning West Berlin into a free, demilitarized city was not contained in the treaty. Its impact was diminished by the fact the communique has less significance than the actual treaty.

Both the communique and treaty contained few surprises and completely avoided mention of Allied access rights to Berlin, the issue which had been the chief concern in Western capitals before the documents were published.

Man Convicted in 'Kill-for-Hire' Case

BRYAN, Tex. (UPI)—A jury deliberated slightly more than an hour Saturday before finding Woodrow Wilson Smith of Dallas guilty of the 1963 "kill-for-hire" slaying of Bryan dairyman L. T. McGee.

The jury set his punishment at 99 years in prison.

day when he sought service at a segregated restaurant, was expected to post bond and leave for the North after testifying in Jacksonville, where the federal court battle was being waged.

Aides said they were uncertain when he would return to St. Augustine.

Fifteen demonstrators had been taken into custody at segregated eating places by midday, including a prominent white woman from Charlottesville, Va. About 25 other Ne-

Integrationists Applying Pressure in Florida

By BERNARD J. ROSWIG

United Press International ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (UPI)—Integrationists kept pressure on segregated business places Saturday while their attorneys battled in federal court to prevent authorities from banning nighttime marches.

It appeared, however, that local integrationists would soon lose their top leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.—at least temporarily.

King, who was jailed Thursday groes paraded with anti-segregation signs in the city's old slave market.

A dozen officers kept watch over the pickets and patrol cars cruised through the area at frequent intervals.

Negroes called off further marches pending a decision by federal court, but whites threatened another march into the Negro section of the city later Saturday night.

A similar march by about 300 whites, Friday night was conducted without incident.

One of those arrested Saturday was Mrs. Sarah Patton Boyle, 58, an author and wife of the head of the department of speech and drama at the University of Virginia. She was jailed when she and four young Negroes attempted to enter a segregated dining room at a motor lodge.

Nearly 500 arrests have been made in St. Augustine since the current desegregation campaign started at Easter.

The legal battle in Jacksonville centered around a request by the state of Florida that nighttime marches in St. Augustine be banned, or that local authorities be given permission to devise other ways of coping with the demonstrations. Officials apparently have in mind limiting the size of marches, and establishing specific routes for the demonstrations.

Senate Votes Down Rights Amendments

By STEVEN GERSTEL

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate brusquely voted down Saturday a new series of amendments to the civil rights bill and the leading Southern foe conceded that the sweeping measure would be passed next week.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said it was "highly improbable" the final Senate vote could be reached next Wednesday, as hoped for by administration leaders, but he agreed with them that the end of the long fight would occur within a week.

There were hints that President Johnson would like to have the historic legislation on his desk for signing on July 4.

Except for minor concessions the coalition of Democrats and Republicans in favor of the bill were rejecting all Southern amendments at a rapid clip under the unprecedented gag rule imposed on debate last Wednesday.

The drive for passage resumed at 10 a.m. EDT Saturday. Within a matter of minutes the Senate had defeated the first Southern amendment of the day—a proposal by Sen. Olin D. Johnston, D-S.C., to exempt child care and foster homes from any cut off of federal aid because of discrimination. The amendment went down to defeat by a 56-29 margin, setting the pattern for those that followed.

Shortly after, a move by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., to eliminate all of the bill's voting rights provisions was overwhelmingly turned down 71-16.

The 16 votes for the amendment was the low water mark in the Southern fight thus far.

Friday, in similarly brisk fashion 11 of 13 amendments were beaten. The two that were accepted made no significant changes in the administration substitute to House-passed legislation.

Upon Senate passage, the measure would be returned to the House. Administration forces were confident they can work out a technique that will enable the House to accept the Senate bill and send it directly to the White House, thus avoiding the danger of another filibuster.

In general, the bill — the strongest civil rights legislation in modern history—would bar racial discrimination in jobs, voting, schools and public accommodations such as restaurants.

Parking Meters Removal Sought

A request for removal of several blocks of downtown parking meters will be made Tuesday at the regular meeting of the Pampa City Commission.

According to the agenda released by City Manager Harold Schmitzer, the request will be presented by the Downtown Business Association.

Also on the agenda is consideration of employing an auditor for a complete audit of city books, third reading of an ordinance closing Thut street, approval of periodic salary changes and awarding a contract for the city's petroleum requirements.

The commission will meet at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday in City Hall.

Electrical Workshop Is Scheduled for Agriculture Teachers

An electrical workshop for high school vocational agriculture teachers from the Oklahoma Panhandle, the Panhandle and South Plains areas of Texas, and Eastern New Mexico, will be held at the Episcopal Church Conference Center, north of Amarillo, on June 18 and 19, it was announced Saturday by Gordon Lyons, Pampa SWPS manager.

Sam Thomas, agricultural development manager for the Southwestern Public Service Company, which is sponsoring the workshop, plans to open the program at 10 o'clock, Thursday morning with registration beginning an hour earlier. Thomas has extended an invitation to all vocational agriculture teachers to attend.

The featured instructors at this year's workshop will be James Romer of Holly, Colorado, operator of Romer Agricultural Enterprises and George Carter of Lorenzo, Texas, who is associated with the Deep Well Pump Company.

Romer will conduct the session on materials handling in the mechanization of cattle and hog feeding. So successful are the Colorado man's techniques that one of his clients is feeding 3500 head of cattle and only the man and his wife are needed. Mechanization provides all the remainder of the assistance needed to feed this large number of cattle.

Carter will speak on and demonstrate submersible pumps, which are becoming a major factor in irrigation in this area. Rounding out the corps of instructors are Wayne Jennings of Roswell and Royce Kelly of Lubbock. These men, who are power sales engineers for Southwestern Public Service Company, will discuss farm wiring and electrical controls and electric motors.

Advance registrations indicate about 40 teachers will attend, but Thomas said the teachers could plan to attend without reservations, if they could arrive at the Episcopal Church Conference Center before the registration hour Thursday morning.

Eleanora Duse, Italian tragedienne, made her American debut in the title role of Camille on Jan. 23, 1893.

MESSAGE FOR JOHNSON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Greek Ambassador Alexander A. Mastas delivered a message from the Greek Prime Minister Georges Papandreu to President Johnson Thursday, but the White House would make no comment on possible efforts to ease the Cyprus crisis.

Mastas left the executive mansion by a side door after meeting with Johnson for about an hour. Press Secretary George E. Reedy said the ambassador had requested the meeting.

The announcement brings the total number of cities participating in the program to 35. The travel service will publicize in foreign countries numbers which visitors can call in each of the cities to arrange visits.

The cities announced Thursday are located across the country from North Carolina to Utah.

$100 FOR AGE
COMPTON, Calif. (UPI)—President Johnson sent Mrs. Olivia Banks Glenn his best wishes and one dollar for every year of her life, it was reported today.

Mrs. Glenn celebrated her 100th birthday Thursday night at a dinner party in the home of her niece, Mrs. Quincy T. Barnett.

A native of Waterproof, La., Mrs. Glenn's recipe for longevity is: "Go to bed early and get up early, and eat to live, not live to eat."

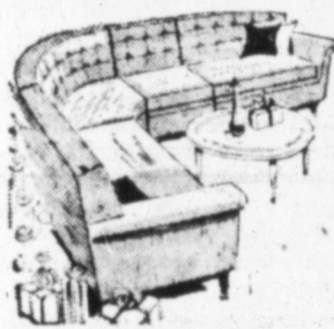

Relatives did not say how Mrs. Glenn planned to spend the $100 the President sent her.

Union Oil Called Front for Majors

HOUSTON (UPI)—Texas independent oil leader Johnny Mitchell released Saturday a letter he sent to Fred L. Hartley of Union Oil Co. of California blasting Union as being a "front" for big major firms.

"It is a terrible situation when a handful of powerful major companies are allowed to run—and ruin—a defense-vital home oil producing industry," Mitchell said in the letter addressed to the Union office in Los Angeles. "It is even worse when they can enlist the active help of a company which, calling itself an independent producer association and keep independents from defending themselves."

Mitchell is president of Jade Oil and Gas Co. of Houston.

He contended the majors' "stranglehold" has depressed the West Coast oil industry. Mitchell accused Hartley of allowing Union Oil to be the voice for majors trying to block a plan to allow oil from mid-America to "help meet California's growing deficit."

Mitchell said defeat of the plan helps major oil importers by letting them have higher import quotas to meet the West Coast's needs.

"When the international majors have gobbled up most of us," Mitchell said, "Union Oil will be next—and federal control is certain to follow soon after."

Erhard Says No Trade With Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI)—West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard wound up two days of talks with President Johnson Saturday by assuring the United States his country would not recognize or sign a trade treaty with Communist China.

In a news conference the German leader also repeated what he and Johnson had agreed on earlier in a communique—that the recently concluded Soviet-East German friendship treaty does not appear to be ominous.

Governor

"I am out to tell the voters of the United States that we must have a separate choice," Scranton declared at an airport news conference. "I consider my candidacy for the Republican nomination an uphill fight."

In his convention speech later, Scranton said the Johnson administration is "only marking time... it is not moving America forward. It should and can be turned out of office if the Republican party first gets its own house in order."

He urged fellow Republicans to change from a "whipped and sullen minority" to a "strong and vibrant majority." In another reference to Goldwater, he added:

"Because of the havoc that has been spread across the national landscape, the Republican party wonders how it will make clear to the American people that it does not oppose Social Security, the United Nations, human rights and a sane nuclear policy."

Scranton said at the airport that Goldwater's vote against cloture on the civil rights bill this week "had a lot to do" with his announcement that he was seeking the GOP presidential nomination.

The Connecticut convention opened Friday night. Rhode Island Gov. John H. Chafee, the keynote speaker, endorsed Scranton's candidacy.

Criticizing the administration's policies at home and abroad, Scranton declared that "the federal government has become paternalistic enough to interfere with private initiative, but not imaginative enough to propose truly new solutions."

He said the government was "not honest enough to admit that it has been unable to live up to its own slogans."

A backlog of 500 proposed amendments was stacked up in the Senate when the gag was invoked but by next week the prospect was that the Southerners would let all but the major ones be disposed quickly without time-consuming roll call votes.

Most of the Southerners seemed to be conserving the one-hour debate allowed each of them for one final protest against the bill.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., predicted that the showdown final vote could be taken next Wednesday. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., floor leader for the bill, voiced hope that the measure could be ready for Johnson's signature on July 4 "to give the day a brand-new meaning."

After defeat of the Johnston amendment as the Saturday session began, the Senate turned thumbs down on these other proposals:

—By Sen. John G. Tower R-Tex., to nullify federal cases under the fair employment practices section if a government investigator failed to identify himself. Defeated 55-30.

—By Sen. Lister Hill D-Ala., to exempt from the public accommodations definition such places as homes, churches, cemeteries or fraternal clubs. Supporters of the bill said there was no intention to apply the law to these. Defeated 58-26.

—Hill to give guarantees of timely notice, counsel, call of witnesses and the like at hearings on cutting off federal funds to government supported program in localities which discriminate. Defeated 62-22.

Fund Division Heads are Named

Norman Henry, chairman for the Pampa-Lefors United Fund drive, announced the selection of three persons to head campaign divisions.

Dr. Joe Donaldson will head the special gifts division. Mrs. Bob Curry the arrangements division and Hugh Peeples the general gifts division, according to Henry.

It was previously announced that Bill Power, Roy Sparkman and Jerry Sims will head up the publicity, audit and prospects and evaluation divisions, respectively.

Nikita Leaves on Scandinavian Trip

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev leaves Sunday for a tour of Scandinavia which was postponed five years ago.

The visit is Khrushchev's first to Sweden, Norway and Denmark. Unlike his recent visits to the United Arab Republic and Hungary, it is expected to have little political significance.

The skunk will dig up a nest of yellowjackets with its sharp claws and eat the grubs.

White Deer Man On Air Defense Command Duty

Capt. William D. Lemley, son of Mrs. D. L. Lemley of White Deer, has arrived for duty with an Air Defense Command (ADC) unit at Duluth International Airport, Minn.

Captain Lemley, a radar intercept officer, previously served at McClellan AFB, Calif. His new unit supports the ADC mission of defending the continental U.S. against enemy air attack.

The captain, a graduate of White Deer High School, attended Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene. His wife is the former Phygeneia G. Ward of Oklahoma City, Okla. He was commissioned in 1957 through the aviation cadet program.

Traffic Meeting Postponed Week

The regular monthly meeting of the Pampa City Traffic Commission scheduled for tomorrow has been postponed until June 22, according to chairman Jack O. Miller.

The agenda will include discussion of revamping several streets leading into N. Hobart. The commission will meet at 9 a.m. in the Palm Room of City Hall.

Democrats

The liberals, led by Bexar County commissioner Albert Pena Jr. and state Democratic committeeman Maury Maverick Jr., claim they won the county convention with 500 votes to spare and contend that an attempt to replace them with Peace's conservatives would be a blatant theft.

Peace, however, is an important Democratic party fundraiser and has shown no signs of giving in.

He accompanied Connolly to the national governors conference in Cleveland last week. One line of speculation is that this was Connolly's way of consoling Peace, indicating that the Connolly forces plan to seat the liberals from Bexar County.

Lions Continue Sale of Barrels

Due to heavy response shown during Pampa's recent clean-up, fix-up campaign the Pampa Noon Lions Club will continue its program of selling trash barrels for the rest of the year.

Bill Steger, spokesman for the club, said members will deliver the barrels for $2.50 each. The money derived from the project will go to the Lion's Crippled Children's Home in Kerrville.

Persons wanting orders filled are asked to call 9-9551 or 9-9468.

Patrol Lists 13 Rural Accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 13 accidents on rural highways in Gray County during May, according to Sgt. J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol Supervisor in the Pampa area.

These wrecks accounted for six persons injured and an estimated property damage of $4,575.

The rural accident summary for Gray County from January through May of 1964 shows a total of 69 crashes resulting in two persons killed, 48 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $42,890.

New Books on Shelves At Public Library

New books on the shelves of Lovett Memorial Library:

FICTION

THE TRAIL TO OGALLALA — Benjamin Capps: the author tells the story of the cowboy as he really was. His hero is Billy Scott, an expert young cowboy, whose devotion to the strange, incalculable creature—a herd of cattle—leads him through the desperate, back-breaking weeks of a great cattle drive.

JUNIPER LOA — Lin Yutang: against the background of the strife-torn China of the 1920s, a time of civil war, when the growing forces of the Kuomintang were rising up against the ancient war lords and their brutalities, Lin Yutang has woven a glowing and compassionate story of the saving strength of a woman's love.

HOUSHOE BEND — Bruce Palmer: the story of a great empire that flourished in the America of the early 1800s — an empire of power and cruel grandeur — the great Creek nation — and its bloody conflict with the young United States of America.

IN VIVO — Mildred Savage: the search for a miracle drug is the theme of this novel that probes the complex issues involved — moral, psychological, political and very personal — as they confront a wide variety of scientists, astronauts and their wives, Congressmen, and the President himself.

THE BIG KNIVES — Bruce Lancaster: armed only with some powder and ball, little money and vague instructions, George Rogers Clark opened, defended, and finally claimed the middle-west for the colonies.

THE FIFTH QUEEN — Ford Maddox Ford: a novel about Henry the Eighth's wife Katherine.

NON-FICTION

HELP! HELP! HELP! — Max Wilk: this new book tackles the Servant Problem — the author recounts representative atrocity stories experienced by friends or personally. A very funny book.

OVERTIME IN HEAVEN — Peter Lisagor: adventures in the Foreign Service; tales of adventure set in Italy, Russia, China, and other countries, climaxed by a hair-raising incident that took place in the Congo in 1960.

TREASURE HILL — Turrentine Jackson: a human story of a silver mining camp — sure stories as these are part of the record, a kind of memorial to a phase vital in American history.

NORTHWEST TRAIL BLAZERS — Helen Addison Howard: seventeen important personalities in Northwest history are portrayed in this significant contribution with chapters, of Lewis and Clark and Sacagawea, missionaries DeSmet and Ravalli, Conrad Kohrs, Montana cattle king, and mining tycoons William A. Clark and Marcus Daly.

MY YEARS WITH GENERAL MOTORS — Alfred P. Sloan, Jr.: the personal account by the former chief executive of the world's largest manufacturing concern is a remarkable story in the history of American business.

MEAT OUTPUT IN TEXAS

Commercial slaughter plants in Texas during April produced 117.1 million pounds of red meat, reports the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This is 7 percent above the 109.3 million pounds produced in April a year ago. Red meat production for the first four months of 1964 totaled 437.8 million pounds, 5 percent above the same period of 1963. Nationally, red meat production was up 10 percent in April over the same month in 1963 and the first quarter production in 1964 was up 8 percent with a total of 10,512 million pounds produced.

State Patrol to Make Study of U.S. Highway 66

In a summer program to benefit the increased number of motorists traveling Highway 66 during the summer months, Capt. J. W. Blackwell, of the Texas Highway Patrol in Amarillo, has announced inauguration of 24-hour patrol service for the transcontinental highway.

State police and engineering departments of seven states are cooperating in the joint enforcement and engineering study during the months of June, July and August.

In addition to the enforcement and engineering study that will be made to arrive at a formula to determine the number of police required to adequately patrol four lane interstate highways, the program is primarily designed as an aid to motorists, not only affecting highway safety, but making their trips more pleasant. Patrol cars will be equipped with all facilities to handle most emergency situations, Blackwell has emphasized.

In Texas and other Hwy. 66 states a special detail of select patrolmen has received specialized training to carry out the details of the program which has been designated "Project 66." The state's efforts will be coordinated by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads and the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

An extra effort will be directed toward investigation of an ever increasing number of one-vehicle accidents. Records also will be kept as to what type of trouble motorists in distress have in order to prevent future breakdown. Blackwell called on motorists to "accept and encourage this effort to make vehicular travel safer and more pleasurable." Proprietors of business establishments along Highway 66 are especially asked to take note of the project so they will be in a position to make their customers aware of the study.

CRAZY DAY AWARD — Bill McComas, left, manager of the Montgomery Ward Store in Coronado Shopping Center, is shown accepting the "craziest store in town" award from Duggan Smith, chairman of the Merchants Activities Committee. Ward's won the award for the best overall theme and promotion for crazy day which was held here June 6. Formal presentation of the trophy will be made at a future Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

Pampan Elected to State Post in Knights of Pythias

A. L. Weatherred, member of Pampa Lodge No. 480 Knights of Pythias, was elected to the office of Grand Inner Guard at the 91st annual convention of the Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias of Texas in Amarillo this past week.

Weatherred has been a member of the Pampa Lodge since 1942 and an officer from 1943 through 1946 when he served as chancellor commander. He was a lodge trustee from 1948 through 1962.

The Pampa lodge won first in the state annual competitive rank team contest.

Members of the local lodge rank team are A. C. "Lonnie" Parsley, J. C. Hopkins, H. L. Meers, James Weatherred, Glen "Bud" Day, Robert E. Morris, A. L. Weatherred and B. B. Altman, Jr.

Pampa's lodge also won first in the state highway safety poster contest with the poster of Miss Jane Moore, a student at Pampa High School. Miss Moore's poster will be entered in the Supreme Lodge contest in Washington, D.C. in August.

At the meeting of the secretaries, financial secretaries and treasurers association B. B. Altman, Jr. of Pampa was elected president.

SAIL THROUGH STORM

LONDON (UPI) — Five Sea Scouts and five girl Sea Rangers who were reported missing in two small boats during the night in a storm that lashed southern England were found safe Saturday by police and rescue workers.

The girls and boys—in two motorboats — arrived at Isleworth after, according to one official, "having a wonderful time sailing through the storm."

What's Your Answer?

Why Does a Socialite Want To Be Actress?

By JOSEPH FINNIGAN
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Why does a pretty girl with social position, wealth and brains become an actress, entering a profession often devoid of those attributes.

Don't ask me. Carole Wells, daughter of a doctor, began acting when she was 12 years old, grew up into a regular role on the defunct "National Velvet" television series and continued on into movies.

She took time out for an education and marriage to young Larry Doheny, prominent member of a Southern California family which counts money, oil and a significant part of the state among its assets.

There's a school of thought in Hollywood—a school not without reason—which says Miss Wells would have been wise to quit acting immediately following her marriage to such an eligible swain. It's a suggestion based on the prospect of a happy future and not meant to deprecate her acting talent.

Miss Wells paid little heed to the suggestion. "Would you be happy just settling for the tea parties," she asked, drinking a cup of coffee. "And I would be bored to death spending all my time at bridge parties. My husband doesn't object to my acting."

"I took time out from the business for a year, telling my agent that I didn't want to work unless it was a terrific part. I lived what people call a normal life. I went to school."

Carole was bored with "what people call the normal life," and went back to the grease-paint, insisting that an actress' career is what she makes it.

"People always say show business isn't a normal life," she said. "That's wrong. Some people make it abnormal by doing weird things. But I know business people who do weird things."

Her personal life having a firm financial base, Miss Wells can afford to set personal and professional standards. Many actresses can't.

Area Jaycee Tournament Slated for Country Club

Young golfers from 12 Panhandle cities will compete Friday at the Pampa Country Club for places in the state Junior Jaycee golf tournament to be held in Harlingen July 9-11.

Defending state champion James Herring of Amarillo may enter the meet, according to The Amarillo Daily News. He will be met by the best young golfers in Pampa, McLean, Shamrock, Canadian, Tulsa, Miami, Wellington, Memphis, Clarendon, White Deer and Lefors. Jay Dunbar of Memphis is the defending champion of the Pampa tournament. Richard Ellis of Pampa was the runner-up and also went to the state tourney.

Winner in the state tournament goes on to the national one in St. Paul-Minneapolis Aug. 2-8. The tournament is sponsored by Pepsi-Cola at all levels.

Boys who will not be 18 before Aug. 15 are eligible. Those who have competed in a tournament of any kind will be entered in the open division; those who have not will be placed in the novice class. Both divisions send representatives to the state finals.

There have been two changes in the novice class since last year's tournament. Then, any boy who had not won a tournament was entered as a novice. This year the division is restricted to those who have never competed in a tournament.

In Pampa only, the novice class will have two divisions based on age. The actual dividing line will be drawn after entries are in and the number and ages of entrants are known. The winner and runner-up in

Non-Seed Is British Champion

GANTON, England (UPI)—Unseeded Gordon Clark of England won the British amateur golf championship Saturday when he beat defending champion Michael Lunt on the 39th hole of the longest final-round match in tournament history.

A six-foot birdie putt clinched the upset victory for Clark, a 29-year-old drapery store owner from Newcastle, and cost Lunt his chance to become only the fourth player ever to win the title two years in a row. The last man to accomplish this feat was Lawson Little of the United States in 1934-35.

About 500 people viewed the match at the 6,854-yard, par-71 Ganton course, and they witnessed one of the poorest finals in recent memory. Both men were consistently bad with their drives, timid with their second shots and they putted poorly.

One of the officials of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, the ruling body of British golf, admitted sadly: "I am afraid our final is never the same without an American playing in it. There was no great tension or atmosphere with two Englishmen playing as there was last year at St. Andrews when the entire American Walker Cup team was beaten before the final."

Since this is not a Walker Cup year, most of the leading U.S. amateurs did not make the trip to Britain. Bob Sweeney of Palm Beach, Fla., the last survivor of the 31-man U.S. delegation, was beaten in Friday's quarter-finals.

Bing Gives Trip

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (NEA)—The object is to "Beat Bing" for a trip to the 24th annual Bing Crosby Pro-Am Tournament next January.

Amateurs from six states encompassing the 50 regions will match their golf game against Bing's for a spot in the final qualifying playoff in Tucson, Ariz. The amateur with the lowest gross score and lowest handicap divisions will then qualify for a trip to Pebble Beach.

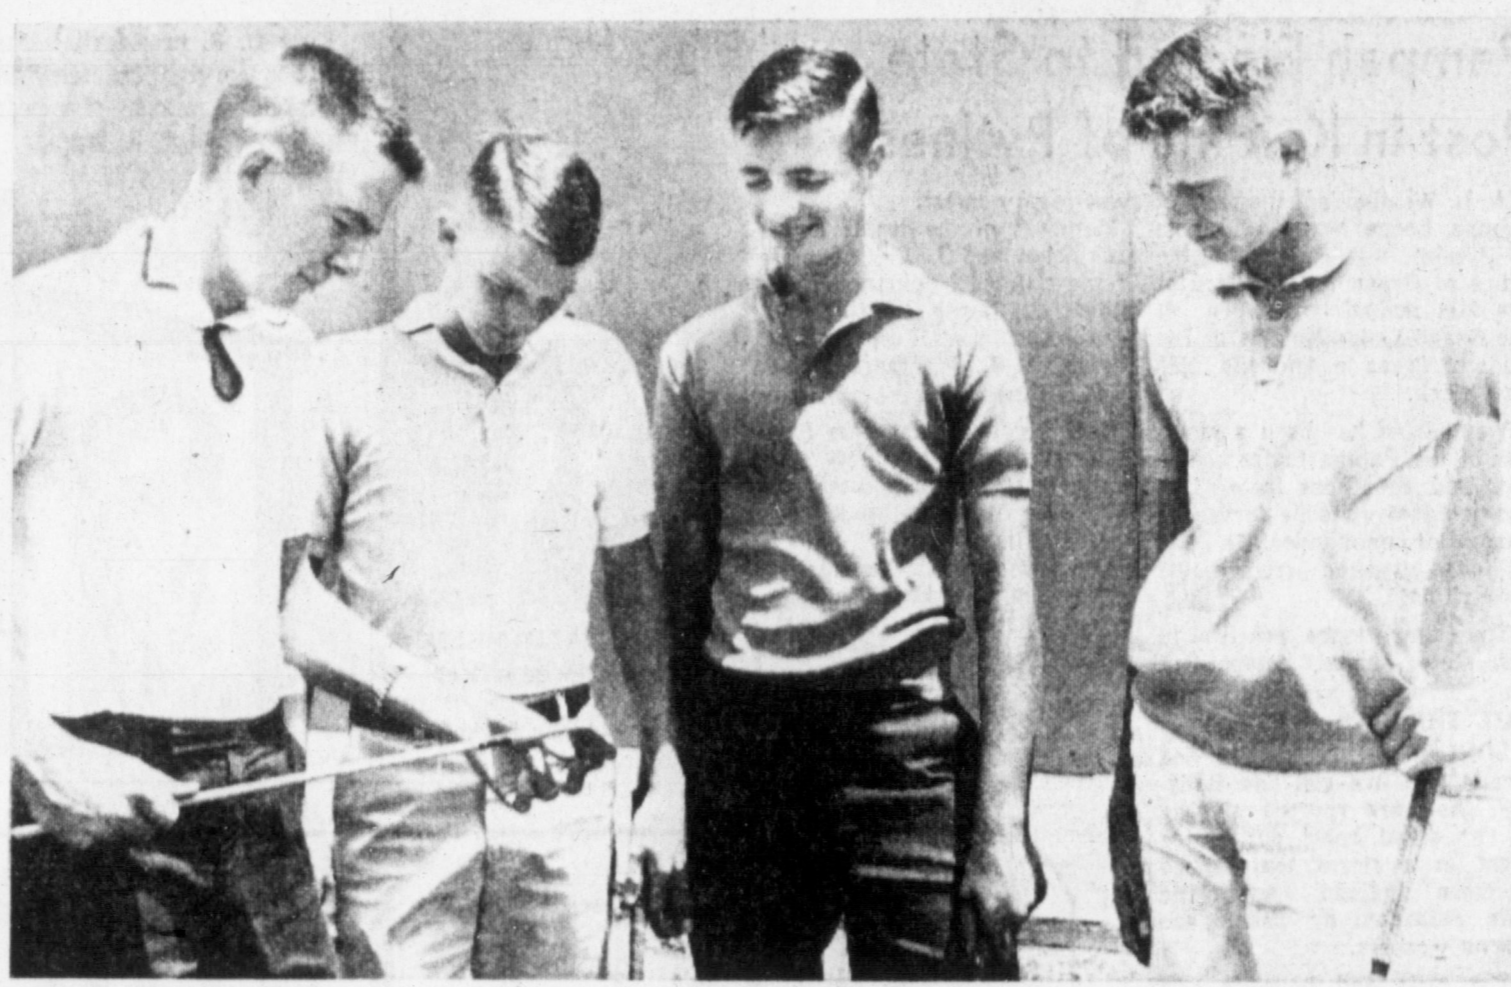

Golfers will have six weeks—July 11 to August 30—to qualify—and Crosby will play his round at the Wilshire Country Club in Los Angeles after the contest ends.

"My usual game at Wilshire is around 78," Crosby said. "With my current handicap of seven that gives me a net 71."

th is division will receive trophies but will not go to state. The boy hitting the longest ball in a driving contest will also be given a trophy. The first contestant will tee off at 8 a.m. with the 18-hole tournament proper to start after the driving derby.

Contestants must fill out an entry blank by noon Thursday. Pampans can register at the Youth Center, Smith's Quality Shoes or the Country Club. Contestants from other cities can get information about entering from their local Jaycees. There is no entry fee.

The Pampa Jaycees are making an attempt to get the state tournament for the Country Club course next year, reports Gary Griffin, tournament chairman last year and in charge of publicity this year.

Carol Mann Snatches Lead in Lady Carling

ELLICOTT CITY, Md. (UPI)—Local favorite Carol Mann fired an even-par 70 Saturday to lead the Lady Carling Women's Open golf tournament at the end of the second round with a two-over-par total of 142.

Miss Mann, who won the Pensacola Open that started the women golfers' 1964 tour but has not won a tournament since then, powered her way to the front as first-round leader Sandra Hayne of Fort Worth, Tex., soared six strokes over par with a 76, and dropped back into a third-place tie at 146 with Kathy Whitworth.

Clifford Ann Creed of Alexandria, La., who was in a four-way tie for fourth place at the start of the second round, moved up to the runner-up slot, three strokes behind Miss Mann.

Mickey Wright, last year's woman athlete of the year and perennial pre-tournament favorite, is six strokes back, in a

Lema Holds First In Buick Open

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (UPI)—Tony Lema battled par and pressure Saturday for a 35-37-72 which swept him into the final round of the Buick Open golf championship with a mere two-shot lead over onrushing Dow Finsterwald.

Lema finished the third round with a nine-under-par total of 207 at long and rugged Warwick Hills Golf Club, but Finsterwald threw a five-under-par 31 at him on the back nine for a 69 to move within two strokes of Lema.

Starting the third round, Lema had a three-shot lead on Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., and a five-shot lead over Finsterwald.

But then, after an outgoing 38, with a double bogey six on the ninth, Finsterwald made his big run.

When it was over, he faced the final round only two behind Lema, with Rudolph shooting a 68-70-73 for 211 which left him four behind the pacemaker.

That set up what appeared to be a three-man race in Sunday's final round. Because Charley Sifford, Harold Kneec and Don January all were tied for fourth at 214, seven shots off the lead.

On a bright, windy day, old Slammin' Sammy Sneed used his pendulum putter for the second time in firing a 38-34-72 for 221 and in the stubbed toe department, Phil Rodgers, tied for fourth only six shots back when the third round started, chopped himself out a 41-43-84 for 225.

At 215, one under par for the distance, came Bob Panasiuk with a 68 and Ken Venturi with a 69, while Dolan joined them with a 74.

At 216 came Art Wall, Bob Charles, Bob Goaly, Jerry Pittman, and Canada's Al Balding, but the rest of the field obviously had little chance.

Finsterwald was the victim of extreme hard luck on the ninth hole, when he hit his drive into a one-time sand trap over which grass had been planted. He played a provisional ball, but it was ruled that the ground was not under repair and he had to suffer a double bogey six for an out 38,

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

The First National Bank rallied in a big way to beat Fannon 14-9 and Kist maneuvered the rain just right to beat Ideal 4-2 Friday night.

Fannon came from behind to tie the Bankers at 4-4 and to go ahead at 9-8 but the First National men scored six runs in the bottom of the sixth to put the game out of reach.

The Cornutt boys did the most damage to Fannon, which was knocked out of sole possession of first place by the loss. Jim was the winning pitcher as he struck out eight and gave up six hits. Doc tripled in the go-ahead run in the big sixth.

Fannon used four pitchers but Alvin Achord, who walked three and gave up two hits, was the loser.

Kist came from behind twice to edge Ideal in a battle for first place as both managers made Casey Stengel look unimaginative.

Ideal took a 4-1 lead in the first inning but Kist edged in front 5-4 with three runs in the fourth.

Ideal had a man on third and none out in the top of the fifth when the rain came for the first time and Kist manager Walden Haynes put on the stall in an attempt to hold up the game until it was washed out.

The umpires halted the game for about 15 minutes but the rain let up and Ideal promptly took over a 6-5 lead while Haynes continued to stall and Ideal manager Vern Roper tried to speed things up.

Then Kist came back with four runs in the bottom of the fifth as the rain came down in increasing quantities. Haynes had catcher Steve Williams purposely struck out to end the frame and the ump's again delayed play.

To show his disdain for the rain, Roper had his boys out in it in a pepper game. He wasn't able to convince the umpires it wasn't raining, however, and the game ended there.

Rick Foster was the winning pitcher, Johnny Marsh the losing.

Ideal and the Bank break a tie for fifth tomorrow at 5:30 and Fannon seeks to move back into undisputed first place against Cree in the nightcap.

LITTLE LEAGUE

Johnny Carter of Cabot pitched the season's first no-hit game Friday night as he shut out Celanese 5-0, in the Eastern League. Hi-Land Pharmacy beat Coronado Inn 10-3 in the first Northern League game for both teams and Lone Star beat Hardin-Roth in the Western League.

The Eastern League game was scoreless until Cabot pushed across two runs in the fourth inning.

Fine defensive play by Cabot helped Carter to his no-hitter, as did the nine strikeouts he turned in.

Clark was the losing pitcher.

Hi-Land turned three hits into ten runs to give pitcher Doug Thompson his first victory. Thompson struck out ten and gave up nine hits.

David Irwin was the loser for Coronado Inn although he gave up just one hit. He was relieved by Jones in the top of the third.

Hi-Land's Teddy Knight had two for four, including a home run with two men on base. Besides pitching in relief for Coronado, Jones hit two doubles in four at bats.

Lone Star played errorless ball in the field and converted Hardin-Roth errors into 11 runs to gain its victory.

Edmondson was the winning pitcher as he struck out eight and gave up two hits. He also led the game's hitters with three hits in four at bats. Washington struck out 10 for Hardin-Roth but walked six and was stuck with the loss.

All action Monday is in the Northern League. Your Laundry plays Ruff in Park I at 7:30, Crall plays Hi-Land at 5:30 in Park II, and McCathern tries Coronado Inn at 7:30 in Park II.

NAME'S THE SAME

CHICAGO (UPI)—Baseball fans are waiting for the day when Billy Williams throws Billy Williams out of a game. It could happen. There's a National League umpire named Billy Williams and a Chicago Cubs outfielder with the same name.

SPORTS ROMANCE

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of baseball's top romances was that of Yankee pitcher Vernon (Lefty) Gomez and musical comedy star June O'Dea, who were married Feb. 26, 1933.

Bowling

First, congratulations to Carol Belmont for placing second in the senior girls division of the State Junior Bowling Tournament. That was a mighty pretty trophy you brought home, Carol.

The American Bowling Congress and the Women's International Bowling Congress are taking the kids under their wings this next year and I am sure that there will be lots of fun in store for our young bowlers. Ronnie Parsley of the Parsley clan came up with a nice 164 game and Larry Akers posted a 445 series in the opener of a bantam league. Such names you never did see in these summer leagues, Misfits, Out Casts, Beattles, Lady Bugs Rag Dolls, you name it, we've got it. What's in a name, nothing except that Don Carter has just signed a neat little contract for over one million dollars.

Speaking of names, this one is familiar, Mary Ray setting an average of 182 and maintaining it, too. Hope it lasts and lasts and lasts. Oran Skinner showed a little of his old time form by bowling a nice 567 and repeating immediately after in a makeup with a 575. It seems there is always a newsworthy item from the singles league. No big games this week—that is if I don't mention Jim Herring's 236 and 614 series—but rather it is the closeness of the leaders: 59, 58, 56, 55, 54, 54, 54, points makes this one anybody's ball game. Then Lonnie Harmon scaring the boys off in a pot game with a little 257. I promised Margaret Jones I wouldn't mention her scores so OK, I won't.

Thanks also to her improved technique Doris Been had a 91. Congratulations, also to Jim Adkins keeping his average close to that 200 mark and Dennis Huntley, a team mate reaching for a 200 average, too. We have a Georgia Hite and a Clara Kite bowling in the same league. Should have been on the same team.

It's nice to see Floyd Cockrell back bowling after a couple years absence.

I wish I had room to list all the new bowlers this summer but from all the new couples and people our local bowling associations should get off to a record number of members this year, and by the way, that long awaited association year book will be out pretty soon according to De Way Cudney, the new secretary.

I almost forgot to mention Nell Rankin's first 200, not in

Rebels And Colts In Action

Barring more rain both the Rebels and Colts will play today, the Rebs in Perryton in a district game and the Colts here at 3 p.m. against Umbarger in a Tri-State League game.

The Colts were scheduled to play Stinnett here last night. Rebel manager Harold Gregory said yesterday he would start either Bud Hammons or Carl Harnsberger against Perryton in search of the Rebs' fourth straight league win. Pampa beat Perryton 18-3 in Optimist Park June 6.

Tom Glover was scheduled to start Jerry Glover against Stinnett last night and Mike Clark against Umbarger this afternoon.

The Colt games will begin at 3 p.m. starting today, instead of at 2 as in the past, Glover said.

Weathered Humble used a big second inning to wallop the Jaycees 12-1 at Lions Park Friday night and Miami rallied to beat Cabot in Miami. Rain ended the Panhandle Packing - All-Stars game before it went far enough to become an official game.

Humble put together three singles, two walks, two doubles and two home runs to score eight times in the second inning and break the game open. Weathered also scored at least a run in each of the other three innings. Don Bigham and C. E. Cantrell paced Humble's 14-hit attack with home runs.

Delbert Daniels tossed a two-hitter to gain the victory. Ben Sparks went all the way for the Jaycees to take the loss.

Cabot pitcher Nelson Kitchens got wild in the fifth inning and walked seven men. Miami added two hits and a sacrifice to score six runs and break a 1-1 tie.

Larry Rider gave up eight hits to Kitchens' three but gained the victory. Kitchens, the loser, walked 11 compared to Rider's four.

Tuesday Miami hosts Humble and, at Lions Park, the Packers play Cabot at 7 and the All-Stars take on the Jaycees at 9.

Sunday the league's all-star team will play the Fabulous Five from Arlington, Tex., in a benefit game at Optimist Park.

Phils Still Lead, Yanks Bop Sox

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Jim Bunning hurled a brilliant five-hitter as he outpitched former Detroit teammate Frank Lary Saturday to lead the Phillies to an 8-2 victory over the New York Mets and preserve their grip on the National League lead.

Bunning kept the Mets under control except for home run balls he served to Ron Hunt in the first and Jim Hickman in the sixth. He permitted three other harmless singles and did not walk a man. The Mets failed to advance any of their runners to second base and had one man left on base, the others erased in double plays.

Angel String Cut

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Tigers Saturday snapped a four-game Los Angeles winning streak by pounding four pitchers for 14 hits in dumping the Angels, 8-5.

Red Sox Top Birds

BOSTON (UPI)—Boston righthander Earl Wilson stopped Baltimore on five hits Saturday while the Red Sox pounded Oriole rookie Wally Bunker for a 6-2 victory.

Bucs Topple Cubs

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Pirates staked veteran righthander Vernon Law to an early 7-2 lead Saturday, but he faltered and needed relief before the Chicago Cubs were subdued, 10 to 7.

McGaha Wins First

CLEVELAND (UPI)—The Kansas City A's used a two-run homer by Bill Bryan, eight bases on balls, and John Wyatt's strong relief pitching Saturday to score their first victory under new manager Mel McGaha, 5-4, over the Cleveland Indians.

Chisox on Skids

NEW YORK (UPI)—Reliever Bill Stafford pitched one-hit ball over 4-1-3 innings Saturday to lead the New York Yankees to a 6-3 comeback victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Pete Mikkelsen was called on to get the final two outs of the game, however, after Stafford yielded his first hit to Tom McCraw with one man out in the ninth. Stafford, who gained his third victory without a defeat, gave up only two walks, one of them in the ninth.

LITTLE MISS MOFFITT—Billie Jean Moffitt, now America's top-ranked player, reaches for a ball in her Wightman Cup match Friday. She will soon seek to regain the Wimbledon title she lost last year to Margaret Smith of Australia.

Richey's Victory Decisive

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—The United States won the Wightman Cup tennis matches against Britain for the fourth straight time, and 30th time in 36 tries, when poker-faced Nancy Richey of Dallas, Texas, upset British ace Ann Haydon Jones, 7-5, 11-9, Saturday in the clinching match.

The triumph by the 21-year-old Miss Richey, who refused to let a two-hour and 20-minute interruption by rain during the second set rattle her poise, gave the U.S. team an unbeatable 4-1 lead in the seven-match series.

Miss Richey Methodical

The last two matches, which had been scheduled Saturday, were rescheduled for Sunday because of the long delay. But wins by Miss Richey and Carole Caldwell of Santa Monica, Calif., in the two matches that were played made the remaining ones meaningless.

With the U.S. girls needing only a split in the four matches, Miss Caldwell opened the day with a 6-4, 1-6, 6-3, win over Elizabeth Starkie in a match filled with errors by both girls.

Nothing bothered Miss Richey, however, as she methodically cut down the left-handed Mrs. Jones, who only Friday was upset by Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif. Miss Richey won the first set handily and was leading 3-1 in the second when the rains came.

Many of the crowd of 4,000 stayed on until play was resumed.

Mrs. Jones fought back to make it 5-5 in the 10th game and the two girls settled down to a precision duel.

Laughter Upsets Timing

Miss Richey was ahead 5-4 and serving for the match in the 10th game when a roar of laughter from the crowd in the seats behind her appeared to upset her timing.

She was down 30-40 and then missed her first service. She lost the game and a chance to wind up the match early on the next shot. There was no indication what set off the laughter.

Miss Richey finally broke through the British girl's service in the 20th game.

"I always thought I could win, even at 5-5 and after she broke me," said Miss Richey. "The partisan crowd did not upset me but I lost my touch because I was cold."

Sens Edge Twins

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Claude Osteen allowed 10 hits but pitched all the way Saturday to give the Washington Senators a 4-2 victory over the Minnesota Twins. It was his fifth win and fifth complete game of the season.

Chuck Hinton drove in what proved to be the winning run in the sixth inning with a single to right-center, which brought home Ed Brinkman who had singled and moved to third on Don Zimmer's single.

Panhandle Outdoor Life

By STARKEY WHITEHORN
Quail census numbers have been received for many of the northern counties of the Panhandle. The population is down considerably throughout the entire area, with the possible exception of Oldham County.

Lake Black, Game Warden at Amarillo, tabulated only 3 bobwhites and 1 blue quail in Potter County. Stanley Brooks at Vega, Oldham County, tallied 19 blues and 5 bobs along his route. The highest number reported was from Warden Carl Carter at Clarendon, who recorded 76 bobs in Donley County, and the next highest from Jack Burrus at Childress, who noted 54 bobs and one blue in that area. Warden Stanley McDonough at Canyon recorded 7 bobs and 3 blues in Randall County.

The lowest number reported was from Hemphill County. Game Warden P. D. Moseley recorded only 2 quail in that county; however, the tally sheet did show two prairie chickens seen and two pheasants heard. Coming up the river from Canadian to Roberts County, Jack Woodford reported 17 bobs along his route, together with 4 blues and 2 pheasants. James Pratt, at Perryton, recorded 5 bobs on the Wolf Creek check, while Calvin Tow at Dalhart heard 11 blues and 7 pheasants in the Dalhart County area.

In the past, the quail count has been more than 200 in the Childress area. The number now is less than half of that. Bobwhites have a habit of bouncing back from extreme lows in population, and they very well could do that this summer if the rains continue to fall regularly during the nesting season.

The record from George Parr in Wheeler County hasn't been received. Word was that some of the roads along the route there were washed out. June 9 will mark the next quail count, to be followed by one on June 23, one July 7, and the last one July 21. The first count revealed that there are far more birds in the Clarendon and Childress area than the northern part of the state.

Both deer and antelope fawns should begin to show up almost any time now. In both species, the mother usually beds down her young while feeding. These small, jackrabbit-sized young might seem deserted but it is better to let the mother decide that. Every few years someone will capture a deer or antelope and declare that he rescued it. That is anyone's privilege, just as is the privilege of breaking other laws. It is strictly against the law to keep in captivity young wild deer and antelope. The penalty is a minimum of $50.00 and a maximum of $200.00, plus court costs.

It is also contrary to the statutes to destroy nests or eggs of wild birds. The law reads as follows: "It shall be unlawful for any person to destroy or take the nest, eggs, or young of any wild game bird, wild bird, or wild fowl, protected by this chapter, except as provided herein. Any person violating any provision of this article shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than ten ($10.00) Dollars nor more than One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars."

Exotics From Hatchery
The state game bird hatchery, reports the Parks and Wildlife Department, is producing a satisfactory number of exotic game bird off-spring. Both the gray francolin, an import from India, and the French red-legged partridge from Europe are being raised and released on an experimental basis in select areas compatible with the bird's native habitat.

Latest compiled figures show that five states have raised 1,082 gray francolins, with three-quarters of this number produced at the Texas hatchery. Production was a remarkable 37 eggs per hen, with good survival rates. Six states raised 5,223 red-legged partridge, and again Texas produced the bulk of the crop.

Gray francolin releases were begun in Texas in 1956 when 20 wild-trapped birds were released in Armstrong County. In 1959, 270 wild-trapped birds were released in McCulloch County. In 1963 farm-raised francolins from Tyler were released in the same county, and this year 246 more were added. Ranchers in the area report seeing broods of young birds which is cause for hope that the birds are adapting to their new habitat.

A total of 704 red-legged partridge were released in Lamar County in 1961 and 1962. In 1963 there were 806 released in Lavaca County, and an additional 31 in Fayette County. This year 150 additional partridges were delivered to the above counties. Young birds, in most of the release areas, have been noted by observers.

SCD News

By ARNEAL SCOTT

Harris King of McLean reported that the 60 acres of native grass he seeded this year has come up to an excellent stand of grass on his farm north of Alanreed. He seeded 71 acres this year. Taylor is irrigating 56 acres of the seeded grass. The recent regular rainfall has been ideal for grass seedlings.

Many landowners and operators practice some native grass deferment each year. Grass that is rested during the summer produces cured forage that can be used by livestock during cold winter months when there is a shortage of dry feed. Milton Carpenter, Stan Friend, Harvey Hudgins, Mrs. J. B. Noel, James Cllett and Billy Davis are some of the ranchers that plan summer deferment in their annual grazing programs. Most ranch units can be managed so that one or more pastures can be deferred each summer. Pastures that are rested through a 3 to 6 months period will improve in range condition and plant vigor, which will result in an overall increase in range production. Billy Davis, Johnny Hines, Leslie Webb, Harvey Hudgins, J. D. Fish and John B. Rice did approximately 4,000 acres of brush control work this year. They sprayed sandage and shiner oak brush which will reduce plant competition and give the better grasses a chance to grow. Deferred grazing is recommended for 3 to 6 months following brush control. The Gray County Soil Conservation District has a two yard carryall available for farmers and ranchers in Gray County. Curtis Schaffer, Elmer Balch, Sailor Bros. and Gray Bros. have used the carryall. They highly recommend it for most earth moving projects.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
Gray County Agent

Raymond Darsey was by my office last week and the question came up regarding the speed limit for pickup trucks. The last legislature raised the speed limits of passenger cars and certain other vehicles from 55 at night and 60 day to 65 night and 70 day.

Quite a number of pickup owners are not aware of this. There hasn't been a lot of publicity given the fact. It is for this reason that I am mentioning the matter.

The farm trailer law was also changed. This law requires that farm trailers and semi-trailers with a gross weight of 4,000 pounds (but not exceeding 10,000 pounds) be registered with the county tax assessor-collector, and farmers must secure a special farm trailer license plate for an annual fee of $5.00. Farm trailers and semi-trailers up to 4,000 pounds gross weight do not have to secure a farm license plate. There are no brake requirements up to 10,000 pounds gross weight.

There are certain lighting requirements that I will not list. If interested call my office or check with law enforcement agencies.

Wheat Yields

Loyal Bird tells me he had a 13 bu. average on his wheat. There have been others in the south part of the county that have even higher yields. Loyal farms about 14 miles South of Pampa.

Rip Snyder of the Groom Wheat Grower's Elevator at Grandview said yields were averaging about 12 bu. per acre in that vicinity. Last Wednesday's rain yielded 1.5 inches.

Lee Heaton, Fisher Panhandle Grain, said most farmers were pretty disappointed in yields in the Pampa vicinity. Some yields were less than 4 bu. per acre. Some were expected to run 10 bu. or better.

Bob Galmore, Hoover Grain, Inc., says yields are averaging from 7-10 bu. with some yields even higher. One unconfirmed report has it that Leon Daugherty made up to 15 bu. on one place.

Test weight has been good according to Galmore, up to 60-62 lbs. per bu. moisture from 10-13 per cent and well within that required for government loan.

Wheat prices are at $1.45 per cu. for No. 1 wheat. There have been no reports on protein and sedimentation as of yet. Galmore reports one inch moisture with last Wednesday's rain.

K. L. Nickel, from Heaton Switch, Trans-Con Grain reports yields running from 6-19.5 by per acre. Jim Philpott was reported to have made just under 20 bu. per acre.

Rainfall at that station was an even one inch.

Irvin Cole reports making 12 bu. per acre on a quarter section, South of Pampa.

Arnold Doss made between 12 and 13 bu. on a farm in the Kingsmill vicinity.

4-H News

By JERRY HARLAND

A new 4-H club in the Lamar School district is in the process of being organized. Anyone living in this area that is interested in joining, contact Mrs. Ernest Pulse or Mrs. Glen Day, the organizational leaders.

Several 4-H club members are doing excellent work with their beef cattle projects. Andy Cole, who is feeding a calf from the Gus Carruth herd, has done a great deal of work with his calf and is making a real good first year feeder. Phillip Savage and Gary Richardson have trimmed the hoofs on their calves. This is an essential item in making show cattle walk correctly.

We are very proud of the 4-H boys who participated in the State 4-H Roundup at College Station last week. Bill Skaggs and Stephen Maddox won a first place in the Field Crop Demonstration. These boys also won a $50 pair of boots. Lee Pulse and Jim Craig placed second with their Beef Cattle Demonstration. These boys received an engraved plaque from the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers Association.

Keith McCann was high individual in the Rifle Contest with a 375 out of 400 score. The entire rifle team composed of Danny Hogsett, Bob Ward, Mike Burnett and Keith McCann placed third in the Rifle Contest at State Roundup.

Bob McCann was the coach of the team. Bob has done an outstanding job as coach for the Rifle Team.

WORKING THE GARDEN

Ted Reeves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Reeves of south of Pampa, is shown working on his garden project for the Top O' Texas 4-H Club. Ted is in the horse and pony 4-H club, 4-H rifle project and he exhibited a barrow at the Top O' Texas Livestock Show.

Thrips Damages Cotton in Area

Thrips populations are spotted over the Plains. Infestations range from light to heavy on cotton throughout the area. According to Foster Whaley, County Ag. Agent, an increase in damage has been noted during the past week. Several High and Rolling Plains counties are now reporting severe, damaging infestations.

The insect attacks other crops as well as cotton. When host crops of thrips — clover, wheat, oats, and several others — mature, the insects migrate to cotton. As soon as cotton comes to a stand in the spring, it is subject to thrips attack.

Insecticides Make Good Pest Control

Ants are becoming a nuisance in homes and lawns in many sections of the county. These pests can be effectively controlled when recommended insecticides are used, advises County Ag. Agent Foster Whaley.

Among the most popular and effective insecticides for ant control are chlordane and dieldrin. These may be applied along window and door sills, foundation cracks, baseboards and other possible runways for the ants. Some nesting places for ants are behind walls, in closets, in furniture and other dark undisturbed places. When a nesting place is found, one of the following practices may be followed to destroy the nest.

Effective control, in most instances, depends upon locating and destroying nests and thoroughly treating the area with proper insecticides. When ants are found in the house they may be controlled by applying 2-3 percent chlordane or 0.5 percent dieldrin household sprays.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

HAROLD STARBUCK, MINISTER
HI-LAND CHRISTIAN CHURCH

ANCHOR OF THE SOUL

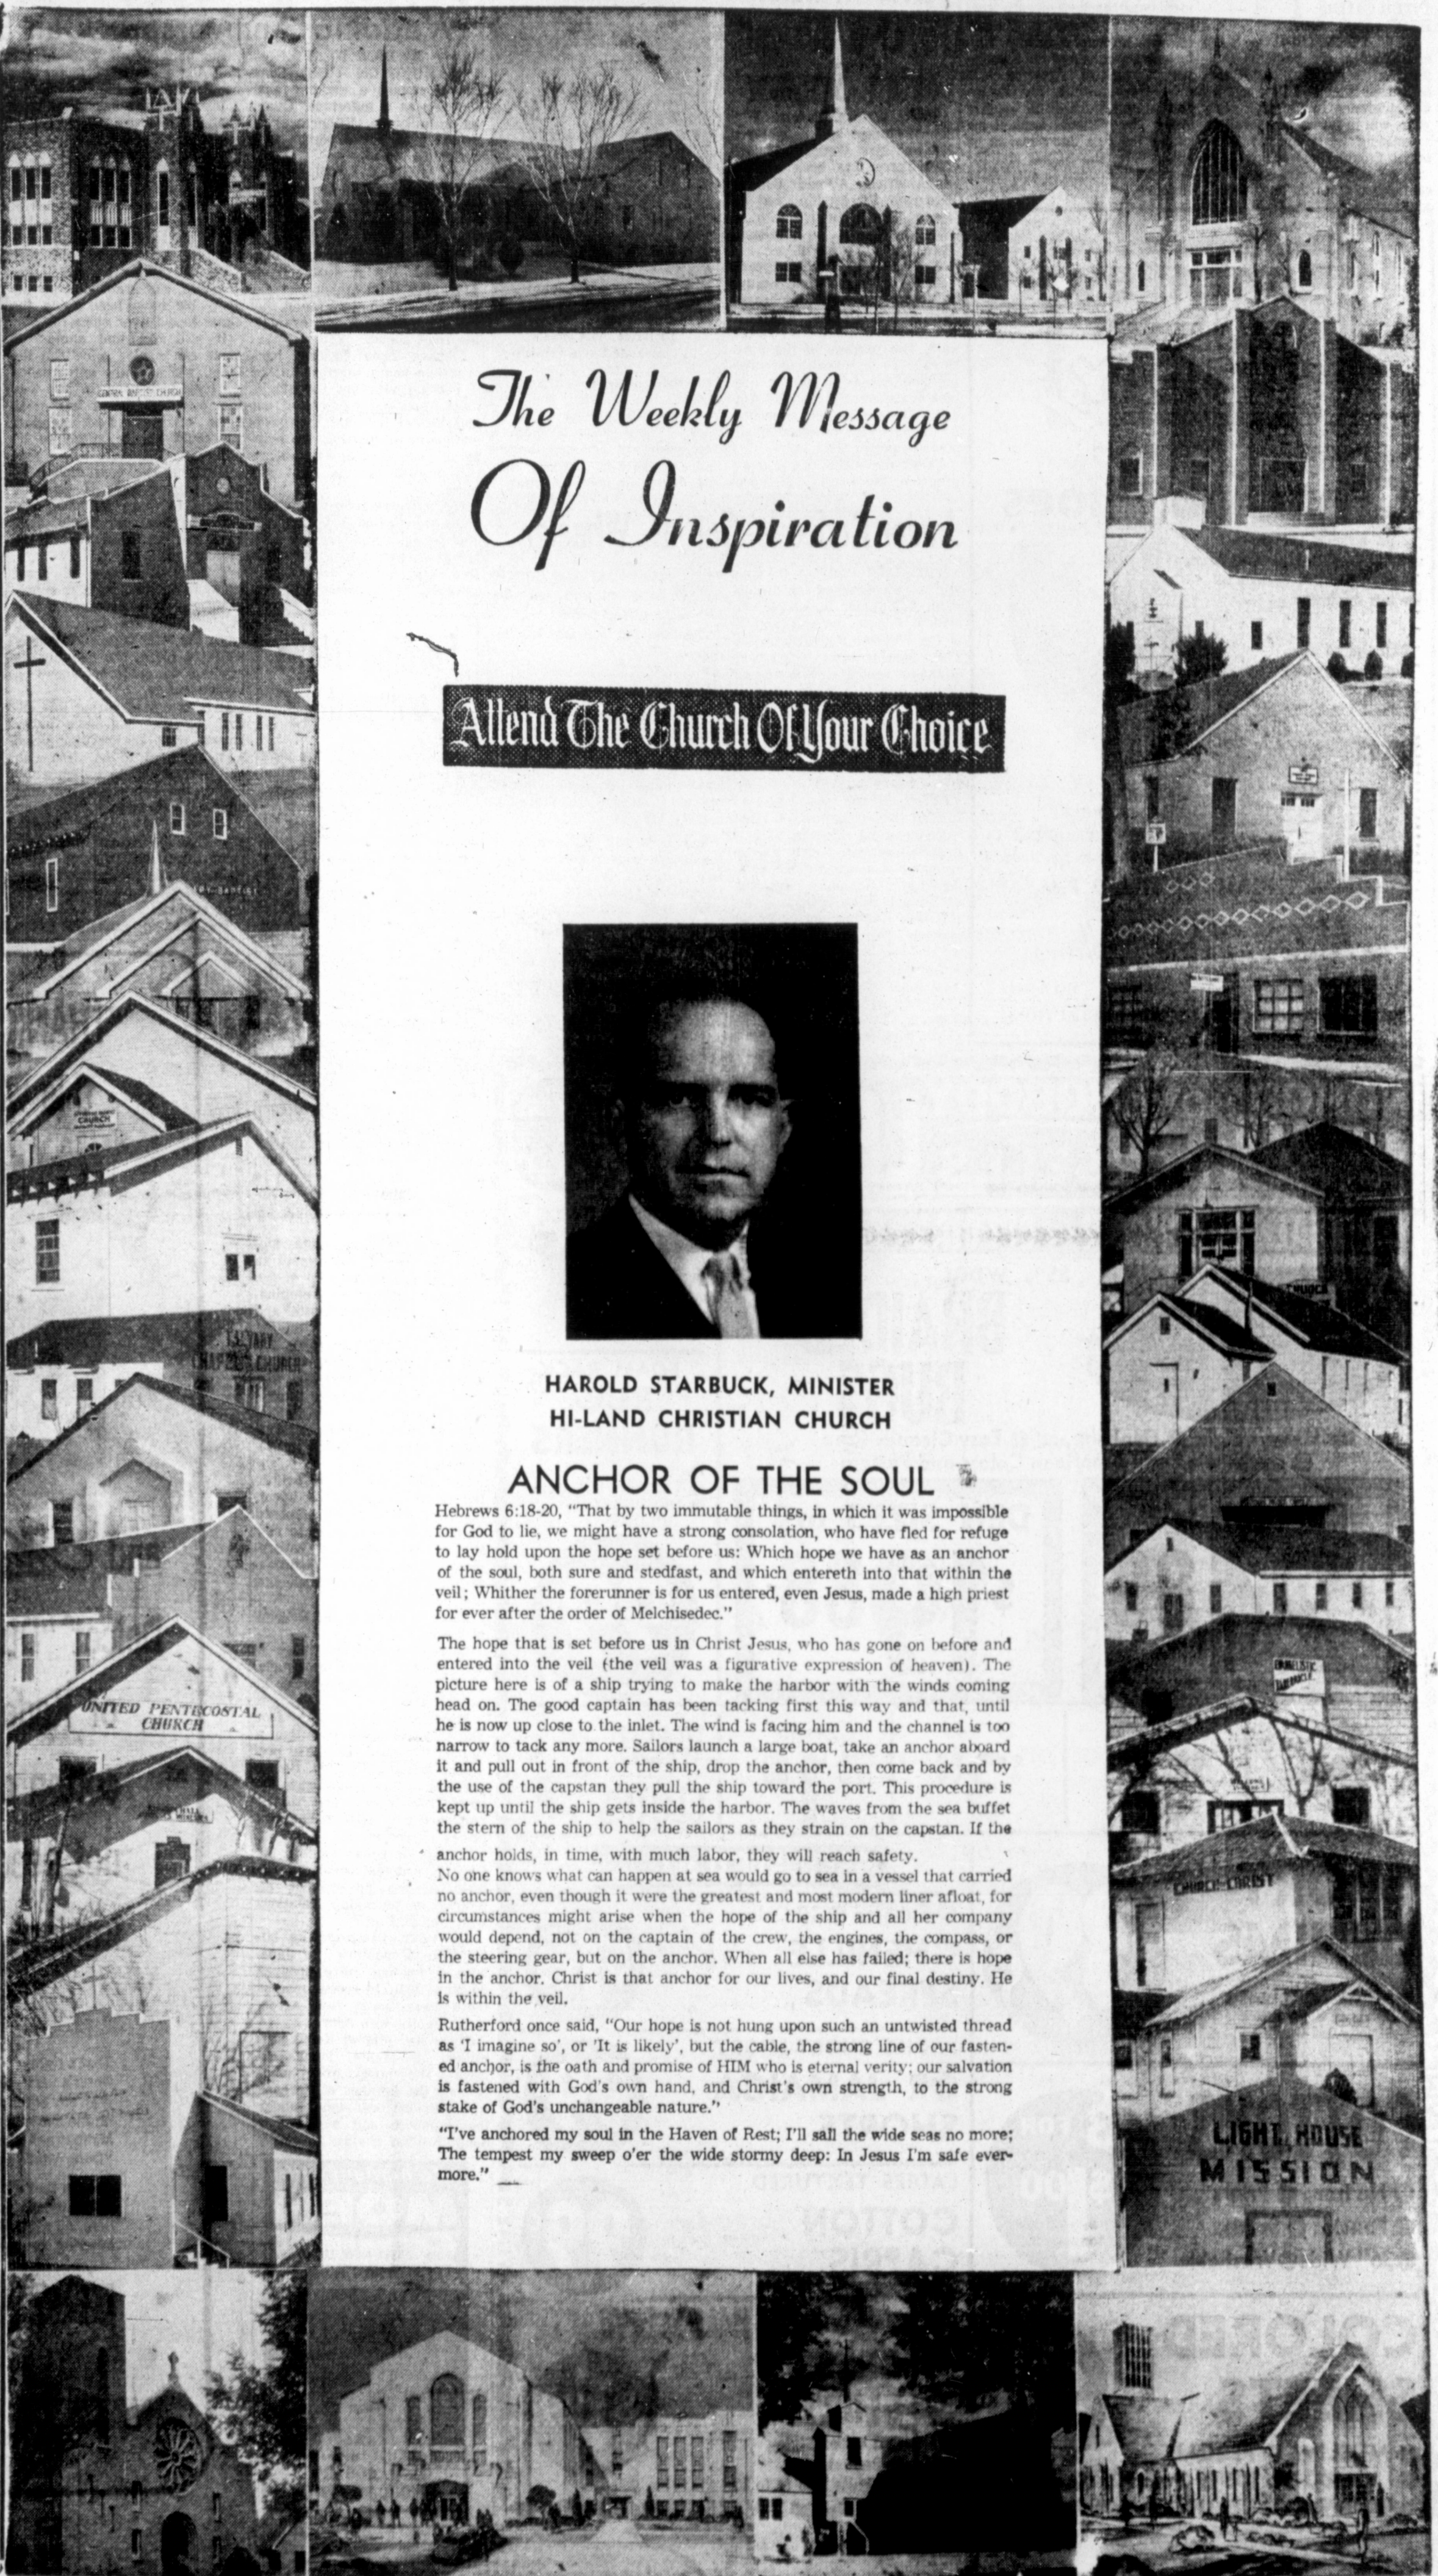

Hebrews 6:18-20, "That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us: Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and stedfast, and which entereth into that within the veil; Whither the forerunner is for us entered, even Jesus, made a high priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec."

The hope that is set before us in Christ Jesus, who has gone on before and entered into the veil (the veil was a figurative expression of heaven). The picture here is of a ship trying to make the harbor with the winds coming head on. The good captain has been tacking first this way and that, until he is now up close to the inlet. The wind is facing him and the channel is too narrow to tack any more. Sailors launch a large boat, take an anchor aboard it and pull out in front of the ship, drop the anchor, then come back and by the use of the capstan they pull the ship toward the port. This procedure is kept up until the ship gets inside the harbor. The waves from the sea buffet the stern of the ship to help the sailors as they strain on the capstan. If the anchor holds, in time, with much labor, they will reach safety.

No one knows what can happen at sea would go to sea in a vessel that carried no anchor, even though it were the greatest and most modern liner afloat, for circumstances might arise when the hope of the ship and all her company would depend, not on the captain of the crew, the engines, the compass, or the steering gear, but on the anchor. When all else has failed; there is hope in the anchor. Christ is that anchor for our lives, and our final destiny. He is within the veil.

Rutherford once said, "Our hope is not hung upon such an untwisted thread as 'I imagine so', or 'It is likely', but the cable, the strong line of our fastened anchor, is the oath and promise of HIM who is eternal verity; our salvation is fastened with God's own hand, and Christ's own strength, to the strong stake of God's unchangeable nature."

"I've anchored my soul in the Haven of Rest; I'll sail the wide seas no more; The tempest my sweep o'er the wide stormy deep: In Jesus I'm safe evermore."

INTER-FAITH REORGANIZATION
 NEW YORK (UPI) — The operations of the National Conference on Religion and Race, organized after the first national conference in Chicago last year, will in future be shared on a rotating basis by the three major groups involved.
 In an effort to streamline the conference's work, an agreement was reached recently that the National Council of Churches, the National Catholic Welfare Conference and the Synagogue Council of America will rotate responsibility for the organization's work on a yearly basis. The National Council assumed the role this year, to be followed by the NCWC and the Synagogue Council in successive years.

Terrie Watson To Live Abroad During Summer

TERRIE WATSON
... awarded scholarship

Terrie Watson, Pampa High School student and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Watson, 1100 Terry, has been awarded an American Abroad Summer Program Scholarship and will leave June 27 to live with an English family in Wallasey, Eng., until Sept. 10.
 She was one of 1,200 youths selected by a selection committee from the 5,723 applicants. Mrs. Aubrey Steele, president of the American Field Service, said. The purpose of the program is to increase understanding and friendship among peoples of the world by giving American teenagers the opportunity to live with families in another country.
 Under the A.F.S. summer program, the youths will represent their schools, communities and the United States while living with a family for six to 10 weeks. Terrie will become a "daughter" of her host family and will share in the daily life and usual summer activities.

HOLD OPEN HOUSE

A Queen contest also will be held in connection with the rodeo.

MADRID (UPI) — The U.S. and Spanish air forces will hold open house for Spanish civilians on "U.S.-Spanish Friendship Day" today at their jointly operated airbase at Torrejon, outside Madrid.

Spaniards will get a look at the base's huge runways, some new aircraft types and base equipment generally. An air show will include parachute jumps and demonstrations of formation flying.

The Lighter Side

Wedding Anniversary Can Bring on That Reflective Mood

By DICK WEST
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some people regard a wedding anniversary as a milestone. Others are likely to put a person in a reflective mood.

My wife and I will soon be celebrating our 15th anniversary. Which in many respects is quite a remarkable achievement.
 Fifteen years is by no means a record. But it does provide a plateau from which one can look back upon the ground that has been covered and evaluate the road ahead.

I have been looking back over our years together to see if I could pick out the single most important element of our marriage. I felt that this information might possibly be helpful to younger couples who are still groping for the right formula.
 The retrospective view finds many things that have contributed to our matrimonial well-being — our home, our children, our African violets, my naturally sweet disposition, etc.

But of them all, I would say that the most vital factor has been instant coffee.

Instant coffee has given us a certain measure of financial stability, without which no marriage is likely to survive.

The very first time we went grocery shopping my wife noticed that one of the brands of instant coffee was marked "10 cents off regular price."

Eager to impress me with what a clever bargain-hunter she was, she grabbed it on the spot. We have been using the same brand ever since.

It still has that same "10 cents off regular price" on the label, which is the only reason we have kept using it. The way the price of coffee has risen since we were first married, we could hardly afford to do otherwise.

Figuring our consumption at one jar per week, I estimate that in 15 years we have paid $78 less than we would have paid had we been paying the regular price.

This is a source of great pride to us both, for it represents our sole accomplishment in the financial field. Rising from the wreckage of so many well-laid plans, we can always say that we came out ahead on instant coffee.

It is true that during this entire 15 years we have never known what the regular price was supposed to be. You can only arrive at that figure by taking the price you pay and adding 10 cents to it.

However, we never considered that the regular price was very important anyway. What mattered was being able to buy the coffee at 10 cents below that amount.

Foreign News Commentary

The Korean way of life never has been noted for its adherence to democratic principles. Under nearly 50 years of harsh Japanese rule prior to the end of World War II many a Korean died in forced labor. In the closing days of the Syngman Rhee regime in 1960, the United States felt called upon to protest the government's "repressive measures unsuited to a free democracy."

Nor can the student riots which finally toppled the Rhee government, plagued his successor, Dr. John Myun Chang, and more lately sought the downfall of President Park Chung Hee be called the way of democracy.

Yet there was plenty to complain about.

Despite U.S. military and economic aid totalling more than $4 billion since 1953, per capita income in the Republic of Korea is down to a miserable $40 per year.

When a military junta toppled the Chang government in 1961, an announced goal of the military leaders was elimination of government waste and corruption.

When the military junta led by Park Chung Hee, then a general, stepped aside last winter to permit Park, now a civilian, to take over a freely elected government, the elections were among the fairest in Korean history.

But corruption is a built-in fixture of Korean government. President Park tacitly admitted as much when, in reply to new student demands, his government, announced the dismissal of 576 officials for misbehavior and corruption.

There is more to the tragedy of Korea.

Corruption enriches those in high places. Among the people, hunger and unemployment go hand-in-hand.

Massive U.S. surplus food shipments totalling more than a million tons last year have prevented actual starvation. But 20 per cent of the population is unemployed, others are underemployed and inflation has sent prices skyrocketing.

Student uprisings against the Park government began as protests against government attempts to normalize relations with Japan.

The talks, hampered by bitter Korean memories of Japanese occupation, have dragged on since 1951. In recent months there were hopes that agreement finally was near.

Japan had offered Korea $600 million in grants, loans and credit. The money would compensate the families of Koreans who died in forced labor under the Japanese and meet other South Korean claims.

Youths Head for Outdoors and Summer Fun

Summer is just a week away and it's that time of year when young Mr. and Miss Pampa put away the indoor games and head for the great outdoors.

Memories of the deep snow of last winter and the blasting wind of early spring have faded. The minds of children now turn to summertime activities and playing in the sun.

Happy days are here again for the pre-teen junior set. They're working off excess vim, vigor and vitality in ways that fit the outdoor scene. The Pampa News photographer took his camera and roamed around town to see how Pampa boys and girls (from 3 to 10 years old) are spending the lazy vacation time.

Here is what he saw:
FULL SPEED — Wagons, up per left, come in for heavy action on Pampa sidewalks. Kurt Louvier, riding in the wagon, makes a sharp turn while being pushed by Kenny Converse.

Kurt is the son of Mrs. Peggy Louvier, 512 Lowry, and Kenny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Converse, 504 Lowry.

Central park. The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cox, 621 Bradley Drive.

SAND PILE — Bobby, left, and Dubby Taylor in the lower right picture, build roads and streets in their backyard sand pile. The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Taylor, 701 Magnolia.

Country Neighbors Conduct Meeting

GROOM (Spl) — Mrs. Jim Hermesmeier was in charge of the Wednesday meeting of the Groom Country Neighbors Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Robert Kuehler and Mrs. Raphael Britten were hostesses.

Mrs. Glynn D. Harrell gave a report on the District THDA meeting.

Rules and by-laws for the "Woman of the Year" were read and accepted and the club voted to support Mrs. Charles Warminski as nominee to State THDA.

Sandra Kotara presented her district winning 4-H demonstration, "Teen-age Grooming" as the program.

Mrs. Dan Ashford present.

Miss Sandra Harrington

Former Pampa High Student Completes Pharmacy Training

Sandra Harrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cannon, 101 S. Dwight, has graduated from Oklahoma University and plans to practice pharmacy at Mercy Hospital in Oklahoma City.

Sandra received the Richard Drug Pharmacy Scholarship and attended Southwestern State College from 1959-1961. She was a member of the Pharmacy Women and Delta Zeta Sorority.

She received an award as the outstanding junior woman in 1962 from Oklahoma University where she studied her junior and senior year. She served as secretary of the Student Branch, APHA and received the Fox Viet Drug Senior Award and Scholarship. She was also listed on the staff of the "Senior Antidote," a pharmacy yearbook publication and was on the Dean's Honor Roll.

Family Social Plans Made by Skelly Club

SKELLYTOWN (Spl) — Plans for an ice cream social for families of members of the Skelly Schafer Club were made in a meeting conducted in the home of Mrs. Harold Gosnell.

Mrs. B. A. Wesner assisted the hostess.

The social was scheduled for July 14, at 8:30 p.m. in the Skelly Club House at Schafer Camp.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mmes. John Pierce, J. M. Chapin, Raymond Shannon, Ed Mosley, LeRoy Allen, Bill Truitt, Bob Heaton, John Simmons, and guests; Mmes. Pat McPheters, Ralph McGee and Elmer Nichols, a new member.

Nuptial Vows Solemnized During Afternoon Ceremony

Nuptial vows were solemnized yesterday afternoon in Fellowship Baptist Church by Miss Marilyn Kay Fort and Ronald Wayne Thompson.

Rev. Alvin Adams read the double ring ceremony before a setting of floral baskets holding gladioli and palms.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Fort, 129 S. Faulkner and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Thompson, 601 N. Christy.

Miss Eloise Lane presented traditional wedding music from the organ and accompanied the vocalist, Mrs. Tony Timmons who sang, "The Wedding Prayer" and "I Love You Truly".

BRIDE
The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white chiffon gown with an all-over lace jacket designed with a high rounded neckline and white tapered sleeves ending at the wrists. Satin trim accented the jacket. The street-length skirt fell in full gathers of white chiffon. A jeweled tiara secured the bride's silk illusion elbow-length veil and she carried a white Bible topped by a white carnation.

ATTENDANTS
A blue two-piece eyelet suit was worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. Mike Fort, sister-in-law of the bride. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Michael A. Fort served his brother as best man and ushers were Bud Parker, Don Parker and Jerry Thomas.

Mrs. Fort wore a pink lace ensemble over taffeta with matching accessories for the wedding. The mother of the bridegroom chose a beige lace dress with beige and green accessories. Both wore pink carnation corsages.

RECEPTION
The bride's table was laid in Fellowship Hall for a reception in honor of the couple following the ceremony. The bridal bouquet covered the lace over blue covered table. Mrs. Bob Fish, sister of the bride, assisted at the punch bowl and Mrs. Gene Fort, sister-in-law of the bride, served the cake. Assistants at the table were Mrs. Walter Hughes and Mrs. Francis Cox.

For a wedding trip to Dennison, the bride traveled in a blue linen shift accented by a printed silk blouse and matching accessories.

The bride attended Pampa schools and the bridegroom is a graduate of Pampa High School and an employe of Hollis Service Mart.

The couple will make their home at 108 N. Faulkner.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Amebiasis, once thought to be limited to the tropics, is now found in every part of the United States. Its prevalence is increasing as travelers return from high incidence areas. This disease used to be called amoebic dysentery, but it would rarely be discovered if we doctors waited for diarrhea to develop in those who are infected.

The disease is caused by a microscopic parasite that may contaminate drinking water. Vegetables may be contaminated by being washed in such water and other foods may be contaminated by flies or by human carriers. This is why it is important to boil the water and avoid uncooked vegetables in areas where the sanitation is poor.

Of the estimated 10 percent of the population who are infected, most have no symptoms and are classed as carriers. The symptoms, when present, are variable and may include fatigue, headache, loss of appetite, and vague abdominal discomfort.

Even in a person who harbors germs these symptoms are often unrelated to his infection. For this reason your doctor cannot make the diagnosis of mebiasis on the basis of symptoms alone but must rely on a blood test and a microscopic stool examination.

Unfortunately the blood test is not as accurate as we would like and the stool examination is time-consuming and requires great skill for reliable results. To further complicate the matter, there are strains of harmless amoebas that are almost indistinguishable from those that cause the disease.

The real mischief develops when amoebas burrow into the walls of the intestinal tract and cause small ulcers. This results in bleeding which in the early stages is not recognizable without a blood test.

As a more serious complication, the amoebas may invade the liver where they cause the formation of a chronic abscess that is very hard to treat. Although most persons with amoebic infections live in relative harmony with their parasites, amebiasis is a potential killer.

When a definite diagnosis of amebiasis is made, all other members of the family should be examined because they too are probably infected. There are several powerful drugs that can be used to rid the body of these unwanted free loaders. These include emetine, quinacrine and chloroquine.

The moral of my story is that, because of the difficulties in diagnosing this disease, the best treatment is prevention. Your first protection is a safe community water supply. Screen your windows and sweat every fly that comes inside. When traveling, drink boiled or bottled water or carry tablets of Globaline which can be used to purify a quart of water.

Cleanliness Bureau Offers Summer Tips

These interesting tips on keeping cool came from the Cleanliness Bureau, and were passed on to the News by the local county home demonstration agent, Miss Lou Ella Patterson.

Inhabitants of hot climates keep cool by adding one layer of clothing atop another — to keep heat out! So remember it's smart to wear at least two layers — underwear and outerwear. The inside layer insulates against outside heat and absorbs perspiration.

Lightweight cotton knit lingerie is especially cool and comfortable next to the skin because of its absorbency. In hot weather, it is often cooler to wear longer leg panties than briefs. The porous fabric serves to absorb perspiration and prevents the inner thighs from rubbing each other — thus reducing the causes of painful chafing. It goes without saying that all lingerie should be changed at least once a day, then laundered in soap or detergent duds promptly, by hand or machine.

After laundering baby's plastic pants, stuff a small hand towel inside to dry them quickly and to prevent the material from sticking to itself. Sift a little powder inside when the pants are dry, and they will feel smoother and cooler to his skin.

Tuck a cake of soap into the chest of drawers where little garments are kept. It permeates them with a nice, clean fragrance that baby will enjoy.

For baby's summertime comfort, drape a clean terry-cloth towel over his high chair — to absorb perspiration and protect his bare back and legs from sticking to the chair.

Baby's bottle, nipple, and cap should be rinsed with cool water, then washed with hot soap or detergent suds immediately after every feeding.

RUTH MILLETT

"Would you please, please write a column," asks a woman reader, "about the mothers who have but one topic of conversation — a teen-age daughter?"

"Wherever you speak of one of these doting mothers, you have to listen while she goes on and on about her daughter. And when two of the same sort are in a group, heaven help the others. No one else gets a chance to get a word in edgewise. Do these mothers really suppose that every one is as interested in their teen-agers' doings as they are?"

A mother who talks constantly about a teen-age daughter has probably never bothered to ask herself if anyone else is interested.

She talks about her daughter at every opportunity for one of two reasons.

She is so busy reliving her own girlhood through her daughter that she hasn't any real and absorbing interests of her own.

Or — she thinks her daughter needs a full-time press agent, to get her launched, and figures that mother is just the person for the job. So she tackles it with dedication, and doesn't let up until her daughter is safely married.

If these doting mothers bore you too much with their endless chatter about their darling daughters, there's just one solution. Avoid them for a few years.

Once they marry off their daughters, they'll quit talking about them. As soon as the girls are out of dating competition, the mothers will relax and go back to leading their own lives. They'll then have some more generally interesting topics of conversation.

It's amazing how much a daughter's marriage can do for the woman who has been thinking of nothing else since her daughter's first date in junior high.

During dry periods, water shrub beds thoroughly at least once a week.

Miss Donna Herr, Craig Winborn Wed In Double Ring Candlelight Service

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Winborn

Miss Donna Herr became the bride of Craig Winborn at 7 p.m. May 29 in the Lutheran Church. Rev. A. Bruns read the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Herr, 449 Pitts and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Winborn, 617 Lowry.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chiffon with a round-neckline and three-quarter length push-up sleeves. The skirt fell in full gathers from the fitted waistline. She wore a picture hat of white braided horse hair and carried a cascade bouquet of white marigolds and daisies matching the flowers on her hat.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Marquette Stockton, attending the bride as matron of honor, wore a pink chiffon ensemble and carried a matching bouquet of pink majestic daisies.

Gerald Reed attended as best man and Gary Herr, Borger, was usher. Stephen Herr, Borger, nephew of the bride, lighted the candles which accented the background of floor baskets holding white daisies and emerald palms.

Mrs. J. E. Gunn was organist.

Mrs. Herr chose a dress of blue silk with matching accessories and a corsage of white gardenias for her daughter's wedding.

Mrs. Winborn wore an ensemble of white with rose pink accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

The bridegroom is a student at Oklahoma City University and 1960 graduate of Pampa High School.

Mrs. Winborn is a 1960 graduate of Pampa High School and attended the University of Texas and North Texas State University.

Rotate Curtains And Draperies

JOLIET, Ill. (UPI) — To prolong the life of curtains and draperies, here are a few tips from the American Institute of Laundering.

If practical, rotate the curtains and draperies occasionally from sunny windows to unexposed windows to equalize the effect of the sun on the fabric. Constant exposure to direct sunlight weakens most fibers.

Frequently cleaned draperies and curtains will wear longer and look better because soil that can cause permanent discoloration does not become imbedded in the fabric. When having your curtains and draperies cleaned professionally, tell the cleaner if they contain glass yarns or synthetic fibers requiring special care.

Young People Return from Youth Festival

SKELLYTOWN (Spl) — A group of Skellytown young people have returned from the Baptist Youth Festival at Six Flags. Over 42,000 young people attended the event.

Those traveling from Skellytown included Nam Harman, Daren Mathews, Rita Spence, Sally Banks, Ruth Geisler, Wanda Moore, Larry Simmons, Kenney Carter and James Bewley. Mrs. Irvin Brown, Mrs. Ralph For and Mrs. M. L. Mercer sponsored the group.

Wedding Announced

Guests enjoyed party games and refreshments of birthday cake and ice cream.

Campbell, Nancy Mercer, Diana Sangster, Terry and Toni McLean, Kathy, Kem, Kelly and Karen Ricketts, Tony and Richard Pershall, Sharon Lamb and Becky and Sharon Davis.

Mrs. Bonnie McLean and Mrs. Cotton Lamb assisted the hostess.

R SUNDAY, JUNE 21st
IS FATHER'S DAY.

This will not be a usual Sunday, when Fathers are kept busy being a handyman in the home. No sir! That Sunday Father will be the King of the family instead of just a subject. This will be a day when everybody works but Father, who will spend his time opening up and enjoying his gifts.

We know Fathers deserve this tribute. Have you ever watched the expression on a Father's face while he is waiting for us to fill a prescription for a loved one who is very sick? We have, often. No one but a Father looks exactly that way.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Dear Abby....

Don't Gum Up the Works; Let the Dentist Decide

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a dentist's assistant and I would like to know how often it is NECESSARY for a 26-year-old woman to have her teeth cleaned. We have this pushy young woman who would get her teeth cleaned once a week if we'd let her. I heard the dentist tell her that once every four months was about right, but she calls and claims her teeth feel "furry" and she wants them cleaned more often. The doctor has cleaned them twice in three months just to satisfy her, but she still calls wanting another appointment. I think she is trying to make a social contact with the dentist. What do you think?

DENTAL ASSISTANT
DEAR ASSISTANT: Let the dentist decide how often he wants her in his chair. If she's trying to sink her teeth into him, don't gum up the works.

DEAR ABBY: I am tired of hearing widows complain that all the men who ask them out are aggressive to the point of being insulting. I was a widow for 16 years and never had a bit of trouble. I had my first date with a gentleman on February 10th, 1961. We saw each other regularly once a week for almost two years. He called me Mrs. and I called him MISTER. On New Year's Eve of 1963 I told him he could call me Margaret, and he asked me to call him Darwin. We shook hands on it. On St. Valentine's Day he asked me if he could kiss me. I said yes. Up until this time he had never laid a hand on me. We were married the following Thanksgiving. So tell those widows to act like ladies and they will be treated as such.

MRS. D. M. F.

DEAR ABBY: Most of the time I mind my own business, but this seems too important to ignore. An unmarried man in our neighborhood has had a steady procession of cleaning women and girl friends coming and going regularly. You can't even tell which is which. This last one seems to be staying longer than the rest. With summer coming on, their comings and goings are so plain to see — especially by the children. Since some are old enough to wonder why a bachelor seems to have a "wife," how does one explain it? I can't say the woman over there is his "wife" because he might make a change next week. What do you suggest?

OHIO

DEAR OHIO: I suggest that you tell anyone who inquires (including the children) that you know nothing about your neighbor's personal life.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN THERAPY": You need not be ashamed. We have all suffered from mental illness in varying degrees and durations. But many of us have managed to recover before it became serious enough to seek psychiatric help. What is a siege of deep grief, excessive guilt, haunting fear, burning jealousy or lingering depression if not mental illness? I know not one person who has managed to escape all these "sick emotions" but I know many who will deny it.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bon Voyage Party Fetes Mrs. Britten

GROOM (Sp) — Mr. and Mrs. Bob Babcock and family honored Mrs. Sharon Britten with a bon voyage party in their home before Mrs. Britten left June 5, by plane to join her husband, Melvin (Tobe) Britten, who is serving with the U.S. Army in Wurtzburgh, Germany.

Guests were served homemade ice cream, cake, cookies, and coffee along with "good luck cake". Those attending the event were Mr. and Mrs. Louie Jones and grandchildren, Eldon Jones, Mrs. Josephine Britten, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Britten and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Britten and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Babcock, and children, Mr. and Mrs. George Britten and children, all of Groom; Mr. and Mrs. James Britten and family of White Deer; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Acker and daughter, Nazareth.

Top O' Texas Chapter OES Installs Mrs. Howard Price as Worthy Matron

New officers of the Top O' Texas Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star were installed in an impressive ceremony Friday at Masonic Hall.

Preceding the installation, candles were lighted by Robbie Giddens; the Bible by Renee Jennings, nieces of Worthy Matron Mrs. Howard Price. The Square and Compasses were presented by Marjanta Price, daughter of the Worthy Matron.

Installing officials were Mrs. G. K. Reading, Installing Officer; Mrs. Guy Andis, Installing Marshal; Mrs. Earl Casey, Installing Secretary and Mrs. I. E. Byars, Installing Chaplain.

New officers include Worthy Matron, Mrs. Price; Owen Long, Worthy Patron; Mrs. M. Q. Wilson, Association Matron; M. Q. Wilson, Associate Patron; Mrs. James Washington, secretary; Mrs. G. K. Reading, treasurer; Mrs. Leona Marsh, conductress; Mrs. Herman Crocker, associate conductress; Mrs. Dale Imel, chaplain; Mrs. A. P. Coombes, marshal; Mrs. Truman Attaway, organist; Mrs. Loyd Stephens, Adah; Mrs. Billy J. Willis, Ruth; Mrs. R. D. Gordy, Ester; Mrs. Mayo McKnight, Martha; Mrs. Paul Dalton, Electa; Mrs. Carl Anderson, Warder and Mrs. Owen Long, Sentinel.

The installing officers were attired in white floor-length formal and the officers to be installed wore turquoise street-length dresses and wore white carnation corsages. The Chapter Room was decorated in white and turquoise with accents of silver. The stairway was covered with white satin and led to the emblematic star centered on a large blue background against the pedestal in the East. Silver-glittered letters, PEACE, were gracefully placed above the star and a white dove was suspended from the ceiling. White wire fences entwined with blue roses and greenery flanked

Shirley Jean McCoy Becomes the Bride of Truitt Ford in Dallas Church

Oak Cliff Assembly of God Church in Dallas was the wedding scene of Miss Shirley Jean McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McCoy, 1432 E. Browning, and Truitt Eugene Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ford, Fort Worth. Rev. C. L. Stewart read the double ring service at 8 o'clock in the evening, May 30, before a background of baskets of spring flowers and a seven-branch candelabra, screened with greenery. Mrs. Chere' Jeter was organist and accompanied the bridegroom as he sang "More", followed by a duet, "Submission" sung by the couple as they knelt at the altar. Jory Waldon sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction.

Escorted down the white covered aisle and given in marriage by her father with "her mother and I" avowal, the bride wore a gown of bridal satin featuring a scoop neckline applied with lace and three-quarter length sleeves. The bell shape skirt was accented with appliques of lace and extended into a chapel train. Her veil of bridal illusion was secured by a beaded pearl crown and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white yellow-throated orchid.

ATTENDANTS
Dressed in long yellow satin gowns and wide head-bows, the attendants; Miss Linda McCoy, maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Miss Olean Miller, Miss Judy Upjohn, Mrs. Leslie Cypret and Mrs. Don Ford, carried arm baskets of daisies.

Don Ford was best man and ushers were Jack Pruitt and Jory Waldon. Grooms-men were La Don Sheats, Dennis Jeter and David Ford. Mrs. McCoy chose a melon silk suit and black accessories for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Ford wore a pink crepe suit with pink accessories. Both mothers' costumes were accented with white orchid corsages.

RECEPTION
Miss Gloria Ramsey registered guests attending the reception at the Oak Cliff Society of Fine Arts following the ceremony. Flo Ferguson and Ruth Lockhart presided at the lace covered serving table which was accented with yellow satin scallops. Brass table appointments were used and the center piece, flanked by candles, was fashioned from tulips; flown from Holland, stock and stephanotis arranged in a brass container.

Former Teacher Feted by Class

SKELLYTOWN (Sp1)—The TEL Sunday School Class of the Skellytown First Baptist Church met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delton Moran, 322 Christy, for a covered-dish supper. Mrs. Moran was class teacher before moving to Pampa recently. A white lace table cloth was presented to the hostess by members.

Attending were Meses, Ola Bateman, Oma Pierce, Della Gosway, Walt Shair, Emma Garway, E. Thompson, and J. Spence. Mrs. Homer Garrett was welcomed as a guest.

August Wedding Plans Announced

PANHANDLE (Sp1)—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Klock, Greensboro, N.C., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marion Ardena, to Jack DeWayne DeSpain, Canyon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar James DeSpain, Panhandle. Vows will be exchanged August 22 at 4 p.m.

Miss Linda Gayle Holt

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Holt, 2010 Charles, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Linda Gayle, to Howard Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Reed, 101 N. Nelson. The wedding, August 28, will be held in the First Methodist Church.

Chapter Installs Worthy Martron

Mrs. W. E. Cobb, mistress of ceremonies, brought an inspiring message on the Worthy Martron's theme, "Peace" interlacing it with beautiful thoughts on her symbol, the Dove, and her motto, "Labor for the Peace and Harmony of the Chapter" and her flower, the white rose. Mrs. Melvin Stephens accompanied her son Jerry who sang, "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled" and "The Lord's Prayer".

A reception followed the installation. The serving table was covered with white lace over turquoise and centered with an artistic arrangement of white mums.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP OF TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Affluence and Poverty

We hear so much talk about the "affluent" society. Galbraith made the phrase popular. But we also hear that our society is impoverished and that a war must be waged in order to overcome this dread enemy. Is it possible that we live in two societies? Actually, it is not. What we live in is a society which is the target of governmentalizing from two directions.

If you can convince the government you are poor, you become a cause celebre by means of which the government can hope to expand its power. But, if the government becomes convinced that you are affluent, then you become a part of the target so that government can attack you to redistribute whatever it is the government thinks you are affluent in. The real problem is neither our affluence nor our poverty, both of which are relative terms. The problem is that we no longer have anyone in society who is to be left alone by the government.

To begin with, the society was pictured as having two extreme groups. At the top was a very small number of people — socialists used to say 2 percent, who controlled 86 percent of the wealth. (It turned out later that this was sheer propaganda, but that was the way the story went.) Then at the bottom of society there was something like 5 percent which were the impoverished "masses." These were the abused, the down-trodden, the misfits and the ne'er-do-wells.

Government cast itself in the role of taking from the top group to give to the bottom group. But in the middle were all those folks who didn't belong to either group and who would, conceivably, be left alone. The government began its program of confiscating wealth in the upper brackets only to find that there was no line of demarcation which could tell the government how far down one went before one got out of the affluent group. So taxing programs, beginning at the top, reached farther and farther afield.

However, the problem was confronted in exactly the same way at the other end of the economic scale. Everyone has "needs." Even persons who seem to have considerable means to provide their own "needs" still have "needs" which go beyond their abilities to provide. Thus, when the government got busy doling out the goodies, it found no place to stop. Today, it not only subsidizes the economic misfits and the impoverished, but it subsidizes with contracts and special privileges some of the largest and most affluent of all the producers in the country.

What began as a program to take the cream from the top and pour it on the bottom, became a program which took the cream from everyone, gave some of it to people, often in the most unlikely places, and then ended with the government lapping up most of the cream for itself. Today, nearly the only way for a person to be affluent (there are exceptions) is for the person to cancel out all moral restraints and join the government. This is the path of least resistance. And it doesn't require that you become an actual government employee, although that route is open to many. If you do become a government employee, you have preferential status; you have assured vacations and built-up sick leave, and big money and lots of prestige. You don't have to compete nearly so hard and things get better for you as they get worse for everyone else.

But you don't have to accept government employment, as we said. All you have to do is lose your backbone; your will to resist; your integrity. That puts you on the government's side right away, whether you could be classified as affluent or impoverished. Just convince yourself that what you know instinctively to be wrong, isn't really wrong because so many people are doing it. That clears it for you. And accuse everyone else who continues to voice opposition to the advancing state, of being insincere because he doesn't martyr himself in order to avoid policies and programs he knows full well are immoral. That way you can stop objecting to what the government calls "progress," which is merely the progressive income tax and an increasing power to take over. And you can collaborate with the "new order," which is as old as Plato and as foolish as necromancy and any other superstition.

Key to Survival

The key to survival of a nation caught in a nuclear war is the dispersion of its industry. And, in this regard, our democratic, competitive society far outstrips the centralized society of the Soviet Union. That is the view of an official in the Office of the Secretary of Defense, Vincent F. Caputo, writing in the current issue of Petroleum Today. And the oil industry is a perfect example of the principle he advocates. To power our varied modes of transportation, Mr. Caputo reports, in a recent year we consumed 55 billion gallons of gasoline, diesel fuel and jet fuel, accounting for some 825 billion passenger-miles. Widely dispersed and immediately available oil industry facilities served 68 million automobiles, 7 million small watercraft, 290,000 buses, 86,000 aircraft, and 25,000 rail passenger cars. Most important of all, as he emphasizes, no single organization produces, refines, transports and markets that vast volume of oil. The plant capability and the manpower skills to fulfill the needs of the nation are, as he puts it, "marvelously widespread." He adds, "Survival in an atomic age is not a function of the so-called efficiencies of a centralized state. Dispersion is the key to survival; and thanks to our competitive, affluent economy, we have that key."

In peace or war — hot or cold war — oil is among the most vital of elements. We are fortunate in having the competitive, dispersed oil industry of which Mr. Caputo speaks.

Signs to Go By

No, to answer your question, wonders will never cease. Latest proof of this is the announced plan to erect metal signs at all bus stops in New York City, diagramming the complete route of the bus that stops there. (If more than one bus, the routes will be shown in different colors.) Thus, at a glance, a traveler will know where he is and exactly where a particular bus will take him. But this is not all: Buses will be marked with their route number not only in front but on both sides as well. People will no longer have to race to get in front of the bus to

Actress in Distress Judy Garland Was Aided In Hong Kong by Atty. Gen. Kennedy

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — If you are a world-known actress in distress in a foreign land, it's mighty helpful to have Attorney General Robert Kennedy take a keen personal interest in your welfare. According to Salinger, he doesn't expect too much trouble licking George Murphy, the GOP nominee, if Governor "Pat" Brown and other powerful Democrats who opposed Salinger will throw their full weight behind him. He clearly has strong misgivings about that.

"If they don't give me all-out backing," Salinger told the Senate Democratic Campaign Committee, "I'll be in real trouble." One of his biggest problems in getting this much-needed inner-party support is coming to a workable understanding with Governor Brown on federal patronage—which has been largely in his hands since President Johnson took office. Brown's ties with the White House are close and strong.

Several weeks before the senatorial primary, the President personally designated Brown as "state coordinator" for the fall election. This backstage move was a direct brush-off of Assembly Speaker Jesse ("Big Boss") Unruh, who played a key role in engineering Salinger's last-minute senatorial candidacy and his grandiose ambitions to be top ruler of California Democrats. Unruh has close ties to Attorney General Robert Kennedy. They had a lengthy conference during Kennedy's visit in Los Angeles this week to deliver a speech.

In an effort to come to terms with Brown, Salinger made an unannounced trip to Cleveland, where Brown was attending the annual Governors' Conference. This little-known aspect of the Attorney General's life will be highlighted in a book to be published next month. One chapter will deal with the late Marilyn Monroe. Kennedy's efforts in behalf of Miss Garland are not the first time he has used his official influence to help a theatrical personality.

The attorney general went to bat for British actor Richard Burton when his entry into the U.S. was challenged on the ground of his premarital relations with his current wife, Elizabeth Taylor. Representative Michael Feighan, D-O., chairman of the House Judiciary subcommittee on immigration, demanded Burton be barred. The Immigration Service was prepared to do that, but was overruled by Kennedy, who held the Briton was admissible because the State Department has approved his visa.

COSTLY SENATE SEAT — Pierre Salinger, who emerged the winner in a four-way race for the California Democratic senatorial nomination, is telling friends his election campaign will cost more than $1 million. The portly former White House press secretary also is saying he is more worried about the deep split in the Democratic party than his Republican opponent. According to Salinger, he doesn't expect too much trouble licking George Murphy, the GOP nominee, if Governor "Pat" Brown and other powerful Democrats who opposed Salinger will throw their full weight behind him. He clearly has strong misgivings about that.

WASHINGTON:

U.S. Weighs Carrot-Gun Approach

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Despite President Johnson's denials, the United States is now seriously considering ways to bring military-economic pressure on Ho Chi Minh's North Viet Nam. These plans will be held for use in an emergency.

One proposal would aim the first military moves at the north's already wobbly economy. There would be increasing sabotage of communications — bridges, roads, shipping. There would be a partial land and sea blockade of Red Ho's supply lines.

Veiled threats of these U.S. actions would come first. But these threats would be coupled with suggestions of possible economic aid (principally rice and other foods) and trade. There would be hints of a willingness to guarantee Ho's borders.

It would be made clear that these promises would be fulfilled only if Ho would take his cadres out of Laos and tell the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam that they were now on their own. Some tacticians favor parallel moves in the United Nations to guarantee the borders of Laos, South Viet Nam, Cambodia and North Viet Nam.

The program calls for a gradual step-up of harassment and threats of harassment, alternating with repeated promises of aid. Neither Secretary of State Dean Rusk's strategists nor Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's aides believe these moves would end the war either in Laos or in South Viet Nam.

They estimate the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam are now able to put up a strong fight with aid from Ho's northern Communist regime. They think the Communist Pathet Lao troops in Laos could hold their own against the Lao nationalist and conservative troops without the aid of North Vietnamese cadres.

But a group of key government men do believe that if North Viet Nam would, under this pressure, withdraw its support from the Red forces in Laos and in South Viet Nam, the two wars would become more manageable. Some of these strategists also believe there is a chance that North Viet Nam's Ho could become an Asian Tito. These men believe it is worth a gamble to find out if this is so.

Information arriving here from North Viet Nam is that Ho himself is not sold on cooperating with Red China and that his advisers are split fairly evenly on China versus Russia. About half favor an alliance with Khrushchev and the Soviet Union; the other half favor Red Mao Tse-tung of China. A recent decision to side with Mao is believed causing a struggle within the regime. National Outlook

By GEORGE HAGERDORN

Fears, both here and abroad, for the safety of the American dollar have greatly diminished in recent months. Not only is the flow of dollars overseas being reduced, but the willingness of the rest of the world to absorb dollars is simultaneously growing. The main factors behind these developments are not such as to give us much satisfaction. The not-yet-enacted interest equalization tax has played a role in restraining the outflow of funds. But this is the sort of interference with the free flow of capital that we have decried when other nations used it.

Even more important in explaining the increased strength of the dollar is the development of a strong inflationary trend in many of the other hard-currency countries. The dollar is becoming more attractive as a form in which to hold liquid funds, simply because the alternative of holding them in certain other currencies has become less attractive. Mixed Blessing

Relief from the constant pressure of a nagging concern over our ability to preserve the dollar's value may be a mixed blessing. In past years, fears for the safety of our currency have had a salutary effect on the course of events within the United States.

The year 1958 marks the point at which our balance-of-payments deficit began to assume substantial proportions, and preservation of the dollar's value became a matter of serious national attention. It is surely no coincidence that the post-World-War-II uptrend in commodity prices reached a peak in that year and there has been no rise to speak of since. The discipline of the dollar problem deserves much of the credit for the comparative stability of U.S. prices in more recent years.

It would be an exaggeration to say that U.S. inflation came to a dead stop in 1958. There has been a continuing upward trend in prices of consumer services and in construction costs, for example. But we have not had the prevailing inflationary atmosphere of pre-1958 in which cost increases could be passed on without too much resistance in the marketplace.

Practically everyone would agree that domestic inflation is undesirable, whether or not it poses a threat to the position of the dollar internationally. But it sometimes offers a tempting, easy way out of certain economic difficulties at home.

New Turning Point? The post-war record strongly suggests that mere dislike of inflation on principle is not enough to prevent it from happening. It was not until an external threat to the dollar began to develop, in 1958, that progress was made in halting inflation.

If we are correct in our belief that the position of the dollar vis-a-vis foreign currencies is becoming much stronger, we must then ask what is going to happen to the price level within this country. In the absence of pressure from outside, will we have sufficient will-power to resist inflation because it is bad in itself?

If not, 1964 (or perhaps 1965) may come to be regarded as a new turning point — the year the inflationary trend was resumed after a six-year pause. Paradoxically, increased international strength for the dollar might create the background for a weakening of its purchasing power at home.

from some of Ho's advisers about the economic drain of the South Vietnamese war. These men have in fact urged that the Viet Cong in the south be given words of praise, but told they will have to handle their own war.

nipulate opinion. The method is known to the trade as "orchestration," the presentation of a single point of view in different words, from a variety of sources, through many channels for the purpose of attaining a premeditated result.

Although it takes very little investigative talent to trace a mass-media orchestration back to the point of first publication, the great multitude of humanity are caught up by the rhythmic chant before they understand what has happened behind the scenes.

However, orchestration is not the peculiar trait of television commentators. Newspapersmen share it also, and the exceptions are lamentably few.

For the most part newspapermen are not aware that they are simply chiming in with the preconceived chorus. Certain stories and pictures arrive via the wire services; other newspapers print them. So the comfortable thing to do is to go along with the herd.

This reporter can speak with some authority on the subject, having spent seven years — most of the time on metropolitan papers — as a wire editor and headline writer. I quickly became aware that something

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: "Shouldn't there be a law in this country which says that when a car owner gets the brakes re-lined on his car, they must be nothing less than a high grade lining? A cheap lining could go out in an emergency on our highways at our high speed driving."

ANSWER: We are not qualified to say what quality of brake lining material should be used on an automobile. But we would object to such a law being adopted.

Certainly the owner of the streets and highways has the authority to require the users of the highways to have brakes which meet a certain standard such as stopping within a specified distance at a specified speed.

But for the state to determine that a certain type of material is acceptable and another is not could create all sorts of possibilities for control of people. A bureau of standards filed with bureaucrats to test and evaluate the material naturally would be required.

More would be required to check dealers' stocks. The possibility of corruption and payoff for approval is only one danger of such control by a bureau. An even greater danger is the likelihood that quality materials which are new could be rejected by the naturally conservative approach taken by those in power toward something with which they are not familiar.

Even if it were possible to regulate the quality of brake linings, how would you prevent the breaking of lines carrying the brake fluid, which we understand is a more frequent cause of brake failure than defective linings?

strange was going on somewhere in the selection, treatment and handling of the news. But I couldn't quite put my finger on the sore spot.

My big astonishment was in coming to the business desk where I discovered that not even the financial news wire from the east was immune to slanted treatment.

The direction of the slanting is to induce an opinion that will lead to legal authority for the direction of the financial community from a central sector on the East Coast. The method is to intimate that a mythical "average investor" is being bilked of his fortune and stands in need of protection that can be supplied only by the passage of additional laws and the granting of greater regulatory authority.

Well, if the unnamed average investor was being bilked as much as those writers say he is, there wouldn't be any average investors left. And if laws or regulations offer any shred of protection, the "average investor" is the best protected bit of protoplasm in the universe. For we have more protective legislation on the book now than a Methuselah could read once over lightly in a lifetime.

Once in a while I whip off a letter to the wire service enclosing a piece of the offensive copy, specifying what is wrong with it and suggesting that the function of the wire service is to report the news objectively. The replies to date acknowledge that the points are well taken.

The moral of it all is when somebody wishes to bamboozle the multitude, he first tries to bamboozle newspapermen, television and radio commentators, and others who work in the mass media.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Sunday, June 14, the 166th day of 1964 with 200 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

Harriet Beecher Stowe, author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," was born on this day in 1811.

On this day in history: In 1775, the United States Army was founded when Congress authorized 10 rifle companies to be recruited to serve the Colonies. In 1887, Great Britain honored Queen Victoria on the 50th anniversary of her reign. In 1940, the Germans entered Paris during World War II.

A thought for the day—Greek playwright Aristophanes once said: "There is nothing so restless as a woman in her ire."

WHISTLER'S FATHER—Yes, Whistler had a father, too, although you don't hear much about him. The famous painting of Whistler's mother, usually hung in Paris' Louvre Museum and now on an American tour, overshadows that of his father, Maj. George Washington Whistler. Dad's picture is at Washington's Freer Gallery of Art.

Whistler's Mother Is Treated Bit Shabbily

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—I thought they treated Whistler's Mother rather shabbily, considering all that they did for Mona Lisa.

When Mona's celebrated portrait went on display at the National Art Gallery here last year, it received the full red carpet treatment.

The unveiling took place at a glittering evening reception attended by high government officials, international cultural moguls, a band, a Marine honor guard, assorted orators and all like that.

Mona has since been returned to her permanent home in the Louvre Museum in Paris, which this week loaned the National Gallery its second most famous painting, Whistler's Mother. The contrast was shocking.

They gave Mrs. Whistler a special place in the gallery all right, but nothing like an entire wing to herself, which Mona had.

Moreover, the unveiling was held in the morning and was attended by only a couple of gallery officials, the French ambassador, a sprinkling of reporters and photographers and a few dozen tourists.

Granted that Mona is lots prettier than Mrs. Whistler. But just because the old bag had lost her looks by the time her son committed her to canvass is no reason to treat her so cavalierly.

I suppose, however, that Mrs. Whistler was accustomed to that sort of thing. Apparently her artist son was a bit of an ingrate himself.

After she went to the trouble of posing for him, thus saving him a model's fee, he had the audacity to title the painting "Arrangement in Gray and Black, No. 1." Imagine referring to one's own mother as an "arrangement!"

The old lady would have been fully justified if she had belted him one across the chops.

Mona Lisa and Whistler's mother represent two of the most intriguing enigmas in the world of art.

The questions that occur to everyone who sees the paintings are: what was Mona Lisa smiling at, and what was Whistler's Mother staring at?

Some authorities have deduced from the blank look on Mrs. Whistler's face that she was watching television. That theory, however, overlooks the fact that television hadn't been invented in 1871 when the picture was painted.

I personally believe that the key to the mystery lies in Mrs. Whistler's eyes. To me she appears to have been glassy eyed, which is a telltale symptom.

I strongly suspect that she had been nipping rather briskly from the cooking sherry. Possibly her son found her in the kitchen half stoned, led her into the parlor and propped her up in a chair.

Then he quickly caught her image on canvass, intending to use it against her later. Any chap that would call his mother an "arrangement" would not be above a little blackmail.

Hollywood Lives Up; 21 Movies in Making

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Some- one's always trying to make a ghost town of Hollywood by burying the movies and the people who produce them with announcements that "Hollywood is dead."

It is a lively corpse indeed. Let's forget about the bustle of television activity and concentrate on movies. At this moment there are exactly 21 pictures before the cameras and more coming up.

That's more movies than are being made in Paris, London and Rome combined. And each of these cities at one time or another in the past decade has yelled it had become the "Film Capital of the world" and that poor old Hollywood had had it.

Baloney. All three together can't muster half the activity. Yeah, they say, but what about stars? If it weren't for Europeans there wouldn't be any movie stars.

Plenty of Stars
Acting their hearts out right now - in Hollywood - are such "Foreign stars" as Bette Davis, Joan Crawford, James Garner, Frank Sinatra, Glenn Ford, Eva Marie Saint, Tony Curtis, Debbie Reynolds, Rock Hudson, Jack Lemmon, Robert Taylor, Barbara Stanwyck, Dean Martin, Kim Novak, Jerry Lewis and James Stewart.

Columbia has three pictures rolling, MGM four, 20th Century-Fox, seven, Universal five and Warners three. The independents are roaring full speed ahead, too.

Why the big surge in Hollywood movie-making?

One of the reasons is the collapse of imports. Rome trickles only one or two good ones a year into the United States. London doesn't do much better, and Paris, unless it has a Brigitte Bardot picture in release, is strictly "B" production.

Price Is Right
Another reason is the diminishing number of "runaway" productions by Hollywood operators. It is no longer less expensive to make movies on location.

California prices, in fact, are lower than those in most European countries where labor is inferior and cost of materials is higher.

Such movies as "The Carpetbaggers," "The Pink Panther," "How the West Was Won," "Lilies of the Field" and "Hud" have been waxing fat at the boxoffice, encouraging producers to make more pictures.

The result has been better screen fare, made for less money, but with more distinguished casts and better critical reception.

Hollywood is far from dead. It isn't even sick.

CONTRACT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Laura Devon, a member of Richard Boone's television repertory company, has signed a contract with Twentieth Century Fox. Her first film, under terms of the multiple picture agreement, will be "Goodbye Charlie" with Tony Curtis.

Shared Time Plan Offers Answer to Two Problems

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
The shared time plan, which may offer a solution to two serious national problems, is slowly but steadily gaining ground.

A survey by the National Education Association (NEA) shows that shared time arrangements are now in effect in at least 183 school districts in 35 states.

Experiments with shared time — also known as "dual school enrollment" — are under way or pending in big cities such as Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Detroit and Chicago, and in small towns such as Shorewood, Wis., Jamestown, N.D., Monroe City, Mo., and O'Neill, Neb.

The shared time plan, which religious leaders and educators have been discussing for three years, permits a student to study some of his courses in a public school, and others in a church-sponsored school.

For example, in the Cherry Hill subdivision of suburban Detroit, more than 200 seventh and eighth grade students spend half of each schoolday at a Catholic parochial school, studying religion, English, history and other "value-oriented" subjects. They spend the rest of the day at a nearby public school, taking math, science, physical education, shop and home economics.

The General Board of the National Council of Churches, representing the leadership of 34 major Protestant and Orthodox denominations, last week overwhelmingly approved a statement urging "further experimentation" with shared time as "one possible solution" to the conflict over public aid to parochial schools.

The statement said that shared time seems to be a constitutional way of relieving the financial burden on parochial schools, while preserving the values of a public school system.

It voiced hope that Catholics may be willing to support federal aid to public education if their children benefit from the facilities of public schools.

Veteran in Carbon Black Field Retires

Dan Glaxner district superintendent for Columbian Carbon Co. here, was honored last night on his retirement after 43 years of service with the company. Retirement of the veteran on June 9 marked a milestone in the industry in which he is recognized as an authority in the manufacture of carbon black. Glaxner was born and reared on a farm in northern Pennsylvania and his first venture as a boy was work in a coal mine there. He joined Columbian Carbon Co. as a young man on Jan. 1, 1921, in Louisiana where he built several plants. After several years in Louisiana he came to the Texas Panhandle in the 1920s and has been here since, building plants, operating them.

Formerly district engineer at Corpus Christi, he succeeds J. C. Curry, who has been promoted to manager of Conoco's Odessa production district, with headquarters at Odessa. Mattes joined Conoco in 1950 at Houston and served in key engineering positions at Ville Platte, La., and McAllen, Texas, before becoming district engineer at Corpus Christi in 1960. He is a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, where he majored in petroleum engineering.

Texas Oil Facts Are Presented in Annual Leaflet

DALLAS (SpI) — It takes a lot of millions, billions, and trillions to measure the Texas petroleum industry, according to Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, which has just published its annual "64 Facts About Texas Oil and Gas."

The annual leaflet, which rounds up frequently-used statistics about the state's oil and gas operations, included these among the 64 selected this year:

- Texas has produced 26.7 billion barrels of oil, or 36.3 percent of U.S. total.
- Texas produced 973,097,000 barrels of crude oil in 1963; 35.4 percent of U.S.
- The value of Texas crude oil, natural gas and gas liquids in 1963 was $4.1 billion.
- Texas has 18.6 billion barrels of oil reserves — 14.6 billion in crude oil; 4.0 billion from natural gas liquids.
- Texas drilling in 1963 totaled about 63 million feet of hole.
- Texas royalty owners received $450 million from oil and gas production in 1963.
- Texas operators spent $714 million drilling in 1963; $262 million lost to dry holes.
- Texas had 118 trillion cubic feet of natural gas reserves at end of 1963 (42.7 percent of U.S.).
- Texas petroleum industry employs some 216,023 persons (about 1 out of every 17 Texas workers) with wages of $1.3 billion annually.
- Texas petroleum industry's 1963 tax payments to STATE government were $223 million.

Cities Service Lists Discovery in West Texas

Cities Service Oil Co. is reporting a significant Fusselman limestone discovery in Terry County in West Texas, that flowed at the rate of 1,088 barrels of oil daily. The discovery is 17 miles southwest of Brownfield.

Survey Reveals Year of Promise For Oil in U. S.

DALLAS (SpI) — Efficiencies in operation, financial controls and company structures at last are improving returns for domestic petroleum companies. Petroleum Management magazine's 17th Survey of Company Annual Reports has revealed. Despite weak prices for products, last year's return on investment increased to 10.8 percent from 1962's 10 percent. This reflects a 1.8 per cent increase over the 1958 return of 9 per cent. Return on gross revenue followed the same pattern, the magazine's survey said.

3 Texas Students Awarded Conoco Oil Scholarships

HOUSTON (SpI) — Three 1964 graduates of Texas high schools have been awarded $2,000, four-year college scholarships by Continental Oil Company, it was announced here Saturday by L. F. McCollum, president.

Pampan Finishes Rigid Course at School of Mines

Robert E. Sidwell, a student from Pampa, has received the coveted Sterling Silver Diploma of the Colorado School of Mines in Commencement observances June 6.
