

Negro Leaders Promise Early Test of Civil Rights Bill

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The strongest civil rights law since Reconstruction was in force today with Negro leaders promising early tests of its anti-discrimination provisions and opponents preparing to challenge its legality in court.

Tests were made in the South by individuals Thursday night without incident. President Johnson signed the historic measure Thursday night only five hours after the House, on a 289 to 126 vote, completed final congressional approval one year and two weeks after the legislation was introduced.

"This act is a challenge to all of us to go to work in our states and communities, in our homes and in our hearts, to eliminate the last vestiges of injustice in America," Johnson said.

"We must not approach the enforcement of this law in a vengeful spirit. Its purpose is not to punish. Its purpose is not to divide but to end divisions—divisions which have lasted too long. Its purpose is national, not regional."

Martin Luther King, one of more than 200 persons invited to attend the White House ceremony, which also was witnessed by a nationwide radio and television audience, said his Southern Christian Leadership Conference planned to test the new law immediately.

He said the first strategy he and his colleagues would follow would be "operation dialogue," an effort to have southern leaders, particularly businessmen, issue statements of intention to comply with the new law.

After a relatively short period, King said "operation implementation" would begin in 35 or more southern towns and cities. Where "massive resistance or recalcitrance" was encountered, the Negro leader promised his followers would make "dramatic moves."

Other civil rights organizations already have indicated their plans for challenging discrimination practices now banned by the law. In Florida, state National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) officials said they would concentrate their efforts on restaurants that prohibit Negroes.

Segregationist opposition to the law continued. Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace said the sweeping law "should and will be tested in the courts."

"If ever the free institutions of America are destroyed that event may be attributed to the omnipotence of the majority."

ON THE LINE — Fourth of July being only a day away, Pampa youths have begun a "land office rush" on fireworks stands that ring the city. City officials again today reminded parents that discharging the fireworks inside the city limits is illegal just as the sale of the fire crackers is illegal in the city. The sale and discharging must be limited to outside the city limits. Above, Stacey, 8, and Wayne, 10, children of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holland, 1804 N. Christy, join other youths and buy a supply of "legal" noise makers for the Independence Day celebration tomorrow.

New Law Being Put to Test In Many Troubled Sections

Pampans Ready For Gay July 4th

Pampans today were preparing to observe a quiet July Fourth highlighted by tomorrow night's Chamber of Commerce barbecue, patriotic program and fireworks display at Recreation Park.

The program, expected to attract thousands of spectators from Pampa and the surrounding area, will get under way at 8 p.m. with a concert by the Pampa High School band.

Commissioners Accept Results Of Board Election

Pampa City Commissioners passed a resolution yesterday accepting the results of Pampa's $950,000 bond election.

The commission met briefly at 5 p.m. yesterday at city hall. However, in canvassing the ballots, the commissioners found that a 10 vote mistake had been made in the original counting of the ballots.

Gracious Wife

OLD HILL, England (UPI) — Mrs. Irene Jackson said today she bought an $18,200 fishing lake for her husband, nut-and-bolt manufacturer Cecil Jackson, because "he needed something to make him relax a bit."

Few Southern Leaders Refuse to Accept Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Negroes began putting the new civil rights bill signed by President Johnson to test today, scoring initial gains in troubled areas, but some Southern leaders refused to accept it as the law of the land.

Immediately after Johnson signed the historic legislation at a White House ceremony Thursday night, the campaign to implement its sweeping directives was put into motion.

Downtown Group Picks Directors, Names President

Pampa's Downtown Business Association became a full-fledge organization when officers and directors were elected at a meeting held late yesterday afternoon in the Pampa Hotel.

Today doors which had been off-limits to Negroes were open. Others were shut by the owners to one and all.

In Albany, Ga., for instance, the scene of racial violence in recent years, seven restaurants that catered to whites only admitted Negroes for the first time Thursday night.

Home Destroyed By Lightning Fire

A four room wood frame house along with the contents was completely destroyed last night when a bolt of lightning set it ablaze.

The house, owned by the Wilcox Oil Company and occupied by L. R. Wright, was located 9 miles S. E. of Pampa on the Wilcox-Worley Lease.

The lightning struck about 8:35 during an electrical storm. Wright said he and his family had gone to a storm cellar about 15 minutes before the fire due to the severe lightning.

"About 8:30," he said, "I heard a loud crash and opened the cellar door. The house was blazing. I called the fire department," he related, "but by the time they got there the house was gone."

Wright said everything he owned was destroyed in the blaze.

"The only thing we saved," he said, "were the clothes on our back."

The Wrights, who have a grandchild living with them, are staying today in a rent house they own on Farley street.

Skidmore Funeral Rites Set Saturday
Funeral services for Pampa Park Superintendent Paul Skidmore, originally scheduled for 5 p.m. today have been reset for 10 a.m. tomorrow. Services will be conducted in the Central Baptist Church with Rev. T. O. Upshaw, pastor officiating. Burial will be in Memory Gardens.

Chiang Says American Troops Already at War

EDITOR'S NOTE: The author of the following dispatch is United Press International's vice president and manager for Asia.

By EARNEST HOBerecht
United Press International
TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — President Chiang Kai-shek said American troops are engaged in a war against Chinese Communist forces in Southeast Asia.

He said the United States can win this war if it is willing to make the necessary effort.

Chiang told United Press International in an exclusive interview Thursday:

"As things stand today, the Chinese Communists already are actively taking part in Viet Nam, also Laos.

"Their cadres and trained personnel are taking an active part in those two countries. The only difference is that they put on the uniforms of the Viet Cong and the Pathet Lao.

"So in a sense the United States already is at war with the Chinese Communists."

President Chiang, who is 76, said the assignment of Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, as U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, was a "great step."

Viet Nam, was interpreted in Asia as "a new resolve by the United States government to come to grips with the situation in Southeast Asia."

He said the whole question of American success or failure in Viet Nam depends on whether the United States demonstrates full determination.

Texas' First Civil Rights Test

By United Press International
A lone Negro ate dinner at the previously all-white Piccadilly cafeteria in Dallas last night, apparently the first Texas test of the civil rights bill signed by the president only a few hours earlier.

His peaceful dinner signaled the end of a month of continuous demonstrations at the restaurant. Actually, an agreement was signed last Saturday ending the demonstrations and opening the cafeteria to Negroes when the bill was signed.

The law was expected to cause little stir in Texas because most sections have made at least a start toward integrating public facilities.

Negro leaders promised tests however in at least Austin, Houston, Amarillo and San Antonio.

Mrs. Volma Overton, wife of the president of the Austin chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), promised a test of the bill in the state capital.

The local NAACP group in Houston held a meeting Tuesday and laid plans to "see that the bill becomes fully effective in Houston through every possible means, by testing and court action."

The Dallas Morning News said the bill brought the threat of continued violence and agitation. In an editorial the paper deplored plans for massive tests of the accommodations section and urged a cooling-off period.

"The law is a defeat for the South," the paper said. "Will the victors be charitable and allow the South to salvage an iota of pride? Or will they be vindictive and push Southern backs closer to the wall?"

Bill Hayes of Temple, Republican candidate for congressman-at-large, called the bill "the most vile piece of legislation ever passed by the U.S. Congress."

In East Texas, which is more akin to the old South than the rest of the state, businessmen generally planned to observe the law.

So did restaurants in Port Arthur and Nederland in the south, although one restaurant manager in Nederland said he felt it would cost him the business of whites.

Fort Worth Mayor Bayard Rustin said no reaction was expected from "far sighted people" in his city. He said only one restaurant in the city did not already cater to Negroes.

Rev. C. W. Black of the San Antonio NAACP chapter said if the city did not respond properly to the bill, "we must take such steps as are necessary to bring about proper response to the law of the land."

Another Negro minister, Rev. Lewis C. Brown of Odessa, said that if the young Negro benefits from the bill "it can only be under mutually advantageous conditions."

Mayor Judson Williams of El Paso said the bill would not have much effect in his city, which "has pretty well solved its own integration problem."

Richard W. Jones of the Amarillo NAACP chapter said "we are going to test lots of places in town to see if they are going to abide by the law."

Both Negro and white leaders in Lubbock predicted full compliance without difficulty.

Clarence Laws, southwest regional secretary for the NAACP, said he felt most businesses would comply.

Although President Johnson, the main pusher of the bill, is from Texas, only four members of the 23-man Texas congressional delegation voted for it.

They were Rep. Jack Brooks of Beaumont, Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio, J. J. Pickle of Austin and Albert Thomas of Houston, all Democrats.

At that time chairmen for various organization activities will be named and plans for the coming year will be outlined.

"We now have a firm foundation," President Roberts said, "and we expect rapid progress in the future."

The association president said the next meeting of the board has been set for 3 p.m. next Tuesday at the Pampa Hotel.

At that time chairmen for various organization activities will be named and plans for the coming year will be outlined.

At that time chairmen for various organization activities will be named and plans for the coming year will be outlined.

In Kansas City, Mo., where the Congress for racial equality (CORE) was holding its convention, one of the youngest members in the integration movement tried unsuccessfully Thursday night to get a haircut in the Muehlebach Hotel.

When Gene Young, 13, Jackson, Miss., was refused service, Negroes moved into the barber shop and filled the chairs.

But today the barber shop will be open to Negroes for the first time, a spokesman for the hotel said after negotiations with CORE representatives.

Two in Charlottesville, Va., the door to a restaurant operated by Buddy Glover was closed for the first time in 27 years.

"I quit," Glover said. "It's going to be a financial loss, but dollars and cents can't take the place of principles."

Gov. George Wallace of Alabama challenged the constitutionality of the new law which permits Negroes access to public eating places and overnight accommodations previously denied them.

Wallace indicated he would fight the legislation through the courts.

"My position on this bill is well known," Wallace said. "I believe the legislation is unconstitutional and if unchallenged will result in the destruction of individual liberty and freedom in this nation."

"It should and will be tested in the courts on constitutional grounds."

Before taking off for his ranch at Johnson City, Tex. for the July Fourth weekend, Johnson said:

"The President was expected to keep in close touch at the ranch with the tremendous forces set in motion by the whisk of his pen and the bill as well as such other pressing issues as the war in Viet Nam."

The Johnsons' younger daughter, Luci, celebrated her 17th birthday Thursday and remained in Washington.

LBJ to Spend Holiday Weekend On Texas Ranch

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) — With the historic civil rights bill signed into the law of the land, President Johnson abruptly zipped out of Washington and today began a relaxing Fourth of July weekend at the LBJ Ranch.

Mrs. Johnson and elder daughter Lynda Bird were with him.

His flight was so sudden that newsmen at first referred to it as a "mystery trip." But it appeared the President simply decided, like millions of other Americans, to get away from it all for the long weekend.

The visit made Texas host to two presidents. Francisco Orlich, president of Costa Rica, was visiting the famed King Ranch in Kingsville, about 200 miles south of the LBJ spread. They met in Washington earlier this week and there was no indication Johnson would hold any "summit" conference with Orlich in Texas.

The weather for the weekend was clear and warm.

The President flew home to his beloved hill country after an impressive White House ceremony in which he signed the civil rights bill with the plea that Americans "close the springs of racial poison."

"We must not approach the enforcement of this law in a vengeful spirit," he declared. "Its purpose is not to punish. Its purpose is not to divide but to end divisions—divisions which have lasted too long. Its purpose is national, not regional."

He appealed: "My fellow citizens, we have come to a time of testing. We must not fail."

The President was expected to keep in close touch at the ranch with the tremendous forces set in motion by the whisk of his pen and the bill as well as such other pressing issues as the war in Viet Nam.

Dear Abby...

Crossword Puzzles Fans Differ in Solution Means

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Were you serious when you asked your readers if they considered it "cheating" to use a dictionary and other reference books while working a crossword puzzle? Of course it's cheating! The whole idea of the crossword puzzle is to test you on how many words and their definitions you KNOW. Not how many of the answers you can find somewhere.

PLAYS FAIR

DEAR ABBY: Although I have never used (or owned) an X-Word dictionary in my many years of combat with the puzzles, I would not consider it "cheating" to use one if necessary. After all, the word you look up today, you may remember tomorrow. I think most, if not all, puzzlers aspire to work out the solution without book reference. But if I am asked whether Panama City is in Texas or in Florida, and I must look at a map, is that cheating?

BILL AGAIN

DEAR ABBY: This is in answer to your question. "Is it considered cheating to use a dictionary while working a crossword puzzle?" No, it is most assuredly NOT. How many educated people know the two-letter word for an Ugandan six-toed bitter vetch? When the puzzle requires such a word, and I have to look it up, I do not feel as though I am cheating. I figure that the author of the crossword puzzle is cheating. How about asking the geniuses who make up these puzzles for their opinions?

R. B. S.

DEAR ABBY: Working a crossword puzzle is a game. The puzzle versus me. If I can solve the puzzle on my own, I am the winner. When I find it necessary to consult a dictionary, I admit defeat. But I am still curious enough to try to find that word in order to complete the puzzle. The feeling of triumph, however, is absent.

ISABEL

DEAR ABBY: I would like to meet the person who can complete a crossword puzzle without using any tools, such as a dictionary or reference books. Crossword puzzles are comprised primarily of words that are never used in ordinary conversation, and never appear anywhere except in crossword puzzles.

Would YOU know what the six-letter word for the jackal god of the necropolis was? As a clue, he is usually represented as the son of OSIRIS, who shared with THOTH the office of conductor of the dead to the judgment hall in AMENTI. The answer is ANUBIS. Why, how simple! I am sure you knew it all the time but it slipped your mind.

HUGH

DEAR ABBY: I fail to understand how one can "cheat" in a game where only he is playing. In working a crossword puzzle, the object is to complete it. If a puzzle is so simple that it can be completed without any research, I would consider it a waste of time. I use a large unabridged dictionary, a Bible, a World Atlas and a set of encyclopedias when I undertake to work a crossword puzzle, and I feel that I gain much by doing so. To do "research" increases one's knowledge, and is certainly not "cheating."

A. S. B.

DEAR ABBY: If it is considered "cheating" to use a dictionary while working a crossword puzzle, then it is also cheating to use a slide rule in order to solve a mathematical problem.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Isn't it about time to have a cookout? The answer is: By all means — if you take a few simple precautions.

Never use kerosene, lighter fluid or other potentially explosive liquid fuel to start the fire. Safe commercial starters are now available. If you must poke around in the fire, wear insulated mittens.

Be sure the skewers and long-handled forks have heat-resistant handles. Skewers should be picked up with the point down to avoid dripping hot grease on your hands. Children must be kept away from the hot grill.

Don't leave the hot coals in the grill after you're through cooking, because a child may fall against the grill and be badly burned. The coals should be smothered with dirt or sand. If you choose to extinguish them with water, be careful to avoid being scalded by a cloud of steam. Use enough water to put the fire out completely. Many fires that have been doused with too little water have come to life again and caused damage to persons or property.

A—I am 50 and have high blood pressure. My doctor is giving me Dramamine. What will this do for me?

A—Dramamine is an anti-histaminic and is commonly given to prevent motion sickness. It is a mild sedative and is helpful in reducing the blood pressure. Since large doses may cause drowsiness, you should not take it when you will be driving a car.

Q—I had my uterus removed because of a fibroid tumor. Is that a kind of cancer? Should I have another checkup?

A—A fibroid is a benign tumor. When one of these tumors grows rapidly it is usually removed to relieve pressure on the bladder or bleeding between regular menstrual periods. A periodic physical checkup is advisable for everyone, especially those over 40.

Q—What side effects come from taking Equanil regularly? Is it habit-forming? Would sudden withdrawal be harmful?

A—Equanil is a brand of meprobamate, which is a tranquilizer. Side effects include drowsiness, depression and skin rash. The drug is mildly habit-forming. Sudden withdrawal may cause convulsions. No tranquilizer should be taken regularly.

Rebekah Lodge Conducts Meet

Mrs. Juanita Matheny, Noble Grand of Pampa Rebekah Lodge 355 was in charge of the meeting conducted recently in the IOOF Hall.

Plans for the July 9th initiation services were discussed and a memorial service held on June 11 was reported.

Mrs. Alta Mae McElrath was elected team captain. A report of the trip by Junior IOOF and Theta Rho Girls to the New York World's Fair and the United Nations was made. Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Kretzmeier accompanied the group.

The next meeting is scheduled for July 27 and will be held in Central Park with Mrs. Eula Thornhill and Mrs. Gladys May as hostesses.

Sick members were reported and eight visits had been made to the sick. Twenty-two members of the Lodge attended the meeting.

Instead of ignoring or trying to hide a bleak, black fireplace during the summer months, make it a cool oasis in the room by setting an arrangement of green plants in the opening, suggests the Society of American Florists.

What Does New Look Mean?

By JERRY SHEERAN
NEW YORK (NEA) — Cop, blokes! The Empire is dividing into two great camps; the Mods and the Rockers.

The Mods, of course, are the latter-day zoot suiters. The Rockers, however, generally believe that money should be spent on things like motorcycle magazines instead of snappy clothes.

In a sense, the open clash between these factions in England provides a larger-than-life study of the conflict which rages within most ordinary men.

A man may not be sure of the clothes he buys, so he deliberately dresses in a sweater and knock-around pants. Or he may become a fanatic about clothes and indulge himself in a cashmere sports jacket even though his kid needs an operation and his wife should really see a dentist.

The real lesson to be found in the craze for Mod clothing may run even deeper. It is an axiom of the clothing industry that adult styles often take their long-range cue from teen-age fashions. Mod (for modern) styles we may chuckle at today we may have on our backs tomorrow — in a modified version.

What is the "Mod Look"? A Scotsman, John Stephen, is accumulating wealth with the correct answer to that question. Stephen owns a chain of 18 men's stores in England catering directly to Mods. Last year he turned more than $1.5 million on far-out fashions.

Some of the exotic items now in demand, according to Stephen: snakeskin jackets, gold leather waistcoats and winkle-picker shoes.

A minimum wardrobe for a fashionable Mod: two dozen shirts (tab collar, no tie), a pair of slacks (tight), a suede jacket and one conservative suit. "The suit is worn on Sundays to please mum," says Stephen.

One provocative Mod innovation: pants with laces up the front instead of zipper. You can just see haberdasher Stephen laughing all the way to the cash register.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Abolish Stale Taste in Little-Used Coffee Pot

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I put a tablespoon of ground coffee in the percolator basket or even in the bottom of a clean, dry, seldom-used percolator before putting it away. The next time the pot is used, the coffee will not have a stale taste. Of course, you empty out these grounds before using the percolator and start with fresh coffee.

—MRS. E. E. M.

DEAR POLLY — When shopping for baby food, first go to the store's packing or check-out counter and ask for a shallow carton, as the jars of baby food are taken from the shelf, put them right into the carton. This saves moving 20 or 30 little jars from the cart onto the check-out counter and they go home in the carton. Saves the annoyance of torn bags as well as extra handling.

With more than one small child in our home, we found it hard to keep the youngsters from standing around the baby's crib at nap time. We removed the door going into his room and replaced it with a gaily decorated screen door which can be hooked at the top, out of the children's reach. This keeps the children out and still we can hear baby through the screening.

—MRS. H. B.

DEAR POLLY — My hint is for brightening up a back hall, laundry room or any dingy-looking spot in the house. Recently I wallpapered our back hall with magazine covers. The children just love it and have great fun identifying famous people and places.

I got the idea from a friend in Chicago who covered her laundry room walls with the covers of women's magazines. Another friend has covered the walls of her music room with old sheet music. Regular wallpaper paste was used, but some walls have to be sized before covering. A light coat of colorless shellac applied after the covers are dry will protect this gay paper. I always overlap the covers a little for a more artistic effect.

—MARJORIE

DEAR POLLY — I always keep an old toothbrush at my sewing machine to brush away threads, lint and dust that accumulate while I am sewing. Turning the brush around, the long handle comes in very handy for turning belts, bows and straps.

—MRS. I. D.

Do Theatre Kids Thrive on Stage?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Are theatre children abnormal? But what is normality?

Mrs. Anthony Votos, mother of Christopher Votos, 8, one of the youngest boys in the hit musical "Oliver," has some keen insight into the world of grease paint and applause.

Mrs. Votos, widow of a psychoanalyst and formerly a teacher and research chemist, believes it is hard to say what is "normal" these days.

The world being what it is, learning to accept frustrations and the ability to adjust to changing situations which arise in show business are invaluable traits to acquire.

"For example," Mrs. Votos says, "when the lad who played the original 'Artful Dodger' was replaced in Toronto just before the New York opening of 'Oliver,' all the children were visibly upset."

"But higher powers had made the decision and they had to learn to accept it. They also had the added responsibility of overcoming their hostility and welcoming a newcomer who was an innocent and friendless replacement."

"The adage, 'well, that's show biz,'" she says, "is just a crystallization of 'well, that's life.' There is much in life that is unpleasant or incomprehensible, but we must learn to adapt and deal with life's disappointments."

The fringe benefits of growing up in the theater are numerous. "Oliver" spent two months each in Los Angeles and San Francisco before New York.

Every boy had a chaperone, usually a mother, but there were two fathers and two uncles on the tour.

Johnson-Hill Wedding Date Set

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Johnson, Lubbock, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Oleta Jean, to Robert R. Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Hill, 325 N. Zimmers.

The couple plans to exchange vows August 22 in a Lubbock wedding.

New Income Tax Deduction Has Many Confused

The new minimum standard income tax deduction has confused and alarmed a number of taxpayers, according to Richard V. White, administrative officer of the Pampa IRS Office. White said the Internal Revenue Service is getting calls from a number of taxpayers who feel that their taxes have been raised instead of lowered. "Most of these taxpayers who call are confusing the $600 personal exemption and the new minimum standard deduction," White said. "The $600 personal exemption rate has not been changed, but because of the minimum standard deduction, the amount that a taxpayer can earn, without paying taxes, has been increased."

He explained the new minimum standard deduction as follows:

- (1) You can still take the 10 percent standard deduction with a $1,000 ceiling or $500 each for married taxpayers filing separately.
- (2) The new law provides that the standard deduction shall not be less than $300, plus $100, for each exemption over one.
- (3) For example, a married couple with 4 children whose adjusted gross income is $5,000, will have an $800 standard deduction (formerly $500). They would also get $3,600 in personal exemptions.
- (4) For married persons filing separately, the minimum on each return is $200, plus $100 for each exemption over one. Neither may use the minimum unless both do.
- (5) You can still itemize personal deductions (for taxes, contributions, interests, etc.) if this is to your advantage.
- (6) A single person without dependents has no tax liability until income reaches $900 ($875 under old law). A married couple without dependents, or a single taxpayer 65 or over, has no tax liability on income under $1,600 ($1,325 under old law).

City Policemen Get Promotions

Promotions have been the order of the week at the Pampa Police Department. This morning Police Chief Jim Conner announced that two patrolmen were promoted to sergeants.

Charley Brunson, 39, of 620 N. Gray and George Wallace, 28, of 113 Lowry assumed new duties of patrol sergeants today.

Earlier this week Denny Roan was promoted to the position of captain.

Conner said he has eliminated the position of captain with the appointments of the two sergeants.

Police Investigate Theft of Rings

Pampa police are investigating the theft of two rings valued at $100.

Mrs. L. O. Downey of 1221 S. Finley told officers yesterday that someone entered her unlocked home and stole a wedding band and engagement ring. She said the engagement ring contained one large diamond and two adjacent small stones. Two other rings of lesser value were not taken.

Damage Suit Filed By State Officers

A $151,325 damage suit was filed against a Pampa resident yesterday in 31st District Court by Highway Patrolman Vernon Cawthon and former Patrolman Lawrence Macha.

The action was filed against John Shaw Lyles, Jr., of 1936 N. Dwight in connection with an automobile accident Dec. 31, 1963.

Macha and Cawthon allege that Lyles was negligent in driving his automobile and as a result caused a highway patrol car driven by Macha to crash into a light pole. Cawthon was a passenger in the vehicle.

The accident allegedly occurred on U. S. 60 about 11:30 p.m. Macha is asking for $87,825, and Cawthon for $63,450 for medical expenses and personal damages.

Charles Hardin of Shamrock is attorney for the plaintiffs.

Woman to Face Armed Robbery Charges Here

A 27-year old Amarillo woman is being brought back to Pampa today to face charges of armed robbery.

Ruita Garcia Trigg was charged with taking $13 in cash from Lewis Arevalo on June 18th.

According to police, Miss Trigg and another woman allegedly forced Arevalo into their car and robbed him at gun point of $13.

They then fled Pampa and couldn't be found until Miss Trigg was arrested in Amarillo on a warrant from Pampa.

The other woman is still at large.

The robbery occurred, according to police, in the 100 block of W. Atchison about midnight on June 15.

Arevalo, a resident of Amarillo, was walking down the street when the two women drove up beside him and at gun point forced him into their car. They drove on N. Frost street, where they robbed him.

Pampa Pelted By Light Shower

A few come-and-go thunder-showers pelted Pampa for a time last night but failed to dump enough moisture to measure and it appears that Pampa will be in for a hot Fourth of July.

The forecast called for hot weather to continue through tomorrow with a chance of a few afternoon and evening thunder-showers.

The temperature at 11:30 a.m. was 92 degrees with the weatherman predicting an high of 100 today and tomorrow.

Laredo in south Texas was lashed by 50 mile an hour winds that knocked over 100 telephone poles during a three inch rain last night.

In Dumas last night, 88-mile an hour winds and heavy rains damaged outbuildings and shattered glass. No injuries were reported.

Obituaries

Open Hydrants Plague City Police

Several thousand gallons of water were dumped into city streets last night as Pampa Police were plagued by open fire hydrants.

Police Chief Jim Conner said at least six different hydrants were turned on at different times.

This is the second time this week the incident has occurred. The hydrants turned on were at Gillispie and Tyng, Linda Dr. and Chestnut, Deane Drive and Harvester, the south end of Beach street, and on 16th street.

Conner said that anyone caught turning the hydrants on week the incident has occurred, could be fined up to $200.

A description of their car was furnished to police and they were apprehended a few minutes later.

Youth Questioned On Whiskey Theft

Two 16-year old youths were undergoing questioning by Pampa police and juvenile officers this morning after being apprehended last night for stealing several bottles of whiskey from a Pampa home.

The youths were caught as they ran from the house when the occupants returned home about 12:30 a.m.

According to police, the suspects parked their car down the street and entered the unlocked house and grabbed the whiskey. When they heard the occupants returning home, they apparently tried to get out the back door and upon finding it locked, charged out the front door, police said.

A description of their car was furnished to police and they were apprehended a few minutes later.

Key Clubbers Plan July 4th Flag Day

The Pampa Key Club plans to observe July 4th by decorating the Rodeo Grounds with American Flags for the annual fireworks display. A flag drive will also be held during the day.

Key Clubbers will go from door-to-door in an attempt to sell flag kits to patriotic families in Pampa. Besides these projects Key Clubbers will fly American flags in front of local business firms who rent these services from the Key Club each year.

Preparations for the Key Club "Back to School Radio Days" have been made and Key Club members will soon begin selling radio advertising to businesses across the city.

Mechanic's Tools Reported Stolen

Mechanic tools valued at $420 were reported stolen to Pampa police yesterday.

Amarillo resident, Joe Perry, told police that he had parked his car in the 800 block of W. Foster and while in a local tavern someone took the tools from his auto.

Perry said the tool box contained assorted mechanics tools and cost around $420.

Column One

By KARL O'QUINN

Two fine fighters who have been considered washed up decide which one of them really is finished in Stockholm Sunday.

Eddie Machen, who retired from the ring when his nerves snapped and went into an asylum, meets Floyd Patterson, who was knocked under the crown by Sonny Liston.

The loser can just about forget any hopes for the title in the future.

The winner may be the next champion.

Liston may never be allowed to fight again. He can't seem to stay out of trouble and he is likely to be barred from the ring unless he does keep clean.

Cassius Clay is one of the poorest fighters to ever hold the heavyweight title. One solid punch from Liston would have annihilated him and either Machen or Patterson should be able to whip him without any trouble.

If Clay does manage to remain champion for any length of time boxing will deteriorate to the level of professional wrestling, and without the prestigious heavyweight division to carry it along, boxing as a whole may fold.

Fortunately, prospects of his keeping the title are dim.

Patterson said recently that he was not fighting Machen because of the money because he is a fairly wealthy man. The 29-year-old former boy wonder, who is currently ranked sixth by the World Boxing Association, also said he has trained harder for this fight than possibly any other.

The last time Patterson trained this hard he was also goaded by pride. The result of that training was a knockout victory over Ingemar Johansen.

Machen tarnished his reputation badly in two fights with Zora Folley and one with Liston. He also was a knockout victim of Johansen.

I have always contended that Machen could not beat Patterson. I still do, despite Patterson's two smashings by Liston.

New Babe Ruth Blasts Baltimore

By CURT BLOCK

UPI Sports Writer
Babe Ruth, maybe. Paul Kritchell, never.

Willie Smith is reminding the baseball world of the Bambino by splitting his playing time between the outfield and the pitcher's mound and batting in the cleanup spot.

But if his self analysis is any indication of his scouting know-how, he'd better start selling insurance or open a bowling alley to prepare for the day when his career is over.

"I never classified myself as a long ball hitter," Smith says, "but I always felt I could hit."

Blasts Stu Miller

No one has felt the fury of his bat more convincingly than Baltimore reliever Stu Miller did Thursday night when Willie powdered his first major league grand slam in the ninth inning to give the Angels a 10-6 win over the league-leading Orioles.

The homer was Smith's fourth of the season, all coming since June 14 when Manager Bill Rigney converted his 25-year-old southpaw relief pitcher into a 317 outfielder.

Smith, who hit .386 for Syracuse in the International League last year mainly as a pinchhitter, was acquired by the Angels from the Detroit Tigers at the start of this season for Julio Navarro, now toiling in the minors.

In addition to his game-winning homer Smith had two doubles and a single and drove in a total of six runs to give him 23 for the season.

Brandt Smacks Two
Overshadowed was a fine effort by Baltimore's Jack Brandt who tied the game in the eighth with his second home run of the night and eighth of the season. Dan Osinski was the victim of Brandt's second round tripper but was credited with the victory following the Angels' ninth-inning outburst. His record is now 1-2.

In other American League contests, the Yankees edged Kansas City 4-3 in 15 innings;

Emerson Is Titlist

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Roy Emerson ended a decade of disappointment in the Wimbledon championships today by beating fellow Australian Fred Stolle, 6-4, 12-10, 4-6, 6-3, to win the men's singles championship.

Stolle moved into the final by ousting defending titleholder Chuck McKinley, the American ace, in four sets in the semifinals. He lost the final to McKinley last year. Emerson reached the final for the first time since he's been coming to Wimbledon by defeating Willy Bungert of West Germany in straight sets.

Australia's Margaret Smith, the defending women's champion, ousted Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4, to reach the women's final.

Top-seeded Miss Smith meets second-seed Maria Bueno of Brazil in the women's final Saturday. Miss Bueno, who won the title here in 1959-60, advanced by beating fourth-seeded Lesley Turner of Australia, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Rebels Tackle Shattuck Again

Pampa's Rebels get another crack at one of the two teams to beat them this year, two cracks in fact.

Pampa goes to Shattuck, Okla., tomorrow for a doubleheader with the Braves, who scored eight runs in one inning and then held on to take an 8-7 decision over the Rebels last month.

Another game scheduled for Sunday has been canceled by mutual agreement of the two clubs.

Detroit topped Cleveland 9-1; Minnesota clobbered Boston 15-9; and Washington and Chicago were idle.

Bobby Richardson's second home run of the year in the eighth inning sent the Yankee game into overtime and Hector Lopez' line single drove in the winning run in the 15th after Mickey Mantle led off with a triple and A's loser Dan Pfister loaded the bases intentionally with walks.

Yanks Move Up
The victory, Steve Hamilton's sixth without a loss, moved the New Yorkers to within three games of the Orioles.

The Minnesota power machine produced 17 hits including homers by Tony Oliva (17), Rich Rollins (8) and Don Mincher (10). Lefty Jim Katt went all the way for the ninth time yielding 13 hits and giving up nine earned runs. Boston's Jack Lamabe lasted one-third of an inning and took the loss, his seventh in 13 decisions.

Detroit pushed over five runs in the second inning to give Mickey Lolich (8-6) a firm cushion as he stopped the Indians on five hits. Gates Brown and George Thomas supported Lolich with home runs.

Par Takes A Beating

By THOMAS CUNNINGHAM

UPI Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Four touring pros led the field into the second round of the $125,000 Whitmarsh Open today after opening day scores of 66 which headed $5 par-busting tours over the 6,807-yard, par 72 Whitmarsh Country Club.

The leaders were Chi-Chi Rodriguez, Dora do Beach, P.R.; Tony Lema, San Leandro, Calif.; Al Balding, Markland Wood, Calif.; and Tommy Shaw of Portland, Ore.

Dave Marr of New Rochelle, N.Y., hit the 18th green in two and had an eight-foot putt for a birdie which would have led him leading at 65, but he three-putted and came in at 67. Tommy Jacobs, Bermuda Dunes, Calif., also had 67.

Arnold Palmer, defending champion at the rich tournament—first place money is $24,000—had a 68 Thursday but said he expects "to play better." He was joined at four-under by Al Besselink, Merchantville, N.J.; George Bayer, Incline Village, Nev.; Jerry Edwards, Fort Worth, Tex.; Jerry Pittman, Tulsa, Okla.; Jacky Cupit, Corona, Calif.; Gardner Dickinson Jr., Lost Tree Village, Fla. and Gay Brewer of Dallas, Tex.

Ernie Boros, brother of Julius, the 1963 U.S. Open champion, came in best's Nicklaus with a 69 in the first round and three strokes ahead of his famous brother who had a 72.

Others at 69 were Wes Ellis Jr., West Caldwell, N.J.; Mason Rudolph, Lehigh Acres, Fla.; Bill Collins, Grossinger, N.Y.; Dave Marrad, Wollaston, Mass.; Terry Dill, Muleshoe, Tex.; Gary Player, Arawack, Bahamas; Pete Brown, Los Angeles, Calif.; Don Fairfield, Perdido Bay, Fla.; Al Geiberger, Carlton Oaks, Calif.; Dow Finsterwald, Colorado Springs, Colo.; and Howie Johnson of Palm Springs, Calif.

DUNCAN GETS POST

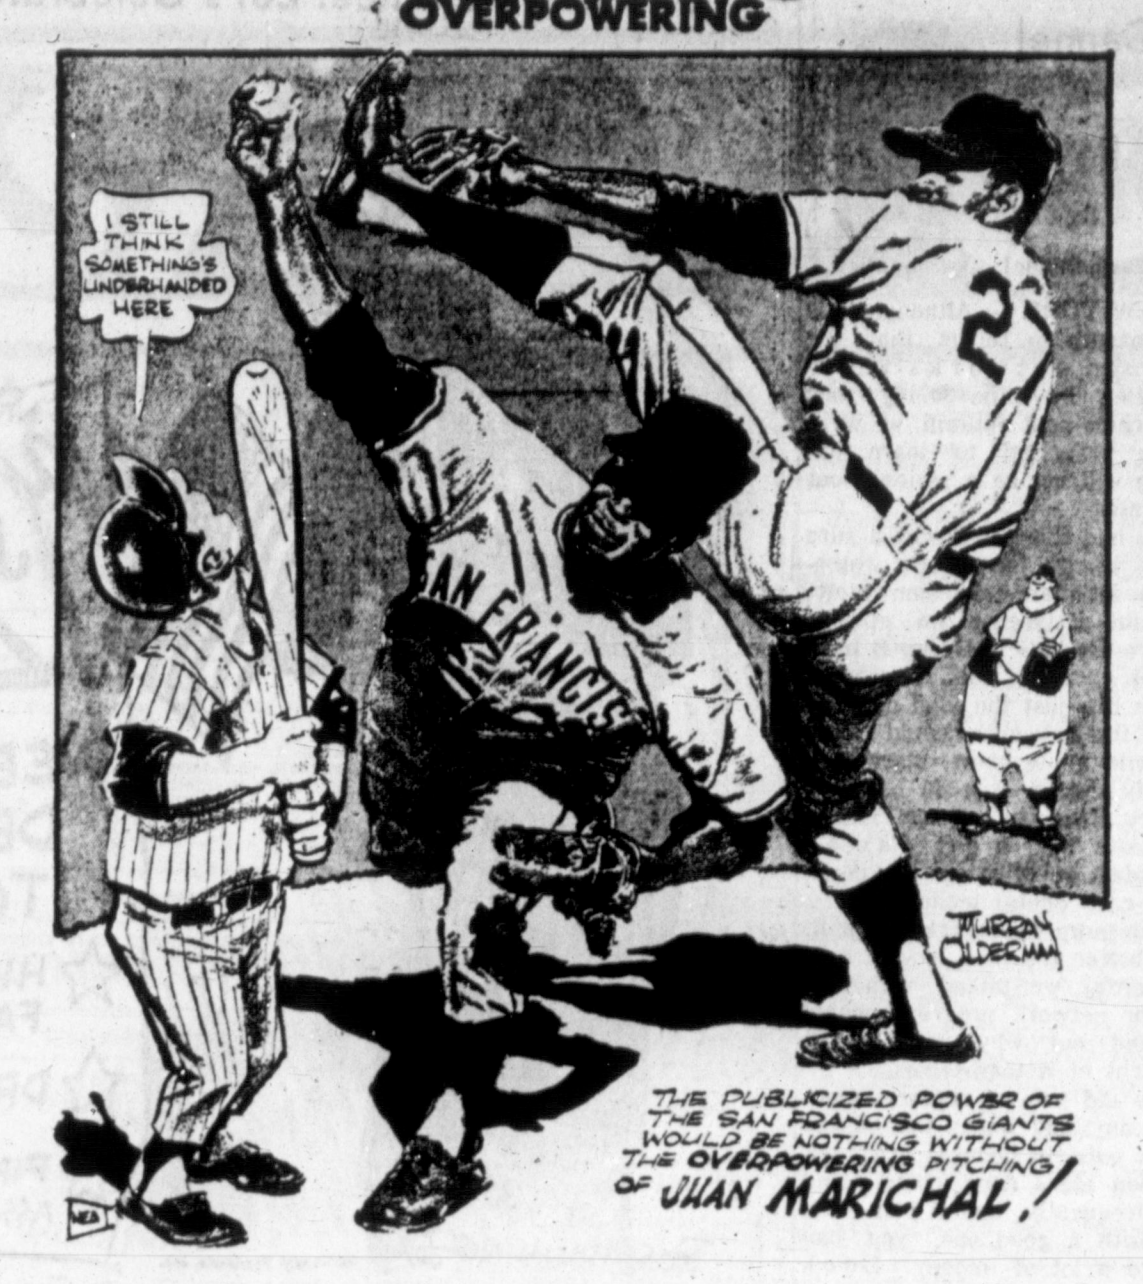

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mark Duncan, former defensive coach with the San Francisco Forty Niners, was appointed today to the post of supervisor of officials of the National Football League by Commissioner Pete Rozelle. He replaces Joe Kuharich who resigned last February to become coach of the Philadelphia Eagles.

OVERPOWERING

Roy Kieval has resigned his post as assistant basketball coach at Pampa High School and taken the job of head basketball coach at Canyon High School, effective August 1.

He replaced Allan Simpson, who guided the Eagles to the state Class AA championship last March.

Kieval has coached in Pampa the past four years, one of them at Pampa Junior High and the other three as assistant at Pampa High.

His B team ran up a 25-2 record and won the district championship last season.

Besides coaching basketball he taught government and coached the Harvester tennis team.

Kieval's new assignment will not be an easy one. He will find only three of the top 12 players from last year's state titlists waiting for him and will be competing in a higher classification.

Canyon joins Dumas, Perryton, Hereford, Muleshoe and Tulia in District 1-AAA this year. The Eagles had been in 2-AA before.

Kieval was a basketball star at Kilgore Junior College and at Midwestern University before playing a year of pro ball with the Washington Generals.

L. J. Edmondson, superintendent of Pampa public schools, said today the position vacated by Kieval "is wide open."

He said he would consider personnel already in the system and applications from outside sources but could make no estimate of when a successor would be named.

Kieval's new assignment will not be an easy one. He will find only three of the top 12 players from last year's state titlists waiting for him and will be competing in a higher classification.

Canyon joins Dumas, Perryton, Hereford, Muleshoe and Tulia in District 1-AAA this year. The Eagles had been in 2-AA before.

Kieval was a basketball star at Kilgore Junior College and at Midwestern University before playing a year of pro ball with the Washington Generals.

L. J. Edmondson, superintendent of Pampa public schools, said today the position vacated by Kieval "is wide open."

He said he would consider personnel already in the system and applications from outside sources but could make no estimate of when a successor would be named.

Four Colts Set For All-Star Tilt

Manager Tom Glover will take four players with him to the Tri-State League All-Star game in Borger tomorrow night at 8:15.

Pitcher Mike Clark, infielder Jerry Glover and outfielders Kenny Hebert and Roy Don Stephens will represent the Colts in the game.

Borger manager Bob Austin will manage one of the teams, composed of players from the first, fourth and fifth place teams (Borger, Guymon and Pampa).

Either Amarillo's P. G. Hisey or UMBERGER's Math Albracht will manage the other team, which will also include players from Stinnett.

Panhandle Packing walloped Cabot 11-0 in the only game at Lions Park last night. The All-Stars and Jaycees had a double forfeit which will not be replaced unless the outcome would have an influence on the final standings.

The Packers scored once in the third and twice in the fourth but broke open the close game with eight runs in the sixth.

Eleven men came to the plate in this inning. Four straight singles, a double and three errors produced the runs.

Raymond McKinney pitched a one-hitter to get credit for the win. Jim Shaw was the loser. Bob Seitz led hitters with two hits in three at bats.

Callison Homer Edges Dodgers

By CURT BLOCK
UPI Sports Writer
Johnny Callison is justifying Walter Alston's faith in him and the Dodger manager can do without it.

Alston, manager of the defending National League champions and this year's All-Star skipper, honored Callison earlier this week by selecting him as one of his reserve outfielders for next Tuesday's classic after the players passed Callison up in the first team balloting. Ever since Alston's gesture the Philadelphia slugger has been nothing but a king-size headache for the Dodgers.

Wednesday night the 25-year-old Oklahoman clouted a two-run homer but his teammates were unable to add a thing off Sandy Koufax and the Phils went down to a 3-2 defeat.

Callison returned to Chavez Ravine Thursday night and once again belted a two-run blast which this time was good enough to put the Dodgers on the short end of a 3-2 score as Chris Short gained his seventh triumph against four losses.

Errors Help Phils
After the lefthanded swinging outfielder's 12th home run in the third inning Richie Allen reached base on one of Derrell Griffith's two errors and later scored what proved to be the winning run on Clay Dalrymple's single.

Frank Howard hit a towering 470-foot home run in the fourth but the Dodgers couldn't touch Short or reliever Jack Baldschun who yielded one hit over the last three frames. Howard's roundtripper was reputed to be the longest ever hit in Dodger Stadium. It was his 19th.

Philadelphia remained 1 1/2 games behind the league leading Giants.

San Francisco nipped Pittsburgh, 6-5. Cincinnati shut out Chicago 7-0. St. Louis beat Milwaukee 4-3, and Houston defeated the Mets 7-1, in other National League action.

Orlando Cepeda's 15th homer with a home aboard highlighted a five-run rally in the sixth inning as the Giants dealt the Pirates their fifth consecutive loss. Bob Hendley, now 2-4, had help from Bob Shaw in the final two and a third innings when Pittsburgh scored three runs. San Francisco regained the services of one star when Willie McCovey returned to the lineup with three hits but lost Willie Mays in the first frame when the All-Star centerfielder left the game complaining of an upset stomach.

Righthander Jim Maloney spaced four Chicago hits as he registered his first shutout of the year and seventh victory against eight losses. Pete Rose stroked three hits to boost his average for the last seven games to .548. Marty Keough had the game's only home run.

Warren Spahn failed to turn in a complete game for the ninth straight time as the Cardinals chased him in the seventh with their winning tallies. Pinchhitter Charley James drove in the tying run with a double and scored the go-ahead marker on Lou Brock's sacrifice fly.

Houston took advantage of five Met errors as Ken Johnson evened his record at 7-7.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

'Consent' and 'Just Powers'

"That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

This third sentence of the Declaration of Independence is perhaps the most significant of the entire document which occasions our remembrance of July 4th.

When the delegates at Philadelphia gathered in mid-1776 they were under a compulsion to explain to the rest of the world just what had been transpiring in the American colonies.

The people in our 13 states were up in arms. We were fighting our own king and his tax collectors. Yet, we had not sought to set up a rival power in the sense that is ordinarily supposed.

The Continental Congress, founded largely thru the efforts of John Adams, as early as 1774 was little more than a voluntary society aimed at exchanging information. It was not a government in any sense of the word, having no power to tax or to enforce. It could recommend, but so could every parish pastor.

When the delegates from each of the 13 colonies arrived in Philadelphia that year, it was for the purpose of examining the situation and trying to come up with some uniform views as to the reason we were fighting and the objectives we hoped to attain by such fighting.

After a relatively short period of study and debate the Declaration was adopted unanimously — one of the few times in the history of this nation when all delegates to any assembly have been so thoroughly of one mind. The sentence quoted above is crucial to our understanding of what was in the minds of our founders that early July day.

In the preceding utterances of the Declaration the concept of human rights had been enunciated. Now, the delegates were setting forth the purpose and the source of government. The purpose of the government is "to secure" these rights. The source of government is the "consent of the governed."

The word, secure, in 1776 had a simple meaning which was generally accepted as its sole meaning. To secure, meant to make safe, to nail down, to make fast. In our own time, the same word is used variously as meaning both to make safe, and to obtain. It is obvious that to obtain and to retain are not the same. But no such complexities confused the delegates, in 1776. To secure meant to retain, and nothing more.

But "consent of the governed" — that is something else. It is a very tricky phrase for it conveys two things — the fact of government, which places the governed beneath the government; and the fact of consent, which means that government may not rise to its position of preeminence without the willing approval of those who are to sink beneath its weight.

Thinking of this sort had probably originated with John Locke, a least half a century earlier. And while Locke held to the idea that a majority could determine the course to be taken by society, he did not hold out the idea that a majority decision must, of necessity, become binding on the minority. Doubtless, the founders at this point were taking their cue from Locke and anticipating that some would go along with the idea, and that this idea would be popular enough to obtain a majority. But there is no evidence whatever that those who drafted the Declaration ever intended that the minority which might NOT have approved of a particular form of government, would have to be coerced and cowed by a majority.

The use of the word "just" is clear enough. And the designation of "rights" as individually obtained from the Creator which appears earlier in the Declaration is rather good evidence that the founders anticipated that all the delegates might not concur; but those who did not, could retire in dignity and not be bound by the deliberations of the majority.

This is the major point of which we have lost sight. Since 1776 we have not only sought majority decisions, we have insisted that they be inflicted upon minorities. Can such a procedure ever be "just"? The Declaration specifically calls for "just powers."

This is a point well worth pondering on this July 4th, 1964. Our freedom is too important a commodity for it to be lost thru default. And the default can so readily occur as a result of our unwillingness to think thru the meanings of our Declaration of Independence, our basic and most important paper.

Retort

Epictetus once observed that when a critic enumerated his faults, he was truly thankful that the critic did not know him well enough to name the more serious failings of which he was guilty.

Forthright Double Talk

Through the miracle of modern communication, candidates for office can now sit in front of a television camera or a microphone and state their views and policies clearly, bluntly and explicitly to millions of voters throughout the nation.

Let us tune in to a popular network program as a quartet of top newsmen question a candidate who is avowedly eager to take his case directly to the people, no holds barred.

Q. Sir, you are quoted in the current issue of a national news magazine as saying, and I quote: "Anyone who votes for my opponent ought to have his head examined." Did you say that? And if you did, do you regard it as worthy of the dignity of the high office you are seeking?

A. First, of all, my good friend, let me make it crystal clear that I yield to no one in my high regard for the dignity of the important office I am confident I will hold when the intelligent people of this great nation go to the polls and vote according to their conscience and their judgment in the great tradition of the freedom-loving people of this sovereign country. It is this freedom, sir, that I am unashamedly pledged to perpetuate, and I shall give myself without stint or.

Q. But my question was, did you actually say that anyone who votes for your opponent ought to have his head examined?

A. I am glad to answer it. I am never reluctant to meet any question or any issue squarely and fairly. In this case, as you no doubt surmise, I was quoted out of context. My recollection is that the full purport of my remark was that even a man who might be mistaken but sincere judgment vote for my opponent still deserves the inalienable right of an American citizen to have his head examined — as well as any other part of his body which might conceivably be in need of medical attention — and to have it examined without one penny of cost to him as a citizen and taxpayer of this great nation. I can assure you and all Americans that.

Cannel At Bay

By Ward Cannel

NEW YORK — Although it is a pleasure to report that the television networks will be bringing in some 30 big new programs next autumn, we were quite surprised to learn that there will not be a series about a dentist.

We had thought it was a sure thing as we have been watching a lot more television lately, hopeful of seeing an episode where the kids in Group B have fewer cavities. And it seemed to us like just the kind of story idea the networks could work up into a big show, starring a kindly dentist type to be played by Bennett Cerf or Walter Cronkite with a girl named Tuesday or Mike as his devil-may-care dental technician.

The more we thought about it, the better the idea looked. So yesterday we talked with the major network program people to find out why they hadn't thought of it themselves.

We did not, of course, mention anything about the dentist show outright because great television ideas don't come along too frequently, and if you come up with a good one, you can make a lot of money. Look how well David Siskind has done with a basically simple television invention, namely a program, "Open End," that is totally satisfying regardless of when you turn it off.

Anyway, after a day with the network people we can see why they have not made up a show about a dentist. The whole trick of programming, it turns out, is to find the shows which people do not watch and then take them off the air.

A big new CBS program for next season can be explained by the fact that "East Side—West Side" has been dropped because, a CBS creative person says, "Many people did not want to see a show about the slum atmosphere of New York."

NBC has one big new show because "Espionage" is going off. "The filmed anthology does not work well," a spokesman says.

ABC puts it neatly in three words: "Ratings and response." This whole dropping business, seems to us a rather hap-hazard way to build a schedule. You may know whether you are coming or going, but you never know where you have been.

We, for example, do not like programs about deep-seated problems and consequently did not watch "Breaking Point" or "The Judy Garland Show." We were not alone because both of those shows have been dropped. But who can tell whether it is because public taste is slipping or — as we suspect — the television industry's standards are too high?

We point this out because we are presently negotiating for the exclusive rights to the files of the American Dental Assn. and expect to come up with a series built on solid entertainment values instead of merely trying to replace a program that people did not like.

The way we visualize our dentist show is a situation comedy with a lot of suspense, a love interest, some terminology and a little emergency surgery now and then.

The location is a small western ranch town about 1885. We see our hero as a basically good man who sometimes has to go outside the law to fight for what he believes in, frequently calling on the chorus line at the saloon to help him.

We don't have a title for the show yet, but we sort of lean toward "Hopalong Cavity."

There are, of course, a lot of rough spots to be worked out as we do not know much about television. But we certainly know what sells. The trouble with the creative people in television is that they turn off their sets during the commercials.

STEADILY GETTING WORSE

— Representative Vernon Thomson, R-Wis., who is militantly demanding a tough crackdown on these shocking irregularities, is stressing two points: They are constantly increasing, while recoveries are diminishing.

This is graphically shown by the following figures compiled by Thomson:

Year	Illegal Expenditures	Recovered
1960	$9,968,000	$9,861,000
1961	15,146,000	8,963,000
1962	19,853,000	11,641,000
1963	24,753,000	12,659,000

"During the last three years," he declared, "the increase of government-detected misuse of foreign aid has been alarming. Officials say this rapid increase is due to more determined collection practices. But to me it indicates that the foreign aid agency has been unable to prevent funds from being used for such improper and illegal items as bubblegum, lipstick, hair spray, household deodorants and similar luxuries."

The agency sent out more than $24 million of bills this fiscal year for such unauthorized expenditures, and has collected for the first three quarters of fiscal 1964 only $5 million. They anticipate collecting only another $1.8 million. So the billings are steadily going up and the collections are steadily going down.

Pull Up A Chair

A recent article predicts an entirely "new look" for the Army and Marine Corps within the next few years. It says there'll be electronic, chemical and biological weapons that will immobilize without killing, standard uniforms that can be worn in the far North or tropical climates, and armored tanks and equipment that can swim and fly. Sounds like something right out of Buck Rogers.

Today's smile: A professor lecturing to his class intoned: "A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer." One of his students muttered: "No wonder so many of us flunk this course."

We think the fears of the ultra-liberals that Speaker John McCormack might become President are unfounded. The odds are against it since only two Speakers of the House of Representatives have ever attained the Vice Presidency. Schuyler Colfax in 1869 and John Nance Garner in 1933. And only one, James Knox Polk ever reached the Presidency, but he had left Congress to serve as Governor of Tennessee before moving to the White House. Now that those lazy, hazy days of summer are here dermatologists advise against exposing bare skin to the sun without using some kind of suntan lotion. Aside from the fact that sunburn is painful, they say it can affect your health and complexion and cause wrinkles. So, before becoming a sun worshiper, lather yourself with a good suntan preparation.

Thoughts while shaving: We read recently about the nourishment contained in a 90-calorie wallet. Nationalist China — $4,010 for sex stimulants, $590 for contraceptives, $13,500 for Royal Bee Jelly.

Thailand — $2,687 for television sets and antennas. MOVING ON — This is probably the last year Representative Otto Passman, D-La., long-time bitter foe of large-scale foreign aid spending, will wage his annual battle as chairman of the Foreign Aid Appropriations Subcommittee.

He is seeking to switch to the chairmanship of the subcommittee handling the Treasury and Post Office budgets. That's the proposal Passman has made to Representative George Mahon, D-Tex., new chairman of the full Appropriations Committee. The Treasury and Post Office chairmanship will be open next session as Representative J. Vaughan Gary, D-Va., is voluntarily quitting Congress.

The White House heartily favors getting rid of Passman as head of subcommittee in charge of foreign aid, and the chances are strong Mahon will give him the Treasury and Post Office subcommittee. Representative Tom Steed, D-Okla., wants it, but Passman has seniority rights, so it is most likely to get it — with much-relieved administration blessing.

PLANNED CHAOS IN KATANGA

The fall of Albertville in North Katanga to pro-Communist rebels is the natural flower of what the U.N. and our State Department have planted. It is the first in a series of disastrous outcroppings that we can expect in the once lovely and prosperous Belgian Congo.

In 1960, the U.N., our State Department, and the Socialist and Communist Parties of Belgium pressured the Brussels government into an early independence state toward the Congo. A series of disorders then precipitated independence. Immediately, Patrice Lumumba, Khrushchev's protege, and leader of the newly-free country, instituted a reign of terror of such proportions that Belgian troops had to be rushed to the scene to protect their nationals, their women and children. This violence set the stage for U.N. entry, at Lumumba's request, to protect the Lumumba regime. The U.N. went into the Congo in 1960, as it did again last year in Yemen, to save a pro-Soviet government, regardless of all the propaganda to the contrary.

If that elemental fact were not clear then, it should have been made abundantly so with the appointment of Rajeshwar Dayal as Chief U.N. administrator for the Congo. Dayal was an admirer of Lumumba whom he worked to save, a racist who hated the Congolese blacks and an administrator who worked in a conspicuously pro-Soviet fashion. It was Dayal who forced a supine U.S. State Department to recall an actress friend years ago who kept a trim figure by going on a banana diet periodically. As we recall it she ate nothing but bananas and drank milk for three days, and on the fourth day had three good meals — one of which included a broiled filet mignon and salad. Then three days more of the bananas and milk. At the end of a week she would have lost a few pounds. A quarter came to be known as "two bits" in a roundabout way. Our dollar was originally based on the Spanish dollar, which was divided into eight parts, hence "pieces of eight" in the West Indies, where Spanish money was widely used. Spanish paper dollars were frequently cut up into eight parts, each known as a "bit." Since a "bit" was equal to 12½ cents, and the 25-cent piece represented twice that amount, it came to be known as "two bits." The pollsters have been proven wrong so many times in this year's Presidential primaries we wonder if they'll hit it right for the election. Incidentally, we've never been polled by a pollster for our opinion on anything and none of our acquaintances have either. Since ancient times miltidy has used perfume to attract the male of the species. No doubt Cleopatra lathered herself with sweet-smelling waters to keep Caesar and Mark Anthony in a good mood. Wit and Whimsy

The happiest people are those who have the most interesting troubles.

Sales Manager — What's this big item on your expense account?

Traveling Salesman — Oh, that's my hotel bill.
Sales Manager — Well, don't buy any more hotels.

You needn't worry about avoiding temptation as you grow older — it starts avoiding you.

Book Salesman — This book will do half your work.
Business Man — Good; I'll take two.

Let us pay to our shattered loves the respect we pay to the dead.

Howard — What becomes of all those love triangles?
Bruce — Most of them turn into wreck-tangles.

recall our popular and understanding Ambassador Clare Timberlake.

Moise Tshombe was the western-oriented President of Katanga Province which he administered in businesslike and efficient manner. Tshombe took a secessionist position only when Lumumba was in power and worked consistently for a federation of Congolese States, with a certain autonomy reserved for all. He almost succeeded in this when he brought the Congolese leaders to Malagasy where they formulated a plan for such a union.

The U.N. had other designs and in the subsequent months embarked on a course that was calculated to destroy Tshombe. When pressure, propaganda, and even the forced arrest of Tshombe failed, the U.N. literally went to war twice to destroy him. Tshombe defeated the U.N. in the first war in 1961, but in December of 1962, the jet power of the blue-helmets prevailed and reduced Katanga, in many places, to rubble. Our State Department supported U Thant in this operation completely, even sending globe-trotters and crews to assist in the sanguinary encounter.

Thus it was that the U.N., by force, destroyed order, and the factories of production, and paved the way for the chaos that now prevails. Chaos is always grist for Communist mills and now the Communists, as many predicted, are moving. The only defense that I have seen of the whole disaster has been the fanciful description of the Communists as being Chinese instigated rather than directed by the "mellowing" Khrushchev with whom the State Department worked out the plan that was to lead to a peaceful, neutral and independent Congo.

We are seeing the first of the terrible consequences of what the leaders of the U.N. and our State Department have wrought. Far from admitting their grievous errors, they are now preparing to level South Africa which is producing more than the rest of the continent combined.

Someday, as it was with China and with Cuba, there will be a Senate survey of all these cruel events, but again it will be too late, for remorseless Soviet hegemony will then be extended to the heart of Africa, putting in bondage more millions of human beings.

Vatican to Announce Birth Control Stand

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
Millions of Catholic couples are awaiting anxiously a promised re-statement of their church's position on birth control.

announced "soon."
The Pope did not say that the church is preparing to change its stand. But neither did he rule out the possibility of important modifications.
Informed Catholic circles consider it highly improbable that the church will alter its long-standing opposition to the use of contraceptive devices. On the contrary, the forthcoming pronouncement is expected to reaffirm the Catholic view that it is immoral to engage in sex relations "in such a way that the act is deliberately frustrated in its natural power to generate life."

But there is at least a chance, informants say, that the Vatican will spell out certain conditions under which Catholics may in good conscience use the new hormone pills which affect ovulation.
The moral acceptability of these pills as a means of family planning has been the subject of sharp controversy among Catholic theologians in recent months.

Some noted Catholic scholars, such as Fr. Louis Janssens, professor of moral theology at the Catholic University of Louvain, Belgium, have urged the church to approve use of the pills to suppress ovulation, and therefore prevent conception. They contend that there is no moral difference between this method of birth control and the long-approved rhythm method, in which a couple tries to restrict sex relations to those portions of the menstrual cycle in which a woman is naturally infertile.

Other Catholic scholars — including leading U.S. authorities on moral theology — have lodged strenuous objections to use of hormone pills for the deliberate purpose of producing temporary sterility.

There seems to be a fairly widespread consensus among Catholic theologians that there would be no moral objection to a hormone pill which did not suppress ovulation entirely but merely stabilized the date of ovulation, so that the rhythm method could be used with complete confidence.

All of the birth control pills now on the market work by suppressing ovulation entirely. But Leo Cardinal Suenens of Belgium said recently that scientists have told him that a pill which simply regularizes ovulation sufficiently to make the rhythm method reliable "will be available very soon."

Pampa Girl Joins Assembly Staff

GLORIETA, N. M. (Sp) — Karen Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Moore, 1320 Charles, is serving on the staff at Glorieta Baptist Assembly camp.
She is a 1964 graduate of Pampa High School and is a member of the Pampa First Baptist church.
The new Mexico assembly is one of two nation-wide church leadership training assemblies owned and operated by the Sunday school board of the Southern Baptist Convention, Nashville, Tenn.

NEW BISHOP — Dr. W. McFerrin Stowe, pastor of St. Luke's Methodist church in Oklahoma City, was named a Bishop of the Methodist Church at the Methodist South Central Jurisdictional Conference in Dallas, Tex. He replaces retired Bishop William C. Martin.

Simeon Story Gives Basis For Sermon

"The Marks of a Godly Man" — A sermon based upon the second chapter of Luke and the story of Simeon, will be the sermon subject at the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

This Sunday Ruling Elder Kell Sorenson will assist at both services. At 8:30 the Choir, under the direction of Mrs. George Budd, accompanied by Mrs. Fidelia Yoder, will sing "Ancient of Days" — the Hymn of the Month as the morning anthem. Special instrumental music is planned at 11.

Other special morning activities will include the commissioning of Junior and Junior High Young People who will attend the camp at Ceta Glen. At the 11 a.m. service, Ruling Elder William Chambless, will be in session to fill an unexpired term, stalled — a member of the Sem. At 2:30 p.m. the Presbyterian Church will conduct the weekly worship at Twilight Acres. Reverend Hauck will preach from the 98th Psalm "A Timeless Decree".

Missionary to Conduct Two Services Sunday

Dr. Jerry Mays, who has been doing missionary work in Tanganyika, East Africa, for the past 18 months, will speak at the 10:45 a.m. and 6 p.m. services Sunday at the Church of Christ, Mary Ellen and Harvester Sts.
Dr. Mays, 32, is a physician and surgeon from Lake Jackson. He has established a clinic and hospital in the southern highlands of East Africa, where he is the only doctor serving the 200,000 residents of the area.
Dr. Mays began his work there from the back of his station wagon then moved into a small metal building. He has treated more than 10,000 patients during his first year there.
A three-unit hospital and clinic is now under construction with the aid of funds from the local Church of Christ and Park Row church in Arlington. Completion of the hospital is expected by Oct. 1.
At the Sunday evening service Dr. Mays will show colored slides of work being done in Tanganyika.

Dr. Carver Fills Pulpit for Two Sunday Services

Dr. Douglas Carver, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Pampa, will be in the pulpit for both services of worship Sunday. At the 11 o'clock worship he has chosen a text from Psalm 33:12 for his sermon, "The Land of the Open Bible." Mr. Joe Whitten, Minister of Music, will direct the church choir in singing an anthem, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is."

"Living Epistles" is the sermon topic the Pastor has chosen for the 5 o'clock evening worship, with the text taken from II Corinthians 2:2-3. The Chapel Choir will sing "It Is Well With My Soul."
The new Billy Graham feature length sound-color motion picture, "LUCIA" will be shown at the mid week service next Wednesday evening, July 8, at 8:30 p.m. This full length film will be shown in the auditorium after the cafeteria style supper and will last through the teachers and officers meeting.

Methodist Delegates Appoint New Bishop

DALLAS (UPI) — The Rev. W. McFerrin Stowe, the Methodist Church's newest bishop, today was assigned to the Kansas district at the closing session of the South Central Jurisdictional Conference.

Three other bishops in the eight-state region drew new assignments for the next four years and five bishops were returned to their present posts. Bishop Stowe was elected to his post Tuesday and will succeed Bishop Eugene Slater in the Kansas area. Bishop Slater was named to the San Antonio area. Bishop Paul V. Galloway moved from the San Antonio post to Arkansas and Bishop W. Kenneth Pope transfers from Little Rock to the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Delegates to the south-central jurisdictional conference voted to "fully cooperate" with the plan, which would have the effect of eliminating one form of segregation in the church. In other action, the delegates approved resolutions urging the 17 conferences of the jurisdiction to invite the four Negro conferences to join with them when their home jurisdiction is eliminated.

Baptist Youths Leave Monday For Camp Week

Youth of Central Baptist Church will leave Monday for a week's encampment at Pan-Fork Baptist Camp. This week affords the youth the opportunity of Bible Study, studies in practical Christian living and worship.
Following the Youth Camp will be a camp for Junior girls, July 13-16 and Junior boys, July 20-23. These camps provide an outstanding program and are promoted by the Baptists of this area.
Pastor, T. O. Upshaw, will return to the pulpit Sunday, after a week's absence during which he attended a Church Programming Conference at Gloria Baptist Assembly, Glorieta, New Mexico. At the 11 a.m. hour of worship the pastor will lead in the observance of the Lord's Supper.
Church services at Central Baptist Church begin at 9:45 when the church assembles for Bible Study. This part of the church services is conducted in department and class arranged in congenial age groups. The church workshops at 11 a.m.
The evening services begin with the "Church in Training" at 6 p.m. The worship service of the evening is at 7 o'clock.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist
When circumstances require a student to study during the summer months, it is particularly important to plan carefully or little will be accomplished.
Parents and teachers must remember that students traditionally look to the summer as a vacation period. Most students will be relaxing, playing, and taking a rest from their usual responsibilities. This contributes to the difficulties of a student who is required to study.
The difficulties connected with summer studies can be eased through understanding. A careful approach with properly organized plans can result in a successful program.
The best time to attend classes and study is during the morning hours when the student is well rested and the temperature has not reached the high point of the day. Cool evenings may also be conducive to study.
Air conditioned classrooms and home study areas would surely be an aid. When these are not available, care should be taken to use well ventilated classrooms which are not exposed to the direct sun during or previous to class time. The same would be advisable for home study areas. A fan might be helpful. Reading under the shade of a tree, whether it be in a park or a backyard, is most relaxing.
The day should be organized so that a reasonable amount of time is available for recreational purposes. Perhaps a day at the beach or local pool can be arranged. Free time to play should be planned. Remember that this must be when other children are also available.
If possible a family vacation should be planned at a time when the student can also participate. There is usually a period of one or more weeks between summer school and the regular school term.
Above all it is important that summer studies answer needs which the student recognizes. This may require a serious discussion between parents and student. This is especially true when the student can also participate in activities which are necessary for promotion or are obviously valuable. Extensive explanation may be needed when the summer work is a matter of correcting weaknesses.
