Supreme Court Rejects Appeal On 'Blue Laws'

Texas' Sunday Closing Rules Termed 'Confusing, Ambiguous'

AUSTIN (UPI) — The State Supreme Court today ruled unanimously the so-called Texas "blue laws" confusing and ambiguous, and threw out a state appeal for a permanent injunction forbidding sale of certain items on Sunday by a discount house.

The court avoided dealing with the constitutionality of Sunday closing laws, which has been challenged in other states, but merely ruled that the Texas law was contradictory.

The high court upheld a Court of Civil Appeals ruling which overturned a Nueces County district court order barring Shoppers World Inc. of Corpus Christi from selling certain items on both Saturday and Sunday.

The state said the discount chain store was violating state laws which prohibit sale of a wide variety of items on the consecutive days of Saturday and Sunday.

The laws have been an object of continuous controversy since their enactment by the 57th Legislature. They provide for the sale of the banned items only in the event of an emergency, and require the purchaser to sign a statement declaring a necessity.

Under this provision, Shoppers World had continued sale of the items. Customers were required to sign a "certificate of necessity," affirming that the item being purchased was necessary for "the welfare, health or safety of human or animal life."

The banned items include furniture, jewelry, china, headware and numerous other items of clothing and household goods.

In a unanimous decision, the high court said the law was ambiguous because it required the store to obtain a written certification of necessity, and at the same time required that the emergency exist.

Storekeepers may assume a state of emergency exists, the judges said, if the customer signs a statement to that effect. If any other interpretation were given the law, the court ruled, "a sale can never be made without risk of incurring criminal penalties."

Claims Threat In Hoffa Trial

CHICAGO (UPI) — An attorney charged today that a key government witness in the $25 million James R. Hoffa fraud trial threatened "I'll make trouble for your people," if the Teamsters Union foreclosed on a $4.4 million loan.

The charge was made by Stanford Clinton, attorney for the Teamsters' Union pension fund, against Vaughan B. Connelly, a Miami real estate operator who has said he was forced to make under-the-table kickbacks to Hoffa's associates. Hoffa and seven other men are charged with conspiring to obtain by fraudulent means more than $25 million in loans from the pension fund and of diverting $1.7 million of the sum to their own purposes.

Tourism Classes Being Conducted At Lovett Library

Another session of the Chamber of Commerce-sponsored course on tourism is scheduled tonight at 7 p.m. at Lovett Memorial Library.

The first session was held at 8 a.m. this morning and other classes are scheduled at the same times tomorrow.

Instructor is George R. Jordan, manager of the tourist development committee of the West Texas CoC and each person completing the course will receive a certificate making him a "Top O' Texas Ambassador," according to E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth, Pampa Chamber manager.

Minister Sworn In At Once

By S. G. ROY
NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Jawaharlal Nehru, India's first and only prime minister, died today of a stroke and heart attack. He was 74.

Within hours, Gulzari Lal Nanda, 64-year-old home minister and senior member of the cabinet, was sworn in as acting prime minister by President Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan.

A permanent successor to Nehru will be chosen later by the ruling Congress parliamentary party.

Most prominently mentioned for the post is Lal Bahadur Shastri, a 59-year-old former home minister and a member of the centrist faction of the badly-split Congress party who had been serving as Nehru's unofficial deputy since the prime minister suffered a first stroke in January.

Another possibility as prime minister is Nehru's daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, who has served as India's representative at the United Nations and in various other diplomatic posts for her father.

A 12-day official period of mourning was proclaimed. Nehru, one of the world's leading nationalists, died of the stroke and a heart attack that followed at 1:30 p.m. (4:30 a.m. EDT) without regaining consciousness.

The body will be cremated Thursday morning in accordance with Hindu rites on the banks of the River Jumna at Rajghat beside the tomb of Mahatma Gandhi, the man who led India's fight for independence through passive resistance against the British. Nehru was his devoted follower and successor as leader of the country.

Daughter At Bedside
A team of top medical specialists, his daughter and Shastri were at Nehru's bedside when the end came suddenly and dramatically.

Nehru's death was announced to a stunned and silent parliament by Heavy Industries Minister C. Subramiam. The announcement was repeated by the government radio.

Within an hour of the announcement of the news, nearly a million people began to converge on the prime minister's residence in an outpouring of grief. All approaches to the house were jammed. Police stopped all vehicles about a thousand yards from the building, keeping even special ministerial, diplomatic and press cars at a distance.

Stocks dropped on the Bombay Stock Exchange, the country's largest market. Tributes Pour In Tributes promptly flowed in from world leaders, and it was announced in Washington that Secretary of State Dean Rusk was flying to New Delhi immediately at the head of an American delegation to represent the United States at the funeral.

Nehru's body will lie in state throughout the night in the home where he died. The passing of Nehru, India's only prime minister since the big Asian country gained independence from Britain in 1947, was expected to have widespread implications for the Indian people and the world.

For the past 17 years Nehru alone has held the country together politically, and there was no clear line of succession at a time when India is plagued by political, economic and foreign problems.

GOP Candidates Feud Over Which Fits Mold

By DE VAN L. SHUMWAY
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The two candidates in next Tuesday's go-for-broke California Republican presidential primary feuded openly today over which one fits the Eisenhower mold.

Both concentrated their campaign fire on populous Southern California, containing 40 per cent of the state's seven million registered voters.

New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, bidding for this state's 86 GOP convention votes, told 1,500 young Republicans Tuesday night that Sen. Barry Goldwater, his primary opponent, doesn't share the philosophy outlined by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

But Goldwater said if Eisenhower didn't like him, the former President would have said so. The former President in an article written for the New York Herald Tribune and published Monday morning outlined what he called "Republican principles." They included support of the party's 1956 and 1960 platforms.

Joined By Tower
Goldwater's only scheduled campaign appearance today was before a rally at the Ambassador Hotel's Coconut Grove. He was joined by Texas Sen. John Tower, one of his chief campaign backers.

Rockefeller visited the Warner Brothers studios for an address before a campaign group and planned an evening speech at Loyola University. Speaking to a group of newsmen in San Diego, a defense industry center south of Los Angeles, Goldwater charged Tuesday night that New York newspapers tried to pressure Eisenhower to take "a stand against me."

Vandals Damage School Sprinkler

Vandals inflicted almost $200 damage to the Pampa High School sprinkler system Monday night in the only major activity being investigated by the police department.

Police Chief Jim Conner said someone drove over the west side school yard with an automobile, destroying the sprinkler system.

The incident was reported late yesterday by school officials. In other police activity, J. C. Roberts, owner of the Roberts Service Station, 800 E. Frederic, told police someone stole four used automobile tires from his station during the night. Roberts said the tires were chained down and the thief snapped the chain and made off with the tires. A value of $31 was placed on the tires.

"If Eisenhower opposes me, all he has to do is pick up the telephone and say, 'Barry, I don't think you're the man for the job,'" Goldwater said. "I don't think he would stoop to do this through a newspaper article."

Barry's Idea On Atom Use Stirs U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's remarks about possible use of atomic weapons in the Vietnam war had the Security Council debate on Southeast Asia stirred up to a bitter pitch today.

Council President Roger Seydoux of France asked members to conclude their general remarks today on Cambodia's charge of aggression against South Viet Nam and the United States.

U.N. Secretary General Thant said Tuesday in Ottawa that anyone suggesting the use of atomic bombs in troubled Southeast Asia was "out of his head."

"I am against the use of atomic bombs for destructive purposes anywhere at any time," Thant told a news conference. "Anyone who suggests such a thing is, in my view, out of his mind."

Left hanging from Tuesday's session was a Soviet demand for an official U.S. renunciation of Goldwater's remarks on atomic weapons.

The issue touched off one of the bitterest recent exchanges in the council between U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko.

Possible Use
Goldwater, an Arizona conservative who is seeking the Republican presidential nomination, said last Sunday that low-yield atomic weapons could be used to defoliate the forests along the South Viet Nam border to expose jungle supply lines used by the Communist guerrillas.

A spokesman for Goldwater explained subsequently that the senator was not advocating the use of atomic bombs, but merely "discussing" plans which he said were under study by the U.S. Defense Department.

Cambodia's complaint to the council stems from two Vietnamese border raids early in May. The Cambodians claim U.S. military advisers took part but Washington has denied this. The complaint since has mushroomed into a general debate on all of Southeast Asia, including Laos.

Underwriters Will Install Slate Tonight

The Top O' Texas Life Underwriters Association will hold its annual installation of officers banquet tonight at 7:30 in the Pampa County Club.

James V. Story of Wichita Falls and immediate past president of the Texas Life Underwriters Association will install the officers.

Myron Marx Jr. of Pampa will be installed as new president of the association, replacing outgoing president John McCausland.

Principal speaker is Lewis Timberlake of Austin, vice president and agency director of the Republic National Life Insurance Company.

Other officers to be installed include Frank Smith of Borger as vice president and W. B. Johnson of Pampa as secretary. Highlight of the banquet will be the selection of the Life Underwriter of the Year.

Incumbent Senator Loses in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Fred R. Harris, the youngest man ever to win the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate in Oklahoma, will carry his party's hopes against football idol Bud Wilkinson in the November election.

Harris, a 33-year-old state senator from Lawton, defeated incumbent Sen. J. Howard Edmondson in Tuesday's runoff by more than 90,000 votes.

The winner between Harris and Republican Wilkinson, former University of Oklahoma football coach, will serve out the remaining two years of the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr's term. In a stunning upset, 24-year-old Jed Johnson Jr., making his first bid for national office, defeated incumbent Rep. Victor Wickersham in the far-flung 23-county 6th District runoff. Johnson won by an unofficial 1,149 votes over veteran politician Wickersham, who missed winning the nomination in the May 5 primary without a runoff by only 279 votes.

Walter Rogers Reports Answers Sought on Farm Product Cost

The farmer's share of the food dollar has declined from 47 cents in 1950 to 37 cents today. In the past 16 years, the prices received by farmers for their products have dropped 12 percent while the prices paid by consumers have increased 29 percent.

Why? Why has the retail price of bread increased from about 14 cents a loaf to about 22 cents in the past 15 years? Why in this same period has the price paid to farmers for the wheat in that loaf of bread declined slightly? The "marketing spread" affecting bread has increased about 80 percent. By the same token, why has the farm-retail price spread for beef increased in the past 15 years from about 22 cents a pound to about 36 cents a pound?

In an effort to find the answers to these and other questions involving the food industry, the Senate this week passed and the House will soon consider legislation establishing a "National Commission on Food Marketing." This 15-member bipartisan panel (including five Senators and five House members) would make a thorough study of the food industry from the farmer to the consumer. The inquiry would be aimed at these points: (1) What changes actually have occurred in the size, concentration, and business relationship of food marketing firms? (2) What will the food industry be like in the future if present trends continue? (3) Will this food industry structure be consistent with the national longrun interest? What will be the effect of this structure on the family farm—on the consumer? (4) What kind of food marketing system do we want?

The food industry involves expenditures of $70 billion annually at retail. About 11 million Americans are employed by it.

All segments of the food processing industry — farm organizations, major food chains and grocer associations, and labor unions — support the proposed Commission study. The President has recommended enactment of the legislation.

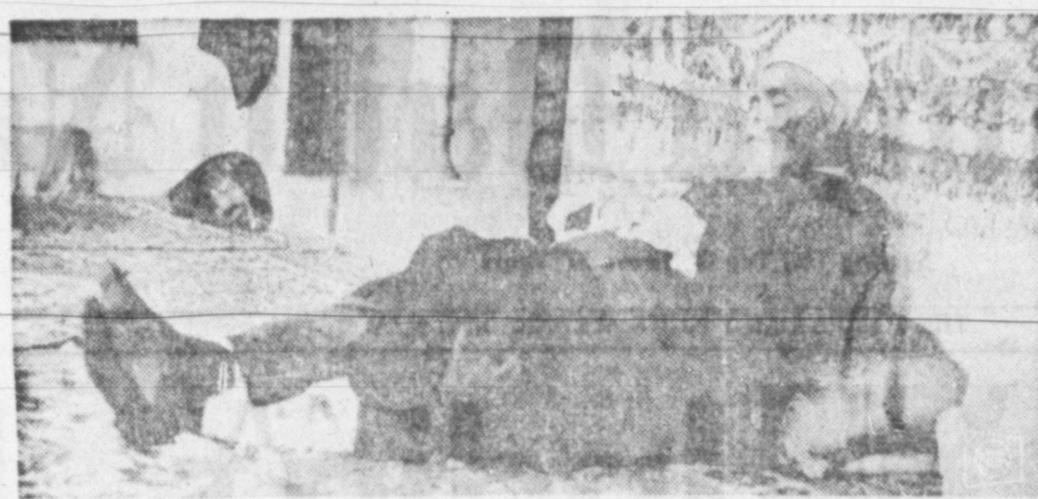

Why? Why has the retail price of bread increased from about 14 cents a loaf to about 22 cents in the past 15 years? Why in this same period has the price paid to farmers for the wheat in that loaf of bread declined slightly? The "marketing spread" affecting bread has increased about 80 percent. By the same token, why has the farm-retail price spread for beef increased in the past 15 years from about 22 cents a pound to about 36 cents a pound?

American today enjoy the lowest food prices in the history of the world — less than 19 percent of take-home pay. Yet the farmers' accomplishments in improved production have not brought to them the security and income that such an achievement should normally produce.

For some time there has been a trend in this country toward casting a blanket indictment against the American farmer. Farm programs generally have been referred to as "subsidy programs." The word "subsidy" has come to be associated with the American farmer, especially by those who have not understood overall economic problems involved. The truth is that it would be impossible for me to list in one newsletter the different businesses that enjoy direct and indirect subsidies far greater than any that ever went to the American farmer. If I feel that a debt of gratitude is owed the American farmer by the American people generally, our farmers are certainly entitled to fair treatment in the marketplace, whether they be grain producers, cattle producers, fiber producers, milk producers, or otherwise. And in keeping with this thought, one of the prime protections afforded them should be against excessive imports.

LOYALTY

DENVER (UPI)—When seventh grade teacher Mrs. Ruth Jeffs was forced to take down political signs from her classroom, her students — who had made the signs in preparation for a mock political convention — rallied behind her.

They forgot their partisan views and joined together in support of Mrs. Jeffs. Up came new posters at Merrill Junior High School — "Unfair to Mr. Jeffs" and "Aren't We Supposed to Think?"

Commented Mrs. Jeffs: "I don't think I've ever been so popular with the students."

PROJECT STARTS — Jack Rose, left, chairman of the Public Service Program for Top O' Texas Life Underwriters, and Mrs. Jerry Wyatt, president of the local Exceptional Children's Association, pose with two of the youngsters before a trip to Amarillo last weekend. The tour kicked off the underwriters' service program which will be entered in national competition this year.

Trip Starts Underwriter Project

Jack Rose, chairman of the Public Service Program for the Top O' Texas Association of Life Underwriters, claimed a good start for the project when the Association group under his direction took 17 exceptional children on a tour of Amarillo's Thompson Park and the KGNC-TV station, last week end.

The children, treated to a whole day in the park, were given rides, refreshment and lunch before going on a tour of the zoo in the park. The last part of the program consisted of a visit to the weather station and newsroom of the TV station. The children got to see themselves on the TV monitor.

500 May Die on Highways During Weekend Holiday

CHICAGO (UPI)—Nearly 500 Americans might be killed on the nation's streets and highways during the Memorial Day weekend, the National Safety Council said this week.

The council estimated that between 410 and 490 persons would die in traffic accidents between 6 p.m. local time Thursday and midnight Sunday. In a comparable non-holiday period there would be about 360 traffic casualties.

ing Rose were: Joel Combs, Derrel Hogsett, Paul Mariner, Art Pfiel and Roy Sons. Ladies who volunteered their help to bring success to the event were: Norma Briden, secretary to American National Insurance Company, Mrs. Irvin Cashier of American National in Borger, Mrs. Roy Sons, Mrs. Art Pfiel and Mrs. Joel Combs. Committee members of the Exceptional Children's Association in attendance were: Mrs. Jack Sloan, Mrs. Jerry Wyatt and Mrs. Jerry Moore.

More than 83 million motor vehicles will travel about 8.5 billion miles during the holiday weekend, the council said.

Dear Abby....

Teen Age Diary May or May Not Reveal the Real Truth

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This is for the mother who read her 16-year-old daughter's diary and was "worried sick." I, too, was 16 when my mother read my diary (20 years ago.) It read like this: "After choir practice we all went to Margaret's house and as usual her mother was out. We were popping corn when Margaret's brother came in with some friends. 'R.M.' sure is the love of my life. When Margaret's mother came home, 'R.M.' was showing us how the coach gives rubdowns. I'm sure she thought the worst! Next week after choir we will go to Betty's as her folks will be out of town. Oh, boy! Here's hoping 'R.M.' will be there."

Some of the above was true, but the part about "R.M." was all wishful thinking. I had a terrific crush on him and he didn't know I was alive. I filled my diary with one imaginary love affair after another. Of course my mother would never believe that it was all made up. I'm sure that many teen-agers do this today. My own little girl (13) is now entering this thrilling age of secrets, and I am glad I have a secret to help guide me. Sincerely,

AUTHOR OF A TEEN-AGE DIARY

DEAR ABBY: I seldom disagree with you, but when you say that it is "unforgivable" for a mother to read her daughter's diary, I can't go along with that. It is the DUTY of parents to keep a close eye on their children until they are able to assume full responsibility for their actions. If a mother can learn something that will be helpful in guiding her daughter by reading her diary, or letters, or listening in on telephone conversations, I say more power to her! The "loss of privacy" is not nearly as serious to 15- or 16-year-olds as the trouble they could get into when they get away with things they shouldn't. It doesn't do any good to hear the confessions after a girl is in trouble when the trouble is evident.

ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW
DEAR ABBY: I, too, have read my 16-year-old daughter's diary for more than five years, and I expect to tell her only when she is lying awake waiting for her teenager to come in. By reading it, I have come to understand the intense need for love and patience at 16. It has helped me to foresee trouble before it develops, and to offer wise guidance. It has taught me to listen instead of preach. It has helped me to set limits before they are breached. It has also given me growing confidence in my daughter's ability to make the right decisions. I believe I have an obligation to God to return this child to Him as a fulfilled, useful person, not as an apology. And I know that I will be forgiven for using "unforgivable" means to do so when the time comes.

Terrible Turk Topples Milwaukee for 7th Win

By United Press International
The terrible Turk of the roughhouse, fun-loving Dalton gang, is on the prowl, making the once-misfiring Colts as hot as a pistol.
Dick Farrell, alias Turk, of the Houston Colts, is riddling National League batters with his bulletlike fast ball to the tune of seven victories this season.
Farrell stricken his way to a 4-2 victory over the Milwaukee Braves Tuesday night

Kenny Hebert Officially On Big 33 Team

ORANGE, Tex. (UPI)—Three rainy ends were among the latest group of Texas high school football players picked today for the Big 33 classic against Pennsylvania prep stars Aug. 1.
The game at Hershey, Pa., will feature top high school players of the two states, both regarded as producers of some of the nation's best football talent.
Seven Texans were added to the list today, bringing to 29 the total selected. A committee headed by Fred Cervelli, sports editor of the Orange Leader, is picking the team.
The latest additions included Mark Babina, 6-5 and 214 pounds, from Grand Prairie; Mike Horak, Grand Prairie, 6-3, 198 pounds; and Jimmy Murphy, 6-3, 170 pounds, of Dallas Bryan Adams. All are ends.
Others were tackle Dwayne Foster, Kermit, 6-2, 220; guard Joel Brame, Sherman, 6-2, 192; center Stan Robinson, Amarillo Tascosa, 6-2, 205; and halfback Kenny Hebert, Pampa, 5-11, 182.

to become the first major leaguer to win seven games (he has lost one), striking out 11 and allowing only four hits.
The 30-year-old product of a proper Boston family was one of a trio of fast-living Philadelphia Phillies, who four years ago received the "Dalton gang" tag for upholding the old baseball tradition of riotous, after-hours living. The other members were pitcher Jim Owens, now a teammate of Farrell's with the Colts, and Jack Meyer, now gone from the major league scene.
Cloninger Takes Loss
Rookie Mike White, son of the Braves' third-base coach Jojo White, contributed four singles to the Colts' attack against loser Tony Cloninger, raising his batting average to .393. Felipe Alou and Joe Torre homered for the only Milwaukee runs.
The New York Mets set a club record for hits—and runs while thumping the Chicago Cubs, 19-1; Pittsburgh routed league-leading Philadelphia, 13-4; the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-2, and rain postponed the San Francisco at St. Louis contest.

Senior Loop Umpires May Strike for Raise

CHICAGO (UPI)—If National League umpires aren't assured of bigger pension payments, "supervisory personnel" may be manning the arbiter's embattled posts by July 3.
That's the deadline set by the National Baseball League Umpires Association for "appropriate action," on its demand for increased payments by the league to the umpires' pension fund.

ton, 3-2; Minnesota clipped Los Angeles, 2-1, and the Chicago White Sox at Kansas City game was washed out.
Belts Five Hits
Dick Smith became the first Met to collect five hits in one game and Ron Hunt added four in the 23-hit onslaught by New York. Every Met starter had at least one hit and one run batted in against starter Bob Buhl and five relievers. Jack Fisher went the distance for the victory, his second in five decisions.

Jim Pagliaroni cracked a grand-slam home run as the Pirates scored 10 runs in the first two innings to chase starter Chris Short. The victory was the fourth straight for the Pirates and moved them into a third-place tie with the St. Louis.
Vernon Law was the benefactor of the slugger, winning his second game against four losses. Cookie Rojas and Johnny Callison homered for the Phils, and Manny Mota connected for the Pirates.
Bob Purkey hurled a six-hitter and the Reds capitalized on three Dodger errors, including one by loser Don Drysdale (5-4) to stop the Dodgers. Frank Howard spoiled Purkey's shut-out bid with a two-run ninth-inning homer, his 13th of the season.

John J. Reynolds, the umpires' attorney, told of the group's plans in a press conference Tuesday. He refused to use the word "strike" or "walk-out" despite repeated pressure.
But he agreed that a strike was "one possible" way of interpreting "appropriate action."
The umpires now receive an annual pension starting at age 55 based on $200 per year for each year of service. They seek an increase to $300 per year.
Reynolds said the umpires presented their proposed increases to the National League's Executive Committee at Los Angeles last December. It was referred to the pension committee for further study.
The attorney said the umpires heard nothing from the league until May 11 when President Warren Giles outlined in a letter his recommendations to the pension committee for increases in the existing pension plan.
Reynolds refused to disclose what these were except that the umpires voted them "inadequate and not acceptable."
"Further, it was decided by the men that the minimum acceptable increase in the pension plan would be $300 per year for each year of active service, with a maximum contribution toward the plan of $250 per year per man," Reynolds said.
At present, umpires contribute 3 per cent of their annual salary toward the pension fund and the league provides the remainder.

NFL Cardinals Discuss Future
ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Charles and Bill Bidwill, majority owners of the St. Louis Football Cardinals, planned to meet today with officials of the Civic Center Redevelopment Corporation to discuss the team's future here.
No final decision was expected to be made in the meeting.
Charles said Tuesday, "we are going into this meeting with a completely open mind. In fact, we are just going to continue our talks and not come to any decision."
The Cardinals met last week with Atlanta, Ga., officials to discuss the team's relocation there. A major stumbling block to the Cardinals remaining in St. Louis has been a 30 year lease requested by the stadium officials.
The Bidwills said they had received a "tremendous offer" from Atlanta.
The meeting today was to be held in an undisclosed location.
Tuesday, the Bidwills met with minority stockholder, Joseph Griesedieck in team offices. Griesedieck said he was opposed to having the team moved at any time.
Griesedieck said the Bidwills "assured me that they have made no commitments of any kind in Atlanta."

Colts Take On Stinnett Tonight

The first rain Pampa has seen in a long time was rejoiced over by most, but manager Tom Glover of the Pampa Colts is watching it with a wary eye, as it may spoil the Colts' first home game of the season tonight.

MERLE TERRELL

Weather permitting, the Colts will take the field at Optimist Park at 8:15 p.m. to seek revenge on the Stinnett Roadrunners for a 14-8 defeat in Stinnett last Sunday.
Although the Colts are still shorthanded, with a number of their players not returned home from college, Glover will have a little less of a makeshift lineup as he has "borrowed" one player from the Pampa Rebels and "lend-leased" another from semi-pro ball in Houston.
Added to the squad for this game have been Larry "Shotgun" Gregory and Kenny Hebert. Gregory, all-district catcher for Pampa High, will back up Cotton Hargraves behind the plate and also see some infield and some outfield duty. Hebert, who leaves Friday to play for the Lone Star Brewers in Houston, will make his farewell appearance in a Pampa uniform, slated to play both shortstop and outfield.
Mike Clark, the rotund right-hander who was the mainstay of the PHS pitching staff several years ago, will take the mound to open the game, backed by Wallace Matthew, Blazin' Bobby Price, Big Jerry Glover and Hargraves.

The probable starting infield will have Glover at first base, Merle Terrell at second, Matthew at shortstop and Gary Hill at third base. Jerry Layne, Chuck Bennett, who played with Frick last year, Hebert or Marvin Young will make up the starting outfield.

Nick Pick Again For 500 Open

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Top money winner Jack Nicklaus led the assault on Speedway's flat acres today in round one of the $70,000 "500" Festival Open golf tournament.
Nicklaus, who has won $48,025 on the PGA tour this season, including victories in the Phoenix Open and Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, passed up Tuesday's $5,000 pro-amateur tournament, which was called off after two cloudbursts.
The Buckeye better from Ohio also passed up last year's tournament. But a somewhat tougher Speedway course and $12,000 going to the winner lured him here this time.

Indians Charge Whitey With Being a 'Ringer'

By United Press International
Some gals make a big fuss about an engagement ring, but you ought to hear the Cleveland Indians holler about a plain old wedding ring.
It didn't do them a bit of good because the New York Yankees not only knocked them off for the fifth straight time Tuesday night, 3-2, but also leap-frogged over them into third place in the American League.
The ring belongs to Whitey Ford, who wore it on his right hand under his glove while pitching against the Indians Tuesday night.
Solly Hemus, the sharp-eyed third base Cleveland coach, spotted it on Ford's finger early in the evening and waited until the opportune time to complain.
He picked the top of the ninth inning with the score tied 2-2.
Hemus-told Cleveland Manager George Strickland, who promptly beamed about it to plate umpire John Rice.
Everyone Talking
The Indians felt Ford was using the ring to put nicks in the ball.
This brought Yankee Manager Yogi Berra charging from the dugout and before you know it everyone was trying to talk at once.

The harangue about the ring lasted so long that Ford finally walked off the mound and took it off in the dugout.
Ford struck out 10 batters but it was rookie Pete Mikkelsen, who was credited with the victory, his third against one defeat. He took over for Ford with two on and one out in the ninth, retired the next two batters and earned the win when little Bobby Richardson broke the tie with a bases-loaded single in the bottom of the ninth.
Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore won its fifth straight with a 2-1 triumph over Detroit. Boston ran its victory straight with a 3-2 win over Washington, and Minnesota beat Los Angeles, 2-1. The Chicago-Kansas City game was rained out.
Bob Johnson's pinch single in the seventh broke up a 1-1 tie between the Orioles and Tigers and a fine pitching duel between Wally Bunker and Mickey Lolich (4-3), each of whom had allowed only two hits until that frame.
Ed Bressoud's ninth inning single scored Earl Wilson with Boston's winning run against Washington. Bressoud connected off reliever Ronnie Kline, now 3-3. Wilson, who won his second against a like number of losses, gave up eight hits and fanned eight. Lou Clinton and Jim King hit homers.

Minnesota's Jim Kaat won his own game when his seventh-inning infield single scored Don Mincher with the run that beat Los Angeles. Ken McBride suffered his eighth straight setback compared with one victory although he allowed only three hits and one earned run in eight innings. Kaat yielded eight hits and struck out nine in posting his fifth victory.

YOST SIGNS CONTRACT
NEW YORK (UPI) — Jerry Yost, former West Virginia University quarterback, has signed as a free agent with the New York Jets of the American Football League. He is the fourth quarterback of the Jets' roster, joining Dick Wood, Pete Liske and Mike Taliaferro.

5 Cents In Gold Backs Dollar

Since foreign aid began, the U.S. has delivered to foreigners $9.1 billion, or 37 per cent of its 1949 gold reserve. The Administration, determined to continue foreign aid, now desperately seeks to devise a substitute for gold to forestall bankruptcy in its international accounts. In this effort the U.S. has the eager help of foreign economists from 9 leading industrial countries. They, and U.S. economists, form the so-called Paris Club which has been meeting secretly in Washington. Their hope is to find some means to permit the U.S. to continue foreign aid—and avoid defaulting international payments or devaluing the dollar.

International liquidity exists if gold and currencies redeemable in gold are available to settle foreign trade balances. Since foreign aid began, every year except 1957, the U.S. has run an unfavorable balance of payments. These deficits were partially settled by delivery of gold to foreigners. Today, however, U.S. gold for this purpose is practically exhausted. In addition, foreigners now hold $26 billion in short-term due bills, mainly bank deposits and Treasury bills, acquired principally through foreign aid. These due bills are all redeemable in gold—which our Treasury does not have available.

If You Want to Be Free

The United States prospered and became the strongest nation in the world because it left behind and repudiated big and powerful centralized governments of Europe and the rest of the world. They left behind and repudiated governments which greedily collected taxes up to 25 and 30 per cent of the individual's earnings. They left behind governments which controlled the lives, the business and industrial activities of its people.

The federal government was prohibited from buying land except for the minimum necessary to provide government service. The federal government was prohibited from entering into the banking business or any other business. It was to raise and maintain an army and navy sufficient to protect the country. To levy and collect custom duty to provide operating funds for the federal government, to create and maintain the value of a national currency with a gold reserve. To the founding fathers, well acquainted with the big centralized governments of Europe, this was just about all the power the federal government of this new land dedicated to a new concept.

Without a clear legal right, the federal government started buying land, until today it owns and keeps off the tax roll more than 25 percent of the total land area of the nation.

The federal government assessed an income tax, promised never to exceed 10 per cent of anyone's income and never to be applied to one earning less than $10,000 a year. This now takes as much as 90 per cent and is held out of the wages of even the lowest paid worker and exceeds the tax collected by any other nation on earth.

Aid to education and relief has become an important and costly part of government. Public housing now results in one of every 60 families in the nation being housed by the taxpayers.

Federal highway construction was justified under national defense, but public work and public industry competing with private enterprise, losing almost as much money as the irritating income tax takes in, cannot be justified in any manner.

We need to return to a limited federal government doing only those things which the Constitution and Bill of Rights specify. And if we are to have a prosperous nation and a free society we had better see that the welfare state is repudiated and repealed.

Without a clear legal right, the federal government started buying land, until today it owns and keeps off the tax roll more than 25 percent of the total land area of the nation.

Straight Talk

By Tom Anderson
THE POLITICAL
HORATIO ALGER

When he first started his political career, Lyndon "Broke" Johnson had to have a cosigner to swing a $75 bank loan. As secretary to a Texas congressman 30 years ago, LBJ embarked on his Horatio Alger career making $167 a month. According to "U.S. News and World Report," on December 31, 1942, Mrs. Johnson put her net worth at $64,332.50, most of which she inherited. The Johnsons, on their known holdings, are now believed to have between $10 and $15 million. How? One of my fondest wishes is to be able to look back through Lyndon Johnson's income tax reports. How can any penniless man become a multi-millionaire while on the public payroll the entire time and do it honestly? A bank president once confided that he'd keep his job at no salary just to be able to see and take advantage of the deals which cross his desk. A businessman or politician who uses his influence and inside information to enrich himself is more reprehensible than a teller who steals out of the cash drawer.

No Experience
Our President never worked in private industry, and yet Johnsonites say, "he understands business." He certainly does. But what kind of business? In a way, the Johnson Frontier is the greatest "free enterprise" administration in our history. Never has any one administration had so many "owners." Lyndon Johnson, Billie Sol Estes and Bobby Baker have made more money in less time than any trio since Elizabeth Taylor.

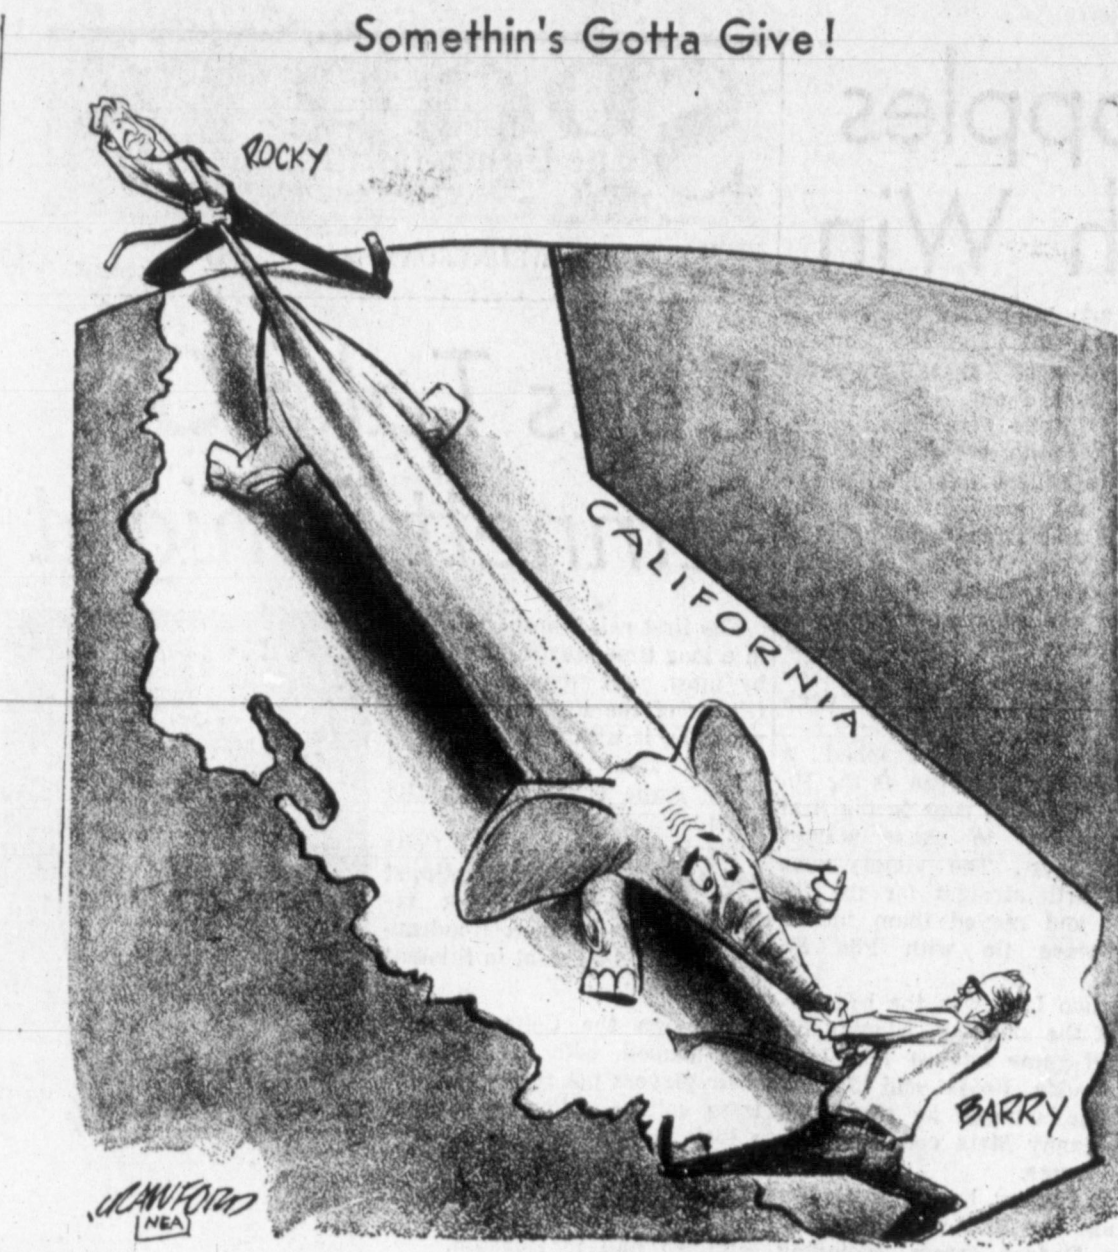

Bobby Baker learned it from the old master, LBJ, who said: "Bobby is my strong right arm. He is the last man I see at night and the first one I see in the morning." Johnson recently had photographs taken of his shaking hands with everybody in the White House except the pastry chef. He can't afford to be seen with a "Baker" now. I will personally pay for the White House lights being turned on again — to illuminate the Bobby Baker case.

Light Bulb Johnson was among the first of the Big Spenders. The reason he turns lights off is that bulbs and electricity are so cheap. He likes to spend billions of other people's money. It costs about a penny to burn a 100 watt bulb all night. Johnson could leave 7,000 lights on every night for the $25,000 increase he has asked for to run the White House. He talks economy while promoting every socialistic program imaginable. As they're saying in Washington, "Johnson is the most frugal spend-thrift in history."

Back on the Farm
A recent cartoon in the leftist "Nashville Tennessean" depicts a dilapidated shack in the foreground with modern skyscrapers behind it. The caption is "President Johnson Intends to Do Something About This." Several days before, "U.S. News and World Report" carried a picture of an almost identical shack in which a Negro tenant on one of Lady Bird Johnson's Alabama farms lives. The magazine reported: "Some of the families live as their ancestors lived in Civil War times — with oil lamps, wood stoves. There are no television sets, no radios, none of the conveniences that most Americans take for granted."

So, the question arises, why don't the Johnsons eliminate this pocket of poverty on their own land? Since they are worth $10 to $15 million, why should they tax us to eliminate poverty? Robin Hood Johnson proposed in a recent White House speech, "We are going to try to take all of the money that we think is unnecessarily being spent and take it from the 'haves' and give it to the 'have nots' who need it so much." Let's start with Johnson's millions. He is, as he describes it, "both a liberal and a conservative." That is Johnson's Wax. He's liberal with yours and conserves his.

Breakthrough in House Committee on Medicare Bill Reached Through Compromise in Three Areas

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — A major breakthrough has been made in the House Ways and Means Committee on the administration's long-stalled Medicare bill. Agreement in principle has been reached by a majority of the committee's 25 members on a compromise three-part program which provides:

—A five per cent across-the-board hike in Social Security benefits for the 12 million people now receiving these payments.

—Liberalization of the Kerr-Mills federal-state matching program to permit payment of physician costs as well as hospital bills and include an additional 100,000 needy, elderly persons not now eligible.

—Establishment of a new program of hospital insurance coverage under the Social Security retirement program for persons 65 and over.

Under this tentatively approved medical care package, put together in a series of backstage meetings with Democratic congressional leaders and White House aides, a hospital insurance trust fund would be set up under the Social Security program.

This trust fund, designed to defray the cost of the new hospital care program, would be financed by an increase in the Social Security payroll tax from the present maximum of 3-3/4 per cent to 7-1/2 per cent. The payroll tax would be increased to 10 per cent in 1972.

These increased funds would pay the hospital costs for the first 45 days of all elderly persons covered under the new medical care program. No doctor bills would be paid.

Still unsettled are the date this program would become effective and the amount of taxes an individual would have to pay into the fund before becoming eligible for hospital insurance coverage.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS — The legislators' new medical care package also includes radical changes in the Kerr-Mills program enacted in 1958 during the Eisenhower administration.

As revised, it would provide an extra $250 million in federal funds to expand both the coverage and benefits under this federal-state matching program.

The highly controversial "means test," which now requires an elderly person to be destitute before benefits can be paid, would be changed to a "cash income test." This test would allow elderly persons to receive up to $2,200 a year from all sources and still be eligible for payment of their medical costs.

The proposed 5 per cent living-cost boost for those now receiving Social Security benefits would be the first since 1958. It raises the existing $127 maximum to approximately $135 for a retired individual.

To pay for these higher benefits, the legislators plan to hike the Social Security tax base (currently fixed at the first Automation is continuing to move forward rapidly in almost every phase of life. There are already partly automated hospitals in the U.S. designed not only to aid doctors in diagnosis, but to reduce the 20 per cent of the time which nurses now spend on paper work. The system is programmed so a patient's prescriptions, injections and other requirements can be fed into a computer, which will automatically nudge the pharmacy, laboratory and nursing station into action at the proper time.

Today's smile: One morning a repair man from an electric appliance firm identified himself to a housewife and said: "I understand you have something in the house that won't work." She replied: "Yes. He's still in bed."

Since Mark Twain's death in 1910 his publishers have paid his estate more than $2 million in royalties from his books, movie adaptations and other sources. In his lifetime he never dreamed of the riches that would accrue from his work. You can always tell when spring has officially arrived because of the antics of college students. In Perth, Australia, 36 co-eds at the University of Western Australia broke the world car-cramming record by giggling and screaming their way into a 1948 Packard sedan. And at Berkeley, Calif., two student dormitories laid claim to having played the world's longest basketball game. It lasted 45 hours and the total points scored was 6674. No one seems to know who won.

Thoughts while shaving: Washington, D.C., may be the capital of the world, but the corn-cob pipe capital of the world is Washington, Missouri. Last year the town turned out 3 million pipes. They are made from a special kind of hybrid corn, which provides the thick cobs needed for pipe bowls. Any pipe smoker will tell you you haven't smoked a pipe until you've tried a corn-cob. We've smoked and enjoyed them for years. The word "dollar," meaning currency, comes from the German word "thaler," which referred to a silver works in what was once Bohemia, but is now Czechoslovakia.

Soda fountains are disappearing from many drug stores, but we know of two where the owners increased prescription business by the adroit exploitation of their soda fountains. One offered free refreshments while the customer waited to have a prescription filled. The other sent "get well" cards in the form of coupons to prescription customers, which could be redeemed at the soda fountain for a soft drink or soda. Every one hears about the salesmanship of Macy's, Saks, Gimbel's, Marshall Field's and other leading stores of the nation, but the most profitable department store in the country is Korvette's on New York's Fifth Avenue. They turn over $300 worth of merchandise per square foot of selling space per year as compared with $130 per annum

GEORGE C. WALLACE:
A SYMBOL

By William D. Graft
Publisher, American Standard
What can be learned from the surprisingly strong showings made by Alabama Governor George Wallace in the Wisconsin, Indiana and Maryland primaries?

Was this some sort of unpredictable phenomenon that went against the grain of the expected? Or, rather, could it have been a manifestation of the true American spirit — latent for many years but now asserting itself?

In spite of the brushing aside of the Wallace victories as nothing more than Republican cross-overs, we are inclined to believe that they have reflected a particularly sizeable disaffection with the philosophy of centralized planning, Big Government and the minority rule of force.

In both Wisconsin and Indiana, the Republicans who "crossed over" certainly constituted a relative few, as compared with the number of Democrats who voted against the "establishment."

Vote For What?
Were these people voting for George Wallace the man, who is avowedly for States' rights? Or were they voting for what the man represented — individual freedom of choice?

What prompted George Wallace to make his forays into supposedly hostile "northern territory"? Some say he only wanted to hurt the President's standing in predominantly "liberal" states. We are hazing a guess on this; but think that he sought to prove that belief in states' rights and self-determination does not reside exclusively in Southern minds and hearts.

If we could penetrate the sharp mind of the Alabama governor, we'd probably discover that he sought only to prove that Americans are Americans no matter where you find them — and that a substantially large number of them are getting sick to death of being told how to think and how they must act. They are tired of having their property, enterprises and earnings controlled by a power-hungry central government.

Results
After his impressive showing in Indiana, George Wallace made a statement to the effect that the "liberals" back teeth had been jarred loose. And, indeed, some dental repairs may be needed by the "establishment" particularly as Mississippi added to the tooth-jarring process by approving the Liberty Amendment — a major victory in spite of pressures from the federal bureaucracy. This combination one-two punch set a lot of pompous, collectivist heads reeling.

The way it looks from here, Governor George C. Wallace of Alabama is a far better judge of homo sapiens Americans than those "in the know" had given him credit for. And he proved beyond any doubt that when Americans are given a real "choice," their voices come through loud and clear.

THE UNTOLD STORY OF PANAMA

The New Year's Day riots in Panama came as a surprise to many Americans who had not followed the unrest and agitation that led to the violence. Yet those riots can not be understood without a full understanding of the background — going back over half a century.

Probably the only complete and authoritative book on the background of Panama and the Canal is "The Untold Story of Panama" by Earl Harding. First published in 1959, it has just been reissued as a paperback by American Opinion, Belmont 78, Mass. ($1).

Harding's book goes beyond mere consideration of the Canal and investigates the ancestry and birth of Panama itself; and demonstrates the importance of that birth. From this beginning, he brings the reader forward to today's events — providing scrupulous details every step of the way.

The author's repertorial integrity stimulates him to bring all relevant facts to the reader's attention. This includes a full airing of Teddy Roosevelt's "aggressive" tactics in bringing the Canal into existence. But the author does not attempt to pass judgment; rather he merely reports and documents the facts for the reader's consideration.

His objective newspaper style causes him to bring the book to a close when he has presented the last fact and idea. He does not attempt to summarize the information, nor to draw conclusions pointing to specific solutions for today's problems. However, he does provide enough information to permit the reader to make intelligent conclusions.

Earl Harding may well be the best-informed man in America on this subject. He was a young editor on the New York World when that newspaper was threatened with a criminal libel prosecution over facts that had been published on the Canal dispute in 1908. Harding was placed in charge of an intensive investigation into the Panamanian situation — in order to marshal all evidence for the necessary defense that was anticipated.

The investigation lasted two years and Earl Harding never lost his interest in the subject. When Nasser seized the Suez Canal in 1956, and the ever-recurring cries for nationalization or internationalization of the Panama Canal resumed, he decided it was time to put his information on paper.

The result is a highly-readable and informative book on a topic vital to American interests.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — International Statistical Bureau, Inc., predicts the peak in the stock market for the year is still to come. "Any reaction will be moderate and temporary," the bureau adds.

Investment and speculative opportunities still exist, the bureau says, despite the maturing phase of the rise. However, it cautions investors that "the need for sound professional assistance in selection of stocks is great—more so than at any time in years."

Carl M. Loeb, Rhoades & Co. says investors' nervousness over the level of stock prices and the duration of the current rise should be seen in perspective. The brokerage house says that while bargains are pretty rare stocks used in compiling the Dow-Jones average "are not above the average level that has prevailed for quite a few years." It notes that the current market rise represents a 54 per cent advance as compared with an average of 80 per cent for "the typical major bull cycle."

James Dines & Co., Inc., notes that the percentage of all odd-lot volume to all round-lot volume continues to hover between 15 and 18 per cent, "indicating the public has not yet returned in dangerous flood, to this market." The market letter says that "absent is the rampant optimism by the totally uninformed for which we have been waiting so long." It adds that a major decline with this type of background would be "unprecedented and extraordinary."
