Reds Down Second U.S. Helicopter

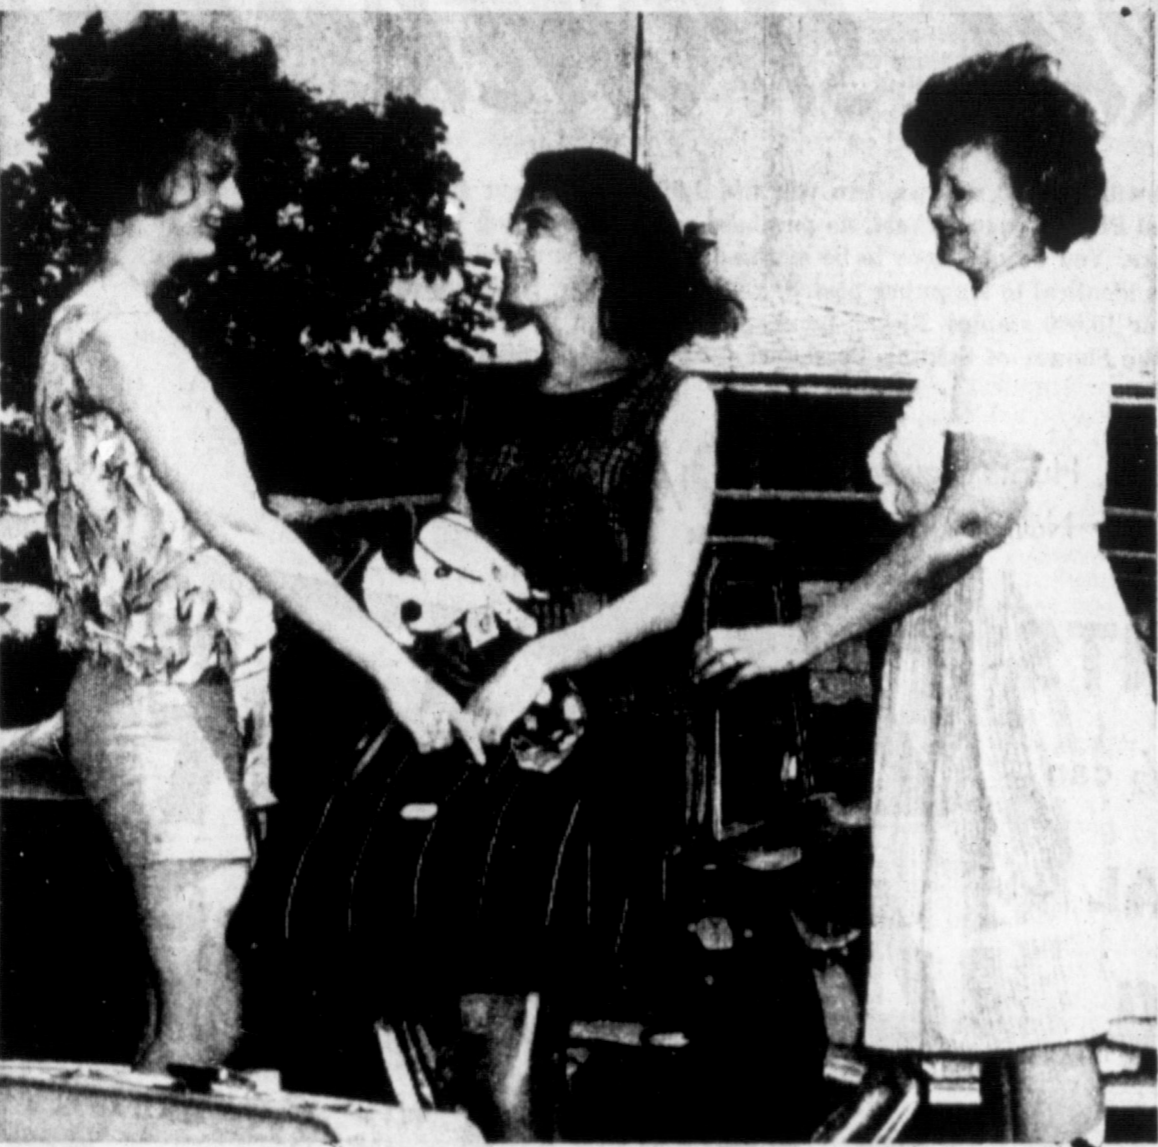

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—Communist guerrillas today shot down a U.S. Army turbojet helicopter in the jungled mountains of central Viet Nam, killing two Americans and wounding two others, a U.S. military spokesman said.

It was the second fatal crash of a U.S. Army helicopter in South Viet Nam in as many days and raised the two day toll to six Americans killed, and two wounded.

The new deaths raised to 243 the number of American servicemen who have died in South Viet Nam since January, 1961. The American spokesman said the HU1 turbojet helicopter was shot down by Viet Cong Communist guerrillas this morning some five miles east of Hiep Duc in Quang Tin province, about 340 miles northwest of Saigon.

The dead were one officer and one enlisted man, the spokesman said.

The helicopter crashed on the jungle-covered slope of a 1,000-foot high mountain in the rugged area of central Viet Nam.

TEXAS WELCOME — Pampa families welcomed a bus load of 44 high school students representing 25 nations who arrived here Monday enroute to their respective countries after a year of study in American communities. The students had a choice of touring a local ranch or Pampa's Ceianese plant this afternoon, then planned to go swimming before attending a chuck wagon barbecue at 7:15 p.m. and a reception. They will depart at 8 a.m. Wednesday. Jane Howard, left, and Mrs. Jack Howard, right, 1400 E. Browning St., are shown helping Paulina Socioy, center, of Buenos Aires, Argentina, unload her luggage as she arrived at the Howard home.

Typhoon Winnie Hits Philippines, 16 Reported Dead

MANILA (UPI) — Typhoon Winnie swept across Manila and the heavily populated northern Philippines today with ferocious 118-mile-per-hour winds, causing at least 16 deaths and severe damage.

The typhoon, one of the strongest to hit the Philippines in years, forced a power shutdown throughout the city and the suburbs due to toppled electric and telephone poles. Thousands of trees were uprooted and most streets were flooded.

Manila's international and domestic airports were closed to traffic as Winnie battered Manila and outlying provinces for seven hours before roaring out into the South China Sea.

The power shutdown and the flood waters dumped by Winnie's howling winds partially isolated Manila from the outside world and the provinces.

The blackout of electricity left Manila still paralyzed by nightfall. Officials were afraid to turn the power back on because so many electrical lines were down.

It was not immediately known when the power would be restored. It was reported over the radio that it might be as long as two or three days.

Damage from the storm was described as "tremendous," by Ramon Mitra, spokesman for Manila Mayor Antonio Villegas.

Hundreds of families were homeless as swirling floodwaters unleashed by the typhoon washed away houses constructed of light materials. Winnie's powerful winds blew off thousands of rooftops and tore off giant billboards on top of multi-story buildings.

A mother and her daughter were taken to a hospital after being dug out of their collapsed house. Three persons drowned in Pasay City, a Manila suburb on the shores of historic Manila Bay.

Fed with moisture-laden air from a southwest monsoon, the typhoon flooded whole neighborhoods of Manila.

Life for the 2.5 million residents of the darkened capital was brought to a near-standstill.

Telephone and telegraph lines were blown down. Radio communications were disrupted. The Manila Electric Company cut off all power to prevent fires or electrocutions. Cables snapped and lashed wildly in the winds.

The storm tore the roof off the penthouse office of United Press International, located on top of an eight-story building in downtown Manila.

Rogers to Oppose Civil Rights Bill

AMARILLO (UPI)—U.S. Rep. Walter Rogers, D-Tex., said Monday he will vote against the civil rights bill when it comes before the House.

Rogers, of Pampa, said in a taped television interview the bill "strikes at the very basic concept of many of the legal principles in this country."

Large Crowd Expected At July 4 Celebration

The annual "Independence Day" celebration, sponsored by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, is expected to attract some 10,000 persons to Recreation Park Saturday for a barbecue, patriotic program and giant fireworks display.

The activities will get underway at 8 p.m. with a 20-minute band concert by the Pampa High School band.

Congressman Walter Rogers will deliver a brief patriotic address preceding a 30-minute fireworks display.

Chamber of Commerce Manager E. O. (Red) Wedgworth said this year's display is expected to be one of the finest in the six year history of the program.

Larry Hemken, chairman of concessions for the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, said all types of drinks and refreshments will be served by the club.

Approximately 6,000 persons can be seated in the stands and there is room for another 15,000 people in cars.

The annual affair is sponsored through private donations to the chamber and there is no charge to the public.

17 Feared Dead In Plane Crash

HAMILTON, Bermuda (UPI)—Seventeen men today were feared dead in the aerial collision of two U.S. Air Force planes making a promotional film of spaceship recovery procedure.

Kindley Field authorities said an all-night search of the crash area two miles offshore failed to turn up any trace of 10 men missing after the collision Monday. Seven bodies were recovered. Seven persons were rescued.

The collision occurred shortly after 10:15 a.m. PDT (1:15 p.m. EDT) four miles north of Long Point near here. Unofficial reports said the Navy plane was an S2F, a two-engine antisubmarine aircraft. The S2F normally carries a four-man crew, the Coast Guard said.

Policeman Promoted To Assistant Chief

Police Captain Floyd (Denny) Roan was named to the position of Assistant Police Chief today by Chief Jim Conner.

Roan employed in 1947 as a patrolman, has been with the department for 16 years.

In March of 1961 he resigned to go into private business, however, he returned in August of that year.

Roan will replace J. O. Dumas who recently retired. His replacement as captain was not named.

Council Rejects Joint Water Treatment Offer

Pampa's city commission today rejected a proposal by the City of Borger for joint operation of a two-city water treatment plant in connection with the Canadian River Dam project.

Mayor H. R. Thompson said Pampa had given serious study to the proposal for several weeks.

The mayor said it was believed at the outset that joint operation with Borger would benefit both cities.

Then, according to the mayor, it was discovered that the possible sale of water to potential customers in the oil industry did not depend on treatment.

City Manager Schmitzer pointed out that it would cost the City of Pampa only the salary of an additional man to operate its own plant.

"That would be the only additional cost over and above operation of our present plant," Schmitzer said.

Commissioner Jim Nation said it was learned in a conference with oil company representatives that they were not interested in treated water.

The Borger proposal would have located the jointly-operated plant near Borger.

Mayor Thompson said Borger officials would be notified that Pampa has decided to proceed with its own water treatment program.

In other business today, the commission took under consideration a proposed city ordinance to prohibit the sale of imported meat products in Pampa without labeling.

Under the legislation, all imported meat, with the exception of fish and poultry, would be required to bear a one-inch label showing that the meat was imported and stating its point of origin.

The ordinance was presented to the commission by Robert Price, Pampa GOP candidate for Congress, who told the commissioners he thought housewives should have the right to know what they are buying when they go to the meat market.

Several housewives in the audience urged the commission to adopt the ordinance for the same reason.

"This is not asking that meat imports be halted," Price said. "It simply is asking that the imported beef be labeled as such." (See REJECTS, Page 3)

Castro's Sister Flees to Mexico

MEICO CITY (UPI)—Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's 32-year-old sister, Juana, denounced him as a Communist dictator Monday night and said she has severed all ties with him and with brother Raul, his No. 2 man.

Miss Castro, who arrived in Mexico secretly six days ago, said in a statement read to a news conference that she is seeking political asylum in this country.

"I can no longer remain indifferent to what is happening in my country since my brothers began to deliver it to Russian imperialism in mid-1960," she said. "Cuba is an immense prison surrounded by water."

Miss Castro said there are "at least 70,000 political prisoners in Cuban jails—some estimates run as high as 100,000—who are victims of the cruelest treatment."

Although she has been a known political foe of her brothers for nearly four years, Miss Castro had previously refused to leave Cuba. She argued that "it is my duty (to stay) and help overthrow the Communist regime."

She vows now that she will "never return to Cuba until it has regained its freedom."

"I broke with the government in mid-1960," she said. "I and most other Cubans who believed in Fidel's promises when he promised to return Cuba to justice and freedom, realized that our ideals had been betrayed."

Miss Castro expressed particular concern about her brothers' treatment of the Roman Catholic Church.

"The practice of catholicism has not been banned, but those who go to church risk being persecuted," she said.

Pilotless Fighter Falls In Residential Section

By REID MORRISON
United Press International

HAVERHILL, Mass. (UPI) — A pilotless jet fighter plane crashed with the explosive fury of a bomb early today into three homes and a dozen parked cars in a residential area of this industrial city. Two sleeping children were killed.

The pilot, with an agonizing prayer that the area below was uninhabited, ejected himself from the F86 single-seater craft and parachuted to safety. He landed in a tree.

The plane dropped silently and swiftly in the blackness shortly after midnight and crashed with a thunderous roar on Lackney Street. The street was transformed into a sea of flames.

The plane ricocheted off one house, veered crazily down the street bouncing off parked cars; and another house, and plunged nose first into the bedroom of a third house where the children were asleep with their pet dog.

"The kids never had a chance," a policeman said. Dead are Pamela Gifford, 11, and her brother, Todd, 8, children of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gifford. The dog also was killed.

The parents were hysterical. They were taken to a hospital for treatment.

Captain Dalbert F. Sullivan of Boston's Back Bay section, said the engine went dead on him after a small explosion. Before ejecting himself, he said he turned the plane to "a black area," hoping no houses were below.

Sullivan, father of five children, thought he would not survive. He said, "I prayed that my five children would get a good father. I prayed the area was uninhabited."

After landing in the tree, Sullivan climbed down and made his way to the swift-flowing Merrimack River. He inflated his portable raft and floated out on the river until he was rescued.

Joseph Bitonti, who was watching a late show on television, said he heard "an enormous noise, like an atomic bomb, and I saw a mass of flames."

"I saw Earl Gifford (father of the dead children) wandering around in a complete daze. I shouted, 'Watch out for the live wires and flames.' He just groaned."

Matthew Cummings, who lives next door to the Giffords, said his house shook as if struck by lightning.

Residents grabbed garden hoses and sprayed them on the burning houses and cars. It took firemen more than one hour to put out the fires.

Highly explosive jet fuel splashed throughout the wooden home and it became a mass of flames in seconds. The parents ran to safety before a wall of fire.

The plane first hit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ayanian. Both of them were lucky to be alive.

The 64-year-old husband was asleep in the bedroom seconds before the crash. But he woke up with "an awful thirst" and went to the kitchen for a drink of water.

It was then the plane's wing tore through their living and bedrooms. The metal sliced their bed in half and shattered the headboard.

"I just reached the faucet when there was a blast and a lot of smoke. I was thrown to the floor," Ayanian said.

Meanwhile, his 59-year-old wife Helen was still asleep in "our summer home," a tiny cottage next to the main house. For some unexplained reason she decided late Monday night to sleep in the other house.

Mrs. Margaret Joubert, 26, who lived next door to the Ayanians saw the plane seconds before the crash.

Kerr-McGee Gets Production in Ship Shoal Area

OKLAHOMA CITY (SpI)—Oil and gas production have been found on first test of Block 242, Ship Shoal area, in the Gulf of Mexico by Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., and its associates (Cabot Corp., Felmont Oil Corp., and Essex Royalty Corp.) The well is located 60 miles off the coast of Terrebonne Parish, Louisiana.

Flowing at the rate of 188 barrels of 39.4 degrees gravity oil per day through 10-64-inch choke, the well, designated OCS-032 No. 1, was completed from perforations 4298-4316. Flowing tubing pressure was 675 pounds, and gas-oil ratio was 448:1. Previously, perforated interval 5587-5618 produced 1,650 MCF gas per day through 16-64-inch choke with flowing tubing pressure recorded at 1,325 pounds.

This well is the first extension of the Block 229 field discovered in March of this year by the same group of companies three-fourths of a mile to the northwest. The discovery well flowed 292 BOPD through perforations 9305-9328.

The new producer is less than four miles southwest of production in the Block 230 oil and gas field, which was discovered by the same partnership interests in 1962.

Escaped Female Baboons Inspires Police Caution

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Police search parties kept their pistols loose in the holster today, determined to put up with no monkey business from six escaped baboons. The six—all females—are the last of 26 baboons that broke out of a scientific laboratory last Friday, helped by a faulty lock on their cage. They weigh about 25 pounds.

A spokesman for the Southwest Foundation for Research and Education said the baboons would bite if cornered, but are not really dangerous, and would not attack.

Police decided to take no chances, and were given orders to shoot to kill if they cannot capture them.

Most of the baboons, part of a new shipment that had just arrived from Africa, were recaptured right after their escape. Another was caught Sunday.

Five of them were spotted in a group about noon Monday, and a loner was seen scampering about in another part of town. They disappeared again before police and foundation officials could get to them.

The foundation normally has about 200 baboons, used in medical research.

The appointment of Mrs. Mary Lee Cooper, formerly assistant librarian in San Angelo, was approved as librarian at Lovett Memorial Library, succeeding Mrs. Lillian Snow, retired. Mrs. Cooper was employed at a salary of $500 a month.

Approval was given for payment of a $921.50 to Continental Oil Co. for oil and gasoline purchases. The commission adjourned until 5 p.m. Thursday when it will convene again to canvass results of today's bond election.

The following pleaded guilty to intoxication charges: Oliver C. Eagleston, Pampa, fined $25; Floyd E. McDaniel, 516 N. Russell, fined $25; and Bobby G. Rutherford, 415 N. Crest, fined $40.

The following pleaded guilty to minor in possession charges: James Webb, 428 N. Wells, fined $25; Mike Bridges, 1129 Cinderella, fined $25 and Felix G. Tobar, Pampa, guilty, fined $25.

Last UN Troops Leave the Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—The last United Nations troops left the Congo today to end a four-year intervention which cost the world's taxpayers $420 million but failed to bring peace to this huge equatorial nation.

The date coincided with the fourth anniversary of an independence riddled with civil strife and economic stagnation.

The last U.N. peace-keeper to leave was the force commander, Maj. Gen. Aguyi Ironsi, a six-foot-four Nigerian and one of the more colorful men to emerge from the United Nations' frustrating mission here.

"Remember this day. It is the end of an era," the general said. "My boys are very glad to be going home. So am I."

Then, waving the stuffed baby crocodile he uses as a swagger stick, Ironsi climbed the gangway of a chartered Lebanese transport which took him and the last 85 Nigerian troops back to Lagos.

No Congolese officials were at the airport to bid farewell to the departing U.N. troops. "They were seen off by Bibiano Osorio-Tafal, Mexican chief of the U.N. mission which remains to run the $132 million annual civil assistance program in the Congo."

With U.N. military forces gone, Western diplomats feared a slide from disorder into chaos.

Search Continues For Swimmer Lost In Atlantic Ocean

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Coast Guard made a final search of the Atlantic off Long Island today for marathon swimmer Britt Sullivan who has been missing more than a day on an attempted swim to Europe.

The deranged 29-year-old former Navy Wave vanished in the inky, shark-filled water late Sunday night. A daylong search by a Coast Guard cutter and two helicopters Monday failed to locate her.

The hunt was suspended at nightfall until dawn today when the Coast Guard resumed the search in one final try.

Capt. Laurence Griffith, skipper of Miss Sullivan's escort boat, said the plucky swimmer, a divorced mother of a seven-year-old girl, had been menaced by a school of sharks just before she disappeared. She was pulled from the water when the sharks came within 30 yards but later resumed the transatlantic swim.

Miss Sullivan was wearing a supposedly "unsinkable" rubber suit with a belt, light, canteen, knife and dye markers attached.

Miss Sullivan was swimming toward Montauk Point, at the eastern end of Long Island from where she planned to turn toward Europe on the proposed swim of more than 3,000 miles. She had estimated it would take five months to swim all the way to England.

Firemen were called back to Texas Pipe and Metal at 1:10 a.m. today when the trash fire once again erupted. Again, no damage was reported and the blaze was quickly extinguished.

He is survived by his wife, Pearl; one son, J. W. of Keyes and three sisters.

Pampa Firemen Have Busy Day

Pampa firemen spent a busy day yesterday, extinguishing half a dozen small fires.

The first call came at 11:10 a.m. when fire erupted in the engine of a '60 Buick at 700 N. Christy. No damage was reported to the auto owned by Kenneth Wood.

A call came at 1:20 to extinguish a small trash fire at Texas Pipe and Metal, 630 W. Brown. No damage was reported from the blaze, which was started by a welders torch.

No damage was reported from a blaze at 4:26 p.m. at the corner of Price Road and Borger Highway when a load of trash on the rear of a pick-up started smoldering.

Firemen were called back to Texas Pipe and Metal at 1:10 a.m. today when the trash fire once again erupted. Again, no damage was reported and the blaze was quickly extinguished.

U.S. Army Officer Pleads Innocent to Desertion Charges

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—The first U.S. Army officer to be court-martialed for defecting to the Communists in Europe pleaded innocent today to charges of desertion and larceny.

Capt. Alfred Svenson, 31, of Scranton, Pa., pleaded "not guilty to all specifications of all charges" through his defense counsel on the second day of the unprecedented court martial.

Prosecutor Maj. Charles T. Reese, 45, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., told the six-man officer jury he would prove the Lithuanian-born tank officer deserted and stole the jeep he drove into East Germany May 4, 1963.

The Russians ushered Svenson out on May 7—one year and three days later—and the East Germans announced he was expelled because he proved "unworthy of Communist asylum."

Reese said he would prove Svenson declared himself a Communist and asked directions to East Germany during a tour of border area taverns the day he defected.

Svenson tried to make his soldier-driver take him into the East but the driver refused, Reese said.

"Svenson then put on his steel helmet and drove across himself."

Svenson was "gainfully employed" by Communist radio and told Western newsmen "how much he liked it and was satisfied in East Germany," Reese said.

Woman Slightly Hurt in Collision

A 39-year-old Pampa woman was slightly injured when a pick-up and car collided during the noon hour yesterday.

Mrs. Robbie Lee Messinger, 1800 N. Dwight, received a slight bruise and didn't require hospitalization.

Mrs. Messinger was in collision with an auto driven by William Price Wells of 327 Sunset Drive. Wells wasn't injured.

The accident occurred as both vehicles, headed north on Cuyler, collided as they neared the intersection of Montagu.

Mrs. Messinger was given a police citation for passing in an intersection and Wells was cited for changing direction of travel unsafely.

Damage to both vehicles was estimated at about $275.

Parts Reported Stolen from Car

Theft of a carburetor and manifold, valued at $32, was reported to the Pampa Police Department last night.

Bill Watson, 604 E. Craven, told officers that someone stole the items from his pick-up while it was parked in the driveway of his home Sunday night.

In another incident reported to Police, Bob Knight of Pampa, told officers that he lost his billfold, containing $65 in cash and a $156.31 check, sometime Friday night.

Knight said the purse apparently fell from his pocket while he was walking on W. Foster.

DWI Charges Filed

Two charges of driving while intoxicated were filed in Gray County Court yesterday.

In the first one, John M. Spain, 46, of 535 S. Somerville entered a plea of not guilty and was placed under a $1,000 bond.

Spain was arrested by city police early Sunday morning after he crashed into a light pole in the 100 block of Atchison.

In the other case, Manuel Minnick, Elmora City, Oklahoma, pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail.

Minnick was arrested by the Texas Highway Patrol.

Fear May Cause More Harm Than Snakebite

AUSTIN — Fear of snakes will keep many a would-be camper at home this summer, even though statistics show that in the U.S. more people are killed or seriously injured in their bathtubs than by snakebites.

An unreasoning fear or ignorance may cause more harm than an actual snakebite. For example, a man who once trod on a rattler still wakes up screaming in the night. And a hunter, spiked by barbed wire thought he had been bitten by a snake and very nearly died of shock.

True, these are extremes. But if you do regard the snake as a vicious and cunning brute with a deep-seated hatred of man, you are mistaken. Instead, it is timid and retiring. The earth-bound reptile will react to man as it would to any big and threatening creature, but it much prefers to slide unobtrusively away.

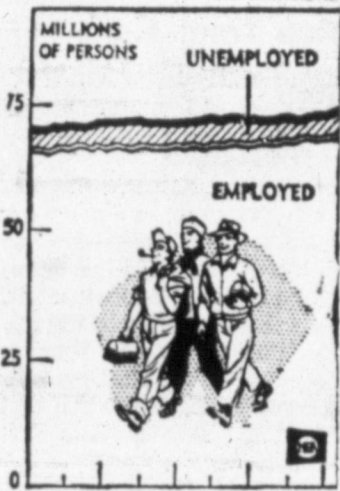

Poisonous snakes of the U.S. include the rattlesnake, copperhead, cottonmouth moccasin and coral snake. One of the most prevalent in Texas is the rattlesnake.

Should you encounter a rattler, the safest thing to do, usually, is to remain perfectly still or edge gingerly away. Don't run. You only excite the snake, making it more apt to strike in self-defense. On the other hand, don't assume that it will shake its rattles as a signal of attack or that it only strikes when coiled. A rattling tail indicates nervousness rather than a sign of aggression. And, a rattler may strike in any direction from any position.

If you should receive a snakebite, don't panic. Cease activity as much as possible and lower the affected part below the level of the rest of the body. Quickly encircle the extremity with a constriction band above the bite. Use of a band makes gangrene more likely below it, but sometimes may save a life. The band should be loosened as soon as antivenin is given.

If a lengthy interval seems likely until antivenin can be given, make cuts cautiously through the skin into and just above the presumed venom deposit site, avoiding tendons, and apply suction. It probably is best not to make cuts if the snake is small or if it largely wastes the venom in biting through clothing.

THE UNEMPLOYED — A fairly constant ratio between the employed and unemployed in the United States over the past four years is noted on this Newschart. According to the National Industrial Conference Board, employment hit a record 70.6 million in April, while about 4 million were unemployed.

New Process May Be Recovery Key To Oil Reserves

NEW ORLEANS — A new process described to the Secondary Recovery and Stripper Well Committee of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America at the recent midyear meeting has been seen as the possible key to unlocking heretofore inaccessible "heavy oil" reserves.

The report came from Keith R. McKennon of the Dow Chemical Co. at Pittsburg, Calif. He told how an independent research program in water soluble polymers led to discovery of a product and system of application in secondary oil recovery.

"While conducting this research," McKennon said, "the group in our laboratory learned that oil companies were looking actively for inexpensive viscosity improvers. We turned our effort toward adapting these new chemicals to the waterflood process, and have been doing active research in this area for a number of years."

Laboratory work led to field testing, and the results as described by McKennon suggest that the process promises new gains in the science of secondary recovery — particularly in the economics of high viscosity oil recovery. Dow Chemical calls it the Pusher process, and has registered the name as a trademark.

PROTEST U.S. ACTION — BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Argentine cattle ranchers told President Arturo Illia over the weekend that they view American plans to sell beef in Great Britain as "a most unfriendly attitude."

Representatives of the Confederation of Rural Organizations in Buenos Aires and La Pampa — two of Argentina's most important cattle-raising provinces — told the president the American action would hurt their business.

WIN STREET BATTLE

DARTFORD, England (UPI) — The residents of Crescent Gardens have won their battle against plans to rename their dead end street "John Kennedy Way."

But they said they were thinking as much of the late President as of themselves in protesting the name change.

President Dennis Fenwick said, "John Kennedy was a great leader. To rename this small road in his name would be a mockery. It really can't even be a 'way' because it is a dead end street." Officials said Kennedy's name probably would be given to a new, bigger road to be built in the area.

BOYS' INTEREST in science as a career seems to wane as they get older, a Harvard University study indicates. Interest in science peaks, for 48 per cent of able male students, in the seventh grade, and gradually drops as they reach high school. In college 25 per cent of the students who start out pursuing a career in science switch to other majors.

Texas' First Oil Museum To Be Opened in Ranger

RANGER (UPI)—Texas' first year totaled $75 million. Ninety oil museum soon will be opened in Ranger where West Texas petroleum production started in 1917. W. T. Eaton, president of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, also is chairman of an Oil Museum committee which is collecting relics of the boom area for display in the museum. Eaton said buildings have been offered that are big enough to house the museum at the beginning. In addition to relics, the committee wants correspondence from old-timers, drillers, roughnecks, operators, lease hounds, royalty owners and others of the boom era.

Riddled Desk
Many pictures, old publications, clippings and pieces of old oil field equipment already have been contributed, Eaton said. The Ranger Times donated a desk scarred by bullets fired at a crusading editor during the boom.

Maid of Cotton Refuses to Wear Topless Gown
HONG KONG (UPI)—Katy Sue Meredith, America's 1964 maid of cotton, said today the topless evening gown "is a fad, and not particularly a fashion." "I would never wear one," she added. Reporters asked Miss Meredith if she would wear a topless swimsuit and she replied, "I can get all the sunshine I want in a bathing suit." Miss Meredith, 21, a senior at Alabama College, Montevallo, Ala., arrived from Bangkok Saturday for a four-day visit.

Texan Invents Device to Stop Rear End Crash

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Speed limits on Texas highways went up to 70 miles per hour last fall and an Austin engineer realized there was more danger from rear end collisions resulting when cars following a fast driver couldn't stop in time.

If the trailing drivers could have a split second more warning, reasoned Fred McNeil, they might be able to put on the brakes in time to avert an accordion-like pileup. So McNeil, a planning specialist for the state parks system designed a safety device that turns on a rear warning light when the driver takes his foot off the gas pedal. He said this provides a brief but perhaps lifesaving advantage over the red rear lights which go on when the motorist hits the brake pedal.

Similar devices have proved unsuccessful, McNeil said, because in most instances they would keep warning lights on in slow-moving traffic, or flick on and off, confusing the driver of a following vehicle. "That's because most of these devices have been tied into the car's accelerator linkage," he explained. "My mechanism is tripped by accelerator linkage returning to the idle position, but has no direct connection to linkage."

A feature of McNeil's warning device keeps it from giving a false alarm. It won't work unless the vehicle has been going at a pre-set rate of speed when the driver's foot is abruptly taken off the accelerator. And once the warning light flashes, the mechanism cannot be activated again until the driver speeds up.

Foreign News Commentary

The Communists now have the word of President Johnson himself that the United States is willing to risk war with Red China to defend Southeast Asia.

The President's tough words came in the midst of his announcement of the resignation of Henry Cabot Lodge, who had served as ambassador to South Viet Nam since last August, and his replacement by career soldier, four-star Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

"We think the message has gotten through to them (the communists)," Johnson said at Tuesday's impromptu news conference.

"I think I would say we believe they are aware of our attitude and they have no doubt about our policy or position."

The President's announcement followed a week end in which several high ranking U.S. spokesmen went out of their way to make crystal clear to the Chinese and North Vietnamese Reds the U.S. position.

Among these spokesmen were Richard I. Phillips of the State Department, Gen. Paul D. Harkin, who last week retired as commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam, and Adm. Harry D. Felt, retiring commander in the Pacific.

In recent days, warnings of U.S. determination also were believed delivered to the Red Chinese by President Charles de Gaulle of France, by the British in Peking and to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev by Danish Premier Jens Otto Krag during the former's visit to Denmark.

A root cause of the U.S. action is the failure of neutrality to work in Laos, the increasing fears of Thailand and the stepped up activities of the Communist Viet Cong in South Viet Nam as they attempted to take advantage of the country's unstable political atmosphere.

Possibility also influencing the administration to re-state its position at this time is an indication that Moscow has disavowed itself from any connection with whatever adventure the Chinese may be tempted to undertake in Southeast Asia. A Pravda dispatch last week warned the Red Chinese they could not automatically count on Soviet support in a world conflict.

Recent U.S. reconnaissance photographs showed large convoys of Communist troops and supplies moving into the Plaine des Jarres region from North Viet Nam.

Reed and Perkins Vows Exchanged

Sharon Jo Reed and Larry Dean Perkins were married May 18 in the First Church of God in Napa, California. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Worthy Reed, Napa, and Mr. and Mrs. Don DeFord, 408 N. Frost.

The bridegroom is stationed with the U.S. Navy in California. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of peau de soie featuring long fitted sleeves of embroidered lace and bell-shaped skirt. Her chapel-length veil was attached to a tiara of silk and pearls. She carried gardenias atop a white Bible, gift of her parents. Mrs. Peggy Buck attended as matron of honor. Walter Smith was best man to the bridegroom and ushers were Jack O'Sonnell and Roger Oines. The couple is at home in Southern California following a wedding trip to points of interest in that state.

Old-Fashioned Way

The Egyptian coiffure was really down-to-earth. The women wet their hair, wound it around sticks and packed the wound curls in mud. Then they sat in the sun until the mud baked dry. According to a manufacturer of home permanents this technique gave their hair the body and curl needed for their exaggerated hairdos.

Dear Abby....
Tell Him to Wait Until
10 A.M. to Think of You 8

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I always thought mental telepathy was a lot of bunk, but because of my own experience I am now convinced that there is something to it.

I live in Glendale, California, and my boy friend lives in Buffalo, New York. As you know, it is three hours earlier in California than it is in New York. Well, lately, I have been waking up at exactly 4 o'clock every morning, just as though an alarm clock had gone off. It's the craziest thing! I wake up, and when I look at the clock, it's always 4 a.m. sharp. My boy friends says he gets up at 7 a.m. every morning, and the first thing he thinks of when he opens his eyes is me. I KNOW that is what is waking me up. His thought waves are just that powerful. When I tell people this, they look at me like I'm nuts. I KNOW I am right. How can I sleep through his thought waves?

IN LOVE IN GLENDALE
DEAR IN LOVE: Don't fight it. Either move into his time zone until you can marry the guy, or ask him not to think of you until 10 a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

DEAR ABBY: Is it wrong to suggest "money" when relatives ask us what my husband wants for graduation? We are a struggling young couple who have scrimped to put my husband through law school. A number of relatives have asked us what they can give us, and I have simply explained that if they gave us the money, we could put it toward a TV set. We need so many things for our apartment. Our families are now furious with us because they say we sound money hungry. Most of our relatives would spend around $20 or $25 on a gift anyway. Do you think we committed a breach of etiquette?

CURIOS
DEAR CURIOS: No. Those who ask what they may give are genuinely interested in giving something practical. Only a hypocrite would ask for a suggestion, and then be offended by an honest answer.

DEAR ABBY: I received an invitation to the graduation of a person I would not know if I saw him on the street. I am certain that he would not know me, either. I know his parents only slightly so I cannot for the life of me understand why I received this invitation. Am I expected to send a gift? Not knowing the person, it would be difficult to select an appropriate gift. I don't want to appear cheap and ignore the invitation. Have you any suggestions?

BEWILDERED
DEAR BEWILDERED: Under the circumstances, a message of congratulations is sufficient.

CONFIDENTIAL TO VIRGINIA BEACH: I am sorry that the letter signed VIRGINIA BEACH has given you a bad time, Virginia. In order to conceal the writer's identity, I sometimes use locations instead of names. The item signed VIRGINIA BEACH came from the resort town, Virginia Beach, Virginia. The writer's name is not for publication.

PROBLEMS? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069, for Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Picnic Lunch Follows Merten Club Meeting

A picnic luncheon followed a recent meeting of the Merton Home Demonstration Club conducted in Central Park.

Members and guests enjoying the outing included Mmes. V. Smith, Jack Howard, Lloyd Laramore, A. M. Nash, T. G. Groves, E. P. Templin, Irene Humberston, Jack Prather, Juanita Channell, Orms on and Miss Lou Ella Patterson. Children attending included Jackie Howard, Earline Sutton, Danny, Doug and Victor Laramore, Judy Thomas, Odessa, and Diana and Jamie Crawford of Bay City.

New Batch of Movies Slated for NBC-TV

HOLLYWOOD
 By VERNON SCOTT
 UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — NBC-TV bought up a new batch of movies from Paramount and MGM for the fall, some of which are top flight, others mediocre, and some are outright bombs.

The network will beam movies twice a week (Wednesday and Saturday nights) that never have been shown on television before.

What's more, 78 per cent of them will be in color.

Among the best of the 57 feature length pictures are "Bad Day at Black Rock" with Spencer Tracy, and "White Christmas" with Bing Crosby.

The bulk of the films are from the mid-50s and star performers who rarely, if ever, appear on television—Kirk Douglas, Tony Curtis, Charlton Heston, Burt Lancaster, James Stewart, Cary Grant, Audrey Hepburn, William Holden, Elizabeth Taylor, Grace Kelly, Marlon Brando and Gregory Peck.

With names like those NBC may stomp the opposition into panic.

Don Bays, the network executive responsible for buying the pictures, says, "I think everyone will be surprised to learn that out of 57 pictures we will cut only 12 films, and most of those will be only one or two minute cuts."

Seated with Bays at lunch was Jerry Stanley, director of programming for the network.

"The backlog of movies is getting lower every year. There may come a time when we won't be able to buy enough fairly recent movies to make it worthwhile," he said.

Bays said that ratings were highest for action-adventure films and drama. Musicals and comedies are less popular.

"But we try to keep a balanced program, he added. "Some of the more recent musicals, like 'Annie Get Your Gun' should do well. But the real old ones—which we never show—are awful."

Stanley spoke up again. "If we expect good ratings, the pictures should be pre-sold, and we think they are. Audiences are more sophisticated now than when the pictures originally were released, and we have to be careful not to choose films that don't hold up."

It was Stanley who put his finger on the real reason motion pictures are so popular on television. He said: "When pictures are released in theaters they are seen by an infinitesimal number of people. Viewers who missed them in theaters are happy to tune them in on television at no charge."

Sailor Misses Boat, Swims To Catch It

NEW LONDON, Conn. (UPI) — A sailor missed the boat Sunday and almost drowned in the Thames River while trying to swim after it.

Renato Mendoza, 22, returning from a leave, was strolling across the Gold Star Memorial bridge when he saw the USS Piper moving out to sea.

He sprinted across the bridge, peeled down to his shorts, and dived in, determined not to have his service record marred with an AWOL listing.

Mendoza slashed through the icy water, the snorkel-type submarine Piper still in view. He flailed away but a quarter mile out, he was forced to call for help.

A police launch was sent to the scene but the sailor had reached shore under his own steam and was given oxygen by police.

He said he had been in Philadelphia and thought he was in plenty of time to board the submarine at the naval base here. It was scheduled to go on a week's maneuvers.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — British actress Glynis Johns, 38, has announced that she and screen writer-novelist Elliott Arnold, 41, will be married here in August. It will be her fourth marriage and his fifth.

On the Record

Fenway Monster Saves One More

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

There's no relief in sight for the rest of the American League from the monster that stalks the Boston bullpen.

The sight of tireless Dick Radatz walking to the mound has become as familiar to Bostonians as Fenway Park itself—only much more assuring.

Radatz appeared for the third time in two days Monday night and with the usual result, another Red Sox victory. The huge righthander mowed down the Kansas City Athletics for 2 1/3 innings to preserve a 4-3 decision and collect his 13th save of the year.

The monster, who worked scoreless relief stints in both ends of Sunday's doubleheader sweep by the Red Sox, now has appeared in five of the last six Boston games and 40 games this season. At this pace, Radatz is a cinch to shatter the major league record for appearances in one season of 75 by William White of Cincinnati back in 1879.

Makes 16 Appearances

There is no doubt that without Radatz the Red Sox would be far below their current fifth-place station. Radatz, who boasts a 6-3 record, has either won or saved more than half of the Sox' 36 victories. In the month of June alone, he has appeared in 16 games.

Monday night was a typical Radatz performance. He entered the game in the seventh inning with two men out, the bases loaded and Boston's lead reduced from four runs to one. He quickly extinguished the rally by getting pinchhitter Doc Edwards on a fly ball, then set down the A's on two hits for the rest of the game.

Beneficiary of Radatz' performance was Earl Wilson, who gained credit for his eighth victory. Slender Ed Bressoud was the Boston slugging star with a double, triple and two runs-batted-in.

Baltimore ran its win streak to seven and increased its league lead to 4 1/2 games over the idle Yankees by whipping the Twins 6-3; the White Sox blitzed the Indians 5-1 with a 10th inning surge and the Senators stopped the Tigers 5-3 in the only other games.

UT Announces

Hiring of Black

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Former University of Texas basketball star and Lon Morris College coach Leon Black has been hired as assistant basketball coach at the University of Texas, succeeding Jess Richardson, who resigned.

Black, who graduated from Texas in 1953, will work under coach Harold Bradley with the varsity squad.

An all-state player at Martin's Mill, Tex., Black coached at Schreiner and Van high schools before going to Lon Morris.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

Kist clinched the American League pennant with a 12-6 win over Cree and Fannon pulled within a half-game of the National League lead by beating Pampa Hardware 10-6 last night.

Kist scored six runs in the first two innings, lost four of it, then salted the game away with two more in the fourth against Cree.

Steve Williams went all the way to gain the victory with an eight-hitter. He also went three for four at the plate, including a triple which drove in three runs.

Carlos was the losing pitcher and Hargus got two hits in three at bats for the Drill.

Fannon ran its record to 7-6 with the win over Hardware. Should First National Bank lose to Enco tonight, no longer a laughable proposition, or to Kist Friday, Fannon could tie for the title with a victory over Ideal Thursday.

Fannon took a 4-1 lead last night, then saw it vanish in a five-run uprising by Hardware in the fourth. Fannon tied it with two in the bottom of the fourth and won with three in the fifth and another in the sixth.

Jim Lang tossed a five-hitter to take the decision. Mike Stone was the loser.

Ronnie Sanders had a triple and two singles in four at bats.

Robin Roberts limited the Twins to seven hits, including three homers, in the Orioles' victory. Norm Siebern drove in three of Baltimore's runs with a two-run homer and an infield out in the seven-hit Oriole attack which was aided and abetted by some sloppy Minnesota fielding. Tony Oliva hit his 15th and 16th homers for the Twins, and major league leader Harmon Killebrew slugged his 28th.

Hoyt Wilhelm, who has pitched in and won more games than any other relief pitcher in baseball history, gained his first win of the year in six decisions. Chicago tied the game at 1-1 in the ninth, then pushed across four runs in the 10th. Don McMahon suffered his first setback of the year, also in relief.

Washington snapped a six-game losing streak and also a personal jinx by beating Detroit's Phil Regan. Regan had defeated the Senators six consecutive times dating back to June 10, 1962, but Ed Brinkman drove home the winning run against him with a sacrifice fly in the sixth inning. Claude Osteen scattered eight Tiger safeties to gain his sixth victory against four defeats.

B. J. Tries Jones Chuck Advances

By MICHAEL CLAFFEY
United Press International
WIMLEDON, England (UPI)—Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., carried her precocious temper and dynamic spirit against a familiar opponent today in a quarter-final match of the Wimbledon tennis championships.

Dubbed "Little Miss Moffitt," Billie Jean hopes to repeat her Wightman Cup victory of earlier this month against Ann Haydon Jones of Britain. Miss Moffitt, the top-ranking active player in the United States, is seeded third here while Mrs. Jones is seeded sixth.

Nancy Richey of Dallas, Tex., the only other U.S. girl still alive in the women's singles, had an even tougher opponent in fourth-seeded Lesley Turner of Australia. Miss Richey, seeded fifth, ranks just behind Billie Jean among American women.

In the other quarter-finals, top-seeded and heavy favorite Margaret Smith of Australia was paired against unseeded Norma Baylon of Argentina and second-seeded Maria Bueno of Brazil took on eighth-seeded Robyn Ebborn of Australia. Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., continued his march to a possible second straight men's title Monday when he defeated Abe Segal of South Africa, 6-3, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, to move into the semifinals.

Domed Stadium Leasing Sought

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Tarrant County Commissioners voted Monday to open negotiations for lease of the proposed Arlington Sports Stadium, to be built at the cost of $1.5 million in bond money.

Approval to start negotiations was granted to Tommy Mercer, owner of both the Texas League's Fort Worth Cats and the Dallas Rangers of the Pacific Coast League.

Mercer, who has hopes of some day landing a major league franchise for the Fort Worth-Dallas area, wants to have both clubs playing at the Arlington site in the future.

GIRLS SOFTBALL

The Optones edged the Opti-Misses 11-10 in the Opti - Mrs. League Saturday afternoon.

Debbie Bennett was the winning pitcher. Cheryl Lynch took the loss.

LITTLE LEAGUE

Sammy Heasley shut out McCathern on two hits as Your Laundry took a 10-0 win in the Northern League last night.

Heasley also hit a home run with one on in the fifth but by that time the game was already in the bag.

Floyd Hatcher took the loss. He was relieved in the second by Jeff Hogan.

Arnie Tops Golf Pros

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer took over first place in the PGA money-winning list and red-hot Tony Lema vaulted into second place today ahead of Jack Nicklaus, who had been the top golfer money winner almost all year.

Palmer, who hasn't won a tournament this month, and Lema, who has won three, were involved in a playoff Sunday for the Cleveland Open title in which Lema took away $20,000 first-prize money to boost his earnings to $60,561.59 this year. Palmer received $12,000 to increase his total to $61,651.25, less than $1,000 ahead of Lema.

Nicklaus received $6,250 for finishing in a third-place tie at Cleveland and dropped to third place with a total of $57,676.66. Billy Casper ($52,879.19) was fourth followed by Mike Souchak ($33,270.59), Mason Rudolph ($32,720.75); Gary Player ($32,677.42).

Colts .45s Whip Phillies Mets Beat San Francisco

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

It's a sad day for Bob Aspromonte today, and the reason is a timely one.

Today is the last day of June, a month in which the Houston third baseman has enjoyed the biggest boom of his major league career.

Aspromonte put the finishing touches on the month Monday night when he unloaded a grand slam home run in the first inning and helped the Colts rout the Philadelphia Phillies 6-1.

It was Aspromonte's second grand slammer and seventh homer of the month, which may not appear too startling until you realize that Slats, as he is frequently called, never has hit more than 11 home runs in any season.

Aspromonte, in fact, had hit only 20 round-trippers prior to this year in a little more than three seasons. He hit his first homer of 1964 early in April, then went two months before reaching the seats again and his total of eight already equals his entire output of 1963.

Aspromonte's grand slam capped Houston's five-run first inning off Art Mahaffey with all runs scoring after two men were retired. Bob Bruce then coasted to his eighth victory in 12 decisions, retiring 16 Phillies in a row en route to a seventh-hitter.

Philadelphia lost no ground to league-leading San Francisco, however, as the Giants were beaten 4-3 by the Mets on Jesse Gonder's ninth-inning homer. The Dodgers outscored the Pirates 7-6, the Braves battered the Cardinals 7-4 and the Reds clubbed the Cubs 6-1 in other National League games.

Gonder socked his third homer after Larry Elliott had walked and gave New York only its third win in its last 19 games. Rookie John Stephenson opened the game with the first home run of his major league career. Lefty Al Jackson, won his first game since May 7 in relief of Jack Fisher while Bob Bqjin took the defeat.

Huge Frank Howard poled his 18th homer and drove in two more runs with sacrifice flies to help overcome a bushel of errors by rookie third baseman Derrell Griffith. Howard's sacrifice fly proved to be the winning margin after Griffith's three errors had permitted the Pirates to tie the score in the seventh.

Eddie Mathews, who had walked in all four previous appearances, led off the ninth inning with a home run to tie the score and the Braves pushed across three more before the inning was over to whip the Cards. Mathews also scored two other runs as Bob Teife-nauer earned his third victory in relief. Bob Gibson was the loser.

Leo Cardenas drove in three runs with two doubles and a single and Jim O'Toole gave up only four hits in the seven innings he worked for his seventh victory for Cincinnati. Bill Henry pitched scoreless ball over the last two frames to preserve the win.

Lefors Scores In Lubbock Meet

A 12-member Lefors and Skellytown delegation numbered a first and four seconds among its places at the Lubbock TAAF track and field meet Saturday.

All four girls and eight boys were competing in the Pee Wee division for those aged 9-12.

The girls 220-yard relay team of Connie Eudy, Sandra Cain, Susan Cain and Lee Ann Timmons beat out nine other quartets to win that event.

Lee Ann Timmons finished second in the 50-yard dash and third in the running broad jump.

Nine-year-old Connie Eudy placed sixth in the standing broad jump.

The eight-man 440-relay boys team won its heat in 60.2 but finished second in time to Abilene, which won the other heat in 59.9. In this event each boy ran 55 yards.

The team was made up of Greg Thomas, David White, Danny Adams, Mike Robbins, Ronnie Sims, Ricky Davis, Mike Torres and Robert Thomas. Davis is the only Skellytown member of the team.

Robert Thomas also finished second in the 50-yard dash and in the 75-yard dash.

Greg Thomas was fourth in the broad jump and fifth in the 75-yard dash.

Ben White, Gene Robbins, Jesse Ring, Cedar Torres and Tony Timmons are coaches of the team, along with Phil McLean of Skellytown.

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

To See Ourselves

"Oh wad some power the giftie gie us
To see oursels as others see us!"
"It wad frae monie a blunder free us.
"An foolish notion."

This famous observation by Robert Burns, made as he considered the conduct of a louse, has a deep philosophical implication which we should take to heart. We are too prone to consider the mote in our brother's eye. We rarely take time to reflect upon the fact that our own appearance to others is often mote-filled.

The amount of anguish we experience over the affairs and behavior of others is colossal. We can't do much about it except to revel in anguish. But the chances are very good that our own conduct is the subject of equal concern in some other direction.

The thought has particular application to politics. The closer we stand to some particular political structure, the fewer defects we can discern. But remove that structure from our immediate environment and the flaws loom large. The further away that structure is situated, the more readily expert we are in respect to its shortcomings.

Our general government, we say, is the greatest and the finest on earth. When we say that, we are considering it in relation to governments even more remote. The further away our base of comparison resides, the better our own structure appears.

But wait. We now consider our state governments in relation to the general government in Washington. At once the flaws in the central authority emerge from the fog of national fondness. Our states are closer to us. They can't be nearly as harmful as that big, free-wheeling, tax-spending group of politicians on the Potomac. And, with typical chauvinism, our state is better than all other states. We can see plenty of flaws in the way New York or California transact political affairs.

Newest Battleground

"Suburbia and rapidly urbanizing rural areas are the newest battlegrounds in the ever-intensifying struggle between private and public power interests." Thus writes Roger W. Benedict in The Wall Street Journal. He adds: "As investor-owned utilities supplying electric, gas and telephone services attempt to stretch their lines into new territory, they are increasingly confronted by Federally financed rural and small town systems which are aggressively seeking the same customers."

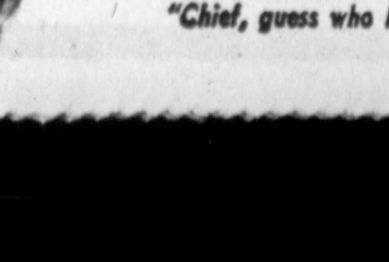

Specific example after specific example of this can be cited, touching every section of the nation. It is all part of an expansion program of almost incredible size, complexity and cost. Within the next 10 years our electric power production—already far ahead of that of any other nation, judged by any yardstick—must be doubled. In addition, the systems are rapidly being interconnected, making for the instant interchange of power between areas which are far apart. The perfection of extra-high-voltage transmission lines, in the 300,000 volt category, has brought into the realm of practicality a truly national power grid. A map of that grid in its existing, building and projected stages, overlaid on a map of the United States, covers the country almost completely.

This is happening. It will continue to happen. And the big remaining question—as Mr. Benedict intimates—is who will do the job? There are two choices:

One is to have it done by socialized systems of one kind or another which pay little or nothing in taxes and are directly and indirectly subsidized by all the taxpayers. The second choice is to have it done by private enterprise, raising its own funds from earnings and savings, paying its own way in every particular and, last but certainly not least, paying huge sums in taxes to every level of government.

In this time of back-breaking taxes and continuing deficits, the people of the nation should have little trouble in making their choice.

fairs. Thank goodness we don't have to put up with those governments. We fail to see that there may be people in other states who are sincerely grateful that they don't have to put up with what we have.

But come closer to home. Consider the municipal or county regimens. They are occupied by our friends and neighbors. Compared to them, the state apparatus is a fright. The state reeks with power, privilege and improvidence. Near at hand, things take on a brighter hue. But once more we fail to realize that others in different localities, apprised of what we have here, are silently rejoicing that they don't have to endure what we have.

And so it goes. We do the same thing in our respective neighborhoods. Our own households are managed intelligently and frugally. But our neighbors! If only Mr. Jones or Mrs. Smith would do what they don't do. Or if only they would stop doing what they are doing, how much better off they would be, we opine. We forget that at this same moment the Smiths and the Joneses have us in mind and are grieving that we are so shortsighted that we are in error, so far as their judgment is concerned.

All of which brings us back to Bobbie Burns again, and the central thought that what we could do with a great deal more of than we have is a good dose of learning to mind our own business. Politics, in a sense, is nothing more than the proclivity to mind the other fellows' business. And politics can infect a neighborhood just as thoroughly as it can and does in the industrial and governmental agencies and structures.

The business of living and getting along in this world is largely related to minding our own affairs superlatively well. However gratifying it is to think of ourselves as the ultimate savior of others, the fact is that we can do a much better job of helping them and ourselves if we stand guard over our own hearths and homes.

transmission lines, in the 300,000 volt category, has brought into the realm of practicality a truly national power grid. A map of that grid in its existing, building and projected stages, overlaid on a map of the United States, covers the country almost completely.

This is happening. It will continue to happen. And the big remaining question—as Mr. Benedict intimates—is who will do the job? There are two choices:

matter of fact

Tasmania, an island state of the commonwealth of Australia, was called Van Dieman's Land until 1853. Antony Van Dieman was the governor general of the East Indies at whose command Abel Tasman, the Dutch navigator, sailed.

"Earl Young, provincial representative for Long An Province, immediately adjacent to Saigon, reported that in visiting three strategic hamlets in his area of responsibility, his helicopter was fired on by Viet Cong each time it took off.

"Near this area, our first technician was killed in a Viet Cong ambush on a main road near Saigon which is frequently used by our personnel. Supposedly friendly local inhabitants in a nearby strategic hamlet turned hostile toward the survivors of the same party when they sought refuge there, but they escaped."

Stressing the constant danger under which these civilians live and operate, the report adds: "Hatcher James in Dinh Tuong Province is so surrounded by Viet Cong that he generally has to accompany Vietnamese army combat operations, in order to visit the hamlets for which he is particularly responsible.

"The provincial representative in An Xuyen Province operates in an area which is dominated most completely day and night by the Viet Cong. He lives in the provincial capital of Canh, where last week the Viet Cong mortars were set up so close to the city that they blasted the screens off his office.

"Bob Burns, provincial representative in Phu Yen Province, and his assistants were on a trip to visit a strategic hamlet in two jumps at the time they were ambushed by Viet Cong troops equipped with automatic weapons. Both vehicles were hit, but Burns and his assistants were able to escape.

Craft Union May Bring Rights Test

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—When the 1964 civil rights bill becomes law, it will be important to watch the effect of its equal employment opportunity provisions on the building trades field.

If there is to be any new "white backlash" in reaction to this legislation, it may show up in northern cities among the more highly skilled craft union workers, particularly the electricians, the plumbers, and perhaps the bricklayers.

It was in these trades that opponents of the civil rights bill found the most vigorous favorable response when they charged that the measure would undermine many specific labor rights now assured by law—including seniority and bargaining privileges.

The AFL-CIO is, of course, totally committed to the equal employment opportunity section. It notes, too, that 111 of its 130 affiliated international unions have no segregated locals of any sort. In the remaining 19 international unions, the federation says only 172 locals practice segregation. Altogether, 55,000 locals are affiliated with the AFL-CIO.

As explained by union spokesmen, the problem of desegregation in jobs bears peculiarly on some of the long-established craft unions.

The key point, in the craft workers' view, is that the construction field does not offer the continuity of employment which the average factory worker enjoys. New men—Negroes, Puerto Ricans or whatever—flood into the building trades job market as they thus see a far greater threat than in the industrial field.

Except in a relatively few cases where preferential hiring of veteran craftsmen is arranged, no job seniority exists. Hence, if a particular list of job seekers is suddenly swollen by 25 additional men and totals 75 instead of 50, the veteran electrician or plumber sees his work opportunities markedly diluted.

It is this fluidity in the job outlook which evidently most alarms some craft union workers.

There is another, perhaps touchier, aspect: Craft unions have a unity unknown to the big industrial unions. The craft union is in many ways the center of its members' lives. They are dependent on it for whatever continuity of employment they can manage. They feel a special identity with it.

WASHINGTON—The U.S. is vastly expanding its civilian forces operating in South Vietnam. In addition to the 15,000 U.S. military advisers helping the Vietnamese fight the Communist Viet Cong, a "second force" of between 2,000 and 3,000 civilians is being sent to that strife-torn country as part of our stepped-up counter-insurgency program.

The State Department is recruiting this new force from its Foreign Service, the Agency for International Development and other government agencies, including the Peace Corps; also universities and foundations.

Under a little-publicized White House directive, this civilian army is being assigned the mission of guiding South Viet Nam officials in the "modernization" of their government and economy—from the strategic rural hamlets to the ruling junta in Saigon.

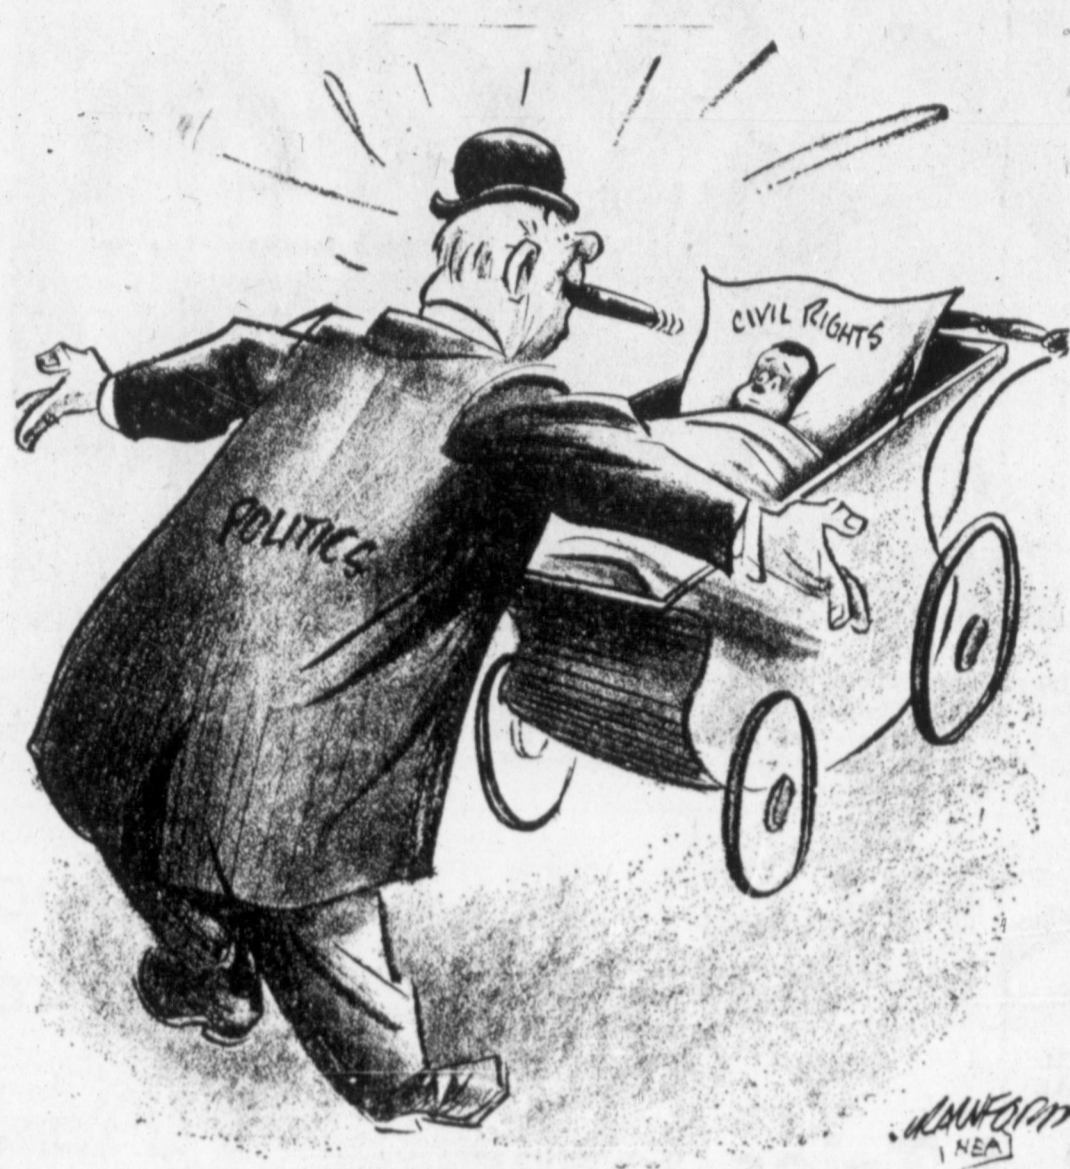

Operating under the direct supervision of Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson, deputy to General Maxwell Taylor, new U.S. Ambassador to South Vietnam, the vanguard of these civilian forces already have begun taking over their counter-insurgency missions, including tasks originally assigned to U.S. military advisers.

The civilians are being assigned as "advisors" to Vietnamese authorities in hamlets and areas of South Vietnam where control of the countryside has been seized from the Viet Cong and is being held by government forces.

While there has been no official announcement, one confidential State Department report detailing the "operating conditions" of these civilian forces reveals for the first time that they have suffered battle casualties.

Use of the Yellow Pages in the classified phone directory in advertising has developed so rapidly that college textbooks can't keep up with it. To bridge the gap, the Telephone Company engaged a New York University professor of marketing to prepare a comprehensive program, including manuals, texts and visual aids for college students planning business careers. The material serves as a long-awaited guide to this specialized advertising technique.

We read recently that "E" is the most popular letter in the English language since it occurs most often. The next most popular is "T", then "A," "O," "N," "I," followed by "R," "S," and "H," with the others in lessening frequency. "J" and "Z" are least used.

Down South

By THURMAN SENSING

FOREIGN MEDDLING

In editorials, news articles and cartoons, elements of the European press in recent weeks have launched an unprecedented campaign of abuse and misrepresentation of Senator Barry Goldwater, who is seeking the Republican presidential nomination. Fair-minded Americans of both parties, who oppose outside pressure on our domestic policies, have reason to be indignant at the trifling with the truth represented by this foreign press campaign.

To be sure, the average American is not familiar with the European press. When he reads in his own newspapers that the press in England and on the European continent—from London to Moscow—is shocked that Senator Goldwater may be the GOP standard bearer, this citizen is not in a position to analyze the criticism. He doesn't know, for example, that conservatism in Europe faces the same uphill fight that conservatism faces in the United States.

An American may have read that The Manchester Guardian is shocked at the possibility of a Goldwater victory. But he isn't likely to know that The Manchester Guardian is an ultra-liberal newspaper comparable with The Washington Post, The New York Times or other ultra-liberal journals in the United States. He can't know, moreover, that the writers for The Guardian, The London Observer and similar papers are generally left of center in their views as the television commentators who revealed their dismay to a viewing public when Barry Goldwater won the California primary.

Senator Goldwater and other conservatives in both parties have their admirers in Europe. There are journals that look forward to America finding a new, strong conservative leadership in the White House. But the average American isn't made aware of these papers, no more than the average European can be cleared for landing; also delayed departures which hold planes on runways for an interminable time. The first automobile advertisement published in the U.S. appeared in the widely-read "Scientific American" in 1898 and plugged the features of the Winton "motor carriage." The ad told prospective purchasers to "Dispense with the horse and save expense and care of keeping it." According to the ad you could operate a Winton at about one-half cent per mile (how times have changed), and you could attain speeds from "3 to 20 mph." . . . A psychiatrist tells us the average person dreams at least four or five times a night, with the dream period lasting from 3 minutes to about 20 minutes. We usually dream about hitting the Daily Double, but when we awaken we find it was only a dream. . . . A headline in the Wichita (Kanas) Eagle: "GOP Restricting Threatens Breeding." Let's cut out that restricting. We want purebred Republicans or none at all.

Country Editor speaking: "Politicians frequently talk in stereophonic style—out of both sides of their mouth at once."

is made to understand that The New York Times, The New York Herald Tribune and other liberal journals don't speak for the country with the authenticity of the small dailies and weeklies of the USA.

The published criticism derived from the radical European press serves special interests in the USA, however. The papers and broadcast media that are determined to prevent nomination of a conservative presidential candidate are eager to get their hands on all the criticism of Goldwater that they can find. Thus the ultra-liberals engage in their own kind of political lobbying. The American liberals distribute European criticism of Goldwater. In return, the Europeans distribute the shocked comments of American liberals. The aim is to build up a climate of opposition to any serious conservative leader in any Western country. It is an old trick but often effective.

Actually, the American electorate should be deeply offended at the thought of this kind of international liberal lobbying for the purpose of affecting the outcome of a party nomination or of a presidential election. It represents intervention in the internal affairs of the United States.

The liberals welcome such intervention, of course; they are for it in principle. For years the liberals have sought to intervene in the affairs of countries that take a strong anti-communist stand in any part of the world.

On press campaign—perhaps the most effective of all—was launched against the Diem government of South Viet Nam last year. The result was the assassination of President Diem and a worsening of the effort to contain the communists in Southeast Asia. Long-range liberal intervention drives also have been directed against such seignior countries as Portugal and South Africa, though fortunately with less conspicuous success than the Viet Nam political operation.

Now the international liberal groupings are aiming at the biggest target of all—the United States. The objective is to deny to the American people a chance to vote for a man who stands for realism in foreign affairs and constitutionalism at home.

Senator Goldwater's vote against the force bill known as the Civil Rights Act undoubtedly will only step up the fury of the international attack against him. The forces that oppose a conservative America undoubtedly will attempt to kill him off politically. It is to be believed, however, that the American people are too sensible, too self-reliant, too patriotic to be bamboozled by the frenzied howlings of the liberal-socialist-communist press—either abroad or at home—as they make up their minds whom to select as their party nominee or whom to select as their president. In fact, when this liberal-socialist-communist press so bitterly opposes a candidate, that should be all the evidence patriotic Americans need to know they should be for him.

Judge Upholds Death Bed Will of Grace Metalious

LACONIA, N. H. (UPI) — A probate court judge Monday upheld author Grace Metalious' death bed will giving her entire $127,372 estate to a bearded British journalist. The will cut off her three children and husband, George.

Judge Carroll W. Stafford said the will was valid because lawyers for the Metalious children presented no evidence to show it was not drawn or executed properly.

Mrs. Metalious, author of the novel "Peyton Place," left her estate to John Rees, now living in Boston. The will was made out hours before Mrs. Metalious died Feb. 24 at Boston's Beth Israel Hospital.

Bernard Snierson and John Chandler, attorneys for the children, said they would appeal Judge Stafford's ruling on the basis of a letter to them from Rees rejecting his claim to the will.

Rees apparently had second thoughts about turning down the inheritance. He renounced claims to the estate shortly after Mrs. Metalious' funeral. He later said he would reject all biographical rights of the late novelist. Her husband refused this request.

Attorney John F. Cremens of Boston, who drew up the will, said he asked Mrs. Metalious if she understood that her children could be left out completely if Rees desired.

He said Mrs. Metalious replied, "I have complete trust in Mr. Rees in regard to my children."

Empire State Building Lights Up For World's Fair

The tower of the world's tallest building sprang to glowing life last month when officials threw a switch illuminating the top 30 stories of the Empire State Building as a salute to the New York World's Fair. Work on the spectacular lighting had been rushed to completion in time to welcome the unusually large number of people who will be visiting New York during the two years of the Fair. Now visitors arriving in New York during darkness will see the famous silhouette of the Empire State Building hanging suspended like a sparkling crystal chandelier far above the glittering lights of New York.

The lights will be on from dusk until 2 A.M. daily with the lighting cycle controlled by an astronomical clock. There is no interference in any way with the famous Empire State Building Observatory's panoramic view of New York City after dark.

Smoke Bomb Climaxes Astronauts' Luncheon

BALBOA, C.Z. (UPI) — The jungle lunch of roasted snake and green bananas was doing fine, until an Indian chief clad in loin cloth and Texas tie touched off a smelly smoke bomb near the table.

That was the bizarre climax this week to the first taste of life in the tropical wilderness for 14 American astronauts.

The spacemen, who came to Panama to learn how to get along in case their spaceship makes a crash-landing in a small jungle, included Edwin Aldrin, William Anders, Charles Bassett II, Alan Bean, Roger Chaffee, Eugene-Ceeran, Michael Collins, R. Walter Cunningham, Don Eisele, Theodore Free, Richard Gordon, Russell Schweickart, David Scott and Clifton Williams.

With fellow astronaut Charles (Pete) Conrad, who has made the trip before, the fledglings set out with survival kit in hand Wednesday to spend three days living off the fat of the Panama, Canal Zone's steaming swamplands.

An Air Force helicopter ferried them three at a time from Gaboa's sixth hole fairway to a dense stretch of jungle five miles away—and their first encounter with a wiry Chocho Indian chieftain and his family, who had set up home in a clear, circular patch of land a few hundred feet from the banks of Panama's Chagres River.

His Spanish name was Antonio Zarco, and he presented a weird sight. Aside from the loin cloth and black face paint, he wore bright strings of beads around his shoulders. Conrad stepped up with a gift—a Texas string tie, with silver tips,
