Goldwater Wins In Coast Voting

Win Boosts Barry In National Contest

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Conservative Sen. Barry Goldwater defeated Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York today in the California primary and took a commanding lead in the GOP presidential race.

The see-saw triumph gave the Arizona senator 86 more delegates to next month's Republican National Convention and put him in a strong position to win the GOP presidential nomination. Before Tuesday's primary, 347 of the 635 delegates needed for the nomination were in Goldwater's column. He now has 433.

The silver-haired Arizona senator, hero of GOP conservatives, seized the lead in the early count Tuesday night and claimed victory on the basis of a television network computer analysis that named him the winner before all the polls closed.

But at midnight Rockefeller pulled even and in the early morning hours took the lead on the basis of his northern California strength.

But a surge of votes from Goldwater's Los Angeles stronghold sent him into the lead at 7 a.m. The senator was expected to win by about 100,000 votes out of 2 million cast if the present trend continued.

The UPI tabulation at 9:40 a.m. gave Goldwater 1,026,929 and Rockefeller 982,343 with 31,206 precincts counted of the 32,861 in the state. The count gave Goldwater 51 per cent of the vote and Rockefeller 49 per cent.

Goldwater had claimed victory early Tuesday evening on the basis of a television network computer analysis that named him the winner before all the polls closed.

But the senator backed off somewhat from his victory statement when he arrived in Washington by plane and (See GOLDWATER, Page 5)

Group Winds Up Hearings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Judiciary Committee winds up its seven weeks of hearings today on the controversial proposals to permit prayer or Bible-reading in public school classrooms.

The committee began listening to testimony April 22 on 147 proposals to override Supreme Court decisions outlawing classroom worship as a required part of public school programs.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., beset from both sides by persons who demanded time to testify and by charges that he had deliberately delayed the hearings, held fast to his closing date.

Celler has not committed himself, however, to a date for closed sessions to start committee work on the proposed constitutional amendments.

The committee heard testimony today from both supporters and opponents of the prayer amendments.

Other congressional news:

Civil Rights: Supporters of the civil rights bill took over Senate oratory in what opponents described as a "counter-filibuster" on the measure. The bill's backers found themselves cast in speaking roles when Southerners, confronted with a vote next Tuesday on cloture, professed themselves ready to begin voting on amendments.

This made it a matter of talk or vote for the bill's partisans, who are not yet ready to vote.

Canal: Congressional sources said chances were good that the study of the proposed all-American canal to link Lake Ontario and Lake Erie would continue at a reasonable pace.

These sources expect the House Appropriations Committee to add $200,000 to the Army Corps of Engineers' budget so the study can continue in the Buffalo, N.Y., area.

Five-Foot Thug

Assaults Couple

In Houston Club

HOUSTON (UPI) — A five-foot tall thug raped a barmaid Tuesday, took a gun away from her, pistol whipped her boy friend, raped the barmaid again, robbed the boyfriend and the bar's cash register, fought with them both, and fled trailing blood.

The 31-year-old barmaid and her 46-year-old boy friend were accosted by the robber in the downtown club after it closed Tuesday morning.

He took $60 from the cash register and $17 from the boy friend.

The barmaid said she and her companion slugged the robber with a cue stick and a wine bottle before he left. Police lost the bloody trail at the banks of Buffalo Bayou near downtown Houston.

Texas Candidates View Endorsements

By United Press International
The all-important California primary election today somewhat foreshadowed the upcoming Texas runoff but candidates were busy looking over their endorsements.

In Fort Worth, former Republican national committeeman Jack Porter announced his endorsement of George Bush in the runoff for Republican senator.

He said both Bush and his opponent, Jack Cox, were "good conservative contenders," but he considered Bush the stronger.

"It is the duty of the Republicans of Texas to give the people of Texas a candidate who is well qualified but at the same time, one who can defeat the socialistic incumbent," he said.

Committee Formed
Bush, also in Fort Worth, announced the formation of a "Robert Morris Supporters for George Bush Committee."

Democratic candidate in the runoff for congressman-at-large Robert W. Baker was endorsed by one of his former state senator colleagues, Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio. Baker's opponent is incumbent Joe Pool of Dallas.

Cox said in Tyler "a winning coalition in November will demand more conservatism than George Bush has demonstrated." Cox said Bush has "shifted his stand on the civil rights bill from the far left posture of (Sen.) Ralph Yarborough to a me-too constitutional position."

Different Language
"George Bush cannot communicate with a majority of Texas conservatives because he doesn't even speak the same language," Cox said.

In Austin, Pool issued a statement saying he agrees with President Johnson's fiscal and defense policies but added that he opposes the civil rights bill.

This was apparently intended to clarify statements Pool made last week, when he said in one statement the Johnson administration "will go down in history as one of the greatest" and in another that the administration Civil Rights bill is "socialistic."

Project Set On Spillway At McClellan

A government project to improve the dam and spillway at Lake McClellan was announced by Rep. Walter Rogers in his weekly newsletter released today.

Bids will be opened June 11 by the U.S. Forest Service in Albuquerque. Plans call for the dam to be extended approximately 375 feet across the present emergency spillway. Work is expected to be completed early next spring.

Lake McClellan is 20 miles east of Groom and two miles north of U.S. 66 in southern Gray County.

When the job is finished it is hoped the lake and recreational area will be returned to its original size of 450 surface acres of water. Presently the water surface area is down to about 150 acres.

The lake, to which some 110,000 visits are made annually by boating enthusiasts, bathers, fishermen and picnickers, is expected to have its water level raised four or five feet when the new spillway is completed.

Details of the plans for Lake McClellan will be found in Congressman Rogers' newsletter on Page 10 today.

Hunt Continues In Fever Area For Bad Meat

Authorities Suspect Corned Beef As Cause of Typhoid Fever Cases

ABERDEEN, Scotland (UPI) — Authorities hunted through shops and wholesale houses today for more cans of corned beef like those suspected of causing this city's typhoid fever epidemic, which has already stricken 241 persons.

There were also 30 suspected cases in Aberdeen. Four confirmed and 18 suspected cases were reported elsewhere in Scotland at Glasgow, Edinburgh, Ayr and Argyll. England had three suspected cases in Newcastle-Upon-Tyne and one in East London. No deaths have been reported.

Dr. Ian MacQueen, Aberdeen's chief medical officer, said a second wave of cases was fading and the size of a third wave in the next few days would show whether the epidemic was increasing or diminishing.

He said it was possible—but unlikely—that the third wave "at its worst may be many times bigger than we have had yet."

Korean Students Continue Riots

SEOUL, Korea (UPI)—Anti-government student mobs rioted today in the streets of four Korean cities.

President Park Chung Hee proclaimed martial law in Seoul.

Officials reported at least 400 policemen injured in the rioting. There was no definite word on student injuries, but at least three were reported hurt. Another 150 were arrested.

The worst of the daylong rioting took place in the capital city, where 10,000 students stormed through the streets and clashed with police and troops. One group stoned a U.S. Army bus, but no Americans were injured.

Wagner To Fight Terrorists

By United Press International
A 19-year-old waitress at the World's Fair was raped at knife-point near her home today by two men she described as Negroes as police launched a $5 million war on street and subway terror in New York City.

The attack came only hours after Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced plans to curb increased incidents of violence which have plagued the nation's largest city. The plans included the assignment of hundreds of additional police to nighttime patrol duty.

Police withheld the identity of the girl, who is of Chinese descent and who works at a Chinese restaurant at the Fair. Detectives said she told of being attacked as she left a bus in the Belfrage Manor section of Queens while returning home from work.

"We are determined to see that we have law and order in this city of ours," Wagner said after an emergency meeting Tuesday with top city officials alarmed over weekend incidents in which whites were attacked in subways and on the streets by Negro gangs armed with knives and bottles.

The situation in the nation's largest city has become so desperate that one newspaper, the World-Telegram and Sun, has suggested that citizens may soon be forced to travel in armed groups for safety.

One group, the Jewish "Maccabees," has been organized into an unarmed patrol of the Crown Heights section of Brooklyn to protect their community from muggings, rapes and murder.

Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy warned that while the latest terrorism has been in Brooklyn, it could spread to other parts of the city.

Murphy said special police and undercover agents have been working for weeks in Harlem investigating reports that Black Muslims have been recruiting teen-agers.

Death of Pope Noted at Mass

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI today marked the first anniversary of the death of John XXIII with prayer at the tomb of the late pontiff and a Mass in St. Peter's Basilica.

Early this morning, Pope Paul left his private apartments in the Vatican Palace to go down into the grottoes under St. Peter's. He prayed for several moments in front of the white marble tomb of Pope John and then celebrated Mass before the tomb.

Later, the pontiff—dressed in the red mantle of papal mourning—went to St. Peter's to hear a commemorative Mass said by Giovanni Cardinal Urbani, patriarch of Venice—the second man the late Pope John made a prince of the church.

The first man he made a cardinal was Giovanni Battista Montini, who 18 days after John's death was elected Pope.

Johnson Says US Stronger Than All Nations of World

NEW LONDON, Conn. (UPI) — President Johnson said today the United States is stronger than the combined might of all the nations in the history of the world. He said this improves prospects for peace.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Coast Guard Academy commencement here, Johnson predicted that American strength would continue to grow more rapidly than the might of all other nations.

He said United States' superiority extended over the ability to deter atomic destruction, the ability to fight less than all out war, strength in the struggle against subversion, development of new weapons for deterrence and defense, and the ability of the American fighting man.

Attacks Nuclear Threat
"Those who would answer every problem with nuclear weapons display not bravery but bravado, not wisdom but a wanton disregard for the survival of the world and the future of the race," Johnson said.

This country's military might allows it to take more tangible steps toward peace than at any time since the cold war began, Johnson said.

"And we will welcome any other proposal by any nation which promises realistic progress toward peace," he said. "It requires patience and understanding to continue the search for peace while our adversaries so beset us. But this is what we must do. It is what, God willing, I intend to do."

Seeks Lasting Peace
The President said he hoped this country, in a day not too distant, will be able to "lay aside its awesome power, and direct all its genius to the betterment of man."

Later, the President, in an address prepared for the keel-laying of a new nuclear submarine at Groton, Conn., further stressed the relationship between purposeful power and peaceful purposes.

"There are those who oppose freedom and security," he said. "They seek by fear and subversion to thwart man's hopes for peace. If they do not understand our motives for peace, we must be sure they do not misunderstand our means of power."

Evaluation Scheduled for Pampa's Public Schools

By TEX DEWESE

Pampa public schools will conduct a total evaluation program during the 1964-65 school year, it was announced today by Jack Edmondson, school superintendent.

The project, a top to bottom and stem to stern look at Pampa Independent School district operation in all its phases, will consist of a seven-month period of self-evaluation beginning next September and lasting into March of 1965.

The self-evaluation is to be immediately followed by a visiting committee of qualified school administrators, teachers, educators and education specialists from throughout the Panhandle and Southwest.

While the planned evaluation will be the first full-blown program of its type here since 1942, Edmondson pointed out that an evaluation program in local schools has been updated from year to year.

"THE COMPLETE program," he said, "is something we have had in mind for the past two or three years. It is being undertaken in order to delve into every facet where we think we can improve the type of education and operation afforded in our schools."

The school superintendent and McHenry Lane, curriculum director for Pampa schools, said the self-evaluation plan will entail a study of operations in every area of the school system and will include a detailed study of classroom operations in grades one through 12.

"This program takes in everything that has anything to do with the school system," Edmondson said. "Among other things it will include objectives and philosophy of the system, plant operations, school activities, playground facilities, teachers, teacher ratio, a complete check of personnel background and experience, analysis of individual staff members all the way from top administrators down through the elementary teaching staff."

"This is not to be an investigation in any sense of the word. Rather it is to be a self-evaluation of what we are doing on an individual basis to promote better schools and education."

EDMONDSON'S announcement today came as an aftermath of a joint meeting last week of an Evaluation Steering Committee with principals of all Pampa schools and Dr. Emmitt Smith of West Texas State University, who has been retained as Evaluation Director.

Members of the steering committee are Virginia Vaughan and Howard Graham of Pampa Senior high school, Paul Payne and Floyd Sackett of Pampa Junior high, Nova Mayo and Essie Mae Walters of Robert E. Lee Junior high, Otto Mangold of Baker elementary, Mrs. Perry Gault of Austin elementary, J. C. Randall of Carver Junior high and elementary, Joe Page of Lamar elementary, Sam Begert of Horace Mann elementary, Mrs. J. E. Scarborough of Travis elementary and Oleta Marlin of Wilson elementary.

At the head of the steering committee is Curriculum Director Lane who will serve as co-ordinator of committee activities.

Although the actual self-evaluation program will not get into full swing until September, Lane explained that the steering committee is expected to lay some groundwork this summer.

At the preliminary meeting of the steering committee last week all school principals were called in for an orientation session, followed by a teachers' discussion of the project with principals in each school before the end of the 1963-64 school year.

THE TYPE OF evaluation to be pursued, Edmondson said, will be in keeping with the recommendation of the five regional accrediting associations in the United States.

These are the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and Northwest Association of Colleges and Higher Schools.

Pampa schools are presently accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, comprising 11 southern states.

According to Lane, materials used in the evaluation will be the evaluative criteria which have been developed by the five regional accrediting agencies, and which have been widely used throughout the nation.

Dr. Smith's role in the self-evaluation project will be to serve throughout the seven-month life of the program as director and consultant to the Pampa schools steering committees and the various sub-committees which will be working in every school and every grade.

THE WEST TEXAS State educator also will serve as chairman of the visiting committee which will make the final evaluation and final recommendations at the end of the local program. He will direct the visiting committee's activities in compiling its summary from the several sub-committee reports.

Every teacher in the Pampa schools will be involved in the study and will be a member of committees delving into the self-evaluation study.

Pampa's schools are presently in good accreditation standing, Edmondson stated.

"We are engaged in evaluation programs year in and year out," the superintendent said. "It is something that is going on all the time, but we feel it is time again for a complete and comprehensive look at ourselves in the interest of improvement wherever we can find room for improvement."

"We are entering upon the program so we can take a real good look at ourselves and see how we measure up according to the highest standards of the accrediting associations."

Pampa Legion Lists Boy Representative

GERRY MACK HEARD ... to attend Boys State

Gerry Mack Heard, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Heard of 2135 N. Nelson, has been chosen as the Pampa representative to the American Legion sponsored Boys State to be held in Austin. Heard will join with other students from over the state for the week-long affair beginning Thursday. Heard, a junior at Pampa High School, was chosen for his ability to get along with fellow students, leadership, character, and ambition. The objective of Boys State is to educate youth in the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American citizenship. They learn the duties of the various city, county and state officers. The program was originated in Illinois in 1934 and has been adopted by the national organization of the American Legion. Heard is sponsored by the Pampa American Legion Post.

The states that have grafted the primary system on the machinery for choosing candidates for president of the United States should proceed now to accept all of the responsibility that flows from their experiment in futurity. Their further responsibility is to impose and to enforce a reasonable limit on primary campaign expenditures. It also would be a good idea if each primary state limited the campaign period as some colleges limit spring football or fraternity rush week. The need for state action to impose presidential primary ground rules was peculiarly evident four years ago when the Kennedy family bankroll was unfurled and again this year when another enormous family fortune was in play. Cost Means Little From New Hampshire to California the story of the Nelson A. Rockefeller presidential primary campaign has been brightened at intervals with delighted little yips from Rockefeller campaign workers who never had it so good. One California worker expressed his happy wonderment at being associated in a campaign in which the candidate never needed to ask what it would cost. It is not necessary to buy votes for money to have an unfair impact on any election. Poverty-stricken elections can be unfair. No money passed, for example, in Philadelphia a few weeks ago when Democrats were stealing votes from each other. But the weight of money can influence an election without actually paying off the voters. No one doubted in the 1960 presidential primary season that Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey was brutally handicapped by lack of funds in his primary contests with John F. Kennedy. While the Kennedy candidate and clan flitted about in the family airplane, poor boy Humphrey jounced by bus. This ploy of the sons or grandsons of great fortunes parlaying their financial luck into political careers to the disadvantage of poor but honest fellow politicians is gaining on us. That is the kind of an issue that Democrats would be expected to welcome. They should be jumping on it like a hen on a June bug. But they will not do that. Have Done Well It is within the Democratic party of the common man and of the great voting blocs on the wrong side of the big city tracks that the rich kids have done their best. Rich kids such as FDR, for example, Averell Harriman, Herbert H. Lehman, the Kennedys and others. The U.S. $10,000 bill bears the portrait of Salmon P. Chase.

The free world depended upon Jawaharlal Nehru to lead the emerging nations of Asia along the path of democracy. Both became the poorer today for his death. In the nearly 20 years since World War II, as the peoples of Asia have struggled to overcome the status of backward nations, two great revolutionary forces have been at work. Nehru, the leader of one, is dead. Mao Tse-tung, the man who believes that progress is achieved at the muzzle of a gun, remains as the leader of the other. Direct Opposites Each counting himself a philosopher, no two men could have held more conflicting beliefs and it was inevitable that they should clash. But between them, among the massed and hungry populations of Asia, they directed the lives of more than a billion persons and extended their influence to millions of others. In contrast to Mao's concept of violent revolution, Nehru's was one of peaceful evolution. And in contrast to Mao's "great leap forward" which jammed millions of his suffering people into giant state-run communes, Nehru insisted upon democratic processes which included a free vote and protection of minorities. Task Unfinished Nehru's job was far from finished, even within his own country which now must pass through a period of anguished and dangerous uncertainty. Although frequently accused of actions more suitable to a dictator, Nehru was the force which held his fragmented Communist party together.

Beatle Buffs Battle Bank

DALLAS (UPI) — Beatle fans stood in long lines Monday for tickets to a concert Sept. 18 featuring the rope-haired English singers. An estimated 3,500 stormed the Preston State Bank, which had some 10,000 tickets to the concert at Memorial Auditorium. Many of them had slept in cars at the site, hoping to get choice seats. The crowd, mostly teenagers, kept up an almost constant singing of "I Wanna Hold Your Hand." The three policemen assigned to the spot looked as if they wanted to hold their ears.

"In view of the fact economic conditions remain strong, there have been few speculative excesses, the public is not wildly bidding up stocks and volume is not unusually heavy, we construe this period of hesitation to be a buying opportunity and feel the long term uptrend remains undisturbed," Bache says. Reynolds & Co. says, "It would seem that a reasonably constructive attitude can still be maintained, although over-extension in speculative issues should be avoided." Hawaii Conference Goes to Final Day

HONOLULU (UPI) — A top level American policy conference, at which decisions are being made that can affect the lives of hundreds of millions in Southeast Asia, goes into its second and final day here today. The first day's formal sessions ended at 6:15 p.m., HST Monday, with U.S. Ambassador to South Viet Nam Henry Cabot Lodge and commander in chief of Pacific forces Adm. Harry D. Felt lingering in the conference room for another ten minutes. The talks were expected to continue on an informal basis at two separate dinner parties Monday night, one hosted by Felt and the other by Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet, and designated as Felt's successor. Invited to the party at Felt's home were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Carl Rowan, director of the U.S. Information Agency, Assistant Secretary of Defense for Public Affairs Arthur Sylvester and Assistant Secretary of Defense for Internal Security Affairs John McNaughton. The guest list at the Sharp residence included Lt. Gen. William C. Pilot Training Plan Of Soviets Revealed

WASHINGTON (SpI) — Flyers in Russia may outnumber those in the United States by more than 100 to 1 within the next decade, according to Bob Cummings, noted stage and screen star and an avid private aviation enthusiast.

In an article appearing in the June issue of The AOPA PILOT, official monthly magazine of the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association, Cummings reveals that he learned several years ago that the U. S. S. R. begins training elementary school children in the art of flying airplanes and that the Soviet expects to have from 50 to 75 million qualified pilots by 1975. Projections for that year in this country indicate that the United States will have less than 750,000 licensed pilots. There are now about 375,000 civilian pilots in the United States, of which some 105,000 are student pilots.

The article in The AOPA PILOT, written by Don Downie of Pasadena, Calif., deals with Cummings' 37 years as a light-plane pilot, and with the actor's continuing efforts to promote greater interest in private flying among the nation's youth.

Cummings, who learned to fly in Joplin, Mo., in 1927, reveals to The AOPA PILOT readers that he had his sights set on becoming an aeronautical engineer before the depression of 1929 forced him to drop out of college and go into acting. He learned of the emphasis Russia places on aviation when he visited Moscow as part of the Federal Government's "People to People" program.

"I had a chance to visit a Soviet primary school and saw what the Russians will freely admit is their true secret weapon," Cummings divulges. "I saw Russian children being given flight training in the earliest grades." In the schoolyards, he reports, there were small simulated airplanes, similar to Link trainers, with basic stick and rudder controls. The article discloses how Cummings believes the United States may counter the growing disparity in pilots.

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 90-minute documentary motion picture on the assassination of President Kennedy and then three days which followed will be produced by David L. Wolper in association with United Press International for worldwide television and movie release this autumn.

Wolper said the documentary "Four Days in November," will include film on the assassination and related events never before shown publicly. Representatives of Wolper Productions and UPI have obtained film on the events in Dallas and Washington from every available professional and amateur source for inclusion of producer-director Mel Stuart who has interviewed eye-witnesses, traced the route of accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald and viewed thousands of feet of film in assembling material for the documentary.

"The program will detail in depth a minute-by-minute account of the people involved and events leading up to and through those four tragic days," Wolper said. The film is expected to be completed in August for theater distribution by the first week in September.

In addition, Wolper said he has arranged with UPI Newsfilm to be the major source of coverage and footage on the 1964 presidential campaign and election for another 90-minute documentary, "The Making of the President—1964." The Wolper production of "The Making of the President 1960," written by Theodore H. White, last Monday won the Emmy as the 1963 television program of the year. White also will write the story for the 1964 sequel.

Ike's Brother Set for Plunge Into Politics

CHICAGO (UPI)—The youngest brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was out of a job today and ready to take his first plunge into politics.

Earl Eisenhower, 66, public relations director for a suburban newspaper group for the past 10 years, said Monday he had been "fired" from his post because of his decision to run for state representative.

"If you want to put it in softer language you could say I was forced to quit," he said.

Eisenhower is one of 22 "blue ribbon" candidates slated by Illinois Republicans to run for state representative in the state's at-large election in November. Although he took part in his brother's presidential campaigns, this will be his first try at political office.

Eisenhower lost his job when the publisher of the Suburban Life newspaper group, Jack Kubik, gave him the "choice of getting into politics or staying here."

"We have a rule that employees are not allowed to get into active politics without consulting management," Kubik said. "This he did not do."

Dear Abby.... When He's Grown, He May Come Back to Your Rules

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and I want to ask you a serious question. Do ANY boys like nice, sweet, old-fashioned girls? If you don't think you don't like them, they think you don't like them and they go find someone who will. This guy I went with was real nice at first, then he started getting "fresh." He said if I liked him I'd go along with his ideas. I really liked him, but I couldn't explain why I wouldn't give in without sounding stupid or juvenile. He said I was too "nice" for him, and he left. Now I realize how much I liked him. How can I get him back?

DEE

DEAR DEE: Plenty of boys still like "nice, sweet, old-fashioned" girls. (That's the kind they look for when they have marriage in mind.) If you have to defend your moral standards with a debate, you are in the wrong company. Forget this boy. But don't be surprised if he turns up after he's grown up, and tells you that you were right, and he'd like to have another chance—this time with YOUR rules.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been dead for 22 years. I have continued to call myself MRS. JOHN SMITH. A friend of mine recently pointed out to me that I was breaching etiquette; that since there is no longer a JOHN SMITH, neither is there a MRS. JOHN SMITH, and I should be calling myself MRS. GERALDINE SMITH. Please set me straight.

MRS. GERALDINE OR MRS. JOHN?

DEAR MRS. JOHN SMITH: Your friend is the one who needs to be "set straight." When you took John's name, you took it for as long as YOU lived (unless you took another husband), not for as long as HE lived.

DEAR ABBY: Since reading in your column that a woman changed dentists because she didn't like the canned music he used in his office, I should like to express myself on that subject. I quit TWO dentists on this account. But worse yet is being forced to listen to canned music in a garage. I sat there waiting for my car to be repaired, while the mechanic waved wrenches and screw drivers around in the air as he sang and skipped and danced all around the car as though he were in a hypnotic state. He stood on his toes, leaped into the air and twisted his body. His boss said he was a good mechanic and, if the music were turned off, every mechanic in the place would walk out. At six dollars an hour I didn't bring my car in there to be entertained. When I want to see a ballet, I'll buy a ticket. There should be a law against such nonsense in a place of business.

Kitchen Can Be Gay or Sad; It Depends on Decor

No room gets more use than the kitchen. The time spent there can be a joy or a nightmare, depending, to a large extent, on how the room is decorated. The decor might easily have some effect on the success of your cooking efforts, even!

Here are three suggestions for improving the appearance—and practicality—of your kitchen:

(1) Resurface your counters and backsplashes with ceramic tile, a rugged material that can't be burned or scratched. Real tile needs only an occasional quick wipe with a damp cloth to keep its brand new look. It now comes in over 250 colors and shades so that it can easily blend with any decor.

(2) Use the same tile on the floors as you use on the counters and backsplash. It will give a lovely design unity to your kitchen, and at the same time provide an easily cleaned, stainproof and chemical-resistant floor.

(3) Rid your kitchen window sills of space-stealing plants by building a planter outside the window. You can forget repainting the sills forever if you surface them with real cream-colored tile.

Conference Report

Held by Circle
Mrs. S. T. Holding gave the program on the General Conference and led in group discussion during a recent meeting of the Hope Circle, St. Paul Methodist Church.

The discussion included group participation on the subject of prayer in the schools.

Circle meetings will be discontinued during the school months with the next general meeting scheduled for June 10.

The program topic for the joint meeting will be, "The Church Speaks or Dies." Names for circles will be drawn at this meeting.

Members attending were Mmes. Fred Whitt, Kit Autry, Dan Cotten, Jim Hall, Bobby Turnbo, S. T. Holding and Joe Autry.

Cheryle Ann Teague was honored recently with a bridal shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Laramore, 2139 Chestnut.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Laramore, Mrs. James Rigsby, Mrs. W. L. Hopper, Mrs. Elvold Callan, Mrs. Robert Douthit, Mrs. Lillie Fulton and Mrs. LeRoy Nicholaison.

Mrs. Nicolaison registered the guests. The honoree, her mother, and the mother of the prospective bridegroom were presented corsages of red and white carnations.

The serving table was covered with white linen and centered with a red, pink and white carnation arrangement designed in a boat effect.

Mrs. Laramore presided at the punch bowl assisted by the other hostesses. Refreshments of cookies, nuts and mints were served with the punch.

Guests attending included Mmes. Shelby Johnson, Tom Teague, T. C. Kitchens, Roy Free, John Corcoran, Letha Corcoran, Earnest Willis, LaVonda Douthit, Shelby J. Ruff, G. I. Riley, Maxine Howell, Nadine Overstreet, Joe Slater, Marlin Gee, Nancy Hall, Earl Kyle, W. D. Teague, Emma Lea Kelly, Linda Topper and Bill Stoud.

Misses Janice Johnson, Andrea Jewell, Francine Green, Judie Riley and Karen Laramore.

Several gifts were received by persons unable to attend the shower.

Installation Meeting Highlighted By Presentation of Life Memberships

The presentation of life memberships to three members of the WSCS of First Methodist Church highlighted the general meeting conducted recently in the church.

Trim with Vim For Summer Fun

NEW YORK — Swing a golf club and whittle your waist, pedal a bike and shape your calves.

Golf, racket games, ball games, bike riding and swimming can do wonders for your figure, according to the June issue of Seventeen Magazine, which offers this shape-making guide to summer sports:

GOLFING is part swing (which firms the arms), part twist (which whittles the waist) and park hike. You walk three to five miles during an average game and, if you breathe deeply and don't just amble along, it's a wonderful all-around trimmer. The golf stance of knees relaxed and bottom tucked under as if you were sitting on the edge of a tall stool helps both figure and posture. As a bonus, golfing burns up 300 calories an hour.

RACKET GAMES stretch you through thighs, hips, waist and midriff. Try to give equal time to forehand and backhand, so you'll get the same slimming stretch on both sides. Playing lazily won't do as much for you as really doing as well as you can, so reach for those high ones. Figure benefits of all racket games are much the same, but the more strenuous ones burn up more calories. Score a whopping 400 an hour for tennis.

BALL GAMES, like volleyball, trim you all over. They're good for posture, too. Keep your back straight and really reach for the ball and you'll feel the pull through midriff, waist and stomach. You will benefit most where you need it most; all exercise reduces the amount of fat tissue most in the areas of the body which have most to begin with.

BIKE RIDING will slim ankles, shape calves, slenderize heavy legs and build up skinny ones. It will do everything the bicycle kick will do—better! It will even help flatten the tummy if you remember to pull in your stomach as you go. Go fast now and then to speed up calorie burning. You use 250 calories an hour for an easy-going ride; 400 for an hour's rapid pedaling.

Mrs. Fred Carey, Mrs. J. E. Thompson and Mrs. W. H. Nichols received the honors. Two student life memberships were presented Susan Carr and Natalie Skelly.

A salad luncheon preceded the meeting and installation of officers. Circle Seven was hostess.

Mrs. W. H. Nichols, president of the society, presided, and asked Mrs. Glen Radcliff to lead in table grace. The minutes of the last general meeting were read and approved and Mrs. Carlton Nance, treasurer gave a financial statement before presenting the 1964-65 budget which was approved.

Mrs. Nichols asked for an annual circle report from chairmen. Circles Two and Five reported the highest average attendance. The chairmen, Mrs. David McGehey and Mrs. J. E. Kirchner, were recognized.

Mrs. Radcliff gave the devotional based on scriptures from James I and ended the discussion with quotations from the spiritual writings of Evelyn Underhill.

An inspiring pledge service was conducted by Mrs. Bob West who explained how the pledge money was distributed, describing it as the heartbeat of the society. She also pointed out that the money was not included with various love offering throughout the year.

New officers were installed by Mrs. Gerald Marlar.

Taking over as circle chairmen will be Mrs. Duane Rankin, Circle II; Mrs. Clarence Lutes, Circle III; Mrs. James Trusty, Circle IV; Mrs. W. E. Abernathy, Circle V; Mrs. J. W. Shelton, Circle VI and Mrs. Vernon Stuckey, Circle VII. Circle I was not installed.

President of the WSCS will be Mrs. W. H. Nichols; Mrs. David McGehey, vice president; Mrs. W. C. Puryear, recording secretary; Mrs. Bill Baten, local treasurer; Mrs. Rayburn Thompson, conference treasurer; Mrs. Charles Duenkel Jr., children's work; Mrs. Clarence Lutes, Christian social relations; Mrs. Duane Bartee, literature and publications; Mrs. W. R. Campbell, local church activity; Mrs. Bob West, missionary education; Mrs. Dugan Smith, promotion; Mrs. Elmer Radcliff, spiritual life; Mrs. J. C. McWilliams, student work; Mrs. Irene Osborne, supply; Mrs. Carl Williams, youth work; and publicity, Mrs. C. J. Killgo.

The Lord's Prayer was recited in unison as the benediction.

TEL Class Holds Devotional, Social

The TEL Sunday School Class of Central Baptist Church met recently for a social in the home of Mrs. Henry Taylor, 511 N. Russell.

Opening prayer was offered by Mrs. Pearl Erwin and Mrs. Lelia Gomer, president, conducted the business meeting with Mrs. W. G. Gooding reading the minutes of the last meeting.

Mrs. R. E. Warren, teacher, gave the devotional on the Holy Spirit.

Mrs. Maggie Deal was entertainment chairman. Refreshments were served to Mmes. Catherin Osborn, W. G. Gooding, W. O. Grave, Della Tucker, Pearl Erwin, R. W. Ragsdale, R. E. Warren, Lelia Gomer, Maggie Deal and C. G. Miller.

Mrs. Taylor was presented with a gift from the class and Mrs. Gomer offered the benediction.

ALPHA LAMBDA CHAPTER — The Alpha Lambda Chapter of Phi Sigma Alpha was officially formed Sunday. From left are Mrs. Verbie Daniels, Mrs. Betty Moyes and Mrs. John E. Killian, Psi Chapter, Amarillo, members;

Mrs. Truett Wilburn, Mrs. Nathan Turnbo, Mrs. Verbie Beavers, Borger; Mrs. Marvin Jones, Mrs. John M. Hutcheson, Mrs. C. C. Wilson, Mrs. C. Wayne Couch, Mrs. Hugh Peoples, Mrs. Louis H. Lamb, Amarillo and Mrs. J. B. Woodington.

Texas Alpha Lambda Chapter of Phi Sigma Alpha Formed Here

The Texas Alpha Lambda Chapter of Phi Sigma Alpha was formally instituted at 3 p.m. Sunday in the home of Mrs. John Hutcheson, 1201 S. Hobart.

Officers installed in the candlelight and flower ceremony were Mrs. J. B. Woodington, president; Mrs. John Hutcheson, vice president; Mrs. Truett Wilburn, program moderator; Mrs. C. Wayne Couch, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Marvin Jones, extension officer.

Mrs. Louis E. Lahm, field executive of Texas from the International Headquarters, Scottsdale, Ariz., officiated during the installation, assisted by Mrs. Norris Daniels, president and Mrs. Troy Mays, extension officer of Psi Chapter, Amarillo. Mrs. C. M. Beavers, vice president of the Alpha Zeta Chapter of Borger, also took part. Mrs. Beavers and Mrs. Mays acted as candle bearers and Mrs. Daniels presented the gavel.

The sorority colors and flower, blue and white and white carnations, were used in the decorations.

A centerpiece of white carnations was flanked by candelabra holding blue tapers. Mrs. Woodington presided at the silver coffee service and Mrs. Daniels served cake during the social hour following the installation service.

THE DAY THE DAM BROKE—Seventy-five years ago, on May 31, 1889, the city of Johnstown, Pa., was virtually wiped off the map. Heavy rains had sent the rivers over their banks in the community, with water standing up to 10 feet deep. The catastrophe occurred, however, when the South Fork Dam broke in the hills 16 miles northeast of the city. This tremendous body of water—three miles long, a mile wide and 60 feet deep—rushed wildly down the Conemaugh Valley into Johnstown, sweeping everything before it. More than 2,000 persons were drowned. This photo, taken a few days after the disaster, shows the broken remains of a once pulsing city.

Crazy Day Set By Businessmen

Final plans are being made for the third annual Crazy Day promotion to be staged Saturday by Pampa merchants and businessmen.
Duggan Smith, chairman of the merchants activities committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said businesses and their employees will dress up in crazy and "zany" costumes, and many store fronts will be decorated in appropriate style.
Crazy Day will last from 9 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

Slumber Parties

Students Sign for Summer Classes

A total of 423 students have signed up for summer school classes at Pampa High School this year.
Cameron Marsh, school principal, said that number 148 students are taking driver education and 90 are taking summer homemaking.
Summer school will run through July 24 with the students getting one holiday on July 4.
Classes begin at 7:00, 8:45 and 10:40 a.m. each morning.

Specifications on Insurance May Be Mailed on Request

Specifications for the city's group insurance plan for city employees will be mailed to any insurance firm wishing to enter a bid. City Manager Harold Schmitzer said today.
All that is needed, Schmitzer stated, is for bidders to file the name of their company, agent's name and mailing address with the city manager's office.
Bids will be opened at the city commission meeting at 8:30 a.m., July 7.

County Officials Investigate Theft Of Truck Motor

Gray County authorities are investigating the burglary of a $250 truck motor from the M. D. Snider Trucking Company on Price Rd.
According to Texas Ranger Bill Baten and Deputy Sheriff Dwight Day, the thief entered the building by breaking a side window glass. The thief then opened the rear doors and loaded the motor on a truck. The motor, owned by Roy Coy of 1811 N. Nelson, was lying on the floor. It was being repaired by Snider.
The thief, according to Day, locked the doors and left the same way he entered by crawling through the window.
McCoy said the burglary apparently occurred sometime Sunday night.

Judge Receives Recognition for Handling Teens

Corporation Judge John Warner's system of "punishing" teen-age traffic violators has received more national recognition through publication of an article in the June issue of American City Magazine.
The article points out that any student who receives a traffic citation must appear in Pampa's Corporation Court at 9 a.m. on Saturday with one or both parents. At that time the violators hear a short lecture on traffic safety by a city police officer. Then, if he is a first offender, the teenager has a choice of paying a fine or writing a 1,000-word theme on traffic safety.
The magazine story goes on to relate that most teenagers would rather be "themed" than "fined."
William S. Foster, editor of American City Magazine, in commenting on Judge Warner's system for teenagers, said:
"It represents meritorious work of credit to your community. We know that progressive municipal administrators across the nation will find it helpful."

Catholic Minister to Go to New Orleans

Fr. Edward J. Cashman C.M., pastor of St. Vincent dePaul Catholic Church here since 1958, will leave Pampa June 14 to become chaplain of Hotel Dieu (House of God) Hospital in New Orleans, La.

The announcement came today that Fr. Cashman had completed his three-year appointment and three-year reappointment at St. Vincent as set up by the Vincentian Order.

He will be replaced here by Fr. William Brennan C.M., who served as an assistant in St. Vincent's in the early 1940s shortly after he was ordained. Fr. Brennan has been serving in mission work for the St. Vincentian Order in California. He also has served as a chaplain in the U.S. Army during World War II and the Korean War.

Fr. Cashman came to Pampa in the summer of 1958 from Montebello, Calif., where he was pastor of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal Church. He has served before in New Orleans as assistant pastor at St. Stephens Church there shortly after entering the priesthood.

During his years in Pampa, Fr. Cashman has been a factor in the raising of funds and completion of the present St. Vincent's school, rectory and convent and more recently has been working on plans for the construction of a new church at St. Vincents, W. 23rd Ave. between N. Hobart and Perryton Pkwy.

On May 12, Fr. Cashman celebrated his 25th Sacerdotal Jubilee as a priest with a jubilee mass at St. Vincent's followed by a public dinner and reception. The 51-year-old priest was ordained June 4, 1939, in Perryville, Mo. Since then his assignments have carried him over a good portion of the Western United States.

County Officials Investigate Theft Of Truck Motor

Gray County authorities are investigating the burglary of a $250 truck motor from the M. D. Snider Trucking Company on Price Rd.
According to Texas Ranger Bill Baten and Deputy Sheriff Dwight Day, the thief entered the building by breaking a side window glass. The thief then opened the rear doors and loaded the motor on a truck. The motor, owned by Roy Coy of 1811 N. Nelson, was lying on the floor. It was being repaired by Snider.
The thief, according to Day, locked the doors and left the same way he entered by crawling through the window.
McCoy said the burglary apparently occurred sometime Sunday night.

Judge Receives Recognition for Handling Teens

Corporation Judge John Warner's system of "punishing" teen-age traffic violators has received more national recognition through publication of an article in the June issue of American City Magazine.
The article points out that any student who receives a traffic citation must appear in Pampa's Corporation Court at 9 a.m. on Saturday with one or both parents. At that time the violators hear a short lecture on traffic safety by a city police officer. Then, if he is a first offender, the teenager has a choice of paying a fine or writing a 1,000-word theme on traffic safety.
The magazine story goes on to relate that most teenagers would rather be "themed" than "fined."

Headline-Hitter Chance Pitching Masterpieces

By United Press International
Dean Chance doesn't seem to be able to keep his name out of the headlines, one way or another.

A few years ago Bo Belinsky took Chance under his wing and the two were involved in an after baseball hours incident in Hollywood. Last year Al Lopez wanted the 22-year-old hurler to submit to a saliva test on the mound. And last week the Angels management held an unprecedented press conference to "clarify" a contract dispute with Chance.

But Tuesday night's performance at Chavez Ravine in which the lanky righthander fanned 15 Red Sox, a club record, and allowed just two singles in a 1-0 Los Angeles win, may have Angel officials reaching for a new contract.

Chance declared last week that he would give the Angels "$18,000 worth of pitching and no more." A shutout of the Yankees 10 days ago and Tuesday night's masterpiece may approximate that figure now and you have to wonder what a $25,000 pact would bring.

The 15 strikeouts are tops for the majors this season, and gave Chance his fourth win against two losses. Boston's first hit came in the sixth inning when Dick Stuart stroked a single.

The Angels' lone run was a fourth-inning product when Loser Jack Lamabe walked Joe Koppe, Billy Moran singled and Koppe scored on Lee Thomas' Texas League double.

Elsewhere in the American League; Baltimore shut out Kansas City, 4-0; Cleveland nipped Chicago, 3-2; Minnesota topped the Yankees, 6-2; and Washington and Detroit were rained out.

The Orioles moved into sole possession of first place behind six-hit pitching of sophomore Dave McNally. McNally (4-3) went out for the first inning with a 1-0 lead after Jerry Adair doubled and scored when A's starter Orlando Pena heaved the ball into centerfield on a pickoff throw and then threw a wild pitch to the plate. Boog Powell's ninth homer completed the scoring in the eighth frame after the Birds had tallied twice in the fifth.

Sam McDowell gained his second victory in three days for Cleveland and fanned 14 White Sox in the process. The 6-foot-6 southpaw who picked up a win in relief Sunday, was recently recalled from Portland where he was 8-0 with a 1.18 ERA.

Last Year's Ace, Benchman Switch

By United Press International
What a difference a year makes!

One year ago Dennis Bennett was sweating it out on the disabled list and Ron Ferranoski was busy compiling one of the finest relief pitching campaigns in National League history.

Today Bennett is one of the most important reasons why the Philadelphia Phillies have opened a 1½-game lead in the NL and Ferranoski is suffering along with his Los Angeles Dodger teammates seven full games behind the leaders in eighth place.

A 6-foot, 3-inch, 24-year left-hander, Bennett chalked up his seventh victory of the season Tuesday night when the Phillies shaded the Dodgers, 4-3, on a seventh-inning run which scored when Ferranoski walked Wes Covington with the bases filled.

Walks in Run
Ferranoski, whose 16-3 record last season made him one of the most valuable of the world champion Dodgers, replaced Jim Brewer with the score 3-3 and runners on second and third. He intentionally walked Johnny Callison to fill the bases and then walked Covington to force in Cookie Rojas with the winning run.

Ed Roebuck retired his former Dodger teammates in order in the ninth to record his sixth save of the season. John Herrstein had three hits and Rojas two to lead the Phillies' seven-hit attack while Ken McMullen's two-run seventh inning homer was the big blow for the Dodgers.

The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the San Francisco Giants, 3-1, the Cincinnati Reds downed the Milwaukee Braves, 7-5, the Chicago Cubs defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-2, and the New York Mets topped the Houston Colts, 7-4, in other National League games.

Bob Veale pitched a five-hitter and struck out nine to win his fifth game for the Pirates. Donn Clendenon, who started the game hitting .257, went 3-for-3 and drove in a run to lead the Pirates' nine-hit attack that dealt Bob Hendley his fourth setback.

Spainh Folds
Two homers by Gene Oliver and one by Denis Menke gave Warren Spainh an early 5-1 lead but the Reds countered with four runs to tie in the eighth and two to win in the ninth. Pinchhitter Mary Keough's two-run double was the key blow of the winning rally after a triple by Vada Pinson and doubles by Frank Robinson and Johnny Edwards sparked the four-run eighth-inning rally.

Billy Williams went three-for-four to lift his league-leading average to .422 and his hitting streak to eight games. Larry Jackson pitched a five-hitter to win his seventh game for the Cubs while Curt Simmons suffered his fourth defeat for the Cardinals.

The Mets scored four unearned runs with the help of two bases-filled hit batsmen by relief pitcher Hal Woodeshick to round out a five-run seventh inning rally that brought Bill Wakefield his first big league victory.

Charnley Seeks Lightweight Title
WEMBLEY, England (UPI)—Great Britain's Dave Charnley is looking forward today to a shot at Carlos Ortiz' lightweight championship but the man he just beat doesn't give him much of a chance.

"I don't think Charnley is a polished enough fighter to beat Ortiz," said Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., after losing a 10-round decision to the British boxer Tuesday night.

Lane, in fact, thought that he should have gotten the decision.

"Going into the ninth round I felt I had a five or six round edge," he said. "I thought I was well ahead at the finish although I realize that Charnley put on a good rally at the end."

"It was a disputed decision," he said, "but as long as I get another shot at him, I don't mind."

Charnley, 137½ to Lane's 137½, staged an eye-catching rally in the ninth round when he landed three rights to Lane's face and then connected with a looping right. He followed up with a series of lefts and rights to Lane's body.

5TH YEAR WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3, 1964

Sporting Sidelines

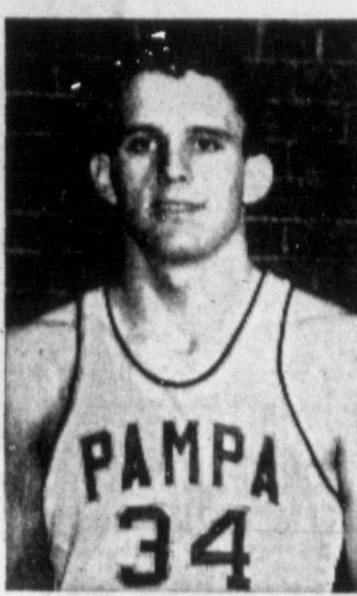

by JEFF COHANE

ANOTHER TEXAS AGGIE straggled into the office for a brief visit before leaving for summer school at Texas Tech.

Donnie Ayres, basketball player turned track star. Ayres, who was a three-sport man at Pampa High School, but chiefly noted for captaining the district champion basketball team of 1962-63, won a scholarship at Texas A&M in, of all things, throwing the javelin.

SINCE THE art of javelin throwing is completely unknown in Texas high schools, and therefore strange to all Texans, it was rather startling to find Ayres winning fourth place in the Southwest Conference freshman division in this relatively foreign sport.

Smiling Donnie explained that he wanted to stay in athletics very badly. . . that he felt that he was not big enough for a basketball player and with only one year's football experience and one in track at PHS, couldn't make it as either a quarterback or a broadjumper. Why the javelin? "I threw a little as a sophomore in high school in Louisiana before moving to Pampa, and didn't do too badly. I tried it again in college and found that I was doing alright. At least the coach seemed to think so as he put me on a partial scholarship, with hopes of a full scholarship if I improve."

COACH CHARLIE Thomas may have thought the reason Donnie wasn't doing too badly was a second place and two third places in triangular freshman meets, followed by his throw of 168'5½" in the SWC meet.

Ayres, a 5'11", 168-pounder in high school, has grown to 190 pounds at Aggie land, and attributes his growth to the same reason as teammate and buddy Randy Matson, weights.

"I work out on a year-round weight program, along with Randy," he explained. "Monday, Wednesday and Friday we work out on weights, Tuesday and Thursday I throw the javelin and run. I'm up to eight repetitions with 170 pounds in the bench press and three sets of 170 with six reps."

AYRES ADMITS that he has one big handicap in throwing the javelin. "Just like any other sport, a good javelin thrower starts in junior high and stays with it steadily. I missed several years in high school and I don't know how much I'll improve. A good javelin thrower like Ed Red of Rice starts in the ninth grade. . . he's won the SWC title the last three years in a row and has thrown 260 feet."

Donnie described the technique of javelin throwing, unfamiliar to most Pampans. "It's mostly technique, just like the shot or any other field event, following a set pattern of rules. Most throwers use a 25 to 30 foot runway to build up speed, just like a polevaulter. I use about 27 feet myself. After you build your speed, you plant your feet in a certain crossover step before you reach a toe board similar to broadjumping. Then you come forward and throw the javelin just like a spear."

Texas high schools and some other states as well outlaw the javelin as too dangerous in a limited space. Is it? "Yes, it can be dangerous if people are careless. You have to watch out in practice, fellows are walking or running all over the field carelessly. . . you have to be like a driver at a busy intersection watching out for pedestrians. However, there isn't any danger in meets, they are well supervised."

AYRES will be a welcome addition to the Pampa Track Club, which has never had a javelin thrower, and although at Texas Tech, will keep working out and will try to compete in the near-by meets, especially the one at Lubbock June 27.

Donnie is majoring in Finance and plans to be either a banker, stockbroker or insurance man upon graduation. "Texas A&M is a good school and you get a good education and a good degree. Even I ought to learn something."

Borger Tops Colts 4-2 On Disputed Decisions

BORGER — A hotly-disputed play at the plate, an interference call, a two-out error and a wild pitch gave the Borger Braves a 4-2 victory over the Pampa Colts in the opening game of their Tri-State League season here last night.

A tight pitching duel between Billy Knapp and Mike Clark was broken up when the Braves scored two unearned runs in the bottom of the seventh inning. Adding fuel to the flames was a run taken away from Pampa in the second inning after it had apparently scored.

Clark, in his first outing in over a year, went seven innings and struck out 11 while walking six. Big Jerry Glover hurled the final inning and struck out the side. Knapp also allowed five hits while striking out 16, but was kept in hot water throughout the game by nine bases on balls.

The disputed play occurred when Mike Stewart walked in the second, moved around, and trotted home easily after Clark's single. The Borger catcher put the tag on him after he had scored, and the umpire ruled that he had failed to touch home plate and called him out.

Borger then got a run in their half of the inning when Bobby Forrest walked, went to second on a balk and scored with two out on Knapp's double to deep left center.

Pampa tied the score in the fourth as Stewart singled, moved up on Merle Terrell's sacrifice bunt, and came home as Wallace Matthew drilled a double off the third base bag.

Borger went ahead in the fifth on another weird play. Dick Wackerman walked and went to third on Larry Gregory's throwing error. Gregory then caught him off third with a throw to his brother, Keith. Wackerman came home and Keith threw to Clark, backing up the plate. Wackerman was tagged out by Clark, but the umpire called interference on the part of Larry G., ruling that he was standing in the baseline without the ball, making the run good.

The Colts again came back to tie the score in the top of the seventh as Jerry Layne walked and came all the way home when Vernon Welch threw away Keith Gregory's bunt.

With two out in the home half, Benny Hill walked, and scored on a throwing error by Keith G. Knapp, p.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

Kist shut out Fannon, 14 - 0, behind Steve Williams' one-hitter and the Bankers pulled out an 8-5 win over the Lions in last night's Babe Ruth League action.

Williams struck out five and walked five in the six - inning game. Larry Turcotte was the loser. Summers led the hitting with two-for-two.

Jim Cornutt took the win for the Bank, despite 13 strikeouts by losing hurler Dickie Henley. The Cornutt brothers, Henley and Lonzo Gomez each had two hits in the game.

A rained-out game from last week will be played today in Optimist Park prior to the American Legion game between the Pampa Rebels and Woodward, Okla.

Charnley Seeks Lightweight Title

WEMBLEY, England (UPI)—Great Britain's Dave Charnley is looking forward today to a shot at Carlos Ortiz' lightweight championship but the man he just beat doesn't give him much of a chance.

"I don't think Charnley is a polished enough fighter to beat Ortiz," said Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., after losing a 10-round decision to the British boxer Tuesday night.

Lane, in fact, thought that he should have gotten the decision.

"Going into the ninth round I felt I had a five or six round edge," he said. "I thought I was well ahead at the finish although I realize that Charnley put on a good rally at the end."

"It was a disputed decision," he said, "but as long as I get another shot at him, I don't mind."

Charnley, 137½ to Lane's 137½, staged an eye-catching rally in the ninth round when he landed three rights to Lane's face and then connected with a looping right. He followed up with a series of lefts and rights to Lane's body.

Industrial Softball

A no-hitter by Marvin Kitchens featured the opening night of Industrial Softball League action as Weathered Humble beat the Pampa All-Stars, 5-3. Cabot roped over the Pampa Jaycees, 19-0 and Panhandle Packing edged Miami at Miami, 3-2.

Kitchens just missed a perfect game in the abbreviated five-inning nightcap at Lions Park as Jaycee batter Sam Barber walked in the fifth inning. Kitchens struck out 12 of the 16 batters to face him while his mates assaulted two Jaycee hurlers for 24 hits, including home runs by Bill Frazier, Bill Taylor and Joe Skinner.

In the opening game, Terry Stephens hit a bases - loaded double to spark a four-run sixth inning for the Weathered win. Bill Thomas broke up a tight pitching duel at Miami as he doubled in the winning run off Larry Rider to give Wayne McKinney a three-hit victory.

Action tomorrow night pits Miami against the All-Stars at Miami, and the Jaycees vs. the Packers and Cabot vs. Humble at Lions Park.

Blinn Fights To Semifinals

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (UPI)— Blinn College of Brenham, Tex., fought its way into the semifinals of the National Junior College baseball tournament with a 12-3 victory over Wingate N.C. Tuesday, then lost to host Mesa College 3-1 last night.

Mesa meets undefeated Miami Dade of Florida for the championship tonight.

In the first game, Mike Williams took the pitching honors for Blinn, going the full nine innings, scattering nine hits. Blinn exploded in the fourth inning for eight runs on three doubles, a home run, three errors, two walks and two hit batsmen. Pat Royspal and Jack Poskey turned in home runs for the Texas team.

Rick Thompson took the pitching loss for Blinn in the semifinal clash, going the route and striking out nine men while allowing eight hits. Mesa hurler Mack Gendreaux held the Texans to three hits.

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Rights to Protect Your Own

Vigilantes, as just about everybody knows, are an exclusively Western phenomenon formed either to flout the law or enforce it, depending upon the story line of that particular Zane Gray yarn. But, like sacebrush, cactus and how-do-ma'am, the vigilante is a fellow you associate with a boss, a wronged gal, a villain who advertises his station in life by sporting a black mustache, and a virtuous but dumb cowpoke who'd druther kiss his boss than a gal.

The vigilantes, to be sure, reached the ultimate of their fame in sophisticated San Francisco where sagebrush was hardly the usual landscaping; but surprisingly few persons outside California know the story of these, the most famous of all the vigilantes.

What brings all of this to mind is the story that a group of Orthodox Jews in Brooklyn have organized a vigilante group to protect themselves and their neighbors from rape, muggings and various other crimes which the New York police are unable, or unwilling, to curb.

Vigilantes in Brooklyn, in 1964? On the face of it, ridiculous. Even more unlikely are the vigilantes themselves: Hasidic, orthodox Jews, dressed in long black coats and dark, wide-brimmed hats, observing religious customs that have all but vanished. More typical vigilantes you will never find. Yet, on closer inspection, these people are exercising an individual right which we have, sometimes, unwisely confused with the prerogatives of the state. The individual is born with the right to defend himself—his life and his property. Because he has hired a police force, he has not abrogated the right to self-defense. He is not obligated to accept rape, pillage, arson and murder until the cops arrive.

The policeman is only a servant of the individual. He does not deprive the individual of the right to defend himself.

The Fog Lifts

That "compromise package" of changes in the "Civil Rights" bill our Senators are considering is described as comprising "clarifying amendments." We applaud this terminology as the first honest and forthright language to be applied to a bill so ponderous, so loose in its construction and so deliberately confusing that only our most erudite lawyers profess to understand it in toto.

Those "clarifying amendments"—and their underlying price—really do clarify the bill's objective: the seizure of power. Whittle away and water down the racial appeals as may be needed for votes. Let those states with civil rights legislation run their own show—until the Federals see fit to crack down. Let the kids of all colors attend the schools in their own districts, and forget this shuffling and dislocation of young people to achieve "racial balance."

U.S. Short On Defense Of Secrets

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—There is a lesson in the 11 years it took U.S. security men to discover the 40 Russian microphones hidden in the American embassy in Moscow.

This security failure could have been prevented, electronic engineers say. But we didn't have the proper detection equipment.

The value of billions of the $460 billion spent for national defense since 1952 could have been compromised for lack of $500,000 more a year for research and development on counterintelligence and security devices—including electronic and ultrasonic gadgets for detecting hidden microphones in U.S. embassies all over the world.

These funds could have been diverted from the overproduction of some types of quickly obsolescent weapons.

The Soviet Union has not made that mistake. It has pushed hard the past 11 years on developing intelligence sensing devices far more sophisticated and difficult to detect than those discovered in the Moscow embassy.

It is believed here, for example, that the Russians have developed a thin invisible coating which can be put on window panes. These windows and this coating would vibrate, picking up the sounds of voices in a room. With a radar stationed on a nearby building, the Russians could pick up the conversations.

The Russians also are said to have devices they could place inside water and steam pipes. Because these would be protected by the surrounding pipe they'd be almost impossible to detect.

Competent electronic engineers familiar with defense problems have suggested in private interviews a number of devices that could be used to detect or counter Russian microphones hidden in walls as were the 40 recently discovered. They include:

Sophisticated ultrasonic gadgets which would detect patterns in the structure of the walls in which the microphones are hidden. Engineers say they detect "discontinuities." That is, in this case, such instruments presumably could have discovered the 10-inch holes the Russians had inserted between the microphones and the wall surfaces. Modern ultrasonic devices can be made precise enough to distinguish between such tubelike holes and ordinary cracks and other irregularities in the wall structure.

For about $50 a room, engineers estimate, small vibrators could be installed in the walls of every office in an embassy. These small vibrators could send counter waves through the walls, garble whatever sounds hidden microphones picked up. These vibrators would not interfere with conversations. When turned on, there'd be only a slight hum in the room.

The State Department has started to rectify its problems. Two and a half months ago it installed able, energetic G. Martin Gentile, fresh from 11 years at the Central Intelligence Agency, as deputy assistant secretary of state for security.

It has been during his short tenure that the Moscow microphones were discovered by brute force—by tearing up the rooms.

A review of security and counterintelligence procedures has been started. The State Department probably will ask for a step-up in security research, development and production funds. Some $4 million has been spent all together in the past three years. The problem, government men say, is that "only a piddling amount" was spent during the previous decade to develop needed devices.

Illegal Entries into U.S. Greatly Increased Under Relaxed Immigration and Customs Procedures

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — It is almost as easy for a foreign agent or alien to enter the U.S. undetected these days as it is to travel from Washington to New York.

And they don't need private planes or speedy cabin cruisers to outfox U.S. authorities—as anti-Castro refugees are doing so regularly in their trips to and from Cuba.

Under the newly relaxed immigration and customs procedures, one can make an illegal entry from Canada or Mexico by boarding one of the hundreds of scheduled daily flights to U.S. cities.

Immigration authorities, whose hands are tightly tied by decisions at higher levels, privately admit that U.S. borders are now wide open to any Communist espionage agent, assassin, dope carrier, deported racketeer or undesirable who wants to make the trip.

They are warning their Justice Department superiors that the unpublicized changes made this year in immigration and customs procedures, based on the so-called "Nassau concept," have turned the leaky U.S. borders into funnels for illegal entries.

The security situation on the Canadian border is so alarming that one District Immigration Director sent a confidential report to his Washington superiors, warning:

"At Toronto, the new 'Nassau concept' has opened a funnel through which the personnel of Power's Dancing Elephants, Fink's Mules, and a battalion of Russian-trained Cuban infantry, each carrying a bag of heroin, could enter the USA without a chance of being stopped."

NO SECURITY — This highly critical immigration report, gathered dust in the Justice Department the past three months, flatly charges that the new system has made "U.S. border security a farce, and could serve either as a comic theme for a Verdi opera or a James Bond, Ian Fleming spy story, except it is not fiction."

It frankly states that "we do not care whether Customs, the airlines, Justice or State Department instigated this set-up, but whoever in the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service approved it certainly was stupid in the truest sense of the word. If anyone in government service thinks the enemy is not as astute as he is, he is wrong."

According to the Immigration Director's findings, the "Nassau concept" works as follows:

"The traveler arrives at the airport to depart for the U.S. He checks in with the airline and is referred to the dual inspection of U.S. border authorities.

"Customs and Immigration inspectors man movable desks in front of the baggage reception of the flight departing. At several periods during the day, two or three, or even four flights are departing at once. The traveling public storms the desk three to four deep. The scene is a duplicate of the confusion on a bargain day at Klein's, a famous Union Square dress store.

"When finally an officer of either service is available, the examination is conducted with no privacy. If the traveler has 'hold' baggage, it is placed on the conveyor belt after inspection. If he has hand baggage, a strip seal (which is the same color for every day) is placed on the luggage. If he is found admissible, a stamp is placed by the officer on the envelope containing the traveler's ticket.

The stamp used by Customs is undated, and these envelopes are not lifted—they could be used time and time again.

BOMBS AWAY — "After the traveler has passed inspection, he is free to roam through the vast complex of the airdrome, remove the Customs strip seal, load the handbag with what have-you—from a bomb to 25 pounds of heroin—you name it, and replace the strip seal. The traveler then can exchange his boarding pass with Fidel Castro, Khrushchev or Richard Burton, and himself disappear.

"Eventually, the public address system blares that 'all passengers for flights such-and-such who have passed inspection proceed to the entrance gates of the flights.' There the airline attendant picks up the ticket and one Customs officer (if available) looks at the strip seal and the stamp on the ticket envelope. If both are there, it is high-ho for America. This is security? This is a farce."

Since the new "Nassau concept" was put into effect, the spot checking by immigration officials already has turned up the following security violations:

"Eight visas have gone through without being lifted, burglar tools have been found in the coin check lockers at the Toronto airport; one of the most notorious hoods in Canada was observed at the airport for three days, then later was found to have boarded an aircraft to New York the night before the Liston-Clay fight. This hood is a gambler and bookmaker, and took smart money to lay on the fight with New York gamblers. No U.S. officer recalls inspecting this person, and he would be remembered as he was marked on the face from a broken bottle fight."

The report recommends that the new system be junked, stating:

"We recommend that this whole thing be abandoned and that we start from scratch and give the USA something other than token protection. Actually, this inspection is not even token; it is the biggest risk in U.S. border history."

"So many elements enter into this situation it would require the full range of the Dewey decimal system to index them. For instance, Canada has a visa waiver proposition in effect to encourage tourism. Practically anyone with the fare can enter Canada, and could glide right in through Toronto." This ominous new danger to U.S. security and the failure of U.S. authorities to do anything about it will be further detailed in later columns.

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER

A total of 170 proposals have been made to amend the Federal Constitution in order to put the Bible back into the public schools on a voluntary basis.

Outside of Congress the momentum for passage of an amendment of this nature is increasing sharply. It is not only a question of permitting the reading of the Bible in the schools, but it is also the matter of retaining God in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, chaplains in our Armed Forces, prayer in Congress, Bibles in our courts, the last verse of the Star Spangled Banner, the fourth stanza of "America" and the use of the Bible, and the reference to God in taking the oath of office.

All of these matters do not in any way involve any connection between the church and the state but they would prevent, at least in some degree, the separation of God from the state. Whenever we cut loose from God we will be lost as a nation. We cannot be neutral with reference to God for as the Declaration of Independence acknowledges He is the source of our freedom. Surely we want to be on God's side.

Church leaders who are fond of proclaiming that Russian Communists are beginning to tolerate religious practices should take good note of a recent attack by Leonid Ilyichev, head of the Party's ideological commission, stressing the absolute incompatibility of religion and communism, and that the late Josef Stalin was too soft on religion.

Ilyichev declared that "the number of people practicing religious rites continues to be relatively high." He then proceeded to advocate more severe repressive measures calling for more "educational work" and "atheistic work must be waged systematically." He demands that the practice of tolerating the church be reversed. He called for more atheistic work among children as the best guarantee that eventually no believers would be left.

Appropos of the trend toward omitting all reference to God from our schools and our public life, Will Herberg, writing recently in the National Review makes an important point:

Before any man can be considered a member of civil society, James Madison once declared, "He must be considered a subject of the Governor of the universe." It is to remind us and especially the rising generation, that we are, first and foremost, "subjects of the Governor of the universe," that we need religious symbols and ceremonies in public life.

Remember the "Quiz" shows on radio and TV? The word came into the English language because a Dublin theatrical manager named Daly once wagered that he could introduce a new word within 24 hours. He adroitly chalked the four letters "Q-U-I-Z" on every wall and accessible spot. Dubliners wondered what they meant. Daly won his bet and the word has remained in the language.

Today's quiz: We liked the one about the father of the teen-ager daughter, who insisted upon having an off-the-shoulder frock for a high school prom. The outstanding building is the library, which contains many books that cover Mexico's history back to the Mayan empires, which antedated Christ. Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "Are today's youth 'over-privileged'?"

Answer: We often hear it said that the youth of the land today are "over-privileged." That is given as the reason they are often in trouble, the reason crime and juvenile delinquency is increasing.

But instead of the youth of the land being "over-privileged," they are in fact under-privileged.

How do we figure this? They are under-privileged because the law requires them to go to school and be taught whatever the politician thinks necessary to teach them in order to keep their power. They thus come to believe that they get their rights from the state rather than from God. Thus they are in fact under-privileged.

And when we have a minimum wage law which makes it so that the youth cannot learn a trade without being paid more than they can produce while they are learning and thus are prevented from learning to be useful, they are under-privileged.

When the parents are not permitted to teach them at home so that they might come to believe in the principles of private property, but are obliged to support something that they think is harmful, the youth have a bad example set for them by their parents.

They are under-privileged because most of the parents have been so indoctrinated by tax-supported schools that they do not know that stealing is wrong. They cannot even define stealing without including the word "legal" or limiting it to what the government says is stealing. But people were stealing long before there was any government.

The Commandment, "Thou shalt not steal," can be defined in a mathematical way so that there are no exceptions and so that it applies 100 per cent to all people at all times.

Yes, the youth of the land, instead of being over-privileged, are under-privileged.

Walter Rogers Reports

Improvements Due At Lake McClellan

Hearings are expected to begin about June 8 on the U.S. sugar supply question — an issue that shapes up as one of the hottest remaining to be decided in this 18th Congress. The house agriculture committee will consider bills I and other members of the House have introduced to permit American sugar beet farmers and cane growers the right to serve a larger share of the American market. Americans are the world's best sugar consumers.

All that is required to permit our people to consume the product of thousands upon thousands of new American sugar beet and cane farmers, processors, and workers is this legislative action: Reallocation of a major portion of the 3 million tons of sugar formerly imported from Cuba. This quantity of sugar now is being received from "off-shore" — foreign — sugar producers. As I have predicted for many months, the fight will be a tough one. The off-shore interests seeking to preserve the status quo include shippers and refiners along the East Coast. They will muster powerful support, as they did in 1962 when Congress resolved the same question in their favor. But this year I see signs of growing strength for the position I advocate — one that would correct, to the benefit of our economic position, a very unfair situation.

Lake McClellan in southern Gray County is one of the most attractive recreation spots in the Panhandle. For several years I sought approval for new, needed construction work at the dam to preserve the recreational benefits provided by the lake and to protect property below the dam from occasional flash flooding in my capacity as chairman of the subcommittee on irrigation and reclamation of the House interior committee. I have long advocated that it is just as necessary to maintain existing water projects as to build new ones. I had felt that Lake McClellan was being neglected; recurrent floods proved it.

I am glad to say that the U.S. Forest Service, which has administered Lake McClellan since 1954, will open bids June 11 in Albuquerque to provide the needed work on the dam and spillway. The project, to be completed in 300 days after a contract is awarded, will include construction of a new, enlarged concrete spillway and extending the dam across the existing emergency spillway. Since 1959, the Forest Service has improved facilities at Lake McClellan by adding 49 "family units" (fireplace, table, and benches), two boat ramps, two miles of improved road, a rehabilitated concession building, among others. In the current fiscal year, the Forest Service began a project to add additional picnic tables and fireplaces, sanitary facilities, a boat trailer parking area, boat ramps, and another mile and a half of roadway — Based on periodic counts by the Forest Service, approximately 110,000 visits are made to the lake each year.

When projects planned or under way are completed, the goal of upgrading facilities at Lake McClellan will be attained.

Stan Musial, the former St. Louis Cardinals star who is now consultant to the President on physical fitness, has sent me copies of "Vim" and "Vigor," the two new booklets prepared by the President's Council on Physical Fitness to promote physical well-being among our young people. "Vigor" presents a complete exercise plan for boys of ages 12-18. "Vim" presents a complete exercise for girls of that age bracket. Musial said that more than 34,000 copies of the two booklets were sold in the first week after publication — and they may rival in popularity the 1963 booklet "Adult Physical Fitness" as best sellers. Not available for free distribution, the booklets may be ordered by writing the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office. "Vim" and "Vigor" are each 25 cents a copy. "Adult Physical Fitness" costs 35 cents. Prices are lower for quantity orders.

TEXAS BEES
SPILSBY, England (UPI)—Sir John Maitland, a Conservative party M.P., Monday became the owner of 27,000 Texas bees which were installed in hives in the garden of his home, Harrington Hall. "I have always wanted to keep bees," said Sir John. "I am told the Texan bee is a rather friendly sort. I know they're Texans—they buzz with a drawl."

US, Russia Agree On Romania Trade

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States, in a move to ease cold war tensions, has signed a historic consular agreement with the Soviet Union and agreed to increase its trade with Communist Romania.

The consular agreement, signed Monday in Moscow, was the first bilateral treaty the United States and Russia have signed in 30 years. Both sides hailed it as another step toward improving relations. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko said it "confirms the trend toward detente" begun by the nuclear test ban treaty of last year. The U.S.-Soviet talks had been going on since last Sept. 27.

The treaty must be ratified by the U.S. Senate. It assures prompt access by U.S. consular officials to any American citizen arrested or detained in the Soviet Union, and reciprocal rights for Russians in the United States.

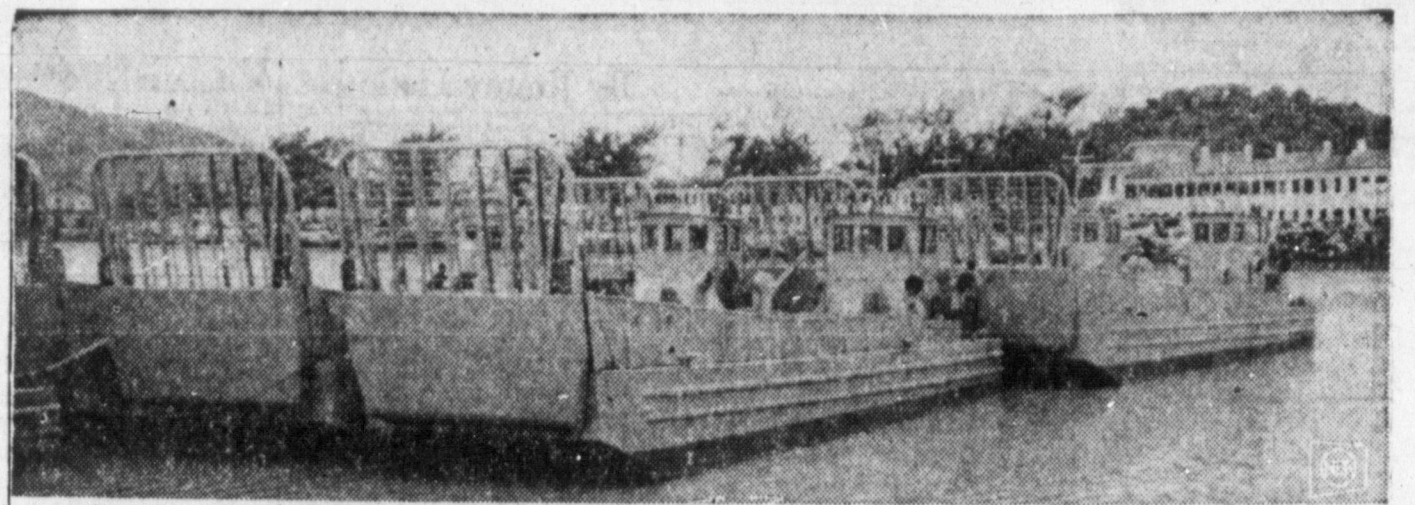

In addition, it leads toward establishment of Russian consulates in American cities—either New York, Chicago or San Francisco — and an American consulate in Russia, possibly in Leningrad or Odessa.

The agreement with Romania, which also calls for both countries to raise the status of legations in each other's capital to full embassy rank, carried forward President Johnson's pledge to "build bridges across the gulf" that divides eastern Europe from the West.

In addition to an increase in trade, the Romanians also expressed interest in purchasing a nuclear power plant. U.S. officials told them this would be explored, adding that the United States only sells peaceful nuclear equipment to nations which accept inspection from the International Atomic Energy Agency.

State Department sources said the agreement would permit exports to Romania of goods listed as strategic under the machinery Western nations have established to prevent sales of critical materials to the Communist bloc.

NOT FOR TOURISTS—Built in Macao, docked in Hong Kong, landing craft resembling those used by United States forces in World War II are destined for Indonesia. Indonesia has threatened the Malaysian Federation over border disputes. Six of the seven boats are shown, the second batch built in Macao.
