U.S. Sets July Fourth Holiday Death Record

By United Press International
The nation's motorists wrote a new record in death during the Fourth of July weekend, despite countless hours of police work and warnings from the National Safety Council.

Traffic 492
Drownings 141
Planes 6
Miscellaneous 85
Total 724
California had 76 fatalities, a record for any holiday in the state. Michigan counted 38 dead, also a record. Texas had 37, New York 28 and Illinois 26. There were 21 deaths in Ohio and 18 in Pennsylvania.

The worst single highway accident of the holiday weekend happened near Bowling Green, Mo., early Sunday when eight persons—seven of them in one car—were killed in a head-on collision.

The safety council had estimated that between 450 and 550 persons would be killed in traffic accidents during the holiday weekend.

Education Board To Investigate College Request

The State Board of Education in Austin, today agreed to name a committee to investigate an application for a new public junior college at Pampa.

A delegation of 14 men from Gray County presented petitions calling for creation of a junior college district. Board Chairman W. W. Jackson said the board would not consider merits of the application until the committee turns in its study. The committee was not immediately named.

A Gray County steering committee headed by E. L. Henderson, son of Pampa, proposed the district include all of Gray County.

The group proposed a bond issue to finance a $1.4 million junior college plant and estimated operating costs at $175,000 the first year, 1966-67, with operating costs increasing to $445,000 by 1971-72.

The steering committee study indicated the school would have an enrollment of 150 in 1966-67, and 600 1972-73.

"We're ready, willing and able to support a junior college in Pampa," Henderson told the board. "We invite you to come to Gray County and hold hearings."

Representing Gray County before the board this morning were H. R. Thompson, mayor of Pampa; John Haynes, mayor of McLean; E. L. Henderson, Wayland Merriman, Jim Sanders, D. W. Bond, Mack Hiatt, Travis Lively, Sr., Gene Hollars, C. C. Colvert, Sydney Woodledge, H. H. McCall, and E. O. Wedgeworth.

If the board approves the junior college district, the way will be paved for a county wide election to determine if the voters want a college here. If approval is given in this election, a bond election will then be called to construct the college.

Mexico Hit By Earthquake

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—An early morning earthquake shook at least 10 states in central and western Mexico today, sent thousands scurrying from hotels and residences in night clothes, cracked buildings and disrupted communications.

Despite the intensity of the quake, no casualties were reported.

Cornices and facing slabs from midtown buildings crunched to the streets, and street lights, traffic lights and telephones went out of service for a short time.

A jolting tremor struck at 1:23 a.m. (3:23 a.m., EDT), the third of a series. Lighter quakes took place at 1:11 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. Sunday.

Several hundred persons at work tabulating national election returns in the midtown Interior Ministry fled to Bucarell Street following the early morning tremor. Most of them went back to work 10 minutes later.

Quake reports came from the states of Guanajuato, San Luis Potosi, Puebla, Jalisco, Queretaro, Hidalgo, Guerrero, Tlaxcala, Michoacan, and Mexico (state), in addition to the federal district in which Mexico City is located.

68 Texans Killed During July 4 Holiday Weekend

By United Press International
Accidents that took lives in wholesale lots were missing from the Texas violent death toll over the long Fourth of July weekend, but a steady stream of traffic mishaps and drownings sent the total soaring to tragic proportions.

A United Press International survey for the period from 6 p.m. Thursday until midnight Sunday showed at least 68 violent deaths. Traffic accidents claimed 37 lives, 15 persons drowned and 16 died in other incidents.

Among the persons on the crowded highways were the 7,000 members of the 49th Armored Division, returning home from their annual two-week summer training period at North Fort Hood. However with police escorts for their carefully paced convoys, there were no casualties among the home-bound servicemen.

One of the last fatal traffic accidents during the holiday period was near Marshall late Sunday, killing 74-year-old James Brewster, a Longview, Tex. Negro. He was in one of two cars that crashed head-on on U.S. 80.

Weldon C. Bosley, 24, of Houston died Sunday when his light airplane crashed near Navasota. Two persons, a 4-year-old Dallas boy, David Eugene Stanley, and a 16-year-old Houston boy, Thomas Earl Heckman, drowned in separate accidents.

James Isaac Mason, 33, of Baytown was shot to death Sunday night on a Baytown street by a man with whom he had been feuding for months.

Hughie Derwood Foster, 42, was killed Sunday at Point Comfort when the road maintainer he was driving rolled over him on a slope.

Viet Nam Will Be Campaign Issue, Dirksen Declares

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who will make the nominating speech for Sen. Barry Goldwater; says that administration policy in South Viet Nam will be a big campaign issue.

Dirksen, describing himself as Goldwater's "political godfather," explained why he was supporting the Arizona senator for the GOP presidential nomination in separate radio and television interviews Sunday.

Attacking what he called administration "bewilderment and confusion" over South Viet Nam, Dirksen said Johnson's policy in Southeast Asia would be an unavoidable issue in the election campaign.

"We just looked at the casualty list to see how many over-all casualties there were and how many of our youngsters have been killed in action and you don't kiss that off very lightly," Dirksen said.

The Illinois Republican accused the administration of jumping from plan to plan in helping South Viet Nam battle Communist rebel forces.

"Somewhere you're going to have to make a stand," he said. "You can't very well fight around in circles."

Dirksen urged that the United States adopt a positive objective in South Viet Nam, and (See DIRKSEN, Page 3)

RELAXES BEFORE UPCOMING BATTLE—Sen. Barry Goldwater, as grand marshal of Prescott, Arizona Independence Day parade, waves to a crowd estimated at 20,000. Goldwater spent the weekend relaxing with his family before returning to Washington from which he will leave for the San Francisco battleground.

Refreshed Goldwater Resumes Political Bid

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, refreshed by a weekend in Arizona in which he played cowboy more than politics, left for Washington today for the final week of pre-convention efforts in behalf of his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater—appearing in a gregarious mood—bought members of the press drinks while sipping a beer himself during his Prescott, Ariz., visit Saturday, but he withdrew to his home and privacy on a quiet Sunday.

Even his departure for Washington was obscured in semi-official secrecy.

Goldwater, appearing to enjoy his role as grand marshal during the Frontier Day celebration at Prescott on Saturday, did take a few moments to chat with newsmen about the forthcoming convention in San Francisco.

Among other things, Goldwater said he hoped former Sen. William F. Knowland, the man who headed his successful campaign in California against Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, would make a seconding speech at San Francisco. He also expressed the wish Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, would also second his nomination.

There was some indication a prominent woman, as yet not identified, would make yet another seconding speech.

Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., will place Goldwater's name in nomination.

The Arizona senator had flown to Phoenix Friday night, motoring the 100 miles to Prescott with his wife, Peggy, the following day.

Pampa Woman Accidentally Shot

Mrs. W. D. Price Sr., 1901 Evergreen, is listed in fair condition today at Highland General Hospital following an accidental shooting at her home about 4 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Price's left knee was shattered by a blast from a 410 gauge shotgun.

According to the police report, Mrs. Price, 57, was walking through the den of their home and accidentally bumped against the loaded gun, lying on a coffee table.

Mrs. Price was taken to the hospital by the Duenkel-Carmichael Ambulance service.

Racial Barriers Fall

Negroes and Whites Battle in Southern Cities Following Legalized Integration

By United Press International
Negroes and whites battled with bottles and clubs Sunday near Atlanta, Tex., where four persons were shot. Police used tear gas and night sticks Sunday night to break up a crowd of Negroes at Selma, Ala.

Violence also broke out at St. Augustine, Fla., when a band of whites armed with knives and chains attacked Negroes fishing off a bridge.

A tense situation developed at Athens, Tenn., after a crowd of about 125 whites surrounded a group of six Negro youths who were admitted to the previously all-white section of a theater. Police broke up the confrontation.

It was the first weekend after passage of the new civil rights law that saw racial barriers fall in three downtown Jackson, Miss., hotels where strict segregation has been maintained.

Mississippi was the last state in the Deep South in which this was accomplished.

The battle near Atlanta, Tex., hotel and restaurant integration was accomplished.

The battle near Atlanta, Tex., broke out when about 90 Negroes went swimming at a public beach near Lake Texarkana.

The Negroes were met by about 175 bottle and club-swinging whites when they started to leave.

A white youth was shot in the foot with a .22-caliber pistol and three Negroes received pellet wounds from a shotgun a witness said was fired twice by a

California Wife Leads Powder Puff Air Derby
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—The wife of a California surgeon held the lead today in the 18th annual Powder Puff Derby, largest women's aviation sporting contest in the world.

Mrs. Judy G. Wagner, Palos Verdes Estates, Calif., flying solo in a single engine Beechcraft K35 "played the winds" and landed in Albuquerque, N.M. Sunday night. The transcontinental air race ends here Wednesday.

The youngest pilot in the 56-plane race, Merle Chalow of Newfield, N.J., 19, was in second place Sunday night. Flying solo, she flew from Winslow, Ariz., to Fayetteville, Ark., a 612-mile trip at an average speed of 165 1/2 miles an hour.

Mrs. Phyllis Cantrell of Santa Rosa, Calif., also landed in Fayetteville Sunday night and was in third place. Mrs. Cantrell, mother of four children, is competing in her second derby.

Three planes completed the 2,753 mile trip from Fresno, Calif., to the airfield at nearby Pomona on Sunday. First finishers are not necessarily winners because the planes are handicapped by computer according to engine power and other factors.

The first to land at the finish line was Mrs. Patti Owsley of Blythe, Calif.

Two planes dropped out of the race. One piloted by Mrs. Audrey Schute, Canoga Park, Calif., withdrew after the plane was damaged in an emergency landing near Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Mrs. Schute and her co-pilot, Mrs. Ellen Trimble, Sherman Oaks, Calif., received minor injuries in the landing and were hospitalized overnight for observation.

Hot Weather Due To Stick Around
Pampans sweltered through another hot day today with the five-day outlook predicting much of the same through Thursday and Friday.

The weather bureau sees little hope of any appreciable rainfall during the next few days. There could be some precipitation in the form of widely scattered thundershowers, the forecasters said, but even this is considered only a faint hope.

Temperatures in Pampa hit a high of 101 yesterday afternoon and were headed that way again this afternoon. The overnight low was 74 at an early hour this morning.

Today's forecast calls for continued fair and hot through Tuesday with the highs today and tomorrow in the upper 90s and tonight's low around 70.

Two Youths Held In Liquor Store Burglary Charge

Official charges were expected to be filed today against two Pampa youths for the Saturday night burglary of the Service Liquor Store, 328 E. Frederic.

Police officers accused the youths, 18 and 19-years of age, of taking $395.19 worth of whiskey from the store.

The burglary was reported to the police department by Marion Summers, manager of the store, early Sunday morning.

Officers found entry was gained through a rear window.

The youths allegedly hauled off six cases of whisky, one case of vodka, 18 pints of whiskey and one case of beer.

They were apprehended this morning by police officers. The 19-year old youth admitted the burglary in a signed statement.

According to Police Captain Denny Roan, the youths will probably be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Nat Lunsford on charges of burglary.

The board of equalization with Thomas Y. Pickett of Dallas as consultant, assesses the value of taxable property in the county.

Young Housewife Injured in Crash

Mrs. Dyer was driving a late model foreign car, headed south on Christy, when an auto driven by 44-year old William Fricke, 864 Foster, rammed into the auto's left side.

Fricke was given a police citation for failure to yield right of way.

Dear Abby... Viewpoints Differ On Babysitting Pay

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I think you are wrong to agree that a girl should baby-sit with her own brothers and sisters for nothing. Why should she pass up a chance to make herself $2 or $3 just to stay home and do the same thing for free? If parents can't afford to pay sitters, they don't have any business having large families. I think it is terrible the way some parents make slaves out of their children. As for what children "owe" their parents, I can't see where they owe them anything. Children don't ask to be born. You can use my letter if you want to, but please don't use my name.

DEAR ABBY: That greedy girl signed "UNPAID" should be ashamed of herself. I am not a girl. I am a 17-year-old boy, but I have been a sitter for my mother ever since I was 12 years old. I sat with three younger sisters and a baby brother six nights a week for four years while my mother worked. You see, Miss Abby, my father died and that was the only way Mom could manage. I wouldn't trade a bushelbasket full of dollars for the good-feeling it gives me to know that I was able to help my Mom when she had it so rough.

DEAR ABBY: We have a healthy, able-bodied, 17-year-old daughter. She baby-sits all over the neighborhood for 75 cents an hour, but when WE need a babysitter we have to hire one, because she is booked up with paid sitting jobs. She doesn't need the money because we give her a very generous allowance, but she is money mad. We think it is good experience for young people to earn money, but wouldn't you think a high school senior would realize that money is not as important as volunteering an occasional helping hand at home?

DEAR ABBY: Please tell UNPAID that the best things in life are free. When I was in my teens (back in the 1930's) I sat for many an hour and refused to accept pay when it was offered.

at home with my own brothers and sisters. I would never dream of accepting money from my parents for that had it been offered to me, which it assuredly was not! I used to volunteer to care for the neighbors' children because I wanted to do something for someone. I learned how to keep youngsters busy, entertained, and how to get them to behave without punishing them or even threatening to. The experience I received in handling children more than compensated for the time I devoted to it. It is almost impossible to give something without getting at least as much in return. Sign me—

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know how a child can justify accepting money from his parents for "sitting" with siblings. I happen to be the eldest daughter in a family where there were 14 children. I didn't just "sit" with the younger ones, either. I bathed them, dressed them, fed them, and did the diapers. If I had been paid for all the hours I "sat," I would be sitting pretty.

Civil Rights Law Poses New Issue

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Goldwater and Scranton backers maneuvered today for a showdown battle inside the Republican Platform Committee over the GOP civil rights plank.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., scuttled any hopes of a compromise plank offered by Goldwater spokesmen to head off a row in the 100-member platform committee. Scott is Scranton's convention manager.

Man Qualifies For City Jail

LAHONDA, Calif. (UPI)—The complaint seemed just like countless others Deputy Sheriff Michael Dow had investigated. The woman on the other end of the telephone wanted her husband arrested.

But as he listened to the complaint of Mrs. Bess Negri at her home early Sunday morning, Dow realized there was a difference. The husband had broken no law.

Mrs. Negri, 65, explained her husband, John, 66, had arrested home and begun acting "mean." She said she thought her husband should spend the night in jail.

Her husband even agreed with her and insisted that Dow lock him up for the night.

But Dow told Negri: "I can't take you to jail because you haven't broken any law."

Negri hesitated for only a moment before he walked across the room and slapped his wife in the face. Dow then obligingly took Negri to jail on a charge of assault and battery.

BECOMES LAW — The civil rights bill becomes law of the land as President Johnson signs it in the White House.

Acheson Stands By in Cyprus Aid

GENEVA (UPI) — Special presidential envoy Dean Acheson stood by today in case his help is sought in a United Nations diplomatic effort to resolve the Cyprus crisis.

U. N. mediator Sakari Tuomioja of Finland is conducting a new round of peace talks with representatives of Greece and Turkey, the NATO partners which are backing opposite sides in Cyprus' communal war.

Acheson, a former secretary of state, arrived Sunday on his trouble-shooting mission at the request of President Johnson.

A State Department statement said only that he will be "available on behalf of the United States government to provide any assistance that may be appropriate."

Tuomioja began the new discussions Sunday with a meeting with Cyprus' Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou. The Greek Cypriot official then flew to London to represent Cyprus' President Makarios at the Commonwealth conference opening Wednesday.

The U. N. mediator hoped to get the Greek and Turkish representatives together for bilateral talks, with himself acting as a bridge between the two sides.

The talks are aimed at averting a shooting clash between Greece and Turkey over the Cyprus question. The two countries have threatened armed intervention if the island's fighting gets out of hand.

Dollar Day Pulls Business Traffic

Pampa business districts, both downtown and suburban, were crowded with Dollar Day shoppers taking advantage of today's specials.

Police said the crowds in Pampa were unusually heavy for Monday, but attributed the heavy traffic to the special sales today and the fact that most stores were closed Saturday for the July 4th holiday.

Parking downtown was at a premium this forenoon and police said traffic seemed to be increasing in early afternoon both in the midtown and outlying shopping districts.

Key Club

national Jeanne Zavrel, Miss Teenage America, plans to make a talent show awards presentation.

Vice-President Del D. Borgsdorf, Redford High School, Detroit, Michigan, delivered the keynote address this morning session. Also on the program was John de Boisblanc, of Baton Rouge, Louisiana, president of Circle K International.

The big convention with headquarters at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, got under way Sunday night, with a speech by Governor Connally, followed by the presentation of the Key Club International theme and objectives for 1964-65. A theme and related objectives are developed each year to serve as a guideline for projects and activities of the International high school service organization through the coming school year.

This morning, the delegates gathered for a brunch highlighted by an address by Kiwanis President Charles A. Swain of Cape May, N. J. Tonight's session will feature a speech by Congressman Ed Foreman, and the presentation of three college scholarships.

Tuesday the conventioners will have a business session and educational meetings, with a sightseeing tour scheduled for Six Flags Over Texas during the afternoon. That evening finalists in the talent contest will compete for cash awards and "Ralph Edwards Talent Trophies."

Election of Key Club International officers will headline the Wednesday morning business session.

President Cohen will deliver his farewell address early Wednesday afternoon at the final session of the convention. He is a senior at Ewing Township High School, Trenton, N. J., and has an outstanding record of service and leadership, coupled with high scholarship. Following his address, the newly elected officers for the 1964-65 school year will be inducted.

The Pampa delegation will return Wednesday night.

Diaz Ordaz Sure To Win Mexico's Presidential Race

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, candidate of the government party, appeared certain today of a huge majority in winning election as Mexico's new president.

Official tabulation of returns from Sunday's heavy voting was expected later in the day. An estimated 10 million voters turned out.

Early unofficial estimates showed Diaz Ordaz polling about 88 per cent of the total votes.

Diaz Ordaz, a 52-year-old attorney and former interior minister, was the candidate of the majority government Party of Revolutionary Institutions (PRI) which has not lost a major election in 40 years.

Nomination by the PRI is considered tantamount to election.

The only other candidate on the ballot was Dr. Jose Gonzales Torres, a lawyer, running for the conservative National Action Party (Pan). He has been identified with Roman Catholic lay organizations.

The new president will take office Dec. 1 for a six-year term, succeeding President Adolfo Lopez Mateos. The chief executive is limited to one term.

Secretary Held On Knife Charge

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 27-year-old secretary thwarted an attempted rape Sunday by stabbing her attacker but she then was arrested for carrying a switch blade knife.

Ariene Del Fava told police she brought the knife with a three-inch blade for protection after the slaying of Kitty Genovese in a nearby section of Queens last March 13 while 38 onlookers made no move to help her.

Miss Del Fava supplied police with a description of her attacker, Harold Model, 20, a sailor, was picked up later and charged with felonious assault and attempted rape. He was hospitalized with stab wounds of the back and left side.

Police charged Miss Del Fava with violation of the Sullivan weapons law, and she was paroled for a hearing July 14.

"That's better than being killed," she told police.

The theft of a $35 car radio was among items being investigated today by Pampa police.

He said the auto was parked in the driveway of his home when the incident occurred.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Dirksen

nounce it to the nation and the world, "and then tool up for it and get busy."

The Senate leader said his decision to place Goldwater's name in nomination for the presidency at the GOP convention next week grew out of longtime admiration for the Arizonan.

"I've been sort of a political godfather to Barry Goldwater because I went to Phoenix, Ariz., 13 years ago when I was chairman of the Senatorial Campaign Committee to find a candidate," Dirksen said. "I found him. It took some doing to get him into it. I brought him into national political life and he is here."

Paris Strangler Loved Publicity

PARIS (UPI) — A publicity-loving little man who calls himself "The Strangler" says he killed an 11-year-old French boy because he pitied him.

Lucien Leger, 27, a sad-eyed male nurse, confessed to police Sunday that he smothered young Jean-Luc Taron and then confounded police for 40 days with morbid letters bragging of his crime.

The confession brought cries of "lynch him" from angry Parisians. But some investigators were known to doubt Leger's confession.

Many of the statements in the 58 letters said to have been written by Leger were false, he retracted a claim he had killed four other persons.

Jean-Luc's mother said, "it is the end of a nightmare."

Leger was arrested because of his thirst for publicity.

Thin, short and dark-haired, Leger worked at a Paris mental hospital where his wife is a patient. Police said he splattered blood on his car and then told them "The Strangler" had telephoned him to report he had stolen it.

The car incident was the last with which Leger said he deluged the police, the press and Jean-Luc's father. The letters included false clues to the Taron killing and the claim of four other murders.

Leger took the car to a police station Saturday. After all-night grilling, police said, Leger confessed writing the letters and killing the Taron boy. He said he met Jean-Luc May 26 just after the boy had run away from home because of a spat with his parents.

Leger said he followed the boy into the subway, offered to take him to a movie, and finally took him for a ride in his car. At the Verrieres Woods west of Paris, they stopped.

Reds Claim U.S. Pilots Captured

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — U. S. sources had no confirmation today of a claim by the Communist Pathet Lao faction that it has "captured U. S. pilots" flying over Laos.

The only pilot known to be in Pathet Lao hands is U. S. Navy Lt. Charles Klusmann of San Diego, Calif., whose unarmed RF8A photo-reconnaissance plane was shot down by Communist ground fire June 6. Klusmann waved off would-be helicopter rescuers moments before Communist troops were seen closing in on him.

A U. S. Navy F8A jet fighter was shot down the following day but the pilot, Cmdr. Doyle W. Lynn of Mesa, Calif., was rescued.

The Communist claim was broadcast by the Pathet Lao Radio and re-transmitted from China News Agency.

The broadcast also claimed that Pathet Lao anti-aircraft units had shot down or damaged more than 10 American jet fighters and propeller-driven T28 fighter-bombers in the past 30 days. The Laotian air force denied the claim.

Two Texans Held After Terrorizing Oklahoma Family

ALVA, Okla. (UPI) — Two Texans were held today by Oklahoma authorities after a Woods County family told a tale of undergoing a night of terror.

Grover Gene Wages, 20, of Kermit, was arrested in a cafe at nearby Carmen, Okla. for investigation of kidnaping, armed robbery and car theft. A male companion, Doris Atteberry, 21, of Lubbock, also was held.

Highway Patrol Sgt. Otis Haltom said the pair had been working the harvest in the Texas and Oklahoma panhandles. He said they were hitchhiking near Waynoka Saturday and Atteberry passed out.

Wages went to a nearby farmhouse, owned by Kermit Quinlin. While Wages was gone, patrol trooper Sam Williamson happened by and took Atteberry to jail at Alva.

The patrol said Wages then stole a pick-up truck from the farm home, drove it about four miles and burned out the motor near Greensburg Junction 14 miles south of Alva at about 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

Haltom said Wages walked to the farm home of Earl Reneau, Leger took some loose money, found a shotgun and waited for the family to come home.

The family arrived about 11 p.m. Haltom said Wages allowed Mrs. Reneau and the children to stay in the house but forced Reneau at gunpoint to drive him to Carmen, where he released him.

Mrs. Reneau, meanwhile, had notified officers. Sheriffs officers at Alva and Cherokee and reinforcements from the highway patrol blocked all roads out of Carmen.

A citizen tipped officers he had seen a strange man in a cafe. About a half-dozen officers entered the cafe and arrested Wages, who led them to where he had hidden the stolen shotgun.

Shamrock Man Fined On Liquor Charges

A Shamrock man was fined $100 and costs by Gray County Judge Bill Craig late Friday afternoon on a charge of transporting liquor in a wet area without a permit.

L. B. Sullivan entered a plea of guilty to the charge after being arrested with the liquor in his car driving down State Highway 273 Friday afternoon.

Column One

By KARL O'QUINN

July Fourth says the Phillies and the Orioles will square off in the World Series next October and the chances are pretty good that that is the way it will be.

Tradition has it that the two teams in first place after games on July 4 will go on to win the pennants. Often this does not happen but it does more often than not. Last year the Dodgers and the Yankees were in first at midseason.

I use a 575 percentage as the cutoff point as to whether a team is in contention or not. This leaves the Giants and Phillies in the National League and Baltimore, New York and Chicago in the American.

I feel the White Sox can be counted on right now. Their inability to beat the Yankees appears to be a chronic thing and it has been proven many times that a team has to beat its contenders to win.

Baltimore has recently done just that in sweeping a three-game series from the mighty Yankees. The Orioles have the pennant fever now and appear to be the best choice for a pennant in either league. If Steve Barber can win ten games, or close to it, the second half of the season the Birds should walk in.

The Yankees are definitely dangerous but last October's debacle with the Dodgers convinced even the blindly fanatical that these are not the Bombers of old and that maybe Old Case did have something to do with winning all those pennants after all. Ralph Houk and Yogi Berra have shot holes through the theory that the hot boy can manage the Yankees to victory.

The Phillies were two-thirds of the way through their sweep of the San Francisco series on the Fourth and took the lead on that day.

A race this tight doesn't leave much to choose from but the odds are in Philadelphia's favor.

The Giants have a way of folding in the stretch. They tried their best to give away the pennant two years ago but the Dodgers just wouldn't take it. The Phils won't be so obliging.

Philadelphia has been getting a superb effort from the whole team. Frisco has been riding on Willie Mays' hot streak.

A team beats a star almost always. I think tradition will hold up this year.

Jack Baldschun Puts Down S.F.

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Jack Baldschun wasn't good enough to make the National League All-Star team but to the Philadelphia Phillies he's money in the bank.

Back in 1950 a great relief pitcher named Jim Konstanty carried the Phillies to a pennant—and it may be that history is repeating itself with Baldschun playing the role of the new relief ace for a new generation of Whiz Kids.

Baldschun turned in two perfect innings of relief, striking out four of the six batters he faced, Sunday as the Phillies downed the San Francisco Giants 2-1 and took a one and a half game first-place lead at

Chance, Drysdale To Start

NEW YORK (UPI)—Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers today was named to be the starting pitcher for the favored National League and Dean Chance of the Los Angeles Angels to start for the American League in Tuesday's 35th All-Star Game at Shea Stadium.

Managers Walt Alton of the Nationals and Al Lopez of the Americans will make the choices official at a 10:30 a.m. press conference at which any other last-minute changes also will be announced.

A crowd of 50,000 is assured for the 1 p.m. EDT, game at Shea Stadium in which the Nationals hope to draw even for the first time in the series which began in 1933.

The Americans, who once led the series, 12 games to four, go into the 1964 game with only a 17-16 margin.

Both pitching choices appear to be dictated by the percentage of pitching a right-hander against a predominantly right-handed hitting rival and the fact that Drysdale and Chance are sufficiently rested for the task.

Six of the American League's eight starters are right-handed hitters and seven of the National League's eight starters are right-handers.

Other pitchers available to Alton are Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers, Juan Marichal of the Giants, Dick Ellsworth of the Cubs and Jim Bunning and Chris Short of the Phillies.

The other pitchers at Lopez's disposal are Juan Pizarro and Gary Peters of the White Sox, Johnny Wyatt of the Athletics, Dick Radatz of the Red Sox, Whitey Ford of the Yankees, Jack Kralick of the Indians and Camilo Pascual of the Twins.

Because of their power and pitching the Nationals have been made 13-10 favorites to square a series in which they once trailed, 12-4.

Chisox Pitchers Tossing Zeroes

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox are shooting only blanks these days, but the rest of the American League is duking for cover.

That's because the Pale Hose pitching staff is chalking up shutouts at an alarming rate with the result that the White Sox are once again zeroing in on the American League lead.

Juan Pizarro and Joe Horien fired blanks Sunday, zipping the Cleveland Indians 3-0 and 5-0 and lifting Chicago over the New York Yankees and into second place behind the Baltimore Orioles.

It was the third straight shutout for the Sox and their seventh victory in their last eight games, and Al Lopez' strong armed staff now has shut out Cleveland for 27 consecutive innings.

Wins Battle
Pizarro, now 11-4, won the battle of All-Star southpaws from the Indians' Jack Kralick in the first inning when Mike Hershberger and Pete Ward smacked solo home runs for the game's only scoring.

Pizarro allowed seven hits, three more than Kralick, and struck out five in handing the Cleveland lefty his fourth loss in 12 decisions.

Horien had things a little easier in the second game when Chicago piled up a five-run lead in the first three innings and shelved Lee Stange from the mound.

Horien scattered four safeties and also fanned five in notching his sixth victory against five defeats.

The Twin shutouts were the eighth and ninth of the year for the White Sox, who trail the Orioles by three games although holding a three percentage point edge over their tormentors—the Yankees.

The Athletics rebounded from seven consecutive defeats against Baltimore to pin the league-leaders 3-1, the Twins crushed the Yanks 9-2, the Tigers swept a doubleheader 7-6 and 3-0 from the Senators, and the Red Sox blasted the Angels 9-6.

The A's scored all their runs with two men out in the third inning on a double by Manny Jimenez and Rocky Colavito's single. Rookie southpaw John O'Donoghue checked the Orioles on one run for the first eight innings and former Oriole Wes Stock retired the side in the ninth to preserve O'Donoghue's sixth victory.

Harmon Killebrew crashed his 30th home run—high in the major leagues—and added three singles to Minnesota's mighty 19-hit attack as the Twins tagged Whitey Ford with his second loss of the season and first since opening day. Mudcat Grant went the distance against New York and evened his record at 5-5.

Blanks Nats
Rookie righthander Joe Sparma pitched his first complete game in blanking Washington in the nightcap and also drove in the first two Detroit runs with his first major league hit—a triple, after the Tigers had scored three times in the fifth inning of the opener with the aid of two Senators' errors to present-reliever Fred Gladding with his first win of the year.

Several weeks ago the WBA dropped Liston out of the rankings because of an automobile escapade in Denver, Colo. Clay, attending a meeting of Black Muslims at Chicago, declared: "Patterson's a nobody. I'm not anxious to fight one of those unknown fighters, Cassius did not announce he would not fight before 1965.

However, at Louisville, Ky. manager Bill Faversham said Clay might fight either Liston or Don Jones of New York in September or October, but we will not consent to a Clay-Patterson match because Patterson isn't next in line."

Stockholm, Sweden (UPI)—Floyd Patterson, elated at his most impressive victory in three years, today challenged champion Cassius Clay to a heavyweight title fight but Clay loudly declined because "Patterson's a nobody."

Clay's refusal in Chicago was loud enough to echo clear across the Atlantic, but it did not lessen Floyd's pleasure. Patterson, the only man to win the heavyweight crown twice, was frankly delighted at his lopsided 12-round decision over blood-smeared and eye-bruised Eddie Machen before 40,000 roaring fans in Stockholm's Raasunda Soccer Stadium Sunday night.

Machen of Los Angeles, nearly 32, was bleeding freely from a cut under his left eye at the finish and the eye itself was nearly closed.

In addition he had taken two trips to the canvas in the 10th and 11th rounds after being knocked off balance by left hooks to the head. Referee Teddy J. Waltham of England mercifully called them "slips" since the usual mandatory eight-count was not in force.

Monroe, Roper Win Queen Polls

Ann Monroe won the voting for National League Babe Ruth Queen and Debby Roper the American League crown.

Debby represented Ideal and led voting all through the contest.

She had to put down a strong bid by Kist's Mary Beth Johnson, who received 33,346 votes to the 33,509 for the winner.

Ann, First National Bank's candidate, polled 14,474 pennies to runner-up Patty Meador's 10,539. Patty represented Enco.

The two Queens will be presented July 20 on the first day of the Babe Ruth tournament.

Texans In Running

NEW YORK (UPI)—Eight Texas athletes remained in contention today for berths on the U.S. Olympic track and field team and one of them has assured himself of a trip to the Tokyo games barring a major reversal.

University of Houston ex-student Olan Cassell was the only "sure bet" Texas survivor with his surprising victory in the 400 meters dash in 45.9 seconds Saturday in the Olympic trials at Randall's Island.

Biggest disappointment was the failure of Rice University's Fred Hansen to win the pole vault. Hansen, who three times in June cleared 17 feet or better, could do no better than 16-2 Saturday and wound up in fifth place.

That assured him of another try in the Olympic final tryouts in Los Angeles next month, however, since the first six finishers here earned that extra try.

Pampans Lead North to Victory

BORGER—Four players from Pampa and one from Borger led the North squad to a 21-6 victory over the South in the Tri-State League All-Star game Saturday night.

Koy Don Stephens, Kenny Herbert and Jerry Glover got six hits between them, scored six times and batted in ten runs.

Vernon Welch of Borger was three for five and scored four runs.

Mike Clark started for the North and was the most impressive pitcher in the game although he was not given the win because he did not pitch five full innings.

Since there was no prior announcement of the length of each pitcher's stay the scorer followed the rules applying to an ordinary game.

Clark also hit well. He was one for one, scored twice and batted in a run.

Mike Stewart played the entire game at catcher for the North. He went hitless in two at bats but drove in a run.

The South jumped out to a 6-1 lead in two innings, and then clinched the game with seven runs in the fourth.

Hebert, batting second in the fourth, tripled in Borger's Bell who hit the first run. Later in the frame Stephens hit a grand slam home run.

Glover tripled in the eighth to drive in another run.

Clark struck out five in four innings and gave up two walks, four hits and one run.

Knapp, his reliever, also pitched four innings and received credit for the win.

Collier was the loser.

Nicklaus Winner

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus flew over the Atlantic today to play in the British Open this week with the $24,000 first place prize in the $125,000 Whitemarsh Open in his pocket.

Nicklaus' final round 67, best of the day, shot him past defending champion Arnold Palmer who was the leader on the course for a time Sunday. Juan (Chi-Chi) Rodriguez, who tied for the lead opening day and led for the second and third days, folded in the final round over the 6,807-yard, par 72 Whitemarsh Country Club layout.

Rodriguez, Dorado Beach, P.R., led Dave Marr, New Rochelle, N.Y., by one stroke after each of the first three rounds. The jolly Puerto Rican had 66-68-69-76—279, nine under, along with Marr for a fourth-place tie.

Player, with a final round of 69, took second money of $16,000 and was followed by Palmer at 278, 10 under par. Palmer won last year with a 281 when the tournament was played in October.

The win was the burlly Ohioan's third of the year—Tony Lema with four wins leads the touring pros. The 24-year-old Nicklaus now has won 11 tournaments in two and one-half years as a professional. Earlier this year he won the Tournament of Champions and the Phoenix Open.

Champagne Tony Lema, who started the final round two strokes behind Rodriguez' 13-under par, shot a 72 to finish in a tie for fifth with Tommy Shaw, Portland, Ore., Billy Casper, Corona, Calif., and Canadian George Knudson.

Government Changes—Men Do Not

Governmental structures can be devised, re-formed, twisted, distorted and demolished. The structure a society may take derives from nature and from the character of man as he is.

This is, perhaps, the major problem to be confronted by social reformer. Most of them are hoping that somehow they can improve on nature. But the usual result of their effort is not a reformation of society but a reformation of the government structure that presumes to act on behalf of society.

Recently, a Japanese socialist came forward with this appropriate observation: "It is fine to change the structure of society, but if you do not change men, of what use is the new form?"

The socialist may well ask this question. For the facts are that society has changed very little within all the ages known to man. Governments have changed, but society has changed very little. And, if we may accept the word of the scholars in the field, man has changed not at all.

This is the obstacle over which socialist schemers have yet to hurdle. And this is the reason so few socialist schemes can be implemented unless brute force is used.

Characteristically, the socialist wants to change the nature of man. He wants man to abandon the idea that ownership is either good or necessary. If only the socialist could manage to convince a majority in any society that it could improve its lot if the ownership of property were abolished absolutely!

But men being what they are, conviction in such an impractical procedure is difficult. The socialist idealist begins by pretending to be above mere property and money. He is motivated only he tells us, by the desire to serve his fellows. But let the slightest success of a material nature come to him, and he becomes as interested in owning and protecting his property as any capitalist.

So the socialist struggles to reform society along lines he believes to be altruistic, noble and self-effacing. He fails at the outset. He ends by reforming the government to make room for his efforts. Government is changed but men changes not at all. And, in the end, the socialist despairs because the more he changes government, the more the social structure remains the same.

Finally, he comes to the conclusion that the socialist utopia he longs to implement will occur only when men change.

Humility

Only the great are truly humble. Only the mediocre find concealment a necessary tool.

No Ulterior Motive (?)

A great sociological advancement of this election year is the discovery by both political parties that women are important. President Johnson, who somehow had projected the image of a man who regarded the opposite sex primarily as dancing partners, is becoming increasingly convinced of their inherent right and ability to hold important governmental posts.

He is, accordingly, naming women right and left to high level jobs. The Republicans can take a hint. So GOP members of the House Ways and Means Committee are now outraged over the fact that our ladies, heaven bless them, are still paying wartime federal excise taxes on such essential feminine accoutrement as lipsticks, beauty creams, cosmetics, jewelry, purses and furs.

"It is difficult to understand," these congressional cavaliers remark acidly in shocked disbelief, "why an administration

CAPITOL EYE:

Negroes in Georgia Frozen Out

By BRUCE BLOSSAT WASHINGTON (NEA)—Years before the present broad surge of Republicanism in the Old South, the Republican party was a thing in being in Georgia—mostly in the booming capital of Atlanta. And Georgia Negroes enjoyed substantial participation in GOP affairs.

Suddenly, this spring, the outlook changed. The Negroes now are almost totally frozen out of Republican party posts. Whereas formerly they made up from 30 to 35 per cent of Georgia's Republican State Central Committee, their representation is down to a mere 2 or 3 per cent. In earlier years a fair sprinkling of Negroes might appear on the roster of delegates to the GOP national convention. This year only one Negro, an alternate delegate from the Atlanta area, is going to San Francisco.

Negroes sometimes turned up in such party posts as vice chairman or secretary. But in the summer of 1964, the lineup is all white.

The big change seems plainly identified with the coming to power in early May of Joe Tribble of Savannah, the new state GOP chairman.

A staunch pro-Goldwater man, Tribble was swept into command in a big strategy play that also will bring in a new national committeeman, Roscoe Pickett of Decatur.

In San Francisco next month, Pickett formally replaces Robert Snodgrass of Atlanta, a moderate, anti-Goldwaterite long linked with the Georgia Republican party.

When he took over, Tribble did not go so far as to read Negroes flatly out of party participation. What he said, in substance, was this:

Anyone who did not or would not work for Sen. Barry Goldwater for the presidency could not hold important office in the Georgia Republican party.

Since, in his judgment, Negroes could not thus qualify, they would not for the most part be named to party jobs.

A third of Atlanta's voting populace is Negro. In city elections they hold the balance of power. In some state and national elections they have tended to cast a higher proportion of their vote for Republicans than is common today in most major U. S. cities.

It appears to be Tribble's view, however, that if Goldwater is the 1964 GOP nominee, he will gain in white votes whatever he might lose in the Negro community as a result of the party freeze-out in Georgia—and Goldwater's Senate vote against the civil rights bill.

To Snodgrass and other moderates who had a reasonably effective Republican party going in Georgia at a time when states like Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana had no more than a clublike group of "post office Republicans," the turn of events in Georgia is seen as a grave step backward.

The moderates believe that no party which ignores the Negroes can hope to prosper steadily in Georgia. Atlanta's Negroes have recently been in the habit of sending 7 out of every 10 of their registered voters to the polls. They are unquestionably a force to be reckoned with.

Nor are the moderates accepting the 1964 triumph of Tribble and Pickett as enduring. Just as defeated Goldwaterites in such states as Minnesota are staying alive to fight another day, so are the older established elements of the GOP in Georgia.

The well-reported unrest among a handful of the national convention delegates committed morally to Goldwater at San Francisco reflects Georgia's aftermath of discontent. It is an unhappiness evidently destined to continue.

As a footnote to the Georgia story, the virtually total victory of Goldwater forces in Tennessee also had the effect of a near freeze-out of Negroes after long years of substantial party participation in that state.

Question Box

QUESTION: "There seems to be unlimited power in the hands of the nine men in the Supreme Court. Since our government is founded on a checks-and-balance system and the Supreme Court seems to be excluded from this, how does one go about correcting this situation?"—Mrs. G.M.

ANSWER: This is a question which has been of concern ever since the Constitution was adopted. In 1819, Thomas Jefferson wrote to Spencer Roane:

"The nation declared its will by dismissing functionaries of one principle, and electing those of another, in the two branches, executive and legislative. Over the judiciary department, the Constitution had deprived them of their control. That, therefore, has continued the reprobated system, and although new matter has been occasionally incorporated into the old, yet the leaven of the old mass seems to assimilate to itself the new, and after 20 years' confirmation of the federal system by the voice of the nation, declared through the medium of elections, we find the judiciary on every occasion, still driving us into consolidation."

Further on he said, "experience has already shown that the impeachment (the Constitution) has provided is not even a scarecrow." In 1820, in discussing the federal judiciary in a letter to William Charles Jarvis, he wrote, "their power (is) the more dangerous as they are in office for life, and not responsible, as the other functionaries are, to the elective control."

He seemed to believe the judges should be elected for specific terms.

There have been some suggestions that if Supreme Court justices are to continue being appointed, the appointments should be elective for a specific term of years. One suggestion is that appointments be for nine years, with a new appointment

Backstage Washington

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is taking extensive soundings on the advisability of holding a national conference on the newly-enacted far-reaching civil rights measure.

Purpose of such a White House meeting would be to "prepare the ground for the smooth and understanding enforcement and operation of the history-making law by mustering the interest and support of state and local authorities, the church, business, labor, civic organizations and responsible volunteer efforts."

Being consulted on this dramatic plan are governors and mayors, clergymen, prominent business and labor leaders, educators, and representatives of a wide variety of organizations.

With a few exceptions, those approached have favored the President's proposal.

Some have advised a series of presidential conferences rather than one big general gathering; that is, separate meetings of state and local officials, clergymen, business and labor, educators, etc.

This suggestion has won support among lieutenants of the President on several grounds: Separate meetings of particular groups would facilitate the consideration of and possible action on specific problems; they would have more widespread publicity and impact.

The fact that this is a major election year is very much on the mind of these inner administration officials.

He has discussed that with congressional leaders, particularly Senate Democratic Whip Hubert Humphrey, Minn., floor leader for the legislation in the protracted struggle in the upper chamber. Humphrey strongly favors a conference to "bring about application of civil rights."

"The enactment of this epochal civil rights bill," Humphrey told the President, "is a great step forward, but many problems still beset us and remain to be solved. Foremost among them is how this new law is implemented on the state, local and federal level, and how it is backed up by community action and community support."

"These difficult and complex problems will not be solved merely by the signing of this bill into law. What is essential is to establish a framework of law in which we can earnestly and fairly undertake to work out the many legal and other questions that are certain to arise. The law is the law, but the way it is put into effect will determine its success or failure."

TAKING OVER — President Johnson is taking a significant step in seeking to forgo greater control over the Democratic National Committee — where Kennedy elements and influence still abound.

Moving into key places in the committee are James Rowe, one-time Roosevelt brain-truster, 1960 campaign manager for Senator Hubert Humphrey, and a close adviser of Johnson, and Assistant Secretary of State Fred Dutton, who is giving up that job to devote full time to the President's campaign. An astute and forceful Californian, Dutton is particularly knowledgeable about Western politics and will concentrate on that area.

The high-powered and experienced team of Rowe and Dutton will give the President a hold over committee affairs he has not had up to now.

Present plans call for National Chairman John Bailey remaining, but as little more than a figurehead. That means no change for him as this was his role in the Kennedy administration.

Clifton Carter, Texas confidant of the President, will continue doing special jobs for him. But the organizing and managing of the fall campaign will largely be in the hands of Rowe and Dutton. They have both the President's confidence and

Country Editor speaking: "If taxes continue to increase, a fellow will have to work like a dog just to live like one."

knowhow in national campaigns and above all he knows they are loyal to him.

STILL FEUDING — Maryland's top Democratic politicians are still rowing although weeks have elapsed since the stormy May primary in which former U.S. Attorney Joseph Tydings Jr., with Kennedy backing, won the senatorial nomination over the bitter opposition of the regular party organization.

Tydings attempted to seize control of the state's delegation to the national convention — for the backstage purpose of boosting Attorney General Kennedy for vice president. In that aim, Tydings was forcefully slapped down by the regulars headed by Governor Millard Tawes. Tydings was given a place on the delegation, but that was all.

Shortly thereafter, the Kennedy Memorial Library exhibit, that is touring the country for fund-raising purposes, went on display in Baltimore. Tawes was on hand for the opening ceremonies. So was Senator "Ted" Kennedy, who had contributed to Tydings' campaign.

Tawes and young Kennedy went through the formality of shaking hands, but beyond that the latter drew the line.

When a news photographer asked Kennedy to pose with the Governor, he snapped, "I am not going to have my picture taken with you."

"I didn't make the request," retorted Tawes, turning on his heel and departing.

Political insiders say the outlook for the re-election of Senator J. Glenn Beall, R., is improving steadily.

POLITICALS — Two congressional leaders are under consideration for the key job of parliamentary at the Democratic convention in Atlantic City — Representative Wilbur Mills, Ark., chairman of the Ways & Means Committee and a whip-smart strategist, and Representative Richard Bolling, Mo., vigorous liberal and an astute tactician. Both have close White House ties. The Senate Democratic Campaign Committee has made two important decisions concerning contributions to candidates seeking Senate seats this year: Unlike previous years when some got more funds than others, all candidates will be treated alike; all Democratic senatorial candidates will be given $15,000 regardless of the size of their states. If funds are available, candidates needing extra help will get it on a pro rata basis.

Pierre Salinger, one-time White House press secretary who won the California Democratic senatorial nomination, has asked the campaign committee for $25,000 but was turned down. Salinger contended his state is the largest in the country and he needs extra money, but he was told all candidates would be treated alike. The campaign committee has a round $600,000 in its treasury, more than in a number of years.

TOP SERVICE — Shown is the home of Radcliff Bros. Electric Co., 519 S. Cuyler. The local firm specializes in fixing and servicing magnetos and engines. The firm repairs all makes and models of magnetos — from airplanes to lawnmowers.

Radcliff Bros. Electric Company Offers Guaranteed Service

"Guaranteed, reliable and trustworthy service is what anyone wants when a repair job has to be done," said Glenn Radcliff, who has been in business for 30 years in Pampa. "When it comes to fixing and servicing magnetos and engines we at Radcliff Bros. Electric Co., 519 S. Cuyler, guarantee all repair work.

The local firm stands behind anything they sell giving the buyer a guarantee that the item can be serviced at the Pampa store.

Radcliff Electric is authorized to sell and service all models of Briggs and Stratton, Wisconsin, Clinton, Lawson power products, Onan and Kohler air cooled engines.

In addition to selling, repairing and taking care of all magnetos and motor problems, Radcliff Bros. Electric has Roper pumps and Flomax centrifugal pumps for oil field work. They also sell and service American Bosch diesel injection pumps and Rosamaster diesel injection pumps.

"If you need a pump for oil or water or just about a n y purpose, we have it, or we can get it for you," says Glenn Radcliff.

Estimates reveal that every person in a household uses about 50 gallons of water daily.

Acme Mattress Built To Custom Standards

Acme Mattress and Spring Co., 817 W. Foster, can rebuild an old mattress to individual specifications and the local firm specializes in custom made mattresses.

"We can produce an oversized mattress or we can make twin mattresses from your old full sized mattress," Eugene Tollison, owner, said. "We offer a complete line of box springs and mattress covers that can be purchased in a large choice of colors."

Rebuilt mattresses from Acme sleep just like a new one.

The expert craftsmanship at Acme makes it hard to tell the difference between the looks and feel of the rebuilt product and a new mattress.

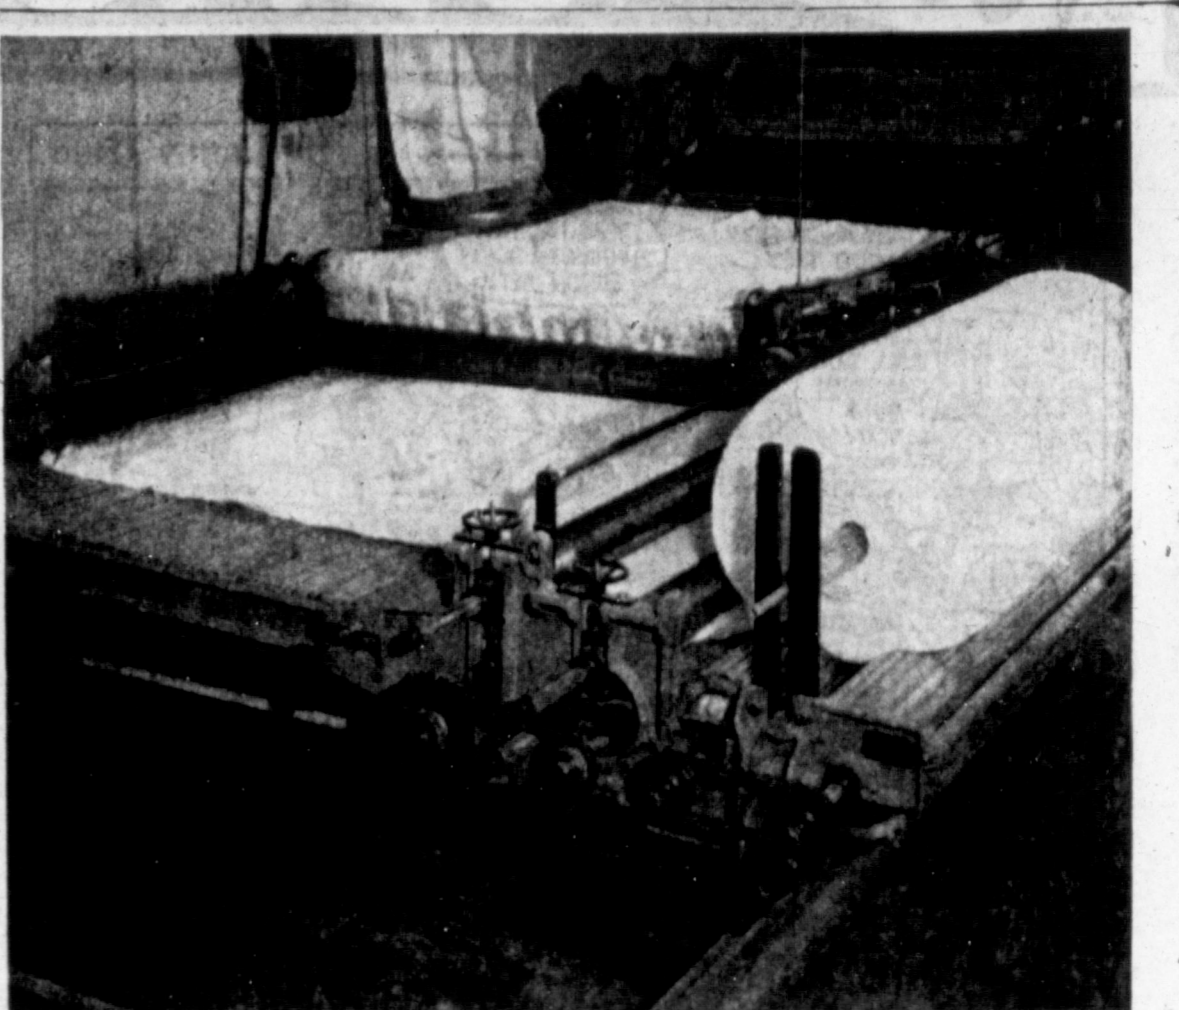

Most mattresses renovated at Acme retain the original cotton. There are two reasons for this procedure. The old cotton is usually of better quality than new cotton and because this old cotton is used the costs are naturally cut down.

Tollison said the old cotton is reuffed, completely recleaned and sterilized before being put into a rebuilt mattress.

Tollison invites anyone in the market for a mattress to visit the Acme Mattress and Spring Co., 817 W. Foster, and inspect the modern machinery used in mattress making. A telephone call will bring company personnel out to pick up an old mattress for rebuilding.

Acme offers one-day service when desired. An old mattress can be picked up in the morning, rebuilt, and be back on the owner's bed that same afternoon.

PAMPA Business News...

COMPLICATED MACHINERY — Pictured is the felting machine that is used in the construction of mattresses made at the Acme Mattress Co., 817 W. Foster. This machine lays the cotton in smoothly quilted layers for a softer and more durable mattress.

Two Youths Shot To Death Amid Firecracker Din

DETROIT (UPI)—Two young boys, apparently out for a little pre-July Fourth celebrating, were shot to death Friday night. The bodies of Francis (Pat) Brown, 17, and Sheldon Miller, 14, were found shortly after midnight sprawled head-to-head in a sandy area in a playground on the city's northwest side. Police said Miller had been shot seven times in the head and body and Brown had been hit by three bullets.

Board Okays Bank Building

PANHANDLE (Sp) — At a special meeting of the Board of the First National Bank, official acceptance of the newly constructed bank building at Third and Euclid was voted.

The bank officials inspected the bank and accepted it from the contractor, J. C. Page of Amarillo.

Work has been going on for a couple of weeks in moving the old records and new equipment into the new building. The final move will be made the week-end of July 4.

Business will be conducted as usual in the present building until the close of business on July 3, and will reopen for business on July 6 in the new building.

Special celebration is planned for July 11 by the bank in commemoration of the opening of the new modern banking facilities. At the formal open house from 2 to 5 p.m., there will be a drawing and prizes given at 4 p.m.

Invitations have been sent to all customers of the bank for this event.

Accepting the new bank building were Vern Wisdom, president; Mrs. David M. Warren, Sr., and Gene Phillips, vice-presidents; Frank Paul, chairman of the board; Walter Lill, Asberry A. Callaghan and David M. Warren, Jr., directors.

$45 Million Expansion Plan Set for Lutherans

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A $45 million program for church expansion was assured here Saturday by delegates to the Lutheran Church in America's (LCA) biennial convention.

The group's Board of American Missions was given unanimous approval to borrow up to $7 million for the program.

The Rev. Dr. Donald L. Houser of Chicago, the board's executive secretary, told the delegates the fund will help the board to enter 215 new fields, organize nearly 200 new congregations and erect 320 new church buildings in the next two years.

Dr. Houser said the money is needed to consolidate existing indebtedness, to purchase parsonages and to buy sites for churches and parsonages, and to further the board's programs in the inner city.

During the past two years, the board has spent $16 million to build 224 churches, to purchase 170 church sites, and to erect 159 parsonages. During this time there were 138 congregations organized and work begun in 140 new areas.

The board reported to the 700 delegates from across the nation that at the present time church property and guarantee loan funds total $60 million.

The board added that 145 congregations received aid in the form of salaries and special program grants.

Beirut, Lebanon (UPI)—Anti-government uprisings have broken out in northern Iraq, according to reports reaching here from anti-Iraqi newspapers in Syria.

The Syrian reports said disorders centered on the city of Mosul on Monday claimed the lives of a colonel and several of his soldiers. The reports said at least 154 members of the pro-Syrian Baathist party, which opposes Iraqi President Abdul Salam Aref's friendship with Egypt, were arrested.

Gauchos, or South American cowboys, played an important part in the development of Argentina and Uruguay.
