LBJ Begins California Talk Tour

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—President Johnson arrived today from Washington to begin a three-day California political tour with a rapid-fire, partially secret review of some of the nation's newest, fastest aircraft.

The President's jetliner departed Andrews Air Force Base at 7:30 a.m. EDT (4:30 a.m. PDT) and touched down five hours later at this major testing base for such craft as the X15, U2 and A11.

The President's sleek jet—Air Force One—put down at Edwards at 8:49 PDT (11:49 EDT).

Johnson, who was scheduled to speak tonight in San Francisco at the first of two major Democratic party fund-raising dinners on his tour, asked in advance to see specific exhibits both experimental and operational.

The flight center lineup included two of the three X15s; a jet transport giant, the Lockheed C141A Starlifter, and a jet-engined lunar landing research vehicle.

This phase of the visit was open to the press and public, but the rest of the hour-long stay involved a classified briefing.

The briefing presumably included information on the high-flying U2 reconnaissance spy plane and America's super secret A11 jet interceptor, capable of speeds of 2,000 miles an hour.

It was the first visit by a president of the United States to Edwards, a desert base located 110 miles north of Los Angeles, although Johnson visited here in 1961 when he was vice president.

A jet flight to San Francisco's International Airport follows. On arrival, about 10:50 a.m. PDT (1:50 p.m. EDT), Johnson planned to transfer to a helicopter for a 15-minute flight to Concord, for the ground-breaking ceremony for a new rapid transit system.

His schedule called for Johnson to return to the San Francisco airport by helicopter, and then take a 30-minute motor trip downtown to dedicate the city's new federal building. After that, he was expected to get an afternoon rest at the Fairmont Hotel, and arrive at 9 p.m. PDT (midnight EDT) for a Democratic fund-raising dinner.

House Okays $324 Billion Debt Limit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic leaders anticipated no trouble today in raising the national debt limit, but they were a little worried about Republicans lowering the boom on wartime excise taxes.

The House Thursday approved, 203 to 182, a bill to increase the federal debt limit by $9 billion to a record high of $324 billion so the government can pay its bills during the fiscal year starting July 1.

The previous day, the House sent the Senate a measure extending for one year $1.9 billion in "temporary" Korean War excise taxes. A GOP effort to give the ladies a break by trimming $517 million in excise levies on jewelry, furs, cosmetics and luggage was turned back, 207 to 185.

In the Senate, both bills were sent to the Finance Committee. There was little concern about the debt measure. A one-day hearing with Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon was scheduled for next Tuesday.

The committee is expected to approve the House bill in routine fashion—the 11th time in the last nine years that Congress has ritually voted to raise the debt limit.

Warren Commission Reviews Kennedy Assassination Report

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Warren Commission's staff began reviewing its report today to make sure it answers all possible questions about the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, completed its list of scheduled witnesses Thursday when Secret Service Chief James J. Rowley was questioned about measures taken to protect the President and how the system might be improved.

Sources said other witnesses would be called only if further questions arose during the review of the recommended report the staff is preparing for the commission.

Much of the report already has been written. While the commission was taking testimony from more than 200 witnesses, the staff of about a dozen attorneys was busy writing portions of the report.

The commission has set June 30 as a target date for submitting a report to President Johnson, which could be made public immediately. Some commission members were skeptical that final agreement on the precise wording could be reached by that date, however.

City Police Join Statewide Drive To Halt Thefts

Pampa police, in cooperation with the Texas Police Association, will observe next week as Burglary Prevention Week.

Mayor H. R. Thompson signed a proclamation late yesterday designating the week of June 21-27 to coincide with the state wide observance.

"This is not intended to be facetious, nor an indication we are only interested in preventing burglaries one week of the year," Chief Conner said. "Rather, various law enforcement agencies throughout the country have designated the week to emphasize the seriousness of the crime and demonstrate how the public can help by observing a few simple methods to keep burglars out of their homes during the vacation months ahead.

Few people realize burglaries account for 44 per cent of the total major crimes in the country, Conner stated. He added that they occur at a much greater frequency than any other crime — one every 35 seconds, day and night, throughout the year. During 1963, he said, there were an estimated 900,000 burglaries committed across the country.

Conner said, "alerting the public to this menace, and suggesting to them some of the simple precautions to take, can

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—A great, great, great granddaddy walleye who never left home finally got hooked.

The Wisconsin Conservation Department said fisherman Henry Bos of Ladysmith, Wis., caught the 22-year-old walleye in Sawyer County at the same spot where the fish was tagged in 1947.

Guardian Named For Unborn Child

FREEHOLD, N.J. (UPI)—A Superior Court judge today appointed Trenton lawyer George Warren as special guardian to the unborn child of a Jehovah's Witness who is under court orders to submit to transfusions if necessary to save the life of the child.

Judge Leon Leonard of the chancery division of Superior Court thus placed in the hands of Warren the responsibility for carrying out the mandate of the state Supreme Court in the case of Mrs. Williamina Anderson, 29, of Asbury Park.

The judge also ordered Mrs. Anderson or members of her family to advise Warren "immediately" of their whereabouts

Amarillo Women Held in Pampa Robbery Probe

Pampa police held two Amarillo women today for investigation of armed robbery following an incident reported to police at 12:10 a.m. today.

Luis Arevalo of Amarillo walked into the police station this morning and said he had been robbed at gun point. Arevalo, who works for the Santa Fe Railroad Co. and is temporarily living in Pampa, said he was walking in the 100-block of Atchison Street about 12:10 a.m. when two women pulled up beside him in a car. He said one of them pointed a gun out the window and said, "get in."

Arevalo said they drove him to the 600-block of N. Frost St. where they robbed him of his billfold containing $13 in cash. He told police when he got out of the car the women drove away. Arevalo walked to the police station where he furnished officers with a description of the auto.

The women were arrested a few minutes later on S. Gray (See ROBBERY, Page 3)

In New York Wave of Terror

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police scoured the city today for the tall and sunken-cheeked killer of a Manhattan lawyer while the dead man's neighbors and their councilman moved to obtain increased protection against a "wave of terror" in the city.

Police suspected a drug addict who might murder again. They circulated a teletype alarm and a sketch. Leonard Simpson, 63, the attorney, was found shot to death Wednesday night in the self-service elevator of the Upper West Side apartment house in which he and his wife, Selma, lived for 20 years.

Police said $50 to $75 in an "emergency wallet" was missing from the body. An autopsy showed Simpson died from a single small-caliber bullet through the heart. It was Mrs. Simpson who found her dying husband in the

Goldwater Slaps Civil Rights Bill

Passage Slated In Senate Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate struggled through a shower of final oratory toward overwhelming passage late today of the strongest civil rights bill since the Reconstruction Era.

The bill would end discrimination in voting, schools, employment, unions, public places, private enterprises offering accommodation to the public and in the dispensing of federal funds.

The vote was expected about 4 or 5 p.m. EDT after one last-ditch motion to send the bill to a Senate committee. Senate leaders were confident they could beat the motion handily.

Democratic Whip Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn., said that as many as 77 or 78 senators would vote for the bill. Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., joined in forecasting top-heavy approval.

Dirksen said as few as five of the Senate's 33 Republicans might wind up opposing the bill, but one of these will be Sen. Barry Goldwater, front-runner for the GOP presidential nomination.

Goldwater announced Thursday he would vote against the bill because of constitutional objections to its provisions on fair employment and guarantees of equal access to private establishments offering food, lodging and entertainment to the public.

Senate passage today will come exactly one year after the late President John F. Kennedy asked Congress for the bill's swift approval "above all, because it is right."

The measure would give the federal government vast powers, unequalled since Reconstruction, to erase discrimination in schools, voting, employment, public accommodations and use of federal funds.

A turnout of all 100 senators for today's historic vote was in prospect. Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., ill and partially paralyzed after two brain operations, was expected to be present, just as he was for last week's 71-29 vote to limit debate.

Last-minute oratory was the program for Senate leaders. Humphrey said his information indicated that there would be at least four more hours of speech making.

King specifically pointed out as targets Montgomery, Birmingham, Tuscaloosa, Gadsden and Selma, Ala., Albany, Ga., and St. Augustine, where demonstrations are being held now.

James Farmer, chief of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and a more militant leader than King, said the cause of the Negro movement would remain unchanged. He said CORE would increase the pressure for implementation and enforcement of the bill's provisions.

"There will be no breathing spell on demonstrations," Farmer said in New York. "We breathe easiest when the pressure is on."

He promised immediate tests, with the public accommodations section of the new law as a weapon. James Foreman, the No. 2 man of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) said passage of the bill would not change plans for a mass assault on Mississippi.

Decision Thrusts Issue Into Presidential Race

By WILLIAM THEIS
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, the man most likely to lead the party of Lincoln into political battle this fall, has thrust the civil rights issue into the 1964 presidential campaign.

Many Republicans viewed his announced intention to vote against the Senate's civil rights bill as a move which might:

—Split the Republican party at a time when it needs all the unity it can command to take on President Johnson, the odds-on favorite. Goldwater's stand raised a problem for his party on framing its civil rights plank, as well as on the candidacy itself.

—Give Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton the wedge he and his supporters have hoped they would find to crack Goldwater's massive front of delegate strength.

—Shatter the veneer of bipartisanship surrounding the civil rights battle in Congress, a protective covering which leaders on both sides had hoped would keep the racial issue largely out of the campaign.

"There is no political profit in this civil rights bill for either party," Democratic and Republican spokesmen said early in the Senate debate.

Goldwater's decision to vote against the bill brought an immediate appeal from Scranton that he "repudiate" his opposition on the ground that it is against "the traditional Republican philosophy of equal opportunity for all."

House and Senate Republican leaders joined to help frame and pass the bill. Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., in particular put his prestige on the line to marshal all but a handful of fellow Republicans behind the measure.

Plugging Bond Begins Aug. 1 On Texas Wells

What was described as the most important action affecting the oil and gas industry in recent years was announced today by Jack Miller, district engineer of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Miller said that effective August 1 the commission will require that a "plugging bond" be made on every oil and gas well in the state.

The bond will amount to $5,000 for each well up to two wells. However, he explained that a $10,000 bond will cover three or more wells.

Miller said that "plugging" a well means cessation of production.

When an operator notifies the commission of an intention to shut down a well, Miller stated, a representative of the railroad commission will inspect the well. If properly plugged, the operator will be released from the bond.

Miller said the plugging bond was initiated to prevent well blowouts, maintain isolation between zones, and prevent pollution of fresh water.

The order, said Miller, covers both producing and non-producing wells.

New Quake Hits Northern Japan

NIIGATA, Japan (UPI)—A strong new earthquake jolted Niigata and parts of northern Japan today, but added no further serious damage to that caused by Tuesday's quake.

The Sendai weather bureau reported that the latest quake registered there on a scale of five in Niigata and four on the same scale in Sakata in Yamagata prefecture, north of Niigata. Tuesday's quake registered five on the same scale here.

Niigata police officials immediately contacted all precinct stations by wireless following the latest shock at 7:05 p.m. (6:05 a.m. EDT). All reported back that no noticeable damage had been done.

"We've had shocks so often since (the first quake on Tuesday) that we've become used to it," Police Sgt. Masataka said.

Goldwater Bandwagon Rolls On and Picks up More Speed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's presidential bandwagon seemed likely to take on 14 more passengers today when Montana Republicans meet to select delegates to the GOP National Convention.

With the convention less than four weeks away the Arizona senator had enough delegate votes—on paper, at least—to win the nomination on the first ballot. But votes promised today have a way of materializing tomorrow.

Underdog Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania probed for possible defections in the Goldwater total. The front-running Arizona strategy was to try to increase what already may be an insurmountable lead.

A United Press International tabulation of GOP convention delegates presently committed, pledged or currently planning to vote for Goldwater showed him with 656. Scranton has 128. Needed for nomination: 655.

Goldwater met secretly Thursday with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower for about 45 minutes at Gettysburg, presumably to discuss the civil rights bill and the presidential picture.

Goldwater then flew back to Washington to announce publicly that he would "reluctantly" vote against the rights measure.

In the delegate contest Thursday: The District of Columbia delegation went through a reshuffling and emerged with a count that showed 5 votes for Scranton, 2 for Goldwater and 2 uncommitted. It meant a loss of 2 for the Arizona senator

2 Absentee Votes Received So Far In Bond Election

At the end of the first week of absentee balloting in the $950,000 tax bond election to be held June 30, only two ballots had been cast in the City Secretary's office.

Absentee voting will end next Friday at 5 p.m.

The bond issue calls for $950,000 in improvements to Pampa's sewage treatment plant and sewer system.

City Manager Harold Schmitzer said today tours of the plant will continue through next week. They will be conducted by private automobiles leaving City Hall at 10 a.m. daily.

British Minister Sees Russia as A Possible Ally

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home says that Russia might well ally itself with the West if Communist China should ever threaten nuclear war.

But Douglas-Home, speaking Wednesday during a House of Commons debate on foreign policy, also called for the seating of Red China in the United Nations.

"I hope we shall never come to the terrible day when the Chinese might be tempted to use nuclear weapons," he said. "Far better that China should be in the United Nations and that there should be increased contact between the West and China—and that they should be gradually weaned away, as we have weaned the Russians away, from a policy of force."

"In any threat by China which might start a nuclear war, it is worth remembering that the interests of the Soviet Union and the interests of the West would coincide and be as one," Douglas-Home said.

The prime minister said that the main difference between Peking and Moscow is that Red China "still believes that it can threaten with nuclear weapons—and the Russians know better."

Water Storage Shows Increase

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas water storage jumped to 63 per cent of total capacity last month, with two reservoirs full, the Texas Water Commission reported today.

Water stored in a selected group of major reservoirs increased by 39,000 acre-feet to 7,371,000.

The Texarkana Reservoir on the Sulphur River and Lake Houston on the San Jacinto River were 100 per cent full, June 1, and Cyprus Creek reservoirs were 99 per cent full.

In the Red River Basin, storage was up to 1,081,900 acre-feet, 47 per cent of potential. Other basins and their percentage levels were Trinity, 89, Sabine, 94, Brazos, 86, Colorado, 52, Medina Lake, 17, Lake Corpus Christi in the Nueces River basin, 54 and the Rio Grande Basin, 33.

CATFISH ATTACKS PEASANT
MOSCOW (UPI) — A 65-pound catfish attacked a peasant and was killed with a sickle, Radio Moscow claimed today.

The official radio said Uzbek peasant Makharib Madrasimov was cutting reeds in a lake near the central Asian town of Urgench when the sheatfish (Silurus Glanis), a species of catfish, bowled him over and seized one of his legs.

The brave peasant subdued him in a 15-minute battle, radio Moscow said.

LBJ. Thanks RFK For Offer, But Doesn't Accept

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Attorney Gen. Robert F. Kennedy offered recently to serve "in any capacity" in South Viet Nam—presumably including ambassador, it was learned today. President Johnson thanked him but declined to take him up on the offer.

Kennedy offered his services to Johnson in a letter apparently prompted by the possibility that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge might resign to become involved in the Republican presidential race.

It was learned that Johnson telephoned Kennedy as soon as he received the attorney general's letter and expressed his deep gratitude for the offer. But he told Kennedy that he was not prepared to accept the offer.

The President did not spell out reasons for rejecting Kennedy's offer during the telephone conversation.

However, it was learned that one of Johnson's reasons was that he wanted Kennedy to remain as attorney general during the continuing difficult period of conflict over racial matters.

Kennedy's offer to serve in Viet Nam was seen as an indication of his desire to continue to serve the administration. Kennedy has been withholding a decision on his political future pending a determination of what role Johnson might have for him after the election.

Kennedy has been mentioned variously as a possible running mate for Johnson, a senatorial candidate from New York and as a candidate for Massachusetts governor.

Intimates of Kennedy say he has not made up his mind yet about his future but they feel the most likely decision will be to run for senator from New York if Sen. Barry Goldwater wins the Republican presidential nomination.

REPUBLICANS ASK MORE PROTECTION IN THREAT AREAS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of prominent Republicans, accusing the Johnson administration of "diplomatic schizophrenia," urge that more troops and naval units be stationed near Communist-threatened areas in the Far East.

The GOP Critical Issues Council, in the latest of its position papers, called on the administration to face the reality of Communist China's threat to Asia and to begin immediately to build a bold, comprehensive strategy for victory against Red aggression.

The paper was written by a task force whose members included Clare Boothe Luce, a U.S. ambassador to Italy during the Eisenhower administration, and Walter S. Robertson, former assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

The council, headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of the former President, collaborates with the Republican National Committee but its views do not necessarily reflect official GOP policy.

HOOPER REPORTS U.S. CRIME RATE TAKES BIG JUMP
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Crime in the United States jumped 19 per cent during the first three months of this year, more than 2 1/2 times as much as the increase reported a year ago, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today.

The crime rate was up 7 per cent in the first three months of 1963, up 9 per cent for the first six months, up 10 per cent in the third quarter and up 10 per cent for all of last year.

Hoover said the January-March increase this year was heaviest in crimes against property, with auto theft up 22 per cent, grand larceny up 21 per cent, and robbery and burglary both up 18 per cent.

In crimes against persons, forcible rape was up 22 per cent, murder was up 17 per cent and aggravated assault rose 14 per cent during the first quarter.

Hoover said the increases were nationwide and occurred in all population groups.

Housewife Tells How She Finished Off Rattlesnake

TUJUNGA, Calif. (UPI) — "I should have been petrified, but I wasn't. I just grabbed up a hatchet and chopped that snake's head off."

This was the calm story a 21-year-old housewife told authorities after she killed an 18-inch-long rattlesnake that invaded her kitchen in this Los Angeles suburb.

Mrs. Sandra Morelli said she was feeding her son, Dennis, 10 months, when the rattler crawled from behind a chair. Her husband, Dennis Sr., was on active duty with his naval reserve unit in nearby Long Beach.

Morelli had been remodeling the house and had left his tools out, including the hatchet. After killing the reptile, Mrs. Morelli telephoned the Humane Society, which advised her to put the fanged head in a bag and bury it.

Mrs. Morelli did as advised, then tossed the remainder of the snake's carcass into the brush on her hillside "for the butcher birds."

She said she had no idea how the snake got into the house.

"I kept hearing rattles last night. My parents came over and helped me search, but we couldn't find a thing."

Another rattler was killed in the Morelli yard about two weeks ago.

Only wild carnivore living today in Australia is the dingo, a wolflike dog.

Commission Seeks Youth Counselors

Bill Ragsdale, office manager of the Pampa office of the Texas Employment Commission, today urged Texans of both sexes with college degrees and an interest in youth to apply at the TEC office for one of the 250 counseling positions to be filled in preparation for a concerted state-federal effort to upgrade work skills and employability of disadvantaged youth.

"The success of this intensive effort to motivate and to rehabilitate thousands of Texas youth who are unskilled and unemployed will depend to a great extent upon the caliber of the counselors we are able to recruit to work with them", Ragsdale said.

In pilot projects it has been discovered that young counselors in their early and middle twenties often do a superior job of working with school drop-outs and other troubled youth. For this reason, Ragsdale urged recent college graduates "who enjoy working with youth to apply for one of these challenging positions."

Applicants of all ages are needed and are urged to apply, however, he stated. "No experience is required, and your degree can be in any field," Ragsdale said, adding that selection will be based on interviews, personal and professional references, and a written examination to be given at the local office on June 27.

An intensive 8-to-10 week training program in techniques of counseling and other aspects of the effort to rehabilitate unskilled, jobless youth will be given to counselors selected at a major Texas college beginning around the middle of July. During this training period, trainees will be paid subsistence and transportation costs. The training will be conducted by college teachers.

"Counselors will give intensive personal attention to all employment-related needs of disadvantaged youth, working closely with schools, community agencies, governmental groups, and employers to achieve the best possible utilization and coordination of the community's resources," Ragsdale said.

Man Faces Charge Of Check Forgery

Authorities in Bowie, Tex. are holding a 35-year-old Borger man who is wanted by the Gray County Sheriff's office on charges of forgery.

The man, Claude Welton Wallace, was indicted by the County Grand Jury several months ago on the charge.

According to officers, Wallace stole a payroll checkbook from the Diamond Well Servicing Company of Borger. Police say he passed between $15,000 and $20,000 worth of forged checks throughout the Southwest in the past 5 months.

Wallace will be brought back to Pampa to face trial on the charges, officers said, following charges to be filed in Bowie.

Contract Breach Suit Filed Here On Land Purchase

District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich has ordered J. C. Daniels of Pampa to appear in court June 26 to answer a petition filed by a Louisiana gas company asking to have pipelines and equipment owned by him removed from certain land in Gray and Wheeler counties.

The petition was filed in 31st District Court late yesterday afternoon by the Arkansas and Louisiana Gas Company of Shreveport, La.

It alleges Daniels agreed to pay the company $410,000 in cash for use of several sections of land in the two counties, pending approval by the Federal Power Commission.

The petition charges that when the commission approved the transfer, Daniels failed to pay the company.

The company says it gave Daniels two extensions on the payment dates. On June 2, it is charged, the company informed him it considered his non-payment a breach of contract.

The suit charges that Daniels continued to trespass and use the land and asks an injunction be issued barring him from the land.

Judge Goodrich gave Daniels until 11 a.m. June 26 to state why the injunction removing him from the property should not be issued.

Also in 31st District Court yesterday, a suit asking payment of a debt was filed against Daniels by the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railroad Co.

The suit asks payment of $892 the company alleges Daniels owes for transportation of 92,420 pounds of scrap metal last February.

The suit was also filed late yesterday afternoon.

Sheriff to Go On Trial Monday

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI)—Wichita county sheriff Hammett Vance will go on trial Monday, faced by 12 counts of perjury, false swearing and forgery of county documents. Instead of only two counts as originally planned.

Vance was suspended from office after the grand jury returned the indictments May 4.

Vance, president of the Texas Law Enforcement Association, called the charges part of a political frame-up. He won re-nomination as the Democratic candidate by a 2 to 1 margin in a runoff election two days after he was indicted, but still faces a civil suit July 13 to have him removed from office.

The District Attorney's office announced the increase in charges to be considered at the trial in 30th district court.

Two Writers Are Held as Smugglers in Marijuana Case

LAREDO, Tex. (UPI)—Two men who said they were writers have been arrested and charged with trying to smuggle $56,000 worth of marijuana into the U.S. from Mexico.

Customs inspectors said they found marijuana cigarette fragments in one man's pockets and began dismantling his car in a search for more. They reported they found 86 pounds, valued at $1,000 a pound, packed in plastic bags and hidden in the car's door panels.

Joseph Dearden, 23, of Avon, Mass., was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Jacob Hornberger and ordered held in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Don Rainman, 28, of Berkeley, Calif., was given until Monday to get a lawyer for his arraignment hearing.

Taxpayers' Conceptions Vary on U.S. Diplomats

By HARRY FERGUSON
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The American taxpayer seems to have two conceptions of how our diplomats behave when they venture into the wide, wonderful world beyond the shores of the U.S.

One conception is that of a man wearing striped pants who is balancing a tea cup on his knee and talking a strange jargon filled with such words as detente, unilateral, de facto and de jure. This man is a dope and a sucker and constantly is being outsmarted by the city slickers in such places as London, Paris, Rome, Moscow, Tokyo and Manila, not to mention Panama City.

The second conception is that of an American standing in a jungle. He has just handed an African chief one million dollars in greenbacks and is getting ready to make a speech when the native tribesmen suddenly start dancing around the fire chanting "Yankee go home."

There is a small grain of truth in these misconceptions, just big enough to keep the legends alive. The Department of State probably is the least understood of any arm of the federal government. It is blamed for all of our troubles abroad, its foreign aid program which pours billions into the coffers of foreign nations is a favorite whipping boy of congress, it is held largely responsible for the trouble in South Viet Nam and the tendency of Gen. Charles de Gaulle to play a dramatic role that combines features of Napoleon Bonaparte and Joan of Arc.

There isn't any doubt that there is much animosity against the United States abroad, and it isn't confined to words. Between July, 1962, and February, 1964, there were 30 cases of mob action against American installations in foreign countries.

American installations have been set afire in the Dominican Republic, smeared with black paint in Martinique, bombed in Nicaragua, windows of our buildings have been smashed in London, East Pakistan, Brussels, Bulgaria, Somalia and Panama City. About $5,000 damage was done to an American office in Caracas, Venezuela, and $670 was stolen from a safe. A mob in Accra, Ghana, tried to seize and destroy an American flag. Two bombs exploded against a building in Nicosia, Cyprus.

The State Department has a total of 24,585 employees, of whom 10,229 are foreigners working in missions abroad. In the fiscal year 1965 it will spend about $340 million, which makes it a midsize among the federal departmental giants. The Defense Department, for instance, has a budget close to $50 billion.

All of those people and all of that money cannot be spent to improve the American image abroad because the State Department is involved in a bewildering list of activities.

It is in the real estate business in a big way all around the world. It is a theatrical agency which sends abroad such manifestations of American culture as the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Benny Goodman, Jack Kramer's professional tennis troupe, a production of Eugene O'Neill's "Long Day's Journey Into Night," and an American Legion baseball team.

It is responsible for the U.S. delegation to the United Nations, the foreign aid program and the Peace Corps. It devotes considerable time and effort to rescuing American sailors who imbibe deeply of the wine of the country in such places as Tokyo and Naples, incur the wrath of the local gen-darmes and wind up in the jug. It is responsible for the safety and lives of foreign dignitaries who visit Washington.

It tries to soothe African envoys who are denied admission to restaurants on highway 40 in Maryland while en route by automobile to Washington. It fights lamprey eels in the Great Lakes and gives aid and comfort to both the sockeye and the pink salmon through its International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission (budget, $404,600).

It has a department which tells people where to sit at dinner. It offers a memory course so that diplomats can remember how to address the Nawab of Talpur when the moment of truth arrives in the receiving line. It dispatches envoys to the Kingdom of Burundi, the Federal Republic of Cameroon, the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan, the Islamic Republic of Mauritania and both the Republic of Niger and the Federal Republic of Nigeria.

About 1,300 cables and messages arrive at the State Department each day. About 1,000 are sent out. Incoming on white paper, outgoing on pink. Many of them are in code, must be translated and routed to the proper person. Only about 30 of the incoming ones are rated as important enough to show to the Secretary of State and about 12 of the outgoing. Round and round go the messages and slowly out of the mountain of paper emerges some sort of policy.

Since 1950 the number of nations with which the United States maintains diplomatic relations has doubled. Things were much simpler 100 years ago when the State Department staff in Washington consisted of 39 persons. There was a war on and President Lincoln had decided to reduce the staff and assign people to more important missions.

LEAVES FOR U.S. VISIT
SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies, ignoring his doctor's orders, departed for the United States today to confer with President Johnson and other top American officials.

Menzies recently suffered a recurrence of a stomach disorder and a severe case of influenza which forced him to cancel a planned visit to Israel.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bache & Co. notes that "in recent weeks more and more management spokesmen have had to upgrade their earlier earnings estimates."

"These strong fundamental factors," Bache says, "coupled with the improved caliber of market leadership bodes well."

W.E. Hutton & Co. says "the more often than seasonal improvement in stock prices seems to have arrived on schedule." It adds that "in any year, the odds are high that the stock market will do better in July and August than in May and June, and the odds widen if the market in the period preceding the middle of June provides a neutral or worse performance — as it has this year."

Ralph Rotnem of Harris, Upham & Co. says "the trend of business news, the election year stimulants, the benefits of tax cuts and the absence of unbridled speculation by novices suggest declines should still meet good demand."

Secret Papers On Pope's Views Are Made Public

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Pope Pius XII told the United States in 1943 that he could not specifically denounce Nazi atrocities without condemning equal atrocities by Russia—a move he feared would displease the Allies.

This was reported in heretofore secret State Department documents, just made public.

The late Pope's views were outlined in a letter to the State Department from Harold H. Tittman, assistant to Ambassador Myron C. Taylor, President Franklin D. Roosevelt's personal representative at the Vatican.

In the controversial play, "The Deputy," the Pope is portrayed as fearful that any outspoken condemnation of the

ENGLISH CONTRIBUTIONS
LONDON (UPI)—The magazine Time and Tide said today Britain "has made great contributions to the American way of life."

"Elizabeth Taylor was one," the magazine said, "Charlie Chaplin, Bob Hope, Cary Grant were others."

Nazis on his part would bring the wrath of Germany down upon the church.

Church officials have defended the Pope's actions, saying that he spoke out as vigorously as he could against the atrocities without endangering the lives of Roman Catholics in Germany, Italy and the nations occupied by the Nazis.

Or fall jobs, or winter jobs, for that matter. Because the boy with a newspaper route—a junior independent merchant—has a year 'round income. The few hours he puts in each week not only provide monetary returns but the even more significant dividends of learning how free enterprise operates.

The business of learning the value of money, of keeping books, collecting, buying at wholesale and selling at retail is important. But not even money can buy the other skills acquired from route experience—learning to deal pleasantly with people, for instance, or the value of punctuality.

Your newspaperboy is learning all the time. His route experience helps him acquire the intangible skills so necessary for success both socially and professionally. He makes money at it, too.

Only about one boy in ten gets the opportunity to have a newspaper route. If you think your son or some other youngster might profit by newspaperboy route experience, why not suggest that he come in and talk to us.

Questions on Flag Etiquette Answered

What should you do on Flag Day, or on the Fourth of July — or on any other day for that matter — if you suddenly find yourself with a 48 - star American flag?

It can be flown, if it is in good condition, even though we are now a 50-state country. If you should want to discard it, however, you should burn it. An American flag must never be thrown away.

These are some of the fine points of flag etiquette Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. observe.

The flag should never be used as a drapery or cover except at a funeral. It should never be allowed to touch the floor.

No flag should be flown above the American flag. When carried in a procession with another flag or flags, the flag of the United States of America should be on the right.

The hand-to-brow salute to the flag is seldom used today except by the military services. The official Girl Scout salute — and the salute most prevalent throughout the country — is the civilian salute, or citizen's salute, with the right hand over the heart.

The Stars and Stripes has been the symbol of our country since it was approved by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777. Each time we pledge allegiance to the flag, we are reminded of the American way of life — "one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Dear Abby....

Let It Be Dealer's Choice He Is Up-to-date on the Law

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column that a woman was in doubt about what to put on her mother's headstone. The mother had been married twice, and the daughter wanted to use only her mother's FIRST husband's name. You said, "It's your mother, and you are paying for the monument, so go ahead and put whatever you want on it," or words to that effect. Believe it or not, Abby, in some states the name on a grave memorial is considered by the Bureau of Vital Statistics to be legal proof of death, and to use any name other than the legal name of the deceased at the time of death is illegal. So, the daughter should have her mother's headstone marked with her mother's given name, her first husband's surname, and her second husband's surname. Example: MARY SMITH JONES.

A MONUMENT DEALER IN FLAGSTAFF
DEAR DEALER: Thank you for setting me (and 50 million readers) straight. When I make a boo-boo, it's monumental! Correction: In making a headstone, it is not daughter's choice. It's dealer's choice. And he knows what's legal, so ask him.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this so someone else won't make the same mistake I made: Five months ago a very attractive friend called me at my place of work and said he was in the process of getting a divorce, and asked if I would have coffee with him. I accepted. Next there were lunch dates. Then dinner and evening dates. He told me he loved me and I told him I loved him. (I really did.) We started making plans for "our" future. People began to talk, but I didn't care because I knew it was only a matter of time and he would be free to marry me.

Today he and his wife are back together. The man who "loved" me didn't even have the courtesy to tell me about the reconciliation. He had his WIFE call me! Please, Abby, put this in your column: "Until a man's divorce is FINAL, a woman is a fool to say more than 'hello' to him." And sign me.

THE BIGGEST FOOL IN ROCHESTER

DEAR ABBY: I have a married daughter who has become very fat, sloppy and lazy. Her house is a mess and she spends all of her time reading or talking on the telephone. She shouts at her children and expects her hard-working husband to do her housework on the weekends.

He is ashamed to bring anyone to the house and I am sure the children are not very proud of their home or mother. Should I have a talk with her and try to set her straight? Or does a mother's duty end after her daughter gets married?

WORRIED MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: A mother's "duty" ends when her children become of age. But her love and concern for their happiness and well-being continues as long as she lives. Yes, have a talk with your daughter. It would appear that she needs more than a "talk" or a reprimand. Take her to a physician for a much-needed checkup and diet.

AID IN LIVING

Many many times people feel that they need no assistance with their lives. Quite frequently is this feeling true in regard to their need of help from the Heavenly Father. However, sooner or later, there comes a time when each of us realize we must have help. With some, it is seemingly too late. But with others there is yet time for God to provide a Shepherd for their lives.

Wisdom says unto us, that we with the Psalmist David, must make the 23rd Psalm our motto. A greater motto for life has never been found than that of making the intent of the following words the foundation of our life.

- "1. The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want.
2. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.
3. He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name sake.
4. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
5. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
6. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever."

When the intent of this Psalm motivates our lives, the dangers of this world fade into nothingness, and the Glory of God assumes gigantic proportions in our daily living.

Hearing Called on Plan to Revise Oil Allowable Setup

AUSTIN (UPI) — The State Railroad Commission today called a hearing for July 16 on a proposal to grant bigger production incentives for wider spacing of oilwells in Texas fields.

The proposal is to revise the current 1947 allowable yardstick for establishing producing rates in the various fields on a depth-acreage basis.

The revised yardstick, if adopted, would be put into operation after the hearing and would apply only to fields discovered after it is actually adopted. Present fields would operate under the 1947 yardstick now used.

Under the proposal, allowable would be cut below the standard now used on wells drilled on 10-acre and 20-acre plots. But wells drilled on 40-acre, 80-acre and 160-acre tracts would be given bigger allowables.

The commission considers the proposal an expansion of its oil conservation program since it encourages wider spacing of wells.

The hearing on the proposal will follow the regular July 16 monthly production hearing at which time the August allowable will be set.

Louisiana Quits World Fair Over Pavilion Mixup

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Gov. John J. McKeithen, apparently disgusted with the ill-fated Louisiana pavilion, has severed all state connections with the New York world's fair. However, the governor left the door open for future reconsideration.

"It is our understanding that the World's Fair Corp. has assumed control and management over the area previously designated as the Louisiana pavilion and that steps are being taken to remedy the pavilion's deficiencies.

"If this is accomplished, Louisiana will entertain an invitation from the fair to inspect and, again, consider possible state participation," he said.

The pavilion, beset by three management changes and a bankruptcy petition, is still not completed even though the fair has been open for almost two months.

The official state exhibit is still in storage in New Orleans. McKeithen disclosed the decision at a news conference—his first since he was stricken with the mumps almost two weeks ago.

"The so-called Louisiana area in its present condition reflects discredit upon the state of Louisiana, its culture, heritage and people," McKeithen said.

LBJ Credited With Pulling Strings at Democratic Meet

By United Press International President Johnson was credited today with having pulled some long distance strings to keep the Texas liberal-conservative fight out of the public eye at the state Democratic convention last Tuesday.

A liberal threat to walk out at the convention faded, much to the pleasure of Gov. John Connally, who once worked for Johnson, and his conservative forces.

The Democratic liberal-conservative fight in Texas is bitter, and if it had been aired at the state convention, it could have embarrassed Johnson.

Conservatives were victorious in the state Republican convention also. But there was really no argument there. One supporter of Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania appeared but he was booted off the floor. The Republicans adjourned their Dallas meeting only after giving all their 56 convention delegate votes to Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

The votes apparently put Goldwater over the number he needs for first ballot nomination.

Connally pushed a resolution through pledging full support by the Democrats for Johnson's re-election and even backed a resolution by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, a liberal, calling for party loyalty.

All elements of the party had already openly advocated backing Johnson and the main issue was the seating of delegates from Bexar (San Antonio) County, a traditional liberal stronghold.

Connally's credentials committee had thrown out the liberal group and seated a rival conservative group which had walked out at the county convention 10 days earlier.

This led to a bolt by the Houston liberal delegation and the drafting of a letter of protest to the national convention. The rump convention never came off, however, because liberals themselves could not agree how far to go and since Yarborough had left town, there was no rallying figure.
