BIG DOINGS — This is part of the equipment used yesterday in Pampa in a huge fracturing operation performed on a Cabot gas well by Dowell Division of Dow

Chemical. The process involved 140,000 gallons of water and 100,000 pounds of sand. The injection rate was recorded at 285.6 barrels per minute, the largest operation of its kind for this area, according to company officials.

New Job Done on Well Here

The largest fracturing operation of its kind in company records for this area was conducted in Pampa Tuesday by Dowell Division of Dow Chemical. The "speed frac" operation is performed on a Cabot operation brown dolomite gas well three miles southeast of Pampa and the injection rate is 285.6 barrels per minute at 100,000 pounds per square inch, according to Bill Martin, area engineer for Dowell. The company has performed several jobs in this area in the past and the injection rate in this well is expected to exceed 100. The treatment was done down 7-inch casing and involved 140,000 gallons of water and 100,000 pounds of sand. Results of this "super frac" treatment in Southwest Kansas have been exceptionally good, Martin said, and indicated many area producers were being interested. Complete results of the operation will not be known for about two weeks, Cabot officials said, but they expected it to be good.

Earthquake Hits Azores Rubble

Residences Flattened by Tremors Leaving 20,000 Persons Homeless

ANGRA DO HEROISMO, Azores (UPI) — The strongest earthquake in four days of rumbling shocks today jolted the pile of rubble that once was the thriving Azores island of Sao Jorge.

But the quake—registered as an eight-degree tremor on a 10-degree scale—did little additional damage and caused few casualties. Most of Sao Jorge's 2,000 homes already had been flattened by four days of rolling tremors and most of its 20,000 persons were being evacuated in a massive international rescue operation.

Violent winds and high seas hampered the rescue. But officials said all 3,500 inhabitants of the main city of Velas had been evacuated to other Azores islands.

The tremors—coming at five-hour intervals—also were felt here and on the other islands. Two small quakes were felt on Pico Island this morning and two others in this central Azores district capital, 800 miles west of Portugal.

Sleep In Open Air

Many residents of this island spent Tuesday night sleeping in the open air or in trucks and cars. No serious damage or casualties were reported here.

Refugees arriving in Angra do Heroisimo told a tale of days and nights of terror.

"What happened to us... I do not wish to my worst enemies," said Antonio Loureiro, 35, chief of the Velas district road conservation department.

"It was really terrible. We all thought the end might come at any moment."

Loureiro said many of the refugees, most of whom live in poverty, feared their livestock— their only means of existence—were killed. He said there were 4,000 to 5,000 head of cattle on the island.

Tremors Called Nightmare

Widower Manuel Viegas da Faonessa, a wheat dealer who arrived here with his 18-year-old daughter, said the tremors were "a nightmare."

"But all of us remained calm in the face of this ordeal," he said.

By midday, approximately 1,500 refugees had reached Angra do Heroisimo.

Officials said the weather in the area is improving. No new quakes had been reported since shortly before dawn.

The American Embassy in Lisbon said Col. Hugh E. Wild, acting U.S. commander in the Azores, had offered American aid for rescue and relief if needed.

No Americans were reported injured or made homeless by the quakes, which began four days ago and concentrated their force on neighboring Sao Jorge Island. Communications with the island were cut off, but officials in Lisbon said as many as 15,000 of its 20,000 inhabitants

C of C Executive to Speak at Breakfast

The district manager of the United States Chamber of Commerce will open a series of breakfast meetings on Congressional Action at 7 a.m. Thursday at Coronado Inn.

Robert Riley, who heads the Denver office of the US Chamber, will be the speaker when Riley will discuss current congressional issues and attempt to outline a possible outcome of many lawmaking problems.

Don Lane, chairman of the legislative and national affairs committee of the Pampa Chamber, said some 75 persons will be on hand for the breakfast, set in the Starlight Room.

The Congressional Action breakfast is the first of a series of such affairs, Lane said, which will discuss matters before both houses of Congress and attempt to provide interesting speakers that will inform Pampa voters.

Lane said the public is invited to attend, but urged reservations be made prior to the meal.

Three Fined In Aftermath Of Accident

Three persons, arrested when a member of their group was killed when struck by a Texas Highway Patrol car Monday night, entered pleas of guilty to drunkenness charges Tuesday.

Myrtle Moore and Peggy Biard, both of Pampa, and Tommy Kent of Miami, made the pleas before Justice of the Peace Nat Lunsford at the Gray County Courthouse.

Lunsford fined the trio following acceptance of the pleas. The trio was charged following investigation by Highway Patrol Sgt. J. W. Wilson into the death of Billy Mack Wilson, 37, who died in the accident six miles east of Pampa.

Sgt. Wilson indicated the investigation would be closed following the justice court hearings for the three persons, who along with Wilson's wife, were booked for intoxication.

The patrol officer said Patrolmen Stanley Schneider and Vernon Cawthon, who were injured in the mishap, were making "quick recoveries" at their homes, but would not be able to see duty until later in the month. Both were cut about the face by flying glass when the dead man's body came through the windshield of the patrol car.

District Attorney Bill Waters said his office has not been asked to check into the case at all, but stood ready to offer any assistance to the patrol they desire.

Sea Rescue Saves Three

NEW YORK (UPI)—A Norwegian freighter today removed three crewmen from the disabled British freighter Ambassador in the storm-tossed Atlantic 600 miles off Halifax, N.S.

The Coast Guard cutter Coos Bay planned to remove four more still aboard the ship, which was listing heavily in 35-foot seas with her engines washed out by flooding.

Other rescue ships and planes scoured the waters in the area for eight or more crewmen last seen fighting for their lives aboard two life rafts.

There was no information on the fate of the rest of the 33-man crew.

Auctioneer, Judge Picked

Judge and auctioneer for the Top O' Texas Stock Show, set March 2-3-4 in Pampa, were named by the Agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce at noon Tuesday.

J. P. Smith of Amarillo, who is one of the leading representatives of the American Breeder's Service, will serve as judge of the show while Col. Walter Britton, from Texas A&M, will be the auctioneer.

The selection of the two men was announced by Billy B.

$20 Million Suit Filed by Paper

Countercharges Lodged in Ohio

LIMA, Ohio, (Spl.) — Freedom Newspapers, Inc., publishers of The Lima News, sister paper of The Pampa News, has filed an answer to The Lima Citizen's $7,875,000 anti-trust suit against Freedom and lodged a countersuit for $20,586,000.

The counter claim charges the defendants with conspiring to monopolize the Lima newspaper market.

Freedom's countersuit alleges that The News has been damaged by $6,862,000 and asks for three times that amount as provided by the anti-trust laws. The suit was filed in United States District Court at Toledo.

Among the charges the countersuit brings against The Citizen and alleged co-conspirators are that they have:

—Enticed News' employees to pledge themselves to desert The News and work for The Citizen when it began publication in 1957.

—Stirred unrest among members of labor unions under contract to The News in 1957 and manufactured incidents "fanning latent hostilities against The News management in the hope that publication of their own newspaper could begin during a period of labor strife."

—Sold Citizen stock with promises of large returns on investment as soon as The Lima News had been driven out of business.

—Used The News' subscriber lists.

—Committed acts of destruction against property of News subscribers and advertisers.

Boycott of Schools Set In Chicago

By United Press International

Civil rights groups in Chicago plan to stage school boycott next Tuesday to duplicate a one-day boycott last October that kept 250,000 students out of school.

Civil rights adherents said the boycott was designed to highlight de facto segregation in the city's public schools.

Plans for the second boycott evolved Tuesday as more than 100 "hunger marchers" staged a demonstration in the Windy City's Loop area.

Shouting "we want jobs, we want food," the demonstrators, most of them Negroes on public aid, were protesting what they consider inadequate relief allowances.

Some of the marchers threatened a sit-in demonstration at city hall but changed plans after Mayor Richard J. Daley said he would use police to clear the municipal building.

At the same time Daley promised that federal surplus food would be made available to hardship cases. There were no incidents.

In New York City, there was growing Negro support for a proposed Puerto Rican-sponsored "prayer march" on city hall and the education board to protest alleged segregation in New York City schools. Organizers of the March 1 demonstration predicted "more than 100,000 persons" would participate.

James E. Donovan, president of the New York City Education Board, reiterated his refusal to resign Tuesday and told his Negro critics his stand on school integration is "morally right." Donovan's plan to eliminate de facto segregation with as little disruption to existing school patterns as possible.

Elsewhere in the nation: Montgomery, Ala.—The state Education Board Tuesday rescinded its earlier orders assuming direct control over schools in Macon County, where boycotts by white students have closed one integrated school and left only Negro students in two others.

Stock Show Officials Named

Davis, chairman of the agricultural committee, following a meeting with some 50 chamber representatives at the Black Gold cafe.

The six-county show, which covers Gray, Wheeler, Carson, Hemphill, Roberts and Ochiltree Counties, will kick off March 2, Davis said.

The sale will be held March 3, which is the closing day for the show, and the general public is invited to attend.

Davis said that 91 calves are entered in the junior stock show with 140 fat barrows scheduled for showing in the swine division of the affair.

The animals are sponsored by the 4-H and FFA Clubs in the six-county area covered by the Top O' Texas show.

Davis said a number of working committees were named to assist in final details for the show, one of the best in the Panhandle area.

He said the completed arrangements for the three-day show would be made public within the next several days.

GUN CARRIER ARRESTED — A pistol packing lumberjack from Beatty, Ore., David Conrad Glass, was arrested by sheriff deputies in the Hall of Records building across the street from where Jack Ruby's trial for killing accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald is under way in Dallas. Glass was mumbling incoherently about the Ruby trial when arrested. Here, Glass is fingerprinted before being placed in the county jail charged with carrying concealed weapons.

Belli Uses Commie Angle To Disqualify

By H. D. QUIGG

DALLAS (UPI) — Advancing the idea that Lee Harvey Oswald might have been killed by a Communist conspiracy to silence him, Jack Ruby's defense succeeded today in throwing out a prospective juror who said he believed Ruby might have been a Communist.

However, the venireman also admitted, under intensive defense questioning, that he once had expressed an opinion that Ruby was guilty of killing Oswald and finally he said:

"My opinion is still that Jack Ruby is guilty."

The prosecution contended that the man, Charles S. Toon, a suburban mail carrier, would be a valid juror because he said he could lay aside any such opinion. But Judge Joe E. Brown excused him "for cause."

Sharp Exchanges

The questioning of Toon was marked by screaming and vitriolic exchanges between attorneys for both sides over Toon's admissibility.

Defense attorney Melvin Belli demanded of the court that: "In view of the fact this man believes that Jack Ruby is a Communist and that Oswald was silenced by a Communist conspiracy, that he be disqualified for cause."

Judge Brown overruled the motion.

When Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade asked Toon whether he was the type of person who could lay aside all his opinions and presume Ruby to be innocent, Toon said he could.

Oswald was accused of assassinating President Kennedy on a downtown Dallas street Nov. 22. Ruby is charged with murdering Oswald two days later.

The state exercised its first peremptory challenge to dismiss Frank Mesa, a 38-year-old warehouseman.

Several Challenges Left

Over the objections of the defense.

Panel Agrees On Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House and Senate negotiators agreed today on a final compromise tax cut bill that will mean father paychecks for millions of American wage earners the first week in March.

The massive election-year tax reduction anxiously sought by President Johnson was cleared by a 14-member House-Senate conference group after four days of closed-door bargaining.

The negotiators had the task of resolving more than 150 differences between an $11.2 billion measure approved by the House last September and an $11.8 billion bill passed by the Senate 12 days ago.

The House and Senate are expected to swiftly approve the compromise, sending the final version to the White House next week.

Walter Rogers Reports:

Operation 'Hungry Cows' Described

When I first received word that a blizzard had begun in the Panhandle, I knew that human lives might be endangered and that thousands of cattle might be stranded without feed in the driving, drifting snow. I telephoned my friend Maj. Gen. Selven Simpson in Amarillo and offered my help should the National Guard division be com-

Carrier Wing. They were alerted and Major Hausman messaged headquarters in Washington for the necessary high level approval. That was quick in coming, and at the Pentagon the people who knew of the plans for the operation dubbed it "The Case of the Hungry Cows."

Late Thursday night, General Simpson telephoned to inform me that Panhandle ranchers, particularly in Gray County, feared their herds would suffer heavy losses unless feed could be delivered to them. Blizzard-bound cattle had been without feed since the previous Monday, and General Simpson said losses would mount rapidly unless feed could be gotten to them within 36 hours. An "air drop" of feed — a "hay drop" — appeared necessary, he said. He suggested that cargo helicopters might be employed and said that men in Panhandle units of the 4th Air Division stood ready to load aircraft and mark drop zones.

I then conferred with Lt. Gen. Carl H. Jark, the commanding general of the 4th Army at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio. General Jark well understands the problems that can develop on the plains when a heavy snow storm strikes, and he promised immediate assistance in planning and organizing a hay drop to the stranded cattle. The general assigned the job of working out the details to the 4th Army's young operations officer, Maj. Conrad K. Hausman. This was a job for the Army and the Army area command because the Defense Department has designated the Army as the "action agent" for coordinating the emergency assistance of all services when problems arise in the Continental United States.

Major Hausman obviously relishes such assignments — not only because they provide a means by which the Army can be of direct assistance to American citizens but also because planning and executing such operations provide good training for more warlike emergencies. Working closely with General Jark, Major Hausman quickly determined that the Air National Guard in Texas was not equipped for such a task. The Texas ANG has fighter aircraft and a few reconnaissance helicopters but no cargo aircraft. Major Hausman contacted the 4th Air Force Reserve Region to determine the status of reserve air crews which might be coming on active duty for training or which might be on emergency call. He and General Jark had determined that the most suitable aircraft for the purpose were C-119s, the old flying boxcars, and such planes were stationed at Kelly Air Force Base, San Antonio, and Ellington Air Force Base, Houston. Major Hausman lined up crews for four C-119s at Ellington AFB, the home base of the 924th Squadron of the 446th Troop

Carrier Wing. They were alerted and Major Hausman messaged headquarters in Washington for the necessary high level approval. That was quick in coming, and at the Pentagon the people who knew of the plans for the operation dubbed it "The Case of the Hungry Cows."

Meanwhile, General Jark's staff members were in contact with General Simpson and with me and with Major General Dwight O. Monteith, the commanding general at Amarillo Air Force Base. All was in readiness for the planes to fly from Houston to Amarillo to begin loading hay — but as of Friday afternoon not enough hay had been rounded up. While waiting for the hay to be accumulated, General Simpson reported to me, he was dispatching National Guardsmen in trucks to go to the ranches to see if they could push through to the pastures. At noon Saturday, the four planes of the 924th Squadron reached Amarillo Air Force Base and hay was loaded aboard. Through that afternoon and on into Sunday afternoon, the wonderful crewmen of the 924th flew sortie after sortie over five Panhandle counties, dropping more than 2,200 bales of hay to the cattle below. So hungry were the cattle that as the planes swung around for a second "pass" over the fields, the men aboard could see the cattle beginning to eat hay dropped to them moments before. General Simpson reported to me that the operation was highly successful. "The ranchers were 100 percent enthusiastic about it," he said. "It saved their necks." The good news that came this week was that the air drop helped reduce cattle losses far below the loss experienced in the 1957 blizzard.

To General Jark and Major Hausman, General Simpson, General Monteith, and their staffs — and to the flying crewmen of the 924th Squadron at Ellington — my heartiest congratulations and thanks for a job well done.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER

BERLIN, N.Y. (UPI)—When a woman saw a policeman putting a parking ticket on her snow-covered car Monday she protested, saying, "officer this is my first ticket in more than 20 years."

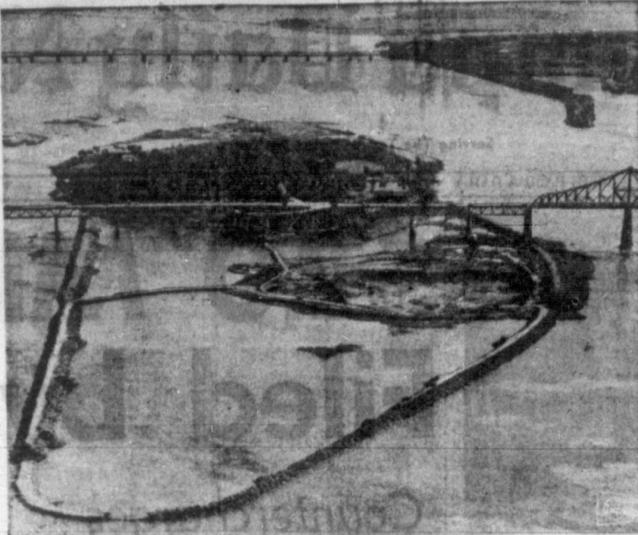

Patrolman George Simard handed her the ticket and said, "We'll both have something to remember. This is the first ticket I've ever given out."

It was his first day on patrol.

GIVE UP BINGO

BARROW-IN-FURNESS, England (UPI)—Railway porter George Pilkington's wife promised to give up bingo Monday after her husband was fined $56 for stealing four pounds of sausages. He told the judge his wife spent all his wages on bingo and he sometimes "starved."

"I have been to work on an empty stomach and I had to come home on one," he said.

BIRTH OF A WORLD FAIR—Although American attention is focused on the New York World's Fair, Canadians are preparing for their own World Fair, set to open in 1967. The exposition will be held on islands in the St. Lawrence River, just off the coast of Montreal. Much of the 600-acre site for the fair is being created by enlarging the islands. In this photo, a dike has been built to extend the area of St. Helen's island and is ready for fill from the river bottom.

Postmen to Get Revenge: Spray Repellent for Dogs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Oh see the dog. His name is Spot. He likes to bite. He likes to bite the postman. The postman does not like Spot. Now Spot is crying. The postman is laughing. Poor Spot.

The Post Office Department is going to spend about $9,000 to equip its letter carriers with a stinging spray repellent designed to discourage Spot and others of his belligerent breed. The capsules, designed to be worn on the belt so that postmen can be quick on the draw, carry three-quarters of an ounce of a liquid made up of pepper extract and mineral oil. They will be supplied to letter carriers in 6,000 cities throughout the nation by this summer, when the dog-bite season is at its peak.

Postmaster General John A. Gronouski said Monday that the capsules will allow the beleaguered postman to squirt a "vigorous, thin jet stream" of the repellent into the face of the charging pooch. If all goes well, the attacker is supposed to tuck his tail between his legs and take off. The postmaster general said that tests of the aerosol cartridges in four large cities had proved them 84 per cent effective. He added that failures were usually the fault of postmen who were either not quick enough to get their weapons into action or who missed their targets completely. Gronouski said that while the problem of dogs biting postmen has long been regarded as a joke, it was not exactly a laughing matter. He said that about 7,000 post office employees were bitten last year at a cost of about $1 million in sick leave, medical expenses and painful anti-rabies treatments. Use of the repellent, he said, would be an important step forward, from both a humane and an economic standpoint.

'Abrazo' Set For Connally At Laredo

LAREDO (UPI)—Texas Gov. John Connally and Gov. Praxedis Balvoa of the Mexican state of Tamaulipas will exchange in the traditional "abrazo" or friendship embrace Saturday as part of the annual four-day George Washington's birthday celebration.

The ceremony will be on the Laredo international bridge over the Rio Grande.

More than 100,000 persons from Laredo, Nuevo Laredo, and surrounding towns are expected to witness the 67th grand international parade. This year's theme is "Patriots of the Americas."

Gov. Connally will be named "Mr. South Texas" at the president's luncheon Sunday at Laredo Air Force Base. His award will be presented by Robert N. Freeman of Laredo, celebration president.

Automobile traffic between Mexico and Texas will be halted during the ceremonies on the bridge. Officials also exchanging greetings of friendship include Mayor J. C. Martin Jr. of Laredo and Ernesto Ferrara of Nuevo Laredo, and Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, Randolph Air Force Base, and Gen. Trinidad Rodriguez Lopez, commander of the 7th Military Zone in Monterrey. Following talks in Spanish by Mayor Martin and in English by Mayor Ferrara a four-day visa waiver for Mexican citizens will be given. Thousands of visitors from northern Mexico communities will cross the bridge to join the festivities.

Greek Cypriots Delay Peace Force Try

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Greek Cypriot opposition today held up United Nations action on Secretary General Thant's peace force and mediation proposal for settling Cyprus crisis.

The United States planned to formal blessing to Thant's actions during this afternoon's Security Council meeting.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Brenko also was expected to ally Moscow's important position regarding the proposed international peace force for Cyprus. The Kremlin has supported the Greek Cypriots in their quarrel with the Turkish Cypriots.

Former sources said U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson endorsed a declaration by British Ambassador Patrick Dean Tuesday that powers concerned in the consultation with the United States set up an international peace force as soon as possible.

Neither Britain nor Cyprus submitted a resolution to the 11-nation council Tuesday, and diplomatic sources said much preliminary consultation is necessary.

Patience Urged For Residents On Gravel Roads

R. B. Cooke, public works director, today appealed to residents on dirt and gravel streets to be patient with city workers in their efforts to get thoroughfares passable in the wake of recent snowstorm damage.

"We have had a number of complaints about dirt streets," Cooke said, "but we are doing the best we can to fill up holes and get streets dried out."

Cooke pointed out that the muddy streets freeze up at night and it is 10 or 11 a.m. in the daytime before they are thawed enough for workmen to accomplish anything.

The public works director said three maintainers are working to get the job done.

Cooke also stated that paved streets are being swept and repaired as rapidly as possible.

"If folks will be patient for a few days, we'll get the job done," he said.

Business will include the annual election of officers and a study of general tax laws and tax problems.

Wagoner will represent Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones who is a member of the regional nominating committee which also includes John Wurst, Sunray school tax collector, and Mrs. Bea McDaniel, tax collector for Petersburg schools.

The Lighter Side Solon Up to Decimal Points in Paperwork

By DICK WEST

UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL WASHINGTON (UPI) — As chairman of a House subcommittee on government statistics, Rep. Arnold Olsen, D-Mont., is up to his decimal points in paperwork.

Occasionally, duty calls him to engage in what he described as "fighting in the federal paperwork jungle."

His mode of combat is to put out papers urging other government officials to put out fewer papers. Or, to employ a more colorful expression, he fights paper with paper.

"I have no doubt the technique is effective, but it is limited to extreme cases, when the paperwork is raging out of control."

What is needed is a campaign to keep paperwork from starting.

I happen to have a few ideas along that line, which I will be glad to pass along to the subcommittee free of charge.

"Prevent Paperwork"

As the first step, I suggest that the subcommittee have printed for distribution in government buildings and other public places an assortment of signs and posters reading "Only you can prevent paperwork."

These would serve to give everyone a sense of responsibility for stopping paperwork before it begins, which is far

Floyd E. Sackett, 2216 N. Wells, teacher at Pampa Junior High School, was one of 10 men recently initiated into Gamma Xi Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa in ceremonies at Amarillo.

Phi Delta Kappa is an international professional fraternity for men in education, organized to promote the ideals of research, service and leadership. Largest professional organization of its kind in the world, Phi Delta Kappa has nearly 100,000 members in 225 chapters scattered throughout the United States and in Canada.

Only men of special professional promise are invited to join Phi Delta Kappa, whose membership includes most of the educational leaders of America.

The program at a dinner following the initiation ceremonies was presented by W. C. Harter, Principal of Central Elementary School, of Borger, president of Gamma Xi Chapter. Harter presented a film strip on the history and organization of Phi Delta Kappa to the initiates and some 25 other members of the chapter who were present.

Obituaries

Billy Mack Wilson

Funeral services for Billy Mack Wilson, killed Monday evening six miles east of Pampa, will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Duengel-Carmichael Funeral Chapel with Guy Caskey, minister of the Harvesters-Mary Ellen church of Christ officiating. Burial will be in the White Deer Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Charlie Jordan, Allen Vickery, Rex Gage, Elvis Wilkerson, D. Hardin and Joe F. Stone.

Roy Phipps

Funeral services for Roy Phipps, 72, father of Mrs. E. C. McCollum and Mrs. John A. Phelps, Pampa, will be conducted tomorrow in the First Baptist Church, Wills Point, Tex.

Mr. Phipps died at 7 a.m. yesterday in an Independence, Kan., hospital where he had been a patient for three weeks.

SOFT-HEARTED BURGLARS

LONDON (UPI) — Burglars who broke into a tobacco shop where Sir Winston Churchill buys his cigars escaped with a haul worth thousands of dollars.

But they may have a soft spot for the British wartime leader because they left behind a batch of cigars which had his name on them.

Burglary Suspect Held by Sheriff

A man wanted for burglary in Gray County was arrested about mid-afternoon in Groom Tuesday and returned to Pampa by Deputy Sheriff Dwight Day.

James Perry, alias James Mark Evans, was being held in county jail in lieu of $1,500 bond following arraignment before Justice of the Peace Nat Lunsford for burglary.

Perry is accused of entering the farm home of R. D. Little in the night-time and taking a pistol from the home. Little's farm house is located just inside the Gray County line.

District Attorney Bill Waters accepted a burglary complaint against Perry after questioning Little and other parties during the day Tuesday.

The complaint will be offered for indictment at the next grand jury hearing, scheduled Feb. 28.

Extra Dividends Declared by Firm

An extra dividend of 2 1/2 cents per share in addition to the regular dividend of 12 1/2 cents was declared on the company's outstanding common stock by the Southwestern Investment Co. board at its second quarter meeting recently in Amarillo.

Dividends at the regular rates also were declared on all issues of S.I.C. preferred stock. All dividends are payable March 1, 1964, to stockholders of record Feb. 20, 1964.

TURN OVER LEADERS

DAR - ES - SALAAM, Tanganyika (UPI) — The Tanganyikan government announced Monday night it will bind over to a civilian high court the accused ringleaders of last month's army mutiny.

The government said it would ask the National Assembly to employ the high court to sit with two or three military assessors to adjudge the accused mutineers.

Greeks, Turks Ignore British Truce Pleas

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — Leaders of warring Greek and Turkish Cypriot bands resisted British appeals today for negotiations aimed at transforming a shaky truce into a formal cease-fire.

Officers of the British security force criss-crossed the hills in the "battle zone" of southwestern Cyprus to try to arrange the negotiations, but neither side would relinquish its battle positions.

Along hilltops surrounding the town of Kokkina, Turkish Cypriots refused to abandon their gun positions overlooking Greek Cypriot villages. Armed Greeks were entrenched nearby, poised for action.

Similar situations prevailed in other villages of the impoverished region, and authorities feared a major clash at any time.

Thant's suggestions call for an international peace force to stop the fighting while a mediator tries to settle the political differences between the Greek and Turkish communities.

The government of President Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriots, has insisted that any peace force be under direct control of the U. N. Security Council and responsible for protecting Cyprus against aggression which Makarios fears from Turkey. The United States, Britain and Turkey have opposed both conditions.

Result In War

The Makarios government claims Turkey intends to invade the island to protect the Turkish Cypriot minority. This could bring counter-intervention by Greece, resulting in war between the two NATO Allies.

Fighting which erupted Christmas week has wracked the Mediterranean island off the coast of Turkey and has caused hundreds of casualties.

The Greek Cypriot majority is seeking constitutional changes which the Turks claim would take away some of their rights. The Greeks outnumber the Turks four to one in Cyprus.

Court Favors Costello Case

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court Monday ended the government's attempt to deport former underworld boss Frank Costello.

Even had Costello, 72, lost his case, the prospects of his deportation were dubious because of the reluctance of Italy to take back the one-time gambling kingpin, who has been in the United States since the age of five.

In today's decision, the court ruled that Costello is not deportable on the grounds which had been used by the Justice Department.

The law provides for the deportation of any alien who subsequent to entry has twice been convicted of "crimes involving moral turpitude."

At issue with Costello was that he was a naturalized citizen at the time he was convicted of the crimes, but was later denaturalized.

The government argued that the denaturalization cancelled out his citizenship entirely. The court agreed with Costello that it did not.

Beet Growers Approve Mill

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (UPI)—South Plains sugar beet growers have asked the Agriculture Department's approval of a new $18 million mill near Plainview.

Approval of the mill would mean a 30,000 ton allotment of the domestic sugar quota for an eight-county area of West Texas, according to Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., who met with the growers in Washington Saturday.

The High Plains Sugar Growers Corp. has an agreement to finance the plant, Mahon said. He expected no decision on the proposal for several weeks.

Walker Hits UN in Talk

ALEXANDRIA, La. (UPI)—Former Major Gen. Edwin A. Walker roared the United Nations Monday night in a talk before the Central Louisiana Press Club.

Walker, a strong advocate of states rights and conservatism, described Cuba as "a UN base for infiltration and subversion of the Americas."

He said the mighty United States is not the leader in the Western Hemisphere, that the leadership has been transposed to Cuba.

"That little bearded twirp down there (Fidel Castro) is now the political leader of the destiny of all three Americas—North, Latin and South," Walker said.

"And here we sit quivering and twiddling our thumbs and wondering what's going to happen next," he said.

Walker suggested the "UN" would vote tomorrow to take the Panama Canal away from the United States.

He described the civil rights bill as "the declaration of integration of the United Nations" and termed Viet Nam a "sell-out."

NEW STAMP—A 5-cent, multicolor stamp in honor of John Muir, the American naturalist, will be issued by the Post Office Department in April 29 in Martinez, Calif., where Muir spent the last years of his life. The stamp shows Muir in a forest of redwoods, which he helped save from destruction.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

BUILDING YOUR HOME
When you are ready to build, you will find that the law helps many ways to make your home enjoyable and secure. Have you decided on the type you use you want and the amount you want to spend? If so, then let's go into details!

- Your lot: Junior's school or your church may be nearby, so find out—
 - Whether they are planning to run a highway through the area or nearby, or make any improvement for which you are assessed.
 - What "Covenants" or restrictions run with the land? To protect residents, the plats or basic deeds of some neighborhoods call on you to build a certain size or type of house. Do you want to and can you afford it?
 - Easements. Either you or your neighbors may need to run pipes, or string wires overhead over their land or to share a driveway. Have the abstract checked carefully to disclose any easements.

- Zoning Ordinances: For your protection the local government frequently zones some areas, for example, for single houses only, for multiple dwellings, for retail stores, for manufacturing, etc. Unless the local governing body changes its zoning ordinance, no filling station, for instance, can go up next to you in residential area. Neither could you turn your home into a store. In any case, you should find out what your neighborhood zoning laws are.
- Building Codes: Be certain the plans and construction will meet the requirements of the local building code as to size, location and structure. Municipal ordinances usually impose strict standards for the building, the plumbing and the electrical wiring. In many cases only licensed building tradesmen are permitted to make the installations.
- Financing: Financing contracts protect both you and the lender. Unless you pay cash, you will use credit to pay for your house, most likely a deed of trust or a land contract. Your installments often include principal, interest, insurance and taxes. Under a land contract the lender holds title to your house until you pay for it. If you fall behind, the holder can take the house back. With a deed of trust, the lender has a lien which he can foreclose if you default. You may get some of your money back on the principal; but you may also have to make up any loss the lender makes in re-selling the house.

Well worked-out contracts in help make your dream come true. A construction contract or a so-called "earnest-money" agreement or receipt is a job for an amateur. Too many legal details are involved, but lawyer is trained by education and experience to protect your best interests in contracting and closing real estate deals. You know what you want. You would be careful to get what you want through careful planning and a properly prepared and executed contract.

(This newspaper, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is given to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
The air of jubilation and confidence emanating from President Charles de Gaulle's Elysee Palace was taking on an almost physical force.

The breaks were going his way, and his cup was running over.
Within the six-nation European Common Market he successfully had beaten down West German objections and forced agreement on a farm policy which promised to benefit French farmers and relieve the pressure of agricultural surpluses.

As for the world and France's place in it, especially as it concerned the United States, he had moved back into a place of prominence in Asia without the firing of shot or the use of a soldier by the simple expedient of granting diplomatic recognition to Red China.

The Nationalist Chinese government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek then removed a situation which might have caused some embarrassment by breaking relations with France.

Ahead lay the rosy vista of De Gaulle visits to Mexico next month and later visits to Argentina, Brazil, Ecuador and Colombia in the fall.

Might Welcome Attention
A possible portent of things to come was a suggestion from Panama, deeply embroiled in a quarrel with the United States, that that nation might also welcome attention from De Gaulle in the form of French economic assistance.

De Gaulle's operating base was France's great prosperity and the suggestion that French aid, previously channeled almost exclusively to former French possessions, might now also be extended elsewhere.

In Asia, for example, he pursued twin goals. One was De Gaulle's avowed intent to restore the glory of France. The other, somewhat lower on the idealistic scale, was to open up Asian markets to French industrial goods faced with increasing competition and problems of over-production.

Red China had little that France could use and less money. But she could sell to the under-developed nations of the French African community and thereby earn the francs which could be spent in France on industrial products.

In Southeast Asia, the twin goals became one.

Part Of Long Plan
Despite the shock with which the United States greeted De Gaulle's decision to recognize Red China, it was part of a plan long in the making and one which began to take form last August when De Gaulle called for a neutral and unified Viet Nam. The idea quickly gained adherents.

North Viet Nam, under severe economic strain and desperately in need of rice from the south, reacted enthusiastically. Cambodia, when it decided to reject U.S. aid, turned to France and received a warm reception.

"We are convinced that only France can build a bridge between east and west," declared Cambodia's Prince Sihanouk, who has proposed a union between Cambodia and a unified Viet Nam.

In Laos, French representatives have been equally active, promoting a state visit of the king to Paris and a long-term program of economic aid.

De Gaulle, premising his ideas on a belief the United States eventually must withdraw militarily from Southeast Asia, describes Red China as a force in being.

So, undoubtedly, is De Gaulle.

Gabon Fight Ends Quietly

PARIS (UPI)—A revolt has taken place in the small West African Republic of Gabon, according to reports reaching French government sources today.

The reports said the army in the former French colony revolted against President Leon M'ba Monday night and that he is a prisoner in his palace in the capital city of Libreville.

Some reports reaching Paris said M'ba had resigned. Other reports said Gabonese paratroopers were trying to free him.

Farm Activity At Standstill In Wet Weather

AUSTIN (UPI) — Wet ground and chilling winds curtailed farm activity at a standstill although cotton planting picked up a bit in the Rio Grande Valley last week, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

Some light rain fell from Cross Timbers eastward at mid-week. But Coastal Bend and South Texas missed the rains and seedbed preparations made fair to good progress in those areas.

About 6 per cent of the Lower Valley acreage has been seeded in cotton, but most farmers waited for soils to warm up more. Sorghum and corn planting continued in the Valley and is underway in some south central counties.

Wheat prospects continued to improve with the provision of more moisture. A slow thaw of the heavy snows on the High Plains provided maximum ground moisture. Dryland wheat is improved, but low temperatures has held back top growth.

Oats are supplying considerable grazing in the low plains and southeastward across the state with improved moisture conditions. South Texas flax continued to make satisfactory development.

Cabbage and carrots are moving in heavy volume in the Rio Grande Valley. Freezing temperatures Feb. 8 failed to inflict serious damage to mature cabbage, but mature lettuce was badly damaged by cold and mildew.

Supplies of cauliflower and broccoli are declining, but beets, spinach and leafy green vegetables are in good supply. Carrots are plentiful in the Laredo area and harvest of spinach continues active in the Winter Garden area.

Pastures were reported to be greening over most of the state. Most livestock that stayed during last week's snow in the northwest have been found. The USDA said blood is already a hazard to cattle on lush clover pasture in central and coastal counties.

Belli Files Cohen Suit

ATLANTA (UPI) — Jack Ruby's lawyer Monday filed a $10 million damage suit against the federal government on behalf of former California racketeer Mickey Cohen.

The suit charged that officials of the U. S. penitentiary here were negligent in protecting Cohen from an attack by a fellow prisoner Aug. 14, 1963, and that Cohen was now paralyzed from the waist down.

The case was filed in U. S. district court by four attorneys, including Melvin Belli of San Francisco who represents Ruby, now on trial in Dallas for killing Harvey Lee Oswald, President Kennedy's accused

Genealogical Society Announces Contest

At Monday night's meeting of the Pampa Genealogical & Historical Society held in the Genealogy Room of Lovett Memorial Library, members and guests heard the announcement that the Society had reached its goal of raising $400 for the purchase of additional books on family and local history for the Society's Pioneer Heritage Collection at Lovett Memorial Library.

Tracy D. Cary, president, stated that the Board of Lovett Library had agreed to match funds raised by the Society toward accommodating the upsurge of interest in family and local history books in this area. While all books in the collection will be made available to the public for research, they will remain like similar collections throughout the country in the reference category and will not circulate outside the library.

It was announced that the Society in cooperation with the Texas State Historical Survey Committee would sponsor locally two contests for school students in grades 9 through 12. In observance of the Texas Civil War Centennial commemoration, a first prize of a year's free tuition at a state-supported college or university, will be offered, in addition to an expense paid trip to Austin for the winner and a teacher or parent during the week of April 20, 1964. The first contest is an essay of 300-2,500 words in length confined to Texas people, military units and events in the Civil War, insofar as Gray County or its families was concerned. Copies or rules are available from the Society or through the High School and two Jr. High Schools.

The second contest is for posters depicting soldiers, places, or events of Texas' participation in the War for Southern Independence 1861-65. All entries must be postmarked not later than March 15, 1964.

Each pupil is eligible to compete by sending his entry directly to Austin where all entries will be filed in the Texas State Archives. Duplicates of essays and posters may be submitted to the Pampa Genealogical & Historical Society which will offer cash prizes for the best local entry. Any student desiring further information is urged to contact his history or art teachers at once, or for further information they may contact Mrs. J. C. Patillo at Pampa High School, or Tracy D. Cary at MO 5-5528.

A program of colored slides featuring field trips of the Society and the recent Pioneer Dinner were shown, the group by Mrs. Willie B. Gull to climax Monday's meeting.

Newly elected officers to serve terms of two years were: Tracy D. Cary, re-elected president; David Grayson, 1st vice-president; 2nd vice-president, Luther Fuit; Mrs. Cliff Drake, recording secretary; Mrs. J. C. Patillo, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Willie B. Gull treasurer.

Elected Historians were: Mrs. Albert Wilson (Carson County); Mrs. Clayton Parsons and Mrs. Cliff Vincent (Gray County); Mrs. Walter Love, (Hutchinson County). Librarians elected were Mrs. Viola Ingram and Mrs. Mildred Barker, co-chairmen; Mrs. Carmie Hefflin, archivist; Miss Lou Ella Patterson, parliamentarian. Committee chairmen include: Finance — Joe W. Shelton, Social — Mrs. Frankie Rogers, Telephone — Mrs. Emma Lee Gray, Delegate to Council of Clubs — Mrs. Marguerite Nash.

STRANGE GOINGS ON

LIVERPOOL, England (UPI) — There were strange doings Wednesday night in the Cavern Club here, where the "Beatles" were first discovered.

An elderly man and a young woman decided to play some "Jersey beat" music for the customers.

The man was Arthur Fiedler, famous conductor of the Boston "Pops" Orchestra, who played the guitar, and the woman was 21-year-old concert pianist Susan Warr, who beat out the rhythm on drums.

Seniors Start Pre-Graduation Season With Banquet by Women

Senior class members of the Pampa High School student body opened pre-graduation season Tuesday night at a banquet at First Baptist Church.

The event was sponsored by the Women's Missionary Society of the church with Mrs. Charles Crowson and Mrs. Louis Tarpley serving as chairmen for the program.

Dr. Roy C. McClung was the speaker following a dinner served by the WMS membership. He discussed the serious side of graduation.

Gikas Seeking Re-election to Education Board

John Gikas, current secretary of the board, presented his name to be placed on the ballot for a second term, submitted to the April 4 school election.

Dr. Roy C. McClung was the speaker following a dinner served by the WMS membership. He discussed the serious side of graduation.

He was introduced by Calvin Whately following special music by an all-girl choir from the Frank Phillip Junior College music department.

John Gikas, 42-year-old cafe operator, became the second man to run for school board positions.

McDonald, a Celanese employee, filed Monday afternoon. He is not serving on the board at present time.

Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer, president of the WMS, made welcoming remarks to the seniors and Class President Larry Gregory responded for the students.

Joe Whitten opened the program with the invocation, Jerry Whitten played dinner music during the meal, and Jack Parker served as master of ceremonies for the night.

By CHARLES W. SCHOENEMAN
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
(Last of 10 Articles)

Some of the new 1963 travel deduction rules may restrict what you can deduct on combined business-pleasure trips and may make substantiation of all travel expenses more difficult.

But many taxpayers — and particularly traveling salesmen — will for the first time be able to deduct some expenditures on business trips which the IRS had not previously allowed.

A taxpayer may now deduct as a part of his traveling expenses his expenditures for laundry, dry cleaning, or pressing of clothing if he was "away from home" when he made these expenditures.

Also, the IRS now permits a business expense deduction for the cost of transportation by a businessman or employee who is "away from home" from his hotel or motel to and from his place of business (for example, a customer's store).

Oil Contractors Meet Tomorrow

DENVER (Sp1) — Members and guests of the Association of Oilwell Servicing Contractors will gather at the Denver Hilton Hotel in Denver tomorrow through Saturday for the Association's eighth annual national meeting. The theme of the convention this year will be "A Changing Industry and the Necessity for Participation in Public Affairs."

His work at First Baptist Church has included chairmanship of the board of deacons, serving as superintendent of the adult Sunday school classes for four years and a member of the Everyman's Bible Class.

Gikas came to Pampa from Borger in 1946 after his discharge from the U.S. Navy and Merchant Marine where he served during World War II, beginning 1942.

He resides at 1301 Mary Ellen St.

principal place of business. Furthermore, the IRS seeks to impose a rule that the taxpayer must be "away from home overnight" or where rest was needed in order to obtain a deduction for his meals. For most taxpayers, these unresolved questions will cause no difficulty.

What is important to most taxpayers about the phrase "away from home" is that they cannot generally deduct their commuting expenses. (A taxpayer like a salesman can, however, deduct his transportation expenses on the job even though he is not "away from home," says the IRS, just as long as the expenses are directly attributable to the actual conduct of his trade or business.)

But there are exceptions even to the commuting expense rule! For example, the IRS ruled this past year that a musician who uses his automobile to commute to work solely because his instruments are too bulky to carry can deduct his transportation costs.

This ruling means that any taxpayer can deduct his car expense in going to and from work if he would not have used his car on such trips except for the need of taking his tools with him.

Another exception: You can deduct the cost of all transportation between two or more posts of duty for business reasons whether or not they are overnight trips.

PHS Has TWIRP Event

Hootenanny Plans Bring Headaches

Plans for Friday night's Hootenanny, which will end TWIRP week at Pampa High School, are making some progress, but it hasn't been easy.

Richard Fatheree and Larry Johnson, two PHS student council members who are in charge of The Woman Is Requested To Pay week, report that telephone calls to their homes (by girls, naturally) have almost stalled TWIRP week plans.

But never fear, the boys declared Tuesday night, between a senior banquet and the jangle of their private phones, the Hootenanny will be held.

The entire TWIRP Week program has reached the "successful" stage, Fatheree declared, as girls are co-operating with the student council to make the week even more interesting.

The idea behind the week is allowing the girls of PHS to ask the boys for dates and pay the "jot" during the night.

Girls must purchase a TWIRP Week date card for 10 cents in order to be eligible for dates. The idea came from a newspaper cartoon series a number of years ago.

"The cards have been going like hotcakes all week and the publicity about the week has helped," Fatheree reported.

The popular junior grinned from ear to ear when quizzed about the inability of reaching him by telephone.

"Like, man, it's hard to decide which girl you'll take up on their date offer," he joked.

Johnson, who has been in charge of bands of roving singers who are "crooning" Valentine-type songs (for a fee, the boys chirp) to those who are sent "messages of affection" as part of the week, hopes to complete Hootenanny night plans within the next day or so.

"If we can't still our telephones from all these dates, or else flee the scene, we'll get this done," Johnson and Fatheree declared.

And with that, the two youths headed off in the direction of anywhere there isn't a woman with a telephone, in search of peace, quiet and Donnie Rexroad, student body president, for a meeting.

WHICH ONE'S THE CHOICE?—Barry Peterson, center, is like most Pampa High School male students today. He's torn between choices as TWIRP Week continues at the school. Here Julie Hofness, left, and Patsy Holloway attempt to pull Peterson apart in a "fight" to claim him as a date during the week. TWIRP stands for "The Woman Is Requested To Pay" and boys at PHS are taking full advantage of the week. The battle for boys will end Friday night with a Hootenanny party at the school.

Dear Abby....

Meter Reader's Mother Says "It Ain't So!"

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I beg to differ with your reply to that carrier's wife who thought some of the women on route were after him. You thought that most women were interested in their MAIL, not MALE. Well, my son was meter reader. He said he to keep his eyes straight and every moment, being full not even to look sideways at some of the women would have a hard time being out of the house. (He is 24, six-foot-three, and good looking.) One woman who was old enough to be mother, was so aggressive that he reported her to front office. They sent a detective out there to question and she got her claws into me and I'm on strike up his home. Most nice men can tell you it isn't pay to be too friendly to the lady of the house.

mother-in-law alone for the first time. My friend didn't take the hint. Rather, she said, "I would like to meet the girl — aren't you going to ask me to sit down?" I told her as nicely as I could that I thought it would be better if she came back the next afternoon for tea, and meet her then. She left in a huff. How could I have handled a situation like that more tactfully?

WONDERING DEAR WONDERING: I think you handled an awkward situation with admirable finesse.

Get it off your chest. For a personal unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

DEAR ABBY: We have been married 12 years and have 3 children. We have a lot of beds so that each of us can sleep alone now. My friend complained that he was crowded, so I changed my double bed for twin beds. Now, every night the children come over whose turn it is to sleep with Daddy. I try to be the "each to his own" rule, but my husband complains my objections with argument that he "doesn't mind." But the next morning he complains to me that he "threw around and he didn't get any rest. But the night it's the same story. What's wrong with this picture?

ANNOYED DEAR ANNOYED: HIS sleepless nights are the least of what's wrong. Children should not get into the habit of sleeping with their parents.

DEAR ABBY: I've managed to live 47 years without bugging anyone for advice, but something happened the other day that I would appreciate your comment on. A friend of mine dropped in unexpectedly and I explained to her that I was expecting my son and wife at any moment. I told her that I had never met my daughter-in-law, but my son said she was a shy little thing, and I thought it might be easier for her to meet her

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN Every woman who sews will be interested in the spring and summer fashions, for there are many lovely dressmaker details and the fabrics are all so just right for sewing.

Here are just a few of the new fashion ideas:

Rosettes of fabric, bias and used in pairs, to fasten a jacket or cape at the neck.

Fringed ends on scarves of silk, sheer wool and linenlike fabrics.

String belts made of the dress fabric, and tiny rosettes of string used in place of buttons.

Hems on unlined coats turned up as much as 6 inches and slip-stitched to place.

Patterns reflect the new silhouettes very well. If a good pattern is placed properly on the right fabric and the instructions are read so that no mistakes are made,

There are many bright pastel colors, especially for sports and at home wear. But the high fashion colors for spring and summer are black, white, bright navy, pale pink, apple green, light blue and pale yellow.

Some chiffon dresses made of 3 layers have green outside, then yellow, then pink. The 3 colors give a most interesting effect. When stitching chiffon, remember to stretch slightly as you pin it to tissue paper, then stitch using a 11 to 14 stitch.

Much lace is used — especially lace shifts made 4 to 8 inches shorter than a form-fitting bodice dress. Sometimes this lace is sheer. Often a stole matches the lace.

With femininity emphasized in fashion, we will quite naturally prefer many of the lightweight fabrics—voiles, organdies, chiffons and sheer crepes as well as lace.

Many summer coats are 4 to 6 inches shorter than the dress or suit to give a tunic effect.

Decide what your color plan will be for spring and summer and see what you can use from last year. Maybe you can cut the neck lower on some necklines and perhaps make a new jumper to wear over a plain last year's dress. Remember every dollar saved can give you just that much more with which to buy quality fabrics that will be worthy of your very best sewing skill.

Haunt the shops for quality fabrics and check patterns before buying material so you will buy enough to cut the garment of your choice. Buy zippers, matching thread, everything needed for each garment.

Look at the very best ready-to-wear clothing for ideas of color, fabric quality and finishing, then start creating a beautiful garment — even a wardrobe, if that's what you need. As I have said before, find a pattern silhouette right for you and use it for several dresses. The fabric, color and trimming used will make each seem different. And all the while you will know the satisfaction of a completely flattering costume.

An exquisitely feminine frock for special occasions. A brief-sleeved beauty with a flattering sweetheart neckline and the new high-waisted look.

No. F-36 is in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Bust 32 to 40. Size 14, 34 bust, 3 yards of 35 or 36-inch fabric.

The Doctor Says

By Wayne Branstandt M.D. Q — What causes me to have what my doctor calls "paroxysmal supraventricular tachycardia"? What can be done for it?

A — In your condition the pulse rate may be as high as 160. This is tachycardia. When bouts of rapid heart action come and go it is called "paroxysmal." When the rapid rate is primarily in the auricles, it is auricular or supraventricular.

The cause is some irritation of the controlling mechanism, but the nature of the irritation in most victims is unknown. Of several types of tachycardia the type you have is the commonest, and the least likely to hurt your health.

The attacks can often be stopped by deep pressure on the eyeballs, or by pinching the carotid arteries in the neck. The drug guanethidine has stopped these attacks in some persons.

Many doctors, however, prefer to use an electrical device called a cardioverter. When no other method works, an operation to sever the sympathetic nerves may be necessary.

This is rarely advised because, aside from the discomfort during the attacks, the condition is harmless.

BUILDING FACILITIES

NEW YORK (UPI) — Witco Chemical Co. said Tuesday it is building facilities to make urethane polyester resins and emulsifiers at its Lyndwood, Calif. plant. The new facilities are scheduled to go into operation late this year.

Fathers Take Over At P-TA Meeting

Sherman Harriman, representing Boys Ranch, spoke on the topic, "What's Right with Youth" during a recently conducted meeting of Lamar P-TA. Homer Krueger and the Lamar School band presented the second half of the program which was introduced by Austin Ruddick.

Fathers' Night was observed during this meeting with men taking over leadership for the night.

N. L. Nicholl was the presiding officer and E. C. Pulse gave the secretary's report. The treasury report was given by Riley Walters. Nicholl called for nominations for a nominating committee and Joe Page, Mrs. R. E. Walters and Mrs. T. E. Ammons were chosen by acclamation.

Door prize was won by B. B. Altman. Page made an announcement that Mrs. E. C. Pulse is running for the district vice-president office.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Girl Scout Troop 80 and Rev. Loren Williams led the invocation.

The fifth grade class of Mrs. Floyd Pyeatts won the room count and will be honored with an ice cream party.

The next meeting will be conducted March 15 at 2:15 p.m.

ABWA Slates Annual Bosses Night Banquet

Pampa Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association will hold the third annual Bosses Night Banquet Tuesday in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn. George Newberry, business office manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., will be the guest speaker.

An impromptu style show will be conducted for entertainment.

Bosses will be guests of members who this year are selecting the honoree through letters of recommendation turned to a panel of judges.

Judges for the letter of introduction contest are: A. A. Schuneman, Mrs. Rufe Jordan, Mrs. Jack Foster, Floyd Watson and Aubrey Steele.

Mrs. Tony Smith is taking reservations and should be contacted before Friday, according to Miss Maxine Nabors, president.

The first "Boss of the Year Award" was presented Lou Troja, manager of Duhalp's in 1961. Last year's award was handed to Wallace Bruce, co-owner of Bruce and Son Transfer and Storage; and the 1962 award was presented to Hugh Peoples of Ideal Food Stores.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, another figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A feathered edge panel down each side of this girle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net, consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It feels like nothing on but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at:

IT IS A very rare thing, indeed, when the Ol' Swami and Leo the Lip Dromgoole, the Berger Beatnik, agree on anything. Our opposite number in Bulldogland hates all things Pampan and we reciprocate little love for Gene Mayfield and Company up the road. However, one thing the poison pen of the Magic Plains and the Swami share in common is a deep desire to promote and build up local baseball, especially our semipro and American Legion programs.

The Lip, equally enraged at the perfidiousness of the Liberal Bee-Jays in their dealings with the Tri-State League, has expressed himself fluently on the subject in a recent column. Here with we present the guest appearance of DRUMBEATS BY DROMGOOLE:

It's time the Tri-State Baseball League members in Texas stood up and talked back.

Liberal, the strong silent type ball club supposedly the kingpin of the league, has made gross errors in stating its position in the seven-team league for the coming season.

In a story printed in the Southwest Daily Times of Liberal, officials of the corporation that runs the Liberal Bee Jays made many rash and inaccurate statements.

In that same article, Carl Whitmer, president of the Bee Jays, announced the club's withdrawal from the Tri-State League, charging the league with weakness.

It boils down to the fact that Liberal feels Stinnett and Fritch should not be members of the league due to their growing pains which every club must undergo. Liberal voted "yes" for their acceptance.

In the article, Whitmer was accredited with saying the decision to withdraw from the league sprang from the fact that Woodward, Okla., is not planning on staying in the league and Amarillo hinted at the Jan. 16 league meeting that it might also withdraw.

Woodward will not withdraw. It's already out. Nobody wants that club in the league anyway. It's poorly run and has resorted to very poor public relations with its fans and other clubs.

Amarillo DID NOT hint to the league that it might withdraw. Woodward attended the meeting and looked up every bit of hogwash that came up. If anything, Amarillo is more for staying in the league than any other team. If Amarillo hinted, it was under the table.

"The duo objectives of the directors (of Liberal) is to bring the best possible baseball to Liberal for the enjoyment of the fans. We feel the (Tri-State) league is just too weak now to fulfill these goals," said Whitmer in the article.

I didn't see Liberal winning the Tri-State League championship last summer. Amarillo won it. Berger, Pampa and Spearman nearly beat the Bee Jays at least once. Berger did beat them. Even Fritch and Stinnett weren't completely outclassed.

W. A. Shufelberger, recently assigned secretary-treasurer of the Tri-State League and secretary of the Liberal Bee Jays, said in the article, "I was in favor of the withdrawal and voted for it." He added, "My biggest reason for wanting to drop out is that the league has almost decided to play all league games on Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon."

"That's another gross error. There has been no talk of such Saturday - Sunday league schedule by any of the club members. It's just another excuse by Liberal for dropping it."

Shufelberger would have ranked for a "better Tri - State league" at the Jan. 26 meeting. Spearman if someone had handed him a glass of brew, he even stood up and proclaimed each team must work for the league and not the league for the team. How two-faced can you get.

Liberal didn't have a representative outside Shufelberger at the Jan. 26 meeting and no one at the next meeting. The Bee Jays aren't even interested in the league. So I say good riddance.

Shufelberger also read a copy of a letter at that meeting in which he boasted that the Tri-State League was "stronger than ever."

Liberal says one thing at the meetings of the league and another at its own internal meetings. The Tri-State League doesn't need that kind of team officials.

Other members of the league have felt Liberal's withdrawal would hurt the league. The Bee Jays would hurt it more by staying in.

I believe the Tri-State League will be as strong as ever this summer without Liberal. Fritch and Stinnett are very hopeful of better seasons. At least those clubs try for a better league and don't stab you in the back.

Another thing (I'm wound up now). In discussing the Saturday-Sunday schedule, Shufelberger stated that "all of the (Liberal) players also have to hold down a full-time job."

I have it on good authority that that is basically untrue, too. Three of the 1963 Bee Jays told me on a trip to Liberal that they worked from 8 a.m. to "somewhere around 3 p.m." on a Bee Jay acquired job and then went home to rest or just generally loaf around.

Also, one of the Bee Jays told me he drew an hourly wage of $3.50 as a drayman, working four to six hours a day and sometimes being totally idle on game days.

Liberal shouldn't be in the Tri-State League. It has either outgrown the league or outbluffed it.

SWC Roundup

By United Press International
Texas A&M and Texas Tech kept their one-two rankings in the Southwest Conference basketball race, but found some rough-and - tumble low-standing opposition Tuesday night that wanted to unseat the kings.

The A&M squad was tied 17 times by Baylor before finally pulling a 77-71 victory from the fire at Waco. Bennie Lennox, the league's leading scorer, paced the victorious Aggies with 7 field goals and 13 of 14 free throws. The 27 counters gave him 206 points from A&M's 8-1 conference season.

Tech, in an evening scoring attack at Lubbock sparked by Dub Malaise's 30 points, dumped winless Texas Christian University 101-94. The Red Raiders hold a 7-2 record.

SMU Beats Defenders
Southern Methodist romped over Texas 82-66 at Dallas after breaking a 30-30 deadlock. The Ponies broke the game open in the second half behind the net shooting of 6-7 senior Gene Elmore who got 14 of his evening's 19 points during a 6-minute spree.

Rice, in a slow game at Houston, downed Arkansas 77-69 paced by Kendall Rhine's 15 points. Warren Vogel of the Razorbacks hit 18 for high-point honors.

SMU remained in contention for the loop crown with a 6-3 record, but Texas, using the same team that led the conference last year, dropped to a 5-4 season, along with Rice and Arkansas for fourth place.

Moore Was Missing
Baylor, just one game out of the cellar, gave the Aggies a hard fight without the services of Winston Moore, the Bears' leading scorer and rebounder who was out with a kidney ailment. Spence Carlson hit 28 for Baylor, but the Aggies did a slow pull-away in the last half that the Bears couldn't stand.

In other Texas college basketball Tuesday night, Abilene Christian downed Trinity 93-70 and Tarleton State beat Austin College 103-66.

St. Mary's invades St. Edward's and Texas Lutheran goes to Southwestern in tonight's action.

Finley Fighting Futilely With American League

CHICAGO (UPI) — Charles O. Finley will request other American League owners to approve his request to transfer the Kansas City Athletics to Oakland, Calif., despite a ruling that the subject will not be considered at a special meeting Friday.

"I intend to bring the matter up," Finley said. "I don't know whether they can refuse to act on it if it isn't on the agenda, but at least I can make them vote to show they won't consider it."

The Friday meeting was called to consider Finley's status in the league in view of his failure to comply with an order to sign a lease for Municipal Stadium in Kansas City, as directed by the American League last month.

Finley asked league President Joe Cronin Monday to enlarge the agenda for the meeting to include consideration of his application to move to Oakland. Cronin rejected his request Tuesday.

"I am not willing to grant your request," Cronin telegraphed.

"That's exactly what I expected from Joseph E. Cronin," Finley said.

Finley was uncertain whether Cronin had the by-laws behind him in refusing to authorize consideration of the application to move since he had requested approval of Oakland as the site of his franchise prior to Feb. 1, deadline for making such applications to move into open territory.

Finley had a brush with Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., and produced letters dated in 1962 to prove that he had offered to discuss the financial affairs of the Athletics with Long.

Long Tuesday requested the Senate sub-committee on anti-trust and monopoly to subpoena Finley and his books to determine whether there was "manipulation of stock" in his purchase of the club.

Simmons Issue Near End in High Court

By JOSEPH H. CARTER
MONTERREY, Mexico (UPI)—The Dykes A. Simmons Jr. murder conviction, a prickly issue in Mexican-U.S. relations, may be resolved this week by the Supreme Court of Mexico, reliable sources said.

Simmons, 35, of Fort Worth, was the first American ever sentenced to death in Mexico. He was convicted of the Oct. 12, 1959 slaying of three members of a prominent Monterrey family. Two firing squad executions have been stayed by appeals.

The "Last Resort" Court could allow the execution, commute the sentence or overturn the conviction.

Simmons, whose hair has turned from black to gray, has insisted he is innocent throughout four years and four months imprisonment — and there have been charges of police brutality.

There are 19 points of evidence that convicted Simmons. A legal source said many of them have been overruled.

The case once brought lynch mobs roaming the streets of this city 150 miles south of the border. But many citizens now believe Simmons is innocent. The state court ruled otherwise.

Fred A. Orleans of San Antonio, an attorney in both countries, said Simmons' case was one of "neglect." He entered the case without pay because of the threat to relations between the two countries.

"If our government," Orleans said, "is in a position of being afraid to offend—someone has to take interest."

"It hasn't been proven beyond a reasonable doubt that Simmons is guilty of the triple crime he was charged with and convicted," Orleans said.

Orleans said most of the points cited by the Nuevo Leon state court have been disproved or refuted, especially the most damaging.

The slayings occurred between Monterrey and Laredo. The victims were riding in a car driven by their brother, Dr. Raul Perez Villagomez, a Monterrey dentist. They were Martha, 21; Hilda, 18; and Juan, 14. The car developed trouble and the brother had gone for help when the slayings occurred.

Hilda, who lived several days after being shot five times said an American stopped and asked if he could help. He was unable to start the car. He offered the three a ride into town, but they refused. He became angry, pulled out a gun and started shooting.

The dying girl gave police a description of the killer's car. It was a 1958 Chevrolet like a friend recently had purchased, she said. (Simmons was driving a 1954 Oldsmobile.)

Simmons' father, a linotype operator for the Fort Worth Press, said the family had exhausted its money defending Dykes and could afford no more lawyers.

His defense was more than a family matter.

"The relations between two countries are much involved," Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., said recently. "If this man is allowed to die on this type of circumstantial evidence, many good works of peace and understanding by many men of good will could be instantly undone."

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—E. F. Hutton & Co. says "the outlook for the economy through 1964 continues to be good with certain factors being weighed in its favor by administration policies."

"These would include the implementation of the imminent tax reduction bill and the pattern of federal spending. As a forecast of things to come, the market may begin to discount this as the year grows older giving credence to the opinion that the popular averages could see their 1964 highs by June 30."

No one wants to go over the brink when a major turn in direction takes place. But since no one can say for sure where the brink is, or even if it exists at all, it might be more rewarding to seek out equity investments that provide a degree of insulation."

Colby & Co., Inc. says "With no serious top formation in the average price pattern as yet, we cannot do better than continue with our belief of last week that the Dow-Jones industrial average should continue the irregularly higher advance to about the 905-810 area before being interrupted by more than very minor setbacks."

Bradbury K. Thurlow of Winslow, Co. & Stetson continues to believe the current market will prove to be "nothing more than a temporary blowoff of speculative confidence."

Richard T. Leahy of J. W. Sparks & Co. says that despite the frothy action of several issues, the technical action of the market shows some cause for concern. The firm feels the 1 million share decline in daily average trading activity lessened considerably the favorable potential of the new record in the Dow-Jones industrial average and leads him to believe a retreat to the 755-760 area is in the making.

ALPINE, Tex. — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, 65, recalling the trip he and his 24-year-old wife took down a river on a rubber raft.

"Water was high and the falls were fine, but we had no trouble in the rapids. We went through just fine, and I am having a wonderful time."

RED CHINA'S RECOGNITION—If one more nation—it could be Portugal—recognizes Red China, it will make a total of 50. In addition to France, countries that now recognize Red China, shown on Newsmap in black, are: Afghanistan, Albania, Algeria, Bulgaria, Burma, Burundi, Cambodia, Ceylon, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, East Germany, Finland, Ghana, Guinea, Hungary, Indonesia, Iraq, Israel, Kenya, Laos, Mali, Mongolia, Morocco, Nepal, Netherlands, Nigeria, North Korea, North Viet Nam, Norway, Pakistan, Poland, Romania, Sierra Leone, Somalia, Sudan, Sweden, Switzerland, Syria, Tanganyika, Tunisia, Uganda, U.S.S.R., U.A.R., United Kingdom, Yemen and Yugoslavia and India.

LAW FOR WOMEN

APPLETON, Wis. (UPI)—Attorney Abraham Sigman has filed a brief in behalf of a female client claiming that arresting women for traffic violations is illegal.

He cited a 105 year old state law which he said makes it illegal to arrest the fairer sex "in an action to recover a fine or penalty."

Sigman filed the brief to get dismissal of a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol against his client, Mrs. Dorothy J. Jarchow, 51, of Appleton.

NEW VOCAL GROUP

LONDON (UPI)—The latest pop vocal and guitar instrumental group to hit the scene in Britain are the Snobs, who go on stage wearing 17th century-style clothes and white powdered wigs.

They have a butler, who hands them snuff, Napoleon brandy and their guitars on stage.
