

CALIFORNIA TOWN DESTROYED

Guardsmen Patrol Coastal City

CRESCENT CITY, Calif. (UPI)—Police and armed reserves patrolled this devastated coastal town today to prevent looting in stores and homes shattered by quake-spawned tidal waves. Three looters were arrested Sunday.

Crescent City, hardest hit of the coastal cities below Alaska, counted at least 10 persons dead, including an infant, and 15 persons missing and feared swept out to sea after Friday's Alaskan earthquake sent four waves booming against the coast.

Wreckage was strewn along the coastline as far south as San Diego, Calif.

Shock waves traveling round the world sent six-foot waves surging onto the Texas and Louisiana coasts.

Damage in the millions of dollars was reported along the Washington, Oregon and California coasts.

Three Children Die

Three children were swept out to sea when a wave swept them off a beach at Depoe Bay, Ore. Another was drowned on the beach.

All were the children of McKenzie of Tacoma, Wash. The Coast Guard said it would start a search today for the missing children, Louis, 8, Bobby, 7, and Tammy, 3.

Air Force Sgt. Donald McClure, 33, of Akron, Ohio, was drowned when a wave flipped him off the beach at Klamath, Calif.

Small boats, fishing docks, piers and other coastal installations were splintered by waves that soared in diminishing heights from 50 feet along the Alaska coast to five and six feet far south in California.

The four waves that hit Crescent City, a town of 3,000, came Saturday in a series of varying heights from five to 10 feet.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN CRESCENT CITY: Martial law was declared in Crescent City after a tidal wave, the result of the great earthquake that hit the Alaska area, destroyed 150 businesses and killed at least 11 persons. Homes were literally laid one on top of the other from the force of the rushing waters.

Doctors Express Grave Concern for MacArthur

Complications Threaten General After Third Major Operation Ends

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, fighting to recover from his third major operation this month, developed new complications — kidney trouble and inter-embolizing and officials said it was a "matter of grave concern."

In a medical bulletin issued this morning, a hospital spokesman said there had been a "decreased kidney action last evening" and "this is a matter of grave concern."

"Unfortunately there has been a recurrence of internal bleeding from the esophagus," the spokesman said.

The aging general underwent emergency surgery Sunday for removal of a portion of his intestine.

It was his third operation this month. His second operation last Monday was performed to stop hemorrhaging in his esophagus—the tube carrying food from the mouth to the stomach.

One good sign doctors noted this morning, however, was stabilizing blood pressure and pulse.

The five-star general was reported to have gained and lost consciousness periodically during the day and night. His wife, Jean, visited him several times Sunday but it was not known whether he talked with her.

MacArthur suffered his latest medical setback when surgeons found it necessary to remove eight feet of his lower intestine to relieve a sudden flareup of an old hernia condition.

The surgery was performed only six days after MacArthur's spleen had been removed in a six-hour emergency operation last Monday to stop heavy internal bleeding.

MacArthur first underwent surgery on March 6, shortly after he entered Walter Reed, for removal of his gall bladder and gall stones to alleviate a jaundice condition.

LBJ Joins In Prayer For Alaska

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson spent a ranchman's holiday Sunday, breezing through the wide-open spaces, but also prayed for victims of the death-dealing earthquake in Alaska and watched with concern the condition of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The President was in an easygoing, expansive mood this weekend as he whizzed along through the countryside surrounding his 475 acres in his white Lincoln Continental.

On Saturday, he gave a few tours for newsmen who attended another one of his surprise press conferences, this time in his ranch house study. Porudly, he pointed out the sights as he drove.

He was expected to return to Washington Tuesday or Wednesday.

Johnson had been receiving reports on the Alaska situation from his representative there, Director Edward A. McDermott of the Office of Emergency Planning (OEP).

The Texas White House said Sunday McDermott had told the President the morale of Alaskans in Anchorage was "rather high" and the civilians "were proceeding quite efficiently to try to get things reorganized."

Johnson and his wife, Lady Bird, joined in prayer for the Alaska earthquake victims at Eastern services at Fredericksburg, Tex., about 15 miles from their LBJ Ranch.

The Johnsons went to the tiny, century-old St. Barnabas Episcopal Mission Church for the 9 a.m. service, where the Rev. J. W. Langford, of Comfort, Tex., uttered the prayer for Alaskans "who are in the midst of trial, tribulation and grieving."

Johnson awaited further reports from McDermott and other officials in order to determine what more the federal government can do to help with money and other assistance.

ANCHORAGE DIGS OUT: Demolished house (foreground) is inspected by GI on patrol duty (center-foreground). This house and others located on Turnagain Arm, near Anchorage, Alaska, were almost totally demolished. President Johnson declared the area a major disaster sector and economic aid was immediately sped into the state.

Thief Uses Police Chief As 'Fence'

Police today were trying to track down a burglar who had the audacity to toss part of his loot into a trash barrel at the home of Police Chief Jim Conner, 1165 Neel Rd.

A call was received from Ernest C. Pulse, 1153 Neel Rd., at 6 a.m. today reporting that someone had entered the house after the family had retired at 11 p.m.

Pulse told police the house was ransacked and that a billfold was taken from a table in a bedroom. It contained $268, he said. The burglar also took $1.70 another bedroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Pulse, their children and a dog slept through it all, Pulse said.

The burglary was not discovered until shortly before 6 a.m. when the back door was found to have been forced open after a hole had been cut in a screen and a night chain on the door had been jerked from the door.

Patrolmen Charles LeFever and C. L. Wallace investigated the burglary and the billfold from which the $268 had been removed was discovered in a trash barrel at the rear of Chief

Redistricting Court Bout Reaches End

HOUSTON (UPI)—The wind-up of a court fight by Texas to postpone a federal court order to redraw congressional districts was scheduled to begin today — with a promise from Gov. John Connally in the record.

The Governor wrote the special three-judge court Saturday and promised to do all he can to make the redistricting issue a top-priority item on the next legislative agenda if a delay is granted until after this year's elections.

The state appealed the ruling to the same special three-judge court that declared Texas congressional districts unconstitutional last November.

Not Fair Share

The court ruled that present districts do not give a fair share of the state's voice in the house of representatives to heavily-populated city areas. It ordered the state to set up new boundaries, or have all candidates for congress run for office on a state-wide basis.

Final arguments were expected to begin Monday afternoon. U.S. Circuit Judge John Brown said the arguments will carry the most weight, and he expects the court to rule soon after they are concluded.

The state fought the court's original decision to the U.S. Supreme Court, which upheld the lower court ruling. However, the high court left the door open to the state to ask for a postponement.

The state argued that redrawing congressional districts, or holding at-large elections, would be too complicated and expensive, since the election year is already underway.

Death Toll Nears 63; Martial Law Set-up

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—Pioneer-spirited Alaskans, undaunted by still another damaging earthquake, today began rebuilding shattered towns and cities, searched for more victims of Friday's quake and braced for more shocks to come.

Martial law was declared in paralyzed Kodiak. National Guardsmen turned out with bayonet-tipped rifles to prevent looting in several towns.

At least 63 persons were known dead with the possibility that scores of Aleut natives may have been killed. Federal authorities after aerial surveys and on-the-scene checks said the total of known dead and missing in Alaska numbered 88.

Another 10 persons were dead and 15 missing in Crescent City, Calif., battered by four tidal waves from the Good Friday quake. Three children were missing, one dead, from a family trapped by a wave at Depoe Bay, Ore.

Quake Strikes Aleutians

A rolling, shuddering quake almost as severe as Good Friday's killer tremor struck late Sunday in the extreme southwest of the foggy, remote Aleutian Islands.

Amateur radio reports from an unidentified military base at the tip of the islands reported widespread damage to the base. Radio towers toppled and an airport runway crumbled. But initial reports said there were no known casualties.

The Alaskan Military Command warned residents of the 49th state they could expect aftershock tremors for another week.

As technicians and mechanics arrived to restore services, rescue units and medical teams fanned out through the 900-mile coastal arc ripped by more than 10 million times the force of an atomic bomb to minister to the injured and prevent typhoid epidemics.

Food kitchens fed the homeless and even bowling alleys were turned into hotels to shelter them from the 12-degree cold. There were 2,000 homeless in Anchorage alone.

Tremendous Economic Impact

Damage estimates ranged from $500 million by Edward McDermott, director of President Johnson's Office of Emergency Planning, to more than $850 million by state authorities. Damage to office buildings alone in Anchorage was in the tens of millions of dollars.

The quake caused "a tremendous setback to the economy, according to Abe Romick, the Alaskan economy had been shaky even before the quake."

Kodiak and Seward appeared to have been hardest hit by the wrenching upheaval. Planes flew 50 Seabees from Point Mugu, Calif., to Kodiak, joining 102 sent there Sunday.

A tidal wave hurled fishing boats into the heart of towns on Kodiak Island. Entire coastal villages were smashed. A helicopter pilot reported sighting seven bodies floating offshore.

The new quake Sunday night registered almost 7 on the Richter quake scale—compared with 8.5 for the Friday tremor.

Officials said they doubted any new danger from tidal waves. Technically, such waves are seismic, not caused by tides, despite the commonly accepted description of them.

Drive Workers Resume Efforts

A coffee meeting at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the Starlight Room West of the Coronado Inn will kick-off the second phase of the current Pampa Industrial Foundation drive to raise $200,000.

All team captains in both the Advance and General Investments campaigns are urged to be present along with all workers for the two-pronged drive.

Astronaut Calls Move 'Most Regretful'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Astronaut emeritus John H. Glenn Jr., sick and discouraged, today withdrew from the U.S. Senate race in Ohio.

Glenn, showing all of his 42 years, said he was calling a halt to his political plans on the recommendation of doctors who advised "that I discontinue any plans for activities for at least the next several months."

Glenn read a statement, which he described as "most regretful" as he lay flat on his back in bed—where he had been since Feb. 26, when he suffered a severe head injury when he slipped in the bathroom at his home in Columbus, Ohio.

Illness Cancels Glenn's Senate Campaign

Glenn announced his withdrawal at a news conference in Wilford Hall Hospital at Lackland Air Force Base.

The veteran spaceman, obviously disappointed, said he would send a telegram immediately to Ohio Secretary of State Ted Brown asking that his name be removed from the ballot for the May 3 Democratic primary.

Glenn said he felt there was no chance that he would be nominated either as a result of his name being left on the ballot or by a write-in vote.

"It seems to me that, once I have withdrawn, that's that," he said.

He said he did not know what his future plans will be, but he left open the possibility that he may re-enter politics in the future.

Doctors Discouraging

Glenn based his political resignation on a discouraging medical report from his doctors in San Antonio over the weekend.

"These tests have led to the conclusion that the conditions causing my difficulties will probably not be resolved for at least a couple of months," Glenn said.

"Doctors have advised that carrying on in a work status only aggravates the condition and can delay recovery, with the possibility that such agitation could develop into a chronic situation from which recovery might be more difficult."

Glenn said the doctors had recommended that he plan no activities for the next several months.

With a wry grin, he described his accident, in which he slipped on a bathroom throw rug while trying to hang a mirror, as "a little incongruous."

"After all the things I have been through—flight training, two wars, jet flying, space flight—to get hurt like this is hard to believe," he said.

"WIDE OPEN" RACE
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., chairman of the Senate GOP Campaign Committee, said Sunday the New Hampshire primary had thrown his party's presidential race "wide open."

Morton, appearing on a television-radio program with Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., also said he thought Gov. William S. Scranton of Pennsylvania was getting into "a very favorable position" for the GOP nomination without actually seeking it.

Pre-Arranged Services Featured at Gardens

It is an important husband-and-wife decision that they make certain of their memorial estate together before the real need arises. This way they can get exactly what they want. No guessing. No worrying. No regrets.

The best time to select a family memorial space is when it is not needed. Thus the family can look, compare and act unhurriedly. The husband and wife together do the choosing, ask the questions they want answered, leave no question marks to the future. They can buy when all the advantages of low prices and easy terms are on their side.

Hoyt Haynie of Memorial Gardens said the people should think twice before accepting "subtle" memorial space from in-laws or others. Ownership in another's name often leads to legal complications, mistakes and embarrassment. Ownership that you control guarantees side-by-side resting places for you and yours, privacy, conveniences, access at all times, and respect for your wishes.

Pre-arranged memorial service is like money in the bank. You buy at today's low prices, and like any other property of which the supply is limited while the demand is continuous, prices are bound to increase. Buy your family memorial property now and save the difference.

Another advantage is that by selecting long before the need, there is ample opportunity to get the best of the many preferred locations Memory Gardens offer. Thus you make sure that your resting place will be just where you want it and not stuck away in some corner available at the moment of need.

Haynie suggests that you call him now at MO 4-8921 and discuss this matter with him. They offer convenient payment plans for your benefit, and the family is protected from the moment a small down payment is made. A decision such as this will bring you peace of mind, not only to yourself but to your loved ones, to free those dear to you from the haunting fear of unpreparedness on a day that comes without warning.

The deed to memorial space is as indispensable to your family's security program as your insurance policy, your savings and your will.

Wade Predicts No New Trial

DALLAS (UPI)—Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said Saturday he does not believe Jack Ruby's new chief lawyer, Dr. Hubert Winston Smith, will be able to get a reversal of the murder conviction.

"He's already talking like he's got a new trial," Wade said, "and he hasn't gotten the conviction reversed."

"And in my opinion he won't," Wade added.

Dear Abby... Tell Uncle Joe His Boat Isn't Empty

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My father-in-law celebrates his birthday on February 22nd. He was born in the old country and either they didn't figure time the way we do or else his birth records were lost but, anyway, I am sure he chose that date himself because it was Washington's birthday and he wanted to share in the honor. We always have a cake and sing "Happy Birthday" and make a big occasion of it. All of a sudden an elderly aunt of his from Elmira, N. Y., turned up and when she saw this birthday celebration for Papa Joe she loudly announced that he was born in the summer! He was so embarrassed, it spoiled the party. I think she owes Papa Joe an apology (he's been very quiet since then). Should I suggest it?

BEA IN BROOKLYN
DEAR BEA: You could suggest it, but anyone as insensitive to the feelings of others as Auntie from Elmira appears to be, would either refuse, or do it without conviction. The damage is done. But tell Papa Joe I know lots of wonderful people in his boat. I have an uncle who picked Christmas!

DEAR ABBY: I am sorry but I have to disagree with you about men in uniform. You said they were okay. Well, a few years back I would have said they were okay, too, but I learned my lesson.

My father never approved of any of his daughters going out with men in uniform. (There were six of us girls.) We thought it was kind of peculiar because Papa had been in the Navy himself for three years. Anyway, I met this hot shot Air Force guy and I went for him in a big way. He acted the perfect gentleman. I sneaked off to date him. And, sure enough, the minute he got out of uniform he was no gentleman.

FLO FROM RICHMOND
DEAR FLO: He should have kept his uniform on.

DEAR ABBY: My husband

Quake

Casualties included 31 known dead at Valdez, 11 at Kodiak, 12 in Anchorage, eight in Seward and one at Whittier.

This was the scene at major points of devastation: Anchorage: A city of 100,000. Most downtown office buildings ruined or severely damaged.

One store sunk so far in a fissure only its roof showed on the buckled street level. The modern residential community of Turnagain a shambles, homes carried off their foundations by a massive slide.

Seward: A town of 2,000. In the words of presidential aide McDermott: "Awful, awful." Smoke still rose from the blackened remains of a dozen waterfront oil storage tanks.

The shoreline looked as though it had been bombed. About 50 freight cars lay scattered like a child's toy trains, twisted track roping into the sea.

Kodiak: A town of 2,600 on an island. Its famed crab and salmon canneries shattered, power cut off. Buildings from the town floating as far as two miles at sea. Aleut native villages on Kodiak Island cleared of residents.

Illiteracy is practically unknown in Ireland.

Harvesters Stay On Visiting Trail

The Pampa Harvesters stayed on the baseball trail this afternoon as they travelled to Clovis, N. Mex., for a doubleheader. Coach Ray Howard, attempting to get in as many games as possible to replace those "frozen out" by cold weather, will take the diamondmen to Shattuck, Okla., Wednesday afternoon and to Border Friday, and is attempting to book another game, preferably at home, for Saturday.

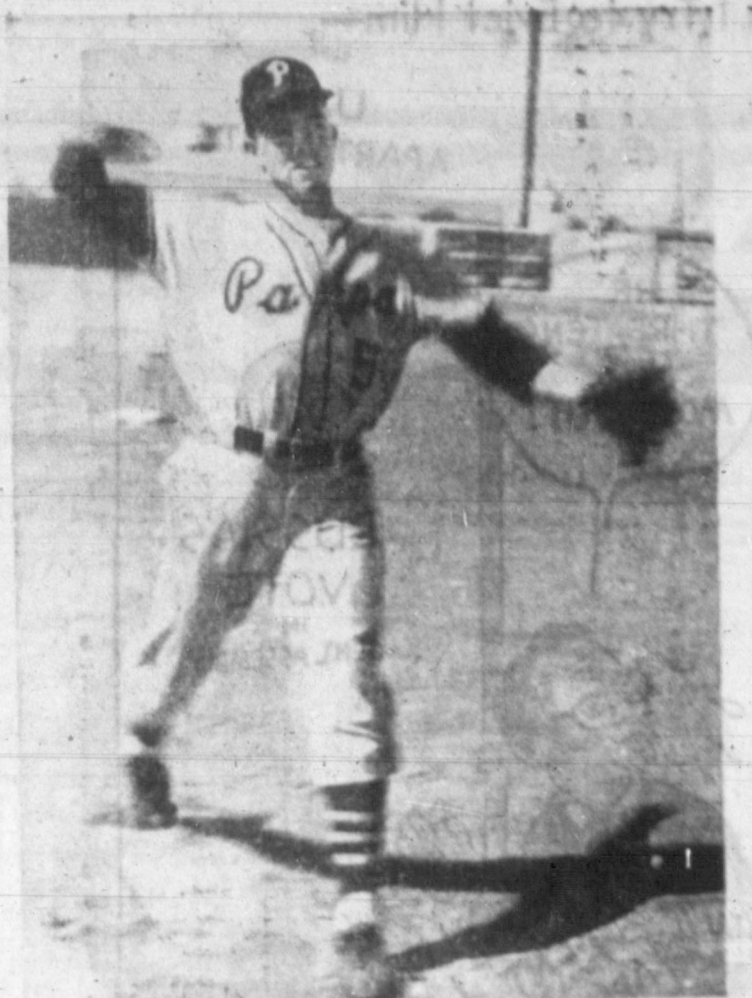

Howard reported that this weekend's split at Hereford had given him a pretty definite idea of the way the team will shape up for loop play. "I'm very satisfied with our hitting," he said. "We got 18 hits out of 12 boys and about 10 more were hard line drives which were caught."

"Our fielding still needs work," said Howard, "but it looks as if Kenny Hebert will take over shortstop. He looked real good there, and with his line arm, we don't have to worry about a cutoff man." The all-district centerfielder had played shortstop and third base through most of his career until moved to the outfield to strengthen it.

"We may have to do some shifting around in the outfield accordingly until Ricky Maynard comes back," said the blond baseball boss. "Eugene Madrid will take centerfield and Ricky Goodwin will stay in right. Right now, it looks as if pitchers Jim Arthur and Jerry Garrison will have to alternate in left. Both have played outfield and both can hit the ball. We'll try some of the infielders out there too, especially Kyle Vann."

Howard was pleased with the way the pitching is shaping up. "Bobby Price is as good as anyone around for four or five innings. I think he can learn to pace himself and be a starting pitcher. Jerry Garrison has looked real good in his last two games, just fine. Ronnie Curlee has been wild, but he has the stuff. If he can settle down, he will make either a starter or a first-line reliever. Carl Harnsberger also has had control problems, but he has good stuff and speed. I think he'll come around Jim Arthur? Well, Jim is the boy we want out there when the pressure is on. . . . That ought to tell you what we think of him."

Howard also was pleased with the development of two sophomore receivers, Roy Harper and Larry Daniels. "They both appear capable of helping Larry Gregory in doubleheaders and on the long haul. Knowing we have capable relief catchers, even with Maynard out, means we don't need to work Rick Stewart there and he can concentrate on second base. I think we're going to come around real well."

TOMMY LINDSEY, a Berger refugee and now a transplanted Pampa, was home for the Easter holidays, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lige Lindsey, who now live in Pampa.

Tommy, a University of Oklahoma baseball player, is off to a tremendous start this season, batting .409 for the first six games of the season. Lindsey was an all-district hurler and shortstop at Berger, and went on to Sul Ross State for a year, then transferring to Soonerland.

Local fans will remember him not only for the damage he did to the Harvesters in high school, but the havoc he wreaked on Pampa Colt pitchers this past summer in the Tri-State League. Again playing for (pardon the expression) Berger, Tommy led the team in hitting and was one of the outstanding players in the NBC district tournament.

Last year, Tommy was a utility infielder at Soonerville, but has apparently clinched the hot corner for himself this year. Tom Glover, skipper of the Colts, is hoping that Tommy will decide to become loyal to his new home and play for the Colts this summer, as shortstop Bobby Nutt is armly-bound.

Tommy reports that several other Tri-State Leaguers are doing well for OU. Catcher Carl Shreiner, who played for both Pampa and Liberal, is belting the ball at his usual pace, with a home run in the opening game against Baylor and several good hits against the University of New Mexico (ah, there, Bill Power!).

Lynn Overton, Tommy's roommate, will be remembered as the left-handed hurler who threw a shutout against the Colts in the opening game of last season. Lynn has seen action in only one game thus far, a relief chore.

Tommy rates the conference baseball race as a tossup between OU and Missouri again, with the team that wins two of three probably getting the marbles, although Kansas will be a very strong threat to break up the dual monopoly.

SPEAKING OF PITCHERS: Jerry Glover, Pampa's outstanding baseball player of last year, made an excellent (you can't beat it) debut in college, pitching a no-hitter for Amarillo College as they stomped the Alumni, 10-0. Large congratulations.

Senate Probes Carbo

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate investigators hinted of surprise developments today in their inquiry into possible links between convicted fight racketeer Frankie Carbo and the camps of both Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston.

The antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, headed by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., planned to resume hearings on the Liston-Clay title fight by questioning three more members of Liston's promotional syndicate.

They were Robert Nilon, Chester, Pa., executive vice president of Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc., and brother of Liston's "adviser"; Sam Margolis, Philadelphia vending machine operator and a stockholder in the syndicate; and Salvatore Avena of Camden, N.J., a director of Inter-Continental. Liston is president of the syndicate.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., a subcommittee member, demanded Saturday that the group dig into a March 19, 1958, meeting here of Carbo and a group of lieutenants that included Margolis and Angelo Dundee, Clay's trainer for the Miami Beach fight last month in which Clay won Liston's world heavyweight crown.

Keating said the 1958 meeting, which was disclosed at 1960 boxing hearings of the antitrust subcommittee, might be termed "boxing's Apalachin conference." He referred to the notorious meeting of underworld overlords which state police surprised near Apalachin, N.Y., several years ago.

Carbo, a longtime underworld link to boxing, is now serving a prison sentence for extortion. A key associate, Frank (Blinky) Palermo of Philadelphia, also was indicted, but not convicted. Palermo also attended the 1958 meeting, subcommittee records show.

Besselink Sticks In Azalea Open

WILMINGTON, N.C. (UPI)—"Golf is a tough game," says Al Besselink, "and it's harder to play when you're in the lead."

He should know. For two days now, he's had the lead in the $20,000 Azalea Open and with $2,700 in top prize money at stake, he went into today's final round with the pressure at its peak.

The 39-year-old pro from Merchantville, N.J., shot a par 72 over the windy Cape Fear Country Club course Sunday which gave him a 54-hole total of 207—nine under par and just two strokes over first round leader Joe Campbell of Perdido Bay, Fla.

Also pressing the leader were Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif., and Larry Mowry of Portland, Ore., with third rounds 216.

NCAA Swim Results Give Olympic Boost

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—The 1964 National Collegiate Athletic Association swimming and diving championships not only set a record for records but have given U.S. Olympic officials reason to hope for a flood of Yankee swimming gold medals at Tokyo this October.

With such talent as Roy Saari and Bill Craig of champion Southern California and Steve Clark of Yale setting the pace, new records were set in all 13 swimming events in the three-day meet for the first time in history and 15 new meet marks were established for the first time since 1929.

The cream of the Olympic crop will be scooped from the top three teams in the meet—Southern California, Indiana, the upset favorite, and Yale—which made a runaway of the team race.

Heading the list should be Saari, a sophomore who established three new records, sophomore teammate Craig who set two standards and Clark, who also eclipsed two records.

Southern California, which had gone into the final day trailing Indiana by five points and Yale by three, totaled 95 points to 91 for Indiana and 87 for Yale.

Saturday's winners included Saari in the 1,650-yard freestyle (16:49.5), Craig in the 100-yard breaststroke (0:59.9), Bob Bennett of Southern California in the 100-yard backstroke (0:53.1), Clark in the 100-yard freestyle (0:46.3), Wally Richardson of Minnesota in the 100-yard butterfly (0:50.2), Randy Larson of Ohio State in the three-meter dive and Yale in the relay (3:07.7).

LONDON (UPI)—Cambridge led from start to finish to defeat Oxford in their 110th varsity boat race.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—Southern California won the NCAA swimming and diving championships.

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI)—Bill Crothers of Canada retained his AAA title and broke the United Kingdom 600-yard indoor record with a clocking of one minute and 10 seconds.

READING, Pa. (UPI)—A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., won the 30-lap sprint car spring sweepstakes at the Reading fair grounds.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Bob Fenn and Edith Johnson won the senior titles Sunday in the first U.S. Open indoor speed skating championships.

Fenn, 20, of Flushing Meadows, N.Y., scored 20 points out of a possible 25. Miss Johnson, 19, of Buffalo, recorded a perfect score of 20 in the women's division.

Major League Roundup

By SANDY PADWE
 UPI Sports Writer

The tension and anxiety over Mickey Mantle's physical condition have eased a bit for the New York Yankees.

The powerful centerfielder hit two home runs which carried the Yankees to a 6-4 victory over Cincinnati, Sunday but the final score wasn't the most important development of the day for the American League champions.

Mantle's health has been the top question in the Yankee camp this spring and his performance Sunday in Tampa, Fla., showed he is progressing fairly well after an off-season knee operation.

Both home runs came from the righthand side and they accounted for three Yankee runs. Now the big questions will be what affect the operation has on his field and his swing from the lefthand side.

Mantle's homers were two of 10 hits the Yankees collected off Joe Nuxhall and Al Worthington. Bill Stafford, Steve Hamilton, Hal Reniff and Jack Cullen pitched for New York and allowed Cincinnati nine hits, including three by shortstop Leo Cardenas.

Mantle wasn't the only star in Florida Sunday. Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers became the first pitcher in either league to go nine innings, but he lost his third straight exhibition decision. He has one victory.

Koufax lost to the Minnesota Twins, 3-1, despite allowing five hits and striking out seven. A two-run homer by Jimmie Hall was the big blow off Koufax.

Outfielder Wolie Horton continued his sensational spring showing for the Detroit Tigers Sunday, hitting home runs in both games as the Tigers swept a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 2-1 and 3-0.

Horton's home run in the opener came in the ninth inning

The Cincinnati Royals have earned the chance they've been waiting for, and tonight St. Louis and Los Angeles meet for a similar prize.

The Royals defeated the Philadelphia 76ers, 130-124, Sunday night to advance into the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division finals against the world champion Boston Celtics.

The Hawks and Lakers, deadlocked at two games apiece, will meet at St. Louis tonight to determine who will meet San Francisco in the Western Division finals.

The Royals didn't have an easy time with the injury-plagued 76ers in the fifth game of their series at Cincinnati.

The 76ers, with Lee Shaffer, Larry Costello and Dave Gambee, playing minor roles due to injuries, managed to stay close to Cincinnati all evening, but in the end, Oscar Robertson was the big difference.

He connected on all nine of his field goal attempts in the second half after being held to just six points in the first two periods.

Congress Grinds Out Money Bills

By BRUCE BISSAT WASHINGTON (NEA) — Congress is working hard this year at getting a new image for itself. The best evidence is the way it is shoving the big money bills along.

Most of the lawmakers were pretty unhappy over the endless volleys of criticism which came their way in 1963. These added up to saying they either would not or could not take care of the people's business within reasonable bounds of time.

There is no sign of real reform on the 1964 horizon. But, at least in the appropriations field, there is a sharp change of mood and a new sense of purpose.

Two appropriations bills, governing the Interior Department and the District of Columbia, already have been banged out of the House Appropriations Committee.

Four other major money bills, including the one for defense, are nearing this stage and should be ready for reporting soon after the Easter recess.

House committee officials say this first wave of appropriations measures is right on schedule — a very tight schedule that, hopefully, would bring out the last bill, on foreign aid, by June 5.

A seemingly stiff schedule is being kept thus far in the Senate. There, of course, the natural threat to a steady pace is the prospect of a protracted civil rights debate.

Should the 1964 schedules somehow be maintained, both houses might sweep the boards clean of appropriations bills by the time Republicans gather in San Francisco July 13 for their national convention.

Says a Senate official wistfully: "We might get a summer vacation for the first time in years."

Last year the final money measures did not clear Congress until Dec. 19 and 21. For a time it appeared they would go over into 1964.

June 30 is supposed to be the deadline for these bills, since the new fiscal year starts July 1 and the money should be available then. Congress has not met that deadline for years. But the delays of 1963 were the final embarrassment.

When critics shouted that Congress had become a "roadblock to needed legislation," some legislators simply hollered back that they were under no compulsion to pass administration proposals they considered bad for the country.

Yet they could not explain delays of three to six months in accomplishing what is supposed to be routine business — providing government with the money to run.

Smarting under well-deserved censure on this score, key lawmakers determinedly set out to make 1964 a new ball game.

President Johnson gained much public credit for applying financial spurs to Congress as the new year dawned. House sources say, however, that men on the Hill let him know in advance that they wanted it this way.

The 1963 stretch — out did, in the end, produce a $6.5 billion slash below the late President Kennedy's last budget estimates. The cut was not wholly realistic. Some of that money will be restored in the pending $2.2 billion supplemental appropriation bill.

House appropriations experts began this year by slicing $24.5 million off Interior Department budget estimates for 1965. But Congress will be hard pressed to match its 1963 cuts. That $6.5 billion figure has been equalled or surpassed only twice in history.

Allen-Scott Report That Plane Downed in East Germany Was Lured Off Course by Soviet Jamming, AF Intelligence Believes

WASHINGTON — The unarmed RB-66 reconnaissance plane blasted out of the air over East Germany was deliberately lured off its course and to destruction by the Russians.

That's the sensational conclusion of an Air Force intelligence analysis that has been suppressed at State Department insistence.

The startling report indicates the unarmed U.S. plane was diverted from its course by a Soviet jamming device that blacked out the navigational equipment of the RB-66.

This "pied-piper" jamming device, as it has been labeled by Air Force specialists, is described as capable of "substituting" a radar beam for signals being received by a plane from a ground-to-air navigational system — in this instance the U.S. system that was guiding the ill-fated RB-66.

According to the Air Force study, these "pied-piper" jamming devices line the three Allied air corridors to West Berlin, and are located at strategic points along the borders of East and West Germany.

The existence of this sinister Soviet radar jamming device has long been suspected. But the first definite clue was uncovered in Japan.

This revealing incident was as follows: As a large Soviet plane carrying a diplomatic mission neared Japan, U.S. interceptors based there approached to escort the Red craft. The U.S. planes "locked" their radar on the Russian ship.

To their astonishment, their "lock" was promptly "unlocked." This amazing radar disengagement occurred three times in less than 150 miles.

The unpublished Air Force report attributes the loss of the RB-66 over East Germany to the same Soviet radar jamming device. As deduced by air experts, following is what happened:

The navigational radar of the U.S. reconnaissance plane was deliberately blacked out and a Russian signal substituted — during the RB-66 off course deep into East Germany where it was shot down by MIG interceptors. It is assumed the latter already were airborne and waiting for the unarmed U.S. plane.

Congressional authorities are quietly checking on information that has come to them that in the closely guarded negotiations on the release of the three U.S. airmen, Moscow demanded that no public charge be made they were lured off course.

Also, that the U.S. apologize for the plane "straying" over East Germany, and officially affirm it had not been on a "military reconnaissance mission."

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON TYRANNY VIA "CIVIL RIGHTS BILL"

The "Civil Rights" bill attributes and assigns almost all wisdom, virtue, power and penalty to the federal government.

It is a dictatorship over every depositor and borrower from every bank, over every farmer who employs a laborer or gets a government check, over every store, restaurant or roadside stand which pays a license tax.

Every farm organization would be taken over the same way. It gives all agencies administering federal programs authority to withhold, restrict or deny participation therein to anybody who "discriminates."

Control over registration qualifications and voting of all citizens in all elections, including primaries, is transferred from local officials to federally appointed "rioting referees."

I have always believed in the 15th Amendment, that "the right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude."

I have never believed in a poll tax. I believe in an intelligence test as a prerequisite to voting. Only informed citizens should be allowed to vote. And all informed citizens should vote.

Communists Promoted In his book, Color, Communism and Common Sense, the great Negro ex-Communist-turned-patriot, Manning Johnson, reveals how the Communists have failed to reach the Negro through various suckers, changed their tactics to the religious approach, by infiltrating Negro churches. Thousands of Negroes have been trained in communist training schools to become revolutionaries while posing as teachers, preachers and politicians.

In addition to NAACP and Communists, one of the most persistent promoters of the "Civil Rights" bill is the National Council of Churches. Supported by most of the major Protestant denominations, the N.C.C. also supports American disarmament, admission of Red China to the United Nations, the "Freedom March" on Washington, abolishment of loyalty-security laws, increased foreign aid to Communists, unrestricted immigration, reconstruction of Christianity on the basis of scientific materialism and other goals of the Communist Party, U.S.A.

Induced Hypocrisy Gentlefolk, since free civilization Churchill. The other lawyer-wife is Mrs. George Reedy, graduate of Fordham Law School, and while she doesn't practice law, she still has a keen legalistic outlook. Mrs. Ely M. Peterson, assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee, is considering running against Michigan's Democratic Senator Philip Hart. An astute politician, Mrs. Peterson is being strongly urged by Michigan and other Republican leaders to undertake the campaign.

SOCIALISTIC

Editor: I have just been studying the National Congress of Parents and Teachers Legislation Program which the state PTAs are to consider for ratification this year. I am astonished that so many socialistic proposals could be wrapped up in three short pages of fine print.

The top brass in PTA wants federal legislation and federal funds for the following things: (1) for all educational requirements for elementary and secondary public schools and tax supported colleges; (2) for setting up a United States Office of Education as a separate agency of government; (3) for child life research; (4) for expanded public health services for all children and youth and maternal and child health services; (5) for juvenile protection and safety; (6) for extending public library services to all people; (7) for complete inspection and control of all food, drug, and cosmetic establishments; (8) and (notice this) for "equalization of education, recreation and health services for children and youth... in rural areas and in densely populated urban areas", also for migrant families (now who else and what else is there?).

Could a group of avowed socialists draw a better blueprint for accomplishing their aims? To make the picture complete, the National PTA would help the Pentagon plan national defense strategy. It would also continue to support the United Nations and its agencies — UNICEF, UNESCO, WHO, TAO and FAO.

One thing that frightens me about this document is that even though it covers just about the whole field of possible legislation, it is worded so that on first reading it offends no one; on the contrary it appeals to the humanitarian instinct of those who would like to see a better world. All PTA members would like that, but perhaps not at the expense of our freedom.

For example, the National PTA Legislation Program starts out with ideas which all can agree with, like maximum local control and channeling federal funds through state agencies. Then it states its case for the whole field of Federal Aid to Education this way, "In order that the free public school system be maintained and strengthened, federal funds for education must be appropriated for publicly controlled, tax-supported schools only, for the purpose of increasing educational opportunity and services among the states..."

The words "publicly controlled, tax-supported schools only" are in dark print as they have never forced their company on others. The fact is that most American whites are not going to accept Negroes without prejudice no matter what the politicians decree. Regardless of "the land," they will continue to select their own friends, neighbors, schoolmates, employees and customers. Thus the United States will become a nation of hypocrites and lawbreakers, which will result in unlimited regimentation and harassment by bureaucrats and other federal fungi.

Millions of Americans are now scheming to find ways to "get around" this bill without the authorities knowing it. I'm not. I have no intention of letting any government or any union have any jurisdiction over whom I hire or fire.

though they contained the main thought in the statement. Actually the intent of this item is to give "blanket authority" to a few top people in the National PTA to speak for our entire organization in behalf of extending federal aid to education without any stated limits. Federal funds to pay teachers' salaries are certainly not excluded. I believe thinking PTA members should object to this back-door bid for unlimited authority in political matters.

Notice under International Relations, the last sentence in the third paragraph (which few will even read) states the National Congress (of PTA) supports federal aid to education in foreign countries!

Before I moved from the Texas Panhandle a few months ago there was a furor going on within the local PTAs over undemocratic procedures and control from the top. After studying the National's legislation policies I can understand why.

It seems to me that it would solve a host of problems if all local parent-teacher groups would disaffiliate with the National PTA and devote all our funds and energies to the local concern of promoting better home-school relations — which is the real reason most of us joined PTA in the first place!

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Pampa Clubs Take High Honors at Top of Texas Federation Convention

Five Pampa Federated Clubs and one personal art exhibit received recognition in the Top O' Texas District Federation Convention ending Thursday in Borger; and Mrs. Kermit Lawson, El Progreso Study Club member, was elected third vice - president of the district.

El Progreso Club won first place award in the Texas Heritage Division and first place in Cattle Brands and Ranch History under the Texas Heritage Division. Twentieth Century Forum Club won first place in the Scholarship and Education Division, and second place in the International Defense and Public Affairs Division. Civic Culture Club of Pampa was awarded second place in Family Economics and Home Management in the Home Life Division. Mrs. W. J. Morris, chairman of the National Defense

Division, was awarded first place for the best division report under Public Affairs. Mrs. Raymond Harrah, in an art exhibit of Federation members, won first place with her landscape and second in the portrait category.

Four art students, sponsored by the Federated Clubs, exhibited paintings entered in the Hallmark contest. These were judged by Dr. Emilio Cabellero, West Texas State University.

Mrs. W. J. Morris, Canadian, presided during the convention. She is the outgoing president whose administration has seen seven new clubs brought into the Federation.

Officers elected for a two-year term are: president, Mrs. Robert T. Lindsay, Canyon; first vice - president, Mrs. Guy Crawford, Borger; second vice - president, Mrs. B. M. Simmons, Wellington; third vice - president, Mrs. Kermit B. Lawson, Pampa; and director of Junior Clubs, Mrs. William B. Davis, Canyon.

The convention followed the theme "Knowledge Brings Responsibility" and featured two outstanding speakers, Mrs. A. T. Carlton of Houston, whose special guest was her sister, Mrs. W. G. Cunningham, Pampa; and Louise Bushnell, New York City, Director of Women's Department, National Association of Manufacturers of New York.

Mrs. Lawson was program chairman for the convention and Mrs. Emmett Osborne, outgoing third vice-president, presented new clubs with gavels during the assembly.

Mrs. Albert S. Knox, Mrs. W. J. Morris and Mrs. Kermit Lawson attended the executive board meeting preceding the convention assemblies.

Mrs. R. W. Lane, Varietas Study Club member, presented rules and procedure in the parliamentary study session.

Twenty - five members of Pampa Federated Women's Clubs attended the meeting, which closed with the Wellington Federation extending an invitation for the fall board meeting and Moore County Federated Clubs extended an invitation for the 1965 Convention.

The Top of Texas District encompasses the top 26 counties in the state and 94 women's clubs.

Some 225 representatives were present for the 1964 Convention.
