Lodge, Scranton Win Primaries In Home States

Massachusetts Senator Beats Goldwater by Margin of 7-1

United Press International — A pair of native sons — Henry Cabot Lodge and William W. Scranton — swept to victory Tuesday in presidential primaries in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

Lodge, onetime state legislator and U.S. senator from Massachusetts, won an early, easy victory in the Bay State, picking up a 7-to-1 margin over his closest rival — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz. Goldwater had hoped to grab a big Republican vote but failed to hurt Lodge on his home grounds.

In Pennsylvania, Scranton's supporters were at first disheartened when an all-day drive appeared to wash away their hopes of a solid write-in vote for their man.

Push Scranton Campaign

But late returns from Pennsylvania's rural areas gave the governor more than six times the number given his nearest competitor, Henry Cabot Lodge, using the governor's supporters to urge him to "be available" as a possible GOP presidential candidate.

Massachusetts was another old victory for Lodge, who earlier had won the primary in nearby New Hampshire on write-in votes while serving as U.S. ambassador in faraway North Viet Nam. It also helped in the race for the GOP presidential nomination and put another crimp in the plans of two of his rivals, Goldwater and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

One odd feature of the Massachusetts primary was that it was held on Tuesday, a Democrat and another native son, at one point had more GOP votes for President than the combined total cast by Maine Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, Michigan Gov. George Romney and former Minnesota Gov. Harold Stassen, both Stassen and Mrs. Smith are declared candidates for the Republican presidential nomination.

Higher Than Expected

Goldwater had said that Scranton would need at least 85 per cent of the total primary vote in Pennsylvania to have a meaningful victory. While the governor's total did not appear to reach that figure, it was far greater than any of the others on the GOP ballot.

A possible presidential preference contest on the Massachusetts ballot between Atty. Gen. Kennedy and President Johnson failed to materialize, with the Chief Executive polling the bulk of the write-in vote.

Johnson, whose name was not entered in either of the primaries, also took most of the Pennsylvania write-in vote.

Annual Clean Up Drive by City To Start Monday

Combined Citywide Campaign Will Continue Through May

Pampa's annual Clean Up Drive will get under way next Monday morning, it was announced today by James Gallamore, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce fire prevention and safety committee.

The Clean Up drive will be conducted during the entire month of May and the city will be covered by wards, Gallamore said.

The city pickup trucks will be in Ward 1, bounded on the south by Rham and W. Foster Sts. and on the east by N. Cuyler and Mary Ellen Sts. next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 4, 5, 6 and 7. Friday, May 8, trucks will move into Ward 2, west of Mary Ellen and north of E. Foster. They will continue in Ward 2 Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 11, 12 and 13.

Clean up in Ward 3 will start Thursday, May 14 and run through Tuesday, May 19. Ward 3 includes the area south of E. Foster and east of S. Cuyler and S. Barnes Sts.

The trash pickup in Ward 4, south of Rham and W. Foster and east of S. Cuyler and S. Barnes, is scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, May 20, 21 and 22 and Monday, May 25.

A one-day re-run of the trash collection trucks is scheduled Tuesday, May 26 in Ward 1, Wednesday, May 27 in Ward 2, Thursday, May 28 in Ward 3 and Friday, May 29 in Ward 4.

Gallamore said Pampa Jaycees will operate sound trucks in the various clean up areas to inform citizens of pick up dates. Trucks will drive through the streets of each ward every day during the campaign.

Mayor H. R. Thompson has issued a proclamation declaring May 4 through May 29 as the official annual Clean Up period in Pampa.

"This is the time of the year Pampans join together in a concerted drive to clean up, beautify and fix up their respective properties," the mayor said in his proclamation, "and I hereby set aside the dates of May 4 through May 29 for the purpose of cleaning, painting, repairing and beautifying property, streets and parks in the City of Pampa."

The campaign chairman also announced that the Pampa Lions Club under the direction of Bill Steger is conducting its annual trash barrel sale and selling lids for the 55-gallon oil drum containers. They will deliver a newly painted barrel for $2.50. Orders may be placed by calling MO 9-8651 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and MO 9-9468 after 5 p.m.

The campaign will be further publicized through the distribution of pamphlets in elementary schools. This will be in charge of Bert Nichols. Kay Fancher is in charge of announcements at Pampa civic club luncheons.

Chairman Gallamore also stated that his Fire Prevention and Safety Committee is endeavoring to get permission from owners of condemned property and tumble-down buildings.

GOP Gets Support of Mansfield

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield today backed GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen's call for a gag rule vote if Southerners refuse to act by next Tuesday on the civil rights bill's jury trial amendment.

"I'm going along with Senator Dirksen, if such action proves necessary," Mansfield told a reporter. "I hope we will know definitely today. It's a matter of timing and votes."

There was a strong indication that senators of both parties felt it was time for the Senate to let the country know it was not impotent in the face of Southern delaying tactics.

These senators believed that imposing cloture — limiting debate — on even one amendment to the House-passed bill would help to serve that purpose.

Await South Agreement

Both Mansfield and Dirksen obviously wanted to give Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Southern opponents, a chance to come to an agreement on settling the jury trial question.

Dirksen and Mansfield jointly sponsored their proposal as a substitute for the Southerners' more sweeping jury trial plan. The Dirksen-Mansfield amendment is the pending business.

Russell was reported to be planning an early meeting of the Southern senators to discuss strategy in the face of growing sentiment for cloture action.

The Dirksen-Mansfield proposal would authorize a jury trial in criminal contempt cases arising out of the civil rights bill when the penalty exceeds 30 days or $300 fine. The Southern proposal offered by Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., would guarantee a trial by jury in any criminal contempt case in any federal court.

Have Alternate Plan

But the Southerners have an alternative, introduced but not called up, which is close to terms of the Dirksen-Mansfield substitute. Many of their colleagues.

Protests Start on Proposed Dog Law

City Manager Harold Schmitzer today received a mailed protest against Pampa's proposed dog control ordinance now awaiting its third reading before the city commission.

The city manager said the law has not yet become final and if dog owners wish to protest they still have a chance to voice their protests at next Tuesday's city commission.

The letter to the city manager from a Seneca Lane man read in part as follows:

"In my opinion the new law is unwarranted and the prescribed penalties are unjust. It is practically impossible for a dog owner to obey the law as it was described in Sunday's Pampa Daily News unless he makes a caged animal out of a family pet.

"The penalties for violating the law are so severe that most dog owners could not feasibly afford to pay for the release of their dog if it should be impounded, especially if the impoundment is for an extended period.

"It is not and should not be a criminal offense to own a dog. I ask you to consider the limits of this law and determine how it is legally possible for a boy to have his 'kid dog' or how anyone can have a dog for a family pet."

The letter writer said a copy was being sent to "each member of the group that formulated the ordinance" with an appeal "to initiate the necessary action to have the ordinance repealed and enact a reasonable law that can be obeyed and will permit a family to keep their pet."

The legislation which will have its final reading next Tuesday morning prohibits dogs to "run at large on public or private property, to be on a leash when in public and to be vaccinated against rabies.

Dogs impounded would require a $10 fee for release and $2 a day for care. Penalty for violation may draw a fine up to $200.

KIDNAPER? — This sketch by a Chicago police artist is said to bear a close resemblance to a woman believed to be the kidnaper of three-day-old Paul Joseph Fronczak from the Michael Reese hospital in Chicago. The sketch was made from the description given by a cab driver who drove a woman and an infant from the hospital to a nearby address.

Carrier Fire Being Probed

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—Investigators today searched for the cause of a flash fire on an aircraft ferry that asphyxiated five shipyard workers before they could escape.

The Croatan, with a cargo of B-52 bombers and single-engine planes bound for Europe, was undergoing routine maintenance when the fire broke out Tuesday.

It raged out of control for three hours in a small area, only a few of the ship's 75 men and officers were aboard, and none was in danger.

Fire Destroys Five Buildings

ERIE, Pa. (UPI)—Explosion and fire gutted five buildings in the downtown business district early today, causing damages estimated as high as $1 million.

An unidentified cab driver said the fire started when gasoline spilled on the floor and ignited in the Yellow Cab Co. building housing a furniture store, which was destroyed.

Also gutted were a two-story building housing a furniture store, two large apartment buildings and an ambulance service company.

High Court Rules Against GI Voting

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas Supreme Court today denied out-of-state servicemen the right to vote in state elections even though they would have established legal voting residence had they been civilians.

In a 7-2 split decision, the court turned down a plea by Sgt. Herbert N. Carrington, formerly of Alabama, to vote in the El Paso County Republican primary.

Parents Worry Over Stolen Tot's Health

CHICAGO (UPI)—The heartbroken parents of tiny Paul Joseph Fronczak waited helplessly today while police and federal agents conducted a desperate search for the woman who kidnaped the 3-day-old infant from his mother's arms.

Concern over the baby's health mounted with each passing hour.

The child was born Sunday and kidnaped the next day from Chicago's Michael Reese Hospital by a woman posing as a nurse. Paul Joseph was the first child of aircraft mechanic Chester Fronczak, 33, and his wife, Dora, 28.

Police called off a house-to-house search through a South Side neighborhood at nightfall and began an intensive check of all nurses and nurses aides in the city.

A special contingent of investigators pored over the files at Michael Reese Hospital and others started a painstaking check of the records of the State Department of Registration and Education. They hoped to find some indication of a present or former hospital worker who matches the description of the kidnaper.

Area churches were alerted to the possibility that the kidnaper might try to abandon little Paul Joseph. A similar alert went out to 34 baby clinics in the city. Police strengthened their guard at the hospital on the chance the woman would try to bring the baby back.

The only solid clue to the kidnaper centered on a 96-square block area of the city's South Side, where a cab driver said he took a woman with a baby in her arms shortly after the abduction was discovered.

Downtown Group Names Directors

Nine Pampa business and property owners in the downtown area were named Tuesday night as temporary directors for the Downtown Merchants and Property Owners Association.

R. M. Samples was elected temporary chairman of the group by some 80 business leaders who met at the Pampa Hotel and the by-laws for the organization were adopted.

Named as directors for the organization were Ray Duncan, Gene Lewis, Charles Cook, J. C. Roberts, Joe Tooley, Preston Fowkes, Frank Smith, B. M. Behrman and Samples.

The 80 businessmen moved to meet at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Pampa Hotel to lay final plans for a membership drive which will cover the entire downtown area, Samples said.

Purpose of the group is to promote the continued growth of the City of Pampa by promoting better business in the downtown area. Samples said the businessmen had been working on the formation of this organization for the past three months.

"We have no quarrel with any shopping center or outlying merchant," he said. "We are only interested in building up our businesses to help Pampa grow and prosper."

Samples cited the fact that Pampa was currently undergoing a surge of new economic prosperity and industrial growth which "is serving as a boon to all of us." He said that since this growth was being felt, that

Ruby's Sister Makes Tearful Plea in Court

DALLAS (UPI)—A sister of condemned killer Jack Ruby rushed across a courtroom sobbing, "he's so sick, why can't they do something?" at the start of a hearing today for a new trial.

Pale and with his head bowed, the 33-year-old slayer of accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald was led into trial Judge Joe B. Brown's court after his sister had taken her seat.

Brown convened the hearing and then recessed it for 90 minutes to give Dist. Atty. Henry Wade time to reply to defense motions filed Tuesday. The motion charged Wade suppressed evidence at the Ruby murder trial.

When court resumed, Wade filed a reply, asking the court to ignore the defense argument.

Brown went ahead with the new trial hearing although Ruby's attorneys have asked for a sanity trial by jury.

Mrs. Eva Grant of Dallas, Ruby's sister, and another sister, Mrs. Aileen Kaminsky of Chicago, were permitted to visit Ruby in the jury room before the hearing started. Mrs. Grant left the room and rushed across the courtroom to her seat, moaning:

"He's so sick. He's so sick. Why can't they do something?"

If Judge Brown rejects the defense motion for a new murder trial, it is virtually certain there will be a sanity trial before a jury.

Reservations for the barbecue dinner were still pouring in at noon today at the Chamber of Commerce office where three secretaries were staying busy handling the calls for tickets.

A program which will feature Mayor H. R. Thompson and Calvin Fraser, president of the Form-O-Uth Company, will highlight the night's event.

Residents planning to attend are reminded that plenty of parking space is available around the area and on the site property.

Irene Weeps At Wedding

ROME (UPI)—Holland's Princess Irene, so overcome with emotion that she wept and nearly fainted, was married today to Prince Carlos Hugo of Bourbon Parma in a Catholic ceremony boycotted by her parents.

The 24-year-old princess nearly fell as she entered the basilica of St. Mary Major to the cheers and applause of a crowd of thousands. She was very pale and had to grasp the arm of the prince to keep from falling.

The princess, who broke with her family, her Protestant religion, and her nation for the love of the 33-year-old prince, was so alone that there was no one to give her away at the ceremony. She walked down the aisle on Carlos' arm.

Arms Factory Taken in Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI)—Vietnamese government rangers today overran a Communist arms factory in the famous Viet Cong mountain stronghold of Do Xa, capturing massive quantities of modern arms and explosives, an American military spokesman said.

The spokesman said 167 weapons were seized from the guerrillas, who fled without fighting.

Gas Prices Hit New Low Over Pampa

The price of regular gasoline dropped as low as 20.9 cents a gallon in Pampa today as the current price war continued among major and independent dealers.

The price battle is one week old with the cost of gasoline skidding daily from its price of 30.9 cents a gallon at the outset.

The most prevalent price today at major stations was 21.9 cents a gallon with some of the independents going a penny lower.

High test fuel which sold over a week ago at 34.9 cents a gallon was selling at most stations today for 25.9 cents.

Dealers said the present drop in gasoline prices marks the second price struggle between majors and independents in five months. The end was not yet in sight, they said.

One station proprietor said: "As long as I get my three cents a gallon margin the retail price can go down to zero."

Cooper Keeping Busy Schedule

HOUSTON (UPI)—U.S. astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr. appears to be traveling as fast on earth this week as he did on his 22.9-orbit voyage through space 11 months ago.

Cooper's schedule of appearances starting Tuesday makes him a candidate, one space agency official said, "for perhaps our busiest astronaut of the week."

The slender space pilot was expected to meet in Lubbock today with James E. Webb, chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and Rep. George Mahon, D. Tex., for a series of meetings.

Wednesday, space officials said, Cooper will be in Washington to meet with the congressional delegation from his native Oklahoma and then will visit the National Academy of Sciences.

Thursday, Cooper's schedule calls for an appearance at Georgetown University at Washington and a meeting with U.S. Information Agency officials. Friday, it will be off to New York City for a press conference with foreign correspondents and a visit to the World's Fair.

Rocket Test Complex Set in New Mexico

SANTA FE (UPI)—Selection of a Southern New Mexico site as the potential location for a $20 million rocket testing complex was announced yesterday by Bell Aerosystems Co. of Buffalo, N.Y.

Plans call for 200 to 300 employees next year and 2,500 by 1969. The proposed facilities will be adjacent to U.S. 54, Southwest of Oro Grande and just north of the Texas line.

The New Mexico location was selected after screening by an engineering firm of 131 possible sites in 18 states, Gov. Jack M. Campbell said.

Large Catch

If approved as expected, the project will be the largest private operation to come to New Mexico since the state's Industrial Development Program began in 1949 with the creation of the economic development commission, Campbell said.

Campbell said the State Industrial Division of the Department began a major drive for this project last summer. It made more than 40 contacts since Jan.

1, with company representatives federal and state agencies, as well as local officials.

Developed Rascal

The company's principal developments in rocketry include Rascal, the first air-to-surface missile; the rocket engines for the Nike Ajax anti-aircraft missile; reaction control systems for all U.S. manned space flights, and the 16,000 pound thrust Agena rocket engine. The Agena has served as the second-stage propulsion system for more than 100 Air Force and NASA space launches.

"I look forward to a decision by the company on the basis of the survey within 12 to 15 weeks."

DE GAULLE RECOVERING

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle, still hospitalized following a prostate operation 10 days ago, plans to preside over a cabinet meeting next week at the Elysee Palace, a government communique announced Monday.

An Elysee Palace spokesman said there would be no cabinet meeting this week. De Gaulle appeared Monday to have returned to a near-normal routine of consultations with his chief advisors in his room at the Cochin Hospital. Reliable sources said he would leave the hospital Thursday.

Harvester Band Leaves on Trip To Festival

The Harvester Band left today for Enid, Okla., to attend the giant Tri-State Music Festival, which is held at the campus of Phillips University the next four days.

Fred Stockdale, band director, said the band would reach Enid about 6 or 7 p.m. today and members of the organization would stay in homes throughout the city.

This marks the second time in the past several years that the high school band has gone to Enid for the festival which allows students to compete on an individual level in sight reading and solo numbers.

The bands are also judged for concert performances by classes and marching during a morning parade of bands which is scheduled Saturday. Over 10,000 high school musicians will participate in the program.

The band joined with the elementary school bands and the two junior high bands Tuesday night in a joint concert for band parents at the high school field house prior to leaving for Enid.

Two Men Indicted by Wheeler Grand Jury

WHEELER (Spl) — Two men, one a former Gray County resident, were indicted this week by the Wheeler County grand jury on two charges of burglary in connection with complaints filed against them by District Attorney Bill Waters.

Charles Ray Geren and Harold Breedon, from Springfield, Mo., were named jointly in two felony indictments returned by the jurors along with another indictment naming a Wheeler man in another case.

Geren and Breedon were arrested in March by Sheriff Bus Dorman after a chase along the back roads of Wheeler and Gray Counties. They were suspects in a series of burglary cases in Mobeetle during February.

Both men are in county jail awaiting trial in District Court. They are being held under $5,000 bonds each on both counts.

Edward Lee Jackson was indicted for the burglary of a Shamrock service station on April 11 according to information filed by Waters. He is being held in county jail under $2,000 bond awaiting trial.

Waters said a number of criminal cases would be disposed of the first week in May after Judge Lewis M. Goodrich of Pampa set civil jury week for May 25.

Jurors handling the indictments included Robert Denson, Irvin Hink, Billie Cantrell.

The Senate is in its eighth week and 43rd day of debate on the bill to ban racial discrimination in voting, education, employment, unions, public accommodations and use of federal funds.

To adopt cloture, two-thirds of those present and voting must approve. If all senators were on hand this would mean 67 votes to adopt the gag rule.

The Rev. J. Alvis Cooley, minister of the First Methodist Church, and Rev. Ivan Adams, pastor of the First Christian Church, will officiate. Burial will be in the Panhandle Cemetery under direction of Poston Funeral Home.

Mr. Kistler died Friday at the home of a grandson in Tucson, Ariz., where he had been living. He was ill for two-months prior to his death.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Freda Evans of Panhandle, and the grandson, Maj. Kenneth Sterne of Tucson.

HIS IDENTITY TOO

UNION, N.J. (UPI) — Police here caught a theft suspect with his pants down — literally.

The burglar who broke into a drug store Tuesday lost his trousers trying to squeeze through a roof vent to make his getaway. A wallet in the pocket identified the owner of the wayward pants as Robert E. Pinkiewicz.

Police summoned by the store's owner found Pinkiewicz, of Linden, N.J., hiding under a parked car — sans trousers.

A RAT'S NEST OF TROUBLE—The off-again, on-again guerilla war in South Viet Nam is now on again, with increased vigor. Concentrated enemy (Viet Cong) action has been reported in Kontum Province (1) near the Cambodian-Lao border and near the Mekong River (2) at the southern Cambodian border. In the south, at Ca Mau (3), the South Vietnamese outposts are constantly under enemy attack and many of the canals which criss-cross the area have been blocked and blown apart by Viet Cong irregulars. Communist raids have been reported in areas miles from Saigon, the South Viet Nam capital.

UT Graduation Rites May Move to Stadium

AUSTIN (UPI) — There may be good news in store for unhappy University of Texas seniors. The students, complaining that families and friends would be unable to attend commencement exercises and hear President Johnson speak, have been urging school officials to transfer the ceremonies to the football stadium. Last week, a student body leader said an aide to the President had agreed to ask the Secret Service if they would approve such a change. Burke Musgrove, assistant to the student body president, said the assistant, Dick Nelson, told him by telephone the White House had no objection to moving the ceremonies to Memorial Stadium—if the Secret Service approved. The commencement is scheduled for the University Mall, which at best could accommodate only about 12,500 persons. The stadium could hold nearly 70,000. The eventual decision on where the exercises will be held will be up to the university board of regents.

omy hand wagon. It could pects were over-ballyhooed

der his role as a dollar

was noted in this space
January that:

President Johnson's 1965 get and the publicity manvers preceding it have cred the public image Johnson ended to create. It is the age of a slow man with a
k. Not a penny - pincher, ybe, but a dollar-pincher.
That paragraph was written
Jan. 22 after a flood tide
White House budget leaks touching on economy. It an even two months aft-Johnson succeeded Kennedy
the White House.

The Treasury has just re-ted its position as of April five months after Johnson over. The Treasury figs reveal that in the five-months period Nov. 22-April 22, Johnson administration nt approximately $50 billion collected in taxes about same amount. Since Nov., the public debt has in-ased from $307.7 billion to 9 billion. U.S. gold holdings eased in the same period about $110 million.

ending and tax collection the current (1964) fiscal ar are running well ahead of cal 1963. The Treasury is-es its daily statements in ms of withdrawals of fund deposits of funds. These roughly but not precisely al to expenditures and repts. Here are some compar-ve figures as of April 22,
1964 1963
(in billions)

Withdrawals	$101.9	$ 96.7
Deposits	91.8	85.6
Public Debt	309	303.5
Gold	15.4	15.8

The eye-popping figure in this ly statement for April 22 is tax collections on that day, 5,482,900.54. There is some-ng wrong with a government t cannot live within its inne when the money rolls in such a rate although not ry day is such a big pay-r for the Treasury.

The hump-backed U. S. taxpayer is both patient and generous. The Treasury's receipts from the public in fiscal 1964 were $71.6 billion of which $29.6 billion was personal income tax. In this fiscal year of '64 receipts from the public will be $114.3 billion of which individ-al income tax returns contribute $47.5 billion.

All of these figures will be higher for fiscal 1965. Perhaps the man has not appeared who can reduce government spending, compel the government to live within its income and to begin a realistic reduction of the public debt. President Johnson is having a go at it, but he has little so far to show in the way
little so far to show in the way of results. That does not mean necessarily that Johnson cannot do the job. But it does mean that some persons will want to withhold their cheers for his economy until there is more substantial evidence of it.

That need not worry Johnson much, if any. He is well established with the public—the voters—as an economy man. The Louis Harris poll last February reported that 81 per cent of the people gave Johnson a favorable rating on his ability to keep government spending under control. That is one of Johnson's most valuable campaign assets.

TOO MANY VOTERS

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — The New Mexico Republican organization has charged there are more registered voters in 13 New Mexico counties than there are persons of voting age.

Its official publication, "The Republican," said a comparison of the 1960 census figures with registration lists showed that dead persons had been included on the lists. "More than a third of the counties in New Mexico have more than 100 per cent registration," the article said.

Official Memorandum
By
JOHN CONNALLY
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

The right to vote is a treasured instrument of a democracy, and a solemn responsibility on the part of every American citizen of voting age. Unfortunately, it is a responsibility that is often treated lightly, for many eligible voters consistently fail to exercise their right and duty to cast their ballot.

Texas will vote in the primary elections on May 2 to select their nominees for public office at the local, state and national level.

On the same day the party precinct conventions will be held to select delegates to the county conventions and to consider resolutions affecting state and national policy. These conventions are the genesis of our entire political and governmental structure.

It is vital to our state and nation that as many persons as possible participate in these essential functions of representative government.

Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate

Saturday, May 2, 1964, as

and urge all eligible voters to participate in the primary election and precinct conventions of the party of their choosing.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 2nd day of April, 1964.

John Connally

Congress Warned On Russian Strength

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress was warned Monday that the Soviet military machine is becoming more formidable by year.

The warning was given to the House Foreign Affairs Committee by Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, supreme Allied commander of NATO forces in Europe, testifying in support of the administration's $3.4 billion for an aid bill. Lemnitzer told the committee that it can no longer think of the Soviet army as an unwieldy mass of troops.

Instead, Lemnitzer said, it must be recognized as what it is—a "modern, well-equipped, highly mobile war machine geared to the realities of the nuclear age."

Other congressional news: Waste: The General Accounting Office (GAO) said today the government is wasting millions of dollars by paying leasing costs instead of buying electronic data processing machines. In a report to Congress, the GAO said one study showed that equipment leased exceeded the purchase cost by about $3.7 million over a five-year period.

Health: Nelson Cruikshank, AFL-CIO spokesman, urged Congress to enact the administration's medicare plan because, he said, private health insurance companies fail to meet the needs of persons over 65.

Johnson Tops in Poll Of Students Over US

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (UPI) — President Johnson has scored an overwhelming victory in a nationwide student poll which accurately forecast both the 1956 and 1960 presidential election results.

Johnson topped the list of 10 candidates on the poll ballot with 510,125 votes, 53 per cent of the 961,801 votes cast. His closest competitor was U.S. Ambassador to Viet Nam Henry Cabot Lodge with 130,551 votes.

The poll was conducted in all 50 states and the District of Columbia among students in grades 6 through 12 by the Department of School Services and publications of Wesleyan University. Results were announced Sunday night.

The votes for the eight other persons on the ballot were: Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, 84,389; Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., 65,136; Alabama Gov. George Wallace, 36,106; New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, 30,390; Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, 20,291; Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, 17,540; Michigan Gov. George Romney, 7,608; and Harold Stassen, 1,622.

Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy received the most write-in votes with 3,553.

Astronauts Due Rockhunt Today

HOUSTON (UPI) — Seventeen of America's 29 astronauts will go rock picking today in the dusty crags of Arizona; in a spot scientists believe contains the type of formations found on the moon.

The astronauts, getting ready for Apollo flights to the moon around 1970, will split into three groups on the three-day trip and rotate between the Kitt Peak Observatory near Tucson and Sunset Crater National Monument northeast of Flagstaff.

At the Kitt Peak Observatory, space agency officials said, the astronauts will get a "very general look" at the moon through a powerful, 30-inch telescope.

Of particular interest to them is an area 1,500 miles long by 200 miles wide on the lunar surface, including the moon's boneyard maria tranquillatis, or sea of tranquility—the section that is under serious consideration as the likeliest landing site for the early man-to-the-moon missions.

The United States hopes to get an even sharper look at this particular area with the help of a camera-carrying Ranger-7 probe it plans to rocket to the moon from Cape Kennedy around the middle of this year, possibly June.

Thieves Provide Tips on Halting Television Thefts

RADNOR, Pa. (Spl) — Beware of TV thieves! Because TV sets have become so common and so accessible in homes, they are now common targets for household thieves.

In a story in the current (May 2) issue of TV Guide magazine, a pair of convicts in the state prison of Southern Michigan relate their experiences and "modus operandi" in stealing more than 200 TV sets in 1963, and offer tips on how such thefts may be avoided. The convicts write under the pseudonym "Robert Schramm."

Eventually, of course, the two were caught, else their story would still be left untold; nevertheless their tips may save some home-owners an unpleasant surprise on returning from an extended trip or vacation:

1. Lock all doors and windows when you are away from home.
2. Leave at least one light burning, preferably in the bedroom with shades drawn.
3. A cheap bit of additional insurance is a small transistor radio left playing at low volume. It gives a house an inhabited sound that thieves don't like.
4. If you're going to be gone long, stop all deliveries.
5. Don't sneak away. Tell the neighbors, so they can keep an eye on the place.

MAY LEAVE HOSPITAL

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — British actor Peter Sellers, hospitalized since suffering a near-fatal heart attack three weeks ago, may be able to leave the confinement of a hospital in another week.

Spokesmen at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital said the actor's condition continued to be satisfactory and he is permitted visits by friends.

However, it was noted that Sellers still faces several months of recuperation.

LBj Dog Handling Ires Humane Group

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Memo to President Johnson: Some people love Democrats, some people love Republicans, but everybody — just everybody — loves dogs.

The Chief Executive brought down on his head the wrath of the Chicago Humane Society Monday when he decided to have some fun with the family beagles, "Him" and "Her."

Johnson pulled each of the animals up by its ears to arouse yelps for a visiting delegation of bankers, newsmen and photographers.

He told his guests that "if you ever follow dogs, you like to hear them yelp," and that was why he had encouraged "Him" and "Her" to do so. "It's good for them," he said. "It does them good to let them bark." Johnson rewarded the dogs with vitamin-filled canine candies.

J.J. Shaffer, managing director of the Chicago Humane Society, said that Johnson's ear-pulling "is far and away the wrong way" to treat animals.

DELIVERS CINDERS

TOKYO (UPI)—Tadao Shinoda, the 31-year-old Japanese trader who shipped an American importer crates of cinders instead of the tape recorders and radios he sold him, got a five-year prison sentence Monday.

Shinoda received an advance payment of $75,000 for the shipment. After packing the cinders, he fled to Switzerland, but was caught and returned.

"There are right ways and wrongs to do anything. In the case of picking up a dog, it has a front end and a back end, and appreciates support at both ends. The question is not how painful this is to beagles, but how painful it is to any living creatures to be lifted by the ears. In our experience, this is the wrong way to do it."

BISHOP MAKES APPEAL

LONDON (UPI) — A leading English churchman urged Tuesday that cured alcoholics be allowed to refuse wine during holy communion services. London's Anglican Bishop Robert Stopford said "Many alcoholics when they are cured cannot stand even the smell of alcohol, and some of these are ceasing to be communicants for this reason."

Art Exhibition Set in Amarillo By Secretaries

The Fourth Annual Invitational Exhibition of paintings and sculpture sponsored by the Amarillo Legal Secretaries Association will be held on Sunday in the Commercial Exhibit Bldg. at the Tri-State Fairgrounds in Amarillo.

Invitations have been extended to approximately 400 artists in the Panhandle and the Tri-State area. There are four categories — oil painting, water color, graphic arts, and sculpture. Cash prizes will be awarded to the entry chosen by popular vote of the viewing public.

The juror for the exhibition is Arnold Leondar of Midland. Leondar is presently director of the Midland Institute of Fine Arts, as well as being a prominent artist in his own right. Some of Leondar's work, including sculptor, water colors and oils, will be on exhibit.

This invitational exhibition is sponsored by the Amarillo Legal Secretaries Association, a non-profit organization, for the purpose of fostering a closer relationship between artists in this area and the general public and to raise money for their scholarship fund which is administered by Opportunity Plan, Inc. at West Texas State University.

Cost of admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. There will be an advanced ticket sale and tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
In sleepy and dusty Vientiane, capital of Laos, participants in government power struggle raged for long enough to attend an all-day funeral.
The normally cheerful and easy-going Laotians would rather at any time observe the spilling of the fountain in the square than concern themselves with crisis. And so it did not be considered unusual that in the midst of grave developments official activity should give way to a day of mourning for a national hero.

Momentarily freed from arrest and appearing cheerful was Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma.

Plays Big Role
Gen. Kourasith Abhay, nominal head of the revolutionary forces which sought first to depose Souvanna Phouma and make him a figurehead premier, played a prominent role in the death of the late President of the royal council.

There is to pay him homage as Crown Prince Vong Sang, accompanied by Gen. Boumi Nosavan, right-wing commander who took no part in the coup.

In outwardly quiet Vientiane, the only sign of stress was in the patrolling security forces of Gen. Siho Lamphoutacoul, 29-year-old driving force behind the revolutionary committee which demanded reorganization and enlargement of the premier's coalition government.

Others Concerned
But if the majority of Laotians were able to ignore the new crisis, world capitals could not.
Premier Souvanna Phouma remained in office only through the strong representations of Washington.

Fearful that new civil war could erupt at any moment, Americans in Vientiane were placed on standby alert.

In Moscow and even in Peking there seemed an obvious desire that the questionable neutrality of Laos should be preserved.

Hard to Dispute
Logically, it was hard to dispute the arguments of the revolutionary council.

Junta leaders charged that the Communists had hamstrung the effectiveness of the 1962 Geneva accord which established Laotian neutrality, and by use of the veto had destroyed the usefulness of the international Control Commission set up to enforce that neutrality.

They demanded a government with unity of action.
From the United States point of view, Laotian neutrality also had been a disappointment. It had not eliminated Communist Viet Minh forces from Laos nor had it closed the Ho Chi Minh trail down which the Communists fed the Communist Viet Cong of South Viet Nam.

But half a loaf was better than none, and so the U. S. sought to preserve what political balance in Laos there was.

Area Piano Students Continue Auditions at First Methodist

Piano students of nine area schools in the area are being heard this week at the First Methodist Church by Mrs. Opal J. Cotton, Wichita, Kan., a judge for the National Piano Auditions. Some 105 students are taking part in the auditions.

Parents of Mrs. Willie E. Zell, McLean were heard Monday and Mrs. Fidelia Yeager, Pampa, presented her students on Tuesday, followed by those of Bill Haley and Mrs. Jack Young of Shamrock.

Mrs. Ruth E. Smith, Pampa, will accompany her students to the auditions tomorrow as will Mrs. H. C. Brown of Shamrock and Mrs. Warren Hallbauer of Pampa.

Friday, final day of the auditions, students of Tracy D. Cary will be heard along with other students of Mrs. Hallbauer.

Established in 1929 by Irl Allison, founder president, these National Piano Auditions now include thousands of piano students of teachers throughout the United States including Alaska and Hawaii.

The auditions are non-competitive, as students play only against a standard of excellence. They do receive ratings as a constructive analysis of their playing by the judge, as well as various types of certificates and pins.

Films Outline Church Advances At C.W.F. Meet

Mrs. Vernon Hall, program chairman of the Christian Women's Fellowship introduced Mrs. Ralph Converse who presented a film prepared by the division of outreach of the Texas Association of Christian Churches during a recent C.W.F. meeting at First Christian Church.

Mrs. Converse gave the background for the film and stated that it was created by an Amarillo student at Texas Christian University giving a look into the areas where the Association of Christian Churches works: the Youth Camps, Negro Churches, work with Latin Americans and new church advances as well as the Fowler Homes in Dallas.

Mrs. H. C. Groniger gave the devotional reading from Ephesians and announced the May 1 meeting with the United Church Women. She also stated that the new member banquet had been postponed until April 30.

The meeting adjourned with the C.W.F. Benediction. The Meers Group was hostess and served coffee and cake during the social hour.

Dear Abby
By Abigail
Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 years old and have three kids. My next will be three in February. My husband and I are separated and we are getting a divorce. I met this other man, Abby. He lives across the street from me and we have been seeing each other. He is a good man, and I love him. My problem is that he loves me and my two children, but he can't stand my best son. He says if I give his boy to his father, he will marry me as soon as my divorce comes through. I just can't see myself giving away any of my children. I asked my mother, and she agreed with him. Now I am turning 20 to you.

YOUNG MOTHER
DEAR YOUNG: A "good" man would not ask a mother to give away one of her children. Now would a "good" man find a three-year-old too much to "stand." Don't rush into a second marriage with this man, or any other, or you will find yourself 21 years old with TWO failures.

DEAR ABBY: I recently married a young man who has two married brothers. Their wives call their mother-in-law "Mother." I saw my mother-in-law only twice before I married her son, and she is still a comparative stranger to me, so I find it impossible to call her "Mother." I simply avoid calling her anything. My own mother is still living, and I can't bring myself to call anyone else "Mother." My mother-in-law has asked me to call her "Mother." I don't want hard feelings, but I'm not the insincere type. Should I force myself to call her "Mother?"

TROUBLED
DEAR TROUBLED: Call her "Mom." Meanwhile, here's hoping you become a mother soon. Then you can get around your problem by calling her "Grandma."

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago a very dear friend of mine passed away. Shortly afterwards her daughter brought me a large box of her mother's clothes, as we were about the same size. Abby, my friend had lots of lovely clothes and I could surely use them as we have a large family and my husband hasn't worked steady for a long time due to illness. But I keep thinking, what if I should meet the poor husband or one of the children on the street, and they saw me wearing their dear mother's clothes. Would it not give them a heartache? I wouldn't hurt them if I had to go around in rags. Do you think I really ought to wear these things?

A FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: The daughter, I am sure, expressed the feelings of the entire family when she brought the clothes to you. Wear them with the assurance that you are doing the right thing.

DEAR ABBY: You should quit telling your readers at the foot of your column to "Get it off your chest." Don't you know that teen-agers are trying to get it ON their chests, not OFF?

PAST MY TEENS
Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TV AILMENT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Self-diagnosis based on diseases portrayed in television medical dramas have been given the appropriate name of "television-medicitis," proposed by Dr. A. M. Albiner of New York.

"Certain television viewers watching medical dramas, by identifying with the actors, tend to 'catch' the disease being portrayed," he said in a report in the Journal of the American Medical Association. His solution: flash a slide at the beginning of each medical program, pointing out dangers of self-diagnosis.

RUBY HUSTED WINS

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (Sp1) — One Pampa golfer survived the first round of the Trans-Mississippi Women's Open yesterday as Mrs. Clayton Husted won her seventh flight match over Mrs. Joan Lowenthal of Lake Charles, La., one up. Mary Myatt failed to win her opener, dropping her fifth flight match to Kathleen Machman of Dallas 2 and 1.

Hebert to All-Star Game

ORANGE (Sp1) — Kenny Hebert, Pampa's all - district quarterback, will play for the Texas All-Star team against Pennsylvania Aug. 1.

George Pharr of the Orange Leader, a member of the selection committee for the "Texas Big 33" contacted the Pampa News yesterday and said that Hebert had been picked as one of the members of the team that will play a team of Pennsylvania all-stars in Hershey, Pa., Aug. 1.

An official invitation cannot be extended to Hebert until May 19, the day his high school baseball season ends, explained Pharr, but that the "Big 33" definitely had Hebert placed on their roster.

In Pampa, Hebert indicated his willingness to play, and said he would answer yes to the official invitation as soon as the Pampa Harvester baseball season ended.

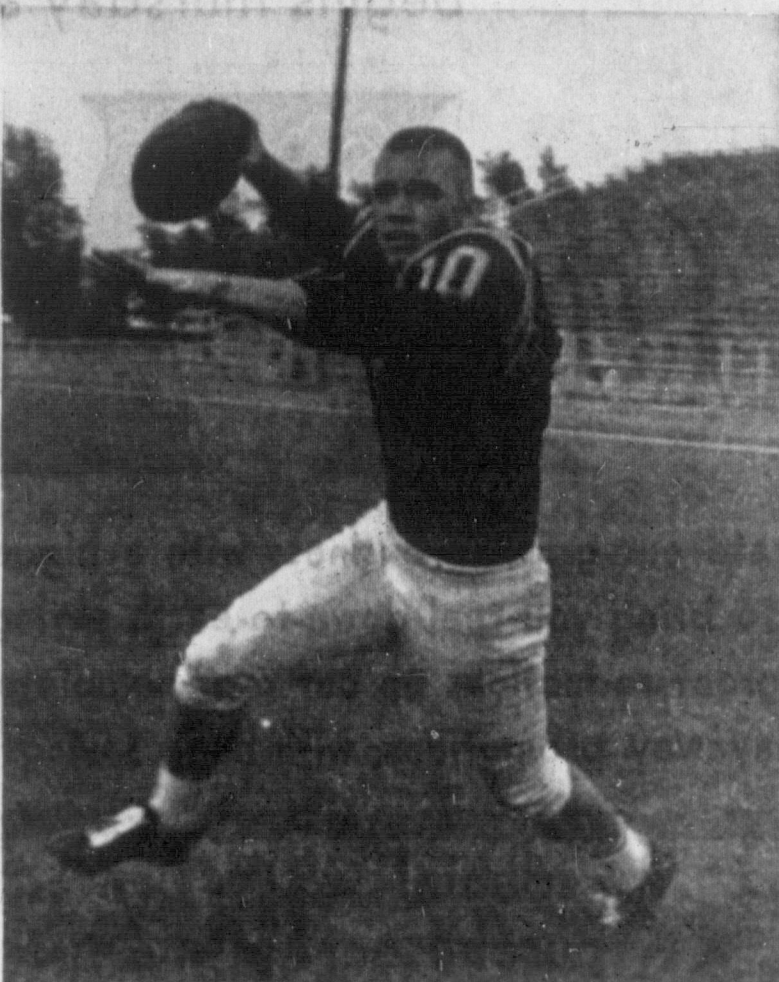

Hebert, a 14-sport athlete, including junior high letters, was an all - district football player, second team all - district basketball player, an all - district centerfielder in baseball as a junior, and is currently making a bid for loop honors at shortstop, leading the Harvesters at bat with a .391 average. He was a 10.0 runner and 20.0 hurdler in track.

Hebert was a starter in football since his sophomore year, when he was third in scoring, fourth in yards gained rushing and second in punting while playing halfback. As a junior, he was switched to quarterback and led the district in total offense and in punting, setting a new 3-AAAA record with a kicking average of 44.3.

As a senior, the 6-0, 185-pounder played quarterback, halfback and end. He again led the district in punting, was third in scoring and in rushing and fourth in total offense, as well as fifth in pass receiving.

Hebert received over a dozen scholarship offers and several professional baseball offers before signing a letter of intent to the University of Houston. Hebert becomes the fourth UH prospect to join the all - star team, others being guard Ernest Nagy of Pharr - San Juan-Alamo, halfback Dale Gideon of Jacksboro and quarterback Albert Ferrero of Big Spring.

In Lubbock, former pro great Bobby Layne, who will be the head coach of the Texas team, assisted by Doak Walker and Harley Sewell, said he would be very pleased to have Kenny on his team. "I've seen him play and I can't think of anyone I'd rather have as my quarterback," said Layne.

Several other Panhandle players have also been nominated for the game, including all-state Phil Woodring of Lefors, also Houston - bound; Mendall Hunter of Wheeler, a Texas Tech future, and tackle Robert Cameron and center Stan Robinson of Tascosa.

The Texas team will fly from Austin July 20, said Layne and will work out in Hershey for 10 days before the game.

LA Dodger Troubles Parallel Last Season

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The current troubles of the Los Angeles Dodgers are nothing new and are almost a direct parallel with the situation that faced the club at the same time last year, a check of the records showed today.

Optimistic followers of the world's champions were hopeful that by the time May is not too far along, the Dodgers can carry the parallel a step further with the same result. For it was in May last year that Los Angeles started the move that eventually led to the National League pennant and the World Series sweep.

ly rookie John Werhas has filled that gap in capable fashion.

Whether the Dodgers can make a similar run before the end of the month is in the lap of the gods. But if Koufax and Podres return to action by next week as anticipated, the team's potential is just as great this year as last, if not greater.

Currently the club is plagued by having two of its pitching stars, Sandy Koufax and John Podres, sidelined. A year ago Koufax also was out of action and Podres from the start of the season until May 16 had won only one game.

Right now reliever Ron Perranoski and outfielder Tommy Davis are nursing injuries. But last year in the first few weeks of the season star shortstop Maury Wills and Tommy Davis both were injured.

True, the Dodgers had a better won-and-lost record at this time last year when they were 10-11 and were in fifth place with only four games separating them from the top spot. Currently Los Angeles is languishing in ninth place but has played eight less games.

And for the optimistic, there were a number of plus signs that the club did not possess at this time last year. The Dodgers did not have a regular third baseman last season when they tried anyone and everyone at the position. Current-

Mobeetie Edges Eagles, 14-13

SAMNORWOOD (Sp1) — Eddie Hodges of Mobeetie singled home Gerald Gudgel in the top of the seventh to win his own ball game yesterday, a 14-13 slugfest over Samnorwood to give the Hornets a 2-2 district record.

The lead changed hands three times and was tied going into the final frame, when Gerald Gudgel opened the inning with a walk, starting hurler J. L. Gudgel moved him to third with a single and reliever Hodges drove Gerald home and then shut out Samnorwood in the final frame.

J. L. led the hitting attack with four-for-four, Hodges was 3-for-3 with a triple and Big Ray Corcoran got three hits including a three-run homer in the second.

Mobeetie hosts league-leading Quail next Tuesday.

Badgers Win Double Bill

AMARILLO — Tough clutch pitching by Jerry Glover and Mike Wesbrooks enabled the Amarillo College Badgers to pull out a twin win over Odessa College here yesterday, 8-6, and 9-3.

It was the Badgers' fifth double victory of the season, again furnished by Glover (6-1) and Wesbrooks (5-0) to keep atop the Western JUCO baseball standings with a 10-2 loop and 13-3 season mark.

Glover was hit harder than he has been all season, giving Odessa a five-run lead in the first three innings, but pitching one-run ball the rest of the way as his mates got him four runs in the second and matched the output in the fifth; Ronnie Jones was Glover's chief tormenter with two homers and a double as the big Panpan allowed eight hits, walked one and struck out 11, seven in the final four frames.

Field of Twelve Slated for Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — A field of 12 shaped up today for Saturday's running of the $125,000 added Kentucky Derby following a brilliant victory by Hill Rise Tuesday in the $15,000 derby trial.

There remained the possibility that a few others may join them if rival owners recover in time from the jolt they got when Hill Rise cut loose with a breathtaking run in the final derby race. It firmly established the California colt as the solid favorite in the 90th running of American's racing classic.

"It shook me up pretty good," admitted Elliot Burch who trains Quadrangle, the Wood Memorial winner, for the Rokeby Stable of Paul Mellon. "I didn't eat much of my dinner last night."

But Quadrangle will be back for the first of the triple crown classics along with Windfield Farms' Northern Dancer, Rex Ellsworth's the Scoundrel, Roy Sturgis's Mr. Brick, Harbor View Farm's Roman Brother, Cecil Carmine's Dandy K, Tumblewood Stable's Ishkoodak, G. M. Holtsinger's Prince Daville, Radkovich and Clark's Will Rad, Emil A. Dust's Royal Shuck, and Earl W. Davis' Extra Sell.

Hill Rise started his run leaving the backstretch. He flew by the other horses and was completely in charge from then on. He took command with a little less than an eighth of a mile to go and blazed across the finish line more than two lengths in front, with Willie Shoemaker in the saddle.

Roman Brother was second, and Mr. Moonlight placed third after He's A Gem finished in Five more names were added to the list Tuesday for the Big 33 classic in Hershey, Pa., Aug. 1.

Bobby Layne, former University of Texas and professional football star, will coach the Texas squad. His assistants will be all-time Southern Methodist and Detroit Lion great Doak Walker and an old teammate of Layne's at Texas, Harley Sewell.

Signed Tuesday were: —Bill Spencer, 205 pounds, Class AAAA all-state guard, of Galena Park; —Ernest Nagy, 205 pounds, all-district guard, of Pharr-San Juan-Alamo; —Bill Page, 220 pounds, all-district guard, of Austin's Stephen F. Austin High; —Jim McGrath, 215 pounds, all-district tackle, of Wichita Falls; —And Dale Gideon, 205 pounds, Class-AA all-state fullback, of Jacksboro; —Fred Cervelli, sports writer for the Orange Leader, heads the selection committee.

Young Jim Hall Mixes Soph Jinx

Jim Hall is too young to be too good to care for, the baseball sophomore jinxed.

He does think, however, that his batting average is proof of it's a lotta bunk. Also that fellow musician Harlan Killebrew, Bob Allison & the other Twins might tough it along with this season.

Jimie, who set an American League rookie record of 33 hits last season, was a bit in his timing when the current's Royal campaign started. He went .18 and even Manager Sam Rice wondered whether rival pitchers had discovered a crucial weakness.

But then the six-foot, 27-year-old of Belmont, N.C., re-focused his timing, to go off for a "for-11" tear.

Never Looked Better

Jimie never looked better Tuesday when he tied the record with a ninth-inning homer, won it with a bases-filled-inning single as the Twins led a 9-8 victory over the Detroit Indians. Hall's lead-off homer in the ninth came off a homer by Johnny Romano who gave the Indians the lead in his game-winning single.

Gary Bell came after three runs filled the bases. Rich Robinson also honored for the wins while Romano had two hits and Al Smith and Leon Wagner one each for the Indians.

Wick Stuart's grand slam in the eighth gave the Boston Red Sox a 6-4, 11-inning triumph over the Baltimore Orioles, the Kansas City Athletics downed the Detroit Tigers, 5-1, and the Los Angeles Angels nipped the Washington Senators, 2-1, in other American League action.

The Twins routed Dick Donovan in 4-1-3 innings and carried a 7-2 lead into the seventh but Wagner's three-run homer enabled the Indians to tie the score. Bill Dalley, who pitched the last three innings, was Minnesota's winner.

Heffner Gets Win

Stuart doubled home the tying run in the ninth inning and connected for his grand slam in the 11th off Dick Hall, relieving Stu Miller who had issued two walks and a single around a fielder's choice to fill the bases. Beneficiary of the blow was Bob Heffner, fourth Red Sox hurler, who worked only 2-3 of an inning.

Diego Segui pitched a five-hitter for his first win behind an eight-hit Kansas City attack that included a homer, double and single and three RBI's by Ed Charles. Frank Lary was keyed in 4-1-3 innings and suffered his second straight setback for the Tigers.

Shutout relief pitching by Don Lee and Dean Chance through the last 4-2-3 innings protected the Angels' one-run lead brought about the Lee Thomas' run-scoring single. Chance took over in the ninth after Bill Skovron doubled and retired the final three batters.

Another Fine Game By Johnson Is Loser

The Phillies, who won their eighth game in 10 starts. Mahaffey doubled and scored on Johnny Callison's single to break a 2-2 tie in the seventh and Allen followed with a triple for an icing run. Allen's sixth-inning homer had tied the score for Mahaffey, who won his first game of the season.

Ernie Broglio pitched a five-hitter and didn't permit a Met base-runner to reach third in gaining his second win. Ken Blyer had a homer and two singles and rookie Phil Gagliano, replacing Julian Javier at second base, doubled home two runs in a four-run fifth-inning rally. Met ace Al Jackson suffered his third loss against one victory.

Rookie Jack Smith's four frames of middle-inning relief pitching were rewarded with his first big league victory as the Braves pounded Bob Friend and three successors for 11 hits. Felipe Alou had three hits, Denis Menke had two and Joe Torre homered for the Braves.

San Francisco at Chicago was rained out.

Nicklaus Defends Tourney Crown

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus, still rated as the man to beat, opens defense of his crown Thursday in the world's most exclusive golf tournament — the $65,000 Tournament of Champions.

Nicklaus and 28 other tournament winners tee off on the long Desert Inn Country Club course in the smallest and most select field of any tournament on the lucrative tour.

Jumbo Jack is rated as the 3 1/2 to 4-1 favorite to repeat as the king, while Masters champion Arnold Palmer is 5-1. Bill Casper, an expert at handling the fast greens that characterize this lay-out, is rated at 6-1, followed by Tony Lema at 7-1 and Gary Player at 8-1.

The course is in tip-top shape, the fairways narrow, the weather hot and the roughs tough.

"But this is one of the best manicured courses we've played on this year," says little Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez, who qualified for this tournament by winning events at Denver and San Francisco.

The field of 29 this year is the largest in history. In addition to those already named, the others competing are Al Besselnik, Frank Beard, Rex Baxter, Julius Boros, Gay Brewer, Bob Charles, Jacky Cupit, Bruce Devlin, Don Fairfield, Dow Finsterwald, Doug Ford, Al Geiberger, Paul Harvey, Davey Hill, Tommy Jacobs, Don January, George Knudson, Bobby Nichols, Johnny Pott, Phil Rodgers, Mason Rudolph, Jack Rule, Doug Sanders and Art Wall.

World champions though they are, the Los Angeles Dodgers are not above belting good man when he's down.

That good man is Ken Johnson of the Houston Colts, who at Thursday became the first pitcher in major league history to lose a nine-inning shutout and who Tuesday night turned in another excellent performance only to bow to the Dodgers, 3-1.

The Dodgers, of course, have been having their own troubles with three star pitchers ailing and with various other injuries to important players. So they let their sentiment in the clubhouse and carved out a third straight victory that still leaves them in ninth place in the National League five games behind the front-running Philadelphia Phillies.

But consider Johnson, the 30-year-old righthander who has tossed a total of three earned runs and eight hits in two consecutive games — and lost them both! Alongside him, the hard luck Roger Craig of 1962 and 1963 looks like the guy who'll get the $132,000 two-double at Rosevelt Raceway.

Ties Game

Johnson was tapped for a run in the first inning on Maury Wills' single and Willie Davis' triple but Johnson and the Colts got even in the seventh on a triple by Jerry Grote and Eddie Kasko's squeeze bunt.

Then Johnson's game went down the drain as Dick Groat tripled to lead off the eighth, Wills doubled and Ally Moon followed with a single that sent Maury scooting across the plate.

A few moments later Johnson was under a shower in the Houston clubhouse pondering the fortune of pitchers who fail for a team that can't score runs.

The Phillies, so young and vibrant that they can't look back on the ill fortune of others, continued their fast early pace with a 4-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds; The St. Louis Cardinals downed the New York Mets, 8-0, and the Milwaukee Braves beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-5, in the other NL games.

Allen Leads Phils

Rookie Ritchie Allen had four hits and drove in two runs and pitcher Art Mahaffey hit a key double in his own behalf for the Phillies.

Tascosa Knocks Pampa Out of District Battle

By JEFF COHANE
 Pampa News Sports Editor

A tired Jerry Garrison, pitching in his fourth consecutive district game, literally wore down in the fourth inning as the Tascosa Rebels broke through for a 7-1 victory, eliminating the Harvesters from the 3-AAAA pennant race for all intents and purposes.

The little southpaw was in hot water from the opening pitch, but backed by stout fielding led by Kenny Hebert, Kyle Vann and Larry Gregory and his own fighting spirit, hurled shutout ball through the first three innings. The sore-armed Chink fell apart in the fourth frame though, and the visitors barraged him off the mound.

Meanwhile Rebel starter Johnny Bowman hurled four innings of two-hit ball, retired with the big bulge in the fifth, and reliever Bruce Magness came in to allow the Pampanos only one hit and one run in the last three frames, while the Harvester fielding fell apart for five errors in those same stanzas.

Those plays got Garrison out of trouble in the first two innings and the Pampanos put on their only threat in the third after Garrison had loaded the bases in the first half, struck the next two batters out and Gregory had got the third out stealing home. Ricky Maynard and Carl Harnsberger led off the bottom of the canto with singles and Garrison's sacrifice bunt got nobody out and loaded the bags. Bowman then rose to the occasion and struck out the side.

John Bunker opened the fatal fourth with a walk, Larry Brown doubled, Bowman and Joe Saunders singled and mid-get Bill Cherry knocked Garrison out of the box with a double. Price came in to put out

JERRY GARRISON ... all he had

Billy Patton At Midpoint

PINEHURST, N.C. (UPI)—Defending champion Billy Joe Patton and two former champions entered a two-round grind today at the midway point of the 64th annual North-South amateur golf tournament.

Sixteen matches were scheduled this morning with the survivors playing a second round in the afternoon to cut the field to eight for Thursday's quarter-finals.

Patton, of Morganton, N.C., was joined in the third round by Mel Galetta of Old Westbury, N.Y., and Frank Strafaci of Miami, two former champions who survived second round action Tuesday.

Patton played Ross Beecroft Jr., of Newport News, Va., today while Strafaci faced Alfred Sams of Macon, Ga., and Galetta took on Werd Wettlaufer of Atlanta.

Two former champions, Charlie Smith of Gastonia, N.C., and William Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., were eliminated in Tuesday's round, along with Smith's brother, Dave Smith.

Switch Voters Can Decide Election

There's some fascinating conjecture in the April issue of Nation's Business Magazine. For those who are interested in political forecasting, the editors have gone to work to try to figure out just which group in the nation will actually decide the issue.

The reasoning employed is deductive and the inference won't necessarily hold true. But according to the article, the "swing voter" is the fellow who is now solidly in the middle and can pitch the election either way.

Apparently, as things line up right now, there are 110 million persons of voting age in this nation, out of about 193 million Americans. About 86 million of these are registered voters. But only about 70 to 75 million will vote. Of these, about 60 million will cast their ballots in accordance with party loyalties. Fifty-four per cent are expected to vote Democratic and 46 per cent will vote in favor of the GOP. At least, that's the present indication.

But there are another ten million persons expected to vote who are not registered with either party. They are persons who are "independents" or they are those who will register between now and the closing of the registration periods later this year. Also, there will be a segment in each party which will shift over to the opposing party, but this shift, unless things get fairly well heated up, will tend to cancel out any final difference.

In short, it's the independents who though numbering among the smallest of the voting blocs in the nation, now have it in their power to push the election either way. According to Nation's Business, the independent voter can be more readily recognized for what he is not than for what he is. The magazine suggests that the independent or "switch" voter is usually not among the well educated, the well read, the highly informed. It is argued that these latter persons have already made their party allegiance and will probably stick with it.

We Nibble Holes in Our Teeth

Parents may want to censor this item before their kids see it. Some manufacturers might like to censor it before anybody sees it. Anyway, a dentist has recently stated that "brushing teeth makes no difference in preventing cavities."

As reported in the Health Bulletin, Dr. Ralph Steinman, professor of oral medicine at Loma Linda (Calif.) University School of Dentistry, claims that at least two studies show that children who brush the most have slightly more decay than those who skip brushing.

"The areas most susceptible to decay," says Dr. Steinman, "can't be reached with a toothbrush." The real answer to tooth decay, Dr. Steinman believes, lies in changing our eating habits.

The chief causes of decay, he says, are, first, between-meal snacks; second, desserts; and third, refined grains, such as macaroni, cold cereals and white bread. The amount of nibbling children do, says the dentist, has a "very, very close relationship" to the number of cavities they have.

The average person consumes about 100 pounds of sugar a year. Dr. Steinman has cut his family's individual consumption to 12 pounds. Toothbrushing is such an ingrained habit with Americans, and the merits of various brands of toothpaste are so constantly and forcibly presented to our eyes and ears, that most of us would consider it heresy to give up brushing our teeth.

Dr. Steinman undoubtedly has a good point about diet, though. Too many of us have the idea that wielding the brush and tube two or three times a day is all we need worry about.

COALITION EYE

Coalition Is Gamble to Stymie Reds

By BRUCE BIOSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — On the face of it, it is surprising when a U. S. ambassador moves to block a revolution against a Red-leaning government, as Ambassador Leonard C. Unger did in Laos.

It seems all the more surprising when it is remembered that friendly control of Laos would take a good deal of the Red pressure off Thailand and make it possible to close the Ho Chi Minh trail down which travel the Red North Vietnamese cadres for the war in South Vietnam.

Here is the story behind that unusual State Department action: Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and their advisers are convinced by U. S. experience in Laos that the anti-Communist Laotian forces cannot hold out in battle against Laotian Reds reinforced by North Vietnamese troops.

The precoalition experience of American military advisers in Laos was disheartening. Anti-Communist Laotian troops would not stand and fight. The U. S. specialists on Laos believe, therefore, that a friendly army coup, even if it did gain control of the government, would be defeated and ousted by a Pathet Lao - North Vietnamese attack. They predict a completely Red Lao government would result.

(There were, however, exceptions to the tendency of loyal Laotians to run. One major exception: The army unit led by Gen. Kouprasith Abhay, who led the current coup. His troops fought well in the Civil war.) — Rusk's advisers are convinced that if the present uneasy coalition can be made to hold, however shakily, the North Vietnamese will be held back from an all-out military takeover by fear of U. S. intervention from Thailand, where advance bases are ready for quick use by American troops who could be ferried in by air from the Pacific. Some defense officials hold threats of bombing North Viet Nam would be even more effective.

White House advisers hope that if the present coalition is continued, South Viet Nam's Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh can reach agreement with the conservative elements of the Laotian coalition for quiet joint action to cut the illegal Red supply lines from North Viet Nam through Laos to South Viet Nam. — Some key U. S. diplomats see signs the Laotian neutralists are beginning to get fed up with the Communists, who have consistently broken truce agreements and sabotaged the neutralist coalition government.

At the start of the coalition, the neutralists were considerably more on the Red side than against. Some U. S. specialists now believe the neutralist premier, Prince Souvanna Phouma, while still leaning to the left, may well be on the way to turning against his half brother, Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the Communist Pathet Lao.

U. S. government experts want time for this disillusionment to strengthen. They hope that in the long run disillusionment will be more effective than military action in keeping Laos out of Communist hands.

Meanwhile, the Communists have been strengthening their military positions in a series of carefully timed military truce violations.

It is a wise plan to magnify the merits of those who admire us.

Moyers Becoming Dominant White House Aide Despite Distrust of His Recruiting by Other Aides

By Frank J. Markey

WASHINGTON — Bill Moyers, 30-year-old ordained Baptist minister, is rapidly emerging as the dominant figure on President Johnson's White House staff.

With the same "can do" forcefulness that his boss constantly proclaims, Moyers has commandeered the office previously occupied by Theodore Sorensen, Kennedy's No. 1 aide of the late President.

From behind his impressive new desk, Moyers has taken over the direction of the entire White House staff, including the recruiting of new members and the fluffing of key positions in other government agencies.

Under a private agreement with Kenneth O'Donnell, a former Kennedy aide now serving as Johnson's appointment secretary, Moyers has been given the final say on all visitors' appointments.

A slender Texan who has been at Johnson's side since the new President succeeded Kennedy, Moyers is using the Peace Corps, where he had served as deputy director, to recruit new staff members for both the White House and the Democratic National Committee.

Despite the violent objections of such trusted Johnson aides as Special Assistant Walter Jenkins and Clifton Carter, the President's top political adviser, Moyers has succeeded in bringing back into the White House Richard Goodwin, the former free-wheeling Latin American "expert" who favors normalizing U. S. relations with Communist Dictator Castro.

Goodwin, whose Latin American capers with pro-Castro politicians got him quietly shifted to the Peace Corps under the late President Kennedy, is back at his old stomping grounds, writing speeches and handling special assignments from Moyers.

BUILDING AN EMPIRE — Moyers also has succeeded in breaching the tight defenses of Clifton Carter, long-time Johnson aide, by installing Lloyd Wright, another Peace Corps official and staunch supporter of Attorney General Robert Kennedy, as head of the Democratic National Committee's publicity department.

At present, Moyers is waging a backstage battle with Carter and Jenkins to expand this mushrooming empire. He is trying to add to the White House staff Wilson D. McCarthy, congressional relations officer of the Peace Corps.

While the Carter-Jenkins team has temporarily blocked McCarthy's official transfer, Moyers has given his private White House pass to McCarthy, who is serving as his private "messenger" to Attorney General Kennedy.

WASHINGTON:

Prayer Also Hot Issue Right Now

By RAY CRUMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The new House Judiciary hearings on school prayer, right now the only hot public issue outside civil rights, bring this committee under the pressure hammer for the second time in less than a year.

Not many months ago Judiciary delivered itself of the major civil rights bill now in Senate debate. Now it must deal with the immense backlash stirred by Supreme Court decisions outlawing prayer and Bible reading in the public schools.

Tens of thousands of letters deluge the nation's lawmakers, urging action to permit such observances. In the committee's hopper are some 150 resolutions, sponsored by a fourth of total House membership, whose general purpose is to authorize voluntary school prayer and perhaps Bible reading.

On a recent weekend, a young California girl stood in New York's Times Square soliciting signatures for school prayer petitions. She had countless counterparts in communities all over the country.

She was working for "Project America," a petition and post card drive conceived by International Christian Youth, an organization based in Collingswood, N.J.

The goal: one million signatures. Preliminary reports indicate the one-day campaign brought 50,000 names in San Antonio, Tex., 38,000 in Chattanooga, Tenn., 29,000 in Grand Rapids, Mich., to list just a handful.

Another organization called "Project Prayer" recently drew 2,500 people to a Los Angeles rally billed as one of a series across the United States. Others are slated for Georgia and Texas.

Project prayer has endorsed the leading school prayer proposal, which bears the name of Rep. Frank Becker, New York Republican. His is the product of a special bipartisan committee of six House members.

He is high on the roster of 60 House members who wish to be heard in committee sessions before other pro-and-con witnesses appear. Present plans call for a week of testimony by May 15.

Becker declares flatly that the Judiciary Chairman Emanuel Celler intends no action on the school prayer issue despite the hearings. The New Yorker already has acquired 165 of the 218 House signatures needed to bring a proposal to the floor over committee opposition.

Celler is ignoring Becker's charges. Committee spokesmen say the long delay in taking up the school prayer matter reflects the many months of attention to civil rights, and more recently, to congressional re-appointment.

Becker is retiring this year as a congressman. He seems to be making the school prayer amendment his swan song. His staff works Saturdays and Sundays to handle the endless letters and the flood of petitions. In just one week, petitions with 41,000 signatures have been fune- rialized today." He's being what?

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Wednesday, April 29, the 120th day of 1964 with 246 to follow.

The moon is approaching last quarter.

The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1862, New Orleans, gateway to the Mississippi River, and once a stronghold of the Confederacy, fell to Union forces.

In 1913, Gideon Sundback of Hobboken, N.J., was granted patent for the "zipper."

In 1945, the bodies of Italian dictator Mussolini and his companions, executed by partisans the day before, were hung in public square in Milan.

In 1945, American soldiers liberated 32,000 Nazi prisoners at Dachau, the oldest of the Nazi concentration camps.

A thought for the day—English poet Alfred Tennyson once said: "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns thoughts of love."

HOW TO ADDRESS OUR LAW MAKERS

You may wish to write your senators and representatives in Washington. Here are their addresses:

(FEDERAL)
Rep. Walter Rogers, House Office Bldg., Washington 25, D. C.
Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Senate Bldg., Washington 25, D. C.
Sen. John Tower, Senate Office Bldg., Washington 25, D. C.

(STATE)
Rep. Granger Matheny, House Bldg., Austin, Texas
Sen. Grady Hearwood, Senate Bldg., Austin, Texas.

000 signatures poured into his office.

The House Republican Policy Committee has formally given its support to his proposal. Democrats have not acted similarly.

The Becker proposal is in the form of an amendment to the United States Constitution. It would authorize school prayer and Bible reading on a voluntary basis. A clause barring "an establishment of religion" is designed to meet objections that church-state separation is being violated.

With school children, clergymen and many others due to descend on the capital, the committee may well wish for a quieter issues of an earlier day.

English history records a mass rebellion against the delays and tolls of turnpike travel. In 1842-3, groups of men, dressed in women's nightgowns and known as Rebecca's Sisters, smashed gates and levelled tollhouses. Juries refused to convict any rioters caught, and eventually Parliament bowed to public opinion and created a turnpike commission.

Truth, passion, and power: these are no better things than there is in fiction.

To sleep by night and dream by day is the balm of misfortune.

Modesty is the polite concession worth makes to inferiority.

No man is a romantic hero to a widow.

It is a wise plan to magnify the merits of those who admire us.

BEACH MISS — Hollywood would have us believe there are thousands of Dolores Wells cavorting on California beaches. This particular Dolores can be seen cavorting in the new film, "Muscle Beach Party."

Wall Street In Review

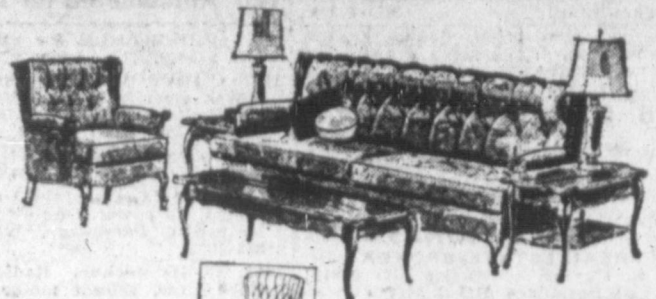

NEW YORK (UPI) — Reynolds & Co. says the recent heavy selling on the stock market reflects investor distrust of the speculation Canadian mining stocks and traders taking their profits after anticipating most of the good business news.

But Reynolds views the sell-off as a healthy correction and looks for "real support" to develop around the 810 level of the Dow-Jones average. The brokerage house adds that it does not see a good reason at this time to sell investment grade securities.

Walt McKibben of Forbes Investments notes that interest is starting to shift away from the bluest chips toward secondary issues. But McKibben states that investors who look for a resurgence in speculative stocks, special situations, and over-the-counter stocks "are being a bit previous." He says there are "lots of high quality secondaries lagging the market" and that their turn next before the speculative class.

W. E. Hutton & Co. notes that some investors are puzzled over the failure of their stocks to respond with "greater enthusiasm" to the flood of glowing first quarter earnings statements. The brokerage house says the reason is that these earnings, for the most part, are "expected news." The market always responds better to the unexpected than to the expected, it states, but adds there is still much significance in these reports.
