Spiritual Viewpoint Accenuates Easter

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth in a series of stories based on the meaning of Easter prepared for the Pampa Daily News by Pampa High School students.

By HANK HENRY To me, the main feeling of Easter comes from a spiritual viewpoint. However, when Easter is mentioned, I think of the holidays from school, a chance to get together with the boys, and not worry about homework.

It's also a time to visit relatives that I haven't seen for a long period of time. Of course, there is the thoughts of younger children who get a tremendous kick from the long-awaited Easter egg hunt with the surprise of finding eggs or possibly a bunny.

Not only do the children get a thrill but the adults as well. But with these embellishments, Christ's resurrection from his ordeal and His making known His love for mankind, is most prevalent in my thoughts of Easter. I truly believe that this season is a time which all people have an opportunity to become more closely related with the church of their choice.

Good Friday Signals Approach of Easter

By United Press International There was darkness over the whole land.

which extends to Easter morning. Young adults of Angelica in Los Angeles prepared for a continuous prayer-vigil from 3 p.m. until 8:30 a.m. Sunday.

Christians across the nation gathered in churches today to commemorate the suffering of Christ upon the cross. Singly and in families, in whitewashed hilltop churches and in cathedrals carved from the stone and concrete of big cities, they came to relive the agony of the Crucifixion.

Most churches—Catholic and Protestant—scheduled special Good Friday services from noon until 3 p.m. Major securities and commodity exchanges in the United States and Canada were closed today.

Most churches scheduled three-hour midday services in remembrance of the time nearly 2,000 years ago when hope was plunged into the heart of darkness.

Major securities and commodity exchanges in the United States and Canada were closed today. Banks in some cities were also closed and many businesses offered employees time off to attend church services.

Quebec's opened their doors throughout the day and thousands of faithful kept a quiet vigil of prayer and meditation. Good Friday—rough-hewn crosses bound in place by rope—were erected on the lawns of three Chicago-area cemeteries.

The commemoration of the last Supper was marked by Christians Thursday night. Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York offered Pontifical Mass in St. Patrick's Cathedral and blessed holy oils used throughout the year.

Three Chicago-area cemeteries were erected on the lawns of three Chicago-area cemeteries. A latticed linen shroud fluttered from the crossbars to symbolize the scene in the shadow of Calvary.

Jews begin their annual celebration of the Passover at sundown today, offering praise to God for the deliverance of the children of Israel from bondage in ancient Egypt. The Passover is one of the world's oldest religious holidays, having been commemorated for more than 3,000 years.

No masses were celebrated in Roman Catholic Churches today but many Catholics began the traditional period of devotion

UN Flags Go up on Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—The United Nations military force began its peace-keeping task on Cyprus today, with strict orders to stay out of the island's politics.

United Nations flags went up throughout the island shortly after 5 a.m. (10 p.m. Thursday EST), signifying the international force had become operational. The blue-and-white U.N. banner replaced the British Union Jack at all military installations.

By 8 a.m. two companies of the French-Canadian Royal 22nd Regiment fanned out of their camp and took over the tense northern Nicosia suburb of Trachona. British paratroopers, who had been policing the suburb, withdrew into reserve at the Elisabeth Camp, west of the capital.

U.N. Secretary General Thant, in a special statement marking the start of the peace-keeping operation, appealed to "all parties concerned to refrain from any action likely to worsen the situation."

The U.N. commander, Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani of India, summoned Greek and Turkish-Cypriot representatives to a meeting to outline the duties and responsibilities of the peace force.

Most of the British troops which had policed Cyprus since the crisis began in December will remain for the present under U.N. jurisdiction. The Mediterranean island was calm as the international force took over. There had been no major communal fighting for several days.

Gyani ordered the Canadians to follow the pattern set by the British and avoid any involvement in the political questions dividing the Cypriots. He said they must help the island resolve its problems under peaceful conditions.

Mac Shows Improvement

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has showed "marked improvement," his doctors said today, in fighting a lung inflammation that has complicated his recovery from two major operations in 2 1/2 weeks.

Officials at Walter Reed Medical Center said MacArthur's overall condition remains serious but that he is convalescing satisfactorily. In a bulletin early Thursday, his doctors said MacArthur had developed "moderate pneumonitis" at the base of the right lung.

Pneumonitis followed a six-hour operation on the 84-year-old general Monday.

Officers estimate the value of the stolen goods comes to some $6,000.

Recovered Loot May Hit $10,000

Arrest of three Pampa High School students Thursday has cleared what law enforcement officers call one of the biggest waves of burglary, theft and vandalism in the Top O' Texas area in many years.

Charges of burglary with intent to commit theft were filed today against Charles Wayne Tyler, 18, Kenneth Rogers, 17, and Danny Bond, 16, all of Pampa. The charges were filed before Justice of the Peace Nat Lunsford by District Attorney Bill Waters.

The complaints named all three youths, including the 16-year-old Bond boy, who under Texas law is a juvenile. Waters said he was acting upon the complaint of H. M. Luna, operator of the Martin-Marietta Corp., a concrete irrigation pipe and accessories firm located east of Pampa.

The charge was taken late Thursday night after Waters said the merchandise had been recovered by this morning and additional items were being brought to his office by deputies as the investigation continues.

Jordan said theft and burglary cases cleared thus far included: The entering of the Martin-Marietta office three times since Jan. 20, the Surplus City Warehouse theft, theft of two boxes of tools from the Wilcox Oil Company Warehouse Sunday, burglary of the Gibson (See BURGLARIES, Page 3)

Woman Held By Russians Back in U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Singer Gabriele Hammerstein, back in the United States after two years and three months in an East German prison cell, said today "it felt wonderful" to be home.

"There's no question about it," said the 40-year-old woman who was released Thursday by the East German Communists. Miss Hammerstein was singing Wagnerian roles in East German opera houses at the time of her arrest, reportedly on charges of espionage.

She said she could make no official comments about her arrest, capture and imprisonment until she had a chance "to clear with the proper authorities."

"I don't suppose there's any place in the world like the United States," Miss Hammerstein said. "And I guess nobody feels it more than somebody who's been locked up for a length of time somewhere else. 'I'd rather be locked up here than anywhere else in the world, if I had to be locked up,'" she said with a little laugh. "But being locked up is no joy."

Captive Air Force Fliers Released by Soviet Union

HELMSTEDT, Germany (UPI)—The Soviet Union today released two captive U.S. Air Force fliers, West German police said.

The two fliers, whose RB66 jet reconnaissance bomber was shot down March 10 after straying into East German skies, swept homeward through this East-West German border checkpoint after 17 days in Russian hands.

The Soviets released the pair this Good Friday—and a third crewman set free last Saturday—after Washington warned the Kremlin continued captivity would "jeopardize" improvement of U.S.-Soviet relations.

Capt. David I. Holland, 35, of Holland, Minn., and Melvin J. Kessler, 30, of Philadelphia, wore grim expressions when their U.S. Army sedan sped into West Germany. A West German police car—its siren screaming—led the fliers' automobile toward Hannover, where a U.S. Air Force DC4 four-engine transport awaited them.

Off in Style The Russians saw their captives away in style. A Soviet Red Army officer with a detail of troops smartly saluted the Americans' sedan when it came roaring out of East Germany and into West Germany. Only very rarely in recent years have Soviet troops appeared at the Communist Marienborn checkpoint opposite Helmstedt. The U.S. Army sedan entered Western territory at 2:57 p.m. (8:57 a.m. EST) from the comparatively vacant East German autobahn and zipped into massive holiday traffic on the Western side.

Johnson Pleased With Release of US Fliers

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson expressed pleasure today that the Soviet release of two American airmen in Germany has "sensibly settled" the thorny issue of their capture.

"He is gratified that the fliers have been released," press secretary George Reedy announced at the Texas White House shortly after word came from Germany that the two WHITE DEER — Judging of stock in the annual White Deer-Skellytown Livestock Show is scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday. Nearly 30 FFA members were busy today grooming their animals and getting them placed for show in the White Deer bus barn.

Approximately $600 in prize money and ribbons will be awarded at the judging to-morrow morning. There will be no auction in the beef and hog division but some steers and hogs will be on sale by the owners.

Show officials said animals will be ready for display to the public tonight.

Dear Abby... Poor Herb Is Really Getting Needed Now

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter signed "CAN'T FORGET HIM." It was from a woman who was still trying to find a man she met in La Crosse, Wisconsin, during World War II. She said all she knew about him was that he was from Sioux Falls, South Dakota, and he had "HERB" tattooed on him. Can you please tell me where the tattoo was located? I think my Herb has some explaining to do.

CAN'T FORGET HIM EITHER...
DEAR ABBY: Sorry, but I don't have this information. But if I were you, I'd lay off. Your Herb has already been needed enough.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "CAN'T FORGET HIM" that she will have to. HE came this-a-way and married me.
MRS. HERB WINTER
ON FARLEY DRIVE

DEAR ABBY: I married a fine young man who lost his parents at an early age. He was reared by his only living relative, an older sister. I was so looking forward to meeting her because my husband told me how wonderful she was. On our first meeting alone she told me that the only reason her brother married me was to stay out of the army! She was so cruel!

and cutting I couldn't wait to get away from her to let loose the flood of tears within me. I love my husband and I think he loves me. I don't want to stir up trouble between my husband and his sister, but I would like to know where she got an idea like that.

MARRIED-TWO WEEKS
DEAR MARRIED: Dry your tears and take a good, hard look at your husband's sister. You will see a jealous, possessive woman who would have disliked ANY woman her brother married. Ignore her barb, if you can. If you can't, ask your husband where his sister got such a notion.

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago a very nice boy gave me his ring. I am 16 and he is going on 19. I was afraid to tell my father about it because he thinks all boys are rats. The day before yesterday I couldn't find it. I was sure I had left it on the window sill in the kitchen while I did the dishes, but it wasn't there. I just found out that my father took it off the window sill and pawned it. He drinks and he needed some money. He said he thought it was my brother's. Anyway, the ring is in the pawn shop and I don't know what to do because I have to tell the boy something soon. Can you suggest anything?

NOWHERE TO TURN
DEAR NOWHERE: Tell the boy you "lost" the ring. (Spare him the details.) Then start lining up some baby-sitting jobs to raise the money to get the ring out of lock.

20th Century Culture Hears Program on American Music

The program for the Twentieth Century Culture Club Tuesday was based on highlights of American music and its composers. Mrs. Warren Hasse narrated the program, and Mrs. D. W. Bond played the particular song as its story was related by Mrs. Hasse.

Mrs. Hasse told of Harry von Tilzer who went to New York and became a popular song writer in the early twentieth century. Von Tilzer is credited with originating the name "Tin Pan Alley" by saying so many pianos were being played on this one street that the sound was like beating on tin pans. His pieces include "Wait 'Til the Sun Shines Nellie", "I want a Girl" and "A Bird in the Gilded Cage". Von Tilzer was a friend of George Gershwin and Irving Berlin, giving these young composers encouragement to publish their own music.

James Bland, a Negro, was an early night club entertainer. His father was a lawyer and held a government position, and had no interest in a musical career for his son. James taught himself music on the banjo, and is remembered for "O Dem Golden Slippers", and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia".

Due to a lack of songbooks at the camp meeting to which William Steffe went as song-leader in 1852, he found it necessary to compose some songs. He took a cue from the Negro spirituals and used the same music for the verses as for the chorus. Only changing the words. The chorus of one repeated, the words "Say brothers, will you meet us?", and the song was a success. After John Brown's raid on the arsenal at Harpers Ferry, and his death in 1859, his followers and sympathizers picked up the hymn and told the world that while "John Brown's body lies a-mouldering in the grave, His soul goes marching on."

When the Confederacy was formed, a parody was sung to the same tune — "We will hang Jeff Davis to a sour apple tree." When the Civil War broke out, a regiment was ordered from Boston to Washington to defend the capitol, and they sang this on the way — "Glory, glory, Hallelujah," and it was considered a new marching hymn for the Union in the fight against the seceding Confederates. Julia Ward Howe, wife of a physician connected with the government in Washington heard it in 1861 and felt the emotional impact of the music. She realized the verses were inadequate for a lasting hymn, and she was urged to replace them with these stirring words which are as militant as have ever been written by one who never shouldered a musket or obeyed a military order — "Mine eyes have seen the glory of the Lord." All five stanzas were published in the Atlantic Monthly in 1862 and the hymn was accepted as a battle song for the Republic in the remaining years of the Civil War.

Two sisters, Ann and Jane Taylor were encouraged to put into print their poems and hymns after other women had written hymns that were published. In contrast to the accepted hymn of despair these sisters wrote this four line verse for their Sunday School collection of hymns to help children see what the Psalmist meant when he said "When I consider Thy heavens, the moon and the stars which Thou has ordained,

Rail Commissioners Due for Celebration

Final plans for the opening of the new headquarters of the Texas Railroad Commission at City Hall were announced today by Jack Miller, supervisor of the Panhandle district of the commission.

The celebration will get underway Saturday, April 25, when two of the three railroad commissioners fly into Pampa to set things in motion for a day-long open house program.

The new offices, which will occupy a good portion of the third floor of City Hall, will formally be dedicated at 10:30 a.m. April 25 when J. C. Langdon and Ben Ramsey, the two commissioners scheduled to appear, are presented the keys to the office by Pampa Mayor H. R. Thompson.

Each will make brief remarks, then Thompson will join the former lieutenant governor and judge in snipping a ribbon which will bar the door until it is cut. The public is invited to attend the ceremony and tour the office of the Railroad Commission afterwards, meet the commissioners and chat with city and area officials who will be present.

Miller said invitations to all state senators and representatives in the 26 county district were being placed in the mail and he had heard from several of the Texas lawmakers in person that they would attend.

Desk and Derrick Club members will serve coffee and donuts to the public and guests during the open house in the Palm Room at city hall.

Following the ribbon-cutting ceremonies, the commissioners, state lawmakers and Pampa city officials will go to the Coronado Inn where they will be honored guests at a luncheon for more than 300 oil and gas industry representatives from the Panhandle area. The program will be held in the Starlight Room at the hotel.

Miller said that the new offices would remain open for public inspection all day with his staff on duty until about 5 p.m.

The commission headquarters on the third floor of City Hall have been in the process of remodeling since Jan. 10.

The offices have been completely revamped and the entire space has been air conditioned.

The commission has been operating in temporary offices in the former Palm Room at City Hall.

Miller said his office staff moved into the new quarters within the last week.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — David Quarrell of Shearson, Hamill & Co. says a brief technical correction is to be expected at this time, in view of the sustained advance over the past three months.

Quarrell does not expect the correction, if it comes, to be more than temporary, but warns that caution is needed at this time. He recommends taking profits in matured situations and analyzing each individual holding in relation to its market price and basic value.

Clark, Dodge & Co. says the investor is being given another excellent opportunity to add to select holdings but warns that "any temptation to be too cute by bidding well under current prices is best avoided."

Bache & Co. feels the market's temporary pause is a healthy sign and points out that fundamentally strong issues have given up little ground and now appear to be refreshing themselves for the next upward move. The firm continues bullish as long as this pattern persists.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK, UPI Education Specialist

By methods for teaching and purging children to do creative writing has caused some confusion. Parents often wonder if their children are allowed to use incorrect grammar, misspelled words, etc. while writing.

After preparing the first draft of a paper the student should read his composition aloud, listening for areas of awkwardness. He should check the organization to make certain his ideas follow a logical pattern. He should rephrase weak expressions, making them more meaningful by adding picturesque adjectives and verbs. It is also important to vary sentence style both in beginnings and lengths.

The final product should be evaluated carefully by someone who is expert in the field. The areas of excellence should be pointed out and praised, the shortcomings noted, and specific recommendations for the future listed.

A negative approach in grading papers is a serious mistake. Too much stress on mechanical errors discourages imagination. The student quickly resorts to brief and lifeless statements in order to avoid critical remarks. Deserved praise is the most effective way to improve style and reduce total grammatical errors. Creative writing can be fun. It is a valuable asset which can be developed through encouragement combined with an organized approach.

Burglaries

Discount Warehouse, theft of a box of tools valued at $350 from the McCathern Pipeline Company, theft of a shotgun from a car owned by John Adams, while Adams was attending church at the Central Baptist Church as well as many other yet to be listed cases.

"The Martin-Marietta business was one of the worst vandalism jobs I've seen in many years. What the boys couldn't carry away, they destroyed. There is no way of giving an estimate of damage," Jordan declared.

The firm had been closed some 60 days prior to the break in the case. Jordan said there were other vandalism cases involved.

The sheriff said one of the boys, who weighs 274 pounds and stands 6'4", told officers that in one tire theft, he lifted a pick-up truck off the pavement where it was sitting so the other youths could remove tire and wheel from the truck, then set the truck back down. The same boy told Jordan he removed two tool boxes that deputies were strained to lift from a parked truck without any trouble.

Jordan asked the youngster why he didn't play football or sports and was told that the school "couldn't find shoes big enough." The youth wears a size 15 shoe, Jordan said.

"I hate to see youngsters in a jam, like this bunch, but it happens," Jordan said.

The sheriff said the case was the worst since he had been in office, and could think of only one other incident which "might tie" in size.

"That was the Airport Motel theft in 1949 near Amarillo where everything was carried off but the airplane," he recalled.

Jordan announced the break in the case, which his department, Texas Rangers, highway patrolmen, city police and juvenile officers had been investigating for some 90 days, shortly after 1 p.m. Thursday when the first load of stolen tools was recovered.

"This is the worst theft case we've had in a long time," Jordan said. "I would place the value of what we have recovered at a conservative $6,000 and could go higher." The sheriff said a complete inventory would be made later.

The sheriff estimated some 25 to 30 theft, burglary and vandalism cases had been cleared and told the Pampa Daily News that "this could easily clean up every theft case we've had this year."

Recovered by officers were a drilling machine, typewriters, shotguns, flashlights, sleeping bags, battery chargers, automobile batteries, tools taken from oil rigs, welding companies and other such firms. One box was considered valued at some $300, alone to the company from which it was taken, Jordan declared.

The sheriff said there was no reason or pattern behind the thefts as far as early questioning of the boys could determine. He commented that the youths had been "very co-operative."

The three boys led officers to most of the stolen merchandise, hidden at their homes, in irrigation ditches and "just about any place they could put something" as Jordan expressed it.

The sheriff said the first major break in the case came Sunday afternoon when two boys were seen taking two tool boxes from the Wilcox Oil Company property, southeast of Pampa, and a description of the automobile in which they were riding was obtained.

"We knew what kind of car they were using and we started looking for it. Once we found the car, it was smooth sailing from that point," Jordan said.

The sheriff said tire markings on the car played a major part in tracking down the auto-

Welfare Index Makes Appeal

Spring house-cleaning? If so, the Pampa Welfare Index has need of any old clothing, bedding and used furniture which may land in the junk pile.

County welfare officers said today that the stockpile of similar items which developed in January has about been depleted.

Any person with such material which they would like to donate, may bring it to the Plainsman Motel on Highway 60, where the Index accepts such donations.

Most needed at the present time is bedding, according to welfare office employees.

SEES BETTER FUTURE

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak sees the economic and financial situation improving in the Congo, a former Belgian colony.

"The government in Leopoldville can now think of building up industrial equipment instead of concentrating solely on consumption problems," he said.

The recent devaluation of Congolese franc is producing results although the mounting cost of living remains a weak point," he added.

LEXINGTON, Mass.: Two Roman Catholic priests returned home Thursday night and reported they were "handed roughly" by deputies during a civil rights demonstration at Williamston, N.C.

ROCHESTER, N.Y.: An all-white jury convicted 15 Black Muslims Thursday of assault and unlawful assembly charges in a clash with police nearly 15 months ago.

WASHINGTON: Malcolm X, head of the militant Black Nationalist movement, said Thursday a Southern filibuster against the civil rights bill in the Senate would provoke a "spontaneous" march of Negroes on the nation's capital.

CHICAGO: Black Muslim Philbert X, a brother of Malcolm X, Thursday called Malcolm a false prophet who may cause unnecessary loss of blood and life among his followers.

Priest to Speak On Child Planning

DALLAS (UPI) — The first speech by a Roman Catholic priest to the Planned Parenthood Federation is scheduled for the birth control group's convention here.

The Rev. John Thomas, director of the Institute of Social Order at St. Louis University, will be a member of a panel discussing interfaith cooperation for family planning.

The Catholic church condemns birth control by contraception, but approves of the rhythm method, of abstinence during the days a woman is likely to become pregnant.

The four-day meeting of Planned Parenthood - World Population will open April 29. The group was formed last year by the merger of the Planned Parenthood Federation and the World Population Emergency campaign.

There will also be a symposium on teen-age sex morals and how they effect the population explosion.

Damage Suit Filed Following Accident

A suit asking $15,000 in personal damages and $500 in payment of medical bills, was filed today on behalf of R. O. Fleming as the result of a traffic accident on Jan. 11 in Pampa.

Gene Johnson is named as defendant in the suit filed in District Court. The mishap happened at Foster and Somerville Sts.

Fliers

The two fliers, despite their grim — almost frowning — expressions, did not appear to be injured.

Injured Flier Returned

The captain parachuted from the RB66 when it was shot down after veering off course on what the United States called a "routine training flight" and the Communists labelled "a spy flight."

The third member of the crew already returned West — 1st Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, of Detroit — suffered a broken arm and leg when his parachute slammed him into a tree.

The Communists had decorated their border checkpoint with Red banners that fluttered under a gray cloudy sky. Communist loud speakers blared martial oom-pah-pah music.

Holland and Kessler paid no attention. They kept their eyes facing West as their Army sedan left Communist territory.

Titmice in England have learned to open milk bottles.

LESS 'CAMERA WIDOWS'

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — The ranks of "camera widows" are dwindling as mothers and daughters shoot more of the family's color pictures and home movies, according to researchers at the Dynachrome film laboratories here. They estimate that feminine fans now own and operate between 30 and 40 per cent of the 12 million or more 35 mm. and 8 mm. cameras in use in the country and shoot more than 200 million color slides and 400 million feet of 8mm. color movies in a year.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

REV. L. C. LYNCH, PASTOR
FIRST FREE WILL BAPTIST CHURCH

St. John 11.25 "Jesus said unto her, I am resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live."

As we approach Easter, we are drawn closer to Calvary by the knowledge that we are serving a living, resurrected Saviour; one that was tempted, and mocked by angry crowds, yet was able to say "Father forgive them for they know not what they do."

May we as Christians, not think of Easter as a time to dress up in new clothes, or to go on outings, but may we turn our thoughts back to the sepulchre . . . hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid."

Very early in the morning as they came to the Sepulchre, and found the stone rolled away, and the body gone, they were afraid. Two men stood by them in shining garments, and said unto them, "Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here, but is risen." They had heard him say that he must go to Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders, and chief priests, and be killed, and be raised again the third day.

I wonder if we do not, too often forget the suffering and disappointments the Saviour of the world suffered that we might have life, and have it more abundantly or do we think of Him as a Saviour to go to in time of distress or trouble; if we live close to him day by day, he is ever near, and ready to comfort us at all times.

May we as Christians go to church Sunday, and thank God for such a wonderful Saviour, that gave His body for the Church.

In the resurrection of Christ, we are able to have our names written in the Book of Life, and to look forward to the time, this same Jesus which is taken from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner.

"For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have Everlasting Life."

56TH YEAR FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 1964 9

Sporting Sidelines

by JEFF COHANE

Once again, Jim McLemore, secretary of the Texas Sportswriters Association, has come up with a review exposing anachronisms and deficiencies in the University Interscholastic League program governing high school sports. The TSWA feels that the arbitrary and unreasonable rulings of the UIL can only be combated by the public, a public that knows what is going on. Following is Mr. McLemore, and the lack of consistency of the amateur rule:

What's good for the goose is good for the gander is an old saying but it doesn't carry much weight with the University Interscholastic League when it comes to the Amateur Rule.

Reading through the UIL handbook is like reading the dictionary — it has rules covering everything from A to Z. But many of the rules, especially the Amateur Rule, lack consistency. The UIL's Amateur Rule was first adopted 46 years ago and even the high moguls of the UIL can't tell you who actually drew up the rule. It was supposedly done by a group of school administrators, but the fact of the matter is that it hasn't been touched since it was adopted around 1918.

No one will deny that high school athletics need to be kept on a pure amateur level but at the same time, conditions now certainly are not the same as 46 years ago. Apparently the original intent of the UIL was to eliminate high school athletes being given plush jobs in the summer months strictly on their athletic prowess. Under the rule it is illegal for a youngster to receive pay for umpiring, coaching or instructing of junior programs, softball, baseball or swimming.

The rule further states that: money or other valuable consideration accepted by a contestant after a contest renders the contestant ineligible for further participation in UIL contests. According to the UIL interpretation this rule has been construed to prohibit a contestant from receiving a payment or valuable consideration, either for participation in, or as an incentive to participate in, any game or sport.

Unless a youngster actually receives money for playing or participating in a given sport or recreation, then he shouldn't be considered a violator of the Amateur Rule. Certainly umpiring a baseball game shouldn't make you a professional baseball player. The UIL standard answer to this is that the boy would receive the job because he was an athlete. But

Wayland Hosts Girls Volleyball

PLAINVIEW (Sp1) — The first Wayland Baptist College Open Volleyball Tournament for women is scheduled for March 30-April 4 and will be conducted under the United States Volleyball Association rules for 1964, according to Miss Helen Osborne, assistant professor of physical education, chairman. Games will be played in the college gymnasium.

Not only will trophies be given for first, second and consolation but trophies will go to individual players selected as All-Tourney. Entries should be sent to Miss Osborne not later than March 23 with the $5 entry-fee check made to Wayland Open Volleyball Tournament. Area teams which have already filed entries include: Happy, Tulsa, Springlake, Olton, Neal's of Plainview and Phillips 66 of Plainview. Brackets will be mailed to teams immediately after the close of filing date, March 23. "Volleyball has taken on more interest since it was added to sports in the 1964 Olympics competition," says Miss Osborne. "We hope that many area teams will participate in this highly skilled sport."

Outfield Only Problem Cardinals Can Surprise Them

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of 20 dispatches on the 1964 prospects of the major league baseball clubs.)

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — The St. Louis Cardinals surprised them last season when they finished second and Manager Johnny Keane thinks they can surprise them even more this year.

He thinks the club is going to be better, although admitting he has an outfield problem. "Everyone on this club shares my feeling that we can do better than last year and the only way we can is to win the pennant," Keane says. "We all know we have a mighty good shot at it all."

Keane, a frank manager who admitted he didn't expect the Cardinals to give the Los Angeles Dodgers the run they did for the National League pennant last year, philosophized that:

"We've got to be better because we know we came so close last year (the Cardinals finished six games behind the Dodgers), and that has got to boost our confidence."

Weakness in Outfield
He insists he is not worried about his outfield — the one weakness rival managers find in the Cardinal setup.

He has a fixture in center field in Curt Flood. He thinks Charley James will take care of right field and he's planning on platooning the right-handed hitting Carl Warwick and the left-handed hitting Doug Clemens in left.

"I don't think the outfield is such a big problem for it has to be better defensively," Keane said.

He has a set infield. It's Bill White at first base, Julian Javier at second, Dick Groat at short and heavy hitting Ken Boyer at third.

First stringer Tim McCarver and Jim Coker will take care of the catching. It could be the Cardinals will wind up short of pennant caliber in this department.

Pitching figures to be the Cardinals' strong point, although they do not have an outstanding relief hurler.

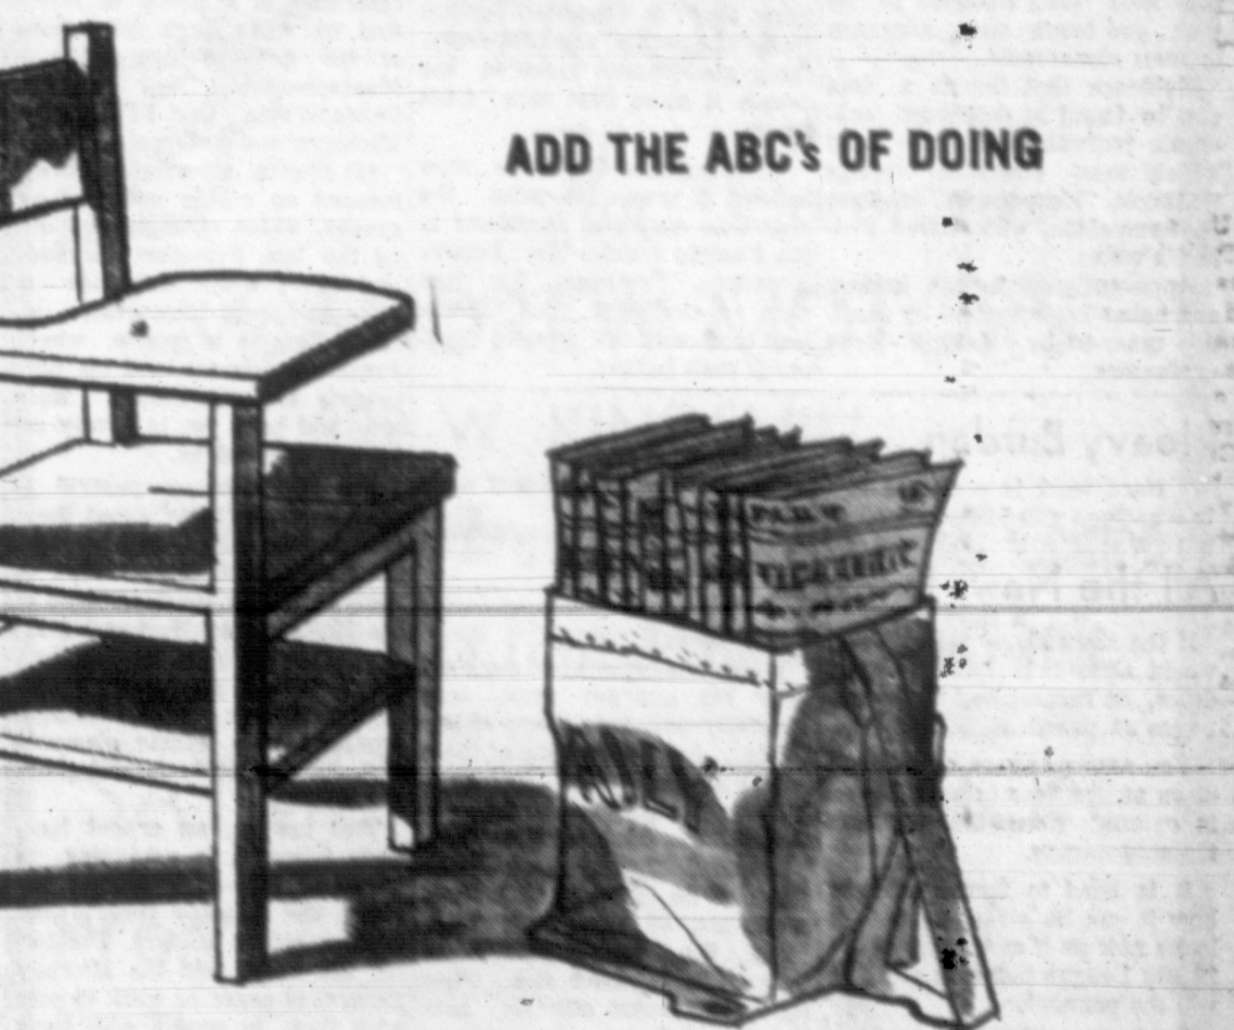

Starting Pitchers
Keane is counting on left handers Curt Simmons (13-9) and Ray Sadecki (19-10) and right handers Bob Gibson (18-9) and Ernie Broglio (18-8) as regular starters.

His fifth starter could be Roger Craig, the tough luck pitcher of the Mets the past two seasons when he won only 13 games while losing 46. Actually, Keane would prefer to have Craig in his bullpen. And that's where he will wind up if Ray Washburn conquers his arm trouble. This right hander started off strong last season and then came up with a sore arm, winding up with Tulsa.

His top bullpen men will be little Bobby Shantz, the left hander, and Ron Taylor, the right hander. That leaves the veteran Lew Burdette for long relief and spot starting assignments.

TAKE THE ABC'S OF LEARNING

ADD THE ABC'S OF DOING

AND YOU HAVE THE ABC'S OF SUCCESS

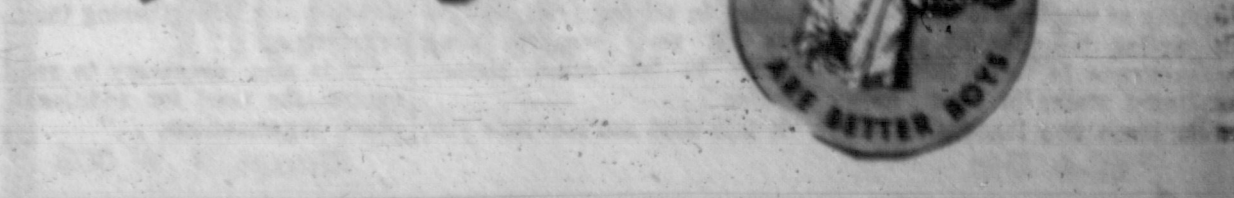

Seems like a simple formula. But not every boy has the opportunity to add these two ingredients together.

A newspaperboy does. He gets both sides of the picture, the book end of it and the business end of it. He's learning by doing. And his experience as an independent little merchant, buying and selling, delivering and collecting, keeping his own books and spending or saving his own money helps him grow inside and outside the classroom.

Every year more and more educators and juvenile authorities are joining the 700,000 parents who say: "Encourage your boy to get a newspaper route."

If you think your son might profit by Newspaper Route Experience, our Circulation Department will be glad to hear from you.

Sports of all Sorts

By STEVE SNIDER
UPI Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) — Sports of all sorts:

Frank Crosetti, the quiet one, is the best example of the baseball slogan. "It pays to be a Yankee". Cro is starting his 33rd season with the New York Yankees as player and later a coach. In 22 of those years, he has collected a fat World Series check.

Crosetti now is the senior major leaguer in point of service with one club. He was "promoted" when the Cleveland Indians dumped Mel Harder, pitcher and coach for 36 seasons. Mel wound up with that young feller who manages the New York Mets, Casey Stengel.

What are they feeding the growing boys these days? New York State High School officials had to inaugurate a special "unlimited" division for heavyweights over 235 pounds.

A lad named Frank Patterson of Niagara (390 pounds) defeated Brian Lucas of Scarsdale, a mere 305, for the unlimited crown earlier this month. Whew!

Tulsa U. is pushing quarterback Jerry Rhome as a top 1964 All-American football candidate, calling him the nation's No. 1 returning quarterback since Don Trull of Baylor and George Mira of Miami are heading for the pros. But how about Navy's Roger Staubach? He'll be back, men.

Mickey Wright To St. Pete

DALLAS (UPI) — Dallas golfer Mickey Wright, recuperating from a sprained ankle she suffered in a fall Feb. 3, said Thursday she will play in the pro-portion of the St. Petersburg Fla. open next month.

Miss Wright won a record 13 tournaments last year.

The pro-am part of the tournament is April 1 with the main part running the next four days.

Miss Wright said her ankle was recovering slowly "but it won't be well enough to play five days of golf in a row by next week."

But the Dallas Oak Cliff Country Club teacher said she hopes she will be able to play in the Baton Rouge tournament the week after the Florida tournament.

Miss Wright fell down a flight of stairs when her high-heeled shoe caught in a step. She said she was lucky the injury came in the winter as it did.

That way, she said, she missed fewer tournaments.

NCAA Criticizes State Department

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) today criticized the State Department and issued a protest against the department-sponsored Russian tour by U.S. Olympic basketball team members.

Olympic Coach Henry (Hank) Iba said in Lexington, Ky., that he declined several weeks ago an invitation to coach the tour team because of prior commitments and "reservations about the trip's worth."

The tour, scheduled before next month's Olympic trials, would include Italy, Yugoslavia and Russia during three weeks in April.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, acting for the association's officers, issued a strong statement denouncing the tour.

He said the collegiate team should be under no obligation to participate in the tour.

He said the trip should have no bearing on the selection of the Olympic basketball team which will represent the United States in the Olympic games at Tokyo next October.

Byers said he was concerned over class time players will miss and "academic problems because of the Olympic trials preparation period and Olympic games participation itself make it mandatory for the NCAA to be certain no additional obligation on the part of the college players be involved."

Olson Makes Last Stand

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Aging Carl (Bobo) Olson, one-time king of the middleweights, makes what may be his last big-time stand in the fight game tonight.

He tangles with young Wayne Thornton, a blond Irishman from Fresno, Calif., in a nationally televised light-heavyweight fight from Kezar Pavilion.

If Bobo, now a balding 35 years old, wins this one, he'll be in the chips again and possibly may get a shot at the world light-heavyweight crown.

If he loses, it probably will be the end of the road as far as any big money is concerned.

The bout is rated a toss-up in the betting marts, but competent observers think that the 23-year-old Thornton, who has broken even in three fights with world champion Willie Pastrano, should have the edge. He is a harder puncher — and he has the most valuable weapon of all going for him on his side: Youth.

The winner has been promised a crack at the championship, but there is no guarantee.

Thornton has a record of 29 wins against five losses and a draw with Pastrano.

Bobo has had 100 fights or more and has lost only 13. He has been kayoed only once.
