Lodge Surprises GOP Hopefuls in New Hampshire

Write-in Candidate Takes Big Margin in Nation's First Primary

CONCORD, N. H. (UPI) — W. Scranton of Pennsylvania Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge stepped into the front rank of Republican presidential contenders today with a stunning write-in victory in New Hampshire's Republican presidential primary.

As a silent and unannounced candidate in Saigon, Lodge won over Sen. Barry Goldwater, who ran second, and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who was trailing in third place. Both had carried on intensive campaigns in the state before yesterday's vote.

Richard Nixon, another write-in, took fourth place while Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (Maine), the only woman seeking the nomination, edged out Harold E. Stassen for fifth place.

Nixon, the GOP's standard bearer in 1960, claims he is not seeking the party's nomination this year but would be available for a draft at the Republican National Convention.

Complete unofficial returns from all of New Hampshire's 302 precincts gave Lodge 32,207; Goldwater 20,741; Rockefeller 19,833; Nixon 15,487; Mrs. Smith 2,004; Stassen 1,320; Gov. George Romney of Michigan (write-in) 86; and Gov. William

Lady Bird, HST Arrive in Greece
ATHENS, Greece (UPI) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and former President Harry S. Truman arrived today to lead a host of dignitaries at the funeral of King Paul of Greece Thursday.

The U.S. delegation received a warm official greeting, but there was an undercurrent of anti-American feeling because of the Cyprus crisis. Along the route from the airport into the city there was at least one sign scrawled on a wall — Truman go home.

Last week a statue of Truman, erected in appreciation for U.S. aid to Greece during the anti-Communist fight after World War II, was whitewashed as part of some anti-American demonstrations. The demonstrators charged the United States favored the Turkish Cypriots against the Greek Cypriots in the Cyprus fighting.

A group of about 1,000 students at the airport to greet Cyprus President Makarios carried signs with anti-American and anti-British slogans. They read "American hands off Cyprus," "The Anglo-American trick will not succeed" and "Freedom for Cyprus."

Mrs. Johnson and Truman were greeted at the airport outside Athens by Prince Michael, U.S. Ambassador Henry LaBouisse and other high officials. Prince Michael is a cousin of King Constantine and fourth in line to the throne.

Violence On Rights Threatened

By United Press International
Civil rights leaders warned Tuesday that New York Negroes and Puerto Ricans may resort to violence to stop discrimination against them.

An estimated 4,500 persons from 34 New York state communities marched on the state capital at Albany Tuesday to present nine demands to Rockefeller. One of the march leaders, A. Philip Randolph, said the governor gave no indication he would act on the demands.

"The state must take action if we are to avoid intermittent violence across the state," Randolph told newsmen later. "There is a sense of despair... which could lead to various forms of violent action."

In New York City, a state Appeals Court gave its approval to a school integration plan calling for a mixing of white, Negro and Puerto Rican students in equal numbers. The decision upset a lower court ruling that students could not be assigned to schools on a racial basis.

The Tuskegee (Ala.) Institute, in its annual report Tuesday, said race relations in the South last year were characterized by "both crisis and a sense of urgency to make improvements."

Air Force Sees Trick In Jet Loss

By RICHARD H. GROWALD
WIESBADEN, Germany (UPI) — A U.S. Air Force jet reconnaissance bomber may have been tricked into crossing into East Germany where it was shot down by Communist fighters, U.S. authorities said today.

Col. Mark Gilman, U.S. Air Force European headquarters spokesman, told UPI. "It cannot be ruled out the plane was led off course by radio jamming and false signals."

The Air Force said one of its unarmed RB66 twin-engine bombers became lost during a training flight over West Germany Tuesday, wandered over East German territory despite U.S. Air Force radio signals to change course, and was "believed shot down."

Crew Fate Not Known
Gilman said the fate of the three-man crew was not known here. But he quoted an official Washington report saying three parachutes were seen, dropping away from the falling RB66.

Two possible eyewitnesses—crewmembers aboard a British commercial airliner—told UPI they saw no parachutes.

At Berlin, Capt. Kenneth McQueen of the British European Airways (BEA) West Berlin-Hannover flight which passed near the scene at the reported time the RB66 went down, said he saw a plane that "looked like a Russian jet."

"About five miles from us I saw an aircraft and a sheet of flame behind it. Then the aircraft dived and disappeared into thick haze. Then smoke rose from the ground. From this we assumed that either the aircraft was engaged in rocket practice shooting at ground targets or that it had exploded and crashed," McQueen told UPI.

Sees Flash
Another crew member, who asked that his name be withheld, told UPI he saw what might have been the American plane crashing.

"I saw a flash at the top of the haze. Then the flash turned to a puff of smoke over the haze and later a cloud of smoke rose from the ground. I had the impression of an aircraft going down," he said.

Col. Gilman said the reports were being studied.

PAMPA INDUSTRIAL FOUNDATION INC. ADVANCE DRIVE

Investments Drive Opens In Campaign for $200,000

A determined band of Pampans kicked off the advance investments drive for the Industrial Foundation today at a coffee meeting at Coronado Inn.

Spurred on by Fred Neslage, the group will begin contacting some of the city's larger concerns in an effort to raise $200,000 for use in the foundation's attempt to attract new industry to Pampa.

Kits containing firm cards, subscription pledge receipts and other data was released to the 65 workers who will spearhead the drive.

"We must sell this program if Pampa is to grow," Neslage, general chairman for the drive, said. "Go out and think big and this thing will work."

No quotas were made to the committees, which will work in five teams, but Neslage urged the groups to "put everything you've got" into a call on a firm.

First report of the advance investments work will be made at 10 a. m. Friday in the Citizens Bank and Trust Co. hospitality room.

Neslage, who was joined by Mayor H. R. Thompson, Ed Myatt, Bill Chambliss, Frank Culbertson, Aubrey Steele, Floyd Watson and E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth, stressed the importance of making the report meetings.

"It is the only way we can tell how we're doing in this drive," he explained. "And it is

Attorney Halts Case In Dallas

By H. D. QUIGG
DALLAS (UPI) — Jack Ruby's defense abruptly rejected its case today, taking the court by surprise.

The jury of eight men and four women had just filed into the box at 10:07 a. m. EST for the start of a session expected to produce character witnesses when defense attorney Melvin Belli rose and calmly addressed Judge Joe B. Brown:

"The defense rests, your honor."

Belli had said he had as many as 20 more "cleanup" witnesses, including Ruby's rabbi and his maid, to round out the defense portrait of Lee Harvey Oswald's slayer. He presented two psychiatrists as star witnesses Tuesday.

His announcement that the defense had completed its case left the courtroom in dead silence for a moment.

Ruby never appeared on the stand to defend himself.

Belli implied that Ruby's story had been told Tuesday by Dr. Manfred Guttmacher, a Baltimore psychiatrist, who told of Ruby's actions last Nov. 24 or 11:21 a. m. that day, and the defense will say the maid is one more proof he did not deliberately plan it, but acted automatically under the trigger impulse of Oswald's smirking presence under the television lights of the city hall basement.

Guttmacher, a noted criminal psychiatrist and the star defense witness, related what he said Ruby had told him in interviews:

"Sunday he left his apartment about 10:30 a. m. and stopped on the street and talked to a neighbor. He parked at Western Union (in the same block with city hall) and sent a telegram a little after 11 a. m. He said he thought Oswald's transfer to the county jail was to have been at 10 a. m."

"He saw a crowd at the police station (in city hall). Curiosity led him over there. He thought he could get a scoop for his friends at the radio station."

"Suddenly Oswald appeared. Ruby told me:

Looks Cunning
"He had a very smirky expression. He looked cunning and vicious like an animal or a Communist. I felt he looked like a rat. I didn't recall whether I said, 'you killed my President,' or anything at all."

"He was hazy after that. Doesn't know if he wanted to fire more than one shot."

Ruby fired only one. That was enough. Guttmacher opened his testimony by stating it was his opinion the 52-year-old former striptease joint proprietor and Chicago street brawler did not know right from wrong when he fired, or realize the nature and consequences of his act.

If the jury of eight men and four women — who appeared when they were picked to be the "sophisticated" and intelligent types that Belli said he was seeking — believes that, they must acquit Ruby.

The state seeks to send him to the electric chair on a murder-with-malice charge. The jury may also decide to sentence him to as little as two years and then suspend the sentence.

JUNIOR HIGH TURNS TO WATERFRONT FOR LIONS

'Showboat' to Dock in Pampa

By GLENN MCCASLAND
I went to a rehearsal Tuesday night.

Rufe Jordan sang, Bill Craig danced and Hank Henry cracked dead-pan jokes.

Max Presnell yelled, jumped around and put the pieces together.

In the end, a bright, sparkling stage production marched across the hardwoods of Pampa Junior High School's auditorium and will turn into the 28th Annual Lions Club Minstrel Show at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

IT WAS dress rehearsal time for the show, the final chance to iron out the kinks of the program and add anything that might make it even better.

The group didn't have much polishing to do by the time Presnell got finished moving them about, directing the final staging and other things that go with putting on a show of

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: That letter from the mother who wrote that her teen-age daughter said she was spending the night at her girl friend's house, and who later found out she had struck close to home with me. I did the same thing when I was 16, two years ago. The mother asked you, "Why would a girl lie about something like that?" And you replied, "Because she didn't have the courage to tell the truth." I can tell you why I lied, Abby. Because if I told my mother I had a date, she would ask me who with, where I met him, who his parents were, and lots of questions like that. So rather than go through the third degree, I lied. If parents didn't have to know the life history of every boy their daughters dated, there wouldn't be so much lying.

HAD TO LIE

DEAR HAD: If a girl can't tell her parents who the boy is, where she met him, and a few other pertinent facts, she has no business going out with him. And any boy who permits a girl to lie to her parents is bad news.

DEAR ABBY: We would like your opinion of what the chances for happiness are in a marriage between a man of 36 and a woman of 55. They are both wonderful people. There is no problem of money on either side. They've been close friends for many years. (She taught him in high school.) Their families and friends never dreamed there could be a romantic interest between them, although he has been her constant escort. They have announced their plans to wed this summer. We feel that this happiness will be short-lived because she will be an elderly lady while he is still in the prime of life. What is your opinion?

THE FAMILIES

DEAR FAMILIES: Some men are "old" at 40, while some women are still "young" at 70. All that is necessary for a successful marriage is that each partner needs the other for something. This appears to be the case. They are both old enough to add, so don't worry about their future.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, better off financially than most of my friends and relatives. When they go out to dine I am often invited to join them. Naturally, one of the men present will ask for the check. It would be embarrassing for the men, and also for me, if I were to ask for the check. Yet, I want to carry my own weight. What can be done to reciprocate? Don't advise me to entertain them at home. I haven't the energy.

MRS. R.

DEAR MRS. R.: Invite your guests to one of your favorite dining spots. When you telephone for the reservation, ask the maitre d' to instruct the waiter to bring NO bill to the table. Arrange to pay the bill privately at another time.

Former Pampan Gets Promotion

A series of promotions and transfers of Cities Service Gas Company field personnel was announced today by Clint D. Rogers, vice president in charge of the transmission division.

Ray Cales, formerly of Pampa, has been promoted from foreman at the company's Hugoton compressor station in Grant County, Kan., to superintendent at Corwin station in Harper County, Kan. Cales fills the vacancy created by the transfer of C. D. Campbell to Ellsworth, Kan., to supervise the company's Ellsworth and Beloit stations. Leo L. Sevier, former superintendent at Ellsworth, has retired after more than 46 years with the company.

Cales joined Cities Service Gas Company in 1937 at Higgins, and served as repair foreman and station foreman at Pampa before transferring to Hugoton in March 1962.

proposal was an off-the-cuff proposal, something he had planned to use later in the campaign.

"Now as good a time as any for the challenge," he said. "He is now on notice."

Yarborough Opens

Yarborough, who so far has made little noise in his campaign for re-election, planned to speak in Dallas today at 3 p.m. before the National Rural Electric Cooperatives.

Friday he will address the Texas Intercollegiate Students Association meeting in Austin.

Later Friday Yarborough will speak in Dimmitt and Saturday he will be honored at a "Panhandle-Wide Barbecue" at Dumas.

In Brownsville, Republican Senate hopeful George Bush of Houston charged that President Johnson is "meddling into Texas Democratic party politics" using the pressure of the White House.

He said he referred to efforts by Johnson to keep Democratic Sen. Yarborough from being opposed in his party primary.

Bush praised the Republican party for its independence from string-pulling and said the GOP is "a haven for conservative Democrats who've been left out in the cold by the President's actions."

KILLED IN COLLISION

TEMPLE (UPI)—Two cars collided head-on today on a country road south of Temple, killing Patrick L. Koehler, 19, of Belton. June Hendricks, 19, of Belton, driver of the other car, was injured seriously.

"It makes us feel better," he said.

The second phase of the drive will kick off with a noon luncheon at the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn when the general investments drive opens.

It will follow a second advance drive report on Monday morning, according to drive officials, with a combined coffee meeting of the entire program set for Wednesday of next week.

Last-minute details for the campaign had been worked out Tuesday in a meeting at the hotel of Neslage, Steele, Culbertson and Wedgeworth with team captains of the advance drive.

Neslage announced complete campaign plans until April 3, but set no headlines for the $200,000 goal.

Congress Pay Raise Due Action in House

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A $10,000 pay raise for the 535 senators and House members may stand or fall Wednesday on the willingness of one congressman in five to rise and be counted.

Opponents of the $546.5 million pay increase for 1.7 million federal workers including members of Congress believe the measure can be beaten in the House if they can force an "on the record" rollcall vote.

To set such a vote, they will have to recruit one-fifth of the members present to second a motion for a rollcall. The required

By LYLE C. WILSON
 United Press International
 Upward of a dozen presidential primaries still are to come and the greatest of these takes place June 2 in California. The Republican who can win the California primary decisively probably can be nominated for President. It is almost as simple as that, but not quite.

Fifteen states and the District of Columbia authorize presidential primaries. All are booby trapped. The least of them can be deadly. The presidential primary system more often eliminates contestants than it designates winners. Sometimes a primary does a bit of both.

The beginning of the end of Sen. Robert A. Taft's White House dream came in New Hampshire's March, 1952, presidential primary. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, a reluctant and uncertain candidate, won all 14 New Hampshire delegates to the Republican National Convention. He took 46,000 popular votes to Taft's 35,000.

Wisconsin's presidential primary in April, 1944, blasted Wendell L. Willkie, entirely out of the contest for a Republican presidential re-nomination. Willkie was a bad last in a field of four in Wisconsin after a good New Hampshire beginning. He had been the 1940 Republican nominee.

Dewey Late Winner
 Harold E. Stassen made a good start toward the 1948 Republican presidential nomination, a prize ballooned as practically assuring election to the presidency. The Republicans could have lost in 1948 only by conducting an unbelievably inept and superficial campaign, which they finally did. Stassen showed well in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, and Ohio. Thomas E. Dewey knocked Stassen clear out of the contest in the Oregon presidential primary. Dewey went on to lose the election to Harry S. Truman.

The primary system of indicating a preference for individuals seeking national and local office was established in 1903 by the late Robert M. La Follette Sr., then governor of Wisconsin. He caused the Wisconsin Legislature to enact the first state-wide direct primary law. The primary system responded to popular demand for elimination of the existing evils of nomination by party conventions or, as strikingly phrased by the late Raymond Clapper, nomination in a smoke-filled room.

Abolish Presidential Primaries
 Such nominations frequently were corruptly obtained and often picked not the best but the least desirable nominee. Most states now nominate for state and local office by primaries. But only 15 states and the District of Columbia provide for presidential primaries. The public enjoys the primaries. They are colorful and interesting. But they add nothing to the efficiency of the American system of government. Politicians and public alike probably would be better served if presidential primaries were abolished.

KAISER HIKES PRICES
 NEW YORK (UPI) — Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. announced Tuesday that its refractories division has increased prices on certain fire clay and high alumina refractories by an average of 3 percent, effective April 1. The company added, however, that extra charges palletizing, strapping, and carloading would be eliminated on these products. Kaiser also posted a $5 per ton hike in its price for ladle brick, also effective April 1.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Clark, Dodge & Co. says "perhaps the most impressive aspect of this market is its quiet strength. The exciting price swings which characterize tops are still a thing of the future."

Investment adviser James Dines says "correct market strategy at this point, since the market is selective, is to avoid diversification and concentrate on upending selected issues that are buttressed by good fundamentals. If the market turns down suddenly, your properly placed stops will swing you out of the stock market before you have much chance to think about it. We still await the rampant public optimism that will indicate a major top."

Spear & Staff, Inc. says "although the Dow-Jones industrial has risen over 40 points since late December, and some correction or extended consolidation would not be unexpected the strong economic picture still points toward further purchases of recommended issues."

"Increased demands both here and abroad point the way for another good year in 1964 for the business machines industry," according to the Value Line Investment Survey. "Additional favorable factors are the visible benefits from new-product successes and the economies deriving from long-range plant construction and streamlining programs initiated in the 1950s."

Integration Ordered, Tuition OK'd at Rice

By WILLIAM CLAYTON HOUSTON (UPI)—Dist. Judge William Holland, overruling its founding charter, Tuesday ordered integration at Rice University and gave trustees power to charge tuition at the privately-owned school.

The court ruled that although William Marsh Rice, founder of the school, intended it to be all-white and tuition-free, it no longer is practical to maintain the university that way. Holland's ruling confirmed the findings of a civil district court jury on Feb. 21.

OVERTURNS CONVICTION

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—The Virginia Supreme Court Monday overturned a drunken driving conviction because the blood test label indicated the blood had been sampled the day before the defendant's arrest.

Roger Lutz Jr. of Richmond was given a $200 fine and a suspended jail sentence in Richmond's Hustings Court, but the state high court said the apparent labeling error on a sample of Lutz's blood left "too much to conjecture and speculation."

Opponents said they would appeal.

Rice trustees brought suit on the ground that the school's progress was being stifled by provisions under which Rice endorsed it in 1891. The university would lose out on research grants and outstanding faculty prospects if it continues segregated, they said.

Houston businessmen Val Billups and John Coffee, both alumni, opposed the trustees' suit. They said the school, located in Houston, should continue to operate under the terms Rice laid down.

"I am happy about the judgment," said Rice President Dr. Kenneth Pitier. "On the basis of the jury findings, I expected it."

Rice has approximately 1,500 students, mostly men. The school has developed as a scientific and engineering educational center in the Southwest.

NASA's Manned Spacecraft center now located in Houston, is expected to increase its research and professional load.

WHALE OF A FRAUD

EAST MERSEA, England (UPI)—Amateur archaeologists flocked to this south England coastal town Monday when bones believed to be those of a 200-million-year-old ichthyosaur were unearthed.

But the "sea monster" turned out to be a fraud. Robert MacDonald, a youth camp ward, said Monday night, "I buried a whale on the beach there seven years ago."

AUTO STOPS THEFT

LISBON (UPI)—Eduardo Filipe, 27, an army deserter, snatched a French woman tourist's purse during the rush hour in downtown Lisbon Monday. He almost made a perfect getaway. But he was hit by an automobile and bounced into the arms of a policeman.

Loyola Hits, Pick To Cop NCAA

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

Loyola of Chicago's race horse type game mastered the Thoroughbreds and re-established a pattern designed to send the Ramblers to their second straight NCAA basketball championship.

Loyola, using an iron offense, defeated the Murray (Ky.) State Thoroughbreds, 101-91, Tuesday night in a first round Midwest regional tournament game. The Ramblers also beat an Ohio Valley Conference champion last year (Tennessee Tech) in an opener en-route to the title.

Ohio University went into overtime to stop Louisville, 71-69, in the other half of a doubleheader at Evanston, Ill., while in a Western twinbill at Eugene, Ore., Seattle upset Oregon State, 61-57 and Utah State edged Arizona State, 92-90.

Loyola next faces Michigan and Ohio U. takes on Kentucky in second round regional action at Minneapolis, Minn., Friday night. Seattle meets UCLA and Utah State plays San Francisco at Corvallis, Ore. The same night.

Haley Leads Ohio

Mike Haley's 17 points led Ohio U. and John Reuther scored 27 for Louisville.

Seattle pulled the first real surprise of the tourney by beating Oregon State and prevented retiring Beaver Coach Slat Gill from gaining his 600th victory.

The Chiefs lost twice to Oregon State this season and appeared destined for another setback as they trailed by 10 points with five minutes remaining. But guard Charlie Williams, who scored all his 12 points in the second half, put Seattle in front at 58-57 with a key three-point play with 2:16 left. Oregon State's seven-foot Mel Counts, playing with four fouls in the last 15 minutes scored 27 points.

Utah State avenged last season's tourney loss to Arizona State as 6-foot-6 Wayne Estes deposited 38 points. His final basket with 1:20 to go put the Aggies in front for good.

It was a struggle for Utah State all the way. The Aggies trailed, 48-43, at halftime and were behind 70-60 with 7½ minutes remaining. But Estes' stand-out play rallied Utah State. His performance overshadowed the 29 points for Arizona's Art Becker and the 25 by Joe Caldwell.

NAIA Action

In concluding first round NAIA games at Kansas City, Mo., Emporia State (Kan.) breezed past Ouachita Baptist (Ark.), 93-68; Pacific Lutheran (Wash.) defeated Buena Vista (Iowa), 109-94; St. Cloud (Minn.) toppled Jersey City (N.J.), 66-47; High Point (N.C.) ousted Ferris State (Mich.), 86-72; Kentucky State beat Redlands (Calif.), 71-65; top-seeded Pan American (Tex.) whipped LaCrosse (Wis.), 94-82; and Central Oklahoma State trampled Cedarville (Ohio), 95-40.

The NCAA college division tourney opens at Evansville, Ind., today with eight schools vying for the championship.

Hofstra (N.Y.) meets Akron (Ohio) and Adelphi (N.Y.) faces North Carolina. A&T in afternoon games and an evening card pits two-time champion Evansville against California Poly and Southeast Missouri vs. State College of Iowa.

Longhorn Football Team Shows No Depth In Drills

AUSTIN (UPI)—After completing two weeks of spring football drills, a self-analysis by the University of Texas athletic department today depicted the defending national champion Longhorns as a good one-team squad with no depth.

The Longhorns, losing starters at eight positions last season, held a scrimmage at the end of two weeks of spring drills and a former safetyman, Jim Hudson, played the key role at quarterback.

Replacing Duke Carlisle at quarterback and finding tackle replacements were listed as the chief worries of the Longhorn coaching staff.

After Texas defeated Navy in the Cotton Bowl, the departing first string squad included both ends, both tackles, the down guard, center, quarterback and tailback. This, plus a flock of reserves, it was pointed out.

Team Will Be Thin

"Texas should have one good team next fall with no depth," the report by the Longhorn sports news staff said. Overall, the 1964 squad will have good ends and deep backs, but elsewhere will be thin. Inexperienced sophomores will have to man the tackle slots.

Marvin Kristynick, a junior letterman, is the only holdover quarterback. But when Hudson moved into that spot while Kristynick was nursing injuries, Coach Darrell Royal expressed pleasure with the manner in which Hudson took over.

During the spring experimental drills, veteran Joe Dixon spent one day at quarterback, but was moved back to his regular wingback spot, the next day.

There had been some talk that Phil Harris, sophomore star pass receiver in the Cotton Bowl, would be tried out at quarterback. But he still is at his regular wingback position, although he worked for three

Liston Visits Denver Jail On Charges

DENVER (UPI)—Former world heavyweight boxing champion Charles (Sonny) Liston was jailed briefly in Denver Tuesday night for carrying a concealed weapon and careless and reckless driving.

Liston, a Denver resident, was arrested by patrolman James Snider. Snider said he gave chase to a black sedan which passed his radar patrol car at 78 miles per hour in a 30-mile-per-hour zone in a Denver residential section.

Snider searched Liston following a short chase, he said, and found a gun in his coat pocket and told him he was under arrest.

Snider said Liston attempted to get out of the car, but the officer ran around too the passenger's door and shoved the brawny ex-champ back in the car with his nightstick, applied handcuffs, and resumed the trip to headquarters.

Liston posted $300 bond.

The Boston Celtics took another big step toward their eighth consecutive Eastern Division title Tuesday night without lifting a foot.

The lowly Detroit Pistons did the work in beating Eastern Division runnerup Cincinnati 114-103. That assured the Celtics, the defending National Basketball Association champions, at least a tie for the division crown.

Boston must win only one of its four remaining games, or the Royals need lose just one of their remaining three games, for the Celtics' triumph to become a mathematical certainty.

Detroit beat Cincinnati the hard way, overcoming a 59-56 halftime deficit. The Pistons, led by Ray Scott's 27 points, rallied to take command near the end of the third stanza and they were never in trouble.

The win was only the 20th of the season for the Pistons, who are already assured of their worst NBA season since moving to Detroit. The setback brought Cincinnati's record to 33-24. The Royals are assured of one of the best records ever for a division runnerup.

Monterey Spring Training Shines

By MIKE LUTZ
Courtesy Lubbock Avalanche-Journal

Two weeks are down and one is left in the Monterey Plainsmen's football spring training drills and new head coach James Odom is still as enthusiastic as the first day.

"Our spirit is still good, except for a few days when we couldn't get going," Odom reported after the Montereymen had finished two weeks of off-season practice of a three-week session.

The whole affair is pointing toward Saturday's finale, a spring game, which will be a regulation contest between the divided spring training force.

Last Saturday's activity included a scrimmage session in which Odom praised the Monterey defense but said the offensive performance left something to be desired.

"Of course we've worked a lot more on our defense than offense," Odom said. "But we plan to work harder with the offensive unit this week."

After the scrimmage session, Odom pointed to Thad Walker, guard Jim Nunley and tackle Danny Dutton and Dickie Grigg, as having done particularly good defensive jobs.

Receiving compliments for offensive chores, were Chris Key and Tim Horn, both returning lettermen from last year's squad. Odom said Key had been outstanding on pass receiving.

"Although most of our work has been on defense and individual drills, we'll stress team work this week," Odom said.

Odom particularly mentioned team offense, blocking and passing.

"Our passing looked bad today, (Saturday) the head coach said. "Our pass defense was leaking and our passers didn't have time to get set."

Viewing what is ahead Odom said, "We've got a long way to go before we'll be a good ball club, but I think we have good potential, if not much depth."

NO WAY THROUGH—Would-be ground-gainers will have a hard time getting through this pair of defensive standouts for Pampa: Jerry Goodwin (right) and Bill Campaigne have sparkled as two of the top defensive linemen in the spring football training, and will show off their wares at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Green-Gold game.

NIT Shows Class Field In Tourney

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Invitation Basketball Tournament has quite a classy field this season and that pertains to individual performers as well as the teams.

The 27th annual tournament opens at Madison Square Garden Thursday night and, right from the state, appreciative New York fans will be seeing some of the best talent in the country.

The opening twinbill finds St. Joseph's (Pa.) facing Miami (Fla.) and New York University playing Syracuse, a coming Eastern power.

The big name in the opener is Rick Barry, the 6-foot-7 Miami star from Roselle Park, N.J., who led the Hurricanes (20-6) to the nation's top per game scoring average (36.2).

Thrives On Pressure

St. Joseph's has the type of team which thrives on pressure basketball and they're led by one of the East's top guards—Steve Courtin.

Courtin averaged 19.9 points per game for the Hawks (17-9) this season, but his greatest asset is his defensive ability.

The second game will be of special interest to New York fans. It's also another chance for NYU (15-8), which has to rate as one of the biggest disappointments this year.

Barry Kramer and Happy Hairston are two of the top individuals on any team anywhere but the Violets have not been able to get their offense co-ordinated. Lou Rossini, the NYU coach, feels the tournament challenge could snap NYU from its slump.

Syracuse Bounces Back

Syracuse, which finished 2-22 just two years ago wound up with a 17-7 record this season. Chuck Richards, a 6-foot-8 transfer from Army, and Dave Bing a 6-foot-3 sophomore, were the main reasons. They both averaged better than 20 points per game.

The tournament will continue Saturday with afternoon and evening doubleheaders.

In the afternoon, Army (16-6) faces St. Bonaventure (16-6) and Pittsburgh (17-7) meets Missouri Valley Conference runner-up Drake (20-6).

The other seeded teams, Duquesne and New Mexico, make their initial appearances next Tuesday night against the Saturday afternoon winners. Duquesne plays the St. Bonaven-

Pampa Golf Chances Good In Loop Opener

The Pampa Harvester golf team opens the first round of district 3-AAAA play in Lubbock Saturday, with coach Eural Ramsey giving the Green 'n Gold an excellent chance of placing third.

"The season started out looking as if Tascosa would again be a runaway for the district," pointed out the smiling golf mentor, "but Monterey, who finished second last year, apparently proved it will be a two-team race as they defeated Tascosa at Albuquerque last week.

"The rest of us, frankly, are all in a bunch and whoever has a hot round can pull it out for his team. We, Palo Duro, Lubbock, Borger and Amarillo were all within a few strokes of each other last week at Sweetwater, and the hottest team could finish third.

"Taking into consideration the fact that the second day of play at Sweetwater was extremely windy, our play promises well if the boys can put together two consecutive good rounds. Skip Warren shot an excellent 79 the first day, then blew to a 90 in the wind. With two good days and two performances like the first, he could be tough. Richard Ellis had two steady rounds of 83-85 to tie for low and he can get down a few strokes. We definitely expect a much better performance out of captain Grover Heiskell. Grover shot an 89 the first day, but came back for an 84 in the wind—Sophomore George Snell shot 84-90 and two steady performances by him as well will put us 'in the money' if the weather is right, we will be up there."

Another head-and-head battle is developing for fifth place on the team. Bill McKinney and Chuck Worley had a playoff battle last week for the post, with McKinney winning by one stroke. This week, however, Worley took a one-stroke win. Ramsey said that it would probably be decided by Friday's practice round at the Westlake Golf Course in Lubbock, with the loser playing B singles.

Pampa's B team will get their first taste of action, with Ramsey enthused over the promising play of the sophomores. Thomas Warren, Fred Tinsley, Bobby Prichard, David Fain and George Etheredge will get into play as the Shocker squad.

Bouton Ready To Sign Pact

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—Jim Bouton, although admitting he's "not very happy at the way things turned out," was ready to sign his contract with the New York Yankees today for an 80 per cent pay hike.

The young righthander, who was holding out for $20,000, accepted the club's final offer of $18,000 Tuesday from his home in Ridgewood, N.J., and left Tuesday night for Fort Lauderdale.

"I really have no recourse in the matter... I'll probably sign tomorrow," Bouton said before taking off for the Yankees' spring training headquarters.

General Manager Ralph Houk had warned Bouton that if he failed to come to terms by midnight tonight, he would be fined $100 for every day he refused to sign.

Wellington, Wheeler, Pampa Pirate Picks

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor
LEFORS — "It looks like Wellington, Wheeler and Pampa B, with Lefors and Memphis fighting it out for fourth place and Panhandle the dark horse," was Doleful Dunny Goode's predicted order of finish in the Sixth Annual Pirate Relays Saturday.

Goode, host coach to the meet, cut to 12 teams and a Saturday affair only due to a regional teachers' meeting, based his observations on the results of opening area track action at McLean and Gruver last weekend, as well as returning teams and outstanding individuals in last year's meet.

"Due to cutting the meet for this year only, we have restricted it to District 1-A (McLean, Canadian, Clarendon, Memphis, Wellington and host Lefors) and 2-A (Stratford, Panhandle, Gruver and Sanford-Fritch) and Pampa B and Wheeler. Defending champ White Deer, Shamrock, Stinnett and Booker will not be back this year, leaving fifth-place Pampa B and sixth-place Panhandle as the top teams from last year. Pampa B, of course, will have completely different personnel. However, due to their fifth-place finish at McLean, will have to again be considered a strong threat.

"Don't sell Panhandle short either," warned Goode. "They didn't do well at Gruver, but they had 12 boys out sick. They're the defending district champions and returning a lot of boys. If they are healthy, they can surprise everyone."

Hot Rockets

Wellington has to be the top-rated choice on their overwhelming victory at McLean, scoring more than twice as many points as second-place White Deer. Wheeler, who finished third at that meet, must be highly-rated. In addition, pointed out Goode, there will be more emphasis on sprint and short-distance relays, which are Wheeler's specialty. Memphis finished fourth at McLean, Lefors fifth at Gruver, and the pair could reasonably be considered a tossup.

Goode also rated the threats in the individual and relay events. Wheeler, on the basis of the 45.3 run at McLean by Bobby Vanpool, Mendall Hunter, Lewis and Daryl Snelgroves, must be the pick in the 440-yard relay, with Wellington, Memphis, Clarendon and Lefors the threats.

In the 880 relay, Wheeler again must be the choice, on the basis of the winning 1:35.9 by Bobby and Terry Vanpool, Hunter and Smith at McLean. Memphis, Wellington and McLean are the threats, as is Panhandle, returning most of the crew that ran a 1:37.1 last year.

Wellington, powerful in the distances, will be favored in the mile relay, winning at McLean in 3:41.75. Memphis, Clarendon and McLean, who placed behind them and Canadian who placed at Gruver will be the threats.

The two-mile relay again will have a winning Wellington team, which was closely followed by Pampa B, Memphis, McLean and Clarendon.

New Relay
The sprint medley relay will be up for grabs. Instead of the usual two 220s, a 440 and an 880, Goode announced that this year's medley will be an Olympic relay, with a 100-220-330 and 440. Wheeler's sprint men will probably take this honor, opined Goode.

Tommy Smith of Wheeler broad jumped 21'2" at McLean, and was followed by Patterson of Wellington and Ferrell of Memphis. Keith Yarnold of Canadian placed at Gruver, while Markham and Watkins of Sanford-Fritch, who placed last year, will also compete.

The 120-yard high hurdles should be a battle between Bryan Hatch of Wellington and Terry Bromlow of host Lefors. Hatch won at McLean with a 16.9, Terry the Pirate was fourth at Gruver behind a 16.4 and placed second in last year's meet. Hatch will be the odds-on favorite in the 180-yard lows, having won with a 21.6 over Dunk Porter of Wheeler last week and placing in last year's Pirate Relays behind the great trio of Carroll Russell of WD and Robert Lewis and Wyman Prather of Canadian.

The 100-yard dash should be all Wheeler, with freshman sensation Bobby Vanpool leading the way and Hatch the only good chance to break up the Mustang monopoly.

Jesse Washington of Pampa, unless moved up to the Harvester varsity on the strength of his winning 5:06.1 at McLean, should repeat this week. Wolff of Wellington and Pendergast of Panhandle, who also placed there and were second and third in last year's meet, and Carl McLaughlin of Pampa, who finished fourth last week, should be the threats. Canadian will have a pair of dark horses however, Gene Bench and John Bible. Bench has been out ill, but if recovered, the pair can run a hot mile, both having placed last year.

ord-Fritch, who placed last year, will also compete.

Field Open

Lefors, Canadian, Wheeler and Pampa B all have strong individual point-getters in the field events, but Wellington, with overwhelming depth, picked up enough third and fourth-places last week to pile up the team margin.

In the weights, Don "Squash" McCool of the host Pirates will be the man to beat. McCool won the shot at Gruver with 44'5" and was second in the discus behind a 132'3" effort. Teammate Bill McMinn, Butcherboy Benny Eckles of Canadian, Joe Rudy of Wellington, Robert Melton of Pampa and Kent Sims of Wheeler will be the big threats.

The high jump should be a Canadian caper, with Jim "Gunner" Brown of Pampa B rated an equal choice with Eckles for first as both jumped 5'4" at different meets last week. Ken "Big Un" Harrell and Jumping Joe Schaefer of Canadian placed

Strong Colleges At WT Relays

The scene shifts to Odessa and the West Texas Relays on the Texas track and field front this week with Southern Methodist returning to the major meet competition in the eight-team field.

SMU's speedy sprinters and relay teams were absent at the Border Olympics last week when the University of Houston stunned the university field with a team victory.

Texas, Texas A&M, Abilene Christian, Houston from the Border Olympics field will join SMU, North Texas and Texas Tech in the West Texas Relays field.

Eleven teams will be in the college division, but Texas Southern's six-time Border champions will not be among them.

This should make the race in that division a wide open affair with Lamar Tech, East Texas and Texas Western expected to battle for the title. McMurry, Howard Payne, Arlington State, Wayland, Hardin-Simmons, New Mexico State, Sul Ross and Southwest Texas also are entered.

Olympia sprinter Bobby Morrow will be the honorary referee at Odessa.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES — Pampa basketball coach Terry Culley (right) hands Charlie Price his letter jacket and team captain's insignia, but Price, co-captain Rick Stewart and fellow seniors Kenny Hebert and Danny Heil are slightly mistrustful about what the Harvester thinking man will be up to in today's Future-Exes game.

Futures-Exes Gang War in Harvester Gym Today

Threats of annihilation and underthreats of "ringers" scheduled through Harvester Fieldhouse yesterday as the Futures and Exes got ready for their annual basketball battle at 3:45 p.m. today.

The annual hassle, usually won by the Exes, but with the Futures hoping to turn the tables this season, will be open to the public and no admission charged. Coaches Terry Culley and Roy Kieval of the Futures came up with plot and counterplot for victory, as the harassed Exes tried to foil them at every turn.

"Chicken" Culley, trying to insure a Futures victory, tried to deny the four graduating seniors a fifth player, charging that they were trying to smuggle Randy Matson onto the court in a basketball bag, while Heil hinted that Wayne Kries could be slipped in in a Beatie disguise.

Exes coach Charlie Price laughily declined the offer of Roper's pet hog as the fifth player to join himself, Kenny Hebert, Rick Stewart and Danny Heil. A pair of sophomores whose combined playing time was approximately five minutes were offered, but when Price heard that they had been instructed not to shoot or rebound, he snuffed that the Exes could win with only four men.

Culley's opinion of Price and Hebert coaching the team was "the blind leading the blind." These characters have thought they knew more about coaching than we did, now is the time to put-up-or-shut-up and the Futures will shut them up!"

Price, busily sharpening the spikes on a pair of track shoes he had borrowed, while Hebert was filing his elbows and Stewart putting tacks in his kneecaps, was more worried about the plot to kidnap Danny Heil. "The Rock," who is also a trackman, has been working out on the cinder paths, and it is reported that track coach Norm Phillips chased off several sophomores trying to emulate Frank Sinatra's kidnappers by purloining Heil until after the game.

While accusations and countercharges mounted, both sides were busily sharpening their shooting eyes and dribbling hands, as well as knives, clubs and assorted bludgeons. Friendship goes by the board when the Futures meet the Exes!

IT WAS a long time back, almost 20 years now, when I first saw the big, hulking figure walk out of the shadows of the now-gone Majors Stadium at Greenville.

I had gone to my first professional baseball game to watch the old Sherman-Denison Twins battle the locals, the Greenville Majors, in an East Texas League game.

Alex Hooks, now coach at Southern Methodist University, was first-base-and-manager-for the Greenville team which was setting a new minor league record for attendance in Class C ball that year.

Hooks wasn't winning a title, but the team was in the race for fourth place. The Twins were in fifth place — some two games off or so, if memory serves correct — when the clubs tangled in mid-August.

The game meant little to my 11-year-old eyes then, but it introduced one of my favorite persons and later a friend and neighbor.

I didn't know it at the time. HE CAME ACROSS the diamond to the mound and I noticed the slight limp in his leg, but took no interest in it. The announcer called off the lineups and the game began shortly afterwards.

I was watching the Greenville pitcher, Lightin' Jodie Phipps, who later helped Dick Burnett Sr. build the Dallas Eagle empire and fill the Cotton Bowl in the old Texas League. Jodie was right that day and showed it quick.

The other guy on the mound was in good form as well, proving it by mowing down "my boys" one-two-three.

Sherman-Denison got a lead in the fourth and Greenville suddenly started bunting. It was quickly apparent as to why. The big fellow for the Twins fell down trying to field a bunt and his infield was forced to pull down close.

I asked my older cousin why the pitcher fell down. "He's got only one real leg," he said.

THE FELLOW was Monty

Stratton, who came from the Wagner Community near Greenville in the 1930s to pitch baseball for the Chicago White Sox and Jimmie Dykes.

He had the potential to be a flag threat for the White Sox for the first time since 1919. Then his second or third year with the Sox, Monty accidentally shot his leg off, just below the knee, bringing his career to a halt.

The rest is history — even movie history — as he fought back and learned how to pitch with a wooden leg. He returned to baseball in 1946 and won 18 games for Sherman while losing 8 or 10.

It wasn't the major leagues, but it was the life he knew and loved the best — baseball.

MONTY STRATTON retired in Greenville, his closest home town to Wagner. He has been active in the youth baseball program for many years, sending two sons up the ladder.

It was Stratton who led the fight for more parks, better lights and equipment and other things to help the high school team stay alive in Greenville.

And it was Stratton who told me the thrill of helping a boy play the game of baseball in any program.

"One of the finest baseball programs in the world is the American Legion program," he said once. "It can act as the go-between for the Pony or Babe Ruth leagues and the high school team as well as feed boys into colleges or professional ranks."

Stratton also was the first to urge every boy to put everything into baseball he could in order that the youth might make a team.

It was the fact he put so much of his time and drive into baseball that his name reminded me what a group of young men will be seeking to do this Saturday night in Pampa to help baseball on a local level.

THIS GROUP of boys are the Pampa Rebels baseball team — the American Legion team for Pampa — and they'll be sponsoring a dance at the Parish Hall for youngsters and dates to raise money for the forthcoming season.

This bunch of kids, led by Kyle Vann and others, remind me of Stratton because they are putting every ounce of their time into the dance drive.

They have made their posters, printed the tickets, handled a fair publicity campaign and arranged for music.

Waste in Urban Renewal Program

Charges of waste and misuse of political power in the Federal Urban - Redevelopment program, now under scrutiny of two congressional committees, are developing into a scandal of national proportion, warns a high-ranking Member of Congress. "There is plenty to investigate," according to Rep. John Dowdy, of Texas, chairman of a House District of Columbia subcommittee. In a March Reader's Digest article titled, "The Mounting Scandal of Urban Renewal," the Texas congressman reports that costs have skyrocketed in a "shockingly large number" of projects. Land-grabbing and political favoritism mark many of the 1,300 re-development projects in 679 cities. Representative Dowdy charges. Urban renewal has "swallowed up" four billion dollars already and the U.S. Housing and Home Finance Agency is asking for authority to spend three billion dollars more, yet the program has "fallen far short of its goals," he states. About 20 per cent of the projects lie abandoned and 70 per cent of all land seized so far has not yet been put to its designated use. Meantime, low-income families are up-rooted without adequate housing, slum owners are enriched, and small businessmen victimized.

By 1970, more than 200,000 small businesses will have been closed by urban renewal, according to estimates quoted in the article, which describes the redevelopment "mess" in Cleveland, Washington, Boston, and elsewhere.

Washington's Redevelopment Land Agency received a six-million-dollar federal loan for the Columbia Plaza Corporation to carry out a project which private industry had been willing to undertake without subsidy. Representative Dowdy notes, while in Boston $1,675,000 was paid contractors for maintenance and repairs to property scheduled for demolition. He calls for a review of the entire program by Congress, saying, "We must end the waste, favoritism, and arbitrary use of power that helps the greedy and hurts the needy."

Family Ties Help Keep 'Em in Line

No parent likes to feel he doesn't know where his child may be or what he's doing. But you have only to pick up your newspaper to discover that this is the case in many a home. In a midwestern city, for example, a father and mother were shocked the other day to be told by police that for several months their son hadn't been studying or asleep in his room as they thought he had been, but had, in fact, been robbing neighborhood stores and hiding the loot in his home. In another city a gang of teenage boys stole several thousand dollars' worth of snow removal equipment and other sizable stuff and "hid" the loot in their own family garages. They needed the motors of the stolen equipment to use in building miniature autos. When police uncovered the thefts, the amazed father of one of the boys had to make several trips to the police station to return all the loot his son had secured in the family garage. It could happen to anyone, perhaps. But you have to wonder how anyone could hide that much sizable stuff in a family garage and get away with it. Didn't anyone else ever wonder what all that stuff was doing there? You have to wonder, too, how parents can be oblivious to the fact that their child is up to such shenanigans. Didn't the youngsters give a single clue by his behavior? You have to conclude that it can happen only when parents and children are out of touch—when the family circle is no longer a circle because the parents may be afraid of being written off as squares. Maybe fewer cars would be stolen, fewer gas stations heisted, less vandalism perpetrated if parents and youngsters lived closer together. It just might be worth trying by more families.

It's Up To You

by HOWARD KERSHNER L. H. D.

If ever there was a foolish, unrealistic policy it is that which the ideologues in Washington inaugurated when they announced that our country would never make the first strike. This gives the Communist bosses the initiative everywhere. They can threaten, bluff, demand concessions, start brush wars, shoot down our planes, violate our coastal waters, imprison our subjects, carry on subversion, espionage activities, and foment insurrections whenever they please, with the assurance that they are in no danger as long as they do not engage in atomic warfare directly upon the United States.

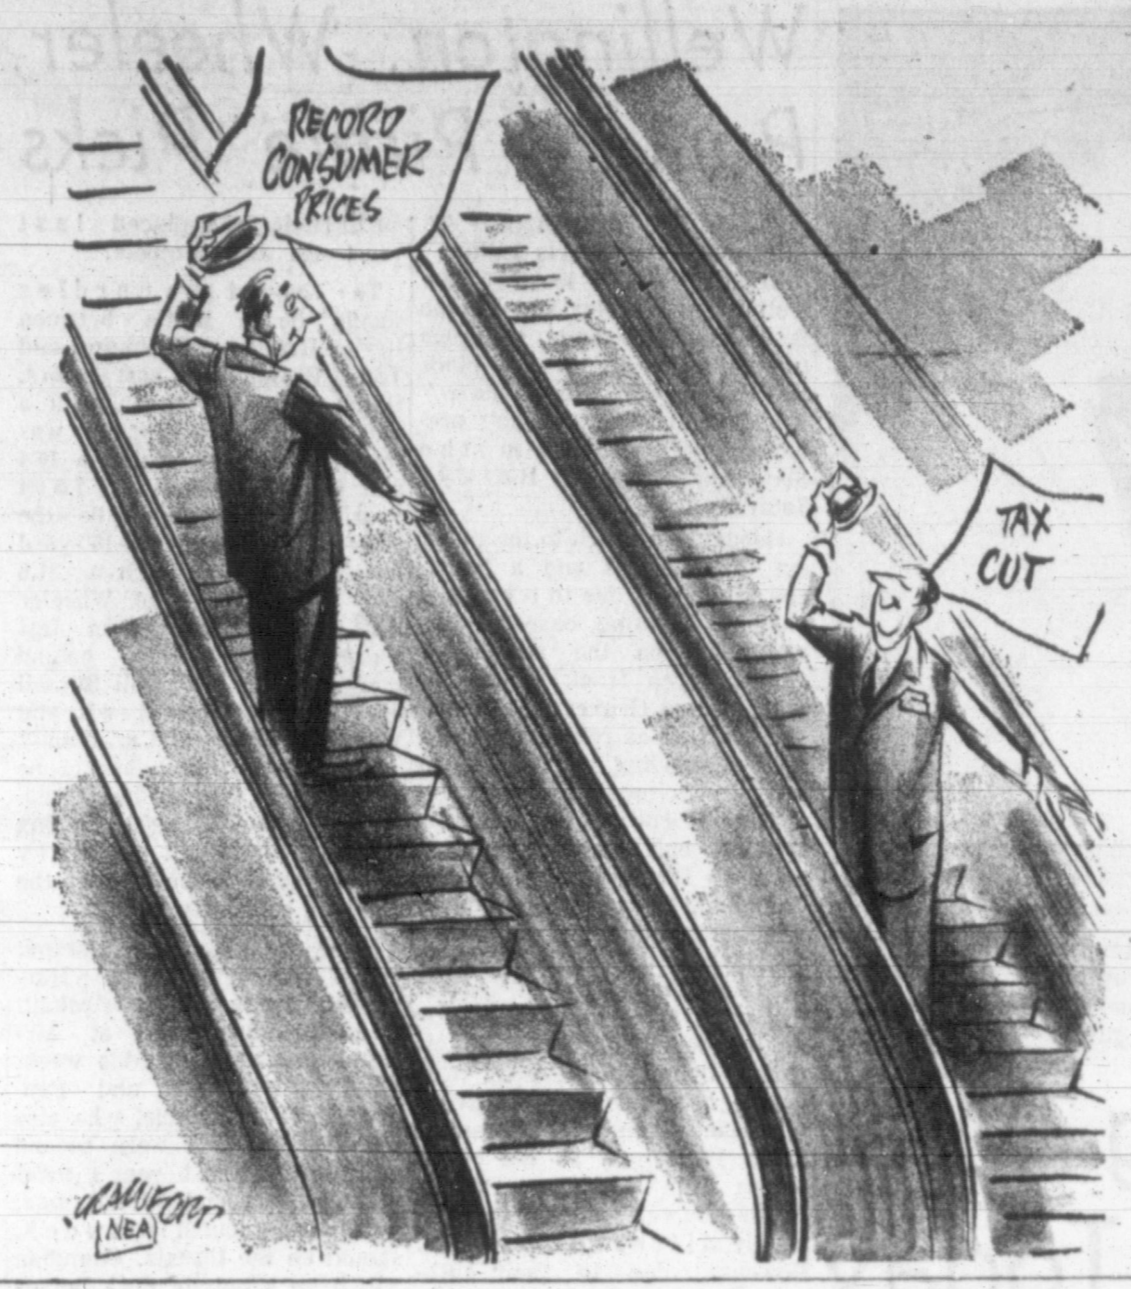

Since they know we will not attack, they are free to go as far as they like. We have given them a safe basis on which to operate and they are exploiting it in many places throughout the world. This position is indefensible. It will enable our enemies to wear us down while being immune from reprisal. No one can hope to win who tells his adversary that he will not attack except under certain conditions. The adversary then knows that he can employ every tactic of warfare except the one which he has been told would bring reprisal. Under this policy we cannot defend ourselves but must suffer the attrition which the enemy continues to impose upon us with impunity.

We do not advocate preventative war, but we do advocate withdrawing all help and diplomatic recognition from the U.S.S.R. in the firm belief that without our help Communism would collapse.

Since its origin, Pakistan has always been a faithful ally of the United States. Neutralist India, on the other hand, has usually opposed us and has boldly demonstrated her pro-Russian and pro-Communist attitude. Nevertheless, our government has given small aid to Pakistan and very large aid to India. This, notwithstanding the fact that India, treacherously and without provocation, seized Goa, has steadfastly refused to submit to dispute between herself and Pakistan over Kashmir to a plebiscite, and maintains the greater portion of her armed forces in the Kashmir area.

When China attacked India, we went all-out to her aid, notwithstanding the fact that she continued to maintain the best of her troops on the Kashmir border and still refused to submit the issue to a vote of the Kashmir people. Pakistan is rightfully resentful of our niggardly treatment of herself as compared with our generous help to her enemy, neutralist India. Before going to Nehru's assistance in his struggle with the Chinese, we might have demanded that he submit to a plebiscite to settle the Kashmir question, that he withdraw his troops from Pakistan's front and use them against China and that he cease his anti-Western propaganda in U.N. and elsewhere. Instead of so doing, we poured out arms and dollars to the country that would not support us and to the neglect of our friend, Pakistan. We have, therefore, literally driven the latter into much closer association with Communist China.

Nossenko's Wife, Mother Appear at U.S. Embassy In Moscow to Try for Interview Here with Russian Defector

WASHINGTON — The family of Yuri Nossenko, the important Russian secret police official who defected in Geneva last month, is putting U.S. authorities on the horns of a major foreign policy dilemma. His attractive wife and mother are demanding a private interview with U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler, apparently to discuss the possibility of their conferring personally with Nossenko.

While Nossenko was listed as a "disarmament expert" by the Soviet before his defection, he has revealed to U.S. officials that he held a key position in the "American section" of the KGB.

According to reliable State Department sources, Ambassador Kohler has diplomatically avoided a direct confrontation with the women, pending instructions from Secretary Rusk.

These are expected this week when Rusk meets with Ambassador Kohler, who returned to Washington last Thursday for a round of conferences on the impact of the Nossenko defection may have on future U.S.-Soviet relations.

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON "CIVIL RIGHTS" BILL EQUALS DICTATORSHIP

The "Civil Rights" bill is neither civil nor right. It is a dictatorship for all, black and white. Every congressman who voted for this dictatorship decree should be defeated if he is impeached. If there were no such thing as a Negro in America, this bill would still mean dictatorship.

A leading English Communist, Israel Cohen, wrote more than 50 years ago: "We must realize that our Party's most powerful weapon is racial tension. By propounding it into the consciousness of the dark races that for centuries they have been oppressed by the whites, we can mold them to the program of the Communist Party. In America we will aim for subtle victory while inflaming the Negro minority against the whites; we will endeavor to instill in the whites—a guilt complex for their exploitations of the Negroes. We will aid the Negroes to rise to prominence in every walk of life, in the professions and in the world of sports and entertainment. With this prestige the Negro will be able to inter-marry with the whites and begin a process which will deliver America to our cause."

"The Negroes in a Soviet America," a communist pamphlet discussing the planned Negro Republic in the southern United States, says: "A Soviet government must confer greater benefits upon the Negroes than upon the whites, for the Negroes have started with less. This is the real test of equality."

Freedom One of the eternal verities is that there is no such thing as equality. All men are deserving of equal treatment before the law and are equal in Heaven and Hell, but not in between. Hitler, Tito, Mao Tse Tung, Castro and Bobby Kennedy have tried to make all men equal—under them. Free men are not equal, and equal men are not free.

Title II, section 203 of the "Civil Rights" bill says, "No person shall... incite or aid or abet any person to do any of the foregoing..." In other words, any editor, radio or TV announcer who denounces or denies or attempts to deny any person any right or privilege granted by the bill is subject to fine and imprisonment. And so is a soap box or civic club speaker who advocates segregation. But it is permissible, if you are a Negro, to force your way into a restaurant and use the tables and floor as a toilet, as Negro civil rioters did in Atlanta recently.

CAPITOL EYE:

Puerto Rico Statehood Drive Slips

By BRUCE BLOSSAT WASHINGTON (NEA) — An interesting, new development has quietly occurred in the continuing Puerto Rican struggle among forces advocating, variously, an updated commonwealth status, statehood, and independence.

In late January, registrations for the 1964 gubernatorial and other elections were held on the island. They seem to indicate a definite drop-off in support for statehood.

In the 1960 gubernatorial contest, the Republican Statehood party gained 32 per cent of the total vote. This was a new high. Gov. Luis Munoz Marin and his Popular Democratic Party supporters of an improved commonwealth status, collected 60 per cent. Independence supporters got just 3.6 per cent.

The 1964 registrations gave Munoz' party 67 per cent. A small percentage, possibly 5 per cent, chose at this stage not to identify themselves with any party. The remainder, less than 30 per cent, was split among all other parties.

No reliable breakdown of this remainder can be had from official sources, for some curious reason. But some estimates suggest the Statehooders' total is now down to 25 per cent or less.

Munoz' party in past elections has often received a vote percentage higher than its share of registrations, picking up two or three points from among the undecided.

By this reasoning, assuming the venerable governor stands as expected for re-election this year, he might obtain 70 per cent of the total vote.

Whatever his share of the November total, it will be impossible this time — as before — to separate support for commonwealth status from the islanders' overwhelming sentimental attachment to Munoz.

It is this which most upsets such Republican Statehood leaders as Miguel Garcia Mendez, Luis Ferre and Arturo Ortiz Toro. They and men like Raymond Acosta, young head of Citizens for State 51, feel statehood never will have a fair test at the polls so long as the popular awareness is on the ballot.

Awareness of the new registration trends comes just as President Johnson is preparing to name his three members to a 13-member commission newly created to study Puerto Rico's future political status.

The commission, set to undertake its labors soon, will be rounded out with two members each from the U.S. House and Senate, and six from the island, to be chosen "according to Puerto Rican law."

The group probably will take from a year to 18 months to do the job, and its purely advisory recommendations to Congress will in no way affect the coming elections.

All possibilities — refined commonwealth status, statehood and independence — will be reviewed.

The ultimate expectation is that Congress finally will propose a new course of action, to be voted upon by Puerto Ricans in an island-wide plebiscite some years hence.

Munoz presently opposes statehood on the ground that Puerto Rico, for all its remarkable advances in the last decade, does not have a strong

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: "How can a reduced tax that leaves more money in the hands of the consumers improve the welfare of mankind?"

ANSWER: The reason that it will improve the welfare of mankind is that it leaves the individual more nearly responsible for his own acts. It makes him more independent of the government. He has to depend more on his own initiative. He has to use his mind and look ahead to see the results of different acts, whether in the long run it is harmful or helpful.

If the man needs the money for his family for current consumption, it improves his own well-being. If he reinvests his capital into tools this helps everyone because he has to bid against other tool owners to get help and this raises wages. He also has to compete with other producers in order to sell his product, and this reduces prices.

The government never creates any wealth. It is a pauper and only gets its wealth by legalized power. The most harmful part of legalized power is grabbing the youth of the land and indoctrinating them to believe that the majority has a right to do things that no individual has a right to do.

Certainly leaving more money in the hands of the producer benefits everyone. In fact, the producer should have all that he produces and the government should be supported on a voluntary basis rather than by the might of power.

enough economic footing to get along without the "special advantages" which under commonwealth status.

Statehooders argue that this status is fundamentally a fraud, that the freedom Congress granted under it can be taken away at a stroke, that the island thus is still in colonial bondage.

There is a difference between a parable and a fable a parable deals with humans in a situation which might naturally occur and is usually on a high moral plane. Fables, on the other hand commonly depict a fantastic situation (a mouse helping a lion) and teach a moral worldly wisdom.

The Almanac

By United Press International Today is Wednesday, March 11, the 71st day of 1964 with 295 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history: In 1888, a great blizzard began in New York City and snow fell for four straight days.

In 1930, William Howard Taft became the first President of the United States to be buried in the National Cemetery at Arlington, Va.

In 1941, President Roosevelt signed the hotly debated lend-lease bill and immediately ordered goods sent to Britain and Greece.

In 1959, the Senate approved Hawaii as the 50th state. A thought for the day — British statesman Sir Winston Churchill once said: I cannot forecast you the action of Russia: it is a riddle wrapped in a mystery inside an enigma.

INSIDE STORY — The Ambassador reported that the women shayhed into the U.S. embassy unannounced, asking that they be taken immediately to see him after giving their identity.

When an embassy aide told them this would be impossible because the Ambassador was too busy, the two women indignantly said they would wait until he was free to talk to them.

After a series of emergency staff conferences, Ambassador Kohler said he sent another aide to tell the women he would be tied up all day.

On that note, the women ended their "sit-in," announcing that they would return at a later date. As embassy officials watched, an official car waiting nearby picked up the two women as they departed.

U.S. intelligence authorities believe the women's appearance at the embassy was a desperate Russian effort to try to get Nossenko, the son of a late Soviet Minister of Shipbuilding, to return to the Soviet Union.

As reported in this column last week, Nossenko, has revealed the names of more than 150 espionage agents in this country and abroad to U.S. authorities.

His sensational disclosures put the finger on at least five spy rings, one reputedly in a highly sensitive U.S. agency.

Among those named by the former ranking KGB officer is an employee who had served in the U.S. embassy in Moscow.

While Nossenko was listed as a "disarmament expert" by the Soviet before his defection, he has revealed to U.S. officials that he held a key position in the "American section" of the KGB.

The KGB is responsible for the collection of intelligence abroad and counter-intelligence within the Soviet Union; for guarding against internal subversion; and detecting major economic crimes, such as smuggling, currency speculation and embezzlement.

According to Nossenko, the KGB employs 400,000 and has undercover agents in every country in the world, including Communist China.

He reported that this network of agents is controlled by a series of main directorates for each of the organization's main functions. These are supplemented by specialized groups concerned with various tasks, such as communications, forging passports and gold coins, providing special weapons, guarding the Kremlin and training guerrillas. This worldwide network has more than 10,000 women agents.

WATCHING CUBA — Key refugee groups are now channeling their intelligence information on Cuba to the Federal Bureau of Investigation rather than the Central Intelligence Agency.

The voluntary shift, which has come about in recent months, is reportedly due to the refugees' disappointment over the way the CIA was handling their reports.

According to one official of the Cuban Revolutionary Council, which has been compiling reports on the continued Soviet build-up in Cuba, the CIA is again down-grading their information as it did before the Cuban missile crisis.

The council's most recent report to the FBI covers an American scientist once suspected of peddling atomic secrets to Russia.

It warns that he has set up a nuclear experimental laboratory in Cuba. The report identifies the scientist as Robert Braun Walder, 61, formerly of Detroit. It claims that the laboratory is located in a Pinar del Rio Province cave, and Walder is working there with Russian scientists.

STRUCTURE GOING UP—An unidentified worker grabs hold of one of the many 3,600-pound beams which will form the skeleton of the Form-O-Uth Company's plant being erected on Pampa's industrial site at present. The structure will have walls next, according to Ed Myatt, Pam-Tex Corp. official and one of the leaders in the current industrial development for Pampa. Work is reportedly moving smoothly with the weather playing a major role in the 45-day crash program for the building, which will employ some 300 persons within 18 months of its completion.

WALLS NEXT MAJOR STEP

Plant Progress Brings Big Grin

Amid the buzz of saws, shouts of workers and general bustle of construction confusion, Ed Myatt stood, legs apart and cigar firmly gripped in his mouth. He was a happy man.

"We hope to get the walls up next week and are pushing right ahead with the construction," Myatt declared, as a giant 3,600-pound roof joist sailed over his head.

Myatt was talking about the construction work being done on Pampa's new industry, the Form-O-Uth plant which is located in the city's new industrial site area on the east end of Foster and Kingsmill Sts.

The steel skeleton of the plant, at which owners hope to employ some 300 persons, was almost completed as he talked. Workers had been busy since early daybreak Monday toiling with the big metal beams that make the foundation for the building.

Myatt was pleased with the progress shown in the 45-day crash construction program. He pointed to the fact that weather had been a big factor in helping the workers reach the point they have at present.

"With a little more of this kind of weather, we'll be in business for certain," he grinned, flicking cigar ashes on the ground.

Myatt, who is one of the leaders in the Industrial Foundation program sparked by the new plant, rushed off to help a worker do battle with one of the big beams.

While he was gone a look around proved that he wasn't the only person interested in what was going on at the 25-acre site.

Several automobiles, one loaded with children, could be seen watching and a number of businessmen have visited the site daily since work began some 10 days ago.

One of the workers said the people "just want to watch." Another man said some of the onlookers seemed to have the tendency to "pinch their arms to make sure we're actually building this plant."

Myatt returned as the beam moved into place and workers began putting bolts and fittings into it, getting a firm hold on the heavy object.

"It's a start on something that may become a big thing for Pampa," he pointed out. "I'm glad to be a part of it and I'm certainly glad to see the interest the people have shown by stopping and looking on a few minutes."

Myatt urged residents to drive by and watch the progress on the building.

"After all, it's something for everybody in Pampa," he declared.

FIGHT HYPOKINESIA*

*Hypokinesia—that's the medical term for soft, weak, flabby muscles. Its cause: lack of exercise. And it's a threat to many youngsters. Those who spend long, inactive hours watching television. Those who don't participate in sports. Those who ride when they should walk. Those who have every modern comfort. The physical decline of American youth must be stopped. Parents should insist on nothing less than 15 minutes of vigorous activity every day at school—for every boy and every girl. Contact your school officials. For information about a basic program used successfully by many schools, send for the free leaflet offered by the President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington 25, D. C.
