Mrs. Lunsford reported her husband was undergoing another series of tests today as doctors are attempting to locate the source of the bleeding.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen

Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrasment because their plate dropped, slipped or wob-bled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the aikaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (den-ture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

DEAR ABBY: . I have a neighbor whose husband travels. I have always suspected that she liked my husband, but I didn't pay much attention to it because he never encouraged her. One night, when her husband was out of town, she called here and said she was hearing strange noises, was afraid to stay there alone, and could she run over and use our couch. I said, "Sure, comeover." Well, she came over dressed up like she was going to a ball. I fixed coffee and the three of us sat around watching TV. Meanwhile, she didn't tak her eyes off my husband. The next morning, when I came into the kitchen to make breakfast, there she sat all made up, wearing a nightgown you could read a newspaper through. I heard my husband coming, so threw her an overcoat. I said nothing How should I act toward this neighbor from now on?

ton trim. The low pleats add mobility, giving the effect of the shift which is decidedly good. The open neckline and sleeveless look will be great for summer

High Style is Pleats, Buttons

If you want to slip the dress over your head and place the zipper at the left side instead of the back of the neckline, cut the neckline of the dress approximately one inch lower, front and back. Buttons, as you see, are only for ornament and are sewn directly on the seam.

This design will hold its shape and look good in linens or linenlike fabrics or one of the Dacron - Orlon combinations.

White, black, bright navy, and any of the pastels especially pink, apple green, and pale apricot - are good in color. Make several dresses from this pattern, if you feel the silhouette is becoming to you. See the diagram for inverted pleats. Note how the seam is cut, seam width across, seam pressed open in the fashionably deep hem. Top edge of the hem can be stitched as shown, or have a seam binding stitched on. Weight of your fabric will determine this. Seam binding best if fabric is heavy. Seam edges of the pleats may be overcast or stitched together as you prefer. NO WILL? WHO INHERITS PROPERTY?

What will happen if you should die without executing a legal and proper will? Who will inherit your property? Your husband, wife, mother, father children, your wife's relatives? The best way you can say who will have it is to provide a will which will protect your rightful beneficiaries and dispose of your property in accordance with your wishes.

When a deceased has no will, or dies "intestate" as the law calls it, the property of that person is distributed according to a detailed formula fixed by law, In some cases this may be the way you yourself would divide it — but in many cases it is not.

The provisions of the law concerning the distribution of the property of a person who dies without a will are rather complicated, and all of the possibilities cannot be covered by a general statement

There are different rules for real estate and for personal property, for community property and for separate property. for homestead property, and for all of the many possible combinations of surviving relatives. Each situation must be carefully studied to determine the correct distribution of the property.

For example, here is a general idea of how the COMMUN-ITY PROPERTY which you and your spouse have accumulated will be divided if you do not make a will prior to your death. If your husband or wife survives and there are no children, the surviving spouse receives all of the property

If, in addition, there are sur viving children or descendants of deceased children, they would divide one-half of the property. while the surviving spouse would receive the other onehalf

Of course, grandchildren do not share in the estate unless their parent who would inherit is deceased. And when descendants of previously deceased children do inherit, they receive only the portion that the child would have received, regardless of the number of such descendants.

An odd note, perhaps, is that the surviving spouse already owns one-half of the community estate prior to your death, and the law adds - nothing to his share where there are children surviving.

When there are only children and their descendants surviving, they divide the entire community estate between thm.

But there are flies in the ointment still. For instance, the budget proposes a $225 million federal water and power development program in the Pacific Northwest. And much of that money would go for new "starts" and for the construction or the planning of construction of future projects by the Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau.

Spending for such purposes on such a scale by the government can be justified on only one ground - that there is no other way to get the needed work done. But that is not the case with electric power production in the United States.

Any needed power project or transmission line can be built by investor-owned utilities - if they are allowed to do so. The work would be done with private savings of vast numbers of people. Heavy taxes would be paid - to the federal government, to states, counties,
