Changes Eyed on Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Republicans debated privately today possible amendments to a civil rights bill's employment section while the measure was warmly endorsed on the floor in an emotional speech by Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass.

Kennedy, 32-year-old youngest brother of the slain president, urged Senate passage of the bill would give greater meaning to the life and death of the late president's first major speech in the Senate. His voice broke as he recalled his brother's dedication to the legisla-

First Tests Show No Foul Play in Deaths

Preliminary autopsy tests on the bodies of a Pampa woman and a former Pampa man who died yesterday within 12 hours of each other showed no evidence of foul play, Dist. Atty. Bill Waters said today.

Stanley J. Clark, 58, listed in the Pampa city directory, died in Methodist hospital at Lubbock at 1:45 a.m. yesterday. He had been taken there by Lilie Dickerson Garfield, whose driver's license bore an address at 715 S. Henry, Pampa.

Mrs. Garfield died shortly before 1 p.m. yesterday in the office of Dr. S. J. Montgomery in Miami.

The woman had been taken to Miami after Mrs. Garfield had called a Pampa friend and asked her to come to Lubbock and get her following Clark's death.

District Attorney Waters said the Pampa friend drove to Lubbock and was returning to Pampa with her when she became ill just before they reached Amarillo. The man told Waters he drove through Amarillo and Pampa and on to Miami to Dr. Montgomery's office because Dr. Montgomery was the family physician.

Mrs. Garfield was unconscious when they arrived in Miami.

Both tests were preliminary, Waters said, and a final chemical analysis of body fluids which are expected to be completed in Austin and Amarillo within the next couple of days.

"The preliminary investigation," Waters said, "indicates there was no foul play connected with the deaths. However, we are awaiting results of the final tests."

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Garfield had not been completed today. The body is at the Duengel - Carmichael Funeral Home.

Two Steel Companies Deny Fixing Prices

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation's two largest steel producers U.S. Steel and the Bethlehem Steel Co. issued denials Wednesday to the allegations that they and six other steel producers had fixed prices on carbon steel sheet.

Federal indictments issued Tuesday said the eight companies had conspired to set prices between 1955 and 1961.

Bethlehem charged Wednesday in a statement that the indictment was part of a government campaign to harass the industry.

Bethlehem's vice president, Edmund F. Martin, said the Justice Department was not seeking "to correct any illegal or improper present day situation but only to harass the industry for practices which, even under the allegations of the indictment, have been abandoned."

Martin said "we deny any present or former employee of Bethlehem was guilty of violations of the anti-trust laws that are charged. We propose to plead not guilty and to defend the case to the utmost of our ability... we are confident of ultimate success."

U.S. Steel, the No. 1 producer, said it was preparing to wage a vigorous battle against the charges.

Also named in the indictment were the Great Lakes Steel Corp., a division of National; the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.; the Armco Steel Corp.; the Republic Steel Corp.; and the Wheeling Steel Corp.

Pair Facing Fraud Counts In Ft. Worth

DALLAS (UPI)—A federal grand jury today turned to investigation of possible fraud in construction project loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA).

The grand jury Wednesday indicted a former director of the Parker County Civil Defense office and a Fort Worth bank president.

Charles H. Beard of Weatherford was named in two counts alleging that he made false invoice claims regarding communications equipment purchases.

W. B. Cayce, president of the South Fort Worth State Bank, was charged on six counts of embezzlement and one count of false entry in bank records.

The indictment claimed a total of $10,927 was converted to Cayce's own use in 1959 and 1960.

Formerly head of Civil Defense operations in Parker County, Beard was charged with making an invoice claim March 30, 1961, that the county organization had bought a radio transmitter for $2,450.

A second count charged a similar claim Feb. 8, 1963, for three transmitters costing $2,346.

The indictment said there were no such transactions.

CofC Opens Convention

ODESSA (UPI)—Delegates from all over West Texas registered in Odessa today for the three-day, 48th annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Gov. John C. Connally will speak Saturday at a lunch. He will also dedicate a new Ector County court house. About 500 persons are expected to attend the convention.

Other speakers will include U.S. Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas; Railroad Commissioner Jim C. Langdon; Arnold Mathias, Houston, district director of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce; Judge Guy C. Jackson of Anahuac, state director of the National Reclamation Association, and Dr. Tyrus R. Furr, head of the department of agricultural economics and sociology at Texas A&M.

Johnson Acts to Halt Rail Strike

MacArthur May Have Triggered Allied Scandal

NEW YORK (UPI)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur may have bequeathed the Western world one of its greatest security scandals by charging that Britain betrayed the Allied war effort in Korea to the Communists.

MacArthur said the British gave his war plan to the Chinese enemy and were abetted in so doing by "fools" and "Anglo-Saxonophiles" in Washington.

His accusations were made in separate 1954 interviews with two American reporters — Jim Lucas of Scripps Howard Newspapers and Bob Considine of Hearst Headline Service. They were kept secret until Wednesday.

The general also was quoted as saying he could have won the war in Korea in 10 days by dropping 30 to 50 atomic bombs on Communist Chinese forces and using hundreds of thousands of Nationalist Chinese troops to spring a strategic mouse-trap on the million-man Communist force. MacArthur also advocated denying the Communists resupply and preventing another invasion of Korea "for at least 60 years" by sowing a massive cobalt radiation belt across the Asian Peninsula. He said Washington vetoed the plans under British opposition.

The British Foreign Office declined comment on MacArthur's sweeping indictment, but the British Embassy in Washington immediately denied any betrayal in Korea by its government.

"We had commonwealth forces in Korea at the time so obviously we had no interest whatever in leaking American plans to the Chinese," an embassy spokesman said.

Earl Attlee, who was British prime minister at the time of the Korean War, today described the charges as "perfect nonsense." Emanuel Shinwell, British defense minister at the time, said: "I can hardly believe that Gen. MacArthur said anything so foolish."

"I can remember that when Gen. MacArthur wanted to bomb the Chinese at the Yalu River, we protested most strongly because we felt it would bring the Chinese into the war. The prime minister, Mr. Attlee, went to see President Truman and Truman dismissed MacArthur," Shinwell said.

MacArthur, who commanded United Nations forces in Korea until he was relieved in 1951 for publicly opposing the Truman administration's limited war policy, also was reported to have castigated Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower and generals George Marshall, Maxwell Taylor and Matthew Ridgway. He also implied former Secretary of State Dean Acheson restrained Truman's instincts for an all-out war in Korea.

The U. S. State Department declined comment and said it probably never would say anything about the charges.

Truman, Eisenhower and Ridgway had no comment on the charges attributed to MacArthur in the interviews obtained 10 years ago.

MacArthur told Lucas that every message he ever sent to Washington was shown to the British by the State Department and that within 48 hours was relayed to the Chinese Communists.

At the time MacArthur was in command in Korea Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean both were in sensitive positions in the British Foreign Office. They defected to the Soviet Union in 1951. Burgess, until

Doctors Ordered To Stand Trial In Child's Death

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI)—A district court today ordered two doctors to stand trial on charges of failing to treat a dying child because they were participating in a nationwide doctors strike.

Drs. Achiel Robberechts, 53, and Jan Geens, 62, were released without bail but a spokesman for the court in the Flemish city of Turnhout said they will stand trial when a preliminary investigation is ended.

The strike went into its ninth day today with no sign of compromise by either side.

The 10,000 doctors are protesting a new "medicare" health law extending free medical service and government regulation of the medical profession.

Doctors Federation spokesman Dr. Andre Wynen said Wednesday night the federation would call off its voluntary emergency service at hospitals if any more doctors "are arrested as a result of accidents."

Immediate Settlement Demanded

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Johnson administration applied round-the-clock pressure on union and management officials today to avert a threatened nationwide rail strike at one minute after midnight.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz, warning that a tieup of America's rail transport would disrupt the U.S. economy, said the public interest demanded an immediate settlement of the dispute.

He presided at the hours-long emergency mediation session at the Labor Department which finally broke up with "no progress" reported at 3 a.m. EST today. Wirtz scheduled another meeting to begin seven hours later at 10 a.m. Zero hour for the threatened strike is 12:01 a.m. (local time) Friday.

Two Leaders Absent

The labor secretary said a major complication during the first session was the absence of two top union leaders — Charles Luna, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, who was reported to be in Canada, and H. E. Gilbert, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. The secretary said he expected both men at the 10 a.m. meeting.

Wirtz said after the early morning session that there were no plans at present to bring the President directly (See STRIKE, Page 3)

MacArthur's Body in Second Stage of Trip

By H. D. QUIGG

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The body of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur lay in state today beneath the great dome of the Capitol, symbol of the nation he served for most of his long life.

His simple grey steel casket — standard Army issue — rested in the Capitol Rotunda on the black catafalque that a century ago bore the body of Abraham Lincoln and less than five months ago that of John F. Kennedy.

The remains of the 84-year-old hero were brought to Washington Wednesday on the second stage of the journey to his final resting place. The body will be flown to Norfolk, Va., later today, where it will lie in state until burial Saturday in the MacArthur memorial — a 114-year-old former city courthouse.

Doctors Federation Spokesman Dr. Andre Wynen Said Wednesday Night the Federation Would Call Off Its Voluntary Emergency Service at Hospitals if Any More Doctors "Are Arrested as a Result of Accidents."

The general's flag-draped coffin was borne to the Capitol on a horse-drawn caisson to the sound of muffled drums. Behind the caisson came the traditional riderless horse, symbol of a fallen chief.

Despite the steady April rain, police estimated that about 100,000 persons lined the broad avenues of the capital to watch the cortege.

The same procession was being repeated today, with the casket carried by caisson up Constitution Avenue to a point between 12th and 14th Streets for transfer to a hearse for the drive to the airport.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL SHUT DOWN TIGHT IN STRIKE

CHICAGO (UPI)—The sprawling Illinois Central Railroad, which hauls everything from sleepy suburban commuters to fresh strawberries, was shut down tight today.

A strike by four operating unions in the pre-dawn hours Wednesday spread slowly through 14 states from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico and cut off service to 2,000 Midwestern and Southern communities.

The sudden walkout also brought a long-simmering work rules dispute to a head and sent the country to the brink of a nationwide rail strike.

Giant railroad depots in Chicago were empty and the city's expressways were clogged with disgruntled commuters driving to work from the "bedroom" suburbs.

The four striking unions were the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen.

A joint union announcement of the walkout said the action was taken because no agreement had been reached with the railroad on "demands for paid holidays, adequate overtime, expenses at away-from-home points, shift differential pay and other requests in a four-year struggle for modernization of work rules."

The railroad put an embargo on all commodities when the strike was announced. The line's 6,500-mile system ground to a halt as freight trains en route when the walkout was called reached their destinations.

The Illinois Central system reaches into Minnesota and South Dakota on the north and spreads out from the Mississippi River southward to the Louisiana delta. Key points served by the line are the industrial centers of Chicago and Birmingham, Ala., and transfer hubs like New Orleans.

Pay Respects

The famous and the obscure of the nation's capital paid their respects. More than 20,000 persons had viewed the body by midnight (EST), and authorities ordered the Rotunda kept open to the public through the night until noon today. The casket will be removed at 1 p.m.

President Johnson planned to be on hand at Washington National Airport at 2 p.m. EST today when MacArthur's body was to be flown to Norfolk. But the White House declined to say whether the Chief Executive would attend Saturday's burial ceremonies.

The casket, due to arrive at Norfolk at 3:30 p.m., was to be borne by horse-drawn caisson through the streets of the Virginia city — birthplace of his mother and her longtime home — to the memorial. The body will lie in state in the memorial until shortly before funeral services.

150 in Pampa For Study on Police Work

More than 150 delegates from four states were in attendance here today at the annual spring convention and communications seminar of the Panhandle Police Communications Association.

New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas law enforcement units are represented at the session to which the delegates were welcomed by Mayor H. R. Thompson.

Radio traffic was on the discussion program this forenoon and was led by Texas Highway Patrol Capt. Worth Seaman of Austin and Capt. Bob Thaxton of the Oklahoma Highway Patrol.

Visiting delegates were guests at a noonday barbecue with entertainment furnished by the Pampa High School "Rejects."

The afternoon session was to deal with teletype discussions and a one-hour question and answer period on various police communications problems.

Police Chief Jim Conner and Sheriff Rufe Jordan were official hosts at the convention and seminar held in the stock barn at Recreation Park.

Khrushchev Says China Left Fold

BUDAPEST (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev charged today that the Communist Chinese "have abandoned the great Communist movement."

Stomping hard to rally his East European allies for a showdown fight with Peking, Khrushchev accused Communist China of splitting the world socialist camp.

Charging the Chinese leadership of "heretical acts," he said:

"They have extended their international relations and are trying to loosen socialist unity and they may do damage to the international Communist movement."

"The Chinese heretics, while covering themselves with ultra-revolutionary slogans, at the same time are slandering the Communist parties and helping the cause of the imperialists."

House Passes Controversial Farm Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House approved President Johnson's controversial farm bill by a bare eight votes in a session that lasted into the early hours today.

Passage of the wheat-cotton measure came only a few hours after the House approved, 229 to 189, the President's proposal to expand the food stamp program for the needy.

The wheat-cotton bill now goes to President Johnson for his signature. The food stamp bill goes to the Senate, where no action is likely for some time because of the slow civil rights debate.

The vote on the farm bill was 111 to 203 and it climaxed a 13-hour session that featured loud and cutting debate, ruffled tempers, and parliamentary fencing of a nature seldom seen.

The bill would give wheat-growers who limit acreage higher price supports through use of redeemable marketing certificates, thus heading off a predicted $600 million drop in farm income this election year. It also provides payments to cotton farmers who limit planting and indirect subsidies to U.S. textile mills.

Under the cotton program, handlers would be given subsidies in the form of redeemable certificates for surplus government cotton, and farm price supports would be cut from 32.5 cents a pound to 30 cents.

Wallace Flies Back Home After Primary

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Gov. George C. Wallace flew home from his first presidential primary Wednesday night to be greeted by a brass band and more than 3,000 cheering supporters.

"I want you to start eating Wisconsin cheese," he told the happy throng, as a measure of appreciation for the surprisingly large vote he received in the Wisconsin primary.

"On to Maryland and Indiana," shouted the crowd as the governor stepped from the new state plane, painted with both the American and Confederate flags and the words "Stand Up For America." Wallace has entered 23 preferential primaries in Maryland and Indiana.

One man waved a sign reading "Wallace yes, civil rights no!"

Wallace held a Wisconsin newspaper, generously devoted to account of the primary in which Wallace, running on an anti-civil rights bill platform, got around 25 per cent of the total vote. The banner headline said "250,000 for Wallace."

"They said we'd get 5,000 votes," he said. "When I left today, it was about 270,000. That vote was not for me. It was for the people of Alabama and this country who believe in constitutional government."

His unexpectedly strong showing in Wisconsin against "favorite son" Gov. John W. Reynolds will cause some second thinking in high political circles, Wallace predicted.

"The liberal politicians of both parties and Washington had their eyeteeth shaken," he said. "The governor said the nation would be watching the Alabama Democratic primary May 5, and urged support for an uncommitted slate of presidential electors."

"I hope you'll support our free, unpledged Democratic electors," he said.

Stock Exchange-SEC Fight Nearing Finish

NEW YORK (UPI)—The long trading makes to the exchange fight between the New York market. It has proposed setting up a "registered trader" stock and Exchange Commission, each of whom would own one form of stock having a minimum $250,000 capitalization.

Wall Street sources noted, however, that while the SEC did not completely abolish floor trading — a step its 1963 special study of securities markets had recommended unless the exchange did a tighter regulatory job — it put the activity under operational and financial rules that would squeeze out much floor trading in its present form, and reduce the number qualified to practice it.

Floor trading is the buying or selling of securities by stock exchange members for their own account on the exchange floor. Floor traders' activities are separate from those of the specialists, to whom are assigned specific stocks in which they must maintain an orderly market, and of the odd lot dealers, who trade in lots of less than 100 shares as they are offered by brokers dealing with the public.

The Civil Service Act providing for competitive examinations for government positions was passed in 1933.

Although in calendar year 1962 the United States ended up with a nearly $2.2 billion deficit in its balance of payments, trade in goods and services with foreign nations continued in favor of the United States. In the past three years, the U.S. surplus on goods and services has ranged from $3.8 billion to $4.5 billion. This plus factor more than offsets military and tourist spending overseas—items that are frequently singled out as major causes of the payments deficit. Where the U.S. slides into the red is in foreign aid spending and private investment overseas. The chart shows the breakdown of dollars entering and leaving the United States in 1962. Efforts are being made to plug the leak.

WILL CARRY FLAG
NEW YORK (UPI)—Cadet Capt. Harold P. Kindleberger, 22, of (6527 Navahoe Road) El Paso was scheduled to carry Gen. Douglas MacArthur's personal flag today in a procession from the 7th Regiment Armory to Pennsylvania Station. The procession will escort the body to the station for the trip to Washington. Kindleberger will be commissioned in the infantry in June.

SCOTCHES TALK
ULM, Germany (UPI)—West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard Tuesday scotched talk of a planned meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev as "speculation without any reality."

He said he was ready for such a meeting "at the right time and if there is any prospect of reaching an understanding."

Space Device May Aid Unborn Children

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A fantastically sensitive device developed to make space flight safer has turned out to be a promising weapon for the protection of unborn babies.

This was reported today by scientists of the National Aeronautics and Space Agency (NASA) and the Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

The device is a tiny electronic instrument for measuring extremely small impacts — impacts 1,000 times fainter than that of a grain of salt falling three-eighths of an inch.

Its inventor, Vernon L. Rogallo of NASA's Ames Research Center near San Francisco, created the instrument to study the effects of cosmic dust (micrometeoroids) on the skin and equipment of orbiting spacecraft.

FDA has been using chick embryos in their shells to study effects on living tissue of various drugs, pesticides, and chemicals added to foods.

By this means it has been able to gauge in a general way the influence of such chemicals on chick hatching and survival. Scientists simply injected the drugs or chemicals being studied into the yolk of the unhatched egg.

The evidence indicated damage to the embryo heart. But this damage could not be checked without destroying the embryo or introducing alien factors. Now, for the first time, science has an ideal way of monitoring the embryo heart beat without outside interference.

Monitor Embryo Hearts

But as he and others were quick to see, its greatest service to man may be here on earth. It is the first instrument ever devised which, as the FDA has demonstrated, can monitor the beat of embryo hearts without destroying them or distorting their action.

Rogallo's invention was conceived from science by space age necessities. If it had already been in existence seven years ago, when the space age was born with the launching of Sputnik 1, the world might have been spared the thalidomide tragedy of the late 1950s and early 1960s.

An estimated 7,000 infants were born with limbs either missing or horribly deformed as a result of their mothers taking thalidomide, a drug first marketed in 1957.

It was three years before medical science discovered thalidomide caused such deformities. Rogallo's device might have exposed thalidomide at the outset had the exigencies of space exploration called it into being sooner.

Widow of Prof Wins Mother of Year Honors

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Mrs. Emma Biesele, a 76-year-old history professor's widow, today was named Mother of the Year for 1964.

The announcement was made by Mrs. Kenneth L. Wickert of Fort Worth, chairman of the Texas Selection Committee for the American Mother's Committee, Inc. The group will choose the American mother of the year from nominees of the 50 states.

Mrs. Biesele, a native of New Braunfels, has three sons, one daughter and 16 grandchildren.

Two of her sons are university professors and the other is an electronics engineer. Her daughter is the wife of a recognized accountant in England. Three of the four were members of Phi Beta Kappa, the highest of scholastic honor societies.

Truce in Effect In Cleveland's Race Squabble

By United Press International

A temporary truce has been forged between integrationists and city officials at racially-shaken Cleveland, Ohio.

During a six-hour meeting Wednesday night, the city agreed to a two-week moratorium on all school construction in a predominantly Negro area, and civil rights leaders said there would be no demonstrations during this period.

Additionally, an expert on school integration problems will be hired to make a study of Cleveland's racial issues.

Construction at a new school, which civil rights groups claim would lead to resegregation of pupils, sparked violence this week when a white minister was crushed to death while trying to stop a bulldozer.

At Philadelphia, the Board of Christian Education of the United Presbyterian Church, U. S., said the victim, the Rev. Bruce Klunder, was "a casualty in one of the skirmishes of the revolutionary war of the 1960s." This war, said the board, "seeks to establish the freedom of all men to live a full life in our society regardless of the color of their skin."

Elsewhere:

Warrenton, N. C.: Police arrested 20 Negroes Wednesday during sit-in demonstrations at two segregated drugstores. There were no serious incidents as the group was jailed on charges of trespassing. Negro leaders said the demonstrators would refuse to post $100 bonds.

Washington: Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S. C., accused the Navy of striving for "racial balance" by specifically selecting Negroes for several jobs at the Charleston (S. C.) naval shipyard.

The early Spaniards called platinum "unripe" gold and valued it less than the pure yellow gold, using it to adulterate the latter.

LAST WORD

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — When Franklin Maurer, 49, appeared in court Wednesday he said the judge wasn't "nice" for bringing up his record of 62 arrests for drunkenness since 1939.

Judge John Coffey disagreed and sentenced Maurer to a year in jail for probation violation. But Maurer had the last word:

"If I'm going to be held, I'll just be that much older and so much thirstier."

AF Query Starts on Air Crash

ENCINAL, Tex. (UPI) — The Air Force today investigated the collision of two jet trainers over ranch country in Southwest Texas Wednesday. One plane crashed but all four crewmen escaped injury.

The two T37 training planes were on a training flight from Laredo Air Force Base.

The Air Force said 1st Lt. Robert J. McNaughton, 24, of Eau Claire, Wis., and student pilot 2nd Lt. Allan J. Litz, 25, of Indianapolis ejected safely from their plane before it crashed.

The other plane, with instructor 1st Lt. Richard E. Perlotto, 24, of Torrington, Conn. and student 2nd Lt. Barry G. Swartz, 22, of Houston aboard, made it back to the base despite major damage.

Encinal is 50 miles north of Laredo.

Tuna in Puff Shells: It's Sheer Luxury!

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Here's a luxurious recipe for a dinner party or special family occasion. It consists of morsels of tuna in a Swiss cheese and mushroom sauce spooned into cream puff shells, topped with crowns cut from pimientos. Sounds pretty special, doesn't it?

TUNA CROWNS
(6 Servings)
1 package cream puff mix or standard recipe
2 T. cornstarch
1 c. (3 or 4 ounces) sliced mushrooms
Milk
1 c. (4 ounces) grated Swiss cheese
2 egg yolks
2 c. (6 1/2 or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil
2 T. chopped pimiento
6 pimiento crowns
Prepare and bake large cream puffs according to directions on package, or use standard recipe. Measure cornstarch into 2-cup measure; add liquid from mushrooms and blend until smooth; add milk to make 2 cups. Cook, stirring constantly, over medium heat until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add cheese, stir until melted. Beat egg yolks slightly; gradually add part of hot sauce mixture. Stir egg yolk mixture into remaining sauce in pan; stir constantly over low heat until mixture thickens. Add tuna and pimiento; heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Cut top off 6 cream puffs; fill with most of tuna mixture and replace tops. Spoon remaining tuna mixture over tops. Top with pimiento cut in shape of crown.

TUNA CROWNS in shells is gala recipe.

Texas Slates State Cook-off

STEPHENVILLE (Spl) — Texas' best chicken recipes will be prepared and sampled at Tarleton State College Friday in the State Cook-off of the National Chicken Cooking Contest.

Eight cooks from the Tarleton home economics department will prepare dishes rated tops in the preliminary judging. These will be tasted by a battery of judges.

Finalists in the state cook-off are from a group of more than 30 Texas chicken recipes entered in the national competition.

T. A. Hensarling, Stephenville, state chairman of the contest, announced that the woman submitting the winning recipe would get an expense-paid trip to the National Cookoff to be held in Easton, Md., June 18-20. She would be sponsored by the Texas Broiler Council.

Winner of the national contest will receive an expense-paid round-trip to Europe.

Judges for the State Cook-off are Mrs. Hannah Belcher, home economist, Erath County REA; Mrs. Mary A. Moore, Texas Education Agency Vocational Service; and Miss Lee Edwin Terry, associate

Lemon Chiffon Pie Refreshing As April Showers and Good!

By GAYNOR MADDOX
A light dessert — tangy with lemon, delicate yet satisfying — is what's needed in the month of April showers. Do you agree? If so, then try this excellent recipe using frozen concentrated lemonade. Saves bother of squeezing lemons yet gives the lemon flavor you want.

LEMON CHIFFON PIE
1 can (6 ounces) frozen concentrated lemonade
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 eggs, separated
1/2 cup granulated sugar

1 cup sour cream
1 9-inch baked pie shell with high fluted edge

Allow frozen concentrated lemonade to defrost enough to pour easily from the can. Turn into heavy saucepan and sprinkle with gelatin. Let stand to soften gelatin. Beat egg yolks and mix with gelatin and lemonade. Heat gently over low flame, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved. Transfer to a cool bowl and chill in refrigerator for half an hour or until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from the spoon. Have egg whites at room temperature and beat until foamy; gradually add sugar about 2 tablespoons at a time and beat until mixture forms soft peaks like meringue. Fold in gelatin mixture and most of the sour cream, reserving enough cream for garnish. Turn into baked pie shell. Chill about two hours until set.

LIGHT AND AIRY lemon chiffon pie.

STEAK TARTARE BRASSERIE is man-pleaser.

Gourmet Delight Is Raw Beef Filet, Served Highly Seasoned with Wine

Ground beef filet, highly seasoned and served raw, is the delight of countless genuine gourmets. Perhaps most of them are men, but women, particularly those familiar with continental dining, relish Steak Tartare, too.

We enjoyed it last night in the noted Brasserie in New York's Seagram Building. The director, Edward Zwaaf, prepared it with enthusiastic ceremony. Zwaaf, born in Holland, educated in Belgium, active in the French underground and now an American citizen, is one of our most promising young restaurateurs.

"Steak Tartare is really a Belgian specialty where it is known as Filet Americain," our host said. "This recipe, served with chunks of crusty French bread will satisfy the appetite of one very hungry man, or perhaps two ordinary mortals, provided, of course, there is a good bottle of red wine to wash it down."

STEAK TARTARE BRASSERIE

(2 Servings)
1 egg yolk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon wine vinegar
1 teaspoon imported French mustard
2 tablespoons corn oil
1 1/2 teaspoons finely chopped onions
1 1/2 teaspoons chopped parsley
1 1/4 teaspoons capers
1 pound ground beef filet
2 anchovy filets

In a mixing bowl, thoroughly blend with a fork egg yolk, salt and mustard to form a smooth paste. Add vinegar, a drop at a time, mixing continually. Add corn oil very gradually, mixing continually. To the resulting thick sauce, add onions, parsley and capers in that order. Add meat, mix all together thoroughly. Shape Tartare mixture into a large oblong patty or "steak." Score the top surface diagonally, at one inch intervals, in both directions, and place the two anchovy filets in a cross on top. Voilà! Steak Tartare Brasserie!

Try Zesty Ham And Veal Loaf

By GAYNOR MADDOX
A meat loaf that is a little different always finds family welcome. This recipe is delicious served with a no-fuss canned mushroom and beef, or plain beef gravy. Or else use well-seasoned undiluted canned condensed tomato or mushroom soup with a small amount of pan drippings added.

HAM AND VEAL LOAF
(8 Servings)
2 c. ground ham
1 pound ground veal
1 c. crushed corn flakes
1 t. powdered mustard
1 T. water
1 t. salt
1 t. thyme leaves

1 t. ground black pepper
1 T. instant minced onion
2 large eggs, beaten
1 c. milk

Put ham through the food chopper, using the medium blade. Add veal and corn flakes. In the meantime, soak mustard in water 10 minutes to develop the flavor. Add to meat along with remaining ingredients. Mix well. Turn into a greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 1/2 hours or until meat is done.

35,000 Haven't Yet Filed Tax Returns

Approximately 35,000 taxpayers in the Panhandle area have not filed their income tax returns — with less than a week before the annual deadline — according to Richard V. White, administrative officer of the Pampa Internal Revenue office. He estimated that about the same number of taxpayers in this area have already received refunds, averaging $123 each. Some 7,500 are anxiously awaiting their refunds to be processed.

White further pointed out that about 15,000 of the 35,000 taxpayers in this area who waited until the last minute to file have a refund due them rather than owing tax. White had this word of advice for taxpayers who have not filed: 1. File now, 2. Check your arithmetic, 3. Be sure to sign your return (both husband and wife on joint returns), 4. Make your check payable to "Internal Revenue Service," 5. Mail your return to: "Internal Revenue Service, 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas, Texas 75201." 6. Be patient about your refund. At this time of year it takes at least two months to process — and possibly longer.

ROONEY GETS OK

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Mickey Rooney won court permission Wednesday to use $91,000 from a trust fund that was not to have been touched until he was 60 years old. The money is to be used to pay overdue federal and state income taxes.

Goldwater Trying To Put Texas in Campaign Plans

By WILLIAM HAMILTON
United Press International

Texas Republican chairman Peter O'Donnell said Wednesday in Austin, Sen. Barry Goldwater is trying to schedule a visit to Texas before the May 2 primary but added that no presidential aspirants have definite plans to campaign in the state.

Gubernatorial candidate Don Yarborough accused senatorial candidate Gordon McLendon of being a "hatchet man" for Gov. John Connally and asked both men to stop wooing Republican voters.

Yarborough, at a Capitol conference, presented a pledge for Connally and McLendon to sign, vowing that they will not discourage conservatives from voting in the Republican primary.

Yarborough said the pledge was his answer to one promoted by the State Democratic Executive Committee (SDEC) in which candidates were asked to promote unity among all party factions.

Questions Chances

McLendon's Senate effort, said Yarborough, is "a secondary purpose entirely — he realizes he can't have a ghost's chance."

Yarborough said he would sign the SDEC pledge if Connally and McLendon would comply with his request.

The Democratic candidate, in a lengthy exchange with reporters, reiterated support for increased welfare pensions, increased salaries for teachers and college professors and a sales tax ceiling, and said he would submit a budget program outlining his plans to finance these increases. He said he does not favor an income tax—personal or corporate—for the state.

Opposes Medical Bill

McLendon, meanwhile, told a Brownsville audience he opposes the Johnson administration's medical care for the aged bill because it "would subject our senior citizens to the searing indignity of assembly line medicine."

The Dallas radio executive went to Houston Wednesday night, and will spend today there. Sen. Ralph Yarborough continued to name county leaders across the state, among them Penn Jones, editor of the weekly Midlothian Mirror, and two radio station owners. In a swipe at McLendon, he noted that "two of those in the broadcast industry who believe in fairness in broadcasting are volunteering to serve as my campaign managers."

Bush in Houston

Republican George Bush, seeking support in Houston for his Senate effort, said the votes Alabama Gov. Wallace received in Tuesday's Wisconsin primary shows "great concern over the civil rights bill throughout the nation."

GOP hopeful Jack Cox, carried the issue further, asserting that "Americans everywhere are saying 'no!' to the administration bill." Cox was to campaign in Abilene today flying to Austin for an afternoon engagement and back to Abilene tonight.

SCIENCE SKETCHES

A THROWAWAY plastic "room" has been developed at Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital to protect germ-susceptible patients. Shots are given and blood drawn by inserting needles through the plastic.

THE SPOKEN WORD probably has less to do with human communications than the thousands of body movements we use, says Dr. R. L. Birdwhistell, Texas University anthropologist. The average person spends only 25 minutes a day in articulated speech, the rest of the time communicating by grimacing, smiling, frowning, raising an eyebrow, nodding, hunching the shoulders and other forms of "body English."

ACCORDION-SHAPED bellows expansion joints are installed in pipelines to allow for thermal expansion and contraction. The joints handle everything from steam at 750 degrees F. to liquid oxygen at 290 degrees below zero, reports Tube Turns, Louisville.

The average age of Nobel prize winners in science is years.

Wall Street In Review

Wall Street Chatter
 NEW YORK (UPI) — Reynoldson & Co. says it feels the long run of rising stock prices has not ended and advises investors to "let their profits run."
 Temporary price supports, it says, should be used to make new purchases.

Mark Dodge & Co. says the current bull market is on its final lap and there is little room left for substantial gains in individual issues. It is for the best performance to come from the aluminum, steel, chemical, drug, international oil and retail trades. The big play, it says, probably will be in heavy machinery and steel.

Reynoldson, Hammill & Co. says there are still a great many "very reasonably priced" stocks available in today's market which would make attractive replacements for fully valued or "unduly speculative" investments. It suggests examining some of the medium-sized chemical companies which have set up as good buys for a while.

NEW YORK — A tobacco salesman rejecting an attempt by a United Press International reporter Joseph Brewster to purchase cigarettes with silver bullion which the Treasury gives in place of silver dollars in exchange for "silver certificate" bills.
 "If you were a regular customer, I would probably give you some cigarettes and hold them for you until you came in with some real money."

Quotes From The News

United Press International
 NEW YORK — Kelsey Cannel, 10, one of the passengers on a jetliner which skidded off Kennedy International Airport runway and crashed into a swamp, describing the accident:
 "It happened so fast that I had no time to be afraid."

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Segregationist Alabama Gov. George Wallace, commenting on his strong showing in the Wisconsin presidential primary:
 "We won a victory and they know it. We won without winning. We have done more than any other group to break the centralized control of government."

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Wisconsin Gov. John W. Reynolds, winner of the presidential primary in his home state, commenting on Wallace's substantial vote:
 "I'm disappointed he got any votes at all, but we must realize we have prejudice in the North just as in the South."

KEMAH, Tex. — Astronaut-merit John Glenn, aiming and no longer entered in the Ohio senatorial race, commenting on neighborhood children who brought him get well gifts:
 "It's wonderful when kids do something like this on their own."

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. — Mayor Joseph Shelley, objecting to Mrs. Malcolm E. Peabody, mother of the Massachusetts governor, violating trespassing laws in attempting to integrate a restaurant:
 "If she started a bloody race riot, I wonder whom she would blame?"

CITATION WINNER—Ward Cannel, roving reporter for Newspaper Enterprise Association, has won a citation for excellence in foreign correspondence awarded by the Overseas Press Club. Cannel's citation was in the "best newspaper or wire service reporting from abroad" category for his coverage of Africa in 1963.

FASTEST PLANE IN THE WORLD—This graceful craft, the A-11, can knife through the skies at speeds exceeding 2,000 m.p.h.—better than three times the speed of sound. The jet interceptor, in the works for about five years, was announced by President Johnson at his first televised news conference. The air time between New York and Moscow—a distance of 4,665 miles—would be cut by this plane to about 2 1/2 hours. The President says the A-11's performance "far exceeds that of any aircraft in the world."

Belli May Never See Charges by Bar Unit

AUSTIN (UPI)—San Francisco Melvin Belli won't get to see the charges brought against him by the Texas Bar Association unless the state supreme court agrees to consider them.

The bar association filed a request with the state supreme court, asking that Belli be permanently forbidden to practice law in Texas.

The bar accused Belli of unprofessional conduct for criticizing the court that found Jack Ruby guilty of murdering accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

Belli called it a "kangaroo court" and said the verdict was a victory for bigotry.

The court received a letter from Belli Wednesday saying he was being tried in the news media by the bar association and asking for a copy of the charges against him so he could prepare an answer.

George Templin, clerk of the court, said it would be up to the bar association to send Belli a copy of the charges.

Templin said the association would not be required to give Belli a copy until the court agrees to consider the complaint.

Money Adams, assistant general counsel for the bar association, said no copies would be sent unless the court takes up the case, and Belli would then get a chance to file an answer or appear in person.

The hearing was set for 9:30 a.m.

The suit was filed last January by 10 parents on behalf of 16 children. It was filed in the name of Jesse Price, an airman at Perrin Air Force Base. Price and his sons, David and Melvin, live in Denison.

The petition attacked the Denison grade-a-year plan of integration as "too little and too late."

The school board ordered a stairstep program last September and 10 Negroes enrolled in white schools in the first grade.

The hearing was tentatively set for last Monday but rescheduled because of other cases.

STRAIGHT SHOOTER

NORTH FREEDOM, Wis. (UPI)—Dale Maynard, 23, may not be the fastest draw in the West but he sure shoots straight.

Texans Re-Elected To TV Association

CHICAGO (UPI)—Two Texas broadcasters were re-elected to two year terms on the television board of directors of the National Association of Broadcasters Wednesday.

They were Mike Shapiro, general manager of WFAA-TV in Dallas, and Gordon Gray, president of KAUZ, Wichita Falls. Gray is also president of WKT-TV, of Utica, N.Y.

NURSING BRUISES
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Princess Way nursed the bruises on her face today that should have belonged to someone else.

She told police she was walking downtown Wednesday when a man began beating her with his fists.

Suddenly she stopped and said: "Oh, you're not her. I'm sorry." Then he fled.

Hospital Auxiliary Organizes Tomorrow

Mrs. Homer Johnson, chairman of the Highland General Hospital Auxiliary steering committee, announced yesterday following a meeting conducted in her home, that preliminary plans had been slated for formation for the volunteer hospital service group.

An organization meeting, open to interested women in the community, will be conducted at 9:30 in the morning at the Lovett Memorial Library. Clubs have been contacted and representatives of all women's organizations in Pampa are urged to attend. The auxiliary will be established to provide additional service to patients of Highland General. Volunteer work will include those tasks important to the comfort and care of patients that do not require medical training. Junior Service League members are heading the campaign for organization of a community-wide auxiliary to further the program for which they have laid foundation.

Mrs. Johnson stated that Mrs. R. E. Dobbins is acting as temporary treasurer of the group until May 1 when officers will be elected and installed.

Plans for orientation courses which will be conducted in two two-hour sessions at Highland General Tuesday and Wednesday, are scheduled for 9:30 a.m. on those days. A third class, to be later scheduled, will be held on a Saturday afternoon for those persons who are employed and cannot attend the morning sessions.

Prospective Auxiliary members may enroll and pay their dues Friday. The Auxiliary, when established, will conduct four meetings annually. Members to remain in good standing, need only to attend one of the scheduled meetings per year and maintain current dues.

Membership has been classified by the steering committee. Active membership includes payment of dues and donation of time at the hospital, and shall be the voting body of the Auxiliary.

Sustaining membership shall be established for those interested in the purpose of the Auxiliary; but who are prevented from active duty with the group. They shall pay full dues.

Honorary members shall be selected by the board of directors and will be presented with a special certificate of recognition.

Dear Abby....

He Is Not Responsible For Another's Debt! Stay Out!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In 1959 my husband lent a man $500. He was so sure that he was good for it that he didn't ask him to sign a note or anything. This man has made no effort to pay back one cent of it. Now get this. This deadbeat's sister is married to one of the richest and most prominent men in the state! Everybody knows him. He has given away millions, yet his own brother-in-law has owed a man $500 for four years. I told my husband to get in touch with this rich brother-in-law and ask him for the money. It would be like five cents to him, but it is a lot of money to us. My husband refuses to do it. I am tempted to contact him myself. Would that be wrong?

C'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Yes. No man, rich or poor, is responsible for his brother-in-law's debts. In cases such as this, it is probable that he has already given his brother-in-law all the help he intends to, and has washed his hands of him (which is his privilege). Stay out of it.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my husband started accusing me of things I never thought of doing. My hand on a Bible, Abby, I never looked at another man in the 34 years we have been married. He kept at me and kept at me until I finally "confessed" just so he would leave me alone. Now he is worse than ever. I have tried to tell him that I am not guilty, and I only said I was so I could get some peace and quiet, but he doesn't believe me. Life is not worth living any more. If it weren't for our children and grandchildren I would know what to do. Can you help me?

MISERABLE
DEAR MISERABLE: Try to get your husband to your family physician for a "checkup." If he refuses to go, call your physician and tell him your problem. Excessive suspicion, without cause, is a common symptom of mental illness.

DEAR ABBY: On the subject of whether the clergyman should be paid extra for services that are a part of his "duty," may I add my remarks? Many couples who can afford only a small ceremony in the parson's living room forget that even the smallest wedding costs something. The last one cost us $15. We were offered $5, but we refused it because the couple were struggling students. But at some of the more elaborate church weddings when the cake, which is NOT essential, costs $75, and the preacher, who IS essential, costs nothing, it makes one wonder where the value system went.

New Trend Seen In Tots Clothes

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEW YORK (NEA) — Doting grandmothers, godmothers and aunts are frequently "hooked" by the unique appeal of children's items found in boutiques. And now the kind of wearing apparel that can be found in these imaginative shops - within-a-store has been expanded.

The pretty, embroidered hats and gloves have now been joined by colorful and individual outerwear. And according to Joseph L. Rubin of the Infants' and Children's Coat Assn., this boutique-type outdoor clothing has had enthusiastic acceptance.

These pants, jackets and hats take their cue from ski wear. They are sleek and functional and abound with unusual design ideas.

All the wonderful fabrics that stretch both ways are used in the pants and coordinated tops. It is among the jackets that endless variety and originality occur.

Some fabrics are printed or woven in handsome Scandinavian, Peruvian and American Indian designs. Solid color fabrics are quilted or laminated and have appliques of bright colors. And all are warm, comfortable and allow complete freedom of movement.

Warren Panel May Visit Crime Scene

DALLAS (UPI)—Chief Justice Earl Warren and other members of the commission studying the assassination of President Kennedy may visit Dallas next week. The Dallas News said today.

The paper quoted sources close to commission representatives who were in Dallas interviewing persons about the assassination.

U.S. Atty. Barefoot Sanders declined comment about the visit.

The paper quoted its source as saying commission arrivals believed Warren would arrive Monday or Wednesday.

LeMay Will Stay Air Force Chief

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay will remain as Air Force chief of staff until he reaches retirement age on Feb. 1, 1965. He has held the job since July 1, 1961.

President Johnson announced Wednesday that the 58-year-old LeMay would be retained as the uniformed head of the Air Force. President John F. Kennedy first appointed LeMay, and last year extended his term by only one year instead of the customary two.

Harper's Ferry Arsenal was established by George Washington.

Pair Sentenced In Kidnaping

CLAREMORE, Okla. (UPI)—An old-time Western train robber from Texas and his nephew both faced jail sentences today for kidnaping an Oklahoman, wrapping him in logging chains and stuffing him in the back of an automobile.

The nephew, Noel Bruce Oglesby, 46, of Corpus Christi, was sentenced to one year in prison Wednesday. His uncle, Willis Newton, 75, of Uvalde, was convicted earlier and sentenced to a year and a day.

Newton is still free on bond while appealing the sentence. A lawyer for Oglesby said he would post $1500 bond and appeal the sentence also.

Newton was convicted of several bank robberies in his youth and took part in the famous $2 million Roundout, Ill., train robbery.

They were convicted of kidnaping Frank Brent of Tulsa in 1962. They said that Brent, who had a long police record, had stolen some things from Newton's Uvalde ranch and they were just trying to scare him into telling them where he had hidden the stolen goods.

Brent was discovered in the back of Newton's car on a Rogers county road, tied with logging chains.

Brent appeared at Newton's first trial and said they had threatened his life.

Former Student Sues University

AUSTIN (UPI)—Chester R. Morris, a former University of Texas graduate student who sued the University for sending him to a mental hospital, has won a preliminary victory in the 3rd Court of Criminal Appeals.

Morris, studying for a Ph.D. in mathematics, was dismissed from the University in 1956. He was confined in the Austin State Hospital 44 days.

Morris filed a suit for $120,000 damages against the University, the hospital and others, charging he was illegally confined.

He has filed numerous suits since and one of them went to the U.S. Supreme Court, where Morris lost.

The Court of Civil Appeals Wednesday ruled Morris is entitled to examine the University's health records pertaining to him if he can show they are public records.

A district court in Austin had dismissed Morris' suit on grounds it was a suit against the state brought without the state's permission.

But the appeals court said the suit was against former university president Joseph R. Smiley, dean of student life Arno Nowotny and other university officials and not against the state. It was returned to district court.

After four months in office, President James A. Garfield was assassinated by a man whom he refused to appoint to office.

First Concrete Road in Michigan

The first mile of concrete roadway in the United States was built in Wayne County, Mich., in 1909. Construction methods used were crude by today's standards, but resulted in the development of new methods and modern hard-surfaced highways, the American Automobile Association reports.

Tulsa and Rogers county authorities said Brent has since disappeared.

The Communists Have Their Troubles, Too!

BERLIN AND WEST GERMANY—The free city of West Berlin remains an open sore to the Soviet Union. The booming economy of Berlin and all of West Germany stands in stark contrast to the still war-torn and undeveloped Communist East Germany.

SINO SOVIET IDEOLOGICAL SPLIT—By far the biggest problem which besets the Communist bloc, the internal cold war between "moderates" and "Stalinist" philosophies of communism is expected to become even more intense.

FOOD—Both Red China and the Soviet Union have had poor agricultural years, coupled with drought and a subnormal winter. Even the humiliating purchase of American wheat by the Russians hasn't eliminated hunger. Red China is worse off, since it hasn't been able to export its trade.

CUBA—It's reported that Premier Fidel Castro would like to receive more aid from Russia, but Khrushchev is politely refusing to co-operate. The Soviet military mission in Cuba has been reduced to less than 5,000—once four times that many.

RUSSIA AND HER SATELLITES—All is not well between the Soviet Union and her Eastern Europe "allies"—Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Bulgaria, Poland and Romania, according to observers. These states are insisting on putting their own economies ahead of Moscow's plan for an integrated economy of the Communist bloc.

RUSSIA VS. ALBANIA—This tiny nation on the Baltic is Russia's Cuba. By siding with Red China on ideological questions, Albania has incurred the wrath of the Soviet Union but the Russians seem unable to cope with the pinpricks.

YUGOSLAVIA—The Soviet Union, while publicly espousing eternal brotherhood with Tito, is nevertheless displeased over the warming relations between Yugoslavia and the U.S.

There are two sides in the East-West cold war and, all too often, the shaky position of the Communist nations is overlooked. Reports from behind the Iron Curtain indicate that events have not all been running against the U.S. This Newsmap gives international affairs experts' assessments of Communist hot spots.

Rotary Club Sees Middle East Slides

Pampa residents George and Pauline Quible presented a pictorial travelog of their tour of the Middle East to the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday at the Coronado Inn.

Featuring beautiful color slides, the couple discussed their travels through Greece, Israel, Jordan, India, Turkey, as well as other countries.

President Cameron Marsh reminded the members of the Inter-City meeting to be held at the Inn at 7 p.m. April 21.

UN Trouble-Shooter To Meet on Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—Top United Nations trouble-shooter Ralph J. Bunche stepped into the Cyprus crisis today in an effort to avert a clash between the Greek Cypriot government and Turkey.

Bunche arranged a meeting this morning with President Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriot community, to be followed by talks with Vice President Fazil Kuchuk, head of the rival Turkish Cypriots.

Informed sources said Bunche would warn Makarios against trying to forcefully remove Turkish army troops from the strategic Nicosia-Kyrenia highway. U.N. officials feared that such a move by the Greek Cypriots would trigger an armed conflict with the Turks.

U.N. officials reported some firing this morning around Hillarion Castle, a Turkish Cypriot stronghold overlooking the highway, but details of the incident were not immediately available.

There were no known casualties.

Bunche, a U.N. undersecretary and one of the Secretary General Thant's most trusted men, arrived Wednesday night for three days of negotiations on problems facing the U.N. peace force in policing the truce between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD

AMARILLO (UPI)—An autopsy was ordered Wednesday in the death of a housewife found dead beneath a heavy fur coat in the garage of her home.

Mrs. Charles Atwell was found by her husband. A nose connected to the exhaust of the family station wagon led beneath the coat.

CONVENTION OPENS

ABILENE (UPI)—Gov. John Connally and Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex. are among speakers at the 46th annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention opening today. Connally will speak Saturday on Texas higher education, industrial development and tourist promotion.

TEXANS IN RIO

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI)—Fifteen Texans promoted the Lone Star state today as a tourist and business attraction for South Americans. The stop in Rio was the first of five for the goodwill group, sponsored jointly by Neiman-Marcus of Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth and Braniff International Airways. They go on to Lima, Peru Thursday, then to Bogota, Colombia and Mexico City.

Salvation Army Aids Alaskan Disaster

Salvation Army officials in Pampa have received a statistical report on the work of the Army during and after the Alaskan earthquake.

The report says that the Army set up 1,200 sitdown meals daily at the center in Anchorage and some 4,800 other meals at 100 different points in and around the city. Some 500 families have been placed in homes and 800 garments have been distributed.

The report further reveals that Salvation Army mobile units in Alaska have used 2,200 pounds of meat, 100 dozen eggs, 100 cases of coffee, 7,500 dozen pastries, 60 gallons of milk and four cases of soap.

The Army also served as official information center relating to missing persons.

Meanwhile in Texas, four Salvation Army mobile disaster canteens which sped to Wichita Falls to aid victims and disaster workers immediately following the devastating tornado, Friday, had been reduced to three this week, according to Texas Divisional Headquarters of the Salvation Army in Dallas.

Salvation Army personnel and canteen stationed in Wichita Falls were on the scene within minutes after the tornado hitting serving sandwiches and coffee in less than an hour other mobile canteens were rushing to the scene from Dallas, Tyler, and San Angelo.

Lt. Col. B. Gordon Swyers of Dallas, divisional commander, said today that some 300 disaster workers had been served bacon and eggs from the canteens on Monday morning. An estimated 8,000 hot meals were served disaster victims and workers on Saturday and Sunday.

Brig. William Johnson, in command of the Wichita Falls Salvation Army Corps, reported that clothing, blankets, and furniture were being distributed to tornado victims. He estimated that 25 or 30 tons of clothing and bedding had been donated to the Salvation Army by area residents for victims.

Working with Brigadier Johnson's staff and other Texas Salvation Army officers are Mrs. Bessie Sloan, county welfare director, who is working temporarily in the Salvation Army of Pampa; Eddie Brown, disaster chairman of the Wichita Falls Salvation Army advisory board, and advisory board member Al Borwitz.

All Salvation Army resources will be made available to the victims of the tornado, Colonel Swyers stated.

WITHDRAWS TROOPS

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (UPI)—The Defense Ministry announced Tuesday night that Ethiopia has withdrawn all its troops from the disputed Somalia border area.

A government spokesman said a delegation of Ethiopian observers met with Somali officials at Ferfer Tuesday to start a peace-keeping operation.

Meeting on CAB's Ft. Worth Decision

FORT WORTH (UPI)—The Fort Worth aviation board was to meet today to discuss whether to ask the Civil Aeronautics Board to reject an examiner's recommendation that Fort Worth and Dallas continue to be served by separate airports.

CAB examiner Ross I. Newmann Tuesday issued his report on the regional airport dispute between the two cities. Fort Worth had asked that the CAB order a regional airport to serve the two cities, and to name the city's Greater Southwest field as the regional airport.

The city has 30 days to file an appeal to the full board.

'65 NPRA Meet Set in Houston

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—The National Petroleum Refiners Association (NPRA) will hold its 1965 convention in Houston. The three-day 1964 convention, attended by 1,500 delegates closed Wednesday following a technical session.

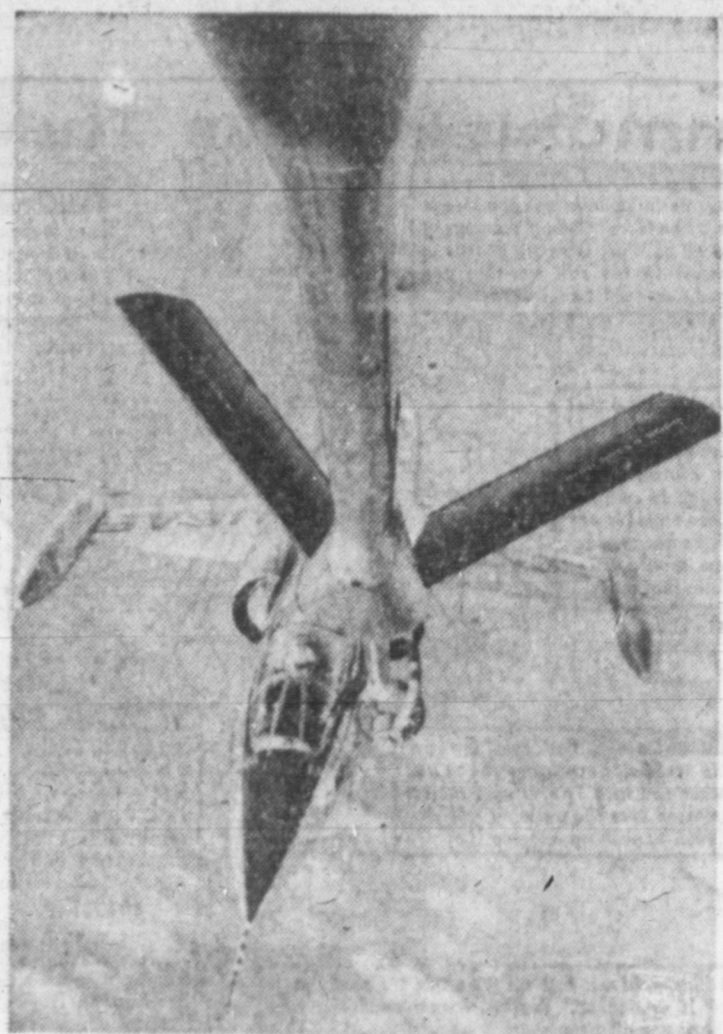

Papers were delivered on a new petroleum cracking fluid catalyst on the economics of hydrogen from natural gas, and on new methods of processing for fuel oil elimination.

P. N. Gamelgard, Pure Oil Co. refining vice president of Palestine, Ill., succeeded L. E. Kincannon of Indianapolis, Ind., as president.

Vice presidents named were R. C. Adam, New York; F. O. Kootz, Oil City, Pa. and Paul N. Howell of San Antonio.

Executive committee members chosen were S. D. Breitweiser and Harry Brown, Tulsa, Okla.; F. C. Moriarty of Findlay, Ohio; L. W. Robbie of Texas City, Tex., and H. F. Wagner of St. Paul, Minn.

In the outgoing president's talk to the convention, Kincannon said a reasonable balance must be reached between the supply of crude oil and the demand for it.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Report cards and grades present many problems for educators and parents. The cards are thousands of different forms and include many different items and kinds of grades. The purposes vary and include such things as evaluation, communication, public relations, maintaining standards, etc. The problems are basically the same: how to give a grade to the great variation of pupils which different parents and educators attribute to report cards. In addition, the problems are complicated by the fact that judgments vary in each teacher who evaluates a student.

Would Eliminate Grades

A discussion of report cards closely related to the area of grades. Many educators, psychologists, and parents would prefer to eliminate grades. One of their criticisms is that grades are unfair and do not give a complete picture of the individual. This is true. However, grades are not intended to give a complete picture. Unfortunately, some people interpret them incorrectly. This is a need to improve instruction in their schools.

Realistically grades are necessary. There is competition in education especially in the area of college admissions. Colleges set grades as one of many factors in determining which students will be accepted. There is also a need to know how well a student is developing in comparison to his peers.

Meaning Of Grade

Enough on the need for grades. What is the meaning of a grade on a report card? At the elementary level, there are two major approaches. One is to indicate the student's performance in relation to the standards expected at the particular grade level. In a way, this is comparing the student to other students. The second approach is to indicate the student's performance based upon his own ability. This method is a way of showing the student's progress regardless of the performance of other students at his level. Most report cards have been designed to use either one or other approaches.

Especially at the elementary level, recognizing the shortcomings of report cards, educators have instituted parent-teacher conferences. In this way an exchange of information and a clearer understanding of a student's progress seems to be accomplished.

The tendency at the secondary level is to grade according to set standards and in competition with other students. Conferences are not usually scheduled but are initiated by parent, teacher or guidance counselor when problems exist.

SUFFER FOR PUBLICITY

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (UPI) — "What price publicity?" Earl Lett and the Blendaires, an eight-man band from Boston, played consecutively for 73 hours and 42 minutes from Thursday until Sunday. During the publicity-motivated marathon, a guitarist suffered bloody fingers, a saxophonist had cut lips, a horn player sustained facial hemorrhages and, presumably, the vocalists are hoarse.

Walter Rogers Reports

Washington Traffic Poses Big Problem

The return of the tourist season here in the nation's capital (next week's major attraction is the annual Cherry Blossom Festival) brings a reminder that not all of the confusion in Washington is to be found in government buildings. A lovely city in many respects, Washington offers the visitor a wealth and variety of things to do and see—and be confused about. It isn't any wonder that tourists are confused; half a million residents of this city think they live in Washington, believing that the boundaries of Washington and the District of Columbia are one and the same, but they really are not. The Maryland Highway Department is similarly confused. It placed "welcome to Washington" signs four miles from the city limits.

Heavy traffic is one of the biggest problems in Washington, as it is in all large U.S. cities. It is well to avoid, if you can, the rush hour traffic between 7 and 9 a.m. and 4 and 6 p.m. when the thoroughfares are paved with bumper-to-bumper automobiles.

"Sorry I'm late—I got lost," is a common apology in Washington and its environs. The streets, roads, and highways are poorly marked. Signs along roadways in the Washington area were placed with natives, not visitors, in mind—and even the longtime residents get confused when they stray from their accustomed routes. One of the most difficult first-time trips to negotiate is that leading the 25 miles from downtown Washington to the new Dulles Airport. The FAA operates the big jet airport and, if it could do so without cost to the taxpayer, should strike a medal for motorists who can make it to the terminal without once having lost their way.

I've wondered how many thousands of tourists have lost hours of travel time by misinterpreting this sign located in Virginia not far from the Potomac River—and on their way to points south:

Columbia Pike
To U.S. 50

As I read the sign, the way to Highway 50 is via Columbia Pike. But that's not correct; the sign intends to inform the motorist that the route he is on will lead him to the pike and to Highway 50.

Another of my "pet peeve" signs is one located on a drive around a major park area here. With typical disdain for clarity, it says:

Downtown Virginia

There is no such place as "Downtown Virginia." The sign intends to point the way to Virginia, the State, and to downtown Washington. By the way, one-way traffic patterns were switched on several downtown Washington streets last week creating monumental traffic jams. Police and motorists finally declared a truce.

Another recent confusion concerning traffic nearly touched off an international incident. The District Government (which amounts to being the Government of the United States, since this is a Federal city), announced three weeks ago that henceforth foreign diplomats in the Capital would have to abide by the same parking laws as Americans—or pay the same fines. The Diplomatic Corps kicked up a fuss. Retaliatory action was taken against American diplomats by traffic policemen in Manila, the capital of the Philippines. Finally the U.S. State Department backed down, determining that diplomat scofflaws here need not pay parking tickets received in the official line of duty but that parking tickets received on private visits must be paid. Suggested the Washington Post in a bitingly sarcastic editorial: "If foreign governments think it good diplomacy to let their emissaries flout the laws here, let them meet the cost of this entertainment by paying the legitimate fines entailed."

The capital sports situation is confusing: The Washington Senators, commonly at the bottom of the American League, have been showing better than cellar-dweller form in spring training. The Washington Redskins of the National Football League (usually more losses than wins) claim to have strengthened things by swapping quarterbacks with the Philadelphia Eagles. But now the home ballpark to both the Senators and Redskins, the stylish, $19.3 million D. C. Stadium, is falling apart—literally. Cracks have

Scranton Out As GOP Hopeful For Nomination

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Gov. William W. Scranton has decided he is no longer receptive to a draft for the Republican presidential nomination, the Philadelphia Inquirer said in a copyrighted article on the front page of today's editions.

The newspaper said the governor will announce his unavailability for a draft at the Republican National Convention with a three paragraph statement at a news conference at 11:30 a.m. Thursday, despite last-ditch efforts of his staff to persuade him to change his mind.

The article said members of the staff conferred with him Tuesday on his return from a Florida vacation and asked him to at least delay the announcement until later.

Scranton's assistant, William Keisling, emphatically denied the story Tuesday night, saying it would rank with the Chicago tribune's 1948 headline that Dewey had beaten Truman for the presidency.

REPORTS ON DEFICIT

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas' general revenue fund was $46,680,472 in the red on April 1. Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said the state had a $23,802,223 deficit at the beginning of March and during the month paid out $35,115,774 compared with receipts of $12,237,525.

FROWNS ON "ACTION"

BRIGGATE, England (UPI)—Women shoppers saw a naked Indian salaam twice in the direction of the sun and run off with police in pursuit.

Police caught him and took him to a hospital. A man who witnessed the episode said politely: "We don't do this sort of thing in England."

ALL BOXED IN—This big ship, a supplier of power and steam to Greenland's Thule Air Base, couldn't go anywhere even if its captain wanted it to. Anchored at its own private dock, the ship is completely surrounded by ice up to five feet thick. But total output of all ship facilities is enough to meet the power needs of a city of 50,000 population. And that's why it's icebound.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Palais Des Nations, Geneva—at in the marble above the porway to the room through which the delegates to the 17-ation disarmament conference just pass to sit around the rectangle of their green felt-covered desks is a slogan
which says:

"Here is a great work for peace in which all can participate... the nations must disarm or perish. Be just and fair not."

The message over the door reminds the delegates of the goal they seek. And around the walls running up to the conference room's 40 foot ceiling are symbolic paintings reminding them of man's long history of humanity to man.

This is the setting. Less impressive has been the tortoise-like progress of the conference itself whose members have seen at work with various interruptions, since March 14, 1962.

Some Progress
Yet there has been progress.
Chief Soviet delegate Semyon
K. Tsarapkin ended a diatribe against Germany to make the surprise announcement that Russia was ready to negotiate
the "hot line" between Moscow and Washington as a measure to prevent war by mistake.

On Aug. 5, 1963 the United States, Britain and Russia
signed the limited test ban agreement in Moscow after months of spadework done in Geneva.

In addition, there is the agreement against the placing of weapons in outer space.

That was the end of visible progress in disarmament efforts which since 1945 have consumed so many millions of words and the time of some of the world's top diplomats.

Nuclear Era Conditions

In this nuclear era conditions also have changed. It no longer simply is a matter of total and complete disarmament. There also are what are called "collateral" conditions which deal with the questions of war by mistake, of sneak attack and step-by-step measures which,
while not actual disarmament,
might contribute to a lessening of tensions.

In the twice-weekly meetings which the conference holds, one is devoted to total disarmament and the other to the "collaterals."

Taking over from U.S. disarmament chief William C.
Foster at the conference on March 2 was Adrian S. Fisher, a bluff hearty man with a successful record both as a lawyer and in the State Department, who declares himself not discouraged by the slow pace of progress.

"These are issues of enormous importance," he says,
"and we must expect them to take time."

New Sheriff Named as Old One Vanishes

GLEN ROSE, Tex. (UPI) —
The Somervell County sheriff and the Somervell County moneybags are gone, but lawbust-ers beware! Former mathematics teacher Cecil Parker is in the saddle.

Parker, 55, was named acting sheriff Tuesday, right after Judge Penn Jackson suspended
former Sheriff Paul Bone, 37, who disappeared a week ago,
leaving a $22,791 shortage in his office.

Embezzlement charges were filed against Bone Tuesday by Dist. Atty. Robert M. Mahanay.

Texas Ranger Capt. Clint
Peoples of Waco said Rangers would help Parker out and "assume responsibility for law enforcement in Somervell County for the time being."

Bone, a candidate for re-election in his dual role as-sheriff and tax assessor-collector, was believed to be in Mexico. Immigration authorities at Laredo
said they issued him papers
April 1, and his wife and children said they had not seen him since March 31.

County commissioners said
most of the missing money was apparently from automobile license plate receipts.

Belli Seeks Copy of Bar Group Charges

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Attorney Melvin Belli, complaining that he is being tried in the newspapers, has asked the Texas Supreme Court for a copy of charges allegedly made against him by the State Bar of Texas.

Belli Tuesday made public a letter to the state supreme court requesting a copy of a 40-page brief reportedly filed with the court last week and allegedly accusing Belli of violating professional ethics in his defense of Jack Ruby in Dallas.

The fiery attorney charged that the state bar of Texas "has publicly denounced me, tried me and convicted me in absentia." The state bar's action seeks to prevent Belli from practicing law again in Texas.

Plans Ruby Aid
Belli said he had no cases pending in Texas at the present, but that he planned to give Ruby's new attorney a brief of errors made during the trial for use in appealing Ruby's murder conviction for the shooting of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

"A week ago, the State Bar of Texas publicly reported to the various news media, the wire services, television, radio, your local press and my local press that I had been guilty of flagrant violations of professional ethics in my comments on Dallas and the trial of Jack Ruby," Belli wrote.

"The news stories carried items and details from an alleged 'forty page brief' that was filed with your court. The stories further reported that the State Bar of Texas sought to 'disbar Belli for unethical conduct,'" the letter continued.

"Convicted Before Trial"
"I have waited now for a week for the courtesy, if not the legality, of the service of this 'brief' upon me so that I might, even though being convicted publicly before a trial, know specifically the charges against me other than by hearsay and answer them or plead in the premise.

"It is my understanding that good taste, ethics and due process require even a lawyer charged with 'unprofessional conduct' by a state bar be apprised of the nature of the charges, the specifications and to have a trial before he is convicted by statements of his brother lawyers in the newspapers.

"I respectfully write this letter to your honors requesting that a copy of these 'charges' be sent to me so that I may answer or move in the premises even though the state bar has publicly denounced me, tried and convicted me in absentia."

CALLS OFF SEARCH
MAIDSTONE, England (UPI)—A police search for Ronald Francis Sawyer, 30, who was thought to have escaped from Maidstone prison Monday night, was called off early today when he was found — of all places — inside the prison grounds.
Sawyer, who had been missed at the 5 p.m. roll call Monday, was discovered hiding in a prison shed.

Power Boys Hit Masters Field

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Hopeful Arnold Palmer gets a 30 minutes head start on everybody's favorite Jack Nicklaus today when the power boys take on the field in the opening round of the famed Masters golf tournament.

Palmer, the three-time champion who is still looking for his first tournament victory of the year, tees off at noon with young Labron Harris Jr., the 1962 National Amateur champion.

Nicklaus, the 24-year-old Columbus, Ohio, bomber who seeks to become the first defending champion to put a pair of Masters' victories back-to-back, tees off at 12:30 p.m. EST with Downing Gray, the man Harris beat 1-up two years ago for that amateur crown.

Nicklaus Hits Longest Palmer and Nicklaus are both 3 to 1 choices but a run of heavy rain that has left the Augusta National course soggy is expected to be advantageous to Nicklaus because he hits the longest, highest drives of any of the 96 starters in this 27th Masters.

The weatherman was predicting all systems "go" with clear, mild weather expected after torrential rains washed out two of the last three days of practice. Most of the golfers were able to try out the tricky, 6,980-yard course only on Tuesday.

Nicklaus went into today's opening round full of confidence. "I feel I have been playing much better up to this point this year than I was leading into last year's Masters."

Palmer's hopes for becoming the first four-time winner (he took the Masters in '58, '60 and '62) are based on improved putting. "My trouble so far this year has been chieffy putting," Palmer said. "I've had a bunch of three-putts, I've had the yips and couldn't concentrate. But now I feel I can master those putts."

Furgol Disagrees Although most favor the power er hitters for the tournament, former U.S. Open champion Ed Furgol casts a dissenting vote. "No man living has a lock on any golf tournament today," Furgol said, noting that there have been 16 different winners in the last 16 outings.

"Nicklaus and Palmer have to control their motions as much as the most lightly regarded entrant in the field," Furgol added. "It's the good putter who will win, no matter what they say."

Jimmy Demaret, a three-time Masters champion, agreed with Furgol. "They keep talking about Nicklaus and Palmer dominating the field, but they have only won one tournament between them this year. How can you call that dominating?"

This year's field of 96 includes 56 U.S. pros, 14 U.S. amateurs and 26 foreigners. After 18 hole rounds today and Friday, the field will be sliced to the low 40 scorers and ties plus any others within 10 strokes of the leader for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Harvesters Sweep Buck Netmen

Pampa and White Deer had a practice boys A team tennis match at the Harvesters courts yesterday as the two teams warmed up for district play.

A competition, three-of-five sets doubles was swept by Pampa, as was A singles.

Sophomore Rick Maxie took Richard Ulrich in singles, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3. The new doubles team of Gene Eads and Tim Adsit pulled out three tough sets over Dan Simmons and Cal Johnson, 10-8, 6-4, 6-2.

White Deer goes into district 1-AA play at Spearman Friday, the Harvesters into loop competition next weekend. Pampa hosts WD's biggest threat in district play, Spearman, at 3:45 this afternoon. Pampa topped Spearman, 3-2, in a match Tuesday.

split their squad in two Wednesday and wound up losing both games. One team lost to Pittsburgh, 11-1, while the other lost to Philadelphia, 11-4.

Home runs by rookies Alex Johnson and Richie Allen accounted for five of the Phillies' runs. Dick Schofield, Roberto Clemente and Willie Stargell hit home runs for the Pirates in the other contest.

Mets Hang On The New York Mets built up an early 9-0 lead and then in typical fashion had to struggle for an 11-9 victory over the Kansas City A's. The Mets had 15 hits, with Ron Hunt and Ed Kranepool collecting three each.

Houston Hurler Jim Umbricht Dead of 'Black Mole' Cancer

HOUSTON (UPI) — The last rites for Jim Umbricht will be held Friday in Houston, a city where the relief pitcher believed he got his biggest break in baseball.

Umbricht died Wednesday at the age of 33 of a rare and deadly "black mole" cancer that took his life, but could not keep him off the mound in his last months.

Umbricht pitched his final major league game last Sept. 29, little more than six months before he was to die.

He knew he had not been cured then as had been generally believed. He was not feeling well, and movement was effort.

It was a far cry from when the 6-foot-4 former University of Georgia sports star first came to Houston from Pittsburgh via the expansion draft in 1962.

After being a journeyman pitcher for the Milwaukee Braves and the Pittsburgh Pirates for several years and enduring the several shuffles between farm clubs, Umbricht came to Houston.

Tutored By Richards He also came under the tutelage of General Manager Paul Richards.

Richards is known to have a way with supposed mediocre and over-the-hill fingers. He helped Umbricht to a 4-0 win and lost record and a 2.01 earned run average after the reliever joined the club in mid-season after being farmed out.

Umbricht said then that being purchased by Houston was the greatest thing to happen to him in baseball. Big things were planned for him in 1963, but during spring training he noticed a lump in his leg. It hurt. He was sent to Houston's M.D. Anderson Hospital and his ailment was diagnosed as an advanced type of melanoma, or cancerous mole.

A six-hour operation was performed in an effort to remove the cancerous tissue from his body. Afterwards, all that could be done was wait and watch to see if it had spread elsewhere in the body.

This was mid-March and at the time Umbricht vowed he would be in uniform on opening day.

Kept His Vow He kept his vow. He recovered quickly from the operation and a high concentration of cancer drugs allowed him to recuperate speedily—if only temporarily.

YANKS FARM THREE FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Relief pitcher Tom Metcalf, outfielder Elvio Jimenez and catcher Bill Madden were sent to the minor leagues today by the New York Yankees. The cuts reduced the Yankee roster to 25 men.

BENEFIT GAME SET ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The St. Louis Cardinals and the Baltimore Colts will meet in a pre-season game here Aug. 21 in the 10th annual Cardinal Glennon Memorial Hospital Fund game.

Dalhart, Stinnett, WD District Contenders

WHITE DEER — It's definitely going to be a three-team battle, with Dalhart the favorite, predicted WD track coach Olie Huffman of the district AA track meet at Perryton Saturday.

"On the basis of performances this year, there seems to be little doubt that Dalhart, Stinnett and White Deer are much stronger than Boys Ranch, Spearman and Shamrock," opened Huffman. "Dalhart, on the basis of their tremendous depth, should be the favorite, but frankly, we're going to fool a bunch of folks. We're better than a lot of people think we are. Our youngsters have been steadily improving, and if they can live up to expectations, can take a lot of points."

AAU Boxing Bouts Begin

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Stylish Gerry Lott of New Orleans, defending the 119-pound champion, won his first round fight Wednesday night in the National Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) boxing championship by outpointing Joe Soares of Honolulu.

Martin Berzowski of Amarillo, Tex., representing the Pacific AAU, staged the night's major upset, outpointing Wade Smith of Muncie, Ind., in the 156-pound class. Berzowski is based at Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif.

Smith won the AAU title in 1962 and 1963 in the 147-pound class and was voted the outstanding boxer in the 1963 championships.

Two other Texans won their opening bouts. Mike Adame of El Paso stopped Mickey Bagwell of Spokane, Wash., with a first round technical knockout in the 119-pound class, and 147-pound Jesse Valdez of Houston stopped Roland Tryor of Pittsburgh, Pa., in the third round.

Joe Garza of Shreveport, La., outpointed Manny Perez of Amarillo, Tex., in another 147-pound bout. Ben Gerolaga, Stockton, Calif., stopped Doug Orebrough of Fort Worth in the third round of their 112-pound match and Carlos Santiago of Puerto Rico outpointed 119-pound Chuck Mince of Mareo, La.

Sixteen more bouts were scheduled tonight in Convention Center.

Wilt, Thurmond Give Frisco Win

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Wilt Chamberlain scored 36 points but San Francisco Coach Alex Hannum gave a large share of credit to rookie Nate Thurmond for boosting the Warriors to a 111-109 victory over St. Louis Wednesday night.

Thurmond scored 17 points a had 15 rebounds. "Thurmond was the difference," Hannum said. "How? In every way — in rebounding, offense, defense — we had to have it from him. Have you ever seen such a gutsy performance?"

Hawk Coach Harry Gallatin said, "It wasn't just one player who beat us but you've got to give Thurmond credit because he got so many balls off the offensive boards."

The Warriors' win evened the best-of-seven series and, more important, gave the home-court advantage back to San Francisco which hosts the Hawks in the fifth game Friday night. The sixth game will be in St. Louis Sunday.

In the Eastern Division playoffs, the Boston Celtics will make their second try at closing the series victoriously over the Cincinnati Royals to-night in Boston. The Celtics raced to a 3-0 lead in the series but failed to sweep the fourth game Wednesday thanks to Jerry Lucas' all-around play.

The Royals won 102-93 in the fourth game but center Bill Russell had a very cold night from the field, hitting only one of 12 shots. Lucas, meanwhile, matched Russell on the boards with 25 rebounds to Russell's 24. Oscar Robertson scored 33 points and Jack Twyman hit for 31 in Wednesday's game.

The Celtics will be aiming for their eighth straight Eastern Division title tonight.

The Hawks rallied from seven and nine point deficits late in the fourth quarter and both teams fouled the other intentionally in order to restrict their opponent to free shots.

The Warriors led 111-109 as the Hawks failed on three field goal attempts in the last nine seconds.

Major League Roundup

By SANDY PADWE
UPI Sports Writer
The Chicago White Sox broke camp Wednesday and the happiest person aboard the northbound train was Minnie Mino, who was heading "home" again.

The all-time White Sox favorite was signed Wednesday by General Manager Ed Short just two years after Chicago had traded him to St. Louis for Joe Cunningham.

But at age 40, Mino still had enough left to scratch his way back, even though a series of injuries at St. Louis and Washington threatened his colorful career.

"I'm back home again. I never expected it. It's like a dream," Mino said as a wide grin crossed his face. "Legs fine, I feel I can still do it."

Utility Duty Short said that Mino, a free agent this spring, would be used as a spare outfielder and a pinch-hitter.

"If he has one more year left, he's more likely to have it in Chicago," Short said.

Mino's signing was about the biggest news from Grapefruit and Cactus land Wednesday although the Cleveland Indians might tend to disagree.

The Indians hit three home runs in Fresno, Calif., off Billy O'Dell to beat the San Francisco Giants, 14-4, for the first time in 10 games this spring.

Max Alvis and Leon Wagner hit two-run homers for Cleveland and Johnny Romano added a solo shot. Orlando Cepeda homered for San Francisco.

Cubs Nip Red Sox A single by Dick Bertell gave the Chicago Cubs a 7-6, 11th-inning victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Change Marks Today's Autos

Many Americans hold a soft spot in their heart for a particular car they used to own but are quick to say of their present vehicle, "It's the best I ever had."

Such statements should come as no surprise because of the constant design and engineering improvements being made in nearly every vehicle component.

One of the most obvious reasons for today's better cars is the wide variety of options offered in such things as body style, body style, engines, transmission, color, trim, accessories, interiors and convenience equipment. In effect, today's cars can be custom built to suit nearly every possible demand.

The striking improvements taking place within just a few years can be seen in comparing a 10-year-old car with its modern counterpart.

Length, width and wheelbase may have remained relatively the same or been increased but all will offer increased passenger and luggage space through better use of these dimensions. More noticeable is the drop in car height with a resultant rise in vehicle stability.

Also readily noticed is increased "streamlining" to lower air resistance and improve fuel economy.

Larger glass areas and slimmer, strong roof support pillars enable the driver to watch road and traffic conditions more easily and to see through cars directly ahead for possible emergency.

Headlamps offer better light distribution, reduced glare for oncoming vehicles and greater light penetration during inclement weather than earlier lamps.

Better placement and more effective turn and stop signal lights facilitate advance warning of changes in speed, position and direction.

Open the door of a new car and you are introduced to many advances that have taken place during the past decade to provide safeguards for drivers and passengers.

First to greet the eye might be the greatly strengthened door latches, added when it was found that in accidents passengers were less apt to suffer injuries if they could be contained inside the vehicle. Introduced in 1956, these improved latches have been refined several times since.

Steering wheels now help protect driver from accident injury with recessed hubs, some of which are padded. Others slide aside for easier entry, adjust up or down for driver convenience or feature a more rectangular shape for greater comfort.

Instrument panels, many of which are padded, have taken on new shapes for injury reduction. Instruments and controls are more closely grouped on the panels for easier utilization by the driver and to provide increased protection. Larger top surfaces feature textured paints or covering to reduce glare.

Front seat belts now are installed on all new cars with a number of retractable devices offered to facilitate their use.

New interior materials provide longer wear, better stain resistance and are much easier to maintain. Seats are lower and less bulky yet provide greater comfort and support.

Windshield wipers are larger and more effective even at highway speeds or in heavy storms. Defrosting operations are faster and more thorough while improved heaters and air control systems offer greater year-round comfort.

Interior rear view mirrors are larger, cover a wider range of adjustment and can be obtained with a glare reduction feature for night-time driving.

Despite the foregoing host of appearance, safety, comfort and convenience advances introduced in the past 10-year period, the greatest appreciation for the decade of change may center on improved performance.

In the properly maintained vehicle, these are apparent from the moment you turn the ignition key to enjoy the easier starting stemming from the change from a six to 12-volt electrical system.

Chances are you can forget about engaging the clutch as you slip into gear as most new cars have automatic transmissions — all of which show vast improvements over those of 10 years ago.

Step on the accelerator and feel the instant response that comes from improved power-weight ratio no matter which size car you're driving. With today's new highways and increased traffic, this is especially important for safer passing, crossing and merging maneuvers.

A red light ahead — touch the brakes and notice how much less effort is required to bring the vehicle to a safe, sure stop. Notice too that most of the effort now comes from the toe and ankle rather than from the leg and thigh muscles as in earlier vehicles. You also will find increased durability in brake linings and drums and less danger of brake fade.

300 or 350 miles usually considered a good one-day trip.

Think back to how tiring that might have been 10 years ago compared to today. Much of the difference is attributable to the easier operation of the car. But a share of the credit goes to the softer ride brought about by suspension system improvements as well as more comfortable seats and increased roominess. Noteworthy too is the reduction in dip and sway even on sharp turns and in sudden stops.

You would likely have to go back in the old car to notice how modern design has lowered the sound of the air rushing by at highway speeds. Better insulation and sealing also aid in reducing exterior noises while at the same time holding in required cool or warm air and holding out rain and dust.

So now you have made a trip in one of today's cars. You have traveled in greater comfort and safety, made fewer stops for gas, and been freer of maintenance requirements than ever before.

Before this car is removed from service, it can be expected to run better, travel farther, require less service per component, maintain its appearance and provide greater enjoyment than did any of its predecessors over a comparable period of time under similar conditions.

X15 FLIGHT SLATED
EDWARDS AFB, Calif. (UPI)—Air Force Capt. Joe Engle was scheduled to fly the X15 rocket ship today to an altitude of 80,000 feet — slightly more than 34 miles above the earth. The flight, which was to take Engle to a top speed of about 3,600 miles an hour, was designed to orient Eggle to future tests at higher altitudes.

COMING SOON 1964 PLYMOUTH BARRACUDA

The distinctive styling of the new Plymouth Barracuda provides utility as well as beauty. The fastback styling is accentuated by the largest rear window, 14.4 square feet, ever installed in a production automobile. The window is of tinted glass. With the rear seat-back folded forward, there is ample cargo space for luggage, picnic baskets, even water skis. Cargo may be easily loaded through the opened deck lid. In addition, the Plymouth Barracuda has a security panel which creates the concealed locked storage compartment. It can be released to fold flat from inside the trunk.

American Motors Broadens Its Line

DETROIT (SpI) — American Motors announces new and broadened 1964 Rambler Classic and Ambassador lines. Styling refinements, new hardtop models and new convenience options are prominent among the advances in both American Motors' top-selling Classic line and the Ambassador luxury line. With the company's lowest priced Rambler, the drastically changed 1964 American, the company has now introduced three distinct lines of 1964 compact cars that completely span the market for this popular car type. Thomas A. Coupe, vice president of automotive sales, said: "The compacts definitely emerged with full stature last model year and now offer the motorist the things he can get in other cars, plus lower relative price and the special advantages of trim design.

"The extension and broadening of compact appeal for 1964 confirms the rising popularity of these cars. We expect their sales volume to be boosted by the newest Ramblers as well as by the growing influence of the compact idea throughout the industry."

"The 1964 Ambassador 990-H hardtop is the most luxurious car ever offered by American Motors and will take a top position among the fine cars of America, with luxury second to (See RAMBLER, Page 24)

TOP—Oldsmobile's 88 series for 1964 is elegant and distinctively styled. New rear quarter profile further emphasizes the long sleek look of this most luxurious series. The 98 Holiday Sports sedan, shown above, is one of six 98 models for 1964. Powered by Oldsmobile's 394-cubic-inch Rocket engine, all 98 models feature power steering, power brakes and Hydra-Matic transmission as standard equipment.

BOTTOM—The new Jetstar 88 series for 1964 is a lower-priced companion to the high-performing Dynamic 88 and Super 88. The Holiday sedan, shown above, is one of four models in this new Oldsmobile series. A new lightweight, cast-iron Jetfire Rocket V-8 engine, delivering 245 h.p. and an optional 290 h.p. version, are teamed with an entirely new Jetaway automatic transmission, available at extra cost.

Oldsmobile Features New Jetfire Rocket Engine

LANSING, Mich. (SpI)—Oldsmobile's new Jetstar 88, along with the New F-85's, Dynamic and Super 88's, 98's and Starfires are on display at dealer showrooms across the nation.

The new Jetstar 88, lower-priced companion to Oldsmobile's other famous, high performing 88's, Oldsmobile General Manager J. F. Wolfram said, "is powered by the new Jetfire Rocket engine, an ultra-high compression, 330 cubic inch member of the Rocket engine family."

"In addition," he said, "our dealers are also showing Oldsmobile's new medium price class sports-car, the Jetstar I, powered by the big, powerful Starfire engine.

"All 1964 Oldsmobiles," Wolfram continued, "are designed to meet the most discriminating tastes of the buyer, with brilliant styling and exciting performance to appeal to the young of all ages."

The Jetstar 88 is produced in a 4-door sedan, hardtop sedan, coupe and convertible, on a full-size Oldsmobile body and a special 123-inch wheelbase chassis. The car is designed for the increasing number of "up and coming" younger families. It is a lighter car, fleet in appearance, and fleet in action with its new lightweight castiron Jetfire Rocket V-8 engine.

"The Jetfire Rocket is a completely new engine," he continued, "capping a long list of engineering firsts by Oldsmobile. It embodies an inverted 'A' cylinder block construction and integrated manifold and engine cover for a new standard of quietness of operation. It is outstandingly smooth, due to the rigidity of the crank case and crankshaft. A new combustion chamber promotes instantaneous ignition. The cylinder block casting is manufactured by a foundry process called "hot-box coring," the first time Oldsmobile's adaption of this process has been applied to a production automotive engine. The new engine develops 245 horsepower with a 10.25 to 1 compression ratio.

"The engine is teamed," he

Tummy Ache Only Harm In Crash

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ten-year old Kelsey Cameron came through the harrowing experience of a jetliner crash with only "a stomach ache."

The little girl said the crew of a Pan American Boeing 707 jet "did an awfully nice job" after it skidded off a runway at Kennedy Airport here Tuesday night and plowed into swampy water basin.

"It happened so fast that I had no time to be afraid," said the girl, who was returning from a vacation in Puerto Rico with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cameron of Old Wick, N. J.

But, she guessed that "from now on I'd rather walk or ride my bike."

none." Coupe stated, "Its smart, sports-type styling will appeal to all age groups, and its performance is comparable to the best."

The 990-H includes as standard equipment a 270-horsepower V-8 engine, front and simulated rear bucket seats with folding center arm rests, a floor console between the front seats, chrome ceiling bows, and many luxury appointments associated with the prestige car field.

The company's top-selling Classic line boasts a new luxury two-door hardtop in the popular 770 series, available as a Six or V-8. The new hardtops feature a "fastback" roof which flows at a rakish angle into the body. Hardtops are 1.2 inches lower than sedan models.

All Ambassadors include a full wrap-around instrument panel crash pad which continues back into the upper portions of the doors. Other Ambassador features include distinctive wood-grain inserts on the instrument panel and door panels, lower door scuff pads made of the same material as the floor carpeting, and custom seats.

A new optional feature on the Ambassador 990 is a bucket seat combination with a special between-seat cushion which permits a third person in the front. This combination also has a folding armrest for added comfort of the driver and passenger. A console replaces the center cushion if desired.

Classic interiors have been newly styled for greater luxury and both wide and slim bucket seats with floor consoles are offered.

Both the Classic and Ambassador feature new grilles which impart a more massive appearance. The grille design is of spaced bars on a horizontal plane. On Classics, the word "Rambler" is in block letters on the upper grille frame. Ambassador models carry the name in block letters in the center of the grille.

The front bumpers have been moved forward 1.2 inches to afford greater grille protection. This brings the overall length of sedans to 190 inches and the wagons to 190.5 inches. Wheelbase continues at 112 inches.

New hoods on both lines have a raised line on each side of the hood extending into the grille. Ambassador models have a distinctive crest mounted on the front of the hood.

The roof panel on the 1964 Rambler Classic and Ambassador sedans displays special styling treatment with a new indented section on the rear roof pillar. On Ambassador models this treatment is accentuated with a chrome panel plus three chrome accent lines in the indented area.

Pampa Realtor Gets Certificate

John Lee Bell, vice president of the Pampa Real Estate Board, has been appointed local representative of the National Institute of Real Estate Brokers, the Headquarters office in Chicago announced today. Bell was presented with his certificate of appointment and pin by Joe Fischer, board president, at last Monday's meeting of the local group in Coronado Inn. Bell is an active member of the Pampa Lions Club and has been in the real estate business in Pampa for the past four years. The Institute — comprised of 17,000 Realtors — is the largest affiliate of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and has as its main objective of education of its members to serve the public better.

One of Bell's duties will be to stimulate panel discussions on brokerage problems at real estate board meetings and at the state conventions.

Ralph, Jr. isn't driving a 2-foot power kiddie car. He's pretending he's behind the wheel of his dad's spanking new 1964 automobile and he's having the ride of his life.

Who had the best time Ralph or Ralph Jr. — When they picked out their new car at their franchised new car dealer? Hard to say. Both saw the widest selection of new models ever, saucy compacts, glamorous hardtops, wagons that would hold a power mower, a great dane, and a Little League Team. And the convertible they couldn't resist.

They saw a lot of other things. The dealers big building, all the costly equipment he's invested in for the proper servicing of modern cars, four men in the service department for every man in the showroom. You see, Ralph's dealer is a true exponent of the free enterprise system. He's going to be in the business for a long time.

To Ralph's dealer — and to thousands like him — making the sale is the beginning, not the end of the transaction. He takes the old car in on trade. Arranges insurance and financing. Reconditions each new car. Inspects each car he's sold at intervals, provides a huge inventory of spare parts (for every model) for every year, stands ready to provide dozens of different services.

No small job, all this, no wonder Ralph is feeling happy and satisfied about his new car. He knows his valuable new car is watched over by a dealer who is a respected member of his community — a man who is civic minded — who is the kind you would want to do business with.

Some day Ralph Jr. will have outgrown his kiddie car, his scooter, and his bicycle and will be ready for the big step up to his own car. The same dealer that sold cars to his father will be there — ready to help and provide complete dependable automobile service. Once again, Ralph Jr. will feel like he's on top of the world.

In The Loan Business Now

One of the lamentable facts about the controversy over Medicare legislation is that its proponents apparently feel no obligation to stick to facts. The matter of cost to the wage earners is a case in point.

The King-Anderson Bill to provide health care for the elderly, if passed as written, would hike payroll taxes to 7 1/2 per cent of the first $5,200 of earnings, half paid by employee and half by employer. The present social security tax is 7 1/4 per cent on the first $4,800.

Just about everyone supporting Medicare keeps telling the American people that the program would cost a worker only $1 a month. The fact is, however, that the average industrial worker, who earns more than $100 a week, and millions of white collar workers with earnings above $100 a week would pay more than twice as much as Medicare proponents suggest. Everyone earning $100 a week or more now pays $174 a year in social security taxes. If Medicare were passed as written,

A Record of Obstruction

The railway unions have adopted a new tactic in dealing with the work rules, or featherbedding, issue. They are charging that a "wall of adamancy" on the part of the railroads has made progress impossible. In the words of J. E. Wolfe, Chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference, "The public will recall, however, that it is these same unions which have refused every suggestion put forward by the President of the United States, the Secretary of Labor, the National Mediation Board, a special Presidential Railroad Commission, and a Presidential Emergency Board for the settlement of this long-standing dispute. At the same time, the public will recall that the railroads accepted every one of these recommendations."

"In addition, the railroads have made even further concessions in union negotiations, each time giving up a little more of what impartial boards have recommended." Now the railroads have suggested a set of procedures, which include a voluntary agreement to arbitrate all the issues now unsettled; a voluntary agreement to arbitrate the disputed money issues involved, continuing negotiations under the auspices of the Labor Department and the National Mediation Board, and other possibilities. It is literally true that the railroads have leaned over backward in their efforts to fairly and rationally solve this vexing question. The unions have been the adamant ones, every step of the way. This is a matter of record.

Is Truth So Difficult?

The Rural Electrification Administration lends government money at 2 per cent, which is just about half of what the government must pay to borrow the money. In addition to this handsome subsidy, the REA co-ops are free of federal taxes. The taxpayers as a whole must make-up these losses. And that isn't all. Some of the recent REA loans are for purposes which can only be termed unbelievable. Writing in the California Farmer, Jack Pickett listed a number of them. Examples: $25,000 to a co-op for gravel-crushing and washing machinery; $280,000 to another co-op for wiring, plumbing and electric equipment; $30,000 to still another co-op for snow-making equipment and outdoor lights — and, believe it or not, $110,000 to a co-op to build ski slopes and other recreational facilities!

As Mr. Pickett sees it, "This is the way a government bureau can warp the original intent and end up in a self-perpetuating position that competes with private enterprise." The job for which REA and its co-ops were created is finished — 98 per cent of all the farms in the country can now receive power. But no bureaucracy ever willingly goes out of business. So REA has moved into areas that its original backers never dreamed of. And it is going to keep right on moving so long as it can escape taxes and interest costs.

WASHINGTON:

Hope Seen For Quake Warnings

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — At the very time the Alaska earthquake struck, there was a confidential proposal in government hands for a co-ordinated government-university research attack aimed at producing some of the basic facts necessary to build an earthquake warning network.

It has not yet been approved. Recent break-throughs in instruments and methods have opened the door to a whole new world of earthquake research possibilities which scientists say could end the frustrations of the past 30 years.

Geophysicists interviewed here say we now have the tools to do the research needed to develop a crude earthquake-prediction system for major communities — probably within 10 years, certainly within 20. It would, of course, only predict quakes likely to cause important damage to people and property. The system would likely skip predictions of quakes occurring in the wilderness and in deserts unless they'd produce nasty effects at a distance.

Such warnings would not be correct every time any more than weather predictions are. Scientists would be happy if their first system was right one time out of three. The predictions would probably err on the side of caution, predict more quakes than would actually occur. They'd hope not to miss any important earthquakes near population centers.

One reason for this scientific optimism: There's been greater-than-expected success in predicting the eruption of volcanoes in a pilot project. Working in the Hawaiian Islands, scientists in this experimental project are able to foretell volcanic eruptions with an accuracy of 50 per cent. That is, half the eruptions they predict actually occur. The other potential eruptions are underground lava flows pushing upward which die away without surfacing.

The U.S. Geological Survey is continuing to improve its techniques.

One of the most promising leads for the prediction of earthquakes is by measuring the strain rocks are undergoing in the major fault line areas. This can be done in part with strain gauges, which measure the actual change in shape or length of rock formations. The other technique is to measure the speed at which sound waves move through the rocks. (The speed varies according to the strain which the rock is undergoing.)

If the earthquake specialists can determine how much strain different types of rock formation and fault lines endure before slipping, what strains cause what size slips and something about how long it takes for a particular overstrain to result in a slip, then they'll be on the way toward making crude predictions.

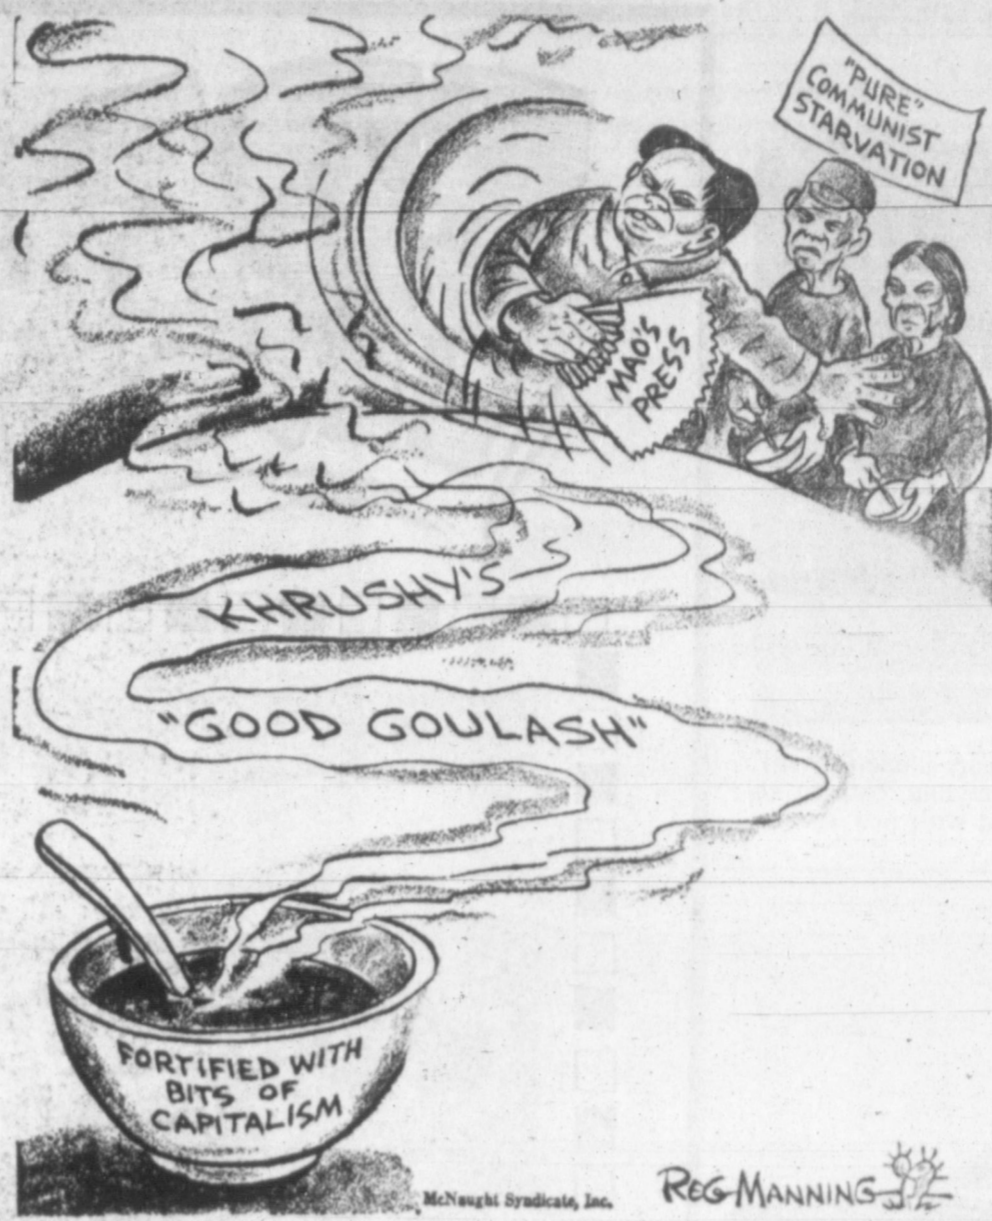

As a preliminary, this involves a major co-ordinated study of an important earthquake fault. One proposal favors the great San Andreas fault in California. By seismic, geodetic, magnetic, gravimetric and geologic measurements they'd attempt to determine the elastic properties of the rock formation in the area, the vertical extent of the fault line, how much strain has so far been accumulated over the region of the fault line and carefully map the lines of stress through the region.

All this earthquake work will have a major by-product. The more U.S. scientists find out about earthquakes, the better they will be able to detect and pinpoint Russian underground nuclear explosions. The big problem now is that it's impossible to distinguish between some earthquakes and some types of camouflaged underground nuclear explosions.

UN NOSY-NELLIES
By Rosalie M. Gordon
Editor, America's Future

Despite the predominance in the United Nations of the Afro-Asian bloc composed of many new "nations" which do not know the meaning of either freedom or government, there are still many Americans who regard the UN as a harmless debating society. They overlook the threat to American institutions and constitutional guarantees in proposals put forth by this "harmless" international outfit. For example, the UN has cooked up another one of its Declarations. These Declarations are adopted by the UN, then turned into what are called Conventions in which the Declaration is implemented and then, in the form of a treaty, UN propagandists go to work to get member nations to accept and abide by the Convention. One of the latest of these Declarations is called the United Nations Declaration on Eliminating Racial Discrimination — and of course if you are against it, you can be branded immediately as a "racist" by UN propagandists. But this UN Declaration is a serious threat to the liberties of all Americans, regardless of their color. It has 11 wordy articles, so we can point to only a few of its dangers:

Destructive to America
One of its provisions — inserted, incidentally, by Belorussia, a Soviet province with a vote in the UN — not merely would interfere in our internal affairs but would practically destroy the First Amendment to our Constitution guaranteeing freedom of speech.

Another provision could have the effect of wiping out our state and national election laws.

Another could interfere with state and local law enforcement.

Another could do away with our immigration laws.

These are only a few of the possible effects of this Declaration — all in the name of banning "racial discrimination."

It will not do to say that the Senate would never accept such a treaty. After all, it accepted the partial test-ban treaty in spite of misgivings of many senators who allowed propaganda and political pressures to overcome their convictions.

Door Opener

It will also not do to say that America would never brook interference in her internal affairs by the UN. Several months ago Atlanta, Ga., found itself submitting to a visit from a group of UN delegates — members of the UN's Subcommittee on the Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities. The UN group was in Atlanta at the invitation of a U.S. representative, a New York lawyer, with the purpose of observing an American city "beset with racial woes." Thus the group constituted a kind of foot-in-the-door for UN interference in our internal affairs.

In any case, later Fulton Lewis Jr., looked more closely at these UN nosy-nellies and discovered that one was the delegate from Communist Poland. Another was the delegate from India, where butchering of Moslems by Hindus is not uncommon. Still another was the delegate from Egypt where U.S. movies with Jewish actors cannot be shown. And of course there was the delegate from that great exponent of human rights, Soviet Russia. Quite a gang to be sticking its noses into the manner in which the American city handles its racial problems! But we can expect a great deal more of this from our involvement in the United Nations.

Bob, now in his freshman year at college, wrote home to Dad: "Dad, I've decided to cut school and get married. I'm engaged to a regular peach."

Dad replied: "Better take my advice, my son, and leave the peach on the parent stem until you are able to preserve it."

Remember when a mile-a-minute was considered fast? Our vigilante planes are now catapulted by steam off the decks of aircraft carriers at a speed of 160 mph. They cruise at 1100 mph. The Navy's Phantom hit 1600 mph with ease and land on a carrier's deck at 160 mph. It is generally agreed that the three concert halls in the world having the best acoustics are Symphony Hall, Boston, the Musikvereinsaal in Vienna, and the Concertgebouw in Amsterdam. All were built before 1900 of different materials and design than are used today. The late Mike Todd broke into the big time with 'The Hot Mikado,' a jazz version of Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, at the 1939 N. Y. World's Fair. Now Mike Jr. will attempt to emulate Daddy's feat with an up-to-date version of an old-time minstrel show at this year's extravaganza. However, Mike Junior's show will be integrated.

Thoughts while shaving: Prohibition proved that people want to drink liquor and Uncle Sam recently gave added proof by predicting that Americans will consume $50 million in hard liquor this year, and will spend $2.5 billion guzzling beer. You can win a bet any time by stating that the oldest sport known to man is archery. It was practiced in ancient Babylon and Egypt and is popular today, according to Abercrombie & Fitch. Complimentary tickets came to be known as "Annie Oakleys" because the crack shot of that name had a favorite trick of knocking out the five hearts of a playing card at 50 feet. Similarly a ticket taker used to punch holes in free passes. "In God We Trust" first appeared on some U.S. coins in 1864, but only since 1938 with the coinage of the Jefferson nickel have all the different denominations carried this motto. A California sociologist said recently that youngsters get three quarters of their education from TV, radio and conversation, and only 25 per cent from reading or studying books. The Laraine (Wyoming) BOOMERANG reported: "The United States is believed at least four years away." We have more fears than that about making that trip. Last year an Englishman paid $2800 for a bottle of 1830 Napoleon brandy, which

Between the Bookends

CONSERVATIVES DISAGREE ABOUT CONSERVATISM
In a new book — "What is Conservatism?" — twelve of the country's better known conservatives have contributed to a timely discussion of the conservative ethic.

Included are columnists William F. Buckley, Jr., Russell Kirk, M. Stanton Evans and John Chamberlain — together with writers such as Frank S. Meyer, F. A. Hayek and others. While the writers are united in opposition to the continued growth of government power — and in opposition to other noted trends toward statism — there is an obvious disagreement among them on many points. In fact, it is brought out in the book that conservatives can disagree on many questions.

Unintentionally, therefore, the authors have given us a greater understanding of what conservatism really is. For it is most assuredly NOT a political philosophy that can be defined. It is more accurately an attitude of resistance to change. The reader will note, for example, that there are many excellent arguments presented why there should be no further growth in governmental power. But there is very little argument on behalf of a reduction in governmental power — or on behalf of any desired course of action. Does this mean that the conservative believes that we are presently living in the best of all societies — and that there is no chance for improvement by either increasing or reducing the size of government?

Probably not. But the question helps us to better understand our subject. For conservatism is NOT a political philosophy; it is an attempt to conserve the foundations of the past and present, and resist in-temperate change. Unfortunately, the present political movement that favors a less government — interference has adopted the banner of "conservatism" when it is highly likely that most "conservatives" are not really conservative at all. We can well assume that many of them are "radically" opposed to such wasteful and unwarranted governmental programs as foreign aid, farm subsidies, and many other activities in which the Federal Government is engaged without constitutional authority. Obviously, the "conservative" is not trying to conserve these programs.

So "WHAT IS CONSERVATISM?" serves to point out that the so-called "conservative" political philosophy is not really a positive philosophy that has basic principles that can be defined. It is instead an attitude of respect for institutions, caution regarding change. And those who call themselves "conservatives" will not make progress in changing the nature of the society we live in until they dig deeper into their own beliefs to find that positive program around which people can rally with enthusiasm.

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON
CO-OP CHAOS

Cutting taxes without cutting government spending is a criminal conspiracy against our children and grandchildren. Spending doesn't produce lasting prosperity and neither does reducing taxes. Prosperity is produced primarily by more efficient production and distribution of goods and services at prices people are able and willing to pay.

Cutting taxes won't end inflation — unless it's accompanied by "lower prices, and the best way to get lower prices is to return to supply and demand in the labor market. Instead of make-work, racketeering, minimum wages, featherbedding more — and more pay (and fringe benefits) for less-and-less work. The unemployed don't pay income taxes. Cutting tax rates won't end the recession for the people who don't earn enough to pay income taxes. Cutting tax rates won't end the vicious system which lets many tax-favored groups ride piggy-back on the rest of us.

Co-Ops Exempt
For instance, under present law cooperatives can plow all their earnings back into expansion of the business, whereas corporate competitors must pay, in federal income taxes, $30 to $52 out of every $100 in earnings. Full taxation of all co-ops, savings and loan associations and other tax-favored businesses would provide about $1 billion in new revenue for the U. S. Treasury.

Co-ops are set up to serve their members at cost. No profits. Suppose no business made a profit. Who'd pay the taxes? Co-ops are not operated for "profit," they claim. Why do members join? To improve their economic position, of course. And that's profit — but it's not taxable as such.

Co-op leaders argue that corporations could change into co-operatives. Here's what that would mean: twenty billion dollars in taxes would be lost to the federal government. Since that is 1-3 of the total revenue, the rest of us would have to pay the difference. Taxes that are not paid by one group are actually passed on to another group. The $12-a-week newshy which delivers the paper to a multi-million dollar co-op may pay more federal income tax than the giant he serves.

Really Big Business
Many people have been brainwashed by the co-op leaders (many of whom are on a government payroll) into believing that the co-op is just a group of little people defending themselves against monopolistic Big Business. So far, Big Business has been able to take care of itself pretty well. With their tremendous unfair advantages, co-ops, which are themselves big business, are putting Little Business OUT of business.

Co-ops have many other advantages and shouldn't need a tax advantage. Co-ops are sponsored and subsidized in many ways by the government and private tax-free organizations. They don't have to spend large sums on sales managers, salesmen, travel, advertising. Their customers are ready-made. Their promotion is often done by government workers and tax-free private organizations. Most of their research is done in government laboratories. Their money is government — furnished in many instances, at interest rates not available to tax-paying competitors of comparable size. Their state and county taxes are apt to be more favorable than their competitors. In many states their "branch offices" are the county agents — their salesmen in the county agents. And their advertising department is the Extension Service.

GIBSON'S LUCKY CART CONTEST

The shopping carts will be numbered. There will be a corresponding number for each shopping cart on a piece of merchandise. All you have to do is match the number on the shopping cart with the number on the merchandise and the merchandise is yours free.

On Saturday from 2:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m., Thursday from 5:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. and all day Wednesday, there will be a lucky cart number drawn every hour on the hour. All the merchandise in the cart at that time is free. You have ten seconds to notify an employee that you have the cart so he may check the merchandise. If you fail to notify him in ten seconds the contest is void.
