Alaskans Heartened Over Dwindling Toll

Planes, Workers Start Rescue Act

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) — An armada of planes, corps of rescue workers and Uncle Sam's bankroll today went to the rescue of quake ravaged and economically shattered Alaska.

And weary citizens of the 49th state gained additional encouragement in a report that the list of fatalities resulting from the Good Friday earthquake was dwindling.

"The dead and presumed dead now total 105," said Donald Lowell, state director of civil defense. Unofficial figures earlier today were set at 153 and later dropped to 131.

Another 13 persons were killed and 18 were missing and presumed dead as the result of tidal waves which the quake spawned and sent crashing into the coasts of California and Oregon.

Lowell said he expected to have a complete list of the Alaska dead and presumed dead, with a city-by-city breakdown, later today. He said 80 per cent of the victims on his list were victims of the tidal waves.

The constant fluctuation in the figures since the quake struck was the result of ruptured communications.

Fear Others Dead
Officials feared scores, perhaps hundreds of Aleuts and Eskimos also might have died in more desolate regions of the 1,500-mile disaster zone. They said the toll toll may never be known.

Two other late developments caused concern in the jittery area.

The University of California at Berkeley reported that a "moderately strong" earthquake occurred early today off the western coast of Canada in an area between Vancouver Island and Queen Charlotte Island.

Oil Adds To Danger
The Coast Guard also announced that a potentially dangerous film of diesel and jet fuel fed by ruptured tanks at Seaward had spread over parts of Cook Inlet. The situation was being watched carefully and all open flame was banned in the area.

Meanwhile, a stream of 15 giant C154 Globemasters flew from an Air Force base in Washington, to Elmendorf Field with 235,000 pounds of vitally needed supplies for the ravaged state.

The supplies ranged from disposable diapers to candles, vaccines to portable generators.

Gov. William A. Egan, his voice showing the strain of four days of unceasing strain and work, warned Alaskans they must "take a good, hard look at the future."

Seeks Immediate Aid
In a broadcast beamed over all Alaska's still operating stations, Egan said federal aid was "clearly the only immediate source of funds."

"We hope and pray that special legislation will be passed by the U.S. Congress," he said.

"Private shipping interests on the West Coast have offered to help in any way possible," he said.

"The outpouring of sentiment is unprecedented, I believe, in our nation."

He said the most immediate need was to restore smashed sewer, power and water facilities and transportation. He said

Integrationists Fail at Bar, Try Church in Florida

New England Biracial Group Plans to Attend Communion

By United Press International
A biracial group of visiting New England integrationists failed Monday to integrate a bar at historic St. Augustine, Fla. The group said they would try to integrate a church today.

The Trinity Episcopal Church was the announced target today for the New England integrationists at St. Augustine.

Mrs. Malcolm Peabody, 72-year-old mother of Massachusetts Gov. Endicott Peabody, said she and a biracial group planned to attend communion services at the Trinity Episcopal Church this morning.

Mrs. Peabody said a Negro member of her group, Mrs. John Burgess of Newton Center, Mass., would be among the group.

Mrs. Burgess is the wife of Massachusetts suffragan bishop of the Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Burgess was arrested during a sit-in demonstration Monday in the bar room of the Ponce de Leon Motor Lodge along with four whites from New England. Bond was set at $750 each. She is expected to be released in time to attend the services.

Mrs. Peabody and two others were not arrested. They walked out after Sheriff L. O. Davis read an anti-trespass law to them. Mrs. Peabody demanded that the law be read and the sheriff obliged from a dogeared copy.

Mrs. Peabody's group also tried to integrate several restaurants and lunch counters and got halfway through one meal before Mrs. Peabody told a waitress that Mrs. Burgess, who has a light skin, is a Negro. The manager asked them to leave and said he would pay the bill himself.

In other racial activity in St. Augustine police reported a gang of Negro youths threw rocks at cars in a Negro section of the city Monday night.

Elsewhere in the nation:
Jackson, Miss.: Another biracial group that includes seven white religion professors was expected to begin appeals of six-months jail sentences and fines of $500 today on charges of disturbing public worship at the Capitol Street Methodist Church on Sunday. Nine were convicted for the Easter Sunday "kneel-in" attempt in Jackson's city court Monday.

Birmingham: Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has called for the passage of the federal civil rights bill as "the greatest tribute that can be paid the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy." King said the bill "won't make a man love me, but it will prevent him from lynching me." King also called for the continuation of small-scale picketing and a selective buying campaign in Birmingham as levers against segregation.

Macon, Ga.: Former Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett told a rally of (white) citizens council Monday night that the proposed federal civil rights bill would destroy local self-government and "impairs the property rights as well as the civil rights of all Americans. Barnett's appearance was picketed by eight Negroes who carried signs reading "Run, Ross, Run" and "Go Home, Ross."

Long Lines Form At License Desks

Deadline for purchasing 1964 automobile and truck tags drew near today with some 11,000 passenger tags sold and an unknown number of truck licenses on record.

Tax Collector Jack Back's office said today that long lines of people were waiting to purchase the tags before the April 1 deadline.

Offices were being kept open during the noon hour to assist those persons who are employed and cannot make a trip to the court house between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Last year's registration slip and the title on the automobile is needed before a tag may be purchased, Back said.

City Studies Gift Of Tank for Water

City commissioners today took under consideration the practicability of accepting gift of an 80,000-gallon oil tank for future ground-water storage purposes.

The offer has been made to the city by the Phillips Petroleum Co.

City Manager Harold Schmitzer told the commission it would cost an estimated $30,000 to tear down, set up and integrate the tank into the city's water storage system.

Mavor H. R. Thompson said the offer sounded like it would be a bargain and asked commissioners to give the matter further study as to how the proposal would fit into the city's needs.

The commission accepted low bids of International Harvester Co. for the purchase of a 2-ton cab and chassis truck for $2,378.21 and a flat bed pickup truck for $1,888.

Approval was given for re-investment of $100,000 in U.S. Treasury notes. An ordinance calling for annexation of Block 7 in the Overton Heights Addition No. 2 was given second reading. Third and final reading of the legislation is scheduled next Tuesday.

A letter from City Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones was read in which he requested that the commission appoint three members of a tax equalization board to serve in 1964. Present members of the board are James Dailey, George W. Scott and R. M. Samples. Commissioners said the appointments would be made next week.

In other business the commission approved payment of $950.73 to Continental Oil Co., authorized purchase of two Dempster Dumpsters, and approved rental of a city-owned warehouse on S. Hobart St. to Gulf Coast Wire & Rope, Inc., of Pasadena, Texas, for $125 a month.

City Hits Two Years Without Auto Death

Police department traffic records show March as an unlucky month.

Two years ago today a Pampa woman was killed in a traffic accident that shattered a two-year safety record which began in March of 1960.

Police Chief Jim Conner has been sweating out the days since March 31, 1962, hoping that the department would get past March and the rest of the year without a traffic death.

At 11:40 a.m. today, he breathed easier.

The time marked two full years without a death on the city streets and only one in the past four years — quite a record for a police department without a traffic bureau as such.

Conner was grinning from ear to ear today as he watched the clock tick the seconds away.

But the chief was quick to point out that midnight would be the actual two-year period of time.

"I hope we can just make it until then," he declared.

Police Chief Conner also announced that the total of accidents for the month of March had dropped almost in half from in the high 80s to the low 40s with few serious injuries. The high figure came last month due to the snows.

The anniversary of the traffic death brought a letter from City Manager Harold Schmitzer congratulating the entire department for "doing one of the finest jobs in traffic work" in

Chinese Send Strongest Note on Russian Split

KYO (UPI) — Communist today published one of its strongest attacks it has on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, timed to coincide with his visit to Budapest for biological talks.

Called on world Communist to reject not only Khrushchev's leadership but the whole Soviet policy of peaceful co-existence — the view communism will defeat the through economic competition without the need of war.

It stressed the Peking line that "violent revolution is the only road" to communism.

"Now it is the time — now it is high time — to repudiate and liquidate Khrushchev's revisionism," a 30,000-word article in the official Peking People's Daily said. Revisionism is the Communist term for treating from the principles of communism.

The article, transmitted abroad by the New China News Agency, was the eighth in a series of attacks on Moscow policy by Peking. New China first transmitted excerpts of the attack Monday.

It made it clear that the Chinese seek the leadership of the Communist world.

In London, it was reported that the Soviets recently tried to buy off Peking by offering to renew economic aid if the Chinese would agree to a truce. There was no announcement of this either in Peking or Moscow, but indications in London were that the Chinese rejected the offer.

In Washington, U.S. authorities doubted that the new Chinese attack would lure Khrushchev into a formal break with Peking. They discounted speculation that Khrushchev would hold a Communist summit to expel Peking from the Moscow-led camp.

U.S. AUTHORITIES DISCOUNT RED RIPT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American authorities today discounted speculation that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev might hold a summit meeting of Communist leaders to read the troublesome Chinese Reds out of the lodge.

Despite the bitterness of Peking's latest attack on Khrushchev, most Soviet affairs experts here thought it unlikely the Russian leader would be lured into a formal break which might damage his position rather than improve it.

Khrushchev's current visit to Hungary, as well as the gathering of Communist leaders in Moscow April 12 to celebrate his 70th birthday, will be watched closely for some clues as to his intentions.

The expectation is that Khrushchev will use both occasions to try to solidify support for his "peaceful coexistence" policy, which the militant Chinese Reds claim is nothing but "capitulation" to the capitalistic West.

School Man Defends Stand on Meetings

Gikas, candidate for re-election to the Pampa Independent School District's board of trustees, today defended his stand on closed door meetings and radio interviews.

He declared he felt the school board "has no business handling personnel problems in should be left to the administration of the system to with" and "executive sessions" outgrow their original purpose in most instances.

Gikas made his remarks on a program over Station KN during part of a series of interviews with prospective members. Gikas is the member seeking re-election to the board.

There are three kinds of meetings that the board has set in its policy statement — the regular meeting on the second Thursday of every month, specially called meetings by the president of the board when advised from the superintendent is desired or called by two members of the board, and the executive sessions, for the purpose of discussing personnel problems when in the best interest of the system," Gikas said.

"I placed a motion before the board to open all meetings to members of news media and it died for lack of a second. I felt too much falls into these meetings, other than what they are intended for and the taxpayers should be aware of what goes on, other than only the end result."

Gikas said that in May of 1963, during an executive session, the board took up the setting of a tax rate which would show an increased tax rate to $1.65.

"This is overstepping the bounds of an executive meeting because a tax rate increase most certainly is something taxpayers should know about, rather than learn about when it is done. I have spoken out against this procedure before," he declared.

Vote Early School Race

A total of 49 absentee ballots been cast at 11 a.m. today in the Saturday election for two Pampa School Board members.

The final absentee ballots to be cast by 4:30 p.m. at the school business office or by mail in the mails. Only two votes have been received by 11 a.m. according to Homer Craig, business manager of the school.

Qualified voters in the Saturday election include anyone living in the school district, which covers 450 square miles or one-third of the county, that has a poll tax receipt or exemption. Property ownership and living students in school are requirements for voting.

Industrial Drive Workers Plan to Finish in 2 Weeks

The Pampa Industrial Foundation, Inc., campaign to raise $200,000 to attract new industry to the city got back to work today after taking the Easter weekend off.

And Fred Neslage, general chairman of the campaign, was all smiles following the first report by General and Advance Drive chairmen at a 10 a.m. coffee meeting held at Coronado Inn.

The report showed an additional $11,725 had been raised, bringing the total investments to $135,256 through this morning.

The Advance Campaign showed $9,650 while the General Investments group reported $2,075.

Neslage said the drive would attempt to wind up with a victory dinner within two weeks. He said while the campaign was moving with good results, workers must redouble their efforts to work all cards in their hands.

The chairman said a number of cards were still unreported and asked team captains to see that these cards are worked, either by workers or executive committeemen.

The campaign, which has been under way about three weeks, will hold another coffee meeting at 10 a.m. Friday in the Starlight Room West at the hotel. Neslage said, and all members of teams are urged to be present.

NOT THE LEAST SUPERSTITIOUS — Police Chief Jim Conner displays utter calm as he tells his "bunny rabbit" friend that he's not the least bit superstitious when it comes to having traffic deaths on city streets in March. Pampa police have completed a two-year deathless period which began March 31 of 1962 when a Pampa woman was killed in a collision that broke another two-year deathless day period which started with a traffic death in March of 1960. The "rabbit" claims he brought good luck to the department. Conner is too happy to say otherwise.

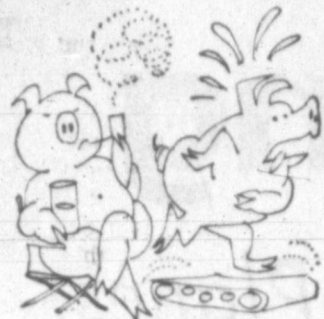

SCIENCE SKETCHES

FAMILY LIFE, says the Population Reference Bureau, is more popular than ever. Nine out of 10 Americans—177 million out of 190 million—live in the country's 47 million families. (The Bureau of the Census defines a family as two or more people living together related by blood, marriage or adoption.) Average family size in 1960 was 3.7 persons, up from 3.5 in 1950 and reversing a downward trend of more than 150 years' duration.

PHOSGENE, a colorless gas that smells like new-mown hay, plays an important role in the manufacture of polyurethane foams which have rapidly growing insulating and cushioning applications, reports Chemetron Chemicals, Chicago, a major phosgene producer. The name comes from the Greek words for "light" and "to produce" since it was first made in 1812 by the action of light on a mixture of carbon monoxide and chlorine.

HARDENING of the arteries is being studied in hogs by the University of Illinois because a swine's circulatory system is similar to man's. Half a group of hogs get regular workouts on a treadmill; the others do not. Theory being tested: exercise increases the size of certain blood vessels reducing the danger of arterial disease.

Windows First As Air Tower Felled by Quake

EDITOR'S NOTE: Chuck Kozler, 33, a former Miami Beach resident and now a pilot with an Alaskan airline, witnessed the collapse of the control tower at Anchorage during the Good Friday earthquake. Here is his story.

By CHUCK KOZLER As Told To UPI

ANCHORAGE (UPI)—First, the tower began whipping. Then the windows popped out. When it fell, it was like slow motion. It was as if someone was cutting slices off the bottom.

It just sort of fell straight down into the terminal. It was weird.

When the quake stopped, I could hear someone yelling for help. Myself and a couple of other fellows ran over and climbed up into what was left of the tower and pulled a guy out.

We sent him to the hospital. He was a bloody mess. He got cut by all that glass. I guess I saw a dead guy too. He was wearing argyle socks. I can tell you that. His feet were sticking out.

The rest of him was under a concrete slab about a foot thick.

BOOZE BALL

HALLATON, England (UPI)—The traditional bottle-kicking scramble at Hallaton, played against villagers from Medbourne, lasted two hours and was one of the roughest in recent years.

The rugby game played through hedges and over ditches, consists of using a cask containing nine pints of beer as the ball.

Quotes From The News

By United Press International ANCHORAGE, Alaska—Sen. E. L. Bartlett, D-Alaska, emphasizing the need for federal assistance to rebuild his earthquake-battered state:

"No state—be it New York or Alaska—could meet the need by itself. Alaskans are extremely reluctant to be placed in the position of asking to be bailed out. But there is no other way."

WASHINGTON—Attorney A.C. Lattimer, representing the Atlanta, Ga., Board of Education before the U.S. Supreme Court, commenting on the effectiveness of Atlanta's 12-year stair-step plan for school desegregation:

"The progress under the Atlanta plan has...been quite remarkable and it is proceeding at an accelerating pace."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., proposes that the Senate Rules Committee ask each member of the Senate these questions:

"Did you ever have any business or financial dealings with Bobby Baker, directly or indirectly? If so, what were they?"

WASHINGTON—Anti-Communist Cubans, describing Fidel Castro's three-man tribunals in trucks conducting spot trials and passing sentences:

"Death on wheels."

DALLAS—Percy Foreman, after his resignation as defense attorney for Jack Ruby:

"The family thinks they are doing you a favor to let you work on this case—everybody but Jack."

STEELMAKERS ARE NEIGHBORS—More than 73 million Americans are neighbors of the iron and steel industry, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute. The population in the actual steelmaking counties indicated on this map equals about 44 per cent of the total U.S. population in 1962. This does not include "neighbors" in adjacent counties nor millions of other Americans who live near mines, quarries or other steel company-owned facilities.

General's Condition Still Critical Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's condition remained critical today but a

Rescue

(Continued From Page 1) he hoped the government-operated Alaska railroad, its tracks looking like tangled kite string, could be opened to the vital ice-free port of Whittier in two weeks.

Step Up Drive
The Red Cross marshalled 25 volunteers as medical helpers in a stepped-up drive to administer anti-typhoid vaccine and forestall the ever-present danger of epidemic from fouled water.

At Johnson City, Tex., President Lyndon Johnson received word of the minimum $500 million needs of the stricken 49th state.

"Everything necessary must be done," Johnson declared. Alaska's senators appealed for aid. Immediately, the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Anchorage ordered a moratorium on collections of FHA and VA home loans. The Internal Revenue Service made hasty arrangements to permit stricken residents to get income tax writeoffs this year on losses.

Insurance firms said there was little earthquake and tidal wave insurance in the state.

Fishing Industry Suffers
The fishing industry, mainstay of the Alaskan economy, took a "hell of a beating," officials said. Ninety-foot boats hurled hundreds of yards inland and the almost numberless docks and wharves ripped to pieces attested to that. The big salmon and crab canneries at Kodiak were shut down.

Johnson ordered federal officials to "proceed as rapidly as possible to prepare relief programs for Alaska."

Jobs of thousands were wiped out in the quake.

There were 4,500 to 5,000 jobs lost in Anchorage alone.

The Red Cross said as many as 1,000 families required assistance. The homeless in Anchorage alone numbered 2,000.

kidney malfunction which created grave concern Monday night was reported somewhat less serious today.

Doctors at Walter Reed Hospital said today MacArthur's kidney function had "improved slightly" but that internal bleeding continued from his esophagus. They said the bleeding was being "controlled," however, by pressure from a sengstaken tube.

The doctors today described MacArthur's "heart function and vital signs" as remaining quite stable.

Kidney failure and the internal bleeding developed as major complications for the 84-year-old war hero after an Easter Sunday abdominal operation — his third major operation in 24 days.

The attending doctors said earlier that the five-star general's heart action was good and that stabilizing blood pressure and pulse were favorable signs. But there was no change in his basic condition, diagnosed as critical.

Paul Fannin, apparently upset by the demonstration, left the Capitol shortly before noon under a heavy guard of highway patrolmen.

SLEEPS IN WINDOW
DIJON, France (UPI)—Alessandro Di Meo, a tourist from Milan, Italy, was awakened by police Monday night as he slumbered in an easy chair in the window of a furniture shop here. He told them he was unable to find a room here, so he decided to break the shop's window and sleep in the chair.

Fact

Harris tweed is a distinctive cloth originally hand-spun, warped, woven and finished by the inhabitants of the island of Lewis and Harris and other islands of the Outer Hebrides off the Scottish coast, from the wool of native sheep. Because of the steady increase in demand for Harris tweed, most of it is made from yarn which has been machine-spun. Cloths spun and woven on the island have a distinctively peaty odour.

The death in March of 1962 came almost two years after a fatal collision in 1960. With March in its final stages, officers were working double time to watch traffic hazards and take preventative measures in traffic control, Conner said.

But Conner isn't taking the two-year mark lightly. He began working on a program today that will increase safety precautions and make officers more traffic concerned in an effort to reach the three-year mark without a death.

BIG DRUM STOLEN

EASTBOURNE, Eng. (UPI)—Twenty-minutes before the Irish Guards band concert on the Eastbourne Promenade Monday, someone cried with disbelief "somebody's pinched the big drum."

Eight hours later, a maid who was cleaning a room in Eastbourne's New Wilmington Hotel, found a bed tilted at an unusual angle. Under it was the guards' drum.

"We had a rugger sam staying here over Easter," said Mrs. Irena Bridges. "But how that drum was smuggled into the hotel, I don't know."

BEATLE CUT SUFFERS

ROTHESAY, England (UPI)—It was glad tidings for bald men Monday but bad news for men with long hair.

WHERE EARTHQUAKE CENTERED — Anchorage (1), Alaska's largest city, took the brunt of the force of the earthquake which spread wreckage in the 49th state. None of the coastal areas escaped grave consequences. The fishing village of Valdez (2) was hit by two large tidal waves which ripped the city and washed about 30 persons off one of the town's docks. Fire did extensive damage at Seward (3). Kodiak (4), main city on Kodiak Island, was disabled. Small communities on the island were demolished. Fairbanks (5) escaped the full force. There were reports of Soviet residents of communities on the Siberian coast (6) being evacuated.

Sonic Boom Jars Houston

HOUSTON (UPI) — Jittery Houstonians who had read about earthquakes and tidal waves throughout the weekend were awakened early today by a sharp jar that a seismologist called a sonic boom.

The shock came around 1:15 a.m. Shortly afterward, Rice University seismologist Dr. J. C. De Bremaecker recorded a continuation of the aftershocks of the great Alaskan earthquake of Friday night.

He said what Houstonians felt must have been a sonic boom, caused by a supersonic airplane breaking the sound barrier.

Air Force officials could not confirm whether a supersonic aircraft was in the Houston area at the time.

De Bremaecker said the microbarograph (which records air pressure or small disturbances) at Rice showed a "short burst" of the pattern of previous sonic booms.

The aftershock was another thing, he said. It was apparently the continuation of the earthquake series in Alaska. None has been severe enough, he said, to be felt in Houston, but the Rice instruments have recorded them. The big quake

NEEDY FAMILIES

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—As many as 1,000 Alaskan families whose homes were damaged in Friday's earthquake may require assistance from the American Red Cross, it was reported Monday.

The estimate came from Richard F. Gordon of San Francisco, western area director of disaster services. He was one of more than 35 Red Cross experts sent to Alaska to help local chapters in disaster relief.

Friday was not felt here, but it caused coastal tides to rise sharply early Saturday morning, inflicting damage on some boats and drydocks in the Texas Gulf Coast.

Religious War Takes 30 Lives In East India

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Indian officials said Sunday that two weeks of Hindu-Moslem religious warfare has cost nearly 300 lives in eastern India. Unofficial estimates put the toll much higher.

Since the wave of stabbings, bow and arrow shootings, burning, and plundering began March 16, wide areas of Orissa and Bihar states have been unsafe and Americans have been forced to flee the area.

(Swedish engineer Magnus Lettius, who spent 18 months in eastern India before leaving last week, said in Stockholm Sunday that "the losses in dead amounted to at least 1,000 if not 1,500.")

It was feared that the fighting might take a higher toll of death and destruction than the Hindu - Moslem massacres of 1961, in which 500 were known to have died.

100 Students Land in Jail In Beach Riot

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Police said today they arrested more than 100 college students whose annual frolics on the beaches got out of hand Sunday resulting in a melee broken up by club-swinging police.

Police Chief A.O. Folsom Jr. said those arrested were booked on charges ranging from disorderly conduct and unlawful assembly and attempting to start a riot.

But the chief denied that there actually was a riot.

"They just got out of line," Folsom said.

"They jumped on the police to start with but we were ready and controlled them. I don't know if anyone can say exactly how it started."

Folsom estimated the crowd of collegians at 75,000. They were packed along a beach running little more than two miles in an Easter vacation frolic that has become a tradition at Florida beaches.

McLean Mayor Sets Big Days for Author

McLEAN (Spl) — In honor of Mrs. Jim Back, author of a new book of West Texas recollections and the teacher of three generations of his children, the City Council of McLean, the City Council of McLean, as announced by Mayor John C. Haynes, is declaring April 13 "Vera Back Day."

In celebration of the day, the Library Board, with the cooperation of the pioneer Study Club, is inviting the public to an autographing party for Mrs. Back. Copies of her book, which has the interesting title of "Feathers," will be on display. By special permission from the publisher, The Naylor Company of San Antonio, these pre-publication first editions may be bought now prior to the date for national release.

The autographing party, scheduled for next Monday, April 13, afternoon and evening from 2 until 9, will be held at the Lovett Memorial Library branch, Second and Main Sts. Refreshments will be served.

Because Mrs. Back was a Featherston before her marriage and because her book is written about her family, she cut the last syllable from her maiden name, shortening it to "Feathers," as a title for the book.

Based on personal recollections, family stories, old letters and scrapbooks, "Feathers" might be classified as biography. However, when an itinerant preacher - farmer father (who was a good story-teller), an understanding mother and nine inventive offspring are the components of a single family, the story of its adventures and mis-adventures has all the gaiety and humor, the pathos and tragedy of brilliantly written fiction.

Mrs. Back was born in Aspermont, Texas, and lived in Stone-wall and Kent counties for many years. She is an honor graduate of Hardin - Simmons University in Abilene, and the sister of Solon R. Featherston, one of its trustees. This brother and another, C. H. Featherston are well-known businessmen in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Back teaches eighth grade English in McLean and has been awarded her 25th Anniversary service pin. Her students in creative writing have won many substantial prizes. She is a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and a charter member of the Pioneer Study Club.

Prisoner Eyes Lie Detector Test in Death

DENVER (UPI)—A Denver jail prisoner was scheduled to undergo another lie detector test Monday in connection with the year-old, unsolved, slaying of a Fort Worth coed socialite.

Two Arizona officers, Maricopa County sheriff's Sgts. Don Golding and Jack Nelson, have given Ervin F. Stewart, 36, of Denver one polygraph test but Golding said results were inconclusive.

The Arizona authorities, investigating the shooting of Jane Langdon, arrived here Friday night after Denver police determined Stewart was wanted in connection with the case.

Stewart had been picked up on a drunkenness charge. A routine check of his fingerprints led to notification of the Phoenix officers.

Miss Langdon was found raped and shot to death in a mine shaft about 10 miles north of Phoenix March 23, 1963.

The 21-year-old victim, a coed at Texas Christian University and the daughter of Texas Court of Appeals Judge Jack Langdon, had flown to Phoenix to visit her mother. She disappeared the same day she arrived.

Golding said Stewart was living in the Phoenix area at the time of the slaying and had been sought for questioning since that time.

According to statistics compiled by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, the 1962 catch of 44.7 metric tons is an increase of about 7 per cent over the record 41.8 million metric tons caught in 1961. One metric ton equals about 2,204 pounds.

OUT OF BUSINESS

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—Bars in this earthquake-ravaged city, which usually are open 22 hours a day, seven days a week, have been ordered closed by police.

But the barkeeps say it is pretty academic anyway. Most of the stock was smashed by the quake on Friday.

'Western' Man' Series Shows Successful End

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "The Saga of Western Man," a four-part ABC-TV series of rare individuality and artistry, came to an amazingly successful conclusion Sunday night with the dramatized documentary "1964."

The first three programs of the color series dealt with key years under the titles "1492," "1776," and "1898." And it frankly seemed as though the creators of the project had painted themselves into a corner by tackling "1964" as the finale, for it is hard to imagine a tougher task than doing an hour show about so general a subject as America today.

The fact is, such a project is impossible in an academic sense, and therefore a virtual minimum of facts must be harnessed to create an essence of mood. This "1964" did in superlative fashion, concentrating on such areas as contrasting wealth and poverty, leisure, education, automation and the problems of the elderly — this last a hauntingly effective sequence.

In its immensely literate script and its camera work, editing and music, "1964" made its comments on ethics and group philosophy in an adult, implicit and frankly general manner. Some viewers may have wished there had been a more specific look at the art forms of the nation today — for it is by its arts that a civilization is judged in great part by future generations. But an hour admittedly is, after all, just an hour; "1964" made its choice; and the program had not a weak or wasteful moment.

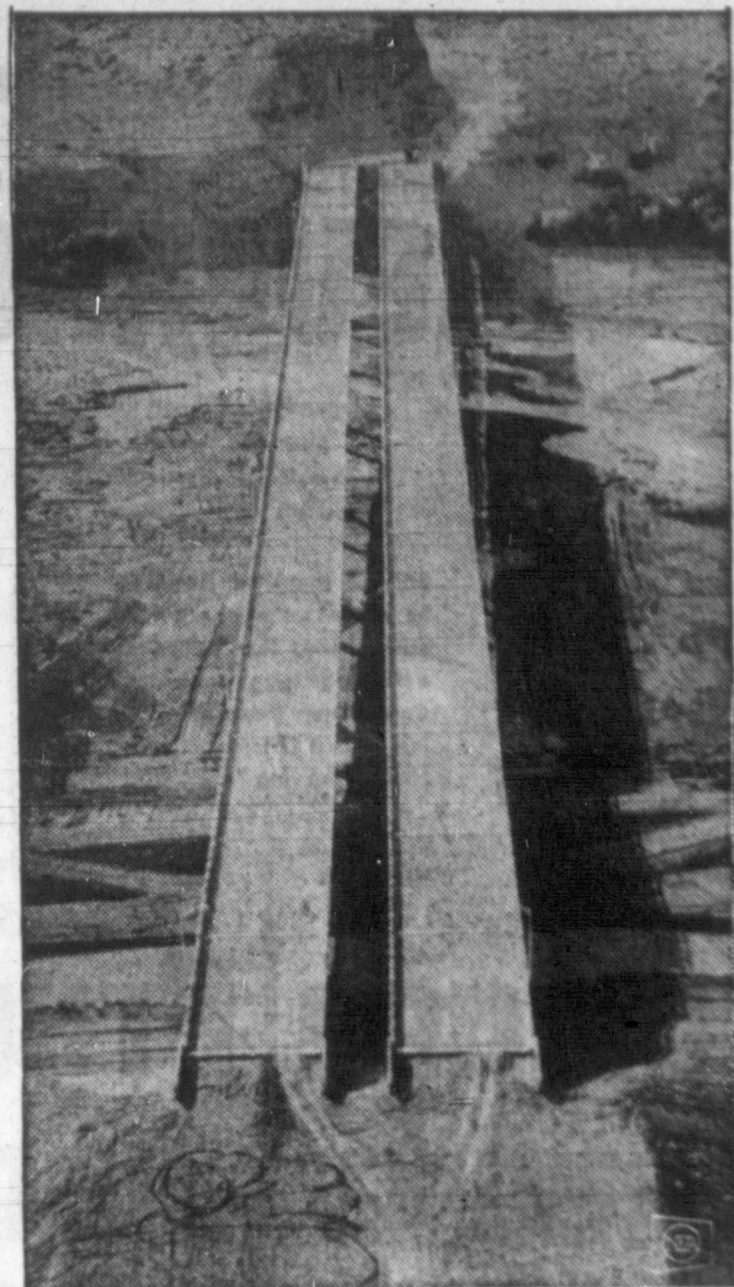

Not only ABC-TV, but all network television, has been brought honor by the "Saga of Western Man" series, for it furthered by huge steps the cause of humanizing the documentary form. The creators of the series John Secondari and his wife, Helen Jean Rogers, are master documentary-makers who go their own way, and whose future works viewers should seek out for satisfaction.

The use of "character" voices Sunday night was highly efficient. So were the shots of a faded coal town; of jobless workers getting food supplies; of school classes of varying quality; of youngsters in automated education. The faces throughout were editorials, and reflected the program's good heart. It was a beautiful hour at times, admirably indicating a production staff that was caught up in intense personal interest in the subject material. The program will be repeated by ABC-TV on April 12 at noon EST.

The Channel Swim: Donald O'Connor hosts NBC-TV's "Telephone Hour" April 21. . . Mahalia Jackson appears Saturday on ABC-TV's "Hollywood Palace" . . . Perry Como's NBC-TV special from Chicago May 21 features Louis Armstrong.

The light heavyweight championship fight between titleholder Willie Pastrano and Gregorio Peralta airs on ABC-TV April 10 from New Orleans. . . NBC-TV's "Today" program tours Brooklyn Tuesday.

Reds Seeking to Buy Off China With Aid

By K. C. THALER
GENEVA (UPI)—Russia is reported to have sought recently to "buy off" Red China with an offer of resumed aid in return for a truce in their conflict. The offer, said to have been made through diplomatic channels, has spotlighted the Kremlin's growing nervousness over the conflict with Peking. Moscow seems anxious to patch over the deepening rift.

The Kremlin's prestige and leadership is threatened by Red China's blunt attacks on Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Already they have resulted in anti-Moscow splinter groups developing in many Communist parties the world over.

The Soviet suggestion was that Russian experts, who were withdrawn in the wake of the split would go back to Red China to resume work on a variety of interrupted major development projects.

Nothing Said Publicly
The offer also apparently held out the prospects of Russian material aid which was cut off. Nothing has been said publicly yet about this Soviet move either by Moscow or by Peking. But the indications are that Red China has cold shouldered the offer.

The Chinese have accused the Soviets, and more specifically Premier Nikita Khrushchev, of having tried to blockade them economically at a time when they were faced with near famine conditions due to bad harvests and a collapse of their planned economy.

They now claim they are over the hump and that they have overcome the severe crisis of the past two or three years. They have had to shelve a number of their more ambitious projects but claim they are doing well without Russian help.

"Go It Alone"
Free from economic dependence of the U.S.S.R., Peking can thus afford to "go it alone" with greater self-assuredness in the ideological and political fields and to challenge with increasing aggressiveness Russian leadership of the Communist camp.

Much as Red China can do with economic assistance and technical advice she is apparently not prepared to sacrifice her freedom of action which she would lose if she accepted the Soviet "bribe."

Khrushchev himself has been quoted as saying he could settle the quarrel with Peking quickly if he were to offer Red China the atom bomb.

This might, in effect, be the price Peking has in mind. But Khrushchev is not likely to pay it.

MEDICAL ASSISTANCE
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government reported today that 156,800 Americans received help in January under the medical assistance for the aged program at a cost of about $31 million.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare said this was 6,600 more than the previous month and a 34 per cent increase from January, 1963. The federal-state program is designed to help low-income older persons meet health care costs.

Lady Bird Gets Honorary Degree

DENTON, Tex. (UPI)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson received an honorary doctor of laws degree today from Texas Women's University — only the fourth honorary degree granted in the school's 63-year history.

A special outdoor academic convocation has been called to present the degree to the President's wife for "magnificent achievements symbolic of the lofty goals for which the university strives in its education programs for women leaders of the future."

Mrs. Johnson, who received a bachelor of journalism degree from the University of Texas in the 1930s, is scheduled to get another honorary degree from her alma mater in May. Degrees will be presented to her and her husband before he delivers the commencement address at the University of Texas.

The ceremonies at TWU are scheduled for 11 a.m.

Previous women honored by the school with honorary doctorates, all Texans, were Mrs. H. J. Latcher Stark of Orange, the late Mrs. Jesse H. Jones of Houston, and Mrs. Edger Deen of Fort Worth.

Texas Lakes High After Earthquake

MARSHALL, Tex. (UPI)—Boaters and residents on two East Texas lakes report high waves and disturbances of the water the morning after the Alaska earthquake struck.

Three foot high waves were reported on Caddo Lake Saturday morning on the Texas-Louisiana border. Logs, leaves, and other debris jarred loose from the lake bottom floated to the surface.

BJ Highway Jammed Up

STONEWALL, Tex. (UPI)—Curious citizens by the thousands caused a traffic bottleneck along Ranch Road 1 Sunday as they drove by the LBJ ranch at a funeral procession hoping for a glimpse of their President.

Only a few got the glimpse. The President and his wife, together with Gov. John Connally and Mrs. Connally, made a brief appearance and waved at the cars late in the afternoon.

Four highway patrol cars cruised the road trying to speed cars along. Secret service agents watched from the gates.

The cars crowded the two small nearby towns of Johnson City and Stonewall, both of which have erected signs proclaiming themselves "The Home of LBJ."

Souvenirs sold at a brisk pace in Johnson City.

THEFT BY PHONE

FORT WORTH (UPI)—A "telephone bandit" without the nerve to collect his loot tried to hold up service station attendant Melton Broadwell over the weekend.

The bandit told Broadwell over the phone "this is a telephone holdup." He told him he had a 30-30 rifle trained on him from across the street, and to put all his money in an old tire at the rear of the station.

Broadwell stayed in a store room for 30 minutes before calling police, who found the money still in the tire.

Violence Worse Part Of Alaskan Disaster

EDITOR'S NOTE: Two years ago, Alice Shoemaker, 25, came to Alaska from New York. It was a pleasant life—until Friday. Here is her story. By ALICE SHOEMAKER As Told To UPI ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—I was alone. I guess that was the worst part. It didn't stop and it didn't stop, it just went on and rolled me around the floor like a ball.

I was in my 11th floor apartment, No. 1106 on L Street, when the quake struck.

I came home from work and was getting ready to go out to eat. I was running a bathtub of water and had set out my clothes.

First, there was a slight shake and I didn't think much about it, since they're fairly common here.

Then it got worse. The water slopped out of the bathtub and ran all over the living room floor. All the kitchen utensils, groceries in the cabinet, books and everything rolled back and forth across the floor with me as I fell down and rolled.

The worst thing about it was the violence, the complete loss of control over everything. The plaster began to crack and there was a noise of creaking and groaning. The stove was in the middle of the living room.

When the wall began to give, I thought that was it. I thought, "I'm 11 floors up and can't get out." I thought, "Oh God! Help me. Help me!"

Finally, when it quit, I opened the door and a woman was lying in the hall holding her baby and screaming. Finally she got up.

My only thought was to get down those 11 floors and get out of the building. All the lights were out. I ran to the stairwell. When I opened the door I could see by the dim light coming in through the window a heap of children and their mothers lying in the landing below.

They were sobbing and crying. I guess they tried to get out too soon and were pitched downstairs by the shock.

I made it out along with the rest of the people in the building. I came back to my place later. It was a mess, water all over.

I just threw some dry things that were hanging in a closet into a suitcase and left.

IN CONTEMPLATION OF DEATH

Uncle Joe, a widower, had more money than he would ever need. This enabled him to make generous gifts over a period of years to a number of friends and relatives.

When Uncle Joe died and his estate was probated, the heirs were shocked when the federal Treasury Department levied estate taxes on all the gifts made during the past three years. How could this be?

The tax law is clear: Any transfer of property within three years preceding the date of death—except on a bona fide sale for adequate and full consideration—is presumed to be in contemplation of death and taxable, unless shown by the donor's estate to the contrary. But any gift or transfer more than three years before death is not taxed as part of the estate.

This law has a valid public purpose. It is aimed at preventing people from avoiding estate taxes by giving away their property before they die. Of course, one seldom knows exactly when he will die, but an older person or one with an illness may reasonably know that his years are limited. Thus the law raises the presumption that ANY transfer within the three-year period is in contemplation of death.

Anyone can make gifts of his property at any time. Those gifts other than purely nominal ones must be reported for gift tax purposes. Sizeable tax exemptions are allowed for gifts, but the tax laws are so contrived as to prevent a wealthy person giving away all his property before death tax-free.

In Uncle Joe's case the gifts will be taxable unless the estate can rebut the presumption that they were made in contemplation of his death so as to avoid the estate tax or as a substitute for a will.

Is this your child's favorite sport?

Like many youngsters, your child probably spends long hours watching his favorite sports—and precious little time participating in them. If inactivity is the order of the day for your child, he may—like one-third of our school children—be unable to pass minimum physical fitness tests. Many schools are stepping up their programs of physical education. But in a surprisingly large number of them, there is still not enough emphasis on daily, vigorous activity. For the sake of your child's physical and mental progress, make sure that your school puts sufficient emphasis on physical education. To help you evaluate the program in your school, send for the free leaflet offered by the President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington 25, D. C.

Langdon Tops State Officials for Size

Jim C. Langdon is six feet, four and weighs 240 pounds . . . probably the tallest and biggest state official since Sam Houston.

Professionally, Jim Langdon is a big man with a big job to do, for he is one of the three members of the Railroad Commission. He was appointed to this job last spring by Gov. John Connally and now is seeking the approval of the voters to serve the remaining four years of the six-year term.

The request that he serve on the commission came while Judge Langdon was serving as Chief Justice of the El Paso Court of Civil Appeals.

Langdon served as an Appellate Court presiding Judge (1959-63), as a District Judge for Sutton, Crockett, Pecos, Kimble and Upton Counties (1954-1959), and as a practicing attorney (after World War II).

JIM C. LANGDON . . . seeks new term

He was an FBI Agent during a portion of World War II, resigning to enter the Navy. Langdon is 49 years old, a native Texan, a Methodist, married and has four sons and a daughter.

He has lived in six towns: Stephenville (where he was born), Glen Rose, Cleburne, McCamey, El Paso and now Austin.

He comes from a family that is large physically as well as numerically. He has three brothers and two sisters.

His youngest brother, John of Houston, is 6-6 and is a former basketball star at the University of Texas; Charles, a Fort Worth attorney, is the midjet, standing 6 even; Jack, 6-2, is a former TCU end and is now Associate Justice of the Fort Worth Court of Civil Appeals.

His sisters are Mrs. Charles H. Colins of Beaumont and Mrs. W. E. Spradley of Albuquerque.

Judge Langdon attended Tarleton State and is a University of Texas law graduate. He has been named to state offices by three different governors; District Judge by Shivers; Appellate Chief Justice by Daniel; Railroad Commissioner by Connally.

Unemployment Only 'Game' In Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (UPI)—The only game in town was in the unemployment office.

Croupiers and card dealers said they would be lining up today to swap their eyeshades for benefit checks, their once-flourishing — but illegal — casinos shuttered behind them by a threat from Gov. Orval Faubus.

Tourists and high rollers packed their bank rolls and "sure fire" systems and left in droves over the weekend, probably headed for the bright lights and legal action in Las Vegas.

Nearly a century of whirling roulette wheels and clicking chips came to an end early Sunday morning.

Unofficial sources estimated the gambling take here at $50 million a year, with a payroll of $1.5 million. Casino operator Dane Harris of the Vapors and Belvedere clubs said about 900 persons depended directly on the casinos for their living.

Many of the former casino workers said they knew no other trade. It is against federal law for them to cross state lines to seek gambling jobs elsewhere, such as in Nevada.

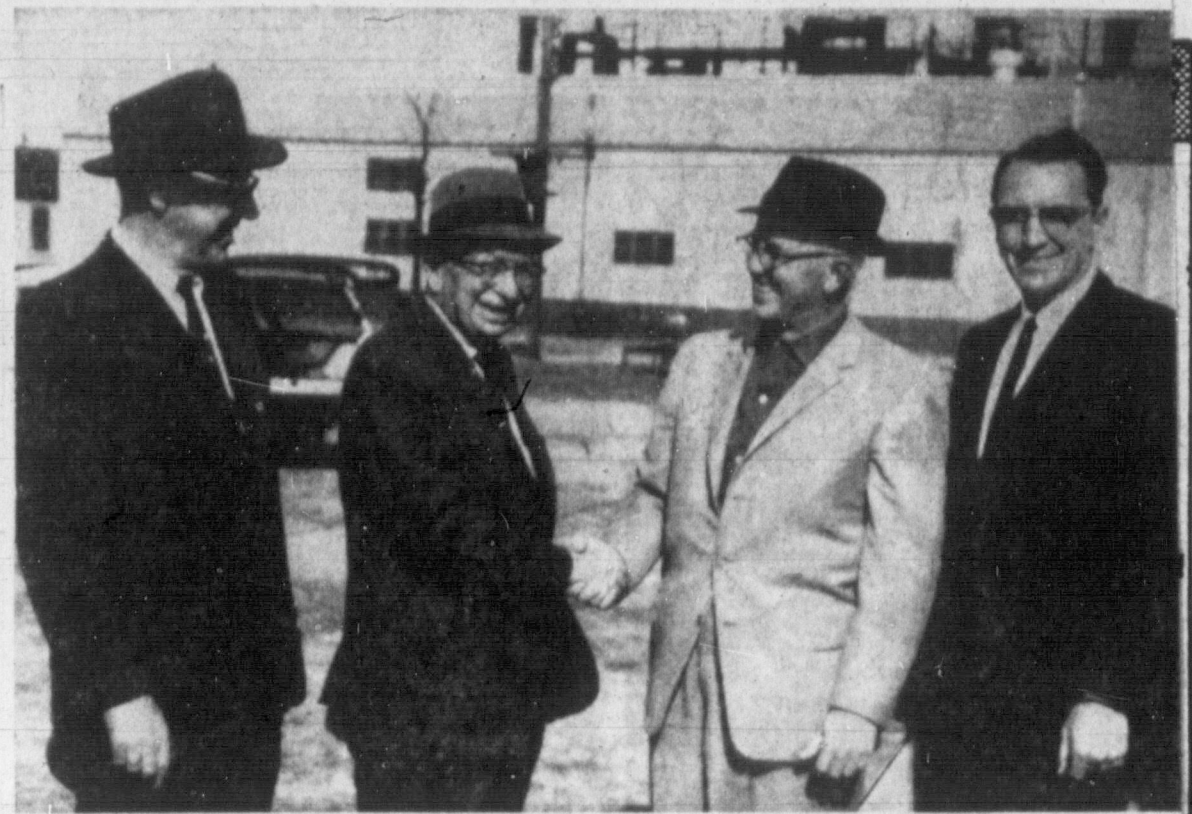

Cabot Employees Get Safety Record Award

Employees of Cabot Corporation Western Region Research and Development Department and Technical Service Department received well-earned special recognition from the company. This recognition was for having worked 1 million hours without a lost time injury. It took approximately 78 men and women of the department seven years and one month to accumulate this splendid record.

S. J. Meador Jr. introduced N. D. Steele, director of research and development, who congratulated the employees for their record. Reno Stinson, director of industrial relations, was on hand to congratulate the men. Steele received the congratulations for Research and Development. Joel Middleton, chief supervisor, technical service department, was out of town so P. D. Powell, assistant chief supervisor, received congratulations in his behalf.

A gift was presented to each employee by Don M. Conley, safety director. They will also receive an award from the National Safety Council to be presented at the Cabot annual dinner to be held in the near future.

Hans Christian Andersen, author of children's tales, was a diver in the United States. During 1963, fire killed approximately 11,800 persons in the United States. A diving duck hawk may attain a speed of 180 miles an hour in flight.

Belli Admits 'Bad Taste' In Ruby Case

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Attorney Melvin Belli admitted during the weekend that "I may be guilty of bad taste" in his verbal outburst following the verdict against Jack Ruby.

"But I can't . . . watch my client strung up and lynched," the San Francisco lawyer told a criminal law seminar of the Los Angeles Criminal Courts Bar Association Saturday.

Percy Foreman, a Houston attorney who represented Ruby briefly after the convicted killer of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald fired Belli as his lawyer, also appeared at the seminar and criticized the trial judge for acting as the "ringmaster of that circus."

Texas Road Deaths Reach Record Pace

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texans are killing each other on the state's streets and highways at a pace far in excess of 1963 which set a new all-time record high, the Department of Public Safety said Saturday.

Through noon Friday, the DPS had counted a total of 538 traffic deaths in Texas compared with 471 at this time last year. This is an increase of 14 per cent over last year's record pace.

At the same time, the report showed a total of 440 fatal accidents compared with 382 at date a year ago. This is a 15 per cent jump in accidents in which one or more persons were killed.

Egg Production Increase Seen By Agriculture

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department has predicted egg production in 1964 will be significantly higher than the 63.2 billion produced in 1963.

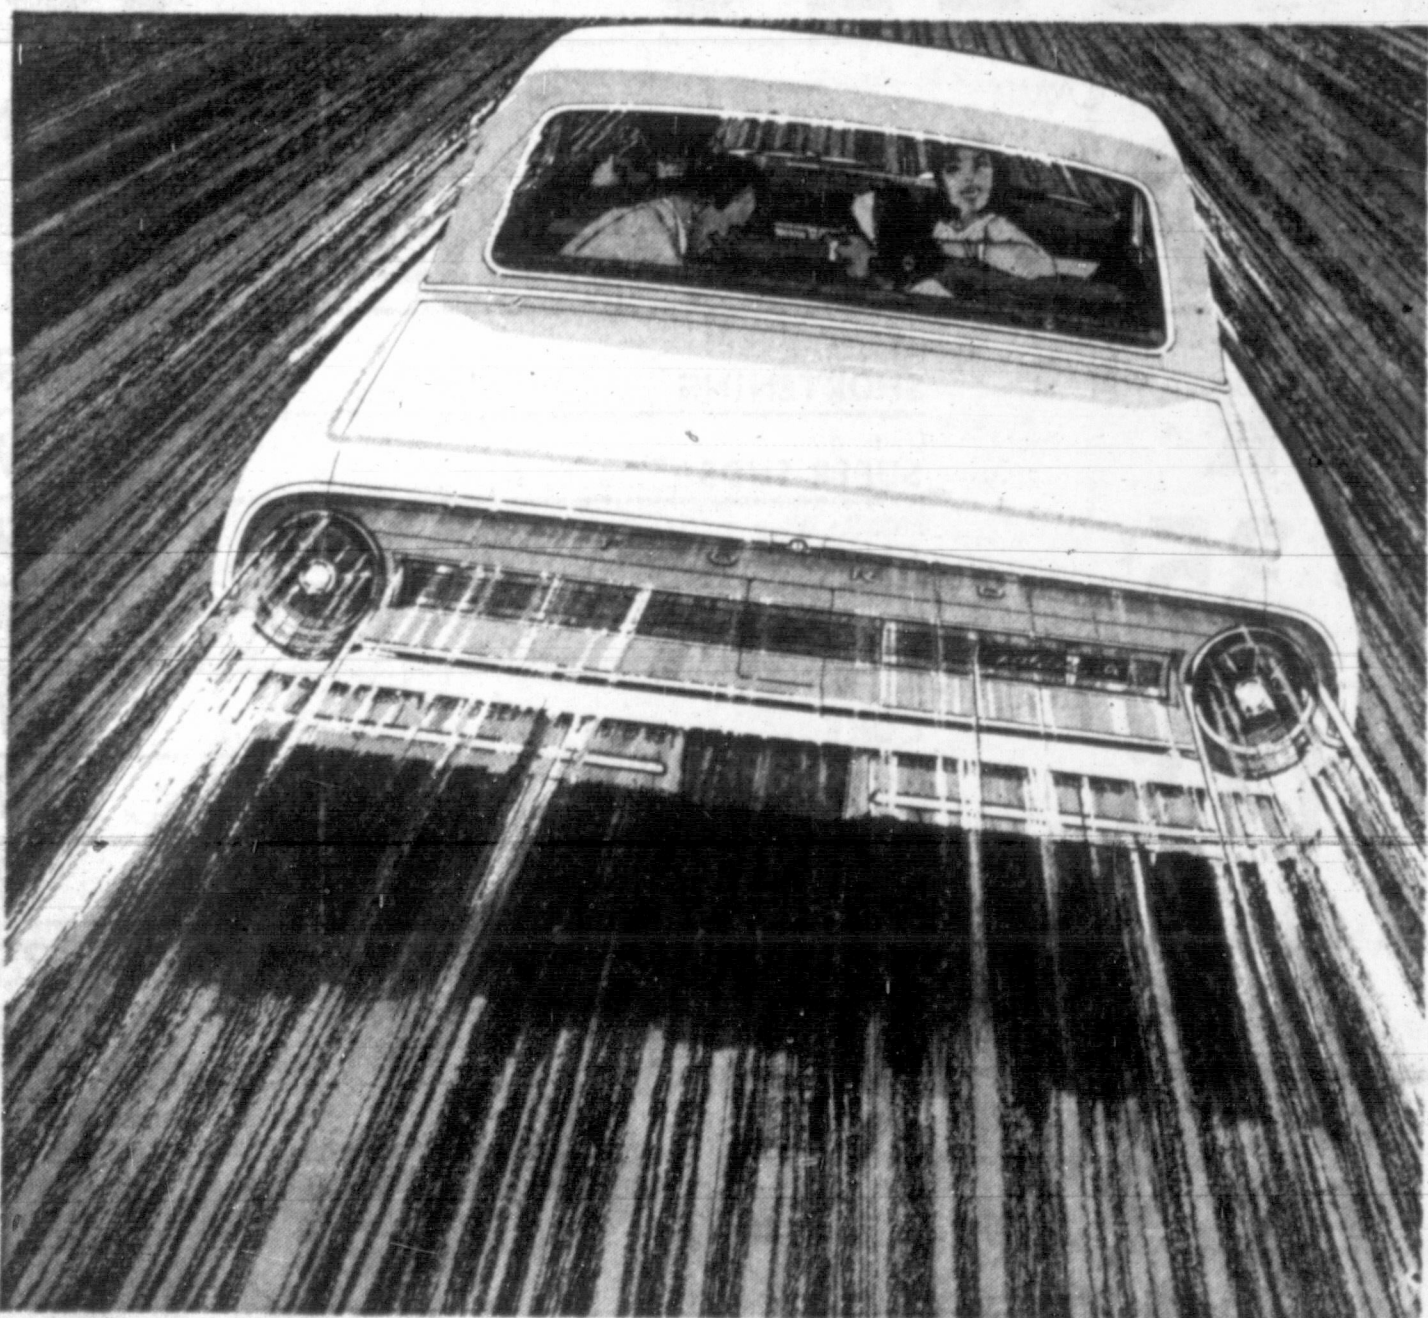

In a review of the poultry and egg situation, the Department said egg production in the first two months of 1964 was 5 per cent higher than a year earlier because of a sharp improvement in the rate of lay plus an extra day in February. The Department said production is expected to continue significantly higher than a year earlier through mid-1965 because more replacements are likely to be raised in 1964 than in 1963.

The hike in production in early 1964 drove egg prices to producers from 1.3 cents above a year earlier in mid-January to 2.4 cents below in mid-February when prices averaged 34.9 cents per dozen. The Department said egg prices in mid-March were the same to slightly higher than in mid-February because of the early Easter. Egg prices are expected to reach a seasonal low in May or June, then rise seasonally. The peak of the rise, however, is expected to be below year earlier prices.

The Department said poultry prices into late spring and summer are expected to average about the same as or a little lower than in 1963.

Maharaja Will Be Named Saturday at 'Revue'

Guests Honored By 20th Century Allegro

Twentieth Century Allegro held a Guest Luncheon recently in the Cibola Room at the Coronado Inn. Mrs. Will Graham welcomed the guests and Mrs. Charles Walsh gave the invocation. The guest speakers, Mrs. Forrest Hills, Mrs. Howard Johnson and Mrs. Jack Miller were introduced by Mrs. LeRoy Ogden.

Mrs. Hills said: "Some time ago a well known American conductor said: 'Let's have more bad music'... bad music? ... no not really." What he meant was, let's have more people make music, don't just sit and listen to symphonies or other classical music, go and make music... join in and have fun. But I will go even further and say "Let's have more bad art"... let's paint or sculpture or act or dance or make music. We want more of you to get into the arts, not necessarily for gain or glory but for the pleasure it can give you and the good it can do for you. The arts as preventive and curative therapy. Today's life is so full of stress and tension. Anyone who has found his proper stress-level and has learned to make stress a positive factor in his life can be guaranteed to have active absorbing interests outside himself which he explores and satisfies in his work, his hobby, his personal life. At the very least because they provide stimulation and a sense of purpose. Such interests help offset the potentially harmful effects of the thousands of minor tensions of daily life.

Now we come to the use of art as occupational therapy. An occupational therapist is a member of a medical team whose purpose is to restore maximum function to mentally or physically disabled patients. The team may include doctors, nurses, social workers and other specialists. After the physician makes his diagnosis and outlines the course of treatment for the patient, an occupational therapist selects and directs functional recreational, educational and vocational activities designed to meet specific needs. Several types of therapy are employed to attain the rehabilitation goals set for the patient.

Occupational therapists work today in hospitals, school clinics, nursing homes and sanitariums and do wonderful work in helping patients back to a normal life. Now if curative therapy is so important let us consider the arts as preventive therapy. Here is your opportunity to sample the arts and see how they could aid you in your life and be a preventive or corrective medicine for you or your loved ones.

Mrs. Johnson pointed out: God, being the Great Master-painter and Creator, first used the five elements of art: line, shape, color, tone and texture in creating our world. Mrs. Johnson illustrated her talk with works by Mrs. Leonard Sloan. Mrs. Ruth Smalley and herself.

Mrs. Jack Miller spoke on drama, stating that drama and acting goes also far back in its history and stories are told which mention Thespis as the very first actor, when he tells his friends and acts the part of the Greek god Dionysus. The theater involves emotions. A good play should have its actors forgetting that they are actors and the viewers should live the happenings of the stage like they were the persons. Broadway is by no means the American Theater, in 1910 the first "Little Theaters" appeared around the country. High schools, colleges and universities started study of classics and had their theater groups and drama classes. Mrs. Miller urged all guests to come and watch the performances of the local Little Theater or join with other interested persons and do their part in the production of plays. She pointed some of the rewards of acting out, among them appreciation and observation of people and life, knowledge of literature, emotional outlet, training of the mind, development of cultural background.

Concluding the program Mrs. Hills picked some of the guests at random, gave them music instruments, and playing the piano herself, asked everybody join in a Mrs. Hills picked some of song: thus demonstrating that everybody can make music.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The newly revived craze of the beard is the most ridiculous thing I have ever witnessed. Julius Caesar and Alexander the Great were beardless, and they did all right. Napoleon and George Washington were clean-shaven and they did all right. And wouldn't you say that John D. Rockefeller did all right?

HATES BEARDS
DEAR HATES: What about Alexander Graham Bell, Abraham Lincoln and Sigmund Freud? THEY did all right, too. And the Smith Brothers coughed up a fortune.

DEAR ABBY: There are 33 students in my chemistry class, and only six of us do not cheat on tests. Our teacher grades on the curve and it is really unfair to those who don't cheat to get a lower grade because the others cheat. I suppose I have no reason to complain because I get A's on my tests regardless. However, some of the kids are mad at me because I won't let them copy from me. Is it MY responsibility to inform the chemistry teacher of what is going on? Or should I ignore it? I hope you print this, Abby, as it is a common problem.

CONFUSED
DEAR CONFUSED: It is such a common problem that I can't understand why more teachers aren't aware of it. I do not recommend informing on others. Bide your time.

DEAR ABBY: We never go anywhere without first calling to see if we are welcome. But when we get there we are embarrassed to find that the people were just ready to retire or they are so exhausted they can't keep their eyes open. Why do they say, "Yes, we are going to be home-come over," when they are not in the mood to have company? I simply cannot understand this and wish somebody would explain it to me.

LIKES PEOPLE
DEAR LIKES: Most people lack the courage to be completely honest. When folks WANT company, THEY do the inviting.

DEAR ABBY: I have been following the discussion in your column about whether or not a clergyman should be offered a cash gift for marriage counseling. Someone signed "BURNED UP IN ST. PAUL" told you off, saying clergymen were a prosperous lot. Then you turned around and told her off. Don't worry about BURNED UP, Abby. She is — and will be — A RECTOR IN TRUMBULL, Conn.

LIKE A HOUSE OF CARDS—In describing his system for erecting apartment buildings, a Redwood City, Calif., builder says it's like building a card house, as these photos show. The only thing is that each card weighs from 10 to 12 tons. All of the 750 concrete slabs used in these apartment buildings were cast at the site, and were raised into position. It's more expensive than conventional building, but lowers maintenance costs.

Trouble With Astronauts Lies in Fact They Are Human Beings

By ALVIN B. WEBB Jr.
HOUSTON (UPI)—The trouble with astronauts is, they are human. Man is endowed with the peculiar ability to think and reason. From the scientist's point of view, this makes an astronaut in space an invaluable asset. Man also is endowed with the tendency to become recurrently angry, thirsty, tired, sleepy, hungry, lazy, lonesome and bored. From the engineer's viewpoint, an astronaut in space is a massive headache. The engineering that goes into the task of simply keeping a man alive inside a spaceship is a science within itself. Experts have had to design new ways to store food, to extract water from urine, to rig up special machinery for exercising—all to meet the peculiar needs of a human being.

Texas Building Activity Down

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texas construction activity declined slightly from January to February but nevertheless remained at an unusually high level, the University of Texas business research bureau reported this week. Total authorized construction is down only 1 per cent from January, and residential construction, although 6 per cent below January levels, was at its highest February rate in 17 years. Permit values declined $7 billion in February, with $4 billion of the decline accounted for in the residential field. Strong activity in school authorizations helped offset the residential decline. Value of school and store permits was $3.6 million, over half of the total value for all nonresidential buildings. The largest declines were in amusement buildings, hospitals, office-bank buildings, works and utilities and industrial buildings. A total of 3,370 one-family housing units were authorized in February, 2,584 of them in metropolitan areas. Almost half of the metropolitan single-family houses were authorized in Dallas and Houston. Apartment construction continued to decline, with values dropping 20 per cent from January to February. Apartment activity was slightly more active in nonmetropolitan areas than in the cities. Austin led the state in per capita building expenditure so far this year with $70.09. Houston spent $39.84 per person, Dallas $44.85, Fort Worth $25.01, El Paso $22.72, and San Antonio $18.45.

Retail Sales Take Decline

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Retail sales in Texas during February were 4 per cent below seasonal expectations, the University of Texas business research bureau reported this week. The two-month 1964 total of retail sales was 5 per cent above the first two months of 1963, however. February sales were estimated at $993.9 million. Durable goods sales are normally expected to rise sharply from January to February, but last month remained almost steady. The fact that durable goods sales did not rise as expected led to a 14 per cent seasonal decline on the bureau's charts. The same pattern prevailed in non-durable goods. February sales were lower than in the previous month but higher than February 1963. Automobile sales, which usually increase 16 per cent in February, stayed virtually the same as January. Auto sales were still 9 per cent ahead of last year, however. All outlets for durable goods except hardware stores had a decline from January to February, and hardware stores gained only 1 per cent. All non-durable categories showed declines. The sharpest drops were in apparel sales with 20 per cent and general merchandise stores with 14 per cent. Retail sales were off 3 per cent in Austin, Dallas, El Paso and Houston and 4 per cent in San Antonio and Fort Worth. All of the cities, however, had higher sales last month than in February 1963, with El Paso showing a 12 per cent gain.

REGIONS OF POPULATION GROWTH—A more precise portrayal of differences in growth patterns from one section of the country to the other—called the Economic Region system—is now being used by the Census Bureau. This comparatively recent system clearly shows the marked westward movement of Americans since 1950. The areas of significant increase are in the Pacific Northwest, Pacific Southwest, Rocky Mountain and Intermountain Region and the Gulf Coast and Atlantic Flatwoods. In addition to general westward migration, Americans are leaving rural areas in great numbers and are moving to urban suburbs. The new regional breakdown reflects the westward population increase and the relative lack of growth in the densely populated Northeastern Upland, Central and Eastern Upland, Southeast Coastal Plain and Piedmont and the Corn Belt.

to make you happy

Things have changed a lot since a Chevy was only a Chevy. Especially your ideas of what you want a Chevy to be. So now you have the Jet-smooth Chevrolet—17½ feet of pure luxury, bumper to bumper. The size alone might make it a luxury car, even if nothing else did. And everything else does, but the price. Or you can choose the thrifty Chevy II, a 15½-foot family car with all kinds of passenger and luggage space—and three kinds of engines (4, 6 or extra-cost V8) to choose from, besides. This year, your choice might be the new 16-foot-plus Chevelle, sized to fit nicely between Chevrolet and Chevy II (and between parking meters, with five whole feet left over), but with its own special looks and room. Then, too, there's the sporty 15-foot Corvair, so right for so many people (you girls, in particular) that we've never touched an inch of it—except for things like bigger rear engines for '64. And finally, Corvettes—still 14½ feet and still too much for any true sports-car lover to say no to. The long and short of it is, you don't have to go to any length to find exactly the size and price and kind of car you want. Just see the five different lines of cars at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Harvesters Hit Clovis for Pair

LOUIS, N. MEX. (Spl) — walked and the pair then waltzed home as Gregory hit one down the right-centerfield alley for an off-the-wall double.

Pampa picked up a run in the fifth on errors, and then grabbed two more in the sixth frame. Gregory singled, stole second, went to third on Molberg's single, with Steve then stealing second. Middleton laid down a sacrifice bunt to squeeze home The Shotgun and Arthur singled in Middleton.

season baseball record as they play at Shattuck, Okla., tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Despite the long-ball hitting, it was the Harvesters' wild baserunning that turned the tide as they snatched eight bases with impunity, getting a seven-run inning on the strength of six stolen bases and two bunt singles.

Fielding standouts were the infield combo of shortstop Hebert, second-sacker Rick Stewart and first-baseman Molberg, who all contributed parking catches and head-up play.

Never In Trouble

Big Jim was never in trouble as he walked only once and struck out eight, scattering three singles. Clovis' only threat came in the first inning when Jerry Boyd walked and Richal Garcia sacrificed him to third, but Arthur struck out the next two batters.

His mates gave him a run to work on in the third inning when Bandit Madrid singled, Garrison took first on a fielder's choice, and Hebert tripled on one bounce to the right-center-field fence.

The roof fell in on the Wildcats in the fourth inning as an error opened the floodgates. Molberg, safe on a fielder's choice, stole second and scored on Claude Middleton's single. "Miss Claudie" then pilfered second and was singled in by Arthur. Jimbo also stole the next base, Madrid beat out a bunt single, and Garrison did the same to load the bags. Stewart then sliced out a single, also stole second, and then added insult by stealing third. Rick was thrown out at the plate on a fielder's choice, but Hebert stole second, Ricky Goodwin

Garrison Hot

Garrison did an equally masterful pitching job as he allowed only one hit and one base-runner through the first four innings, finishing with 11 strikeouts, three walks and giving up four hits, but the Wildcats kept in the game with the help of errors. Pampa found the pitching of Jeff Wilcox a little more difficult to solve, every score being set up after two were out.

Pampa opened the game with a run, Hebert making first on a fielder's choice, stealing second, and then strutting in as Goodwin bounced a one-hop double off the fence in the left field corner.

The two hurlers threw goose eggs until Clovis tied the game in the fifth as Joe Broome's walk, an error and Johnny Peters' single resulted in the tying tally.

Pampa went ahead again in the top of the sixth as Gregory doubled and Molberg singled, but Clovis again tied it in their half as Jerry Boyd was safe on an error, stole second and dented the plate on Garcia's single.

With two out in the seventh, Middleton worked a walk and Stewart singled. Hebert then teed off on the first pitch and lined it over the left field fence past the 348-foot mark.

Stubborn Clovis rallied in their half on a walk and single, but Garrison then struck out the side to close out the game.

Royals Challenge Celtics in Finals

BOSTON (UPI) — The Cincinnati Royals mount the latest challenge to the Boston Celtics' pro basketball domination tonight in the first of the best-of-seven Eastern final playoff series.

The Royals, who had to whip the Philadelphia 76ers to qualify for the fight to play Boston, hope to fulfill a long-standing prediction that the National Basketball Association championship would be settled this year in the Eastern finals rather than the playoff divisional meeting.

Cincinnati has been billed all season as heir apparent to the role of challenging Boston's championship streak. The Royals thus supplanted a Los Angeles Laker team that had been regarded for the past two seasons as the team most likely to catch up with the aging Celtics.

The odds-makers established the five-time champion Celtics as favorites for the Boston Garden opener by point margins of six to eight points. The point spread was expected to fluctuate on the physical conditions of Cincinnati rookie Jerry Lucas and Boston veteran Frank Ramsey.

The Celtics were in their best pre-playoff physical condition in several years though NBA coaching dean Red Auerbach listed the following semi-casualties: Ramsey, leg muscle pull; Bill Russell, general leg and knee trouble, and Tom Heinsohn, recent bout with the flu.

Cincinnati's principal health problem centered on the back ailment which limited Lucas in the rugged Philadelphia series. Auerbach, who ran his squad through a rugged workout Monday, paused long enough to reiterate his long-standing claim that "the winner of this series will go on to take it all. Cincinnati is our biggest problem and we know it."

Major League Roundup

By SANDY PADWE
UPI Sports Writer

When someone asks Chuck Dressen about Detroit's pennant chances, he begins by detailing how the Tigers obtained Jerry Lumpe, Don Demeter and Dave Wickersham in trades and he ends with the usual "if" before Frank Lary's name.

Well, no one has come right out and predicted the "if" is about to disappear from all conversation about Lary, but then baseball people are superstitious that way. They don't take chances on subjects like sore-armed pitchers.

Lary, however, has been pitching excellent ball this spring, including a strong six-inning stint in Monday's 6-3 victory over Cincinnati.

Plagued by arm trouble since his 23-9 record in 1961, Lary appears headed for a comeback this season. He has worked 19 innings this spring, more than any other Tiger pitcher, and his earned run average is 1.89.

Allows Two Hits

In Monday's game, he allowed just two hits and one run. Lary was the winning pitcher thanks to Lumpe who hit two triples and batted in two runs.

Detroit also won a "B" game battle with the Reds, 4-3. The Tigers had 13 hits off Jim O'Toole, including a home run by George Thomas.

Vern Law, another "sore-armed" trying to make a comeback with Pittsburgh this season, retired the first eight Minnesota batters, but suddenly lost his touch and the powerful Twins went on to beat the Pirates, 7-3.

Jimmie Hall connected for his sixth home run of the spring to put the Twins ahead to stay. Earl Battey also connected for the Twins. Law allowed all seven runs on 10 hits.

Tony Conigliaro, the sensation of the West this season, kept it up today by lining an important double which enabled Boston to tie the Chicago Cubs and then win it, 8-7, on a home run by rookie Tony Horton.

Yankees Down Phils

Whitey Ford pitched three scoreless innings for New York as the Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-2. Dennis Bennett went seven innings for Philadelphia, allowing two runs and five hits. Jack Baldschun, who relieved, took the loss.

The Baltimore Orioles scored nine runs in the 10th inning and defeated the Washington Senators, 14-5. Ed Roebuck retired the first batter in the ninth, but then came the rally and the Senator reliever was on the mound the whole way.

A bloop double down the left field line with two out in the 12th-inning gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 7-6 victory over the New York Mets. Forty-six players saw action in the 3 1/2-hour game.

The Chicago White Sox scored two runs without a hit off Bob Gibson and defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 2-1. Ray Saadecki relieved Gibson in the eighth after the Cardinal starter lost his own game due to wildness and his two errors. The White Sox wound up with just three hits.

Milwaukee rallied for three runs in the top of the seventh inning to defeat Kansas City, 4-1. Lew Krausse pitched the first seven innings for Kansas City and was relieved by John O'Donoghue who took the loss.

Texas Nines Split Games

By United Press International

Texas college baseball teams split in contests with out-of-state opponents Monday, Texas Lutheran beating Nebraska 5-2 and the University of Houston dropping a doubleheader to Loyola of New Orleans, 3-2 and 4-1.

Rain postponed a game between Sul Ross State and the University of Colorado in Austin. They scheduled a doubleheader for today.

Elwood Hermansen was the big gun for Texas Lutheran in Seguin. He slugged a triple and a double and drove in three runs.

The pitching victory went to Hartmann, who went all nine innings.

The University of Houston, playing on home grounds, fought to a 2-2 deadlock at the end of regulation play in the first game. Outfielder John Stephens homered for Loyola in the top of the 11th to ice it for the visitors.

In the second game, Loyola scored three runs in the sixth inning on a walk, two doubles, a single and a sacrifice fly.

Bill Deris was the starting pitcher for Loyola in both games. He went six innings in the first, giving up three hits and one run. He gave up six hits and one run in the second game.

Palmer Set For Open

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, looking for his first victory on the current tour, was to arrive here today to warm up for the Greater Greensboro Open, the final tuneup before the famed Master's tournament in Augusta.

Palmer, plagued by putting troubles all season and in one of his worst slumps in recent years, and reigning Masters and PGA champion Jack Nicklaus, who also is expected here today, will enter the $35,000 tournament as co-favorites.

Palmer, Nicklaus and about 100 other golfers were exempt from qualifying for the tournament which opens Thursday. A field of 150 is expected for the 72-hole event.

Gary Player from South Africa, the third member of the big three, will not play.

Archers Raise Loot for Family

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Texas archery enthusiasts have raised more than $600 for the widow and three children of game warden J. D. Murphree, who was shot and killed while checking on game law violators near Marlin.

More than 25 archery clubs from around the state sent entrants to the field shoot conducted by seven Dallas-area bowman's clubs Sunday afternoon. There were 183 participants.

Mrs. Murphree and her children live near Center, Tex.

Major League Roundup

By SANDY PADWE
UPI Sports Writer

When someone asks Chuck Dressen about Detroit's pennant chances, he begins by detailing how the Tigers obtained Jerry Lumpe, Don Demeter and Dave Wickersham in trades and he ends with the usual "if" before Frank Lary's name.

Well, no one has come right out and predicted the "if" is about to disappear from all conversation about Lary, but then baseball people are superstitious that way. They don't take chances on subjects like sore-armed pitchers.

Lary, however, has been pitching excellent ball this spring, including a strong six-inning stint in Monday's 6-3 victory over Cincinnati.

Plagued by arm trouble since his 23-9 record in 1961, Lary appears headed for a comeback this season. He has worked 19 innings this spring, more than any other Tiger pitcher, and his earned run average is 1.89.

GOLF SERIES SET
AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — The third annual World Series of golf, matching the winners of the year's four biggest golf tournaments in a $75,000 showdown, will be held at the Firestone Country Club, Sept. 12-13. The 36-hole event pitches the winners of the Masters, U.S. and British Opens and PGA championships against each other.

MULLIGAN WINS TOURNEY
MONTE CARLO, Monaco (UPI) — Marty Mulligan of Australia became the first Australian winner of the Monte Carlo International tennis tournament since Frank Sedgman in 1952 when he defeated Jan Eric Lundquist 6-4, 6-4, Monday. Christine Truman of Britain beat Jan Lehane of Australia, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, to win the women's crown.

Pro Basketball

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Los Angeles Coach Fred Schaus took his hat off today to the high-jumping St. Louis Hawks who controlled the boards to dump the Lakers, 121-108, and advance to the NBA Western Division playoffs against San Francisco.

Coach Harry Gallatin's Hawks worked a new brand of ball Monday night against Los Angeles and out-rebounded the Lakers 66-52. Schaus, feeling gloom in the dressing room, found praise for the Hawks. "In the four years that we've been playing them," Schaus said, "this was the best sustained 48 minute effort I've ever seen the Hawks have."

Schaus said the Lakers "didn't play that bad, you know." He pointed to the box score which showed the Hawks out-rebounded their club by 14, "which is more than we could afford."

Big Bob Pettit pulled down 20 rebounds for the Hawks while the Lakers' Elgin Baylor could muster only 11.

Gallatin noted that "the good thing was our fast break" which worked to perfection, particularly in the final period when the Hawks raced to keep ahead of the threatening Lakers.

Gallatin explained his strategy for the rubber game. "We got Cliff Hagen to release (not to rebound) on Baylor and get downcourt," he said. "But you gotta get the ball to score in this game and Pettit really worked the boards. Pettit got it and Hagen put it in."

Len Wilkins with 30 points was high for Hawks followed by Hagen with 29.

Baylor led the Laker scoring with 28 and Jerry West had 25.

WBA President Today's Witness

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators today summoned the president of the World Boxing Association for the final round of the inquiry into the heavyweight championship fight between Sonny Liston and Cassius Clay.

Chairman Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., of the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee said that WBA President Edward Lassman was the final scheduled witness.

Hart said there were no plans to call Liston, the former champion who was dethroned by Clay in Miami Beach. Liston testified during an earlier series of hearings into professional boxing.

Lassman, whose organization controls boxing in all the states except New York and California, suggested after the fight that the WBA strip Clay of his title. However, he later changed his mind and has postponed any action on his recommendation.

The Senate investigators learned Monday that Liston's financial fortunes are sliced up by several advisers who attached themselves to him.

But the investigators failed to get anywhere in their attempts to link Liston with either Frank Carbo or Frank (Blinky) Palermo. Carbo was jailed for extortion and Palermo is appealing a similar indictment.

Vending machine operator Sam Margolis testified yesterday that he had a "verbal agreement" with Liston under which he got more than half of Liston's stock in the firm which promoted the fight with Clay.

Besselink Wins Greensboro Open

WILMINGTON, N.C. (UPI) — Big Al Besselink headed for the Greensboro Open today bolstered by a big dose of self-confidence and a check for $2,700.

Besselink, a 6-foot-4, 39-year-old pro from Merchantville, N.J., who hadn't won a tournament since way back in 1957, shrugged off a triple bogey Monday in the final round of the Azalea Open to finish a stroke ahead of runnerup Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La.

With that triple bogey on the 17th hole, Besselink shot a three-over-par 75 for a 72-hole 282—six under par.

It was his first win since the 1957 Kansas City Open. Moreover, it was his first win since he hurt his hand and was forced into developing a sophisticated swing instead of a powerful punch.

Lionel Hebert, who had three consistent rounds of two-under-par 70 and a final round 73, struggled with the wind and his dissatisfaction with the greens, which he said were too slow. He took second prize money worth $1,800.

Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif., shot a final round 74 to finish at 284 and third prize money of $1,500.

Low card of the final round was turned in by veteran Billy Casper of Corona, Calif., at an even par 72. This gave Casper, winner of the Doral Invitational at Miami a week previous, a four round total of 285. He was tied with Larry Mowry of Portland, Ore., and both picked up checks for $1,250.

Big O Unanimous All-Star Selection

NEW YORK (UPI) — Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals, the National Basketball Association's finest foul shooter and second leading scorer, was the only player unanimously selected to the NBA's All-Star squad for the 1963-64 season.

Also picked for pro basketball's "dream team" were Wilt Chamberlain of the San Francisco Warriors, Jerry West and Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers and Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks, giving the Western Division four of the top five spots in the league.

NBA President J. Walter Kennedy, making the announcement of the All-Star team, also revealed that Cincinnati's Jerry Lucas was the overwhelming choice of sportscasters and sportswriters for "rookie of the year" honors.

The second team is comprised of five men from the Eastern Division, including three from Boston. At center is Boston's Bill Russell, the forwards are Lucas and Tom Heinsohn of Boston, and in the backcourt it's John Havlicek of the Celtics and Hal Greer of Philadelphia.

All members of the first team and Lucas, as rookie of the year, receive a $200 bonus, while those on the second club earn $100 each.
