

THE ATOMIC FUTURE

Europe Runs Off With The Nucleus

By RELMAN MORIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—"The Europeans particularly are very sophisticated in the atomic energy field. They don't need our secrets to make progress."

When he made this statement in a recent speech, Dr. Lawrence J. Hafstad was director of reactor development in the Atomic Energy Commission. He went on to say:

"Furthermore, they (European nations) have a great deal more incentive to be serious about this field than we have in this country."

Hafstad was not talking about atomic weapons.

He was talking about using atomic energy for industrial purposes.

The United States is only beginning to move in this field. Until last fall, when a new Atomic Energy Act was passed, the U.S. government held a tight atomic monopoly. Now private industry is preparing to spend millions on atomic energy applications. The results may change the face of America.

But is the United States keeping pace with other countries in peaceful uses of the atom?

The European cable has been crackling with meaningful news. The Russians say they already have built reactors for ocean-going vessels, locomotives and automobiles. They hint at atomic devices for powering aircraft.

Marshal Tito has announced Yugoslavia is now "in a position directly to undertake work toward generating nuclear power."

But the biggest step of all, so far, appears to have been taken in Britain.

Last month, the government announced a 10-year program for atom-generated electric power. It will spend $40 million dollars for 12 central power stations with a planned capacity of nearly two million kilowatts.

This action gives meaning to Hafstad's observation that Europeans have "a great deal more incentive."

Because conventional electric power is expensive in Britain. In the United States, it is cheap. Hence, if atom-generated electricity should cost 10 or 12 mills per kilowatt in Britain, that would still be good business. But the American, who is probably paying 6 mills per kilowatt for ordinary electric power, would ask, "Why pay twice that much?"

Beyond that, the United States has vast reserves of coal, oil and natural gas; they are nonexistent or running thin in Britain. So national policy also provides, more incentive.

But the implications go much further than mere domestic economics.

They affect you, directly, in two ways.

One comes under the heading of cold war.

Look around the world. Most nations are power-starved. In Asia, particularly, teeming millions of people in China, India, Indonesia, Indochina and Korea are struggling to build industries. But they have the problem of getting power.

The answer throughout the Far East—and no less the Middle East—may very well be "the atom."

Suppose the Russians come forward with offers to build nuclear reactors for these nations, to provide them with the original fissionable fuel, and the technicians to teach them? Powerful and practical propaganda or not?

And in the field of international trade:

At this point, few countries have the knowledge and facilities to build their own reactors. They will shop for them in foreign markets as they do now for steel mills and aircraft.

A spokesman for a New York engineering firm, Babcock and Wilcox, said recently the company has had more than 800 inquiries from abroad about reactors. The figure, from one firm, gives some idea of the gathering momentum of the whole atom program.

Next August, in Geneva, Switzerland, 84 nations will meet in a great "atoms-for-peace" conference. The United States plans to set up an actual reactor. Russia may do so also, although Moscow has not yet requested authorization from the Swiss.

From this conference may come the answer to the question: Who's ahead in the big international atom sweepstakes? Dr. Hafstad has warned that the Europeans will be "very aggressive."

Next: An engagement is announced.

Snyder Class Visits Austin

SNYDER — The Snyder High School civics class saw Austin in style Tuesday.

Accompanied by their teacher, Haskell Beard, and superintendent, Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, the students flew to Austin early Tuesday via Pioneer Lines. They traveled on the new "educational plan," two-way for the price of one.

In Austin they were guests of Sen. David Ratliff in the Texas Senate and of Rep. Robert Patterson in the House. They visited with Gov. Shivers, then got a tour of Speaker Jim Lindsey's quarters in the Capitol. Before returning to Snyder by plane late Tuesday they were dinner guests of Rep. and Mrs. Patterson at the Austin Club.

Making the trip were Mary Ann Doaks, George Jennings, Nancy Jordan, Gwin Watson, Betty Connell, Harriet Redwine, Sidney Wallace Johnson, John Echols, Gerald Crawford and Betty Beard.

'Good' Evidence

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Police said they had "good" evidence against Marvin Morris Daniels, 26, charged with burglary. In the apartment of Johnny Jackson—who lost a 21-inch television set to a burglar—police said they found a New Testament belonging to Daniels.

More Criminal Charges Filed Against Giles

AUSTIN (AP)—Criminal charges continued to mount against former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles yesterday.

He was named co-defendant in four complaints charging him, together with B. R. Sheffield and L. V. Ruffin, of felony theft of a total of $688,344 in state funds.

The money was expended by the state for purchase of land under the Veterans Land Program.

Dist. Atty. Les Procter of Travis County asked that the charges be filed, foregoing the more common route of seeking a grand jury indictment.

He said he did so because of his "growing alarm that something might happen to hinder the criminal prosecutions" his office has been preparing for three months.

Procter indicated his alarm was based on the fact that various parties recently have made offers of restitution in connection with pending civil suits. Those are suits in which the state seeks recovery of money paid out in allegedly fraudulent land deals.

He quoted Texas Penal Code which says if property is returned voluntarily within a reasonable time prior to commencement of prosecution for theft, "the punishment shall be a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars."

Procter said the complaints against Giles and the two Brady land dealers were filed "to preclude any chance that guilty parties could come into court after paying back what they have made off with and then laugh in the state's face and say: 'O.K., fine me a thousand dollars—that's all you can do.'"

Procter said conviction of felony theft carries a penalty of 2 to 10 years imprisonment if the penalty is not barred by voluntary restitution prior to commencement of prosecution.

His prepared statement said the land deals on which the charges were based "are known to me and the attorney general (John Ben Shepperd) as the Dun Rovin Ranch deal at Catarina, Dimmit County; the Kinney County Ranch deal, the Alta Vista and Loma Linda deal, Dimmit County, and the Frank W. Young, trustee, Zavala County, deal."

The attorney general, who announced Tuesday receipt of offers of restitution totaling some half a million dollars, issued a statement from Houston shortly after Procter's remarks were reported. "I agree with Dist. Atty. Procter that no one—absolutely no one shall be released from prosecution for criminal offenses in the veterans land matter," Shepperd said through his Austin office.

The four new complaints brought to six the total of criminal charges now hanging over Giles. He made bond of $5,000 on each of the latest charges last night.

Previously he had been indicted in Travis County on a charge of conspiracy to commit theft of $83,500 and in Bexar County on a two-count charge of consenting to accept and accepting a $30,000 bribe. He faces trial on the latter charge in San Antonio April 11.

Even the best of dairymen are not making any money nowadays — at least not around Big Spring. They say the hauling charge on milk from here to Midland is taking what little profit they might make.

Wilford White, who has a dairy southeast of Big Spring, is moving his herd of about 50 cows to Midland soon. He says the hauling charge is 35 cents per hundred pounds of milk, which in his case amounts to about $100 per month. Some months when production was high, he has paid out $140 for hauling.

"With the narrow margins we operate on, anyway," White said, "another $100, bite out of the pay-check is just too much."

White says feed has gradually inched higher, but they still get the same price for milk. Right now they are on surplus and it will be worse in a few weeks. One of his brothers left last summer for El Paso where dairymen are faring somewhat better. They get 35 cents more per hundred for milk, and the hauling is only a short distance.

White thinks other local dairymen will be moving before long. Arthur Merworth is taking his herd to Hopkins County, and one or two others are trying to lease places near Midland.

Farmers are beginning to need hands around Tarzan, says Bill Orson, manager of the Tarzan Marketing Association. However, he doesn't plan to bring in any large number of braceros until after the middle of April when they will be in greater demand.

At present farmers are watering their fields and some are putting down fertilizer. The first application is mostly a phosphorus fertilizer, then later they will give the soil a shot of nitrogen. Orson says right now he is selling a lot of high phosphorus content fertilizer.

One thing about an irrigation farmer is that he's got to work regardless of the weather. Last Saturday morning several sprinklers were running, and the circular area around the nozzles were covered with a sheet of ice several inches thick. Some of the nozzles had frozen and stopped spraying. I would have thought the little outlet pipes from the main pipe would burst, but evidently the owners knew what they were doing.

A. C. Fleming of Lenorah intends to strip-crop his cotton and maize with four rows of cotton, two of maize and leave two blank. The blank rows will be on either side of the cotton strips. He says ordinarily the outside rows of cotton under this arrangement will be much larger than the two inside rows. By doing this he will get the same amount of cotton acres and perhaps make a higher yield per acre.

A trip up to Seagraves Sunday revealed one method how irrigated farmers up there are beating the cotton allotment. They go out in the west part of the county in the deep blow sand and rent some of this almost worthless farmland for a song. Then they shift the cotton allotment to their irrigated land, and have enough cotton to cover the entire home place.

Administration officials believe that wheat farmers may vote to abolish controls next year. If this happens, they say the lowered wheat prices would enable it to compete with grain sorghums and bring down the price of maize. The wheat farmers think the present law is not workable, and hope a better one would be passed once controls were voted out.

Big Balanoglossus Has 'Em Bug-Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A strange new what-is-it has been added to the Smithsonian Institution's vast collection of oddities: just about the biggest balanoglossus in the world.

What's a balanoglossus? It's hard to get a straight answer out of scientists, and no wonder. The balanoglossus is something like a worm, something like a starfish and a little like a vertebrate—that is, a creature with a backbone.

In fact, says the Smithsonian, the balanoglossus—which looks like a giant worm and smells like a freshly opened bottle of iodine—sometimes is considered a sort of link between the worm, echinoderm (starfish) and vertebrate groups.

Summing up the balanoglossus, the government museum says: "It got stuck in the mud two or three hundred million years ago and remained lost like a worm."

This particular balanoglossus was dug out of beach and sand at Grand Isle, La., by Dr. Harry J. Bennett, of Louisiana State University. It took him and six helpers half a day. They had to work gingerly for balanoglossus—or is it balanoglossus?—are delicate and go all to pieces when disturbed.

When he got through, he had a balanoglossus more than three feet long—"probably one of the largest specimens of its kind ever obtained intact," says the Smithsonian. People have told of seeing balanoglossus up to six feet long but nobody's got a whole one that big.

You too could probably catch a balanoglossus if you had the patience—and happened to want one. They're found on seacoasts all over the world, usually just beyond the low-tide mark.

The trick in hunting them: Look for a balanoglossus' proboscis. This is an acornlike organ which serves as a tongue. The balanoglossus spends his life buried in mud or sand, sticking his tongue out. The tongue gathers food particles from the water.

This proboscis—if you're still with us—extends backward through the trunk as a cordlike structure resembling the spinal cord of higher animals. The balanoglossus also has gill slits, like fish. Finally, the crazy, mixed-up thing lays eggs which hatch into wigglers you could hardly distinguish from the young of starfish.

Who besides the Smithsonian needs a balanoglossus? Well, shrimp and lobsters gorge themselves on balanoglossus at certain seasons. It makes them taste dreadfully of iodine.

Negro Coed Files Entry Suit At TWC

EL PASO (AP)—A Negro girl who won scholastic honors in high school has asked federal court to make Texas Western College here open its doors to her.

The suit was filed yesterday in behalf of Thelma White, the 1954 valedictorian of El Paso's only Negro high school. She says she is deprived of equal rights under the U.S. Constitution by the policy of the State of Texas and University of Texas regents.

Miss White is now a student at New Mexico A&M, a coeducational college at Las Cruces, which has no segregation policy. The girl's mother is dead. Her father works in an El Paso garage.

Her petition said her application for high school credits returned unopened, when she applied for admission to Texas Western last September. She said she then went in person to the office of a school official, during the fall registration period, and sought admission.

This was denied, she said, "because of her race and color contrary to and in violation of the Constitution and the laws of the United States."

The petition, which was filed by mail from Atty. U. Simpson Tate of Dallas, said TWC is the only branch of the University of Texas within 225 miles of El Paso. She said there is no Texas college she could enter under present rules within 650 miles.

Many Parents OK Salk Polio Shots

Quite a few parents of the 1,788 first and second grade pupils in Howard County have given permission for their children to receive the Salk polio vaccine.

Teachers and principals of the city and county schools report that vaccination request forms are being submitted every day. Deadline for these forms to be filled out by parents is April 1.

The Salk polio vaccine will be administered here free of charge provided it is licensed by the National Institute of Health. Cost will be borne by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. It will not be known until April 12 whether or not the vaccine will be licensed. Scientists will then announce the results of a test conducted last year when two million children were vaccinated over the country.

If the results show that the vaccinations prevent poliomyelitis, then it will be licensed. If licensed, it will be administered here as soon as possible thereafter.

Complete plans have been outlined for the vaccination program in case the vaccine is licensed. It will be given to pupils under the supervision of Dr. Robert A. Hale, local health officer. Vaccination point will be the First Presbyterian Church.

Vaccination request forms have been given every first and second grade pupil to take home to their parents. Parents are asked to fill out the forms and return them to schools.

The program is completely voluntary, and there will not be any pupils vaccinated unless parents request it.

Vaccination must be completed between the time license is issued and the time school is out, said Dr. Hale. Otherwise it would be impossible to gather all the first and second graders.

Three shots of the vaccine will be given. The second shot is given one week after the first, and the third comes three to four weeks after the second shot. Inoculations are given in the muscle of the arm and reportedly do not hurt any more than diphtheria shots.

Russ Farm Purge Nears

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda said today the Communist party and the Soviet government plan to appoint new managers for "tens of thousands" of Soviet collective farms in a further effort to step up production.

The party organ's account said the new bosses would include "particularly experienced workers of the party and government organizations and enterprises, scientific research institutes and other establishments."

Atom Victims' Children Show No Ill Effects

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Japanese who lived through the hottest part of the atom bombing of Hiroshima have produced children who show no significant signs of hereditary ill effects after 10 years, say medical investigators.

Among offspring of 185 women who were pregnant and were in the area closest to ground zero only eight have shown signs of radiation injury, said Dr. Robert H. Holmes, director of the U. S. Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission.

The affected youngsters have heads slightly smaller than average and are somewhat mentally retarded. But thus far there is no significant evidence that they or any of the youngsters have been damaged genetically, Dr. Holmes reported.

Adult survivors in the hot zone, an area of 2,000 meters radius directly beneath the bomb target center, developed 16 times as much leukemia, a cancerlike condition of the blood, as did unirradiated Japanese, but even these added up to only 44 cases.

Eyes of radiated adults suffered more. Cataractlike spots have been found in 41 per cent of the 6,000 individuals in the bomb commission's study group, as against only 8 per cent in nonexposed Japanese. No case of blindness has been found.

Some of the more heavily radiated adults became temporarily infertile but regained their ability to produce children.

Not enough time has passed to tell definitely what the long-range effects of the bomb will be, Dr. Holmes said.

The report was made last night to a nationwide television audience in a film recording made by a drug firm with the cooperation of the bomb commission and the Atomic Energy Commission.

U.S. Highway Deaths Down

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's smallest traffic death toll for any month since 1950 was recorded in February.

The National Safety Council made the announcement today. It reported fatalities numbered 2,270 in February, the lowest monthly total since February, 1950, when 2,258 were killed.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, pointed out further significance: 13 of the last 14 months have shown either a decrease or no increase in the United States motor vehicle death toll in comparison with the corresponding month of the previous year.

"The death toll is coming down despite a constant increase in the number of cars and miles traveled. The trend indicates a real desire by the public to drive safely."

Large trap for fish made on Solomon Islands.

The trap was constructed with bamboo and rattan. In the Pacific Ocean, about 1,300 miles north of Brisbane, Australia, are the Solomon Islands.

Q. How did the Solomons get their name?

A. They named the Isles de Salomon (Islands of Solomon) by a Spanish sea captain who found them 388 years ago. Solomon was a wealthy Hebrew king, and the early Spanish explorers supposed that the islands had much natural wealth. As it turned out, the natural wealth is only about average for South Sea Islands.

Q. How big are the Solomon Islands?

A. Taken together they have an area about the size of the state of Maryland. According to a census made last year, they have a population of 99,000.

Q. Who owns these islands?

A. Great Britain.

Q. Are many of the people British?

A. No, the vast majority are dark-skinned. They are black or blackish.

Q. Are the natives cannibals?

A. In past times, the population was made up largely of cannibals. The ugly custom of eating human flesh has been stamped out to a large extent. Only toward the center of a few of the larger islands in the group does there seem to be any danger (of this kind) for a stranger.

Q. What are the chief foods of the natives?

A. Fish and pork. At the present time the bonito season is in swing on the islands. Starting during calm weather in March, the season lasts until the end of April.

The bonito is a small fish of the mackerel family. Only the men and older boys are allowed to take part in the sport of fishing for bonitos.

When a boy is old enough, he is allowed to join other boys of his age in a shed which is used for boats. After a few days in this

Buildings Spring Up On Fourth Street

Quite a bit of commercial construction has been going on during the past month or so on Big Spring's newly paved Fourth Street. Service stations are among the most noticed of the new structures, and five of them are pictured in various stages of construction. The black lines show just about where they are located on the Highway 80 artery. The only new station which has been completed is that belonging to Merrill Creighton, which is pictured at lower right. It is at Fourth and Presidio Streets. On the lower left is a Shell station being built at Fourth and Douglas. The other three stations are on East Fourth. Upper right is a Humble station going up across from the City Hall at Fourth and Nolan. Upper left is a service station site between Birdwell Lane and Franklin Streets on East Fourth. In the center is another Shell station at Fourth and Benton. A number of other buildings are taking shape on the street, and several older businesses have been placed in prominent positions as a result of the paving. Take Dr. Howard Schwarzenbach's animal hospital, pictured in the right center of the main picture, for instance. Where it was on an "off street," it is now on a main thoroughfare. Signs such as the "Alamo Court" sign at left center have been posted up and down the street. A number of tourist courts on Third have opened entrances on Fourth.

Many New Businesses Due For Fourth Street

By CLIFTON LAWHORNE

The newly paved Fourth Street has received a face lifting in more ways than one lately. And indications are that a number of other changes are still to come.

Not only has the street itself been renovated, but the lots adjoining also have been revamped. Appearances have changed all down the line — from city limit to city limit.

A number of business establishments have sprung up on the street during the past few months, and several commercial structures are being built now. Lots are being cleared for others yet to come.

City commissioners at their last meeting re-zoned the extreme east end of Fourth Street from a residential zone to a commercial zone because of the building pressure.

Perhaps one of the biggest booms on Fourth Street has been the erection of service stations. One new station has already been constructed, and three others are on the way.

A number of signs directing tourists to Third Street restaurants, motels and garages have been erected on Fourth. These signs are of the large, expensive type.

At least two motels located between Third and Fourth Street have constructed entrances opening on Fourth, and signs have been posted of equal importance to the signs on Third.

One drive-in restaurant on Fourth has re-opened during the past few months, and it has been extensively remodeled for increased business expected with the opening of the Fourth Street artery.

Majority of the lot changes were started while work was still under way on the topping of Fourth, but some changes have been started even in the past week. A number of signs can be seen up and down the street advertising: "This Lot For Sale."

Construction of service stations alone on Fourth Street has been listed during the past two months at $74,000 at the City Hall.

A Humble station being constructed right across from the City Hall at Fourth and Nolan is listed on building permits at $30,000. It will be built of brick.

Wester Oil is constructing stations at intersections with Douglas on the west side and Benton on the east side. Each is listed at $17,000 on building permits. A station recently completed at Fourth and Presidio by Merrill Creighton was listed at $10,000.

Alamo Courts and Mayo Courts are the two motels with huge signs on Fourth directing tourists to their facilities. Mayo Courts opened a Fourth Street entrance.

The Wagon Wheel Restaurant, Michael's Garage, Air Castle, and Big Spring Iron and Metal have all erected signs showing how to get to their locations on Third Street.

Several large billboards carrying national advertising are also scattered up and down Fourth on what used to be vacant lots.

One trailer court has a new office building constructed on Fourth Street, and another trailer court office is now being remodeled.

Existing businesses on Fourth Street have been thrown into a more prominent light by the re-topping of the artery for highway use. Many that were seldom seen before are readily noticed now.

Hotel Durcan, which has been operating at Fourth and Austin for a number of years, now has an impressive location. Dr. Howard F. Schwarzenbach's Animal Hospital on West Fourth was for years in an out-of-the-way location, but it is now on a main thoroughfare. Noticeable also are a number of churches along Fourth Street.

C-City Family Goes To Japan

COLORADO CITY — Mrs. John J. Booth and three children left Colorado City last week to join her husband in Japan. Lt. Booth, Air Force, has been stationed in Japan since last October. Mrs. Booth, the former Basell McQuerry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. McQuerry of Colorado City, was a 1941 graduate of Colorado High School. She attended John Tarleton at Stephenville, and was in nurses' training at Abilene's Hendrick Memorial Hospital in 1941 and 1942.

Infant Identification Possible Three Ways

By GLENN COOTES
That new-born baby may kick and "holler," but he is branded before he leaves the delivery room in Big Springs' hospitals. Attendants at all local hospitals report that a handprint and footprint are taken of each baby immediately after he gives his first loud holler in the delivery room. No doubt this identification procedure is tiresome to him, but demonstrations like the one at Beaumont last week prove the value of these procedures.

A nurse in a Beaumont hospital kidnaped a baby when it was only 20 minutes old. If immediate identification procedures had not been used at the hospital, it may have been difficult to identify the child after it was returned.

Big Springs is properly prepared for any question of infant identification. Not only do attendants get handprints and footprints of the new arrival, but a "bead" identification bracelet is put on the baby's wrist in the delivery room. Each bead in the bracelet contains a letter of the baby's last name and it is worn until the baby goes home. Thus, Big Springs hospitals use a "triple safety" system of identification.

And all of these procedures are completed within the first five minutes of the baby's life. The procedure may vary, hospital attendants said, if the baby requires some form of medical attention. Generally, however, the measures are strict and followed closely.

Mothers can feel sure in Big Springs hospitals that their baby is properly "branded."

Race Bill Killed

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—A Missouri House committee killed 13-6 last night a bill which would have ended racial segregation in public places of Missouri like restaurants, hotels and theaters.

Arctic Throne

This unique effect was achieved last weekend when a spring blast of frigid air froze spray on a piece of farm equipment on the Eelon Harrel place seven miles southeast of Colorado City. Sprayers left running all night stacked up a 50-foot strip of ice in the middle of a wheat field. Feeling the arctic throne for size and temperature is Mary Agn Goss.

Record Speed

PARIS (AP)—The state-owned French Railways said today two electric locomotives had attained a world record speed of slightly over 205 miles per hour.

Jobless Pay Hike

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Kansas unemployment payments would be increased from $28 to $32 a week under a bill passed by the House yesterday.

 THE ASSOCIATED PRESS NEWS IN PICTURES ***

BIGGER THAN 'DA PREM' — South African heavyweight Ewart Frederick Fotgler, seven-foot-two and 310 pounds, spars with trainer Johnny Holt in Johannesburg. He has won five bouts, none of which went over two rounds.

CHICAGO BY NIGHT — This is a view along North Michigan Avenue from the uncompleted Prudential building at Michigan and Randolph. Left to right are: London Guaranty building; office building on Wacker Drive in foreground; flood-lighted Wrigley building; Tribune Tower on north side of the Chicago River; and Palmolive building with Lindbergh beacon.

PINWHEEL WEDDING GOWN — Guests at the London wedding of Irma Hart and Frank Bernard hold her gown up to form a pinwheel. Her mother made 40 tiers of nylon and her aunts sewed sequins by hundreds to complete the dress.

THE PROPER TECHNIQUE — Iran's Queen Soraya, of half-German descent and educated in Germany, handles her stein like an expert in visit to a Munich beer cellar.

NOMINATED — Homer Ferguson, former Senator from Michigan, is nominee of President Eisenhower as Ambassador to Philippines succeeding Adm. Raymond A. Spruance.

HALE AND HEARTY — Coxswain William W. Williams, right, of England, and Capt. Curtis E. Parkins, U. S. 66th Air Rescue Squadron, exchange congratulations after receiving medals for life-saving at the annual meeting of the Royal National Life-Boat Institution in London.

FOR A LONG SILHOUETTE — This pigtail of gold straw plait was part of a collection of spring and summer millinery shown in a London, England, exhibition.

AMERICAN EXPORT — Hot dogs with "the works" attached go on sale at a dozen neat little stands such as this one on the Place de la Concorde, in Paris, France.

HIGH ACHIEVEMENT — A Djinn helicopter, built by French Aeronautical Construction Society, makes the first 'copter landing on snowy 13,761-foot Jungfrau in the Swiss Alps.

JEWELLED QUEEN — Celine Briceno, 19, wears a crown and earrings of pearls and simulated diamonds during her reign as Queen of Venezuela's Caracas Carnival.

NO ROOM FOR ERROR — Operator of this bus must drive carefully through banked snow on run connecting French Alpine resort of Val d'Isere and Bourg Saint Maurice.

SUMMER'S COMING — It's lawnmower tune-up time at Prophetstown, Ill., and experts look over machines that have been returned to the manufacturers for annual service check.

ENROUTE TO MAINE — This 30-year-old British tram leaves depot in Blackpool, England, for shipment to a permanent open air museum being erected by the New England Electric Railway Historical Society near Kennebunk Port, Me.

HALF-FINISHED — The battleship Kentucky, on which work was stopped at Norfolk, Va., Naval Shipyard at end of the war, has been suggested for use as guided missile vessel.

Shrimp On Crackers Makes Party Snack

Showered foods always hold a special fascination for everyone who enjoys eating—perhaps because they suggest something of Middle Eastern kabob eating, or perhaps because they adapt easily to one informal dining way.

SHRIMP AND BACON KABOBS
 1 1/2 pounds shrimp
 4 slices bacon
 1 4-ounce can button mushrooms, drained
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 Dash pepper
 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
 Peel shrimp and remove sand veins. Wash and drain on absorbent paper. Using long skewers, alternate shrimp, squares of bacon and mushrooms until skewers are filled. Brush with seasoned butter and place on a preheated, greased broiler pan about 3 inches from the source of the heat. Broil 5 minutes, turn and brush with butter. Broil 3 to 5 minutes longer. Serves 6.

Toast Jam Sandwiches

Ever serve toasted jam sandwiches? To make them remove the crusts from thin slices of fresh bread, spread the bread with apricot or raspberry jam and roll up diagonally. Fasten the rolls with toothpicks and toast in a hot oven.

MRS. ROSS CALLIHAN
 ... with Alton and Larry

Sauce Over Noodles

Pour thin white sauce over cooked drained egg noodles; sprinkle well with grated cheese and bake in a moderate or hot oven until heated through and browned. This dish makes good eating for lunch with crisp bacon and a salad.

Cereal Main Dishes

Eggs, meat or fish help to bring up the protein content and a protein value of a cereal main dish.

Ranch Hamburgers Are West Texas Special

Mrs. Ross Callihan had a delightful assortment of yummy recipes for today, consisting of a pineapple upside down cake that is a whiz to make, cookies that take just about 15 minutes from start of the mixing until they are ready for the refrigerator, and an old family favorite, Dutch, or Ranch Hamburger.

Ranch Hamburger is strictly a West Texas dish, Mrs. Callihan said, and she remembers that her father always made it. Her mother and all the women got out of the kitchen at the time of preparation, and now, her husband takes over the job in their home. Their sons, Larry, who is nearly six, and Alton, three years old, are learning to "help" with it, too.

It has been the experience in her family that people always ask for the recipe for this hamburger; it's one that they always serve at family gatherings.

There's a joke, too, in the family that when the recipe is given, the person always turns a little green (read the preparation method and you'll find out why), but the dish is prepared and enjoyed again just the same. It will give the gourmet a new taste thrill, Mrs. Callihan said.

RANCH HAMBURGER

Ingredients:
 4 pounds choice round steak
 3 large sour pickles
 4 large fresh tomatoes
 3 large or 4 medium sized onions
 1 teaspoon black pepper
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 heaping teaspoon cayenne pepper
 2 lemons, juiced

Method:
 Remove bone, fat and connective tissue from steak (this can be used later in soup stock). Cube steak and vegetables. Add seasonings. Grind ingredients in food chopper. Add 1 egg to the ground ingredients and mix well. Lastly, add lemon juice slowly and combine ingredients thoroughly. The lemon juice is the only cooking agent used for the dish; no heat is required. Taste and add more pepper and salt if needed; it should be quite hot when seasoned properly. Refrigerate for two hours and serve with crisp crackers and iced tea.

PETER PAN COOKIES

Ingredients:
 1 cup shortening
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 cup peanut butter
 1 cup granulated sugar
 1 cup brown sugar
 2 well-beaten eggs
 2 cups sifted flour
 1 tablespoon milk
 1 teaspoon soda

Method:
 Combine shortening, salt, peanut butter, brown and white sugar. Add eggs and milk. Combine flour and soda, then add to mixture beating thoroughly. Chill ingredients and then drop by spoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Dip fork in water and flatten cookies. Cook at 375 degrees until slightly brown.

JUST ONE RECIPE... five kinds of cookies

New Oatmeal Cookies Use Just One Bowl

What kind of cookies does your family go for? Chewy? Crunchy? Soft and munchy? Or all kinds!

Whatever your answer, here's a brand-new butterscotchy oatmeal cookie recipe that fits right in.

It's so versatile, you can turn out any number of different kinds from one mixing. And it's so simple and inexpensive, you can let the youngsters make the cookies as well as eat them.

Here's the way you put them together—with only one bowl and spoon for mixing:

COOKY-QUIX
Ingredients:
 1 1/4 cups C and H Cane Golden Brown or Dark Brown Sugar, firmly packed
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 1/2 cups flour
 1/2 teaspoon soda
 1 1/2 cups quick-cooking rolled oats
 1/2 cup shortening (part butter for flavor)
 1 teaspoon vanilla or other flavoring
 4 tablespoons hot water from faucet

Method:
 Sift together the flour, soda and salt. Mix all dry ingredients on waxed paper or in a bowl, rubbing together with hands. In mixing bowl stir together the shortening, vanilla and water. Add about half the dry ingredients to shortening mixture. Beat smooth. Gradually stir in the rest, mixing well with hands, to make a stiff dough. If necessary, add 1 to 2 teaspoons more hot water.

Now you're ready to make an assortment of these kinds, shapes and textures:

For thin, crisp but slightly chewy cooky-quix, shape part of dough into marble-size balls on greased baking sheet. Press flat with bottom of water glass dipped in granulated sugar. Bake at 375 degrees (moderate) 6 to 8 minutes.

For crisp refrigerator cookies, shape part of dough in slender rolls or oblong blocks. Chill. Slice thin. Bake as above.

For rolled-and-cut cookies, chill part of dough. Roll thin on board sprinkled lightly with powdered sugar in place of flour. (Makes cookies more tender.) Cut out. Bake as above.

For crunchy drop cookies, mix a generous amount of coconut and chopped nuts with part of dough. Shape small spoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes or until browned.

For soft date-filled squares, roll or pat out part of dough 1/4-inch thick on bottom-side of 7-inch or 8-inch square pan. Transfer to baking sheet. Cover with cool date-nut filling (1 cup chopped dates; 1/4 cup sugar; 1/4 cup chopped walnuts; 1/2 cup water; 1 teaspoon lemon juice; dash of salt. Cook 2 or 3 minutes, stirring.) Roll out a second square of dough on pan and spread over dates. Pinch edges together. Decorate top with walnut halves or pieces. Bake at 375 degrees about 20 minutes, until browned. Cut in squares while still warm.

You can, of course, decorate any of the cookies with nuts or candies before baking. Or frost them with powdered sugar icing after baking. Plain or fancy, they go mighty well with milk or tea or ice cream or fruit.

Accused Butcher Of Sons Indicted

GALVESTON (U) — Mrs. Annie Laurie Williams, 28, who has admitted cutting up her two sons and burying their dismembered bodies, is under two murder indictments.

A Galveston County grand jury indicted her Monday for murdering her sons, Conrad, 8, and Calvin, 9. The indictments deny bond. Mrs. Williams has admitted the slayings.

The indictments charged her with killing each of them by striking, hitting and beating; killing each by tying and twisting a handkerchief or cloth around their throats; killing each by giving them poison; and killing them by an unknown method.

The dismembered bodies were unearthed near Galveston Feb. 16. Mrs. Williams' husband, Hoyt, was quoted as saying in Atlanta he hopes "she burns for killing the kids."

Mrs. Williams is held in jail here. Her lawyer said he thinks her insane.

To Receive Degrees

To be honored are Larrell Nix, Frances Reagan and Marzetta Nix. Their instructors are Edna McGregor and Mrs. Nancy Annen.

LOS ANGELES (U) — A mother sandpiper who laid four eggs on the rocky right-of-way between the tracks of the S Street car line undoubtedly regrets the choice of location.

But the selection was made four weeks ago and she's committed to it, even if a car does rumble by every five minutes. She manages to get a few hours of rest between the last car of the night and the first of the morning, but she is showing signs of strain.

Animal League Stings Graham

LONDON (U) — American evangelist Billy Graham says he is unhappy that some members of Britain's League of Cruel Sports think he is indifferent to the welfare of animals.

Graham was one of several prominent persons criticized here yesterday at a league meeting. Among the others were horse-owning Queen Elizabeth II and the Queen Mother. There was no comment from the royal family.

The American evangelist, who is now conducting a series of religious meetings in Scotland, told a newsman in Glasgow he is a "devoted lover of animals."

The league meeting heard two members, Mrs. Diana Vernon and Mrs. M. Dudley Ward, criticize Graham. Mrs. Vernon said the evangelist began a broadcast this week saying: "Fishes belong to the sea, animals belong to the jungle and human beings belong to God."
